THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

LARGEST GUARANTEED CIRCULATION IN THE CITY

Vol. 28 No. 278 QUINCY MASS. MONDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 1, 1913 PRICE TWO CENTS

(Political Advertisement.) (Political Advertisement.) (Political Advertisement.)

MR. VOTER!

The day of decision is near at hand.

Our candidate has endeavored to wage a clean, manly campaign

GIVE HIM YOUR VOTE

CHARLES H. JOHNSON

REGULAR REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR

JOHN R. RICHARDS, Chairman Republican City Committee, 216 Centre Street, Quincy, Mass.
IRA M. WHITTEMORE, Treas., 49 Bigelow Street.

YACHTSMEN IN MASQUE

Merry Time at Wollaston Yacht Club House

A very successful affair was the annual masquerade of the Wollaston Yacht club held Saturday evening at the clubhouse .The costumes were varied and numerous, beauty vieing with outlandishness for attention.

The evening opened with a concert program by Murdock's orchestra. Shortly after 8.30 a brisk two step was struck and the gaily dressed couples were led two by two in the mystic mazes of the grand march by C. A. Franklin and Miss Irene Potterton.

Each lady was presented with a handsome bouquet and a number of square dances were indulged in, after which the evening was given over to round dances.

Several numbers before intermission the partners were told to stand back to back and the bugle was sounded for unmasking. Needless to say many surprises were in order and one or two of the gentlemen were discovered in feminine costume.

One of the hits of the evening was H. B. Wood in the costume of a German comedian. E. M. Bryant as Mephistopheles was also a striking figure.

Composing the entertainment committee were: C. A. Franklin, Gerard Frazar and Thomas Raiche. Among the costumes were:

Miss Dorothy Lavery	Gypsy
Miss Helen Ketchum,	Dutch
Mrs. Edward Sweeney	Spanish
J. H. Joyce	Chinese
Mrs. J. H. Joyce	Spanish
H. B. Wood	German comedian
Miss Ina Colby	Tambourine Girl
Mrs. William J. Stone	Cow girl
William J. Stone	Colonial
Edward V. Sweeney	Turkish
Miss Estelle Sweeney	Turkish
E. M. Bryant	Mephistopheles
Clarence O'Neil	Clown
Mrs. Charles Maxwell	Bird Costume
Miss Ethel Wetzler	Turkish
Miss Mildred Wetzler	Baby Doll
Miss Gertrude Allen	Blue Girl
Miss Edith Atkins	Fancy
William H. Spooner	Buster Brown
Mrs. William H. Spooner	Domino
A. S. Vail	Buster Brown
Mrs. A. S. Vail	Buster's Sister
H. C. Mackay	Gentleman Hobo
Mrs. H.C.Mackay	Bo Peep
Miss Harriet Raiche	Indian
Mrs. Roy Woodward	Turkish
Mrs. Harry S. Kaulback	Pierette
Mrs. John O'Neil	Rainbow
Mrs. H. B. Wood	Baby Doll
Mrs. C. A. Franklin	Snow Queen
Dwight Gearwar	Dutch Girl
Miss Helen Croucher	French Folly
E. C. Sawin	Colored Tramp
Mrs. E. C. Sawin	Sunbonnet Sue

AMAZED AT THE WELCH STORY

Seems to Be Speculation and Guess Work Says Council

Clarence W. Dealtry, counsel for H. W. Welch of 28 Edwards street, who was the subject of a sensational article in a Saturday morning Boston paper, gives out the following statement.

"I am amazed at the story published in the Journal this morning concerning Mr. Welch's affairs, the greater part of which so far as I know seems to be speculation and guess work.

A Journal reporter giving the name of Mr. Wheeler called on me yesterday and I told him that I knew nothing that warranted the publication of a story regarding Mr. Welch. He stated during the interview that they really had nothing upon which to base a story. I told him that Mr. Welch was at home sick, suffering from a nervous breakdown, that I had seen him there a week before and that so far as I know there was nothing criminal which Mr. Welch had done, and that so far as I know no one contemplated action against him of a criminal nature. I also told him that Mr. Walker whose name is used in the publication had called at my office about a half an hour before Mr. Wheeler called and wanted to know what the Journal was trying to do, that a reporter had called to see him and that if Mr. Welch had done anything of a criminal nature, he, Mr. Walker, knew nothing about it.

As to the use of Governor Foss' name I do not believe that Mr. Welch has had any business dealings whatever with Governor Foss for years. The statement that Mr. Welch wired Foss when in New York for $500 and received it is absolutely false.

I supose a man has a perfect right to borrow money from anybody who is willing to lend him without it being an occasion for public notice or for the publication of a sensational story.

There is no excuse whatever for the story to be printed. The statements attributed to me are entirely unwarranted.

Until Mr. Welch is in a physical condition to go over his affairs with me, no one is able to suggest that bankruptcy proceedings will be instituted but I should say that the natural or probable effect of wide spread publication of stories of this kind would be to force any persons, however solvent, into bankruptcy."

The weeks bazaar of Div. 5, A. O. H. closed in their hall on Franklin street Saturday evening with a large attendance. Dancing was enjoyed during the evening.

SEATING CAPACITY OF THEATRE TAXED

Central No-License League Rally Attended by Upwards of 1500

Solid Front Presented From all Sections in Favor of Movement

The seating capacity of the Kincaide theatre was taxed by the crowds that thronged the building at the No-License rally Sunday evening. Even standing room was at a premium and it estimated that the number present at one time bordered on 1500. Never before has the anti-saloon opposition obtained such open support in the 31 successive years of No-License in the city.

The division of men and women was about equal and the sprinkling of children served as an inspiration to the speakers who dwelt chiefly on what the little tots would receive under a license regime. The solid front presented came from all sections of the city and even residents of surrounding towns were there to lend their moral support to the movement which keeps liquor centres at its present distance from their homes.

Seated on the platform were the mayoralty candidates and representative business men of the city, who by their presence openly recorded their opposition to license. Every society in the city, whether interested in the cause of total abstinence or temperance had a delegate on the platform.

A quartette rendered selections during the evening and led in the singing of America at its close.

President Joseph A. Sedgwick of the Citizens No-License rally presided. He made several points which gained the hearty approval of his audience. He said booze does not follow business unless it is a booze business. As for the argument that good mechanics will not live here because of no license he said he was prepared to say that some of the best mechanics in the world resided in Quincy and that empty houses were at a premium. In touching on the oft repeated statement that shoppers go to Boston because they can buy a drink he said it was not so since most of the shopping was done by women and no one dares says they go to Boston with that purpose in mind.

Mr. Sedgwick said that many names appear on the voting list this year that were not on it last year. It is therefore important he said to talk and preach and vote for no license. Last year 1523 failed to vote, enough to elect a candidate for office by a handsome plurality. The stay at home vote constitutes a danger and a menace.

Alvah Innis winner of the gold medal speaking contest was the first to be introduced and he spoke for the youngsters of the city. He pictured the results of license, its effect on the homes and children and his fine defense was liberally applauded at its conclusion.

Rev. George M. Bailey of Wollaston spoke from the moral standpoint. He pointed out the evils of the presence of liquor and how Quincy would regret allowing it to get a foothold. He paid a warm compliment to the city and said that in his eight months here he had seen few men under the influence of liquor.

Alex W. Russell said that among workingmen there was a misconception of the subject. Many thought that an argument for no-license was a plea for total abstinence. The latter is a matter of opinion said Mr. Russell but the former is decided by the community. He emphasized how strongly fraternal societies oppose the saloon and how practically all of them do not permit bartenders to become members. When women secure equal suffrage said Mr. Russell, there will be no need for protest meetings of this kind. I never met a woman that favored license in any city.

Francis Hazeltine of Lynn was the last speaker. He said it is estimated that about $80,000 is annually expended in his city in the interest of license. As the principal of grammar schools for 21 years I have fought license. Recently the city council of Lynn were presented with a petition asking that teachers be restrained from talking against the saloon. Our

(Continued on Page Two.)

(POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT.) (POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT.) (POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT.) (POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT.)

WHO IS TO WIN?

JOHN L. MILLER

THE TAXPAYERS' CANDIDATE

VOTE FOR HIM!

ALEXANDER FALCONER. 46 Independence Avenue, Quincy.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second-Class matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

TELEPHONES
News . . Quincy 425
Business . . Quincy 1910

NOTICE

Again we ask those sending news or other matter by mail to direct it to the company or newspaper rather than to individual members of the company or employees. If addressed to individuals and they were ill or not at the office, it might be several days in reaching its proper destination and if news matter would be too late for use.

No one understands what the Munroe doctrine is, but this makes people all the more ready to fight for it.

About the only chance for fame left the middle-aged man nowadays is to become the father of a football hero.

If you are a shop girl, a mail clerk, or a letter carier, it takes faith to believe that Christmas means "Peace on earth, good will to men."

During the deer season some farmers placarded their cattle. "I am a cow, don't shoot me," but the hunters carelessly did not wear any "I am a man" notices.

Fifty thousand people will turn out to a football game, but a very moderate sized hall is ample for a debating contest.

An effort to simplify legal documents is being made by the New York Bureau of Municipal Research, in spite of the fact that the present verbose forms make work for the lawyers and thus keep money in circulation.

A movement is on foot in Cleveland to advertise church services in the newspapers. The churches are about the only public enterprises left that try to get along without advertising.

Motor hearses and automobiles are being used in funeral processions in New York. The relatives don't have to wait so long to get back and hear the will read.

Now that the post office clerks are supposed to attach stamps to parcels, the department should inquire what kind of chewing gum best promotes the flow of saliva.

The abandonment of the President's New Year's reception causes some comment, but nowise politician ever shakes hands three years before the election.

WHO FOR MAYOR?

Ash, Miller, Johnson, Shaw. These four names will confront the voters tomorrow when they enter the polling booths to exercise their right of franchise. Which of the four shall it be? This is an important question and one that many voters are puzzling over, whom to support for the principal office in the gift of the citizens of Quincy. All four candidates are well known to the majority of the citizens. Each doubtless has his faults and each has his good qualities.

The question that should be paramount in the minds of the voter is, Which will give the city the best administration? Quincy as is well known is staggering under an excessive valuation and an excessive tax rate. Every candidate promises if elected to see to it that there is a more equitable valuation of property and a reduction of the tax rate.

The pulse of the people today is a hard one to determine. Hardly two men have the same opinion as to the result. The campaign thus far has been free from personalities, and most voters are glad that it has been so. Each candidate has waged a warm campaign however and it is now up to the voter to mark his cross against one of the four candidates.

Up to the present time the Daily Ledger has refrained from endorsing any one partiecular candidate, but now that the eve of the election has arrived it seems after a careful survey of the candidates and their qualifications as though all things considered the interests of the city will be best obtained by the election of Charles H. Johnson, the regular Republican candidate.

POLITICAL HANDSHAKING.

Can a President retain popular favor without wholesale handshaking? Mr. Wilson seems to think so, as he has abandoned for this year at least, the historic New Year's reception, where the chief magistrate appears as the human pump-handle for 7,000 to 10,000 people. But Washington has grave doubts.

The meanest ward politician knows the value of the handshake. The ingratiating welcome to his constituents, he feels, is accepted in lieu of straightforward devotion to their interests. Public council halls and legislatures are full of men otherwise unqualified, who get by on their ability to throw the ferver of personal friendship into a handclasp.

All Presidents up to Wilson have submitted as gracefully as might be. They have studied carefully the technique of the thing, have learned to grasp the hand of the public with a firm hold, shaking rather than being shaken, as thereby the strain on arm muscles and nerves is reduced. They gracefully push the public along, so that the whole line keeps walking. It has been worse than going out in the back yard and sawing up a cord of wood, but no one hitherto has ventured to dispute this impregnable Political Fact.

When Washington was a provincial village, the New Year's reception brought together diverse elements from distant states and promoted friendly relations.,, Now it is merely one of the show sights. If the "Seeing Washington" man had his way, the President would be out on the piazza daily, while the megaphone people display him in the act of shaking hands with gaping rustics.

The political value of the presidential handshake lies in the impression it gives that the President is one of the common people, accessible to the humblest citizen. Actually of course the thing is a sham and farce.

FOR HOME PROTECTION.

What reason has a man who voted "No" last year to change his vote in favor of licensing the saloon the present year? The reasons that turned in 1907 the city of Lynn into the column of municipalities which are ready to protect their citizens from the evil influences of the saloon and which have been strong enough in each succeeding year to keep her there are just as good as they were six years ago, or at any time during the intervening years.

The principal argument of those who are endeavoring to change the policy of the city in relation to intoxicants is that the change will aid the business interests. We notice that the advocates of license defend it in general terms. They do not give a bill of particulars. They fail to show how the expenditure of $2,000,000 in the saloons will help the trade of Lynn in the commodities of life. An inspection of the packages brought home by the men who go to Chelsea or to Boston for their supply of liquors seldom reveals other than the "wet goods" for which they had wandered out of town.

If license prevailed in Lynn the vast sum that would weekly find its way to the cash registers of the saloons would be just so much taken from general circulation. It is the circulation of money that benefits a community. A very small part of the money taken across the bar gets into general circulation. This is a point that is worthy of more consideration than is sometimes accorded to it.

For six years the youth of our city have not been accustomed to the sight of the open saloon and the spectacle of drunken men on the streets has been a rarity. The boys of 16 have not been familiarized with the licensed saloon since they were 10 years old. Those who are 11 have never seen one since they began to go to school. Is it the desire of men who wish to be considered good citizens that these children shall now become familiarized with the saloon? To be sure, they may not be allowed to enter the saloon, but their older brothers may be tempted to spend their time and money there and a harmful influence be exerted upon them which will bring sorrow into their lives.

Lynn has been free from this noxious influence for six years and the rising generation has been afforded a degree of protection which the liquor interests are attempting to break down. Shall they be permitted to succeed? Think this over tomorrow and be thankful that Lynn still stands for the good of all against the evil of the saloon and then resolve that when the time comes for voting the verdict for the seventh time shall be o.—Lynn Item.

—St. Louis is already working for a safe and sane Fourth. The municipal assembly has before it a proposition to prohibit the use of fireworks, except those operated by experts at public exhibitions. Sports and other entertainment features may be used in place of the noisemakers.

TRY TO SMUGGLE TWO CHINAMEN

Immigration Men Accuse Japanese of Serious Crime

ARRESTED BY INSPECTORS

Officers Become Suspicious When Interpretor Has Difficulty In Making Men Understand—Were Equipped With Passports and Claimed to Be Japanese Students

Boston, Dec. 1.—One of the cleverest plots to smuggle Chinamen into the United States that ever came to light was nipped in the bud by immigration officials at this port when two cabin passengers on the steamship Hamburg of the Hamburg-American line, who were traveling as Japanese students, broke down and confessed that their real names are Moy Sam and Louis Ying.

Their companion, Takaui Marutani, a bone fide Japanese, was held by the federal inspectors and he will be charged with attempting to land aliens illegally.

The pair of "Japanese" figured on the liner's passenger list as Tadao Imamuro and Tone Kobayashi. They were provided with passports, apparently regular, which had been issued in Japan. But the suspicions of Inspectors William West and Ferri Weiss aroused both by the appearance of the "students" and by the fact that Marutani, upon acting as interpreter, had the greatest difficulty in making his alleged compatriots understand what he said to them.

When Marutani was questioned by Inspector Weiss, he declared that the two men had spent a year attending a private school in England. As they were unable to speak half a dozen words in English, this also showed something was wrong. All were detained for a hearing before a board of special inquiry, when the Chinamen admitted their identity to Shere Foo Moy, the Chinese interpreter of the immigration service.

Many hours were spent by Deputy Immigration Commissioner J. J. Hurley investigating the case, and while he would not tell that he had evidence to show that others in this country are involved in the plot, more developments are expected.

Marutani told the inspector that he was a passenger on the steamship Cymric of the White Star line, arriving in Boston in October, 1912. This was verified by the records at the immigration station. On that occasion there were three other Japanese with him.

It is not believed by any person connected with the immigration service that Marutani has told the half about himself that he is able to. When "grilled" by Deputy Commissioner Hurley, he pretended frequently to have little knowledge of English, especially when any searching question was put to him. But at other times he answered easily.

They will be held at the Long wharf immigration station to act as witnesses in the court proceedings against Marutani.

The penalty attached to the smuggling of Chinamen into the country is severe. At least $1000 fine and a term of imprisonment may be imposed, or both, at the discretion of the court.

EX-GOVERNOR LADD DEAD

Former Rhode Island Executive Dies In Butler Insane Hospital

Providence, Dec. 1.—Herbert W. Ladd, governor of Rhode Island from 1890 to 1892 and formerly a well known dry goods merchant of this city, died at the Butler hospital for the insane from a cerebral hemorrhage. Ladd had been in poor health for several years and for the past four years had been under treatment at the hospital. He was born in 1843.

Mr. Ladd married in 1870. Mrs. Ladd died in 1889, just as her husband was entering upon his duties as governor. Two children were born to them, Elizabeth, who recently became the wife of Dr. Robert E. McConnell, specialist in tropical diseases, and now at Ubarra, in the Uganda protectorate, studying the sleeping sickness, by commission of the British government, and Hope, who is unmarried.

Cousin of Secretary Bryan Dies

Springfield, Ills., Dec. 1.—Governor Dunne received word of the death at Jacksonville, Fla., of Judge Charles E. Jennings of Salem, Ills., a member of the state board of pardons and cousin of William J. Bryan. Soon after his appointment, Judge Jennings was taken ill and he has never been able to attend a meeting of the board.

Fall River Weavers to Strike

Fall River, Mass., Dec. 1.—The weavers at the Laurel Lake cotton mill voted to strike for different working conditions. The weavers, numbering 150, claim that they have been working on a ten-loom basis for less pay per cut than they would receive on an eight loom basis.

Only Two Warships This Year

Washington, Dec. 1.—Two dreadnoughts will be the naval limit this year according to Chairman Padgett of the house naval affairs committee. Admiral Dewey's board urged four dreadnoughts, sixteen torpedo destroyers and six submarines.

GEORGE WESTINGHOUSE

Air Brake Inventor and Head of Electrical Manufactories

HONOR WESTINGHOUSE

German Engineers Will Formally Award Him Grashof Medal

New York, Dec. 1.—The Grashof medal, the highest honor in the gift of the engineering profession of Germany, will be formally awarded to George Westinghouse at the annual meeting in this city on Dec. 2 to 5 of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

The medal was awarded to Westinghouse at the joint meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and the Verin Deutscher Ingeniteure at Leipsic last summer.

Fire protection in factories, steel railway passenger cars and other questions relating to the safety of the public will be discussed by members of the society from all parts of the country.

WHITE SLAVE STORY HAS BEEN EXPLODED

Alleged Miss Piper Told It to Hide Escapade

Portland, Me., Dec. 1.—United States District Attorney Robert T. Whitehouse branded as unfounded the story of Miss Lois Piper, the young Fairfield school teacher, who said she was abducted by white slavers and brought to Boston.

Miss Piper framed up the story to hide an escapade of herself and Harry R. Keene of Fairfield, according to the district attorney, who had an investigation of the young woman's story made by an expert on white slave cases.

The district attorney said that in view of the fact that wide publicity had been given to the young woman's story that she had been abducted by white slave conspirators in violation of the Mann act he felt it his duty to get at the truth and let the public know it.

STRIKE IS SETTLED

Empoyes of General Electric at Schenectady Returning to Work

Schenectady, N. Y., Dec. 1.—Conferes reached an agreement for a settlement of the strike at the General Electric company plant. A copy of the agreement was sent to the trades alliance and was accepted.

Frank Dujay and Mabel Leslie, union officials, over whose dismissal the strike was called, will be put on other jobs. It is said that probably all workers will go back today, and that within the week all effects of the strike will be removed.

Statements were issued by company officials, the press committee of the strikers and Mayor Lunn, expressing satisfaction over the adjustment of differences.

The company agreed to find work for Miss Leslie and Dujay within a week. It probably will be several days before the plant is running normally.

Italian Wreck Kills Seven

Rome, Dec. 1.—The evening express, bound from Rome for Naples, ran into a locomotive at Ceccano and seven passengers were killed and twenty-five injured. Several senators and deputies, who were returning south after a sitting of parliament, were on board the express, but fortunately none of them was hurt.

Banker Robin to "Come Back"

New York, Dec. 1.—Joseph G. Robin, convicted of wrecking the Northern bank, completed his sentence of one year in Blackwell's island penitentiary less a month and twenty-one days deducted for good behavior. He said he intended to "come back" and reestablish himself.

Found Not Guilty of Manslaughter

Gloucester, Mass., Dec. 1.—Manuel Charves, a member of the crew of the fishing schooner Vanessa, was found not guilty at the local court of the charge of manslaughter, in connection with the death of William Foley, whose body was found floating in the harbor.

ENGAGEMENT OF FOOT BALL STAR

"Tack" Hardwick and Miss Stone of Brookline Betrothed

An engagement of much local interest was that of Huntington R. Hardwick ,son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Theodore Hardwick of Chestnut street and the well known gridiron, diamond and track star of Harvard to Miss Margaret Stone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Galen L. Stone of 149 Buckminster road, Brookline. The engagement was announced Sunday at a tea given at the Stone home. Miss Stone was in Quincy Sunday the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Hardwick, leaving in the early afternoon for Brookline.

The announcement of the betrothal of Miss Stone, who is herself an ardent devotee of out-of-door sports, and "Tack" Hardwick will undoubtedly be a surprise to the friends of the Harvard athlete, since his activities in football, baseball and track and field sports, in addition to his collegiate studies, almost precluded the possibility of wooing. But Hardwick has long had an admirer in Miss Stone and she had followed his brilliant athletic career closely.

His father, a prosperous granite manufacturer of Quincy, was himself an athlete in his college days. He prepared for college at Adams Academy, and while a member of the class of '84 at Harvard, earned a reputation as a football player, although slight of stature.

The young man played, halfback on his school team at Groton and easily "made" the Harvard freshman team. He played on his freshman class team that beat Yale and he played on the varsity during the last two years as halfback and end.

In addition, Hardwick has been an outfielder of the Harvard varsity baseball team and last Spring, his long hit in the first Yale game at Cambridge brought victory to his team. Harvard won the playoff at New York after the Elis had evened the score at New Haven.

Hardwick has been especially proficient in the running broad jump and shotput, in which events he won his "H." According to the tests conducted by Dr. Dudley A. Sargent he is the strongest man among the Harvard undergraduates. In a test last month he scored a total of 1296.2 points.

Miss Stone, who is the daughter of Galen L. Stone of the brokerage firm of Hayden, Stone & Co., at 87 Milk street, is about 20 years old. She attended a Boston private school and graduated from Bryn Mawr College this year. She is an expert horsewoman and motorist. Her sister Katherine was married to Richard F. Hoyt about a year ago at the Stone Summer home in Marion. It is understood Miss Stone's engagement to Mr. Hardwick dates back to the time of her sister's wedding, but it has been kept a secret until now.

Only a Few

A comparatively small number of Hamilton Watches are made every year. Their extreme accuracy and fine adjustment forbids making them in large quantities.

The Hamilton Watch

"The Railroad Timekeeper of America"

Not only the man or woman who wants a very accurate watch buys the Hamilton—but the individual who knows about watches usually demands the Hamilton. We sell Hamilton watches complete, or supply a Hamilton movement for your present watch case. All sizes for men and women.

We carry in stock The New Extra Thin Model Hamilton in 12 size and from 17 jewel adjusted to the highest 23 jewel grade made in 16 size. The price of the best is $60.00 which is a low price considering that this watch is without a doubt the finest watch manufactured in the United States.

Get a copy of our New Christmas Catalogue

SANDBERG BROS.
Jewelers
1281 Hancock St, Quincy

Capital $150,000 Surplus $200,000

"THE SECRET OF SUCCESS IS TO BE READY FOR ONE'S OPPORTUNITIES"—DICKENS.

It is not enough to know an opportunity when you see it; you must be prepared to grasp it and make it your own.

Moral: A Bank account helps you to be ready for opportunities.

Our $5 Box is Larger Than a $10 Box in Boston.

GRANITE TRUST CO.
FOUNDED 1836

CHRISTMAS FAIR

First Church (Unitarian)

Wednesday, Dec. 3, at 2 o'clock

A large assortment of attractive Fancy Articles, Aprons of all kinds, Mysterious Packages, Aunt Dinah with Grabs for the Children.

A GROCERY STORE in charge of the Men of the Parish. Family orders solicited. Superior goods at current prices.

At 6.30 Supper will be served. Price 35 cents.

At 7.45 a series of Living Pictures will be given entitled "The Reveries of a Bachelor."

Nov. 25-6t

SEATING CAPACITY

(Continued from Page One.)

330 teachers oppose it because their work brings them in contact with the home and they see the results.

Children of the home where drink is the curse are terribly handicapped. They wear poor and dirty clothing, suffer from unstrung nerves and wounded dispositions and are not able to undertake the work of the class room. A class of this kind also diminishes the efficiency of the teacher and of the surrounding pupils.

The number of pupils going into the high school has increased under the no-license regime and the death rate is lower. Prosperity reigns and "Blue Monday" in the shoe shops no longer has a place in the calendar.

Lynn was the cesspool of Essex county with license. Its congested streets were filled with men in undesirable conditions. Immorality crept in and with it the misuse of children. The police force was increased and partially sobered men were released from custody to make room for others.

The license fee is $1000 which goes into the city treasury but fully $25,000 goes over the counter of a saloon in return.

License eventually dominates city hall. Men connected with it control the destiny of the city and when that condition follows it is hard to trust the government.

When a saloon is opened a blight is put on the spot from which the community does not recover for years. The location of a saloon means much. Two and one quarter millions are now going over the counters of stores for the commodities of life in Lynn. With license how much of that would go into the pockets of the saloon keeper and his master the distiller?

YOU need the Ledger EVERY DAY. SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER. ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

WOLLASTON RALLY.

Th largest no license rally in the history of Wollaston was held, Sunday evening, under the auspices of the No-License League in the Wollaston school hall. The large hall was completely filled with a large number of men and a liberal sprinkling of women.

Music by the Boston University male quartet was enjoyed at intervals during the evening.. Local clergymen were on the platform. Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath of the Wollaston Congregational church presided. The meeting was opened with a prayer by Rev. Thomas S. Barbour D. D., of Wollaston.

In his opening remarks Mr. Sneath swung the slogan of 4000 "no" votes this year. Last year there had been 3086. He looked for the 1000 increase to the 1524 that stayed at home and the 333 that voted a blank last year. As Wollaston so goes Quincy, said Mr. Sneath.

The speaker of the evening was Rev. Herbert W. Stebbins, ex-chaplain of Charlestown Prison, at present engaged in special socialogical work in New York city.

He spoke for an hour and a half on the thrilling experiences in connection with the drink question at Charlestown, emphasizing the value of no-license to the foreigner.

Mr. Stebbins spoke of the danger of the saloon to the foreigner. The foreigner is used to drinking with his meals but is unacquainted with the saloon. When he comes to this country the saloon works him untold harm.

Th value of the "no" vote in Quincy in light of the dangerous occupations engaged in was emphasized.

The great word of the day said Mr. Stebbins is the word "efficiency." This depends on eliminating waste. Social students will tell you that the greatest wastes come through drink. Wasted money, wasted skill, wasted manhood. Help to keep the saloon out of Quincy said Mr. Stebbins as he closed his masterly address.

THE CORSET SHOP
8 Maple Street

All Popular makes of
Corsets and Brassieres
Hosiery and
McCall Patterns

Correct fitting of Corsets a specialty

I have been very fortunate to have, during my temporary absence, the services of an expert corsettiere, who who will give the same personal attention to fittings and alterations as has always been accorded to customers.

MISS S. E. DUNPHY

Oct. 30tf

SUNDAY IN QUINCY CHURCHES

NOTE—Press corespondents of Churches are requested to limit reports of sermons to 100 words, unless abstracts are requested. Where five or more sermons are delivered in Quincy every Sunday it is impossible to report them at length. Brief items of church news are requested. Name and address should accompany all reports.

HALL PLACE M. E.

The text of the morning sermon at the Hall Place M. E. church by Rev. T. C. Martin, was Romans 10-10. "For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation."

The mouth makes confession as to what the soul really believes. Our church has been a testifying church, perhaps more so than any other church. It has had its class meetings, its testimony meetings long before the Christian Endeavor, Epworth League and other societies of modern origin. The Methodist Episcopal church has said "Let him that believes on the Lord say so," and not waiting for a college education or for ordination at the hands of ministers, bishops or priests, the Spirit of the Lord said "Testify, speak out, let your light shine, glorify God in your testimonies.

When it comes to the matter of religion how many people are ashamed. Ashamed to say they have lived so and so for years, they haven't acknowledged the claims of Christ in their life but that now they wish to acknowledge His claims and that He is their Lord and Master. That is so much to say! But men are not ashamed, to sin.

Why these men who are engaged in this traffic of inveighing people in to the saloons, standing with doors wide open, they are not ashamed of their traffic. Mr. Moody says that the Christian religion is the only religion of which its followers are ashamed.

Mouth expression is the expression of the life. When the day of Pentecost was fully come a new regime of religion was inaugurated. Inaugurated as a time of testimony. The Holy Spirit came down from Heaven and lit upon them as a tongue. It is very significant that the characteristic outpouring of the Holy Spirit was a tongue of fire. That means testimony. Jesus said "When the Spirit is poured out upon you ye shall bear witness of me unto the ends of the earth." Jesus put it rightly when He said "Out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh," and when the life and the mouth correspond is there anything finer than a natural expression of ones belief, a natural expression of one's life and one's convictions, so that the testimony is not distorted or warped but comes naturally to the surface?

"With the mouth confession is made unto salvation." "Let your light so shine before men that they seeing your good works may glorify your Father which is in Heaven. This is the Divine method. This is the way the Kingdom of Heaven is to come. "Ye are my witnesses" The Kingdom of Heaven is to come when the followers of Jesus Christ are ready to bear testimony for Him.

The Sunday school was held at the close of the morning service. Harold Norris, second Vice president, led the pworth League service at 6.15 on "The Foreignor in America." A praise and testimony service was held at 7. P. M.

This evening members of the official board are invited to attend a meeting in People's Temple, Boston to hear addresses and reports of the great laymen's meeting recently held at Indianapolis and the new program to be presented to the men of the Boston District.

Wednesday evening Epworth League is to give a representation of the admission of immigrants at Ellis Lsland at St. John's church, South Boston at the quarterly meeting of the Pilgrim Union.

Thursday evening Rev. L. W. Adams will lecture on "Sunny Italy or under the Italian Flag."

Junior League Friday at 3.45 and prayer meeting at 7.30.

WOLLASTON UNITARIAN.

This church exists to serve the whole community. Visitors are welcome at every service of worship and those without church connections are invited to affiliation with the Wollaston Unitarian church. The minister is glad to meet strangers after any service.

The exquisite azalia, which graced the communion table, was the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Bishop in memory of Mrs. Frances Ann Hewett Dalrymple, the mother of Mrs. Bishop.

Rev. Carl G. Horst officiated at the funeral of Mrs. Ellen Maria Oldham, Sunday at 2 o'clock at the home of her son on Safford street and later at the burial service in North Weymouth.

Rev. Paul Harris Drake conducted the morning service of worship and preached an excellent sermon on "The Imminence of God."

The choir guild is busy rehearsing music for the special Christmas services.

There is much pleasant rivalry between the Reds and the Blues to see which side gains the larger number of new members for the Young Peoples' Religious Union and has the largest number present at the Sunday meetings.

The Wollaston Unitarian church joined with the Baptist, Congregational and Methodist churches in the No-License rally in Wollaston school hall

The Ladies' Aid Alliance hold an all-day sewing meeting in the vestry Wednesday. Members and all wanting to help are requested to come with their box luncheon at ten o'clock. The annual Christmas apron and candy sale will be held Dec. 10.

Mrs. Carl G. Horst has charge of the flowers that lend so much grace and beauty to the Sunday morning service of worship.

The annual Social Service Conference under the Social Service department of the American Unitarian Association will be held in Boston Wednesday and Thursday.

The Wednesday evening session will be held in the vestry of the Arlington Street church and all the rest in Channing hall, 25 Beacon street. Many of the speakers have a national reputation.

Any person desiring to give memorial flowers any Sunday is kindly asked to notify Mrs. C. G. Horst, 39 Grand View avenue.

The members of the Y. P. R. U. attended in large numbers the Boston Federation of Y. P. R. U's in the First Parish church, Quincy, Sunday afternoon and evening.

Mr. Horst occupied the pulpit of the First Parish, Quincy Sunday morning.

WOLLASTON CONGREGATIONAL.

Rev. Dr. Sneath preached a most helpful and inspiring sermon on "God's Providence is my Inheritance" from the text Matt. 6:22.

In brief: "God's Providence, our Inheritance," the most profound and precious truth. The modern suggestion that God lives for us, as opposed to the old theology, is a truth strenuously denied by certain ones as improbable if not impossible but Dr. Sneath proved the Divine Providence as manifested in the infinite universe, the nation and in our own individual lives. To recognize God and be content to give Him the right of way in our lives and trust where we cannot comprehend are the conditions of divine guidance. Each needs a masterhand in God.

Tuesday afternoon in the vestry there is to be a sale, also a parcel post for the children and in the evening an entertainment.

Wednesday at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. A. A. Lincoln, Lincoln avenue the Ladies' Auxiliary will meet to hear news from the foreign field and to study "Campaigning for the King" with Mrs. Trumper, leader. Also the same afternoon and evening, there will be held the Sunday school convention of the East Norfolk County Association in the Wollaston Baptist church.

Thursday at 7.45 in the vestry the usual midweek service will be led by Dr. Sneath, topic: "Jesus and our Home Life."

WOLLASTON BAPTIST.

"Some Indispensable Things," was the subject of the morning sermon at the Wollaston Baptist church. After a few introductory remarks, the pastor said: "There are six things which scripture declares to be indispensable if we are to be pleasing to God, helpful to others and happy ourselves.

I. Faith—Not so much in men as in God. "For without faith it is impossible to please Him." Without faith there is no conscious relationship between God and the human heart, no appropriation of His blessings, no belief in His veracity.

II. Good Works.—"Faith without works is dead."

III. Love—A man may be eloquent of speech, may have gifts of prophecy, understanding of all mysteries, all knowledge, and faith so that he can remove mountains, and yet it will profit him nothing if he be lacking in love.

IV. Holiness—Many people object to this word because they think it makes too high demands, but in page after page of the Bible we find it. "Be ye holy, for I am holy;" "Without holiness, no man shall see the Lord." Man cannot live as he pleases, he must be holy as God is holy.

V. Suffering—The sign of sonhood, the sign of love, the correction of the father. Suffering brings us low, Drives us to God, corrects errors, weans from the world, and makes one sympathetic with others.

VI. Christ—He includes all the others: "Without Me, ye can do nothing."

Great interest was shown in the men's department of the Sunday school at 12.15. There was special music, vocal and instrumental and an address by Joseph A. Sedgewick treasurer of the Fore River Co., The young men of the Rand class have started a Membership Contest which will continue till the first of January. The attendance at the class was 31.

Tuesday beginning at 10 A. M. an all day sewing meeting will be held in the chapel.

Friday evening at 7.45 the monthly business meeting and social of the Y. P. S. C. E. will be held in the chapel.

PARK AND DOWNS.

At the morning service at the Park and Dawns Congregational church Sunday, the pastor, Rev. Wm. B. Ayers, delivered one of his strong and eloquent sermons to an interested audience, text, Ecc. 9th Chapter, 10th verse. "Whatsoever Thy hand findeth to do, do it with Thy Might."

"Thoroughness and enthusiasm are requisite for success in life. Unless one can put his heart into his work he will not work thoroughly or enthusiastically. To put his heart there there must be some meaning and value to his work; it must have a worth in goodness to others. To see the meaning of it he must see it in its relation to the central purpose of life; the sense of God must be in it. A man must work with God in his heart or his work is a burden."

The evening service was the seventh of the series—"The Shepherd of the Hills," a study of the sane life. A sane life is a well-balanced life. Society is the perfect control of bodily appetites and tendencies; it is control of the mental processes. Man the master of himself.

"Some people are dominated by a single idea to the exclusion of all other things. Life suffers if we lose interest in other things except our work. To a degree we owe it to ourselves, to spread our efforts; to take an interest in the common life about us; to seek to learn and know mankind and his interests and to seek to aid him. Too many men narrow down to a single rut as they grow older. Here is a universe at our doors crammed with knowledge, here is God and Eternity."

ASSAULTED SISTER.

Antonio Ardissino of 103 South Walnut street was arrested Sunday by Officer Malone on a warrant charging assault and battery on his sister Mary Ardissino. It is alleged that in an argument. Saturday night Antonio struck his sister with his fist and that she sustained a broken jaw. She was unable to appear this morning and the government was granted a continuance until Saturday. Antonio according to his attorney has made all preparations to sail for Italy Monday to claim his bride.

LOOKING FOR VICTIMS.

Local interest is added to the following item from the fact that Charles P. Slade, a former teacher in the Quincy High school, is the principal of the school.

"And now little Naugatuck High school, from down in Connecticut, bobs into the limelight as scholastic football champion of southern New England and as seeking a post season game with some Greater Boston schoolboy eleven for the New England title. You'll have to give the Naugatuck eleven credit for being courageous if not, indeed, a trifle nervy."

BRADFORD—RICH.

An event of unusual charm and beauty took place at the home of Mr and Mrs. E. A. Rich at Squantum Saturday evening when their daughter Viola Adelaide became the bride of Oscar A. Bradford of Worcester, and the bride and groom were sponsors at the christening of Miss Barbara Elizabeth Hogan, daughter of Mr and Mrs. J. F. Hogan the baby's mother being a sister of the bride.

The double ceremony took place in the handsome large living room of the Rich bungalow at the corner of East Squantum street and Winslow road A huge log lay smoldering in the big fireplace and the room was lighted entirely by candles. Banked about the room were ferns and palms. The beauty of the scene as the bride and groom met before the throne of ferns and palms to be joined in wedlock and then to act as god father and god mother to the charming Miss Barbara, was one which will long shine vividly in the memory of the one hundred guests. The Rev. W. DeWees Roberts of St. John's Episcopal church, East Boston, officiated at the double service, the Episcopal double ring service being used and the Episcopal ritual was followed at the christening.

Just before the wedding ceremony Miss Cora Fuller of Atlantic sang in charming voice, "O Promise Me." Lohengrin's wedding march was played by Miss Alice Tolman of Dorchester. The bride was given away by her father. The bridesmaid was Miss Grace R. Perry of 31 Rockwell street, Dorchester, and the best man Harry E. Webber of 49 Saxton road Dorchester.

The bride's gown was of white crepe de chine cut en train and trimmed with Duchess lace. The veil was caught up with orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Rich was an unusually pretty bride. The bridesmaid was gowned in green crepe de chine trimmed with shadow lace. She wore a black picture hat and carried a huge bouquet of chrysanthemums. The bride's mother wore pearl grey silk trimmed with coral velvet and lace.

In the christening which followed the font used in the service was a handsome silver bowl which was one of the wedding gifts. Following the two ceremonies there was a wedding luncheon served at which E. W. Rose of Mattapan catered. The guests then enjoyed dancing to a late hour.

There was a merry time when the bride and groom whizzed off on their honeymoon in a big touring car.

Mrs. Bradford was charmingly gowned in a travelling suit of mahogany colored broadcloth with a mahogany hued velvet hat trimmed with ostrich feathers. The destination was kept secret but after a motor trip which may take them as far as New York they will return to Worcester where they will make their home at 724 Main street. Mr. Bradford is a valuable employe in one of the large Worcester garages.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradford were the recipients of many handsome gifts. One room was entirely filled with valuable gifts from their hosts of friends. Among them was a handsome chafing dish set and percolator from the Cadillac associates of Worcester of which the groom is a member. Among the many gifts were two tea sets, solid silver spoon which was once the property of the bride's grandmother, ivory handled steak set, silver casserole, cut glass goblets and sugar and cream set, cut glass fern dish and plateau, sandwich basket, a Tiffany cream spoon, pictures, and many other gifts.

The bride deeply treasured a handsome ivory covered prayer book a gift of the officiating clergyman. The bride's gift to the bridesmaid was an amethyst and pearl ring and the groom gave his best man a signet ring.

Among the guests at the wedding and christening were Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Clark of Worcester; Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Churchill of Worcester formerly of Atlantic; Mrs. William F. Birch and family of Chelsea; Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hogan of Quincy, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Marchant of Milton, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Johnson, the latter a sister of the bride and son, Elliott, of East Milton, Gordon Lewis and Miss Agnes MacAndrew, Miss Sadie O'Toole and Martin O'Toole of East Milton, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Bradford of Ashmont, grandparents of the groom and family Alexander O. Bradford, father of the groom and family of Dorchester, Mrs. Fred Leland and daughter, Miss Marion of Ashmont, Mrs. Margaret Perry and family of Dorchester, Miss Regina Coughlin, Mrs. George Johnson and Miss Sarah Perry of Dorchester.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

CITY SQUARE ILLUMINATED

Work installing the flaming arc gas lamps on the ornamental pole at the junction of Washington and Codlington streets was completed Saturday afternoon and the lights were lighted for the first time that night. There are four lights on the pole each of 680 candle power giving a combined light of 2720 candle power at this point. These lights illuminate the entire square in that vicinity and is a great improvement. The new lights were the subject of much favorable comment Saturday night and it was noticed that the path on the north side of the First church was lighted up which will be greatly appreciated by the hundreds that use his path in coming from the evening trains. As noted above the lights are supplied by gas and burn all night.

NORFOLK COUNTY'S HOME FOR THE AGED.

The annual report of the work being done at "The King's Daughters' Home for the Aged" at Pondville, has just been published. At a circle meeting held in Readville, in 1897, Mrs. Amelia Tennison gave the first dollar toward such a much needed Home, and at the next County Convention of the King's Daughters, held in Needham, 1897, two committees were chosen to see what could be done. On April 5th, 1899, a corporation was formed under the name of "The King's Daughters' and Sons' Home for the Aged in Norfolk County, Massachusetts," and on April 21, 1900, Virgil S. Pond, of Foxboro, presented his old homestead at Pondville, to the corporation for their use, the same to be called "The Pond Home," On June 3, 1902 the home was dedicated, Dr. Edward Everett Hale being the chief speaker. Since that time, 28 worthy, aged, homeless people have found there welcome, rest, kindness and care, 12 of whom have passed on to the home above. There are now 16 in the home, and over 30 on the waiting list. There are no paid officers. Only the superintendent in the home, and her helpers, receive any compensation for their services. The responsibility of carrying on the work rests on a board of 15 trustees chosen from the different towns in the county, and at no time has there ever been a dollar of indebtedness that was not promptly met. Over $40,000 has been contributed by a generous public, $18,000 of which is now in an endowment fund, $1000.00 is in the maintenance fund, and the rest has been used in repairing, enlarging and supporting the home. The work is no longer an experiment. The endowment fund should consist of about $100,000 to place the Home upon a permanent foundation, and this would soon be raised if only a few wealthy Norfolk county people would get in touch with the interesting family gathered there, and, when making their contributions and bequests remember this home. Visitors are always welcome. The annual report can be procured by writing to the treasurer, Mrs. Thomas Fenno of Wollaston. Any further particulars will gladly be furnished by the clerk. Miss Mary E. Clark.

SLIGHT FIRE.

A chimney fire in the home of Frank Perry on Arnold street was extinguished Sunday evening by the auto chemical squad. The fire is thought to have been burning all day. About 10.30 the kitchen filled with smoke and the apparatus was summoned.

AHEAD OF ALL OTHERS

In the long run you will get more real genuine satisfaction out of a pair of

Packard SHOES

than is possible with any other line. You are not merely buying a pair of shoes, you are making a paying investment, not only from a monetary standpoint, but also from the standpoint that you are to be satisfied as to your feet, which is worth most of all. PACKARDS insure comfort for your feet, a style that pleases your fancy, and genuine shoe service.

REMICK'S

Music Hall Block, Quincy

REDUCTION IN CITY DEBT

Report to Dec. 1, Shows Large Decrease in Debt

The Financial statement of the City Auditor to Dec. 1, issued today shows one thing that will be of interest to the tax payers and that is that the net debt of the city has been reduced thus far under the administration of Mayor Stone to the extent of $109,851.46 and that the city has a borrowing margin on Dec. 1 of $245,559.46.

That the total debt on January 1, 1913 was $2,294,896.46 and the amount paid, $273,476.46 amount issued $163,625 leaving the net debt on Dec. 1 at $2,185,945. The statement follows:

1910 Net Valuation		32192, 905.00
1911 Net Valuation		34,347,845.00
1912 Net Valuation		35,219,786.00
		$101,760,536.00
3 years average	$33,920,179
	2½ per cent	$848,004.46
Debt Jan. 1, 1913		711,496.46
Margin Jan. 1, 1913		$136,508.00
Bonds Matured Dec. 1		162,676.46
		299,184.46
Bands Issued 1913		53,625.00
Borrowing Margin Dec. 1		$245,559.46

TOTAL DEBT.

	Jan. 1	Paid	Issued	Net Debt
City Debt	$711,496.46	$162,676.46	$53625.00	$602,445
Street Improvement	78,400.00	7,300.00		71,100
Park	22,000.00	2,000.00		20,000
Water	709,500.00	57,500.00	70,000.00	722,000
Sewer	623,500.00	29,000.00	40,000.00	634,500
Refunding	150,000.00	15,000.00		135,000
	$2,294,896.46	$273,476.46	$163,625.00	$2,185,045
Decrease $109,851.46

H. O. FAIRBANKS, City Auditor.

HEBREW RALLY.

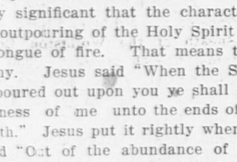
Several candidates spoke before the Quincy Hebrew Citizens Association Sunday afternoon. Alexander Falcorner and Harry Marr talked in the interests of John L. Miller and Charles E. Decker for W. G. Shaw. Dr. John H. Ash spoke in his own behalf.

SWEDISH CONGREGATIONAL.

A union service of the Sunday school and congregation was held Sunday with short talks by John Anderson and C. Satterlund with an address by the pastor Rev. A. G. Sporrong. Singing was by a male chorus. The weekly offering has thus far brought in $175.

WHIST AND DANCE.

Scandia Lodge, Order of Vasa held a whist and dancing party in Electa hall, Saturday evening. The souvenirs for high whist scores were awarded to Mrs. John S. Johnson, Mrs. George Hermansen, Mrs. Charles Anderson, Henry Wallin,, Albin Mattson and Fred Smith.



No bread could be more delicious, wholesome and satisfying. Take home a loaf and you will be convinced.

At LEADING GROCERY STORES.

LOOK! LISTEN!

While they last: 25 new cesspool covers $1.75 value, now $1.25 each; 50 rolls Good quality roofing at $1.25; 50c lengths galvanized conductor pipe 6c. value at 4c. ft. Black Roof Paint at 59c gallon, suitable for all kinds of roofing, also suitable for painting iron. Don't forget that we also carry a full line of Decorated Wall Board and all other NEPONSET Products L. Grossman & Sons, Quincy Adams, Mass.

Open until 6 P. M. Closed all day Saturdays.

Nov. 25 L O-tf

WHEN YOU TAKE OUT YOUR SCREENS

If they need painting or repairing let

HOLMES & HALL

fix them up during the winter and have them read yin the spring.

NO CHARGE FOR STORAGE

TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

1179 HANCOCK ST.

CHICHESTER S PILLS

THE DIAMOND BRAND. Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter s Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable

SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

Old Company's Lehigh Egg Coal

for Your furnace

Is there anything better mined?

We Sell It

Try a Ton

C. PATCH & SON Inc.

1422 Hancock Street

Quincy Daily Ledger

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30.
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branschied & Marten.
Burgee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
Newcomb Square—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. I. Smith.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck.
L. A. Cook, Washington Street.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington Street.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield Water st.
A. Pierson, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—Capt. Fosdick's.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity: Tuesday probable rain. Wednesday generally fair.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	6.55
Sun sets	4.18
Length of day	9.18
Moon rises	8.42
High water, A. M.	2.15
High water, P. M.	2.30

Days decrease 5 hours, 59 minutes

Full Moon, Dec. 13,	10.00 A. M.
Last Quarter, Dec. 20	11.16 A. M.
New Moon, Dec. 27	9.59 A. M.
First Quarter, Dec. 5,	9.59 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today	43 degrees
Dec. 2 1912,	56 degrees
Dec. 2, 1911,	42 degrees

Dec. Noon Maximum 14 years—67
Dec. Noon Minimum, 14 years—2

NEWSY BRIEFS

J. F. Gleason of Newberg, N. J., has been renewing old acquaintances in this city the past few days.

George L. Gill Rebekah Lodge works the degree on several candidates at its regular meeting in I. O. O. F. hall Thursday evening.

The Langham Mandolin orchestra of Boston, comprising 40 musicians are to give a concert Tuesday evening at the Park and Downs Congregational church.

Miss Sarah Howes, a teacher in the Willard school spent the Thanksgiving holidays with her parents in East Dennis on the Cape. She entertained as her guest Miss Ruth Kemp of South Quincy, a teacher at the Adams school.

Several members of Maple Lodge K. and L. of H. are to accompany Grand Chaplain Agnes G. Fletcher and District Deputy Rose A. Reed on their annual visitation to Gen. Warren Lodge of Blue Hill avenue this evening leaving city square at 7 o'clock.

At the regular meeting of Maple Lodge Wednesday evening in Protection hall, the election of officers for the ensuing year will take place followed by an entertainment and social hour with Miss Isabelle McBurnie in charge.

The Norwoll club connected with the Park and Downs Congregational church is to give an original entertainment along the lines of minstrel show Dec. 10 and 11. The club is composed of the young men of the church whose aim in giving the entertainment is to raise money for the church.

Mrs. James S. Baxter of Pleasant street, and her brother, Nathan W. Cutler of Manchester, N. H., returned Saturday from Trenton, N. J., where they have been spending the month of November with Mrs. Baxter's son, who is in the granite business in Trenton. Miss Mabel S. Baxter went down to spend Thanksgiving with them.

All preparations are completed by the ladies of the First Parish church for the fair, supper and entertainment to be held in the chapel Wednesday afternoon and evening. The men of the parish are to assist with a special feature, a modern grocery store.

Instead of the usual Tuesday the Wollaston Woman's club meets this week on Friday afternoon when W. L. Hubbard of the Boston Opera house will be the speaker, subject "Tales of Hoffmann."

☞PRATT'S BREAD is best because more care is used in the making. Grocers.

Call Quincy 501–W

if you want your furniture, mattresses and cushions repaired in good order at low prices M. MIRKIN, upholsterer, 1060 Hancock street near the Quincy High School.

Dec.4-1m

TWO WINS FOR QUINCY Y. M. C. A

The Boston 1st and 2nd teams proved to be the easiest kind of opponents on Saturday night in the local gym. The 1st team game was a walk-away from the start, the team work of our local boys taking the visitors right off their feet. Parker and Kenn did fine work in the back positions holding the Boston men to 2 goals in each half while Parker himself made 3 baskets. Trask had his usual "shooting eye" with him making 11 goals from the floor.

The 2nd team proved to be more of a Quincy aggregation than a Boston team; only 3 visitors appearing on the floor. Jack Melville and Charles Bishop agreed to play with Boston and if it had not been for these two men the game would have been as one-sided as the 1st team affair. Out of 20 points, Bishop scored 10 and Melville 6.

For Quincy Miller, Thomas and Dineen each made 5 goals from the floor: Croucher also scored 2 goals.

QUINCY Y.M.C.A.	BOSTON Y.M.C.A.
Price rf	lb Ross
Rich lf	rb Myhre
	rb Johnson
Trask c	c Mortimas
Kenn rb	lf Bryant
Parker lb	rf Busby

Score, Quincy Y. M. C. A. 43, Boston Y. M. C. A. 8. Goals from floor, Trask 11, Price 3, Rich 3, Parker 3, Ross, Mortimas, Bryant, Busby. Goals from fouls, Trask 3. Referee, Wells. Scorer, Robertson. Timer, Brooks. Time, 20m. and 15m. periods. Attendance, 150.

QUINCY 2D.	BOSTON 2D.
Thomas rf	lb Greene
Dineen lf	rb Melville
Miller c	c Bishop
Croucher rb	lf Burr
Johnson rb
Shirley lb	rf Feidleman
Flanders lb

Score, Quincy 2d 30, Boston 2d 20. Goals from floor, Dineen 5, Miller 5, Thomas 5, Croucher 2, Bishop 5, Melville 2, Burr 2, Feidleman. Goals from fouls, Thomas 0.

FLAHERTY'S AND JOYCE'S TIED

The Flahertys and Joyces are tied for first place in the St. Mary's league. The feature of the matches to date is the high individual averages of McPherson who has averaged 98. The standing:

Captain	Won	Lost
B. Flaherty	9	3	.750
T. Joyce	9	3	.750
Reinhalter	4	2	.666
W. Joyce	5	3	.625
McPherson	7	5	.583
McDonald	5	7	.416
Welch	2	4	.333
Rooney	1	3	.250
Morrissett	3	9	.250
Duggan	0	4	.000

High team pinfall McDonald 1291, high single string, Knight 120; high three string total McPherson 317; high individual average McPherson 98.

How Royalty Sleeps.

"Uneasy lies the head that wears a crown," says the poet. But the precautions that are taken to assure undisturbed rest to King George of England must at least bring quiet to his pillow. The outside of the royal palace is, of course, guarded by soldiers and detectives all night, and several night watchmen pace up and down the corridors through the hours of darkness, says the London correspondent of the New York Sun.

These men are shod in thick felt slippers so that their footsteps will not wake the royal sleeper, and one of them is always near the king's room until his majesty is called by his valet in the morning.

Every door and window in the palace is frequently examined, and it would be impossible for any intruder to get in without being discovered. The king is as well protected as the czar of Russia, who has a guard of armed Cossacks outside of his room, or the king of Spain, who is watched by a squad of specially picked soldiers, who keep the keys of all the doors of the palace during the night

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

YOUNG P. R. U. FEDERATION

Semi-Annual Meeting At First Church Sunday

The semi-annual meeting of the Boston Federation of Young People's Religious Unions was held Sunday afternoon and evening at First Church, Quincy.

The business meeting opened at 4 o'clock, J. Harry Hooper of Wollaston president of the organization presiding.

Divine blessing was invoked by Rev. George F. Pratt of Dorchester and Henry W. Porter, superintendent of the First Parish Sunday school delivered an address of welcome.

The roll call showed 17 unions present representing Boston and its suburbs from Winthrop on the north to Hyde Park on the south and Brighton on the west. Miss Laura K. Darling of Hyde Park read the secretarys' report and Frederick G. May of Dorchester that of the treasurer.

Reports were received from Miss Dorothy Pope of Brighton for the Friendly Service committee, Chester R. Allen of Dorchester for the Ways and Means committee, Miss Marion Dudley Richards of Brookline for the Membership committee and Harry Austin of Dorchester for the social committee.

The handbook of the organization, representing ten years of progress was distributed and Miss Esther Kendall Davis of Brookline reported for the program committee.

The president awarded the silver cups won at the annual picnic and athletic meet at Houghton's Pond in June. The ladies cup went to Miss Marion Dudley Richards of Brookline. Frederick H. Kennedy of West Roxbury received the men's cup and the guild cup went to the Unity Club, of West Roxbury.

The chair appointed a music committee consisting of Miss Marion Dudley Richards of Brookline, Miss Georgie May Morris of Dorchester, William Ellis Weston of Wollaston, Ward C. Lincoln and Miss Kathleen Witham of Boston.

Much discussion ensued over the appointment of a finance committee to act as a check on the expenditures of the society. The motion was finally carried.

On invitation of Miss Marie Bass, president of the Quincy Union the meeting adjourned to the supper room below where a fine repast was served by the local society.

The evening meeting in the form of a devotional service and address opened at 7.30 with an organ prelude by William Ellis Weston.

The devotional service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Peck of Winthrop. The services opened with a hymn of dedication written for the young people by Rev. John Haynes Holmes of New York.

The address of the evening was delivered by William H. Sayward of Dorchester on "The relation of a young people's society to the church. Solos by Miss Catherine Saville and Parker Robinson were enjoyed.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

Help Wanted In Quincy

And Furnished By the Help of Quincy People.

Those who suffer with kidney backache, urinary ills or any little kidney or bladder disorder, want kidney help. Who can better advise than some Quincy resident, who has also suffered, but has had relief. Quincy people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Here's one case and there are many others.

Walter E. Berlucchi, barber, Quincy, Mass., says: "I needed a good medicine for backache which bothered me severely at times. My kidneys acted irregularly and when I took cold it settled in my back and kidneys. I was tired in the morning. Someone recommended Doan's Kidney Pills, and after I used four boxes I was relieved so much that I had no further need of them. I like to keep Doan's Kidney Pills on hand so that I always have them when needed. I wouldn't be without a supply."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

ARTHUR L. THOMAS
Attorney-at-Law
3-4-5-6 Greenleaf Block
Telephone Quincy 460 Jan.2-1y

ARMY OF MILITANTS

Intend to Fight Only When Provoked by the Police

London, Dec. 1.—When Mrs. Pankhurst arrives in Plymouth Wednesday she will be met with a suffragette bodyguard.

A band of amazons, whose mission it will be to defend leaders whom the police try to arrest, is being formed. Mrs. Dacre Fox told a reporter the idea of a central fighting force originated in the souffles at the Pavilion theatre. Mrs. Drummond is the general, and her troops are being carefully drilled.

Volunteers for the fighting force have offered their services from all parts of the country. "The body organized in the East End for Sylvia Pankhurst," said Mrs. Fox, "is distinct from the official central army, though on the same lines. In the central army no men will be enrolled. The troops will be armed in a way not at present revealed, but will only fight on provocation from the police."

ACQUITTED OF MURDER

Claim That French Woman Had No Motive For Death Carries Weight

Paris, Dec. 1.—The Seine assizes has acquitted of murder Mme. Suzanne Poekes, whose husband, a Paris business man, was found dead in bed in his home here last June with five bullets in his body and one bullet in his head.

The defence asserted that the woman loved her husband and that there was no motive for desiring his death. In explaining the number of wounds in the body the woman said that Poekes had attempted to commit suicide and had shot himself in the head, and that the five shots in his body were fired accidentally while she was struggling to take the revolver away from Poekes.

Three days after the shooting, and while in the Saint Lazare prison, Mme. Poekes gave birth to a child.

TO PERFORM AUTOPSY ON BODY OF RUSSELL

Central Figure In Famous Will Case Dies Suddenly

Boston, Dec. 1.—District Attorney John J. Higgins of Middlesex county ordered Medical Examiner Roscoe D. Perley to perform an autopsy on the body of William C. Russell, the central figure in the famous Russell will case, who died suddenly Saturday at his home in Melrose.

The autopsy has been ordered to determine whether Russell died from natural causes or whether he was murdered or committed suicide.

Mrs. Fred Leach of Stoneham, a cousin of Russell, and "Dakota Dan," who claims he is a brother and the heir-at-law to the Russell estate, asked for the autopsy, but the district attorney said that he had ordered it because of the popular feeling demonstrated over the case. Dr. Perley will perform the autopsy.

SHOT BY REVOLVER

Hill, N. H., Boy Was Examining Gun Belonging to Boarder

Hill, N. H., Dec. 1.—Ernest Hilliard, the 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Hilliard, was shot and killed at his home on a farm near here while engaged in examining a 38-calibre revolver, the property of Albert Goldring, a roomer at his home.

It is claimed by Goldring that he and Hilliard were examining the revolver when it accidentally discharged, the bullet entering the left side of the heart and causing death in about five minutes.

It is said young Hilliard and Goldring had always been considered quite friendly, but it is alleged that the father of the boy and the roomer were not on the best of terms, but the father it is claimed was in bed when the shooting occurred.

$5000 FIRE IN SALEM

Blaze In Savings Bank Gives Firemen a Hard Fight

Salem, Mass. Dec. 1—Fire caused damage of $5000 in the Salem Five Cents Savings bank building.

The blaze was discovered by Irving Lee, who was passing out at the door. By the time the department arrived the fire had gained headway in the main corridor and the stairway leading to the second floor.

After working an hour and a half the firemen had the blaze under control. Water and smoke, pouring up the staircase, damaged the offices on the second and third floors.

The cause is unknown. The loss is covered by insurance.

Train Crew Killed In Wreck

Roanoke, Va., Dec. 1.—An entire train crew of four was instantly killed here in a head-on collision of freight trains on the Virginia railway, at Keever, sixty-seven miles east of Roanoke.

Launching at Portland

Portland, Me., Dec. 1.—The steamer Electronic, built for the passenger service between Sydney and North Sydney, Cape Breton, was launched at South Portland.

Lord Sandhurst Ill

London, Dec. 1.—Baron William Mansfield, Lord Sandhurst, 58 years of age, is reported to be seriously ill as the result of an operation for appendicitis.

KILLS WHILE IN DRUNKEN FRENZY

E. C. Manchester Murders Own Brother With Shotgun

FIRES OVER MOTHER'S HEAD

Tragedy Witnessed by Two Nieces of the Men and They Give the Alarm—Murderer Captured In Providence and Confesses His Crime—Had Been Upbraided by Brother

New Bedford, Mass., Dec. 1.—Before the eyes of his two nieces and firing over the head of his aged mother, Edward C. Manchester, while in a drunken frenzy, shot and killed his brother, Frank W. Manchester, with a double-barrelled shotgun at the Manchester homestead in North Dartmouth.

Immediately after the shooting Manchester filled his pockets with all the ammunition in the house and with his gun escaped into the dense woods in the vicinity of the farm.

As soon as the news of the tragedy reached this city, a squad of New Bedford police, under Deputy Chief John C. Parker, was rushed to the scene in autos. The police, assisted by the four town constables of Dartmouth, took up the trail of the slayer.

After a posse had scoured the country for miles around, the man was arrested at Providence.

Manchester has a bad record. The New Bedford police have arrested him fourteen times in recent years for drunkenness, assault and a variety of charges. He is known as the "Bad man of Dartmouth." He has several relatives who are mental delinquents.

The tragedy occurred when Edward C. Manchester returned in a drunken condition after a debauch in New Bedford, to the Manchester farm in South Dartmouth. Both brothers are farmers and lived together. In the room at the time of the shooting were Effie and Emma Penworthy, nieces of the Manchester brothers, and Mrs. Manchester, their mother. Mrs. Manchester is over 80 years of age, and in such a feeble condition that she was unaware of what was taking place.

Edward Manchester entered the kitchen and was upbraided for his condition by Frank Manchester. The two brothers grappled. Frank managed to get the better of Edward and threw him to the floor, when Edward promised to do better if Frank would let him up. Frank allowed his brother to rise on the promise to reform.

After he had regained his feet Edward stepped over to the corner. He picked up his tweve-guage shotgun, which was leaning against the wall and, getting behind his mother, fired both barrels over her head directly at Frank, who received both charges. The shells were loaded with buckshot and Frank died instantly.

The two nieces, who had witnessed the shooting, nearly fainted. As soon as they regained control of themselves, they ran to the adjoining farm of Thomas Ryder and gave the alarm. The Ryders immediately telephoned for the New Bedford police.

WOMAN FATALLY BURNED

Supposed Miss Smith Fell Against Gas Stove Cooking Dinner

Worcester, Mass., Dec. 1.—Miss Jennie Smith, 61, of 238 Highland street, was so seriously burned while cooking dinner for her brother, Elmer E. Smith, that she died three hours later in the city hospital.

It is believed she tripped and fell against a gas stove, setting fire to her clothing.

When Smith returned from church at 1 o'clock, he found his sister lying unconscious on the floor with her clothing burned off.

The woodwork in several of the rooms of the house was slightly charred, indicating that she had ran from room to room in her efforts to extinguish the flames which enveloped her, and had at last fell exhausted to the floor.

Spurned Girl Takes Poison

Worcester, Mass., Dec. 1.—Because her sweetheart spurned her on the street Catherine Dugan went to the home of a girl chum at 14 Sudbury street and swallowed two ounces of poison before the eyes of the family. The girl is at the city hospital and not expected to live.

Says Blonde Esquimos Are Irish

St. Louis, Dec. 1.—Rev. C. F. O'Leary, pastor of the Catholic Church of Notre Dame, who recently returned from a visit to Ireland, is convinced that the white Esquimos discovered by Vilhjaimur Stefansson are in reality descendants of early Irish settlers.

Spencer to Be Hanged as Murderer

Aurora, Ills. Dec. 1.—Harry Spencer, murderer of Mrs. Mildred Rexroat, was sentenced to be hanged at Wheaton, the county seat, Dec. 19. Spencer argued for a new trial himself and repudiated his confession of the murder, but was overruled by Judge [illegible]

How to Store Apples.

A box of fresh dry sand is an excellent thing to have in a corner of the storeroom or pantry. If apples are carefully packed in the sand they will keep fresh and unshriveled for months.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To the heirs-at-law, next of kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Mary Catherine Baxter late of Ketchum Blaine Co., Idaho, having estate in said County of Norfolk, deceased.

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by Paul P. Baxter of said Ketchum, Idaho, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him, the executor therein named. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Dedham in said County of Norfolk, on the third day of December A. D. 1913, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in Quincy, Mass., the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this fifteenth day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen.

JOHN D. COBB, Register.
Nov. 18-3t 18-24-1

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To all persons interested in the estate of George F. Hatch late of Quincy in said County, deceased;

Whereas, Francis Collamore the deceased trustee under the will of said deceased, has presented by his adm'x for allowance, the final account of his trust under said will. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County on the tenth day of December A. D. 1913, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be allowed. And said admx. is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to all persons interested in the estate fourteen days at least before said Court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twentieth day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen.

JOHN D. COBB, Register.
Nov. 26-3t 26-1-8

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

In effect Nov. 16, 1913

The letters in the same line as the figures below stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows.

a Wollaston	f Harrison Square
b Norfolk Downs	g Savin Hill
c Atlantic	h Crescent Avenue
d Neponset	i South Boston
e Pope's Hill	r Quincy Adams
* Saturdays Only	† Except Saturday

Exp.—Express train.

TO BOSTON			FROM BOSTON
Leave	Stop	Arrive	Leave	Stop	Arrive
r 5 14	abcdefghi	5 41	5 44	ihgfedcba	6 14 r
r 6 9	abci	6 40	6 09	ihgfedcba	6 39 r
r 6 52	e	6 49	6 29	a	6 47
			6 47	Exp	7 04
r 6 40	abcf	7 00	7 14	hgfedcba	7 41 r
r 7 08	abcd	7 30	7 34	a	7 52
7 24	a	7 43	7 37	a	7 56
r 7 32	Exp	7 49	7 44	c	8 03 r
r 7 42	ab	8 00	8 31	cba	8 55 r
7 55	a	8 12	8 44	b	9 02
r 8 13	abc	8 32	9 00	fedba	9 32 r
8 24	a	8 41	9 44	a	10 01 r
r 8 33	a	8 50	10 14	ihgfedcba	10 41 r
r 8 59	ad	9 16	10 54	Exp	11 10
r 9 18	abc	9 39	11 14	hgfedcba	11 41 r
r 10 04	a	10 21	11 49	a	12 07
r 10 19	abcdefghi	10 45	12 14	hgfedcba	12 41 r
11 12	a	11 28	12 20	a	12 38
11 24	abcdefgh	11 50	12 50	Exp	1 06
12 04	a	12 20	1 16	fedcba	1 40 r
			* 1 32	a	1 50
r 12 27	abcdefghi	12 53	1 44	a	2 01
r 1 16	a	1 34	2 14	fedcba	2 37 r
2 04	a	2 20	2 34	Exp	2 50
r 2 19	abcdefgh	2 45	3 14	hgfedcba	3 40 r
r 3 13	Exp	3 28	3 44	a	4 02
4 04	a	4 20	4 12	fedcba	4 35 r
r 4 26	abcdefgh	4 53	4 15	a	4 32
5 12	a	5 19	4 40	c	4 58
r 5 30	abcdefg	5 55	4 55	a	5 11
6 04	a	6 21	5 13	a	5 32
6 12	ab	6 32	5 19	hgfeca	5 43
6 57	a	7 15	5 28	ba	5 46 r
r 7 22	Exp	7 39	5 40		5 57
7 29	ab	7 48	5 58	a	6 17 r
r 8 09	abcdef	8 32	6 01	fedcb	6 24
9 00	a	9 18	6 16	a	6 35
r 9 10	abc	9 29	6 30	ecba	6 52 r
* 9 17	Exp.	9 32	6 59	fedcba	7 24 r
r 10 07	abcdef	10 30	7 11	a	7 28
* 10 19	a	10 37	8 04	fedcba	8 28 r
11 13	a	11 30	* 8 19	Exp	8 35
r 11 30	abcd	11 50	9 19	a	9 37
			9 34	b	9 53 r
			10 05	ba	10 24
			10 34	fedcba	11 01 r
			*11 06	a	11 25 r
			†11 09	fedcba	11 35 r
			*11 25	ba	11 43 r
			†11 29	ba	11 48
			12 05	cba	12 26 r

SUNDAYS

r 7 43	abc	8 03	6 29	ba	6 48 r
8 30	Exp	8 45	8 34	cba	8 55
r 8 46	abcdefghi	9 13	10 39	cba	10 59 r
r 9 13	abc	9 33	12 14	ihgfedcba	12 42
9 51	a	9 47	12 44	Exp	1 01
10 25	ac	10 42	2 29	ihgfedcba	1 57 r
11 08	Exp	11 25	2 14	hgfedcba	2 42 r
r 11 16	abcdefghi	11 43	2 44	a	3 02
1 04	a	1 23	3 14	ihgfedcba	3 42 r
r 1 16	abcdefgh	1 43	4 26	cba	4 48 r
r 3 10	abc	3 30	5 14	ihgfedcba	5 42 r
r 4 16	abcdefghi	4 43	6 09	Exp	6 25
4 59	ab	5 16	6 14	ihgfedcba	6 42 r
5 06		5 23	7 02	cba	7 22 r
6 16	abcdefghi	6 43	8 14	ihgfedcba	8 41 r
7 21	Exp	7 36	8 39	a	8 56 r
7 20	abcdefghi	7 36	8 49	Exp	9 05
r 8 16	abcdefghi	8 43	9 29	ihgfedcba	9 57 r
9 46	a	10 04	10 44	cba	11 01 r
10 46	abc	11 05

CHOICE ARTICLES FROM THE PHILIPPINES

LUCBON HATS—Very best grade of the famous Panamas and Bankoks made. Absolutely none better, woven under water by hand. Can be crushed into a ball and not lose shape. Made for both Ladies and Gentlemen. $5 and $10.

ROMBLON MATS—Handsomest and most durable Grass Mats or Rugs made in the world. Beautiful colors and designs, large enough to cover one-half floor of rooms. $5.

MANILA CIGARS—$3 for a trial box of the Very Best Cigars made in the Philippines.

Oriente Cigarrettes—Best made, large package containing 25 small packages, 750 Cigarrettes, $2.

Sent by registered mail, free of duties, on receipt of price.

C. A. SHORT & CO.,
Lucena, Tay, P. I.

Oct. 4 1.&O 3m

Penniman's TAXI SERVICE

Taxies and Touring Cars with careful and safe drivers to let for all occasions.

C. H. PENNIMAN, Prop.
Telephone 207.
June 13-tf

Bay State Street Railway Company

TIME TABLE

In effect April 3, 1913.

(Subject to change without notice)

Leave QUINCY for

Braintree, 6.15, 6.50 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days Return, leave Braintree, 6.25 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.25 P. M. Sundays, 7.55 A. M. and then same as week days.

Brockton, 6.15, 6.50 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Brockton 6.20, 7 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 9.30 P. M. Sundays, 8 A. M. then same as week days

West Quincy, and East Milton, 5.30 5.50, 6.10 A. M., and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M.) Sundays, 6.50 A. M. then same as week days. Return leave East Milton, 5.55, 6.15, 6.45 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.45 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.10 midnight.) Sundays, 7.25 A. M., then same as week days.

East Weymouth, 6.00, 6.15, 6.35, 7.05, 7.35 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.05 P. M. then 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.35 A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave East Weymouth, 5.50, 6.15, 6.45, 7.00, 7.10, 7.45, A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.45 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M. then same as week days.

Houghs Neck, 5.15, 5.35, 6.10, 6.40, 7.10, 7.40, A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. then 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 6.50, 7.40 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. Return leave Houghs Neck, 5.40, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 7.30, 8.00, 8.30, 9.05 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.35 P. M. then 12.10 midnight. Sundays, 7.20, 8.05, 8.35, 9.05 A. M every 30 minutes to 11.35 P. M.

Neponset via Hancock Street,—5.45 6.20, 6.50 A. M. and every 30 min. to 10.50 P. M. then 12.50 midnight. Sundays, 6.50 A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 6.40 7.10, 7.40 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. then 12.35 midnight. Sundays, 7.40 A. M. then same as week days.

Neponset via Wollaston—6.03, 6.33, 7.03 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.03 P. M. then 11.20, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.03 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 6.35, 6.55, 7.25, A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.25 P. M. then 11.42 P. M. and 12.12 midnight. Sundays, 7.25 A. M. then same as week days.

Neponset, via Norfolk Downs, 6.33, 6.55, 7.25, 8, 8.30 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11 P. M.) Sundays, 7.30 A. M. then the same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 7, 7.30 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.30 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.30 P. M.) Sundays, 8 A. M. then same as week days.

Weymouth Landing, 5.20, 5.00, 6.30 6.55, 7.25 7.55 A. M. then every 30 minutes, until and including 10.55 P. M. Sundays, 7.25, A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave Weymouth Landing, 5.45, 6.15, 6.40, 7.10 7.45 A. M. then every 30 minutes until and including 11.15 P. M. Sunday 7.45 A. M. then same as week days.

Leave NEPONSET for

Squantum, 6.25, 6.55, 7.25, 7.55, 8.25, 9.35, A. M. every 60 minutes to 4.35 P. M. then 4.55, 5.25, 5.55, 6.25, 7.35, 8.35, 9.35, 10.35 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.30, P. M. Sundays, 7.35, A. M. every 60 minutes to 10.35 P. M. Return, leave Squantum, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 7.30, 8.00, 8.30, 9.00 A. M. every 60 minutes to 5.00 P. M. then 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00 10.00, 11.00 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.15, 8.00 A. M every 60 minutes to 11.00 P. M.

THOMAS GAMSON,
Superintendent.

Elvin's Girl

A Christmas Story

By CLARISSA MACKIE

Caleb Wren brought the letter from the postoffice and waited impatiently while his wife slowly read it.

"What does he say, Martha?"

"I can't make out all of it, but he ain't coming home for Christmas," she said in a disappointed tone.

"Sho! Can't he get away?"

"Yes; he's going to have two days off, but he says if we don't mind he'll stay down there with some friends. I was afraid the city would wean him away from us." Martha Wren's voice shook.

Caleb dropped his hand on her shoulder, and its comforting pressure assured her. Even if their son, Elvin, did not care enough about them to come home for Christmas, why, they had each other. Neither one voiced this sentiment, but they knew and understood. To make it worse, it was the first Christmas Elvin had spent away from the old home, and they had made many innocent plans for his happiness.

"We couldn't expect him to always come home," said Martha loyally.

"DID YOU HEAR WHAT SHE SAID?"

"Some day Elvin will be getting married, and we've go to get used to being alone."

"I always hoped when he got married that there'd be more come home holidays," murmured Caleb.

"Somebody's knocking at the door," said Martha.

Caleb went to the side door and admitted a little woman, dried and withered, with faded brown eyes and a nose that always twitched with excitement when there was news to be imparted. It was Sarah Dean.

"It's growing colder," she said.

"Wind's changed," remarked Caleb. "I guess it's going to snow some."

"Good Christmas weather," said Mrs. Dean hurriedly, as though the talk about weather was merely a preface to what she had come to say, as undoubtedly it was.

"It is nice to have a white Christmas," murmured Martha, intent on her sewing.

Sarah Dean eyed the letter in Martha's lap. "Well, I expect you'll be glad to see Elvin home again," she remarked briskly.

Caleb tramped out into the kitchen and began to rattle around the stove. A pink flush came into Mrs. Wren's cheek.

"We don't expect Elvin home this Christmas," she said in a tone of mild surprise.

"Oh, I expect there are other attractions in the city." Sarah nodded her head meaningly.

"Of course there's much more going on there than in a little place like Fenwick village," admitted Elvin's mother.

"To say nothing of the girls!" hinted Mrs. Dean.

Mrs. Wren ruffled. "What girls?" she asked stiffly.

"Oh, I was only speaking in a general way," said Sarah hastily. "Boys will be boys, and I did hear"— She hesitated tantalizingly.

"You hear a lot in Fenwick village," remarked Martha Wren energetically. "I'm real glad you came in, Sarah. Now I can give you that cake recipe you asked for. I copied it all out the other day."

"I'd admire to have it," returned Sarah as Martha went to the desk in the corner and rummaged in the pigeonholes.

"It takes four eggs," said Martha as she gave the paper to her visitor.

"Eggs is high, too, but then I can make half the quantity, just to try it. James Bliss came home yesterday from the city."

"Oh, did he?" James Bliss was a Fenwick boy who worked in the same office with Elvin Wren.

"James said he saw Elvin Sunday."

"Yes? I expect he sees him every day too."

"James says Elvin has got a girl!" she announced bluntly.

Martha started slightly; then her shoulders stiffened proudly.

"I expect she's a mighty nice girl, too," she observed calmly.

"I hope so," retorted the vanquished Sarah, and she immediately departed.

After the door had closed behind Mrs. Dean, Martha leaned forward in her chair and called to her husband.

"Caleb!" she said in a strained voice.

"Yes, Martha."

"Did you hear what she said?"

"Yes; you mean about Elvin?" He came into the room and sat down beside her rocking chair.

"She said he had a girl. Isn't it funny he hasn't said anything about it to us?" Her voice trembled.

Caleb shook his grizzled head. "Maybe it seems strange to us that he hasn't said anything, but again he might feel bashful about it. Elvin's quiet, you know."

"Yes, he is."

"I was like him, I know, when I was courting you, Martha. I was skeered to death for fear my folks would find it out, not because they would care, but only because it was such a kinder sweet secret I didn't want to spile it all by having to explain everything."

Reticent Caleb Wren stumbled through this comforting speech and was rewarded by seeing his wife's warm smile as their hands clasped.

"I see," she murmured softly—"I see how it is with Elvin."

"I wish he could have come out here just for the day. It's only twenty miles," Caleb needed a little comforting now.

"I reckon he will, pa!" cried Martha. "When the day comes I'll bet he does come. I'm going to get all ready for him just the same. What say?"

"All right," smiled Caleb, and with this enjoyable prospect before them, although both believed it to be merely a delusive hope, they went on with their Christmas preparations.

Christmas morning dawned cold and clear. Over field and farmhouse and winding road the snowy blanket was spread, and the tops of the pine trees wore tufts of white. Through the snow the tops of the fence rails showed black in the sunlight.

"Looks like a picture," murmured Caleb as he peered from the window.

"I guess there's good sleighing," responded Martha. "I wouldn't wonder if Elvin came out in a sleigh."

Caleb said nothing. His heart was heavy within him. He had missed the companionship of his only son when the boy had gone to the city to work, but Elvin had been keen to come home at every opportunity. Sundays and holidays invariably found him arriving on the first train.

This would be a sad Christmas for Caleb and his wife, in spite of the wreaths of green laurel that Martha had hung in the windows and the pantry filled with good things to eat.

The dinner was on the table. There was a place set for Elvin, and Caleb had just thrust the blade of the carving knife into the brown breast of the turkey when there came the jingle of sleighbells. Caleb paused in his carving and listened. Martha grew quite pale.

The bells came nearer. A sleigh was entering their yard. It passed the window, a cutter with two persons.

Martha and Caleb reached the door together.

"He has come!" exclaimed Caleb excitedly.

"Of course he has. I expected him," reproved Martha, for she had faith in prayer, and she had prayed as only a mother can.

Standing in the doorway, they saw their handsome son assisting a girl out of the sleigh, such a sweet faced, brown eyed, homey looking girl that Martha's heart warmed to her at once. She felt proud of Elvin. She might have known that he would choose the right kind of girl.

Elvin's face was flushed and happy as he led the girl to his parents.

"Mother and father," he said slowly, "this is Miss Winters. She's a friend of mine, and I invited her out to eat Christmas dinner with us. You see, I couldn't stay away."

"Come right in, dearie," said Martha, and she bent and kissed the girl, while Caleb shook her hand warmly.

"I was just carving the turkey," said Caleb as he set another place at the table.

"I'm afraid you'll think it strange that I came home with your son," said Miss Winters as she emerged from her furs, a demure slip of a girl with whom Caleb fell in love at once.

"Not at all. We're real glad to see you!" cried the delighted Martha.

"I'll explain everything at table," promised Elvin, and he did.

Miss Winters was an orphan who boarded in the same house with Elvin Wren and who by the same fortune worked beside him in the same office. He had planned to take her to a hotel for a Christmas dinner, but as the day approached he grew to thinking of the farm and of his lonely parents. So he suggested to Dulcie Winters that they ride out to Fenwick and surprise his people.

It was a joyful occasion for both Martha and Caleb. Before them they saw enacted the same sweet story of awakening love that both of them had experienced in their own youth. Martha had mentally planned the wedding before they reached the mince pie, and she told Caleb afterward that she just knew that when Elvin and Dulcie were married Elvin would come back to the farm and that Elvin's wife and children would comfort them in their old age.

"I don't dast contradict you, Martha," he whispered, "not after what you expected to happen today and what has happened. It's been a happy Christmas, wife."

"I just prayed, Caleb; that's how it happened," said Martha.

NEW SESSION OF CONGRESS

Wilson Will Read His Message to Joint Session of House and Senate

Washington, Dec. 1.—The interest usually surrounding the opening of a new session of congress was absent from the events of today. While the first session of the Sixty-third congress ended at noon and the second session was ushered in by formal proclamation of the vice president and the speaker of the house, the status of legislation will be little different from when it adjourned Saturday afternoon.

President Wilson will appear before the two houses at 1 o'clock Tuesday, to read his annual message at a joint session in the house chamber. Aside from this formality, inaugurated by President Wilson last April, at the start of the special session, and the presentation in the house of the annual estimates for federal expenditures, the first days of the new session will be scarcely distinguishable from the closing days of the old. For the first time in many years congress stepped over from one session to another without a break in the routine of business.

OLD BROKER RETIRES

Presson, Many Years Member of Stock Exchange, Wants Rest

Gloucester, Mass., Dec. 1.—Charles B. Presson, who became a member of the Boston stock exchange in 1878, and whose business career has extended over a period of fifty years, received many of his friends at his home here when he announced his retirement from active work. He is 71 years old and declares that he wants to take a rest.

Until ten years ago he was employed by a Boston firm of stock brokers. He entered the service of the firm fifty years ago, and worked up from a minor position to a post of responsibility.

In 1901, at the age of 59 years, he decided to go into business for himself, and in the past decade he has worked up a large business as a stock broker. He had offices on Central street and a Boston residence at the Hotel Brunswick.

UNITED STATES FLEET NOW ON WAY HOME

Jackies Cheered as They Leave Shores of France

Villefranche, France, Dec. 1.—The United States battleships Wyoming, Utah and Delaware sailed from here. As they slowly drew out the Wyoming's band struck up the "Marseillaise" and thousands of spectators who lined the shores fluttered handkerchiefs and cheered the departing Americans.

The ships of the American fleet will join company off Gibraltar and proceed together to the Azores. There the fourth division, comprising the Connecticut, Ohio and Kansas, will proceed for Guantanamo where the ships will coal, prior to sailing for Mexican waters.

ARRESTED AS SNIPPER

Police Claim Man Had Served Time For Cutting Off Girls' Hair

Lynn, Mass., Dec. 1.—John C. Batchellor, who is believed by the police to be the man who served sentences for snipping braids of hair from the heads of several little girls in Boston over a year ago, was arrested on Union street, charged with cutting off the braid of Ethel Follett, a 13-year-old girl of 514 Eastern avenue.

The little girl told Inspectors Thorne and Kane, who made the arrest, she felt a tug on her hair while she was walking along Union street, and turning around saw Batchellor with her long braid in his hand. She ran screaming to her home and told her father. The police secured a description of Batchellor and found him on Union street a little later.

TO OPEN JULY 4 NEXT

Cape Cod Canal Will Make Short Cut For Shipping

Onset, Mass., Dec. 1.—The date of the official opening of the Cape Cod canal has been set for July 4, 1914. The announcement was contained in a letter from Superintendent J. W. Miller of the canal company to the directors of the Cape Cod board of trade.

Beginning at the head of Buzzards bay the canal cuts Cap Cod through to Massachusetts bay, at Sandwich, making it possible for coastwise shipping to avoid the dangerous shoals of the present route past the cape.

Preparing to Fly Over Andes

Santiago, Chili, Dec. 1.—Preparations for a flight over the Andes, where he may attain an altitude of nearly 20,000 feet, are being made by Senor Liguerca, a Chilian aviator.

1913 DECEMBER 1913

S	M	T	W	T	F	S
	1	2	3	4	5	6
7	8	9	10	11	12	13
14	15	16	17	18	19	20
21	22	23	24	25	26	27
28	29	30	31

LOSE IMPORTANT STRONGHOLDS

Capture of Mazatlan a Blow to President Huerta

REBELS SEIZE OIL PROPERTY

Threaten to Destroy Wells If Company Furnishes Fuel to National Railways Which Uses Nothing but Oil—Reported Huerta Has Received Loan of 7,000,000 Pesos

Mexico City, Dec. 1.—There is a strong feeling here that General Huerta is close to his last stand. The government has been forced to admit the fall of important northern strongholds, and it was also admitted that the rebels had done such damage to the railroad and telegraph lines that concerted movements of federal troops are barely possible.

It is believed that the government has received word that Guaymas has fallen as well as Mazatlan, the other important western port. If this is true, the government will have hard work getting to the capital the big shipment of arms and ammunition reported to be on the way from Japan.

If Guaymas has fallen the only important Pacific port remaining in the hands of the federals is Salina Cruz.

The rebels have further disorganized the federal campaign by the seizure of all the vast oil property of the Cowdray syndicate in the Tuxpam district. The only way fuel oil can be shipped from the port for the use of the National railways is by water.

The constitutionalists under General Candido Aguilar have threatened to destroy the oil wells if the company continues to ship oil for the use of the railways. The company is reported to have yielded to the demands that they will supply no more oil to the National railways, that no appeal will be made to the Huerta government for protection, and that the taxes will be paid to the rebel chiefs.

The National railways uses only oil for fuel, and the cutting off of the supply means that any considerable military movement in that district must be abandoned by the government.

Tampico is said to be in grave danger of capture. It is reported that a big body of rebels in the oil district left Xicotencatl, presumably to cut the railroad from San Luis Potosi, having already destroyed the Tampico-Monterey road. This would completely isolate Tampico from any land approach of the federals.

It was reported that General Huerta had obtained a loan of 7,000,000 pesos from some unidentified source. The belief here is that if the report is true the loan will serve only to delay the financial crisis a few weeks more at the best.

General Blanquet has assured General Huerta that the war department debt of 22,000,000 pesos would be paid, but where these funds are coming from has not been revealed. Instead of being paid with cash Saturday, as is customary, the employes of the National railways received checks. The obligations of the National railways must be met this month, which causes much concern in government circles. The government finds it more difficult daily to raise funds.

BANDIT KILLS TWO MORE

Lopez Has Shot Six Men in Effort to Keep His Liberty

Salt Lake City, Utah, Dec. 1.—Ralph Lopez, the Mexican bandit, shot and probably killed two deputy sheriffs in a battle in an underground workings of the Utah-Apex mine, near Bingham.

The men who were shot are believed to be Deputies Halsey and Mandrich. They were left in the mine by their companions together with two Austrians who were uninjured, but were cut off from escape.

Immediately after the shooting a posse of fifty was organized for the purpose of storming the mine and fighting it out with the desparado.

The underground fight was the result of several deputies penetrating one of the mine entrances 900 feet and lighting a smudge with the intention of smoking Lopez out. As soon as a match was struck, Lopez opened fire.

GOVERNOR IS ATTACKED

Canton Official In Danger of Death Twice In Fortnight

Hong Kong, Dec. 1.—General Chi Kuang Lung, governor of Canton, for the second time within a fortnight was attacked by an assassin, who tried to plunge a knife into his heart. General Lung, however, escaped with only a wound in the hand. Lung personally killed four of his guards, fearing treachery at their hands.

Serious trouble in Canton is anticipated shortly. The Chinese are apprehensive and business is becoming stagnant. The police have been reinforced. Stores of bombs are frequently found in the city.

Skeletons Indicate Duel to Death

Washburn, Wis., Dec. 1.—Dead men's bones, the unidentified skeletons of two men, tell of a combat between woodsmen in the forest of Bayfield county; of a struggle in the secluded depths of the woods that ended in the mortal injury of both combatants, their death hiding forever the details of their battle.

Satisfying a Customer Carried to an Extreme

By HOLLAND.

A WOMAN who bought a dress which she found was not just what she wanted went with it to one of the biggest stores in the world and said it did not suit her. She wanted her money back, but explained that she had lost the sales slip. The sum she claimed was given to her.

Two days later she found the sales slip and discovered that she had not bought the dress at the store to which she had taken it, but had bought it at a rival establishment. She went to the store and explained.

"We knew you had not bought the dress here," explained the manager, "but you were palpably dissatisfied with it, and our aim is to satisfy all our customers. If we have impressed on your mind the fact that we are more than fair we are satisfied. We covet nothing more than such a reputation as we are sure you will give us."

Many will think that this was carrying fairness too far. Perhaps it was, but it was done by the greatest retail merchant of this age, one whose name is known wherever the English language is spoken and whose expenditures for advertising run up to a million dollars a year.

Successful advertisers know that satisfied customers are an invaluable asset. You have an advantage in dealing with the liberal advertisers.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To all persons interested in the estate of Joseph W. Robertson, late of Quincy in said County deceased:

Whereas, Louis M. Clark and Richard D. Chase, the present trustees under the will of said deceased, have presented for allowance, the second account of their trust under said will.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham, in said County on the third day of December A. D. 1913, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be allowed.

And said trustees are ordered to serve this citation, by delivering a copy thereof to all persons interested in the estate fourteen days at least before said Court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in said Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this seventeenth day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen.

JOHN D. COBB, Register.
Nov. 20-3t 20-28-1

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors, and all other persons interested in the estate of Winifred Cullen late of Quincy in said County deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to Agnes E. Conrad of said Quincy or to some other suitable person. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham in said County of Norfolk, on the third day of December A. D. 1913, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this fourteenth day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen.

JOHN D. COBB, Register.
Nov. 17-3t 17-24-1

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED
Orchard Place, off Spear street, Quincy

QUINCY REGISTRY FOR NURSES
20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.
Will supply trained and practical nurses, attendants and nursery assistants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.
MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar,
Tel. Quincy 131-W.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1291 Hancock street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point
Tel. Quincy-Main 1158 M Nov 3-tf

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.
No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

LOST

LOST—Will the party who picked up $10 bill in Post Office or between Post Office and Quincy depot return same to Miss M. A. Morgan 87 Merrymount road and receive reward. 29-3t

LOST—Gold pin set with emerald, between Kincaide Theatre and Edison Park. Finder please return to 40 Edison Park and receive reward. 28-3t

LOST—Friday night in Music hall, or between Music hall and the residence of C. T. Hardwick, a gold pin with opal in center. Reward if returned to Miss Georgianna C. Lane, 174 Goffe street. 29-3t

WANTED

WANTED—Young man to work in Shoe store, Address S. S. R. Ledger Office. 29-3t

WANTED—Position by clerk order-taking or driver seven years experience, drugs, groceries and fruit. Speak, read and write English, French Italian and Spanish. Address Ernest Albert, 39 Penn street. 28-3t

WANTED—Experienced waitress at the Thompson Cafe, City Square. Apply to A. J. Thompson. 17-tf

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing. Myatt, 40 Baxter street. Tel. 1397-M. Quincy, Res. 22-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Typewriter. Exceptional opportunity. Brand new Oliver machine. $55. Address C. F. Ledger office. Dec. 1-3t

FOR SALE or TO LET—New houses Apply to Thompson B. Crane, 403 Washington street, Quincy. 1-tf

FOR SALE—A small horse, express wagon and Democrat, also set of harness. Apply to Winer's, Adams Bldg, Quincy. 1-6t

FOR SALE—Two hand derricks, in good condition. Apply to Andrew Johnson, 7 Gothland street. 28-3t

MISCELLANEOUS

I have a very beautiful carved leg square piano, round rich tone cost new $500. Having no use for it will sell cheap. Just the thing for a beginner. Write "Square Piano," this office. 26-6t

JAMES F. BURKE & CO.
Real Estate and Insurance
Care of Property. Mortgages
Justice of Peace. Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 285 M. Nov. 11-tf

TO LET

Large Front Office Greenleaf Block—2 entrances—right at the head of the stairs—one of the most desirable offices in Quincy.

Office, Durgin-Merrill Block—3 large windows—only 1 flight up—exceptional opportunity.

Hancock Building—City Square Offices—small front office, $11 a month

Office—Hancock Chambers, 16x18 feet one flight up, very low rent.

Store House—off Granite St., in the rear of Greenleaf Block.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best Location in City)

Offices—Large or small.

Desk Room—Street floor, right in the rear of main entrance, good light and air, $5 up a month.

Transient Rooms—Well furnished and with care, $1 a day.

Furnished Rooms—With care steam heat, and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week

HALLS

Music Hall—Music Hall Block—Capacity 962—highest possible rating by the State. "Excellent" in every particular.

New Colonial Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—Capacity 240—the best possible location for a Hall.

Hancock Hall—Hancock Building City Square—Capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 21066) Quincy

WM. H. TEASDALE
REAL ESTATE
Insurance Mortgages
NOTARY PUBLIC JUSTICE OF THE PEACE
Room 23 Adams Building
Telephones {Residence 544-3 Office 685-M off

TO LET

TO LET—House on Edison Park, 6 rooms, all improvements, $25 per month. Immediate occupancy. Apartment on Cherry street 8 rooms, all improvements except gas and electricity $22. per month. E. M. Freeman, 653 Washington street, Quincy, Tel. 1615-W. 29-6t

TO LET—With private family on Upland road, a desirable room, heated, lighted, with use of bath on same floor. Write A. F. K. Ledger Office or telephone Quincy 1796-W. 29-6t

TO LET—In Braintree, house of five rooms, including two bed rooms and bath. Rent reasonable. A J. Cavanagh, 72 Cedar street, Braintree. Telephone 4-14. 29-6t

TO LET—Suite of 5 rooms all improvements, electric lights. House open every day from 10 till 4. Call 29 Jersey avenue, Braintree. 28-3t

TO LET—Upper flat in two flat new house at 1 Bradford street, 5 rooms and bath. All improvements. Ready Jan. 1st. Apply to Wm. E. Duggan, 32 Bryant avenue, West. Quincy. 26-6t

TO LET—Five room tenement with all improvements, cozy and convenient on Glendale road. Rent reasonable. Apply 121 Glendale road. 24-6t

TO LET—Single house, 7 rooms, with all improvements. Inquire at 50 Warwick street, Norfolk Downs, or telephone Miss Clements, Boston-Main 1380. Nov. 22-12t

RUSSELL PARK — Commodious house of seven rooms, large hall and bath. Modern, every convenience open fireplace, furnace, range, set tubs, electric lights, cemented cellar, etc. Best residential neighborhood. Ready for immediate occupancy. For further details or key see Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. tf lpo

TO LET—173 Whitwell street, half house, modern conveniences, $20 per month. Ready for immediate occupancy. Apply Penniman's Stable, Granite street. 19-tf

TO LET—Cottage 6 rooms and bath, all modern improvements, 5 minutes from Fore river gate yet secluded. Vacant Dec. 17. Call C. E. Briggs, 63 Howard Avenue, Quincy. 18-12t

TO LET—Nicest 4 room and bath lower flat in town. Every improvement $19.00. 126 Glendale road. S. E. Thomas Greenleaf Block. 17-tf

TO LET—5 room tenement at 117 Quincy street, $20 per month. Apply Berman Furniture Co. 6-tf

TO LET—Houses of 5, 6 and 10 rooms. M. T. Sullivan. Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy, Mass. 11-tf

UPPER APARTMENT. In two-family house on Spear Street. Five rooms, bath, large pantry and closets, also open attic with finished heated chamber. Every improvement, electric light, furnace, range etc. Ready for immediate occupancy. Telephone Quincy 278 M or enquire mornings of Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 1po

SWITHIN
Real Estate
Mortgages-Insurance
Greenleaf Block
Quincy
Tel. Quincy 460. Nov. 10-tf

ANOTHER BARGAIN
Make me an offer for a ten room house on Whitwell Street.
You will own it if you will talk buy, as it is one of those chances some one will miss.
HENRY W. SAVAGE
Real Estate, Boston.
E. C. HAYDEN, Local Representative
Telephone 1877-M Quincy.
Nov. 17-tf

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

Read Ledger Ads

KINCAIDE THEATRE

at 2.30, 5, 10, 15c., at 7.45, 10, 15, 25c

MON. TUES. WED.

"Rabbit" Jack MARANVILLE & GRIFFITH
Of Boston National B. B. Club
In Athletic and Singing Selections

CALIFORNIA TRIO
Whirlwinds of Comedy

SUNETARO & CO.
Japanese Wonder Workers

METZ & METZ
Song Specialties with Scenic Effects

PATHE WEEKLY
World's News in Pictures

Our New Minister
3-Part Feature Picture
of Strong Comedy-Drama

Kincaide Theatre Orchestra

MRS. ANN RILEY.

Mrs. Ann Riley, wife of James Riley and mother of Patrolman Henry Riley of the local police force died suddenly thns morning at her home on Hall Place in her 77th year. She has been a resident of West Quincy for many years. She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. John Lynch of Boston, Catherine, Mary and Bridget of Quincy, and three sons, Charles, James and Henry. Her funeral will take place from her home on Wednesday morning. A high mass of requiem will be celebrated at St. Mary's church where she was a faithful attendant.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS?
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

Copyright 1913 The House of Kuppenheimer

YOU cannot ask too much nor expect too much of the live store.

Our policy here is to price everything so reasonably as to insure your getting more than you expect in every transaction.

Kuppenheimer

OVERCOATS and SUITS

$18 to $27

Here are garments of such noticeable quality, such superior style as to look, feel and wear like those priced higher elsewhere.

Lower priced Suits and Overcoats $10.00, $12.00, $15.00 are sold at a saving $2.00 to $3.00 to you.

Double Legal Stamps all day Everyday this week.

REMICK'S

Music Hall Block

POLICE GET AFTER DRUNKS

Roundup of Inebriates Arriving on Late Trains

Without previous warning the police department, headed by Mayor Stone started in again Saturday night on a round-up of all drunks arriving from Boston on the late trains. Starting in at 10 o'clock His Honor with five special officers, detailed by Chief Burrell, went on duty at the Quincy station and any man arriving on trains after that time who could not walk the straight and narrow path was given a ride in the police auto to the station for the night.

Every man who arrived on a late train or stepped off of a late electric car was carefully looked over and if he could not walk without a hesitating step he was bundled into the police auto that was kept in waiting near City Hall. Evidently word of what was going on was sent to the usual late train drunks for although every train until midnight was watched only seven men fell into the drag net.

The crusade was the result of numerous complaints made by women of conditions on late trains and street cars, which of late has become unusually offensive.

Without giving the warning, that was given a year ago, when a similar cleanup was inaugurated, the special officers were ordered to report to the Mayor at City Hall at 10 o'clock and from that time on things began to get interesting.. Word of what was going-on was soon noised about and the usual crowd of spectators collected and the arrival of trains anxiously waited for. In some instances however a drunk, by having a sober man with him was able to get by the watchful eyes of the police by leaving the train at some other station than Quincy centre.

The Mayor stated that he felt well satisfied with the evenings work and that the same thing would be kept up every Saturday night until the late trains were made safe for a woman to travel on unaccompanied.

THREE RALLIES FOR MILLER

South Quincy, Houghs Neck and Quincy Point Visitsd

Three rallies in the interest of John L. Miller were held Saturday evening under the direction of Alexander Falconer, his campaign manager. The candidate because of the unfavorable weather conditions did not appear.

Joseph L. Whiton appeared at all the rallies and publicly announced that he was supporting Mr. Miller.

The crowd at all the rallies was large and enthusiastic. Several candidates appeared in their own interest but made no mention of the mayoralty fight. They were James H. Slade and Thomas J. McGrath.

At Hibernian and Union halls the speakers were Joseph L. Whiton, Thomas Breen, Thomas A. Musgrave James H. Slade and Thomas J. McGrath.

At the hall of the Waseca Social Club, Quincy Point, the speakers were James E. Wall, Temple A. Winsloe, Capt. Higgins, Harry Eller, Joseph L. Whiton, Thomas Breen, Joseph B. Grossman, Harry Marr, Thomas Musgrave, James H. Slade. Perry Green presided.

James E. Wall presided at Houghs Neck. The speakers were Joseph L. Whiton, Thomas Musgrave, Thomas Breen, John T. Cavanaugh, James H. Slade. Thomas L. Phillips was called on and spoke for Dr. John H. Ash and Frank Coughlin for Walter H. Buchan councilmanic candidate in Ward One.

ROBERT BELL.

Robert Bell died Sunday at his home on Winslow road, Squantum. He had been ill for three weeks and death was the result of a shock. He was born in England and came to this country about 30 years ago. He was a painter by trade and for many years was employed by Charles Newhall. Mr. Bell was a member of the Squantum Improvement association. He is survived by a widow and five children, Mrs. Arthur Roberts, Mrs. Harry Dalton, Mrs. Thomas Lynch, Walter Bell and Miss Mabel Bell.

NOVEMBER BUILDING

The report of Inspector of Buildings Warren S. Parker for the month of November shows that the amount of building contemplated under the permits issued that month was considerable smaller than in the corresponding month last year. This is due in a great measure to the fact that in Nov. 1912, one of the permits issued was for the new school building in Ward Three. The following table shows the permits for 1913 and 1912.

1913.
Dwellings	17	$68,100
Cottages	5	8,100
Manufacturing	1	2,100
Stables, etc.	6	1,605
Auto houses	4	428
Alterations	14	4,815
Miscellaneous	1	4,700
Removals	1
	49	$89,902
1912.
Dwellings	29	$94,400
Cottages	5	4,700
Mercantile	1	900
Stables, etc.	4	750
Auto Houses	6	1,080
Alterations	12	5,125
Removals	3	800
Miscellaneous	2	80,775
	62	$188,530

The building permits issued during the past week were as follows:

Matilda Mangs, alteration, Farrell street.

Ethel M. Spargo, cottage, Sunrise street.

Annie L. Prescott, dwelling, Spear street.

Charles H. Penniman, miscellaneous, Washington street.

Quincy Adams Polishing Co., Mercantile, Brook road.

Estate M. C. Ring, alterations, Washington street.

Serafina Silvester, alteration, Canal street.

B. F. Thomas stable, etc., Billings street.

L. C. Merrill dwelling, North Central street.

Daniel Golden, auto house East Squantum street.

Thomas Whelan, stable, etc. Fayette street.

AT ATLANTIC.

Quincy school hall was well filled Sunday night at the No-License rally. Rev. Fr. Cuffe depicted graphically his thirty years life in Quincy under No-license and showed its benefits to the home in giving the child the right opportunity.

Rev. E. C. Pollard of Newton was introduced as a Kansas prohibitionist and he seemed to bring some of the Carrie Nation spirit from that state.

Rev. T. W. Davison spoke on the protection of the boy and that the vote NO was for the protection of the boy in our own homes and the cleanliness of the city.

Rev. B. F. Willmott proved by figures that from an economical standpoint license would not pay. He also pointed out its moral and social aspects and said that even though a man drank himself he should note NO for the protection of his family.

W. F. Cummings who acted as chairman of the meeting told of his experience abroad last summer where one could buy liquor anywhere yet he only saw one man intoxicated in going from Liverpool to Naples. He brought out the point that the American people did not do anything in moderation and for that reason Quincy should have a strong no-license vote.

Music was furnished by the chorus of Memorial church under the direction of Spencer Appollonio.

SIXTH SEASON

Quincy Choral Society

Mr. GEORGE S. DUNHAM, Conductor

MISCELLANEOUS PROGRAM and

HIAWATHA'S WEDDING FEAST

By S. COLERIDGE-TAYLOR

HIGH SCHOOL HALL

WEDNESDAY EVENING, DEC. 10th, 1913

At 8 o'clock

SOLOIST

MR. ARTHUR HACKETT, Tenor

BROCKTON PHILHARMONIC ORCHESTRA

TICKETS

LIMITED number reserved seats 75 cents. General admission 50 cents

TICKETS for sale by members and at Hearn's Drug Store.

Dec. 1-6t-1-3-6-8-9-10

ENTHUSIASTIC JOHNSON RALLY

Large Audience Hear Candidate at Poland's Hall

A very largely attended rally in the interest of Charles H. Johnson for Mayor was held Saturday evening at Poland's hall, Norfolk Downs under the auspices of the Ward Six Republican committee. Unlike some of the rallies of other candidates, this was a real rally for the attendance taxed the capacity of the hall. Frank E. Badger, chairman of the Ward Six Committee, presided and Mr. Johnson was the principal speaker. He held the attention of his audience for 45 minutes, speaking on city affairs.

Other speakers were Senator-elect Louis F. R. Langelier, Councilman Herbert G. Beeman and ex-Councilman Ralph W. Hobbs and Charles E. Cherrington.

A rally in the interest of Candidate Johnson will be held tonight at St. Mary's hall.

TAX ABATEMENTS.

Citizens of Quincy:

Before continuing my story on what is the matter with Quincy I wish to speak of my experience in trying to see the assessors books relating to valuations, taxes, and abatements. On numerous occasions I have requested to see the books but was repeatedly refused by the assessors under various excuses such as, they were too busy, or were using the books, or the books were out, or I would have to see the principal assessor.

Last Monday I appeared before the full board of assessors fortified with the city charter and called their attention to section 39 where it states every board and every officer shall keep a record of all official transactions and such records shall be open for public inspection. I was also fortified with a letter from the tax-commissioner of the Commonwealth stating that the book of abatements, as well as the books of taxes and valuations could be examined by any resident or any city official during reasonable hours. There was no secrecy about them and they were open for public inspection.

I was allowed to see two books on abatements real and personal from 1904 to 1909 inclusive and real only from 1909 to the present. I was unable to see the rebates on personal for the past six years, from 1908 to the present time. What I did find was astonishing. For example, I found on these abatement books where the Fore River Ship building Corp. were allowed the following abatements from Dec. 29, 1904 to Dec. 30, 1909, inclusive:

Dec. 29, 1904	abatement	$3150.00
Nov. 16, 1905	"	7687.83
Oct. 29, 1906	"	3720.00
Nov. 19, 1906	"	2296.17
1907	"	2000.00
Dec. 21, 1908	"	3587.50
Apr. 8, 1909	"	512.50
Dec. 30, 1909	"	3075.00
Dec. 30, 1909	(same day)	3060.00
		$29,089.00

The total abatement in five years was $29,089.00 averaging for each year $4848.16, a much larger amount abated than the city taxed them on their land. Such unfair, insidious, and indefensible methods used by our assessors past and present after the tax levy had been made, combined with its vicious system of undervaluations, caused an incalculable hardship upon the less favored tax-payers who without knowledge or consent were unjustly compelled to bear a double burden not only of a much higher tax-rate but of an increase in the valuations. This unfair system is the cause of all sections of the city being compelled to go without needed improvements and many of the necessary repairs. It is the only reason why there is no money to do these things with and why our men are walking the streets unemployed. Seventy-five miles of our streets are in bad condition and need immediate attention. There is urgent need and work enough on our streets and public works which would require the employment of three hundred men. By the present unfair methods of assessing we hardly raise money enough to pay the running expenses, interest and debt falling due which compels the city to borrow continually and thus increase the debt. Such methods stop progress and prevent citizens getting employment upon the highways and public works, and force the homes of some of our citizens to be sold from the steps of City hall for taxes.

Why are not our assessors as considerate in the undervaluations and abatements of the little home-owner, the little business-man and the little manufacturer? Conditions in our city affairs financially have become very serious. Beyond any question our assessors past and present have not been qualified nor competent to meet the requirements and needs of this city. I would respectfully ask the republican mayoralty candidate who was assessor in 1904 and principal assessor in 1905, 1906 and 1907 and who is now asking the voters of Quincy to elect him mayor for the year 1914 the following question:

Why did you during your seven years as assessor continue the present existing condition of discriminating, undervaluing and rebating, thus burdening the present generation and handing down to posterity an affliction that they were in no way responsible for? Why did you abate the taxes of the Fore River Shipbuilidng Co. in four years $18,854.00? I would also ask the present assessors why they rebated the Fore River Shipbuilding Co. in two years, 1908-1909, $10,235.00 and what did you rebate them in 1910, 1911 1912 and 1913? Why did you recently (this year) abate the taxes of two parties on real estates $6803.50.

A few words on the white plague—our vacant land. In 1878, Pattee's history gives the area of Quincy 8670 acres. Since then the takings of the boulevard and the Blue Hills reservation has occurred and today we are told that the acreage of Quincy is 664 acres. Outside of the six hundred acres of quarries in Quincy we have about the following number of acres of vacant land:

Ward 1	1000 acres
Ward 2	400 acres
Ward 3	over 200 acres
Ward 4	over 400 acres
Ward 5	over 250 acres
Ward 6	over 1000 acres

This more than a thousand acres in Atlantic is taxed for less than one cent a foot and eighty per cent of it is available for spur tracks from the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R.

Our commissioner of water front, waterways, and navigation is my authority in city report 1912. That land on the marshes at South Boston is today held at $3.00 per foot where it can be reached with a spur track. In Ward 6 alone, if the land was taxed seventy-five per cent of its value there would be an increase of more than six millions above its present assessment. No land in the city of Quincy should be taxed less than one cent per foot. No land should be taxed by the acre. We have passed the period of the country town taxing fifty acre plots of fine building land at $18.00 per acre. It is a crime. Annex the city of Quincy to Boston and conservatively speaking, the valuations of this city would be increased fifty millions above the present values.

G. B. Bates,
33 Dimmock Street.

Quincy, Nov. 28, 1913

☞PRATT'S BREAD—the staff of life for you and your wife. Get a loaf today.

(POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT.) (POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT.)

"By Their Works Ye Shall Know Them"

THE MAN

SERVED THE CITY AS Trustee of Public Library
Board of Health
School Committee
AT PRESENT
City Physician

PLATFORM:
The City Charter

MOTTO:
In Quincy's Assessments and Disbursements equality to all.

REGULAR DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE

ELECTION:
TUESDAY, DECEMBER 2, 1913.

THE REMEDY

Character Efficiency Economy
Dependability qs.
Merit Sig apply daily to all departments & Department heads.
John H. Ash, Med.

FOR MAYOR

Vote for DR. JOHN H. ASH

JOSEPH H. McPHERSON, 91 Common Street

NEWSY BRIEFS

William J. Walsh of the Walsh Drug Co. has successfully passed the examination for registration in pharmacy.

The water was turned on Saturday on the new line of pipe from the old reservoir to the Fore River Yard.

The automobile license of Walter H. Woodward has been revoked as he was involved in a fatal accident.

Mt. Wollaston lodge I. O. O. F. will work the initatory degree upon several candidates at its meeting Tuesday evening.

The Democratic supporters of Dr. John H. Ash overcrowded St. Jeans hall at a rally in his interest Saturday evening. He gave a long talk on his campaign.

Richard Williams of the Central Fire station took the auto chemical of Atlantic to Boston this morning for repairs.

Mrs. Emma Marnock will hold a whist party in Adams building, Room 30 Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock sharp on account of the short days.

The McGregors of Quincy and the McPhails of Boston are tied for first place in the Scottish Clans bowling league. Both have 20 wins and four loses.

Quincy Branch of the United Irish Land League commenced preparations Sunday evening for a testimonial to O'Donovan Rossa the Irish Patriot who is living in ew York in a condition bordering on poverty. Several were admitted to membership. Samuel T. Drew, vice president, presided.

Frank Coscoschera of 114 Brackett street who was admitted to the state hospital at Tewkesbury suffering from noma has been discharged. The case was one of the few that has appeared in this state and his complete recovery is considerable remarkable.

CLUB SMOKER.

The Neptune Club held a well attended smoker in Protection hall Saturday evening. Songs and recitations were given by Thomas Davison, James Cregan and Andrew Milne. Songs were sung by John Sheldon, John Collins, J. J. Johnson, Harry Poole Thomas Lavery, Walter Bennett Alonzo Tripp.

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

SCHWARTZ BROS.

Carload of Potatoes at Quincy Adams Depot

85 cents a bushel

Nov. 29

AUTO PARADE FOR DR. ASH

Candidate to speak in Home Ward Tonight

West Quincy tonight will be the scene of an illuminated parade in the interest of Dr. John H. Ash, candidate for mayor. All auto owners interested in his success have given the use of their machines. A band of music in a big truck will lead the procession. The start will be on Copeland street and will take in Willard and the adjoining streets. The parade will finish at Hibernian hall where a monster rally will be held.

Dr. John Ash, Councilman Daniel Corcoran and James O'Dowd, candidate for council spoke before enthusiastic gatherings in Slaugher's and Farnum's hall Saturday evening. Dr. Ash spoke of his campaign at both rallies.

MRS. MARGARET GALLAGHER.

The funeral of Mrs. Margaret Gallagher, mother of James Gallagher of the Quincy Fire Department was held this morning from her late home 72 Spear street at 8.30 and was followed by a high mass of requiem at St. John's church at 9 o'clock with Rev. John J. Casey as celebrant. The regular church choir under the direction of John Mahon sang the Gregorian chant, the soloists being Miss Eva Rice and Mrs. Mary Burns King.

The services were largely attended, many City officials including Chief Litchfield of the Fire Department. There was a profusion of beautiful flowers including a large set piece from the members of the Fire Department. The burial was at St. Mary's cemetery, Randolph, the bearers being Dr. M. T. Sweeney, Dr. John Harkins, Philip Cook and Joseph Koen of the Boston Post office.

DEATHS

RILEY—In West Quincy, Dec. 1, Ann, beloved wife of James Riley. Funeral from late residence, 54 Hall Place, Wednesday, Dec. 3, at 8.15 A. M. High mass of requiem at St. Mary's church at 9 o'clock. Relatives and friends invited to attend. Dec. 1-2t

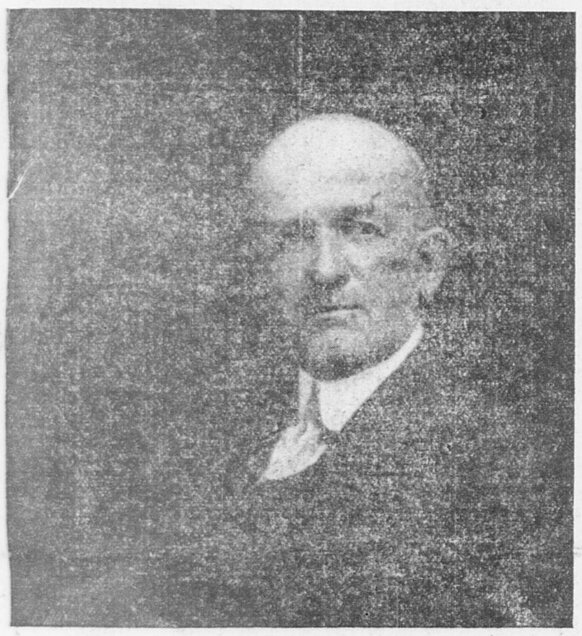
Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass.

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

LARGEST GUARANTEED CIRCULATION IN THE CITY

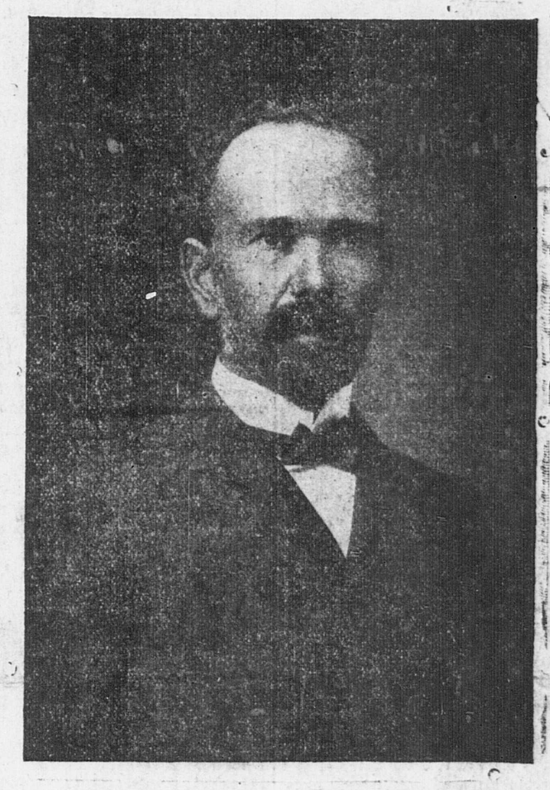
Vol. 28 No. 279 QUINCY · MASS. TUESDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 2, 1913 PRICE TWO CENTS

Three Mayoralty Candidates



CHARLES H. JOHNSON

DR. JOHN H. ASH



JOHN L. MILLER

CITY DEPARTMENT WANTS AND SALARY INCREASES

Much Important New Business at Monday Night's Council Meeting

Chief of Police Questioned About Braintree Raid

Chief of Police Burrell and Inspector Goodhue of the police department were put on the carpet by Councilman Bryant at Monday nights meeting of the City Council and asked concerning the raid at the Cedarcrest Inn at East Braintree a few nights ago. Considerable objection was made by the Councilman about the police of Quincy doing the work that belonged to the Braintree officers as well as sending the patrol wagon out of town for several hours and leaving the city unprotected.

The matter came up when the report of the Committee on Ordinances was made approving of the order increasing the police department by three additional men. The report was laid on the table at that time and later taken up under new business. In reply to questions by Councilman Bryant, Chief Burrell said that he detailed ten officers for the raid at the request of Chief Hunt of Braintree. No regular officers were taken from their beats but reserve officers and specials were used. Inspector Goodhue with the Chief were also on the raid. The Chief further said that he was not a constable of Braintree but that Inspector Goodhue was but he could not give the date of his appointment.

Inspector Goodhue was asked concerning his duties, which he, in reply to questions, said were chiefly to look after the enforcement of the liquor law, to investigate complaints and other business to which he was assigned. He said that he was a special officer of the town of Braintree but could not give the date of his appointment. In reply to further questions the Inspector said that he could make an arrest in any town or city of the Commonwealth.

After the Inspector had been excused Councilman Bryant said that the town of Braintree was big enough to have its own officers and he was surprised that there were not men enough in the town without calling on Quincy. He did not believe it was right for the Chief to leave the city with the Inspector and take the patrol wagon with him. He should remain in Quincy and attend to his own business.

At this point Chief Burrell said that while the patrol wagon was absent that an automobile was in readiness for the Quincy police to use if necessary which was paid for by the Town of Braintree. On motion of Councilman Bryant the order increasing the number of permanent police was laid on the table.

Several other important matters also came up for consideration one of which was changing the name of Goffe street to Presidents Lane which was passed.

Councilman Bass, Corcoran, Duffy, Gilliatt, Richards, Ross and Sandberg were absent.

A venire was received for the drawing of travers jurors. The Mayor, City Clerk and Councilman Griffin drew the following according to law.

Michael McAuliff, Frank J. Shay, Edward Hobbs, Arthur W. Newcomb, Harry C. Hudson, Theodore Parker.

A communication was received from the School department asking for the transfer of $709.78 from receipts for tuition, hall rent, etc., to the school appropriation. Laid on the table until later when Councilman Bailey offered the necessary order which was referred to the Finance Committee.

Th Mayor forwarded a communica-

(Continued on Page Three.)

WANTED!

BOYS

TONIGHT AFTER SIX O'CLOCK TO SELL THE

LEDGER EXTRA

WHAT THEY SAY AT ONE O'CLOCK

Interviews With the Four Candidates for Mayor

How the several candidates for Mayor view the result at 1 o'clock is shown by the following interviews with a representative of the Ledger at that hour.

CHARLES H. JOHNSON.

Charles H. Johnson at 1 o'clock said "I have no doubt of my election. Encouraging reports received from reliable sources point to it."

JOHN L. MILLER

Candidate Miller had not visited any of the polling places up to 1 o'clock and personally had no opportunity to size up the situation. At his office however his son stated that the information which he had received from the several polling places of the city indicated that his father was receiving a very flattering vote and that his election was practically assured.

DR. JOHN H. ASH.

Dr. John H. Ash, in a voice strained from the arduous campaign gave out the following statement at one o'clock —"I feel confident of winning. I appreciate the consideration of the citizens and the good feeling that existed between the candidates during the campaign. It simply goes to show that the feeling of the people is that they are looking forward for that which is best in, and for Quincy."

WILLIAM G. SHAW.

An effort was made to reach William G. Shaw the Progressive candidate, but he could not be found at his home or place of business. From what could be learned he was on a visit to the different polling places.

SPECIAL ELECTION MAY BE POSSIBLE IN WARD 2

Ward 3 and Ward 4 Ballots Mixed With the Ballots of Ward 2

May Invalidate the Election in That Ward--New Election Possible

The greatest municipal battle ever in the history of the City of Quincy is being fought out today. Never has there been a time when things were quite as complicated as far as the Mayoralty is concerned as today. Four candidates are seeking the election to the office of Mayor while in every ward there is a contest over the election of five councilmen-at-large and in every ward with the exception of Ward Five there is a contest on for ward councilmen.

Just who will be elected no one cares to predict. Each of the Mayoralty candidates feels confident that he will be the one chosen, but three of the four must be wrong in their conclusions for but one can be elected.

The campaign has been a lively one especially during the past two weeks. nightly rallies have been held by all of thecandidates in the different wards and in addition to this there have been many rallies at which the candidates for Mayor appeared on the same platform, with the exception of John L. Miller, who made his first public appearance on the stump Monday evening.

As a rule the campaign has been free from personalities and there has been no mud throwing, such has characterized some municipal campaigns in the past.

The indications early this morning were that an exceptionally large vote would be cast, today. The polls opened at 6 o'clock and will close at 4 oclock this afternoon. There was a rush during the first hour at many of the polling places as citizens desired to cast their vote before leaving for Boston.

WARD ONE.

Th early voting in the centre precincts at City Hall was unusually large. In Precinct one at 10.30 over 400 votes had been cast and the indications were that fully ninety percent of the registered vote would be cast. In Precinct Two, two hundred had voted during the first two hours. There was a steady stream of voters going into both precincts all the morning.

Aside from the contest over the election of Mayor there is a lively contest over Councilmen from the ward, six candidates seeking the three places to be filled. The Houghs Neck vote is being cast early today and every street car brings voters from this burg as well as many that are being transported to and from the Neck by automobiles of the several candidates.

There was a large crowd about the polling places but everything was proceeding quietly.

WARD TWO.

A mix-up in the ballots in Precinct two in this ward caused a little confusion for a time this morning but the error was discovered early and it is not thought that any harm was done. The trouble was with the printer who in tying up the package of votes got some of the Ward Four ballots tied up with those of Ward Two. The error was discovered by Arthur B. Foster the Ward Two candidate for member of the School Committee. He secured his ballot and entered a booth to mark it and was surprised not to find his name on the ballot.

A cry was immediately raised to find out why. Then it was discovered that a bunch of Ward Four ballots

(Continued on Page Three.)

CHRISTMAS FAIR

First Church (Unitarian)

Wednesday, Dec. 3, at 2 o'clock

A large assortment of attractive Fancy Articles, Aprons of all kinds, Mysterious Packages, Aunt Dinah with Grabs for the Children.

A GROCERY STORE in charge of the Men of the Parish. Family orders solicited. Superior goods at current prices.

At 6.30 Supper will be served. Price 35 cents.

At 7.45 a series of Living Pictures will be given entitled "The Reveries of a Bachelor."

Nov. 25-6t

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second-Class matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO
Incorporated

TELEPHONES
News . . . Quincy 425
Business . . Quincy 1910

NOTICE

Again we ask those sending news or other matter by mail to direct it to the company or newspaper rather than to individual members of the company or employees. If addressed to individuals and they were ill or not at the office, it might be several days in reaching its proper destination and if news matter would be too late for use.

Let us hope that the man who rocked the boat last summer and got away with it will skate into thick ice this winter.

The man who fired the first shot of the civil war has just died again—this time at Dallas, Texas.

The redeeming thing about football to those who don't like it is that the season is so short.

Some men regard themselves as Philanthropists, while the rest of the world looks upon them as easy marks.

Because a citizen of Berlin stared at a policeman, he was arrested. It makes many policemen nervous to be watched.

Are all the able bodied men in the Balkans in the Hospital? There has not been a new war for several days.

With Dr. Grenfell of Labrador as best man, it is believed that Bridegroom Sayre was able to keep cool.

Under present circumstances, it would seem good judgment for Mr. Huerta of Mexico to look out carefully that the back door is kept open.

It is claimed that the value of the presents given at the White house wedding has been greatly exaggerated, but the offerings will be all right provided the givers all were careful to rub out price marks.

There is a movement against the unsanitary use of lead pencils in schools, but the children won't care if they don't interfere with the spitballs.

The White house bridegroom evidently did not lack friends, as a barrel of apples and one of potatoes were included in the gifts.

OBEYING YOUR HUSBAND.

When Miss Jessie Wilson married Francis B. Sayre, at her request the word "obedient" was inserted in the Presbyterian marriage service, which does not contain the word "obey." In spite of the sweep of "feminism" and the assertion of equal privileges for women, many brides still prefer the old form in which they promise to obey their husbands.

But are there any wives today who obey their husbands? Are there any husbands, considered worthy of a place in good society, who ever issue an order of any kind to their wives? And if a man who wishes to be considered a gentleman, may not issue a command to his wife, is she called on to promise to "obey" him?

In the enthusiastic felicity of the wedding day, the promise to "obey" seems a fitting and supreme mark of the confidence the bride feels in the generosity of her partner. But most brides would be tremendously astonished later, if the bridegroom should issue anything like a command.

Modern idealism makes the woman and the man equal partners. It gives to neither the power to outvote the other, it assumes that their differences of opinion will be settled without arbitration, and that neither party should enforce his or her will on the other.

The words "love, honor, and obey" roll forth from the tongue of the officiating clergyman with sonorous authority. They seem to make the ceremony more binding, and they add a note of clinging sweetness to the picture of the bride. But let the modern bridegroom take them as poetry rather than prose. He will find that the beguilements of feminine affection have a power far more real and effective than the decorative scepter of authority which the clergyman handed him.

PROUD OF ITS LONG HISTORY

Rural Lodge of Masons Installs New Master

Rural lodge, A. F. & A. M., installed its 41st master at a special communication on Monday evening. The charter of the lodge dates back to 1801, one of the oldest in the state, and most of the masters have served two or more years. The new master, Worshipful H. Everett Crane is well qualified by long service for his new position.

The installing officer was Rt. Wor. Walter S. Pinkham of Wollaston, district deputy of the 26th Masonic district assisted by Wor. Charles E. Munroe as grand marshal, and the Weber quartette. There was a large attendance of members.

Promotions were in order all along the line, and the new officers are:

W. M.,—H. Everett Crane.
S. W.,—Frederick E. Tupper.
J. W.,—Henry P. Hayward.
Treasurer.—Alexander Falconer.
Secretary,—Walter E. Simmons.
Chaplain.—Rev. A. L. Hudson.
Marshal,—Frank A. Reed, P. M.
S. D.,—Edward B. Marsh.
J. D.,—Horace W. Rice.
S. S.,—Walter E. Piper.
J. S.,—Albert E. Sargent.
Organist.—Charles W. Barron.
Tyler,—Arthur Crowley.

All the officers were present to be installed except Walter E. Simmons, who has been elected for the 30th year. Although seriously ill with pneumonia for the past week, encouraging reports were received from his bedside. A prayer was offered by the chaplain for his recovery, and it was voted unanimously to send greetings to him.

A happy event of the evening was the presentation of a beautiful past masters' apron to the retiring master, Frank A. Reed, who has held some office in the lodge for the last thirteen years, and is very popular with the brethren.

The lodge has an unusually large number waiting for degrees, and will hold meetings Dec. 4, 11 and 18 for work, and the outlook is for the most prosperous year in its history.

MANET SOCIAL CLUB DANCE

Dr. John H. Ash and Charles H. Johnson, candidates for mayor were the guests of the Manet Social Club at their eighth grand dance given Monday evening in Alpha hall. Both men gave short addresses and received royal receptions. The Raw Bone quartet rendered several selections during the evening.

All the surrounding towns were represented in the large number present and an unusually large delegation came from Brockton where many of the club members are socially popular.

Dancing continued until midnight, music being furnished by Cuffes orchestra. Refreshments were served in Union hall by Mr. and Mrs. John Marvin. Special cars were run to all points after the dance.

The floor was in charge of Russell Gomez and William McDermott was the assistant. The aids were Fred Hayden, Peter Buzzie, Frank Duran and Frank Ferguson.

ELECTED CAPTAIN.

George A. Finlay, son of W. A. Finlay, the well known yachtsman and publisher received his "W" and was elected captain of the 1914 eleven at Williston Seminary, Easthampton on Monday. The choice was made at a meeting of the Athletic Council.

Pete Chapman of Wollaston, a class mate of Finlay, was also awarded the school letter for football. "Pete" has been a member of the base and basket ball teams.

Both are graduates of the Quincy high school and distinguished themselves in athletics while here. They entered Williston at the solicitation of friends and have been prominently identified with sports at the seminary.

BARZELLE DEFEATED.

At the amateur boxing exhibition at Cambridge Monday evening Edward Barzelle of Quincy, 115 pound boy won from John Conley of South Boston in one round in the trials and took th semi-finals from James Hayes of Cambridge in the third round. Stephen Phillips of Revere beat him in the third round in the finals and took the Class.

POLICE MAKING MANY ARRESTS

No Serious Rioting in Indianapolis Teamsters' Strike

NO CROWDS ARE PERMITTED

Officers Use Clubs Freely to Keep People Moving—Mayor to Take Charge of Police Department With 500 Men and Expects to Be Able to Handle Situation

Indianapolis, Dec. 2.—Disorder, but not serious rioting, resulted from the strike of teamsters and chauffeurs. Many wagons were on the streets, but Organizer T. J. Farrell of the union, declared that all would be stopped. The police made a number of arrests and used their clubs freely in keeping the crowds in the down-town section on the move.

Four girl garment workers were included in the large number arrested. The girls, with several companions, had surrouded a laundry wagon and prevented it moving until the police arrived. The four were released on small bonds. All the men taken in custody are being held under $1000 bond.

Several large wholesale dealers and commission house men made no effort to put their wagons on the streets. Many are using the express companies and the parcel post to make deliveries.

Mayor Wallace said he would take personal charge of the police department until the strike of the union teamsters and chauffeurs is settled. He said he had 100 mounted policemen and 400 patrolmen and expected to be able to handle the situation without assistance from the state. More than 3000 men are involved.

In addition to the extra squads of police that patrolled the business district and kept the crowds on the move, more than 250 citizens, including some of the most prominent business men of Indianapolis, who were sworn in as a special reserve force, awaited an emergency call at Tomlinson hall, where they had established headquarters.

Teamsters and their friends were busy harassing drivers who ventured out with teams, and a large number of arrests were made. Several attempts to congregate in the downtown business districts were quickly frustrated by the mounted police. Whenever groups of men lingered for a moment they were told to move on and if they did not comply the police used their new long hickory riot clubs freely. Several pedestrians were beaten over the head and shoulders, but none was seriously injured.

Thomas J. Farrell, general organizer of the union, said the strike order had been obeyed generally. "Our union is opposed to acts of violence," said Farrell. "There is no reason for lawlessness and I hope there will be none."

A special dispensation for milk wagons, driven by union teamsters, was made by the union, on the suggestion of Farrell, general organizer of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Stablemen and Helpers of America.

Drivers of hearses are exempt from the strike order. Farrell also announced there would be no interference with the mail or other government wagons or automobiles, or with the wagons or machines of the express companies.

He said arrangements would be made for delivering supplies to hospitals, so that there would be no added suffering among the sick. Several employers have signed the agreement, but their men will join the strike to make it more effective.

The demands of the teamsters were drafted last Sunday and submitted to the employers during the week. The demands included a wage scale and change of working conditions, which vary according to the kind of work done. The wage scale for drivers of horse wagons ranges from $13 to $18 a week, and for chauffeurs from $14 to $18 a week.

The hours of labor range from eight to twelve hours a day. The union did not demand a "closed shop," but that there should be no discrimination against union men.

The police department reorganized under the direction of Captain George V. Coffin, acting superintendent of police, has been making preparation for a week to handle the strike. An order was issued Saturday preventing the congregation of crowds and the police were told not to "hesitate to use other means" if persuasion failed to disperse the gatherings.

A system of military patrol has been mapped out for the downtown districts and additional mounted and foot police have been added to the force.

Buried With Tattered Flag

Brockton, Mass., Dec. 2.—Henry B. Smith, an 81-year-old Civil war veteran, of 94 Moraine street, was buried with the flag he carried as color sergeant during the war. It was placed in the casket beside him. The fabric was pierced with several bullet holes.

Can Factory Burned

New York, Dec. 2.—The immense plant of the Devoe Tin Can company at Hunter's Point, L. I., was swept by fire with a loss estimated at $150,000. The factory is controlled by and makes cans for the Standard Oil company.

QUINCY REAL ESTATE SALES.

Charles F. Adams et al trs to George H. Newcomb, Glendale road.

Charles F. Adams et al trs to Hubert Gerrior, Independence avenue.

Charles F. Adams 2d et al trs to John F. Callahan, Passonagessett Knoll, Corey path.

Charles F. Adams 2d et al trs to Daniel E. Callahan, Passonagessett Knoll, Corey path.

Charles F. Adams 2d et al trs to John A. Sullivan, Chicatawbot road, Naragansett road.

Charles F. Adams 2d et al trs to Henry F. Tilden, Passonagessett Knoll, Bay Path.

Royden H. Beals to Raymond D. Beals, Beach street.

James H. Broughton to Louise A. Broughton, Everett street.

Philip M. Brown to Lyman S. Meston, Terne road.

Adelbert E. Buffum to Minnie A. Price et al, Colby road.

Sarah Clare to Madeline C. Gallagher, Edison street.

Richard D. Chase to John Puskala, Arthur street.

Kittredge B. Clifford to Edith M. Jordon, Beal street.

Milton L. Conant to Philip E. Vincent, Billings street.

Mary F. Dixon to Ethel Catler, Commonwealth avenue.

Wilton A. Dunham to Isabelle Cumming, Adams Shore.

Bengta Johnson et al to Karl H. H. Anderson, South street.

William H. Mears tr to Albert F. Riedel, Mears avenue.

Ede T. Plaisted by ex to Augusta M. Prescott, Apthorp street.

Alice C. Pope et al to Harry F. Beal, Ocean street.

Hannah A. Porter to Josephine V. Bushnell, Hancock street.

Mary Solen to Ellen Solen, South Walnut street.

William P. Thompson to Octavia M. Thompson, Whitney road.

Belle F. Wales to Frieda Berghaus, Trevore street.

Herbert T. Whitman to Theophilus King.

—Bruce Eytinge has aroused the hope at New York that some day every man may be his own automobile. Eytinge appeared at the electrical show on roller skates. Suspended from his shoulders were storage batteries, connected with small motors on the skates. Eytinge turned a switch and the skates started. He said the outfit cost him about $50.

Perfect biscuit perfectly produced

Eternal vigilance is exercised by National Biscuit Company in the selection of the ingredients that enter into its products.

National Biscuit Company products are perfectly protected by being packed in attractive small tins, in packages with the famous In-er-seal Trade Mark or in the familiar glass-front cans.

Wherever biscuit are sold, there you will find the perfect biscuit of the National Biscuit Company. Each variety, whether known as crackers or cookies, wafers or snaps, cakes or jumbles, is the best of its kind.

Buy biscuit baked by

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

Always look for that name

JOSE S. ZELAYA

Ex-Dictator of Nicaragua Will Leave United States

Photo by American Press Association.

TANGLE IS SOLVED

Former President Zelaya Agrees to Return to Spain

Washington, Dec. 2.—The international tangle over the presence in the United States of J. S. Zelaya, former president of Nicaragua, apparently was solved by Zelaya agreeing to return to Barcelona, Spain, from whence he came to New York a month ago.

This agreement came as the result of a day of conferences at the state department between Solicitor Folk and counsel for both Zelaya and the Nicaraguan government.

In promising to leave the country, Zelaya stipulated that he should have ample time to transact some important business matters.

State department officials insist that when the deposed dictator departs he go direct to Barcelona, and that in the interim he enter into no political intrigues involving Nicaragua.

Zelaya from the outset has maintained that the offenses alleged against him were political, and that upon hearing he could prove that the two murders alleged against him were committed without his knowledge.

13-YEAR-OLD GIRL GUILTY OF MURDER

Convicted of Killing Playmate During a Quarrel

Prince Albert, Sask., Dec. 2.—Kathleen Oka Simmon, 13 years old, was convicted of murdering her 9-year-old playmate, Julia Jenex, on the afternoon of June 21 last. The jury was out only one hour.

The little girl, with tears streaming down her cheeks, told the court of her crime. She said that in the afternoon of the murder she and her companion left home to gather dry roots for medical purposes.

While walking across a field, she said, the Jenex girl picked up a dead prairie chicken and struck her across the face with it. This made the accused girl angry and she threw her playmate to the ground.

The quarrel continued, according to the testimony, until the Simmon girl hit the other with a shovel, knocking her down, after which she beat her face into pulp.

The girl has not yet been sentenced.

DYING AFTER FAST

Girl Went Without Food a Month to Expurge "Devils"

Dunkirk, N. Y., Dec. 2.—Relatives here have been notified that Miss Mary Clifford, aged 29, formerly of this village, but now residing at Vallejo, Cal., is critically ill in a California hospital following a thirty-day fast to expel "devils" from her system.

According to the information received here, the young woman came under the influence of a high priest of a Hindu cult, and was told by him to fast in order to cast out the demons which, he said, had possession of her.

When she had gone without food a month her case was reported to the authorities, and her removal to a hospital followed. Whether any action has been taken against the high priest is not known here.

Beer Tickets to Rallies

Gloucester, Mass., Dec. 2.—Beer tickets will hereafter be required for admittance to temperance rallies in Gloucester, if a suggestion made by Rev. Levi M. Powers at a rally in city hall is adopted. He wants to fill the halls with lovers of the stuff, instead of teetotalers.

Armed Bandit Gets $700

Chicago, Dec. 2.—An armed bandit entered a suburban station of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern railway, bound and gagged the agent and escaped with $700 of the company's money.

Miss Asquith Under Knife

London, Dec. 2.—Miss Elizabeth Asquith, the youngest daughter of the prime minister, was operated on for appendicitis. She is doing well.

Capital $150,000 Surplus $200,000

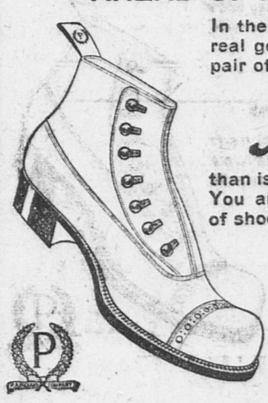
OPEN A BANK ACCOUNT HERE

Do business in a business-like way, and secure for yourself the great number of privileges that are yours without cost as a result. Office hours are convenient and employees obliging and polite. There is much information and advice that is free to our depositors, and we are always ready to consult with you if you wish.

Our $5 Box is Larger Than a $10 Box in Boston.

GRANITE TRUST CO.
FOUNDED 1836

AHEAD OF ALL OTHERS



In the long run you will get more real genuine satisfaction out of a pair of Packard SHOES than is possible with any other line. You are not merely buying a paying investment, not only from a monetary standpoint, but also from the standpoint that you are to be satisfied as to your feet, which is worth most of all. PACKARDS insure comfort for your feet, a style that pleases your fancy, and genuine shoe service.

REMICK'S
Music Hall Block, Quincy

—Clinton S. Folger has stirred up things in Nantucket by introducing an automobile on the island in spite of the proscription of the authorities on these vehicles. He is using it to carry passengers and mail between the town and Siasconset and hints that if his machine is interfered with the parties will find that they have got into trouble by interfering with the United States mails, and he will carry the matter into the Supreme Court of the country.—Old Colony Memorial.

A REAL NERVE AND BODY BUILDING MEDICINE

When you're sick or run-down, keep away from so-called "tonics." The alcohol and dangerous drugs many of them contain stimulate you for a few minutes after the dose is taken—then leave you worse off than ever. You cannot get well by taking stimulants. You are liable to get worse.

Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion is not a stimulant. It is a real nerve and body and blood-building medicine. It puts the system into shape to overcome present and resist future sickness. It does not contain a drop of alcohol nor anything else harmful. But it builds you up, makes you feel better, stronger, livelier—not the first hour—but after a few days, when the strengthening, toning and tissue-building ingredients have had a chance to work through your blood into those muscles and organs that need their vitality-giving help. The four Hypophosphites it contains strengthens the nerves while purest Olive Oil nourishes them.

Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion is an ideal, common-sense invigorator and up-builder. There is direct benefit to you in every one of its ingredients. You who are weak and run-down, and you who are apparently well now, but are liable to suffer from various cold weather ailments, use Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion to get and keep well and strong. For the tired-out, run-down, nervous, emaciated or debilitated—the convalescing—growing children—aged people—it is a sensible aid to renewed strength, better spirits, glowing health.

Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion—king of the celebrated Rexall Remedies—is for freedom from sickness of you and your family. Pleasant-tasting—unlike the cod liver oil preparations—you'll be as enthusiastic about it as we are when you have noted its strengthening, invigorating, building-up, disease-preventing effects. If it does not help you, your money will be given back to you without argument. Sold in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store—one of more than 7,000 leading drug stores in the United States, Canada and Great Britain. —Edward J. Murphy, 1415 Hancock cor. Granite Streets, Quincy, Mass. "The Rexal Store."

Only a Few

A comparatively small number of Hamilton Watches are made every year. Their extreme accuracy and fine adjustment forbids making them in large quantities.

The Hamilton Watch

"The Railroad Timekeeper of America"

Not only the man or woman who wants a very accurate watch buys the Hamilton—but the individual who knows about watches usually demands the Hamilton. We sell Hamilton watches complete, or supply a Hamilton movement for your present watch case. All sizes for men and women.

We carry in stock The New Extra Thin Model Hamilton in 12 size and from 17 jewel adjusted to the highest 23 jewel grade made in 16 size. The price of the best is $60.00 which is a low price considering that this watch is without a doubt the finest watch manufactured in the United States.

Get a copy of our New Christmas Catalogue

SANDBERG BROS.
Jewelers
1281 Hancock St., Quincy

Read Ledger Advs.

MRS. GAMMONS WORTHY MATRON

Annual Meeting Quincy Chapter Eastern Star

Quincy Chapter, Order of Eastern Star held its annual election of officers in Colonial hall Monday evening. Worthy Matron Mrs. Henrietta Files presided and the attendance was large. The installation will be in January at a date to be chosen later. The officers elected were:

Worthy Matron—Mrs. Margaret E. Gammons.

Worthy Patron—Horace G. Crocker.

Associate Matron—Mrs. Edith S. Crocker.

Secretary—Mrs. Selina C. Thompson.

Treasurer—Mrs. Laura E. Holt.

Conductress—Mrs. Katherine McDonald.

Associate Conductress—Miss Ruth Kemp.

—The United States supreme court decision upholding the foreign corporation tax of Massachusetts is "expected to put three-quarters of a million dollars into the state treasury." But the money won't stay there long. Where there are a score of propositions looking to an increase in the expenditures of the state, not once in a hundred times do the people hear of any pronounced scheme on Beacon Hill to cut down expenses. The howling is directed almost entirely to the spending of money. It is neither the fashion not the trend of legislation to practice real economy.—Salem News.

NEWSY BRIEFS

Paul J. Revere Woman's Relief Corps No. 103 will hold a whist party at the home of Mrs. Cylenda Richardson, "President," tonight, 45 Gay street.

There will be a public whist at the clubhouse, Edison Park under the auspices of Quincy Women's Riverside Club, Mrs. Ella A. Hayden, chairman, Wednesday afternoon.

The best single of the day at the Coliseum alleys on Monday, outside of competition, was 135 made by DeCoste. The daily prize was awarded to him.

Mrs. L. A. Goding and Miss Lola Goding of Topsham, Me., will make their home the coming winter with Mrs. Goding's daughter, Mrs. George A. Wardwell of 25 Miller Stile road.

The Amusement committee of George L. Gill Rebekah Lodge will hold a whist party in Odd Fellows' hall, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock regular business meeting in evening they work the degree on several candidates.

The ladies of the First Parish church are to serve a hot roast beef dinner tomorrow night as one of the attractions of their fair, which is to be held afternoon and evening. An entertainment of "Living Pictures" under the management of Mrs. George S. Keyes is to follow the dinner.

Save an order for the groceries you are in need of and give it to the "Corner Grocery" at the fair in First Church chapel tomorrow afternoon and evening. The store is to be conducted by the men of the parish and will be well stocked with staple articles.

YOU need the Ledger EVERY DAY.

Kincaide Furniture Store

The House of Helpful Credit

SPECIAL THIS WEEK

all day, every day

MERCHANTS CASH VALUE 2 MILLS LEGAL W. H. Murphy Sec STAMP VOID AFTER JAN. 1915

DOUBLE LEGAL STAMPS

MERCHANTS CASH VALUE 2 MILLS LEGAL W. H. Murphy Sec STAMP VOID AFTER JAN. 1915

An Extra Inducement to Shop Early

This Great Home Store is just overflowing with Beautiful and Useful Gifts for All the Family. Come and see! Select NOW, and we'll Deliver when wanted.

Full Books of Legal Stamps Redeemed

BRING THEM IN

Another Special This Week

THIS BEAUTIFUL

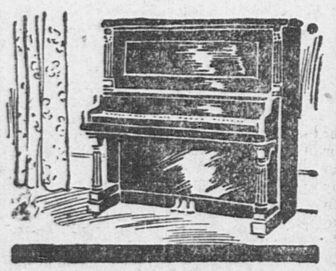
FUMED OAK DESK SET

Exactly as pictured here and shown in our window. A splendid gift

$9.85

PIANOS

In our window this week you'll see some of the many good makes of High Grade Pianos we sell. You can save at least $100 by buying here. Just come and see.



USED PIANOS AS LOW AS $15

MUSIC CABINETS $5.98 $7.50 $10 to $20.

PIANO STOOLS & CHAIRS $3.50 $4.75 $6.75 to $12.50

Scarfs of Silk, Velvet, Leather, $2.50 Up

KINCAIDE & CO. Quincy's Live Furniture Store

CITY COUNCIL

(Continued from Page One.)

tion from the Board of Health relative to increasing the salary of the physician of the Board to $500. Referred to Finance Committee.

The Mayor forwarded a communication from Ruth A. Bass asking permission for children to appear on the stage Dec. 12. Laid on the table until later when Councilman Gauthier offered the necessary order which was adopted.

The Mayor forwarded a communication from the Inspector of Provisions asking for an increase of salary from $200 to $300 a year. Laid on the table until later when Councilman Ericson offered the necessary order which was referred to the Finance Committee.

The Mayor forwarded a communication from the Overseer of the Poor asking for an additional apropriation of $2,000. Laid on the table until later when Councilman Thompson offered an order appropriating that amount which was referred to the Finance Committee.

A communication was received from the Ward Four Improvement association inviting the Council to attend a meeting of the association Dec. 4 to discuss the matter of making Willard street a state highway. Placed on file.

The Mayor sent a communication asking that the Council pass a temporary loan order of $75,000. Laid on the table until later when Councilman Bailey offered a temporary loan order which was referred to the Finance Committee.

The Telephone Co., petitioned for permission to attach its wires to poles Elm avenue and Fayette street. Granted.

A petition for lights on Gothland street was referred to the Executive.

A number of petitions for minor licenses were received and referred to the License Committee.

The Committee on Streets reported an order changing the name of Goffe street to Presidents Lane.

Councilman Ericson desired the order laid on the table, but Councilman Bryant objected. The Councilman he said had told him that he had no objection to the change.

Councilman Ericson in reply said that he personally did not have any objection to the change but he wanted time to find out the sentiment of the people.

The motion of Councilman Ericson to lay on the table was lost and the order was then adopted by roll call, 12 voting yes and one no. Councilman Ericson was recorded as against the order.

The Committee on Streets reported an order accepting Roberts street between Water and Gilbert streets. Read and ordered to a second reading.

The same committee reported an order appropriating $957.26 for building a granolithic sidewalk on Hancock street from Granite street toward School street. The amount to be transferred from the appropriation for permanent sidewalks of 1912. Referred to Finance Committee.

The same committee reported reference to the next City Council of the matters relative to the widening of Squantum and Washington streets. In regard to these two streets the committee say that they have given them careful attention. That they have caused plans to be made and have collected valuable data in relation to the same, and are of the opinion that the same should be done. In order however to establish building lines public hearings are necessary and as 21 days notice must be given it is too late this year to do anything, and they recommend that the next Council give this matter its early attention. Report accepted.

The Committee on Ordinances reported an order establishing a planning board ordinance. The ordinance provides for a board of five members, two of whom shall be women. They are to be appointed by the Mayor subject to the approval of the City Council one whose term shall expire on May 1, 1914, one on the years 1915, 1916, 1917 and 1918, and beginning with the year 1914 he shall appoint one member for a term of five years. The board shall have such powers as are prescribed under chapter 494 of the acts of 1913 and shall serve without salary, with the exception that the Board may pay its secretary such salary as the Board may fix and the City Council determine. Laid on the table.

The Joint Committee on Fire and Ordinances reported ought to pass on the order increasing the number of permanent policemen by three men to take effect Jan. 1, 1914. Laid on the table.

The same committee reported orders granting minor licenses and giving the applicant who petitioned for a license at 384 Granite street for a pool table leave to withdraw.

Councilman Little offered a resolve petitioning the Highway Commission to take Willard street as a state highway. Adopted.

Councilman Ericson offered an order for a street light on the corner of Hudson and Everett streets. Referred to Executive.

Councilman Devaney offered an order for a street light on Newcomb place. Referred to Executive.

Councilman Thompson offered an order for a street light on the corner of Merrymount road and Park lane. Referred to the Executive.

Councilman Bailey offered an order changing the amount of sewer assessments, authority for the same having been given the city by a special act of the legislature passed this year. Under the old rate the method of assessment was 12 cents per running foot frontage and 6 mills per square foot area to a depth of 100 feet. The new rate fixes the rate per running foot frontage at 16 cents and the rate per square foot area to a depth of 100 feet at 8 mills. The order was referred to the Finance Committee.

Councilman Gauthier offered an order amending the Assessors' ordinance so as to provide that the Mayor shall annually appoint an assistant assessor for each ward to serve from the first day of April until the end of that year. Ordered to a second reading.

Councilman Gauthier also offered an order amending the salary ordinance fixing the salary of the assistant assessors at $100 a year.

Councilman Bryant moved to amend by making the amount $200. This sum was small enough. He did not think it right to ask a man to work for so small a sum. It was desired to get good men for assistant assessors which could not be done at the small salary. The amendment was adopted and the order referred to the Finance Committee.

Councilman Bailey offered an order appropriating $64.67 to refund Cordelia M. Clark one half cost of sidewalk. Referred to Finance Committee.

On motion of Councilman Bailey it was voted when the Council adjourn it be until next Monday evening.

Councilman Johnson offered an order establishing a minors license which was referred to the Ordinance Committee. The ordinance is aimed to control the newsboys who infest City Square and make a nuisance of themselves.

In the calendar the following orders took their second reading and were passed to be ordained under suspension of the rules.

Appropriation $588 additional for printing the assessors valuation lists.

Granting the Telephone Co.. permission to lay underground conduits.

Granting the Eelectric Light Company and Telephon Company a location for poles.

Adjourned at 9.20 until Dec. 8.

HARDWICK'S GRIT.

Inasmuch as there has been more or less said about broken fingers and other injuries sustained by the Harvard eleven in the Yale game, it is perhaps timely to quote Dr. E. H. Nichols, the surgeon in charge of the players. When questioned on this point yesterday Dr. Nichols stated there were just two men injured in the game. Hardwick received a most painful muscle bruise in the shoulder in the very first play of the game, and Bradlee had a rib cracked. No one else received even a bruise worthy of the name.

Hardwick's Spartan grit prevented both coach and doctor from detecting his injury, and they are ever on the alert to note a wince or other evidence that a man is hurt. Even between the halves this sterling player gave no sign that he was suffering pain.—Boston Globe.

HAIR DOESN'T DIE— IT HAS TO BE KILLED

Hair often continues to live and grow long after the death of the body. But it is often killed through neglect or misuse. Almost always the woman or man whose hair is falling out, or is stringy, lifeless and dull-looking, is entirely to blame because of not giving it the proper care. It is easy to take care of the hair—easy to make it more beautiful. Use Harmony Hair Beautifier, to make it glossy soft and silky, and Harmony Shampoo to keep hair and scalp thoroughly clean.

Harmony Hair Beautifier, delightfully perfumed with true rose, is very easy to apply—simply sprinkle a little on your hair each time before brushing it. It contains no oil, and will not change the color of the hair, nor darken gray hair.

To keep your hair and scalp dandruff-free and clean, use Harmony Shampoo. This pure liquid shampoo is most convenient to use, giving an instantaneous rich, foaming lather that immediately penetrates to every part of the hair and scalp, insuring a quick and thorough cleansing. It is washed off just as quickly, the entire operation taking only a few moments. Contains nothing that can harm the hair, and leaves no harshness or stickiness—just a sweet cleanliness.

Both preparations come in odd-shaped, very ornamental bottles, with sprinkler tops. Harmony Hair Beautifier, $1.00 Harmony Shampoo, 50c. Both guaranteed to satisfy you in every way, or your money back. Sold in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store—one of the more than 7,000 leading drug stores of the United States, Canada and Great Britain, which own the big Harmony laboratories in Boston, where the many celebrated Harmony Perfumes and Toilet Preparations are made.

—Edward J. Murphy, 1415 Hancock Cor. Granite Streets, Quincy, Mass. "The Rexal Store."

SPECIAL ELECTION

(Continued from Page One.)

had been mixed with the Ward Two ballots. The package of ballots was gone over and 17 Ward Four ballots were found. Whether any of these ballots had been voted upon or not can not be determined until the box is opened tonight. The election officers however do not believe that any of them were used.

As in other wards throughout the city the voting during the early morning was heavy indicating a large vote. There are several local contests in this ward where seven candidates are seeking the three positions for ward councilmen and two candidates are seeking the position for member of the school committee from the ward.

It was reported this noon that there was a mix-up of the ballots in precinct one of Ward Two as well as in the second precinct. In Precinct One 40 ballots of Ward Three, Precinct One were found and in Precinct Two 37 ballots of Ward Four, Precinct Two were found. It is barely possible if the election for councilmen is anyways close the election may be invalidated if any of the wrong ballots were cast, a new election may be necessary.

WARD THREE

The South Quincy Ward, which is also the home ward of Candidate Miller is getting out a large vote and the indications this morning were that their ward candidate for Mayor would receive a handsome vote. Last year Mr. Miller carried the ward by a plurality of 70 over Mayor Stone and the indications are that he will do fully as well this year with four candidates in the field if not better.

That there is a great deal of interest in the voting is shown by the large early morning vote . In Precinct One, Mr. Millers own precinct over 200 votes had been cast at 7.30 showing that the voters were exercising their franchise before going to business.

Aside from the contest on the Mayoralty question there is also a local contest for ward Councilmen. Eight candidates appear on the ballot and each of these are working tooth and nail to win. The similarity of names in the case of one of the candidates for the council will probably get him a number of votes he otherwise would not get. This candidate is Robert T. Foy, and many thinking that it was Robert E. Foy, the well known business man, doubtless voted for him. This ward also elects a member of the School Committee in this case Alfred O. Diack the Republican candidate has no opposition and will unquestionably have a walkover.

WARD FOUR.

In Ward Four the home of Dr. John H. Ash, the Democratic candidate, the interest stimulated by the processions and canvassing of Monday evening had not abated this morning and there was a long line of voters waiting for the polls to open. They eagerly rushed to the gate where they edged each other out of line so they could cast their ballot and not loose the first train to Boston. The longest waiting line was at St. Mary's hall where a hard fight is being waged against Dr. Ash by several prominent West Quincy people. Their efforts however seemed to be meeting with but little success. The interest throughout the ward is further increased by the contest for the councilmanic honors. The regular nominees are opposed by an independent and a Progressive and each have rallied a small following. The candidate in the ward showing the least excitement is Peter T. Fallon who is running for the council. Beyond any doubt Daniel Corcoran will be returned to the council and James O'Dowd is apparently elected. The third man is in doubt.

WARD FIVE

Although there are automobiles galore in the Wollaston ward the vote at 1 o'clock fell behind that of the reecnt state election, which is somewhat remarkable since this ward has been made the stamping ground of all the Mayoralty candidates. The voters are all at sea as to who will win and many are in doubt for whom to cast their vote. It would not be surprising therefore if when the votes came to be counted there were many blanks for Mayor

There is no contest in this ward for Ward Councilmen but there is the same contest for Councilmen at Large as in other wards. As a general rule the five Republican candidates for Councilmen at Large will reecive a rousing plurality.

WARD SIX.

Th contest in which the Atlantic ward is interested, more than any other is that for ward Councilmen. The fight over these offices has been on since long before the primaries. In the primaries two gentlemen from Squantum were candidates for the nomination, ex- Councilman John R. Nelson and Carl E. Carlson. The fight was a strenuous one and Nelson won out. The friends of Mr. Carlson were not satisfied however and he was induced to take out nomination papers so that his name appears on the ballot as an Independent. In addition to his name there are the two regular Republican nominees and one Democratic candidate. The indications are however that the fight of the primaries between Nelson and Carlson is being fought out again today.

—"Mail your Christmas parcels early." This notice in big letters will be posted in every post office of the country, at the nstance of Postmaster General Burleson, who proposes to see that all Christmas parcels shall be delivered on or before Christmas if possible. The first Christmas season of the parcels post system is almost at hand. Officials propose to see that every package shall be handled expeditiously so that there will be no possibility of congestion. They believe they can give the public quick and accurate transportation and delivery if patrons only will aid by mailing their Christmas parcels early.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

LARCENY CHARGE DISMISSED

Arthur Burnette was arrested Monday on a charge of larceny preferred by Joseph A. Keating, a former employer. The complainant alleged that he had stolen an auto light and brackett, valued at $15. In court this morning the defendant denied that he had taken the articles but that a friend had them in his possession through a misunderstanding. Upon his statement to the court that the friend was ready to return same the case was dismissed. John D. MacKay represented the defendant and J. J. McAnarney, the complainant.

—In Denver it was said that the majority of the women as well as the men voted to keep liquor selling on the legal list. It worked out differently in Jacksonville, Ill. That place has voted dry for the fourth consecutive time, and while the men this year voted "No" by 77 majority, the women sealed the doom of the saloon in that city, raising the majority for "No" by their votes to 2404.—Brockton Enterprise.

Beecham's Pills

"The Largest Sale of Any Medicine in the World"

Women—many women—are far too willing to let themselves suffer from headache, backache, extreme nervousness, lassitude and low spirits; but, if they will, they can easily obtain safe and prompt relief. Beecham's Pills relieve these conditions by removing the cause. Indeed, experience shows

For Women's Health

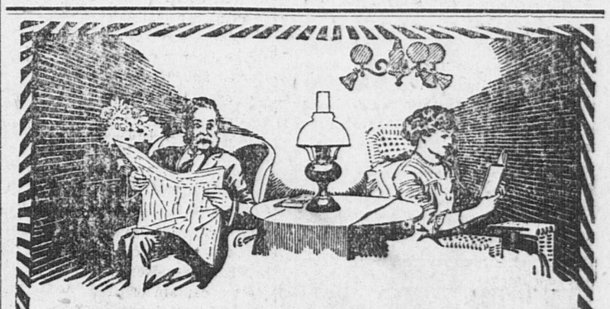
Beecham's Pills are universally accepted as effective and matchless. They will tone and regulate your stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. They will gently, but surely, remove the impurities which cause you to be run down and subject to unnatural aches, pains and low spirits.

With the purer blood, the better digestion, and the general bodily improvement resulting from the judicious use of Beecham's Pills you will feel better, act better, look better. Try a few small doses and know how this famous family remedy will protect and preserve your

Comfort and Good Looks

At All Druggists, 10c, 25c

Directions of Special Value to Women Are With Every Box



The Light for Aging Eyes

Good eyesight should be protected above all things. A harsh or a flickering light strains the eyes. The soft mellow glow of the is the best light for reading, sewing or whenever the eyes must be used at night.

Rayo Lamp

The RAYO Lamp is constructed on scientific principles. It gives the best and steadiest light, It is made of solid brass—nickel-plated. Lighted without removing chimney or shade. Easy to clean and rewick. A style for every purpose.

Ask your deaer.

SO CONY STANDARD OIL COMPANY of New York

New York Albany Buffalo Boston

Quincy Daily Ledger

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30.
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branschied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
Newcomb Square—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. I. Smith.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck.
L. A. Cook, Washington Street.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington Street.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield Water st.
A. Pierson, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Prohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—Capt. Fosdick's.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity: Wednesday unsettled, but generally fair.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	6.56
Sun sets	4.12
Length of day	9.16
Moon rises	9.48
High water, A. M.	3.00
High water, P. M.	3.15

Days decrease 6 hours, 1 minute

Full Moon, Dec. 13,	10.00 A. M.
Last Quarter, Dec. 20	11.16 A. M.
New Moon, Dec. 27	9.59 A. M.
First Quarter, Dec. 5,	9.59 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today	45 degrees
Dec. 2 1912,	56 degrees
Dec. 2, 1911,	42 degrees

Dec. Noon Maximum 14 years—67
Dec. Noon Minimum, 14 years—2

DEFENDED HIS TITLE.

Paul Poehler defended his title of bowling champion by defeating Arthur Lavigne at Worcester Monday evening before an audience of 1000. The prize offered for the 10 string match was $100 and Poehler took it 1184 to 1030.

At no time did Lavigne have a chance to defeat the champion. They were only two pins apart on the first strings Lavigne scoring 107 and Poehler 105. Lavigne weakened in the scond string, getting only 104 against Poehler's 120.

The third string was the feature of the match. Poehler started off with a strike for 20 pins, next got a 15 spare and then settled down for a total of 147, toppling 56 pins in the last three boxes, in which he got two spares for 18 pins. In the last two boxes he split the maples for 35.

In the first five strings Poehler got 15 spares for 114 and three strikes for 35, and in the second five strings he managed to get 17 spares for 99 pins and 1 strike for 8.

Lavigne got 9 spares for 61 pins and 1 strike for 6 in first five strings, and in the second he got 5 spares for 47 and 3 strikes for 24. The score

Poehler:

105, 120, 147, 118, 117, 113, 122, 130, 107, 105—1184.

Lavigne:

107, 104, 104, 90, 108, 87, 93, 94, 128, 115—1030.

—At a fire in a Chicago theatre the audience of 1,000 persons refused to become panic-stricken, but remained and applauded the work of the stage hands who extinguished the blaze. And for once, no doubt, they went home feeling that they saw a show worth the money.

☞PRATT'S BREAD costs a little more—is worth a good deal more Ask your grocer.

It Stands the Test of Time
JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT
IN USE 103 YEARS for the relief of aches, pains, swellings, burns, cuts, rheumatism, bowel troubles. For internal and external use.
25c and 50c everywhere
I. S. JOHNSON & CO., Inc. Boston, Mass.
Parsons' Pills give quick relief without distressing.

SHIPYARD BOWLING LEAGUE

A single of 108 by Carlson of the Machine Gallery was high in the regular Fore River league matches on the Coliseum alleys Monday evening.

The Foundry beat the Ex-Apprentices 3 to 1, the third string going to the latter. The summary

FOUNDRY.

Holmgren	78	88	90	256
Cobb	79	76	92	247
O'Hare	79	92	85	256
Karney	101	84	85	270
Charnock	86	94	97	277
	423	434	449	1306

EX-APPRENTICES.

Madden	81	83	94	258
Farquharson	81	83	80	244
Ash	67	86	92	245
Manning	89	76	91	256
Morgan	70	102	100	272
	388	430	457	1275

The Government Draftsment administered a 4 to 0 defeat to the Blacksmith five. None of the scores were alarming. The summary

GOVERNMENT DRAFTSMEN.

Melendy	85	84	99	268
Wallace	68	78	86	232
Descolzo	81	92	85	258
Towlai	77	75	80	232
O'Neil	96	94	94	284
	407	423	444	1274

BLACKSMITHS.

Duffy	72	79	90	241
Pitts	83	76	71	230
McLennan	96	75	82	253
Flanagan	67	75	81	223
Bergfors	87	88	80	255
	405	393	404	1202

The Shipfitters beat the Pipe Fitters 4 to 0. Both teams had but four men The summary

SHIPFITTERS.

Hanson	101	104	87	292
Burnett	72	76	65	213
Kane	82	79	76	237
Hynes	95	80	98	273
	350	339	326	1015

PIPEFITTERS

Kateon	87	83	86	256
Dobson	74	82	68	224
Rogers	81	69	71	221
Graham	84	87	80	251
	326	321	305	952

The Machine Gallery beat the Yard 4 to 0. The scores in this match varied between 66 and 108. The summary

MACHINE GALLERY.

White	87	84	84	255
Williams	84	88	94	266
Moran	85	86	79	250
Carlson	108	78	95	281
Tirrell	91	91	91	273
	455	427	443	1325

YARD.

Robbins	92	92	91	275
Anthony	82	66	81	229
McKenzie	77	82	90	249
Mills	101	88	86	275
Smith	95	88	88	271
	447	416	436	1299

MOLDLOFT LEAGUE.

The regular match between the McLennons and the Stanfords in the Moldloftsmen league was rolled on the City square Alleys Monday evening. Average scores were made by all bowlers. The McLennons took the match 3 to 1. The summary

McLENNONS.

Robinson	79	90	83	252
McLennon	71	89	74	234
Sines	71	70	81	228
McLean	72	77	80	229
Wishart	82	70	90	242
	375	402	408	1185

STANFORDS

Smith	85	84	89	258
McLean	59	65	75	199
Hamilton	86	85	75	244
Moe	82	81	76	239
Stanford	67	84	80	231
	379	399	393	1171

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

REPORT HUERTA SNUBBED ENVOY

Said That Dictator Has Been Drinking Heavily

BROKE OFFICIAL ENGAGEMENT

Is Said to Be Very Gloomy Over Successes of Rebel Troops—Gunboats Completely Destroy Town of Altata In State of Sinaloa—Financial Condition Reaches Acute Stage

Mexico City, Dec. 2.—General Huerta has not gone to Vera Cruz, as stated in an erroneous report sent from here. He has been on a farm outside the city. Government officials stated in reply to inquiry that the general has been ill for three days past.

Reliable private information given a correspondent is to the effect Huerta has been drinking so heavily for the past two days that negotiations on all matters pending have been held up. Huerta has been intoxicated and practically irresponsible. His condition was such on Sunday that he broke an official engagement with Charge O'Shaughnessy. No explanation for the breach of etiquet has been made to the American diplomat.

Huerta, it is reported, has become very gloomy over rebel victories, and has allowed his irritability to show itself in public.

It was the belief of the well informed that General Huerta's government this week faces a crisis. Rebels were reported to be moving on San Luis Potosi, which is the key of the railway approach to Mexico City, controlling lines in every direction. In their progress toward San Luis Potosi the constitutionalists burned a new $40,000 railway station at Ajuno.

Tampico, on the east coast, and Mazatlan on the west, both were said to be tottering before rebel assaults, and their fall was hourly expected. This information added to the gloom of the government.

The war office confirmed the report that the Mexican gunboats Tampico and Guerrero completely destroyed the town of Altata, a rebel stronghold in Sinaloa.

The war office reported two Mexican warships before Mazatlan, on the west coast, prepared by bombardment to aid the federal troops defending the port against the rebels.

The newspapers here published flamboyant stories about Foreign Minister Moheno reviewing the United States warships at Vera Cruz.

Nelson O'Shaughnessy, charge d'affaires, exchanged dispatches with Washington after his conference on Saturday with the Japanese ambassador, and then announced that the United States promised protection to Japanese in Mexico.

Last week was the most disastrous in Huerta's career.

Conditions within the federal district have reached a grave state. The fuel and food supply is diminishing rapidly and nothing is coming in.

The principal topics of conversation and the main newspaper editorials are the message of President Wilson to congress and the sailing of three more battleships from the Mediterranean for Mexican waters.

The city of Torreon, which has long been in the hands of the rebels, is about to be retaken by a column of federal troops commanded by General Jose R. Velasco, according to dispatches received by the war department.

The military authorities say the reoccupation of Torreon will be a great blow to the revolution, as the city is the key to operations in four states. It is on the border of the state of Coahuila.

General Velasco has been instructed to move at once upon the city of Durango after taking possession of Torreon.

RIDE WOMAN ON RAIL

Jury Asked to Punish Women Who Did It the Same as Men

Waukegan, Ills., Dec. 2.—Six women and one man, charged by the state with having ridden Mrs. John Richardson on a rail several months ago, were put on trial in Lake county circuit court. The defendants are Emma Stadfeldt, Alma Walton, Lavina Raymond, Mary Saubel, Kate Wagner, Ann Stadfeldt and Edward Krepel.

Krepel has never been arrested. The women were in court when examination of jurors started. The state is demanding the jurors' pledge that they will punish the women the same as if they were men.

Woman To Swim Through Canal

New York, Dec. 2.—The first attempt to swim the Panama canal was foreshadowed when Miss Elaine Golding of Bath Beach, sailed from here on the Ancon. She plans to take fifty hours for fifty miles, but says she can do it in thirty if she has to. She intends to cover the twenty-three miles of Gatun lake without leaving the water.

Mrs. Tumulty Has Appendicitis

Washington, Dec. 2.—Mrs. Joseph P. Tumulty, wife of the secretary to President Wilson, was operated upon for appendicitis at a local hospital. The operation was pronounced successful and Mrs. Tumulty is expected to be able to leave the hospital in a short time.

INCREASE REFUSED

Fall River Mills Not Earning Six Percent Now, Says Officers

Fall River, Mass., Dec. 2.—The Textile Council received from the Manufacturers' association and from President B. H. Borden of the Fall River Iron Works company letters refusing the demands of the council for a 12½ percent raise in wages to take effect Dec. 8.

The Textile Council immediately went into session to arrange for a series of meetings of the individual unions at which the reply of the mill men will be considered.

In their letter the members of the Manufacturers' association declare they would like to raise the wages of the employes of the mills, but business conditions do not permit it at this time. Their decision was unanimous, they said. The letter sets forth that the majority of the mills are not now earning 6 percent, and declares that representatives of the association will be glad to meet representatives of the council at any time to discuss the situation.

Weavers of the Laurel Lake mills, to the number of 150 walked out and fifteen loomfixers followed later.

HARRISON NEW HEAD

Elected President of Southern Railway to Succeed Late W. W. Finley

New York, Dec. 2.—Fairfax Harrison, president of the Chicago, Indianapolis and Louisville Railway company, was elected president of the Southern Railway company to succeed the late W. W. Finley.

Harrison was also elected president of the Alabama Great Southern, the Mobile and Ohio and the Virginia and Southern, of which Finley was president.

It was announced that Harrison would resign as president of the Chicago, Indianapolis and Louisville at a meeting of the directors, to be held on Dec. 12. No intimation was given as to who his successor as president of that road would be.

Fairfax Harrison is 43 years old, and is a native of New York city. He is a son of Burton Harrison of this city and a brother of Francis B. Harrison, governor general of the Philippines.

POISONING BANDIT LIKE RAT IN HOLE

Officers Determined to Get Slayer Lopez at Any Cost

Salt Lake City, Utah, Dec. 2.—To asphyxiate Rafael Lopez, the bandit of the Minnie mine, the authorities of Bingham began the generation of poisonous gases at the eleven entrances of the mine, where he has taken refuge.

Having claimed six known victims, Lopez has driven the police and deputies to a state of desperation, and they are determined to kill him at all hazards.

Following Saturday evening's shooting, when the Mexican killed Deputies Mandarich and Hulsey and was reported to have slain an Austrian named Melich, Lopez kept the posse of men at bay. He made no further attempt to attack them Sunday, while they built bulkheads in the mine to pen him in.

Sunday deputies braved the slayer's bullets to recover the bodies of the dead. They brought out corpses of Mandarich and Hulsey, but found no trace of Melich. Many now believe Melich was not slain as believed, but escaped.

Lopez has had nothing to eat for more than four days. He attempted to escape through the Parnell tunnel, according to reports, but was forced to retire when he saw armed deputies on guard.

JAPAN'S NEW WARSHIP

Will Carry Eight Fourteen-Inch Guns at Twenty-Eight Knot Speed

Nagasaki, Japan, Dec. 2.—The launching of the new Japanese battleship-cruiser Kirishima was made the occasion of a brilliant ceremony in which many prominent officers of the navy took part.

The big vessel, which was laid down on March 17, 1912, is a sister ship of the Kongo, which was built at Barrow-in-Furness, England, and is one of a division of four vessels of the same class.

The Kirishima displaces 27,500 tons and is fitted with turbine engines, estimated to develop 70,000 indicated horsepower. The contract speed is twenty-eight knots. She has a coal capacity of 4000 tons and tanks to contain 1000 tons of oil. Her armament consists of eight 14-inch guns and sixteen 6-inch guns, and she is fitted with eight torpedo tubes.

Wool Now on Free List

Washington, Dec. 2.—Raw wool went on the free list under the provisions of the new tariff act. Figures on wool that has been held in bonded warehouses waiting admission free of duty are not available here, but it is estimated that probably $1,000,000 worth was in bond in New York alone.

Spanish Ambassador Arrives

Washington, Dec. 2.—Senor Don Juan Rianoy Gayangos was received by President Wilson in his new capacity of first ambassador from Spain. Gayangos has represented his country in Washington as minister since May 24, 1910. His wife, who was Miss Alice Ward, is an American woman.

WANT RUSSELL'S BRAIN EXAMINED

Trouble Forecasted When Rival Dans Happen to Meet

REMARKS NOT COMPLIMENTARY

Judge of Superior Court Denies Request of "Dakota Dan" For Order of Notice Against F. B. Almy, Who Refuses Him Admittance to House to See Body Claimed as Brother

Boston, Dec. 2.—Attorney William R. Scharton for "Dakota Dan," following the autopsy on the body of William C. Russell at Melrose, called upon District Attorney Higgins for permission to have an expert examine the brain of William C. Russell. Mr. Scharton said that he had been credibly informed that the autopsy revealed a startling condition of the brain.

A clash between "Fresno Dan," the recognized claimant, who arrived in Melrose from the west to take charge of the funeral arrangements, and "Dakota Dan," who has twice been discredited by the courts, seems imminent.

The Dakotan said that he was being driven almost to insanity. "Fresno Dan" said that he was not afraid of "Dakota Dan" and would know how to handle him if he started any trouble.

The rival claimants indulged in statements entirely uncomplimentary to each other.

Judge Jenney in the equity session of the Middlesex county superior court denied the request of "Dakota Dan" for an order of notice which would have acted as a temporary injunction against Ferdinand B. Almy, who refuses to allow the Dakotan to enter the Russell house to see the body of Mr. Russell. In his bill of complaint "Dakota Dan" claimed he was the Daniel Blake Russell, nearest relative to William C. Russell.

District Attorney John J. Higgins and Medical Examiner Roscoe D. Perley arrived at the Russell house to perform the autopsy. Dr. H. L. Houghton was present to represent the Russell family. The examination was a thorough one and Dr. Perley found that Russell had an enlarged heart, a tuberculous scar on his left lung, diseased kidneys and an enlarged liver. One of the physicians said that he wondered why Mr. Russell had not died ten years ago.

The organs were removed by Medical Examiner Perley and were sent to Professor W. M. Whitney of Harvard, who will examine them to determine whether poison caused death. The body was embalmed Saturday. Dakota Dan said: "I am told that they say there was arsenic in the embalming fluid that was used. I do not believe it. Friends of mine who know tell me that the particular embalming fluid that was used does not contain arsenic. If arsenic is found in my brother's body, then I will demand a complete investigation."

"Fresno Dan" was present at the autopsy. He arrived from Chicago early yesterday morning. The recognized son of the late Daniel Blake Russell was met at the Huntington avenue station and rushed to Melrose in an automobile.

VICTORY FOR NEW YORK

Supreme Court Holds City Had Right to Tax Amoskeag Bank Stock

Washington, Dec. 2.—Several important decisions were handed down by the United States supreme court.

The Amoskeag bank case, to test the right of New York city officials to tax stock of national banks without deducting the indebtedness of the owners of the stock, was decided in favor of the city officials.

New York city officials sought to tax the Amoskeag Savings bank of Manchester, N. H., in 1908, on stock it owned in the American Exchange National bank and the Chemical National bank, both New York institutions, without making a deduction of the indebtedness of the New Hampshire bank.

QUICK LUNCH ON FLYER

Pennsylvania Railroad Making Experiments With New Car

New York, Dec. 2.—To the noon train leaving Philadelphia for New York on the Pennsylvania railroad was attached the first quick lunch car to be used in this country. If it proves popular others will be built.

The car is of steel and is eighty feet long. In the centre is a mahogany counter half the car's length, and capable of seating twenty-one persons at a time. Facing the counter on one side are revolving chairs screwed to the floor. Back of the counter are cupboards for supplies. The kitchen is at one end.

Bigamist Sent to Prison

Pontiac, Mich., Dec. 2.—David R. Devine, telegraph operator, pleaded guilty to the charge of bigamy here. He was sentenced to Jackson prison for from two and half to five years. The authorities stated that their investigation indicated Devine was married to seven women.

More Argentine Beef Arrives

New York, Dec. 2.—The steamer Minal, which arrived from Buenos Ayres and other South American ports, has 1000 tons of Argentine beef in her refrigerators.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE.

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Edward MacMulkin to Mary MacFarland, dated April 28, 1911, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, book 1175, page 457, for default in the performance of the condition of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction, upon the mortgaged premises, on Tuesday, the twenty-third day of December A. D. 1913, at four o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises described in said mortgage, viz:—

A certain parcel of land situated in that part of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, called Atlantic, being lot No. 18 on a plan of Norfolk Downs made by Charles D. Eliott, dated April 1892, recorded with Norfolk Book of Plans 14, plan 640, and bounded and described as follows:—Northeasterly by Hancock street fifty-eight (58) feet; southeasterly by lot No. 18 on said plan one hundred thirty-one and 5-10 (131.5) feet; southwesterly by lot No. 27 on said plan fifty-four and 16-100 (54.16) feet; northwesterly by an unnamed court as shown on said plan and lot No. 20 on said plan nineteen and 2-10 (19.2) feet and one hundred fourteen and 7-100 (114.07) feet respectively. Also one other parcel of land, being a portion of lots 27 and 28 as shown on said plan, and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at the Southwesterly corner of lot No. 19 as shown on said plan and thence running about easterly one hundred thirty-one and 64-100 (131.64) feet, thence turning and running about southerly forty and 5-100 (40.05) feet, thence turning and running about westerly one hundred twenty-three and 20-100 (123.20) feet to the unnamed court, thence turning and running about northerly forty-nine and 25-100 (49.25) feet, together with all the buildings in the two above named parcels. The first parcel above named containing 7640.08 square feet, and the second parcel above named containing about 5662 square feet. Being the same conveyed to said Edward MacMulkin by Silas H. Sanford by deed dated September 17, 1901 and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, book 909, page 339.

Terms, five hundred dollars ($500) cash at time and place of sale, when other terms will be announced.

MARY MacFARLAND.

William Flaherty, Atty., 515 Barristers Hall, Boston, Mass.

Nov. 25-3t 25, 2, 9

ARTHUR L. THOMAS
Attorney-at-Law
3-4-5-6 Greenleaf Block
Telephone Quincy 460 Jan.2-1y

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

In effect Nov. 16, 1913

The letters in the same line as the figures below stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows.

a Wollaston	f Harrison Square
b Norfolk Downs	g Savin Hill
c Atlantic	h Cre[illegible] Avenue
d Neponset	i South Boston
e Pope's Hill	r Quincy Adams
* Saturdays Only	† Except Saturday

Exp.—Express train.

TO BOSTON			FROM BOSTON
Leave	Stop	Arrive	Leave	Stop	Arrive
r 5 14	abcdefghi	5 41	5 44	ihgfedcba	6 14 r
r 6 0	abci	6 40	6 09	ihgfedcba	6 39 r
r 6 32	e	6 49	6 29	a	6 47
			6 47	Exp	7 04
r 6 40	abcf	7 00	7 14	hgfedcba	7 41 r
r 7 08	abcd	7 30	7 34	a	7 52
7 28	a	7 46	7 37	a	7 56
r 7 32	Exp	7 49	7 44	c	8 03 r
r 7 42	ab	8 00	8 34	cba	8 55 r
7 55	a	8 12	8 44	b	9 02
r 8 13	abc	8 32	9 09	fedba	9 32 r
8 24	a	8 41	9 44	a	10 01 r
r 8 33	a	8 50	10 14	ihgfedcba	10 41 r
r 8 59	ad	9 16	10 54	Exp	11 10
r 9 18	abc	9 39	11 14	hgfedcba	11 41 r
r 10 04	a	10 21	11 49	a	12 07
r 10 19	abcdefghi	10 45	12 14	hgfedcba	12 41 r
11 12	a	11 28	12 20	a	12 38
11 24	abcdefgh	11 50	12 50	Exp	1 06
12 04	a	12 20	1 16	fedcba	1 40 r
			* 1 32	a	1 50
r 12 27	abcdefghi	12 53	1 44	a	2 01
r 1 16	a	1 34	2 14	fedcba	2 37 r
2 04	a	2 20	2 31	Exp	2 50
r 2 19	abcdefgh	2 45	3 14	hgfedcba	3 40 r
r 3 13	Exp	3 28	3 44	a	4 02
4 04	a	4 20	4 12	fedcba	4 35 r
r 4 26	abcdefgh	4 53	4 15	a	4 32
5 12	a	5 19	4 40	c	4 58
r 5 30	abcdefg	5 55	4 55	a	5 11
6 04	a	6 21	5 13	a	5 32
6 12	ab	6 32	5 19	hgfeca	5 43
6 57	a	7 15	5 28	ba	5 46 r
r 7 22	Exp	7 39	5 40		5 57
7 29	ab	7 48	5 58	a	6 17 r
r 8 09	abcdef	8 32	6 01	fedcb	6 24
9 00	a	9 18	6 16	a	6 35
r 9 10	abc	9 29	6 30	ecba	6 52 r
* 9 17	Exp.	9 32	6 39	fedcba	7 24 r
r 10 07	abcdef	10 30	7 11	a	7 28
* 10 19	a	10 37	8 04	fedcba	8 28 r
11 13	a	11 30	* 8 19	Exp	8 35
r 11 30	abcd	11 50	9 19	a	9 37
			9 34	b	9 53 r
			10 07	ba	10 24
			10 34	fedcba	11 00 r
			* 11 06	a	11 25 r
			† 11 09	fedcba	11 35 r
			* 11 25	ba	11 43 r
			† 11 29	ba	11 49
			12 05	cba	12 26 r

SUNDAYS

r 7 43	abc	8 03	6 29	ba	6 48 r
8 30	Exp	8 45	8 34	cba	8 55
r 8 46	abcdefghi	9 13	10 39	cba	10 59 r
r 9 13	abc	9 33	12 14	ihgfedcba	12 42
9 31	a	9 47	12 44	Exp	1 01
10 26	ac	10 42	1 29	ihgfedcba	1 57 r
11 18	Exp	11 25	2 14	hgfedcba	2 42 r
r 11 16	abcdefghi	11 43	2 44	a	3 02
1 04	a	1 23	3 14	ihgfedcba	3 42 r
r 1 16	abcdefgh	1 43	4 26	cba	4 48 r
r 3 10	abc	3 30	5 14	ihgfedcba	5 42 r
r 4 16	abcdefghi	4 43	6 09	Exp	6 25
4 59	ab	5 16	6 14	ihgfedcba	6 42 r
5 16		5 33	7 02	cba	7 22 r
8 16	abcdefghi	8 43	8 14	ihgfedcba	8 41 r
7 21	Exp	7 36	8 39	a	8 56 r
7 29	abcdefghi	7 55	8 49	Exp	9 05
r 8 16	abcdefghi	8 43	9 29	ihgfedcba	9 57 r
9 46	a	10 04	10 44	cba	11 06 r
10 46	abc	11 05

CHOICE ARTICLES FROM THE PHILIPPINES

LUCBON HATS—Very best grade of the famous Panamas and Baukoks made. Absolutely none better, woven under water by hand. Can be crushed into a ball and not lose shape. Made for both Ladies and Gentlemen. $5 and $10.

ROMBLON MATS—Handsomest and most durable Grass Mats or Rugs made in the world. Beautiful colors and designs, large enough to cover one-half floor of rooms. $5.

MANILA CIGARS—$3 for a trial box of the Very Best Cigars made in the Philippines.

Oriente Cigarrettes—Best made, large package containing 25 small packages, 750 Cigarrettes, $2.

Sent by registered mail, free of duties, on receipt of price.

C. A. SHORT & CO.,
Lucena, Tay, P. I.
Oct. 4 1.&O 3m

Penniman's TAXI SERVICE
Taxies and Touring Cars with careful and safe drivers to let for all occasions.
C. H. PENNIMAN, Prop.
Telephone 207.
June 13-tf

Bay State Street Railway Company

TIME TABLE

In effect April 8, 1913.

(Subject to change without notice.

Leave QUINCY for.

Braintree, 6.15, 6.50 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Braintree, 6.25 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.25 P. M Sundays, 7.55 A. M. and then same as week days.

Brockton, 6.15, 6.50 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Brockton 6.20, 7 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 9.30 P. M. Sundays, 8 A. M. then same as week days.

West Quincy, and East Milton, 6.30 5.50, 6.10 A. M., and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M.) Sundays, 8.50 A. M. then same as week days. Return leave East Milton, 5.55, 6.15, 6.45 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.45 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.10 midnight.) Sundays, 7.25 A. M., then same as week days.

East Weymouth, 6.00, 6.15, 6.35, 7.05, 7.35 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.05 P. M. then 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.35 A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave East Weymouth, 5.50, 6.15, 6.45, 7.00, 7.10, 7.45, A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.45 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M. then same as week days.

Houghs Neck, 5.55, 5.35, 6.10, 6.40, 7.10, 7.40, A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. then 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 6.50, 7.40 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. Return leave Houghs Neck, 5.40, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 7.30, 8.00, 8.30, 9.05 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.35 P. M. then 12.10 midnight Sundays, 7.20, 8.05, 8.35, 9.05 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.35 P. M.

Neponset via Hancock Street,—5.45 6.20, 6.50 A. M. and every 30 min. to 10.50 P. M. then 12.50 midnight, Sundays, 6.50 A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 6.40 7.10, 7.40 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. then 12.35 midnight. Sundays, 7.40 A. M. then same as week days.

Neponset via Wollaston—6.05, 6.35, 7.03 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.03 P. M. then 11.20, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.03 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 6.25, 6.55, 7.25, A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.25 P. M. then 11.42 P. M. and 12.12 midnight. Sundays, 7.25 A. M. then same as week days.

Neponset, via Norfolk Downs, 6.25, 6.55, 7.25, 8, 8.30 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11 P. M.) Sundays, 7.30 A. M. then the same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 7, 7.30 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.30 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.30 P. M.) Sundays, 8 A. M. then same as week days.

Weymouth Landing, 5.20, 6.05, 6.20 6.55, 7.25 7.55 A. M. then every 15 minutes, until and including 10.55 P. M. Sundays, 7.25, A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave Weymouth Landing, 5.45, 6.15, 6.40, 7.15 7.45 A. M. then every 30 minutes until and including 11.15 P. M. Sundays 7.45 A. M. then same as week days.

Leave NEPONSET for

Squantum, 6.25, 6.55, 7.25, 7.55, 8.25, 9.35, A. M. every 60 minutes to 4.35 P. M. then 4.55, 5.25, 5.55, 6.25, 7.35, 8.35, 9.35, 10.35 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.30, P. M. Sundays, 7.35, A. M. every 60 minutes to 10.35 P. M. Return, leave Squantum, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00,7.30, 8.00, 8.30, 9.00 A. M. every 60 minutes to 5.00 P. M. then 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.15, 8.00 A. M. every 60 minutes to 11.00 P. M.

THOMAS GAMMON,
Superintendent.

WITHIN THE LAW

Copyright, 1913, by the H. K. Fly company.

PROLOGUE.

This is a story of a brave girl who suffered a great wrong. She went to prison for three years for a crime that she did not commit, and when she left prison her record stood between her and a living earned honestly. She gained more than a living, and she got it legally. She met bad men and good men, and she pitted her wits against those of men trained in the intricacies of the law and in the plans of criminals.

Mary Turner is good or bad according to the way you look at her. The police and the representatives of law and order that had condemned her to a felon's cell called her bad. One young man believed her to be good, and he stood by her through storm and stress, through circumstances that tried his soul.

This story gives an accurate if fleeting view of the methods of work of the police and the criminals, and it shows the finish of a brave crook who followed undeviatingly the course he had mapped out.

CHAPTER I.

The Panel of Light.

THE lids of the girl's eyes lifted slowly, and she stared at the panel of light in the wall. Just at the outset the act of seeing made not the least impression on her numbed brain. For a long time she continued to regard the dim illumination in the wall with the same passive fixity of gaze. Apathy still lay upon her crushed spirit. In a vague way she realized her own inertness and rested in it gratefully, subtly fearful lest she again arouse to the full horror of her plight. In a curious subconscious fashion she was striving to hold on to this deadness of sensation, thus to win a little respite from the torture that had exhausted her soul.

Of a sudden her eyes noted the black lines that lay across the panel of light, and in that instant her spirit was quickened once again. The clouds lifted from her brain. Vision was clear now. Understanding seized the full import of this hideous thing on which she looked. For the panel of light was a window set high within a wall of stone. The rigid lines of black that crossed it were bars—prison bars. It was still true, then. She was in a cell of the Tombs.

Crouching miserably on the narrow bed, she maintained her fixed watching of the window—that window which was a symbol of her utter despair. Again agony wrenched within her.

The girl was appalled by the mercilessness of a destiny that had so outraged right. She was wholly innocent of having done any wrong. She had struggled through years of privation to keep herself clean and wholesome, worthy of those gentlefolk from whom she drew her blood. And earnest effort had ended at last under an overwhelming accusation, false, yet none the less fatal to her. This accusation after soul wearying delays had culminated today in conviction. The sentence of the court had been imposed upon her—that for three years she should be imprisoned.

There had been nothing in the life of Mary Turner before the catastrophe came to distinguish it from many another. Its most significant details were of a sordid kind, familiar to poverty. Her father had been an unsuccessful man as success is esteemed by this generation of Mammon worshipers. He was a gentleman, but the trivial fact is of small avail today. He was of good birth, and he was the possessor of an inherited competence. He had as well intelligence, but it was not of a financial sort.

So, little by little, his fortune became shrunken toward nothingness by reason of injudicious investments. He married a charming woman, who, after a brief period of wedded happiness, gave her life to the birth of the single child of the union, Mary. As the years passed the daughter grew toward maturity in an experience of ever increasing penury. The girl was in the high school when her father finally gave over his rather feeble effort of living. At his death the father left her a character well instructed in the excellent principles that had been his own. Of worldly goods, not the value of a pin.

Yet, measured according to the stern standards of adversity, Mary was fortunate. Almost at once she procured a humble employment in the Emporium, the great department store owned by Edward Gilder. To be sure, the wage was infinitesmal, while the toil was body breaking, soul breaking.

Mary nevertheless avoided the worst perils of her lot. She did not flinch under privation, but went her way through it, if not serenely, at least without ever a thought of yielding to those temptations that beset a girl who is at once poor and charming.

It Was True, She Was In a Cell in the Tombs.

Among her fellows were some like herself, others unlike. Of her own sort in this single particular were the two girls with whom she shared a cheap room. Their common decency in attitude toward the other sex was the unique bond of union. In their association she found no real companionship. Nevertheless they were wholesome enough. Otherwise they were illiterate, altogether uncongenial.

In such wise, through five dreary years, Mary Turner lived. Nine hours daily she stood behind a counter. She spent her other waking hours in obligatory menial labors, cooking her own scant meals over the gas, washing and ironing, for the sake of that neat appearance which was required of her by those in authority at the Emporium, yet more especially necessary for her own self respect.

With a mind keen and earnest she contrived some solace from reading and studying since the free library gave her this opportunity. By candid comparison of herself with others about her she realized the fact that she possessed an intelligence beyond the average. The training by her father, too, had been of a superior kind. There was as well, at the back vaguely, the feeling of particular self respect that belongs inevitably to the possessor of good blood. Finally she demurely enjoyed a modest appreciation of her own physical advantages. In short, she had beauty, brains and breeding, three things of chief importance to any woman.

There had been thefts in the store. They had been traced eventually to a certain department, that in which Mary worked. The detective was alert. Some valuable silks were missed. Search followed immediately. The goods were found in Mary's locker. That was enough. She was charged with the theft. She protested innocence, only to be laughed at in derision by her accusers. Every thief declares innocence. Mr. Gilder himself was emphatic against her. The thieving had been long continued. An example must be made. The girl was arrested.

The crowded condition of the court calendar kept her for three months in the Tombs awaiting trial. She was quite friendless. To the world she was only a thief in duress. At the last the trial was very short. Her lawyer was merely an unfledged practitioner assigned to her defense as a formality of the court. At the end twelve good men and true rendered a verdict of guilty against the shuddering girl in the prisoner's dock.

That which was the supreme tragedy to the broken girl in the cell merely afforded rather agreeable entertainment to her former fellows of the department store. Mary Turner throughout her term of service there had been without real intimates, so that now none was ready to mourn over her fate. Even the two roommates had felt some slight offense, since they sensed the superiority of her, though vaguely. Now, they found a smug satisfaction in the fact of her disaster as emphasizing very pleasurably their own continuance in respectability.

On the day of Mary Turner's trial there was a subtle gayety of gossipings to and fro through the store. The girl's plight was like a shuttlecock driven hither and yon by the battledores of many tongues. It was the first time in many years that one of the employees had been thus accused of theft. Shoplifters were so common as to be a stale topic. There was a refreshing novelty in this case, where one of themselves was the culprit. Her fellow workers chatted desultorily of her as they had opportunity, and complacently thanked their gods that they were not as she—with reason.

Smithson, a member of the executive staff, did not hesitate to speak his mind, though none too forcibly. Yet his comment, meager as it was, stood wholly in Mary's favor. And he spoke with a certain authority, since he had given official attention to the girl.

Smithson stopped Sarah Edwards, Mr. Gilder's private secretary, as she was passing through one of the departments that morning to ask her if the owner had yet reached his office.

"Been and gone," was the secretary's answer. "He went downtown to the court of general sessions. The judge sent for him about the Mary Turner case."

"Oh, yes, I remember now," Smithson exclaimed. "I hope the poor girl gets off. She was a nice girl—quite the lady, you know, Miss Edwards. Will you please let me know when Mr.

"Hello, dad!"

Gilder arrives? There are one or two little matters I wish to discuss with him."

"All right," Sarah agreed briskly, and she hurried on toward the private office.

The secretary was barely seated at her desk when the violent opening of the door startled her, and as she looked up a cheery voice cried out:

"Hello, dad!"

At the same moment a young man entered with an air of care free assurance, his face radiant. But as his glance went to the empty armchair at the desk he halted abruptly, and his expression changed to one of disappointment.

"Not here!" he grumbled. Then once again the smile was on his lips as his eyes fell on the secretary, who had now risen to her feet in a flutter of excitement.

"Why, Mr. Dick!" Sarah gasped.

"Hello, Sadie!" came the genial salutation. The young man advanced and shook hands with her warmly. "I'm home again. Where's dad?"

Even as he asked the question the quick sobering of his face bore witness to his disappointment over not finding his father in the office. And in the patent chagrin under which the son now labored was to be found a certain indication of character not to be disregarded. Unlike many a child, he really loved his father. The death of the mother years before had left him without other opportunity for affection in the home, since he had neither brother nor sister.

In that simple and sincere regard which he bore for his father, the boy revealed a heart ready for love, willing to give of itself its best for the one beloved. Beyond that as yet there was little to be said of him with exactness. He was a spoiled child of fortune, if you wish to have it so. Certainly, he was only a drone in the world's hive. Thus far he had enjoyed the good things of life without ever doing aught to deserve them by contributing in return, save by his smiles and his genial air of happiness.

In the twenty-three years of his life every gift that money could lavish had been his. If the sum total of benefit was small, at least there remained the consoling fact that the harm was even less. Luxury had not sapped the strength of him. He had not grown vicious, as have so many of his fellows among the sons of the rich.

Sarah explained that Mr. Gilder had been called to the court of general sessions by the judge.

"But what is dad doing in court?"

Sarah explained the matter with her usual conciseness:

"One of the girls was arrested for stealing."

"And dad went to court to get her out of the scrape. That's just like the old man."

"She was tried today and convicted. The judge sent for Mr. Gilder to come down this morning and have a talk with him about the sentence."

There was no lessening of the expression of certainty on the young man's face. He loved his father, and he trusted where he loved.

"It will be all right," he declared in a tone of entire conviction. "Dad's heart is as big as a barrel. He'll get her off."

Then of a sudden Dick gave a violent start. He leaned toward the secretary's desk and spoke with a new seriousness of manner:

"Sadie, have you any money? I'm broke. My taxi has been waiting outside all this time."

"Why, yes," the secretary said cheerfully.

Dick eagerly seized the banknote offered him.

"Mighty much obliged, Sadie," he said enthusiastically. "But I must run. Otherwise this wouldn't be enough for the fare." And he darted out of the room.

CHAPTER II.

Only Three Years.

WHEN at last the owner of the store entered the office his face showed extreme irritation.

"What did they do with the Turner girl?" his secretary inquired in an elaborately casual manner.

Gilder did not look up from the heap of papers, but answered rather harshly.

"I don't know—I couldn't wait," he said. He made a petulant gesture as he went on. "I don't see why Judge Lawlor bothered me about the matter. He is the one to impose sentence, but I, I am hours behind with my work now."

Edward Gilder was a big man physically, plainly the possessor of that abundant vital energy which is a prime requisite for achievement in the ordering of modern business concerns. Force was indeed the dominant quality of the man. His tall figure was proportionately broad, and he was heavily fleshed. In fact the body was too ponderous. Perhaps, in that characteristic might be found a clew to the chief fault in his nature. For he was ponderous, spiritually and mentally, as well as materially. The fact was displayed suggestively in the face, which was too heavy with its prominent jowls and aggressive chin and rather bulbous nose. But there was nothing flabby anywhere.

It was with his accustomed blandness of manner that he presently acknowledged the greeting of George Demarest, the chief of the legal staff that looked after the firm's affairs.

"Well, Demarest?" he inquired.

"Judge Lawlor gave her three years," Demarest replied gravely. It was plain from his manner that he did not altogether approve.

"Good!" Gilder exclaimed. "Take this, Sarah." And he continued, as the girl opened her notebook and poised the pencil, "Be sure to have Smithson post a copy of it conspicuously in all the girls' dressing rooms and in the reading room and in the lunchrooms and in the assembly room." He cleared his throat ostentatiously and proceeded to the dictation of the notice:

"Mary Turner, formerly employed in this store, was today sentenced to prison for three years, having been convicted for the theft of goods valued at over $400. The management wishes again to draw attention on the part of its employees to the fact that honesty is always the best policy. Got that?"

"Yes, sir."

"Take it to Smithson," Gilder continued, "and tell him to post it at once."

Gilder brought forth a box of cigars from a drawer of the desk, opened it and thrust it toward the waiting lawyer, who, however, shook his head in refusal and continued to move about the room rather restlessly.

"Three years—three years! That ought to be a warning to the rest of the girls." Gilder looked toward Demarest for acquiescence.

"Most unusual case, in my estimation," Demarest replied. "You see, the girl keeps on declaring her innocence. That, of course, is common enough in a way. But here it's different. The point is somehow she makes her protestations more convincing than they usually do. They ring true, as it seems to me."

"The stolen goods were found in her locker," Gilder declared in a tone of finality. "Some of them, I have been given to understand, were actually in the pocket of her coat."

"Well," the attorney said, with a smile, "that sort of thing makes good enough circumstantial evidence, and without circumstantial evidence there would be few convictions for crime. Yet as a lawyer I'm free to admit that circumstantial evidence alone is never quite safe as proof of guilt. Naturally she says some one else must have put the stolen goods there. That is quite within the measure of possibility. That sort of thing has been done countless times."

"And for what reason? It's too absurd to think about."

(To be continued.)

—That more than one-fifth of the men who served in the army and navy during the Civil War, or their widows, are still on the government pension roll. On July 1 there were 462,379 Civil War pensioners and the estimated number of men in the army and navy during the war was 2,213,365.—Lynn Item.

EXECUTRIX NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed executrix of the will of Thomas S. Copeland late of Quincy in the County of Norfolk, deceased, testate, and has taken upon herself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs.

All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased, are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

RUBINA S. COPELAND,
Executrix.

(Address)
53 Phillips St., Wollaston, Mass.
November 28th, 1913.
Dec. 2-3t 2-9-16

Call Quincy 501-W

if you want your furniture, mattresses and cushions repaired in good order at low prices M. MIRKIN, upholsterer, 1060 Hancock street near the Quincy High School.
Dec. 1-1m

LOOK! LISTEN!

While they last 25 new cesspool covers $1.75 value, now $1.25 each; 50 rolls Good quality roofing at $1.25; 500 lengths galvanized conductor pipe 6c. value at 4c, ft. Black Roof Paint at 59c gallon, suitable for all kinds of roofing, also suitable for painting iron. Don't forget that we also carry a full line of Decorated Wall Board and all other NEPONSET Products. L. Grossman & Sons, Quincy Adams, Mass.

Open until 6 P. M. Closed all day Saturdays.
Nov. 25 L O-tf

WHEN YOU TAKE OUT YOUR SCREENS

If they need painting or repairing let

HOLMES & HALL

fix them up during the winter and have them ready in the spring.

NO CHARGE FOR STORAGE
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W
1179 HANCOCK ST.

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER and GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED
Orchard Place, off Spear street, Quincy

QUINCY REGISTRY
FOR NURSES

20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.

Will supply trained and practical nurses, attendants and nursery assistants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.

MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar,
Tel. Quincy 131-W.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

LOST

LOST—Will the party who picked up $10 bill in Post Office or between Post Office and Quincy depot return same to Miss M. A. Morgan 87 Merrymount road and receive reward. 29-3t

LOST—Friday night in Music hall, or between Music hall and the residence of C. T. Hardwick, a gold pin with opal in center. Reward if returned to Miss Georgianna C. Lane, 174 Goffe street. 29-3t

WANTED

WANTED—Gentleman to board and room with private family in good location. Terms reasonable. Address Box 165, Quincy Post Office, Quincy, Mass. 2-3t

WANTED—Dressmaking to do at home. F. M. Collins, 40 Quincy street, Quincy, Mass. 2-6t

WANTED—Young man to work in Shoe store, Address S. S. R. Ledger Office. 29-3t

WANTED—Experienced waitress at the Thompson Cafe, City Square. Apply to A. J. Thompson. 17-tf

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing. Myatt, 40 Baxter street. Tel. 1307-M. Quincy, Res. 22-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Typewriter. Exceptional opportunity. Brand new Oliver machine. $55. Address C. F. Ledger office. Dec. 1-3t

FOR SALE or TO LET—New houses Apply to Thompson B. Crane, 403 Washington street, Quincy. 1-tf

FOR SALE—A small horse, express wagon and Democrat, also set of harness. Apply to Winer's, Adams Bldg, Quincy. 1-6t

MISCELLANEOUS

I have a very beautiful carved leg square piano, round rich tone cost new $500. Having no use for it will sell cheap. Just the thing for a beginner. Write "Square Piano," this office. 26-6t

JAMES F. BURKE & CO.
Real Estate and Insurance
Care of Property, Mortgages
Justice of Peace, Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 285 M. Nov. 11-tf

TO LET

Large Front Office Greenleaf Block—2 entrances—right at the head of the stairs—one of the most desirable offices in Quincy.

Office, Durgin-Merrill Block—3 large windows—only 1 flight up—exceptional opportunity.

Hancock Building—City Square Offices—small front office, $11 a month

Office—Hancock Chambers, 16x18 feet one flight up, very low rent.

Store House—off Granite St., in the rear of Greenleaf Block.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best Location in City)

Offices—Large or small.

Desk Room—Street floor, right in the rear of main entrance, good light and air, $5 up a month.

Transient Rooms—Well furnished and with care, $1 a day.

Furnished Rooms—With care steam heat, and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week

HALLS

Music Hall—Music Hall Block—Capacity 962—highest possible rating by the State. "Excellent" in every particular.

New Colonial Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—Capacity 240—the best possible location for a Hall.

Hancock Hall—Hancock Building City Square—Capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kriba.)
Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 21066) Quincy

WM. H. TEASDALE
REAL ESTATE
Insurance Mortgages
NOTARY PUBLIC JUSTICE OF THE PEACE
Room 23 Adams Building
Telephones { Residence 5443 / Office 655M
otf

Read Ledger Ads

TO LET

TO LET—Newly furnished, steam heated room, modern conveniences 3 minutes from centre, 1 Adams street. 2-6t

TO LET—House on Edison Park, 6 rooms, all improvements. $25 per month. Immediate occupancy. Apartment on Cherry street 3 rooms, all improvements except gas and electricity $22. per month. E. M. Freeman, 653 Washington street, Quincy, Tel. 1615-W. 29-6t

TO LET—With private family on Upland road, a desirable room, heated, lighted, with use of bath on same floor. Write A. F. K. Ledger Office or telephone Quincy 1796-W. 29-6t

TO LET—In Braintree, house of five rooms, including two bed rooms and bath. Rent reasonable. A J. Cavanagh, 72 Cedar street, Braintree. Telephone 4-14. 29-6t

TO LET—Upper flat in two flat new house at 1 Bradford street, 5 rooms and bath. All improvements. Ready Jan. 1st. Apply to Wm. E. Duggan, 32 Bryant avenue, West. Quincy. 26-6t

TO LET—Single house, 7 rooms, with all improvements. Inquire at 50 Warwick street, Norfolk Downs, or telephone Miss Clements, Boston-Main 1380. Nov. 22-12t

RUSSELL PARK — Commodious house of seven rooms, large hall and bath. Modern, every convenience open fireplace, furnace, range, set tubs, electric lights, cemented cellar, etc. Best residential neighborhood. Ready for immediate occupancy. For further details or key see Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. tf lpo

TO LET—173 Whitwell street, half house, modern conveniences, $20 per month. Ready for immediate occupancy. Apply Penniman's Stable, Granite street. 19-tf

TO LET—Cottage 6 rooms and bath, all modern improvements, 5 minutes from Fore river gate yet secluded. Vacant Dec. 17. Call C. E. Briggs, 63 Howard Avenue, Quincy. 18-12t

TO LET—Nicest 4 room and bath lower flat in town. Every improvement $19.00. 126 Glendale road. S. E. Thomas Greenleaf Block. 17-tf

TO LET—5 room tenement at 117 Quincy street, $20 per month. Apply Berman Furniture Co. 6-tf

TO LET—Houses of 5, 6 and 10 rooms. M. T. Sullivan. Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy, Mass. 11-tf

UPPER APARTMENT. In two-family house on Spear Street. Five rooms, bath, large pantry and closets, also open attic with finished heated chamber. Every improvement, electric light, furnace, range etc. Ready for immediate occupancy. Telephone Quincy 278-M or enquire mornings of Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. lpo

SWITHIN
Real Estate
Mortgages-Insurance
Greenleaf Block
Quincy
Tel. Quincy 460. Nov. 10-tf

ANOTHER BARGAIN

Make me an offer for a ten room house on Whitwell Street.

You will own it if you will talk buy, as it is one of those chances some one will miss.

HENRY W. SAVACE
Real Estate, Boston.
E. C. HAYDEN, Local Representative
Telephone 1877-M Quincy.
Nov 17-tf

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block,
QUINCY

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1381 Hancock street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point
Tel. Quincy, Mass. 1153 M Nov 3-tf

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS?
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

KINCAIDE THEATRE

at 2.30, 5, 10, 15c., at 7.45, 10, 15, 25c

MON. TUES. WED.

AUDBREY & FLOWER
Pickings from Song and Joke Land

CALIFORNIA TRIO
Whirlwinds of Comedy

SUNETARO & CO.
Japanese Wonder Workers

METZ & METZ
Song Specialties with Scenic Effects

PATHE WEEKLY
World's News in Pictures

Our New Minister
3-Part Feature Picture
of Strong Comedy-Drama

Kincaide Theatre Orchestra

BRAINTREE REAL ESTATE SALES.

Irving W. Bean to Town of Braintree, Commercial street, Adams street.

Blue Hill Cemetery Assn. to Julius Heurlin.

Nellie G. Costello to Thomas Levangie.

John Coughlin to Josephine Pratt.

John Coughlin to Etta B. Smith.

Mary C. Eaton to Alice E. S. Eaton, Morrison street.

Henry S. Moody tr to Charles A. Cairns.

Clarence A. Rich to William A. Honneus, Shaw street, Somerville avenue.

☞PRATT'S BREAD—always crisp, clean, pure and wholesome. Try it. Grocers.

Copyright 1913 The House of Kuppenheimer

YOU cannot ask too much nor expect too much of the live store.

Our policy here is to price everything so reasonably as to insure your getting more than you expect in every transaction.

Kuppenheimer
OVERCOATS and SUITS
$18 to $27

Here are garments of such noticeable quality, such superior style as to look, feel and wear like those priced higher elsewhere.

Lower priced Suits and Overcoats $10.00, $12.00, $15.00 are sold at a saving $2.00 to $3.00 to you.

Double Legal Stamps all day Everyday this week.

REMICK'S
Music Hall Block

MUSIC, RED FIRE, AUTO PARADES AND CHEERS

Closing Night of Municipal Campaign Lively up to Midnight

Candidates Make Final Appeal to the Voters, Every Ward Visited

Politically speaking, Quincy passed throughest the warmest election eve in its history Monday and a halt was not called in the campaigning until midnight ushered in the election day. Quantities of red fire was burned by the enthusiasts to make grand displays for their candidates and the Miller long line of illuminated autos invaded every section of the city, heralding their coming with a brass band that rode in a large truck at the head of the parade.

The passengers of 20 machines distributed cards and made speeches as they trailed behind the first Rambler that carried John L. Miller, the candidate for mayor on the independent ticket. A severe cold which threatened to turn into pneumonia prevented Mr. Miller from appearing at the rallies held in his behalf, but Monday evening at every stop he made a short speech and sketched his record as a member of the school committee.

Welcomes greeted him on every corner and as frequently as he was presented some ardent supporter would shout words of praise.

Opening in South Quincy square the procession moved to City square, Atlantic, Wollaston and West Quincy depot, Dobles and Brewers corner, Quincy Point and Houghs Neck where a monster rally was held.

Charles H. Johnson and his supporters, encouraged by the fine gain in every ward in the city continued activities until after 11 o'clock. They held rallies in many halls throughout the city and for the first time in many years they outwitted the Democrats and held a night before rally in St. Mary's hall, the home of Democracy.

The speakers were transported from place to place in autos and the passengers held transparencies stating the platform of their candidate high in the air. They visited many sections of the city and left a good impression wherever they appeared.

It remained for Dr. John H. Ash, the Democratic candidate to inject real enthusiasm into the campaign however. In West Quincy the streets were lined with people who turned out to do honor to the man of their ward. They cheered him on every corner, although Dr. Ash could hardly speak above a whisper he made a short speech as often as he was called on to do so.

His autos as the others burned red fire and were decorated with banners setting forth his platform, "The City Charter," and after they covered the hills and valleys of Ward Four they swung into other sections of the city. The speechmaking continued and Dr. Ash was a weary and tired man when his supporters bid him good night, just before the midnight hour.

The processions of the three candidates escaped clashing several times. Miller's demonstration had just left for Houghs Neck when the Ash forces reached City Square and they had disappeared in the direction of Atlantic when the Johnson faction swung into sight. The night before closed without any untoward events however and none of the autos used by the candidates were even laid up for repairs. Today they are in use at all the polling places.

LADIES NIGHT OF THE EAGLES

Presented With Banner by Quincy Lodge of Moose

John Adams Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles held their Ladies' Night in Electa halls Monday evening. The attendance was large and among the guests of the evening were John Doyle of the New Haven Aerie and John Vath of the Hyde Park Aerie.

An entertainment program was furnished during the evening under the direction of the committee and the young lady friends of the members assisted in serving the supper in Protection hall.

James J. Mellen had charge of the evening. He was assisted by President John Feeley and Henry J. Langelier.

A handsome banner was presented the Aerie by Quincy Lodge, Loyal Order of Moose. Albert Halvosa made the speech and the presentation was made by Dictator James A. Daley. The gift was in appreciation of the good friendship existing between both organizations.

The committee included Philip Pitts, William McKeon, William Allen, William Childs, Henry Shaw, G. Woodman M. Boyle and Peter Dackers.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

THE ONE O'CLOCK VOTE.

The following table gives the 1 o'clock vote in all wards today in comparison with the vote at the same hour at the Municipal election in 1912 and the state election in Nov. 1913.

	Dec. 1912	Nov. 1913	Today
Ward One	804	860	950
Ward Two	633	553	590
Ward Three	765	781	826
Ward Four	626	578	684
Ward Five	865	873	802
Ward Six	561	714	721
	4254	4359	4573

BIG BUSINESS.

The biggest trade in recent years is looked for at the Rice & Hutchins shoe factory in Rockland the coming winter says the Rockland Standard For a long time past the concern has been making preparations for a big trade this winter and now it is understood from good authority that business will be rushing at the factory during the cold season. Plans have been made for the manufacture of many thousands of pairs a day at the factory and already the work has begun in cutting the stock. The various departments of the factory will be added to as fast as possible and by another month business will be humming at the factory.

The concern is making quite a specialty of foreign trade and many thousands of pairs are to be shipped to various countries.

The Jolly twelve will meet with Mrs. Edward Sandberg, Buckley street, Wednesday evening, leaving Quincy Square on 7.30 East Milton car.

SPECIAL ELECTION
EXTRA
TONIGHT
OF THE LEDGER

BARNES SLATED FOR CHAIRMAN

Contest on for Chairman Republican State Committee

The Republican state leaders are preparing once more to thrust their arms into the blaze which they are getting ready to kindle. The conflagation this time says a Boston paper will be located in the state committee rooms, early in the coming year when the state committee meet to organize. The contest will come over the state chairmanship and for this position two gentlemen are picked one of whom is ex-Senator George L. Barnes of Weymouth. The other is Frank Hall of Worcester. There is a cry for new and younger blood in the state committee.

KINCAIDE THEATRE.

Large audiences Monday afternoon and evening were more than pleased with the program presented at the People's Popular Playhouse.

The California Trio, billed as "Whirlwinds of Comedy" are all of that, and then some. The "Messenger Boy" certainly delivers his message of mirth and the act stirs up a perfect storm of applause.

Metz & Metz made a big hit with their good singing, and their nove scenic effects made the act particularly pleasing.

Sunetaro & Co., Japanese wonder workers, proved very clever entertainers and well deserved the unstinted applause they received.

Audbrey & Flower filled many minutes with merriment with their good jokes and songs. The pictures were watched with interest throughout and as usual the orchestra adds its no small share to the enjoyment of the good show.

This program will be presented at both matinee and evening performances today and tomorrow and Thursday an all new show will be offered.

ELMENDORF TO TELL OF TRAVELS IN JAVA.

To reverse one's umbrella and have it filled with Frangipani blossoms, to see the ground strewn with nutmegs, to find bread, sausage and candles hanging in plenty from trees, and to see strange fruits and flowers springing from a tree's trunk instead of its branches, are a few of the wonderful things that Dwight Elmendorf will show in his lecture on Java at Symphony hall, Boston Friday evening and Saturday afternoon. In this, the final topic of his course of travel talks, Mr. Elmendorf will conduct his hearers first to Batavia, the largest city on the island, thence to the famous botanists' museum, the tour will be continued through the picturesque Poentjak Pass to Sindanglaya, and then through the jungles and coffee estates of the Praeger Regency to Garoet. From Garoet, many charming excursions will be made to places of great interest. Chief of these, will be the wonderful climb of Mount Penandjan for a view of the sunrise over the volcanoes of Bromo and Smeroe. The lecture will close with a visit to the pride of Java, the great temple of Buddha at Boro Boedor.

Next week Mr. Elmendorf will give two extra lectures at Symphony hall, "The Nile Journey, Cairo to Khartoum" Friday evening and "The Garden of Allah" Saturday afternoon.

aoans eaoo

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS?
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

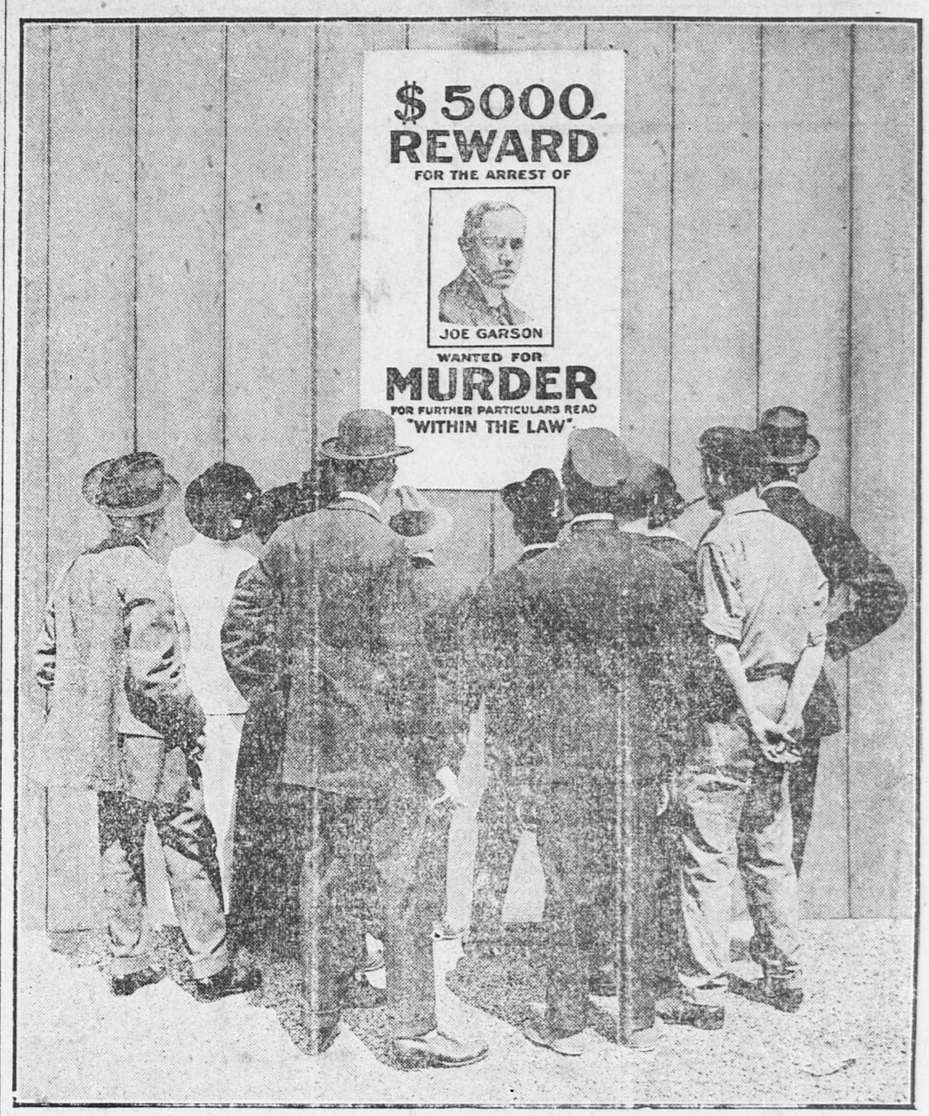
Gravel

WHO WANTS SOME GRAVEL, ALSO GOOD DIRT FOR FILLING PURPOSES? APPLY AT ONCE ON PREMISES, SPEAR STREET WHERE CELLAR IS BEING DUG. MUST BE CARTED AWAY IMMEDIATELY. 2-tf

DEATHS

RILEY—In West Quincy, Dec. 1, Ann, beloved wife of James Riley. Funeral from late residence, 54 Hall Place, Wednesday, Dec. 3, at 8.15 A. M. High mass of requiem at St. Mary's church at 9 o'clock. Relatives and friends invited to attend. Dec. 1-2t

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass.



Be sure and read the opening chapters, in today's Ledger, of our new serial story

"WITHIN THE LAW"

A stirring novelization of the most successful play produced in New York in a decade

AMERICAN MAGAZINE.

The most interesting contribution to the December American Magazine is a wonderful Christmas story entitled "Miracle Mary" by John A. Moroso, a New York newspaper man, in which moving pictures turn out to be the means of proving an innocent man's alibi—thus saving him from a long term in the penitentiary for a crime which he did not commit.

Fiction of remarkable vitality and interest is contributed by Arthur Johnson, Hugh S. Fullerton, Frank Barkley Copley, Henry Wallace Phillips and Inez Haynes Gillmore. Humorous contributions are contributed by George Fitch, Stephen Leacock and James Montgomery Flagg. The "Interesting People" department and "The Interpreter's House" are up to their usual standard of excellence.

David McArthur of 25 Miller Stile road has been called to Philadelphia by the death o fMrs. McArthur's father.

THE CORSET SHOP
8 Maple Street
All Popular makes of
Corsets and Brassieres
Hosiery and
McCall Patterns
Correct fitting of Corsets a specialty

I have been very fortunate to have, during my temporary absence, the services of an expert corsettiere, who who will give the same personal attention to fittings and alterations as has always been accorded to customers.

MISS S. E. DUNPHY
Oct. 30-tf

Old Company's Lehigh Egg Coal
for Your furnace
Is there anything better mined?

We Sell It
Try a Ton

C. PATCH & SON Inc.
1422 Hancock Street

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

LARGEST GUARANTEED CIRCULATION IN THE CITY

Vol. 28 No. 280 QUINCY MASS. WEDNESDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 3, 1913 PRICE TWO CENTS

JOHN L. MILLER ELECTED MAYOR, 607 PLURALITY

He Carries Four Wards and Seven Precincts of the City

City Council Will Be Composed of 18 Republicans and 5 Democrats

On another page the Ledger publishes the complete returns of the city giving the vote of each candidate in each precinct and the total vote of all candidates. It will be seen by these figures that Mr. Miller was elected by a plurality of 607 over Mr. Johnson the regular Republican candidate and 702 over Dr. Ash the regular Democratic candidate. The vote of Mr. Shaw was so small that he was not in the race, his total vote of the city being but 276.

The City Council will be made up of 18 Republicans and 5 Democrats, but as has often been stated, the question of whether a councilman is a Democrat or Republican has never been brought up in meetings of the City Council.

There were some hot contests over Councilmen in some of the wards the only ward in which there was no contest for ward councilmen being Ward Five where the three candidates had the Progressive as well as the Republican nomination.

In Wards One and Six a particularly hot contest was waged for Ward Councilmen. In the latter ward two of the men elected came from Squantum which maks ethe situation a peculiar one.

There was also quite a contest in Ward Four but Councilmen Corcoran and Little were successful in being re-elected.

Of the twenty-three members of the City Council 14 are members of the present City Council, three have served in councils of other years and six will enter for their first term.

The official returns were received unusually prompt this year. The unofficial returns were sent to the office of the City Clerk by telephone and at 4.45 it was determined without question that the promises of Mr. Miller to sweep the city had been fulfilled. So decisive was the vote in practically every instance that there will be no recounts.

Some apprehension was felt in regard to the vote in Ward Two where ballots of other wards had become mixed with the Ward Two ballots. When the boxes were opened however it was found that in every case the wrong ballot had been promptly detected and that none were cast.

The unofficial returns were promptly bullentined in the windows of the Ledger office.

The official returns were received with amazing promptness, the first coming from Ward Six, precinct two at 6.30 o'clock. At 7.50 all precincts had made their returns and within a few minutes Emery L. Crane, city clerk had tabulated the vote.

In just 12 minutes after the returns from thelast official package were announced in the office of City Clerk the official election etra of Daily Ledger was for sale in City Square. A regular edition was run off and speedily purchased in all sections of the city.

The total vote of the city was 5415 and by wards and precincts it was as follows:

	1913	1912
Ward 1, Pre. 1	487	455
Ward 1, Pre. 2	668	592
Ward 2, Pre. 1	256	279
Ward 2, Pre. 2	479	466
Ward 3, Pre. 1	560	507
Ward 3, Pre. 2	447	413
Ward 4, Pre. 1	427	427
Ward 4, Pre. 2	403	402
Ward 5, Pre. 1	496	487
Ward 5, Pre. 2	405	429
Ward 6, Pre. 1	445	340
Ward 6, Pre. 2	342	275
	5415	5072

JAPANESE BAZAAR

The Japanese Bazaar opened its first of three days at the Wollaston Methodist vestry on Tuesday. The decorations were most pleasing and a large number of attractive articles were on sale.

One of the features was the Japanese room in charge of the Epworth League where a large number of imported goods were on sale.

A cafe was in operation under direction of Mrs. George Taylor and an efficient committee.

☞PRATT'S BREAD is good for growing children—nourishing and satisfying. Grocers sell it.

PRESENTED WITH JEWEL

Annual Communication of Wollaston Masonic Lodge

The annual communication of Wollaston Masonic lodge was held Tuesday evening. The meeting was of unusual interest from the fact that two of its members had been elected to public positions, in the election that had just closed. That is John L. Miller who was elected to the office of Mayor by a substantial plurality and Alfred H. Richards, the secretary of the lodge who was elected as a member of the City Council from Ward Five. Mr. Miller has been most constant in attendance at communications of the lodge and it is seldom that he is absent.

The report of the trustees, secretary, finance committee and trustees, showed the lodge to be in a most prosperous condition, and that the present membership was rising 300.

Immediately after the election the officers were installed by Rt. Wor. Walter S. Pinkham, district deputy of the 26th Masonic district assisted by Wor. Charles E. Monroe as Grand Marshal, both Worshipfuls being members of Wollaston lodge.

The Rt. Worshipful had another pleasant duty to perform immediately after the installation ceremonies, and that was the presentation to Wor. Charles E. Cherrington of a Past Masters jewel in behalf of the lodge.

In installing Secretary Richards, the Rt. Wor. took occasion to remark that this was the brothers second election that day.

W. M.—Charles E. Cherrington.
S. W.—Carroll E. Bates.
J. W.—John Morgan.
Treasurer—I. W. Pinkham.
Secretary—Alfred H. Richards.
Chaplain—Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath.
S. D.—George A. Smith.
J. D.—Hugh H. Ralph.
S. S.—Arthur B. Hillman.
J. S.—Charles B. Hoxie.
Sentinel—Elbert H. R. Gardner.
Organist—Herbert Y. Follett.
Tyler—William P. Chase.

ELECTRIC CAR STRIKES AUTO.

In passing along Copeland street about four o'clock Tuesday afternoon an electric car struck an automobile and although all the windows in the car were shattered none of the passengers were cut. The collision also tore a hole in the front of the car but the auto was not damaged.

The auto was owned by the Jamaica Plain Auto Service Co. and was standing opposite the Berry Pharmacy when the car struck it. Its operator John Wharton of Boston and William Shea of West Quincy, a passenger, were uninjured. The electric car was in charge of Herbert Packard, motorman and Thomas Craig, conductor.

MOTHER GOOSE PANTOMIMES

Sale and Entertainment at Wollaston Church

Large numbers attended the sale and entertainment held by the Ladies Benevolent Society in the vestry of the Wollaston Congregational church Tuesday afternoon and evening.

In the evening a pleasing entertainment was given consisting of Mother Goose pantomines, music and recitations.

The cast of the Mother Goose production was:

Little Bo Peep	Marjorie Johnson
Little Boy Blue	Horace Carpenter
Queen of Hearts	Elizabeth Carpenter
Jack the Giant Killer	Arthur Eastman
Simple Simon	Henry Blake
Little Red Riding Hood	Olive Hillman
Dame Trott	Marjorie Payson
Little Jack Horner	John Payson
Old King Cole	George Barney
Jack	Malcolm Mitchell
Jill	Edna Brown
Tommy Tucker	Stuart Bugbee

The entertainment was accompanied on the piano by Miss Carolyn Lewis, with readings by Mrs. Charles P. Hutchins. It was given under the direction of Mrs. Walter E. Weld.

Vocal solos by Mrs. Herbert Y. Follet, instrumental numbers by Mrs. Van Buskirk, recitations by Eleanor Bates, Ruth Godfrey Mary Ellen and Eleanor Eastman were enjoyed.

The following were in charge of the various tables:

Apron and Remembrances—Mrs. Nathan G. Nickerson, Mrs. W. F. Brazee, Mrs. Herbert T. Whitman.

Candy—Mrs. Carroll E. Bates, Mrs. Amos T. Leavitt, Mrs. George H. Murray.

Delicatessen—Mrs. L. W. Nash, Mrs. Albert Sayward, Mrs. B. H. Bain, Mrs. Leroy Holbrook, Mrs. C. A. Randall, Mrs. William Patterson Mrs. Leon F. Besse.

Ice Cream—Mrs. L. W. Nash, Mrs. A. H. Waite, Mrs. William H. Whitney.

Cake—Mrs. L. W. Nash, Mrs. George Fleming, Mrs. Wyman Streeter.

Colonial Rugs—Mrs. A. W. Thompson Mrs. Isaiah W. Sneath, Mrs. B. H. Bain, Mrs. Smalley.

Christian Endeavor—Miss Agnes Eastman, Mrs. Bessie Ducey, Miss Dorothy Taylor, Miss Ruth Taylor Miss Madeline Morse Miss Flora Sass Miss Margaret Harding, Miss Elizabeth Sayward, Miss Marion Farwell.

Parcel Post—Mrs. Charles P. Hutchins, Mrs. Walter E. Weld, Mrs. Chester I. Campbell, Mrs. Van Buskirk, Mrs. Walter Brady.

Fancy—Mrs. Fred L. Eastman, Mrs. George Robbins, Mrs. Arthur Dodge, Mrs. Prior.

Plants—Mrs. W. G. Patterson Mrs. Theodore Penley.

MANDOLIN ORCHESTRA

A full house greeted the Langham Mandolin orchestra who gave a concert in the Park and Downs church, Tuesday evening under the auspices of the Women's Guild.

A program of nine numbers left nothing to be desired and included many novel and pleasing effects. Herbert Forrest Odell was the director of the orchestra.

Following is the program:

March, "The Crescendo" Odell
Langham Mandolin Orchestra
Selection, "H. M. S. Pinafore"
Sir Arthur Sullivan
Orchestra
Waltzes, "Wedding of the Winds"
Orchestra
Mandolin solo, "Andante and Polonaise
Miss Lena F. Webber
"Melodie in F"
"The Dancing Girl"
Orchestra
College "Medley," Collegisms
Orchestra
Trio, "Cavatina" Raff
Misses Lena F. Webber, Mandolin;
Elizabeth Gaskell, Cello
Mrs. L. C. Fowle, Piano
"Un Peu d'Amour"
"The Lost Chord"
Orchestra
Medley, "Echoes of '61"

ELECTION OF ALEXANDER COWE QUESTIONED

Not a Citizen of United States One Year as Charter Requires

Registrars Will Refer Matter to City Solicitor for Ruling

For the second time this year a Quincy man elected to public office will probably be disqualified from serving. The first case was that of Leo P. Noonan elected as Associate County Commissioner at the recent state election who was disqualified, for the reason that there was already a Quincy resident on the Board of County Commissioners.

The second case is that of Alexander Cowe of South Quincy who at the municipal election Tuesday was elected to the office of Councilman from Ward Three.

The grounds for disqualifiying Mr. Cowe are the City Charter. Although he has been a resident of the City of Quincy for upwards of 20 years he has not been a naturalized citizen of the United States for one year as required by the City Charter, section 42 of which reads as follows:

Sec. 42. No person shall be eligible for election or appointment to any office established by this act, unless at the time of such election or appointment he shall have been a citizen of the United States for at least one year, nor to any such office except the offices of commissioner of public works, superintendent of schools, chief of police and chief engineer of the fire department, unless at the time of such election or appointment he shall have been a resident of the city for at least one year. No person shall be eligible for election as a councilman from wards unless he shall have been a resident of the ward for which he is elected for at least three months previous to his election.

As stated above Mr. Cowe has resided in Quincy for upwards of twenty years but the present year was the first in which he exercised his franchise of voting. Mr. Cowe was born in Scotland, and in order to become a citizen of the United States he must be naturalized. This he has never done until this year.

The date of his naturalization given the Registrars on Oct. 9, when he became a registered voter of Quincy was Sept. 10, 1913.

City Clerk Crane, who is also clerk of the Registrars of Voters said this morning that the question of Mr. Cowe's eligibility to take office would be put up to the City Solicitor for a ruling.

It is not denied that any man has a right to become a candidate for office but there is a question of his right to assume that office unless the qualifications are complied with.

In the case of Mr. Noonan who was declared not eligible to hold the office of which he had been elected, the candidate receiving the next highest vote was declared elected. The same procedure will probably be carried out in the case of Mr. Cowe, if the City Solicitor rules against him.

The candidate for Ward Councilman from Ward Three to receive the next highe stvote to Mr. Cowe was Robert T. Foy who received 303 votes.

The question will be referred to the City Solicitor as soon as possible, in order that the vote may be declared at the adjourned meting of the City Council next Monday evening.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

CITY CLERK ENTERTAINS

Emery L. Crane, City Clerk as has been his custom on election nights entertained the reporters at luncheon in his office after he had completed tabulation of the votes of the city. All had so earnestly applied themselves to the work on hand that the evening repast had been forgotten and the announcement that Mrs. Crane had prepared "another basket" was joyously received.

Mr. Crane, without further delay produced the basket and when the cover was removed the contents looked particularly inviting. The mince pie, luscious and palatable, speedily disappeared and although the pies prepared for past election nights were worthy of attention those of this season certainly were appetizing. Doughnuts, cheese, coffee and g rapes completed the luncheon and but little remained after the basket was uncovered.

Dr. Galen Vinton Bowditch said the mince pie reminded him strongly of the pies in his younger days "when women knew how to cook" and it is extremely doubtful that Mr. Crane recalled all of the compliments paid Mrs. Crane and her cooking because of their number.

DOG KILLS DECOY GEESE

A flock of decoy geese at the Wollaston gun club stand on Adams Shore was attacked by a mongrel dog Tuesday and before Daniel Cameron, keeper of the stand, fired the shot which ended his life four of the geese were torn to pieces.

Cameron's attention was called to the presence of the dog by the uproar created by the flock. He ran inside, secured his gun and lost no time in sending the dog to the dogs. The geese were the property of H. H. Jones of Faneuil Hall market, Boston and are valued at $10 per pair. The dog wore no collar and its owner is unknown.

SIXTH SEASON

Quincy Choral Society

Mr. GEORGE S. DUNHAM, Conductor

MISCELLANEOUS PROGRAM
and
HIAWATHA'S WEDDING FEAST

By S. COLERIDGE-TAYLOR

HIGH SCHOOL HALL

WEDNESDAY EVENING, DEC. 10th, 1913

At 8 o'clock

SOLOIST

MR. ARTHUR HACKETT, Tenor

BROCKTON PHILHARMONIC ORCHESTRA

TICKETS

LIMITED number reserved seats 75 cents. General admission 50 cents

TICKETS for sale by members and at Hearn's Drug Store.

Dec. 1 6-1-3-6-8-9 10

Old Company's Lehigh Egg Coal

for Your furnace

Is there anything better mined?

We Sell It

Try a Ton

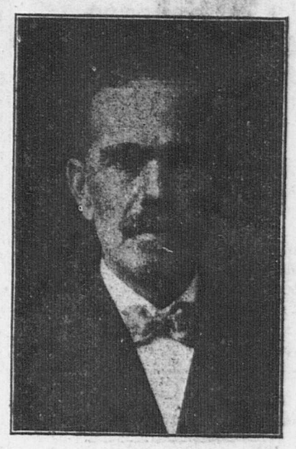
C. PATCH & SON Inc.

1422 Hancock Street

Gravel

WHO WANTS SOME GRAVEL, ALSO GOOD DIRT FOR FILLING PURPOSES? APPLY AT ONCE ON PREMISES, SPEAR STREET WHERE CELLAR IS BEING DUG. MUST BE CARTED AWAY IMMEDIATELY. 2-tf

TOTAL VOTE OF CITY



JOHN L. MILLER.
Mayor Elect.

FOR MAYOR
JOHN H. ASH	1429
CHARLES H. JOHNSON	1524
*JOHN L. MILLER	2131
WILLIAM G. SHAW	276
Blanks	53
COUNCILMEN AT LARGE.
*CHARLES W. BAILEY	2228
*JOHN B. BASS	2449
JAMES L. EDWARDS	1451
*OTTO GELOTTE	2093
*CHARLES A. HADLOCK	2297
M. J. L. KENNEDY	1308
THOMAS J. McGRATH	1586
WILLIAM J. NOTT	951
JOHN REYNOLDS	1163
JAMES H. SLADE	1608
*ERNEST E. SODERGREN	1926
CHARLES W. TOWNE	1070
Blanks	6950
SCHOOL COMMITTEE AT LARGE.
*NATHANIEL S. HUNTING	3465
Blanks	1969
LICENSE.
YES	1803
*NO	3315
Blanks	297
CALL FIREMEN
*YES	2319
NO	946
Blanks	2152
LABOR COMPENSATION.
*YES	2486
NO	1010
Blanks	1968
WARD COUNCILMEN. WARD ONE.
WALTER H. BUCHAN	478
*CHARLES A. ERICSON	583
HENRY McGEE	242
JOHN A. PHELAN	170
*WILLIAM P. THOMPSON	551
*JOSEPH L. WHITON	666
WARD TWO.
*ELIJAH P. BARROWS	313
JOHN F. BRUTON	302
FREEMAN W. GRANT	284
*THOMAS GRIFFIN	380
SAMUEL C. MELVILLE	120
PETER MORAN	223
*ROBERT J. WILLIAMS, Jr.	303
SCHOOL COM. FOR WARD TWO
*ARTHUR B. FOSTER	377
EDWARD P. HISTEN	280
WARD THREE
*ALEXANDER W. COWE	441
*ROBERT B. CRAIG	496
JAMES M. FAIRCLOTH	254
ROBERT T. FOY	303
EDMUND G. MALNATI	193
WILLIAM J. RIEPKE	43
*CHARLES A. ROSS	538
NILS O. SWANSON	213
SCHOOL COMMITTEE WARD THREE
*ALFRED O. DIACK	588
WARD FOUR.
JOHN J. CLARKE	234
*DANIEL F. CORCORAN	443
PETER T. FALLON	254
*JAMES O'DOWD	453
DANIEL F. SHEA	84
*STEPHEN B. LITTLE	377
MATTHEW P. SHEAHAN	166
WARD FIVE.
*CHARLES E. BARKER	720
*CHARLES L. GILLIATT	728
*ALFRED H. RICHARDS	735
WARD SIX.
*HERBERT G. BEEMAN	420
*CARL E. CARLSON	408
PHILIP R. GUINAN	270
*JOHN R. NELSON	382
EDWARD A. POLAND	319

*—Elected

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1869

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second-Class matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

TELEPHONES
News Quincy 425
Business Quincy 1910

NOTICE

Again we ask those sending news or other matter by mail to direct it to the company or newspaper rather than to individual members of the company or employees. If addressed to individuals and they were ill or not at the office, it might be several days in reaching its proper destination and if news matter would be too late for use.

The silkworm is a caterpillar that has broken into business.

How the world does move! The colored people are using safety razors.

If Col. Goethal's countrymen desire to bestow an honorary title upon him in recognition of his great service as a canal builder, why not call him the King of Spades?

There doesn't seem any reason why Wall street should be so blue, when money can always be made by scaring people to death.

While Harry Thaw must pay all bills for his stay in New Hampshire, considering the amount of white space secured, the rate for the advertising is not extortionate.

Some people must have been awfully thankful from the length of time it took to show up at the office after the holiday.

If wireless telegraph should be put on trains as some are hoping, it might not stop collisions, but it would secure a more speedy attendance of surgeons and undertakers.

As there has been a dearth of sensations to suport the yellow journals of late, it seems to be necessary to get up a war with Mexico.

American children will use up $20,000,000 worth of new toys soon after Christmas, which suggests the thought that the rag doll is no longer in vogue.

The President did not join the tango dancers in the White house, as he is now engaged in teaching the latest steps to Huerta. As Secretary Daniels is asking for more work in the navy yards, it is believed the employes will have to cart the old iron back to the place where it was moved from the day before.

MAYOR-ELECT MILLER.

The election Tuesday in which John L. Miller the "Tax Payers Candidate" for Mayor was elected by a plurality of 607, emphasized that in municipal affairs our citizens are independent and vote for the man they think best fitted for the position, regardless of party affiliation. It is the second time in the history of municipal elections where an independent candidate has been successful, the first occasion being when ex-Mayor Bryant, not satisfied with the municipal convention which nominated another candidate, ran as an independent and won out.

The election of Tuesday was unique in many ways, for owing to illness the successful candidate for Mayor was unable to personally attend any rallies until the eve of election, and even th en it was against the advice of his physician. However if Mr. Miller was not able to be present in person he evidently had good campaign managers, if results are anything to go by.

There has been much campaign talk that Mr. Miller if elected would tear out the inside of City hall and there would be a general upheaval in city affairs. That he will make changes, there is no doubt, but no one believes now that the election is over, that the changes will be as radical as many have been led to believe.

The smoke of the battle has disappeared and once more our citizens will settle down to their usual vocations. All should have the welfare of the city at heart and it is now up to the citizens to give Mayor-elect Miller their moral support, that the city of Quincy may become as is said of the city of Boston, a bigger, better and busier Quincy. The Daily Ledger joins in extending its congratulations to Mr. Miller and bespeaks for him a successful administration.

TUBERCULOSIS DAY.

Tuberculosis day is to be observed again this year Dec. 7, and a general notice of it is asked. While fine work is being done to stamp out this needless disease, its ravages do not attract the attention they should, because they occur separately and individually. A Titanic disaster gets the big headlines, while the efforts to stop an infinitely more destructive disease attract comparatively little notice.

When will some people learn the menace to health caused by the habit of spitting on sidewalks and other public places? Ten years ago it is recalled that in one of the most intelligent cities of the country, an anti-spitting ordinance was hooted out of the city council, as an infringement on every day privileges. There has been a gain since then, but the habit continues. A man may have no communicable disease himself, but every time he expectorates on the walk, he encourages some victim of tuberculosis to do his deadly work. It is in this way that the majority of cases are distributed.

THE CHRISTMAS SHOPPING SEASON.

The campaign to induce people to buy Christmas presents early is pushed with renewed vigor. There is an additional reason, in the inextricable confusion in the parcel post system unless the public changes its habits.

While the express companies may expect to find the holiday rush somewhat easier this year, the post office is up against a very bad proposition. Even under previous conditions the post office clerks have been the goat of Christmas. They have taken the worst end of the strain, and have worked to the limit of nervous prostration.

With the certainty that the business they must now handle will be at least double that of former years, the lot of the post office clerk will not be a happy one.

Human nature and human strength can only do about so much. If the public has any desire whatever to see holiday presents delivered before Jan. 1, 1914, it should get busy and mail all gifts at least 10 days before Christmas.

STATE WORK FOR BLIND.

Th annual report of the Massachusetts Commission for the Blind shows a widening of the market for the products of blind labor. It has been necessary to devise special methods of bringing the products of blind labor to the attention of the public. Through the cooperation of some of the larger merchants, salesrooms have been established. Under the auspices of arts and crafts societies and women's clubs the market has been widened especially for home work and art fabrics.

Besides the knitted and crocheted work, the basket and cabinet work, 4000 to 5000 articles of the machine and hand-sewed work alone come from blind workers in their homes, the work being sold through the salesrooms. There are a dozen kinds of aprons, seven kinds of bags, seven kinds of cleaning cloths, half sleeves, board covers, holders and towels.

Besides providing the salesrooms the State Commission provides materials at cost price. If the worker has no one in her home to help, the cutting is done by clerks at the salesrooms or by volunteers. The articles are without commission and the worker paid each month. Supervision is constantly given. It is necessary to know the capabilities of each worker to know which woman can make a certain kind of apron or any article satisfactorily. It is necessary to discover new articles that the public wants and the blind can make.

The following story illustrates what the making of one or two kinds of articles may mean in the life of a blind woman in her home:—Five years ago the commission was asked to send a sewing machine to a totally blind woman in a neighboring city who had need to support herself as far as possible and make a home for her aged mother. She had been self supporting until she lost her sight at the age of 30 and even then would not give up her activity or independence. She works away at her machine, doing exquisitely careful work in her neat home. In a year this worker earns about $100 through the salesroom which means 17 ironing board covers, 225 aprons, 450 holders, 1175 towels and cleaning cloths, each beautifully done in a busy, happy, orderly little home.

This is only one of many benefited by the work of the State Commission.

There is to be an exhibition and sale of the work of the blind next Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 9 at the Women's club house which will not only be open to the public, but every one is urged to visit the exhibit and patronize it.

SHOT DEAD BY POLICE

Negro Is Killed In Teamsters' Strike at Indianapolis

Indianapolis, Dec. 3.—Claude Lewis, a negro, aged 19, was killed and three men were wounded, one probably fatally, when six special police riding on an ice wagon shot into a crowd which tried to stop the wagon in Indiana avenue.

The specials were taken to the police station, but it was said they would be released as soon as they made a statement.

An aid in dispersing crowds in the streets downtown was the large automobiles of the fire department, which, loaded with policemen carrying riot guns, were kept moving in localities where strikers or their sympathizers congregated.

It was reported that the Central Labor union committee had requested T. J. Farrell, general organizer of the Teamsters' union, to permit teamsters whose employers had signed the union contract to return to work. Farrell, however, said he would hold out until 1000 of the 3000 strikers could return under union conditions.

NIGHT SESSIONS FORCED

Democrats of Senate Put Through Drastic Program

Washington, Dec. 3.—Without formal action, the Democrats of the senate put into operation the drastic program they have adopted for the consideration of the administration currency bill.

The Republicans, after two hours of debate, presented a vote on the motion calling for continuous sessions of the senate daily, from 10 o'clock in the morning until 11 o'clock at night, with a two-hour dinner recess, but the majority pressed the bill forward at every opportunity and kept the senate in session.

Senator Norris tried to obtain an agreement for shorter daily sessions, with an agreement to vote on the bill by Dec. 20, but this as defeated.

The action of the Republicans followed a minority conference, which decided to offer formal protest against the Democratic program.

TRAIN BANDIT KILLS PASSENGER AGENT

Robber Gets $500 In Cash and Jewels on Southern Pacific

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 3.—Horace E. Montague, traveling passenger agent for the Southern Pacific railroad, was shot and killed by a bandit in a Pullman car of the westbound Sunset Express, a few miles out of Los Angeles.

Boarding the train at Pomona, the bandit went through the rear Pullman, compelling the passengers to hand over their money and jewelry. As Montague stepped into the aisle of the car the highwayman grabbed him by the overcoat lapel, with the order: "Throw up your hands."

Montague held a traveling bag in one hand and raised the other as if to ward off a blow from the robber. The bandit then shot him through the forehead.

Montague ran the length of the car and dropped dead. A negro porter started to run and a shot whizzed by him. Before he met Montague the bandit took about $500 in cash and jewelry from the passengers and train crew.

As the train slowed down for Puente station the robber jumped off and disappeared.

CELEBRATES ANNIVERSARY

Francis Joseph Has Been a King For Sixty-Five Years

Vienna, Dec. 3.—Emperor Francis Joseph celebrated an event unique in the world's history, the sixty-fifth anniversary of his ascent to the throne of Austria.

The emperor ordered that no ceremony or festival mark the occasion. It is announced that this is not due to his health, which is declared to be excellent, notwithstanding the recent crisis, which entailed constant attention to state business.

It is said the aged monarch worked twelve hours every day during the period of danger from the Balkan war and he still keeps a close grip on the situation.

Emperor Francis Joseph is 83 years old. He ascended the throne of Austria on Dec. 2, 1848. He was crowned King of Hungary in 1867.

GIRL'S DEA H A MYSTERY

Playmates Say She Drank From Bottle She Found

Portland, Me., Dec. 3.—Doris, 7-year-old daughter of Edwin L. Eaton of South Portland, died as a result, it is believed, of drinking the contents of a bottle which she found.

The child carried the empty bottle to her home and was taken sick soon after. She never entirely recovered consciousness. Some of her playmates say she drank from the bottle, but its contents have not been ascertained.

Kills Wife and Shoots Self

St. Louis, Dec. 3.—Otta Fiala shot and killed his wife at the home of her mother in South St. Louis and then shot himself. A physician who was called refused to attend Fiala, saying he deserved to die. Fiala's wound was pronounced fatal. Fiala and his wife had been separated.

KREISLER'S RECITAL.

Th long expected violin recital of Fritz Kreisler will be given in Symphony hall Sunday afternoon, December 7th. Kreisler has already played here with the Philharmonic Orchestra and he has just played with the Symphony Orchestra. No violinist today has more warm admirers than this unassuming Austrian. Kreisler's tour in this country up to the present time has surpassed anything that he has accomplished in the past. He has filled Carnegie Hall, New York to overflowing and is to give a second recital there; he has filled Orchestra Hall, Chicago and will give a second recital there and he unquestionably will fill Symphony Hall. He has prepared for his appearance here a characteristic programme which is as follows:—

Suite in E major	J. S. Bach
Grave	Friedemann Bach (1710-1784)
Chanson Louis XIII. et Pavane	Couperin (1630-1665)
Prelude and Allegro	Pugnani (1731-1798)
Sarabande et Allegretto	Corelli (1653-1713)
La Chasse	Cartier (1765-1841)
Variations	Tartini (1692-1770)
Melody in D minor	Gluck
Romance in A major	Schumann
Rondo in G major	Mozart
Caprice Viennois	Kreisler
Three Caprices	Paganini

—Clinton S. Folger has stirred up things in Nantucket by introducing an automobile on the island in spite of the proscription of the authorities on these vehicles. He is using it to carry passengers and mail between the town and Siasconset and hints that if his machine is interfered with the parties will find that they have got into trouble by interfering with the United States mails, and he will carry the matter into the Supreme Court of the country.—Old Colony Memorial.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

Copyright 1913 The House of Kuppenheimer

YOU cannot ask too much nor expect too much of the live store.

Our policy here is to price everything so reasonably as to insure your getting more than you expect in every transaction.

Kuppenheimer
OVERCOATS and SUITS
$18 to $27

Here are garments of such noticeable quality, such superior style as to look, feel and wear like those priced higher elsewhere.

Lower priced Suits and Overcoats $10.00, $12.00, $15.00 are sold at a saving $2.00 to $3.00 to you.

Double Legal Stamps all day Everyday this week.

REMICK'S
Music Hall Block

ELECTION HELD IN 14 CITIES

Three Vote No License, Eleven Vote In Favor of It

FOUR POLITICAL UPSETS MADE

New Bedford Elects Mayor Ashley For Seventeenth Term—Republicans Win In Brockton, Democrats In Waltham and Marlboro—Independent Candidate Elected In Quincy

Boston, Dec. 3.—No changes in the license situation resulted from elections in fourteen Massachusetts cities. Eleven of the cities, Fall River, Fitchburg, Gloucester, Haverhill, Holyoke, Marlboro, New Bedford, Northampton, Pittsfield, Springfield and Taunton, favor license, as last year. The cities declaring against license are Brockton, Quincy and Waltham.

National party lines did not figure much in the results, in many of the cities no party designations appearing on the ballot.

In four cities there were political upsets. Former Mayor Harry C. Howard, Republican, defeated Mayor Charles M. Hickey, Democrat, in Brockton.

In Waltham, City Solicitor Thomas F. Kearns, Democrat, overthrew the usual Republican pluralities, being only the third Democrat to be elected mayor in the history of the city.

The independent campaign conducted in Quincy by John L. Miller was successful despite strong Republican opposition.

Thomas H. O'Halloran, Democrat, defeated Mayor J. Henry Gleason, Independent, in Marlboro.

Mayor Charles S. Ashley of New Bedford was probably the most prominent figure of the day, winning his seventeenth election.

Other mayors re-elected were Harry C. Foster in Gloucester, W. H. Felker in Northampton and Patrick J. Moore in Pittsfield.

In Fitchburg, Benjamin A. Cook won the mayoralty. Fall River, Haverhill and Springfield did not elect mayors this year.

Miller Wins In Quincy

Quincy, Mass., Dec. 3.—A four-cornered contest for mayor, which brought out the largest vote ever cast in the city, was won by John L. Miller, Independent, by a margin of 607. Miller directed his fight against "machine politics." His unsuccessful opponents were Charles H. Johnson, Republican; Dr. John H. Ash, Democrat, and W. G. Shaw, Progressive, Republicans retained control of the city government with eighteen members to five Democrats.

There was a slight increase in the vote against license, the figures being yes, 1803; no, 3315. Last year's vote was yes, 1641; no, 3086.

Ashley For Seventeenth Term

New Bedford, Mass., Dec. 3.—Mayor Ashley was elected to his seventeenth term as mayor of this city on the Citizens' party ticket by about 1300 votes over the Fusion candidate, Ex-Representative Edward R. Hathaway. The vote for mayor: Ashley, 5855; Hathaway, 4491; Bannon (Ind.) 373; Cornish (Soc.) 380.

The Citizens' party re-elected five of the six aldermen, Aldermen Lowney being defeated by John Morris of the Fusion party, a new-comer in politics. The Fusion party was more successful than anticipated in the councilmanic contest, electing seven members to the lower branch of the city government.

The vote on license was: Yes, 6935; no, 4438. Last year's vote was: Yes, 8558; no, 5649.

STUDENTS FLEE FIRE

One Severely Injured as Tufts College Dormitory Is Swept by Flames

Medford, Mass., Dec. 3.—Fifty students of Tufts college, were compelled to flee for their lives when fire was discovered in the east hall dormitory of the college.

The first cries of "fire" were taken to emnate from some joker and no attention was paid to them. So quickly did the flames spread that many students were forced to seek safety by sliding down ropes thrown from their windows.

One was severely and several other students slightly injured in the scramble to reach the ground.

The damage is estimated to be $1000.

Williams Named For Athens Post

Washington, Dec. 3.—The president has nominated: To be ambassador to Russia, Henry M. Pindell of Illinois; to be minister to Belgium, Brand Whitlock of Ohio; to be minister to Greece and Montenegro, George F. Williams of Dedham, Mass.

Ends Life With Bullet

Pawtucket, R. I., Dec. 3.—Following a rebuke by his sweetheart, a young woman named Lucas, Ovila Trazenply, aged 26, shot himself in the right temple in a lodging house at 31 School street, Valley Falls, dying instantly.

Ten Dead In Tidal Wave

Belton, Tex., Dec. 3.—Ten persons are reported to have perished in a thirty-foot wave which came without warning down Nolan creek. The creek runs through the centre of this city.

Capital $150,000 Surplus $200,000

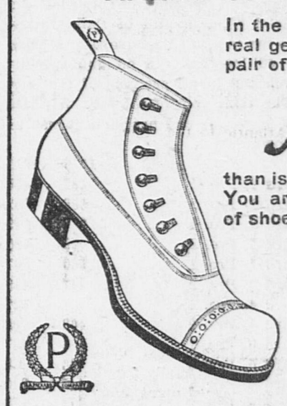
MAYBE YOU DON'T REALIZE

That we can do a lot for you besides keeping your money in a safe place. We help you with your accounting, your credits, and your collections. We give free legal advice on business subjects. We have a wonderful fund of information that you would do well to remember. Call in and find out some of the advantages of being a "Granite Trust" depositor.

Our $5 Box Is Larger Than a $10 Box In Boston.

GRANITE TRUST CO.
FOUNDED 1836

AHEAD OF ALL OTHERS



In the long run you will get more real genuine satisfaction out of a pair of Packard SHOES than is possible with any other line. You are not merely buying a pair of shoes, you are making a paying investment, not only from a monetary standpoint, but also from the standpoint that you are to be satisfied as to your feet, which is worth most of all. PACKARDS insure comfort for your feet, a style that pleases your fancy, and genuine shoe service.

REMICK'S
Music Hall Block, Quincy

BOY SCOUT AS HERO.

A Boy Scout as the hero in a motion picture drama! Sounds novel you say! "The Making of a Scout" to be given in the Quincy Music hall, Friday evening Dec. 12, is novel. It is replete too with suspense and dramatic action that grips you from the moment you behold Tom Slade, the boy hero of the slums beginning his thrilling battle against poverty and the many obstacles in his pathway to success. He wins in the end. His fighting spirit and the clearly evidenced courage back of it convince you almost from the outset that he will.

"The Making of a Scout" comprises the longest film ever made. The seven reels are nearly two miles long. The brilliant actors are boys from the same great organization that embraces the 4500 Scouts in Greater Boston—The Boy Scouts of America.

The skilfully pictured drama catches your interest from the very start. While your sympathy centres around Tom, his plucky fight, and the rich girl whom he admires, you are unconsciously being inspired by the spirit of the Scout Movement revealed in vivid sidelights. You witness the stopping of a runaway by Scouts; there is a rescue by means of wireless during which you find yourself tensely gripping the arm of your seat; the capture of a gang of burglars is exciting in the extreme; the bringing back to life of a drowned persons by use of the pulmotor—a score of similar episodes threading the entire plot keep you keenly interested to the end.

President Woodrow Wilson is an actor in this photoplay. You see him taking part with the Boy Scouts. Ex-President Roosevelt, Jacob Riis, Judge Ben Lindsey and a host of other noted men and women far and wide have praised "The Making of a Scout" as an unexcelled vehicle for spreading the doctrine of the Scout.

As you watch the motion films you feel like cheering Tom Slade and he is a hero in very truth. You laugh at the funny hits; you catch your breath in tragic seconds when danger threatens the young hero. Finally you become, to remain so always, a loyal "rooter" for the Boy Scouts. It always turns out that way. Thousands of fathers and mothers and brothers and sisters who have been thrilled by this great photoplay have confessed as much. Thousands of boys have joined the Scouts as the result of having witnessed the drama.

North, South, East, West

men and women are subject to the numerous ailments caused by defective or irregular action of the organs of digestion and elimination. Headaches, lazy feelings, depression of spirits are first consequences, and then worse sickness follows if the trouble is not removed. But thousands have discovered that are the most reliable corrective, and the best preventive of these common ailments. Better digestion, more restful sleep, greater strength, brighter spirits, clearer complexions are given to those who use occasionally this time-tested home remedy. Beecham's Pills will no doubt help you—it is to your interest to try them—for all over the world they

Beecham's Pills

(The Largest Sale of Any Medicine in the World)

Are Pronounced Best

Sold everywhere. In boxes, 10c., 25c.
The directions with every box are very valuable—especially to women.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

WHAT THEY ARE DOING AND SEASONS' PLANS

News of Women's Clubs is a feature of the Daily Ledger every Wednesday. Secretaries of organizations should send notices of club activities, to reach the Club Editor not later than Tuesday night to insure insertion the ne ' day.

Miss Mary Lyons, president of the Quincy Catholic club and Miss Josephine Collagan of Wollaston were guests of Mrs. B. Milo Burke, president of St. Patrick's Woman's assembly at a pop concert Friday night at Brockton.

* * *

An important meeting of the Woman's Guild of Christ church is to be held tomorrow at 2 P. M. when chairmen of the various tables of the recent fair will make their reports. The fair was a great success.

* * *

Quincy Woman's Christian Temperance union meets Friday afternoon in Protection hall. The Faxon Loyal legion of young people meets this afternoon at four o'clock.

* * *

This week's meeting of Friday club might well be called a Wollaston meeting for the hostess is Mrs. Frank A. Page of Grand View avenue and the committee of the afternoon Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney and Mrs. Lacey.

* * *

W. L. Hubbard of the Boston Opera house is to give one of his entertaining opera talks Friday afternoon at the meeting of the Wollaston Women's club. The opera "Tales of Hoffmann will be his subject and he will be assisted by a pianist and singer from the Boston Opera company.

* * *

Friday afternoon, Dec. 5 at 3 o'clock there is to be a reception at the Frances E. Willard Settlement, 38 Chambers street, Boston, in honor of Mrs. George O. Jenkins, State Regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution, Mrs. George W. Perkins, President of the Massachusetts Federation of Women's Clubs, and Mrs. Cora A. Bailey, Division President of the Sons of Veterans' Auxiliary, heads of the organizations interested in the "Unique Department Store" to be held for the benefit of the Settlement. All members of these societies are invited to attend this reception and the fair.

* * *

Norman Hapgood, editor of Harper's Weekly is to speak at Ford hall Boston, Saturday morning on "Some aspects of the Feminist Movement." This is the fifth lecture in the series.

* * *

The Dec. 6, study class in the lecture room of the Boston public library under the auspices of the State Federation Civil Service Reform department will discuss "What is the effect of Political Patronage upon the Police Force?" The speaker will be H. C. Cunningham, commissioner of public safety for Cambridge.

* * *

Next week Wednesday, Wollaston Alliance is to hold its annual Christmas meeting with the program in charge of its president, Miss Harriet E. Turner. There will be Christmas music, stories and poems and afternoon tea.

* * *

Abigail Phillips Quincy Chapter, D. A. R., goes to Holbrook for its December meeting, Monday afternoon, Dec. 8, meeting with Mrs. C. A. Gridley of 93 North Franklin street. Mrs. H. H. Ralph will read a paper on "Good Old Dorchester."

Mrs. I. W. Sneath of Wollaston will lead the devotional service and Miss Susan R. Brokenshire of East Milton will give an address on "Our Quest," at the meeting Friday Dec. 12 of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Y. M. C. A.

* * *

Monday afternoon, Quincy Alliance is to have a Christmas meeting in the First Parish parlor in charge of Miss Edith Randall.

At the meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Woman's Auxiliary Dec. 12, there will be an illustrated reading of "The Other Wise Man" by Henry Van Dyke and special music.

* * *

QUINCY WOMEN'S CLUB.

Th public will be welcome at the meeting of the Quincy Women's club at the clubhouse next Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. Josephine Clements manager of the Bijou theatre will speak on the Moving Picture Problem. Many of the club members were recent guests of Mrs. Clements at her theatre passing a very enjoyable afternoon. Tuesday's meeting will be in charge of the Philanthropic committee, Mrs. Wilson Marsh, chairman, and beside the regular program there will be an exhibition and sale of the work of the blind.

The Massachusetts Commission for the Blind in its last year's report gives much interesting data of the work being done for the blind in this state. They are taught various trades and to become self-supporting, much of the work being done in their own homes. Several salesrooms have been established for the sale of their work. The "Wundermop" and Cambridge rugs have became well known for good quality and workmanship from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast. The goods are sold strictly upon merit at prices governed by the market.

The patronage of club women is asked for the sale Tuesday afternoon.

The dance last Friday night at Music hall under the auspices of the Civics committee was a great success in every way.

The Christmas holiday meeting of the club on the 30th is to be held at Alpha hall. Next month will be a busy one socially for the club with a gentlemen's night and the "Twelfth Night revels."

Several members went over to Needham today to the conference of the Public Health department of the State Federation.

By invitation of the Concord Woman's club a civic conference is to be held in the Town hall at Concord Monday afternoon at 2.30. Club women are urged to attend. Train leaves North station Boston at 1.08 P. M.

The current events lecture will be given at the clubhouse next Wednesday at 3 P. M., Mrs. Pennock, lecturer.

The travel talk by Miss Edith Randall will be given Friday afternoon, Dec. 12 at the home of Mrs. J. Henry Emery, Adams street.

* * *

WOLLASTON WOMEN'S CLUB.

The wonderful education that one receives from the study of parliamentary law under the splendid teachings of Mrs. Electa Sherman is manifested by the large attendance at the class of the Wollaston Women's club. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Harold Waterhouse, 67 Prospect avenue, Friday Dec. 12.

At the last sale of the Woman's Exchange a large sum was netted showing good live work. There is still a great demand for home-cooked food, therefore will the cooks hasten their wares, and consult Mrs. Herbert Albee.

The Arts and Crafts committee is engaged in a very busy season. There are four classes in basketry, three in china, four in dressmaking, five in millinery and Mrs. Arthur Homer, chairman of the committee is to be congratulated.

Let not the members forget that on Friday, we not only have the pleasure of hearing W. L. Hubbard of Boston Opera house on "Tales of Hoffman" but also the delight of listening to the glee club singers, under the direction of George Crowley. The meeting is on Friday, Dec. 5, at 2.30 at the Park and Downs church.

* * *

THE PHILERGIANS, BRAINTREE.

Tusday afternoon members of the Philergians held their regular meeting in the Cochato club house, Braintree, the president Mrs. George O. Wales, presiding. A letter was read from the Boston association for the Relief and Control of Tuberculosis concerning the sale of Red Cross Christmas seals and it was decided to keep the 82 per cent of the proceeds of sales in Braintree and add it to the tuberculosis fund. The chairman of the board of health was instructed to investigate a worthy case with the view to helping in a practical and substantial manner. The New Century club of Needham extended an invitation to the club to attend a conference of the Public Health department in the First Parish church, Needham, Wednesday. An interesting program was given as follows: How to Get Better Medical Service for less Money was the subject discussed by Dr. Richard C. Cabot; Under Rural Hygiene, C. C. Carstens, Secretary Massachusetts S. P. C. C. was the speaker on Rural Social Conditions and What can a Woman's Club do About Them; School Hygiene and How to Place the Schools on a Hygienic Basis was ably handled by Wallace Hatch Secretary R. I. Anti-Tuberculosis Association.

The Woman's club of Concord extended an invitation to attend a Civic Conference to be held in the town hall Concord, Monday Dec. 8 at 2.30 P. M. when the following subjects will be presented: Juvenile Court and Probation Work; Junior Civic Leagues; Play Grounds with Paid Directors; The Curfew Law; The attention of the members of our civics committee was called to this special invitation.

The Stoneham Woman's club requested the pleasure of the presidents company with secretary or representative at its president's day, Tuesday, Dec. 9 at 2.30 P. M. in the Baptist church, Stoneham.

The club is interested in the Baby's Hospital and it was voted to give $25 towards establishing their work.

The chairman of the Civics and Conservation committee, Mrs. Mildred W. Bower gave an instructive and comprehensive account of the children's gardens a movement which has been a source of much interest among the children in the town. Sixty-five prizes of money have been given out. The names of the children receiving the prizes were read and there was also an extended list honorably mentioned. The vegetables and flowers raised were a credit to the children and to those in charge of the work as the exhibitions given at I. O. O. F. hall under the auspices of the Braintree Grange and the one recently given at the Cochato hall were a practical demonstration.

Mrs. Frances L. Conway chairman of the Home Economics committee gave an interesting account of the summer school conducted during June and July for the purpose of teaching practical sewing and cooking. The classes were held Tuesday and Friday mornings from 10 to 12 o'clock at the Monatiquot school. The largest number of girls attending a single session was 118. The total attendance was 664. Miss Esther Symonds of Malden was engaged to teach cooking and the chairman, Mrs. Conway was ably assisted by the following ladies:—Mrs. Effie L. Burham, Mrs. Cora E. Demerritt, Mrs. Alice J. Hill, Mrs. Ruth C. Tilden, Mrs. Eleanor Wilson and Mrs. Sarah Binney. Miss Margery Kneeland also rendered practical assistance and the club voted to send her a letter of appreciation and thanks. In these days of many useless fads it is a comfort to the thinking person to realize that so many young women were instructed along sensible and useful lines. To the chairman and committee is due the earnest and sincere appreciation of the club for their devotion to duty during the vacation period when many were resting.

Dr. John C. Bowker of Lawrence gave his travelogue on Mexico illustrated by the stereopticon. Dr. Bowker has spent much time in Mexico having been there seven times in all and staying from 4 to 6 months each time. He always found the natives to be a pleasant and hospitable people who gave one cordial welcome and continued hospitality. He told of their beautiful homes, the wonderful carving and statuary, the immense amount of wealth which the country contained, discussed the good points of the kind hearted peasantry, including descriptions of the poorer classes, the soldier, peon and beggar. From the musically worded Spanish salutation to the farewell Adios, Dr. Bowker held the close attention of his audience with his wonderful descriptions illustrated by the beautiful lantern slides, his witty stories and remarks and his marvellous knowledge of the people and country. Dr. Bowker has for fifteen years been a member of the Board of Education, New York and spends much of his time lecturing there. He gave the lecture on Mexico thirteen times last week and is well known throughout the East not only because of the above mentioned lecture but for his very broad travelling experiences and his other famous travelogue "Beneath the Balkans". During his lecture he suggested that if the nations of the world would practically ostracise Mexico, cutting off all outside supplies, the Mexicans would awake to their condition and of their own volition end the present disturbance and become a self supporting people. The Americans have immense amounts of money invested in Mexican interests thus proving the statemen made by the speaker that Mexico is a land of promise.

President Wilson's first annual message to Congress sums up the situation in a most comprehensive manner. "By a little, everyday, the usurpers power and prestige are crumbling and the collapse is not far away. We shall not, I think, be obliged to alter our policy of watchful waiting. And then, when the end comes, we shall hope to see Constitutional order restored in distressed Mexico by the concert and energy of such of her leaders as prefer the liberty of their people to their own ambitions."

(Continued on Page Four.)

Pratt's Vienna Bread

Baked expressly for those who appreciate the best. Always uniform in quality and quantity.

YOUR GROCER

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER and GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
Orchard Place, off Spear street, Quincy

Penniman's
TAXI SERVICE

Taxies and Touring Cars with careful and safe drivers to let for all occasions.

C. H. PENNIMAN, Prop.
Telephone 207.
June 13-tf

ELECTION PARADE

A parade that savored of the kind given ex-Mayor Shea the first time he was elected as Mayor, took place early Tuesday evening in honor of the election of John L. Miller. It was not long after 7 o'clock when cheers rent the air and a few minutes later, there passed through City Square on its way to South Quincy a unique procession of boys and voters, many of whom carried Miller banners. In addition to quantities of red fire, which was burned all along the line, the chassis of an old carriage had been secured upon which a huge bonfire had been built. Many of the crowd that had gathered in City Square to get the returns joined in the procession as it disappeared up Hancock street.

ALLEGED TO BE SHOPLIFTERS

Mortin Costin, Joseph Costin and Ida Pekin were sentenced to one month in the House of Correction Tuesday for shoplifting in Boston. Judge Sullivan of the City Police Court in imposing the sentence said, "Persons who leave their homes with the purpose of stealing in the department stores of Boston will receive jail sentences."

Goods valued at $30 were stolen by the trio in department stores last week. Their arrest was brought about by women store detectives who trailed them. They appealed from the sentences, the man being held in $200 and each of the women in $100 for the Superior Court. The women gave their address as 10 Hillside street West Quincy.

DORA A. FRENCH.

On Tuesday after weeks of failing health Miss Dora A. French passed out from this life. A member of an old and well k nown Quincy family and for most of her life a resident of the city, she was widely known, especially as she was for many years in public life as principal of the Greenleaf school on Greenleaf street, associated with Miss Josephine M. Wright.

Her connection with the school brought her into close touch with many Quincy families, each year the circle widening until her pupils and friends are legion. On relinquishing her duties at the school she was sorely afflicted by gradually failing eyesight but bravely went about among her friends and to church and entertainments while health permitted. She was a regular attendant of First church.

She was the daughter of Dr. Charles S. French, one of Quincy's well known dentists, having an office for years in what is now known as the Johnson building in C ity Square. He occupied the house torn down to make way for Maple street to connect with Chestnut street. Here Miss Dora French lived until the death of Dr. French when she went to live with her sister Mrs. Charles H. Porter, in the Porter home at the junction of Adams and Hancock streets.

She is survived by her sisters, Mrs. Porter, Mrs. Elbert Whitney and Mrs. Park Swift, also several nephews and nieces.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at half past two from the residence of her nephew, Henry W. Porter, 63 Edgemere road.

Striking Cutters Go Back

Manchester, N. H., Dec. 3.—The thirty shoe cutters who struck at the Crafts shoe factory in West Manchester because the workroom was too cold and conditions of employment hazardous to their health returned to work after a conference with the superintendent of the factory, who promised more heat and sanitary conditions.

Providence Lawyer Killed by Car

Providence, Dec. 3.—Nathan H. Truman, an attorney, died from injuries received when he was struck by a trolley car. He was formerly a member of the city council.

CLUB EVENTS

DECEMBER.

4—Atlantic Shakespeare So., reg.
4—Q. W. Club—Board Meet.
5—Friday Club, Mrs. F. A. Page's.
5—W. W. Club, P. & D. church, reg.
5—Q. W. C. T. U:—reg.
6—Ford Hall, Boston, Norman Hapgood, lecturer.
6—Federation Civil Service Reform Dept. lecture, Boston Public Library.
8—A. P. Q. Chapter, reg. meeting
8—Quincy Alliance, Xmas meeting.
8—Civic Con. Concord.
9—Q. W. Club, Clubhouse, reg.
9—Q. Y. W. Club—regular.
9—Bethany W. U. sale.
10—Q. W. Club, Current Events, Clubhouse.
10—Wol. Alliance, reg. meeting.
10—Bethany W. U. Entertainment.
11—Q. W. C. Arts and Crafts, lecture.
12—Wom. Aux., Y. M. C. A., reg.
12—Q. W. Club—Travel Talk, Mrs. Emery's.
12—W. W. Club, Parliamentary Law Class.
13—Ford Hall, Boston, Chas. Zueblin, lecturer.
15—Junior Friday Club, Miss Wood's.
16—W. W. Club, regular meeting.
16—K. C. M. Club, reg. meeting.
18—Atlantic Shakespeare So., reg.
18—Charitable Ten, Mrs. J. H. Emery's.
19—Friday Club, Mrs. Wadsworth's.
30—Q. W. Club, Alpha Hall, reg.
31—Wol. Alliance, New Years reception.

JOSEPH F. COSTELLO.

The death of Joseph F. Costello of Dorchester a few days ago removed from the financial world one of the youngest and best known young men. He was the son of William Costello and nephew of the late Joseph F. Costello the well known newspaper man and financier.

He was connected with the editorial staff of the Boston News Bureau and later specialized on railroads. He gave up newspaper work several months ago and opened financial offices in Boston. He had a promising future. He is survived by his wife.

ROBERT BELL.

Funeral services for Robert Bell were held at his late home, Winslow road, Squantum, Tuesday afternoon the Rev. Mr. Davison, pastor of Memorial church, Atlantic, officiating. The bier was covered with handsome floral tributes including a large piece from the Squantum Improvement association of which Mr. Bell was a member, and a floral piece from the Squantum Women's club, to which Mrs. Bell belongs. The bearers were John R. Nelson, Herman Berghaus, John Holmes and James Foster representing the Squantum Improvement association. Burial was in Forest Hills cemetery.

CARPETS
Oriental
Domestic RUGS
LINOLEUM
MATTINGS
AT LOWEST POSSIBLE PRICES
John H. Pray & Sons Co.
646 Washington Street, Opp. Boylston Street

All Goods will be Delivered Free at Residences in Quincy
REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY
Messrs. OTHO A. HAYWARD and WALTER J. WELLINGTON.

THE CORSET SHOP
8 Maple Street
All Popular makes of
Corsets and Brassieres
Hosiery and
McCall Patterns
Correct fitting of Corsets a specialty

I have been very fortunate to have, during my temporary absence, the services of an expert corsettiere, who who will give the same personal attention to fittings and alterations as has always been accorded to customers.

MISS S. E. DUNPHY
Oct. 30-tf

ELEMENTARY TEACHERS' SOCIAL.

The Quincy Elementary Teachers' Association held its first social meeting of the year Tuesday evening at Coddington school hall with the president Miss Alice S. Hatch of the Washington school in the chair. There was a good attendance of teachers and the evening was much enjoyed.

The following program was given after which there was a social hour with refreshments and dancing.

Talk on Pensions for Teachers, Mr. Coggswell of Lynn.

"How Mandy Got the Vote," Miss Lois Lynn.

Piano selection, Miss Bertha Estes.

Sketches from "Miss Minerva and William Green Hill," Miss Lynn.

Duet. The Misses Flieger.

"The Worm that Turned," Kipling, Miss Lynn.

Social hour.

CITY SQUARE PETS.

Th City Square Pets beat the Norfolk Downs rollers on the City Square alleys Tuesday evening. ThTe score:

Pets	429	435	406	1270
Norfolk Downs	418	417	423	1258

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

On a Winter Morning

There's nothing like sitting down to a heaping plate of Aunt Jemima's pancakes, sizzling hot from the griddle. Spread thick with good, fresh butter, and lots of syrup—Um!—it makes you hungry to think of it.

Mighty easy for anybody to make good pancakes with Aunt Jemima's—and make 'em quickly too. Just takes a minute—while the bacon's frying. Have Aunt Jemima's to-morrow.

At your grocer's—in the bright red package. (Save the top and get the funny Aunt Jemima Rag Dolls for the kiddies.)

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Aunt Jemima's Pancake Flour

Quincy Daily Ledger

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30.
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branschied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
Newcomb Square—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. Smith.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck.
L. A. Cook, Washington Street.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington Street.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield Water st.
A. Pierson, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—Capt. Fosdick's.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity: Unsettled but generally fair Thursday.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	6.57
Sun sets	4.12
Length of day	9.15
Moon rises	10.52
High water, A. M.	3.45
High water, P. M.	4.00
Days decrease 6 hours,	2 minutes
Full Moon, Dec. 13,	10.00 A. M.
Last Quarter, Dec. 20	11.16 A. M.
New Moon, Dec. 27	9.59 A. M.
First Quarter, Dec. 5,	9.59 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today	51 degrees
Dec. 3 1912,	50 degrees
Dec. 3, 1911,	39 degrees

Dec. Noon Maximum 14 years—67
Dec. Noon Minimum, 14 years—2

FATALITY AT SHIPYARD

Workman Falls from Superstructure of Battleship

John Charley, 35 years, a Syrian fell 35 feet while working on the superstructure of the battleship Nevada, in the Fore River shipyard, Tuesday afternoon and died from injuries several hours later at the Red Cross Hospital.

Charley landed on a pile of plate and struck so hard that his first six ribs on the right side were crushed in, puncturing the lungs. He also received a lacerated scalp wound and a corlis fracture of the wrist.

He was rushed to the hospital where he was treated by Dr. William H. Blanchard. His injuries were so serious that he was beyond medical aid and he died at 7.15. Charley was married and leaves three children.

—Miss Brenda Franklin, press agent for Mrs. Pankhurst, says she has received three offers of marriage from "great, big, fine American men" since she came to this country. Well, if Miss Brenda believes in the theories and methods of her chief, there is here offered another instance to show how some men hunt trouble in its lair.—Brockton Enterprise.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

CHOICE ARTICLES
FROM THE
PHILIPPINES

LUCBON HATS—Very best grade of the famous Panamas and Bankoks made. Absolutely none better, woven under water by hand. Can be crushed into a ball and not lose shape. Made for both Ladies and Gentlemen. $5 and $10.

ROMBLON MATS—Handsomest and most durable Grass Mats or Rugs made in the world. Beautiful colors and designs, large enough to cover one-half floor of rooms. $5.

MANILA CIGARS—$8 for a trial box of the Very Best Cigars made in the Philippines.

Oriente Cigarettes—Best made, large package containing 25 small packages, 750 Cigarettes, $2.

Sent by registered mail, free of duties, on receipt of price.

C. A. SHORT & CO.,
Lucena, Tay, P. I.

Oct. 4 L&O 3m

BOWLING MATCHES

Games in Clan McGregor and Heptasophs Leagues

The Clan McGregor league rolloff on the Coliseum alleys election evening produced several high singles. Dell got 118 J. Michael 116, Dunbar 113 and 109, O'Neil 105, Gordon 104 Morton Martin and Mavers 102.

The McLeans beat the Thompsons 4 to 0. The summary:

McLEANS.

Patterson	95	82	84	261
Marnock	72	80	79	231
Oswald	79	97	78	254
McLean	88	79	79	246
Dell	88	92	118	298
	422	430	438	1290

THOMPSON.

Davidson	75	85	79	239
Troupe	78	77	90	245
McDonald	96	84	85	265
Thompson	81	82	85	248
Birnie	77	92	83	252
	407	420	422	1249

The Michaels quintette took three points, beat the Mavers five, 3 to 1 in an exciting match. The summary:

MICHAELS

Morton	88	89	102	279
A. Michael	91	74	81	246
Craig	83	89	79	251
J. Michael	77	116	85	278
Nichol	74	92	95	261
	413	460	442	1315

MAVERS.

Martin	74	80	102	256
Diack	70	75	80	225
Mavers	76	81	102	259
Dunbar	109	113	79	301
Troupe	81	96	83	260
	410	445	446	1301

The O'Neils defeated the McKenzies 3 to 1 in the closest match of the evening. The losers took the second string. The summary:

O'NEIL

D. Dackers	94	72	82	248
Hughes	74	78	85	237
Raleigh	81	91	85	257
O'Neil	105	86	93	284
P. Dackers	89	84	83	256
	443	411	428	1282

McKENZIE

Dummy	74	72	92	238
Gordon	85	104	76	265
Smith	84	74	73	231
McKenzie	80	78	84	242
Drummond	90	88	85	263
	413	416	410	1239

HEPTASOPHS' LEAGUE

Two matches were rolled in the Heptasophs League on the Coliseum alleys Tuesday evening. The Gills and Wilsons divided the points. DeCoste had high single of 107. Gill made 288, best total. The summary:

CAPT. WILSON.

Cunniff	70	88	69	227
Hinckley	71	79	58	208
DeCoste	107	93	85	285
Byron	77	86	95	258
Wilson	80	89	80	249
	305	435	387	1227

CAPT. GILL.

Steward	88	80	83	251
Smith	61	55	62	178
Clifford	72	85	74	231
Canty	67	79	73	219
Gill	99	91	98	288
	387	390	390	1167

The Gibneys beat the Mullens 3 to 1 in a match in which Dunn rolled 104 for high single. The other scores were very ordinary. The summary:

CAPT. GIBNEY.

Irving	73	61	81	215
S. McKay	71	77	95	243
Gibney	79	88	81	248
Healey	88	90	75	253
Dunn	89	84	104	277
	400	400	436	1236

CAPT. MULLEN

Lane	81	86	92	259
C. McKay	64	79	77	220
Avery	68	80	78	246
Mullen	76	76	78	230
Robertson	68	79	72	219
	357	420	397	1174

—Now the male critic of the slit skirt, remembering the speckled hat with the velvet bow that reposes upon his head, places a finger across his lips and passes on in silence.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

AMONG THE CLUBS

(Continued from Page Three.)

WOMEN'S CLUB HOUSE

The women of Framingham are to be congratulated upon their decision to take the first formal steps—the organization of a corporation—towards the erection of their new club house.

When a legal corporation shall have been effected it will be possible to issue shares and as shares in some similar organizations have proven profitable it seems as if the Framingham venture might be equally so.

The club itself has a nucleus fund in its treasury and there will probably be no trouble in selling sufficient stock to assure the erection of a club house worthy of the town and of the club, which is one of the most progressive in Massachusetts. It would seem as if the women would find no trouble in selling their stock. With wise management it ought to be an attractive proposition and especially will such a building as is proposed contribute to the general civic improvement of the town.—Framingham News.

• • •

DONATION DAY GIFTS.

The "donation day" for the Quincy day Nursery given by the ladies of Bethany church on the afternoon of Nov. 19 from two to five in the church rooms was a great success. The donations came from all parts of Quincy and were most generous and practical. It is interesting to note the nature of the gifts as at any time gifts of like nature are most welcome at the Nursery. The Quincy Day Nursery is glad to express its appreciation of the public's generosity through the columns of the Daily Ledger for the following donations:

Mrs. Morse—Quaker Oats.
Mrs. J. P. Grace—sugar.
Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Price—apples.
Mr. J. F. Faxon—cereals.
Mrs. E. C. Hultman—potatoes.
Mrs. Geo. S. Keyes—sugar.
Mrs. C. E. Sargent—sugar.
Mrs. Harry Slade—sugar.
Mrs. Page—corn and macaroni.
Mrs. Frances Dunbar— rolled oats, apples.
Mrs. Buslyn—canned peas.
Mrs. E. Smith—Uneeda biscuits.
Mrs. J. H. Emery—game.
Mrs. T. King—cereals, crackers.
Mrs. H. E. Crane—potatoes.
Mrs. C. W. Guy—Uneeda biscuits.
Mrs. Perry Lawton—Sunshine biscuit.
Mrs. P. A. Blackmur—sugar.
Friend—canned corn, potatoes.
Mrs. J. K. Whiton—apples.
Mrs. Geo. McFarlane—tomatoes, beets, rice.
Mrs. E. E. Miller, cereal, sugar, potatoes.
Mrs. W. G. Shaw, molasses.
Mrs. Chas. Hutchins—money.
J. C. Brady, Esq.,—cereals, rice.
Friend—picalilli.
Mrs. Nickerson and Wollaston friends—canned peaches, corn, peas, blackberries.
Mrs. Chas. Barron—apples, go-cart.
Mrs. Herbert Lawton—money for coal.
Mrs. Thomas Addison—molasses.
Mrs. Shirley—potatoes.
Mrs. T. P. Pollard—oatmeal.
Mrs. Webster Newcomb—peaches.
Mrs. Daniel Higgins—sugar and money.
Clerks H. H. Smith's store—flour.
Miss E. M. Freeman—rice.
Mrs. L. M. McNeil—cornstarch.
Mrs. Thomas Lincoln, Jr.,—cherries, apple jelly.
Mr. James Mellville—potatoes.
Mrs. Henry Williams—potatoes.
Mrs. C. W. Miller—apples.
Mrs. Geo. L. Badger—sugar.
Mrs. Annie Badger—sugar..
Mrs. B. A. Willmott—prunes.
Mrs. Henry M. Faxon—potatoes, carrots, celery.
Mrs. Simeon Scammell—shreded wheat.
Mrs. J. F. Welch—Quaker oats, sugar, cocoa, macaroni, Mellen's food.
Mrs. Soley—potatoes.
Mabel Roache—money.
Mrs. G. H. Haskell—prunes, condensed milk, Karo syrup.
Elsie Olfene—money.
Helen Turner—Malted milk.
Mrs. L. K. Turner—apple jelly, cocoa.
Mrs. A. R. Buckley—money.
Miss Lenora Jenks—Money.
Mrs. Joseph Prout—Money for groceries.
Mrs. James Moorhead—money.
Mrs. Charles Sampson—rice, sugar.
Mrs. Albert Sargent—apples.
Porter Collins—sugar.
Jean Adams—cereals, Uneeda biscuit.
Mrs. Royal Eastman—canned tomatoes, corn, peas, cocoa.
Mrs. John Clements—Jelly.
Mrs. Geo. Pfaffmann, apples, carrots, celery, tomatoes.
Mrs. E. E. Jameson—canned corn, macaroni.
Mrs. Arthur Stanley—money.
A friend—money.
Mrs. Wm. Doble—coal, bracket lamp, dishes.
Mrs. E. C. Sargent—preserves, jelly.
Mrs. John Johnson—preserves, jellies.
Mrs. Theo. King—money.
Vera Burke—money.
Royden Burke—money.
Mrs. Dexter Wadsworth—sugar.
Mrs. Henry Holden—cocoa, crackers.
Mrs. Reynolds—apples, cocoa, fig, pear marmalade.
Mrs. Arthur Hare—sugar.
Mrs. R. H. Alllen—money.
Mrs. F. W. Crane—salmon, succotash, raisins.
Mrs. George Abele—flour , canned goods.
Mrs. J. S. Swingle—canned goods.
Mrs. E. K. Sargent—canned goods.
Unitarian Sunday School—apples,
Mrs. Frank Page—potatoes, prunes, sugar, macaroni.
Unitarian Church, Wollaston—sugar, pears, jelly, chili sauce, cranberries, cherries, prunes, potatoes, turnips Sweet potatoes, corn flakes, canned tomatoes, Campbell's soup, canned peas, prepared flour, cabbages, squash, apples, pears.
Children Memorial Church, Atlantic—caned tomatoes, post toasties, jelly, condensed milk, canned corn, coffee.

• • •

CLUB WOMEN AND EDUCATION.

The chairman of the press committee, Mrs. Clarke of Indianapolis, makes note of the fact that constant effort is being put forth to enlist the women of the federated clubs in a careful study of the conditions and expense necessitated by war of international relations and when, if ever, war might be necessary. Some of the important activities of the department are mentioned in Mrs. Clark's comment a part of which is herewith quoted:

"The Political Science committee was created in response to a steadily growing interest among women in questions of government local, state and national, and its effort is directed towards preparation for citizenship. In view of the statement frequently made that southern women are less concerned in public affairs than the women of the north it is interesting to note the committee has had proportionately more calls for help from the South than from the northern states.

"Realizing the need of a carefully trained corps of teachers to present the subject of sex-hygiene, the educational department urges clubs everywhere to agitate this phase of the subject to help in securing such training in all normal schools and colleges.

This department also earnestly insists that local school conditions be studied by the clubs, especially in relation to vocational and industrial training and guidance, and that every possible effort be put forth to secure the passage of the Page bill by the federal congress.

Mrs. Clark, in closing her report said: Next to the home, nothing appeals so strongly to the women of the clubs as the public school which they insist upon regarding as an adjunct to the home in the training for citizenship and life. If Josiah Strong president of the American Institute for social service is correct in his estimate of the potency of the general Federation of Women's clubs, the work of its educational department must be an far-reaching and incalculable effect on the future of the republic." Dr. Strong has said: "Except in the United States congress, I know of no body of men or women representing so much of intellect and heart, so much of culture and influence and so many of the highest hopes and noblest possibilities of the American people as the General Federation of Women's clubs."

TIED TO RAILS

Farmer Frustrates Attempt to Murder Young Girl

Grand Haven, Mich., Dec. 3.—An atrocious attempt at murder was frustrated when Alfred Wildey, a farmer, living near Nunica, discovered Hazel Paine, a 17-year-old Ferrysburg girl, lying bound hand and foot on the Grand Trunk tracks, just east of Nunica.

Wildey was walking toward Nunica when the discovery was made. It is believed that the girl was placed on the track only a few minutes before Wildey came along. She was only partially conscious and had undoubtedly been drugged.

If discovery had not been made she would have been run over and mangled a few minutes later by the Grand Trunk mail from the east. The glare of the locomotive's headlight lighted the track and directed Wildey's attention to the girl.

TWO FOUND DYING

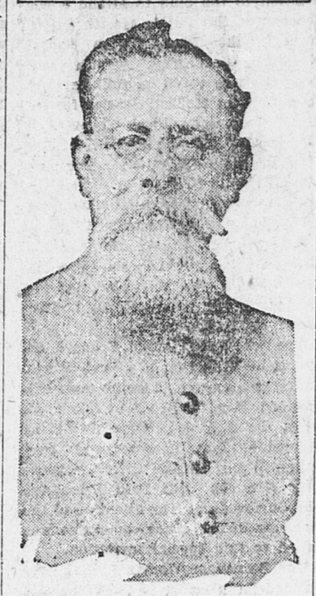
Men Taken to Worcester Hospital With Broken Arms and Legs

Worcester, Mass., Dec. 3.—Broken arms and legs, severe cuts and internal injuries fell to the lot of Henry Wood of Charleton and Charles Stacey of Oxford, who are dying at the Worcester hospital as the result of an automobile accident.

The accident occurred at the turn of a road in Paxton, not far from the Worcester city line. Although little is known as to how the accident occurred, it is believed the driver was unable to make the turn in the road, and ran into an elm tree.

VENUSTIANO CARRANZA

Head of Mexican Rebels, Who Are Called Constitutionalists



© 1913, by American Press Association.

JUDGE MORTON RETIRES

Has Served on State Supreme Bench Since September, 1890

Boston, Dec. 3.—James M. Morton, justice of the supreme court of Massachusetts, has retired. His resignation is to take effect Dec. 15, at which time he will in all probability tire on three-quarters pay, or $8000 a year.

Justice Morton has served on the supreme court bench since September, 1890, at which time he was appointed by Governor Brackett to fill the position left vacant by the promotion of Justice Field to the position of chief justice. He is the oldest judge on the supreme bench in point of years, being born in 1837, and his son, James M. Morton, Jr., is judge of the United States district court.

ESCAPES WORCESTER HOUSE OF CORRECTION

Walter Butler Scales Eighteen-Foot Wall to Freedom

Worcester, Mass., Dec. 3.—After scaling an eight-foot wall that surrounds the Worcester house of correction on Summer street, Walter Butler, aged 19, who was serving an eighteen months' sentence for larceny, made a successful break for freedom and the police of Worcester and the deputy sheriffs of Worcester county are trying to recapture him.

Butler was considered a trusty at the jail. He was working in the kitchen when he took a plank from a truck used to bring new laundry machinery to the jail, and climbed to the top of the eighteen-foot wall. He then jumped into the street and ran directly to the home of his family, 72 Paine street, in his prison clothes.

All the members of his family were absent. Butler helped himself to a new suit of one of his brothers, took a suitcase and an overcoat and $7 in cash, and got away before the jail officials reached the house half an hour later.

TO SAVE MINERS

Hundreds of Men Digging In Golden Cycle Mine at Cripple Creek

Cripple Creek, Col., Dec. 3.—Fighting against tons of rock and dirt, hundreds of miners, working in shifts of twenty-five minutes, struggled to reach the three men still entombed in the Golden Cycle mine here, the property of J. T. Milliken of St. Louis, in which four men were entombed by a cave-in, and from which one miner, Thomas Spindel, has been rescued alive. A fifth miner, entombed in the Christmas mine, adjoining, was rescued.

Grave fears for the safety of the men, Frank M. Woods, Patrick Kevany and Samuel Sorenson, were expressed by rescuers, who feared that a second slide had occurred.

MORE ARMS SEIZED

Customs Inspectors Take Cartridges Intended For San Domingo

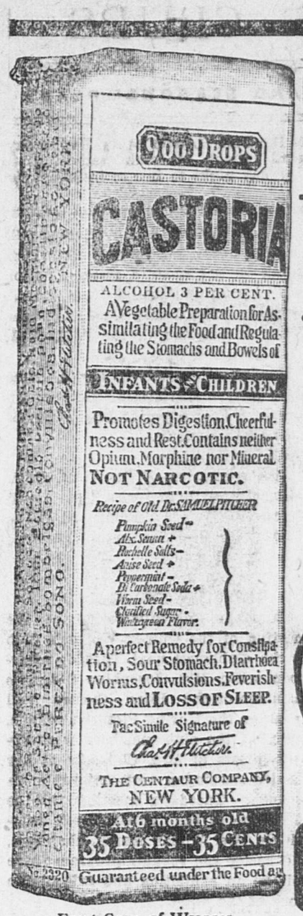
New York, Dec. 3.—Eight thousand cartridges intended for the use of possible revolutionists in San Domingo were seized by customs inspectors aboard the Clyde line steamer Iroquois, which arrived from San Domingo and Hayti.

Besides the cartridges, the officers confiscated a quantity of revolver holsters. The whole lot went to join 10,000 rounds of ammunition and many revolvers taken from the steamship Seminole of the same line here before she sailed for San Domingo.

Appealing to Her Pride.

Weary Willie—When you want to touch a lady always appeal to her pride. Tottering Tommie—I did. I said, "You proud thing, please give me a nickel."—Yonkers Statesman.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
In Use For Over Thirty Years
CASTORIA
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.



Exact Copy of Wrapper.

FIGHT ELECTION FRAUDS

Vincent Astor Will Take a Hand In Abating Alleged Practice

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Dec. 3.—As a result of evidence obtained by the Citizens' league and the report that money sent to Dutchess county by Harry K. Thaw was used in buying votes at the last election, Vincent Astor is to take a hand in abating the alleged practice, and $2500 will be disbursed by Astor, George Miller of Rhinebeck and Isaac Wheator of Lithingo.

A conference will be called by Democrats and Republicans, together with representatives of the Citizens league, for the purpose of placing the matter in the hands of Astor, who has of late taken a keen interest in local public affairs.

QUINCY REGISTRY FOR NURSES
20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.
Will supply trained and practical nurses, attendants and nursery assistants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.
MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar,
Tel. Quincy 131-W.

Only a Few
A comparatively small number of Hamilton Watches are made every year. Their extreme accuracy and fine adjustment forbids making them in large quantities.
The Hamilton Watch
"The Railroad Timekeeper of America"
Not only the man or woman who wants a very accurate watch buys the Hamilton—but the individual who knows about watches usually demands the Hamilton. We sell Hamilton watches complete, or supply a Hamilton movement for your present watch case. All sizes for men and women.
We carry in stock The New Extra Thin Model Hamilton in 12 size and from 17 jewel adjusted to the highest 23 jewel grade made in 16 size. The price of the best is $60.00 which is a low price considering that this watch is without a doubt the finest watch manufactured in the United States.
Get a copy of our New Christmas Catalogue
SANDBERG BROS.
Jewelers
1281 Hancock St., Quincy

Call Quincy 501-W
if you want your furniture, mattresses and cushions repaired in good order at low prices M. MIRKIN, upholsterer, 1060 Hancock street near the Quincy High School.
Dec. 1-1m

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

LAND COURT.

To George O. Sears, John A. Knowles and Maria F. Watt, of Boston, in the County of Suffolk, and said Commonwealth; Paulina S. Pratt, Ellen M. Damon, Mary J. Joy and Laura S. Wainwright of Cohasset, Eliza A. Pray, Sarah Hudson and Sarah K. Rockwood, of Weymouth, Hammond M. Whitney, of Brookline, in the County of Norfolk, and said Commonwealth; Elizabeth S. Cushing of Hingham, in the County of Plymouth, and said Commonwealth; Emma F. Howe of Reading, in the State of Pennsylvania; Frank J. Hudson of Butte, in the State of Montana; Leonard P. Hudson, Sarah E. Warnock, Fred L. Hudson and Daniel F. Hudson of Lander in the State of Wyoming; Sarah E. Hudson, Edwin Hudson and Emma F. Rogers, of Salt Lake City, in the State of Utah; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Sarah C. Wheelwright of said Boston to register and confirm her title in the following described land:

Two certain parcels of land with the buildings thereon, situate in said Cohasset, bounded and described as follows:

First: A parcel situated on the northeast side of Atlantic Avenue, bounded southwest by said Avenue by three courses, ten hundred thirty and 64-100 (1030.64) feet; northwest by land of George O. Sears three hundred and two (302) feet; northeast, east and northeast again by mean high water line of Massachusetts Bay; east by land of John A. Knowles about fifty-three (53) feet; and south by the same eighty-nine and 12-100 ($9.12) feet.

Petitioner also claims such portions of the beach and flats adjacent to said parcel as lie between the side lines thereof extended according to law to extreme low water mark. Said parcel contains two and 95-100 (2.95) acres more or less to said mean high water line.

Second: A parcel situated on the southwest side of said Avenue, bounded northeast by said Avenue by three courses nine hundred ninety-one and 20-100 (991.20) feet; east by land of heirs of Martha Joy twenty-seven and 31-100 (27.31) feet; southwest, south and southeast by land of said petitioner, formerly of Thomas Willcutt et al by seven courses measuring in all eleven hundred forty-three and 50-100 (1143.50) feet; northwest by land of said George O. Sears three hundred seventy-one and 13-100 (371.13) feet. Last described parcel contains two and 55-100 (2.55) acres more or less.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition, and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

You are hereby cited to appear at the Land Court to be held at Boston, in the County of Suffolk, on the fifth day of January A. D. 1914, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, Charles Thornton Davis, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this first day of December in the year nineteen hundred and thirteen.

Attest with Seal of said Court.
CLARENCE C. SMITH,
Recorder.
(Seal)
Dec. 3-3t 3-10-17

WITHIN THE LAW

Copyright, 1913, by the H. K. Fly company.

PROLOGUE.

This is a story of a brave girl who suffered a great wrong. She went to prison for three years for a crime that she did not commit, and when she left prison her record stood between her and a living earned honestly. She gained more than a living, and she got it legally. She met bad men and good men, and she pitted her wits against those of men trained in the intricacies of the law and in the plans of criminals.

Mary Turner is good or bad according to the way you look at her. The police and the representatives of law and order that had condemned her to a felon's cell called her bad. One young man believed her to be good, and he stood by her through storm and stress, through circumstances that tried his soul.

This story gives an accurate if fleeting view of the methods of work of the police and the criminals, and it shows the finish of a brave crook who followed undeviatingly the course he had mapped out.

(Continued from last issue.)

"In summary," the lawyer answered, "those actually guilty of the thefts have thus sought to throw suspicion on the innocent in order to avoid it on themselves when the pursuit got too hot on their trail. Sometimes, too, such evidence has been manufactured merely to satisfy a spite against the one unjustly accused."

"What she said rang true."

"A court of justice has decreed her guilty."

"Nowadays," Demarest shot out, "we don't call them courts of justice; we call them courts of law."

"Anyway," Gilder declared, becoming genial again, "it's out of our hands. There's nothing we can do now."

"Why, as to that," the lawyer replied, with a hint of hesitation, "I am not so sure. You see, the fact of the matter is that, though I helped to prosecute the case, I am not a little bit proud of the verdict. I am not sure that Mary Turner is guilty—far from it, in fact. Anyhow, the girl wants to see you, and I wish to urge you to grant her an interview."

"What's the use?" Gilder stormed. "I can't have her crying all over the office and begging for mercy," he protested truculently. But a note of fear lay under the petulance.

Demarest's answer was given with assurance.

"You are mistaken about that. The girl doesn't beg for mercy. In fact, that's the whole point of the matter. She demands justice—strange as that may seem in a court of law—and nothing else. The truth is, she's a very unusual girl, a long way beyond the ordinary salesgirl, both in brains and in education."

"The less reason, then, for her being a thief," Gilder grumbled in his heaviest voice.

"And perhaps the less reason for believing her to be a thief," the lawyer retorted suavely. He paused for a moment, then went on. There was a tone of sincere determination in his voice. "Just before the judge imposed sentence he asked her if she had anything to say. You know, it's just a usual form—a thing that rarely means much of anything. But this case was different, let me tell you. She surprised us all by answering at once that she had. It's really a pity, Gilder, that you didn't wait. Why, that poor girl made a fine speech!"

"Pooh, pooh!" came the querulous objection. "She seems to have hypnotized you." Then, as a new thought came to the magnate, he spoke with a trace of anxiety. There were always the reporters looking for space to fill with foolish vaporings.

"Did she say anything against me or the store?"

"Not a word," the lawyer replied gravely. "She merely told us how her father died when she was sixteen years old. She was compelled after that to earn her own living. Then she told how she had worked for you for five years steadily without there ever being a single thing against her. She said, too, that she had never seen the things found in her locker. And she did more than that. She asked the judge if he himself understood what it means for a girl to be sentenced to prison for something she hadn't done. Somehow, Gilder, the way she talked and its effect on everybody in the courtroom. I know! It's my business to understand things like that. And what she said rang true. What she said and the way she said it take brains and courage. The ordinary crook has neither. So I had a suspicion that she might be speaking the truth." There was a little pause, while the lawyer moved back and forth nervously; then he added, "I believe Lawlor would have suspended sentence if it hadn't been for your talk with him."

"I simply did my duty," Gilder said. "You are aware that I did not seek any consultation with Judge Lawlor. He sent for me and asked me what I thought about the case—whether I thought it would be right to let the girl go on a suspended sentence. I told him frankly that I believed that an example should be made of her for the sake of others who might be tempted to steal. Property has some rights, Demarest, although it seems to be getting nowadays so that anybody is likely to deny it." Then the fretful, half alarmed note sounded in his voice again as he continued, "I can't understand why the girl wants to see me."

"Why, she just said that if you would see her for ten minutes she would tell you how to stop the thefts in this store."

"There," Gilder cried. "I knew it! The girl wants to confess. Well, it's the first sign of decent feeling she's shown. I suppose it ought to be encouraged. Probably there have been others mixed up in this."

"Perhaps," Demarest admitted. "At least it can do no harm if you see her. I thought you would be willing, so I spoke to the district attorney, and he has given orders to bring her here for a few minutes on the way to the Grand Central station. They're taking her up to Burnsing, you know. I wish, Gilder, you would have a little talk with her." The lawyer abruptly went out of the office, leaving the owner of the store fuming.

* * * * * * *

"Hello, dad!"

Gilder sprang to his feet, his face suddenly grown younger, radiant.

"Dick!" The big voice was softened to exquisite tenderness.

As the eyes of the two met the boy rushed forward, and in the next moment the hands of father and son clasped firmly. Presently Gilder spoke, with an effort toward harshness in his voice to mask how much he was shaken. But the tones rang more kindly than any he had used for many a day, tremulous with affection.

"What brought you back?" he demanded.

"Why, I just wanted to come back home," he said lightly. "And, for the love of heaven, give Sadie $5. I borrowed it from her to pay the taxi. You see, dad, I'm broke."

"Of course!" With the saying Edward Gilder roared Gargantuan laughter. In the burst of merriment his pent feelings found their vent. He was still chuckling when he spoke, sage from much experience of ocean travel. "Poker on the ship, I suppose."

"No, not that, though I did have a little run in at Monte Carlo. But it was the ship that finished me at that. You see, dad, they hired Captain Kidd and a bunch of pirates as stewards, and what they did to little Richard was something fierce. And yet, that wasn't the real trouble either. The fact is, I just naturally went broke. Not a hard thing to do on the other side."

"I am glad to be home, dad."

"Nor on this," the father interjected dryly.

"Anyhow, it doesn't matter much," Dick replied, quite unabashed. "Tell me, dad, how goes it?"

"Pretty well, pretty well, son. I'm glad to see you home again, my boy." There was a great tenderness in the usually rather cold gray eyes.

"And I'm glad to be home, dad, to be"—there was again that clearing of the throat, but he finished bravely—"with you."

The father avoided a threatening display of emotion by an abrupt change of subject to the trite.

"Have a good time?" he inquired casually.

"The time of my young life. I tell you, dad, it's a fact that I did almost break the bank at Monte Carlo. I'd have done it sure if only my money had held out."

"It seems to me that I've heard something of the sort before," was Gilder's caustic comment. But his smile was still wholly sympathetic. He took a curious vicarious delight in the escapades of his son, probably because he himself had committed no follies in his callow days. "Why didn't you cable me?" he asked, puzzled at such restraint on the part of his son.

"Because it gave me a capital excuse for coming home."

"You clear out of here, boy!" Gilder commanded brusquely. "I'm a working man. But here, wait a minute," he added. He brought forth from a pocket a neat sheaf of banknotes, which he held out. "There's carfare for you," he said, with a chuckle. "And now clear out. I'll see you at dinner."

"You can always get rid of me on the same terms," Dick remarked slyly. In the doorway he turned with a final speech, which was uttered in splendid disregard for the packet of money he had just received. "Oh, dad, please don't forget to give Sadie that $5 I borrowed from her for the taxi."

The owner of the store returned to his labors with a new zest, for the meeting with his son had put him in high spirits. Perhaps it might have been better for Mary Turner had she come to him just then, while he was yet in this softened mood. But fate had ordained that other events should restore him to his usual harder self before their interview. Smithson entered with an expression of discomfiture on his rather vacuous countenance. He walked almost nimbly to the desk and spoke with evident distress as his employer looked up interrogatively.

"McCracken has detained—er—a lady, sir," he said feebly. "She has been searched, and we have found about $100 worth of laces on her."

"Well?" Gilder demanded impatiently. Such affairs were too common in the store to make necessary this intrusion of the matter on him. "Why did you come to me about it?"

"I'm very sorry, sir, but I thought it wiser, sir, to—er—to bring the matter to your personal attention. The lady happens to be the wife of J. W. Gaskell, the banker, you know."

(To be continued.)

PRATT'S BREAD—not made by guess-work, but by a scientific formula. Leading grocers sell it.

CUTS DOWN CIVILIAN

Titled German Lieutenant Increases Wrath of Citizens of Alsace

Zabern, Alsace, Ger., Dec. 3.—Lieutenant Baron von Forstner, who started the trouble between troops here by referring scornfully to the citizens when he addressed the recruits of his company, has aroused still further indignation against the army by cutting down a lame shoemaker with his sabre and wounding him dangerously in the head.

The titled lieutenant was leading a half company of the Ninety-ninth infantry from the barracks to the country to go through the morning drill, when a group of workmen recognized Von Forstner as he and his men were passing through a village. The workmen hooted the officer, who at once halted his company and then sent his armed soldiers in pursuit.

The infantrymen succeeded in catching only one—a lame shoemaker, who resisted arrest. Von Forstner then came up and deliberately struck him on the head with the sharp edge of his sabre.

The fresh incident has created such tension in the vicinity that serious bloodshed is feared unless the unpopular officer of the Ninety-ninth regiment is transferred immediately.

CLEAN MILK PRIZES

State Board of Agriculture Has Cream, Milk and Butter Show at Springfield

Springfield, Mass., Dec. 3.—In furtherance of its efforts to promote a greater interest in agricultural pursuits, the state board of agriculture has arranged a big milk, cream and butter show in connection with its three days' winter meeting opened here.

The show is under the joint direction of the state board, the Massachusetts Dairymen's association, the Massachusetts Agricultural college, the dairy division of the Springfield health department and the Hampden County Improvement league.

The following men are awarded prizes in the order named in both clean milk contests. Peter Kronvall, East Longmeadow, Joseph S. Hillman, Hardwick, and Rufus H. Randall, Bolton. The awards were for clean milk for the entire state, and for the five western counties.

DESLOVERS WILL SEEK NEW TRIAL

Bill of Exceptions to Be Filed by His Council

Providence, Dec. 3.—A bill of exceptions to the trial of Henri Deslovers, convicted last summer of murder of Mrs. Angele Parmentier of Woonsocket, will be filed in the superior court on or before Dec. 15.

John J. Fitzgerald, counsel for Deslovers, said that the transcript of the testimony taken at the trial, which lasted three weeks, has been completed. It covers more than 1500 typewritten pages and cost $450, which Attorney Fitzgerald paid, the court having declined to bear the expense.

The trial and conviction of Deslovers followed the finding of a headless body of a woman which the state claimed was that of Mrs. Parmentier, in the Blackstone river, near Woonsocket.

GLOOMY IN CHICAGO

Eight Consecutive Days Without Sunshine in Windy City

Chicago, Dec. 3.—Dense gloom shrouded Chicago for the third time in two weeks. Fog and smoke brought a condition which caused much delay to street traffic. Lights glowed in office buildings, while street car and automobile headlights could be seen but a short distance. It also was the eight consecutive day without sunshine.

Eight persons were bruised or cut by flying glass when a West Chicago avenue street car crashed into a car ahead of it. Slippery rails and the fog were responsible.

North Adams Woman a Suicide

North Adams, Dec. 3.—Mrs. Michael Fleming, 46, is dead after jumping into the river at the Briggsville mill. She wrote a note to her husband telling him her body would be in the river, and after kissing her 11-year-old daughter goodby, carried out her purpose.

EXECUTOR'S NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed executor of the will of Emily C. Amsden late of Quincy in the County of Norfolk deceased testate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs.

All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased, are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called to make payment to

WILLIAM S. SAYWARD,
Executor

(Address)
110 Winthrop ave., Wollaston, Mass.
November 25th, 1913.
Nov. 26-3t 26-3-10.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Delia A. Dizer, late of Quincy in said County, deceased:

Whereas, two certain instruments purporting to be the last will and testament—and one codicil—of said deceased have been presented to said Court for Probate by Alida R. Baker of Quincy, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the executrix therein named, without giving a surety on her official bond:

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the tenth day of December A. D. 1913, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in said Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this fourteenth day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen.

JOHN D. COBB, Register.
Nov. 19-3t 19-26-3

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Lucy G. Fletcher late of Quincy in said County, deceased:

Whereas, two certain instruments purporting to be the last will and testament and one codicil of said deceased have been presented to said Court for Probate, by Calvin G. Fletcher of said Quincy, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him, the executor therein named, without giving a surety on his official bond, as provided by statute; You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the tenth day of December A. D. 1913, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-first day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen.

JOHN D. COBB, Register.
Nov. 22-3t 22-26-3

ARTHUR L. THOMAS
Attorney-at-Law
3-4-5-6 Greenleaf Block
Telephone Quincy 460 Jan.2-1y

LOOK! LISTEN!
While they last 25 new cesspool covers $1.75 value, now $1.25 each; 50 rolls Good quality roofing at $1.25; 500 lengths galvanized conductor pipe 6c. value at 4c. ft. Black Roof Paint at 59c gallon, suitable for all kinds of roofing, also suitable for painting iron. Don't forget that we also carry a full line of Decorated Wall Board and all other NEPONSET Products. L. Grossman & Sons, Quincy Adams, Mass.
Open until 6 P. M. Closed all day Saturdays.
Nov. 25 L O-tf

WHEN YOU TAKE OUT YOUR SCREENS
If they need painting or repairing let
HOLMES & HALL
fix them up during the winter and have them read yin the spring.
NO CHARGE FOR STORAGE
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W
1179 HANCOCK ST.

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.
No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

WANTED

WANTED—Boy to work in candy shop. Apply I. E. Nickerson, 46 Gay street. 3-tf

WANTED—Housekeeper's position by an American woman in widower's family, reference exchanged. Mrs. D. W. Hall, Wollaston, Mass. 3-6t

WANTED—Gentleman to board and room with private family in good location. Terms reasonable. Address Box 165, Quincy Post Office, Quincy, Mass. 2-3t

WANTED—Dressmaking to do at home. F. M. Collins, 40 Quincy street, Quincy, Mass. 2-6t

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing. Myatt, 40 Baxter street. Tel. 1307-M. Quincy, Res. 22-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Second hand lumber for sale cheap, $15 per M. boards 4x4, 2x8, 2x3 etc also 500 bags Atlas cement 35 cents a bag; 100, 4 inch extra heavy iron pipe fittings, also lot of oak seats and tanks fitted with B. B. valves; 20 kegs 8 P. nails, 90 cents keg. Lewando, Hotel Pandora, Houghs Neck. 3-3t

FOR SALE—Typewriter. Exceptional opportunity. Brand new Oliver machine. $55. Address C. F. Ledger office. Dec. 1-3t

FOR SALE or TO LET—New houses Apply to Thompson B. Crane, 403 Washington street, Quincy. 1-tf

FOR SALE—A small horse, express wagon and Democrat, also set of harness. Apply to Winer's, Adams Bldg. Quincy. 1-6t

MISCELLANEOUS

GRAVEL and loam given away via Quincy Adams depot must be taken at once. Enquire of L. Grossman & Sons, Jackson street, Quincy Adams. Tel. 979-W. 3-6t

I have a very beautiful carved leg square piano, round rich tone cost new $500. Having no use for it will sell cheap. Just the thing for a beginner. Write "Square Piano," this office. 26-6t.

JAMES F. BURKE & CO.
Real Estate and Insurance
Care of Property. Mortgages
Justice of Peace. Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 885 M. Nov. 11-tf

TO LET
Large Front Office Greenleaf Block—2 entrances—right at the head of the stairs—one of the most desirable offices in Quincy.
Office, Durgin-Merrill Block—3 large windows—only 1 flight up—exceptional opportunity.
Hancock Building—City Square Offices—small front office, $11 a month
Office—Hancock Chambers, 16x18 feet one flight up, very low rent.
Store House—off Granite St., in the rear of Greenleaf Block.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best Location in City)
Offices—Large or small.
Desk Room—Street floor, right in the rear of main entrance, good light and air, $5 up a month.
Transient Rooms—Well furnished and with care, $1 a day.
Furnished Rooms—With care steam heat, and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week

HALLS
Music Hall—Music Hall Block—Capacity 667—highest possible rating by the State. "Excellent" in every particular.
New Colonial Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—Capacity 240—the best possible location for a Hall.
Hancock Hall—Hancock Building City Square—Capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 21066) Quincy

WM. H. TEASDALE
REAL ESTATE
Insurance Mortgages
NOTARY PUBLIC JUSTICE OF THE PEACE
Room 23 Adams Building
Telephones { Residence 544-3 / Office 683-M
Read Ledger Ads

TO LET

TO LET—Tenement 4 rooms and bath all improvements, set range. Vacant Jan. 1, 1914. Apply 180 Franklin street. 3-6t

TO LET—Tenement of 7 rooms, all improvements, 64 Merrymount road. Apply W. W. Adams, 12 Greenleaf street. 22- S-W-tf

TO LET—Newly furnished, steam heated room, modern conveniences 3 minutes from centre, 1 Adams street. 2-6t

TO LET—House on Edison Park, 6 rooms, all improvements. $25 per month. Immediate occupancy. Apartment on Cherry street 8 rooms, all improvements except gas and electricity $22. per month. E. M. Freeman, 653 Washington street, Quincy, Tel. 1615-W. 29-6t

TO LET—With private family on Upland road, a desirable room, heated, lighted, with use of bath on same floor. Write A. F. K. Ledger Office or telephone Quincy 1796-W. 29-6t

TO LET—In Braintree, house of five rooms, including two bed rooms and bath. Rent reasonable. A. J. Cavanagh, 72 Cedar street, Braintree. Telephone 4-14. 29-6t

TO LET—Upper flat in two flat new house at 1 Bradford street, 5 rooms and bath. All improvements. Ready Jan. 1st. Apply to Wm. E. Duggan, 32 Bryant avenue, West. Quincy. 26-12t

TO LET—Single house, 7 rooms, with all improvements. Inquire at 50 Warwick street, Norfolk Downs, or telephone Miss Clements, Boston-Main 1380. Nov. 22-12t

RUSSELL PARK — Commodious house of seven rooms, large hall and bath. Modern, every convenience open fireplace, furnace, range, set tubs, electric lights, cemented cellar, etc. Best residential neighborhood. Ready for immediate occupancy. For further details or key see Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. tf lpo

TO LET—173 Whitwell street, half house, modern conveniences, $20 per month. Ready for immediate occupancy. Apply Penniman's Stable, Granite street. 19-tf

TO LET—Nicest 4 room and bath lower flat in town. Every improvement $19.00. 126 Glendale road. S. E. Thomas Greenleaf Block. 17-tf

TO LET—5 room tenement at 117 Quincy street. $20 per month. Apply Berman Furniture Co. 6-tf

TO LET—Houses of 5, 6 and 10 rooms. M. T. Sullivan. Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy, Mass. 11-tf

UPPER APARTMENT. In two-family house on Spear Street. Five rooms, bath, large pantry and closets, also open attic with finished heated chamber. Every improvement, electric light, furnace, range etc. Ready for immediate occupancy. Telephone Quincy 278 M or enquire mornings of Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. lpo

SWITHIN
Real Estate
Mortgages-Insurance
Greenleaf Block
Quincy
Tel. Quincy 460. Nov. 10-tf

ANOTHER BARGAIN
Make me an offer for a ten room house on Whitwell Street.
You will own it if you will talk buy, as it is one of those chances some one will miss.
HENRY W. SAVAGE
Real Estate, Boston.
E. G. HAYDEN, Local Representative
Telephone 1877-M Quincy.
Nov 17-tf

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1381 Hancock street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point,
Tel. Quincy-Mass. 1153 M Nov 3-.tf

KINCAIDE THEATRE

at 2.30, 5, 10, 15c., at 7.45, 10, 15, 25c

THURS. FRIDAY SAT.

Program subject to change

MYRTLE & DAISY
Dainty Dancing, Singing and Pianologue Sketch

WILLIAMS & WESTON
Makers of Merriment

McGINNIS BROS.
Singing and Dancing "Soldiers"

JAMES EDGE
Presenting a Pleasing Novelty Act

THE PHANTOM SIGNAL
A Railroad Romance in 2 Reels

ALKALI IKE'S AUTO
A Western Comedy Sensation

The Price of the Free
How a Hobo came back

Kincaide Theatre Orchestra

ENGAGEMENT OF REV. B. AYERS

Rev. William B. Ayres, pastor of the Park and Downs Congregational Church and Miss Sarah A. Miller, daughter of Mr. George D. Miller of Newton Centre are making preparations to be married.

Mr. Ayres was a central figure in the $25,000 alienation suit brought by Chester A. Boynton several months ago. He was exonerated.

George Miller, father of the bride to be is head of the George D. Miller Ice Co. The family is prominent socially and are active members of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Newton. Miss Miller is a graduate of Wellesley high school and a popular young lady.

SAY MOTHER KISS BRADMAN

Miss Dorothy Finlay, daughter of A. W. Finlay, the well known yachtsman created a sensation at Dedham Tuesday when testifying for her father in his suit for divorce from his wife. She stated that she had seen her mother kiss Arthur Bradman, an actor named as corespondent. She also testified he had seen her mother make love to Bradman and he make love to her. That she had heard them talking of getting a divorce and that they did not know on what graunds they would get one.

Mrs. Bradman testified of the intimacy between her husband and Mrs. Finlay and of an interview with Mrs. Finlay in which the latter told her she loved her husband. Evidence was also given of private detectives watching the couple. Many other witnesses were heard Tuesday and the case was continued until today.

In addition to the suit of Mr. Finlay Mrs. Finlay has also filed a cross libel charging him with cruel and abusive treatment.

A cake and candy sale is to be held at the home of E. Bartlett Spooner, Revere road, Thursday, Dec. 11, afternoon and evening for the benefit of the Universalist Sunday School.

Too Late For Classification

TO LET—With private family, desirable room, use of bath, light, heat. 4 minutes from station and on car line. Frank Bennett, 150 Beale street, Wollaston, 3-3t

FOR RENT—16 Faxon avenue, Quincy Suite, 7 rooms and bath. Possession given Jan. 1, 1914. Tel. 414 M., Weymouth. 3-3t

WANTED—Competent workers on hand embroidery. To take work home Materials supplied. Write "Embroidery. Ledger office. 3-4t

TO LET—In Wollaston Heights, a 7 room apartment, practically new, hot water heat, all modern improvements, rent reasonable to right party, location unsurpassed. F. M. Rollins, 333 Highland avenue, Wollaston. 3-4t

DEATHS

FRENCH—In Quincy, Dec. 2, Miss Dora A. French, in her 73rd year. Funeral services at home of her nephew, Henry W. Porter, 63 Edgemere road, Friday, Dec. 5, at 2.30 P. M. Relatives and friends invited. 3-2t

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass.

COMPLETE OFFICIAL VOTE OF THE CITY

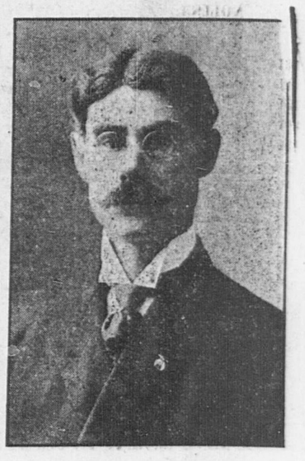
JOHN B. BASS

THOMAS GRIFFIN

PRESIDENT JOSEPH L. WHITON

CHARLES A. ROSS.

DANIEL F. CORCORAN



HERBERT G. BEEMAN

WARD 1

PRECINCT ONE

FOR MAYOR.

John H. Ash	94
Charles H. Johnson	162
John L. Miller	214
William G. Shaw	15

COUNCILMEN AT LARGE.

Charles W. Bailey	202
John B. Bass	262
James F. Edwards	89
Otto Gelotte	241
Charles A. Hadlock	214
M. J. L. Kennedy	93
Thomas J. McGrath	148
William J. Nott	110
John Reynolds	63
James H. Slade	170
Ernest E. Sodergren	219
Charles W Towne	97

SCHOOL COMMITTEE AT LARGE.

Nathaniel S. Hunting	357

WARD COUNCILMEN.

Walter H. Buchan	138
Charles A. Ericson	278
Henry F. McGee	105
John A. Phelan	68
William P. Thompson	247
Joseph L. Whiton	285

LICENSE QUESTION

Yes	150
No	321

CALL FIREMEN.

Yes	210
No	105

LABOR COMPENSATION.

Yes	215
No	100

PRECINCT TWO

FOR MAYOR

John H. Ash	137
Charles H. Johnson	287
John L. Miller	200
William G. Shaw	37

COUNCILMEN AT LARGE.

Charles W. Bailey	275
John B. Bass	324
James F. Edwards	140
Otto Gelotte	254
Charles A. Hadlock	282
M. J. L. Kennedy	120
Thomas J. McGrath	226
William J. Nott	89
John Reynolds	90
James H. Slade	267
Ernest E. Sodergren	287
Charles W. Towne	169

SCHOOL COMMITTEE AT LARGE.

Nathaniel S. Hunting	463

WARD COUNCILMEN.

Walter H. Buchan	340
Charles A. Ericson	255
Henry F. McGee	137
John A. Phelan	102
William P. Thompson	304
Joseph L. Whiton	381

LICENSE QUESTION

Yes	230
No	399

CALL FIREMEN.

Yes	302
No	135

LABOR COMPENSATION.

Yes	330
No	121

WARD 2

PRECINCT ONE

FOR MAYOR.

John H. Ash,	94
Charles H. Johnson,	82
John L. Miller	64
William G. Shaw	13

COUNCILMEN AT LARGE.

Charles W. Bailey	75
John B. Bass	118
James F. Edwards	106
Otto Gelotte	76
Charles A. Hadlock	92
M. J. L. Kennedy	106
Thomas J. McGrath	78
William J. Nott	40
John Reynolds	80
James H. Slade	98
Ernest E. Sodergren	64
Charles W. Towne	56

SCHOOL COMMITTEE AT LARGE.

Nathaniel S. Hunting	129

WARD COUNCILMEN.

Elijah P. Barrows	105
John F. Bruton	129
Freeman W. Grant	74
Thomas Griffin	151
Samuel C. Melville	45
Peter Moran	63
Robert J. Williams, Jr.	103

SCHOOL COMMITTEE FOR WARD.

Arthur B. Foster	131
Edward P. Histon	97

LICENSE QUESTION

Yes	116
No	120

CALL FIREMEN.

Yes	107
No	23

LABOR COMPENSATION.

Yes	109
No	42

PRECINCT TWO

FOR MAYOR

John H. Ash	129
Charles H. Johnson	147
John L. Miller	179
William G. Shaw	18

COUNCILMEN AT LARGE.

Charles W. Bailey	165
John B. Bass	237
James F. Edwards	139
Otto Gelotte	152
Charles A. Hadlock	170
M. J. L. Kennedy	156
Thomas J. McGrath	195
William J. Nott	93
John Reynolds	95
James H. Slade	183
Ernest E. Sodergren	133
Charles W. Towne	83

SCHOOL COMMITTEE AT LARGE.

Nathaniel S. Hunting	286

WARD COUNCILMEN.

Elijah P. Barrows	208
John F. Bruton	173
Freeman W. Grant	210
Thomas Griffin	229
Samuel C. Melville	75
Peter Moran	160
Robert J. Williams, Jr.	200

SCHOOL COMMITTEE FOR WARD.

Arthur B. Foster	246
Edward P. Histen	183

LICENSE QUESTION

Yes	187
No	261

CALL FIREMEN.

Yes	192
No	79

LABOR COMPENSATION.

Yes	224
No	69

WARD 3

PRECINCT ONE

FOR MAYOR

John H. Ash	156
Charles H. Johnson	113
John L. Miller	271
William G. Shaw	16

COUNCILMEN AT LARGE.

Charles W. Bailey	212
John B. Bass	231
James F. Edwards	171
Otto Gelotte	242
Charles A. Hadlock	200
M. J. L. Kennedy	151
Thomas J. McGrath	203
William J. Nott	100
John Reynolds	145
James H. Slade	189
Ernest E. Sodergren	184
Charles W. Towne	96

SCHOOL COMMITTEE AT LARGE.

Nathaniel S. Hunting	351

WARD COUNCILMEN.

Alexander J. Cowe	234
Robert B. Craig	291
James M. Faircloth	174
Robert T. Foy	198
Edmund G. Malnati	126
William J. Riepke	27
Charles A. Ross	284
Nils O. Swanson	87

SCHOOL COMMITTEE FOR WARD.

Alfred O. Diack	350

LICENSE QUESTION

Yes	227
No	306

CALL FIREMEN.

Yes	224
No	121

LABOR COMPENSATION.

Yes	241
No	130

PRECINCT TWO

FOR MAYOR

John H. Ash	90
Charles H. Johnson	107
John L. Miller	237
William G. Shaw	5

COUNCILMEN AT LARGE.

Charles W. Bailey	149
John B. Bass	210
James F. Edwards	77
Otto Gelotte	257
Charles A. Hadlock	167
M. J. L. Kennedy	74
Thomas J. McGrath	79
William J. Nott	92
John Reynolds	68
James H. Slade	79
Ernest E. Sodergren	178
Charles W. Towne	78

SCHOOL COMMITTEE AT LARGE.

Nathaniel S. Hunting	295

WARD COUNCILMEN.

Alexander J. Cowe	207
Robert B. Craig	205
James M. Faircloth	80
Robert T. Foy	105
Edmund G. Malnati	67
William J. Riepke	16
Charles A. Ross	254
Nils O. Swanson	126

SCHOOL COMMITTEE FOR WARD.

Alfred O. Diack	288

LICENSE QUESTION

Yes	164
No	241

CALL FIREMEN.

Yes	146
No	77

LABOR COMPENSATION.

Yes	173
No	76

WARD 4

PRECINCT ONE

FOR MAYOR

John H. Ash	280
Charles H. Johnson	34
John L. Miller	106
William G. Shaw	1

COUNCILMEN AT LARGE.

Charles W. Bailey	65
John B. Bass	68
James F. Edwards	242
Otto Gelotte	56
Charles A. Hadlock	67
M. J. L. Kennedy	217
Thomas J. McGrath	149
William J. Nott	24
John Reynolds	220
James H. Slade	131
Ernest E. Sodergren	48
Charles W. Towne	49

SCHOOL COMMITTEE AT LARGE.

Nathaniel S. Hunting	182

WARD COUNCILMEN.

John J. Clarke	103
Daniel F. Corcoran	274
Peter T. Fallon	109
Stephen B. Little	199
James O'Dowd	278
Daniel F. Shea	21
Matthew P. Sheahan	92

LICENSE QUESTION

Yes	204
No	181

CALL FIREMEN.

Yes	158
No	94

LABOR COMPENSATION.

Yes	201
No	69

PRECINCT TWO

FOR MAYOR

John H Ash	199
Charles H. Johnson	58
John L. Miller	133
William G. Shaw	5

COUNCILMEN AT LARGE.

Charles W. Bailey	92
John B. Bass	104
James F. Edwards	130
Otto Gelotte	104
Charles A. Hadlock	88
M. J. L. Kennedy	138
Thomas J. McGrath	131
William J. Nott	54
John Reynolds	170
James H. Slade	98
Ernest E. Sodergren	81
Charles W. Towne	59

SCHOOL COMMITTEE AT LARGE.

Nathaniel S. Hunting	217

WARD COUNCILMEN.

John J. Clarke	131
Daniel F. Corcoran	169
Peter T. Fallon	145
Stephen B. Little	178
James O'Dowd	175
Daniel F. Shea	63
Matthew P. Sheahan	74

LICENSE QUESTION

Yes	190
No	184

CALL FIREMEN.

Yes	144
No	92

LABOR COMPENSATION.

Yes	176
No	73

WARD 5

PRECINCT ONE

FOR MAYOR

John H. Ash	23
Charles H. Johnson	150
John L. Miller	253
William G. Shaw	68

COUNCILMEN AT LARGE.

Charles W. Bailey	409
John B. Bass	335
James F. Edwards	56
Otto Gelotte	267
Charles A. Hadlock	315
M. J. L. Kennedy	34
Thomas J. McGrath	96
William J. Nott	120
John Reynolds	24
James H. Slade	137
Ernest E. Sodergren	260
Charles W. Towne	97

SCHOOL COMMITTEE AT LARGE.

Nathaniel S. Hunting	415

WARD COUNCILMEN.

Charles E. Barker	410
Charles L. Gilliatt	413
Alfred H. Richards	428

LICENSE QUESTION

Yes	42
No	449

CALL FIREMEN.

Yes	237
No	62

LABOR COMPENSATION.

Yes	203
No	117

PRECINCT TWO

FOR MAYOR

John H. Ash	39
Charles H. Johnson	118
John L. Miller	197
Willnam G. Shaw	48

COUNCILMEN AT LARGE.

Charles W. Bailey	267
John B. Bass	227
James F. Edwards	59
Otto Gelotte	184
Charles A. Hadlock	231
M. J. L. Kennedy	36
Thomas J. McGrath	113
William J. Nott	91
John Reynolds	37
James H. Slade	103
Ernest E. Sodergren	172
Charles W. Towne	127

SCHOOL COMMITTEE AT LARGE.

Nathaniel S. Hunting	299

WARD COUNCILMEN.

Charles E. Barker	310
Charles L. Gilliatt	315
Alfred H. Richards	307

LICENSE QUESTION

Yes	78
No	322

CALL FIREMEN

Yes	224
No	41

LABORERS' COMPENSATION.

Yes	199
No	85

WARD 6

PRECINCT ONE

FOR MAYOR

John H. Ash	137
Charles H. Johnson	168
John L. Miller	117
William G. Shaw	20

COUNCILMEN AT LARGE.

Charles W. Bailey	163
John B. Bass	191
James F. Edwards	110
Otto Gelotte	146
Charles A. Hadlock	286
M. J. L. Kennedy	98
Thomas J. McGrath	73
William J. Nott	64
John Reynolds	99
James H. Slade	80
Ernest E. Sodergren	179
Charles W. Towne	74

SCHOOL COMMITTEE AT LARGE.

Nathaniel S. Hunting	253

WARD COUNCILMEN.

Herbert G. Beeman	252
Carl E. Carlson	215
Philip R. Guinan	149
John R. Nelson	233
Edwin A. Poland	186

LICENSE QUESTION

Yes	132
No	287

CALL FIREMEN.

Yes	209
No	67

LABOR COMPENSATION.

Yes	213
No	69

PRECINCT TWO

FOR MAYOR

John H. Ash	51
Charles H. Johnson	98
John L. Miller	160
William G. Shaw	30

COUNCILMEN AT LARGE.

Charles W. Bailey	144
John B. Bass	142
James F. Edwards	82
Otto Gelotte	114
Charles A. Hadlock	185
M. J. L. Kennedy	65
Thomas J. McGrath	95
William J. Nott	74
John Reynolds	66
James H. Slade	73
Ernest E. Sodergren	121
Charles W. Towne	85

SCHOOL COMMITTEE AT LARGE.

Nathaniel S. Hunting	218

WARD COUNCILMEN.

Herbert G. Beeman	167
Carl E. Carlson	193
Philip R. Guinan	121
John R. Nelson	149
Edwin A. Poland	133

LICENSE QUESTION

Yes	83
No	244

CALL FIREMEN.

Blanks	15
Yes	166
No	50

LABOR COMPENSATION.

Yes	152
No	59

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

LARGEST GUARANTEED CIRCULATION IN THE CITY

Vol. 28 No. 281 QUINCY MASS. THURSDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 4 1913 PRICE TWO CENTS

QUINCY MAN REPORTED KILLED IN NEW YORK

Man Supposed to be Thomas Todd Found Badly Mangled by Cars

A Son of C. B. Todd of 107 Glendale Road, Employed at Fore River

The mangled body of a man, thought from papers in his pocket, to be Thomas Todd of Quincy was found on the tracks of the New York Central railroad early this morning on the bridge which crosses over the Bronx river at Two Hundred and Thirty-fourth street.

A description was telegraphed the local police and in their investigation they learned that he is probably the son of Charles B. Todd of 107 Glendale road, a blacksmith at the Fore River shipyard. Mr. Todd was reached by telephone today and informed of the finding of the body and that the clothing contained a memorandum bearing the name of Thomas Todd of Quincy and a letter addressed to himself.

He said that he had a son Thomas, who has been away from Quincy for over a year and that he was in New York when last heard from. He has but little doubt but what the body is that of his son.

The description stated that he body was hat of a man about 35 years of age and Thomas Todd according to his father is but 29. The description otherwise answers that of his son.

SUIT FOR $25,000

It is reported that a suit for $25,000 was filed at Dedham Wednesday against Dr. John Gordon of Quincy, by Miss Annie McLaren of Boston for neglecting her while engaged as her physician. The woman who is a domestic fell at Milton and alleges Dr. Gordon did not give her proper treatment and treated her for a sprain when she was suffering from a fracture.

PRESIDENT RE-ELECTED

Annual Meeting Division 22 of Hibernians

At the annual meeting of Division 22, A. O. H., on Wednesday evening, James O'Dowd was re-eelcted president, and plans were completed for a joint class initiation under the auspices of Divisions 4 and 22 in St. Mary's hall on Sunday afternoon. About 40 candidates from all parts of the state will be initiated in the presence of the state and county officers. A social session will follow the exemplification.

The installation of the officers will take place in January and a committee was appointed to make the arrangements. The officers chosen were President—James O'Dowd.

Vice President—William Murphy.
Recording Secretary—Joseph McNeally.
Financial Secretary—William Donaher.
Treasurer—John F. Dolan.
Sargent at Arms—Stephen Hannon.
Sentinel—Michael Welsh.
Physician—Dr. John T. Reynolds.
Trustees—John Collins, Joseph McTiernan, John Sheehan.

DO YOU WANT PUSINESS? ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

THE FRAGMENT SOCIETY FAIR

Sale, Supper, and Entertainment at First Church

The annual supper, sale and entertainment of the Fragment societyof First Parish church was held Wednesday afternoon and evening and was the most successful affair of its kind the society has ever held. The attendance during the afternoon was fully as large as expected, those coming early having the opportunity to get the best bargains among the many things of a useful or ornamental nature which were exposed at the different booths.

The booths, always attractive were even more so on this occasion each being decorated with clusters of red artificial chrysanthemums, which made a pleasing contrast to the white gowns worn by the ladies in attendance at the booths.

At the left of the entrance was the fancy table while along the side of the chapel toward the church was the domestic table. Then came the grab bag which held a great attraction for the young people. Next in order, on the Temple street side was the mystery table where neat packages, the contents of which were unknown were on sale and where the deposit of twenty-five cents entitled the purchaser to investigate the mysteries of as many packages as he or she desired to lay down quarters for. Then came the little booth where the tickets for the supper, the savory odors of which, had already begun to be detected, so that it is needless to say that Edward B. Marsh had his hands full in supplying the little yellow tickets that admitted to the supper room.

In the centre of the chapel was the confectionery booth where home made confection were offered, and the attendants here were not long in disposing of their supply.

Directly in front of the platform was the grocery department. This was a new idea this year but it proved to be popular one. Aside from the usual variety of fancy crackers there was a great variety of canned goods. Young men in attendance at this booth were very active and obliging and several laid in their winters supply.

The several booths in the chapel were as follows:

Fancy table, Mrs. William B. Nichols, Mrs. George Hall, Mrs. James H. Stetson, Mrs. John L. Gow, Miss Hattie Pierce, Mrs. Henry M. Faxon, Mrs. George E. Pfaffmann, Mrs. A. Isabelle Davis, Mrs. Charles A. Price, Mrs. Wilson Tisdale, Mrs. John D. Buckingham, Mrs. Frank S. Patch, Mrs. Clarence Burgin, Mrs. Moreton T. Swallow and Mrs. J. B. Groce.

Apron table, Mrs. Warren S. Anderson, Miss E. M. Fottler, Miss Belle Nightingale, Mrs. Herbert S. Parker, Mrs. J. Henry Emery, Mrs. Pierce, Mrs. John Christensen.

Confectionery table, Mrs. Joseph C. Morse, Mrs. Henry W. Porter, Mrs. James H. Slade, Mrs. Arthur W. Hall, Miss Carrie Crane, Mrs. Mark L. Read, Jr.

Grab bag, Miss Marion Edwards.

Mystery table, Miss Mary E. Nightingale, Mrs. S. T. MacQuarrie, Mrs. Ralph L. Lovell, Miss Ada M. Nightingale, Miss Lucy G. Spear, Miss Mary Holden, Mrs. Frederick Simpson, Mrs. A. L. Remick.

The grocery store was in charge of Emery L. Crane, Henry R. Holden, Henry W. Porter, Eugene R. Atwood, James A. Ring, George Hall, and Mark L. Read, Jr.

The supper which was served at 6.30 was an exceptionally appetizing one and so many were there to partake it was necessary to set two tables. The tables looked very attractive with their crepe paper trumpet flowers, the handiwork of Mrs. John O. Short. The menu included hot roast beef, mashed potato, squash, cranberry sauce, coffee, rolls and pie.

Just before supper was served Rev. A. L. Hudson, the pastor asked all to unite in repeating the Lord's prayer.

A new method of serving the supper was inaugurated this year, and it worked out so successfully that it will probably be adopted hereafter. Instead of placing large dishes of the food on the table where every diner helped themselves, a corps of active and efficient young ladies from the Young People's Religious Union brought each a plate containing a generous slice of meat, with potato and squash while boys from Junior Laymen served coffee. That the supper was an excellent one, was the verdict of all.

Mrs. Thomas Fenno had charge of the supper and assisting her were the following ladies, Mrs. John O. Short Mrs. John Christensen, Mrs. George T. Magee, Miss M. A. Whitney, Mrs. Walter E. Piper, Mrs. Robert R. Smith, Mrs. Osborne Rogers, Mrs. Joseph Walker, Mrs . Wilson Marsh, Mrs. Thomas B. Davenport, Mrs. Albert M Parker, Mrs. Francis Hodgkinson, Mrs. Albert M. Wright, Mrs. George Keyes, Jr. Mrs. Wallace Weixler, Mrs. Horace G. Crocker, Mrs. Zenas S. Arnold, Mrs. John Hall and Mrs. Hamilton.

The young ladies who so efficiently served at the tables were, Miss Ruth Bass, Miss Lena B. Smith, Miss Roberta Smith, Miss Marjorie Penniman, Miss Alice Arnold, Miss Marjorie Brooks, Miss Dorothy Edwards, Miss Dorothy Packard, Miss Edith Lovejoy, Miss Carlena Walker, Miss Turner and Mrs. Gish.

As each participant re-entered the chapel from the dining room he or she was asked to contribute a nickel which entitled them to a chrysanthemum later in the evening.

The entertainment was given under the direction of Mrs. George S. Keyes assissted by Miss Georgiana Lane and was a series of living pictures entitled the "Reveries of a Bachelor," Emery L. Crane read the dream of the Bachelor, who was impersonated by Alvah H. Pierce. The other characters were impersonated as follows:

Sybil	Miss Georgiana C. Lane.
Millionairess	Mrs. Alvah Pierce.
Country Maid	Miss Dorothy Packard.
Girl of Period	Miss Ninon Lacey.
Debutante	Miss Beatrice Morrison.
Nun	Miss Ruth Packard
Golf Girl	Miss Maria Schenkelberger.
Flower Girl	Miss Marguerite Davis.
Housewife	Miss Alice Arnold
Blond	Miss Gertrude Lacey
Quakeress	Miss Henry M. Faxon
Student	Miss Sybil Marsh
Bride	Mrs. Nixon Elmer

SQUANTUM WOMEN'S CLUB.

Wednesday afternoon the Squantum Women's club met at the home of Mrs. Herbert A. Smith, Wedgewood street. Because of the illness of Mrs. Edward Eagar, treasurer, Mrs. Charles Ramsdell acted as temporary treasurer and reported that seven feet of pennies had been turned in and that members and friends has agreed to save their pennies to aid in enlarging the assembly house fund. After the business meeting Mrs. Smith served a dainty lunch assisted by Mrs. William A. Reed and Mrs. Hiram Morse who acted as pourers. The next meeting will be held the first Wednesday in January at the home of Mrs. Mathew McGrain, Bayside road.

YOU need the Ledger EVERY DAY.

TO LET

Large Front Office Greenleaf Block—2 entrances—right at the head of the stairs—one of the most desirable offices in Quincy.

Office, Durgin-Merrill Block—3 large windows—only 1 flight up—exceptional opportunity.

Hancock Building—City Square Offices—small front office, $11 a month

Office—Hancock Chambers, 16x18 feet one flight up, very low rent.

Store House—off Granite St., in the rear of Greenleaf Block.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best Location in City)

Offices—Large or small.

Desk Room—Street floor, right in the rear of main entrance, good light and air, $5 up a month.

Transient Rooms—Well furnished and with care, $1 a day.

Furnished Rooms—With care steam heat, and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week

HALLS

Music Hall—Music Hall Block—Capacity 761—highest possible rating by the State. "Excellent" in every particular.

New Colonial Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—Capacity 240—the best possible location for a Hall.

Hancock Hall—Hancock Building City Square—Capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 21056) Quincy

TWO BUILDINGS ARE DESTROYED

Wednesday Night Fires Cause Spectacular Blaze

Wednesday night was a busy one for the fire department, fires on Mill street and on Old Coach road giving them plenty to do until near midnight.

Th first alarm of the evening came from Box 71 at 8.26 and was for a fire in a large hen house on the old Souther estate on Mill street. The fire, which gave evidence of having been caused by an incendiary, made a spectacular blaze and was well along toward destruction when the department arrived. The box called out the Central and Quincy Point station apparatus. The building was destroyed entailing a loss of upwards of $50.00

The most disastrous fire of the evening came when Box 224 was sounded at 10.31. This was for a fire on Old Coach road leading to the North Common quarries and gave the apparatus a hard time reaching the scene.

The building was a large frame house on what is known as the Patrick Cahill estate and was occupied by Joseph McLaughlin who lived in the building all alone. The box is located on the corner of Adams and Whitwell streets and was some distance from the fire. Most of the Central station apparatus took the route by Granite and Whitwell streets while the Combination hose took Hancock and Adams streets. Arriving at the scene it was found necessary to draw the apparatus over rough boulders and the line of hose had to be laid across the field from Adams street.

Even then it was found impossible to get much water onto the burning building, as the water pressure seemed to be rather low, so that the building was burned to the ground.

Whn the department arrived McLaughlin was found about the premises in an intoxicated condition and it is thought that the fire was started by his carelessness. He was placed under arrest and the patrol wagon telephoned for.

It was thought when the call came for the patrol wagon that someone had been burned and the wagon made a hurried run to the scene.

Being situated on high ground the fire made quite a blaze which being seen from the Point district gave the impression that a bad fire was in progress. The loss is estimated at from $500 to $600.

WHIST TOURNAMENT.

Ten tables were in play Wednesday evening at the weekly whist tournament of the Granite City club. The usual twenty-five hands were played after which ice cream and cake was served. The two best scores were made by Nathan Ames and Warren H. Rideout. The former secured 72.3 per cent and the latter 72.1 per cent.

PRATT'S BREAD never varies. It is made and baked by a fixed rule. Ask your grocer.

PRESBYTERIAN LADIES' SALE

Unique Entertainments a Feature Each Evening

The two days successful sale and entertainment at the Water Street Presbyterian church came to a successful close Wednesday evening with a large attendance. The entertainment each evening was in charge of Mrs. James Marr and was of a comedy character, which of course created much merriment. The entertainment of Tuesday evening was the Kitchen orchestra and the notes that came from the musical instrument attached to tin pans, dish washers and other articles indispensable to a well ordered kitchen were marvelous.

On Wednesday evening Mrs. Sniggles and her eight charming, talented daughters were the attraction and it is needless to say that they did attract a lot of attention. The solos and recitations were of the highest order and were much enjoyed. Mrs. Marr acted the part of Mrs. Sniggles and her eight daughters were Mrs. Margaret Gammons, Mrs. Margaret Collins, Georgie Michael, Edith Elrick Helen Elrick, Annie Giles, Helen Cumming and Minnie Giles. These same young ladies composed the orchestra of Tuesday evening with Mrs. Marr as their leader. Master Hilton Marr presided at the piano most efficiently.

No fair would be a success without the usual tables for the sale of useful and fancy articles and tables here were very attractive and the goods displayed were most tempting. These tables were in charge of the following ladies:

Fancy table—Margaret McLennon, Annie Jenkins, Ruth Murray.

Bakery—Mrs. Joss, Mrs. McLennon, Mrs. Evans, Mrs. Dawson, Mrs. Muckle.

Dry Goods—Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. McKay, Mrs. Grassick, Mrs. Bishop, Mrs. MacMillin.

Ice Cream—Mrs. Mackie, Mrs. Hayden, Mrs. Tinney, Mrs. Smart, Mrs. Mundie and Mrs. Muckle.

Gift table—Mrs. Matherson and four young girls from her class, Miss Annie Cummings, Miss Huena McLeod, Miss Flora Thompson, Miss Margaret Aberdeen.

Candy table—Miss Jessie Shirley, Miss Annie Walker, Miss Jennie Norrie and Miss Margaret Michael.

The tea table was set in one of the side rooms and was a very attractive spot it being presided over by Mrs. D. McLennon, Mrs. F. Craig, and Mrs. C. Ross.

The fair was in charge of the Ladies Aid society and proved a most enjoyable affair.

Are you reading the new serial story in the Ledger? It began Tuesday. It is one of the stories and plays that has attracted much attention. The play at a Boston theatre a few weeks ago drew crowded houses.

(ADVERTISE.)

QUINCY MUSIC HALL

SATURDAY MATINEE 2.30. SATURDAY NIGHT 8 O'clock
VAUDEVILLE and MOVING PICTURES
Prof. Neville will Lecture on
"TANNHAUSER," A Great 3 Reel Feature
Dec. 4-3t

HERE'S a noteworthy fact about the live store and its service.

Even at this late date you can secure practically as wide a choice in

Kuppenheimer Clothes

as at the beginning of the season.

English, Semi-English or Conservative suits for men and young men of every style and fabric preference.

Copyright 1913 The House of Kuppenheimer

$18 to $27.00

All sorts and sizes in

O'COATS

$18 to $27

$10.00 $12.00 $15.00

Copyright 1913 The House of Kuppenheimer

SUITS AND O'COATS up to the minute for Style and Fabric

By comparison you can prove for yourself a saving to you from $2.00 to $3.00 a Garment.

REMICK'S, Music Hall Block

DOUBLE LEGAL STAMPS

ALL DAY
FRIDAY and SATURDAY
THIS WEEK
AT
REMICK'S
Music Hall Block, Quincy

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second-Class matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the . . . .

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO
Incorporated.

TELEPHONES
News . . . Quincy 425
Business . . Quincy 1910

NOTICE

Again we ask those sending news or other matter by mail to direct it to the company or newspaper rather than to individual members of the company or employees. If addressed to individuals and they were ill or not at the office, it might be several days in reaching its proper destination and if news matter would be too late for use.

Mrs. Pankhurst made $20,000 on her American tour. This will provide some lovely set pieces of fireworks.

As the business world is anxious to have the trust cases finished, it is believed they will be hurried up so as to be decided by Jan. 1, 1920.

There having been only 14 deaths from football this year, some means will have to be devised to stop the feminization of the game.

Gov. Cole Blease of South Carolina pardoned 100 convicts for Thanksgiving, but he has not yet offered any reward to criminals for breaking the law.

In spite of the high prices being paid for all kinds of agricultural produce, there are still millions of young men willing to work for $2.00 a day provided they can wear white cuffs and a biled shirt.

There is a widespread feeling that congressmen and legislators should be elected once a month, so that every one should get his share of the swag.

Congress is to remain in session through the holidays, and it is believed that the clerk and the doorkeeper will be present and continue the currency debate.

The Corn Club boys are raising a hundred bushels to the acre, but the old farmers feel that this is all wrong as their grandfathers didn't do any such thing.

PRECEDENT WORTH SMASHING.

While President Wilson is engaged in the playful diversion of busting precedents into cocked hats, here is one that may well go, equally with the dropping of the New Year reception. That is the custom of receiving delegations of tourists, particularly school children.

If the president of the United States Steel Copany were asked to receive the graduating class of the Bingville High school, who had come in to see the sights, their communication would promptly go to the waste basket. If they got enough attention to secure a note of regret written and signed by a stenographer, they would be lucky.

From a radius of a thousand miles and more, delegations of school pupils flock into Washington, to look at the monument, climb the capitol stairs, gaze at our senators and representatives and other show animals. All which is, on the whole, a good plan, though teachers say the necessary enterprises for raising funds for these class and school excursions greatly interfere with study. But it does pull a boy's eyes open to the glories and achievements of his country, the power and opportunity of his America, to get this glimpse of the big round world before he buckles down to some life job.

But when they come down to Washington and ask the president to quit thinking about Mexico or currency or tariff or other far reaching problems on his mind, they are simply filching time for their own amusement that belongs to all people. Don't make the president a mere lion in the menagerie!

Apparently of late years the president is not so easily accessible as formerly for show purposes. He does not feel so much under obligation to serve as sight seeing material. If he enjoys quitting work for a few moments to grip hands with a bunch of rosy cheeked youngsters, let him do it. But after he has met a few parties, it must become so much added wood to saw.

THE BOYS' CORN CLUBS.

A new spirit is coming over the country boys. Formerly they hoed corn under protest, sleepily dreaming of the big things they could do if they could only break away from the dead old farm. The call of the electric lights and the sky-scrapers dazzled them.

The corn and other crop and domestic science clubs, delegates from which meet in Washington Dec. 11, are revolutionizing farm life wherever started. It's a romance.

"Corn Club" Smith of Mississippi, about 10 years ago, was a High school teacher. One day a backward boy of 20 told him he was going to quit school.

"If I was goin' to be a book-keeper or engineer 'pears like this stuff you'se teachin' might help. But I hain't learnt nothin' that would help me farm, since you showed me how to figure interest on a mortgage."

At first this seemed a dull boy's stupidity. The more Smith thought about it, the more he thought there was something in it. He called the boys and girls together and started corn and canning clubs.

The old farmers laughed. One said he could teach his boy more about raising corn in a day than Smith could in a month. But Smith was working on facts given him by the Department of Agriculture. When one boy raised 125 bushels of corn on an acre, the old farmer opened his eyes very wide.

"I've been just foolin' my time away," he said. "'Taint necessary to cover a whole country to raise enough to feed your family and a mule. Now I'll raise as much on five acres as I used to on twenty." As the result, largely of this impetus Mississippi has doubled its corn crop in five years.

So the story goes in many states. The rural school is becoming a real thing. The merchants are happy, because the farmers are buying more goods. Real estate grows more valuable, and something will be done to the cost of living.

WHAT IS A REAL HOME?

One of the multi-millionaires of the west who has a magnificent town house, a yacht on the Atlantic, mills and factories galore and an art gallery besides, has concluded that he wants a home for the rest of his life. For this purpose he has bought an immense estate, and in a 1600-acre "yard" he has built a $500,000 country house. He will have the house fitted with a $15,000 organ, and will add a show barn costing $100,000.

The windows of the workhouse barns are to overlook beautiful gardens, and the blooded cows will stand on floors of inlaid cork. The attendants must bathe and shave before approaching the cows at milking or feeding time, and everything about the animals will be as clean and sanitary as human skill can make it. The "million-dollar farm," as people around it call it—and it may be well worth the price—is to be enclosed with a $15,000 fence.

People that live in homes costing from $500 to $1000 may roam through the beautiful grounds, and at times even through the palace itself, at will, and can contrast the luxury around them with the meagerness of their own surroundings when at home. And yet it is doubtful whether many of them may covet the fine surroundings of the "million-dollar farm," when they think of the burden of keeping it up, and the almost impossibility of any real home life in such expensive and extensive surroundings.

This is a country of homes. Hundreds in Haverhill, in which a prosperous and happy people live, cost less than $3500, very many of them even $2000 or less. No amount of expense or of beautiful and costly surroundings can of themselves make a real home. Thousands of places in this country more or less like that which this western millionaire is building fail to be real homes for lack of real love that binds households together in one; while hundreds of smaller places are real homes because the occupants love one another.—Haverhill Gazette.

—Thirty-one per cent of all the voters registered and qualified to vote at Spokane's municipal election this fall are women. There are 23,597 voters registered, and 7,342 of these are women, who have had the suffrage in Washington but two years. It is estimated that at least one-half of the women registered during the final 15 days of the registration period. A survey of the registration books indicates that fully two-thirds of those prominent in the activities of women's clubs qualified for voting, while possibly not more than 50 per cent of those identified with society's doings are registered. Mrs. May Arkwright Hutton, one of the best known women's suffrage leaders in the west, took no chances, but registered May 20, beating her husband by nearly four months.

FIFTY PERCENT PROFIT ENOUGH

Says Housewives League Relative to Go'd Storage Eggs

DRAFTING A FEDERAL BILL

Egg Boycott Will Also Be Taken to Congress by Mrs. Ellis Logan, President of Federation of Women's Clubs—Requests Pledges Be Sent to Washington by the Leagues

New York, Dec. 4.—There are about 720,000,000 of the 1912 eggs in cold storage in this country, according to P. Q. Foy. Most of them are stowed away at Chicago, Kansas City, Buffalo, New York and Jersey City. The speculators are holding them for a profit of $3 a case, or 10 cents a dozen.

The Housewives' league is drafting a federal cold storage bill which is intended to limit the profit on storage eggs to 50 percent. That is, eggs bought in April at 18 cents a dozen could not be sold in the following fall or winter at more than 27 cents a dozen, plus storage charge of 2 or 3 cents a dozen.

Illinois farmers have entered into co-operation with the women of Chicago who oppose highpriced storage eggs, and proposed to the boycotters what they believed is a permanent solution of the troublesome question.

"We are willing to sell directly to the housewives of Chicago if they will insure us a steady market," was the substance of the message, that was sent to the women by the delegates who are attending the annual meeting of the Illinois farmers' institute.

Completion of a plan whereby Kansas City consumers may get direct from the country merchant, at a saving of 11 cents a dozen, was announced by Mrs. Willard Q. Church, president of the Kansas City Housewives' league.

Eggs continued selling at Kansas City at 40 cents for the storage kind and 43 for strictly fresh.

Plans to present the egg boycott to congress are being made by leaders in the movement at Washington. Mrs. Ellis Logan, president of the Federation of Women's clubs, who began the movement, has asked housewives' leagues in New York, Chicago, Kansas City, St. Paul, Detroit and other cities where a boycott has been launched to forward their boycott pledges to Washington that they may be presented to committees of congress as an evidence of the attitude of the homemakers of the country.

More than 1,000,000 fresh laid eggs arrived in New York one day this week from nearby poultry regions. Another million eggs, still fresh, but not quite so freshly fresh, came from the outlying zone. Still another million came over the seas from Europe. Almost 4,000,000 "fresh" eggs from European henneries, mostly in Galicia, are due in New York this week.

WANTED SLIGHT DELAY

Executioner Wouldn't Wait For Negro to Read Few More Jokes

Trenton, N. J., Dec. 4.—When Rev. Fr. Edward C. Griffen, Catholic chaplain of the New Jersey state prison, visited William Diamond, a negro murderer, in his cell to tell him that everything was in readiness for his execution, Diamond demurred. He was reading a weekly comic paper and laughing at the jokes and pictures.

What's the hurry?" he asked. "Can't they wait till I finish this paper?"

The priest explained that being executed was a pressing matter, arranged for by the state, and one that did not admit delay other than legal.

"All right," said Diamond, "but I would like to finish that paper."

Diamond, known as "Black" Diamond, reluctantly dropped the paper and went to his death. He was the least concerned man who had anything to do with the execution.

It took four shocks of 1850 volts and 11 amperes each to kill the negro.

BACK GERMAN ARMY

Chancellor and War Minister Jeered by Reichstag Members

Berlin, Dec. 4.—Discussion of the riotous occurrences at Zabern in Alsace, where a German army officer wounded a crippled cobbler with his sword, precipitated one of the stormiest sessions the reichstag has seen for many years.

While the Socialist members hurled insults at the government and pandemonium was narrowly averted, the imperial chancellor, Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg, and Minister of War Falkenhawn were sharply interrogated on the Alsace-Lorraine situation.

The chancellor warmly defended the army, but was not nearly so rabid as was Falkenhawn, who declared the agitation was wholly due to the anti-government press.

State Wide Curfew Law

Boston, Dec. 4.—Another attempt will be made to secure the enactment of a curfew law for the state at the next session of the legislature. A bill has already been filed which provides that it shall be unlawful for any child to be upon any street between 9 p. m., and 4 a. m., except when accompanied.

BAD FIRE AVERTED

There was a narrow escape from a disastrous fire Tuesday morning at the home of Mrs. Helen McGowan, Orchard street, Squantum. Mrs. McGowan upon arising found her home filled with smoke. She rushed to a window and called for help. A number of carpenters at work on a house nearby rushed to the McGowan bungalow and worked hard in putting out a lively blaze that was burning underneath the foundation of the fireplace. The fire had smouldered for hours and had burned through the heavy floor beams. A telephone message brought Chief Littlefield to the scene. It was believed that the fire was out but the chief found the woodwork filled with smoldering embers and chopped away a part of the floor.

WILL WORK TOGETHER

John R. Nelson and Carl E. Carlson were kept busy Tuesday night receiving congratulations of friends upon their election as members of the City Council, a large number of Squantum and Quincy people calling to extend best wishes. Although there was a bitter fight between the two men for the honor of representing Squantum, it is believed the axe will be buried and that both will work with a will for the best interests of Squantum and of Quincy as a whole.

ADVERTISED LETTERS.

J. Bloom, Mrs. A. C. Bryant, J. J. Clegg, Walter E. Cornell, Mairee Dumond, J. Warren Jewell, Mrs. Carl H. Johnson, Patrick Knowles, L. Mackay, Guiseppe, Marrella, Miss S. Marshall, Peter McCrey, Mrs. Margaret McDonald, Paul M. Muckrnsturm, John Phillin, Parla Raimondo, Tlemgr Sspodrony, Klim Tivashyk (2), Miscart Tucuk, Duorencrir Tysriolckui, Cair-Munpano, Vincenzo, Miss Ethel White, Geo. Wilson.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

Perfect biscuit perfectly protected

No matter what National Biscuit Company product you ask for—crackers or cookies, . . wafers or snaps, . . cakes or jumbles—it will be delivered to you in perfect condition, either in packages with the famous In-er-seal Trade Mark, in attractive small tins or from the familiar glass-front cans.

Freshness is assured through the distributing service of the National Biscuit Company, which affords a constant supply of biscuit to every part of the United States.

Buy biscuit baked by

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

Always look for that name

TWENTY-EIGHT DIE IN FLAMES

Boston Has Greatest Holocaust In Her History

BODIES BURNED TO CRISP

Flames Rush Up Narrow Stairway In Arcadia Hotel Cutting Off Escape of 170 Men Who Were Sleeping In Building—Many Injured by Jumping and Inhalation of Smoke

Boston, Dec. 4.—Twenty-eight were killed, nearly a score were injured, and over 100 barely escaped with their lives in a fire that swept through the Hotel Arcadia, 1202 Washington street, South End.

Caught in the fiery furnace twenty-four of the victims were burned to death, many of them almost to a crisp. Three others died at the city hospital. One man is probably fatally injured; others are suffering from inhalation of smoke, cuts and bruises.

According to fire and police officials, it was the worst fire from the standpoint of loss of life the city has ever known.

In several instances when the frenzied men rushed to the windows on the Washington and Laconia street fronts they found they could not open them. Several windows were smashed with bare hands, and several of the rescued showed where the glass had penetrated as they plunged their hands through the panes.

In a number of instances the window sashes could not be raised by the firemen even with the aid of their fire axes and had to beaten in. Most of the windows in the rear leading out on the fire escapes were open, however, though in some cases these were said to stick so that inmates of the house were forced to break them.

Heroic rescues by firemen and police alike saved scores from a terrible death. Many saved themselves by jumping from windows into life nets that had been hastily spread by the firemen. Some were taken down ladders, while others hurled themselves through windows to the pavements regardless of the encouraging shouts of the firemen, driven frantic by the cries of those penned in behind them, who pushed them forward to what seemed an almost sure death.

Of the dead few will ever be identified. They were from the lower straits of human life, many of them street pedlers, beggars and panhandlers.

How the fire started is a mystery. That it rushed up through the winding stairway, sucked up through to the very top of the five-story building, cutting off almost all hope of escape for the 170 inmates that are known to have been sleeping in the little cells and cubicles, with an irresistible force that no human hands could stop, is all that is known.

Only in the rear of the building was there a fire escape. To those who slept nearest the windows leading out to this an avenue was offered, but to those who occupied bunks and cubicles on the front and sides of the building there was no escape.

Most of those burned to death were taken from the top floor, where the bunks are double-tiered, set in large, dormitory-like rooms. These men died like rats in a trap, most of the bodies being burned to cinder.

The Hotel Arcadia was a 15-cent lodging house. Several repairs had been recently completed. Throughout the four upper floors of the five-story structure, of which only the outside walls were brick, frail wooden partitions divided the little cell-like rooms, except on the top floor, where it was an open dormitory. The flames licked up these frail partitions and the excelsior filled mattresses as fire eats up dry hay.

SPENCER WANTS EGGS

Condemned Murderer "Has Only Fifteen More Days to Eat In"

Chicago, Dec. 4.—Henry Spencer, sentenced to be hanged Dec. 19 for the murder of Mrs. Mildred Rexroat, expressed two desires—one that his body be cremated and the ashes scattered in front of the courthouse, where he was tried; the other for eggs.

Owing to the high price of the latter Sheriff Kuhn has eliminated them from the cuisine of the jail at Wheaton, where Spencer is confined. Spencer upbraided the sheriff for limiting the diet of a man "who has only fifteen more days to eat in."

Gallagher Held For Forgery

Manchester, N. H., Dec. 4.—Daniel W. Gallagher, showman and sport promoter, well known throughout New England, is under arrest here charged with forgery and passing false deeds. The amount involved is about $10,000, and Katherine Frain Malone and Mrs. Sarah Frain of Brookline, Mass., are among the alleged victimized parties. Gallagher after a hearing was held in $8000 bail.

Mine Official Gets Jail Term

Phillipi, W. Va., Dec. 4.—Van Bittner, president of district No. 5, United Mine Workers of America, was sentenced to serve sixty days in jail by United States Judge Dayton for violating the court's orders in connection with a coal strike at Colliers, W. Va. Eight other mine leaders, contingent on their good behavior, were given suspended sentences.

Capital $150,000 Surplus $200,000

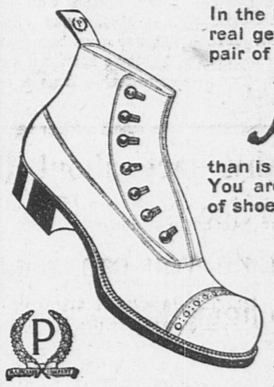
DO YOUR BANKING IN QUINCY

Stop a minute and think. Here is a home bank, a strong local institution. It is near the railroad station, and in the centre of city. It opens earlier and stays open later than the Boston banks. Its safety boxes are rented cheaper. You can know its officers personally. It offers you every privilege that you can get in any bank. Come in and get some facts about this.

Our $5 Box Is Larger Than a $10 Box In Boston.

GRANITE TRUST CO.
FOUNDED 1836

AHEAD OF ALL OTHERS



In the long run you will get more real genuine satisfaction out of a pair of Packard SHOES than is possible with any other line. You are not merely buying a pair of shoes, you are making a paying investment, not only from a monetary standpoint, but also from the standpoint that you are to be satisfied as to your feet, which is worth most of all. PACKARDS insure comfort for your feet, a style that pleases your fancy, and genuine shoe service.

REMICK'S
Music Hall Block, Quincy

At ATLANTIC
Quincy Daily Ledger
On Sale after 3.30 P. M.
--- AT ---
BRANSCHIED & MARTENS
Why not put in an order and have it left every day at your home?

15 to 20
COLUMNS OF LOCAL NEWS
ARE PUBLISHED DAILY
In the Quincy Ledger
THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
PRINTS THE NEWS

THE EDUCATIONAL FIELD

High School — Public Schools
Woodward Institute — Parochial School

One of the newer plans under experiment in the school world, especially in the largest cities is that of the all-year school. Speaking of this, Supt. C. G. Pearse of Milwaukee writes: "With conditions as they are at present in cities, it has become a matter beyond doubt, that the long summer vacation with its two months of idleness is a bad thing.

For those children whose parents take them to the country, perhaps for those who find suitable employment, the change of scene or activity is beneficial, but for those who have nothing to do but play, very likely upon the streets,and for the many thousands who are too young to find employment, this long cessation of consecutive or purposeful effort, the long weeks with nothing to do break down good habits and beget bad ones.

It is beginning to be reasonably clear that it will soon be considered the duty of the public school to continue its sessions for those who wish to take advantage of them, for the full twelve months of the year.

"Not all teachers would or ought to be kept for this work; not all would be needed; not all pupils could or ought to attend through the summer. Those who could leave the city for the country and those who needed or wished to find employment should do so. But there are likely to remain a considerable number who would be better off in the school than they are under the present arrangement.

"A different day's order should be followed in such summer terms; at least half the time should be devoted to out door games, sports and work and to hand work in the school room or at the bench. But a reasonable amount of time may be devoted to the usual school lessions without injury to the small students. Such a plan would mean additional investment for school grounds and equipment, but this investment ought, if possible, to be made any way, for the benefit of all pupils during the school year. It would mean an added expense for school maintenance amounting to 5 or 10 percent. But there is little doubt that the returns would amply justify the investment."

* * *

ADAMS SCHOOL.

Arrangements will soon be made for the dedicatory exercises of the new Adams school. The lights are now all installed and everything about the building in practical working order. The grounds in the rear of the building have been graded in a manner suitable for the childrens games, and from the front of the building to the high bank wall, the rough piles have been smoothed down and made more presentable. The final grading will not be done until spring.

By the change of district lines which was made at the last meeting of the school committee about 50 children now in attendance at the Coddington and Washington schools, will be transferred to the Adams. These children come mainly from Dysart, Main, South, Sumner and Walnut streets. The change will not be made until the opening of the new term, Dec. 29.

* * *

EVENING SCHOOLS.

The decision of the school committee to continue the evening schools without break for the usual Christmas vacation will undoubtedly prove beneficial. There is no reason why an evening school should stop its sessions during a day school vacation, and by making its session continuous the attendance will be better and the interest will be better sustained. The trade classes have nearly completed their session of 20 nights, but the common evening schools still have several weeks to continue.

* * *

WOLLASTON SCHOOL.

The regular meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association will be held in the Assembly hall, Monday evening, December 8 at 8 o'clock. Speaker Dr. Marion LeRoy Burton, President of Smith College. Subject—"Why a girl should go to College." A large attendance is assured. The girls of grade VIII have been making aprons both plain and fancy for several weeks and will hold a sale on Monday evening after the meeting. The proceeds to go for philanthropic work. The boys are holding a candy sale this afternoon to pay for the material.

The dramatics given for the support of the Free Kindergarten netted over two hundred dollars. Much credit is due Mrs. Hatch, chairman of the Kindergarten committee.

Under the auspices of the Philanthropic committee of the Parent-Teachers' Association large quantities of cereals, vegetables, fruits and preserves were brought to school last week by the children and distributed to needy families.

* * *

MASS. FIELDS SCHOOL.

Regular meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association tonight in the school corridor. Speaker—Col. H. L. Kincaide of Quincy, subject—"A trip to South America." Music. All are welcome.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

Edward Messenger, 46 years old, attempted suicide by shooting himself with a revolver at his home 102 Tremont street about 3.30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. He fired two shots from a 32 calibre revolver. One bullet passed through his body and lodged in his clothing and the other is laying over the heart. The family summoned their neighbor chief of police Horace F. Hunt who immediately called in Dr. C. A. Sullivan who in turn sent for Dr. F. H. Merriam Medical examiner John C. Fraser of East Weymouth was also sumoned. Because of his serious condition the physician have not probed for the bullet. After an examination, the physicians ordered the removal of the injured man to the Quincy city hospital.

Mr. Messenger was employed as a driver in Campello and has been living there for the past two years. His wife and family reside at 102 Tremont street, S. Braintree and it is said that he came to town on Wednesday to persuade them to move to Campello. Their refusal is supposed to have been the cause of his rash act. Mr. Messenger's family consists of his wife, two sons and one daughter. His condition is serious.

MRS. ANN RILEY.

Long time friends attended the funeral of Ann, beloved wife of James Riley and mother of patrolman Henry Riley which was held from her home on Hall place, Wednesday morning. A high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Mary's church by Rev. Fr. Thomas F. McCoy. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery. Among those present was a delegation of Quincy police officers, headed by Sargent Ernest Bishop. There were many floral tributes.

(ADVERTISE.)

Only 20 Days
More to Christmas

Select Goods Early in order to have the orders and Engraving properly attended to.

Get a copy of our Xmas Catalogue

SANDBERG BROS.
Jewelers
1281 Hancock St, Quincy

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER and GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
Orchard Place, off Spear street, Quincy

FAIR NETTED NEARLY $600

Ladies' Benevolent Society Sale at Atlantic

The annual Christmas fair of the Ladies Benevolent society of Memorial Congregational church, Atlantic was held in the vestry Tuesday and Wednesday. The fair opened at three o'clock and continued until ten o'clock in the evening. There were fifteen tables—the candy, fancy, punch, china, delicatessen, handkerchief, doll, apron arts and crafts, useful, grab, ice cream, lunch, optician's and men's tables.

Miss Maude E. Read had charge of the candy her committee consisting of Misses Gretchen Young, Winnifred T. Cole, Marion A. Newcomb, Alice Waterhouse and Nellie Buckley. This table had its usual large assortment of homemade candy.

Miss Louise Kolb was chairman of the fancy table, assisted by Miss Ada Harding, Miss Isabel Taberner, Mrs. Paul Butler, Miss Cora Harding, Miss Hilda Taberner, Miss Mary Farrell and Miss Eleanor Nelson. On this table were all sorts of articles suitable for Christmas presents.

The punch table was in charge of Miss Phoebe Buckley and Miss Marguerite Brown, who served a most delicious fruit punch.

Mrs. T. W. Davison was chairman of the china table, assisted by Mrs. George Height, Jr., Mrs. David Hamilton, Miss Marjorie Young, Miss Hazel C. Davison, Mrs. William Colburn, and Miss May Buckley. On this table was a large assortment of handpainted china and cut glass.

The delicatessen table was in charge of Mrs. Isabel Smith, assisted by Mrs. Fred Osgood and Mrs. C. A. Stearns and there was a goodly variety of home cooking.

Handkerchief table—Mrs. John A. Murray. The handkerchiefs were from all parts of the world.

Mrs. William Hersey was chairman of the doll table assisted by Mrs. Harvey Holt, Mrs. Alva Beede, Mrs. John Lilly and Mrs. William Davy.

Apron table—Mrs. B. F. Thomas chairman, Mrs. Sarah Butler, Mrs. R. A. Dennison, Mrs. Robert Harding, Mrs. Eugene Hayford, Mrs. John Welch, and Mrs. F. S. Bowman and there were aprons of all descriptions and sizes.

Arts and crafts were in charge of Mrs. W. F. Cummings, assisted by Mrs. F. A. Bartlett, Mrs. Herbert J. Beeman, Mrs. C. E. Cherrington, Mrs. Walter Conant, Mrs. John Fuller and Mrs. H. W. Read. This table also had a variety of Christmas articles.

Mrs. Millard Baker was chairman of the useful table and the committee—Mrs. Charles Letteny, Mrs. John LaTour, Mrs. J. D. Rogers, Mrs. Spencer Apollonio, Mrs. Cecil Marble, Mrs. Gorham Damon and Mrs. Lyndon Gurney. This table had an excellent display of useful articles.

Grab table—Mrs. Welcome Young, assisted by Mrs. John Peacock and Miss Clara VonEmden. There was a large Christmas tree on which the grabs were tied and distributed by a real Santa Claus.

Mrs. A. H. Hall and Miss Hazel Davison had charge of the ice cream.

Th lunch table from which supper was served was in charge of Mrs. James Geekie, assisted by Mrs. Samuel Philbrook and Mrs. Thomas Smith.

David Hamilton was chairman of the men's table his committee consisting of Harvey Holt, John LaTour, John W. Abbott, Harry Beal, Thornton Read, Alvin Mitchell and Clifton Young. On this table there was everything on sale from a can of corn to a ton of coal.

R. A. Dennison had charge of the opticians' table.

The church vestry and the tables were decorated with streamers of red and green crepe paper and gold tinsel.

During the evening Mrs. A. H. Hall chairman of the fair, and the one to whom much credit is due for its success, was presented with a handpainted punch bowl by a committee of all the tables. Rev. T. W. Davison was presented with a table by the committee on the men's table.

At ten o'clock Wednesday evening, each table reported financially as follows:

Arts and crafts	27.05
Useful	45.41
Apron	40.47
Doll	55.00
Handkerchief	21.45
Men's	37.95
Punch	11.25
Candy	34.72
Fancy	19.00
Grab	20.66
Optician	2.60
China	144.50
Delicatessen	14.36
Ice cream	14.70
Lunch	18.18
Tickets	46.35
	$553.65

It is expected that the proceeds will reach over six hundred dollars when the money is all in.

For Better-Paying Poultry

Sheridan's CONDITION Powder

helps hens turn feed into eggs. Use it and get the most out of your poultry. It whets the appetite, gives good digestion. Makes young chicks grow.

Package 15c
2-lb. can 75c, at dealers'
12 lbs. (delivered) $3.60

I. S. JOHNSON & CO., Inc.
Boston, Mass.

MEETING OF BOARD OF TRADE

Considerable Business at the Monthly Meeting

There was a good attendance Wednesday evening at the regular meeting of the Quincy Board of Trade. There was no special business assigned for the meeting other than the appointing of a committee to report a list of names for officers to be voted for at the annual meeting. As usual however there were other matters that came up so that it was 11 o'clock before an adjournment was reached.

The committee appointed to bring in a list of nominations for officers were E. O. Woodward, Warren S. Parker, B. F. Macomber, and Arthur Pinel.

A communication was received from Stephen B. Little, President of the Ward Four Improvement association relative to the accepting by the state highway commission of Willard street as a state highway. The letter stated that a public meeting would be held this evening at which the matter would be taken up and that representatives would be present from adjoining towns and the Board of Trade was urged to send a committee.

It was voted to appoint a special committee, and E. O. Woodward, Peter T. Fallon, James H. Elcock, John O. Hall and President Hamilton were appointed.

The committee on Transportation was directed to take up the matter of extending the workingmen's tickets on the steam railroad between Quincy and Boston to later in the morning and to confer with the Houghs Neck Associates in its movement in this direction.

John F. Merrill, chairman of the County Commissioners was present and spoke at length on the rights of county commissioners to lay out roads in cities and towns. This question came up in connection with the bill which the Houghs Neck Associates are to present to the Legislature so to give the County Commissioners authority to build Rock Island road.

Another matter that was brought to the attention of the Board was the new state law relative to the employment of women. Under this law it is unlawful to employ any women in any mercantile establishment more than 54 hours or more than 10 hours in any one day.

With the approach of the Christmas holidays is was deemed to be advisable that the attention of the merchants of Quincy should be called to this law and after some discussion it was voted to notify all merchants in regard to the same.

It was voted to hold a special meeting sometime in January at which the Board would hear a talk from an expert on road building.

The secretary announced that he was unable to arrange for a speaker to address the board on the retail merchants question for the present meeting but hoped to do so later.

At the close of the business session refreshments were served.

Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

BIG BROTHERS AS HOSTS

Bethany Brotherhood Entertain Boys at Grand Banquet

Big Brothers' night was a novelty for Bethany Brotherhood on Wednesday evening, when 60 to 70 members had as guests at Bethany chapel an equal number of boys aged 10 to 15 years. Each man was expected to be chummy with a particular boy, both at the reception and at the banquet.

The feast was served at 6.30 and included individual chicken pies, mashed potato, rolls, ice cream and cake, apples, bananas, grapes, and cocoa with whipped cream. The committee on banquet were: Ernest L. Collins, Arthur Innis. Chester Sabean, Melville Hayward, Charles Gragg, Dr. C. T. Sherman, Henry Hayward, and Wesley Beckford.

At the head table were President Frank W. Crane; H. W. Gibson, boys work secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of Massachusetts and Rhode Island; Rev. B. A. Willmott, Secretary A. F. Bromley of the Y. M. C. A.; H. P. Hayward, Richard D. Wetherell, Sir Merlin of the Knights of King Arthur and the officers of the Knights of King Arthur as guests of the men named.

President Crane welcomed the boys and first introduced A. L. Hayden, whose solo was so acceptable that he was recalled. He was accompanied by Frank C. Gilbert.

Sir Merlin Wetherell told of the objects of the Knights of King Arthur an international order. It owed allegiance only to Bethany church and its objects are to combat irreverence, to overcome lack of courtesy, and inculcate loyalty to the church.

Secretary Gibson was the speaker of the evening, and just the one to address a "Big Brothers" banquet. At the outset he said boys were fifty per cent noise and fifty per cent dirt. Older people are sometimes out of sympathy with noise, but that is because men take their business home with them. At High school sports, noise is organized. What would a Harvard-Yale football game be without noise. It is the mother who worries over dirt, but boys and dirt have an affinity. Parents make a mistake in not becoming interested in the activities of boys. Boys are worth more than carpets. Give the boys a good room and let them fill it with "stuff." Making a life should be more important to a father than making a living.

A father is a moral coward who neglects to instruct his son in sex education. Better two years early than two days late. He hoped sex instruction would never become a part of the public school course. It was the duty of parents and churches. Fathers should be chummy with their sons in little things. Boys respect authority, but should have also justice. Help to interpret the boy who is dreamy. Boys are really greatly interested in religion if presented to them properly. Sometimes parents unconsciously become stumbling blocks in the religious progress of boys. He told the boys that they should be sympathetic, and show appreciation of sacrifices of parents. When away from home write long letters instead of postals to father and mother. Be chummy.

Long applause was given the speaker at the conclusion and also a rising vote of thanks.

PUBLIC LIBRARY NOTES.

If one cares to make a tarry-at-home journey, he has only to visit the Art gallery at the Thomas Crane Public Library and there be taken to the fields of "buried sunshine."

The Library Art club exhibit for this month is a collection of fifty-seven photographs of the anthracite coal fields and the process of coke manufacture in Pennsylvania.

Most of the pictures are of the mines at Scranton, Pa., and are made doubly interesting by the descriptive text accompanying them.

The views show the means of making an entrance to a mine, the process of obtaining coal, its breaking, screening and loading for shipment. Then come pictures of the great ovens used in the manufacture of coke, the smoke consumers and innumerable modern devices for the elimination of waste.

The home life of the miners in their neat villages is pictured, and one or two views give a vivid idea of the effect which the fumes and smoke from the coke ovens have upon the vegetation of the region.

☞PRATT'S BREAD is baked for those who want good bread. Grocers sell it.

THE CORSET SHOP
8 Maple Street

All Popular makes of
Corsets and Brassieres
Hosiery and
McCall Patterns
Correct fitting of Corsets a specialty

I have been very fortunate to have, during my temporary absence, the services of an expert corsettiere, who who will give the same personal attention to fittings and alterations as has always been accorded to customers.

MISS S. E. DUNPHY
Oct. 30-tf

THAYER—OSBORN.

The wedding of Alfred Edmund Thayer and Miss May Elizabeth Osborn, at Gainsville, Florida, Nov. 23, was one of the prettiest home weddings of the season. Devoted friends of the bride had changed the house into a bower of flowers. In the parlor autumn's favorite, the chrysanthemum, in yellow and white, were banked against palms, ferns and other pot plants. From the center of the ceiling was suspended a big bell of asparagus sprengeri and yellow chrysanthemums. The library decorations were entirely of white chrysanthemums, lilies and pink oleanders. Ferns and roses, pink, yellow and white, graced every available space in the dining-room, and a single shower bouquet of pink roses formed the table center-piece.

Promptly at 1 P. M., Miss Helen Harrison took her seat at the piano and to the accompaniment of the wedding march two little cousins of the bride drew aside the portieres for the entrance of the bridal couple. Crossing to the center of the room they stood under the flower bell while Dr. John G. Anderson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, made them man and wife, using the beautiful ring ceremony.

The bride wore a beautiful dark blue coat suit and carried an arm bouquet of asparagus plumosa, white roses and white chrysanthemums.

The guests included only relatives and most intimate friends.

The bride is from Berthoud, Colo., but spent last winter in Gainsville, the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Cubberly, and won for herself a large circle of devoted friends who will wish for her unbounded happiness, and only regret that her home will not be in Gainesville. Attractive in person, charming in manner, she numbers her friends by her acquaintances. The groom is from Quincy, Mass., but has spent several years in the South and has for some time past been a valued employe of the Murphy Iron Works, Jacksonville, Florida, where they make their home and have been receiving their friends since Dec. 1st.

MASS MEETING ON WILLARD ST.

Ward Four Improvement Association to Discuss Question

The residents of West Quincy, especially the Ward Four Improvement association are thoroughly in earnest in their efforts to have the Highway Commission accept Willard street as a state highway. They point out that it is a street used but little by Quincy people but used to a great extent by automobiles going too and from the South Shore.

Tonight the association has planned a mass meeting to be held in St. Joseph's hall to which representatives of the towns of Braintree, Randolph, Avon, Holbrook and Milton as well as the City of Brockton are expected to be present. The City Council has also been invited to be present and the Board of Trade will be represented by a committee. The idea of the meeting is to formulate some plan for a concerted action by the towns and cities directly interested in the street, that enough pressure may be brought upon the Highway Commission to accept it.

The street is now in a bad condition and sadly in need of repair.

Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

LAND COURT.

To Elizabeth C. Hall and Annie J. Lincoln, of Taunton, in the County of Bristol, and said Commonwealth; Arthur F. Hall, of Everett, Sophia T. Parker, of Framingham, George W. Souther of Newton in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth; Darius W. Gilbert, Edward E. H. Souther, Catherine D. Stevens, E. Pomroy Collier, Emily L. Bates and Paul J. Bates, of Cohasset, in the County of Norfolk, and said Commonwealth; Alexander E. Stoddard and William O. Souther, Jr., of said Cohasset and George E. Adams of Quincy, in said County of Norfolk, Trustees under the will of Elliot Stoddard; Harriet R. Eaton, of Portland, in the State of Maine; James W. Hall and Elizabeth B. Hall, of Winslow, in the State of Washington; Nellie B. Sander, of Seattle, in said State of Washington; Sarah L. Attridge of Hoguiam, in said State of Washington; George O. Hall and Clara P. Hall of Burlingame, in the State of California; Maria H. Billings of Mill Valley, in said State of California; Phoebe B. Weil, of Oakland, in said State of California; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Ella H. Stoddard of said Cohasset, to register and confirm her title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land situate in said Cohasset, and being shown on plan of land, Cohasset, Mass., belonging to heirs of Isaac Hall dated May 11, 1912, E. C. Sargent, Surveyor, recorded with Norfolk Deeds and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point on Highland Avenue at land now or formerly of the estate of Allen C. Bates, thence running along said Highland Avenue in a northerly direction twenty-nine and 78-100 (29.78) feet to land now or formerly of the estate of George Hall, thence turning and running a little north of east one hundred sixteen (116) feet to a point, thence turning and running in a northerly direction ninety-eight and 8-10 (98.8) feet to a stone wall at land now or formerly of Darius H. Gilbert, thence turning and running in a northeasterly direction by said wall and a ledge by an irregular line about two hundred fifty five feet to a point at land now or formerly of Edward Stevens, thence turning and running along said land of Stevens by a stone wall in a general southeasterly direction by an irregular line about two hundred eighty-one feet to land of the estate of Elliot Stoddard, thence turning and running in a southwesterly direction by said land of the estate of Elliot Stoddard three hundred twenty-nine and 50-100 (329.50) feet to a ledge and land now or formerly of E. P. Collier, thence turning and running in a northwesterly direction along said ledge seventy-two and 55-100 (72.55) feet to a bolt in said ledge, thence turning and running a little north of west fifty-seven and 16-100 (57.16) feet to a drill in a ledge, thence turning and running in a westerly direction along land now or formerly of the estate of Allen C. Bates two hundred four and 9-100 (204.09) feet to the point of beginning. Containing according to said plan 80,290 square feet more or less.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition, and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

You are hereby cited to appear at the Land Court to be held at Boston, in the County of Suffolk, on the fifth day of January A. D. 1914, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, Charles Thornton Davis, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this second day of December in the year nineteen hundred and thirteen.

Attest with Seal of said Court.
CLARENCE C. SMITH,
Recorder.
(Seal.)
Dec. 4-3t 4-11-18

Penniman's
TAXI SERVICE

Taxies and Touring Cars with careful and safe drivers to let for all occasions.

C. H. PENNIMAN, Prop.
Telephone 207.
June 13-tf

Quincy Daily Ledger

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30.
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branschied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
Newcomb Square—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. Smith.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck.
L. A. Cook, Washington Street.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington Street.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield Water st.
A. Pierson, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—Capt. Fosdick's.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity: Firday fair and somewhat cooler.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	6.58
Sun sets	4.12
Length of day	9.14
Moon rises	11.54
High water, A. M.	4.45
High water, P. M.	5.00
Days decrease 6 hours,	3 minutes
Full Moon, Dec. 13,	10.00 A. M.
Last Quarter, Dec. 20	11.16 A. M.
New Moon, Dec. 27	9.59 A. M.
First Quarter, Dec. 5,	9.59 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today	44 degrees
Dec. 4 1912,	53 degrees
Dec. 4, 1911,	29 degrees

Dec. Noon Maximum 14 years—67
Dec. Noon Minimum, 14 years—2

CLOSING NIGHT OF BAZAAR

The second day of the Japanese Bazaar being held in the Wollaston Methodist Vestry took place with greater success than the opening day.

A larger crowd availed themselves of the opportunity to purchase and enjoyed the entertainment presented in the evening.

The feature of the entertainment was a Japanese drill by a group of ten young ladies in dainty costumes. The drill was in two parts, the first a pretty fan drill and the second a burlesque drill with costumes reversed and masks on the back of the head.

The young ladies taking part were Francina Crothers, Mildred Kingsley, Eleanor Wright, Verna Bent, Ida Clifford, Ruth Parker, Lillian Walters, Jeannie Keith, Lena Thompson and Florence Palmer.

The drill was produced under the direction of Mrs. F. G. Bennett, Mrs. O. E. Estes and Mrs. S. N. Belcher. Between the parts piano duets by Mrs. Estes and Miss Kathleen Jones were enjoyed.

The ladies parlor was turned into a Japanese tea garden where tea was served and imported Japanese goods were on sale.

Wednesday afternoon was Small Children's Day and a large number of the tots took advantage of the reduced rates.

Among other features was a fruit exchange where ladies who had an oversupply of preserves of one kind could pay five cents and exchange with some other lady. A grab called the Parcel Post Office was in charge of Mrs. Charles Hills.

Solid and gold plated jewelry was on sale by the pastor's wife Mrs. George M. Bailey. The decorations of the vestry and tables were in very good taste, being the work of Mrs. Howard Falconer and Mrs. L. E. Crosscup, assisted by the Queen Esther Circle of young ladies.

A magazine table was in charge of Francina Crothers, Marjorie Fownes, Lena Thompson, Elvira Lightbody, Florence Palmer, Lillian Walters and Ruth arker.

In charge of the Japanese room were: Clarence Cassidy, Miss Bessie Wilbur, Miss Marion Clifford, Miss Beulah Collett, Miss Alfreda Dewsnap, Mrs. W. A. Sutermeister and Miss Hilda Bailey.

The other tables and their chairmen were:

Domestic—Miss Aurelia Merrill.
Fancy—Mrs. Eric Ewertz.
Candy and Neckwear—Mrs. H. B L. Dimmick.
Lunch—Mrs. George Taylor.

CHICHESTER S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chichester's Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER'S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

TENNIS CLUB BOWLING MATCH

Litchfield High Man With Singles, Hoxie Second

The Wollaston Tennis Club held its weekly rolloff on the Coliseum alleys Wednesday evening. Litchfield made 112 for high single and was trailed by Baker with 109 and Hoxie with 107. Munroe netted 300 for high three string total. Capt. Bakers team secured high string total with 448 and high team total with 1256.

The match between the teams of Captain Powers and Geddes was won by the former, 3 to 1. Easily taking the first two, their drop of the third was too small to affect their total. The summary:

CAPT. POWERS.

Ela	78	78	78	234
Murray	96	82	73	251
Bartlett	90	82	75	247
Bishop	84	83	83	250
Powers	86	96	82	264
	434	421	391	1246

CAPT. GEDDES.

Albee	76	61	79	216
Gardner	81	81	82	244
McLean	77	80	104	261
Manning	91	69	77	237
Geddes	88	80	86	254
	413	371	428	1212

Captain Estes defeated Capt. Hoxie, 3 to 1. The second string was lost by four pins but their lead in the first, third and total was decisive. The summary:

CAPT. ESTES.

R. Baker	86	70	78	234
Nickerson	73	65	83	221
Cranshaw	79	63	65	207
Estes	94	97	97	288
Jenner	93	90	88	271
	425	385	411	1221

CAPT. HOXIE.

Wilmart	69	69	7	208
Oldham	74	74	75	223
Bird	76	76	77	229
Raymond	82	88	66	236
Hoxie	107	82	90	279
	408	389	378	1175

Captains Emery and Litchfield divided the points, the former taking the first two and the latter the third and team total. This match was closely contested but seven pins separating the teams in the total. The summary:

CAPT. LITCHFIELD.

W. Baker	66	87	84	237
Crossby	63	85	108	256
Hiller	88	92	71	251
Hillman	81	78	101	260
Litchfield	112	92	74	278
	410	434	438	1282

CAPT. EMERY.

W. Smith	77	75	88	240
Baker	77	83	80	240
Brigham	71	75	73	219
Emery	93	99	84	276
Munroe	101	108	91	300
	419	440	416	1275

Captain Bakers aggregation beat the quintette of Capt. Green, 3 to 1. Greens bowlers took the first string by 27 but dropped the two remaining strings and the team total. The summary:

CAPT. BAKER.

Hutton	81	82	88	251
Weld	81	81	87	249
L. Smith	74	88	71	233
Brown	90	77	93	260
Baker	80	74	109	263
	406	402	448	1256

CAPT. GREEN.

Davis	106	91	86	283
Carr	75	69	91	235
Nelson	84	81	74	239
Raymond	88	76	98	262
Green	80	73	77	230
	433	390	426	1249

COLISEUM NOTES.

The daily prize at the Coliseum alleys for best single outside of competition went to Buell on Wednesday who made 128.

Among the familiar faces seen at the alleys again is Bernard Burke, last years leader of the shipyard team in the Fore River league. He has been to Panama for several months, during which time bowling and he have been strangers. He has commenced to show speed in the few strings rolled so far and toppled the maples for 135 Wednesday night. Burke is a consistent roller and as soon as he regain his form will issue challenges to the highest average men in the city.

REBELS OCCUPY NORTH MEXICO

Take Territory Abandoned by Huerta's Federal Troops

VILLA ON WAY TO CHIHUAHUA

Will Enter City With Seven Thousand Troops and Establish Temporary Military Headquarters of Constitutionalists—Will Carry Tattered Flags to Capital

Juarez, Mex., Dec. 4.—A new era began in northern Mexico. It marked the peaceful occupation by the rebels of the territory abandoned by Huerta's federal troops.

With 2000 rebels, General Francisco Villa, en route from Juarez to the evacuated city of Chihuahua, passed through Ahumada, eighty-five miles south of the border, and camped at Montezuma, thirty miles further south.

Five thousand more rebels will join him on the way, and with a combined force of 7000 men he will enter the state capital, there to establish what will be the temporary military headquarters of the constitutionalist party.

When the rebels enter Chihuahua with the tattered Mexican flags, which they are carrying as symbolical of their demands for a restoration of constitutional government, they will have Zacatecas as the nearest federal stronghold in the south. It is towards that city that Villa insists he will march.

The flight of General Salvador Mercado, the federal governor and commander-in-chief, with all his officers and troops, after sending a peace commission to Villa, whose answer he did not wait to receive, makes possible the rebel occupation of the city without a fight. The fact that Mercado sent a commission to Villa through Ferdrico Maye, the civil governor ad interim, was regarded as a mask to enable Mercado to get away.

So far the rebels and federals have had no parleys of any character, and Villa said he thought Huerta's officers would not expect clemency from him. No word was received from the fleeing federal generals and the band of civilian refugees. The rebels express the belief that after escorting the civilians to the border the officers might retreat to Nuevo Leon state, as Generals Orozco and Salazer are under indictments in the United States for violation of the neutrality laws.

Monterey and the few remaining federal strongholds in Nuevo Leon and other northern states, Villa said, would be left to local bands of rebels. He intends to direct his main army toward Mexico City.

"I will have 20,000 men surrounding Mexico City about Christmas time," Villa said. "Our numbers will increase as we march southward, and by the time we reach the capital the people in the city will be ready to join us."

A message received from Chihuahua by a courier said the city was quiet, and the residents, including the Americans, were much relieved by the exodus of the federals. It was stated Mercado had been bankrupt for weeks, and that soldiers had been without pay for so long they threatened looting and mutiny.

SOCIETY INTERESTED

Wedding of Miss Esther Moreland and Henry E. Oelrichs

New York, Dec. 4.—Miss Esther Moreland, daughter of Andrew M. Moreland of Pittsburgh, was married to Henry E. Oelrichs of New York and Newport, son of Charles M. Oelrichs by Mgr. Lavelle.

Society was greatly interested in this marriage. For two seasons Miss Moreland, with her sister and mother, has lived at Newport, where she has been greatly admired for her beauty and accomplishments. Last summer they occupied Beachmound, the villa of Benjamin Thaw. The previous summer they spent at Mrs. Lee Thomas' place, Stonecre.

BANK MANAGER SHOT

Masked Bandit Secures $10,000 and Escapes In Automobile

Plum Coulee, Man., Dec. 4.—A masked bandit held up the Bank of Montreal branch here, stole $10,000 in currency, shot and killed the bank manager, H. M. Arnold, and escaped in a stolen automobile.

Mounted police and a posse of citizens followed the automobile trail to the hills, not a great distance from this town, and are believed to have surrounded him on the wooded bluff.

School children who witnessed the robber's escape gave the alarm.

Rev. Samuel W. Dike Dead

Boston, Dec. 4.—Rev. Samuel Warren Dike, 75 years old, Congregational minister and writer upon political, religious and sociological subjects, died at his home in Auburndale after a brief illness. He was ordained as a minister forty-four years ago and held pastorates in Royalston and Randolph, Vt., and later in Pomfret, Conn.

Wilson Men In Control

Trenton, N. J., Dec. 4.—New Jersey Democrats in caucus have selected A. M. Beekman for speaker of the house, and John W. Slocum for president of the senate.

VICTORIANO HUERTA

Latest Picture of Provisional President of Mexico

© 1913, by American Press Association.

KILLED HIS MOTHER

Accused Slayer Tells Jury of Burning of His Home

Clinton, Mo., Dec. 4.—Tilly O. Puckett, charged with murdering his mother, testified that his mother, Mrs. Susan Makinson, quarrelled with him because she did not like his wife.

"Ma wanted me to drive my wife away," he said, "but I told her I never would do that. Then she said she would rather see us both nailed in coffins than living together."

Puckett said that on the night of his mother's death he awoke to find his house afire, and fired at someone going out the rear door. He said he then carried his wife and child from the house.

Not until the fire was nearly extinguished did he discover his mother's body under some charred porch timbers. This, Puckett said, was the first he knew of his mother being near the house.

MAINE STATION AGENT ARRESTED

Charged With Violation of Prohibitory Law of State

Portland, Me., Dec. 4.—Elbridge L. Waterhouse, Boston and Maine station agent at West Scarboro, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Campbell, charged with violation of the prohibitory liquor law.

Much of the liquor intended for sale in Portland is received at this station, and the charge against Waterhouse is thta he assisted in the delivery of this liquor to consignees. This is the first case of the kind in the county and it is believed in the state.

MAIL CAR ROBBED

Thieves Get $87,500 From Train Between Brussels and Cologne

Verviers, Belgium, Dec. 4.—A package containing $87,500 in German bank notes was extracted from the mail car of an express train which left Brussels for Cologne. The money had been forwarded by the National Bank of Belgium to a bank at Cologne, and was placed in a safe, which was forced by the thieves.

Another mail train which arrived in Brussels an hour after the departure of the express for Cologne also was robbed, several valuable packages being missing.

No trace of the thieves has been found.

WILL BE ARRESTED

Preparations Being Made to Take Mrs. Pankhurst Into Custody

Plymouth, Eng., Dec. 4.—Preparations are understood to have been made for the arrest of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant suffragette leader, on her arrival here from the Majestic. A force of suffragettes under the command of "Gen" Mrs. Flora Drummond will, it is said, be on the spot ready to fight for their leader's freedom.

The chief constable at Plymouth, who confirms the report that Mrs. Pankhurst is to be arrested, is preparing an adequate force so as to be in readiness to deal with any attempt at rescue which may be made by the militant suffragettes.

CARDINAL'S DEAN DYING

Pope Sends Apostolic Benediction to Stricken Man

Rome, Dec. 4.—Cardinal Luigi Oreglia di Santo Stefans, dean of the sacred college and the only surviving cardinal created by Pope Pius IX., is is with pneumonia.

In view of the advanced age of the cardinal—he was born in 1832—serious apprehensions are felt at the Vatican for his recovery.

The pope sent his private secretary, Monsignor Bressen, to inquire after the condition of Cardinal Oreglia, and to bear the apostolic benediction to the stricken cardinal.

Forty Men Out of Work by Fire

Northampton, Mass., Nov. 17.—Forty men were thrown out of work when a small mill in Williamsburg owned by Gilbert M. Bradford was burned.

DETECTIVES ON GUARD

Only 25 Invited to Attend Funeral of William C. Russell

Melrose, Mass., Dec. 4.—Only those who could produce formal invitations were admitted at the funeral services of William C. Russell. A curious crowd of men and women, including many who said they were supporters of Dakota Dan, gathered near the Russell estate during the afternoon.

The body rested in a black broadcloth casket in the front room of the residence, guarded by three detectives. On the front piazza other detectives were on guard. About twenty-five attended the services.

Rev. Harold Marshall, pastor of the First Universalist church, conducted the services. There was no singing, Daniel Blake Russell, or "Fresno Dan," who was acknowledged as the real brother of the deceased, was in the room near the casket during the services, but did not show any signs of grief.

It is said the will may not be made public for some time.

STONE COMPANIES DAMAGED

New York State Stopped Their Work at the Palisades

New York, Dec. 4.—Justice Mills of the supreme court, confirms the report of the commissioners who made awards to stone companies for damages due to the state stopping the work of slicing off the Palisades near Haverstraw.

The proceedings to condemn this section were brought by the state to preserve the scenery for the Palisade interstate park, for which the late E. H. Harriman deeded to the state many hundreds of acres.

The Haverstraw Crushed Stone company, the Clinton Point Stone company and the owners of the land claimed damages aggregating between $6,000,000 and $7,000,000. The commission made awards amounting to about $700,000.

MEMORIAL ARCH FOR GETTYSBURG

Commission Decide on Massachusetts Tribute to Soldiers

Boston, Dec. 4.—The commission appointed by the last legislature has decided on a memorial arch to span Hancock avenue on the field of Gettysburg, which will be the first memorial of its kind ever erected on the famous battleground, as Massachusetts' tribute to her veteran dead.

Colonel E. O. Shelton, senior vice commander of the department of Massachusetts, G. A. R., is chairman of the commission, which consists also of Captain Augustus J. Holt and Ralph A. Cram, the architect. The commission was appointed to report to the 1914 legislature plans and sketches of a proposed memorial. It will meet the national Gettysburg commission next week and obtain a location for the memorial.

AN EDITOR'S JOKE

Gold Brick For His Wife Which Cost $85 Cash

Winsted, Conn., Dec. 4.—Seventeen years ago John McDowall, then editor of The Saratogian, published at Saratoga, N. Y., handed his wife, who now lives in Winsted, several sealed envelopes and told her to take good care of them, as they were valuable. She immediately rented a safe deposit box in Saratoga for $5 a year and placed the envelopes in it. McDowall died seven years ago, but not until this week did his widow open them. She found each of the envelopes empty. Mrs. McDowall had paid $85 rental for the safety deposit box.

Members of the McDowall family cannot explain why the editor did such a thing, but he had the reputation among friends of being a practical joker.

MEETING STOPPED

Equal Suffrage League Violated St. Louis City Ordinance

St. Louis, Dec. 4.—The open air meetings of the woman suffrage advocates which were launched here were stopped by a policeman. He informed the women that they were blocking a sidewalk in violation of the city ordinances and that no public meetings could be held without a permit from the mayor.

Mrs. Edith Barriger, president of the Equal Suffrage league, said she would get a permit. The policeman then signed the women's petition for the submission to the voters of a suffrage amendment to the state constitution.

Governor Foss Sued

Boston, Dec. 4.—James Moriarty, former president of the Central Labor union, has filed his promised $100,000 suit against Governor Eugene N. Foss for alleged libel, in the Suffolk superior court. The alleged libel arose from a political speech made by Foss in his campaign this year for governor.

Former Governor Ladd Buried

Providence, Dec. 4.—Ex-Governor Herbert W. Ladd was buried in Swan Point cemetery, after a brief and simple funeral service in the Central Congregational chapel. Governor Pothier, several former governors and a number of men prominent in the public life of the state attended.

BEER IN ANCIENT ENGLAND.

When the Law Demanded "Drynke" For the King's Subjects.

Authorities in England formerly took pains that the Londoner should not miss his full share of ale. In the sixteenth century, for instance, the brewer who ceased to brew was faced with the loss of his business. Thus, if the mayor got wind of "any of the saide brewers, of their frowarde and perverse myndes, shall at any time hereafter sodenly forbeare and absteyne from bruyinge, whereby the king's subjects should be destitute or unprovided of drynke," he knew exactly what to do. The city council was empowered to take over the business as a going concern and to take measures to see that it was kept going.

The cry then and for centuries after was all for beer. There is record of a petition of 1673, for instance, praying that tea, coffee and brandy be banned. The petitioners reasoned that the laborers needed "good strong beer and ale," which "refreshed their bodies and neither did them prejudice nor hindered their work."

Besides, it cost little and was the product of home grown grain, whereas the new fangled drink was expensive and destroyed his majesty's subjects, "not agreeing with their constitution."—Chicago News.

LIGHT AND HEAT.

How They Reach Us From Out the Icy Coldness of Space.

In answer to the question, "It is thought that in space eternal cold and darkness prevail—what then is the explanation of the fact that both light and heat from the sun, some 90,000,000 miles away in cold space, reach the earth?" Edgar Lucien Larkin in the New York American says:

"Heat and light as such do not reach the earth from our own and 100,000,000 more suns. Radiant energy is transmitted by undulations or waves in electrons, which energy is in the forms of waves of varying lengths and amplitudes. When some of these energy impulses impinge on matter able to receive and appropriate them heat and light result.

"Many molecules in many thousands of kinds of matter are able to translate energy waves into heat, while others are translated as light on the retina of the eye and in the brain. But no heat nor light develops until the waves strike forms of matter fitted to receive, appropriate and translate.

"Thus energy will pass through a 'burning glass' made of ice, converge to a focus and set light objects on fire."

CHOICE ARTICLES FROM THE PHILIPPINES

LUCBON HATS—Very best grade of the famous Panamas and Bankoks made. Absolutely none better, woven under water by hand. Can be crushed into a ball and not lose shape. Made for both Ladies and Gentlemen. $5 and $10.

ROMBLON MATS—Handsomest and most durable Grass Mats or Rugs made in the world. Beautiful colors and designs, large enough to cover one-half floor of rooms, $5.

MANILA CIGARS—$3 for a trial box of the Very Best Cigars made in the Philippines.

Oriente Cigarrettes—Best made, large package containing 25 small packages, 750 Cigarrettes, $2.

Sent by registered mail, free of duties, on receipt of price.

C. A. SHORT & CO.,
Lucena, Tay, P. I.

Oct. 4 I.&O 3m

QUINCY REGISTRY FOR NURSES

29 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.

Will supply trained and practical nurses, attendants and nursery assistants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.

MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar,
Tel. Quincy 131-W.

Bay State Street Railway Company

TIME TABLE

In effect April 2, 1913.

(Subject to change without notice.

Leave QUINCY for

Braintree, 6.15, 6.50 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.50 P. M. Sundays 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Braintree, 6.25 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.25 P. M. Sundays, 7.55 A. M. and then same as week days.

Brockton, 6.15, 6.50 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Brockton 6.20, 7 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 9.30 P. M. Sundays, 8 A. M. then same as week days.

West Quincy, and East Milton, 5.30 5.50, 6.10 A. M., and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M.) Sundays, 6.50 A. M. then same as week days. Return leave East Milton, 5.55, 6.15, 6.45 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.45 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.10 midnight.) Sundays, 7.25 A. M., then same as week days.

East Weymouth, 6.00, 6.15, 6.35, 7.05, 7.35 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.05 P. M. then 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.35 A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave East Weymouth, 5.50, 6.15, 6.45, 7.00, 7.10, 7.45, A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.45 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M. then same as week days.

Houghs Neck, 5.15, 5.35, 6.10, 6.40, 7.10, 7.40, A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. then 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 6.50, 7.40 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. Return leave Houghs Neck, 5.40, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 7.30, 8.00, 8.30, 9.05 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.35 P. M. then 12.10 midnight. Sundays, 7.20, 8.05, 8.35, 9.05 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.35 P. M.

Neponset via Hancock Street,—5.45 6.20, 6.50 A. M. and every 30 min. to 10.50 P. M. then 12.50 midnight. Sundays, 6.50 A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 5.40 7.10, 7.40 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. then 12.35 midnight. Sundays, 7.40 A. M. then same as week days.

Neponset via Wollaston—6.03, 6.35, 7.03 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.03 P. M. then 11.20, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.03 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 6.25, 6.55, 7.25, A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.25 P. M. then 11.42 P. M. and 12.12 midnight. Sundays, 7.25 A. M. then same as week days.

Neponset, via Norfolk Downs, 6.25, 6.55, 7.25, 8, 8.30 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11 P. M.) Sundays, 7.30 A. M. then the same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 7, 7.30 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.30 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.30 P. M.) Sundays, 8 A. M. then same as week days.

Weymouth Landing, 5.20, 6.00, 6.30 5.55, 7.25 7.55 A. M. then every 10 minutes, until and including 10.55 P. M. Sundays, 7.25, A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave Weymouth Landing, 5.45, 6.15, 6.40, 7.15 7.45 A. M. then every 30 minutes until and including 11.15 P. M. Sunday 7.45 A. M. then same as week days.

Leave NEPONSET for

Squantum, 6.25, 6.55, 7.25, 7.55, 8.25, 9.35, A. M. every 60 minutes to 1.35 P. M. then 4.55, 5.25, 6.55, 6.25, 7.25, 8.35, 9.35, 10.35 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.30, P. M. Sundays, 7.35, A. M. every 60 minutes to 10.35 P. M. Return, leave Squantum, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00,7.30, 8.00, 8.30, 9.00 A. M. every 60 minutes to 5.00 P. M. then 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.15, 8.00 A. M ..ery 60 minutes to 11.00 P. M.

THOMAS GAMMON,
Superintendent.

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

In effect Nov. 16, 1913

The letters in the same line as the figure below stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows.

a	Wollaston	f	Harrison Square
b	Norfolk Downs	g	Savin Hill
c	Atlantic	h	Cres[illegible] Avenue
d	Neponset	i	South Boston
e	Pope's Hill	r	Quincy Adams
*	Saturdays Only	†	Except Saturday

Exp.—Express train.

TO BOSTON			FROM BOSTON
Leave	Stop	Arrive	Leave	Stop	Arrive
r 5 14	abcdefghi	5 41	5 44	thgfedeba	6 14 r
r 6 9	abci	6 40	6 09	thgfedeba	6 39 r
r 6 32	e	6 49	6 29	a	6 47
			6 47	Exp	7 04
r 6 40	abcf	7 00	7 14	hgfedeba	7 41 r
r 7 08	abcd	7 30	7 34	a'	7 52
7 28	a	7 46	7 37	a	7 56
r 7 32	Exp	7 49	7 44	c	8 03 r
r 7 42	ab	8 00	8 34	cba	8 55 r
7 55	a	8 12	8 44	b	9 02
r 8 13	abc	8 32	9 09	fedba	9 32 r
8 24	a	8 41	9 44	a	10 01 r
r 8 33	a	8 50	10 14	thgfedeba	10 41 r
r 8 50	ad	9 16	10 54	Exp	11 10
r 9 18	abc	9 39	11 14	hgfedeba	11 41 r
r 10 04	a	10 21	11 49	a	12 07
r 10 19	abcdefghi	10 45	12 14	hgfedeba	12 41 r
11 12	a	11 28	12 20	a	12 38
11 24	abcdefgh	11 50	12 50	Exp	1 06
12 04	a	12 20	1 16	fedeba	1 40 r
			* 1 32	a	1 50
r 12 27	abcdefghi	12 53	1 44	a	2 01
r 1 16	a	1 34	2 14	fedeba	2 37 r
2 04	a	2 20	2 34	Exp	2 50
r 2 19	abcdefgh	2 46	3 14	hgfedeba	3 40 r
r 3 13	Exp	3 28	3 44	a	4 02
4 04	a	4 20	4 12	fedeba	4 35 r
r 4 26	abcdefgh	4 53	4 15	a	4 39
5 02	a	5 19	4 40	c	4 58
r 5 30	abcdefg	5 55	4 55	a	5 11
6 04	a	6 21	5 13	a	5 32
6 12	ab	6 32	5 19	hgfeca	5 43
6 57	a	7 15	5 28	ba	5 46 r
r 7 22	Exp	7 39	5 40		5 57
7 29	ab	7 48	5 58	a	6 17 r
r 8 09	abcdef	8 32	6 01	fedcb	6 24
9 00	a	9 18	6 16	a	6 35
r 9 10	abc	9 29	6 30	ecba	6 52 r
* 9 17	Exp.	9 32	6 59	fedeba	7 24 r
r 10 07	abcdef	10 30	7 11	a	7 28
* 10 19	a	10 37	8 04	fedeba	8 28 r
11 13	a	11 30	* 8 19	Exp	8 35
r 11 30	abcd	11 50	9 19	a	9 37
			9 34	b	9 53 r
			10 05	ba	10 24
			10 34	fedcba	11 02 r
			*11 06	a	11 25 r
			†11 09	fedeba	11 35 r
			*11 25	ba	11 43 r
			†11 29	ba	11 49
			12 05	cba	12 26 r

SUNDAYS

r 7 43	abc	8 03	8 29	ba	8 48 r
8 30	Exp	8 45	8 34	cba	8 55
r 8 46	abcdefghi	9 13	10 39	cba	10 59 r
r 9 13	abc	9 33	12 14	thgfedeba	12 42
9 31	a	9 47	12 44	Exp	1 01
10 25	ac	10 42	1 29	thgfedeba	1 57 r
†11 08	Exp	11 25	2 14	hgfedeba	2 42 r
r 11 16	abcdefghi	11 43	2 44	a	3 02
1 04	a	1 23	3 14	thgfedeba	3 42 r
r 1 16	abcdefgh	1 43	4 26	cba	4 48 r
r 3 10	abc	3 30	5 14	thgfedeba	5 42 r
r 4 16	abcdefghi	4 43	6 09	Exp	6 25
4 59	ab	5 16	6 14	thgfedeba	6 42 r
5 06		5 23	7 02	cba	7 22 r
6 16	abcdefghi	6 43	8 14	thgfedeba	8 41 r
7 21	Exp	7 35	8 30	a	8 56 r
7 29	abcdefghi	7 55	8 49	Exp	9 05
r 8 16	abcdefghi	8 43	9 29	thgfedeba	9 57 r
9 46	a	10 04	10 44	cba	11 04 r
10 46	abc	1. 05

WITHIN THE LAW

Copyright, 1913, by the H. K. Fly company.

PROLOGUE.

This is a story of a brave girl who suffered a great wrong. She went to prison for three years for a crime that she did not commit, and when she left prison her record stood between her and a living earned honestly. She gained more than a living, and she got it legally. She met bad men and good men, and she pitted her wits against those of men trained in the intricacies of the law and in the plans of criminals.

Mary Turner is good or bad according to the way you look at her. The police and the representatives of law and order that had condemned her to a felon's cell called her bad. One young man believed her to be good, and he stood by her through storm and stress, through circumstances that tried his soul.

This story gives an accurate if fleeting view of the methods of work of the police and the criminals, and it shows the finish of a brave crook who followed undeviatingly the course he had mapped out.

(Continued from last issue.)

CHAPTER III.

The Victim of the Law.

YES, Gilder did know. The mention of the name was like a spell in the effect it wrought on the attitude of the irritated owner of the store. Instantly his expression changed.

"How extremely awkward!" he cried, and there was a very real concern in his voice. He regarded Smithson kindly, whereat that rather puling gentleman once again assumed his martial bearing. "You were quite right in coming to me." For a moment he was silent, plunged in thought. Finally he spoke with the decisiveness characteristic of him. "Of course there's nothing we can do. Just put the stuff back on the counter and let her go."

But Smithson had not yet wholly unburdened himself. He again cleared his throat nervously.

"She's very angry, Mr. Gilder," he announced timidly. "She—er—she demands an—er—an apology."

The owner of the store half rose from his chair, then threw himself back with an exclamation of disgust.

"God bless my soul!" he cried. Again he fell silent, considering the situation which Smithson had presented. At last, however, he mastered his irritation to some degree and spoke his command briefly. "Well, Smithson, apologize to her. It can't be helped."

When Smithson had left the office Gilder turned to his secretary.

"Take this," he directed, and he forthwith dictated the following letter:

J. W. Gaskell, Esq., Central National Bank, New York.

My Dear Mr. Gaskell—I feel that I should be doing less than my duty as a man if I did not let you know at once that Mrs. Gaskell is in urgent need of medical attention. She came into our store today, and—

He paused for a moment. "No, put it this way," he said finally:

We found her wandering about our store today in a very nervous condition. In her excitement she carried away about $100 worth of rare laces. Not recognizing her, our store detective detained her for a short time. Fortunately for us all, Mrs Gaskell was able to explain who she was, and she has just gone to her home. Hoping for Mrs. Gaskell's speedy recovery, and with all good wishes, I am yours very truly.

Smithson again entered the office, even more perturbed than before.

"What on earth is the matter now?" Gilder sputtered suspiciously.

"It's Mrs. Gaskell still." Smithson replied in great trepidation. "She wants you personally, Mr. Gilder, to apologize to her. She says that the action taken against her is an outrage, and she is not satisfied with the apologies of all the rest of us. She says you must make one, too, and that the store detective must be discharged for intolerable insolence."

Gilder bounced up from his chair angrily.

"I'll not discharge McCracken," he vociferated, glaring on Smithson, who shrank visibly.

"But about the apology, Mr. Gilder," he reminded, speaking very deferentially, yet with insistence.

"Oh, I'll apologize," he said with a wry smile of discomfiture. "I'll make things even up a bit when I get an apology from Gaskell. I shrewdly suspect that that estimable gentleman is going to eat humble pie, of my baking, from his wife's recipe. And his will be an honest apology, which mine won't." And he left the room.

It was on this same day that Sarah, on one of her numerous trips through the store in behalf of Gilder, was accosted by a salesgirl, whose name, Helen Morris, she chanced to know.

"What on earth do you want?" Sarah inquired snappishly.

"What did they do to Mary Turner?"

"They sent her to prison for three years."

"Three years?" The salesgirl had repeated the words in a tone that was indefinable, yet a tone vehement in its incredulous questioning. "Three years?" she said again, as one refusing to believe.

"Yes, three years."

"Good God!" There was no irreverence in the exclamation that broke from the girl's lips. Instead only a tense horror that touched to the roots of emotion.

"Say," Sarah demanded, with the directness habitual to her, "why are you so anxious about it? This is the third time you have asked me about Mary Turner. What's it to you, I'd like to know?"

The salesgirl started violently, and a deep flush drove the accustomed pallor from her cheeks. She was obviously much disturbed by the question.

"What is it to me?" She repeated in an effort to gain time. "Why, nothing—nothing at all, only—she's a friend of mine, a great friend of mine. Oh, yes!"

There was a monotone of desolation as she went on speaking in a whisper meant for the ears of no other. "It's awful—three years! Oh, I didn't understand! It's awful—awful!" With the final word she hurried off, her attitude one of wondering grief.

Sarah was thinking intently of Mary Turner after her return to the office. As she glanced up at the opening of the door she did not at first recognize the figure outlined there. She remembered Mary Turner as a tall, slender girl, who showed an underlying vitality in every movement, a girl with a face of regular features, in which was a complexion of blended milk and roses, with a radiant joy of life shining through all her arduous and vulgar conditions. Instead of this, now she saw a frail form that stood swaying in the doorway, that bent in a sinister fashion which told of bodily impotence, while the face was quite bloodless.

A man stood beside her, one of his hands clasped around the girl's wrist. It was Cassidy, from headquarters, who spoke in a rough, indifferent voice.

"The district attorney told me to bring this girl here on my way to the Grand Central station with her."

"Mr. Gilder will be right back. Come in and wait."

The two went forward very slowly, the officer, carelessly conscious of his duty, walking with awkward steps to suit the feeble movements of the girl. Sarah at last found her voice for an expression of sympathy.

"I'm sorry, Mary," she said hesitatingly. "I'm terribly sorry, terribly sorry!"

The girl did not look up. She stood still, swaying a little, as if from weakness.

"Are you?" she said. "I did not know. Nobody has been near me the whole time I have been in the Tombs."

"Why," Sarah exclaimed, "there was Helen Morris today! She has been asking about you again and again. She's all broken up over your trouble."

"Who is Helen Morris?" the lifeless voice demanded. There was no interest in the question.

Gilder entered the office with the quick, bustling activity that was ordinarily expressed in his every movement. He paused as he beheld the two

"The district attorney told me to bring this girl here."

visitors, then he spoke curtly to the secretary.

"You may go, Sarah. I will ring when I wish you again."

There followed an interval of silence while the secretary was leaving the office and the girl with her warder stood waiting on his pleasure. Gilder cleared his throat twice in an embarrassment foreign to him before finally he spoke to the girl.

"My girl," Gilder said gently—his hard voice was softened by an honest regret—"my girl, I am sorry about this."

"You should be!" came the instant answer.

"Come, come!" Gilder exclaimed testily. "That's no tone to take with me!"

"Why? What sort of tone do you expect me to take?" was the retort in the listless voice.

"I expected a decent amount of humility from one in your position."

Life quickened swiftly in the drooping form of the girl. She stood suddenly erect, and her face lost its bleakness of pallor. The eyes opened wide and looked straight into those of the man who had employed her.

"Would you be humble," she demanded, and now her voice was become softly musical, yet forbidding, too, with a note of passion, "would you be humble if you were going to prison for three years for something you didn't do?"

"Don't mind her, sir," Cassidy said. He meant to make his manner very reassuring. "They all say that. They are innocent, of course! Yep, they all say it. It don't do 'em any good, but just the same they all swear they're innocent. They keep it up to the very last, no matter how right they've been got."

The voice of the girl rang clear. There was a note of insistence that carried a curious dignity of its own. The very simplicity of her statement might have had a power to convince one who listened without prejudice, although the words themselves were of the trite sort that any protesting criminal might utter.

"I tell you I didn't do it!"

Gilder himself felt the surge of emotion that swung through these moments, but he would not yield to it.

"What's the use of all this pretense?" he demanded sharply. "You were given a fair trial, and there's an end of it."

"But—but I wasn't! Why, if the trial had been fair I shouldn't be here. Do you call it fair when the lawyer I had was only a boy—one whom the court told me to take, a boy trying his first case, my case, that meant the ruin of my life? My lawyer! Why, he was just getting experience—getting it at my expense!"

There followed a few seconds of silence. Then Gilder made an effort to shake off the feeling that had so possessed him, and to a certain degree he succeeded.

"The jury found you guilty," he asserted, with an attempt to make his voice magisterial in its severity.

"Yes, the jury found me guilty. Do you know why? I can tell you, Mr. Gilder. It was because they had been out for three hours without reaching a decision. The evidence didn't seem to be quite enough for some of them, after all. Well, the judge threatened to lock them up all night. The men wanted to get home. The easy thing to do was to find me guilty, and let it go at that. Was that fair, do you think? And that's not all either. Was it fair of you, Mr. Gilder? Was it fair of you to come to the court this morning and tell the judge that I should be sent to prison as a warning to others?"

"You know!" he exclaimed in momentary consternation.

"I heard you in the courtroom," she said. "The dock isn't very far from the bench where you spoke to the judge about my case. Yes, I heard you. It wasn't, Did I do it? or, Didn't I do it? No. It was only that I must be made a warning to others."

Again silence fell for a tense interval. Then finally the girl spoke:

(To be continued.)

LOOK! LISTEN!

While they last 25 new cesspool covers $1.75 value, now $1.25 each; 50 rolls Good quality roofing at $1.25; 500 lengths galvanized conductor pipe 6c. value at 4c. ft. Black Roof Paint at 59c gallon, suitable for all kinds of roofing, also suitable for painting iron. Don't forget that we also carry a full line of Decorated Wall Board and all other NEPONSET Products. L. Grossman & Sons, Quincy Adams, Mass.

Open until 6 P. M. Closed all day Saturdays.

Nov. 25 L O-tf

MAY PROVE FATAL

When Will Quincy People Learn the Importance of It?

Backache is only a simple thing at first;

But if you find 'tis from the kidneys;

That serious kidney troubles may follow;

That dropsy or Bright's disease may be the fatal end.

You will be glad to know the following experience.

'Tis the statement of a Quincy citizen.

Mrs. R. A. Neil, 40 Edison Park, Quincy, Mass.: "My hands and ankles swelled. I was worse at night after I had done a hard day's work. I used several remedies, but they did me little or no good. My husband brought home a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and I began taking them. I could see an improvement right away. Doan's Kidney Pills got my kidney's acting right and the swelling went down. I wasn't so nervous and felt better in every way. I now keep Doan's Kidney Pills in the house and consider them a fine family medicine."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

WHEN YOU TAKE OUT YOUR SCREENS

(If they need painting or repairing let

HOLMES & HALL

fix them up during the winter and have them ready in the spring.

NO CHARGE FOR STORAGE

TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

1179 HANCOCK ST.

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

SUFFRAGISTS OVERLOOKED

President of National Association Says Wilson Missed Opportunity

Washington, Dec. 4.—Dr. Anna H. Shaw, president of the National Woman Suffrage association, created a sensation at the suffragist convention when she declared that President Wilson had fallen short of the greatest opportunity he ever had or would ever have in failing to say a word in behalf of woman suffrage when he read his annual message to congress.

"President Wilson," she continued, "referred for an extension of greater social justice, and we women eagerly listened to this. We had hoped that social justice would include some measure of political justice to the women of the country. I feel fully that measure of disappointment which, under the circumstances is natural, for the time had come for the president to say a word in our behalf.

"No other president has ever had such an opportunity. President Wilson had an opportunity of speaking a word which might ultimately lead to the enfranchisement of a large part of the human family. President Wilson has missed the one thing that might have made it possible for him never to have been forgotten."

MAY BE PREMIER

Briand Spoken of As Choice of Poincaire to Form New Cabinet

Paris, Dec. 4.—A canvas of prominent French statesmen led to the belief that Aristide Briand would be offered the premiership by President Poincaire to succeed Louis Barthou, who resigned with his cabinet when the chamber placed the cabinet in the minority by 290 to 265 votes. Del Casse, Bourgeois, Millerand, Depuy, Caillaux, Doumergue and Pinchon were others mentioned for the place.

"Tomorrow offers too grave a prospect in France for us to occupy ourselves with who shall be premier," said Jean Jaures, Socialist leader. "It matters little. France is now entering a financial, political and economic crisis, the gravest since 1870. The new ministry, whoever may head it, must steer toward Socialism."

The downfall of the Barthou cabinet came during the debate on the question of the perpetual exemption from taxation of the $260,000,000 loan voted by the deputies on the previous day. The government proposed the exemption.

DEVELOPMENT OF RIVERS AND HARBORS

Massachusetts Men Prominent at Waterways Congress

Washington, Dec. 4.—William S. McNary of Boston, one of the board of port directors, speaking for New England at the national rivers and harbors congress, asserted that the continued growth of that section's great industries depended on better water transportation facilities. The confused railroad situation there, he said, had brought things to a point where it was essential that waterways be improved to handle the commerce of the New England states.

Control of the river and harbor development for all instead of the "favored few" was announced as the government policy by Secretary of the Interior Lane, who spoke in the absence of President Wilson.

The need of a broad policy and of cooperation between the federal government and the states to secure improved waterways, was the keynote of all the speeches. Representatives from nearly all parts of the country took part in the program. All agreed that better waterways were needed to meet and help increase the growing commerce of the nation.

Representative Small of North Carolina said the intra-coastal canal from New England to Florida would be of mutual benefits to hundreds of cities in dozens of states, and Representative Moore of Pennsylvania voiced the same sentiment.

OFFICIAL TRIAL DELAYED

Loose Bolt In Main Turbine of Collier Jupiter Causes Damage

Washington, Dec. 4.—A loose bolt dropped into the main turbine of the large electric naval collier Jupiter as she was tuning up her official trial, so damaging the engine as to make it prudent to replace the many broken or bent blades before running off the trial.

The navy department has been advised that this work will be done at the Mare island navy yard very soon, when another effort will be made to test the ship.

The Jupiter had already far exceeded the speed requirement on preliminary trial trips.

Public Service Officials

Boston, Dec. 4.—A new order adopted by the Massachusetts public service commission demands detailed information as to high priced officers and employes of public service corporations. Annual reports must be made.

Memorial Adopted

Boston, Dec. 4.—The executive council has adopted a memorial as a tribute to the late J. Stearns Cushing of Norwood, a former member.

First Moslem Woman to Fly

Constantinople, Dec. 4.—Belkis Shevket, flying from Constantinople to Adrianople, will be the first Moslem woman to try aeroplaning.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents. No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

WANTED

WANTED—Tenors for evening service, good readers, rehearsals Friday evenings for Atlantic Memorial Congregational church. Write or apply to Spencer Apollonio, 51 Botolph street, Atlantic, Mass. 4-3t

WANTED—Competent workers on hand embroidery. To take work home Materials supplied. Write "Embroidery. Ledger office. 3-4t

WANTED—Housekeeper's position by an American woman in widower's family, reference exchanged. Mrs. D. W. Hall, Wollaston, Mass. 3-6t

WANTED—Gentleman to board and room with private family in good location. Terms reasonable. Address Box 165, Quincy Post Office, Quincy, Mass. 2-3t

WANTED—Dressmaking to do at home. F. M. Collins, 40 Quincy street, Quincy, Mass. 2-6t

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing. Myatt, 40 Baxter street. Tel. 1307-M, Quincy, Res. 22-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Second hand lumber for sale cheap, $15 per M. boards 4x4, 2x8, 2x3 etc also 500 bags Atlas cement 35 cents a bag; 100, 4 inch extra heavy iron pipe fittings, also lot of oak seats and tanks fitted with B. B. valves; 20 kegs 8 P. nails, 90 cents keg. Lewando, Hotel Pandora, Houghs Neck. 3-3t

FOR SALE or TO LET—New houses Apply to Thompson B. Crane, 403 Washington street, Quincy. 1-tf

FOR SALE—A small horse, express wagon and Democrat, also set of harness. Apply to Winer's, Adams Bldg, Quincy. 1-6t

MISCELLANEOUS

GRAVEL and loam given away via Quincy Adams depot must be taken at once. Enquire of L. Grossman & Sons, Jackson street, Quincy Adams. Tel. 979-W. 3-6t

JAMES F. BURKE & CO.

Real Estate and Insurance

Care of Property. Mortgages

Justice of Peace. Notary Public

Room 4, Savings Bank Building

Tel. 885 M. Nov. 11-tf

WM. H. TEASDALE

REAL ESTATE

Insurance Mortgages

NOTARY PUBLIC JUSTICE OF THE PEACE

Room 23 Adams Building

Telephones {Residence 544-3 Office 885-M

otf

M. T. SULLIVAN

Real Estate Insurance

Auctioneer Care of Property

Justice of the Peace

Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

HERBERT A. HAYDEN

Piano Tuner

Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock street, Quincy.

Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point

Tel. Quincy Mass. 1153 M Nov 3-tf

ARTHUR L. THOMAS

Attorney-at-Law

3-4-5-6 Greenleaf Block

Telephone Quincy 460 Jan.2-1y

Call Quincy 501--W

if you want your furniture, mattresses and cushions repaired in good order at low prices M. MIRKIN, upholsterer, 1060 Hancock street near the Quincy High School.

Dec.1-1m

A "WANT"

advertisement is a small notice inserted in the LEDGER to tell the public what you want. Whether you need help or employment, house, horse or automobile, the little "want ad." is the agent to find it for you. Such small classified advertisements, on page 5 of the LEDGER, costs but 25 cents for 25 words or less, one time; three consecutive insertions 50 cents; 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents. Leave your notice at the Ledger Office, 1424 Hancock Street.

TO LET

TO LET—Cottage 5 rooms on Wibird street, suitable for a small family Apply 53 Newcomb street. 4-3t

TO LET—Five nice large sunny rooms, all improvements. Apply 23 Dysart street. 4-6t

TO LET—In Wollaston Heights, a 7 room apartment, practically new, hot water heat, all modern improvements, rent reasonable to right party, location unsurpassed. F. M. Rollins, 333 Highland avenue, Wollaston. 3-4t

TO LET—With private family, desirable room, use of bath, light, heat. 4 minutes from station and on car line. Frank Bennett, 150 Beale street, Wollaston, 3-3t

FOR RENT—16 Faxon avenue, Quincy Suite, 7 rooms and bath. Possession given Jan. 1, 1914. Tel. 414 M., Weymouth. 3-3t

TO LET—Tenement 4 rooms and bath all improvements, set range. Vacant Jan. 1, 1914. Apply 180 Franklin street. 3-6t

TO LET—Newly furnished, steam heated room, modern conveniences 3 minutes from centre, 1 Adams street. 2-6t

TO LET—House on Edison Park, 6 rooms, all improvements. $25 per month. Immediate occupancy. Apartment on Cherry street 8 rooms, all improvements except gas and electricity $22. per month. E. M. Freeman, 653 Washington street, Quincy, Tel. 1615-W. 29-6t

TO LET—With private family on Upland road, a desirable room, heated, lighted, with use of bath on same floor. Write A. F. K. Ledger Office or telephone Quincy 1796-W. 29-6t

TO LET—In Braintree, house of five rooms, including two bed rooms and bath. Rent reasonable. A J. Cavanagh, 72 Cedar street, Braintree. Telephone 4-14. 29-6t

TO LET—Upper flat in two flat new house at 1 Bradford street, 5 rooms and bath. All improvements. Ready Jan. 1st. Apply to Wm. E. Duggan, 32 Bryant avenue, West. Quincy. 26-12t

TO LET—Single house, 7 rooms, with all improvements. Inquire at 50 Warwick street, Norfolk Downs, or telephone Miss Clements, Boston-Main 1380. Nov. 22-12t

RUSSELL PARK — Commodious house of seven rooms, large hall and bath. Modern, every convenience open fireplace, furnace, range, set tubs, electric lights, cemented cellar, etc. Best residential neighborhood. Ready for immediate occupancy. For further details or key see Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. tf lpo

TO LET—173 Whitwell street, half house, modern conveniences, $20 per month. Ready for immediate occupancy. Apply Penniman's Stable, Granite street. 19-tf

TO LET—Nicest 4 room and bath lower flat in town. Every improvement $19.00. 126 Glendale road. S. E. Thomas Greenleaf Block. 17-tf

TO LET—5 room tenement at 117 Quincy street, $20 per month. Apply Berman Furniture Co. 6-tf

TO LET—Houses of 5, 6 and 10 rooms. M. T. Sullivan, Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy, Mass. 11-tf

UPPER APARTMENT. In two-family house on Spear Street. Five rooms, bath, large pantry and closets, also open attic with finished heated chamber. Every improvement, electric light, furnace, range etc. Ready for immediate occupancy. Telephone Quincy 278 M or enquire mornings of Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. lpo

SWITHIN

Real Estate

Mortgages-Insurance

Greenleaf Block

Quincy

Tel. Quincy 460. Nov. 10-tf

ANOTHER BARGAIN

Make me an offer for a ten room house on Whitwell Street.

You will own it if you will talk buy, as it is one of those chances some one will miss.

HENRY W. SAVAGE

Real Estate, Boston.

E. C. HAYDEN, Local Representative

Telephone 1877-M Quincy.

Nov 17-tf

KINCAIDE THEATRE

at 2.30, 5, 10, 15c., at 7.45, 10, 15, 25c

THURS. FRIDAY SAT.

Program subject to change

MYRTLE & DAISY
Dainty Dancing, Singing and Pianologue Sketch

WILLIAMS & WESTON
Makers of Merriment

McCINNIS BROS.
Singing and Dancing "Soldiers"

JAMES EDGE
Presenting a Pleasing Novelty Act

THE PHANTOM SIGNAL
A Railroad Romance in 2 Reels

ALKALI IKE'S AUTO
A Western Comedy Sensation

The Price of the Free
How a Hobo came back

Kincaide Theatre Orchestra

NEWSY BRIEFS

A thousand extra Ledgers had to be printed last evening, beside the usual large regular edition, to supply the demand. The election extra Tuesday night was another big edition.

The General Team Drivers' Union of Quincy will hold their fourth annual dance in Alpha hall Friday evening. The committee is Alex. Craig, chairman, Thomas F. Cahill, Sylvester Webster, Fred O'Brien, Daniel McLeod, Thomas Fitzgerald, A. Trotman and Joseph Lemieux.

QUINCY GRAND JURY CASES

The Norfolk Grand Jury reported its findings to Judge Raymond in the Superior Court at Dedham Wednesday. The following bills were among those returned:

Kergis Basoon of Milton, attempting to burn building in Milton; Emma F. Quinn and William H. Daggett of Revere, statutory offense in Quincy; Lyman H. Brown of Quincy, statutory offence.

The no bills were returned against Frank Swanson charged with breaking and entering the Granite City Club on Sept. 1 and Paul E. Moulton of Cohasett, charged with assault on Beulah R. Smith, May 11, striking her with an automobile and killing her. Moulton is a former Quincyite.

Mrs. Smith and Mr. Moulton were in one of the automobiles that were racing on the way home from the beach last summer and which turned turtle on the reverse railroad crossing in Cohasett.

COMPARISON OF CITY RECEIPTS

Large Increase in Tax Collections Over Other Years

City Auditor Fairbanks reports the following receipts for water, sewer extension, taxes and particular sewers up to Dec. 1, the figures being given in comparison with the years 1911 and 1912.

z 1913
Water	$119,251.65
Sewer	17,218.08
Taxes	814,819.32
Particular sewer	6,427.00
1912.
Water	$122,796.64
Sewer	16,506.73
Taxes	652,914.85
Particular sewer,	7,479.73
1911
Water	$126,546.48
Sewer	14,719.65
Taxes	676,989.72
Particular sewer	6,884.09

DEATHS

FRENCH—In Quincy, Dec. 2, Miss Dora A. French, in her 73rd year. Funeral services at home of her nephew, Henry W. Porter, 63 Edgemere road, Friday, Dec. 5, at 2.30 P. M. Relatives and friends invited. 3-2t

Established 1870 Telephone

JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass.

MRS. WILLIAMS RE-ELECTED

Miss Furnald Also Elected to Office for the 33d Time

Mrs. Sarah G. Williams was re-elected Protector of Maple lodge, Knights and Ladies of Honor and Miss M. Lizzie Furnald was chosen an officer for the 33rd time at the annual election in Protection hall Wednesday evening. Miss Furnald was the first secretary of the lodge and after going through the chair and grand lodge was elected financial secretary, which position she has held for several years The installation will be in January, at a date to be set later on.

After the meeting a social hour was enjoyed and in peanut, one of the games played, trophies were awarded to Miss Fannie Grignon and Mrs. Susan Hewson. The hour was in charge of Miss Isabella McBirnie. Refreshments were served.

At the next meeting on Dec. 17 an entertainment will be given for the members and their friends. Elaborate preparations are being made by the committee consisting of Miss Isabella McBirnie, Mrs. Margaret Webster and Miss M. Lizzie Furnald.

The officers chosen were:

Protector—Mrs. Sarah G. Williams.
Vice Protector—Mrs. Annie Grignon
Chaplain—Mrs. Susan Hewson.
Secretary—Mrs. Agnes G. Fletcher.
Financial Secretary—Miss M. Lizzie Furnald.
Treasurer—Mrs. Alberta Hewson.
Guide—Miss Isabella McBirnie.
Guardian—Mrs. Bertha McCurdy.
Sentinel—Irving Fletcher.
Trustees—Mrs. Rose A. Reid, Mrs. Annie Grignon, Mrs. Mary E. Powers.

MURRAY CLUB DANCING PARTY

The first of a series of dancing parties to be held under the auspices of the Murray club was held Wednesday evening at Colonial hall and was largely attended.

The matrons were Mrs. Robert Reed and Mrs. Florence Cutter, Miss Ethel F. Young was the floor directress, Miss Alfretta Hanson, chief of aids and Miss Nellie Barnes, Miss Bessie Grant, Miss Irene Howes, Miss Edith Hyland, Miss Harriett Lombard, Miss Henrietta Rennie, Miss Mildred Smith, Miss Marion Wright, Miss Annie Wright, Miss Ruth Burleigh and Miss Helen Follansbee were the aids.

Dancing was enjoyed from 8 to 11.30 and during a brief intermission light refreshments were served.

THE FINLAY DIVORCE CASE

Albert W. Finlay of Quincy was granted an absolute divorce on statutory grounds by Judge Raymond at Dedham on Wednesday. The end of the trial of divorce suit came suddenly and followed a conference between the court and the attorneys. He was also given the custody of the minor children. A cross libel of Mrs. Finlay was withdrawn and an affidviat filed in which she retracted the allegations and charges made. rthur Bradman a Boston actor was named as corespondent.

DISTRICT COURT.

John Noonan of Taunton was fined $15 for violation of the motor laws at Milton.

The case of Anna Panchancho, charged with maliciously injuring a fur coat owned by Paul Panchancho was continued to Dec. 6.

Joseph McLaughlin who was taken from a burning building Wednesday night was fined $5 for drunkenness and placed on probation.

Ansel Ainslee, charged with breaking and entering and larceny at Cohasett pleaded not guilty. Continued to Dec. 16.

ART EXHIBIT

The many friends of Miss Clara Vance Bushnell of 566 Washington street will be glad of an opportunity which is to be offered Friday and Saturday to view specimens of her handiwork at an arts and crafts exhibition which she is to hold on those dates at her home.

There cannot help being a break in eggs when they fall.

QUINCY MAN FOR PRESIDENT

F. F. Crane Honored by Rivers and Harbors Congress

Commodore Frank Fessenden Crane of Quincy was elected president of the National River and Harbors Congress at the Washington convention Wednesday. He was also chosen a delegate to the North Atlantic Seaboard convention.

Mr. Crane is representing Massachusetts, having been appointed a delegate by Gov. Foss. He is also representative of Quincy. Mr. Crane has strongly advocated the development of inland waterways and Boston harbor.

FRANK F. CRANE.

There is probably no better informed man in the state on matters of this kind than is Mr. Crane. He has for years been advocating the improvement of Quincy's water front and many of the appropriations made for dredging the channel and other improvements were obtained largely through his efforts.

APPOINTED HEAD NURSE

Miss Alma B. Reid, daughter of Mrs. Rose A. Reid of Upland road has been appointed head nurse at the Cambridge City Hospital, Cambridge by Miss Alma Grant, superintendent. Miss Reid is a graduate of the Quincy City Hospital receiving her training during the term of Miss Blanche Thayer. Shortly after her graduation she was appointed head nurse at the hispital and held that position under Miss Thayer, Miss Grant and Miss Caroline Hill, the present matron. She is a popular young lady of this city and numbers among her friends scores of former patients who join together in extending their congratulations on her new appointment.

NEW TELEPHONE SUBSCRIBERS.

Following are the subscribers connected with the Quincy exchange for the week ending Dec. 3.

2064 M Tilton, F. A. 48 Rawson Road
2016 W Willmann, Wm. F., 22 Marlbora Street.
2222 M Dineen, Mae E. Miss. Wol.
853 W Doble, Charles F., 26 Adams Street.
2247 M Pierce, A. W., 1364 Hancock Street.
933 M Turner, W. A., 527 Washington Street.

JOHN ERICSON.

The funeral of John Ericson was held from his home, 64 Washington street, this afternoon. Services were conducted by Rev. A. E. Hillman of St. Pauls M. E. Church. Burial was in Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

Wasted Effort.

"Now, Tommy," said the Sunday school teacher, "suppose you had two apples and you gave another boy his choice of them. You would tell him to take the largest one, wouldn't you?"

"No, ma'am," said Tommy promptly.

"Why, Tommy!" exclaimed the teacher in shocked surprise. "Why not?"

"Well," said Tommy, "in dis bunch it wouldn't be necessary to tell him dat."—New York Globe.

There Must Be Something In It.

"Do you believe there is really any such thing as love at first sight?"

"Certainly there is. If there was no such thing how many of the married men whom you know would ever have been able to enchant their wives?"—Chicago Record-Herald.

General Huerta has had trouble with his Secretary of the Interior. In fact, all of his interior arrangements seem to have been giving him trouble.

Minute "Movies" of the News Right Off the Reel

A Chicago judge says that he will appoint women as judges and clerks of election next year.

Paterson (N. J.) Chinaman was fined $10 for hitting his son with the stem of his tobacco pipe. The pipe weighs ten pounds.

A woman pays road taxes of three Delaware county, N. Y., townships to relieve poor farmers and secure good roads for her auto.

Town jail at Wiscasset, Me., has been closed because it is so long since there has been a prisoner it is regarded as a needless expense.

Operation of a steam engine through rays of the sun is reported by United States Consul Garrett at Alexandria, Egypt. Immense mirrors automatically follow the sun, supplying heat to fire the engine boilers.

THOUGHT TRANSFERENCE ATTRIBUTED TO TEACHER.

Woman's Suspension Asked on Charge That Pupils Were Under Her Spell.

Believing that Miss Elizabeth Curtiss, teacher in the public school at Roseville, N. Y., had practiced thought transferrence upon her pupils for the purpose of establishing her own innocence, the school board of Staten Island recently recommended to the city superintendent of schools that she be suspended for one month and then transferred to another school.

This action explains to the bewildered pupils why for several days they saw in large, bold letters on the main blackboard in Miss Curtiss' room this sentence:

"I did not see Miss Curtiss strike William and Evelyn Bogardus."

The parents of the Bogardus children preferred charges against Miss Curtiss the latter part of September, alleging that she had cut William's head with a ruler and slapped Evelyn's face so hard that her eye was discolored. Notice of the charges was served upon the teacher at once, and immediately there appeared on the blackboard the mysterious statement.

That legend stared the children in the face for several days. Every time they looked up they saw it. Soon they were singing it and whistling it. So when investigators of the board of education questioned the pupils all they could say was, "I did not see Miss Curtiss strike William and Evelyn Bogardus." Therefore the charges of the Bogardus parents were dropped.

But Mr. Bogardus persisted. He investigated, learned of the "handwriting on the wall" and then complained to the local board.

At the trial it was charged that Miss Curtiss had influenced the pupils' minds by the sentence on the blackboard.

RAILROAD WIRELESS NOW.

Convincing Experiments Promise a Revolution In Train Operation.

The conductor in charge of the Lackawanna limited, New York to Buffalo, became ill when his train was thirty miles east of Scranton, Pa., a few days ago. The train is the first to be equipped for wireless telegraph service. The conductor notified the wireless operator of his condition, and while the train was rushing fifty miles an hour and although mountains rose high between him and Scranton, the operator sent a message to the railroad superintendent at Scranton. When the train pulled into the station a relief conductor stepped aboard, ready to take charge.

Forty miles from Scranton the conductor saw that he would need another coach. A wireless message was sent ahead, and by the time the train reached Scranton the extra car was in waiting.

L. B. Foley, superintendent of telegraph, who was on the train in charge of the wireless testing, said:

"In my opinion the wireless will revolutionize railroading. The time is coming when the wireless telegraph on trains will make the safety and convenience of railroad traveling 100 per cent greater than it is today. And as a preventive of accidents I think the wireless will prove of the greatest value."

CARNEGIE YOUNG AT 78.

Earth Such a Heaven He Wants to Live as Long as He Can.

"I'm still a young man," said Andrew Carnegie on his seventy-eighth birthday anniversary. "I'm only seventy-eight years young. Old age and myself haven't become acquainted.

"This earth is such a heaven to me that I want to stay on as long as I can. If any of you youngsters can get an option on life I'll let you name your own price."

Then to display his mental nimbleness Mr. Carnegie discussed world topics.

"I do not know whether the Mexican situation can be peaceably settled or not," said the great peace advocate. "I know that destruction of property is unavoidable, as in any war, and there is certainly a possibility of war, much as I dislike to think of it."

Old Company's Lehigh Egg Coal

for Your furnace
Is there anything better mined?

We Sell It
Try a Ton

C. PATCH & SON Inc.
1422 Hancock Street

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

East Norfolk Association Holds Annual Meeting

The Norfolk East District Sunday school association having a membership of fifty-five evangelical churches including Quincy, Cohasset, Hingham, Braintree, Milton etc., held its annual convention Wednesday afternoon and evening in the Wollaston Baptist church.

The following officers and committees were elected for the ensuing year:

President—Rev. J. H. Woodsum of East Milton.

Vice Presidents—Rev. A. Lowell Ryan of South Braintree, Melville Hayward of Quincy, Rev. George F. Weld of Hingham.

Secretary and Treasurer—Rev. Tyler E. Gale of South Braintree.

Division Superintendents— Adult—Rev. C. R. Clark of Weymouth. Normal—Rev. A. D. Smith of Milton. Elementary—Mrs. C. B. Hall of Wollaston. Home—Miss Louise C. Tower of Cohasset. Advanced—Miss Rena M. Chamberlin of Wollaston.

Executive Committee—The above and Rev. F. B. McAllister of Cohasset, J. W. Watson, M. D. of South Braintree, Mrs. Carrie E. Mitchell of Hull, Miss Belcher of Holbrook, E. C. Schwartz of Holbrook, J. Arthur Sparrow of Wollaston.

The afternoon session opened shortly after two with a devotional service led by Rev. Joseph Walther pastor of the Wollaston Baptist church Rev. Frank B. McAllister of Cohasset, president of the association presided.

Reports were read by the secretary and treasurer, Rev. Tyler E. Gale of South Braintree. President McAllister appointed the following committees:

Nominating—Rev. A. D. Smith of Milton, Rev. J. H. Woodsum of East Milton, J. A. Sedgwick of Quincy.

Resolutions—Rev. Tyler E. Gale of South Braintree.

Registration—Rev. J. H. Woodsum of East Milton.

After the reports of the department secretaries three short addresses were delivered under the general subject "What can the Sunday School do for the pupil?"

Rev. A. Lowell Ryan of South Braintree was the first speaker with the sub-title "In his reading." Louis F. LaRose of Quincy took "In his Athletics" and Mrs. Julia Treat Bates of Cohasset "In his social life." All addresses were to the point and helpful to those assembled to hear them.

"The key to efficiency in teaching" was the subject of a very pregnant address delivered by Rev. H. E. Thompson. A solo by Charles M. Kempton of Wollaston followed.

Following an address on "Sunday school evangelism" by Rev. Charles A. Fulton D. D. of Boston discussion on the subject was opened by Bowdoin B. Smith of East Weymouth and a number of other speakers followed.

The meeting was then broken up for a series of departmental conferences that lasted until the supper hour. Mrs. L. E. Ware presided over the Elementary, H. S. Conant the Advanced and Miss Katherine C. Bourne the Home.

At six o'clock a fine supper was served by the ladies of the local church under the direction of Mrs. Edward J. Badger,

The evening session opened at seven with an organ recital by Miss Lena B. Knox, followed by a gospel praise service directed by Amos D. Albee of Wollaston and augmented by a large chorus choir from the Baptist church.

An address on "The man from Italy" was delivered by Rev. Vincent Ravi of Cambridge. It consumed an hour and was a most interesting and instructive nature. Mr. Ravi told of the Italian at home and abroad and drove home the need for foreign missions.

After the election of officers and the offering a brief and vivified address was delivered by Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath, Ph. D., of Wollaston, entitled "Give it straight." In his address Mr. Sneath urged greater efficiency in the Sunday school and backed up his remarks with many pertinent illustrations.

After the rendering of "Onward Christian soldiers" by Charles A. Kempton and the chorus choir the meeting adjourned with a benediction by the newly elected president.

NOT SO ILL AS REPORTED

Rumors of the illness of Mayor-elect John L. Miller have been numerous during the past few days especially since the election, some of the rumors even going so far as to state that he had died. Another rumor in circulation Wednesday was that a consultation of physicians had been held that afternoon.

While Mr. Miller is ill, chiefly due to a bad cold, he is not near as ill as has been reported. He will have to remain in doors for a few days, but no serious complications are anticipated.

As to the consultation of physicians reported to have taken place Wednesday afternoon, it might be said that one was his family physician and the other was Dr. John H. Ash, one of his opponents in the recent municipal election who called at the door of Mr. Miller's home to extend his congratulations.

MRS. INGA WALLIN.

Rev. Leander Hokenson officiated at the services for Mrs. Inga K. Wallin, the 70 year old Swedish resident of Cranch hill whose funeral was held from her home at 24 Curtis street this afternoon. Burial was in Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

Some illiterate persons will insist on calling the Arachis hypogaea a peanut.

HOW TO EDUCATE A COMMITTEE

Quincy, December 4, 1913.

Editor of the Ledger:—

The manner in which our city council transacts some of its business is well illustrated by the passage of the order changing the name of Goffe street to Presidents Lane. This particular order was probably of little interest to most of our citizens but as its history is likely to be repeated in more important matters, a brief review of the case may be of interest to Ledger readers.

Some residents on Goffe street and about the neighborhood feeling that a change in the name was desirable, took the proper steps to bring this about by petitioning the council. The petition was referred to the committee on streets and in due course of time a public hearing was held, notice of which was published in the papers and left at each house on the street. At this hearing one man appeared in favor of the change and several in opposition. As a result of the arguments presented, the committee reported "leave to withdraw" on the petition or in other words they were convinced that "public convenience and necessity" did not require the change. But a certain councilman from Ward Five had the order laid on the table and later referred back to the committee where it reposed for several weeks.

Just what new light was thrown on the matter during this period or what subterranean methods were used to change the views of the committee the writer is unable to say but the committee in its new wisdom reported favorably on the order Monday evening and twelve of the thirteen councilmen voting, sustained the committee.

One of the councilmen from the interested ward requested that the matter be laid on the table until more information could be obtained, but the other councilmen present followed the lead of the councilman from Ward Five and the perfectly reasonable request of the councilman from Ward One was refused.

Someone who knows should get out a hand book entitled "How to Educate a Committee, or Nullifying Sentiment expressed at Public Hearings." Such a book ought to find a ready sale among all who wish to obtain favors from our law makers.

Your very truly,
Carle R. Hayward.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER

Try an Advertisement in

The Quincy Daily Ledger

Through the Daily Newspaper the Advertiser can make a local and intimate appeal to his prospective customer in his own community and in his own vernacular.

The Newspaper Advertisement is not buried—it is accessib'e. The Newspaper Advertisement of a commodity continually or daily needed is read by the very people whose continual or daily need the Advertiser desires to supply. The Newspaper Advertisement may be seen thirty times a month—it is not limited to one appearance.

Geo. W. Prescott Publishing Company
1424 Hancock Street, -- Quincy, Mass.

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

LARGEST GUARANTEED CIRCULATION IN THE CITY

Vol. 28 No. 282 QUINCY MASS. FRIDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 5 1913 PRICE TWO CENTS

WANT WILLARD STREET MADE A STATE HIGHWAY

Enthusiastic Meeting at West Quincy to Further Project

Imperative That Connecting Link Should be Taken and Built

Quincy and the communities that would be benefited by the proposed state highway from East Milton to Brockton were represented in St. Joseph's hall Thursday evening at a meeting held under the auspices of the Ward Four Improvement Association for the purpose of stimulating enthusiasm so that a plan having the unanimous endorsement of all would be presented the Highway commission. The discussion brought out that Quincy had but one and one third miles of state road, that Braintree and Holbrook had none, and that nearly all state highways have been built to the north of Boston.

Councilman Stephen B. Little presided and the speakers were Mayor Eugene R. Stone, President Joseph L. Whiton of the City Council, President John L. Hamilton of the Board of Trade, Arthur Haywood of Braintree, Senator-elect Louis F. R. Langelier, Rev. Fr. Thomas F. McCoy of St. Mary's church, Representative John J. Gallagher of Milton and Canton, E. O. Woodward, president of the Park and Downs Improvement Association, Peter T. Fallon, Representative-elect Edward J. Sandberg, Rev. T. C. Martin of the Hall Place M. E. church, Ezekiel C. Sargent of the city engineering office, John Evans and Councilman-elect James O'Dowd.

In opening the discussion President Little stated that the state highway as proposed would give Brockton, Braintree and Quincy a direct opening to Boston. He then presented Mayor Stone.

Mayor Stone said it was an important proposition and had been made more so the past months because of the Granite avenue bridge which is about to be constructed. He said the state highway was the one thing necessary to the development of West Quincy and that he hoped there would be a co-operative bank started there with it. Between both there could be but little question as to future growth. Although retiring mayor he said his services would be gladly given in the interest of the people.

Joseph L. Whiton said he was willing to help West Quincy at any time and at any hearing and John L. Hamilton said his Board of Trade was thoroughly behind any good endeavor to help any part of the city, and a committee has been appointed to examine into the subject.

Arthur Haywood of Braintree said he had circulated petitions for such an improvement before he knew West Quincy was interested and when he read several days ago of the meeting he thought he should be present and tell how the proposition was received in his town. He said he had obtained many signatures to his papers. Auto traffic has made it imperative that we have a good highway and this would be the connecting link with the wonderful little towns and summer homes of the Cape. He said he had travelled through the West but that New England continued to be the most attractive of all places because there was nothing artificial about it.

Senator-elect Lagelier said "the question for you people of West Quincy to put to the commissioners is not why you want this proposition but why they have not given you the state highway." He promised every possible support and effort and all the hard work he was capable of doing to hard work he was capable of doing to make the proposition a success.

Father McCoy said it was a right and not a privilege that was due the people of West Quincy to demand of the commissioners that they give this section some part of the taxes paid into the treasury of the Commonwealth. It is a known fact that nearly all state highways have been built to the north of Boston and the south is entitled to some consideration. The more I go about West Quincy the more I am impressed with its splendid possibilities and I have no doubt that when this is finished a new era will have been established not only for West Quincy but for the city at large. The only way to secure results is by concerted action and he favored getting the selectmen of all towns throughout which the road

(Continued on Page Six.)

HOLIDAY NECKWEAR

Early Buyers Will Find

Thousands of Ties to Choose From

25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00

GEORGE W. JONES

1 Granite Street : : QUINCY

L. Dec. 5-2t O. 6-1w

QUINCY MUSIC HALL

SATURDAY MATINEE 2.30. SATURDAY NIGHT 8 O'clock

VAUDEVILLE and MOVING PICTURES

Prof. Neville will Lecture on

"TANNHAUSER," A Great 3 Reel Feature

Dec. 4 3t

PRESENTED WITH PITCHER

Capt. G. A. Wardwell Surprised by Paul Revere Post

The presentation of a silver water pitcher, in apreciation of many kindnesses extended the members of Paul J. Revere Post, G. A. R., to Captain George A. Wardwell of the Kincaide Theatre and the re-election of practically the same officers were the features of annual meetings of the post Thursday evening.

The presentation by Past Commander George L. Phillips was a surprise to Captain Wardwell and was brought about in a clever manner.

CAPTAIN WARDWELL.

Several days ago he was informed by members that a discussion relative to the militia had developed and feeling that he was acquainted with the subject they requested him to attend and decide the question. Captain Wardwell reviewed points on which his memory was not quite clear, attended the meeting prepared to make a decision and found he was the guest of the evening at a surprise arranged in his honor. He accepted the gift of the members and thanked them heartily.

The committee appointed to complete the plans for the presentation were: Past Commander George L. Philips, Quartermaster Francis P. Loud and Henry Studley.

The officers elected were:

Commander—Dr. C. M. Marstin.

Senior Vice Comamnder—Mark E. Hanson.

Junior Vice Commander—Thomas Ring.

Officer of the Day—Warren Dunbar.

INITIATE TWO.

George L. Gill Rebekah Lodge, I. O. O. F., initiated two candidates at the regular meeting Thursday evening and entertained members from Neponset, Dorchester and Braintree. The work was done by the degree team in charge of Mrs. May Gaynor of Dorchester and was carried out so well that tremendous applause was given at the close of the exercises. Nominations were made and the election will take place Dec. 18 at which time a pleasant evening is anticipated. Ice cream and cake was served.

WILLIAM W. BREWSTER.

William W. Brewster, a rigger at the Fore River shipyard died Thursday at the Quincy City Hospital from a complication of diseases. He was 63 years of age and lived at 2 Reed place, Quincy Point.

NOTICE.

Regular meeting of Clan McGregor, No. 5 O. S. C. Monday, Dec. 8, 1913. Business. Election of Officers.

ANGUS D. MARTIN, Chief.
WALTER A. MITCHELL, Sec'y.
5-3t

LOST

SAVINGS BANK BOOKS

Savings Bank Books as listed below have been lost and application has been made for payment of the accounts in accordance with Section 40, Chapter 590, of the Acts of 1908. Payment has been stopped.

Book No. 5196	Book No. 33235
Book No. 22126	Book No. 35297
Book No. 22240	Book No. 36567
Book No. 30888	Book No. 37435

UINCY SAVINGS BANK
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.
Nov. 21-5t-21-28-5

CLOSING NIGHT OF THE BAZAAR

Great Interest Shown in Work Ladies of Four Teams

The Japanese Bazaar of the Ladies Aid society of the Wollaston Methodist chuch close its three days run Thursday evening with general satisfaction on all sides.

The patronage had been generous the receipts large and all that had attended felt pleased at the entertainment afforded them.

Great interest in the bazaar was aroused by the four teams into which the Ladies Aid has been divided this year. Although the teams united for the bazaar and for other large events there has been much friendly competition between them both for new members added and money raised.

Each team started last April with seven members and since that time has raised a goodly sum and increased its membership.

Team Two of which Mrs. Eric H. Ewertz is the captain is well in the lead at the present time with a membership of fifteen and over $90 to its credit.

Team Four comes second with eleven members and $56 to its credit. Team Three comes third with eleven members and $40 while Team One brings up last with ten members and $35.

While Mrs. Ewertz team seems well in the lead many quiet schemes are on foot for which the money has not been turned in and when the contest closes next April some other team may be in first place.

The officers of the Ladies Aid consist of: Mrs. George Crothers, president; Mrs. George Taylor, vice president; Mrs. H. B. L. Dimmick, secretary Mrs. W. C. Lupton, treasurer.

The four teams are divided as follows:

Group One—Miss Aurelia Merrill, leader; Mrs. W. C. Lupton, Mrs. Holbrook, Mrs. Sprague, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Collett, Mrs. W. C. Sanders, Miss Rena M. Chamberlain, Miss King.

Group Two—Mrs. Eric H. Ewertz, leader; Mrs. J. A. Sedgwick, Mrs. Henry Eppes, Mrs. L. C. Merrill, Mrs. Louis E. Crosscup, Mrs. Emil Raquet, F. A. Sutermeister, F. G. Bennett, Mrs. Prudence Stokes, Mrs. Willard E. Keyes, Mrs. Roberts, Miss Holbrook, Mrs. Howard Falconer, Mrs. Rice, Mrs. Lion, Mrs. Lewis.

Group Three—Mrs. H. B. L. Dimmick, leader; Mrs. F. H. Morgan, Mrs. A. R. Poquette, Mrs. T. N. Lane, Mrs. Charles Carter, Mrs. James Bent, Mrs. Charles Hills, Mrs. B. E. Wright, Mrs. Sarah Clarke, Mrs. Thom, Mrs. Scott.

Group Four—Mrs. George Taylor, leader; Mrs. W. F. Morgan, Mrs. Dewsnap, Mrs. S. N. Belcher, Mrs. A. B. Cassidy, Mrs. Carrie Durgin, Mrs. Twombly, Mrs. O. E. Estes, Mrs. Walter Sutermeister, Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. Estey, Miss Helen Euerle.

HEAR TALK ON SOUTH AMERICA

One of the largest audiences attending a meeting of the Parents and Teachers Association of the Massachusetts Fields School was present Thursday evening to hear Colonel Henry L. Kincaide of Quincy deliver his lecture "A trip to South America."

Overflowing the seating capacity the crowd filled the rear of the hall and a portion of the stairway where they listened for nearly an hour to the interesting talk of the Colonel.

He took his hearers through the various South American Republics visited by the Boston Chamber of Commerce and displayed his ready observation by the many incidents he related.

The speaker was listened to intently and received hearty applause on his conclusion.

At the business meeting it was voted to donate a set of Winston's Accumulative Encyclopedias for use in the school. The president S. J. Ripley was appointed to see the proper authorities in regard to increased lighting facilities in the building.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

PENNIES FOR CHARITY FUND

Quincy Catholic Club Hold Christmas Sale

An entertainment by well known young ladies followed the Christmas sale and meeting of the Quincy Catholic club in the Knights of Columbus rooms Thursday evening. A mile of pennies will be collected for the charity fund and the first distribution of strips was made.

The entertainment was in charge of Miss Elizabeth Keating, Miss Bertha Trepanier and Miss Julia Duffy. Miss Ruth Packard, accompanied by Miss Trepanier sang "I am Glad I'm an Old Maid" and "I'm a Poor Unhappy Maid." Miss Ruth Keating, accompanied by Miss Theresa Keating was the violinist of the evening and gave Dvorak's Humoresque and a Concerto by De Beriot. The program closed wtih solos by Miss Eva Rice, accompanied by Miss Catherine Finn, a 14 year old girl. Miss Rice sang Esmerelda and A May Morning. All the artists were enthusiastically received.

COMMISSIONER PRAISED.

Editor of Ledger:

I would like through the columns of the Daily Ledger to express my word of pleasure and praise to Commissioner of Public Works Tupper for the manner in which he completed the work of moving the Quincy Mutual Fire Insurance office and made the space left an improvement to Quincy centre. The island in the centre with the beautiful column surmounted by an abundance of light certainly displays good taste which cannot be excelled by any spot in our City. I would sugest that the square be dedicated the "Crane Square" in commemmoration of the Crane family, one of our most public benefactors.

Albert Keating

Quincy, Dec. 4, 1913.

COMPLICATIONS OVER ELECTION OF ALEX COWE

Quo Warranto Action May Be Necessary to Settle Question

City Charter Says Council Shall Be Judge of Its Own Members

The situation that has arisen over the eligibility of Alexander Cowe to serve as a member of the City Council from Ward Three is a peculiar one. He was one of the three gentlemen to receive the largest vote and under ordinary circumstances would be declared elected, except, that there is a question as to his eligibility, for the reason that from the records of the Registrars of Voters, he has not been a citizen of the United States for a year and is therefore, under the City Charter, not qualified to serve.

As stated in Wednesdays Daily Ledger City Clerk Crane has brought the question to the City Solicitor for an opinion. This opinion which was given this morning reads as follows:

Mr. Emery L. Crane,
City Clerk,
Dear Sir:

I believe it to be your duty to canvass the vote of the recent election as shown by the election officer's returns and make returns to the City Council accordingly. You are not to pass on the question of the qualification of any candidate voted for at the election.

Yours truly,
Signed, John W. McAnarney,
City Solicitor.

The City Clerk therefore will make his return to the City Council next Monday evening and it will evidently be the duty of President Whiton, after the returns are read to declare the election to have been as read, with the exception of Alexander Cowe, Councilman from Ward Three, whose eligibility to serve is in doubt.

The next question is what will then happen? Whose duty is it to say that Mr. Cowe is not eligible and that Mr. Foy has been elected? According to the ruling of the City Solicitor it is not any part of the duty of the City Clerk to do so. Is it any part of the duty of the City Council to so declare it?

Section 13 of the City Charter provides among other things the following: "The City Council shall determine the rules of its own proceedings and shall be the judge of the election returns and qualifications of its own members."

This would seem to settle the question, that the City Council may declare Mr. Cowe not qualified to serve as Councilman, although it can hardly do so without proof to that effect. Of course if Mr. Cowe would send a signed statement to the City Council stating that he had not been a naturalized citizen for a year, and acknowledging that he was not eligible to serve it would simplify matters considerably.

Even if this should be done and the City Council officially declare Mr. Cowe not elected there is a question if the Council could at the same time declare that Robert T. Foy who received the next highest vote to Mr.

(Continued on Page Three.)

HERE'S a noteworthy fact about the live store and its service.

Even at this late date you can secure practically as wide a choice in

Kuppenheimer Clothes

as at the beginning of the season.

Copyright 1913 The House of Kuppenheimer

English, Semi-English or Conservative Suits for men and young men of every style and fabric preference.

$18 - $27.00

All sorts and sizes in O'COATS

Copyright 1913 The House of Kuppenheimer

$18 to $27

$10.00 $12.00 $15.00

SUITS AND O'COATS up to the minute for Style and Fabric

By comparison you can prove for yourself a saving to you from $2.00 to $3.00 a Garment.

REMICK'S, Music Hall Block

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1880

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second-Class matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

TELEPHONES
News . . . Quincy 425
Business . . Quincy 1910

NOTICE

Again we ask those sending news or other matter by mail to direct it to the company or newspaper rather than to individual members of the company or employees. If addressed to individuals and they were ill or not at the office, it might be several days in reaching its proper destination and if news matter would be too late for use.

Pick your Christmas trees early.

Contest for the armor plate plant begins to sound like an anvil chorus.

Recipe for Mexican stew: Mix Juarez, Chihuahua, Popocatapeti, stir in Huerta, Carranza and Pancho Villa serve hot.

About this time of the year the small boy is torn between the desire to have the regular fun and the necessity of assuming pre-Christmas virtue.

According to a Washington correspondent, not one man in 10,000 understands the currency problem. But one seldom meets a man who does not know all about it.

PRESIDENTS LANE.

Although there was opposition to changing the name of Goffe street to Presidents lane those in favor were in the majority. The real objection was from those believing the present name all right and that in real estate conveyances and land titles a change of name made confusion and possibly future trouble for present or prospective owners of property on the street.

By vote of the City Council Monday evening Goffe street will henceforth be known as Presidents lane. In the old days it was called Presidents lane because President John Adams used to drive his cows over it to pasture and was accustomed on pleasant mornings, even when he was more than ninety years old, to walk to the top of the hill at the end of the lane to see the sun rise.

Being a "city of presidents" the name president and Adams naturally figure prominently in the names of our thoroughfares and landmarks especially at the south part of the town where John Adams and his son John Quincy Adams were born, and in the vicinity of their later home, the Vassell house on Adams street.

The railroad station is known as Quincy Adams and there is also a Presidents road at South Quincy, while the presidential mansion is on Adams street, just over Presidents bridge on the north slope of Presidents hill, Goffe street or as renamed Presidents lane going up over the hill from in front of the mansion.

PEACE ON EARTH.

It may seem trite to keep on talking about the evils of the holiday rush. But when a social practice becomes intrenched in such a way as to cause human suffering and economic waste, there is satisfaction in hammering away on a theme that is old yet always vital.

The Christmas gift habit was started as a manifestation of the spirit of the Prince of Peace. Christmas is the day of "Peace on earth, good will to men." It signifies the laying aside of all cruelties and harshnesses, the prevalence of the spirit of brotherhood, of kindness, of consideration for the needs and rights of others.

Yet this so-called Christian world continues year after year to practice certain habits in the buying and sending of gifts, that impose the most nerve wrecking toil on hundreds of thousands of people.

For a week previous to this holiday of joy and good cheer, the life of postal clerks, mail carriers, shopgirls, in all large towns and cities, is one of drive, hurry, worry, scurry, loss of patience and temper, late hours, hasty feeding, lack of sleep. It leaves them physically and nervously depressed. The experience is dreaded for weeks, and is a nightmare to many persons of sensitive temperament and frail physique.

And yet knowing all this, realizing it perfectly, people still keep on year after year buying a mess of gifts the week before the holiday, and clogging the mails and expresses with this futile accumulation of packages. It is a queer reflection on the common sense, the human sympathy of the American people, and suggests a great big wide yellow streak of selfishness running through the national temperament.

It all goes to illustrate that many of the abuses of civilization are due to absorption in our own concerns. The interest of your neighbor is forgotten. Every one admits the justice of the plea for early buying and mailing of gifts, but the greater proportion of the public will not put it into effect. Some are so hard up for ready cash that they cannot. Let every one else think how the other fellow feels.

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP.

One of the panaceas frequently recommended for our political, industrial and social ills is public ownership of public utilities. Certain misguided souls honestly believe it would open the door to the millennium, and certain other souls, for selfish reasons, dishonestly encourage them in that belief.

Public ownership of railroads and railways, unless demagogs cease from troubling, is certain to come in the near future; and already "The Father of the American Parcel Post," Representative Lewis of Maryland, has moved to bring the telephone and the telegraph under the paternal hand of the government.

The government we are told will net $10,000,000 on the first year's operation of the Parcel Post; and the inference we are expected to draw is that if it can do that with the express business it surely can do as well with the telephone and telegraph business.

But there are a couple of sizable niggers in the Parcel Post woodpile to which the advocates of public ownership would fain not have attention directed. One of them is that the government is grafting on the railroads, compelling them to carry express matter free of charge, and the other is that it charges nothing for rent of buildings, or for depreciation of plant or equipment in connection with its Parcel Post business.

Let the government be as strict in its own case as it is with the railroads in the matter of depreciation and other charges, and give the railroads what is honestly due them for the transportation of Parcel Post packages ,and the Parcel Post end of its activities will show a deficit instead of a profit.

Public ownership of railroads, telephone and telegraph would mean socialism: and if any one wants to know what that means let him spend a few months in New Zealand, as George W. Moore, of Brookline, Mass., recently did, getting first hand information in the Socialist hot-bed of the world.

The story Mr. Moore brings back about the practical operation of Socialism is not calculated if widely circulated, to increase the Socialist vote in this country. According to him the Socialist experiment there has been a lamentable failure, just such a failure, in fact, as its opponent have foretold.

"The country," says Mr. Moore, "is run by labor leaders for the benefit of labor leaders, and is practically bankrupt. English capitalists have furnished the money to keep the government going so far, but further loans have recently been refused.

" 'You must make your experiment pay or give it up,' the nation's representatives were told by the London bankers. 'We will advance nothing further toward your support.' The country is now practically mortgaged to these English capitalists, and they will eventually own it.

"Practically the only right enjoyed by the alleged freeman in New Zealand is the right to be poor and to abstain from work.

"If the fruits of a man's industry, ability and thrift are above a certain minimum, they are taken from him forthwith by a merciful and benevolent government.

"Graft, inefficiency, laziness, indifference, poverty and vice seem to be the principal products of the system, and in the production of these it is all that could be desired by the most vicious oppinent of modern civilization."

Such, according to this most trustworthy witness, is Socialism, otherwise known as public ownership, in New Zealand. Do we want it here? If not, we had better find some other remedy for our railroad, telephone and telegraph ills than public ownership.—Truth.

—In Denver it was said that the majority of the women as well as the men voted to keep liquor selling on the legal list. It worked out differently in Jacksonville, Ill. That place has voted dry for the fourth consecutive time, and while the men this year voted "No" by 77 majority, the women sealed the doom of the saloon in that city, raising the majority for "No" by their votes to 2404.—Brockton Enterprise.

GOVERNMENT TO BE ESTABLISHED

Rebels Will Enforce Customs Along Northern Border

HAVE CURRENCY AND STAMPS

Villa Will Leave to Carranza Task of Establishing New Rule—Very Little More Fighting Near International Boundary—Editor Selected as Governor of State of Chihuahua

Juarez, Mex., Dec. 5.—While looting by isolated bands or confiscation of property by the rebels may continue, the days of fighting in northern Mexico are numbered, so far as the present revolution is concerned, according to opinions expressed by rebel leaders.

General Francisco Villa's assertion that there was not much more to fight for in the north because of the bankrupt condition of the federal army, which caused it to evacuate so important a city as Chihuahua, has spread among the rebels.

What most immediately concerns the so-called constitutionalist party now is the elaboration of ifs civil government. This embraces a more systematized customs to be enforced along the border. The rebels hold all the important border towns except Nuevo Laredo and Piedras Negras, opposite Eagle Pass.

There remains also to be put in force a uniform currency system, for now rebel and federal currency are in conflict, one kind being acceptable in one place and another kind in another. The rebel postage stamps already are in use. Many governors and state officials are to be selected.

Within a short time, the leaders say, a government will be in operation in the northern part of the country which will be entirely independent of that at Mexico City.

The settlement of the civil questions is one reason why Villa has asked General Carranza to meet him at Chihuahua. Sylvestera Terrazas, a newspaper editor in Chihuahua, who is not related to the wealthy Terrazas family, has been selected for governor of the state. Villa expects to leave to Carranza the task of establishing civil government, devoting himself to the military campaign southward towards Mexico City.

Report Federals Lose 220 Men

Brownsville, Tex., Dec. 5.—A twenty-four hour battle near Tula, forty miles below Victoria, Tamaulipas, in the region of important Mexican oil fields, resulted in a federal loss of 220, according to a constitutionalist report received at Matamoras from General Aguilar, commander-in-chief in that district.

The constitutionalist loss was not given. Late advices from Victoria said the fighting had been resumed.

PARCEL POST USED

Indianapolis Merchants Use Mails During Teamsters' Strike

Indianapolis, Dec. 5.—A crisis in the teamsters' strike is imminent. With Christmas shopping turned into the poorest business season of the year by the walkout, with jammed freight houses and comparatively no outgoing shipments, a move by a citizens' committee to end the strike by conciliation was made coincident with a determined effort on the part of many employers to resume business.

Two men have been killed, seven have bullet wounds and scores of heads have been cracked. No arrests have been made for the shootings by strike-breakers.

Uncle Sam is unwillingly the teamsters' worst enemy. By parcel post and by express, which has the protection of the interstate commerce commission, the merchants are making nearly all their deliveries. The parcel post is swamped. Eggs, butter, meats, bread and dressed fowl, as well as milady's new shoes, waists, silks and Christmas gifts, are going by way of parcel post and express, from local stores to points within the city limits.

FIRE LOSS OF $70,000

Fort Kent, Me., Loses Hotel and Seven Business Places

Fort Kent, Me., Dec. 5.—A revision of the losses in the fire which burned the Fort Kent hotel and seven stores increased the aggregate to $70,000, on which there is insurance of about $20,000.

The fire originated in the drygoods store of Assad Cannan and spread rapidly through the frame structures which made a stubborn blaze. Surrounding buildings were saved with the aid of a recently installed water system and help from Eagle Lake.

Cripple Confesses to Murder

Wellsburg, W. Va., Dec. 5.—Daniel Lee of Steubenville, O., a 19-year-old cripple, confessed to having murdered George Mooney, aged 80 a wealthy farmer, who was found dead in his home with a bullet hole in his head.

Body Thought to Be Quincy Man

New York, Dec. 5.—The mangled body of a man thought, from papers in his pocket, to be Thomas Todd of Quincy, Mass., was found on the New York Central railroad tracks.

Minute "Movies" of the News Right Off the Reel

Cincinnati man demanded writ to compel wife to listen to his plea to end separation.

Bayonne (N. J.) recorder fined two sailors by phone so ship could sail with tide and the pair.

New Brunswick (N. J.) thieves had "progressive breakfast." Stole milk at one house, eggs at another, etc.

Passaic (N. J.) lad, asked for original essays on Washington and Wilson, started to walk to capital for data.

Freeport (N. Y.) couple, wedded sixty years, danced as blithely at celebration as at original event, though eighty-three and eighty-two.

Maryland family, grown so hefty house would not stand strain, had to build new home. Combined weight of seventeen is ton and a half.

WIRELESS CLOCK TICKS OVER THE SEA COMPARED.

Washington Observatory Getting Radio Signals From Eiffel Tower.

The naval observatory in Washington is now regularly receiving time signals from the observatory of Paris by wireless telegraphy between the Eiffel tower and the naval radio tower at Arlington, Va. These exchanges have been going on every day for several weeks. The scientific object is to measure by the velocity of the propagagation of radio signals over the intervening distance the precise difference of longitude between Paris and Washington.

The complete success of the work had been more or less disturbed by interferences from other radio stations and by atmospheric conditions until finally the beats of the Paris clock, as transmitted by wireless, were compared with the Washington clock for several minutes. This is the season of the year when the electrical conditions of the atmosphere are most favorable to such long distance work, and it is now believed that the work of the American and the French commissions on longitudinal determinations may go forward with their task.

The same signals which are sent by the Arlington radio station for the naval observatory are to be used by naval hydrographic surveying parties in the West Indies and Central America.

The Washington naval observatory was the first institution to employ radiotelegraphy for the transmission of its time signals to ships at sea to permit them to check their chronometers and to determine more accurately their longitude. It also transmitted such signals to surveying parties under the hydrographic office to enable them to determine the longitude of points used as bases for surveys.

In such transmissions, however, there was the loss of a fraction of a second between the time of starting a signal on its journey and of receiving it. It was therefore necessary to accurately measure this loss and make allowances. This was first accomplished by the French scientists through what is known as the method of "coincidences." The superintendent of the naval observatory then suggested that comparisons be carried on between Paris and Washington to solve the problem of measuring losses.

The French government went further than to accede to the request of the naval observatory that American experts be permitted to take observations in Paris. It arranged to send a commission of scientists to co-operate with an American commission in conducting the test. This dual commission commenced work last April.

A NEW LAW IN PHYSICS?

Professor Nipher Thinks It Will Revolutionize Power Machinery.

Francis E. Nipher, professor of physics at Washington university, in St. Louis, discovered what he says is a new law in physics, which he thinks is likely to lead to great changes in the principles of construction of power machinery.

The alleged discovery is that on an incline of from 45 to 60 degrees more power is required to propel an object on the surface than would be required to lift it outright. The explanation is that at an incline between the degrees mentioned the frictional resistance makes the load heavier than its dead weight.

Professor Nipher had been lecturing before the sophomore engineering class and had been using formulas. Afterward, in looking over the formulas, he says, he found that while the resistance up to 45 degrees and above 60 degrees is less than the dead weight between those points it is greater with the maximum resistance between 55 and 50 degrees.

He made further inquiries and found that so far as he could discover nothing had been known of the law before. He said he had not had time to think out the bearings of the discovery, but he had no doubt that it would have a revolutionary effect in the construction of machinery built to overcome frictional resistance.

BOY FARMERS AT CAPITAL

Young Corn Growers Win Trip to Washington as Reward

Washington, Dec. 5.—The vanguard of an army of boys to further the "stay on the farm" movement has arrived in Washington.

The party numbers about 1200. They came from O[illegible], where they won the trip as reward for the excellence of the corn grown by the boys and the baking done by the girls.

Secretary Bryan, who addressed the boys and girls at Continental hall, said he was kept busy lecturing to keep a little farm in Kansas running. At the same time he declared that the farm was the future of the young man and that it offered greater opportunities than any other vocation.

Next week representatives of boys and girls' clubs in other states will reach the national capital on a sight-seeing trip. There will be a champion member of boys' corn clubs from each of the southern states, champions from girls' canning clubs from southern, western and northern states, and girls' and boys' potato clubs in Massachusetts, Ohio, Utah, Iowa and Michigan. Colorado will send a sugar beet boy.

LACK OF CONFIDENCE

Rejchstag by Large Majority, Votes Against Imperial Chancellor

Berlin, Dec. 5.—By 293 to 54, the reichstag voted a lack of confidence in the imperial chancellor and the government, after a four-hour debate.

The censure of the government followed the military outbursts in Alsace and the utterances of Von Bethmann-Hollweg and War Minister Falkenhayn, in the reichstag, in which they declared the military would continue to be the supreme authority in Germany.

The imperial chancellor will leave the capital to make a personal report on the Zabern incidents to the emperor at Domueschingen.

Maximilian Harden excoriated the government for its tactlessness in permitted a small incident like the riots in Alsace to grow to huge proportions that "shame Germany before the whole world."

$50,000 LOSS BY [illegible] FIRE AT TIVERTON

Newport Sends Help as Six Buildings Burn

Tiverton, R. I., Dec. 5.—Six buildings were burned to the ground here, with an estimated loss of $50,000. The local fire department was forced to summon aid from Newport.

The fire broke out in the residence of George Budlong, in the Stone Bridge section of the town, destroying the building and spreading to a barber shop, two waiting rooms, a plumbing establishment and a shoemaker's store.

The roof of the Stone Bridge hotel caught fire, but the blaze was extinguished before the structure was badly damaged.

TO TEST MAINE LAW

Boston and Maine Agent Accused of Maintaining Nuisance

Portland, Me., Dec. 5.—A charge of maintaining a liquor nuisance lodged against Elbridge L. Waterhouse, the Boston and Maine station agent at West Scarboro, was expected to be made a test case to determine whether county officials can prevent the receipt and storage of liquors at surburban railroad stations.

County officials allege that liquor is held in the stations until delivered to consumers in the city by automobile or team. Agent Waterhouse, after pleading not guilty waived a hearing and was bound over to the January term of the superior court.

DIES OF HEART DISEASE

Cashier of Courier-Citizen Company Dies at Home In Lowell

Lowell, Mass., Dec. 5.—George E. Coburn, cashier of the Courier-Citizen company, died suddenly at his home, 159 Fort Hill avenue. Heart disease was the cause of death. His wife and one daughter survive him.

Mr. Coburn, who was with the Courier-Citizen company for many years, was at work late and went home apparently in good health. Later he complained of not feeling well, and a physician was called. He suffered another attack, and died soon after. He was 42 years old.

Johnson's Bondsman Dead

Chicago, Dec. 5.—Matthew S. Baldwin, 74, millionaire Chicago real estate man and one of the bondsmen of Jack Johnson, the pugilist, was found dead in a gas-filled bedroom, in his home in Evanston. The police believe death was accidental. An inquest will be held.

Deserted Baby Wins Prize

Jersey City, Dec. 5.—Edward, a deserted baby, was awarded first prize at a "better babies" contest here. The foundling was adjudged 100 percent perfect. But his mother wasn't there to rejoice.

Sutro Gives Up Flying

San Francisco, Dec. 5.—Adolph G. Sutro, who holds the first hydro-aeroplane license issued by the Aero Club of America, announced he had made his last flight.

Capital $150,000 Surplus $200,000

PERISHABLE PAPERS

are perhaps kept in your house with nothing between them and destruction or theft but a thin wall of wood. That isn't prudent, when, for $5 you can encase them in steel—in a box accessible to YOU ONLY—in our fire and burglar proof vault. Use a Granite Trust Safety-deposit box and sleep well o'-nights!

Our $5 Box Is Larger Than a $10 Box in Boston.

GRANITE TRUST CO.
FOUNDED 1836

THE CORSET SHOP
8 Maple Street

All Popular makes of
Corsets and Brassieres
Hosiery and
McCall Patterns
Correct fitting of Corsets a specialty

I have been very fortunate to have, during my temporary absence, the services of an expert corsettiere, who who will give the same personal attention to fittings and alterations as has always been accorded to customers.

MISS S. E. DUNPHY
Oct. 30-tf

JOHN ERICSON.

The funeral of John Ericson was held Thursday from his late residence at 64 Washington street and was largely attended. The services were conducted by Rev. A. E. Hillman of St. Paul's M. E. church, assisted by Rev. E. Rydstrom, a former pastor of the church. There was a profusion of beautiful flowers which included the following. A half moon from the widow, flat bouquets from Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carlson, Mr. and Mrs. William Gelotte, Mrs. Hattie Anderson, Calvin T. Dyer, Mrs. A. Studley, Miss Ella Stetson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Edgren, Mr. and Mrs. Lagerstrom, Mrs. Cecelia Ericson, a wreath from the Beaux Art club, wreath from Mr. and Mrs. John F. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Holteen, Carl and Willia Anderson. Wreath from Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Anderson, a wreath from Mr. and Mrs. Stone Ojerholm and Mr. and Mrs. Julius Ojerholm of Worchester, cross from Carl, Annie and Hilda Anderson, a pillow from daughter and son, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Anderson and a flat bouquet from Miss Nore Wik.

TO TELL EXPERIENCES.

Edward B. Southworth, who during the Civil war captained a troop in Florida, will tell of his experiences in that period, to the boys who gather in the Y. M. C. A. boys' room Saturday morning at 9.30. Mr. Southworth has not done much talking about his part in the great Civil strife but his experiences were remarkable and the boys who attend this meeting are to have a rare privilege of hearing from the lips of a veteran, the story of his life during the four years of the war. The meeting is open to all boys between the ages of 10 and 15. Next week Hitchcock, the big Harvard football player will speak on "Football as an Education."

A LOVELY FACE—BUT UGLY HAIR

How often you see an otherwise lovely face spoiled by homely hair—a face that would be most charmingly beautiful if she only had prettier hair. What a pity!—and how foolish! Because that ugly hair, stringy, dull, lifeless-looking though it may be, can be made as glossy, soft, silky and beautiful as the heart could desire if only taken proper care of.

Harmony Hair Beautifier is just what it is named—a hair beautifier. It is not a hair dye or hair oil—it is just a dainty, rose-perfumed liquid dressing to give the hair its natural gloss and brightness, its natural wavy softness, its natural rich beauty. Very easy to apply—simply sprinkle a little on your hair each time before brushing it. It contains no oil, and will not change the color of the hair, nor darken gray hair.

To keep your hair and scalp dandruff-free and clean, use Harmony Shampoo. This pure liquid shampoo gives an instantaneous rich lather that immediately penetrates to every part of hair and scalp, insuring a quick and thorough cleansing. Washed off just as quickly, the entire operation takes only a few moments. Contains nothing that can harm the hair; leaves no harshness or stickiness—just a sweet-smelling cleanliness.

Both preparations come in odd-shaped, very ornamental bottles, with sprinkler tops. Harmony Hair Beautifier, $1.00. Harmony Shampoo, 50c. Both guaranteed to satisfy you in every way, or your money back. Sold in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store—one of the more than 7,000 leading drug stores of the United States, Canada and Great Britain, which own the big Harmony laboratories in Boston, where the many celebrated Harmony Perfumes and Toilet Preparations are made —Edward J. Murphy, 1415 Hancock cor. Granite Streets, Quincy, Mass. "The Rexal Store."

15 to 20

COLUMNS OF LOCAL NEWS

ARE PUBLISHED DAILY

In the [Quincy] Ledger

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

PRINTS THE NEWS

AMUSEMENTS.

DOINGS ON THE STAGE IN

BOSTON AND VICINITY

BOSTON OPERA HOUSE.

The Boston Opera Company will begin the third week of the season with the first performance this winter of Puccini's ever popular opera "Madam Butterfly," Monday, Dec. 8. The title role will be sung by the charming Lucrezia Beri, who so firmly established herself by her performances of Mimi and Antonia last year. Wednesday evening will occur the second performance of Fevrier's "Monna Vanna," which will probably be the last until the latter part of the season. The cast will include Mary Garden, Lucien Muratore, Vanni Marcoux, and Paolo Ludikar. Friday night will be notable for the season's premiere of Verdi's "Aida," presented by an exceptionally brilliant cast, title role by Elizabeth Amsden and Amneris by Margherita D'Alvarez, the remarkable new contralto, whose voice made prominent even the small part that she sang the opening night. Saturday afternoon "Thais" will be presented for the first time this season, Mary Garden in the name part. Saturday night, "The Barber of Seville" will be presented.

MAJESTIC THEATRE.

Beginning next Monday, for two weeks only, Winthrop Ames will present at the Majestic Theatre, Arnold Bennett's brilliant comedy, "The Great Adventure," which comes direct from the Booth theatre, New York. "The Great Adventure" is founded on Arnold Bennett's book, "Buried Alive," which millions of readers have enjoyed The story is that of Ham Carve, England's greatest painter, who also happened to be the shyest man in the world—that is to say, shy only when expected to play the celebrity. When judged by his real worth, celebrity aside, he is just as delightful and natural as any human being could be. The part of the shy artist is played by Mr. Lyn Harding. Janet Beecher plays the part of the common-sense, intensely practical and large-hearted widow.

PARK THEATRE.

"Stop Thief," the new farce by Carlyle Moore, which enters upon its fourth week at the Park theatre, Boston, Monday night, has proven the most diverting attraction of its class booked here in a long time. Ever since its initial performance the play has been received by audiences that have evidenced in numbers and enthusiasm their delight in this Cohan and Harris production. Philip Hale of the Herald said, "Stop Thief is one of the joys of the current theatrical season." Charles Howard of the Globe: "As a lively, laughing show Stop Thief is one of the most agreeable seen here in a long time. The Post said "Stop Thief is as brilliant and as satisfying a force as has appeared here in many seasons." Matinees will be given every Wednesday and Saturday during the engagement.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

With its scenes laid in a little village on the shores of Long Island, "Sag Harbor" is filled with quaint people and romantic incidents. John Craig will present this play at the Castle Square next week, and its successive acts will reproduce the exterior of an old boat-house where United States life-saving boats are built, the interior of the same building, and a room in the house of Captain Turner, the boat-builder. The plot of "Sag Harbor" revolves around two brothers, and it is a mingling of sensation, emotion, humor, amusing incident and clever dialogue. It is true to nature throughout, and it will be faithfully represented on the Castle Square stage. A long and carefully selected cast will act. "Sag Harbor," the leading roles being played by William P. Carleton, Donald Meek and Doris Olssen.

SHUBERT THEATRE.

The second and last week of "A Thousand Years Ago" at the Shubert theatre will begin next Monday. It is an original play suggested by the famous Persian romance in "The Thousand and One Days" wherein is recited the story of the overwhelming love of the gallant and youthful Calif, Prince of Astrakhan, for Turandot, the beautiful Princess of Pekin. It combines all the delightful elements of comedy and romance amid a setting of singular charm and with all the irresistible fascination of Arabian Nights splendor. A unique feature of the production is the elaborate impressionistic futurist scenic setting. "A Thousand Years Ago" is presented by one of the most noteworthy casts assembled in recent years. Interpretative music has been especially composed by William Furst, and is rendered by an augmented orchestra under his personal direction.

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE.

Large and fashionable audiences have greeted Madame Nazimova at the Hollis Street theatre, Boston, at every performance of the James Bernard Fagan adaptation of Robert Hichens' story of love and passion, "Bella Donna" which goes into its third and last week Monday night. Mr. Fagan did his part admirably in the adapting the Hichens' novel for the stage and Charles Frohman has surrounded the distinguished Russian actress with an exceptionally admirable company and a scenic investiture that has literally bathed in the proper atmosphere. Nazimova gives a tremendously fascinating performance of the name part, as fascinating, indeed, as the sinuous serpent she has chosen to make of Mrs. Chepstow, for throughout the four acts of the play, it is impossible to think of anything else save a glittering reptile breaking men's hearts and who is wicked to the very core. The supporting company is most excellent. Matinees will be given on Wednesday and Saturday.

PLYMOUTH THEATRE.

The third and second last week of the engagement of "The Broad Highway," at the Plymouth theatre, Boston, will start on next Monday night. This play, dramatized from the popular novel of the same name by the author Jeffery Farnol, is being presented for the first time in this country by the Henry Jewett Players, an organization that has already won a high position in the field of high class theatricals. Since the opening of the piece several important changes have been made with the result that it is now presented in the usual average time and has steadily increased in popularity. Those who have read this delightful novel should not miss the opportunity to see the play. Unlike most dramatizations of popular novels "The Broad Highway" retains many of the important events related in the novel. The usual Thursday and Saturday matinees prevail.

COLONIAL THEATRE.

Bostonians will find the favorite Colonial offering what the New York and Boston newspaper critics have called "The Barnum and Bailey of Musical Comedy." In the production of "The Lady of the Slipper" there appears not one star but three—Montgomery and Stone and Elsie Janis. Mr. Dillingham made long and careful preparation for this important offering, which ran an entire season at the Globe theatre, New York, and there is a notable cast and a production combining novelty and good taste, of course. There are more than one hundred people in the company supporting Montgomery and Stone and Miss Janis. While "The Lady of the Slipper" remains at the Colonial regular performances will be given six evenings of each week with Wednesday and Saturday matinees. Extra matinees are announced for Christmas and New Year days.

KEITH'S BIJOU THEATRE.

Two feature pictures will be shown next week at B. F. Keith's Bijou Theatre, Boston, Dec. 8, 9, 10. The Port of Doom with Laura Sawyer 4 reels. Checkers, Dec. 11, 12, 13, 5 reels. There will be an interesting lecture with both stereopticon and motion pictures showing modern methods of fire fighting given by Arthur B. Jones, Ex. Asst. Fire Chief of Salem. "The Gypsy," a one act play, solo numbers and the Pathe Weekly, will complete the program. On Sunday evenings until further notice, there will be an orchestral program rendered by the Appollo orchestra. Ferdinand Fassuacht, conductor.

FURLONG LECTURE.

Wednesday night at Tremont Temple, Boston, Charles Wellington Furlong, will deliver the third of his series of five Wednesday night lectures on "The South America of Today." Mr. Furlong, who has already won prominence as an interesting lecturer and an authority on that country, has selected for his discourse "Brazil, The Land of the Southern Cross." The talk is beautifully illustrated with colored slides and motion pictures and will include a graphic description of the vast rubber country of the Amazons and the great rubber port of Para. Those who would revel in the unbounded beauties of this country had better take advantage of Mr. Furlong's lectures.

☞Are you reading the new serial story in the Ledger? It began Tuesday. It is one of the stories and plays that has attracted much attention. The play at a Boston theatre a few weeks ago drew crowded houses.

Only 20 Days

More to Christmas

Select Goods Early in order to have the orders and Engraving properly attended to.

Get a copy of our Xmas Catalogue

SANDBERG BROS.

Jewelers

1281 Hancock St, Quincy

ALEXANDER COWE

(Continued from Page One.)

Cowe, to be elected and eligible to serve.

It seems from what legal light can be obtained on the subject that if Mr. Foy desires to serve as Councilman that he must bring quo warranto proceedings before some judicial tribunal to declare that Mr. Cowe was not qualified to serve and that he Mr. Foy was duly elected as a Councilman from Ward Three.

Mr. Foy called at the City Clerks office this morning to find out where he stood on the question, and he was advised to bring quo warranto proceedings before some judicial body. The only question is would Mr. Foy think that the trougle and necessary expense for legal counsel would be offset by what honor that there was in serving as a Councilman.

In the light of the City Charter, as quoted above it may be possible for the City Council when it meets next Monday evening to declare Mr. Cowe not eligible to serve as a Councilman from Ward Three and to declare Mr. Foy elected. It would seem however that the better and surer way would for him to bring quo warranto proceedings as suggested.

It is the first time a question similar to this has arisen and there is much speculation as to the outcome One thing however is certain and that is Monday nights meeting will have a large attendance of citizens.

STEPPED FROM MOVING TRAIN

Miss Sadie McLellan, a domestic in the family of H. Gerrish Smith, manager of the Fore River Shipbuilding Co stepped off the 9.37 train from Boston shortly before it reached the Quincy station Thursday evening and was taken to the Quincy City Hospital for observation. At noon she was doing well.

When the train slowed down the girl, thinking the station had been reached stepped off and landed in a heap on the road bed. She was bruised and cut and became hysterical. She was treated by Dr. Walter L. Sargent. She is not seriously injured but may be disfigured.

BROUGHT HOME BANNER.

Pilgrim Union Circuit of the Boston District of Epworth Leagues of the Methodist Episcopal churches met at St. John's M. E. church, South Boston, Wednesday evening at which time Epworth League of Hall Place M. E church, West Quincy gave a presentation of the work at Ellis island and the landing of the immigrants. Miss Helen Martin of West Quincy, second vice president of Pilgrim Union had charge of the work and gave statistics.

The officers were Watchman, Alex Stewart; first Medical officer, D. H McNeil; Second Medical officer, George Stewart; Inspector, J. Lawrence Martin; Guard, Edward Newcomb; Matron, Mrs. Joseph M. Francis. The officers were in costume and went through the regular routine of determining whether the immigrants could legally be admitted to the United States. The nationalities represented were Italians, Germans, Bulgarians Norwegians, Slavoks, Jews, Irish, English, French, Syrians. Some were admitted without questions, some were detained pending the arrival of relatives or friends to certify that the immigrants would in no way become public charges, one was held on charges preferred by the French government against him as a counterfeiter, another held for special inquiry for deserting his family, one for attempting to enter on false statements and two were ordered deported as having Trachoma. The immigrant parts were taken by the various members of the West Quincy League costumed after the manner of the country represented.

A new feature of the Pilgrim Union started at this meeting was the awarding of a handsome silk banner to the League having the largest number present. Epworth League of the Hall Place M. E. church had the honor of being the first to receive the banner and proudly brought it to Quincy. It will remain in their possession for three months or until the next meeting the Pilgrim Union. West Quincy is planning to win again next time. The entertaining Chapter cannot compete for the banner.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

LEWIS N. CURTIS,

PAINTER and GLAZIER

LEADED STAINED GLASS

DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER

OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED

Orchard Place, off Spear street, Quincy

PATRIOTIC ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of Ward Six Patriotic Association was held at association headquarters, Thursday evening, a large attendance being present. After general business the subject of so-called "Blenheim park" was brought up and the present layout of the property discussed at length. The question was raised whether or not the present plan would be a detriment to the community. The meeting was then taken in charge by the entertainment committee and a musical program was carried out. The next meeting will be held the second Thursday in January.

DISTRICT COURT.

John Wickland of Granite street was fined $5 for neglecting to support his family. robation to Feb. 25, 1914.

Patrick Kennedy and John McDermont were fined $5 each for drunkenness at Quincy. Probation to Feb. 25, 1914.

Shipwrecks and Courts Martial.

The custom of holding courts martial in the British navy after every case of shipwreck has a curious origin. In 1741 the Wager, one of Commodore Anson's vessels, was wrecked off the coast of Chile, most of the crew being saved. The men and some of the junior officers held that they were no longer amenable to discipline because their pay ceased with the wreck, but the captain, whose name was Davy Cheap, differed, treated them as mutineers and shot one of his midshipmen. He was then deposed, and most of the crew made off in three of the boats. Later when it was proposed to proceed against the so called mutineers the law officers of the crown decided that the men had been correct in their view. This discovery led to the framing of section 91 of the articles of war, which provides that in the case of shipwreck, destruction or capture by the enemy a ship is held to remain in commission pending inquiry by a court martial.

Houseboats of the Thames.

The row of houseboats, each with its flowers, awning, flotilla of skiffs: the quantities of well groomed boats for hire among the willows all along the Thames' banks—this impression comes on the top of that of the half hour the other day coming into London in a sickly fog, of the horrible miles of Bermondsey and Lambeth along the lines, the ruthless heaps of rubbish, the hurry and grime of the two stations at Waterloo. The houseboats, etc., are the elaborate flower of that ugly plant called civilization. They stand for the comfort, the luxury, the high standard of England, which even in its lower walks of life offers similar prizes, similar complications, luxuries unknown abroad. One says to oneself: "How these people know how to live! How they exploit life!"—Vernon Lee in Scribner's.

This Is Your Town And It Is What You Make It

By HOLLAND.

WHAT makes a town? People and business. You are one of the people. What you buy helps make the business. The more you buy the better the business; the more business the better the town.

You want the town to grow and improve, don't you? Then you should help it to grow by increasing its business as much as you can. Every time you send elsewhere for goods you give your town a blow. Enough of these blows will ultimately kill the town.

The mail order houses do nothing for your town except try to kill it. Are you helping them? You are if you send your money to them for goods that you could buy at home. If you are more interested in the growth of Chicago or New York than you are in the prosperity of your own town, your own neighbors, then continue to send to mail order houses for goods. If you want your own town to thrive

SPEND YOUR MONEY WHERE YOU MAKE IT.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives of The Commonwealth of Massachusetts in General Court assembled

The undersigned, citizens of Quincy and Boston, respectfully petition for the passage of such legislation as may be necessary to provide for annexing to the City of Boston that part part of the City of Quincy known as Squantum

(Signed)

CHARLES S. LAWLER
TIMOTHY F. CALLAHAN
JAMES H. HAGAN
PERLEY P. BOSTWICK
HERMAN J. BERGHAUS
JOSEPH D. UPPLING,
JAMES H. FOSTER,
EDWARD EAGAR
WILLIAM HARVEY.

Dec. 5-3t 5-10-17

CLUBHOUSE IS NOW ASSURED

Work on Home for Sachem Club to begin Soon

After many months work on the part of its well wishers a clubhouse for the new Sachem club is an assured fact. With $6,000 subscribed, certain well known men of Wollaston have come forward and agreed to back up the club for the remainder. Work on the building will be started In a very few months.

With no wide publicity attending them the directors of the club have been quietly at work "sawing wood" and have met every Monday evening at the club's permanent business headquarters at 325 Newport avenue to discuss ways and means and consider any new phases of the problem that may have come up.

It is understood that the Wollaston Woman's club will be formally approached in the very near future and its co-operation asked although no financial underwriting will be expected from that organization.

Just what action the Woman's club will take is not certain as opinion seems to be divided between building a clubhouse of their own and arranging for quarters in the Sachem clubhouse should the opportunity afford.

Tentative plans have been drawn and are now being considered by the Sachem club directors with view to minor changes should the Woman's club decide to co-operate.

A committee of the Sachem club has made a tour of a large number of clubs within a reasonable distance of Boston noting a good point here, another there and discussing the situation with scores of club officials.

This canvas has resulted in a set of plans that seem to embody the very acme of desirability and comfort for such an organization as is proposed.

Plans call for a large hall with adjoining ante rooms, bowling alleys, billiard, card and committee rooms. In fact every facility that would be of permanent advantage.

The arrangement, as proposed, is such that different parts of the clubhouse may be shut off so as to accommodate two or three simultaneous gatherings without inconvenience.

Just what the cost of the clubhouse is to be cannot be known until the exact size and arrangement has been decided but from the proposed plans and the idea of the directors it will be a credit in every way to Wollaston and vicinity.

Since its organization on March 8, 1913, the Sachem club has been forging steadily forward and although, from lack of advertising in recent months, the general public thought, the movement falling through the project has been gradually crystalizing until now it has nearly reached the time to build.

The annual meeting of the Sachem club will be held on Monday evening January 12, when the whole matter will be presented to the members and officers elected for the ensuing year.

A nominating committee has been appointed which is hard at work preparing a slate to be considered by the meeting.

The present board of directors which is responsible for the definite results achieved consists of: Eugene F. DeNormandie, Russell T. Anthony, Harold D. Waterhouse, John Buchannan, George W. Stone, Arthur P. Russell, Samuel H. Couch, Eric H. Ewertz Elisha B. Bird, James B. Geddes, William F. Kimball, N. G. Nickerson, Jr., Harry A. Stevens, Edward E. Jameson Charles Alden, Louis E. Crosscup and Matthew Ott.

OWNERS FOUND FOR TENDER

The abandoned launch and tender found off the Willows, Houghs Neck on Thursday was claimed that evening by two men from East Boston who said that they were forced in shore by the rough sea and high wind when they attempted to make East Boston after clamming at Half Moon Island and waded ashore.

Both boats were discovered in the bay by residents and the story immediately circulated that someone had been drowned. Several bushels of clams and a pair of rubber boots seemed to confirm that belief but with the appearance of the men all suspicions vanished.

☞PRATT'S BREAD is liked by the most discriminating people. Grocers sell it.

To Overcome Biliousness

and the many physical troubles biliousness brings to suffering humanity, there is one pre-eminent remedy of known and proved corrective power. Beecham's Pills are famous the whole world over because they gently, quickly and safely remove the cause of biliousness: If you will try a few small doses you will know you have found the best aid obtainable to drive away the headache, lassitude, low spirits, uneasy nights, bad dreams and that bitter taste resulting from Biliousness.

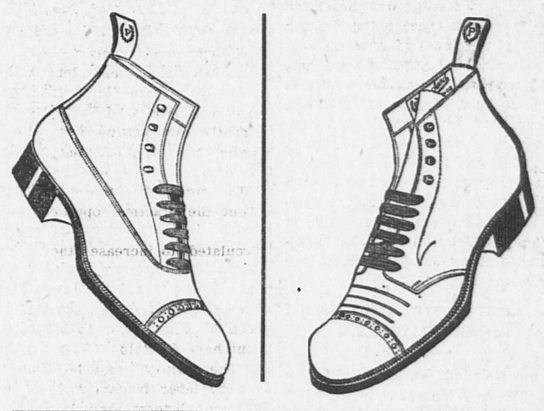
Besides, most serious sicknesses begin in minor ailments of the organs of digestion. Beecham's Pills have certain effect for good upon disordered or irregular action of these organs. They tone the stomach, stimulate the liver, regulate the kidneys and bowels. They clear the system of impurities, purify the blood and so increase your strength that you are soon put in condition to best enjoy all life and to resist the coming of disease.

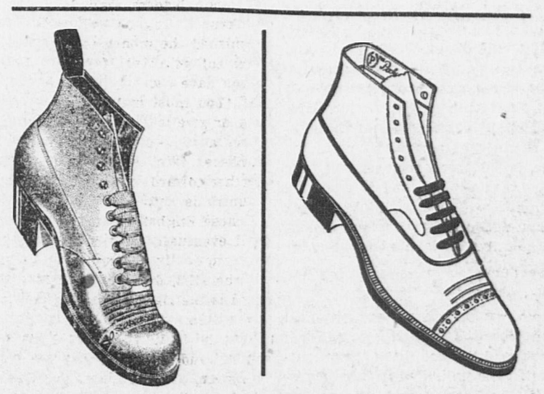
BEECHAM'S PILLS

"The Largest Sale of Any Medicine in the World"

At all Druggists 10c — 25c

Directions of Special Value to Women are With Every Box





REMICK'S

Music Hall Block, Quincy

At ATLANTIC

Quincy Daily Ledger

On Sale after 3.30 P. M.

--- AT ---

BRANSCHIED & MARTENS

Why not put in an order and have it left every day at your home?

Quincy Daily Ledger

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30.
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branschied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
Newcomb Square—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. Smith.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck.
L. A. Cook, Washington Street.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington Street.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield Water st.
A. Pierson, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—Capt. Fosdick's.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity: Saturday generally fair. Sunday unsettled.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	6.59
Sun sets	4.12
Length of day	9.13
Moon rises	12.00
High water, A. M.	5.30
High water, P. M.	6.00

Days decrease 6 hours, 4 minutes

Full Moon, Dec. 13,	10.00 A. M.
Last Quarter, Dec. 20	1.16 A. M.
New Moon, Dec. 27	9.59 A. M.
First Quarter, Dec. 5,	9.59 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today	52 degrees
Dec. , 1912,	48 degrees
Dec. , 1911,	30 degrees

Dec. Noon Maximum 14 years—67
Dec. Noon Minimum, 14 years—2

KNICKERBOCKER BOYS CABARET

The Norwegian Society of Quincy held its 10th annual dancing party in Alpha hall Thursday evening. The affair was attended mostly by relatives and immediate friends of the members and a pleasant evening was passed.

The feature of the evening was the cabaret professional singers of Boston who rendered popular song hits. They were given tremendous applause.

Dancing was enjoyed until midnight and music was by Johnsen's orchestra. Refreshments were served in Union hall by Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Marvin.

The floor was in charge of Lauritz Jakobsen with Andrew Olsen, assistant. Nils Lodengaard was chairman of the committee and Thorwald Johnsen and Andrew Jakobsen were the other members.

HIRAM GRINDELL.

Hiram Grindell, brother of Charles H. Grindell of Pleasant street and uncle of Mrs. E. Frank Mitchell of this city, died Thursday at Hallowell, Me. He was in his 73rd year and leaves two daughters and two sons, one of whom was formerly employed at the Fore River shipyard. Mr. Grindell was an active resident of Hallowell and served several terms in the Maine legislature representing the district of Hallowell and surrounding communities. He was a Grand Army veteran and a high degree mason. His funeral will take place Sunday at Halowell.

Experiments with various chemical extinguishers for fighting national forest fires have not been very successful. The unlimited supply of oxygen in the open, forest officers say, tends to neutralize the effect of the chemicals.

☞PRATT'S BREAD—try it with a bowl of milk and blueberries. All grocers.

HUB-MARK RUBBERS

See that the Hub-Mark is on the rubber before you buy. It is your insurance of Standard First Quality Rubber Footwear for every purpose

SOLD BY

A. HALL
A. NELSON
B. FRITZ & SON
PAYSON-MITCHELL CO.

Oct. 17-20t

BOWLING SCORES

CLAN McGREGOR LEAGUE.

Team	Won	Lost	PinFall
O'Neils	32	12	14068
McLeans	29	15	14013
Michaels	25	19	14178
McKeinzies	18	26	13982
Mavers	18	26	13776
Thompsons	13	31	13908

High 3 string team, Capt. Maver 1406; High single team, Capt. Maver, 496; Individual 3 strings, Morton 316, Dunbar 316, McLean 314, Dell 314; Individual single string, Raleigh 129; Individual high averages, Dell 92-14.27 Morton 92-13.33, Dackers 90-20.33, Hastings 89-8.27.

CAR MEN MATCH.

The Weymouth Car Men beat the Quincy car men on the Coliseum alleys Thursday evening in one of the best matches rolled there this season. Harry Smith with 114 got high single and several others followed with good scores. The summary:

WEYMOUTHS.

Connors	82	104	93	279
Harry Smith	114	100	90	304
Shea	89	83	87	259
Kelley	82	88	97	267
Herbert Smith	85	83	108	276
	452	458	475	1385

QUINCY CARMEN.

Ames	103	68	88	259
Ross	99	96	79	274
Hennessey	84	82	88	254
Davy	89	85	105	279
Lavoie	93	83	90	266
	468	414	450	1332

DINGBATS WIN.

The Dingbats of South Quincy beat the team of the Sons of St. George on the Coliseum alleys Thursday evening. Mavers had high single, 107. The summary:

DINGBATS.

J. Michael	64	93	84	241
A. Mavers	76	107	83	266
E. Martin	84	83	73	240
A. Michael	74	85	102	261
C. Dunbar	66	84	97	247
	364	452	439	1255

SONS ST. GEORGE.

S. Collins	68	80	86	234
J. Andrew	90	82	76	248
J. Harlan	86	88	81	255
A. Andrew	80	73	75	228
E. Collins	95	74	90	259
	419	397	408	1224

WISDOM OF EARLY SHOPPING.

Although it is still three weeks to Christmas the wise woman has already begun to think of her holiday shopping. And if she wishes to be considerate of others she not only will think of it but will attend to it early, in fact, the earlier the better.

Conditions now are ideal for shopping. There is not the crush in the stores one finds during the few days preceding Christmas. Plenty of time may be taken in selecting the gifts. The salesmen and saleswomen can devote more attention to their customers and the whole delightful operation may be performed with greater comfort to all concerned.

Then, too, the stores have practically all of their holiday goods in stock now. And never has there been a more lavish or comprehensive display of articles suitable for Christmas gifts. Everything is fresh now and the early shopper will have the advantage of the widest selection.

Don't wait until the last minute—until the clerks are tired out and you yourself perhaps are driven to your wit's end to do all the shopping that can be done with such ease now. If you will not think of the comfort of others, at least consider your own comfort. The wise man votes early. The wise woman shops early—and often.

—Representative J. Hampton Moore of Pennsylvania, otherwise known as "Hampie" Moore, recently introduced a resolution in congress to make the first Sunday in June "Fathers' day," when every father might wear a rose in his buttonhole or pinned to the lapel of his coat. Mr. Moore is considerable of a father himself, having eight children, and should naturally be interested in doing something to bring the fathers up out of the obscurity into which they have fallen so far as any celebration in their honor is concerned. True, the father is still the average support of the average family, by his hands, or brain, or pen, but in these woman suffrage days the mother seems ready to do most of the talking for the household. If "Hampie" Moore's resolution becomes a law the fathers can at least "stand up and be counted" and some of them may even be called on to make speeches on that first June Sunday, just a month after the mothers have had their day.—Salem News.

RISING WATERS MENACE TEXAS

Continued Rains Drive Thousands From Homes

MILITIA ORDERED ON DUTY

At Least Thirteen Liver Have Been Lost and a Million Dollars' Damage Done—No Relief Yet In Sight—Passenger Train Marooned Near Martin With 175 on Board

Dallas, Tex., Dec. 5.—Rainfall continues in the flood districts of central Texas, adding to the menace of high waters which already have cost thirteen lives and about $1,000,000 property damage. The area of overflowing rivers is spreading rapidly, the most important new point affected being San Antonio.

The floods cover portions of nearly every county from San Antonio northward almost to the Panhandle, and from this point eastward to include all the important cities of north and central Texas. Houston, Beaumont and Galveston alone were not threatened.

The homeless number thousands, but inasmuch as they are divided in small groups throughout the immense flood territory no serious relief problems were presented.

At Belton, where part of the town was cut off by water, baskets of provisions were propelled on telephone wires to flood victims.

South Bosque, near Waco, reported that the rise, came in a wall of water about ten feet high. The residents had been warned.

The Marlin overflow is from the Brazos river bed. It is estimated that the Brazos is ten miles wide at some points. Marlin is five miles from the river.

At Waco, where several thousand persons were driven from their homes by the Brazos flood, no loss of life had been reported.

Inundation of the cemeteries stopped burials throughout the city. Planing mills turned out scores of boats to rescue the marooned and salvage property.

Five members of the family of W. C. Polk, a farmer, were drowned at Belton. B. F. Lacy and a man named Manley were drowned near Dallas; Hearne Lyton perished near Brownwood; three unidentified men lost their lives at Austin, and two negroes were drowned at Marlin.

Five miles south of Marlin an International and Great Northern passenger train was marooned by high water, which swept the car steps. One hundred and seventy-five passengers were aboard, and rescue parties have been unable to reach there with boats.

Fear is expected that the Brazos river levee at Bryan may break and flood three counties, Burleson, Brazos and Washington.

Waco, on the Brazos river and in the centre of the flooded area, reported the most serious situation. Sections of that city known as South and East Waco are under water and it is estimated that more than 10,000 residents were made homeless.

The military companies stationed there have been ordered on duty by Governor Colquitt and ball cartridges have been issued to the guardsmen for use in the event of looting. Train service out of Waco was demoralized.

MRS. PANKHURST ARRESTED

Police, by Strategic Movements, Encounter No Militant Suffragettes

Exeter, Eng., Dec. 5.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant suffragette leader, was lodged in Exeter jail. The police, who had arrested her on board the Majestic on her arrival from New York, outwitted the women who had been watching.

After the police and their prisoner landed from the tug at the dock on the Tamar river, they started off in autos in the direction of London, but afterward changed their route and made direct for this city, reaching their destination without encountering any obstruction.

Milk Dealer Commits Suicide

Johnston, R. I., Dec. 5.—George T. Naylor, a milk dealer, who failed to appear in court last Tuesday to answer to the charge of selling milk containing formaldehyde, committed suicide at his home on the George Waterman road by shooting himself in the head with a revolver. He is survived by a daughter.

Worcester Baby Dies by Poison

Worcester, Mass., Dec. 5.—Dorothy Clarke, 2 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bertrand Clarke, 34 Paine street, died at Memorial hospital as the result of swallowing two morphine tablets at her home.

Strike on Welsh Railway

London, Dec. 5.—Another one-man strike is on in Wales, 400 railway employes being out because one engineer was dismissed for refusal to haul freight handled by Irish strikebreakers.

How to Store Apples.

A box of fresh dry sand is an excellent thing to have in a corner of the storeroom or pantry. If apples are carefully packed in the sand they will keep fresh and unshriveled for months.

GENERAL H. L. SCOTT

Quelled Uprising of Navajo Indians Without Assistance

SCOTT QUELLS UPRISING

Navajo Indians In Jail at Gallup, N. M., Embrace Him at Parting

Albuquerque, N. M., Dec. 5.—Be-Sho-She, the 70-year-old chief, and several other Navajo Indians effectionately embraced General Hugh L. Scott, U. S. A., when he bade them goodby at the jail in Gallup.

General Scott, single-handed, quelled the recent incipient uprising of the Navajo reservation by inducing the renegades to surrender after a parley of thirty-six hours. The Indians will have a hearing in the federal court within a few days.

General Scott returned to El Paso to resume command of the cavalry division on the Mexican border.

DINNER FOR THE SAYRES IN LONDON

Plans Made For Their Reception by Society

London, Dec. 5.—Francis B. Sayre and his bride, formerly Miss Jessie W. Wilson, will be the recipients of much social attention during their visit to London. Walter H. Page, the American ambassador, has arranged two dinners in their honor, at which Sir Edward Grey, the British secretary of state for foreign affairs, and others, most of whom are friends of President Wilson, will be present. Mrs. Page will give a reception for the Sayres, to which a large number of Americans have been invited.

Miss Page will give a luncheon for the ladies to meet Mrs. Sayre, at the Authors' club and the Whitefriars' club, a prominent literary and dining club, desires also to entertain Mr. and Mrs. Sayre.

The steamship company has arranged so the Sayres will be able to avoid photographers when they land.

USE MOVIES TO FRAUD

Postal Authorities Allege Misuse of Mails by Kentucky Men

Kansas City, Dec. 5.—An alleged land fraud, which, according to post-office inspectors was conducted in several states through the medium of moving picture shows and the United States mails, led to the arrest here of W. B. Emrich and N. H. Spitzer of Louisville, Ky., and to their arraignment before a United States commissioner on a charge of misuse of the mails.

According to the complaint, tickets were distributed among the spectators at picture shows and the announcement made that the holders of the "lucky" numbers would be given a deed to a lot in Guernville, Sonoma county, Cal. It is alleged that the "lucky ones" were then required to pay more for the "filing of papers" than the lots were worth.

Frank F. Sharon, postoffice inspector, who made the arrests, said the same scheme had been operated in Muncie, Ind., Springfield, O., Louisville, Ky., and several cities in Alabama.

DANIELS SAVES MILLION

Purchases Material For New Warship From Lowest Bidder

Washington, Dec. 5.—An additional saving on the purchase of material for the new battleship Pennsylvania was announced by Secretary Daniels in connection with the award of contract for the purchase of the four stern tube shafts which has been placed with an independent Baltimore company.

The bid was but little over half of that of the lowest submitted by three great steel companies. Up to date Secretary Daniels says he has saved nearly three-quarters of a million dollars on the contracts for this battleship by securing independent bids.

Tried to Bunco Jewelers

Philadelphia, Dec. 5.—Two men charged with trying to sell to two jewelers for $20,000, 6500 small yerdegris-covered metal discs as gold coin were held in bail here. It was charged they claimed the "coins" were $5 gold pieces and had been buried at Gettysburg before the great battle began.

CHEAP LODGING HOUSES MUST GO

Mayor of Boston Wants Municipal Institution

ON PLAN OF MILLS HOTELS

Idea Is Warmly Indorsed—Will Ask City Council For $5000 to Draft Plans to Be Presented to Next Legislature For Authority to Build and Maintain

Boston, Dec. 5.—The cheap lodging house—the 10, 15 and 25-cent-a-night place—like the Arcadia, where twenty-eight men lost their lives, must be abolished in Boston.

This is the ultimatum of Mayor Fitzgerald.

He declared that he was going to do everything in his power to wipe them out and establish in their place a great municipal lodging house where the outcasts and derelicts of society may obtain a bed at the same price with the assurance of safety to life and health.

It is his intention to go before the city council at its next meeting and ask an appropriation of $5000 for the purpose of drafting plans for such an institution. If such an appropriation is granted—and it seems most likely that it will be—the mayor will call upon the councilmen to go before the legislature and ask for the passage of a law enabling the city to erect and maintain a municipal lodging house.

All the existent low-priced places are condemned by the mayor.

"There should be built in our city a lodging house such as the Mills hotels in New York," the mayor said. "Then our lodging house problem might be solved. I hope that conditions as exposed by the recent fire and its attendent tragedy will arouse every citizen—rich and poor—to the existent conditions.

"I believe that the proper system of equipping a lodging house should be with the beds in one big, open, airy room where no doors can be locked and where the men can have clear passages to find their way in case of trouble. I would have a system of electric bells throughout and a man on duty in the hall where he could push a button and start an alarm on every floor. I would have a watchman on duty on every floor all night and have him sit on a raised platform, or something of the sort, in order that he might see everything that takes place in the establishment.

"Insurance companies are partly responsible. If they had consciences they would refuse to insure the lodging house buildings where conditions such as I saw in my investigation exist."

His plan was warmly indorsed by all who heard it, too. Rev. Paul R. Frothingham declared it would be an excellent thing and one that the city might well institute.

"It not only would safeguard the lives of the people," he said, "but would make for their better moral condition. Such an institution would be sanitary and care for the men's health."

TAPLEY WILL RECOVER

Received 13,000-Volt Shock In North Abington Electric Light Station

North Abington, Mass., Dec. 5.—Arthur Tapley of Brockton, while at work at the electric light station accidentally came in contact with a 13,000-volt line. He was rendered unconscious and fell across the staging on which he was at work. A companion seized him by the heels just as he was about to fall to the floor, fifteen feet below. Workmen in the building rushed to his assistance and removed him to the floor.

Dr. R. B. Rand was called and restored the man to consciousness. His right arm was badly burned from the back of his hand nearly to his elbow. He will recover.

OIL STOVE EXPLODES

Fatal Attempt by Monkeys to Imitate Their Caretaker

Indianapolis, Dec. 5.—An attempt to imitate their caretaker's operation of an oil stove cost the lives of nine monkeys and resulted in the destruction of the shelter house at Riverside park. The monkeys had been housed in the shelter house until their permanent winter quarters should be ready.

They got the door of their cage open and began playing with the oil stove. The stove exploded, setting fire to the house. The monkeys were burned to death before they could be rescued.

The loss is estimated at $20,000.

Offers McAdoo Bribe For Job

Washington, Dec. 5.—Secretary McAdoo has declined an invitation from a correspondent, whose name he would not make public, to appoint him a revenue collector in return for a present of one-third of the first annual salary that goes with the office.

Broker Guilty of Stock Theft

Montreal, Dec. 5.—Albert James Boyd, a stock broker, was found guilty here of stealing stock of the Dominion Glass company to the value of $9800, deposited with him as security for a loan by A. M. McGregor.

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate.

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Louise F. Ellis, wife of Henry K. Ellis, of Quincy in the County of Norfolk and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, to The Wollaston Co-operative Bank, a corporation duly established by law, and located at Quincy, in the County of Norfolk and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, which mortgage is dated April 16, 1912, and recorded in Norfolk Registry of Deeds, Book 1213, page 602, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on Saturday, the twentieth day of December, A. D. 1913, at three o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed and not heretofore released from the operation thereof, The said property not heretofore released to be sold as aforesaid is described as follows, to wit:—

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon situated in that part of said Quincy called Atlantic and being a portion of Lot numbered eight hundred forty-nine (849) on a Plan of Norfolk Downs by Charles D. Elliott, dated April 1892 and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Book of Plans 14, plan 640, and bounded southeasterly by Apthorp street, forty-five (45) feet; southwesterly by Warwick street, eighty-seven and 88-100 (87.88) feet; northwesterly by land now or formerly of Samuel F. Smith, fifty-two (52) feet; and northeasterly by land now or formerly of said Louise F. Ellis, about one hundred (100) feet; containing 4560 square feet.

Said premises will be sold subject to any existing restrictions of record, and subject also to any outstanding tax titles, unpaid taxes or municipal assessments, if any such there are.

$200 will be required to be paid in cash at the time and place of sale; other terms will be announced at the sale.

THE WOLLASTON CO-OPERATIVE BANK, Mortgagee,
by Herbert W. Pinkham,
Treasurer.
Quincy, Mass., November 24th, 1913.
Nov. 28-3t 28-5-12

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point
Tel. Quincy Mass. 1153 M Nov 8-3tf

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

In effect Nov. 16, 1913

The letters in the same line as the figures below stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows.

a	Wollaston	f	Harrison Square
b	Norfolk Downs	g	Sayin Hill
c	Atlantic	h	Crescent Avenue
d	Neponset	i	South Boston
e	Pope's Hill	r	Quincy Adams
*	Saturdays Only	†	Except Saturday

Exp.—Express train.

TO BOSTON			FROM BOSTON
Leave	Stop	Arrive	Leave	Stop	Arrive
r 5 14	abcdefghi	5 41	5 44	lhgfedcba	6 14 r
r 6 9	abci	6 40	6 09	lhgfedcba	6 39 r
r 6 32	e	6 49	6 29	a	6 47
			6 47	Exp	7 04
r 6 47	abcf	7 00	7 14	hgfedcba	7 41 r
r 7 08	abcd	7 30	7 34	a	7 52
7 28	a	7 46	7 37	a	7 56
r 7 32	Exp	7 49	7 44	c	8 06 r
r 7 42	ab	8 00	8 31	cba	8 55 r
7 55	a	8 12	8 44	b	9 02
r 8 13	abc	8 32	9 09	fedba	9 32 r
8 21	a	8 41	9 44	a	10 01 r
r 8 33	a	8 50	10 14	lhgfedcba	10 41 r
r 8 59	ad	9 16	10 51	Exp	11 10
r 9 18	abc	9 39	11 14	hgfedcba	11 41 r
r 10 04	a	10 21	11 49	a	12 07
r 10 19	abcdefghi	10 45	12 14	hgfedcba	12 41 r
11 12	a	11 28	12 20	a	12 38
11 24	abcdefgh	11 50	12 50	Exp	1 06
12 04	a	12 20	1 16	fedcba	1 40 r
			* 1 32	a	1 50
r 12 27	abcdefghi	12 53	1 44	a	2 01
r 1 16	a	1 34	2 14	fedcba	2 37 r
2 04	a	2 20	2 34	Exp	2 50
r 2 19	abcdefgh	2 46	3 14	hgfedcba	3 40 r
r 3 13	Exp	3 28	3 44	a	4 02
4 04	a	4 20	4 12	fedcba	4 35 r
r 4 26	abcdefgh	4 53	4 15	a	4 32
5 02	a	5 19	4 40	c	4 58
r 5 30	abcdefg	5 55	4 55	a	5 19
6 04	a	6 21	5 13	a	5 32
6 12	ab	6 32	5 19	hgfeca	5 43
6 57	a	7 15	5 28	ba	5 46 r
r 7 22	Exp	7 39	5 40		5 57
7 29	ab	7 48	5 58	a	6 17 r
r 8 00	abcdef	8 32	6 01	fedcb	6 24
9 00	a	9 18	6 16	a	6 35
r 9 10	abc	9 29	6 30	ecba	6 52 r
* 9 17	Exp.	9 32	6 59	fedcba	7 24 r
r 10 07	abcdef	10 30	7 11	a	7 28
* 10 19	a	10 37	8 04	fedcba	8 28 r
11 13	a	11 30	* 8 19	Exp	8 35
11 30	abcd	11 50	9 19	a	9 37
			9 34	b	9 53 r
			10 05	ba	10 24
			10 34	fedcba	11 04 r
			*11 06	a	11 25 r
			†11 09	fedcba	11 35 r
			*11 25	ba	11 43 r
			†11 29	ba	11 49
			12 05	cba	12 26 r

SUNDAYS

7 43	abc	8 03	6 29	ba	6 48 r
8 30	Exp	8 45	8 34	cba	8 55
r 8 46	abcdefghi	9 13	10 39	cba	10 59 r
r 9 13	abc	9 33	12 14	lhgfedcba	12 42
9 31	a	9 47	12 44	Exp	1 01
10 25	ac	10 42	1 29	lhgfedcba	1 57 r
11 08	Exp	11 25	2 14	hgfedcba	2 42 r
r 11 16	abcdefghi	11 43	2 44	a	3 02
1 04	a	1 23	3 14	lhgfedcba	3 42 r
r 1 16	abcdefgh	1 43	4 26	cba	4 48 r
3 10	abc	3 30	5 14	lhgfedcba	5 42 r
4 16	abcdefghi	4 43	6 09	Exp	6 25
4 59	ab	5 16	6 14	lhgfedcba	6 42 r
5 06		5 23	7 02	cba	7 22 r
6 16	abcdefghi	6 43	8 14	lhgfedcba	8 41 r
7 21	Exp	7 36	8 39	a	8 56 r
7 29	abcdefghi	7 55	8 49	Exp	9 05
r 8 16	abcdefghi	8 43	9 29	lhgfedcba	9 57 r
9 46	a	10 04	10 44	cba	11 04 r
11 46	abc	11 05

CHOICE ARTICLES
FROM THE
PHILIPPINES

LUCBON HATS—Very best grade of the famous Panamas and Bankoks made. Absolutely none better, woven under water by hand. Can be crushed into a ball and not lose shape. Made for both Ladies and Gentlemen. $5 and $10.

ROMBLON MATS—Handsomest and most durable Grass Mats or Rugs made in the world. Beautiful colors and designs, large enough to cover one-half floor of rooms. $5.

MANILA CIGARS—$3 for a trial box of the Very Best Cigars made in the Philippines.

Oriente Cigarrettes—Best made, large package containing 25 small packages, 750 Cigarrettes, $2.

Sent by registered mail, free of duties, on receipt of price.

C. A. SHORT & CO.,
Lucena, Tay, P. I.
Oct 4 1&O 3m

QUINCY REGISTRY
FOR NURSES

29 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.

Will supply trained and practical nurses, attendants and nursery assistants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.

MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar,
Tel. Quincy 131-W.

Bay State Street Railway Company

TIME TABLE
In effect April 3, 1913,
(Subject to change without notice.

Leave QUINCY for

Braintree, 6.15, 6.50 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Braintree, 6.25 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.25 P. M. Sundays, 7.55 A. M. and then same as week days.

Brockton, 6.15, 6.50 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Brockton 6.20, 7 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 9.30 P. M. Sundays, 8 A. M. then same as week days.

West Quincy, and East Milton, 5.30 5.50, 6.10 A. M., and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M.) Sundays, 6.50 A. M. then same as week days. Return leave East Milton, 5.55, 6.15, 6.45 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.45 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturday 4, 12.10 midnight.) Sundays, 7.25 A. M., then same as week days.

East Weymouth, 6.00, 6.15, 6.35, 7.05, 7.35 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.05 P. M. then 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.35 A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave East Weymouth, 5.50, 6.15, 6.45, 7.00, 7.10, 7.45, A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.45 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M. then same as week days.

Houghs Neck, 5.15, 5.35, 6.10, 6.40, 7.10, 7.40, A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. then 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 6.50, 7.40 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. Return leave Houghs Neck, 5.40, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 7.30, 8.00, 8.30, 9.05 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.35 P. M. then 12.10 midnight. Sundays, 7.20, 8.05, 8.35, 9.05 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.35 P. M.

Neponset via Hancock Street,—5.45 6.20, 6.50 A. M. and every 30 min. to 10.50 P. M. then 12.50 midnight, Sundays, 6.50 A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 6.40 7.10, 7.40 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. then 12.35 midnight. Sundays, 7.40 A. M. then same as week days.

Neponset via Wollaston—6.03, 6.35, 7.03 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.03 P. M. then 11.30, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.03 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 6.25, 6.55, 7.25, A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.25 P. M. then 11.42 P. M. and 12.12 midnight. Sundays, 7.25 A. M. then same as week days.

Neponset, via Norfolk Downs, 6.25, 6.55, 7.25, 8, 8.30 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11 P. M.) Sundays, 7.30 A. M. then the same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 7, 7.30 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.30 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.30 P. M.) Sundays, 8 A. M. then same as week days.

Weymouth Landing, 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 6.55, 7.25 7.55 A. M. then every 30 minutes, until and including 10.55 P. M. Sundays, 7.25, A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave Weymouth Landing, 5.45, 6.15, 6.40, 7.15, 7.45 A. M. then every 30 minutes until and including 11.15 P. M. Sundays 7.45 A. M. then same as week days.

Leave NEPONSET for

Squantum, 6.25, 6.55, 7.25, 7.55, 8.25, 9.35, A. M. every 60 minutes to 4.35 P. M. then 4.55, 5.25, 5.55, 6.25, 7.35, 8.35, 9.35, 10.35 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.30, P. M. Sundays, 7.35, A. M. every 60 minutes to 10.35 P. M. Return, leave Squantum, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 7.30, 8.00, 8.30, 9.00 A. M. every 60 minutes to 5.00 P. M. then 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 8.15, 8.00 A. M. every 60 minutes to 5.00 P. M.

THOMAS GAMMON,
Superintendent.

WITHIN THE LAW

Copyright, 1913, by the H. K. Fly company.

PROLOGUE.

This is a story of a brave girl who suffered a great wrong. She went to prison for three years for a crime that she did not commit, and when she left prison her record stood between her and a living earned honestly. She gained more than a living, and she got it legally. She met bad men and good men, and she pitted her wits against those of men trained in the intricacies of the law and in the plans of criminals.

Mary Turner is good or bad according to the way you look at her. The police and the representatives of law and order that had condemned her to a felon's cell called her bad. One young man believed her to be good, and he stood by her through storm and stress, through circumstances that tried his soul.

This story gives an accurate if fleeting view of the methods of work of the police and the criminals, and it shows the finish of a brave crook who followed undeviatingly the course he had mapped out.

(Continued from last issue.)

"Mr. Gilder," she said simply, "as God is my judge, I am going to prison for three years for something I didn't do. Why did you ask the judge to send me to prison?"

"The thieving that has been going on in this store for over a year has got to stop," Gilder answered emphatically, with all his usual energy of manner restored.

"Sending me to prison won't stop it," Mary Turner said drearily.

"Perhaps not," Gilder sternly retorted. "But the discovery and punishment of the other guilty ones will." His manner changed to a businesslike alertness. "You sent word to me that you could tell me how to stop the thefts in the store. Well, my girl, do this and, while I can make no definite promise, I'll see what can be done about getting you out of your present difficulty." He picked up a pencil, pulled a pad of blank paper convenient to his hand and looked at the girl expectantly, with aggressive inquiry in his gaze. "Tell me now," he concluded, "who were your pals?"

"I have no pals!" she ejaculated furiously. "I never stole anything in my life. Must I go on telling you over and over again?" Her voice rose in a wail of misery. "Oh, why won't any one believe me?"

"Unless you can control yourself, you must go." Gilder pushed away the pad of paper and tossed the pencil aside in physical expression of his displeasure. "Why did you send that message if you have nothing to say?" he demanded, with increasing choler.

"I have something to tell you, Mr. Gilder," she cried quietly. "Only I—I sort of lost my grip on the way here, with this man by my side."

"Well?" Gilder insisted querulously, as the girl hesitated.

"When you sit in a cell for three months waiting for your trial, as I did, you think a lot. And so I got the idea that if I could talk to you I might be able to make you understand what's really wrong. And if I could do that and so help out the other girls, what has happened to me would not, after all, be quite so awful—so useless, somehow." Her voice lowered to a quick pleading, and she bent toward the man at the desk. "Mr. Gilder," she questioned, "do you really want to stop the girls from stealing?"

"Most certainly I do," came the forcible reply.

The girl spoke with a great earnestness deliberately.

"Then give them a fair chance."

The magnate stared in sincere astonishment over this absurd, this futile suggestion for his guidance.

"What do you mean?" he vociferated, with rising indignation.

"Why," she said very gently, "I mean just this: Give them a living chance to be honest."

"A living chance!" The two words were exploded with dynamic violence. Gilder found himself unable to express the rage that flamed within him.

The girl showed herself undismayed by his anger.

"Yes," she went on quietly, "that's all there is to it. Give them a living chance to get enough food to eat and a decent room to sleep in and shoes that will keep their feet off the pavement winter mornings. Do you think that any girl wants to steal? Do you think that any girl wants to risk"—

By this time, however, Gilder had regained his power of speech, and he interrupted stormily:

"And is this what you have taken up my time for? You want to make a maudlin plea for guilty, dishonest girls, when I thought you really meant to bring me facts!"

"We work nine hours a day," the girl's quiet voice went on, a curious pathos in the rich timbre of it, "nine hours a day for six days in the week. That's a fact, isn't it? And the trouble is an honest girl can't live on $6 a week. She can't do it and buy food and clothes and pay room rent and carfare. That's another fact, isn't it?"

Mary regarded the owner of the store with grave questioning in her violet eyes.

"I don't care to discuss these things," he declared peremptorily as the girl remained silent for a moment.

"And I have no wish to discuss anything," Mary returned evenly. "I only want to give you what you asked for—facts. When they first locked me up I used to sit and hate you."

"Oh, of course!"

"And then I thought that perhaps you did not understand—that, if I were to tell you how things really are, it might be you would change them somehow."

"I!" he cried incredulously. "I change my business policy because you ask me to!"

There was something imperturbable in the quality of the voice as the girl went resolutely forward with her explanation.

"Do you know how we girls live? But, of course, you don't. Three of us in one room, doing our own cooking over the two burner gas stove and our own washing and ironing evenings, after being on our feet for nine hours."

"I have provided chairs behind the counters," he stated.

"But have you ever seen a girl sitting in one of them?" she questioned coldly. "Please answer me. Have you? Of course not," she said, after a little pause during which the owner had remained silent. She shook her head in emphatic negation. "And do you understand why? It's simply because every girl knows that the manager of her department would think he could get along without her if he were to see her sitting down—loafing, you know! So she would be discharged. All it amounts to is that after being on her feet for nine hours the girl usually walks home in order to save car fare. Yes, she walks, whether sick or well. Anyhow, you are generally so tired, it don't make much difference which you are."

"What has all this to do with the question of theft in the store? That was the excuse for your coming here. And instead of telling me something you rant about gas stoves and car fare."

CHAPTER IV.

Inferno.

THE inexorable voice went on in its monotone, as if he had not spoken.

"And when you are really sick and have to stop work what are you going to do then? Do you know, Mr. Gilder, that the first time a straight girl steals it's often because she had to have a doctor—or some luxury like that? And some of them do worse than steal. Yes, they do—girls that started straight and wanted to stay that way. But, of course, some of them get so tired of the whole grind that—that"—

"I'm not their guardian. I can't watch over them after they leave the store. They are paid the current rate of wages—as much as any other store pays." As he spoke the anger provoked by this unexpected assault on him out of the mouth of a convict flamed high in virtuous repudiation. "Why," he went on vehemently, "no man living does more for his employees than I do. Who gave the girls their fine rest rooms upstairs? I did! Who gave them the cheap lunchrooms? I did!"

"But you won't pay them enough to live on!"

"I pay them the same as the other stores do," he repeated sullenly.

"But you won't pay them enough to live on!"

"And so you claim that you were forced to steal. That's the plea you make for yourself and your friends."

"I wasn't forced to steal," came the answer, spoken in the monotone that had marked her utterance throughout most of the interview. "I wasn't forced to steal, and I didn't steal. But, all the same, that's the plea, as you call it, that I'm making for the other girls. There are hundreds of them who steal because they don't get enough to eat. I said I would tell you how to stop the stealing. Well, I have done it. Give the girls a fair chance to be honest. You asked me for the names, Mr. Gilder. There's only one name on which to put the blame for the whole business, and that name is Edward Gilder. Now, won't you do something about it?"

At that naked question the owner of the store jumped up from his chair and stood glowering at the girl who risked a request so full of vituperation against himself.

"How dare you speak to me like this?" he thundered.

"Why, I dared," Mary Turner explained, "because you have done all the harm you can to me. And now I'm trying to give you the chance to do better by the others. You ask me why I dare. I have a right to dare. I have been straight all my life. I have wanted decent food and warm clothes and—a little happiness all the time I have worked for you, and I have gone without those things just to stay straight. The end of it all is, you are sending me to prison for something I didn't do. That's why I dare!"

Gilder could not trust himself just then to an audible command. He was seriously disturbed by the gently spoken truths that had issued from the girl's lips. He was not prepared with any answer, though he hotly resented every word of her accusation.

Cassidy faced about, and in his movement there was a tug at the wrist of the girl that set her moving toward the door. Her realization of what this meant was shown in her final speech.

"Three years isn't forever," she said in a level voice. "When I come out you are going to pay for every minute of them, Mr. Gilder. There won't be a day or an hour that I won't remember that at the last it was your word sent me to prison. And you are going to pay me for that. You are going to pay me for the five years I have starved making money for you—that too! You are going to pay me for all the things I am losing today, and"—

The girl thrust forth her left hand, on that side where stood the officer. So vigorous was her movement that Cassidy's clasp was thrown off the wrist. But the bond between the two was not broken, for from wrist to wrist showed taut the steel chain of the manacles. The girl shook the links of the handcuffs in a gesture stronger than words.

"You are going to pay me for this!" she said. Her voice was little more than a whisper, but it was loud in the listener's heart. "Yes, you are going to pay—for this!"

* * * * * * *

They were grim years, those three years during which Mary Turner served her sentence in Burnsing. There was no time off for good behavior. The girl learned soon that the favor of those set in authority over her could only be won at a cost against which her every maidenly instinct revolted. So she went through the inferno of days and nights in a dreariness of suffering that was deadly. Naturally the life there was altogether an evil thing. There was the material ill ever present in the round of wearisome physical toil—the coarse, distasteful food; the hard narrow couch; the constant, gnawing irksomeness of imprisonment, away from light and air, away from all that makes life worth while.

The best evidence of the fact that Mary Turner's soul was not fatally soiled must be found in the fact that still at the expiration of her sentence she was fully resolved to live straight, as the saying is which she had quoted to Gilder. This, too, in the face of sure knowledge as to the difficulties that would beset the effort and in the face of the temptations offered to follow an easier path.

(To be continued.)

LOOK! LISTEN!

While they last 25 new cesspool covers $1.75 value, now $1.25 each; 500 rolls Good quality roofing at $1.25; 500 lengths galvanized conductor pipe 6c. value at 4c. ft. Black Roof Paint at 59c gallon, suitable for all kinds of roofing, also suitable for painting iron. Don't forget that we also carry a full line of Decorated Wall Board and all other NEPONSET Products. L. Grossman & Sons, Quincy Adams, Mass.

Open until 6 P. M. Closed all day Saturdays.

Nov. 25 L O-tf

"Won't you do something about it?"

THE WAY TO PREVENT COLD WEATHER DISEASES

There would be lots less sickness during cold weather if folks would only take ordinary common-sense precautions against it. When you hear there is small-pox around you don't lose much time in getting your family vaccinated. But lots of you do not use the same good sense in preventing colds, the grippe, bronchitis, pneumonia, typhoid fever, rheumatism and other diseases, some of them very serious and dangerous, and some of which nearly every member of your family is almost certain to suffer from before winter is over unless some medicine is taken to build up the body and put it in perfect order before cold weather sets in.

Vaccination prevents the growth of germs of small-pox in the blood, and puts the system into a proper healthy condition to resist small-pox. Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion is designed as an aid to prevent as well as relieve disease. It strengthens the body to overcome the germs and helps to put your system into the right condition to resist disease. It contains the four Hypophosphites recommended by physicians to tone the nerves and blood, in combination with purest Olive Oil, to nourish and strengthen them.

You who are weak and run-down, and you who are apparently well now, but are liable to suffer from various cold weather ailments, use Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion to get and keep well and strong. For the tired-out, run-down, nervous, emaciated or debilitated—the convalescing—growing children—aged people—it is a sensible aid to renewed strength, better spirits, glowing health.

Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion—king of the celebrated Rexall Remedies—is for freedom from sickness of you and your family. Pleasant-tasting, containing no alcohol or dangerous drugs, you'll be as enthusiastic about it as we are when you have noted its strengthening, invigorating, building-up, disease-preventing effects. If it does not help you, your money will be given back to you without argument. Sold in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store—one of more than 7,000 leading drug stores in the United States, Canada and Great Britain

—Edward J. Murphy, 1415 Hancock Cor. Granite Streets, Quincy, Mass. "The Rexal Store."

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block,
QUINCY

ARTHUR L. THOMAS
Attorney-at-Law
3-4-5-6 Greenleaf Block
Telephone Quincy 460 Jan.2-1y

WHEN YOU TAKE OUT YOUR SCREENS
If they need painting or repairing let
HOLMES & HALL
fix them up during the winter and have them read yin the spring.
NO CHARGE FOR STORAGE
TEL. QUINCY 1698 W
1179 HANCOCK ST.

LAVALLEY SENTENCED

Gets Two Years at Laconia, N. H., For Breaking and Entering

Laconia, N. H., Dec. 5.—In the superior court for Belknap county, Judge Plummer presiding, Alfred Lavalley, who was found guilty after a trial by jury of breaking and entering and larceny, was sentenced to serve not less than two years and not more than five years in the state prison. He was convicted of breaking and entering the cottage of H. G. Vogel on the shore of Lake Winnipesaukee in Gilford.

Eugene Jacque pleaded nolo to an indictment charging him with attempted extortion and his case was continued for sentence. Another indictment against Jacque, which alleged that he impersonated an officer, was nol prosed.

Jerry Merchant, who pleaded nolo to an indictment charging him with larceny, was sentenced to serve four months in jail, the court taking into consideration that Merchant had already served more than six months while waiting the action of the grand jury.

FOUR BADLY BURNED

Family Requires Services of Physician After Peculiar Accident

Portland, Me., Dec. 5.—Playing handball with a flaming piece of cloth as they unintentionally tossed it one to the other in their desperate efforts to throw away the firebrand, four members of a Biddeford family were badly burned.

As Mrs. Fred Payheur was cleaning a hot stove the cloth took fire and her hands were terribly scorched. She threw the cloth from her and it landed on the bed where her sick husband was lying, setting fire to his clothing.

The husband, in turn tossed the still blazing cloth away and it landed on the baby, who in turn pushed it over the side of the crib upon another child who was sitting on the floor. All four required the services of a physician.

RIGHTS OF WOMEN TO BE CHALLENGED

Said They Are Not Eligible as Election Officers

Chicago, Dec. 5.—The right of women to sit as judges and clerks of elections here next spring will be challenged, it was made known from both Republican and Democratic sources.

A tax payer probably will go into court and start injunction proceedings on the ground that bond issues or other propositions submitted at the spring election might be invalidated. One objection brought forward is that the law states that judges and clerks must be "men" of good character.

TO REUNITE PARTY

General Meeting to Consider Policy of Republicans In New York

New York, Dec. 5.—Efforts will be made to arrange a conference between committees representing the Republican assemblymen-elect and the independents.

Nearly 1000 Republican leaders have accepted the invitation to attend the general meeting to consider the policy the party should pursue in the state and discuss means to unite the various party elements. Senator Elihu Root will preside. Some radical legislation will be discussed, including a direct primary law and a simpler ballot law.

Every large contributor to the Republican state campaign fund has been invited, also every Republican mayor and 250 editors of Republican newspapers.

STOLE FOR GIRL

New York Bookkeeper Gave Automobile and $15,000 In Jewelry

New York, Dec. 5.—John C. Schildknecht, the $18-a-week bookkeeper who recently pleaded guilty to stealing more than $50,000 from the Washburn-Crosby Flour company, his employers, was sentenced to Sing Sing prison for not less than four years and eight months.

Schildknecht admitted on the witness stand that the greater part of the money he had stolen was spent upon a young woman to whom he had given, among other valuable presents, an automobile and $15,000 worth of jewelry.

German Wireless Station Wrecked

Hanover, Ger., Dec. 5.—The great wireless station, 800 feet high, at Neustadt-am-Ruebenberge, near here was greatly damaged by a storm, and the trials to establish communication between eGrmany and America will, therefore, have to be suspended until the station has been reconstructed.

Two Arrested For Counterfeiting

Montreal, Dec. 5.—A lithographic plate of an Indian head United States $5 bill found in the house of Paul Zacke led to his conviction on a charge of making counterfeit money. Fritz Mundy, arrested with Zacke, pleaded guilty of the same crime.

All Aigrettes Are Barred

Washington, Dec. 5.—Aigrettes will not be admitted to the United States either on hats or detached, according to a final ruling sent out to all collectors of customs.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

LOST

LOST—Between Newcomb Square and Liberty street, gold locket and chain, with initials A. E. R. Please notify A. E. R. 13 West Howard street Quincy, Mass. 5-1t

WANTED

WANTED—Tenors for evening service, good readers, rehearsals Friday evenings for Atlantic Memorial Congregational church. Write or apply to Spencer Apollonio, 51 Botolph street, Atlantic, Mass. 4-3t

WANTED—Competent workers on hand embroidery. To take work home Materials supplied. Write "Embroidery. Ledger office. 3-4t

WANTED—Housekeeper's position by an American woman in widower's family, reference exchanged. Mrs. D. W. Hall, Wollaston, Mass. 3-6t

WANTED—Dressmaking to do at home. F. M. Collins, 40 Quincy street, Quincy, Mass. 2-6t

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing. Myatt, 40 Baxter street. Tel. 1307-M. Quincy, Res. 22-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Second hand lumber for sale cheap, $15 per M. boards 4x4, 2x8, 2x3 etc also 500 bags Atlas cement 35 cents a bag; 100, 4 inch extra heavy iron pipe fittings, also lot of oak seats and tanks fitted with B. B. valves; 20 kegs 8 P. nails, 90 cents keg. Lewando, Hotel Pandora, Houghs Neck. 3-3t

FOR SALE or TO LET—New houses Apply to Thompson B. Crane, 403 Washington street, Quincy. 1-tf

FOR SALE—A small horse, express wagon and Democrat, also set of harness. Apply to Winer's, Adams Bldg, Quincy. 1-6t

MISCELLANEOUS

RENT FREE—until Jan. 1st. Two adjoining houses, 28 and 30 Pleasant street to desirable tenants, who will agree to stay one year, or longer. $5.00 per week in advance. Stable for one horse if desired. $1.00 a week extra. Apply 36 Pleasant street. 5-tf

GRAVEL and loam given away via Quincy Adams depot must be taken at once. Enquire of L. Grossman & Sons, Jackson street, Quincy Adams. Tel. 979-W. 3-6t

JAMES F. BURKE & CO.
Real Estate and Insurance
Care of Property. Mortgages
Justice of Peace. Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 885 M. Nov. 11-tf

WM. H. TEASDALE
REAL ESTATE
Insurance Mortgages
NOTARY PUBLIC JUSTICE OF THE PEACE
Room 23 Adams Building
Telephones { Residence 544-2 / Office 636-M
6-tf

TO LET

Large Front Office Greenleaf Block—2 entrances—right at the head of the stairs—one of the most desirable offices in Quincy.

Office, Durgin-Merrill Block—3 large windows—only 1 flight up—exceptional opportunity.

Hancock Building—City Square Offices—small front office, $11 a month

Office—Hancock Chambers, 16x18 feet one flight up, very low rent.

Store House—off Granite St., in the rear of Greenleaf Block.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best Location in City)

Offices—Large or small.

Desk Room—Street floor, right in the rear of main entrance, good light and air, $5 up a month.

Transient Rooms—Well furnished and with care, $1 a day.

Furnished Rooms—With care steam heat, and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $3.50 per week

HALLS

Music Hall—Music Hall Block—Capacity 962—highest possible rating by the State. "Excellent" in every particular.

New Colonial Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—Capacity 240—the best possible location for a Hall.

Hancock Hall—Hancock Building City Square—Capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kelbs.)
Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 21066) Quincy

TO LET

TO LET—Cottage 5 rooms on Wibird street, suitable for a small family Apply 53 Newcomb street. 4-3t

TO LET—Five nice large sunny rooms, all improvements. Apply 23 Dysart street. 4-6t

TO LET—In Wollaston Heights, a 7 room apartment, practically new, hot water heat, all modern improvements, rent reasonable to right party, location unsurpassed. F. M. Rollins, 333 Highland avenue, Wollaston. 3-4t

TO LET—With private family, desirable room, use of bath, light, heat. 4 minutes from station and on car line. Frank Bennett, 150 Beale street, Wollaston. 3-3t

FOR RENT—16 Faxon avenue. Quincy Suite, 7 rooms and bath. Possession given Jan. 1, 1914. Tel. 414 M., Weymouth. 3-3t

TO LET—Tenement 4 rooms and bath all improvements, set range. Vacant Jan. 1, 1914. Apply 180 Franklin street. 3-6t

TO LET—Newly furnished, steam heated room, modern conveniences 2 minutes from centre, 1 Adams street. 2-6t

TO LET—House on Edison Park, 6 rooms, all improvements. $25 per month. Immediate occupancy. Apartment on Cherry street 8 rooms, all improvements except gas and electricity $22. per month. E. M. Freeman, 652 Washington street, Quincy, Tel. 1615-W. 29-6t

TO LET—With private family on Upland road, a desirable room, heated, lighted, with use of bath on same floor. Write A. F. K. Ledger Office or telephone Quincy 1796-W. 29-6t

TO LET—In Braintree, house of five rooms, including two bed rooms and bath. Rent reasonable. A. J. Cavanagh, 72 Cedar street, Braintree. Telephone 4-14. 29-6t

TO LET—Upper flat in two flat new house at 1 Bradford street, 5 rooms and bath. All improvements. Ready Jan. 1st. Apply to Wm. E. Duggan, 32 Bryant avenue, West. Quincy. 26-12t

TO LET—Single house, 7 rooms, with all improvements. Inquire at 50 Warwick street, Norfolk Downs, or telephone Miss Clements, Boston-Main 1380. Nov. 22-12t

RUSSELL PARK — Commodious house of seven rooms, large hall and bath. Modern, every convenience open fireplace, furnace, range, set tubs, electric lights, cemented cellar, etc. Best residential neighborhood. Ready for immediate occupancy. For further details or key see Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. tf lpo

TO LET—173 Whitwell street, half house, modern conveniences, $20 per month. Apply Penniman's Stable, Granite street. 19-tf

TO LET—Nicest 4 room and bath lower flat in town. Every improvement $19.00. 126 Glendale road. S. E. Thomas Greenleaf Block. 17-tf

TO LET—5 room tenement at 117 Quincy street, $20 per month. Apply Berman Furniture Co. 6-tf

TO LET—Houses of 5, 6 and 10 rooms. M. T. Sullivan. Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy, Mass. 11-tf

UPPER APARTMENT. In two-family house on Spear Street. Five rooms, bath, large pantry and closets, also open attic with finished heated chamber. Every improvement, electric light, furnace, range etc. Ready for immediate occupancy. Telephone Quincy 278 M or enquire mornings of Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. lpo

SWITHIN
Real Estate
Mortgages-Insurance
Greenleaf Block
Quincy
Tel. Quincy 460. Nov. 10-tf

ANOTHER BARGAIN

Make me an offer for a ten room house on Whitwell Street.

You will own it if you will talk buy, as it is one of those chances some one will miss.

HENRY W. SAVAGE
Real Estate, Boston.
E. C. HAYDEN, Local Representative
Telephone 1877-M Quincy.
Nov 17-tf

KINCAIDE THEATRE

at 2.30, 5, 10, 15c; at 7.45, 10, 15, 25c

THURS. FRIDAY SAT.

Program subject to change

MYRTLE & DAISY
Dainty Dancing, Singing and Pianologue Sketch

WILLIAMS & WESTON
Makers of Merriment

McGINNIS BROS.
Singing and Dancing "Soldiers"

JAMES EDGE
Presenting a Pleasing Novelty Act

THE PHANTOM SIGNAL
A Railroad Romance in 2 Reels

ALKALI IKE'S AUTO
A Western Comedy Sensation

The Price of the Free
How a Hobo came back

Kincaide Theatre Orchestra

NEWSY BRIEFS

Samuel Philbrook of Webster street has fully recovered from his operation of six weeks ago.

The Norwood Club of the Park and Downs church is to give an original entertainment next week at the church.

Miss Laura Bean of Tilton Seminary has given up her studies for a while, because of her health and has returned to her home on Billings street.

The annual meeting and banquet of the Quincy Granite Manufacturers association will be held next Tuesday evening at the New American House, Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Oren Cobb have gone to their home on Thatchers Island, after a pleasant visit with Mr. O'Dowd and family. Mr. Cobb is lighthouse keeper of Thatchers Light.

"Tacks" Hardwick, the Harvard gridiron man, doesn't seem to have "made" the All-American team but to have qualified easily for the all-matrimonial pair says the Barre Times of Vermont.

Speaking of neckties, has your eye caught sight of those classy ties being shown by George W. Jones at his Granite street store? They are selling from 25 cents to a dollar. Nothing adds to a man's appearance so much as a tie with some class to it.

The new crop of young diplomats sparring for jobs at $1,200 a year probably haven't read up the statistics on foreign house rents.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mrs. John Ericsen, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Edgren and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Anderson wish to thank their friends for the kindness in their late bereavement and for flowers sent.

Quincy, Mass., Nov. 5-1t

Too Late For Classification

FOR SALE—1910 Franklin Touring Car. Price $400. Has been overhauled recently by the Franklin Company. This car is fully equipped with gas tank, wind shield, top, and in fact, everything that is needed on an automobile. It is in first-class condition in every way. Will be pleased to demonstrate at any time. John J. Gallagher, 14 Faxon Block. 5-6t

FOR SALE—Lady's black Russian Pony jacket, size 34. At home evenings. Geo. W. Jennings, 317 Washington street, Braintree. 5-6t

WANTED—Boy to assist in work after school. J. S. Hamilton, 109 Prospect avenue, Wollaston. 5-1t

WANTED—Childrens sewing. Mrs. A. J. Fox, 56 Division street, Montclair. 5-6t

TO LET—Lower flat, 5 rooms bath modern improvements in new house pleasantly situated in corner lot 29 Atherton street, Bigelow Park. Rent reasonable to right party. Inquire on premises or 72 Glencoe place. 5-3t

A SNAP—7 room flat to let, all improvement, fine location, will let five dollars cheaper if taken at once. Apply H. K. Ellis, 36 Warwick street, Wollaston. Tel. Maine 4577. 5-6t

$25 reward for arrest and conviction of party who took horse out of stable Sunday night. Peter McConarty. 5 Pearl street. 5-3t

DEATHS

GRINDELL—in Hallowell, Me., Hiram Grindell, brother of Charles Grindell of South Quincy, in his 73rd year.

Established 1870 Telephone

JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass.

CUP NIGHT OF TOWN RIVER YACHT CLUB

Cups and Trophies Won During the Past Season Are Presented

Turkey Supper, Entertainment and Oratory Also on Program

The annual cup night of the Town River Yacht club was held Thursday evening at the clubhouse at the foot of Edison street and was the occasion for a large gathering of members of this active club, the youngest in the city, as well as by a number of guests from other clubs of the city.

The evening started off in a manner that was calcuated to put everybody in good humor. That is a hot turkey supper was served. With the turkey was all the usual fixin's such as potato, squash, onions, cranberry sauce, etc. It is hardly necessary to say that the supper was greatly enjoyed.

Commodore Thompson B. Crane occupied the seat of honor at the head of the table being flanked on one side by Mayor Eugene R. Stone, the clubs first commodore while on the other side was Commodore Harry S. Crane, of the Quincy Yacht club. Others at the head table included the donors of the several prizes offered for the seasons races as well as officers of the club.

The supper over and cigars lighted the members settled back in their chairs to enjoy the feast of reason. First came an address of welcome by Commodore Crane who reviewed briefly the work of the club during the past season, which he said had been one of the most successful in the history of the club. He congratulated the members on the interest they had taken in the club and bespoke for it a more successful season next year.

Other addresses of a brief nature were made by Mayor Stone, who outlined the history of the club and told what had been accomplished in the few years of its existence.

Commodore Harry S. Crane brought the greetings of the Quincy Yacht club of which the Commodore of the Town River club had long been a member.

Other speakers were Councilman-elect Elijah P. Barrows, who spoke in a humorous vein saying that now that "Me and Miller" had been elected that the city was reformed.

During the presentation of the various prizes and the speaking there was a musical entertainment which included, a piano and violin duet by DeNeil Bros. Trio by Messers. Guy, Fay and Porthous, solo by J. W. McLeod, piano solo by Joseph DeNiel, and solos by Messrs Fay and McKimmock.

After the evenings program the members remained in the clubhouse until nearly midnight indulging in pool, whist and social intercourse.

The several prizes awarded were as follows:

Race of July 4, for class B sail boats, won by George S. Bass, who was awarded the City of Quincy cup.

Race of May 3, class A sailboats won by E. J. Gallagher, who was presented a compass offered by Messers. Irwin and Szpeniski.

Race of May 30, for class B sail boats won by W. E. Lee, who was presented a thermos bottle offered by George E. Sprague.

Race of July 4, for class A sail boats won by E. J. Gallagher, who was presented with a City of Quincy cup.

Race of June 21, for small power boats, won by William Kemp, who was presented with a yacht ensign, donated by Mr. McGeachie.

Race of July 4, small power boats won by William Walker, who was presented a City of Quincy cup.

Race of July 4, for speed boats won by J. R. Mellen, who was awarded the City of Quincy cup.

Race of Sept. 1, for speed boats won by Carl Cranshaw, who was awarded the cup donated by Commodore Crane.

Bang-and-go-back race of Labor day, Mr. Irwin first, Mr. McGeachie second and Commodore Crane third.

Then came the awarding of the Mellen cup which was donated by Mrs. Carolyn G. Mellen several years ago as a perpetual cup to be raced for every year the winner to hold the cup for a year. This cup was awarded to Fred Artis.

He was also presented with a silver plate attached to an ebony shield given by Messers. Luther and Fred Artis.

Race of Oct. 12 for speed boats, first prize won by Mr. J. R. Mellen and the second by Carl Cranshaw, both being cups.

The entertainment closed with a violin and piano duet.

WEST QUINCY LECTURE COURSE.

The second in the lecture course at the Hall Place M. E. church was given Thursday evening. The lecture was to have been on "Sunny Italy or under the Italian Flag" by Rev. L. W. Adams of Clinton, but owing to illness in his home he was unable to be present, and at the last moment Rev. J. W. Stephens of St. John's church, South Boston, was secured. He gave a stereopticon lecture on 'The Life of Christ."

A splendid presentation of the mission of Jesus Christ was given, when, as Miss Helen E. Martin sang "The Ninety and Nine," Mr. Stephens threw the pictures of the various scenes portrayed in the song, on the screen; the Shepherd with the ninety and nine sheep the sorrow for the one that was lost, the lost sheep, the deserts, and the mountains over which the Shepherd travels hunting for the lost sheep, finding the lost sheep entangled in the bushes, the bringing back of the sheep to the fold, the footprints which tell of the suffering of the Shepherd while hunting for the lost sheep and the joy among the angels over the return of the lost sheep.

Mr. tSephens showed the scenes through which Jesus lived and walked, beginning with the manger where He was born, showing the Shepherds being told of the good news by the Angel, the guiding of the Wise men by the Star, and the finding of the Child, the hasty journey into Egypt to escape Herod, talking with the doctors in the Temple at the age of twelve, through His temptations in the wilderness, His miracles, His transfiguration, His last Supper, the betrayal and Crucifixion, His burial and Resurrection and the Ascension.

At the close Miss Martin sang "The Holy City" the scenes in this beautiful anthem being shown on the slide also; closing with the Doxology and benediction. Mr. Stephen then threw some pictures on the screen showing the work of the life savers rescuing people from a sinking ship.

EMPLOYED BOYS LEAGUE.

Thursday nights match in the Employed boys league at the Y. M. C. A. was won by Capt. Howards team. The summary:

EMPLOYED BOYS.

Johnson	82	103	76	261
Gronberg	73	79	84	236
Djerf	76	83	90	249
	231	265	250	746

FOY

Foy	87	65	75	227
Bjornholm	81	71	92	255
Peterson	66	78	72	216
	254	215	249	698

ATLANTIC MEN'S CLUB.

One of the most popular movements which has gripped the men of Atlantic was the formation of a men's club which had its initial organization last Sunday evening in Memorial church adopting for its name, "The Men's Club of Atlantic." Its aim is to promote good fellowship and the social well-being of the community and will meet the second Friday of each month.

Harry Read was elected president, and Paul Butler secretary aid treasurer.

A membership committee was chosen, John W. Abbott, William Barnes, Harvey Holt, Lyndon T. Gurney and George E. Baker whose duty will be to invite reputable men to become members and present their names to the club.

The entertainment committee appointed for December were John W. Abbott, Frank P. Leavitt and William L. Buckley.

Mr. Read in assuming the presidency stated his aims would be to see that the club should not become political or sectarian in any way, but just hold to its simple aim of promoting good fellowship and the social well being of the community.

The membership committee has already had many names handed to it and epects to begin Friday evening, Dec. 12 with over 100 members. For that meeting the Hon. Henry L. Kincaide of Quincy will give a talk on his recent trip through South America with the Boston Chamber of Commerce.

VISIONS OF ART CONSPICUOUS

Today was tie day at the Quincy High school and visions of art were conspicuous in all parts of the building all the session. Flaming reds vied with complications of colors and there were pupils who did not depart from the quiet styles in vogue during the term. One crimson rambler, worn by a young athlete was the hit of the day, but for the sake of the tie his name has been withheld. The only incident to mar the occasion was the soiling of a creamy white puffy bow which lost its purity when a well directed cream cake landed on its wings.

ASSAULT CLAIMED.

John Wicklund who was fined $5 in court this morning on a charge of neglecting to support his family said that he sustained a fractured right rib when attacked by his wife and that he was now under the care of Dr. J. T. Reynolds. He was placed on probation until Feb. 25, 1914.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

EXECUTOR'S NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed executor of the will of Mina R. Myers late of Barrington in the County of Cook and State of Illinois deceased, testate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, and appointing Richard D. Chase of Quincy Mass., his agent, as the law directs.

All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to the subscriber.

ROY C. MYERS, Executor.
(Address)
Richard D. Chase, Agent.
Quincy, Mass., Dec. 5, 1913.
Dec. 5-3t 5-12-19

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate.

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Clarence H. McDonald of Randolph, Massachusetts, to Herbert T. Whitman and Charles C. Barton, as they are Trustees of the Edison Park Land Associates, dated May 28, 1906, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, book 1030, page 301, for breach of the condition of said mortgage deed and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described on Monday the twenty-ninth day of December 1913, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed and therein described as follows, to wit: "A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in said Quincy, being Lot No. 71 on plan made by H. T. Whitman, Surveyor, dated October, 1895, recorded with Norfolk Plans, Book 20, Plan 901. Said parcel of land is bounded and described as follows, to wit:— Northeasterly on Graham street, ninety (90) feet; southeasterly on Lot No. 60 on said plan, sixty (60) feet southwesterly on Lot No. 70 on said plan, ninety (90) feet; and northwesterly on a City Way, known as Edison Park, sixty (60) feet; containing according to said plan 5400 square feet of land."

Said premises will be sold subject to a prior mortgage upon which $2000. and accrued interest remains unpaid, recorded with said Norfolk Deeds, book 892, page 415, also to all unpaid taxes, sewer and municipal assessments, if any there be. Further terms will be announced at the sale.

HERBERT T. WHITMAN,
CHARLES C. BARTON,
Trustees of the Edison Park Land Associates.
Quincy, Mass., Dec. 5, 1913.
Dec. 5-3t 5-12-19

ELKS PLANNING FOR GHRISTMAS

Will Hold Annual Memorial Service Next Sunday

In accordance with its rules and laws Quincy lodge of Elks in common with the Elks lodges throughout the country will meet Sunday evening for its annual memorial service to departed brothers. The service this year will be held at the clubhouse at 7.45 o'clock.

The next regular meeting of the lodge will be held next Tuesday evening and will be the occasion for the annual visitation of D. D. G. E. R. Frederick L. Hayes of Brookline who will be accompanied by P. E. R. Timothy J. Sullivan of Waltham and suite of grand officers. The entertainment committee have arranged for an interesting entertainment at the clubhouse following the visitation.

Quincy lodge as has been its custom for many years is now preparing to bring Christmas cheer into the families of many of the worthy poor in the towns in its jurisdiction. This Christmas cheer is made possible by voluntary donations by members of the lodge, the fund being used in providing Christmas baskets.

WILLARD STREET

(Continued from Page One.)

would pass and the officials of this city interested so that they could be unanimous in the stand taken. So far as my feeble efforts will go, he said, I am with you heart and soul.

Representative Gallagher freely admitted the need of a good opening to Boston, and the proposed route is the best because it is almost free from steep grades.

E. O. Woodward of the Park and Downs Association called for a united effort and a most enthusiastic plan of campaign.

Peter T. Fallon said he was the pioneer of the movement, and remember in asking for this road that we are building for the future, for the hundreds of years to come and that an 80 foot width should be demanded in all future developments of this kind and not as an afterthought. He added that Boston should be approached so that they would meet them with an 80 foot street.

Edward J. Sandberg promised his support and Rev. T. C. Martin who arrived late said West Quincy was entitled to better facilities and better train service. That they should have at least a train once an hour so that a way would be provided for reaching West Quincy at all times.

John Evans said "all Quincy depends on West Quincy. In South Quincy business cannot go on unless granite stock is first quarried in West Quincy and anything for the improvement of the ward should be given support."

Councilman-elect O'Dowd said that he knew comparatively nothing about the proposition. He thanked the voters for his election and said we have just finished an unique election. For the second time Quincy has a mayor elect not bound party strings and promises and when Mr. Miller was elected it was not as Mayor of the 2000 odd that voted for him but of the city and we should encourage and support him as the chief executive of Quincy.

All the speakers held rapt attention and frequent applause interrupted them. In numbers there were over 200 present and their enthusiasm toward the fullfillments of their desires is immeasurable.

DOUBLE LEGAL STAMPS

ALL DAY
FRIDAY and SATURDAY
THIS WEEK
AT

REMICK'S

Music Hall Block, Quincy

FRESH KILLED FOWL

Small but Good

20c lb

Nice Lettuce 5c head
Sweet Florida Oranges 15c doz
Spinach 20c pk

Adams Market R. E. FOY & CO. Water St. Market

Adams Market—'Phones 153 and 1760. Water St. Market—'Phone 117

PAUL LARKIN TO BE CAPTAIN

Paul Larkin, left end on this years eleven has been chosen captain of the Quincy High school team for next year. His selection was unanimous and meets with the approval of the pupils. In all parts of the city he has mustered a following that admires his high standard of play and but little doubt is expressed that he will be named for the interscholastic team next year. He played base ball and is also a candidate for the basket ball team. Larkin in is in his junior year. He is the son of Mrs. A. E. Larkin of Hancock street and brother of Richard Larkin, familiarly known as "Mecca" who starred at the school in 1910 and 1911.

Mrs. Fred A. Holbrook will hold a Christmas sale of fancy work and embroidery at her home 58 Revere Road Tuesday, Dec. 9, afternoon and evening. 5-3t

Call Quincy 501—W

if you want your furniture, mattresses and cushions repaired in good order at low prices M. MIRKIN, upholsterer, 1060 Hancock street near the Quincy High School.

Dec.1-1m

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

Penniman's TAXI SERVICE

Taxies and Touring Cars with careful and safe drivers to let for all occasions.

C. H. PENNIMAN, Prop.
Telephone 207.

June 13-tf

Old Company's Lehigh Egg Coal

for Your furnace

Is there anything better mined?

We Sell It
Try a Ton

C. PATCH & SON Inc.
1422 Hancock Street

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

LARGEST GUARANTEED CIRCULATION IN THE CITY

Vol. 28 No. 283 QUINCY MASS. SATURDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 6 1913 PRICE TWO CENTS

UP TO LAW DEPARTMENT TO SETTLE THE QUESTION

Mr. Foy Will Not Expend Any Money to Straighten Out Ward 3 Tangle

He Believes Law Department Should Settle Such Questions

According to a statement made by Robert T. Foy of Ward Three, he does not intend to expend any money in bringing quo warranto proceedings to determine whether or not he shall serve as a member of the City Council from Ward Three.

It is quite certain that Mr. Cowe will not be notified that he has been elected and that should he put in an appearance at the inauguration of the new city government the first Monday in January he will not be sworn in.

In the absence of further proof it appears that he is not qualified to serve, and if he still believes that he is, it is up to him to bring forward the evidence. The only thing to go by is the records of the Board of Registrars and in the absence of any proof to the contrary these must be taken.

Mr. Foy takes the position that it is for the city authorities to untangle the puzzle and not for him to do so. In speaking of the case Friday, Mr. Foy said that he did not intend to expend any of his money to determine whether he should serve or not. "We have a City Solicitor and law department in the city and what are they paid for if it is not to settle such questions as this. If it is necessary to bring quo warranto proceedings before some judicial body it is up to the law department of the city and not to me."

That is Mr. Foy's position and it would appear that he is perfectly right in his conclusions.

While it can not be foretold just what action the City Council will take it is probable that the present City Council will do no more than to declare the vote Monday night leaving it up to the incoming City Council to determine whether the courts shall be applied to or whether the City Council of 1914 shall declare that a vacancy exists in its body and order a new election.

As previously stated the City Council is the judge of the qualifications of its own members. That being the case it would seem perfectly proper for the incoming council to declare a vacancy and order a new election.

The case of Leo P. Noonan, who was elected as Associate County Commissioner, is almost a parallel one. In the case of Mr. Noonan a dispatch from Dedham states that according to the count of the votes for County Commissioner and Associate Commissioners, Everett M. Bowker, Henry A. Whitney and William M. Quade have been declared elected.

Quade polled but 8895 while Noonan polled 11,490, but was disqualified under the law which prohibits one city from having more than one member of the Board.

It is understood that Mr. Noonan has taken the question of his eligibility to the courts, but be that as it may, he has been disqualified.

It is unfortunate that City Solicitor McAnarney will not be present at Monday night's meeting of the City Council to give his advice in straightening out the matter.

HOSE 3 DRIVER SUSPENDED

Richard Callahan, driver of Hose 3, at West Quincy, has been relieved from duty, by order of Mayor Stone, pending an investigation of charges, which it is reported some citizen has made against him.

The laying off of Driver Callahan closely followed the fire of Wednesday evening when it is said that Hose 3, was a long time in answering the alarm from Box 224.

Friday evening Officers Dineen and Duane, who happened to be in the West Quincy station when the alarm sounded appeared before Mayor Stone at City Hall, with Chief Litchfield and told what they knew concerning the answering of the alarm by this piece of apparatus. Tonight at 8 o'clock it is said that the citizen who preferred the charges will appear at a hearing to be held before Mayor Stone at City Hall.

Renewed interest in the daily showing at the City Square alleys has resulted in many high singles that of Friday going to Dell with 121.

BUSY SESSION IS PROMISED

Important Matters For Monday Nights Council

Several important matters are scheduled to come up for action at the adjourned meeting of the City Council Monday evening. The meeting was adjourned for a week in order that the result of the municipal election might be declared and in order that action on the temporary loan order for $75,000 might be hurried as much as possible.

In addition to this there were a number of important matters before the Finance Committee and reports on many of these may be expected at the adjourned meeting. One of these matters in which there is considerable interest is the order increasing the pay of the permanent firemen. The order aims to place the firemen on the same basis as the members of the police department.

Although the order has been pending sometime the Finance Committee refused to act upon it until after the Municipal election, thus doing away with anything that might be used in a political way to influence votes for or against any councilman.

It is more than probable that the committee will report on this order Monday night as well as upon some of the other matters which have been referred to them.

Just what action the Council will take in regard to the situation in Ward Three is in doubt. City Solicitor McAnarney will not be present at this meeting as he is in the west, so that other than declaring the election to have been as read, it is doubtful if any action is taken.

SALVATION ARMY APPEAL

The Salvation Army is again preparing to distribute a number of baskets for Christmas and is asking the public to help them by notifying them of any deserving person, who will not ask for aid themselves. Last spring a lady refused to further contribute to the Salvation Army fund because a deserving woman she was interested in did not get a Christmas basket. When asked if the Salvation Army knew of the case the woman said "they are supposed to know." She then went on to say that the woman was one who would not complain or ask for charity herself. For this reason the Army asked that names of deserving people be given them. Donations should be sent to 150 Granite street, and it should be remembered that contributions given them will be used in Quincy to help the poor about us.

TWENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. August Viden Receive Friends

About 200 Swedish relatives and friends gathered in Union hall Friday evening to assist Mr. and Mrs. August Viden of Viden place celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage. Among those present was Rev. Henry Hanson of Boston, who performed the ceremony while pastor of the St. Pauls M. E. church, Fritz Swanson the best man and Adolph Gustafson of Granite street who was the oldest guest at the wedding reception and is now an octogenarian. All three addressed the gathering after the welcome had been extended by Rev. Leander Hokenson. Prof. Joseph Larson of Everett was also present and gave a short address and there were solos by Edith Jenkins and Miss Sigrid Lundquist. Violin solos were given by Rudolph Nelson and during the evening music was furnished by the orchestra of the Swedish Lutheran church.

Mr. and Mrs. Viden held an informal reception and were assisted in receiving by their four daughters, Esther, Anna, Hilma and Edla, and their two sons, August and Karl. Mrs. Caroline Landberg, the 81 year old mother of Mrs. Viden was also in the receiving line.

There was no Lutheran church in Quincy at the time of their marriage and Mr. Viden was one of the organizers of the present church and served for many years as a deacon and superintendent of the Sunday school. He has not been so active of late years in the affairs of the church but is still a faithful member. Mrs. Viden still retains her interest in church affairs and is a strong worker on committees.

A long table divided the hall in two sections and supper was served by Miss Hilda Ellison, Miss Edith Friberg and Miss Lillian Peterson. The decorations were potted plants, palms and chrysanthemums.

Mr. and Mrs. Viden are well known in South Quincy where they make their home and many gifts of silver and glass ware, from their many friends were on exhibition during the evening. At present Mr. Viden is in the employ of Brown & Crowell at South Quincy and has been employed in their store for 20 years, always remaining if the management changed.

NEW LABOR LAW.

The Board of Trade in the interest of the Retail Merchants of Quincy wish to call attention to the new Labor Law as relates to the employment of clerks during the extra work in Christmas shopping, reminding them that clerks cannot be employed more than 54 hours per week and not more than 10 hours in any one day.

If stores are to be kept open longer than these hours the matter can be arranged by having some clerks come in later in the morning or allowing them to leave earlier in the afternoon or give them a longer time for lunch

If more blanks for posting the hours in which clerks work are needed they can be obtained at the office of the Board of Labor and Industries, 1 Beacon street, Boston.

FUNERAL OF MISS FRENCH.

The funeral of Dora A. French was held Friday afternoon from the home of her nephew, Henry W. Porter, 63 Edgemere road. Services were conducted by Dr. A. L. Hudson, assisted by Rev. E. W. Whitney of the Waltham First Parish church. The choir of the First Church of Quincy sang "Lead Kindly Light," "Crossing the Bar," and "Abide with Me." Burial was in Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

STICKPINS FOR COACHES

School Letters Also Given to Foot Ball Players

The annual football reception in the gymnasium of Quincy High school The most enjoyable social affairs ever held at the school. The players were the "Men of the Hour" and received their school letters, the presentation by Mrs. C. E. Collins, following a short speech by Headmaster Collins.

College pennants, potted plants and palms were the decorations and frappe was served during the evening.

Until nine o'clock an informal reception was held with Mr. and Mrs. Collins and Frank L. Mansur in the receiving line.

The surprise of the evening which contributed much to its enjoyment, was the presentation of stickpins to Frank L. Mansur and Harry French of the faculty, who coached the team during the season. The pins were the gifts of the players and were presented by Captain Young.

The evening was in charge of Miss Louise Wilson, Gladys Du Plessis, Harry Burr, Fred Atwood and Florence Crowell.

The first team players that were awarded the school letter were Captain Young, Jenkins, Foy, White, Hamlin, Schenkelberger, Coughlin, Brown, Mullen, Smith, Jepson, Murphy, Crosscup, Reardon, Page, Larkin who will captain the eleven of 1914 and Manager McAnarney.

The second team players awarded the "Q" given that team were Creedon, Sanborn, Gay, Crocker, Gelotte, Rice.

INSTALLATION.

Officers of Wollaston Lodge of the American Benefit society were installed Thursday evening by the visiting deputy of the Supreme Lodge Dr. M. Morey Pearson and ten members of the supreme lodge. It was a gala night for Wollaston lodge. A tempting supper was served at 7 o'clock to members and visiting officers, after which the regular routine of business was transacted, followed by initiation.

The reports of the various officers showed the lodge to be in a prosperous condition. A pleasing feature of the evening at this time was the announcement by the marshal that a delegation of 24 members from Loyal lodge, Brockton were in waiting in the anteroom. Their coming was a great surprise and they were given a cordial welcome. There were also present visitors from Montello, Avon, Haverhill, Waltham and Boston.

The remarks by the supreme president of the order W. W. Towle were most encouraging. At the close of the meeting ice cream and cake was served.

The officers installed were:
President—N. Stuart Sanford.
Vice President—Augus Polson.
Orator—Irene M. Coleman.
Secretary—Nina J. Miller.
Collector—Rosa M. Taylor.
Treasurer—Samuel P. Hanson.
Chaplain—Mabel E. Young.
Marshal—Algernon S. Gardiner.
Warden—Charles R. Brown.
Sentry—Frank A. Gardiner.
Trustees—Leonard W. Taylor, Walter C. Davis, Lydia W. Collett.

Mrs. Fred A. Holbrook will hold a Christmas sale of fancy work and embroidery at her home 58 Revere Road Tuesday, Dec. 9, afternoon and evening. 5-3t

NO RECOUNTS ASKED FOR

Time For Filing Petitions Expired Friday

The time for filing petitions for recounts of ballots cast at the municipal election last Tuesday expired Friday evening at 5 o'clock and as no petitions were filed it is natural to suppose that everybody was satisfied.

The vote in most instances was so decisive that it would be useless to hold a recount with the expectation that the result would be changed. The only case where the vote was close was in Ward Two where but one vote separated Robert J. Williams, Jr., who was elected and John F. Bruton. Both gentlemen, however, ran under the party designation of Democrats so that no recount was asked for. Had one gentleman been a Republican, a recount would probably have resulted.

It is seldom that there has been either a state or municipal election where some defeated candidate did not ask for a recount. It is very seldom, however, that the result is changed by the recounts, showing that the election officers in Quincy are competent.

THE WOLLASTON FORUM.

Rev. Paul Harris Blake, who has been given a series of most interesting talks on social problems will continue the general subject Sunday by prescribing the remedy for some of the social evils of the day. Come and join this discussion Sunday at the Wollaston Unitarian church at 12 o'clock.

TO OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY.

Pride of Quincy Lodge, 443, Independent Order of Brith Abraham will observe their seventh anniversary Tuesday evening with a concert and ball in Music hall. A large committee is perfecting the arrangements under the direction of Joseph Szathmary, chairman.

STRIKERS TO RETURN TO WORK

Wanted Continuous Hours of Labor at The Yard

The strike at the Fore River of the Crane men and machine drillers has been adjusted and the men will return to work. The crane men struck a few days ago because they could not arrange their work so as to get continuous hours of labor and Friday the Machine drillers went out in sympathy. There were but nine of the crane men was struck and 175 of the drillers who went out Friday noon.

What the crane men desired was that their work be arranged so that they should have continuous hours of labor while in the yard and not work on the shift system.

Friday afternoon a conference was held between General Manager Smith and a committee from the crane men and drillers with the result that a satisfactory agreement was reached and the men agreed to return to work.

At the pleasant Sunday evening service the pastor will speak on "The most Popular Sin in the World." This will be of value to old and young. All are invited to join in praise service, led by the chorus.

Peter Parley BREAD
REG U.S. PAT OFF

A bread of superlative excellence, carefully baked and wrapped in waxed tissue for your protection.
ASK YOUR GROCER

Save Your Health

Most sicknesses that impair health have their start in quite ordinary ailments of the organs of digestion or elimination. Stomach, liver, kidneys, and bowels are quickly benefited by the action of

BEECHAM'S PILLS

Sold everywhere. In boxes, 10c., 25c.

FRESH KILLED FOWL
Small but Good
20c lb

Nice Lettuce 5c head
Sweet Florida Oranges 15c doz
Spinach 20c pk

Adams Market R. E. FOY & CO. Water St. Market

Adams Market—'Phones 153 and 1760. Water St. Market—'Phone 117

QUINCY MUSIC HALL
SATURDAY MATINEE 2.30. SATURDAY NIGHT 8 O'clock
VAUDEVILLE and MOVING PICTURES
Prof. Neville will Lecture on
"TANNHAUSER," A Great 3 Reel Feature
Dec. 4-3t

Our New Patterns

"Cromwell" and "Old Colony"—the two latest patterns in 1847 ROGERS BROS. silverware exquisitely portray the beauty and simplicity of their respective periods.

1847 ROGERS BROS.
"Silver Plate that Wears" is the heaviest grade of silver plate made, and is guaranteed by the largest makers. Dignity and gracefulness of design are enhanced by modern workmanship. We invite your inspection of our line of newer as well as other popular patterns.

Only 20 Days
More to Christmas

Select Goods Early in order to have the orders and Engraving properly attended to.

Get a copy of our Xmas Catalogue

SANDBERG BROS.
Jewelers
1281 Hancock St., Quincy

SIXTH SEASON
Quincy Choral Society
Mr. GEORGE S. DUNHAM, Conductor

MISCELLANEOUS PROGRAM
and
HIAWATHA'S WEDDING FEAST
By S. COLERIDGE-TAYLOR
HIGH SCHOOL HALL
WEDNESDAY EVENING, DEC. 10th, 1913
At 8 o'clock
SOLOIST
MR. ARTHUR HACKETT, Tenor
BROCKTON PHILHARMONIC ORCHESTRA
TICKETS
LIMITED number reserved seats 75 cents. General admission 50 cents
TICKETS for sale by members and at Hearn's Drug Store.
Dec. 1-6t-1-3-6-8-9-10

HOLIDAY NECKWEAR

Early Buyers Will Find

Thousands of Ties to Choose From

25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00

GEORGE W. JONES
1 Granite Street : : QUINCY
L. Dec. 5-3t O. 6-1w

Old Company's Lehigh Egg Coal
for Your furnace
Is there anything better mined?

We Sell It
Try a Ton

C. PATCH & SON Inc.
1422 Hancock Street

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1869

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second-Class matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

TELEPHONES
News . . . Quincy 425
Business . . Quincy 1910

Battle cry of the Mexican Federals: "Run for your altars and your fires!"

It is hoped that the new battleships will be completed by the time their pattern is ready for the scrap heap.

Christmas goods bought in distant department stores should also be inspected from a distance on arrival. It's safer.

In spite of the fact that there is no chance of being mistaken for a rabbit and shot, many sportsmen continue to find the hunting of small game interesting.

If the society for Prevention of Useless Giving does not look out, no one will give them any $25 imitation vases with no place in them for any water.

Two thousand of the Corn club boys have gone to Washington, a city previously visited mostly by the Plum club boys.

It is hoped that some one will give President Huerta a pair of running shoes for Christmas.

CHRISTMAS ADVERTISING.

At no time in the year does the merchant have so much capital locked up in his stock as just before the holidays. Probably if the truth were known the great majority have to borrow to tide over this period.

Under modern systems of efficiency, the cost of advertising is reckoned as a necessary part of the expense of selling goods. The merchant no more thinks of stopping it than he does of turning off his salespeople.

Hence at Christmas, the stock being bigger than ever, it is felt that more than ever can and must be spent in advertising, without exceeding the normal proportion for this form of sales expense. Hence it is that all the newspapers are crowded with Christmas sales notices.

No class of goods is so transient and fickle as holiday material. If stock is carried over until another December, style changes may make a big sacrifice necessary. Our advertising columns will help you clean it up while the sales pay a profit.

CHOICE ARTICLES
FROM THE
PHILIPPINES

LUCBON HATS—Very best grade of the famous Panamas and Bankoks made. Absolutely none better, woven under water by hand. Can be crushed into a ball and not lose shape. Made for both Ladies and Gentlemen. $5 and $10.

ROMBLON MATS—Handsomest and most durable Grass Mats or Rugs made in the world. Beautiful colors and designs, large enough to cover one-half floor of rooms. $5.

MANILA CIGARS—$8 for a trial box of the Very Best Cigars made in the Philippines.

Oriente Cigarrettes—Best made, large package containing 25 small packages, 750 Cigarrettes, $2.

Sent by registered mail, free of duties, on receipt of price.

C. A. SHORT & CO.,
Lucena, Tay, P. I.
Oct 4 1.&O 3m

Penniman's
TAXI SERVICE
Taxies and Touring Cars with careful and safe drivers to let for all occasions.
C. H. PENNIMAN, Prop.
Telephone 207.
June 13-tf

BOWLING SCORES

But one match in the Fore River league was rolled on the Coliseum alleys Friday evening. The Hull Draftsmen defeated the Machinist Floor, 3 to 1, losing their clean sweep in the third when they were two pins shy. Ryan of the winners made 112, high single and his total of 290 was the best in the rolloff. His namesake on the losing team got a string of 103 and was high man for the losers. The summary:

HULL DRAFTSMEN.

Fromme	79	86	84	249
Kennedy	91	93	102	286
Sullivan	72	73	88	233
Ryan	112	107	71	290
Westland	84	93	89	276
	448	452	434	1334

MACHINIST FLOOR.

Ryan	81	103	84	268
Cockett	91	86	99	276
Russell	79	82	88	249
Vose	95	83	80	258
Akroyd	97	82	85	264
	443	436	436	1315

The Moldloftsmen held their regular league match on the City Square alleys Friday evening. Minhinicks aggregation defeated the Byars five 3 to 1, the losers taking only the first string. Fergusons total of 245 was high for the evening. The score:

MINHINICKS.

McKelvie	65	66	78	209
Taggart	84	85	72	241
Mahoney	82	78	87	242
Ferguson	79	83	83	245
Minhinick	73	98	100	271
	383	405	420	1208

BYARS.

Arenberg	78	75	73	226
Henley	81	63	83	227
Cadman	79	82	67	228
Auld	85	78	72	235
Byars	63	81	73	217
	386	379	368	1133

Dorchester beat Wollaston in a special match on the Coliseum alleys Friday evening. The summary:

DORCHESTER A. A.

Charles	88	113	86	287
Wall	104	89	82	275
Dion	90	105	89	284
Walton	106	79	90	275
Holmes	80	93	98	271
	468	479	445	1392

WOLLASTON FIVE.

Cahill	79	82	81	242
Hall	84	81	67	232
Robertson	83	93	77	253
Shav	73	80	83	236
Tabb	87	86	84	257
	406	422	392	1220

ELECTS NEW COMMANDER

The election of officers of Col. Abner B. Packard Camp, Sons of Veterans, took place in G. A. R. hall Friday evening. The attendance was large and a collation followed the adjournment. The installation will be in January. The officers chosen were:

Commander—Edward Prouty.
Senior Vice Commander—William French.
Junior Vice Commander—Walter M. Packard.
Camp Council—Harry Ford, Albert Farnum, Frank M. Chubbuck.
Treasurer—Charles Strattard.
Secretary—Carlton O'Neil.

JURY WAIVED SESSION.

Dedham, Raymond, J.—Uncontested divorce libels heard.

1220. Irene L. Mallock of Quincy vs Henry P. Mallock of Quincy. Decree nisi for cruel and abusive treatment, with $3 a week alimony. Wilbur F. Powers for libellant.

1189. James W. Connell vs Alice Connell, both of Quincy. Decree nisi for desertion. George W. Abele for libellant.

1173. Jennie T. Robertson of Weymouth vs. Albert H. Robertson of parts unknown. Decree nisi for desertion, with care and custody of minor son. Albert E. Avery for libellant.

1261. Henry M. Greer of Boston vs Mabel L. Greer of Wollaston. Decree nisi for infidelity. George A. Douglas for libellant.

1262. Florence C. Irving of South Braintree vs Milton H. Irving of Quincy. Decree nisi for cruel and abusive treatment. William W. Clarke for libellant.

1243. Florence E. Richards of Weymouth vs Fred L. Richards of Weymouth. Divorce asked on the ground of infidelity. Party heard and will be kept open for the reception of further evidence. George L. Barnes for libellant.

1244. Rose M. Russo vs Michael Russo, both of Quincy. Decree nisi for cruel and abusive treatment, with custody of minor children, Jeremiah J. McAnarney for libellant.

HEARING IN JANUARY.

As the result of the meeting of the West Quincy Improvement Association at which proposals for the construction of a new state highway from Milton to Brockton were considered, a public hearing will be held probably by the Massachusetts highway commission in January. The road would be about 12 miles in length, stretching between the New Haven railroad station at East Milton, through the towns of Braintree, Holbrook and Avon, to the Boston line.

DISTRICT COURT.

Nicholas Sprunk was fined $10 for assault on Annie T. Byrnes of Montclair and appealed.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

NEWSY BRIEFS

The Woman's Guild of Christ church netted nearly $600 at their recent rose fair.

Thursday evening the Ladies Aid of the Hall Place M. E. church is to hold a supper, sale and entertainment in the vestry.

Dr. J. M. MacLeod who has recently arrived in the city, has taken the office formerly occupied by the late Dr. R. M. McLennan at 28 Federal avenue.

C. B. Todd of Glendale road, whose son was reported to have been killed by the cars in New York, left Friday night to identify the body and bring it back to Quincy for burial.

Bethany Women's Union is to hold a two-days fair next week Wednesday and Thursday afternoon and evening, for which they have been busily at work for several weeks.

Do your Christmas shopping early is the slogan, which everybody should follow. Remember the poor clerks who are always overworked by the Christmas rush and help them all you can.

A competitive examination is to be held Dec. 22 for the position of supervisor of relief to dependent mothers in the department of the State Board of Charity. The appointee to be a woman at a salary not exceeding $2250 per annum.

At the evening service at the Hall Place M. E. church, Sunday evening the pastor is to give a stereopticon talk on "Christian Truths illustrated in pictures." This talk will be preceded by a praise service. The service will be held in the church auditorium.

The Woman's Guild of St. Chrysostom's church is to have an all day meeting Wednesday starting at ten o'clock. Mrs. Spooner will serve lunch assisted by Mrs. Horte and Mrs. Lowe and the usual business meeting will be held at two o'clock.

One of our national wonders is Mammoth cave in Kentucky. It is to be illustrated by 24 canvas drawings Wednesday evening at the Wollaston M. E. church by Rev. E. C. Pollard of the Atlantic M. E. church, who has conducted educational parties through this wonder.

The Girls Friendly society of St. Chrysostom's church is to meet Thursday instead of Friday evening next week for the convenience of Rev. Henry Bedlinger rector of St. Peters church, Salem, who will speak on "Travel Abroad."

Mrs. Irene Mallock formerly of Atlantic who left her husband last May was granted an absolute divorce at Dedham Friday. By agreement among counsel the case was not contested. Mr. Mallock is to provide for the support of a minor son who is giving into the custody of the mother.

The Associated Charities of Quincy acknowledges with thanks contributions of clothing and supplies from Mrs. Saville, Mrs. Baxter, Mrs. Hill, Mrs. E. V. Fitts, Mrs. Remick, Mrs. E. J. Cummings, Mrs. Southworth, Mrs. Hallowell, Mrs. Stearns, Norfolk Downs, Mrs. Chase, Mrs. G. Soule, Mrs. F. Abele, Wollaston Women's club, Needlewomens Guild, Rev. Rufus Tobey, Mrs. N. G. Nickerson and others

Miss Ruth Carpenter of Milton, Miss Marion Jackson of Quincy, Miss Mildred Clifton Hall of Brockton, Miss Madeline F. Roberts of New York, Miss Marion Ellis of Brookline and Miss Kandib of Neponset, are doing splendid work as volunteers with the Quincy Associated Charities, visiting families and assisting in various ways in the work which is being done by the society.

Rev. Frederick H. Steenstra, rector of St. Chrysostom's church has received numerous messages of condolence on account of the death of his mother, Mrs. Susan Brown, widow of the Rev. Peter Henry Steenstra which occurred Sunday. The funeral services were held at St. John Memorial Chapel Cambridge at 2 o'clock Tuesday.

The evangelistic meetings which have been held this week at the St. Paul's Swedish M. E. church have been well attended and have been the means of much good. District superintendent F. E. Broman and Rev. Oscar Sundberg spoke Tuesday night, Rev. C. E. Rydstrom and Rev. Selin, Wednesday night; Rev. Sundberg and Rev. Rydstrom again Thursday night; Rev. Edwin Stromberg and Rev. Bromen Friday night. Dr. Albert Hallen will close the meetings preaching twice on Sunday.

Dr. Marion LeRoy Burton, president of Smith college who speaks at the Wollaston school hall Monday night under the auspices of the Parents-Teachers association is a notable figure in educational circles. After a brief service of one year as pastor of the Church of the Pilgrims in Brooklyn, N. Y., where he made himself a power both in its administrative affairs and the pulpit he was elected a few years ago to the presidency of Smith college. His subject Monday night will be "What a College Education Means to a Woman" and promises to be most interesting.

☞PRATT'S BREAD sales have increased because it satisfies. Your grocer.

Perfect biscuit perfectly delivered.

At the grocery store you will find many varieties of biscuit baked by National Biscuit Company. Each variety of biscuit—sweetened or unsweetened—whether known as crackers or cookies . . wafers or snaps . . cakes or jumbles —is the best of its kind.

The extensive distributing service of the National Biscuit Company extends from Coast to Coast.

This ensures a constant supply of all the perfect biscuit of the National Biscuit Company being delivered to every part of the United States.

Buy biscuit baked by

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

Always look for that name

MEMORIAL TO MISS BUMPUS

A movement is on foot in Bethany church to provide a suitable memorial to Miss Amelia L. Bumpus commemorating her unselfish and useful life. It will take the form of a memorial window. As a desire has been expressed by some outside this communion to have a part in such a testimonial an invitation is herby extended to all her friends of whatever church affiliations to contribute to this object.

The chairman of the Memorial committee is Mrs. W. E. Alden, 58 Chestnut street the treasurer, Mrs. V. E. Miller, 23 Russell park, either of whom will gladly receive contributions.

BRIEFS

The G. S. of the Atlantic M. E. church is to have a Christmas tree. Children are now in training for their Christmas program.

William Harding has returned to his business in New York after spending ten days with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harding of Botolph street

A general meeting of everyone interested in the building of a new church edifice is called for Thursday evening at quarter of eight in the Wollaston Congregational church.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Atlantic Methodist church paid $209 of the outstanding bills with the proceeds of last week's fair. About $60 worth of gifts yet remain to be sold.

WILLIAM R. DIMOCK
Carpenter and Builder
Plans furnished and estimates given. All work personally and promptly attended to 133 PROSPECT AVENUE
WOLLASTON
☞Telephone 1238 W Quincy.

T. BAKER
Saws Recut, Set and Filed. Cutlery and Edge Tools Ground and Polished. Razors Honed. Skates Ground. Jobbing of all kinds.
59 Pond Street, Quincy.
27-14t on Sat.

MILTON

At the meeting of the Woman's club Monday afternoon interesting reports of the State Federation were read by Mrs. F. D. Leslie, chairman of the Arts and Crafts Committee, and by Mrs. Benjamin R. Fuller, chairman of the Household Economics Committee. Mrs. Joseph Brewer, chairman of the Red Cross Committee, announced the sale of Red Cross seals, the proceeds of which are used in preventing the spread of tuberculosis. Any one wishing to purchase these stamps may do so by communicating with Mrs. Brewer, or with any of the chairmen of committees. The club was well entertained for the remainder of the afternoon by Miss Maude Scheerer, dramatic reader. Tea was served.

The chances are, there will be no basket ball team at Milton High this year, because the boys forfeited their claim to the Cunningham gymnasium Wednesday afternoons when not enough boys responded to the call for a class, and secondly because the dearth of material is discouraging from an athletic standpoint. The girls attended to the number of 60 and their claim to the gym was allowed. Their class will be under the direction of Miss Carrett, physical directress.

The second annual dance of the Milton Boat club was held in the Town hall Friday evening and well attended.

J. Albert Simpson is now occupying his new home on Plymouth avenue, East Milton.

The reorganized Midget basket ball team trimmed the boys of the Battleship North Carolina, Saturday, 33 to 32. Jack Reid secured the winning point by tossing a foul.

Prof. Marshall L. Perrin of Boston University will lecture to the pupils of Milton high Dec. 19. His topic will be "Personality as an Asset."

Hannah Gleason of Milton has presented the will of her husband, the late John Gleason, for probate.

It cost Representative John J. Gallagher $54.34 to be defeated for reelection, $25 of which went to the Democratic city committee of Canton.

Mrs. Wallace H. Carter, 58 Sheldon street, one of the oldest and best known residents is seriously ill at her home.

Mrs. Walter F. Whitney of Belcher circle has been at Hurstville, Mass., for several weeks.

Preparations are being made to organized a hockey team at Milton high. A captain has not been chosen in place of George Chandler who entered Dummer academy shortly after his election. There are 15 candidates and an effort will be made to secure as coach Stacey Sears who was named as the interscholastic goal four years ago when Milton won the championship.

Marshall Darrach, under the auspices of the School Teachers Association gave the first of a series of readings in Town hall, Monday evening. He gave Shakespeares Twelfth Night and the audience comfortably filled the hall.

THE PASSING OF GOFFE STREET.

Editor of the Ledger:

What's in a name? A whole lot. For years, it has delighted children to hear strangers in our city, exclaim as they simply glanced at the sign "Coffee street! what a queer name for a street!"

That has passed, but if the name of one of the judges of "Charles whom they slew," seemed inadequate, the residents of that section now have a name to live up to. Webster defines a lane as "an narrow path," and President Adams who first owned and used this particular lane, walked always in the straight and narrow way. The residents of that region then, are bound in honor to do the same.

If they religiously worship on the Sabbath as did President Adams—if they read in our First church, the inscriptions on the tablets to those upright men and teach their children to emulate their virtues and love of country then indeed will they be worthy to be counted among those not in the Broad Highway.

H. L. R.

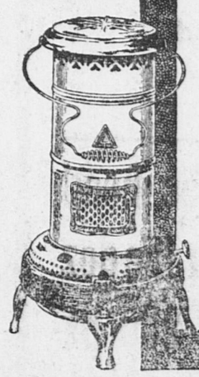
Dec. 4, 1913.

☞PRATT'S BREAD made of the best flour by the best bakers. Your grocer.

ARTHUR L. THOMAS
Attorney-at-Law
3-4-5-6 Greenleaf Block
Telephone Quincy 460 Jan.2-1y

WHEN YOU TAKE OUT YOUR SCREENS
If they need painting or repairing let
HOLMES & HALL
fix them up during the winter and have them read yin the spring.
NO CHARGE FOR STORAGE
TEL. QUINCY 1690
1179 HANCOCK ST.

Capital $150,000 Surplus $200,000
DIAMONDS
RUBIES
GOLD
Tempt the dishonest when kept in a bureau or desk drawer. Keep yours in one of our steel safety deposit boxes—$5 a year—where nobody but you can get at them, but where they are convenient when you want them. Some folks pay twice as much to keep valuables in Boston safety boxes, but they're handier here and just as safe.
Our $5 Box is Larger Than a $10 Box in Boston.
GRANITE TRUST CO.
FOUNDED 1836

Quick Wicking
THE disagreeable wicking feature of some old-fashioned oil heaters is done away with entirely in the New Model Perfection Smokeless Oil Heater.
Changing wicks is simplicity itself—merely slip out the old wick and carrier and drop a new one in its place, trimmed and ready for use.
PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER
The new Perfection Oil Heater is equipped with patent locking flame-spreader, which prevents smoking; has oil indicator on font and latticed window frame—more durable and attractive.
The Perfection Heater is finished with vitreous enameled turquoise-blue or plain steel drums. Simple in construction, strong and handy. Smokeless and odorless.
The trade mark of the Perfection Heater is the triangle—it stands for the greatest improvements ever made in any device of the kind.
Look for the Heater with the TRIANGLE


At all dealers, or write for descriptive circular to
STANDARD OIL COMPANY
OF NEW YORK
New York, N. Y. Albany, N. Y.
Buffalo, N. Y. Boston, Mass.

CHICHESTER S PILLS

THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-che-ster-s Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER'S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point
Tel. Quincy.Mass. 1153 M Nov 3-.tf

QUINCY REGISTRY
FOR NURSES
20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.
Will supply trained and practical nurses, attendants and nursery assistants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.
MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar,
Tel. Quincy 131-W.

CITY OF QUINCY

The owners and occupants of the following described parcels of real estate situated in the City of Quincy in the County of Norfolk and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and the public are hereby notified that the taxes, street watering assessments, main sewer assessment apportionments, particular sewer assessments, particular sewer assessment apportionments, gypsy moth assessments and sidewalk and street betterment assessment apportionments thereon severally assessed for the years hereinafter specified, according to the list committed to me as Collector of Taxes for said City of Quincy by the Assessors of Taxes, and also main sewer assesments thereon severally assessed according to the list committed to me as said Collector by the Commissioner of Public Works, remain unpaid and that the smallest undivided part of said land sufficient to satisfy said real estate taxes, sewer, gypsy moth, street watering, sidewalk and street betterment assessments or apportionments with interest and all legal costs and charges or the whole of said land if no person offers to take an undivided part thereof, will be offered for sale by public auction at the Council Chamber in the City Hall of said City of Quincy on at 9.00 o'clock, A. M., for the payment of said real estate taxes, sewer, street watering, gypsy moth, sidewalks and street betterment assessments or apportionments with interest, costs and charges thereon unless the same shall have been previously discharged.

MONDAY, DEC. 22, 1913.

WARD FOUR.

Orin Bates, East Milton. A certain parcel of land containing 284224 square feet, situated upon the southwesterly side of Adams street, bounded: northwesterly by land now or late of Jessie Cordingley, southwesterly by land now or late of Quincy Savings Bank, southeasterly by Bryant street, and northeasterly by Adams street, (excepting from the above described parcel, lots 1-27-28,) Plan 4077. Tax of 1912 $176.00. Then for Street Watering Assessment $3.28.

Blue Hill Quarry Co. A certain parcel of land containing 2 acres, situated in West Quincy, Tract 15, lot 35 (Thomas Swithin) Quarry, bounded: Hillside Park, southeasterly by land now or late of Blue Hill Quarry Co., and southwesterly by land now or late of Blue Hill Quarry Co. Tax of 1912 $44.00.

Blue Hill Quarry Co. A certain parcel of land containing 2 acres, situated in West Quincy, possibly lot 36, tract 55 (formerly Andrew Milne), bounded: northeasterly by Hillside Park, southeasterly by land now or late of Townsend and Clements, southwesterly by land now or late of Blue Hill Quarry Co. and McDonnell and McDonnell and northwesterly by land now or late of Blue Hill Quarry Co. Tax of 1912 $8.80.

Blue Hill Quarry Co. A certain parcel of land containing 2 15-100 acres, situated in West Quincy, part tract 14, part lot 20 in vicinity of Blue Hill Quarry, bounded: northeasterly by land now or late of Blue Hill Quarry Co., southwesterly by land now or late of Quincy Quarries Co., northwesterly by land now or late of Quincy Quarries Co. and Robert Cantley. Tax of 1912 $4.95.

Blue Hill Quarry Co. A certain parcel of land containing 5 5-100 acres situated in West Quincy, tract 46, woodland adjoining Blue Hill Quarry, bounded: northeasterly, southeasterly and southwesterly by land now or late of Blue Hill Quarry Co. and northwesterly by land now or late of Robert Cantley. Tax of 1912 $11.00.

Blue Hill Quarry Co. A certain parcel of land containing 4 3-4 acres situated in W. Quincy being land formerly of "Swithin and Jones" bounded: northeasterly by land now or late of Quincy Quarries Co. and Hillside Park, northwesterly by land now or late of Robert Cantley, southwesterly by land now or late of Blue Hill Quarry Co. and southeasterly by land now or late of McDonnell. Tax of 1912 $10.45.

Blue Hill Quarry Co. A certain parcel of land containing 6 acres, with building thereon, situated in West Quincy, tract 45, Quarry Blue Hill, bounded: northeasterly, northwesterly and southwesterly by land now or late of Blue Hill Quarry Co. and southeasterly by land now or late of Blue Hill Quarry Co. and McDonnell. Tax of 1912 $169.40.

Blue Hill Quarry Co. A certain parcel of land containing 3 45-100 acres, situated in West Quincy, lot 19, tract 13, part of McDonnell lot, bounded: northeasterly, by land now or late of McDonnell, southeasterly by land now or late of Dean and Horrigan, southwesterly by land now or late of Quincy Quarries Company, and northwesterly by land now or late of Blue Hill Quarry Co.. Tax of 1912 $8.80.

Aloys Burkhardt. A certain parcel of land containing 1-4 acres with building thereon, situated upon the southeasterly side of a private way off West street, bounded: southeasterly by land now or late of Louise Kreitman, westerly by land now or late of Enoch H. Doble and Sarah Clare, northwesterly by land now or late of heirs of Stephen Kusser and northeasterly by a private way known as Wittich place. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 13, plan 4041, Balance of Tax of 1912 $10.80.

Edward M. Bryan. A certain parcel of land containing about 11500 square feet, situated upon the northwesterly side of West street, bounded: northeasterly by land now or late of Edmund G. Hayden, northwesterly by land now or late of Edward J. Lane, southwesterly by land now or late of Hilma Mann, and southeasterly by West street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 2, plan 4042. Tax of 1912 $9.90.

Lorenzo Caravaglio. A certain parcel of land containing 1 7-10 acres with buildings thereon, situated upon the corner of Willard and Robertson streets, bounded: easterly by land now or late of Wilbur F. Lakin and others, northerly by land now or late of Mary E. Foley and by Bryant street, westerly by land now or late of Hannah M. Nimerskern and Mary E. Foley and by Willard street and southerly by Robertson street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 1, plan 4074. Tax of 1912, $103.40 Then for Street Watering Assessment $2.94.

Lorenzo Caravaglio. A certain parcel of land containing 6030 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the northwesterly side of Robertson street, being part lot 22, bounded: southwesterly by a brook, northwesterly by land now or late of Mary B. Doyle, northeasterly by land now or late of heirs of Joseph F. Berry and southeasterly by Robertson street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as part lot 22, plot 8, plan 4074. Tax of 1912 $37.40.

Mary F. Carroll. A certain parcel of land containing 28500 square feet, situated upon the northerly side of Morton street, bounded: easterly by land now or late of Edward and Hannah M. Sandberg, northerly by land now or late of Daniel F. Fitzgerald, westerly by land now or late of Mary F. Carroll and southerly by Morton street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 10, plan 4011. Tax of 1912 $13.20.

Maria G. Ciccone, Millis. A certain parcel of land containing 2518 square feet situated upon the easterly side of Side street being lot 20, bounded: northerly and southerly by land now or late of Maria G. Ciccone, easterly by land now or late of heirs Nicholas Williams and westerly by Side street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 21, plan 4057. Tax of 1912 $2.75.

Maria G. Ciccone, Millis. A certain parcel of land containing 2511 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the easterly side of Side street being lot 19, bounded: northerly by land now or late of Maria G. Ciccone, easterly by land now or late of heirs of Nicholas Williams, southerly by land now or late of Andrea Mazzola and westerly by Side street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 19, plan 4057. Tax of 1912 $64.35.

Maria G. Ciccone, Millis. A certain parcel of land containing 2525 square feet situated upon the easterly side of Side street being lot 21, bounded northerly by land now or late of Andrea Mazzola, easterly by land now or late of heirs of Nicholas Williams, southerly by land now or late of Maria G. Ciccone and westerly by Side street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 21, plan 4057. Tax of 1912, $2.75.

Michael Cross. A certain parcel of land containing 17374 square feet with buildings thereon, situated upon the southeasterly side of Bryant street, bounded southwesterly by land now or late of heirs of Patrick Shea, southeasterly by land now or late of Joseph Robertson est. and Charles S. Parsons, northeasterly by land now or late of William T. Shea and northwesterly by Bryant street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lots 40 and 41 and parts 1 and 2, plan 4076. Balance of tax of 1912, $35.15.

Angela DiBona. A certain parcel of land containing 6816 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the southeasterly side of Centre street being lot 4, bounded southwesterly by land now or late of Mary B. Garrity, southeasterly by land now or late of heirs of W. G. A. Pattee, northeasterly by land now or late of James E. Kelley and northwesterly by Centre street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 4, plot 12, plan 4029. Tax of 1912, $44.00. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment, $.90.

Nunziato DiBona. A certain parcel of land containing 4500 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the corner of West street and private way, bounded southeasterly by land now or late of Louis and Mary Sleager, southwesterly by land now or late of Elizabeth Thayer, northwesterly by West street and northeasterly by private way. Being designated on Assessors' plan as part lot 14, plot 7, plan 4036. Balance of tax of 1912, $12.40.

Amanda E. Dierf. A certain parcel of land containing 8050 square feet with buildings thereon, situated upon the easterly side of Nelson street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Maria E. Sammallahti, easterly by land now or late of Clarence Burgin, southerly by land now or late of John J. Nisula and westerly by Nelson street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 55, plan 4002. Tax of 1912 $35.20.

Patrick Dillon and Mary Curtin. A certain parcel of land containing 20961 square feet with buildings thereon situated upon the corner of Willard and Robertson streets, bounded northeasterly by land now or late of LeClair Bros., southeasterly by land now or late of Helma Johnson, southwesterly by Willard street, and northwesterly by Robertson street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 1, plot 4, plan 4073. Tax of 1912, $50.60. Then for Street Watering Assessment, $1.80.

William J. Doyle. A certain parcel of land containing 8200 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the corner of Doble and West streets being lot 19, bounded northeasterly by land now or late of Sarah Clare, northwesterly by land now or late of Sarah Clare, southwesterly by Doble street and southeasterly by West street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 19, plot 1, plan 4041. Tax of 1912, $.55. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment, $.75.

Mary E. Erickson. A certain parcel of land containing 127000 square feet with buildings thereon, situated upon the south side of Quarry street, bounded westerly by land now or late of Quincy Quarry Co., southeasterly by land now or late of Peter T. Fallon and others, easterly by land now or late of Peter T. Fallon and others and northerly by Quarry street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 3, plan 4004. Tax of 1912, $82.50.

Mary E. Forbes. A certain parcel of land containing 35052 square feet with buildings thereon, situated upon the southeasterly side of West street, bounded: northeasterly by land now or late of Old Colony Railroad Co., southeasterly by land now or late of Fanny C. Adams and H. T. Whitman, southwesterly by land now or late of Arthur C. McDonnell and northwesterly by West street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 12, plan 4030. Tax of 1912 $55.55.

R. Lena Fuller. A certain parcel of land containing 29700 square feet with buildings thereon, situated upon the southerly side of Copeland street, bounded: easterly by land now or late of William McGann, Jr., southerly by land now or late of Old Colony R. R. Co., southwesterly and westerly by land now or late of Old Colony R. R. Co., and northerly by Copeland street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 9, plan 4049. Tax of 1912 $160.60. Then for Main Sewer Assessment apportionment $14.13. Then for Street Watering Assessment $3.06.

R. Lena Fuller. A certain parcel of land containing 23760 square feet with buildings thereon, situated upon the easterly side of Hall Place, bounded: northerly by land now or late of heirs of Patrick Carey and Mary A. Carey, easterly by land now or late of Catholic Cemetery, southerly by land now or late of Clarence E. Fuller and westerly by Hall Place. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 13, plan 4064. Tax of 1912 $85.80.

Henry F. Geer. A certain parcel of land containing 10578 square feet, situated upon the northeasterly side of Wesson street, being lot 13, bounded: northwesterly by land now or late of Peter Dolan, northeasterly by land now or late of Caroline B. Tobey, southeasterly by land now or late of Henry F. Geer and southwesterly by Wesson avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 13, plot 7, plan 4036. Tax of 1912 $4.40.

Henry F. Geer. A certain parcel of land containing 10578 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the northeasterly side of Wesson street, being lot 15, bounded: northwesterly by land now or late of Henry F. Geer, northeasterly by land now or late of Caroline B. Tobey, southeasterly by land now or late of Edward B. Finn, southwesterly by Wesson ave. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 15, plot 8, plan 4036. Tax of 1912 $41.80.

Susie M. Harper, Weymouth. A certain parcel of land containing 14621 land now or late of Jacob A. Turner square feet, situated upon the northerly side of Chesley road, being lots 2, 3 and 4, bounded southwesterly by and James S. Liddle, northerly by land now or late of Susie M. Harper, easterly by land now or late of Susie M. Harper, and southerly by Chesley road.Tax of 1912 $15.40.

Susie M. Harper, Weymouth. A certain parcel of land containing 6600 square feet, situated upon the corner of Bryant Ave. and Chesley road being lot 1, bounded: westerly and northerly by land now or late of Susie M. Harper, easterly by Bryant avenue and southerly by Chesley road. Tax of 1912, $6.60.

Catherine Havahan, Somerville. A certain parcel of land containing 11200 square feet, situated upon the northerly side of a private way, Hillside Park being lots 102 and 103, bounded: easterly by land now or late of J. and L. Duncan, northerly by land now or late of City of Quincy and heirs of Julius Johnson, westerly by land now or late of City of Quincy and southerly by private way off Forest avenue. Tax of 1912 $3.30.

Catherine F. Igo. A certain parcel of land containing 12653 square feet with buildings thereon, situated upon the southerly side of Kent street, bounded, easterly by land now or late of Annie S. Kelley, southerly by land now or late of Catherine F. Igo, southwesterly by land now or late of Catherine McLaughlin and northerly by Kent street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lots 25-23-21, plot 16, plan 4022. Tax of 1912 $26.40.

Catherine F. Igo. A certain parcel fo land containing 5080 square feet with building thereon, situated off Kent street, bounded: northerly and westerly by land now or late of Catherine F. Igo, southerly by land now or late of J. W. Nightingale and easterly by land now or late of Annie S. Kelley. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 3, plot 17, plan 4022. Tax of 1912 $16.50.

Charles G. Johnson. A certain parcel of land containing 9000 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the easterly side of Buckley street, bounded: northerly by land now or late of William Kelley, easterly by land now or late of Ida Sjolund, southerly by land now or late of Joseph F. Johnson and Ida Sjolund and westerly by Buckley street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 3, plan 4003. Balance of Tax of 1912 $34.50. Then for Main Sewer Assessment apportionment $6.75.

Helma Johnson. A certain parcel of land containing 2 1-8 acres with buildings thereon, situated upon the easterly side of Willard street, bounded: northerly by land now or late of Patrick Dillon and Mary Curtin and LeClair Bros., easterly by a brook, southerly by land now or late of Robert, Agnes and William A. Beattie and Albert Clark and westerly by Willard street and by land now or late of Albert Clark. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 5, plan 4073. Tax of 1912 $70.40. Then for Street Watering Assessment $2.68. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment $1.20.

Laura E. Lamb. A certain parcel of land containing 17250 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the westerly side of Common street, bounded: northerly and westerly by land now or late of Margaret E. and Annie F. Burns, southerly by land now or late of Peter T. and James E. Fallon and easterly by Common street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 9, plan 4013. Tax of 1912 $29.70. Then for Street Watering Assessment $1.82. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment $.60.

Laura E. Lamb. A certain parcel of land containing 6650 square feet with buildings thereon, situated upon the southwesterly side of Crescent street being lot A, bounded: northwesterly by land now or late of Catherine E. O'Brien, southwesterly by land now or late of Meyer Winer, southeasterly by land now or late of Mary Callahan and northeasterly by Crescent street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot A, plot 6, plan 4052. Tax of 1912 $83.60. Then for Main Sewer Assessment apportionment $10.37. Then for Street Watering Assessment $1.68.

Laura E. Lamb. A certain parcel of land containing 12994 square feet with buildings thereon, situated upon the easterly side of Crescent street bounded northerly by land now or late of Mabel G. Gragg, northeasterly by land now or late of Annie F. and Margaret E. Burns and Peter T. and James E. Fallon, southerly by land now or late of John H. Ash and westerly by Crescent street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 18, plan 4013. Tax of 1912, $115.50. Then for Main Sewer Assessment apportionment, $7.99. Then for Street Watering Assessment, $.36. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment, $.45.

Andrea (or Andrew) Mazzola. A certain parcel of land containing 10545 square feet situated upon the corner of Side street and Quarry street Ext., bounded easterly by land now or late of H. T. Whitman and Orlando Lawrence, southerly by land now or late of Maria G. Ciccone, westerly by Side street and northerly by Quarry street and land now or late of Adams and Whitman. Being designated on Assessors' plan as part lot 18, plot 19, plan 4057. Tax of 1912, $8.80.

David McBain, Pacolt, South Carolina. A certain parcel of land containing 6189 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the northeasterly side of Hill street, bounded southeasterly by land now or late of Chas. Wilson, northeasterly by land now or late of Nancy Hannan, northwesterly by land now or late of John Hannon and southwesterly by Hill street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 43, plot 12, plan 4024. Tax of 1912, $16.50.

Arthur McDonnell. A certain parcel of land containing 1 acre with buildings thereon situated upon the southeasterly side of West street bounded northeasterly by land now or late of Mary E. Forbes, southeasterly by land now or late of Fanny C. Adams and H. T. Whitman, southwesterly by a private way and northwesterly by West street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 11, plan 4030. Tax of 1912, $82.50.

Mary E. McGee, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 11584 square feet situated upon the corner of Hillside Terrace and Forest avenue bounded easterly by land now or late of G. H. Field, northerly by land now or late of Nathaniel H. Stone et al, trustees, westerly by Forest avenue and southerly by Hillside Terrace. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lots 8 and 9, plan B. Tax of 1912, $1.10.

Mary E. McGee, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 19741 square feet situated upon Hillside Park being lots 68, 69, 70, bounded easterly by Forest Avenue, northerly by land now or late of City of Quincy, westerly by land now or late of City of Quincy and southerly by land now or late of A. R. E. T. and private way. Tax of 1912, $4.40.

Mary E. McGee, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 22200 square feet situated upon Hillside Park being lots 81, 82, 83, 84, bounded southerly by private way, easterly by land now or late of City of Quincy, northerly by land now or late of Johnson and Cahill and Crooker and westerly by Blue Hill Quarry Co. Tax of 1912, $4.40.

Mary E. McGee, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 6000 square feet situated upon Hilside Park being lot 78, bounded northerly by private way, westerly by land now or late of Blue Hill Quarry Co., southerly by land now or late of heirs of Julius Johnson and easterllyl by land now or late of Julius Johnson. Tax of 1912, $1.10.

Mary E. McGee, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 6000 square feet situated upon Hillside Park being lot 77, bounded northerly by private way, westerly by land now or late of heirs of Julius Johnson, southerly by land now or late of heirs of Julius Johnson and easterly by land now or late of P. J. Cahill. Tax of 1912, $1.10.

Mary E. McGee, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 6000 square feet situated upon Hillside Park being lot 93, bounded northerly by private way, westerly by land now or late of heirs Julius Johnson, southerly by land now or late of City of Quincy and Catherine Havahan and westerly by land now or late of City of Quincy. Tax of 1912, $1.10.

Mary E. McGee, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 40770 square feet situated upon Hillside Park being lots 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99 100, bounded northerly by a private way, westerly by land now or late of Quincy Quarries Co., southerly by private way, and easterly by land now or late of heirs of Julius Johnson and City of Quincy. Tax of 1912, $4.40.

Mary E. McGee, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 71300 square feet situated upon the northerly side of Grove street, bounded easterly by land now or late of W. R. Thomas, J. Ferriter, J. Cashman, and N. T. Murphy, northerly by land now or late of Alex S. Wheeler and Edward W. Hutchins, westerly by land now or late of Patrick W. Grady and City of Quincy and southerly by Grove street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lots 9 to 19 inclusive, plan A. Tax of 1912, $8.80. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment, $1.15.

John P. Minihan. A certain parcel of land containing 8860 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the northerly side of Rustic place being lot A, bounded easterly by land now or late of John T. Murphy, northerly by land now or late of Walter H. Ripley, westerly by land now or late of John H. Hussey and southerly by Rustic place. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot A, plot 6, plan 4014. Tax of 1912, $46.20.

John P. Minihan. A certain parcel of land containing 9325 square feet situated upon the southerly side of Grove street being lot 21, bounded easterly by land now or late of Cornelius Mullen, southerly by land now or late of Michael Minihan, westerly by land now or late of John H. Dinegan and northerly by Grove street. Tax of 1912, $3.30. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment, $.75.

William Mortenson. A certain parcel of land containing 6000 square feet, with building thereon, situated upon the northerly side of Arthur street, bounded westerly by land now or late of Lars Gustafson, northerly by land now or late of Simon Ovaska and Geo. Arponen, easterly by land now or late of Gustaf Sundelius and southerly by Arthur street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 5, plot 7, plan 4002. Tax of 1912, $7.10.

Andrew Nelson. A certain parcel of land containing 9240 square feet with buildings thereon, situated upon the easterly side of Buckley street, bounded northerly by land now or late of August Williams, easterly by land now or late of Nestor Westerinen, southerly by land now or late of Annie C. May, and westerly by Buckley street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 7, plan 4003. Tax of 1912, $102.85. Then for Main Sewer Assessment apportionment, $6.18.

Martin Niland. A certain parcel of land containing 7150 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the northwesterly side of Robertson street being lot 17, bounded northwesterly by land now or late of Jeremiah J. O'Leary Jr., and James P. O'Leary northeasterly by land now or late of Frank Welch, southwesterly by land now or late of Michael C. Treacy and southeasterly by Robertson street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 17, plot 17, plan 4075. Balance of tax of 1912, $5.75.

Margaret O'Connell. A certain parcel of land containing 5048 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the southeasterly side of Robertson street, bounded: southwesterly by land now or late of Joseph Walters, southeasterly by land now or late of Quincy Mutual Fire Insurance Co., northeasterly by land now or late of John Flaherty and northwesterly by Robertson street. Tax of 1912, $20.35.

Mary A. Owens. A certain parcel of land containing 53320 square feet with buildings thereon, situated upon the corner of Willard street and Larry Place, bounded: westerly by land now or late of T. W. Shea, northerly by land now or late of Tobias H. and Thomas F. Burke, easterly by Willard street and southerly by Larry street. Balance of Tax of 1912 $190.40.

Laura G. Pierce. A certain parcel of land containing 4 7-10 acres with building thereon, situated upon the southerly side of Wood street, bounded: southwesterly by land now or late of Adams School and Temple Fund, southerly by Braintree line, southeasterly by Willard street and northerly by Wood street or Purgatory road. Tax of 1912, $25.30.

Harlow H. Rogers, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 4050 square feet, situated upon the corner of Ballou and Robertson streets, bounded: northwesterly by land now or late of Mary B. Doyle, southwesterly by land now or late of Florentine Walters, southeasterly by Robertson street and northeasterly by Ballou street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as part lot 21, plot 10, plan 4074. Tax of 1912 $6.60.

Mary E. Rogers, Waverly. A certain parcel of land containing 3150 square feet, situated upon the northwesterly side of Furnace Avenue, bounded: northeasterly by land now or late of Mertella C. Badger and Olive H. Grant, northwesterly by land now or late of Michael Monahan, southwesterly by land now or late of heirs of Thomas J. Sulivan and southeasterly by Furnace avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 12, plan 4049. Tax of 1912, $4.40.

Maria E. Sammallahti. A certain parcel of land containing 7750 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the easterly side of Nelson street bounded: northerly by land now or late of Frank Nelson, southerly by land now or late of Amanda E. Djerf, easterly by land now or late of Clarence Burgin and westerly by Nelson street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 54, plan 4002. Balance of Tax of 1912 $10.00.

Joel Sargent. A certain parcel of land containing 48000 square feet with buildings thereon, situated upon the westerly side of Willard street, bounded: southwesterly by land now or late of Mary E. Farrell, westerly by land now or late of Quincy Quarries Co., northerly by land now or late of Mutual Fire Insurance Co. and R. D. Chase and easterly by Willard street. Tax of 1912 $79.20. Then for Street Watering Assessment $1.84. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment $1.20.

Mary Shea. A certain parcel of land containing 4900 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the southeasterly side of Ashland street being lot 5, bounded: southwesterly by land now or late of Alice Franzi, southeasterly by land now or late of Franz Dufour, northeasterly by land now or late of Richard T. Callahan and northwesterly by Ashland street. Tax of 1912 $29.70.

Mary A. Sheehan. A certain parcel of land containing 4016 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the southwesterly side of Crescent street, bounded: northwesterly by land now or late of Mary Callahan and James O'Dowd, southwesterly by land now or late of Catherine McNeil, southeasterly by land now or late of Elizabeth J. McNeil and northeasterly by Crescent street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 8, plan 4052. Balance of Tax of 1912 $15.50. Then for Particular Sewer Assessment $36.47. Then for Street Watering Assessment $.86.

Wilhelmina Waisanen. A certain parcel of land containing 6000 square feet with buildings thereon, situated upon the northerly side of Arthur street, bounded: westerly by land now or late of Manley E. Clough, northerly by land now or late of Nicholas Anderson, easterly by land now or late of Karl T. Bockstrom and southerly by Arthur street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 2, plan 4002. Balance of Tax of 1912 $13.80.

Nester Westerinen. A certain parcel of land containing 9700 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the westerly side of Nelson street, bounded: northerly by land now or late of Axel Wahlberg, westerly by land now or late of Andrew Nelson, southerly by land now or late of Charles W. Smith and easterly by Nelson street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 21, plan 4003. Tax of 1912 $50.60. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment, $.30.

Mary E. White. A certain parcel of land containing 1 26-100 acres with buildings thereon, situated upon the southwesterly side of Miller street, bounded northwesterly by land now or late of Genoviffa Gandiano, southwesterly by brook southeasterly by land now or late of Peter T. Fallon and northeasterly by Miller street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 3, plan 4044. Tax of 1912, $68.20. Then for Main Sewer Assessment apportionment, $19.12. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment, $.30.

Helga F. Winquist. A certain parcel of land containing 9000 square feet, with buildings thereon, situated upon the northerly side of Suomi road, bounded easterly by land now or late of Hilda Natti, westerly by land now or late of Johanna Wesanen northeasterly by land now or late of Peter T. Fallon and others and southerly by Suomi road. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 3, plan 4005. Tax of 1912, $42.35.

Heirs or devisees of Joseph S. Beale. A certain parcel of land containing 13 acres, situated upon Pine Hill, bounded northerly by land now or late of Elisha Marsh easterly by land now or late of Adams Real Estate Trust, northerly by land now or late of Heirs of Moses French and westerly by land now or late of Adams Real Estate Trust. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 3, plan 4034. Tax of 1912, $22.00.

Catherine T. Carey, South Braintree. A certain parcel of land containing 14000 square feet, situated upon the northeasterly side of Rogers street being lots 19 and 20, bounded northeasterly by land now or late of H. T. Whitman, southeasterly by land now or late of Richard D. Chase, northwesterly by land now or late of James L. Fennessy and southwesterly by Rogers street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lots 19 and 20, plots 13, 14, plan 4070. Tax of 1912, $9.35.

John J. Cashman. A certain parcel of land containing 6000 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the southerly side of Crescent street, bounded westerly by land now or late of heirs of Charles L. Badger, southerly by land now or late of John Cashman and heirs of Charles, L. Badger, westerly by land now or late of heirs of Chas. L. Badger and northerly by Crescent street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 2 plan 4052. No. 6510 Main Sewer Assessment $44.43.

Susie M. Harper, Weymouth. A certain parcel of land containing 24527 square feet situated upon the westerly side of Willard street, bounded northerly by land now or late of heirs of Wm. Corcoran, westerly by land now or late of Old Colony Railroad Co. southerly by land now or late of Hannah Sullivan and easterly by Willard street. Tax of 1912, $26.95. Then for Street Watering Assessment, $3.90 Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment $1.80.

Susie M. Harper, Weymouth. A certain parcel of land containing 2 7-10 acres with building thereon, situated upon the westerly side of Bryant avenue, bounded northerly by land now or late of Granite Railway Co., westerly by load now or late of Jacob A. Turner and James S. Riddle, southerly by land now or late of Susie M. Harper and easterly by Bryant avenue. Tax of 1912, $112.20.

Charles H. Kristen and David Savenen. A certain parcel of woodland containing 8 53-100 acres situated of Willard street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Nathaniel H. Stone et al Trustees, easterly by land now or late of Nathaniel H. Stone et al Trustees, southerly by land now or late of Quincy Quarries Co., and westerly by a cartway. Tax of 1912, $33.00.

WARD FIVE.

Thomas H. Adams. A certain parcel of land containing 5000 square feet, with buildings thereon, situated upon the corner of Wilson avenue and Newport avenue, bounded southwesterly by land now or late of Thomas H. Adams, southeasterly by land now or late of A. L. Baker, northeasterly by Newport avenue and northwesterly by Wilson avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 20, plot 6, plan 5104. Balance of No. 6144 Main Sewer Assessment $21.00.

Thomas H. Adams. A certain parcel of land containing 5000 square feet, with building thereon, situated upon the southeasterly side of Wilson avenue, bounded southwesterly by land now or late of City of Quincy, northeasterly by land now or late of Thomas H. Adams, southeasterly by land now or late of A. L. Baker and northwesterly by Wilson avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 19, plot 5, plan 5104. No 6145 Main Sewer Assessment, $36.00.

Frank C. Andrews. A certain parcel of land containing 5000 square feet, situated upon the corner of Hobart and Arlington streets, bounded westerly by land now or late of Frank C. Andrews, southerly by land now or late of Charles R. Sherman, northerly by Hobart street and easterly by Arlington street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 20, block 20, section 6, plan 5108. Tax of 1912, $4.40.

Abbie F. Benson. A certain parcel of land containing 2200 square feet, with building thereon, situated upon the northeasterly side of Safford street, bounded northwesterly by land now or late of Louise B. Holman, northeasterly by land now or late of Merrill K. Green, southeasterly by land now or late of Wellie P. Black and southwesterly by Safford street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as part lot 9, block 18, section 6, plan 5128. Balance of Tax of 1912, $4.60.

Henry B. Black. A certain parcel of land containing 4200 square feet, with building thereon, situated upon the corner of Beach and Everett streets (now Cummings avenue), bounded westerly by land now or late of Jessie F. Daniels, northerly by land now or late of Israel Hey, easterly by Everett street, (now Cummings avenue) and southerly by Beach street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 410, plot 15, plan 5022. Balance of Tax of 1912, $35.35. Then for Street Watering Assessment, $1.00.

Addie F. Blanchard, Hyde Park, Mass. A certain parcel of land containing 3184 square feet, situated upon the easterly side of Hancock street, bounded southeasterly by land now or late of Mary A. Burke, northeasterly by land now or late of Addie F. Blanchard, northwesterly by land now or late of Agnes V. Tobbenboske and westerly by Hancock street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 10, plot 17, plan 5018. Tax of 1912, $13.20. Then for Street Watering Assessment, $1.12.

Addie F. Blanchard, Hyde Park, Mass. A certain parcel of land containing 4750 square feet, situated upon the northwesterly side of Beach street, bounded southwesterly by land now or late of Mary A. Burke and Addie F. Blanchard, northwesterly by land now or late of Agnes V. Tobbenboske, northeasterly by land now or late of Clark G. Boynton and southeasterly by Beach street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 8, plot 15, plan 5018. Tax of 1912, $18.70. Then for Street Watering Assessment, $1.00.

Mary R. Boyd. A certain parcel of land containing 4000 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the easterly side of Taylor street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Minna M. Holmes, easterly by land now or late of Lucinda Foster, southerly by land now or late of Horace W. Richmond and westerly by Taylor street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as 3-5 of lot 7 and 1-5 of lot 8, block 12, section 6, plan 5126. Balance of Tax of 1912, $9.50. Then for Street Watering Assessment $.80.

Karl E. Carlson, Quincy and Sven M. Erickson, Everett. A certain parcel of land containing 3750 square feet, situated upon the southeasterly side of Eddie street, bounded northeasterly and southwesterly by land now or late of Karl E. Carlson, southeasterly by land now or late of Geo. C. Owens, et. al. and northwesterly by Eddie street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 10, plot 61, plan 5198. Tax of 1912, $3.35.

Karl E. Carlson, Quincy and Sven M. Erickson, Everett. A certain parcel of land containing 3750 square feet, situated upon the southeasterly side of Eddie street, bounded southeasterly by land now or late of Geo. C. Owens et. al. northeasterly by land now or late of Karl E. Carlson, southwesterly by land now or late of Karl E. Carlson and northwesterly by Eddie street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 8 plot 59, plan 5198. Tax of 1912, $3.85.

John Carr, Malden. A certain parcel of land containing 5000 square feet, situated upon the corner of Wilson avenue and Farrington street, bounded easterly by land now or late of John Carr, southerly by land now or late of John Carr, westerly by Wilson avenue and northerly by Farrington street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 20, block 24, section 6, plan 5131. Tax of 1912, $6.60.

John Carr, Malden. A certain parcel of land containing 5000 square feet, situated upon the southerly side of Wilson avenue, bounded easterly by land now or late of John Carr, southerly by land now or late of John Carr, westerly by land now or late of Alexander N. Morrisey and northerly by Wilson avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 19, block 24, section 6, plan 5131. Tax of 1912, $5.50.

John Carr, Malden. A certain parcel of land containing 5000 square feet, situated upon the westerly side of Farrington street, bounded northerly by land now or late of John Carr, westerly by land now or late of Charles W. Pickering, southerly by and now or late of Alexander N. Morrissey and easterly by Farrington street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 15, block 24, section 6, plan 5131. Tax of 1912, $6.60.

Herbert O. Cassidy. A certain parcel of land containing 5650 square feet, situated upon the corner of Royal and Vassall streets, bounded northerly by land now or late of Edward J. Ryan, westerly by land now or late of Mary E. Cochran and John F. Cochran, southerly by Vassall street and easterly by Royal street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 278, plot 15, plan 5006. Tax of 1912, $12.10.

Herbert O. Cassidy. A certain parcel of land containing 22000 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the westerly side of Hancock street, bounded southerly by land now or late of James H. Penniman, westerly by land now or late of William Hall & Co. and Henry H. Faxon, northerly by land now or late of Horace W. Richmond and Martin Hyland and Eben W. Hitchings and easterly by Hancock street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 18, plan 5085. Tax of 1912, $78.10. Then for Street Watering Assessment, $1.62. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment $.60.

Elizabeth H. Clarke, W. Roxbury. A certain parcel of land containing 262 square feet, situated upon the northerly side of Eustis street, bounded northeasterly by land now or late of Arthur T. Brazer, northwesterly by and now or late of Antoinette Unroska, southwesterly by land now or late of Charles R. Sherman and southeasterly by Eustis street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 553, plot 12, plan 5012. Tax of 1912, $6.60.

Charles M. Conant. A certain parcel of land containing 4686 square feet, situated upon the northwesterly side of Hilda street, bounded southwesterly by land now or late of Karl E. Carlson, northwesterly by land now or late of Karl E. Carlson, northeasterly by land now or late of Charles A. Eaton and southeasterly by Hilda street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 45, plot 79, plan 5198. Tax of 1912, $5.50.

Catherine Doherty. A certain parcel of land containing 5000 square feet, with building thereon, situated upon the northwesterly side of E. Elm avenue, bounded northeasterly by land now or late of Meta Sass, northwesterly by land now

Patrick F. Eagan, Brighton. A certain parcel of land containing 5490 square feet, situated upon the corner of Hamden Circle and Rawson road, bounded northeasterly by land now or late of Agnes M. Dickson, southeasterly by land now or late of Elizabeth J. Cleveland, southerly by land now or late of William D. McKenzie and westerly by Rawson road. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 565, plot 25, plan 5012. Tax of 1912, $12.10. Then for Street Watering Assessment, $2.30.

Royal S. Eastman. A certain parcel of land containing 5000 square feet, situated upon the northerly side of Copley street, bounded westerly by land now or late of Winthrop H. Chick northerly by land now or late of Lotta P. and James Salisbury, easterly by land now or late of Lotta P. and James Salisbury and southerly by Copley street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 706, plot 3, plan 5061. Tax of 1912, $5.50.

Jennie M. Follett. A certain parcel of land containing 4065 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the easterly and southerly side of Park street, bounded southerly by land now or late of Hazel R. Carlisle, easterly by land now or late of Eugene H. Sprague, northerly and westerly by Park street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as part lots 21 and 25 block 4, section 1, plan 5186. Tax of 1912, $88.00.

Gertrude F. Greene, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 10100 square feet situated upon the southerly side of Summit avenue, bounded easterly by land now or late of Herbert L. Greene, westerly by land now or late of Francis H. Bishop, southerly by land now or late of Ralph E. and William Cameron Forbes and Commonwealth of Mass., and northerly by Summit avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 10, block 1, section 4, plan 5198. Tax of 1912, $11.00.

Herbert L. Greene, Milton. A certain parcel of land containing 9750 square feet situated upon the southerly side of Summit avenue, bounded easterly and southerly by land now or late of Commonwealth of Mass., westerly by land now or late of Gertrude F. Greene and northerly by Summit avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 11, block 1, section 4, plan 5198. Tax of 1912, $11.00.

Oscar F. Gummeson. A certain parcel of land containing 7550 square feet situated upon the easterly side of Cummings avenue, bounded northerly by land now or late of Wood, Flagg and Thornton Trs. Katherine E. Harrington, Richard L. Mahon and Joseph H. Kilpatrick, easterly by land now or late of Charles F. Jones, southerly by land now or late of Wood, Flagg and Thornton Trs. and Harold Wilder and Westerly by Cummings avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 516, plot 8, plan 5010. Tax of 1912, $14.85.

William A. Hatch, Chelsea. A certain parcel of land containing 5000 square feet with unfinished building thereon, situated upon the westerly side of Sachem street bounded northerly by land now or late of F. E. Cutter and Walter S. Wood, westerly by land now or late of Samuel N. Mayo and Louis J. Jobin, southerly by land now or late of Samuel N. Mayo and easterly by Sachem street . Being designated on Assessors' plan as part lot 674, plot 12, plan 5055. Tax of 1912. $30.80. Then for Particular Sewer Assessment apportionment, $11.48.

Amos L. Ingraham, Calgary, Can., Primelia A. and Phoebe Ingraham, Brookline. A certain parcel of land containing 4720 square feet situated upon the easterly side of Hancock sareet, bounded southerly by land now or late of Mary C. Inslee, southeasterly by land now or late of Amos L. and Albert E. Ingraham and Primelia Ingraham, northeasterly by Merrymount avenue and westerly by Hancock street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 1, plot 1, plan 5041. Tax of 1912, $14.30. Then for Street Watering Assessment, $2.12.

Luther G. Jones. A certain parcel of land containing 5000 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the southeasterly side of Waterston avenue, bounded northeasterly by land now or late of Teresa L. Lennon, southeasterly and southwesterly by land now or late of Wood, Flagg and Thornton Trs., and Northwesterly by Waterston avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 189, plot 2, plan 5072. Balance of tax of 1912, $15.00.

Luther G. Jones. A certain parcel of land containing 5000 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the southeasterly side of Waterston avenue, bounded northeasterly by land now or late of Teresa L. Lennon, southeasterly by land now or late of Wood, Flagg and Thornton Trs., southwesterly by land now or late of Wood, Flagg and Thornton Trs. and northwesterly by Waterston avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 189, plot 2, plan 5072. No. 6294 Main Sewer Assessment Balance $8.00.

Heirs or devisees of Robert S. Jones. A certain parcel of land containing 10,000 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the southerly side of South Central avenue, bounded westerly by land now or late of Est of Jane E and Laura J. Jones, southerly by land now or late of E. S. Sparrow, George A. Brackett and Phillips S. Dresser, easterly by land now or late of Ida C. Dresser and northerly by South Central avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 7, block 1, section 1, plan 5192. Balance of tax of 1912, $55.30. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment $.25.

Heirs or devisees of Robert S. Jones. A certain parcel of land containing 12920 square feet situated upon the southerly side of South Central avenue, bounded easterly by land now or late of Est. of Jane E. and Laura J. Jones, southerly by land now or late of E. S. Sparrow, westerly by land now or late of Walter E. Simmons and northerly by South Central avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 6, block 1, section 1, plan 5192. Tax of 1912, $26.40.

Charles W. Lee, Reading. A certain parcel of land containing 5000 square feet situated upon the easterly side of Freeman street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Eunice Moran, easterly by land now or late of Chas. W. Webster, southerly by land now or late of Sarah S. Molarskey and westerly by Freeman street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 231, plot 7, plan 5097. Tax of 1912, $11.00.

Cora D. Loring. A certain parcel of land containing 5[illegible]0 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the southerly side of Lincoln avenue, bounded easterly by land now or late of Sillinda M. Kimball, southerly by land now or late of Adula F. Kendall and Sadie L. Barbour, westerly by land now or late of Gertrude A. Jewell and northerly by Lincoln avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as part lots 13 and 14, block 3, section 1, plan 5187. Tax of 1912, $106.70. Then for Street Watering Assessment $1.20. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment $.50.

Mary E. Maxim. A certain parcel of land containing 5219 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the corner of Elm and Wollaston avenues, bounded easterly by land now or late of Mary E. Maxim, southerly by land now or late of Cora B. F. Rhoades, westerly by Wollaston avenue and northerly by Elm avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as part lot 51, plot 7, plan 5043. Tax of 1912, $80.85. Then for Street Watering Assessment $1.20. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment, $.90.

Mary E. Maxim. A certain parcel of land containing 7148 square feet situated upon the southerly side of Elm avenue, bounded easterly by land now or late of John G. and Mildred Lanning, southerly by land now or late of Harry N. Thomas, westerly by land now or late of Mary E. Maxim and Cora B. F. Rhoades and northerly by Elm avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 52, plot 8, plan 5043. Tax of 1912, $26.40. Then for Street Watering Assessment, $1.20.

Mary E. McLaughlin. A certain parcel of land containing 5250 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the easterly side of Marlboro street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Geo. Uebelacker, easterly by land now or late of Chas. R. Sherman, southerly by land now or late of Amos Quincy and westerly by Marlboro street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 133, plot 4, plan 5047. Balance of tax of 1912, $41.00. Then for Main Sewer Assessment apportionment, $4.86. Then for Particular Sewer Assessment apportionment, $3.59.

James McTear. A certain parcel of land containing 3615 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the northerly side of Beach street, bounded easterly by land now or late of Abbie E. Hooper, northerly by land now or late of John W. Dorety, westerly and southerly by land now or late of James McTear. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 1, plot 7, plan 5021. Balance of Tax of 1912, $8.40. Then for Particular Sewer Assessment apportionment, $4.52. Then for Street Watering Assessment, $.72.

James McTear. A certain parcel of land containing 3000 square feet situated off Willow street, bounded northerly and easterly by land now or late of James McTear, westerly and southerly by land now or late of Elizabeth M. Brigham. Being designated on Assessors' plan as part lot 323, plot 26, plan 5021. Tax of 1912, $5.50.

James McTear. A certain parcel of land containing 3000 square feet situated off Willow street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Wood, Flagg and Thornton Trs., and Norman L. Burchsted, westerly by land now or late of Elizabeth M. Brigham, southerly and easterly by land now or late of James McTear. Being designated on Assessors' plan as part lot 322, plot 27, plan 5021. Tax of 1912, $5.50.

James McTear. A certain parcel of land containing 1550 square feet situated upon the northwesterly side of Beach street, bounded northerly and westerly by land now or late of James McTear and Elizabeth M. Brigham, easterly by land now or late of Abbie E. Hooper and southeasterly by Beach street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 25, plan 5021. Tax of 1912, $4.40.

James Meaney. A certain parcel of land containing 4648 square feet with buildings thereon situated upon the northeasterly side of Standish avenue, bounded southeasterly by land now or late of Clair L. Baker, northeasterly by land now or late of Henry M. Faxon, northwesterly by land now or late of Martha Hinricksen and southwesterly by Standish avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as part lots 115 and 116, plot 23, plan 5088. Tax of 1912, $46.20.

George W. Mitchell. A certain parcel of land containing 5000 square feet situated upon the westerly side of Sachem street bounded northerly by land now or late of George W. Mitchell, westerly by land now or late of Mabel Y. Harlow, southerly by land now or late of Samuel N. Mayo and easterly by Sachem street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 669, plot 6, plan 5055. Tax of 1912, $8.80.

George W. Mitchell. A certain parcel of land containing 5000 square feet with buildings thereon, situated upon the westerly side of Sachem street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Samuel N. Mayo, westerly by land now or late of George W. Mitchell, southerly by land now or late of George W. Mitchell and easterly by Sachem street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 670, plot 7, plan 5055. Tax of 1912, $88.00.

Elizabeth M. Morrissey. A certain parcel of land containing 5000 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the northeasterly side of Taylor street, bounded northwesterly by land now or late of Alexander N. Morrisey, northeasterly by land now or late of Merrill K. Green, southeasterly by land now or late of Viola Ross and Emma L. Fesler and southwesterly by Taylor street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 8, block 17, section 6, plan 5129. Tax of 1912, $97.90. Then for Particular Sewer Assessment apportionment, $4.17.

Richard F. Morrisey. A certain parcel of land containing 9120 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the corner of Hobart and Taylor streets, bounded southwesterly by land now or late of Trustees of Wollaston Land Co., southeasterly by land now or late of John Morgan, northeasterly by Taylor street and northwesterly by Hobart street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lots 21 and 22 block 16, section 6, plan 5130. Tax of 1912, $75.90. Then for Main Sewer Assessment apportionment, $12.79.

Margaret Mullen, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 3875 square feet situated upon the northeasterly side of Billings road, bounded northwesterly by land now or late of Clifford H. Taber, northeasterly by land now or late of Georgianna Fay, southeasterly by land now or late of Irene M. Forbes and southwesterly by Billings road. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 748 a, plot 22, plan 5002. Tax of 1912, $8.80.

Flora Murphy. A certain parcel of land containing 6370 square feet situated upon the corner of Phillips street and Waterston avenue, bounded northerly by land now or late of Howard L. Fowler, easterly by land now or late of Ellen M. Ryder, southerly by Waterston avenue and westerly by Phillips street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 159, plot 1, plan 5048. No. 6444 Main Sewer Assessment $56.71.

Edith Nelson. A certain parcel of land containing 8945 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the westerly side of Hancock street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Cora H. Turner, westerly by land now or late of Thomas Fenno, Alice M. Carr and Abbie F. Fenno, southerly by land now or late of Thomas Fenno, Alice M. Carr and Abbie F. Fenno and easterly by Hancock street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 1, plot 5, plan 5102. Balance of Tax of 1912, $10.20. Then for Street Watering Assessment, $1.72. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment $.50.

Anna O. Ohlsson, Cambridge. A certain parcel of land containing 6784 square feet with unfinished building thereon, situated upon the corner of Adams and Eddie streets, bounded southeasterly by land now or late of George C. Owens et al, northeasterly by land now or late of Daniel Gilfether, northwesterly by Eddie street and southwesterly by Adams street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 1, plan 52, plan 5198. Tax of 1912, $36.85. Then for Street Watering Assessment, $1.52.

Lucy M. Olney. A certain parcel of land containing 11250, square feet with building thereon, situated upon the westerly side of Grand View avenue, bounded northerly by land now or late of Alexie F. Buchanan and Albertina M. Whitman, westerly by land now or late of Arthur P. Russell, southerly by land now or late of Lillian E. Lace and easterly by Grand View avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 12, block 2, section 1, plan 5188. Tax of 1912, $110.00. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment, $.75.

John W. Paddon and ux Eva J. Paddon. A certain parcel of land containing 5800 square feet with buildings thereon, situated upon the northerly side of Vassall street, bounded easterly by land now or late of Alice E. Holmes, northerly by land now or late of George E. Bent, westerly by land now or late of Eva J. and Ann N. Paddon and southerly by Vassall street. Being designated on Assesors' plan as lot 774, plot 6, plan 5001. Balance of tax of 1912, $8.85.

Sarah M. Litchfield, New Braintree. A certain parcel of land containing 11250 square feet, with buildings thereon, situated upon the corner of Warren and Highland avenues, bounded north westerly by land now or late of Henry Webb, Jr., north easterly by land now or late of Sarah M. Litchfield, south easterly by Warren avenue, and south westerly by Highland avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 1, part 2, block 3, section 2, plan 5180. Tax of 1912 $165.55. Then for Main Sewer Assessment apportionment, $16.38.

Sarah M. Litchfield, New Braintree. A certain parcel of land containing 11250 square feet, situated upon the north westerly side of Warren avenue, bounded southwesterly by land now or late of Sarah M. Litchfield, northwesterly by land now or late of Henry Webb, Jr., northeasterly by land now or late of Baptist church and south easterly by Warren avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as part lot 2, block 3, section 2, plan 5180. Tax of 1912, $36.85.

Ida L. Patten, Quincy, Joseph B Dimock and Ernest E. Patten, Quincy. A certain parcel of land containing 10980 square feet, situated upon the northeasterly side of Franklin avenue bounded northeasterly by land now or late of Winthrop H. Chick, southeasterly by land now or late of Winthrop H. Chick, southwesterly by Franklin avenue and northwesterly by Franklin avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 730, plot 1, plan 5060. Tax of 1912, $4.40.

Ida L. Patten, Quincy, Joseph B Dimock, and Ernest E. Patten, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 6361 square feet with unfinished building thereon, situated upon the northerly side of Copley street, bounded easterly and westerly by land now or late of Helen G. Chick, northerly by land now or late of Michael and Hannah Landers and southerly by Copley street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as Lot 711, plot 16, plan 5068. Tax of 1912, $13.20.

Ida L. Patten, Quincy, Joseph B. Dimock and Ernest E. Patten, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 5000 square feet, situated upon the corner of Franklin avenue and Minot street, bounded northeasterly by land now or late of Ida L. Patten, northwesterly by land now or late of Sarah M. McMann, southwesterly by Franklin avenue and southeasterly by Minot street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 735, plot 6, plan 5060. Tax of 1912, $6.60.

Ida L. Patten, Quincy, Joseph B. Dimock and Ernest E. Patten, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 5000 square feet, situated upon the corner of Copley and Minot streets, bounded northwesterly by land now or late of Winthrop H. Chick, southwesterly by land now or late of Ida L. Patten and others, southeasterly by Minot street and northeasterly by Copley street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 728, plot 7, plan 5060. Tax of 1912, $4.40.

Ida L. Patten, Quincy, Joseph B. Dimock, and Ernest E. Patten, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 5250 square feet, situated upon the westerly side of Willow street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Ida C. Bonney, northeasterly by land now or late of Catherine W. Smith and Martha P. Rideout and southeasterly by land now or late of Martha P. Rideout. Being designated on Assessors' plan as part lot 9, block 2, section 2, plan 5181. Tax of 1912, $13.20.

Ida L. Patten, Quincy, Joseph B. Dimock, and Ernest E. Patten, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 5250 square feet, situated upon the westerly side of Willow street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Charles R. Sherman, westerly by land now or late of Ella F. King, southerly by land now or late of Ida L. Patten and others and easterly by Willow street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 179, plot 22, plan 5048. Tax of 1912, $8.80.

Ida L. Patten, Quincy, Joseph B. Dimock, and Ernest E. Patten, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 5250 square feet, situated upon the westerly side of Willow street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Ida L. Patten and others, southerly by land now or late of Grace E. Hamblett, southerly by land now or late of Fred I. Rayner, and easterly by Willow street. Being designated on Assessor's plan as lot 182, plot 25, plan 5048. Tax of 1912, $8.80.

Ida L. Patten, Quincy, Joseph B. Dimock, and Ernest E. Patten, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 2100 square feet, situated upon the southwesterly side of Willow street, bounded southeasterly by land now or late of William W. Cummings and Frank E. Sanborn, south westerly by land now or late of William Emmel, northwesterly by land now or late of Ida L. Patten and others and northeasterly by Willow street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 310, plot 13, plan 5086. Tax of 1912, $4.95.

Ida L. Patten, Quincy, Joseph B. Dimock, and Ernest E. Patten, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 7300 square feet, situated upon the southwesterly side of Willow street, bounded north westerly by land now or late of Anna F. Tripp, southwesterly by land now or late of William Emmel, southeasterly by land now or late of Ida L. Patten, Ernest Patten and Joseph B. Dimock and northeasterly by Willow street. Being designated on Assesors' plan as lot 311, plot 11, plan 5036. Tax of 1912, $13.75.

Ida L. Patten, Joseph B. Dimock and Ernest C. Patten. A certain parcel of land containing 5250 square feet situated upon the westerly side of Willow street, bounded northerly by land now or late of said owners, westerly by land now or late of Grace E. Hamblett, southerly by land now or late of Fred I. Rayner and easterly by Willow street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as Lot 182, plot 25, plan 5048. No. 6365 Main Sewer Assessment $36.00.

Ida L. Patten, Joseph B. Dimock and Ernest C. Patten. A certain parcel of land containing 5250 square feet, situated upon the westerly side of Willow street, bounded northerly and southerly by land now or late of said owners, westerly by land now or late of Frank W. Damon and easterly by Willow street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 181, plot 24, plan 5048. No. 6366 Main Sewer Assessment, $36.00.

Ida L. Patten, Joseph B. Dimock and Ernest C. Patten. A certain parcel of land containing 5250 square feet, situated upon the westerly side of Willow street, bounded northerly and southerly by land now or late of said owners, westerly by land now or late of Margaret A. Broderick and easterly by Willow street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 180, plot 23, plan 5048. No . 6367 Main Sewer Assessment, $36.00.

Ida L. Patten, Joseph B. Dimock and Ernest C. Patten. A certain parcel of land containing 5250 square feet, situated upon the westerly side of Willow street, bounded northerly and southerly by land now or late of Ella F. King, southerly by said owners, and easterly by Willow street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 179, plot 22, plan 5048. No. 6368 Main Sewer Assessment $36.00.

Fields S. Pendleton, New York, N. Y. A certain parcel of land containing 4000 square feet, situated upon the westerly side of Everett street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Clara L. Colby, westerly by land now or late of Charles M. Philbrook, southerly by land now or late of Christopher G. Oberlander and easterly by Everett street, (now Cummings avenue.) Being designated on Assessors' plan as S. W. part lot 397, plot 4, plan 5005. Tax of 1912, $8.80.

Mabel C. Pond, Leadville, S. Dakota. A certain parcel of land containing 5800 square feet, situated upon the corner of Billings road and Bromfield street, bounded northeasterly by land now or late of Edmund L. Fox, southeasterly by land now or late of Arthur C. Gardener, southwesterly by Billings road and northwesterly by Bromfield street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot [illegible]0, plot 3, plan 5027. Tax of 1912, $[illegible]5.40.

Martha P. Rideout. A certain parcel of land containing 6053 square feet, with building thereon, situated upon the corner of S. Central and Prospect avenues, bounded northerly by land now or late of Catherine W. Smith, westerly by land now or late of Martha P. Rideout, easterly by Prospect avenue and southerly by South Central avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 10, 10, plot 2, plan 5181, section 2. Tax of 1912, $90.20. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment, $1.20.

Martha P. Rideout. A certain parcel of land containing 4816 square feet, situated off S. Central avenue, bounded southwesterly by land now or late of Harriet H. Chapman, northwesterly by land now or late of Ida C. Bonney, northeasterly by land now or late of Catherine W. Smith and Martha P. Rideout and southeasterly by land now or late of Martha P. Rideout. Being designated on Assessors' plan as part lot 9, block 2, section 2, plan 5181. Tax of 1912, $13.20.

Martha P. Rideout. A certain parcel of land containing 6034 square feet, with building thereon, situated upon the northwesterly side of S. Central avenue, bounded southwesterly by land now or late of Harriet H. Chapman, northwesterly by land now or late of Martha P. Rideout, northeasterly by land now or late of Martha P. Rideout and southeasterly by South Central avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as part lot 9, block 2, section 2, plan 5181. Tax of 1912, $107.80. Then for Particular Sewer Assessment apportionment, $5.75. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment, $2.65.

Maria F. Roche. A certain parcel of land containing 33150 square feet, with buildings thereon, situated upon the northerly side of Carruth street, bounded easterly by land now or late of Heirs William Gregory and Annie Cunniff, northerly by land now or late of Heirs William Gregory and Edward Colligan, westerly by land now or late of Heirs of James Gilraine and southerly by Carruth street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lots 10-11-12, plot 2, plan 5079. Tax of 1912, $89.10. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment, $.45.

Harlow H. Rogers, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 9689 square feet, with building thereon, situated upon the northeasterly side of Muirhead street, bounded southwesterly by land now or late of Bessie L. Capen, northwesterly by land now or late of Annie L. Dorely and Metropolitan Manufacturing Co., northeasterly by land now or late of Frank E., Stanley F., and Harry B. Hall and Amelia F. Pillsbury, southerly by land now or late of Harriet L. Pierce and southwesterly by Muirhead street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lots 24-25, plots 10-11, plan 5033. Tax of 1912, $114.40.

Frank E. Sanborn, Ohio. A certain parcel of land containing 6473 square feet, situated upon the northwesterly side of Elm avenue, bounded northeasterly by land now or late of Frank E. Sanborn, northwesterly by land now or late of William Emmel, southwesterly by land now or late of Ada J. Barbar and southeasterly by Elm avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 233, plot 16, plan 5036. Tax of 1912, $22.55. Then for Sidewalk Assessment apportionment $3.13. Then for Street Watering Assessment, $1.06.

Frank E. Sanborn, Ohio. A certain parcel of land containing 6473 square feet, situated upon the northwesterly side of Elm avenue, bounded northeasterly by land now or late of William W. Cummings, northwesterly by land now or late of Ida L. Patten, Jos. B. Dimock and Ernest E. Patten, southwesterly by land now or late of Frank E. Sanborn and southeasterly by Elm avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 232, plot 17, plan 5036. Tax of 1912, $22.50. Then for Sidewalk Assesment apportionment, $3.13. Then for Street Watering Assessment, $1.06.

Julia P. Sass. A certain parcel of land containing 3500 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the northerly side of Hamilton street, bounded northeasterly by land now or late of A. T. Stearns Lumber Co., northwesterly by land now or late of Patrick F. and Maria Downey, southwesterly by land now or late of Wilford L. Jefferson and southeasterly by Hamilton street. Being designated on Assesors' plan as lot 529, plot 9, plan 5013. Tax of 1912, $16.20.

Geraldine Scott. A certain parcel of land containing 4750 square feet, with building thereon, situated upon the southeasterly side of Davis street, bounded northeasterly by land now or late of Louis S. Cleaves, southeasterly by land now or late of Irwin S. Pritchard, southwesterly by land now or late of Wm. H. Curtis and northwesterly by Davis street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 38, plot 5, plan 5034. Tax of 1912, $78.10.

Herbert M. Shaw, Jamaica Plain. A certain parcel of land containing 4200 square feet, situated upon the southerly side of Beach street, bounded easterly by land now or late of Nathan P. Merrill, southerly by land now or late of Chas. R. Ricketson, westerly by land now or late of Herbert J. Polk and northerly by Beach street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 432, plot 25, plan 5023. Tax of 1912, $13.20. Then for Street Watering Assessment, $1.00.

Elizabeth J. Shea, Cambridge. A certain parcel of land containing 3150 square feet, with building thereon, situated upon the northerly side of Watkins street, bounded northeasterly by land now or late of Emma E. Sessler and Alvin R. Sanford, westerly by land now or late of Leon E. Brown, southerly by Watkins street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 98, plot 16, plan 5063. Tax of 1912, $25.30. Then for Main Sewer Assessment apportionment, $3.71.

Margaret R. Smith and Wilhelmina White, Beachmont. A certain parcel of land containing 13181 square feet, with building thereon, situated upon the southerly side of Beale street, bounded easterly by land now or late of Elizabeth M. Prior, southerly by land now or late of Jennie R. Badger, westerly by land now or late of Katherine B. Keyes and northerly by Beale street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 9, block 3, section 4, plan 5165. Tax of 1912, $103.40. Then for Main Sewer Assessment apportionment $8.05. Then for Particular Sewer Assessment apportionment, $10.84. Then for Street Watering Assessment, $1.54.

Anna F. Sparrow. A certain parcel of land containing 11250 square feet, with building thereon, situated upon the westerly side of Prospect avenue, bounded northerly by land now or late of Anna K. Lee, westerly by land now or late of Chas. P. Hutchins, southerly by land now or late of Ophelia L. Rice and easterly by Prospect avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 12, block 6 (or C) section 2, plan 5177. Tax of 1912, $69.85. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment, $.45.

Heirs or devisees of Catherine W. Staples. A certain parcel of land containing 5000 square feet, situated upon the westerly side of Freeman street, bounded northerly by land now or late of James Gavagan, westerly by land now or late of Harry S. Kaulbeck, southerly by land now or late of Lilla M. Turpie and easterly by Freeman street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 139, plot 7, plan 5008. Tax of 1912, $11.00.

A. T. Stearns Lumber Co., Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 5260 square feet, situated upon the northeasterly side of Gould street, bounded northwesterly by land now or late of William E. Kingston, Eleazor F. Drew and Fred A. Arenberg, northeasterly by land now or late of Estelle B. Dickey, Lewis H. Dickey and Chas. H. Nye, Jr., southeasterly by land now or late of John P. Granahan and southwesterly by Gould street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 295, plot 2, plan 5032. Tax of 1912, $11.55.

Angus A. Stuart. A certain parcel of land containing 7290 square feet, situated upon the easterly side of Billings road, bounded northerly by Sachem brook, southerly by land now or late of Park Land Co., easterly by land now or late of Georgianna Fay and westerly by Billings road. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 751, plot 19, plan 5002. Tax of 1912, $3.30.

Angus A. Stuart. A certain parcel of land containing 4819 square feet, with building thereon, situated upon the easterly side of Billings road, bounded northerly by land now or late of Teresa B. Vilk, easterly by land now or late of Wm. O. Carver, southerly by Sachem brook and westerly by Billings road. Being designated on Assesors' plan as lot 752, plot 18, plan 5002. Tax of 1912, $7.70.

Eleanor Stuart. A certain parcel of Patrick J. Sullivan, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 5000 square feet, situated upon the westerly side of Freeman street, bounded northerly by land now or late of James A. Mortell, westerly by land now or late of Charles H. Green, southerly by land now or late of Eunice E. Vaughan and easterly by Freeman street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 202, plot 10, plan 5008. Tax of 1912, $11.00.

Margaret R. Thomas. A certain parcel of land containing 8953 square feet, situated upon the westerly side of Newton street, bounded southerly by land now or late of Margaret R. Thomas, westerly by land now or late of Edward B. Marsh, northerly by land now or late of George S. Thomas and easterly by Newton street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 83, plot 5, plan 5085. Tax of 1912, $11.55.

Margaret R. Thomas. A certain parcel of land containing 10194 square feet, situated upon the westerly side of Newton street, bounded southerly by land now or late of Henry H. Faxon, westerly by land now or late of Horace W. Richmond, northerly by land now or late of Margaret R. Thomas and easterly by Newton street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 82, plot 4, plan 5085. Tax of 1912, $13.20.

Frederick M. Torrey. A certain parcel of land containing 5559 square feet, with buildings thereon, situated upon the westerly side of Hamden Circle, bounded northerly by land now or late of Wood, Flagg & Thornton Trs., southerly by land now or late of Sachem Brook, westerly by land now or late of Wood, Flagg & Thornton Trs., and easterly by Hamden Circle. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 479, plot 7, plan 5014. Tax of 1912, $20.10.

Katherine G. Wagner. A certain parcel of land containing 6926 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the northerly side of South Central avenue bounded easterly by land now or late of Alice L. Curtis, Westerly by land now or late of Katherine G. Wagner, northerly by land now or late of Alice L. Curtis and southerly by South Central avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as part lot 13, block 1, section 2, plan 5176. Tax of 1912, $63.80. Then for Main Sewer Assessment apportionment $7.19.

Willard Welsh. A certain parcel of land containing 7110 square feet situated upon the corner of Belmont street and Lincoln avenue, bounded easterly by land now or late of Leila M. Rollins, southerly by land now or late of George A. Litchfield, westerly by Belmont street and northerly by Lincoln avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 1, block 1, section 2, plan 5175. No. 6311 Main Sewer Assessment $66.78.

Heirs or devisees of Jessie C. Whitehead. A certain parcel of land containing 7200 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the southwesterly side of Kemper street, bounded northwesterly by land now or late of M. Emma Gram, southwesterly by land now or late of Wm. M. Faxon, southeasterly by land now or late of Matilda Bolton and northeasterly by Kemper street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 25, plot 3, plan 5039. Tax of 1912, $60.50.

Lucy J. Whitehead. A certain parcel of land containing 4236 square feet situated upon the corner of Kemper and Bass streets, bounded northwesterly by land now or late of heirs of Jessie C. Whithead, southwesterly by land now or late of Wm. H. Faxon, southeasterly by Bass street and northeasterly by Kemper street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 263, plot 2, plan 5039. Tax of 1912, $11.55.

Frank M. Whitman, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 3912 square feet situated upon the southerly side of Vassall street, bounded easterly by land now or late of Asa T. McRae, southerly by Sachem Brook, westerly by land now or late of Annie E. Orswell and northerly by Vassall street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 463, plot 14, plan 5011. Tax of 1912, $7.15.

Charlees A. Wight. Ashland, Mass. A certain parcel of land containing 8520 square feet situated upon the southerly side of Hamden Circle, bounded easterly by land now or late of Antoinette Ungroska, southerly by land now or late of Charles R. Sherman, westerly by land now or late of Dver Enger and northerly by Hamden Circle. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 574, plot 16, plan 5012. Tax of 1912, $7.70.

Harold Wilder. A certain parcel of land containing 3500 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the southerly side of Eustis street, bounded northeasterly by land now or late of Patrick F. and Maria Downey, southeasterly by land now or late of Wilford L. Jefferson, southwesterly by land now or late of Mary E. Fleshman, and northwesterly by Eustis street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 545, plot 21, plan 5013. Tax of 1912, 360.50.

Inez A. Zwicker. A certain parcel of land containing 5000 square feet situated upon the easterly side of Freeman street. Bounded northerly by land now or late of James E. Callahan, easterly by land now or late of Leah S. Woodside, southerly by land now or late of Florence P. Mann and westerly by Freeman street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 235, plot 3, plan 5007. Tax of 1912, $11.00.

Inez A. Zwicker. A certain parcel of land containing 5000 square feet with building thereon situated upon the easterly side of Freeman street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Florence P. Mann, easterly by land now or late of Wood, Flagg and Thornton Trs., southerly by land now or late of Louisa S. Steffens and westerly by Freeman street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 236, plot 2, plan 5007. Balance of tax of 1912, $25.00.

WARD SIX.

Annie M. Biggs, Dorchester. A certain parcel of land containing 6561 square feet situated upon the southerly side of Glover avenue, bounded westerly by land now or late of James Perry, southerly by land now or late of heirs of Solomon H. Chandler, easterly by land now or late of Annie M. Biggs and northerly by Glover avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 7, plot 4, plan 6029. Tax of 1912 $12.10.

Annie M. Biggs, Dorchester. A certain parcel of land containing 6505 square feet situated upon the southerly side of Glover avenue, bounded easterly by land now or late of Geo. C. Wales, southerly by land now or late of Wood, Flagg & Thornton trs. and heirs of Solomon H. Chandler, westerly by land now or late of Annie M. Biggs and northerly by Glover avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 8, plot 3, plan 6029. Tax of 1912 $11.55.

Henry B. Black. A certain parcel of land containing 1794 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the corner of Holmes and Moscow streets, bounded northerly by land now or late of Colin Goodwin, easterly by land now or late of Abbie B. Wellman, southerly by Moscow street and westerly by Holmes street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as S 1-3 pt., lot 6, plot 13, plan 6037. Balance of tax of 1912, $19.85. Then for Particular Sewer Assessment apportionment, $3.35.

Samuel Burchill. A certain parcel of land containing 2242 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the easterly side of Newbury avenue, bounded northerly by land now or late of Annie E. Boisclair, easterly by land now or late of Ella M. Cottrell and Etta Krous, southerly by land now or late of Josephine A. Parker and westerly by Newbury avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as N. part lot 8 plot 5, plan 6028. Tax of 1912, $35.20.

Edward N. Carpenter, Trustee, Bertha G. Barri estate. A certain parcel of land containing 2500 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the southerly side of Hollis avenue, bounded easterly by land now or late of Peter Cunniff, southerly by land now or late of C. E. Stratton & Emma L. Fratus, westerly by land now or late of Edward N. Carpenter, Tr, and northerly by Charles street or Hollis avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as E ½ lot 22, plot 15, plan 6028. Tax of 1912 $24.20. Then for Main Sewer Assessment apportionment, $1.89.

Herbert O. Cassidy. A certain parcel of land containing 5266 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the westerly side of Rawson road, bounded northerly by land now or late of Ellen C. Douse and Elizabeth H. Hendrickson, westerly by land now or late of Charles W. Payzant, southerly by land now or late of Charles M. Olfene and easterly by Rawson road. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 256, plot 4, plan 6010. Tax of 1912 $71.50. Then for Street Watering Assessment $1.00.

Herbert O. Cassidy. A certain parcel of land containing 7313 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the easterly side of Holmes street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Theresa Barker, easterly by land now or late of William T. Moran and Heirs Patrick H. Clifford, southerly by land now or late of Elizabeth M. P Cottam and westerly by Holmes street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 15, plan 6037. Tax of 1912, $84

...y by land now or late of ...attie H. Wagner and easterly by Farrington street. Being designated on Assessor's plan as lot 999, plot 12 plan 6110. Tax of 1912, $4.40. Then for Street Watering Assessment, $1.00

John J. Corkery, Cambridge. A certain parcel of land containing 500 square feet situated upon the westerly side of Farrington street, bounded northerly and southerly by land now or late of City of Quincy, westerly by land now or late of Hattie H. Wagner and easterly by Farrington street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 1000, plot 12 plan 6110. Tax of 1912, $4.40. Then for Street Watering Assessment, $1.00

George W. Cox. A certain parcel of land containing 12104 square feet situated upon the south westerly side of Safford street, bounded southeasterly by land now or late of Harriet A. Cox southwesterly by a brook, northwesterly by land now or late of George W. Cox and northeasterly by Safford street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 1030, plot 12, plan 6111. Tax of 1912, $6.05.

George W. Cox. A certain parcel of land containing 12631 square feet situated upon the southwesterly side of Safford street, bounded northeasterly by land now or late of Geo. W. Cox southwesterly by a brook, northwesterly by land now or late of Keene Howley and Newell Trs. and northeasterly by Safford street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 1031, plot 11, plan 6111. Tax of 1912, $6.05.

George W. Cox. A certain parcel of land containing 13159 square feet, situated upon the southwesterly side of Safford street, bounded southeasterly by land now or late of Geo. W. Cox southwesterly by a brook, northwesterly by land now or late of Keene, Howley and Newell Trs. and northeasterly by Safford street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 1032 plot 10, plan 6111. Tax of 1912, $6.60.

George W. Cox. A certain parcel of land containing 13686 square feet, situated upon the southwesterly side of Safford street, bounded southeasterly by land now or late of Keene, Howley and Newell Trs., southwesterly by a brook, northwesterly by land now or late of Thomas J. Kiley and northeasterly by Safford street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 1033, plot 9, plan 6111. Tax of 1912, $6.60.

Annie L. Craig. A certain parcel of land containing 6461 square feet situated upon the westerly side of Hancock street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Annie L. Craig, westerly by land now or late of Edward MacMulkin and Jeanette I. Wilson, southerly by land now or late of George H. Field and easterly by Hancock street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 17, plot 7, plan 6035. Tax of 1912, $28.60. Then for Street Watering Assessment, $1.00.

Annie L. Craig. A certain parcel of land containing 6537 square feet situated upon the westerly side of Hancock street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Edward MacMulkin westerly by land now or late of Edward MacMulkin, southerly by land now or late of Annie L. Craig and easterly by Hancock street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 18, plot 6, plan 6035. Tax of 1912 $28.60. Then for Street Watering Assessment $1.00.

Sadie J. Dingwell. A certain parcel of land containing 6588 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the westerly side of Holmes street bounded northerly by land now or late of Walter K. Shaw and Old Colony R. R. Co., westerly by land now or late of Old Colony R. R. Co., southerly by land now or late of Jessie M. Chapman and easterly by Holmes street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 38, plot 6, plan 6036. Balance of tax of 1912, $52.30.

John Donovan. A certain parcel of land containing 4614 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the northerly side of Glover avenue bounded easterly by land now or late of Jeremiah W. Donovan, northerly by land now or late of Charles E. Stratton, westerly by land now or late of Harriet C. McKeon and southerly by Glover avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 21, plan 6032 Tax of 1912, $59.95.

Ingeborg C. Egner, Roxbury. A certain parcel of land containing 998 square feet, situated upon the northerly side of Appleton street, bounded easterly by land now or late of Patrick Murphy, northerly by land now or late of Dana I. McIntyre, westerly by land now or late of Howard M. Dyer and southerly by Appleton street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 56, plot 16, plan 6058. Being registered as Transfer Certificate No. 679 Book 4, Page 679, Norfolk District of the Land Court. Tax of 1912. $17.60 Then for Street Watering Assessment $1.40.

Axel E. Ellis. A certain parcel of land containing 4510 square feet situated upon the southwesterly side of Warwick street, bounded southeasterly by land now or late of Axel E. Ellis southwesterly by land now or late of City of Quincy, northwesterly by land now or late of Henry J. Landry and northeasterly by Warwick street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 888, plot 9, plan 6018. Tax of 1912 $7.70.

Axel E. Ellis. A certain parcel of land containing 4900 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the southeasterly side of Warwick street bounded northeasterly by land now or late of Mary Mazzaccara, southeasterly by land now or late of City of Quincy, southwesterly by land now or late of Axel E. Ellis and northwesterly by Warwick street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 889, plot 10, plan 6018. Tax of 1912, $30.80.

Patrick Farrell. A certain parcel of land containing 6097 square feet, situated upon the westerly side of Vane street, bounded southerly by land now or late of John Chaplin, westerly by land now or late of Wood, Flagg and Thornton Trs., northerly by land now or late of Albert O. Norton and easterly by Vane street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 89, plot 25 plan 6005. No. 6093 Main Sewer Assessment $36.00.

Catherine E. Farwell, Lancaster Mass. A certain parcel of land containing 8160 square feet situated upon the northerly side of Hamilton avenue bounded easterly by land now or late of Horatio N. Holbrook, northerly by and now or late of Joanna C. Weston westerly by land now or late of Jennie I. Crane and southerly by Hamilton avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 5, section 14, plan 124. Tax of 1912, $6.60.

Catherine E. Farwell, Lancaster Mass. A certain parcel of land containing 8160 square feet, situated upon the southerly side of Elliot avenue. bounded westerly by land now or late of Amanda C. Wiksten, southerly by and now or late of Jennie M. Crane, easterly by land now or late of Joanna C. Weston and northerly by Elliot avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 9, section 14, plan 124. Tax of 1912, $7.15.

Catherine E. Farwell, Lancaster, Mass. A certain parcel of land containing 8000 square feet situated upon the corner of Broadway and Revere streets, bounded northerly by land now or late of John E. Vandervert, westerly by land now or late of Henrietta Holbrook, southerly by Broadway and easterly by Revere street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 1, section 3, plan 6127. Tax of 1912 $10.45.

Eliza E. Fitzgerald. A certain parcel of land containing 5000 square feet situated upon the westerly side of Fayette street, bounded northerly and southerly by land now or late of Hopkins and Small Trs., westerly by land now or late of Guivann Crevella and easterly by Fayette street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 1100, plot 6, plan 6107. No. 6196 Main Sewer Assessment $36.00.

Charles E. Fowrnier. A certain parcel of land containing 4112 square feet, situated upon the northerly side of Sagamore street, bounded easterly by land now or late of City of Quincy, westerly by land now or late of Mary A. Webb, northerly by land now or late of Mary A. Webb and southerly by Sagamore street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 5, plot 22, plan 6047. Tax of 1912 $13.20. Then for Street Watering Assessment $.82. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment $.68.

Charles E. Fowrnier. A certain parcel of land containing 4316 square feet, situated upon the northerly side of Sagamore street, bounded easterly and westerly by land now or late of Mary A. Webb and northerly by land now or late of Mary A. Webb and southerly by Sagamore street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 6, plot 23, plan 6047. Tax of 1912 $13.20. Then for Street Watering Assessment $.80. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment $.68.

Charles E. Fowrnier. A certain parcel of land containing 2975 square feet, situated upon the northerly side of Sagamore street, bounded easterly and westerly by land now or late of Mary A. Webb,northerly by land now or late of Letitia B. Evans and southerly by Sagamore street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 7, plot 24, plan 6047. Tax of 1912 $9.90. Then for Street Watering Assessment $.80. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment. $.67.

Charles E. Fowrnier. A certain parcel of land containing 3722 square feet, situated upon the corner of Sagamore and Prospect streets, bounded easterly by land now or late of Mary A. Webb, northerly by land now or late of Letitia B. Evans, westerly by Prospect street and southerly by Sagamore street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 8, plot 25, plan 6047. Tax of 1912 $14.30. Then for Street Watering Assessment $1.08. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment $.67.

Charles E. Fowrnier. A certain parcel of land containing 2819 square feet, situated upon the southerly side of Walker place, bounded easterly by and now or late of Mary A. Webb, southerly by land now or late of Mary A. Webb, westerly by land now or late of Letitia B. Evans and northerly by Walker Place. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 12, plot 29, plan 6047. Tax of 1912 $5.50.

Charles E. Fowrnier. A certain parcel of land containing 3245 square feet situated upon the southerly side of Walker place, bounded westerly by and now or late of Mary A. Webb, easterly by land now or late of City of Quincy, southerly by land now or late of Mary A. Webb and northerly by Walker place. Being designated on Assessors' plan as Lot 13, plot 30, plan 6047. Tax of 1912 $5.50.

Gertrude Fratus and Ellen B. Edwards. A certain parcel of land containing 4050 square feet, situated upon the easterly side of Coe street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Gertrude Fratus and Ellen B. Edwards, easterly by land now or late of Bertha E. Priest, southerly by land now or late of Thomas Radley and William Drea and westerly by Coe street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 3, plot 11, plan 6046. Tax of 1912 $7.15.

Gertrude Fratus and Ellen B. Edwards. A certain parcel of land containing 4050 square feet, situated upon the easterly side of Coe street, bounded northerly and southerly by land now or late of Gertrude Fratus and Ellen B. Edwards, easterly by land now or late of John Golden and Bertha E. Priest and westerly by Coe street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 4, plot 12, plan 6046. Tax of 1912 $7.15.

Gertrude Fratus and Ellen B. Edwards. A certain parcel of land containing 3600 square feet, situated upon the southerly side of Sagamore street, bounded easterly by land now or late of John Golden, southerly by land now or late of Gertrude Fratus and Ellen B. Edwards, westerly by land now or late of Gertrude Fratus and Ellen B. Edwards and northerly by Sagamore street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 5, plot 13, plan 6046. Tax of 1912, $8.25. Then for Street Watering Assessment $.90.

Gertrude Fratus and Ellen B. Edwards. A certain parcel of land containing 3600 square feet, situated upon the corner of Sagamore and Coe streets, bounded easterly by land now or late of Gertrude Fratus and Ellen B. Edwards, southerly by land now or late of Gertrude Fratus and Ellen B. Edwards, westerly by Coe street and northerly by Sagamore street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot C, plot 14, plan 6046. Tax of 1912, $9.90. Then for Street Watering Assessment, $.90.

Celia Goodwin. A certain parcel of land containing 5750 square feet, situated upon the westerly side of Birch street, bounded southerly by and now or late of Thomas Jackson westerly by land now or late of Edwin E. and Virginia M. Cashie, northerly by land now or late of Charles E. Stratton and easterly by Birch street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 17, plot 20, plan 6028. Tax of 1912, $7.70.

Colin Goodwin. A certain parcel of land containing 3840 square feet, with building thereon, situated upon the westerly side of Holmes street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Mary Hannon, westerly by land now or late of Old Colony R. R. Co., southerly by land now or late of Walter S. Pinkham and easterly by Holmes street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 20, plan 6036. Tax of 1912, $60.50. Then for Main Sewer Assessment apportionment, $3.80, Then for Particular Sewer Assessment apportionment, $4.25.

Ada T. Hayden, Milton. A certain parcel of land containing 1908 square feet, situated upon the corner of Shoreham and Border streets bounded northwesterly by land now or late of Catherine Kittrick, northeasterly by land now or late of Catherine E. McNeil, southeasterly by land now or late of Border street and southwesterly by Shoreham street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 1, plot 25, plan 6101 a. Tax of 1912, $2.20.

Ada T. Hayden, Milton. A certain parcel of land containing 1832 square feet, situated upon the northeasterly side of Shoreham street, bounded northwesterly and southeasterly by land now or late of Catherine Kittrick, northeasterly by land now or late of Catherine E. McNeil and southwesterly by Shoreham street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 2, plot 26, plan 6101 a. Tax of 1912, $2.20.

Ada T. Hayden, Milton. A certain parcel of land containing 1770 square feet, situated upon the northeasterly side of Shoreham street, bounded northwesterly and southeasterly by land now or late of Catherine Kittrick, northeasterly by land now or late of Ada T. Hayden and southwesterly by Shoreham street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 3, plot 27, plan 6101 a. Tax of 1912, $1.65.

Ada T. Hayden, Milton. A certain parcel of land containing 1885 square feet, situated upon the corner of Shorcham street and Standish road, bounded southeasterly by land now or late of Catherine Kittrick, northeasterly by land now or late of Ada T. Hayden, northwesterly by Standish road and southwesterly by Shoreham street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 4, plot 28, plan 6101 a. Tax of 1912, $2.20.

Ada T. Hayden, Milton. A certain parcel of land containing 1250 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the southeasterly side of Agawam street, bounded southwesterly by land now or late of Mabel H. Verrill, southeasterly by land now or late of Charles R. Burkart, northeasterly by land now or late of Ada T. Hayden and northwesterly by Agawam street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 31, plot 45, plan 6101 a. Tax of 1912, $16.50.

Ada T. Hayden, Milton. A certain parcel of land containing 1250 square feet, situated upon the southeasterly side of Agawam street, bounded northeasterly by land now or late of Mabel H. Verrill, southeasterly by land now or late of Ada T. Hayden, southwesterly by land now or late of James H. Sumner and northwesterly by Agawam street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 34, plot 42, plan 6101 a. Tax of 1912, $1.65.

Ada T. Hayden, Milton. A certain parcel of land containing 1250 square feet, with building thereon, situated upon the southeasterly side of Agawam street, bounded southwesterly and southeasterly by land now or late of Ada T. Hayden, northeasterly by land now or late of James H. Sumner and northwesterly by Agawam street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 35, plot 41, plan 6101 a. Balance of tax of 1912, $12.05.

Ernest R. Hitchcock. A certain parcel of land containing 2513 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the corner of Glover and Newbury avenues, bounded easterly by land now or late of Mary H. Murphy, northerly by land now or late of Wm. McCanville, westerly by Newbury avenue and southerly by Glover avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot A, plot 1, plan 6028. Tax of 1912, $39.60. Then for Main Sewer Assessment apportionment, $2.72.

George W. Hopkins and Francis J. Small, Trs. A certain parcel of land containing 5000 square feet situated upon the westerly side of Fayette street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Jas. A. Crevella et al, southerly by land now or late of Axel E. Carlson and easterly by Fayette street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 1102, plot 8, plan 6107. No. 6194 Main Sewer Assessment $36.00.

Ada F. Howard. A certain parcel of land containing 3390 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the corner of Vane street and Billings Rd. Bounded easterly by land now or late of Mollie Whyatt, southerly by land now or late of Wood, Flagg & Thornton Trs. westerly by Vane street and northerly by Billings road. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 97 A, plot 1, plan 6006. No. 6073 Main Sewer Assessment $8.42.

Clara B. Kestner, Somerville. A certain parcel of land containing 3000 square feet situated upon the southerly side of Conant road, bounded easterly and westerly by land now or late of Clara B. Kestner, southerly by land now or late of Elmer H. Warren and northerly by Conant road. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 48, plot 48, plan 6060. Tax of 1912, $8.25.

Clara B. Kestner, Somerville. A certain parcel of land containing 3600 square feet situated upon the southerly side of Conant road, bounded easterly by land now or late of Mellie L. Lane and Elmer H. Warren, southerly by land now or late of Elmer H. Warren, westerly by land now or late of Clara B. Kestner and northerly by Conant road. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 49, plot 49, plan 6060. Tax of 1912, $9.90.

Clara B. Kestner, Somerville. A certain parcel of land containing 3250 square feet situated upon the southerly side of Conant road, bounded easterly by land now or late of Clara B. Kestner, southerly by land now or late of Henry F. Mosses, westerly by land now or late of Carl P. and Louise I. Mellows and northerly by Conant road. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 44, plot 44, plan 6060. Tax of 1912 $7.15.

Clara B. Kestner, Somerville. A certain parcel of land containing 3250 square feet situated upon the southerly side of Conant road, bounded easterly and southerly and westerly by and now or late of Clara B. Kestner, northerly by Conant road. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 45, plan 6060. Tax of 1912 $8.80.

Clara B. Kestner, Somerville. A certain parcel of land containing 1627 square feet situated upon the northerly side of Conant road, bounded westerly by land now or late of Clara B. Kestner, northerly by land now or late of Clara B. Kestner, easterly by land now or late of Minnie A. Green and southerly by Conant road. Being designated on Assessors' plan as part lot 56, plot 56, plan 6061. Tax of 1912 $3.85.

Leonard Lawrence, Roxbury. A certain parcel of land containing 957 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the southerly side of Appleton street, bounded easterly by land now or late of Frederick J. Stewart southerly by land now or late of Charles E. S. McCorry, westerly by land now or late of William R. Cole and northerly by Appleton street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 53, plot 12, plan 6057. Tax of 1912 $80.30. Then for Street Watering Assessment, $1.40.

J. Ernest Macdonald. A certain parcel of land containing 2806 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the corner of Billings road and Royal street, bounded southerly by land now or late of Wood, Flagg and Thornton Trs., westerly by land now or late of John F. Nelson, northerly by land now or late of Billings road and easterly by Royal street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 295 A plot 6, plan 6011. Tax of 1912, $43.45 Then for Main Sewer Assessment apportionment, $3.15. Then for Particular Sewer Assessment apportionment $3.51. Then for Street Watering Assessment $.80.

Edward MacMulkin, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 7640 square feet with buildings thereon, situated upon the westerly side of Hancock street, bounded southerly by land now or late of Annie L. Craig, westerly by land now or late of Edward MacMulkin, northerly by land now or late of Theresa Barker and easterly by Hancock street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 19, plot 5, plan 6035. Tax of 1912, $114.40. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment, $1.14.

Edward MacMulkin, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 336 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the southerly side of a private way off Holmes street, bounded westerly by land now or late of George N. Robinson, southerly by land now or late of Edward MacMulkin, easterly by land now or late of Edward MacMulkin and Annie L. Craig and northerly by a private way. Being designated on Assessors' plan as part lot 27, plot 18, plan 6035. Tax of 1912, $18.70.

Edward MacMulkin, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 230 square feet situated upon the southerly side of private way off Holmes street, bounded easterly by land now or late of Edward MacMulkin and Annie L. Craig, southerly by land now or late of Jeanette I. Wilson, westerly by land now or late of George N. Robinson and northerly by land now or late of Edward MacMulkin. Being designated on Assessors' plan as part of lot 28 plot 19, plan 6035. Tax of 1912, $5.50.

John F. Maguire, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 3750 square feet situated upon the southwesterly side of Newport avenue, bounded northwesterly by land now or late of Hopkins & Small Trs., southwesterly by land now or late of Andrew Noble southeasterly by land now or late of Mary E. Lazzaro and northeasterly by Newport avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 907, plot 5, plan 6102. Tax of 1912, $4.40.

Daniel F. McLeod, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 6450 square feet, situated upon the southerly side of West Squantum street Bellevue Park, bounded westerly by land now or late of Horatio N. Holbrook, southerly by land now or late of heirs of Daniel Sullivan, easterly by land now or late of K. Palmer and northerly by West Squantum street Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 11, plot 4, plan 6115 section 2. Tax $30.60.

Peter D. Morrison, Dorchester. A certain parcel of land containing 4230 square feet situated upon the easterly side of Vershire street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Storer F. Crafts, easterly by land now or late of William Campbell, southerly by land now or late of Blair B. Taylor and Tillie A. Taylor and westerly by Vershire street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 246, plot 14, plan 6150. Being registered as certificate No. 168, book 1, page 168 Norfolk District of the Land Court. Tax of 1912 $5.50.

Isabella Morton. A certain parcel of land containing 4829 square feet with buildings thereon, situated upon the corner of Billings road and Apthorp street, bounded northeasterly and northwesterly by land now or late of Plaisted Trust, southwesterly by Billings road and southerly by Apthorp street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 876 a, plot 20, plan 6018. Tax of 1912, $59.20. Then for Main Sewer Assessment apportionment, $6.45. Then for Street Watering Assesment, $.90.

Magnus Munn, Sharon. A certain parcel of land containing 2869 square feet with cellar thereon, situated upon the corner of Faxon road and Jefferson street, bounded northerly by land now or late of William A. Cook, westerly by land now or late of Newell and Snowling Construction Co., southerly by Jefferson street and easterly by Faxon road. Being designated on Assessors' plan as most southerly third part of lot 30, plot 15, plan 6026. Tax of 1912, $7.15.

Magnus Munn, Sharon. A certain parcel of land containing 1206 square feet, situated upon the easterly side of Holmes street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Elizabeth M. Pottam, easterly by land now or late of Abbie B. Wellman, southerly by land now or late of Colin Goodwin and westerly by Holmes street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as part lot 6, plot 11, plan 6037. Tax of 1912 $2.75.

Nettie L. O'Connor, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 3087 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the easterly side of Clive street bounded northerly and easterly land now or late of heirs of Nathan Holbrook, southerly by land now or late of Louise S. Kolb and westerly by Olive street and land of Florence Purditt. Being designated on Assessors' plan as part lot 44, plot 11, plan 6054. Tax of 1912, $41.80.

Helena O'Sullivan, South Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 4980 square feet situated upon the corner of West Squantum street and private way, bounded westerly by land now or late of Helena O'Sullivan southerly by land now or late of Henry J. Hunt, northerly by Squantum street and easterly by Private way being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 145, plot 8, plan 6141. Balance of tax of 1912, $2.05.

Helena O'Sullivan, South Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 3429 square feet situated upon the southerly side of West Squantum street bounded southerly by land now or late of Henry W. Hunt and Martin L. Call and private way, westerly by land now or late of Henry W. Hunt and Charles A. Taylor and by Squantum street easterly by land now or late of Martin Safe and northerly by West Squantum street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lots 146, 147, 148, 149, 150, 151, 54, plots 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, 13, 12, plan 614. Balance of tax of 1912, $2.00.

Josiah Quincy, Trustee. A certain parcel of land containing 7200 square feet situated upon the westerly side of Holmes street, bounded northerly by and now or late of James M. William Old Colony R. R. Co., westerly by private way, southerly by land now or late of Wm. E. Harmon and easterly by Holmes street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 3, plot 3, plan 6001. Tax of 1912, $15,95. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment $1.80.

Josiah Quincy, Trustee. A certain parcel of land containing about 5090 square feet situated upon the easterly side of Holmes street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Fred Wood, easterly by land now or late of Isabella Moir, southerly by land now or late of Sarah G. Gardiner and William F. Macy and westerly by Holmes street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 4 a, plot 7, plan 6001. Tax of 1912, $11.00.

E. Russell Rich, Milton. A certain parcel of land containing 7078 square feet situated upon the southerly side of Winslow road, bounded easterly and southerly by land now or late of John L. Nelson, westerly by land now or late of Georgianna Rich and northerly by Winslow road. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 183, plot 1, plan 6090. Being registered as Transfer certificate No. 1039, book 6, page 039 Norfolk District of the Land Court. Tax of 1912, $6.05.

Georgianna Rich, Milton. A certain parcel of land containing 9087 square feet with building thereon situated upon the corner of Winslow road and Eastquantum street, bounded northeasterly by land now or late of E. Russell Rich, southeasterly by land now or late of John R. Nelson, southwesterly East Squantum street and northwesterly by Winslow road. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 84, plot 1, plan 6090. Being registered as Transfer Certificate No. 1040 book 6, page 1040, Norfolk District of the Land Court. Tax of 1912, $50.60.

Lottie L. Smeltzer, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 4500 square feet with building thereon situated upon the northerly side of Arnold road, bounded northerly and easterly by land now or late of Milton L. Conant and Southey by Arnold road. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 122, plot 18, plan 6017 F. Balance of tax of 1912 $30.60.

John C. Stewart. A certain parcel of land containing 2982 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the corner of Faxon road and Jefferson street, bounded westerly by land now or late of Newell & Snowling Construction Co., southerly by land now or late of Aurelia R. Hill, easterly by Faxon road and northerly by Jefferson street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as part lot 12, plot 10 plan 6027 Tax of 1912, $42.90.

Patrick J. Sullivan, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 7990 square feet situated upon the corner of Billings road and Royal street, bounded easterly by land now or late of Edward J. Merlin, southerly by and now or late of Margaret R. Dingwell, westerly by Royal street and northerly by Billings road. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 77 plot 1, plan 6012. Tax of 1912 $17,60. Then for Main Sewer Assessment apportionment, $7.33. Then for Street Watering Assessment, $1.42.

Patrick J. Sullivan, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 5000 square feet, situated upon the easterly side of Royal street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Jessie A. Banks, easterly by land now or late of Frank G. Coombs, southerly by and now or late of Albert O. Norton and westerly by Royal street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 180, plot 20, plan 6012. Tax of 1912, $11.00.

Arthur H. Weed, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 13974 square feet with building thereon, situated off Belleview avenue, bounded northerly by land now or late of Hilda Carlson, easterly by Quincy Bay, southerly and westerly by land now or late of Mary F. Callahan. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 32, plot 2, plan 6088. Tax of 1912, $92.40.

Abbie B. Wellman. A certain parcel of land containing 4558 square feet situated upon the northerly side of Moscow street, bounded easterly by land now or late of Jas. H. Riley, northerly by land now or late of Elizabeth M. P. Cottam, westerly by land now or late of Magnus Munn, Colin Goodwin and Henry Black and southerly by Moscow street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 5, plot 10, plan 6037. Tax of 1912, $11.00.

Blanche S. Wells. A certain parcel of land containing 3974 square feet, situated upon the corner of Bellevue road and Huckins avenue, bounded northerly and easterly by land now or late of Blanche S. Wells, westerly by Bellevue road and southerly by Huckins avenue. Being designated on Assessor's plan as lot 481, plot 27, plan 6109 a. Being registered as Transfer certificate No. 575, book 3 page 575 Norfolk District of the Land Court. Tax of 1912, $7.70.

Herbert L. Bill. A certain parcel of land containing 6957 square feet situated upon the easterly side of Newbury avenue, bounded northerly land now or late of Chas. E. Stratton, southerly by land now or late of heirs of Gilbert A. Waterhouse, easterly by land now or late of Henry W. Hunt and westerly by Newbury avenue being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 7, plot 42, plan 6056. Tax of 1912 $8.80. Then for Main Sewer Assessment apportionment, $7.29. Then for Street Watering Assessment, $1.40.

Edith A. Costain. A certain parcel of land containing 3200 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the northeasterly side of Hancock street, bounded northerly, southeasterly and northwesterly by land now or late of heirs of Thomas Costaine and southwesterly by Hancock street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 4, plot 7, plan 6171. Tax of 1912, $29.15. Then for Street Watering Assessment, $.80. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment, $.60.

Paul W. Costain and heirs or devisees of Margaret Costain. A certain parcel of land containing 3200 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the northeasterly side of Hancock street, bounded northwesterly by and now or late of heirs of Thomas Costaine, northeasterly by land now or late of heirs of Thomas Costaine, southeasterly by land now or late of Edith A. Costaine and Paul W. and Margaret Costaine and Eliab Ramsdell, southwesterly by Hancock street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 5, plan 6171. Tax of 1912, $26.40.

Jeremiah W. Donovan. A certain parcel of land containing 20739 square feet situated upon the northwesterly side of West Squantum street, bounded southwesterly and northwesterly by a salt marsh, northeasterly by land now or late of Jeremiah W. Donovan and southeasterly by West Squantum street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 1, plan 6158. Tax of 1912, $14.30.

Jeremiah W. Donovan. A certain parcel of land containing 23850 square feet, situated upon the northwesterly side of West Squantum street, bounded northwesterly and southwesterly by a salt marsh, northeasterly by land now or late of Old Colony Railroad and southeasterly by West Squantum street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 4, plan 6158. Tax of 1912, $26.40.

John Donovan. A certain parcel of land containing 5325 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the northerly side of Walnut street, bounded easterly by land now or late of Ann Gilmartin, northerly by land now or late of heirs of Francis Guild, westerly by land now or late of John J. Kerrigan and southerly by Walnut street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 4, plan 6167. Tax of 1912, $34.10.

John Donovan. A certain parcel of land containing 5855 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the southerly side of Newbury street, bounded easterly by land now or late of William J. Delorey, southerly by land now or late of heirs of Francis Guild, westerly by land now or late of Timothy J. Golden and northerly by Newbury avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 6, plan 6168. Tax of 1912, $34.10.

Effie E. Fanning, Cambridge. A certain parcel of land containing 2192 square feet, situated upon the corner of Farrington and West Squantum streets, bounded southerly by and now or late of Odlina Hunter, westerly by Squantum street and easterly by Farrington street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 071, plot 1, plan 6108. Tax of 1912, $2.75.

Sarah G. Gardner. A certain parcel of land containing about 5050 square feet with building thereon situated upon the easterly side of John street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Herbert S. Barker, easterly by marsh, southerly by land now or late of City of Quincy and westerly by John street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 10, plot 10, plan 6157. Tax of 1912, $8.80. Then for Street Watering Assesment $1.00.

Michael Lally and ux Catherine T. Lally, as joint tenants. A certain parcel of land containing 4820 square feet with buildings thereon, situated upon the southeasterly side of River street, bounded northeasterly by land now or late of Mattis Berzis et ux Annata, southeasterly by land now or late of Edward J. McGovern, southwesterly by a passage way and northwesterly by River street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 15, plan 6169. Balance of Tax of 1912, $11.40.

Jeremiah O'Leary, Daniel J. Doyle and J. Montgomery Sears, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 1825 square feet, situated upon the southerly side of Aberdeen road, bounded: westerly by land now or late of Jeremiah O'Leary, Daniel J. Doyle and J. Montgomery Sears, southerly by land now or late of Nelson, easterly by land now or late of Frank E. Wells and northerly by Aberdeen road. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 35, section B, plan 6080 B. Tax of 1912 $1.65.

Jeremiah O'Leary, Daniel J. Doyle and J. Montgomery Sears, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 1862 square feet, situated upon the southerly side of Aberdeen road, bounded: easterly and westerly by land now or late of Jeremiah O'Leary, Daniel J. Doyle and J. Montgomery Sears, southerly by land now or late of August Wallquist and northerly by Aberdeen road. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 37, section B. plan 6080 B. Tax of 1912 $1.65.

Jeremiah O'Leary, Daniel J. Doyle and J. Montgomery Sears, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 1887 square feet, situated upon the southerly side of Aberdeen road, bounded: easterly by land now or late of Jeremiah O'Leary, Daniel J. Doyle and Montgomery Sears, southerly by land now or late of August Wallquist, westerly by land now or late of Robert K. Dickerman and northerly by Aberdeen road. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 38, section B, plan 6080 B. Tax of 1912 $1.65.

John Rogerson, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing about 4575 square feet situated upon the easterly side of John street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Sarah G. Gardiner, easterly by marsh, southerly by land now or late of Frank P. and Adela J. Fulton and westerly by John street. Being designated on Assessors' plan at lot 9, plot 9, plan 6157. Tax of 1912, $.55.

Mayme Warinner, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 2237 square feet situated upon the northeasterly side of East Squantum street bounded northerly by land now or late of Robert K. Dickerman, easterly by land now or late of Robert K. Dickerman, southerly by land now or late of Eben H. Scribner and southwesterly by East Squantum street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 3, section c, plan 6080 c. Tax of 1912, $2.20.

Mayme Warinner, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 2162 square feet, situated upon the easterly side of East Squantum street, bounded northerly and southerly by land now or late of Eben H. Scribner, easterly by land now or late of Robert K. Dickerman and westerly by East Squantum street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 4, section c plan 6080 c. Tax of 1912, $2.20.

Mayme Warinner, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 2125 square feet situated upon the easterly side of East Squantum street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Eben H. Scribner, easterly by land now or late of Annie J. Callaghan, southerly by land now or late of Robert K. Dickerman and westerly by Squantum street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 5, section c, plan 6080 c. Tax of 1912, $2.20.

Harold Wilder. A certain parcel of land containing 2887 square feet with building thereon situated upon the northwesterly side of Myrtle street, bounded southwesterly by land now or late of Mattie E. Kilpatrick, northerly by land now or late of heirs of Sam'l. Wood, northeasterly by land now or late of Martha E. Jenkins and southeasterly by Myrtle street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 6, plan 6166. Tax of 1912, $40.15. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment, $.60.

OSCAR S. SANDBERG,
Collector of Taxes,
City of Quincy.

Wards 1, 2 and 3 in Evening Telegram.

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block,
QUINCY

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

SWITHIN
Real Estate
Mortgages-Insurance
Greenleaf Block
Quincy
Tel. Quincy 460. Nov. 10-tf

ADMINISTRATRIX'S NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administratrix of the estate of Winifred Cullen, late of Quincy in the County of Norfolk, deceased, intestate, and has taken upon herself that trust by giving bond as the law directs.

All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

AGNES E. CONRAD, Adm.
(Address)
Care of Wheaton Kittredge, 515 Barristers Hall, Boston.
December 4, 1913.

Dec. 6-3t 6-8-15

For Your Baby.

The Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

is the only guarantee that you have the Genuine

CASTORIA

prepared by him for over 30 years.

YOU'LL give YOUR baby the BEST

Your Physician Knows Fletcher's Castoria.

Sold only in one size bottle, never in bulk or otherwise; to protect the babies.

The Centaur Company, Chas. H. Fletcher Pres't.

THE CORSET SHOP

8 Maple Street

All Popular makes of

Corsets and Brassieres

Hosiery and

McCall Patterns

Correct fitting of Corsets a specialty

I have been very fortunate to have, during my temporary absence, the services of an expert corsettiere, who will give the same personal attention to fittings and alterations as has always been accorded to customers.

MISS S. E. DUNPHY

Oct. 30-tf

CARPETS

Oriental Domestic RUGS

LINOLEUM MATTINGS

AT LOWEST POSSIBLE PRICES

John H. Pray & Sons Co.

646 Washington Street, Opp. Boylston Street

All Goods will be Delivered Free at Residences in Quincy

REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY

Messrs. OTHO A. HAYWARD and WALTER J. WELLINGTON.

LEWIS N. CURTIS,

PAINTER and GLAZIER

LEADED STAINED GLASS.

DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER

OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.

Orchard Place, off Spear street, Quincy

Call Quincy 501--W

if you want your furniture, mattresses and cushions repaired in good order at low prices M. MIRKIN, upholsterer, 1060 Hancock street near the Quincy High School.

Dec.1-1m

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY

With Teams and Trucks

KINCAIDE MOVES HOUSEHOLD GOODS

Our light and heavy Trucks and Teams are ready to move you anywhere anytime you say. Our men are courteous, careful, thoroughly-experienced movers. This store stands back of their work and guarantees you complete satisfaction. Charges are reasonable. Let's have your order early. Write, call or Telephone Quincy 1200.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO. 1495 Hancock St.

Social Realm

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Stetson are giving a dinner to Quincy friends tomorrow when covers will be laid for twelve. This will be the first of the larger hospitalities which they both enjoy during the winter at their home on School street.

William A. Rogers and Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Rogers are in Boston for the winter having closed their house at Marshfield Hills.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hitchcock, formerly of this city but now of Marshfield have closed their home there and are to spend the winter in Cambridge with their daughter Mrs. Percy Sears.

Mrs. Jeremiah Spencer of North Weymouth is in Methuen, the guest of her daughter Mrs. Herbert Fay Nye.

Mrs. Herbert Barry of Wollaston was one of the guests at a dinner given last Saturday by Mrs. J. P. Holbrook of North Weymouth in observance of her birthday.

Miss Florence E. Barker of Monroe road, Presidents hill, entertained several young ladies at her home Thursday evening. This was the second meeting of a bridge club recently formed by eight young ladies of Quincy and Wollaston to meet once a week during the winter months. Members of the club are as follows: Misses Florence Barker, Minnie Hardwick, Marion Simmons, Helen Sturgis, Juanita Metherall, Edna Thomas, Grace Thomas and Eleanor Whittemore. The next meeting will be held Thursday when Miss Hardwick will entertain.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McClure of Appleton street are receiving congratulations on the birth of a baby last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert T. Mann of Medfield are spending the week end with Mrs. Albert W. Fay of Newport avenue.

Dr. and Mrs. Leon E. Parcher of Lynn were guests over Thanksgiving and the week end of Mrs. Parcher's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Herman Waterman of Arlington street.

Miss Elizabeth Morse of Hudson is a guest until after the holidays of her nephew, Joseph C. Morse of Fairmount way, Presidents hill arriving just before Thanksgiving. She has many friends here, all of whom are pleased at the opportunity of renewing old friendships.

Mrs. F. E. Cleveland has invited the members of St. Chrysostom's Guild to be her guests Friday afternoon at her home on Hillside and Summit avenue when preparations will be made for the Guild's birthday party.

Cornelius E. Manchester who has been at Nashua, New Hampshire for the the past two years has gone to Southern Pines, North Carolina to join his sister Miss Alice W. Manchester.

Mrs. George N. Titus of Providence, R. I., is the guest of Mrs. J. F. Davidson of Newbury avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Barnes have returned from a visit to the Western part of the state.

Mrs. T. W. Davison of Billings street is spending a few days with relatives in Clinton.

Miss Cora Fuller of Atlantic sang "O Promise Me" at the wedding Saturday evening of Miss Viola Adelaide Rich of Squantum street and Oscar A. Bradford of Worcester. Mr. and Mrs. Bradford are to reside in Worcester.

Emery L. Crane gave his lecture on "American Wit and Humor" at the meeting Monday afternoon of the Monday club of Weymouth. There was also music and a social afternoon tea.

Miss Margaret Read has returned to her home on Squantum street after her extended trip through the west.

The Atlantic Shakespeare Society met at the home of Mrs. E. G. Hall Thursday afternoon. The fourth act of Henry the Fourth was read and studied. Mrs. William F. Davy was chairman of the meeting.

Miss Alice W. Manchester of Davis street who went to Southern Pines, North Carolina last month is to stay there through the winter and spring months.

KINCAIDE THEATRE

at 2.30, 5, 10, 15c., at 7.45, 10, 15, 25c

MON. TUES. WED.

Program subject to change

MURRY LIVINGSTON & CO.

Comedy Dramatic Playlet

"The Man From Italy"

COOPER & MAY

Singing and Scenic Changes

TWISTO

The Human Pretzel

SIR WALTER WEENES

Just a little Nonsense

PATHE WEEKLY

World's News in Pictures

Feature Picture in 2 parts

The Green-Eyed Monster of Jealousy

A Picture full of fun

Edwin's Badge of Honor

Kincaide Theatre Orchestra

SUNDAY SERVICES

FIRST PARISH CHURCH—City Square, Rev Adelbert Lathrop Hudson, minister. Residence, Miller Stile Inn, Tel. 21072. Office hours at church 9 to 12 A. M., Monday, Wednesday and Friday, Tel. 1290. Morning Service at 10.30 A. M. Subject of sermon: "The Evolution of Religion: "The Influence of Persian Dualism on the Religion of Israel." Sunday School at 12 noon. Mr. Henry W. Porter, Superintendent. The ministers class will conclude the subject of "Con . fucianism in China and Japan.''

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Junction Hancock and Chestnut streets. Rev Benjamin A. Willmott, Pastor. 10.30 Morning Worship. Message by the pastor, "Without God." 12.00, Bible School. Classes for all ages 6.15, Christian Endeavor meeting. All young people welcome. 7.30 Pleasant Sunday evening service Lecture: "The most Popular Sin in the World."

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST—Quincy, Alpha Hall, cor. Hancock street and Cottage ave. Morning service and Sunday school at 10.45 Subject: "God, the Only Cause and Creator." Golden Text: Psalms 89: 11 "The heavens are Thine, the earth also is Thine, as for the world and the fuluess thereof, thou hast founded them." Wednesday 7.45 P. M. A testimony and experience meeting. Reading room open from 3.15 P. M. week days, holidays excepted. All are welcome.

CHRIST CHURCH, EPISCOPAL—Quincy, corner Elm street and Quincy avenue. Rev. Richard E. Armstrong, rector. Second Sunday in Advent Sunday School at 9 30 Holy Communion and sermon at 10.45. Choral Evensong and Address at 7.30.

FIRST UNIVERSALIST CHURCH — Quincy Rev. Merrill C. Ward, pastor. Services at 3 P. M. Communion service. Sermon theme: "In remembrance of me." Sunday school at 2 P. M

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH — Franklin street Rev. C. C. Tilley, Pastor. Residence 26 Richie Road. Morning Service at 10.30. Subject: "The Consecrated Christian." Sunday School at 11.45. Evening Service at 7. Subject: "The Song of Victory." Regular Prayer meeting on Thursday evening at 7.45. Topic: "Book of John."

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH — Water and Quincy Streets. Rev. J. A. Matheson Minister. Sabbath Services. Morning worship 10.30, Bible School and Mens Class 11.45. Jr. C E. 3.00. Y. P. S. C. E. 6.00. Evening worship and praise 7.30. Women's Missionary society Monday 7.30 in church parlor. Congregational prayer service Thursday 7.30.

FIRST UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH Corner of School and Pleasant streets. Rev. D. B. McLeod, M. A., pastor. Services next Sabbath at 10.30. Subject: "Christ Satisfied." Sabbath School and Bible Classes, 11.45. Junior Christian Endeavor at 3. Senior Christian Endeavor at 6. Evening at 7. Subject: "This do in remembrance of Me." Communion at this service Prayer meeting Thursday evening at 7.30.

ST. PAUL'S SWEDISH M. E. Church — Rev. A. E. Hillman, pastor. Residence 121 Glendale Road. Divine Worship at 10.30 A. M. and 7 P. M. Rev. Albert Hallen, Ph. D. will preach at both services. Holy Communion will be observed at the evening service. Everybody welcome.

HALL PLACE M. E. CHURCH—West Quincy Rev. T. C. Martin, pastor, Residence, 12 Hall place. Morning worship at 10.30 A. M. Holy Communion, Baptismal service and reception of members. Sermon by Mr. Richardson. Sunday School at 11.45 A. M. Presentation of Bibles. Epworth League Devotional service at 6.15. Evening service at 7 P. M.

WOLLASTON UNITARIAN CHURCH — Corne Beale and Farrington streets. Rev. Carl G. Horst, minister. Residence 59 Grand View ave. Telephone Quincy 317-1. The Church Auditorium is equipped with earphones. Service of worship with sermon at 10.45 A. M. Kindergarten class for children of three years and over, in charge of Miss Cummings, a trained kindergartner, at 10.45 in the vestry. Sunday school with graded classes at 12. Frank A. Page, Superintendent. Rev. Paul Harris Drake will speak at Wollaston Forum at 12 o'clock, subject: "The Religious Aspect of Socialism." Y. P. R. U meeting at 7 P. M. All seats free. Everyone is welcome.

WOLLASTON BAPTIST CHURCH — Cor. Prospect and Warren avenues. Rev. Joseph Walther, minister. Morning service at 10.45. Preaching by the minister. Subject: "Remembering Jesus Christ." Hand of Fellowship to new members and Celebration of Lord's Supper. Sunday school at 12.15. Junior Endeavor at 3.30. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6. Evening service at 7. Sermon by the minister. Subject: "The Why of Baptism." Baptisms will follow. Seats free at all services Everyone cordially invited.

WOLLASTON CONGREGATIONAL — Corner Lincoln and Winthrop avenues, Rev. Isaiah W neath, Ph. D., pastor. Res. No. 20 Marion street Telephone Quincy 1116 M. Morning worship 10.45, sermon by the pastor. "The Wonderful Book." Sunday school at 12.15, Chas. A. Campbell. Supt Men's Class led by Dr. Sneath Women's Class led by Mrs. A. A. Lincoln. Junior Endeavor at 4 P. M. Christian Endeavor at 6, leader Miss Agnes Eastman. Midweek service Thursday 7.45 P. M. in the church.

ST. CHRYSOSTOM'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH—Hancock street. Wollaston — Rev. Frederick H. Steenstra, rector, residence, the rectory. 253 Harcock street. Holy Communion and sermon at 10.30. Sunday School at 12.00 M. Evening Prayer and Address 7.30.

WOLLASTON METHODIST EPISCOPAL—CHURCH—Rev. George Mervyn Bailey, Pastor Residence, 52 Brook Street Telephone, Quincy 378-2 10.45 A. M. Holy Communion, sermon by pastor. 12 M. Sunday School, J. A. Sedgwick Supt. Pastor in charge of Men's Bible Class. 6 P. M. Epworth League, Devotional Service. 7. P. M. Song service. Fourth and last sermon in the series upon "The Man Outside." Subject: "The Best Way to Reach Him."

PARK AND DOWNS CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH — Beach street and Rawson road Wollaston. Rev. William B. Ayers, pastor. Services at 10.45 A. M. and 7 P. M. At Morning service, Communion. Evening The 8th in the series "The Shepherd of the Hills."

ATLANTIC M. E. CHURCH — corner Newbury lavenue and Squantum Streets. Rev. E. C. Pollard, pastor. Residence 19 Wesley Street, Newton, phone 2184 Newton North. Services Sunday 10.45 A. M. Subject: "The King's Highway.' Sacrament will follow the morning sermon. Class meeting at 10. Sunday School at 12.15. Training class at 3.30 P. M. Evening service at 7 P. M. Subject: "God's Cause Dear to His People."

MEMORIAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH — Atlantic Rev. Thomas W. Davison, pastor. Morning service at 10.45. Sermon by the Pastor The Hope of Years." Sunday School at 12 M. Junior Endeavor at 3.30 P. M. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6 o'clock. Evening service at 7 o'clock. A cordial welcome to all.

SPIRITUALIST MEETINGS — Electa Hall, Johnson building, Quincy Sq. Sunday 7.30 P. M. Speaker and Message Bearer, the Rev. M. E. G. Howe, who has spoken in nearly every state in the Union in the Cause of Spiritualism. A deep thinker, interesting speaker and correct message bearer. All welcome.

INTERNATIONAL BIBLE STUDENTS ASSOCIATION, (undenominational) New Colonial Hall, Hancock Building Quincy Centre. Free Lecture every Sunday at 3 P. M. for the promotion of Christian knowledge. Lecture Dec. 6 by pastor A. M. Graham Subject: "The Election Vs. Free Grace." All seats Free. No collection You are cordially invited.

A Household Friend for 103 Years

First aid to the injured—surest relief from Coughs, Colds, Cramps, Rheumatism.

JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT

Use it for both internal and external ills. Sold everywhere in 25c and 50c bottles.

I. S. JOHNSON & CO., Inc. Boston, Mass.

Parsons' Pills Make the liver active.

HOW BUSINESS IS CONDUCTED

Atlantic Citizens Hear How Council Does Business

The Atlantic Improvement Association at its regular monthly meeting last night elected the following men as a nominating committee, Messrs Taylor, Hill, Kilpatrick, Cusick, and Barnes.

Fourteen new members were received and indications point to a large strong organization of influential men and property owners of the ward.

Councilmen-elect J. R. Nelson and C. E. Carlson were present and made brief addresses. Both men were guarded in their speaking and thanked the citizens for the confidence and trust put in them, and assured the association that while no one could promise what would be done, they would give the Ward and the city their best service.

Ex-councilman Hobbs gave an excellent talk on the workings of the city council and the powers of the executive administration. He advised members to take an interest in the affairs at City Hall, and not to lose interest because election is over. He said he believed in the integrity of each administration as he had known them, but had in some cases been forced to disagree with men whom he considered friends. Mr. Hobbs answered some questions very frankly and while he thought the experiment might be made by a few contracts, yet he did not for an instant believe that the health department should be let to a contractor.

The association voted to assure the councilmen of the ward and the mayor-elect their hearty sympathy and co-operation.

BRIEFS

Mrs. Frances A. Hall of 38 Edwards street is leaving Quincy. Thursday for Milford, where she will spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Frederick A. Gould.

The Duncan which was constructed at the Fore River shipyard arrived there this morning for slight repairs to her turbines. It is thought that she will be able to leave by Monday.

Merrymount Lodge Knights of Pythias of Wollaston conferred the Page Rank on a class of twelve candidates at the meeting of Dec. 4th. The lodge has increased 73 per cent in number since Sept. first and is planning to have a public installation January first in order that the families of the new members may become better acquainted.

Bethany Women's Union is to hold a fair Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon and evening from three to ten o'clock in Bethany chapel. Several attractive features have been arranged one of the special ones being the supper which will be served in the Japanese room from 5.30 to 7.30. Wednesday evening at eight o'clock, the young people are to present "The Girl who paid the Bills," to which an admission of ten cents will be charged. A fine opportunity is offered both days to select Christmas gifts, also useful articles of every kind.

The program for tonight at Music Hall will consist of the great three reel feature subject of the well known German grand opera "Tannhauser" and lecture by Prof. Neville; Coleman, Bass, and Goffany the three man minstrel show featuring A. E. Barr Boston's famous baritone; Butler and LaMarr, comedy change artists and Kendall and Hinkley comedy duo. This will be the best program ever seen at Music hall. Matinee 2.30, evening at 8 o'clock.

—As other nations are building more battleships Premier Asquith of Great Britain says that his nation must go on building them, and that means that every other considerable nation will heed the announcement and go on building, too. Quincy and Fore River will hear the glad tidings without sorrow says the Brockton Enterprise.

Established 1870 Telephone

JOHN HALL

FUNERAL DIRECTOR

Carriage and Ambulance Service

1485 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS.

FOR SALE—A black horse, in good condition, kind and gentle, valuable for driving and light teaming. Can be seen any time at 95 Adams street, Quincy. 6-6t

FOR SALE—1910 Franklin Touring Car. Price $400. Has been overhauled recently by the Franklin Company. This car is fully equipped with gas tank, wind shield, top, and in fact, everything that is needed on an automobile. It is in first-class condition in every way. Will be pleased to demonstrate at any time. John J. Gallagher, 14 Faxon Block. 5-6t

FOR SALE—Lady's black Russian Pony jacket, size 34. At home evenings. Geo. W. Jennings, 317 Washington street, Braintree. 5-6t

FOR SALE or TO LET—New houses Apply to Thompson B. Crane, 403 Washington street, Quincy. 1-tf

FOR SALE—A small horse, express wagon and Democrat, also set of harness. Apply to Winer's, Adams Bldg, Quincy. 1-6t

WM. H. TEASDALE

REAL ESTATE

Insurance Mortgages

NOTARY PUBLIC JUSTICE OF THE PEACE

Room 23 Adams Building

Telephones { Residence 544-5 Office 888-M

6-tf

TO LET

Large Front Office Greenleaf Block—2 entrances—right at the head of the stairs—one of the most desirable offices in Quincy.

Office, Durgin-Merrill Block—3 large windows—only 1 flight up—exceptional opportunity.

Hancock Building — City Square Offices—small front office, $11 a month

Office—Hancock Chambers, 16x18 feet one flight up, very low rent.

Store House—off Granite St., in the rear of Greenleaf Block.

GREENLEAF BLOCK

CITY SQUARE

(Best Location in City)

Offices—Large or small.

Desk Room—Street floor, right in the rear of main entrance, good light and air, $5 up a month.

Transient Rooms—Well furnished and with care, $1 a day.

Furnished Rooms—With care steam heat, and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week

HALLS

Music Hall — Music Hall Block—Capacity 962 — highest possible rating by the State. "Excellent" in every particular.

New Colonial Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—Capacity 240—the best possible location for a Hall.

Hancock Hall — Hancock Building City Square—Capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,

(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)

Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 21066) Quincy

WANTED

OFFICE BOYS

Bring School Certificate

Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation

Dec. 6-3t

ANOTHER BARGAIN

Make me an offer for a ten room house on Whitwell Street.

You will own it if you will talk buy, as it is one of those chances some one will miss.

HENRY W. SAVAGE

Real Estate, Boston.

E. G. HAYDEN, Local Representative

Telephone 1877-M Quincy.

Nov 17-tf

LONG LIVED ROOFING

Buy your roofing with the idea that it is going to last for years to come.

NEPONSET PAROID ROOFING

is made carefully from the very best materials obtainable. It has received the endorsement of the leading railroads of the United States as well as that of the United States Government. We also handle the Neponset Wall Board which comes in 3 finishes and is good for any room in the house. Call or write for samples.

L. GROSSMAN & SONS

Tel. 979-W

Jackson St., Near Quincy Adams Depot

DIRECTORY NOTICE

W. A. Greenough & Co., publishers of the Quincy Directory wish to notify their patrons and the business public that they have no connection whatever with the so called Greater Boston Business Directory, but will issue the Quincy Directory for 1914 at the usual time, and will be called upon by Mr. Everett as heretofore. 6-3t

NOTICE.

Regular meeting of Clan McGregor, No. 5 O. S. C. Monday, Dec. 8, 1913. Business. Election of Officers.

ANGUS D. MARTIN, Chief.

WALTER A. MITCHELL, Sec'y. 5-3t

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS.

LOST—On Hancock street between the car barn and Dr. Hunting's residence a bunch of keys. Finder please return to the Ledger office. Suitable reward. 6-tf

TO LET—A private family will let large furnished front room with or without board. 45 Wayland street, Wollaston. 6-3t

TO LET—9 room house on Hancock street, near Quincy center. In first class repair and reasonable rent. Apply to Mr. Galligan at Kincaide's Furniture store. 6-tf

TO LET—In Wollaston very desirable five room bungalow on high land, $26; also seven room house, $30; five room apartment, $20; six room apartment, $17. All improvements and in first class condition. H. W. Richmond, 105 Brook street, Wollaston. 6-3t,6-8-10

TO LET—Tenement of 7 rooms, all improvements, 64 Merrymount road. Apply W. W. Adams, 12 Greenleaf street. 22- S-W-tf

A SNAP—7 room flat to let, all improvement, fine location, will let five dollars cheaper if taken at once. Apply H. K. Ellis, 36 Warwick street, Wollaston. Tel. Maine 4577. 5-6t

TO LET—Lower flat, 5 rooms bath modern improvements in new house pleasantly situated in corner lot 29 Atherton street, Bigelow Park. Rent reasonable to right party. Inquire on premises or 72 Glencoe place. 5-3t

TO LET—Cottage 5 rooms on Wibird street, suitable for a small family Apply 53 Newcomb street. 4-3t

UPPER APARTMENT. In two-family house on Spear Street. Five rooms, bath, large pantry and closets, also open attic with finished heated chamber. Every improvement, electric light, furnace, range etc. Ready for immediate occupancy. Telephone Quincy 278 M or enquire mornings of Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 1po

TO LET—Five nice large sunny rooms, all improvements. Apply 23 Dysart street. 4-6t

TO LET—In Wollaston Heights, a 7 room apartment, practically new, hot water heat, all modern improvements, rent reasonable to right party, location unsurpassed. F. M. Rollins, 333 Highland avenue, Wollaston. 3-4t

TO LET—Tenement 4 rooms and bath all improvements, set range. Vacant Jan. 1, 1914. Apply 180 Franklin street. 3-6t

TO LET—Newly furnished, steam heated room, modern conveniences 3 minutes from centre, 1 Adams street. 2-6t

TO LET—Upper flat in two flat new house at 1 Bradford street, 5 rooms and bath. All improvements. Ready Jan. 1st. Apply to Wm. E. Duggan, 32 Bryant avenue, West. Quincy. 26-12t

TO LET—Single house, 7 rooms, with all improvements. Inquire at 50 Warwick street, Norfolk Downs, or telephone Miss Clements, Boston-Main 1380. Nov. 22-12t

TO LET—173 Whitwell street, half house, modern conveniences, $20 per month. Ready for immediate occupancy. Apply Penniman's Stable, Granite street. 19-tf

RUSSELL PARK — Commodious house of seven rooms, large hall and bath. Modern, every convenience open fireplace, furnace, range, set tubs, electric lights, cemented cellar, etc. Best residential neighborhood. Ready for immediate occupancy. For further details or key see Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. tf lpo

TO LET—Nicest 4 room and bath lower flat in town. Every improvement $19.00. 126 Glendale road. S. E. Thomas Greenleaf Block. 17-tf

TO LET—5 room tenement at 117 Quincy street, $20 per month. Apply Berman Furniture Co. 6-tf

TO LET—Houses of 5, 6 and 10 rooms. M. T. Sullivan. Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy, Mass. 11-tf

WANTED—Lady—fair education and personality for progressive position in local work for child welfare promotion. Salary to start $1.50 per day. References necessary. State present employment. Write M. S. Ledger Office. 6-1t

WANTED—Childrens sewing. Mrs. A. J. Fox, 56 Division street, Montclair. 5-6t

WANTED—Tenors for evening service, good readers, rehearsals Friday evenings for Atlantic Memorial Congregational church. Write or apply to Spencer Apollonio, 51 Botolph street, Atlantic, Mass. 4-3t

WANTED—Competent workers on hand embroidery. To take work home Materials supplied. Write "Embroidery. Ledger office. 3-4t

WANTED—Housekeeper's position by an American woman in widower's family, reference exchanged. Mrs. D. W. Hall, Wollaston, Mass. 3-6t

WANTED—Dressmaking to do at home. F. M. Collins, 40 Quincy street, Quincy, Mass. 2-6t

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing. Myatt, 40 Baxter street. Tel. 1307-M. Quincy, Res. 22-tf

$25 reward for arrest and conviction of party who took horse out of stable Sunday night. Peter McConarty. 5 Pearl street. 5-3t

RENT FREE—until Jan. 1st. Two adjoining houses, 28 and 30 Pleasant street to desirable tenants, who will agree to stay one year, or longer. $5.00 per week in advance. Stable for one horse if desired. $1.00 a week extra. Apply 36 Pleasant street. 5-tf

GRAVEL and loam given away via Quincy Adams depot must be taken at once. Enquire of L. Grossman & Sons, Jackson street, Quincy Adams. Tel. 979-W. 3-6t

JAMES F. BURKE & CO.

Real Estate and Insurance

Care of Property. Mortgages

Justice of Peace. Notary Public

Room 4, Savings Bank Building

Tel. 885 M. Nov. 11-tf

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

LARGEST GUARANTEED CIRCULATION IN THE CITY

Vol. 28 No. 284 QUINCY MASS. MONDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 8 1913 PRICE TWO CENTS

DAKOTA DAN IS IN BUSINESS

To Open Boarding House In Fore River District

Dakota Dan, the man who did not get the Russell fortune is to open a boarding house in Quincy, in the Fore River district, according to an announcement which he made Sunday. He is to take this means of earning a living. He has already settled on a building near the Fore River yards, whose employees he will cater to. He says he believes that there is money in the proposition, or at least enough to keep him comfortable, while he continues his fight for a share of the Russell estate.

At the time Dakota Dan was telling his plans, "Fresno" was holding a reception in the Russell homestead in Melrose and welcoming his friends.

PASTIME CLUB NEW OFFICERS

The Pastime club has elected the following officers for the year—

President, Harold Smith.

Vice President, Charles French.

Secretary, Walter Allison.

Treasurer, Frank Smith.

Press Correspondent, Sherman Hayden.

An advance committee has been appointed to arrange for the next dance of the club and plans are also being made for a ladies' night to be held at the club rooms in the near future.

COURSE IN PUBLICITY

Something Every Merchant is Interested in

Secretary Bromley wishes every man who is at all interested in advertising to attend the opening Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock of Quincy's first class in the study of publicity.

Mr. John J. Morgan of the firm of Morgan & Morgan, Advertising and Selling, Boston, who has been secured to conduct the course is an able leader, having had years of experience in the advertising business. He has just completed a course of lectures before the Boston School of Commerce and Finance and is instructor in advertising at the South Boston Evening High school.

Mr. Morgan is anxious to meet tomorrow night as many men as possible when the course contemplated will be outlined and the class organized. There will be no charge whatever for this first night, in fact, any and every man interested in this great business building power is more than welcome.

The cost for the course will be very small as the Y. M. C. A. is not conducting it as a money-making scheme, but as a helpful service to the merchants and men of Quincy.

Every local merchant who wants to increase his business and every clerk anxious to earn more money should be at the Y. M. C. A. Building, 6 Washington street . tomorrow night promptly at 8 o'clock. Tell your friends to come—there's lots of room for all.

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

DEAD BABY GIRL FOUND IN TRUNK

Woman Under Surveilance at City Hospital

An autopsy was performed on the body of the baby girl found at the bottom of a closed trunk in the house at 36 Arthur street Saturday night but no verdict has been given out by Medical Examiner Fred E. Jones who completed his examination just before midnight. It is rumored however that action will be taken by the police in the matter.

Mrs. Anna Kantolo, a widow is at the Quincy City Hospital by orders of Dr. Jones. She was found in a hysterical condition by Captain Daniel R. McKay and patrolman Dinneen at the house. A search revealed the body of the infant under a pile of clothes at the bottom of the trunk.

The visit of the police followed closely upon complaints made by neighbors that the house of Mrs. Kantolo had been locked up for several days and they suspected something had happened to her. Although under surveillance at the hospital she has not been placed under arrest.

IS STRONG ON THE DEFENSE

Captain Clifton Young of the Quincy high eleven has been named centre on the second interscholastic football team picked by A. J. Woodlock of the Boston Globe. He is the only local man given this recognition.

Captain Young is a very popular student and numbers practically every pupil as his friend. He took up athletics during his freshman year and through hard consistent work secured a place on the line. He is the only school captain playing at centre and at no time has he lost track of his game, or allowed any of the opposing teams to plug an opening through him.

His passing has been consistent and the way he diagnoses plays has been nothing short of remarkable. Strong of build and possessing the courage necessary for real football he has in his offensive work set a fine example for his team to follow. On the defensive, to quote several out of town papers, he has struck terror in the hearts of his opponents and in many games cut so wide a swath through hitherto unbroken lines that he was responsible for that team losing the grip on what they considered victory.

AN ANIMATED DISCUSSION

The question, "Didn't Ireland have Home Rule once before" propounded by Alexander MacDonald, a local Scotsman, precipitated a discussion at the meeting of the Quincy Branch of the United Irish Land League Sunday evening which continued until midnight. Many guests were present, several nationalities being represented Tentative plans for the testimonial to O'Donovan Rossa the Irish patriot who is living in New York in poverty were accepted. The latest phases of the Irish situation was considered and several papers from members in England and Ireland bearing on the recent developments were presented to the meeting. President Peter McConarty presided.

ADVERTISED LETTERS.

Letters remain uncalled for at the Quincy post office for: Petr Bradiuk, William Crosby, Nicol DiCeglie, Robert Jay, Jan Jeczewiczc, Oone Kaparyuy, Ebam Kazmuprizko, Miss Lizzie Kerr, Daniel Lyens, L. Manderbacka, Mrs. Liby Miller, Guiseppa Mingirulli, Jack Moody, John Mulready, Thomas Wm. Pybum, Mattis Svensson and Andrew Wilson.

☞PRATT'S BREAD is always in favor because delicious in flavor. Your grocer.

WILL PROBABLY BE RE-ELECTED

J. L. Whiton Logical Man For President of New Council

There is but little question but that Joseph L. Whiton, will be elected as President of the City Council of 1914, when the new City government is inaugurated the first Monday in January. President Whiton has served as President of the City Council of 1913 for the greater part of the year, and he is the logical man for the position next year.

He was the unanimous choice of the City Council to fill the position at the time President Charles M. Bryant resigned and declined re-election. It was a particularly trying position for a new man to assume, but being well up in parliamentary practice he readily grasped the situation and the business of the council since that time has been conducted in a business like and expeditious manner.

PRESIDENT JOSEPH L. WHITON

His rulings have always been fair and impartial. It mattered not who the Councilman was, if he overstepped his grounds, down would come the gavel. At the same time he has been uniformly courteous to all. It takes a firm hand at times to keep the Council in check and when such occasions have arisen he has quickly demonstrated that he was a master of the situation. In bodies of this kind it is customary to allow some leeway, and it has been allowed, but care has been exercised that it did not go too far. With his nearly a year's experience, the Council of 1914 can not do better than to place him again in the chair, and as far as known there is no opposition to his election.

ANNIE G. ERICKSON.

Mrs. Annie G. Erickson died this morning at her home at 488 Beale street after a short illness. She was in her 35th year and leaves a husband, Axel Erickson and several children.

SIXTH SEASON

Quincy Choral Society

Mr. GEORGE S. DUNHAM, Conductor

MISCELLANEOUS PROGRAM and

HIAWATHA'S WEDDING FEAST

By S. COLERIDGE-TAYLOR

HIGH SCHOOL HALL

WEDNESDAY EVENING, DEC. 10th, 1913

At 8 o'clock

SOLOIST

MR. ARTHUR HACKETT, Tenor

BROCKTON PHILHARMONIC ORCHESTRA

TICKETS

LIMITED number reserved seats 75 cents. General admission 50 cents

TICKETS for sale by members and at Hearn's Drug Store.

Dec. 1-6t-1-3-6-8-9-10

IN MEMORY OF DEPARTED ELKS

Quincy Lodge Pays Tribute to Departed Brothers

In accordance with the laws governing the Protective and Benevolent Order of Elks Sunday was observed by the different lodges throughout the country as memorial Sunday in memory of brothers who have passed to the great beyond.

In accordance with this custom Quincy lodge of Elks held its memorial service at the clubhouse on Foster street Sunday evening, the services being largely attended by brothers. The service was in charge of the officers of the lodge the memorial address being given by Exalted Ruler, Philip H. Sullivan.

During the past year Quincy lodge has lost three brothers by death, Victor J. Terrio, James H. Coleman and Joseph E. Lane. Refreshments were served after the service.

Sunday afternoon James M. Sweeney and Henry P. Kittredge represented Quincy lodge at the memorial service of Boston lodge which was held at the Colonial theatre, Boston. This service was of a high order consisting of music, tableaux and oratory.

TOUCH OF WINTER.

Quincy's first touch of real winter came Sunday during the night when the wind shifted, and with the shift of wind came a cold wave which turned the rain that had fallen earlier in the night into ice. It was a surprise to many on going out early this morning to find the ground covered with ice and frost. A cold high wind prevailed all the morning, even the sun not being warm enough to dispel the coldness of the air. Colder but pleasant weather is indicated for tomorrow. At times this morning there were a few snow flurries, a reminder that winter is not far off.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

DROPS DEAD AT HIS MACHINE

Granite Polisher Suddenly Stricken While at Work

John Sanderson, 56 years, old of 53 McDonnell street collapsed while at work in the polishing mill of Bishop Bros. in South Quincy this morning and died before medical assistance arrived. Medical Examiner Fred E. Jones said death was due to heart failure.

Sanderson entered upon his duties this morning apparently in normal condition. He was guiding a polishing wheel over the surface of a large piece of granite when he was seen to stagger. His hold on the handle loosened and he fell prostrate on the staging surrounding the polishing bed.

Workmen ran to his assistance and Dr. J. T. Reynolds was summoned. Death ensued shortly after the call was sent out. The body was removed to the undertaking rooms of John Hall and will be taken later to the home from which the funeral will be held..

Sanderson has been a resident of Quincy for 25 years. He was a granite polisher by trade and well known among the members of the craft throughout the country. He was a member of Clan McGregor, Order of Scottish Clans. He leaves his wife and several daughters.

☞Mrs. Fred A. Holbrook will hold a Christmas sale of fancy work and embroidery at her home 58 Revere Road Tuesday, Dec. 9, afternoon and evening. 5-3t

DIRECTORY NOTICE

W. A. Greenough & Co., publishers of the Quincy Directory wish to notify their patrons and the business public that they have no connection whatever with the so called Greater Boston Business Directory, but will issue the Quincy Directory for 1914 at the usual time, and will be called upon by Mr. Everett as heretofore. 6-3t

MARRIED AT BROCKTON

Bride and Groom Well Known in Educational Circles

Miss Daisey Peterson of Brockton and Cyril Franklin Randall son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Frank Randall of Braintree, former Quincy residents, were married at Brockton Sunday evening. Both are well known in educational circles throughout the state. The groom is a graduate of the Washington school at Quincy Point and Adams Academy. While there he was awarded the Adams gold medal and the alumni prize. He studied four years at the State Normal school at Hyannis, graduating from there in 1905. He has attended the Harvard Summer school for three terms and was three years principal of the Maple street school in Danvers and is now a principal at a Bridgewater grammar school.

Miss Peterson is well known in Brockton. She is a graduate of the Normal Art School at Boston and for the past three years has been drawing instructor in Springfield. The couple met at a party given in Springfield at which Miss Peterson was prominent. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Peterson of Brockton.

Viola Peterson, a sister of the bride was her attendant and Charles Sherman of Middleboro was the bridegroom. They assisted in receiving at the reception. Mr. and Mrs. Randall will live in Bridgewater.

DISTRICT COURT.

Benjamin F. Harrison of 1293 Massachusetts avenue, Boston pleaded nolo to a charge of violation of the Metropolitan Park rules at Milton and paid $3, cost of court.

Daniel H. McKay and John Brown, charged with drunkenness at Quincy were fined $10 each. Probation to March 24, 1914.

KINCAIDE FURNITURE STORE

THE HOUSE OF HELPFUL CREDIT

GIVE

Christmas Gifts of Furniture

In all this wide world you couldn't find a more acceptable or pleasing present. Mother, father, sister, brother — all the family will enjoy it for years to come. And if you'll come to this Great Store you'll find hundreds of happy holiday gift suggestions of that sensible, satisfactory sort.

Stocks are now at their best. Credit as freely given as ever. Goods will be delivered when wanted. So why not come now and settle some of your gift problems? COME.

It's only 2 weeks and 3 days to Christmas

CLOCKS for CHRISTMAS

Lots here to choose from

98c $2.50 $4.75 $6.50 $8.50 $10.25 to $15

SUIT CASES

from 89c up to $12

Genuine Leather BAGS

$5, 6.25, 7.50 to $15

ODD CHAIRS AND ROCKERS

More than 100 to choose from here, in Oak, Mission and Mahogany. All Styles

1.75, 2.50, 3.98, 4.50, 5.25, 6.75 to $20

FIVE BIG FLOORS OF

Christmas Gifts That Mean Something

KINCAIDE & CO. Quincy's Live Furniture Store

Entire Building 1495 Hancock St.

HERE'S a noteworthy fact about the live store and its service.

Even at this late date you can secure practically as wide a choice in

Kuppenheimer Clothes

as at the beginning of the season.

Copyright 1913 The House of Kuppenheimer

English, Semi-English or Conservative Suits for men and young men of every style and fabric preference.

$18 – $27.00

All sorts and sizes in O'COATS

$18 to $27

Copyright 1913 The House of Kuppenheimer

$10.00 $12.00 $15.00

SUITS AND O'COATS up to the minute for Style and Fabric

By comparison you can prove for yourself a saving to you from $2.00 to $3.00 a Garment.

REMICK'S, Music Hall Block

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second-Class matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

TELEPHONES
News . . . Quincy 425
Business . . Quincy 1910

NOTICE

Again we ask those sending news or other matter by mail to direct it to the company or newspaper rather than to individual members of the company or employees. If addressed to individuals and they were ill or not at the office, it might be several days in reaching its proper destination and if news matter would be too late for use.

It is hoped that next time the oil trusts will select a better man for president of Mexico.

President Wilson says the trusts should be unscrambled, but it is claimed that he poached this issue from Bryan.

The fact that the Sunday schools are filling up about now is not solely due to enthusiasm for study of the Hebrew sacred literatures.

After an eligible young bachelor has received as Christmas gifts, seventeen superfluous shaving sticks scented with sachet, he begins to see the advantages of wedded life.

President Wilson again appeared before his Congressional pupils and read his message and neither pieces of chalk nor spitballs were thrown at him.

The abolition of mass plays cut out some of the football accidents, but it is still possible to break a fellow's spine by a well directed tackle.

Although nothing important has happened recently in Mexico, the Washington correspondents have been earning their pay by producing some sensational dispatches daily.

It was fortunate for those oil reservoirs down in Mexico, that Mrs. Pankhurst decided that that country did not need illumination at this time.

From the length of the program at Washington, it looks as if the Congressmen would have to get up this winter at the unearthly hour of 10 A. M.

Owing to the high cost of mowing the lawns at the many scattered government posts, an increase in the army appropriation of $10,000,000 is asked for.

If any one is looking for a good quiet place where he can rest up and sleep, he should go to the New York stock exchange.

The Pennsylvania railroad is conducting a campaign against the wearing of tight skirts by women, as leading to accidents, but it has not so far tried to stop the stars in their orbits.

The Hague conference has been postponed for a year or two, but this is not because the judges of the court of arbitration are complaining about overwork.

If you are so rash as to buy eggs nowadays, don't expect you are going to be given any exemptions under the income tax.

TOYS OF THE AGES.

Santa Claus carries a heavy freight nowadays in his reindeer pulled conveyance, it being estimated that the gifts of toys to the children of the country a year cost at least $20,000,000 mostly given Dec. 25.

The modern toy shop is a realm of fascination to young hearted folks of all ages. Marvellous as some of the new mechanical wonders seem, the toys in the main are about the same thing as children have played with for untold centuries.

One thinks of mechanical steamboats and automobiles that are wound up and go, as purely modern. Yet one reads that in Egyptian mummies 6000 years old, there have been discovered toy crocodiles, whose jaws wagged back and forth as freely as the 1913 Paris doll rolls her waxy eyes.

The modern child still finds joy in Noah's arks. But the Grecian kid of 2000 years ago, played with Trojan horses that opened up and revealed lurking soldiers. One of the ideas of educators is to give children plastic clay to model, to develop their sense of form. This seems quite 20th century, until you read that the Kaffir children of South Africa have been doing the same thing for generations.

After all it is the stock and standard toys of the ages that please the heart of Toddlekins. The mechanical railroad train may be smashed the day after Christmas. But the tin soldiers made in Nuremberg, of which over 100,000 pounds are shipped to this country yearly, are pulled out every rainy day.

Substantial little toys of this kind produce an immense amount of juvenile happiness and are worth every dollar they cost. Three-quarters of the mechanical toys are fakes. They are built to shine on the tree, and cost quite a substantial sum, but their frail mechanism goes to smash before the paint has begun to rub off.

NEWSPAPER TRAINING.

The recent meeting at the University of Wisconsin of teachers of journalism from all over the country, signifies that this form of preparation for newspaper work is getting larger support than editors anticipated. While the experiment was regarded in a friendly way in newspaper offices, there was a feeling that the only way to learn reporting and editing is simply to get a job as a reporter or editor and try yourself out.

Any well conducted newspaper, great or small, is an exceedingly useful school. It is so discriminating, so severe in its intellectual demands, that a constant procession of men are always being rejected as unfit. Usually they lack the persistent, determined industry which the newspaper game calls for. In other cases they simply haven't the mental acuteness that enables them to know a news story at sight.

These changes keep a staff constantly in motion and a fellow of real ability soon gets ahead. But it might be many years before he could get a chance to act as an editorial executive, as a political correspondent, as an art or dramatic critic or editorial writer, if his tastes and talents lay in one of those directions.

If the metropolitan paper has a vacancy to fill in one of these higher positions, it is much more apt to look to a man who has made a success in such work on some other paper, than the fellow who has not been thoroughly broken in on its own staff. Here is where the school of journalism training should prove valuable. It ought to be a short cut to one of the higher positions, doing away with long years of routine work.

But let no bearer of a journalism school degree imagine that he can skip the stage of actual reporting on some newspaper. No training on earth gives so much insight into human nature, and there is no substitute for it inside of school walls.

THE SCRAMBLE FOR OIL.

The tracks of the oil promoter are getting quite warm in this Mexican mess. The attitude of European governments is closely touched by the hustle for concessions. Down in Colombia, too, the British government has been seeking to annex profitable oil rights.

The world is using in a year, the oil it took ages to produce. When the oil is taken out, nothing is left in its place. The ordinary citizen, who had been hoping to buy an automobile with his moderate savings, sees the price of its fuel constantly advancing.

It is reported that the British navy will hereafter be constructed on an oil burning basis. Some of the latest battleship plans in this country have the same arrangement. Meanwhile oil comes more and more into daily use.

Formerly it was regarded merely as valuable for burning in lamps. Now it drives the automobile and the motor boat, and warships, railroads, and factories use it more and more.

Some predict that soon the little heater used for the living room on a cool day, will be displaced by the oil furnace in the basement. Cook stoves and ranges have oil burning attachments.

The Western states, ready to take up new ideas, are burning oil so freely in daily life that there is a saying in the trade that "the Pacific coast eats oil."

In the best days of the Pennsylvania oil fields, it used to be said that the oil was worth less than the barrels it was put in. Now the Pennsylvania oil production has fallen in 20 years from 33,000,000 barrels to 9,000,000. With a demand constantly increasing, the supply constantly decreasing, the appetite for new sources like Mexico becomes simply ravenous.

Under these circumstances, this rush for the oil supply is another case of spendthrift waste of resources. It is particularly objectionable when it embroils diplomacy and introduces a dangerous trail of commercialism to South American countries.

THE WEEK'S FINANCES.

(Special to Ledger.)

The message of the President, delivered in person to the two houses of Congress in joint session on Tuesday afternoon, merits commendation as a document in which the financial, mercantile and industrial interests of the country all are keenly interested. It is refreshing and encouraging to turn to the Executive's remarks, expressed so calmly and in moderation, at a time demagogues seem to be becoming so increasingly popular. Mr. Wilson fully refutes recent charges that he has no "policy" in connection with the belligerent country south of the Rio Grande. He indicates, clearly, that events in the disturbed republic are working themselves out in a much more satisfactory way than if armed intervention had taken place, and that all that is still necessary is a continuance of "watchful waiting" by our own Government.

Reports of engagements and of military advantages recently gained by the revolutionist forces seem to confirm the wisdom of the President's attitude. Another significant feature of the message was the announcement that he would delay for a special message his recommendations on trust legislation. The President particularly urges prompt action on the banking and currency law. It is evident that his attention in the immediate future is to be centered upon the enactment of such a measure. In this respect it becomes more than probable that his efforts will be successful. Thus new legislation affecting corporations may be eliminated from stock market calculations for the immediate market.

It must be conceded that the recent turmoil in Mexico has contributed a specific part of the general influence of depression that has resulted in reducing quotations of many leading stocks between twenty and thirty points. Therefore if the interpretation be accurate that this particular source of weakness is nearing culmination, it is not logical to expect soon an upward reaction of proportions to at least partially compensate for the original decline. A part at least of the better tone displayed by the market this week seems to have this feature in view.

The general financial situation appears also to be working into a position reflecting to some extent returning confidence in the price level, owing to the usual tendency to discount future happenings. The recent protracted decline has probably not only discounted the ills that we have been compelled to experience in the last few months, but the ills that are still to come. It may now be possible to discount improvement in the future. There has been a marked recession in general industrial and mercantile activities. This is not unlikely to increase before it finally culminates. But the market for securities may already be regarded as being in a position, to some extent, where it is looking beyond the point of culmination.

The entire civilized world seems at the moment to be under the spell of social unrest which regards success as a crime. At home here the unjust vile and malicious attacks against Wall Street, inspired by small-calibered, hence unsuccessful and jealous individuals, largely aided by intriguing demagogues whose purpose is to incite the poor against the rich so that they can become their leaders and beneficiaries, are at last asserting their pernicious influence upon the general business of the entire nation, thereby dwarfing trade transactions, throwing labor out of employment, which if not soon stopped will be likely to grow to serious proportions. Our steel mills are shutting down and putting many hands on short time or entirely out of employment. One-half of our woolen mills are shut down. New incorporations, an excellent indication of business conditions, have been shrinking steadily and are less than half what they were a year ago. Our new capital issues since Jan. 1, have been about thirty per cent less than for the same time last year. This list of injuries, having their chief source in senseless hostility to capital, could be indefinitely extended, but it is sufficient to prove the harm already done, which falls with greatest severity upon labor and the men of moderate means. The general impression is made to prevail that all bad promotions and other offences originate in Wall Street, and that the New York Stock Exchange is Wall Street. As a matter of fact, the New York Exchange is on Broad Street, and nine-tenths of the financial business of New York is transacted by financial institutions, banking houses and Stock Exchange members who are located in Broadway, Nassau, William, Broad, Beaver, Cedar and Pine streets. Thus the use of the term "Wall Street," in many cases for misleading and slanderous attacks upon all engaged in financial work, is a serious menace to confidence, which is now so much lacking.

That our country is not alone in its trouble is instanced by the overthrow of the French Ministry this week for its refusal to impose a tax on the proposed issue of 1,300,000,000 francs of new 3 per cent rentes. The proceeds of this large loan are necessary to carry out the military programme which France, in sympathy with Continental Europe as a whole, feels impelled to assume. The Socialist spirit is abroad in Germany, in Austria and Italy, not to mention the present British Government, which unfortunately may almost be considered the leader of the movement that is pitting the poor against the rich.

One of the most important forms that the current antagonism to big business is taking at home is the refusal of the Government, through the Interstate Commerce Commission, to permit the railroads of this country to charge living rates for carrying merchandise. The Interstate Commerce Commissions are undoubtedly influenced, possibly unintentionally biased, by the political and popular disfavor in which the transportation lines are concededly held. By adoption this attitude people seem to forget entirely that they are injuring themselves. There are probably about 500,000 stockholders in the leading railroads of this country. These are direct holders. They constitute a not unsubstantial part of our entire population who have their savings thus invested and are entitled as American citizens to the full protection of their property rights. But beyond this there are very many millions of our citizens who are indirectly benefited or injured by the prosperity or the reverse of the railroad lines. I refer especially to depositors in savings banks and policy holders in insurance companies. Both of these classes of financial institutions have large reserve funds invested in railroad securities. A recent compilation which may serve as an illuminating instance shows that the savings banks in six States of the East have 6,636,343 depositors and that 20 per cent of the total deposits in these institutions are invested in the securities of railroads. Every one of these 6,636,343 depositors should recognize that he has a personal interest in working in his individual capacity for fair play for the great transportation lines. And it may, I believe be taken for granted that the conditions in the six States of which statistics are available are equally representative of all the States of the Union. Thus it is hardly possible to exaggerate the importance of adequate railroad transportation charges to all these interests who are concerned in such a practical manner in the prosperity of the railroads.

The bond and stock market now offers attractive opportunities for their purchase by discriminating investors.

Henry Clews, Banker

New York, Dec. 5, 1913.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATION.

A competitive examination will be held for the position of Supervisor of Relief to Dependent Mothers in the Department of the State Board of Charity for service in the execution of the laws relating to supervision of relief of mothers and dependent children. This examination will be held on Dec. 22. There is one vacancy. The appointee it to be a woman. The salary is not to exceed $2,250 per annum.

Applicants must possess ability to direct the details of the work of not less than five visitors whose business it will be to visit and inspect home conditions, under the supervision of the supervisor of relief. Applicants must possess training and experience in case work with dependent families, similar, to that gained in the work of charity organization societies and the better agencies for material relief. They must be capable of understanding and executing the duties of the State Board of Charity with reference to the settlement laws of Massachusetts, and of representing the Board of Charity in its supervisory and advisory relationship with the several Boards of Overseers of the Poor. Administrative experience is of special importance.

The examination will consist of a sworn statement of training and experience, arithmetic, report writing, handwriting, and of practical questions which aim to test the applicant's knowledge of the law and ability to interpret it, as well as her general fitness for the position. Only citizens of the United States who have been residents of Massachusetts for the past year have a right to apply.

Women desiring to take this examination may secure application blanks by applying, in person or by letter, at the office of the Civil Service Commission, Room 152, State House, Boston, Mass.

Applications may be filed at any time; but in order that the applicant may appear at this examination, the application paper must be filled out and placed on file in the office of the Commission before 5 P. M., Dec. 15.

BUILDING PERMITS.

Inspector of Buildings Warren S. Parker, reports having issued the following building permits during the past week.

Leory M. Hull, dwelling, Vassall street.

Leory S. Hill, dwelling, Vassall street.

Ida Candon, alteration, Palmer street.

Frieda Bergham, auto house, Dorchester street.

Gertrude E. Morse, alteration, Bellevue road.

Albert Loranda, auto house, Gilbert street.

William G. Spargo, alteration, Roberts street.

Ralph Coal Co. stable, etc, Weston avenue.

Mrs. B. F. Chase, dwelling, Marlboro street.

Walter H. Stewart, dwelling, Kemper street.

Hattie H. Wagner, dwelling, Farrington street.

William J. Hartley, dwelling, Atlantic street.

Niels Nelson alteration, Hall place.

Herman G. Bryan, alteration, Madison street.

BEGGING CANVASSERS HERE.

A few days since a young man called at a Milton home selling some articles, and volunteered the statement that he did this to help himself through the Harvard Law School. As no purchase was made, he said, "Then you are not willing to help me out." A few days later, two boys called at this same home, soliciting subscriptions to three magazines and saying that they must do this to work their way through high school and college. When the subscription was denied they said, "Then you are not willing to help out the boys." Their statement was so much like that of the former canvasser that they gave the impression of being coached, and this impression was heightened when it was discovered that there was a man at the street corner directing their movements. Unfortunately no names were taken by the householder.

If this man or these boys are genuine, the Social Service League may be able to enlist some help in their behalf. If their representations are fraudulent it is for their own interest as well as for the community that this business be checked. Before anyone responds to such an appeal it is well to look into the antecedents of the solicitors.—Milton Record.

TO INVESTIGATE CAUSE OF DEATH

Mystery Surrounding the Death of Michael Glynn

Instead of being interred Sunday afternoon, the body of Michael Glynn of Neponset, well known in this city, was taken to the morgue of the Boston City Hospital by orders of Medical Examiner Timothy Leary. An autopsy will be performed so that the cause of death may be determined.

Mr. Glynn died at the Carney hospital after a short illness starting from a troublesome tooth. Death was very sudden and the death certificate was signed by one of the hospital physicians who says the cause of death was unknown.

None but Undertaker Edward L. Bean and the family were aware of the final disposition of the body and the many friends that attended the services which were probably the most imposing that ever took place in Neponset did not know that the hearse carried the body to the morgue.

The man had hemophilia according to the medical examiner. Rumors are rife in the neighborhood but it has been declared that they are theories that Mr. Glynn died from natural causes.

The deceased was in his 52nd year and actively campaigned in the interests of the workingman. He was a machinist and a member of a score of societies.

THE SATURDAY NIGHT FIRE

The alarm from Box 725 at 6.05 Saturday night was for a slight fire in the old Hayden house on Winter street, occupied by Elizabeth Hassan Asmaied. The fire was caused by the boiling over of a kettle of fat in the basement. The fire made quite a smoke and while one of the boarders ran to sound the alarm the others extinguished the fire so that the department had nothing to do when it arrived.

STAND UP STRAIGHT.

The first essential in the avoidance of tuberculosis of the lungs, or consumption, is to keep the lungs strong, so that if the germs are breathed they can do no harm. One of the most important things in keeping the lungs strong is to keep the chest wide open so that the lungs can be properly used. If the body is drooped or stoops, or if the shoulders are allowed to drag forward (round shoulder,) or of the head is carried forward instead of well back over the shoulders, the chest must be flattened, the breathing must be shallow, and the lungs, not being freely used, become weak. It is in this type of chest that tuberculosis usually begins. The consumptive is usually narrow-chested, with drooped shoulders and with the head craned forward. While the development of a strong, well-formed chest is one of the most important factors in preventing tuberculosis, the same thing is to be desired if the disease has once started. Not only should we live in the open, but we should stand up straight and learn to "throw a big chest," so that the lungs can grow strong and the fresh air be taken in. The runner, the singer, or any one obliged to make sustained effort is taught to stand and sit with the chest high so that the lungs can be used to the best advantage, and if everyone would do the same thing there would be less tuberculosis because there would be fewer weak lungs.

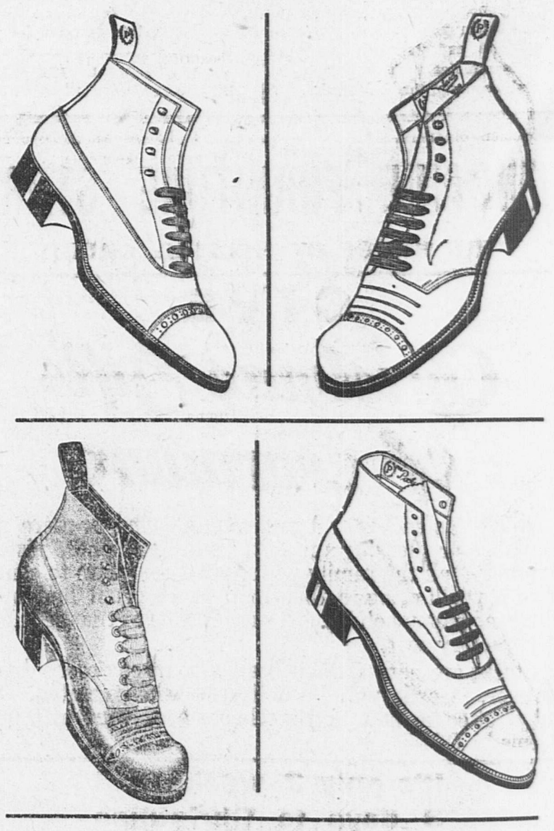
—The United States supreme court decision upholding the foreign corporation tax of Massachusetts is "expected to put three-quarters of a million dollars into the state treasury." But the money won't stay there long. Where there are a score of propositions looking to an increase in the expenditures of the state, not once in a hundred times do the people hear of any pronounced scheme on Beacon Hill to cut down expenses. The howling is directed almost entirely to the spending of money. It is neither the fashion not the trend of legislation to practice real economy.—Salem News.

(ADVERTISE.)

ARTHUR L. THOMAS
Attorney-at-Law
3-4-5-6 Greenleaf Block
Telephone Quincy 460 Jan.2-1y

Capital $150,000 Surplus $200,000
If It's Strong Enough For The State
It's Strong Enough For You!
This bank is a legal depository for funds of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. It is a strong and substantial institution. It is managed with the best interests of its depositors in mind. It is safe-guarded by both state and federal regulation. Its officers and directors are men known to you as successful and level-headed. It is a good place for you to bank.
Our $5 Box Is Larger Than a $10 Box In Boston.
GRANITE TRUST CO.
FOUNDED 1836

EXCHANGE YOUR INGERSOLL WATCH
Special Offer
We will take your Ingersoll Watch in exchange and allow the full price you originally paid no matter where you bought it—toward the purchase of a high grade, extra accurate jeweled TRENTON model—the first really fine watch at a moderate price.
Trenton Watches from $5.00 to $25.00
An opportunity to save $1 to $2 on your Xmas Present
SANDBERG BROS.



REMICK'S
Music Hall Block, Quincy

THE CORSET SHOP
8 Maple Street
All Popular makes of
Corsets and Brassieres
Hosiery and
McCall Patterns
Correct fitting of Corsets a specialty
I have been very fortunate to have, during my temporary absence, the services of an expert corsettiere, who who will give the same personal attention to fittings and alterations as has always been accorded to customers.
MISS S. E. DUNPHY
Oct. 30-tf

SUNDAY IN QUINCY CHURCHES

NOTE—Press corespondents of Churches are requested to limit reports of sermons to 100 words, unless abstracts are requested. Where fifty or more sermons are delivered in Quincy every Sunday it is impossible to report them at length. Brief items of church news are requested. Name and address should accompany all reports.

FIRST CHURCH.

Continuing his series of sermons on "The Evolution of Religion," Rev. A. L. Hudson at the First church, Sunday took for his sermon "The influence of Persian Dualism on the Religion of Israel."

His text was from the 13th chapter of the Gospel of St. Matthew, the 52nd verse, "Then said he unto them. Therefore every scribe which is instructed into the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is an householder, which bringeth forth out of his treasure, things new and old." So, said the speaker is the influence of religion. It is something that has a growing power like a mustard seed, the least of all seeds, but when it is grown it is the greatest among herbs. It therefore brings forth from its treasures something that is new and old. The perfect home consists of an adjustment of something new and old. The process of selection adds a touch, not found when everything is new. So to have the perfect home we must make a perfect adjustment of things old and things new. Unitarianism is conservative rather than radical. It is the development of the deepest religious idea coming down to us step by step until today it finds its highest conception. No form separates us from instant communication with God. So we go back to the Persian Dualism Their creed of good and evil has been handed down to us and become implanted in New England Calvinism.

Continuing on down through the different periods the speaker said, so the central idea is that good men will fight against the evil. He would not if he could change the minds of those who believed in the teachings of the old Persian religion for without it they would be a lawless people. For the ignorant classes the religion of good and evil is the best. The conception of good and evil explains the great problem of life.

WOLLASTON CONGREGATIONAL.

Sunday was recognized in churches throughout the land as Bible Sunday and anti-tuberculosis Sunday.

The first part of the pastor's morning talk was addressed primarily to the Junior Endeavorers who added to our service by singing and the recitation of mottos. Dr. Sneath urged them, when they become men and women to lend their efforts to the campaign against child labor, crowded tenements, and the liquor traffic, the three evils perhaps most instrumental in spreading the dreaded disease.

In the latter part of his address Dr. Sneath told of the worth of the Bible to the world. He gave statistics regarding the great sale of the book last year mentioned many great men in the fields of literature, politics, and science who have been thorough students of the Bible.

In closing he quoted the words of former Governor William Russell: "There is something better than making a living, and that is making a life." In this effort, said Dr. Sneath the greatest agency, next to the help of the heavenly father is the Bible with its precepts and teachings.

WOLLASTON UNITARIAN.

At the Sunday morning service at the Wollaston Unitarian church, Rev. Carl G. Horst preached upon "The Life worth While." He said "Our greatest need today is a reliant trust in God, a restful faith in the divine order. We need to cultivate acquaintance with God whom to know is life eternal here and now. This is best done by a devout attitude of mind, by meditation, by prayer, by reading sacred books of the holiest and wisest of our fellowmen, by shutting out the world and communing with God in the quiet hour where none but God can hear." Both the solo by Mrs. R. L. Turner and the anthem by the Girls' Choir were much appreciated.

The Wollaston Forum spent a most profitable hour in discussing remedies for the social ills. Next Sunday's session will be opened by Walter M. Hatch.

Rev. Carl G. Horst last week addressed the Women's Alliance of Cohasset and the men of Houghs Neck at their chapel.

The department of social and public service of the American Unitarian Association is publishing a series of bulletins that are having a wide circulation. The latest bulletin (No. 30) deals with "The Control of Tuberculosis" by Mark W. Richardson, M. D., Secretary of the State Board of Health of Massachusetts. Copies of it may be had free upon application to Miss H. E. Turner, 25 Winthrop avenue, Wollaston.

The monthly meeting of the Wollaston Unitarian club will be held Tuesday night, dinner at 6.30, subject, "The Birth of the Telephone," speaker, Thomas A. Watson of East Braintree, the only co-worker with Bell in developing the idea of the telephone.

Sunday evening, Dec. 21, a special Christmas service, largely musical, will be held in the church. No service of the kind has ever been held in this city. Do not fail to attend this unique hour of Christmas cheer.

It is customary in not a few Unitarian churches to have memorial printed programs for Christmas, Easter and other special services. It is a beautiful way thus to remember relatives or friends and present every worshipper with a souvenir of the service that will long be cherished.

The Ladies' Aid Alliance hold a sale of aprons Wednesday afternoon.

Seldom a week passes that our minister is not asked to give notice from the pulpit of this or that meeting. He always likes to be obliging and is ever ready to help on any good work for the welfare of the city, but it is the practice in our church not to give notices of any kind during the services of worship Sunday morning. Whenever there is room in "The Dial" our weekly church calendar, such notices will gladly be printed in its columns.

On Christmas Sunday the Girls' choir will be assisted by a mixed quartet.

WOLLASTON BAPTIST.

"Remember Jesus Christ" was the subject of the morning sermon at the Wollaston Baptist church. There were seven different conditions expressed in which we might fittingly remember Jesus Christ.

1. In temptation—Jesus was tempted in every point as we are, and more over God realized the temptations that would come to us for we have His promise that He "will not suffer us to be tempted above that which we can bear."

2. When we fall—We often remember that God is our judge, but we sometimes forget His unfailing love for us. Christ always remembers, loves, forgives and many a time uses, His repentent children.

3. In misunderstanding—Christ was misunderstood all His life, by His parents, by His disciples, by those who hated Him. We have a companion who can see the motive which lies underneath what others will misunderstand.

4. In extremity—As God was with the children of Israel in their extremity, so we have One who will deliver us from or through our trouble.

5. In prosperity—Christmas is coming and we give gifts—are we giving to Him?

6. In our youth—"Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth."

7. In old age.

Mrs. Ariadna E. Kendall and Mr. George W. Bass received the Right Hand of Fellowship and the Communion was observed at thec lose of the service.

The rain did not prevent 241 from attending the Sunday School session, 34 of whom were in the Rand Young Men's Class. The membership and attendance contest is awakening keen interest among all members of the church, the score now standing is 17 13 in favor of the Green Team. Active preparations are being made for the Sunday School concert which will occur Dec. 21.

There were 25 present at the meting of the Junior C. E. at 3.30. The meeting was in charge of rMs. Walther, subject, "Lessons from Bible Heroes." The boys and girls of this society are also running an attendance contest; at present the Red side is ahead.

The meeting of the Y. P. S. C. E. at 6.00 was in charge of Miss Marion Porter, and was a great success from all points of view. The attendance and participation was inspiringly large.

The sermon at the Praise Service at 7.00 was "The Why of Baptism" and was most fittingly followed by the administration of the ordinance to Mrs. Charles A. Bennett, and Miss Rachel McLoud.

The Judson Centenial celebration in Burma begins December 10, and one of the services of the day will be a prayer meeting at 8.30 P. M. This is 9.00 A. M. in the United States and at that time a simultaneous prayer-meeting will be held at the Ford Building, 15 Ashburton lace, Boston. The service lasts an hour, and all are cordially invited. Wednesday evening at 7.45 the Personal Workers Training Class will meet in the Chapel. This class is in charge of the pastor and many pertinent questions are discussed there.

PARK AND DOWNS.

At the morning service at the Park and Downs Congregational church Sunday baptism service for infants was held, followed by the service for the reception of new adult members, then the simple but deeply solemn Communion service was celebrated. At the evening service the text was, Romans XII—21. "Be not overcome of evil but overcome evil with good."

"There is only one sure and permanent safeguard against the constant disappointments which the world has to offer to each life, that is unremitting self improvement. Against hate and enmity, self improvement arms one with honor and truth and gives the lie to the evil things that men would say against us—ambition, vocation with many of us middle life reveals how far short of our hopes we are to fall. The only way to improve your condition, your vocation, it to improve yourself. But when men are disappointed in themselves and lose faith in self, then they are thrown back upon God if they are to keep hope.

HALL PLACE M. E.

At the Sunday morning service at the Hall Place M. E. church the sacrament of Baptism was administered to three persons and four received into the church on probation. The sacrament of the Lord's Supper was also observed, William H. Richardson, spoke briefly at the morning service. He spoke of the keeping of the Sabbath and the studying of the word of God and brought these verses to memory "Trust in God with all thine heart and lean not unto thine own understanding. In all thy ways acknowledge Him and He shall direct thy path."

Sunday school followed the morning service. The superintendent introduced Mr. Richardson, who addressed the school after which he presented the following with Bibles or new Testaments for memorizing Bible verses; Rena Piola, 150 verses; Mona Norris, 125, Sarah Fuller 104, Ethel Nichols 100, Charles Stewart 100, Maud Nichols 100, Hilda Francis 100, Edna Miller 50, Ethel Newcomb 66, Addie Newcomb 54, Nellie Keyes 50, Ethel Miller 50, Carrie Keyes 50, Florence Manhire 50, Grace Newcomb 50, Albert Keyes 25, Charles Hazel 10 and George Hazel 10.

Mr. Richardson said it gave him great pleasure to present these Bibles This is the Fourth Sunday School that he has presented Bibles to.

Rev. T. C. Martin led the Epworth League service on "Has God a plan for your life."

At the seven o'clock service the pastor gave a stereopticon talk.

Thursday evening, the Ladies' Aid hold their annual Christmas sale, supper and entertainment. The fourth vice president of the Epworth League will have charge of the entertainment.

Junior League at 3.45 Friday afternoon and Prayer meeting at 7.30.

MRS. MARTIN HYLAND.

After a lingering illness of many months of pernicious anemia Mrs. Martin Hyland died early Sunday morning at her home 117 Standish avenue, Wollaston. She was in her 41st year a faithful and devoted wife and mother her home life being her whole life.

Besides her husband and daughter Anna Marie, Mrs. Hyland is survived by her mother, Mrs. Dora Gahan, her brothers Patrick Gahan of Quincy and John Gahan of Ireland and a sister Miss Annie M. Gahan whose strong affection and untiring effort has been most marked in nursing and care of her sister during all those months of anxious solcitude of her family. Rev. Fr. John J. Coan will sing a mass of requiem Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock at St. John the Baptist church Quincy.

A new bread protected from human hands between our bakery and your table. Ask your grocer for and insist on getting "PETER PARLEY" BREAD.

QUINCY REGISTRY

FOR NURSES

20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.

Will supply trained and practical nurses, attendants and nursery assistants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.

MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar,
Tel. Quincy 131-W.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN

Piano Tuner

Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock street, Quincy.

Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point

Tel. Quincy.Mass. 1153 M Nov 8-.tf

ARREST SON FOR PARENTS' DEATH

Aged Litchfield, Me., Farmer and Wife Murdered

BODIES SOAKED IN KEROSENE

Tragedy Discovered by Neighbors Who Were Attracted by Smoke—Young Man Had Been Drinking Heavily—Heads of Victims Had Been Battered to Pulp

Gardiner, Me., Dec. 8.—Following a fire at their farmhouse at Litchfield, the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred B. Eldredge were discovered in the ruins of what had once been the kitchen in the ell of the house.

Both bodies were battered and bruised and had been soaked in kerosene. Apparently both the aged man and woman had been beaten over the head with a club until insensible and kerosene poured over the bodies.

Later in the day, Fernald H. Eldredge, 30, their son, was arrested in this city. He had been drinking heavily. He was unable to tell much about the tragedy. Immediately after his arrest he was rushed to Augusta for safekeeping.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Eldredge were highly respected. They had but recently bought the farm, coming to Litchfield from Hallowell, where Eldredge had been a granite cutter for many years. About two months ago he decided he was too old to work at his trade and made up his mind to retire to a farm.

The first known of the tragedy was when neighbors were attracted by smoke. Investigating, they found the Eldredge house a mass of flames.

Thinking the aged pair might be still in bed, they broke down the door and were horrified to find them in the centre of a mass of flames on the kitchen floor, which had partially given away from the effects of the fire.

A glance told them that both were beyond aid, and the first efforts of the neighbors was directed toward extinguishing the flames. After the fire was out they turned their attention to the two bodies.

They were found close together on top of a burned sofa, which had partly dropped into the cellar beneath when the floor supports were weakened by fire. Both bodies were saturated with kerosene, and the heads of both had been reduced to pulp by blows from an axe or other instrument. Both man and woman appeared to have suffered terrible agony before dying.

It was apparent that the tragedy had occurred before breakfast, for although the chores had been done the Sunday morning pot of baked beans was still untouched upon the stove.

The son's bed had been slept in, but no one saw him leave the house. No effort was made to disturb the money or valuables in the house.

A MIXED RELATIONSHIP

Illinois Woman Becomes Stepmother to Former Husband

Littleton, Ills., Dec. 8.—When Mrs. Katie M. Welch, aged 43, became the wife of Luther G. Welch, aged 66, of this place, who is the father of her divorced husband, she started a novel muddle in relationship.

By her first marriage she had a son, Jay Welch, now married and the father of a daughter, Viola. By her second marriage Mrs. Welch becomes stepmother to her divorced husband, from whom she got a decree two years ago.

FISHERMAN ON ROCKS

Gloucester Boat Is Badly Damaged at Lockeport, N. S.

Halifax, N. S., Dec. 8.—The Gloucester, Mass., fishing schooner Premier struck off Western Head and was badly damaged. A tug floated the vessel off and towed her to Lockeport, where she now lies half full of water.

Tugs are attempting to pump her out and keep her floating. The schooner is only four years old and is one of the finest of the Gloucester fleet.

Thieves Steal Brockton Windmill

Brockton, Mass., Dec. 8.—The Brockton police are confronted with one of the oddest cases that ever came to their attention. They were called upon to run down the thief or thieves who stole a full-sized windmill and pump from the premises tenanted by ex-Alderman W. E. Barnes and owned by Miss Abbie Leach of Boston.

Loses Auto by Smoking

Waltham, Mass., Dec. 8.—George F. Williams—not the ambassador—was overhauling his touring car in the garage behind his home at 22 Robbins street, when ashes from his pipe fell into the drip pan and started a blaze. The automobile was destroyed and the garage damaged. Loss, $1500.

Brockton Woman Robbed by Boys

Brockton, Mass., Dec. 8.—Mrs. Michael Monkavitz of 16 Arthur street, was held up in the kitchen of her home by three boys, each of whom pointed a revolver at her. She handed one of the boys her pocketbook containing $25. The boys made their escape.

QUINCY REAL ESTATE SALES.

Charles F. Adams et al trs to Guido Benedetti, Rodman street.

W. J. Adams tr to D. A. McDonald, et al, Russell street.

Bernard J. Arntz to Frieda A. Arntz, Beale street.

Blanche G. Barclay to Elise Young, Henry street.

Mary A. Bragan tr to Susan B. Baker Ocean street.

Mary A. Bragan tr to Charles N. Wood, Ocean street.

Adelbert E. Buffum to Mary E. Hall, Faxon road.

Clarence Burgin to Maude C. Swallow, Goffe street.

Amelia H. Carter to Grace M. Scott, Blake street.

Lucy M. Crane to Jeremiah Coffman, Howard street.

Dana E. Flint to Alice E. Pendleton, Adams Shore.

Annie M. Keating to Luisa Petta, Canal street.

Edwin H. Keene et al trs to Stephen C. Wagner, Fayette street.

Edward B. Marsh ex to Walker Charlesworth, Maple street.

Patrick McGrath to Benj. Witherell.

John M. McLeod to Irving E. Litchfield, Bromfield street.

John M. McLeod to Irving E. Litchfield, Billings road.

Gerald J. Savage to Joseph C. Greeley, Bayfield road.

Henry J. Stephenson et al to Albert E. Stephenson, Freeman street.

Gardner A. Teele adm. to Mary Ford, Houghs Neck.

BRAINTREE REAL ESTATE SALES.

George Atton to James Maguire Maguire avenue.

Miles A. Burke to Town of Braintree, Sunnyside Park.

Rupert Claflin, et al to J. Winsor Davy.

Rupert Claflin et al to J. Winsor Davy, Monatiquot river.

Frank W. Coughlin to Town of Braintree, Liberty street.

W. W. Cowles to Town of Braintree, Olympia avenue.

Salvatore D'Angelo to Alice K. Lakin, Newport avenue.

Emma Dickson gdn. to Bennett H. Swinimer, Somerville avenue.

Frank L. Ferguson et al to Alice K. Lakin, Bellevue avenue, Phillips St.

Harry Gordon to Town of Braintree.

Thomas Kane to Town of Braintree.

Henry S. Moody tr to Walter M. Warren.

J. Edward Murphy to Town of Braintree.

Warren F. Nadell et al to Alice K. Lakin.

Sophia M. Stahl et al to Alice K. Lakin.

Arthur M. Sullivan et al to Alice K. Lakin.

Trustee Thayer Academy to John Kelly.

William T. Walsh et al to Alice K. Lakin.

James G. Wilmont to Town of Braintree.

—"Mail your Christmas parcels early." This notice in big letters will be posted in every post office of the country, at the nstance of Postmaster General Burleson, who proposes to see that all Christmas parcels shall be delivered on or before Christmas if possible. The first Christmas season of the parcels post system is almost at hand. Officials propose to see that every package shall be handled expeditiously so that there will be no possibility of congestion. They believe they can give the public quick and accurate transportation and delivery if patrons only will aid by mailing their Christmas parcels early.

YOU need the Ledger EVERY DAY. SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

Telephone Insurance

Guards against physical and mental wear and tear

Saves steps to the grocer's or provision dealer's

Brings the doctor in life-or-death emergencies, when time-saving is vital

Provides instantaneous communication with police or fire departments when necessary

Offers a cheap and effective plan overcoming toil and worry

Gives a mental satisfaction from the mere knowledge of its presence in the house

The premiums are small. The contract dept., Fort Hill 7600, will furnish particulars if you will call, free of charge

New England Telephone and Telegraph Company

$120,000 FORTUNE ON STATION FLOOR

Hundreds of People Pass Bag Containing Treasure

New York, Dec. 8.—A fortune of $120,000, lying on the floor of the Pennsylvania station, was left untouched by hundreds of people hurrying for their trains.

A small, black handbag, half open, and containing $20,000 in cash and $100,000 value in jewels, failed to attract the attention of the rushing travelers. Thomas Curtin, a ticket examiner, was astounded when he looked into the bag and found the treasure.

Presently a woman appeared at one of the gates, looking pale and anxious. Near her was a maid.

Curtin went to her and asked what she wanted. She said that she had lost her bag. Curtin took her to the station master's office, where she described the bag and its contents. Her property was returned to her. She hurried off to catch the Pennsylvania limited, telling Curtin he would hear from her later.

—Under a ruling of the Post Office department sex-hygiene lectures delivered in the Chicago high schools may not pass through the mails. The question naturally arises whether lectures that are not deemed fit to be sent through the mails are fit to be delivered before the children in the schools. —Taunton Herald.

HAMMERSTEIN ENJOINED

Cannot Produce Grand Opera In New York or Environs

New York, Dec. 8.—A permanent injunction in favor of the Metropolitan Opera company, restraining Oscar Hammerstein from producing grand opera in New York or environs, was granted by Supreme Court Justice Pendleton.

Hammerstein agreed to quit the opera here when he sold his Manhattan opera house to the Metropolitan. Subsequently he threatened to disregard this agreement on the ground that it was contrary to the Sherman law. The court held that the law did not apply.

PROTEST HANGING

Vermont People Want Bosworth's Sentence Changed

Montpelier, Vt., Dec. 8.—Governor Allen M. Fletcher announces that he has received numerous petitions praying that the death sentence imposed on Arthur Bosworth, murderer of May Labelle, a waitress, to be committed to life imprisonment.

Bosworth is to be hanged at the Windsor state prison next month. He will be the last to be hanged in this state, a bill having been passed substituting the electric chair for the noose. It is not thought that Governor Fletcher will interfere.

Hand Kissing Again the Vogue

Paris, Dec. 8.—The graceful old custom of hand kissing, which has never died out entirely in aristocratic Faubourg St. Germain, has come into vogue once more and undoubtedly America will take it up soon.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS? ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

Old Company's Lehigh Egg Coal

for Your furnace

Is there anything better mined?

We Sell It

Try a Ton

C. PATCH & SON Inc.

1422 Hancock Street

Quincy Daily Ledger

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30.
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branschied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
Newcomb Square—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. Smith.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck.
L. A. Cook, Washington Street.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington Street.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield Water st.
A. Pierson, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—Capt. Fosdick's.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity: Tuesday will be fair with lower seasonable temperature.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	7.02
Sun sets	4.12
Length of day	9.10
Moon rises	2.58
High water, A. M.	8.00
High water, P. M.	8.30
Days decrease 6 hours,	7 minutes
Full Moon, Dec. 13,	10.00 A. M.
Last Quarter, Dec. 20	11.16 A. M.
New Moon, Dec. 27	9.59 A. M.
First Quarter, Dec. 5,	9.59 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today	42 degrees
Dec. 8 1912,	45 degrees
Dec. 8, 1911,	51 degrees

Dec. Noon Maximum 14 years—67
Dec. Noon Minimum, 14 years—2

NEWSY BRIEFS

Friends of Mrs. Annie R. Brown of Farrington street are sorry to learn that she is seriously ill at her home.

The election of officers of Paul J. Revere W. R. C. No. 103 is to take place in G. A. R. hall Tuesday night.

Mrs. Emma Marnock will hold a whist party in room 30 Adams building Tuesday afternoon.

Quincy Women's Riverside club will hold its regular business meeting Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the clubhouse, Edison Park.

An original entertainment is to be given by the Norwoll club in the Park and Downs church vestry Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

Mrs. C. P. Gould returned Saturday from a three weeks' visit in New Haven, Conn., where she was the guest of Mr. Gould's parents.

Paul J. Revere Relief corps, No. 103, will hold their regular business meeting Tuesday evening 7.30 in G. A. R. hall, election of officers will take place.

The whist parties which have been held in Electa hall for the past few weeks for the benefit of Maple Lodge K. & L. of H. have been indefinitely postponed.

The many friends of the Rev. H. Houghton Schumacher of Iowa City, will be interested to learn that he has accepted a call to become minister of the First Unitarian church in Helena, Montana.

Bridget Hyland, wife of Martin Hyland died Sunday in her 41st year. Her funeral will take place from her late residence, 117 Standish avenue, on Tuesday. A high mass of requiem will be celebrated at St. John's church.

Not only Wollaston people but those of the city are urged to attend the lecture in Wollaston school hall this evening by Dr. Marion Le Roy Burton, president of Smith college, on "What a college education means to a Woman."

CHICHESTER S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter s Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER'S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

Penniman's
TAXI SERVICE
Taxies and Touring Cars with careful and safe drivers to let for all occasions.
C. H. PENNIMAN, Prop.
Telephone 207.
June 13-tf

SENATE TO HOLD LONG SESSIONS

Hope to Pass Money Measure by December 20

TO FINISH BEFORE HOLIDAYS

No Trouble Anticipated In House Over Senate's Administration Bill—Wilson Much Pleased Over Progress of Measure—Republicans Not Now Delaying Legislature

Washington, Dec. 8.—Currency legislation by Dec. 20 is regarded as almost a certainty, because of the action of the senate in adopting the Kern resolution calling for sessions beginning at 10 o'clock in the morning and lasting until 11 o'clock at night in order to get through with the business on hand before the holidays. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 41 to 18.

It is the program now to adjourn for the holidays in the event of the bill being passed by Dec. 20. President Wilson feels certain that the senate will adopt it by that time, despite the insistence of opponents that there is little likelihood of favorable action before February.

No trouble is anticipated over the acceptance by Representative Carter Glass and the house of the senate administration bill. The most material change made in the bill is the reduction of the number of federal reserve banks and providing for the redemption of federal reserve notes in gold at the treasury department.

Senators Hollis, of New Hampshire, and Pomerene, of Ohio, Democrats, and Senator Nelson, of Minnesota, Republican, all members of the senate banking and currency committee, will speak early this week.

It would not be strange if the currency bill is passed with but little more debate than occurred on the Hetch Hetchy valley project, which has been before the senate all week. Senator Owen, of Oklahoma, chairman of the banking and currency committee, presented his views on the currency in a two hours' speech. Senator Work of California consumed ten hours in discussing Hetch Hetchy.

President Wilson is greatly pleased at the progress which the bill is making in the senate. Two weeks ago predictions were freely made that the measure would not be passed before Feb. 1, or even March 1. The president smilingly insisted, whenever the subject was broached, that his information was different. He has quietly insisted that the senate go right ahead with the bill, hurrying as fast as it could and not wasting any time. That course, having been finally adopted, has disclosed the fact that the senators are now pretty much talked out and ready to vote.

Republican senators who at first started out with an idea that it was their duty to delay the passage of the bill and offer obstructions merely for political purposes have discovered that this is very bad policy.

When the bill is returned to the house it is not likely to be long debated. Practically every Democratic and Progressive member and some of the Republicans will vote for the conference report, which Glass and Owens will bring in.

When the bill was under consideration in the Democratic house caucus several suggestions were made for amendment, which were admitted by members of the banking and currency committee to have merit. They were voted down, however, on the understanding that they would be further investigated by the president and the senate.

WRITES UPSIDE DOWN

Injury to Detroit Boy's Spine Causes Peculiar Mental Twist

Detroit, Dec. 8.—An injury received by Joseph W. Darling of this city when he was 2½ years old, which was followed by four years of sickness, has resulted in a peculiar twist of his mental faculties, which causes him to read, write and draw upside down, according to instructors in the local school for cripples, which the lad, who is now 9 years old, attends.

The boy's teachers claim that they are unable to change the child's faculties to a normal condition. The injury affected the boy's spine and neck, and he is said to be permanently crippled.

Czarina Banishes Princess Marie

St. Petersburg, Dec. 8.—The Princess Marie of Sweden, who was born a Russian grandduchess, has been banished from the court of St. Petersburg by the czarina, because she left her husband and refuses to return to him. The princess fled from Stockholm after the prince had struck her during a quarrel. She will make her home with her father in Paris.

Roosevelt In Paraguay

Asunsion, Paraguay, Dec. 8.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt arrived here from Buenos Ayres and was given a hearty reception.

Expect Heavy Vote In Lowell

Lowell, Mass., Dec. 8.—Tuesday's election will decide several interesting contests. There are two candidates for mayor, four for aldermen, and four for school committee. A heavy vote is anticipated.

ADMIRAL NILES DEAD

Expires Suddenly In New York Store While Doing Christmas Shopping

New York, Dec. 8.—Rear Admiral Kossuth Niles, U. S. N., retired, died suddenly in a book store in the shopping district. The rear admiral and his wife had come to this city to do Christmas shopping. While seated in a chair at the book store he complained of faintness and expired before a physician could arrive.

Rear Admiral Niles was born in Belleville, Ills., June 14, 1849, and later moved to Freeport, Ills. When 15 years of age he enlisted in the One Hundred and Forty-second Illinois volunteer infantry, and with his regiment went to Tennessee to protect the railroads in the vicinity of Memphis.

In September, 1865, he entered the naval academy, and after his graduation was assigned to the Sabine on special service.

In 1909 and 1910 he commanded the battleship Louisiana, and later was a member of naval examination and retiring boards. He retired by the statutory age limit June 14, 1911.

TWO MINERS KILLED

Two Others, One a Woman, Fatally Injured by Calumet Strikers

Calumet, Mich., Dec. 8.—Arthur and Harry James were killed and Thomas Daily and Mary Nicholson were fatally wounded by rifle bullets fired, into the apartment house in which they lived.

The James brothers came here from Toronto, Ont., and obtained employment in the Copper Range Consolidated mine, whose men are among those on strike. They stopped with Daily, a miner, and a boarding housekeeper. Miss Nicholson lived with her father, who occupied the other side of the Daily apartment house.

All of the victims were in bed when shot. Three kinds of rifle bullets were imbedded in the walls of the house and the difference in style of bullets led to the belief that at least three men fired the ten or twelve shots. Six men are under arrest on suspicion.

FLOOD DEATHS IN TEXAS OVER FIFTY

Motor Boats Rescue Hundreds on Brazos River

Bryan, Tex., Dec. 8.—The known death list in Texas floods has increased to more than fifty. At least twenty-five of the victims were white persons.

Motor boats from Houston and Galveston penetrated into the flooded Brazos river bottoms in south central Texas and rapidly removed hundreds of exhausted and half-frozen refugees from trees and housetops.

The crests of both the Brazos and the Colorado river floods entered the last hundred miles of the two rivers, doing fresh damage, but on a diminishing scale.

Navasoota reported 1000 refugees gathered there from the Brazos bottoms below Bryan.

Deaths about Bryan totalled eight to ten, according to a report. Reports from the Colorado river, which parallels the Brazos river, fifty to seventy-five miles southwest of here, indicated that the Brazos overflow was being duplicated there, but on a smaller scale. The total loss of life in the Colorado river floods so far was reported as five.

TO FIX TRAIN SPEED

Commerce Commission Wants Control Over Railroad Signals

Washington, Dec. 8.—H. W. Belknap, chief inspector of safety appliances for the interstate commerce commission, appeared before the safety appliance sub-committee of the house committee on interstate commerce and recommended that congress give the commission power to regulate the speed of trains. He said he knew of instances where railroads were operating trains at high speed on tracks that were unsafe at any rate over fifteen miles an hour.

He urged that a bill be passed giving the interstate commerce commission absolute supervision over the block signal system of railroads and authorizing the commission to say when and when not the railroads must install such systems.

Five Navy Dry Docks Too Small

Washington, Dec. 8.—Naval dry docks in five American cities have been rendered inadequate by the increasing size of battleships constructed during the past fifteen years, according to the report of Rear Admiral H. R. Stanford, chief of the bureau of yards and docks. The yards whose usefulness have been impaired are at Boston, Portsmouth, Mare Island, Charleston and Philadelphia.

Two Killed In Powder Explosion

Meuchen, N. J., Dec. 8.—Two men were killed and one fatally hurt in an explosion at the powder making plant of the Industrial Pareposit company near here.

Blackstone Pastor Passes Away

Blackstone, Mass., Dec. 8.—Rev. John H. Gavin, pastor of St. Paul's Catholic church, who was stricken with a shock while in the confessional, Friday, is dead.

FEDERAL TROOPS TURN ON REBELS

Reorganize Forces and Make Flanking Movement

REBELS WILL MODIFY PLANS

Orozco Leading Counter Attack on Constitutionalists—Villa's Line Too Much Extended to Meet Strong Attack—May Fall Back to Chihuahua—Information Being Kept Secret

Washington, Dec. 8.—In the absence of any change in the political situation in Mexico, official interest in Washington centered upon the military operations. Confidential reports indicate that the victorious sweep southward of the constitutionalist armies has received a check, the extent of which is not yet known.

That the rebel leaders themselves have taken alarm and are preparing to modify their plans of campaign to meet the threatening aspect of the federal forces was, however, positively affirmed.

Owing to the absence of telegraphic communication and to the reluctance of the officials here to tell of any of the movements of the contending armies in Mexico which, by any chance, might aid one or the other faction unfairly, it is not possible to ascertain all the phases of this last military development.

It is understood, however, that the federal leaders in the north, who, after the supposed defeat sustained by them in the battle of Tierra Blanca, were believed to be fleeing northward to find refuge across the border in Texas, had actually abandoned that purpose. Instead, it is reported, they have reorganized their forces and begun a flanking movement on the army which the rebel General Villa has rushed from the captured city of Juarez toward Chihuahua.

Villa's line is very much extended, and his communications would be seriously jeopardized by a sudden incursion from a formidable force of 1500 federals, commanded by Orozco, which is rapidly advancing toward him, apparently with the purpose of driving him into Chihuahua.

Meanwhile at least two other federal generals with fragments of the army reassembled after the battle of Tierra Blanca are reported to be concentrating on Chihuahua with the purpose of entrapping Villa's command. This movement might fail, it is pointed out, through the reinforcement of Villa's command by Carranza's troops.

If the federal troops adhere to their original plan of making their way into the United States instead of surrendering to the constitutionalists they will have to do so without conditions and probably will not be permitted to figure further in the present war with Mexico. Secretary Garrison said these refugees might cross the line, but they must do so without any understanding on the part of the United States officials to permit them to return into Mexico.

The pleasure with which the administration is watching developments indicates that the Mexican constitutionalists' belligerency may soon be recognized has been increased by the feeling that the adoption of any definite course would be pleasing to the European powers. These countries have waited patiently for the American policy toward Mexico to shape itself, but lately information as to what the United States would do would be appreciated. It is thought that they will soon be informed that the constitutionalists will receive part recognition, with a view ultimately to recognizing as de facto the government they will set up and then full recognition of the government installed following the elections ordered by the rebels.

Another Troop Train Wrecked

Mexico City, Dec. 8.—Details of terrible atrocities in connection with the blowing up of a federal troop train, with a loss of 123 lives, reached here.

Lieutenant Colonel Falcon D. La Pena, commanding the train, suffered a horrible death. His ears were cut off, his tongue torn out and his eyes gouged out. Twenty women who escaped death in the explosion were slain.

The rebels were later repulsed and the man who was believed to have set off the dynamite which wrecked the train captured. He was placed on a stick of dynamite and blown to atoms.

The destruction of the troop train is only one of many reverses suffered by the federals. Monterey is said to have fallen, although details are lacking.

Fruit Dealer Dead In Gutter

Brockton, Mass., Dec. 8.—The body of Peter Garbarino, a fruit dealer, was found lying face downward in the gutter in front of the home of Warren R. Keith, Copeland street. Death was apparently due to apoplexy. Garbarino had been dead about an hour.

Smuggled Chinaman on Sleeping Car

St. Albans, Vt., Dec. 8.—The discovery of a Chinaman in the cupboard of a sleeping car at White River Junction led to the arrest of William Cobb of Montreal, the porter. Cobb will be arraigned in the federal court at Burlington.

BOTH WERE STUBBORN.

Lots of Good-Will Power Was Wasted In Mere Obstinacy.

How much perfectly good, serviceable will power people waste in mere obstinacy! Martha Malone, after working three years for Mrs. Bixby, appeared one morning at Mrs. Wilson's back door and applied for a place.

"Why," said the surprised Mrs. Wilson, "I thought you were working for Mrs. Bixby!"

"I was, mum. But I've quit."

"Is that so?" Mrs. Wilson could not conceal her surprise. "I thought you liked her."

"Indeed I do, mum."

"And I'm sure she liked you."

"I believe she did, mum. Leastwise she always seemed to."

"Well"— Mrs. Wilson was still wondering what the trouble had been.

"Well," said Martha, seeing that some explanation was expected, "you see, it was like this, mum. I always put the blue china plates on the right hand side of the cupboard, and this morning the missus comes along and moves 'em and says, 'Martha, every mornin' for three years you've put the plates on the wrong side and I've had to come along and move them, and I can't stand it any longer.'

"And," said Martha, "I says to her, 'Mrs. Bixby, every mornin' for three years I've put them plates in the right place and you've come and moved them, and then I had to come along and move them back, and I can't stand it any longer either.'

"And so I quit."—Youth's Companion.

QUEER TRAP FOR LIONS.

Fly Paper Caught and Held the Monster Man Eaters Helpless.

You know what a ferocious, powerful beast the lion is. You can imagine what strong chains it would take to hold him fast. So can you even imagine a lion captured with fly paper? Well, not so very long ago four huge man eating lions were taken in that manner at the village of Gwallor, in India.

It happened that the headman of the village was able to shut the four lions up in a hut into which they had ventured in search of prey. He kept them thus barricaded for nearly two weeks, no one being willing to attempt to capture them. Finally he thought of a scheme that proved as successful as it was original.

He had thousands of sheets of fly paper spread on the ground before the entrance to the hut. Then suddenly the barricades were lifted and the four lions came bounding out—into the fly paper. Of course it stuck to their paws, and of course when they tried to lick it off it stuck fast to their faces and heads. The lions promptly forgot all about human beings and in their wild endeavors to get rid of the fly paper rolled over and over on the ground, roaring and fighting for breath.

Then the headman and his followers rushed forward with long ropes, lassoed the plunging lions and tied them up—fly paper and all!—London Tit-Bits.

Successful Disappearance.

One of the most successful disappearances on record was of William Howe. Howe was a successful tradesman in Jermyn street, and one morning in 1706 he left his wife, telling her that he had business in the city. He never came back, and after some years an act of parliament was specially passed to enable Mrs. Howe to administer her husband's estate. Then one evening in 1723 the "widow" received a letter requesting an interview. Mrs. Howe duly kept the appointment—and discovered her husband. He had been living in disguise in the same neighborhood all the time, he explained, and keeping a close eye upon the movements of his wife. It is said that the reunited couple lived happily ever afterward.—London Standard.

The Only Cure.

Mrs. Keepup made it her private and particular business to have whatever her neighbor had, whether it was a question of chickens or diseases, so when Mrs. Gotthere complained to her one day of insomnia Mrs. Keepup was ready for her. "I have it, too, very badly at times." "What do you do for it, Mrs. Keepup?" "Why, I have never found anything that did me any real good except to go to bed and sleep it off."

Very Strange.

Mr. Fuss (furiously)—It is mighty strange you can't look after things a little better. Here I want to shave, and there isn't a drop of hot water here. Mrs. Fuss (icily)—It is strange. Why, that's the one thing I've never been out of since I married you!—Exchange.

Danger Not Imminent.

"Better go home, Jimmy. Your mother is looking for you."

"Has she got the hairbrush with her?"

"No."

"Then I guess I'll play awhile longer."—Pittsburgh Post.

One Mind.

"Henry," called Mrs. R. over the partition in the voting booth, "how are you going to vote on amendment No. 5? He—I am going to vote "yes." She—No, you're not; you're going to vote "no." I have changed my mind. —Life.

Human experience, like the stern lights of a ship at sea, illumines only the path which we have passed over.—Coleridge.

CAN YOU DOUBT IT?

When the Proof Can Be So Easily Investigated.

When so many grateful citizens of Quincy testify to benefit derived from Doan's Kidney Pills, can you doubt the evidence? The proof is not far away—it is almost at your doors. Read what a resident of Quincy says about Doan's Kidney Pills. Can you demand more convincing testimony?

William Farquharson, Jr., 25 Bennington St., Quincy, Mass., says: "I had severe pains in my back and my kidneys were weak. I didn't know what to take until someone recommended Doan's Kidney Pills. I used only part of a box and they completely relieved the pains."

The above statement must carry conviction to the mind of every reader. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. Farquharson had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

"When Your Back is Lame—Remember the Name."

ADMINISTRATRIX'S NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administratrix of the estate of Winifred Cullen, late of Quincy in the County of Norfolk, deceased, intestate, and has taken upon herself that trust by giving bond as the law directs.

All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

AGNES E. CONRAD, Adm.
(Address)
Care of Wheaton Kittredge, 515 Barristers Hall, Boston.
December 4, 1913.
Dec. 6-3t 6-8-15

LONG LIVED ROOFING

Buy your roofing with the idea that it is going to last for years to come.

NEPONSET PAROID ROOFING

is made carefully from the very best materials obtainable. It has received the endorsement of the leading railroads of the United States as well as that of the United States Government. We also handle the Neponset Wall Board which comes in 3 finishes and is good for any room in the house. Call or write for samples.

L. GROSSMAN & SONS
Tel. 979-W
Jackson St. Near Quincy Adams Depot

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

In effect Nov. 16, 1913

The letters in the same line as the figures below stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows.

a Wollaston	f Harrison Square
b Norfolk Downs	g Savin Hill
c Atlantic	h Cre[illegible] Avenue
d Neponset	i South Boston
e Pope's Hill	r Quincy Adams
* Saturdays Only	† Except Saturday

Exp.—Express train.

TO BOSTON

Leave	Stop	Arrive
r 5 14	abcdefghi	5 41
r 6 [illegible]	abci	6 40
r 6 32	e	6 49
r 6 40	abcf	7 00
r 7 08	abcd	7 39
7 28	a	7 46
r 7 32	Exp	7 49
r 7 42	ab	8 00
7 55	a	8 12
r 8 13	abc	8 32
8 24	a	8 41
r 8 33	a	8 50
r 8 59	ad	9 16
r 9 18	abc	9 39
r 10 04	a	10 21
r 10 19	abcdefghi	10 45
11 12	a	11 28
11 24	abcdefgh	11 50
12 04	a	12 20
r 12 27	abcdefghi	12 53
r 1 16	a	1 34
2 04	a	2 20
r 2 19	abcdefgh	2 45
r 3 13	Exp	3 28
4 04	a	4 20
r 4 26	abcdefgh	4 53
5 02	a	5 19
r 5 30	abcdefg	5 55
6 04	a	6 21
6 12	ab	6 32
6 57	a	7 15
r 7 22	Exp	7 39
7 29	ab	7 48
r 8 09	abcdef	8 32
9 00	a	9 18
r 9 10	abc	9 29
* 9 17	Exp.	9 32
r 10 07	abcdef	10 30
* 10 19	a	10 37
11 13	a	11 30
r 11 30	abcd	11 [illegible]

FROM BOSTON

Leave	Stop	Arrive
5 44	ihgfedcba	6 14 r
6 09	ihgfedcba	6 39 r
6 29	a	6 47
6 47	Exp	7 04
7 14	ihgfedcba	7 41 r
7 34	a	7 52
7 37	a	7 56
7 44	c	8 03 r
8 34	cba	8 55 r
8 44	b	9 02
9 09	fedba	9 32 r
9 44	a	10 01 r
10 14	ihgfedcba	10 43 r
10 54	Exp	11 10
11 14	ihgfedcba	11 41 r
11 49	a	12 07
12 14	ihgfedcba	12 41 r
12 20	a	12 38
12 50	Exp	1 06
1 16	fedcba	1 40 r
* 1 32	a	1 50
1 44	a	2 01
2 14	fedcba	2 37 r
2 54	Exp	2 50
3 14	ihgfedcba	3 40 r
3 44	a	4 02
4 12	fedcba	4 35 r
4 15	a	4 32
4 40	c	4 58
4 55	a	5 13
5 13	a	5 32
5 19	hgfeca	5 43
5 28	ba	5 46 r
5 40		5 57
5 58	a	6 17 r
6 04	fedcb	6 24
6 16	a	6 35
6 30	ecba	6 53 r
6 59	fedcba	7 24 r
7 11	a	7 28
8 04	fedcba	8 28 r
* 8 19	Exp	8 35
9 19	a	9 07
9 34	b	9 53 r
10 05	ba	10 24
10 31	fedcba	11 02 r
*11 06	a	11 25 r
†11 09	fedcba	11 35 r
*11 25	ba	11 43 r
†11 29	ba	11 49
12 05	cba	12 26 r

SUNDAYS

r 7 43	abc	8 03	6 29	ba	6 48
8 30	Exp	8 45	8 34	cba	8 55 r
r 8 46	abcdefghi	9 13	10 39	cba	10 59 r
r 9 13	abc	9 33	12 14	ihgfedcba	12 42
9 31	a	9 47	12 44	Exp	1 01
10 25	ac	10 42	2 29	ihgfedcba	1 57 r
11 08	Exp	11 25	2 14	ngfedcba	2 42 r
r 11 16	abcdefghi	11 45	2 44	a	3 02
1 04	a	1 23	3 14	ihgfedcba	3 42 r
r 1 16	abcdefgh	1 43	4 26	cba	4 48 r
r 3 10	abc	3 30	5 14	ihgfedcba	5 42 r
r 4 16	abcdefghi	4 43	6 09	Exp	6 25
4 59	ab	5 16	6 14	ihgfedcba	6 42 r
5 06		5 23	7 02	cba	7 22 r
6 16	abcdefghi	6 43	8 14	ihgfedcba	8 41 r
7 21	Exp	7 36	8 39	a	8 56 r
7 29	abcdefghi	7 55	8 49	Exp	9 05
r 8 16	abcdefghi	8 43	9 29	ihgfedcba	9 57 r
9 46	a	10 04	10 44	cba	11 04 r
46	abc	11 05

CAN YOU DOUBT IT?

When the Proof Can Be So Easily Investigated.

When so many grateful citizens of Quincy testify to benefit derived from Doan's Kidney Pills, can you doubt the evidence? The proof is not far away—it is almost at your doors. Read what a resident of Quincy says about Doan's Kidney Pills. Can you demand more convincing testimony?

William Farquharson, Jr., 25 Bennington St., Quincy, Mass., says: "I had severe pains in my back and my kidneys were weak. I didn't know what to take until someone recommended Doan's Kidney Pills. I used only part of a box and they completely relieved the pains."

The above statement must carry conviction to the mind of every reader. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. Farquharson had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

"When Your Back is Lame—Remember the Name."

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To all persons interested in the estate of George F. Hatch late of Quincy in said County, deceased:

Whereas, Francis Collamore the deceased trustee under the will of said deceased, has presented by his adm'x for allowance, the final account of his trust under said will. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County on the tenth day of December A. D. 1913, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be allowed. And said admx. is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to all persons interested in the estate fourteen days at least before said Court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twentieth day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen.

JOHN D. COBB, Register.
Nov. 26-3t 26-1-8

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

Read Ledger Advs.

Bay State Street Railway Company

TIME TABLE

In effect April 8, 1913.

(Subject to change without notice.

Leave QUINCY for

Braintree, 6.15, 6.50 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Braintree, 6.25 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.25 P. M. Sundays, 7.55 A. M. and then same as week days.

Brockton, 6.15, 6.50 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then every hour. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Brockton 6.20, 7 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 9.30 P. M. Sundays, 8 A. M. then same as week days.

West Quincy, and East Milton, 5.30 5.59, 6.10 A. M., and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M.) Sundays, 6.50 A. M. then same as week days. Return leave East Milton, 5.55, 6.15, 6.45 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.45 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.10 midnight.) Sundays, 7.25 A. M., then same as week days.

East Weymouth, 6.00, 6.15, 6.35, 7.05, 7.35 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.05 P. M. then 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.35 A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave East Weymouth, 5.50, 6.15, 6.45, 7.00, 7.10, 7.45, A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.45 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M. then same as week days.

Houghs Neck, 5.15, 5.35, 6.10, 6.40, 7.10, 7.40, A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. then 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 6.50, 7.40 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. Return leave Houghs Neck, 5.40, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 7.30, 8.00, 8.30, 9.05 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.35 P. M. then 12.10 midnight Sundays, 7.20, 8.05, 8.35, 9.05 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.35 P. M.

Neponset via Hancock Street,—6.45 6.20, 6.50 A. M. and every 30 min. to 10.50 P. M. then 12.50 midnight. Sundays, 6.50 A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 6.40 7.10, 7.40 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. then 12.35 midnight. Sundays, 7.40 A. M. then same as week days.

Neponset via Wollaston—6.05, 6.24 7.03 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.03 P. M. then 11.20, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.03 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 6.25, 6.55, 7.25, A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.25 P. M. then 11.42 P. M. and 12.12 midnight. Sundays, 7.25 A. M. then same as week days.

Neponset, via Norfolk Downs, 6.25, 6.55, 7.25, 8, 8.30 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11 P. M.) Sundays, 7.30 A. M. then the same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 7, 7.30 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.30 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.30 P. M.) Sundays, 8 A. M. then same as week days.

Weymouth Landing, 5.20, 6.00, 6.24 6.55, 7.25 7.55 A. M. then every 30 minutes, until and including 10.55 P. M. Sundays, 7.25, A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave Weymouth Landing, 5.45, 6.15, 6.40, 7.15 7.45 A. M. then every 30 minutes until and including 11.15 P. M. Sundays 7.45 A. M. then same as week days.

Leave NEPONSET for

Squantum, 6.25, 6.55, 7.25, 7.55, 8.25, 9.35, A. M. every 60 minutes to 4.35 P. M. then 4.55, 5.25, 5.55, 6.25, 7.35, 8.35, 9.35, 10.35 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.30, P. M. Sundays, 7.35, A. M. every 60 minutes to 10.35 P. M. Return, leave Squantum, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 7.30, 8.00, 8.30, 9.00 A. M. every 60 minutes to 5.00 P. M. then 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.15, 8.00 A. M. every 60 minutes to 11.00 P. M.

THOMAS GANNON, Superintendent

WITHIN THE LAW

By MARVIN DANA
FROM THE PLAY OF
BAYARD VEILLER

Copyright, 1913, by the H. K. Fly company.

(Continued from Friday Issue.)

There was, for example, Aggie Lynch, a fellow convict, with whom she had a slight degree of acquaintance, nothing more. This young woman, a criminal by training, offered allurements of illegitimate employment in the outer world when they should be free. Mary endured the companionship with this prisoner because a sixth sense proclaimed the fact that here was one immoral rather than immoral, and the difference is mighty.

For that reason Aggie Lynch was not actively offensive, as were most of the others. She was a dainty little blond, with a baby face, in which were set two light blue eyes of a sort to widen often in demure wonder over most things in a surprising and naughty world. She had been convicted of blackmail, and she made no pretense even of innocence. Instead, she was inclined to boast over her ability to bamboozle men at her will. She was a natural actress of the ingenue role, and in that pose she could unfailingly beguile the heart of the wisest of worldly men.

She had been reared in a criminal family, which must excuse much. Long ago she had lost track of her father. Her mother she had never known. Her one relation was a brother of high standing as a pickpocket. One principal reason of her success in leading on men to make fools of themselves over her, to their everlasting regret afterward, lay in the fact that in spite of all the gross irregularities of her life she remained chaste.

The girl saw in Mary Turner the possibilities of a ladylike personality that might mean much financial profit in the devious ways of which she was a mistress. With the frankness characteristic of her, she proceeded to paint glowing pictures of a future shared to the undoing of ardent and fatuous swains. Mary Turner listened with curiosity, but she was in no wise moved to follow such a life, even though it did not necessitate anything worse than a fraudulent playing at love. So, she steadfastly continued her refusals. She would live straight.

"You will find that you are up against an awful frost," Aggie would declare brutally.

Mary found the prophecy true. Back in New York she experienced a poverty more ravaging than any she had known in those five lean years of her working in the store. She had been absolutely penniless for two days, and without food through the gnawing hours, when she found employment in a milliner's shop. Followed a blessed interval in which she worked contentedly, happy over the meager stipend, since it served to give her shelter and food honestly earned.

The police informed Mary's employer concerning her record as a convict, and she was at once discharged. The unfortunate victim of the law came perilously close to despair then. Yet, her spirit triumphed, and again she persevered in that resolve to live straight. She found a cheap position in a cheap shop, only to be again persecuted by the police, so that she speedily lost the place.

A third time she obtained work and there, after a little, she told her employer, a candy manufacturer in a small way, the truth as to her having been in prison. The man had a kindly heart and he ran little risk, so he allowed her to remain. When the police called his attention to the girl's criminal record he paid no heed to their advice against retaining her services. The police brought pressure to bear on the man. They even called in the assistance of Edward Gilder himself, who obligingly wrote a very severe letter to the girl's employer. In the end, though unwillingly enough, he dismissed Mary from his service.

It was then that despair did come upon the girl. She had tried with all the strength of her to live straight. Yet, despite her innocence, the world would not let her live according to her own conscience. It demanded that she be the criminal it had branded her—if she were to live at all. She still walked the streets falteringly, seeking some place, but her heart was gone from the quest. Came an hour when she thought of the river and was glad.

So she went through the long stretch of ill lighted streets, crossed some railroad tracks to a pier, over which she hurried to the far end, where it projected out to the fiercer currents of the Hudson. There, without giving herself a moment's pause for reflection or hesitation, she leaped out as far as her strength permitted into the coil of waters. But in that final second natural terror in the face of death overcame the lethargy of despair—a shriek burst from her lips.

On the side of the pier a man had just tied up a motorboat. He stood up in alarm at the cry and was just in time to gain a glimpse of a white face under the dim moonlight as it swept down with the tide, two rods beyond him. He threw off his coat and sprang far out after the drifting body. He came to it in a few furious strokes and caught it.

Then began the savage struggle to save her and himself. The currents tore at him wrathfully, but he fought against them with all the fierceness of his nature. What saved the two of them was the violent temper of the man. Always it had been the demon to set him aflame. His rage mounted and gave him new power in the battle. Under the urge of it he conquered and at last brought himself and his charge to the shore.

Mary revived to clear consciousness, which was at first inclined toward hysteria, but this phase yielded soon under the sympathetic ministrations of the man. His rather low voice was soothing to her tired soul, and his whole air was at once masterful and gently tender. When finally she was able to stand and to walk with the support of his arm she went forward slowly at his side without so much even as a question of whither.

Joe Garson had performed, perhaps, his first action with no thought of self at the back of it. He had risked his life to save that of a stranger. The sensation was at once novel and thrilling. Since it was so agreeable he meant to prolong the glow of self satisfaction by continuing to care for this waif of the river.

Joe Garson, the notorious forger, led the dripping girl eastward through the squalid streets until at last they came to an adequately lighted avenue, and there a taxicab was found. It carried them farther north, and to the east to an apartment house that was rather imposing, set in a street of humbler dwellings.

Here Garson paid the fare and then helped the girl to alight and on into the hallway. Mary went with him quite unafraid, though now with a growing curiosity.

The two entered and went slowly up three flights of stairs. On the landing beyond the third flight the door of a rear flat stood open, and in the doorway appeared the figure of a woman.

"Well, Joe, who's the skirt?" this person demanded as the man and his charge halted before her. Then, abruptly, the round, baby-like face of the woman puckered in amazement. Her voice rose shrill. "Well, if it ain't Mary Turner!"

Mary Wore Fine Clothes.

"Aggie!" was the reply.

In the time that followed Mary lived in the flat which Aggie Lynch occupied with her brother, Jim, a pickpocket much esteemed among his fellow craftsmen. The period wrought transformations of a radical and bewildering sort in both the appearance and the character of the girl.

Joe Garson, the forger, had long been acquainted with Aggie and her brother, though he considered them far beneath him in the social scale, since their criminal work was not of that high kind on which he prided himself. But as he cast about for some woman to whom he might take the hapless girl he had rescued his thoughts fell on Aggie. He was relieved rather than otherwise to learn that there was already an acquaintance between the two women, and the fact that his charge had served time in prison did not influence him one jot against her.

Mary let herself drift. It seemed to her that she had abandoned herself to fate in that hour when she threw herself into the river. Afterward, without any volition on her part, she had been restored to life and set within an environment new and strange to her, in which soon, to her surprise, she discovered a vivid pleasure. So she fought no more, but left destiny to work its will, unhampered by her futile strivings.

For the first time in her life, thanks to the hospitality of Aggie Lynch, secretly re-enforced from the funds of Joe Garson, Mary found herself living in luxurious idleness, while her every wish could be gratified by the merest mention of it. She was fed on the daintiest of fare, she was clothed with the most delicate richness for the first time as to those more mysterious garments which women love. In addition, there were as many of books and magazines as she could wish.

Her mind, long starved like her body, seized avidly on the nourishment thus afforded. In this interest Aggie had no share—was perhaps a little envious over Mary's absorption in printed pages. Aggie took a vast pride in her guest, with the unmistakable air of elegance, and she dared to dream of great triumphs to come, though as yet she carefully avoided any suggestion to Mary of wrongdoing.

In the end the suggestion came from Mary Turner herself, to the great surprise of Aggie, and, truth to tell, of herself.

There were two factors that chiefly influenced her decision. The first was due to the feeling that, since the world had rejected her, she need no longer concern herself with the world's opinion or retain any scruples over it. Back of this lay her bitter sentiment toward the man who had been the direct cause of her imprisonment, Edward Gilder.

The factor that was the immediate cause of her decision on an irregular mode of life was an editorial in one of the daily newspapers. This was a scathing arraignment of a master in high finance. The point of the writer's attack was the grim sarcasm for such methods of thievery as are kept within the law. That phrase held the girl's fancy, and she read the article again with a quickened interest. Then she began to meditate.

It was the law that had worked the ruin of her life, which she had striven to make wholesome. In consequence she felt for the law no genuine respect, only detestation as for the epitome of injustice. Yet, she gave it a superficial respect, born of those three years of suffering which had been the result of the penalty inflicted on her. Now, in the paragraph she had just read she found a clew to suggestive thought, a hint as to a means by which she might satisfy her rancor against the law that had outraged her, and this in safety since she would attempt nought save that within the law.

(To be Continued.)

THE "DEBUTANTE" SLOUCH.

New York Women in Latest Modes—New Collars—Hat Trimmings—Furs and Coats.

The prevailing silhouette is vague as to any hard and fast lines—but sinuous above all things, especially with the girl contingent so that the "debutante slouch" applies aptly to her general aspect. She is so willowy that she wraps herself around pillars, and drapes herself over the railing of her box, droops over the table in the restaurant and flops anyhow into a chair. She affects shoes with soft soles, and low heels or none at all, moves with a sidewise dip, her body bowed backward while everything about her sags and drags. Sometimes she is sixteen and pretty, sometimes she has the figure of sixteen and the face of forty and when the slouch is attempted without the girlish figure, it becomes a wobble that suggests the negro mammy with her bundle of washing. Very rarely is the girl attractive as she would be in a natural pose, but she's in line with the extreme faddish fashion, and that's what she aims at.

DRAPERIES AND DRAPERIES.

Draped styles rule everywhere and nothing escapes the craze for curves and floppy effects. The only stiffening is at the edge of the lace tunics in "lamp shade" styles. These are varied indefinitely but are nearly always in evidence on fussy frocks for day or evening wear. Very few dresses are straight around at the foot, except the tailored styles. All others drape up at the centre front or back to show the foot and hosiery discreetly on the well bred woman but otherwise on the other sort of wearer.

LACE AND TRIMMINGS.

Laces and nets of all kinds are lavishly employed. White Chantilly over a skirt of black meteor, the black foundation extending up on the waist like a wide girdle. The upper part of the blouse and sleeves finished with a loose frill of Chantilly. An Irish green girdle draped in wide folds at the waist and a large green velvet rose tucked in at the front. Made for a dinner or theatre dress this will be worn at the Horse Show, topped by a small hat of black velvet, with a rever of ostrich on one side and a flaring lace one on the other, a small bow of the green perched, butterfly fashion, at the front edge. The coat, an elegant affair of unspotted ermine from C. C. Shayne and Co., has a panel back and long revers, finished with a fringe of tals below the waist line. Rolling Robespierre collar and lining of royal purple brocade figured in huge green and yellow tulips. Tails are no longer used to spot ermine, but as a trimming for this and other furs.

5537

The above design is by The McCall Company, New York, Designers and Makers of McCall Patterns.

Fur coats are cut and draped on precisely the same lines that prevail for high grade garments of brocades, velvets and duvetyn. The supple skins drape perfectly in broadtail, moire astrachan, mole, dyed muskrat and seal, and almost all fur garments are trimmed with contrasting collars, bands, revers and the new pipings of fur or velvet. A three-quarter wrap, on draped Japanese lines, of French dyed muskrat—the most perfect substitute for seal—has a skunk collar and cuffs, and a lining of grass green satin, trimmed at the edge with bands of brocaded cloth of gold.

GORGEOUS LININGS.

Gorgeous brocaded linings mark the high class fur garment, and vivid contrasting tones, except in the small sets, where blending colors are employed. Foxes come in all shades and are even dyed canary color in some instances, though in this country Moufflin is more often used where high colorings are desired. It is a new French idea to dye pelts in blues, greens, violets and other unnatural shades to go with certain costumes, but such extravagant and extreme styles are only followed by the few here.

A RIOT OF HUES.

Some of the fashionable combinations of colors this year are tete-de-naigre with touches ofoleander pink and sapphire blue and elephant gray or Burgundy with Irish green. All the copper and mahogany hues are favored for costumes and suits of black, plum, mahogany, mouse gray and cinnamon brown have matching waists of brocaded crepe. Black, one piece gowns have long sleeves and a plastron of figured red crepe.

Lucy Carter.

New York, Nov. 25, 1913.

☞PRATT'S BREAD—baked by experts in a light, well-ventilated building. All grocers.

CHOICE ARTICLES
FROM THE
PHILIPPINES

LUCBON HATS—Very best grade of the famous Panamas and Bankoks made. Absolutely none better, woven under water by hand. Can be crushed into a ball and not lose shape. Made for both Ladies and Gentlemen. $5 and $10.

ROMBLON MATS—Handsomest and most durable Grass Mats or Rugs made in the world. Beautiful colors and designs, large enough to cover one-half floor of rooms. $5.

MANILA CIGARS—$3 for a trial box of the Very Best Cigars made in the Philippines.

Oriente Cigarettes—Best made, large package containing 25 small packages, 750 Cigarettes, $2.

Sent by registered mail, free of duties, on receipt of price.

C. A. SHORT & CO.,
Lucena, Tay, P. I.
Oct 4 L&O 3m

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

SWITHIN
Real Estate
Mortgages-Insurance
Greenleaf Block
Quincy
Tel. Quincy 460. Nov. 10-tf

DR. ANNA H. SHAW

President of the National Woman's Suffrage Association

© by American Press Association.

THREE SMART WOMEN

Dr. Anna Shaw Says They Would Outshine Any of Our Presidents

Baltimore, Dec. 8.—"There are three women in the United States today who might occupy the presidential chair with a greater success than any of the Republicans, Democrats or Whigs, that have so far resided in the White House.

"They are Jane Addams, Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, and Mrs. Joseph Bowen, of Chicago. Susan B. Anthony would have made a better executive than Lincoln."

That is what Dr. Anna H. Shaw, just re-elected president of the American Woman Suffrage association, said on her visit to Baltimore. Dr. Shaw, who is the guest of Mrs. Charles Elliott, in the Green Spring valley, said she herself had no aspirations in the line of the president's seat.

SECRETARY TO HEAR NAVY YARD WORKERS

Daniels Will Meet Civilian Employes This Week

Portsmouth, N. H., Dec. 8.—The secretary of the navy has announced that he will personally hear the civilian employes of the Charlestown and the Portsmouth navy yards at Washington on the matter of wages for 1914. The session will be held this week.

Navy officers are opposed to such a movement on the ground that it invites political intrusion and the department can never satisfy the workmen with any periodic establishment of wages. The workmen will ask the secretary to reduce the amount of work done on board ships by enlisted men in order that the same may go to the several navy yards along the coast.

ONCE DAY LABORER

Death of Montgomery Ward, Chicago Multi-Millionaire

Chicago, Dec. 8.—Aaron Montgomery Ward, who rose from a day laborer to the presidency of a mail order house, died at his residence at Highland Park. The multi-millionaire was 70 years old.

Mr. Ward was born at Chatham, N. J., on Feb. 17, 1843, the family coming west when he was 8 years old. He advanced himself by his own endeavors until, at his death, his wealth is reliably estimated at $15,000,000.

Mr. Ward's long-continued efforts to prevent the erection of buildings in Grant park, won for him the name of "The Watch Dog of the Lake Front." At one time there were forty-six projects for buildings on the park, and he fought these projects in the face of general opposition. Two years ago the state supreme court handed down a decision prohibiting the erection of buildings on the lake front.

AFIRE OFF COAST

Suwanee Takes 197 Passengers Off Rio Grande and Puts Out Blaze

Norfolk, Dec. 8.—Summoned to the rescue of the coastwise steamer Rio Grande, afire off the Atlantic coast, the steamer Suwanee took off the Rio Grande's 197 passengers, subdued the fire and returned the passengers to their vessel.

The Rio Grande is now proceeding to her destination.

Tariff Hurts Maine Industry

Eastport, Me., Dec. 8.—Operators of the boneless herring industry here are disturbed because Canadian rivals, under the new tariff reduction of 1¼ cents per pound, are shipping the product into the states and underselling them. Before the tariff change the fish first came in as smoked herring and were boned at Eastport and Lubec.

Morgan's Grave Still Guarded

Hartford, Conn., Dec. 8.—The grave of J. P. Morgan on the summit of Cedar Hill cemetery is still, as it has been from day of interment, closely guarded by an armed man.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents. No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

LOST

LOST—On Hancock street between the car barn and Dr. Hunting's residence a bunch of keys. Finder please return to the Ledger office. Suitable reward. 6-tf

WANTED

WANTED—Childrens sewing. Mrs. A. J. Fox, 56 Division street, Montclair. 5-6t

WANTED—Housekeeper's position by an American woman in widower's family, reference exchanged. Mrs. D. W. Hall, Wollaston, Mass. 3-6t

WANTED—Dressmaking to do at home. F. M. Collins, 40 Quincy street, Quincy, Mass. 2-6t

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing. Myatt, 40 Baxter street. Tel. 1307-M. Quincy, Res. 22-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—A black horse, in good condition, kind and gentle, valuable for driving and light teaming. Can be seen any time at 95 Adams street, Quincy. 6-6t

FOR SALE—1910 Franklin Touring Car. Price $400. Has been overhauled recently by the Franklin Company. This car is fully equipped with gas tank, wind shield, top, and in fact, everything that is needed on an automobile. It is in first-class condition in every way. Will be pleased to demonstrate at any time. John J. Gallagher, 14 Faxon Block. 5-6t

FOR SALE—Lady's black Russian Pony jacket, size 34. At home evenings. Geo. W. Jennings, 317 Washington street, Braintree. 5-6t

FOR SALE or TO LET—New houses Apply to Thompson B. Crane, 403 Washington street, Quincy. 1-tf

MISCELLANEOUS

$25 reward for arrest and conviction of party who took horse out of stable Sunday night. Peter McConarty, 5 Pearl street. 6-8t

RENT FREE—until Jan. 1st. Two adjoining houses, 28 and 30 Pleasant street to desirable tenants, who will agree to stay one year, or longer. $5.00 per week in advance. Stable for one horse if desired. $1.00 a week extra. Apply 36 Pleasant street. 5-tf

GRAVEL and loam given away via Quincy Adams depot must be taken at once. Enquire of L. Grossman & Sons, Jackson street, Quincy Adams. Tel. 979-W. 2-6t

WM. H. TEASDALE
REAL ESTATE
Insurance Mortgages
NOTARY PUBLIC JUSTICE OF THE PEACE
Room 23 Adams Building
Telephones {Residence 544-3 Office 683-M
otf

TO LET
Large Front Office Greenleaf Block—2 entrances—right at the head of the stairs—one of the most desirable offices in Quincy.
Office, Durgin-Merrill Block—3 large windows—only 1 flight up—exceptional opportunity.
Hancock Building—City Square Offices—small front office, $11 a month
Office—Hancock Chambers, 16x18 feet one flight up, very low rent.
Store House—off Granite St., in the rear of Greenleaf Block.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best Location in City)
Offices—Large or small.
Desk Room—Street floor, right in the rear of main entrance, good light and air, $5 up a month.
Transient Rooms—Well furnished and with care, $1 a day.
Furnished Rooms—With care steam heat, and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week

HALLS
Music Hall—Music Hall Block—Capacity 962—highest possible rating by the State. "Excellent" in every particular.
New Colonial Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—Capacity 240—the best possible location for a Hall.
Hancock Hall—Hancock Building City Square—Capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 21066) Quincy

JAMES F. BURKE & CO.
Real Estate and Insurance
Care of Property. Mortgages
Justice of Peace. Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 885 M. Nov. 11-tf

TO LET

TO LET—A private family will let large furnished front room with or without board. 45 Wayland street, Wollaston. 6-3t

TO LET—9 room house on Hancock street, near Quincy center. In first class repair and reasonable rent. Apply to Mr. Galligan at Kincaide's Furniture store. 6-tf

TO LET—In Wollaston very desirable five room bungalow on high land, $26; also seven room house, $30; five room apartment, $20; six room apartment, $16. All improvements and in first class condition. H. W. Richmond, 105 Brook street, Wollaston. Tel. 358-2. 6-6t

A SNAP—7 room flat to let, all improvement, fine location, will let five dollars cheaper if taken at once. Apply H. K. Ellis, 36 Warwick street, Wollaston. Tel. Maine 4577. 5-6t

TO LET—Lower flat, 5 rooms bath modern improvements in new house pleasantly situated in corner lot 29 Atherton street, Bigelow Park. Rent reasonable to right party. Inquire on premises or 72 Glencoe place. 5-3t

UPPER APARTMENT. In two-family house on Spear Street. Five rooms, bath, large pantry and closets, also open attic with finished heated chamber. Every improvement, electric light, furnace, range etc. Ready for immediate occupancy. Telephone Quincy 278 M or enquire mornings of Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 1po

TO LET—Five nice large sunny rooms, all improvements. Apply 23 Dysart street. 4-6t

TO LET—Tenement 4 rooms and bath all improvements, set range. Vacant Jan. 1, 1914. Apply 180 Franklin street. 3-6t

TO LET—Newly furnished, steam heated room, modern conveniences 3 minutes from centre, 1 Adams street. 2-6t

TO LET—Upper flat in two flat new house at 1 Bradford street, 5 rooms and bath. All improvements. Ready Jan. 1st. Apply to Wm. E. Duggan, 32 Bryant avenue, West. Quincy. 26-12t

TO LET—173 Whitwell street, half house, modern conveniences, $20 per month. Ready for immediate occupancy. Apply Penniman's Stable, Granite street. 19-tf

RUSSELL PARK — Commodious house of seven rooms, large hall and bath. Modern, every convenience open fireplace, furnace, range, set tubs, electric lights, cemented cellar, etc. Best residential neighborhood. Ready for immediate occupancy. For further details or key see Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. tf 1po

TO LET—Nicest 4 room and bath lower flat in town. Every improvement $19.00. 126 Glendale road. S. E. Thomas Greenleaf Block. 17-tf

TO LET—5 room tenement at 117 Quincy street, $20 per month. Apply Berman Furniture Co. 6-tf

TO LET—Houses of 5, 6 and 10 rooms. M. T. Sullivan. Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy, Mass. 11-tf

WANTED
OFFICE BOYS
Bring School Certificate
Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation
Dec. 6-3t

ANOTHER BARGAIN
Make me an offer for a ten room house on Whitwell Street.
You will own it if you will talk buy, as it is one of those chances some one will miss.
HENRY W. SAVAGE
Real Estate, Boston.
E. G. HAYDEN, Local Representative
Telephone 1677-M, Quincy.
Nov 17-tf

WHEN YOU TAKE OUT YOUR SCREENS
If they need painting or repairing let
HOLMES & HALL
fix them up during the winter and have them read yin the spring.
NO CHARGE FOR STORAGE
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W
1179 HANCOCK ST.

KINCAIDE THEATRE

at 2.30. 5. 10. 15c., at 7.45. 10, 15. 25c

MON. TUES. WED.
Program subject to change

MURRY LIVINGSTON & CO.
Comedy Dramatic Playlet
"The Man From Italy"

COOPER & MAY Singing and Scenic Changes

TWISTO
The Human Pretzel

SIR WALTER WEENES
Just a little Nonsense

PATHE WEEKLY
World's News in Pictures

Feature Picture in 2 parts
The Green-Eyed Monster of Jealousy

A Picture full of fun
Edwin's Badge of Honor

Kincaide Theatre Orchestra

NEWSY BRIEFS

Mrs. S. S. Shumway is visiting at the home of her daughter Mrs. Herbert Smith, Wedgewood street.

Now that the painters and decorators are about through with their work, the Council Chamber looks very much improved.

Quincy officers are in attendance at the superior court at Dedham today, where there are a number of Quincy cases to be tried.

One of the ornamental tops to the posts surrounding the Dorothy Q house was knocked off by some of the crowd coming from the foot ball games. The top rested for several days in the brook.

Owing to a large amount of business the meeting of St. Stephen's R. S. Chapter Wednesday evening will commence at 4 o'clock. A banquet will be served at 6.30 during a recess before the evening convocation.

A busy session of the City Council is promised for tonight. There is but one more regular meeting scheduled for this year, but it will probably take at least one adjourned meeting in addition to the regular meeting to clean up the business.

There has been quite a rush for the past few days at the Tax Collectors office, of parties whose property has been advertised to be sold for taxes to pay up and thus save their property from being placed under the auctioneers hammer.

The amusement committee of the Sons of St. George are working hard for their annual minstrel show and dance to be held in Music hall in February. Mr. Dinegan is the director of the show and will attend the regular meeting of the lodge Wednesday evening to take up the work.

Hiram Morse is making a year-round house out of his home on Bellevue road by installing steam heat and plastering three large rooms in the upper story making nine rooms in the house. His house is one of the many attractive large bungalows in Squantum. John Holmes and James Loughan are doing the work.

NOTICE.

Regular meeting of Clan McGregor, No. 5 O. S. C. Monday, Dec. 8, 1913. Business. Election of Officers.

ANGUS D. MARTIN, Chief.
WALTER A. MITCHELL, Sec'y.
5-3t

A Merry Xmas to all.

When buying Pianos or Musical Instruments see
JOHNSEN
6 Chestnut Street, Quincy
Pianos from $10 up
Dec. 8-12t

Call Quincy 501--W

if you want your furniture, mattresses and cushions repaired in good order at low prices M. MIRKIN, upholsterer, 1060 Hancock street near the Quincy High School.
Dec.1-1m

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER and GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
Orchard Place, off Spear street, Quincy

FLAHERTYS AND ROONEYS TIED

Standing in the St. Mary's Bowling League

Workmen will commence within a few days to lay another bowling alley at St. Mary's hall and with the two now in use another incentive is offered members of the league to increase their showing. All of the ten teams are making an interesting fight for first place but the team of Bart Flaherty maintains a comfortable lead. J. Duggan has the highest single made in competition to his credit, 124 rolled several nights ago and the highest team total goes to the McPhersons, 1306. The standing

	Pts. Won	Lost	Pstge.
Flahertys	9	3	.750
Rooneys	3	1	.750
McPhersons	11	5	.687
T. Joyce	10	6	.625
Welch	5	5	.500
Morrisette	7	9	.487
Reinhalter	6	8	.428
W. Joyce	5	7	.417
McDonald	5	7	.417
Duggan	0	8	.000

DIVISION 17 A. O. H. ELECT

The members of Division 17, A. O. H. of Atlantic attended the annual meeting Sunday afternoon in large numbers and discussed plans for an active year. The election of officers resulted in the following being chosen:

President—Michael McNally.
Vice President—Miles Creamer.
Financial Secretary — Jeremiah Lynch.
Recording Secretary—Mark B. Gill.
Treasurer—Barnard Cullen.
Chairman of the Standing Committee—Cornelius M. Duggan.

NEW OFFICERS OF Y. M. H. A.

The annual meeting of the Young Men's Hebrew Association was held Sunday afternoon and these officers elected President—Samuel Kadets.

Vice President—William Wolf.
Treasurer—Louis Sherad.
Financial Secretary—Julius Michelson.
Recording Secretary—Morris Asnes
Custodian—Israel Wolf.
Directors—Louis Berman, Joseph Szathmary, Joseph B. Grossman.

The installation of the officers will be held next Sunday at the rooms of the association.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

The little friends of Ruth Holmes were royally entertained at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Holmes, Bellevue road, Squantum, Saturday afternoon where they were invited to help celebrate her seventh birthday. They began to arrive at two o'clock and spent the main part of the afternoon in playing games and singing songs. Marjorie Marden won a dainty handkerchief for pinning the donkey's tail in its proper place. At five the guest were called into the dinning room for refreshments of ice cream, cake, sandwiches, fruit and candy. At each place the children found dainty German favors and little baskets of candy. The table was prettily decorated with holly and mistletoe and in the center was a beautiful birthday cake for Miss Ruth who generously shared it. Mrs. Holmes was assisted in serving by her mother Mrs. Frye. Ruth received many pretty presents including hair ribbons, handkechiefs, games and books. Those present were Earling Hackenson, Edith and Ruth Olson, Ethel Morse, Marjorie Marden, Clara Aldrich, Doris Sumner, Hazel Olson, Ruth Nelson, Mildred and Evelyn Lingren, John and Malcolmn Holmes.

Anyone interested is invited to attend the meting of the Quincy Women's club tomorrow afternoon at the clubhouse, Presidents hill. Mrs. Clements of Keith's Bijou theatre is to speak on "The Moving icture Problem." Previous to the meting the clubhouse will be open at 1.30 for an exhibition and sale of the work of the blind, which is very interesting and may also be inspected after the meeting.

SHIPYARD STANDING

Yard Team Now Has Good Lead in Bowling League

The Fore River bowling league is still lead by the Yard team which has lost but two points out of a possible 32. The Machine Gallery is pressing them with four points lost out of 32. The Shipfitters still hold the cellar position. The only change the past week was the tieing of the Yard by the Machine Gallery in the high team single, both getting 472. The standing:

	Won	Lost	P. C.
Yard	30	2	.930
Machine Gallery	28	4	.868
Electricians	25	11	.675
Argentine Inspt.	22	14	.594
Machine Floor	19	13	.589
Hull Draftsmen	20	16	.540
Foundry	14	18	.434
Blacksmiths	15	21	.405
Gov. Draftsmen	13	19	.403
Pipefitters	6	26	.186
Ex-Apprentices	5	27	.155
Shipfitters	3	29	.093

High single, Charnock of Yard, 123; high three string total, Smith of Yard, 321; high tea msingle, Machine Gallery and Yard tied at 472; high team total Yard, 1368

FUNERAL OF THOMAS TODD

The funeral of Thomas Todd whose mangled body was found in New York and identified through memorandums in his pocket was held from the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Todd, 107 Glendale road, Sunday afternoon. Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott of the Bethany Congregational church officiated and several solos were rendered by Mrs. Emma S. Moore. Burial was in Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

Todd was about 29 years of age and has been in New York for over a year. Positive identification was by his father who claimed the remains the day, following the finding of the body.

IT IS TIME.

that you started to make up your Christmas List. For the one who enjoys good reading you can make no better selection than a subscription to the Boston Evening Transcript, providing a daily feast of the best in literature in addition to the carefully arranged and edited news. Subscriptions are received for any length of time and also, where the paper is not wanted daily, for any single day or combination of days. Neatly engraved certificates are furnished with all subscriptions intended for Christmas gifts. Sample copies of various issues of the Transcript will be sent free of charge by the Boston Transcript Company on request.

The Lord's Supper was celebrated in the First United Presbyterian church Sunday evening ten new names were added to church rolls an eloquent and forcible sermon was delivered by Rev. D. B. MacLeod to a large congregation.

BIRTHS

HOLMES—In Quincy, Dec. 2, a daughter Lenetta Alureda to Mr. and Mrs. Rutherford B. Holmes of 211 Highland avenue.

MARRIAGES

TOCCI—SETTIMELLI— In Quincy, Dec. 6, by Emery L. Crane, City Clerk, Mr. Frank Tocci and Miss Florence C. Settimelli, both of Quincy.

DIBONA—RINALDO—In Boston, Dec. 6, by Rev. Mario Casdazza, Mr. Donato DiBona and Miss Natalina Rinaldo, both of Quincy.

DEATHS

HYLAND—In Quincy, Dec. 7, Bridget, beloved wife of Martin Hyland, aged 41 years.
Funeral from her late residence, 117 Standish avenue, Tuesday, Dec. 9, at 8.15 A. M. High mass of requiem at St. John's church at 9 o'clock. Relatives and friends invited to attend.

SANDERSON—In South Quincy, suddenly, John Sanderson of 53 McDonnell street, in his 56th year.

ERICKSON—In Wollaston, Annie G., wife of Axel Erickson, of 448 Beale street, in her 35th year.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass.

Auto-Hallucination.

Answering the question "Will you please explain how a person is lifted by four persons placing their index fingers under his shoulders and legs by means of slight lifting force at time of inhaling a long breath by each person and by the person about to be lifted?" Edgar Lucien Larkin in the New York American says:

"I have been asked this question many times. If a person actually has been lifted and those doing the lifting think that the 'law of gravity is partially suspended' then the lifters are under self hallucination or auto suggestion in so far as their impression of lifting is concerned. They actually lift far more than they think, but they will not admit this, as they are partially self hallucinated in the belief that the body of the person will rise. And if they really succeed in lifting the man two inches they think it a foot. Auto hallucination is a remarkable entological phenomenon and is now being studied by mentalists here and in Europe with minute care and research."

Foolishness of Betting.

Being firmly convinced that a certain contest would terminate in conformity with his opinions, a farmer in New York state wagered his new automobile against a wheelbarrow on the result of the contest in question—and lost. Giving up the property, he grimly trudged seven miles to his home. Probably his family noticed that he had a grouch too. Considered in the calm, clear, cold light of pure reason, the gentleman succeeded in proving himself a near relative to a California canary—otherwise known as a donkey. Had he won the bet the result would have been pretty much the same, for betting is not argument, evidence or proof of anything. It adds no force, power or dignity to any opinion or set of opinions. It is merely the outpouring of the gambling spirit, and that is a spirit that has led many a man to utter beggary who might have adorned a home and ornamented a community. —Detroit Free Press.

A Tall Story.

The long leggedest man we know is our friend H. Bingham Palmer. He can take steps above five feet long, in spite of which he is devoted to horseback riding.

Recently he came into the office to chat awhile, and we noticed that he limped.

"Corn?" was asked sympathetically.

"Nope—accident," he answered, as answers one who doesn't care to talk about something. That aroused our curosity, and we couldn't help showing it, probably, for he sighed and confessed:

"I was ridin' through the park Monday, and I was just ridin' along and ridin' along and not thinkin' of anything in particular, and my foot slipped out of the stirrup."

"Well?"

"Well, the darn horse stepped on it!" —Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Dirigible Balloons.

The dirigible balloon is by no means a modern invention, as many people seem to think. As a matter of fact, as long ago as 1784 General Meusnier proposed the construction of an elongated balloon which might be propelled through the air. Experiments were made with it by two brothers named Robert, who made several ascents and attained a speed of three miles an hour, though the method of propulsion was only aerial oars worked by hand. Nothing further was attempted until 1852, when Henri Giffard built dirigibles which, by means of a light steam engine, he propelled at nearly seven miles an hour, and since then various experiments have been made which ultimately ended in the wonderful triumph of Zeppelin.—New York Press.

Borax In the Laundry.

The uses of refined borax are manifold. It is infinitely better than soda for washing purposes. It may be used in the proportion of a large handful to ten gallons of boiling water, and will effect a great saving in soap. If you are about to wash delicate laces or cambric use an extra quantity of powder. The effect of borax is to soften the hardest water, and, being a neutral salt, it does not in the slightest degree injure the texture of linen or any other delicate material washed with it. —New York Globe.

Courtier and Poet.

Louis XIV., having shown Boileau some verses of his own composition, demanded his candid opinion about them.

"Sire," answered the poet, "your majesty wished to write poor lines and you did it so well that you proved that nothing is impossible to your majesty!"

Changes.

"You will admit a wise man sometimes changes his mind?"

"Yes," replied Senator Sorghum. "He also changes his wardrobe. But in doing so he avoids popular attention as much as possible."—Washington Star.

Storms of Life.

As storm following storm and wave succeeding wave give additional hardness to the shell that incloses the pearl, so do the storms and waves of life add force to the character of man.

Flag Bunting Test.

The United States government's test for color in bunting is six hours' immersion in salt water and six hours' exposure to the sun.

He is not many who yields to fits of anger, but he who wields composure and kindness.—Marcus Aurelius.

NATIONAL FIGHT AGAINST CANCER

Campaign of Education Under Way to Check Its Spread.

HOPE IN EARLY TREATMENT

Surgery the Only Present Safety In Combating Disease, Which Is Increasing, Although Claim Is Made For Radium as a Cure.

Death by cancer claims 75,000 people every year in the United States. The scourge is steadily increasing, says Graham R. Taylor in the Survey. But hope for its control is growing, for we are coming more widely to understand that the disease is curable if treated in early stages. This knowledge with reference to tuberculosis started the great campaign against the white plague. Similarly a nation wide fight against cancer is being organized by the recently formed American Society For the Control of Cancer.

In spite of premature enthusiasm over radium and the conscienceless statements of quacks the surgeon's knife is the only known cure. Prompt diagnosis and an immediate thorough operation offer a high probability of saving the patient's life, while delay and neglect mean certain and terrible death. To spread this simple gospel to every corner of the land the society is beginning an active campaign of publicity and education.

Only tuberculosis and pneumonia claim a greater number of victims annually than cancer. For the decade ending with 1911 the cancer death rate has increased from 65.8 per 100,000 of the population in 1901 to 83.9 in 1911.

A Destroyer of Homes.

From the social standpoint it is of peculiar interest to note that cancer is distinctly a disease of adult life. Deaths from cancer make up one-sixteenth of the mortality from all causes at the ages of forty-five and over. This means that cancer directs its terrific onslaught largely against mothers and fathers of families.

Cancer is not at first a general disease of the blood, and despair and surrender in face of the disease is not warranted. We now known that cancer is always at first a local disease which can often be completely removed by adequate surgery. The knife is the only known sure remedy, and the terrible scourge gives its victim only one chance. Delay means not simply danger, but inevitable death. And again the result of a delayed or incomplete operation is almost always fatal.

Radium is considered by enthusiasts to promise a curative agency of unmatched beneficence to mankind, but we must know much more than we do now of its effects before we can abate in the slightest the urgent emphasis on surgical treatment. We have not yet been able in this country to make an authoritive determination of its value. Few American surgeons have sufficient radium available to give a thorough trial, especially as it appears that extensive doses sometimes cure when smaller amounts have but little effect.

Only time will tell what percentage of cases can be cured with radium, and in the meantime the Society For the Control of Cancer warns the public that early surgical treatment affords the best chance for cure of cancer.

Methods to Be Employed.

To meet the need of a definite special agency to fight the battle of society against this disease the American Society For the Control of Cancer has been formed. Patterned somewhat after the National Association For the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, yet recognizing an entirely different problem and planning different methods, the organization aims to establish a clearing house of information on cancer and to become the channel through which authoritative statements will be made to the public.

One of the first objects will be to obtain the keeping of systematic and uniform records of cancer cases in hospitals and dispensaries to provide the basis for more detailed and positive deductions as to the value of surgical treatment in different manifestations and stages of the disease. When by this method and by the collection and study of statistics from all available sources new light is thrown on the cancer question the findings will be spread abroad through all available channels.

"RAILROADS ARE STARVING."

Seeking Higher Rates, Say Earnings Are Less Despite Increased Revenues.

While their revenues have increased earnings have been less, declare the forty-nine railroads east of the Mississippi, which use this argument in asking an increase of 5 per cent in freight rates. Testimony to this effect was given before the interstate commerce commission in Washington before that body adjourned to meet Dec. 10.

The burden of the evidence tendered is that while the roads generally are enjoying an increased business the returns from operations are continuously decreasing until, as General Traffic Manager Maxwell of the Wabash said: "The situation is becoming daily more serious. We are suffering from slow starvation."

When the commission meets on Dec. 10 shippers protesting against the higher rates will be represented by counsel.

An Invitation---

The Quincy Y. M. C. A. invites the

Business Men of Quincy

to attend an Illustrated lecture on

Advertising

to be given at the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday Evening, December 9, at half past seven by John J. Morgan, Vice-President of the Morgan & Morgan Advertising Agency of Boston.

After the lecture, Mr. Morgan will outline the Advertising Study Course which the Quincy Y. M. C. A. plans to start right after Christmas.

The Quincy Young Men's Christian Association
A. F. Bromley, General Secretary
Dec. 8-2t

The New Tariff
Has Reduced Prices on English Biscuits

SPECIAL SALE
McVitie and Price Biscuits

Experts Pronounce Them The Best Biscuits Ever Made
Many New Kinds Never Shown Before in this Country
STEP IN AND SAMPLE THEM

Petit Buerre	25c lb
Family	25c lb
Royal Scot	30c lb
Abernethy	30c lb
Golf	40c lb
Academy Creams	50c lb
Butterettes	30c lb

Adams Market R. E. FOY & CO. Water St. Market

For Winter Wear Call on Jones

The healthy boy—the boy with red blood in his veins—is the boy that will want one of our sweaters and a skating or hockey cap.

Made by the American Knitting Co., they will outwear most of the knit goods put out by some manufacturers. Warm, soft and comfortable, they're just what every boy should have—and the "governor" should have one, too.

The man with the Auto or the owner of a horse should have a pair of our gauntlet Auto gloves and one of those warm caps that can be made into three different styles—one style for blustering days,—one for cold still days— and a style for mild days.

Come in and let us show them to you.

GEORGE W. JONES
The Store "Just Around the Corner" that sells for less.
1 Granite Street, Quincy.
Dec. 8-3t

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

Why Newspaper Advertising Pays:

1. The newspaper advertisement is not buried—it is accessible.
2. The newspaper advertisement of a commodity continually or daily needed is read by the very people whose continual or daily need the advertiser desires to supply.
3. The newspaper advertisement may be seen thirty times a month—it is not limited to one appearance.

Through the daily newspaper the advertiser can make a local and intimate appeal to his prospective customer in his own community and in his own vernacular.

TRY A LEDGER AD

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

LARGEST GUARANTEED CIRCULATION IN THE CITY

Vol. 28 No. 285 QUINCY MASS. TUESDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 9 1913 PRICE TWO CENTS

COUNCIL TURNS DOWN SALARY INCREASES

Many Matters Pending Before Standing Committees Disposed of Temporary Loan Order and Several Transfer Orders Are Passed

Monday nights adjourned meeting of the City Council was a short one but for all of that a large amount of business was disposed of. Many of the matters that had been on the table during the year were taken up and in most cases the orders were rejected. These included appropriations for sewer house connections, Atlantic July 4th celebration, $1,500 for a police automobile, the order relative to dogs and granting the Electric Light Co. a location for poles on Fayette street.

The Street Committee has cleaned up all matters referred to them and many of the matters before the Finance Committee have also been disposed of.

The only debate of the evening came on the order increasing the pay of the firemen. The Finance Committee reported ought not to pass. Councilmen Griffin and Hadlock offered a minority report, which after citing the salaries paid firemen in other cities of about the same size as Quincy recommended that the order ought to pass. The minority report however was rejected by a vote of 7 yes and 10 no. The majority report was accepted and the order rejected. An attempt to reconsider the vote failed.

The absent members were Councilmen Duffy, Johnson and Richards.

The Mayor forwarded a communication from the City Solicitor recommending that an appropriation of $2,300 be made to settle claims against the city. Laid on the table until later when Councilman Bailey offered an order for that amount which was referred to the Finance Committee.

A communication from the Assessors asking for $75 for Miscellaneous was laid on the table until later when an order for that amount offered by Councilman Bailey was adopted.

The Mayor forwarded a petition of Charles E. Wood setting forth that he had been employed by the city for 32 years and asking to be retired on a pension, as a city employee. Referred to the Finance Committee.

A communication from the City Clerk asking for the transfer of $250 from the appropriation for State Aid to the appropriation for Elections was laid on the table when Councilman Bailey offered an order making the transfer which was adopted.

The Mayor forwarded petitions from Mrs. E. E. Goodey for permission for children to appear on the stage at the Union Chapel Houghs, Neck Dec. 12, and from the Clan McGregor for children to appear on the stage at Music Hall, Dec. 31. Laid on the table until later when Councilman Gilliatt offered orders granting the permission which were adopted.

A petition was received from the Telephone Co. for a location for poles on Newhall street. Referred to the next Council.

A petition from the same company for attachments on Abigail avenue was granted.

A petition was received from C. H. Penniman for a license to keep gasolene an Wibird street. Laid on the table until later when Councilman Gilliatt offered an order for a public hearing Dec. 15. Adopted.

A number of applications for minor licenses were received and referred to the License committee.

The Committee on Elections reported the result of the election of Dec. 2, which was read after which President Whiton declared the election to have been as read with the exception of Alexander Cowe, councilman from Ward Three whose eligibility was in doubt.

The Finance Committee reported recommending that the order increasing the salary of the assistant Assessors be amended to $100. Report and amendment accepted and order passed.

The Finance Committee reported no legislation necessary on the communication from the Board of Health relative to the salary of the physician on the board. Report accepted.

The Finance Committee recommended reference to the next City Council on the order appropriating $1,500 for improving the water course between Coddington street and the Canal. Report accepted.

The Finance Committee reported ought not to pass on the order appropriating money to refund Cordelia M. Clark half cost of a permanent sidewalk. Report accepted.

The Finance Committee reported ought to pass on the order of the building of a section of granolithic sidewalk on Hancock street between Granite and School streets. Report accepted and order passed under suspension of the rules.

The Finance Committee reported ought to pass on the temporary loan order for $75,000. Report accepted and order passed under suspension of the rules.

The Finance Committee reported ought to pass on the order transferring receipts amounting to $709. by the school department for tuition and rent of halls to the appropriation for the school department. Report accepted and order passed under suspension of the rules.

The Finance Committee reported ought not to pass on the order increasing the salary of the Inspector of Provisions from $200 to $300 a year. Report accepted.

At this point the Finance Committee reported on the order increasing the salary of the permanent firemen as noted above.

Councilman Thompson offered an order abandoning the sewer easement taken by the city in May 1907 through the land known as Bayfield road at Atlantic. Referred to the Committee on Streets.

Councilman Bryant offered a resolution endorsing the "Build a Ship in Boston" conference relative to

(Continued on Page Three.)

For Winter Wear Call on Jones

The healthy boy—the boy with red blood in his veins—is the boy that will want one of our sweaters and a skating or hockey cap.

Made by the American Knitting Co., they will outwear most of the knit goods put out by some manufacturers. Warm, soft and comfortable, they're just what every boy should have—and the "governor" should have one, too.

The man with the Auto or the owner of a horse shou'd have a pair of our gauntlet Auto gloves and one of those warm caps that can be made into three different styles—one style for blustering days,—one for cold still days—and a style for mild days.

Come in and let us show them to you.

GEORGE W. JONES

The Store "Just Around the Corner" that sells for less.

1 Granite Street, Quincy.

Dec. 8-3t

The New Tariff

Has Reduced Prices on English Biscuits

SPECIAL SALE

McVitie and Price Biscuits

Experts Pronounce Them The Best Biscuits Ever Made

Many New Kinds Never Shown Before in this Country

STEP IN AND SAMPLE THEM

Petit Buerre	25c lb
Family	25c lb
Royal Scot	30c lb
Abernethy	30c lb
Golf	40c lb
Academy Creams	50c lb
Butterettes	30c lb

Adams Market R. E. FOY & CO. Water St. Market

DIRECTORY NOTICE

W. A. Greenough & Co., publishers of the Quincy Directory wish to notify their patrons and the business public that they have no connection whatever with the so called Greater Boston Business Directory, but will issue the Quincy Directory for 1914 at the usual time, and will be called upon by Mr. Everett as heretofore. 6-3t

HOLMES & HALL

REPAIRERS OF HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS

SHADES
DOOR BELLS
LOCKS and KEYS

1179 HANCOCK ST.

TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

CHIEF MARTIN IS RE-ELECTED

Contests at Annual Meeting Clan McGregor

The hall of Clan McGregor was not large enough to accommodate a large percentage of its 760 members that attended the annual meeting and election of officers Monday evening. Chief Angus Martin and Tanist Charles Nicol were re-elected and several contests furnished considerable excitement during the evening. Walter Mitchell who has served as recording secretary was elected financial secretary by a narrow margin and Dr. J. T. Reynolds was chosen physician in a close contest.

Although an active discussion was held on the amendment proposed to the by-law pertaining to sick members the change was accepted by an overwhelming vote. The sick list as reported is large and after New Years a testimonial for one member will be held in their hall.

Elaborate preparations are being made to present Rob Roy in Music hall on Dec. 31. The play will be presented under the direction of Alex W. Russell and a fine cast is rehearsing. Dancing will follow and continue until three o'clock New Year's morn.

The appointive officers will be announced at the installation which will take place in January. The exercises will probably be the most impressive that have ever been held by Clan McGregor. The officers were:

Chief—Angus Martin.
Tanist—Charles Nicol.
Financial Secretary—Walter Mitchell.
Recording Secretary—Angus Kerr.
Treasurer—Alex W. Russell.
Chaplain—John Bissett.
Senior Henchman—Thomas Melrose.
Junior Henchman—Norman Ross.
Seneschal—William Cantley.
Warder—William Summers.
Sentinel—William McIntosh.
Physician—Dr. J. T. Reynolds.
Pianist—George Thompson.
Standard Bearer—George Clark.
Trustee for three years—Alex Emslie.
Auditor for three years—James Smith.

INDIA AND HER ACHIEVEMENTS

The speaker at the monthly dinner of the First Parish club next Tuesday evening will be Swami Paramananda who will give an illustrated talk on "India and her achievements."

A roast beef dinner will be served at 6.30 as usual the dinner being preceded by a half hours social gathering in the reception room in the basement of the church. The lecture promises to be one of the most interesting of the season.

SIXTH SEASON

Quincy Choral Society

Mr. GEORGE S. DUNHAM, Conductor

MISCELLANEOUS PROGRAM and

HIAWATHA'S WEDDING FEAST

By S. COLERIDGE-TAYLOR

HIGH SCHOOL HALL

WEDNESDAY EVENING, DEC. 10th, 1913

At 8 o'clock

SOLOIST

MR. ARTHUR HACKETT, Tenor

BROCKTON PHILHARMONIC ORCHESTRA

TICKETS

LIMITED number reserved seats 75 cents. General admission 50 cents

TICKETS for sale by members and at Hearn's Drug Store.

Dec. 1-6t-1-3-6-8-9-10

GIVES WOMEN A WIDER OUTLOOK

Some Things College Education Gives Women

An audience of several hundred gathered in the Wollaston school hall Monday evening at the monthly meeting of the Parents and Teachers Association to hear Dr. Marion Leroy Burton, president of Smith college delivers a lecture on "What a college education means to a woman."

Dr. Burton's address was pithy and eloquent not only dealing with the feminine aspect of education but showing plainly the part any leading college plays in developing the character and dealing with the personality of the individual student.

"What leading Woman's College is the best?" asked Dr. Burton. It is any one to which you may send your daughter and at the end of four years you will be sure it is the best one.

"The pioneer days of the education for women are past. At first they were told that women did not have the mental capacity to engage in a college course. Then as time wore on it was acknowledged women had the ability but they did it at the expense of their health.

"When this standard failed it was said that by her college education she would loose her womanliness. Now all objections have vanished.

"If we ask ourselves What does a college education do for a woman? We find there are two distinct factors; one the college, the other, the woman.

"What it means will depend on the type of college selected, but more largely on the training and the abilities of the student herself. She must recognize the fact that what she gets out of it depends on what she puts into it. The day is past when we thrust down intellectual food that is not palatable.

"College education means to a woman first strength and vigor gained by regular habits, normal food and regular hours. While they should not be thought hospitals or sanitariums, colleges for women are profoundly concerned in the physical welfare of their students.

"It means a wide outlook on life—a deep general foundation and a variety of knowledge. Through language and literature, the sciences, history, philosophy and the fine arts it develops the broad and general sympathetic interest and knowledge of the world that means intellectual life.

"Furthermore it means a development of the power of concentration. It is a mark of the educated person to give ones self completely to the thing at hand. There is too much dilly dallying. We can't be ourselves and our neighbors too.. We should give ourselves too. We should give ourselves in concentrated actions. This is one thing that women need.

"A college education helps to think clearly, consecutively and conclusively. It gives a passion for truth combined with thorough concentration

"A college education teaches not only to think but to feel correctly. It helps develop a type of person that recognizes worth and value wherever found. You appreciate a Caruso at the opera because you know you are expected to. But would you appreciate a Caruso in a blacksmith shop? Thus comes the training to recognize beauty, art and excellence.

"This is what the college is doing without sentimentality. Furthermore it banishes moods where feeling dominates reason. Women need to banish moods.

"Not only this but but the college training gives judgment. The ability to weigh evidence. To repudiate the impossible and improbable assertion. Forming a stability of thought.

"Women are chiefly executive and administrative officers. My wife spends 95 per cent of my income and I want her to have some experience in expending it.

"Can you ever become educated? College training brings the conception that education is not a product but a process. We say we will never do it, but we are doing it every day.

"We only live by escaping the debt of attainment. That man who says

(Continued on Page Three.)

SPECIAL ELECTION FOR WARD THREE

Ineligibility of Alex. Cowe Means That Vacancy Exists in Council

Council Will So Declare and Order Special Election

That a new election will have to be held in Ward Three, is now practically settled. And this is because Alexander Cowe, who was elected at the recent municipal election is not eligible to hold office under the City Charter.

There have been some who held to this theory from the first, but it was not definitely settled until Monday when City Clerk Crane visited the state house and obtained an opinion from the highest authority in the state on such matters.

As has been previously stated the case is somewhat similar to that of Lee P. Noonan who was declared not eligible to hold the office of Associate County Commissioner to which he had been elected, for the reason that there was already a member of the Board who resided in Quincy. The law however in this case states clearly that in case a man is elected for County Comissioner or for Associate Commissioner who resides in the same town as a member of the Board he shall be decleared ineligible and the man having the next highest vote declared elected.

In the case of a councilman from a city however there is no such provision and the only thing to do is to hold a special election.

As has been previously stated the City Council, is the judge of the qualifications of its own members and it will be up to the new City Council to declare a vacancy exists and order a new election. In other words the election of Mr. Cowe, who was not qualified, acts the same as though, if he had been eligible, he had died before taking office.

As the situation now stands it will be in order for the City Council of 1914, when it organized to pass an orderder for Mr. Cowe to appear before the City Council and show cause why he should not be declared ineligible to hold the office to which he had been elected. As he will be unable to do this the only thing that then remains is for the Council to declare a vacancy and order a new election in Ward Three.

A special election, aside from entailing an expense of something like $300 means a lot of work. In the first place all of the routine such as takes place at a regular election must be gone through with.

(Continued on Page Six.)

An Invitation---

The Quincy Y. M. C. A. invites the

Business Men of Quincy

to attend an Illustrated lecture on to be given at the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday Evening, December 9, at 8 o'clock by John J. Morgan, Vice-President of the Morgan & Morgan Advertising Agency of Boston.

Advertising

After the lecture, Mr. Morgan will outline the Advertising Study Course which the Quincy Y. M. C. A. plans to start right after Christmas.

The Quincy Young Men's Christian Association

A. F. Bromley, General Secretary

Dec. 8-2t

THE CORSET SHOP

8 Maple Street

All Popular makes of

Corsets and Brassieres

Hosiery and

McCall Patterns

Correct fitting of Corsets a specialty

I have been very fortunate to have, during my temporary absence, the services of an expert corsettiere, who who will give the same personal attention to fittings and alterations as has always been accorded to customers.

MISS S. E. DUNPHY

Oct. 30-tf

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second-Class matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

TELEPHONES
News . . . Quincy 425
Business . . Quincy 1910

NOTICE

Again we ask those sending news or other matter by mail to direct it to the company or newspaper rather than to individual members of the company or employees. If addressed to individuals and they were ill or not at the office, it might be several days in reaching its proper destination and if news matter would be too late for use.

At least one argument for that Alaska railroad will appeal to Congress ,and that is that it would enable the government to get rid of $39,000,000.

Some of the Suffragists proposed that they march seven times around the White house. The office seekers have long been trying that without any effect.

Don't imagine that because an article is useful that it is therefore unsuitable for a Christmas present.

Owing to the persistence of improvident persons in eating luxuries like eggs, many housewives are joining the boycott of henfruit.

It is possible that a tactful hint to your best girl would avert the possibility of receiving a necktie for Christmas.

—It is announced that the profits of the parcel post for the first year will be about $30,000,000, which shows how good a thing it is for the exchequer to let the railroads pay the freight.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

"The members of the Banking and Currency ought to give and take," says an Exchange. The trouble is that they are all trying to take.

John Hays Hammond says he won't invest any more money in foreign countries as long as Bryan is secretary. Ssh! John, they might keep Bryan in right along if you talk this way.

GOVERNMENT SEEDS.

The folly of spending some hundreds of thousands of dollars annually in distributing government seeds has often been commented on. The principal object was that these seeds were a form of electioneering for Congressmen. They might not be able to visit a remote, constituent, but if they could send him a package of seeds, he felt almost as well satisfied.

Some Congressmen are adopting the very sensible practice of giving information through the newspapers, that no seeds will be sent out this year except to those actually requesting it. No doubt every one of the seed lists could be cut down to 5 per cent of its former size in this way. But the Congressmen may not be willing to save money to Uncle Sam, if they thereby miss the chance to flatter the voters at home.

All these little leaks cost good money. Some one has to pay. If the cost of seeds could have been included in a tax bill handed to the property owner, a wasteful extravagance like this would never have been permitted.

MAKING GIFTS TO MEN.

What a raft of superflous truck used to be given to men for Christmas presents! The traditional gifts at Christmas donation parties to the minister were slippers, often in heaps, constituting a slipper reservior for life. But at least slippers were useful, even those with tops of flowered brussels. Not so much could be said for many other gifts, which the men were supposed to receive with jubilant faces.

One favorite present was a calendar with the days of the week and month stamped in succession on ribbon running through slots. They had to be pulled down every day, or the girl who gave it said you no longer thought of her. Probably few of them were kept up to date later than Feb. 1.

The penwiper, still in favor with womenkind, used to be a favorite gift to business men. The modern office man comes from Spotlesstown, and no more wipes his pen on his coat sleeve, and is too sanitary to lick his pen with his tongue, but the penwiper seems to have gone the way of tail coats in the business office.

As for paper weights, blotting pads, and other trinkets, the banks and insurance companies litter the business desk with this rubbish in the form of advertising.

At home, few men care for much frippery around their bureau drawers. Burnt wood collar, shirt, and stud boxes, china trays, embroidered laundry bags, leather travelling cases, all these have some use, yet there are given where one is needed and enjoyed.

Any man welcome and prizes a gift made from real friendship. But it you want him to value the thing for its own sake, and not to chuck it out of sight at the first opportunity, you must study his tastes and daily habits with some care.

JOHNNY BASS'S LANE.

Editor Ledger:

Now tnat the road over Presidents hill has been divorced from William Goffe, whose name it has borne for fifty years, and taken to itself another that some one has evolved from their inner consciousness perhaps an outsider may offer a few remarks without being told that he is butting in to what is no concern of his.

I was born and lived on Presidents hill for forty-seven years and I never heard of Presidents lane, before the petition to change the name of the street came up; my earliest recollection is of a cart track known to the older people as "Johnny Bass's Lane," which was laid out many years before by some member of the Bass family from Granite street up to their pasture on the top of the hill.

Previous to 1835 when Mr. Adams built the house lately occupied by Mr. Angier, there was a driveway from Adams street which turning to the right half way up the hill ended at the pasture bars. This way was bounded by stone walls on either side, beyond the bars a cart way followed the edge of the western side of the hill and entering a walled lane ended at Granite street where Whitwell now joins it. I have been told by men who were old when I was a boy that before the late Goffe street was opened it was a much travelled way and my remembrance of its deeply worn wheel tracks which remained as evidence for many years, seems to verify this statement.

The road over the hill was laid out previous to 1840 by Mr. Adams through his land, which then extended to the plot that he gave to the Rev. William P. Lunt, minister of First church. This is now the estate of Judge Bumpus. Mr. Bass extended his lane to meet that of Mr. Adams. These two men owned all of the hill west of and including the road.

Shortly before the time of town meeting in the early 60's (I am not sure of the year but previous to '64) Jeffery R. Brackett who built and lived in the house now occupied by the Quincy Women's club came to our house with a petition for an article to be inserted in the warrant for the town meeting that the road way be accepted by the town as a public way and in memory of the illustrious regicide who lived and died in this vicinity it be known as "Goffe street." Where Mr. Brackett got the idea I don't know. He has been dead this many a year and his knowledge of the regicide is buried with him, perhaps he had some reason for connecting Tom Revel with William Goffe.

Mr. Whitney in his pamphlet published in 1828 says in a footnote on page 36: "Opposite the house of Mr. John Bass, on the rising ground, once stood the dwelling of Thomas Revel, one of the Regicides in the reign of Charles I. He was obliged to leave his country to save his life. He came here and lived in great obscurity, having built himself a mere shed as a covering from the storms and cold on the above mentioned spot.

"After some time the owners of the land claimed it and he was obliged to remove. He retired into the stone commons where he built a log hut barely sufficient to cover himself and his hog who occupied one end of his miserable abode.

"All that could be learned of him while living was, that his name was Tom Revel. But when he died the Governor of the Province and other distinguished men came out from Boston and were his pallbearers. From which circumstance his true character was brought to light. He was of noble birth, and a distinguished man in the land of his fathers."

The town accepted Goffe street to be two rods wide and then forgot it. For years it remained without so much as being scratched by a hoe. There were no sidewalks. Grass grew between the wheel ruts and great rocks stuck out at frequent intervals. There was but little passing, the milk man came every other day. Tommy Nightingale's butcher cart came when you did not want him and Dr. Woodward's sulky when you did.

In 1860 there were six houses on the street owned and occupied by Joshua Jones, Stephen Morse, Thomas G. Fenno, the heirs of William P. Lunt Jeffery R. Brackett and Mr. Frothingham who lived in the Adams house.

In 1872 there was an article in the warrant for the town meeting to see if the town would change the name of the street from Goffe to Bass street. At that time I spoke to C. F. Adams, Jr., about it and he said the name should not have been given in the first place, but it was a poor plan to change an established name without good reason for so doing, and to change from one name to another as proposed was no reason at all. On these grounds he spoke against the change in town meeting and the proposal was defeated. If that argument was good ten years after the street was accepted it is good after fifty years.

It is well that the city of Quincy honors the family that for five generations has ably and faithfully served the country, state and town, but considering the multiplicity of hills, roads, streets, academies, temples, bridges, shores, lanes and houses that bear the name of Adams or President, a stranger coming to town would think that there was no other family name worthy of mention.

If there was any good reason to change the name of a street that has been familiar for fifty years. Johnny Bass's lane should have as good a right to be handed down to posterity as the President's cow path—it would be a name not closely resemblnig others to the bother of the post man. A name surely to be remembered and a reminder of a worthy man and citizen of a hundred years ago.

But the edict has gone forth and the interested ones can now emblazon their stationery with their address on Presidents lane and I would suggest that as a further decoration they use as a crest—a cow rampant with the motto— "In Hoc Signo Vinces.

Quincy, Dec. 8, 1913 J. A. Fenno

BRAINTREE

Mr. Philbrook the new night ticket agent at the station makes his home at South Weymouth.

Miss Gladys Tirrell of Stedman avenue has recovered from her recent illness and is able to be about again.

Steven Frazier will leave for a vacation in New Brunswick the coming week. He anticipates a great deal of good gunning and trapping.

The Braintree High school class of 1915 will hold a play in February. The parts are all given out and most of the plans completed.

The new bungalow just completed on Oak street is owned by a Mr. Blanchard of Chelsea. He will move into it very soon.

Work in the hall at Long's block is progressing rapidly, fitting up for basket ball for the B. A. A. team. The club is in hopes to put a fast team on the floor.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Koffinke have given up their home in Allentown, Pa., and are stopping with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Koffinke of Middle street. Mr. Albert Koffinke has secured a good position at the Fore River Works.

Miss Sylvia Dean Storrs of 17 Maple street will be one of the soloists at the Faelten Pianoforte school recital Thursday evening, December 11. She will play Romance by Rubinstein and Des Abends by Raff.

The High school base ball team, which ended the season most gloriously by defeating the White Sox 6—3, will hold their annual dance for the benefit of the baseball team sometime in February.

To celebrate the opening of the winter season, the Braintree Athletic Association will give a free orchestral concert in Long's hall on Sunday evening, Dec. 14, from 7 to 9, to which everybody is cordially invited.

There will be two speakers at the monthly meeting of the Men's club of All Souls' church next Wednesday evening. Hon. Samuel J. Elder's subject will be "People I have seen." Hon. Charles T. Gallagher, the other speaker has no subject announced.

The Pastime club has been reorganized with Daniel Devine as president, Sumner Perry, secretary and Harold Allen, treasurer. The membership has been cut down to twelve. The club is located in the Cavanagh building on Railroad street. The boys anticipate many good times there, the coming winter evenings.

Paul Jackson of Monatiquot avenue was recently made a present of a cane brought from India. The cane is a very interesting article, its outward appearance is not much different than any other, but on unscrewing the bottom a piece of it comes out with a pen on it, on the bottom part is a hole in which some note paper may be rolled up to fit, and on taking off the handle a miniature ink-well is revealed.

PRATT'S BREAD is baked by experts in proved ovens. Sold by grocers.

EAST BRAINTREE

Mr. P. Gardner of Hobart street enjoyed a successful gunning trip to North Scituate, Monday.

Frank H. Rogers, formerly of Mattapan, has recently moved into one of the bungalows at Lincoln Heights.

The Progress Club of the Old Colony Gas Co. have purchased a new baby grand piano.

Parker Brown has resigned his position at the Monatiquot Rubber Works to accept a position as painter with William Brooks of Bowditch street.

Edward Ludden and Lloyd Mosher, both of this village, enjoyed a gunning trip at Duxbury on Saturday and arrived home Sunday morning heavily burdened with game.

Mr. T. H. Emerson of Bellevue road is visiting his son Arthur at the United States Naval Academy, at Annapolis, Md. Arthur is ill in the naval hospital. He is very popular in the younger circles of this town and his friends wish him an early discharge from the hospital.

MOTION PICTURES.

Braintree, like most of the towns and cities of the whole country has the motion picture fever and enterprising managers are profiting by the fondness of the people for this fascinating form of entertainment. The "movies" are interesting, instructive, the fee for admission is within the scope of most anybody's pocket-book, and the shows are never ponderous or dull as is often the case in more pretentions amusement schemes. The motion picture has in it great possibilities for education and we have often wondered why it hasn't been more generally used in the schools and for that matter in the churches as well. We presume that the principal reason is because the cost of the outfits and the films is prohibitive. The prices along these lines however will probably be much lower as time goes on and as Braintree people are up to date and wide awake we shall not be surprised at any time to hear that the school board or the officials of some of the churches have purchased a machine. In some of the surrounding places, the motion picture has been found to be a wonderfully capable and popular teacher in the schools, and at church meetings large audiences follow with absorbed interest the stories of the scriptures as they are enacted on the screen.—Braintree Observer.

A persistent purpose to produce perfect biscuit

National Biscuit Company is inspired by a persistent purpose to produce perfect biscuit and to deliver them in perfect condition.

The accomplishment of this purpose has resulted in the building of modern bakeries, in the invention of new machinery, in the exercise of unceasing care, in the selection of finest ingredients.

The perfect products of the National Biscuit Company are delivered to you in perfect condition—some in packages with the famous In-er-seal Trade Mark, some in attractive small tins and some from the familiar glass-front cans.

Buy biscuit baked by

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

Always look for that name

JUMPS FROM WINDOW

Theatrical Man's Wife Plunges to Death From Seventh Story

New York, Dec. 9.—Mrs. Frances McGregor, 31 years old, wife of Edward J. McGregor, one of the road show managers for the theatrical firm of Sam and Lee Shubert, committed suicide by jumping from a window on the seventh floor of the Riverside Drive apartment house where the couple lived.

While their 7-year-old son played with his toys on the floor, Mrs. McGregor and her husband were talking together in their parlor. Mrs. McGregor suddenly got up from her seat and went to another room, slamming the door behind her. She stayed so long that Mr. McGregor called to her.

"I'll be out in a minute," she said.

Mr. McGregor waited a while and called again. He got no reply and then he smashed in the door. Looking out of the window he saw the form of his wife in the rear court seven stories below. No reason was given for her act.

DEMAND PROTECTION

Cornish Miners In Copper District Indignant Over Murder

Calumet, Mich., Dec. 9.—Three hundred Cornish miners employed by the Champion mines in Painesdale, copper strike district, aroused by the murder of Arthur and Harry James and Thomas Daily, Englishmen, held an indignation meeting.

The Western Federation of Miners was denounced and a demand was made for protection and law enforcement. A committee was appointed to inform the mine management that the Prostestants would not return to work unless the company agreed not to reinstate strikers.

Painesdale strikers were not permitted to parade. At Baltic strikers refused to obey the order of deputy sheriffs not to traverse mine property, and a shot was fired at the officers. The latter charged with riot sticks and dispersed the crowd.

DESPERADO LOPEZ NOT YET LOCATED

Mexican Bandit Believed to Have Escaped From Mine

Bingham, Utah, Dec. 9.—Posses continued their search of the Utah-Apex mine for Ralph Lopez. The discovery of his blankets and his tracks indicated that he had not succumbed to the poisonous gases forced into the tunnel last week to asphyxiate him.

Armed with shotguns, the deputies exploring the workings were prepared for another underground battle, such as occurred Nov. 29, when two of their number were killed. That Lopez escaped from the mine several days ago was still a general belief.

Lopez entered the mine on Nov. 27, after he had killed a Mexican miner and three police officers on Nov. 21.

FIRST WOMAN LAWYER

Death of Phoebe Couzins, First Female United States Marshal

St. Louis, Dec. 9.—Miss Phoebe Couzins, who was the first woman lawyer in the United tSates, the first woman to hold the office of United States marshal, and the first woman to be graduated from Washington university, was buried here.

With her was lowered into the grave her most prized possession, the United States marshal badge of silver presented by President Cleveland to her father, and upon his death to her.

Miss Couzins died in poverty. Her burial was provided for by Mrs. William H. Thompson, wife of a banker, who in childhood was her playmate.

PLUNGES INTO BAY

Aviator Has Narrow Escape In Two Thousand Foot Drop

San Francisco, Dec. 9.—Silar Christofferson, the aviator, narrowly escaped death by drowning when his hydro-aeroplane plunged almost straight downward from a height of 2000 feet into San Francisco bay.

He was strapped in the seat of the machine and as the plane struck the water it overturned, leaving the aviator head downward beneath the surface.

He unbuckled the four straps that held him, and after being submerged for more than a minute came to the surface again. He was taken out of the water by life-savers.

1300 STILL OUT

Two Thousand Indianapolis Teamsters Returning to Work

Indianapolis, Dec. 9.—With 2000 union teamsters resuming work for friendly employers, according to an estimate made at labor headquarters, there was little evidence of a strike called a week ago by the Teamsters' and Chauffeurs' union.

J. Callahan, chairman of the strike committee, however, said 1300 men were still on strike.

British Warships at Naples

Naples, Dec. 9.—A squadron of nine British warships arrived in port here. Their stay will last five days and many festivities have been arranged in honor of the officers and men.

Capital $150,000 Surplus $200,000

WHY THIS BANK IS LIKE A GOOD STORE

A successful store-keeper is liberal with his customers—his clerks are courteous and ready to oblige—he gives his trade good service. This bank like the merchant wants business, and to get and hold business it offers prompt and painstaking service. Perhaps you will be surprised to find out how many things we do for our depositors—come in and let us tell you about our services.

Our $5 Box is Larger Than a $10 Box in Boston.

GRANITE TRUST CO.
FOUNDED 1836

Granite Shoe Store
LA FRANCE SHOP

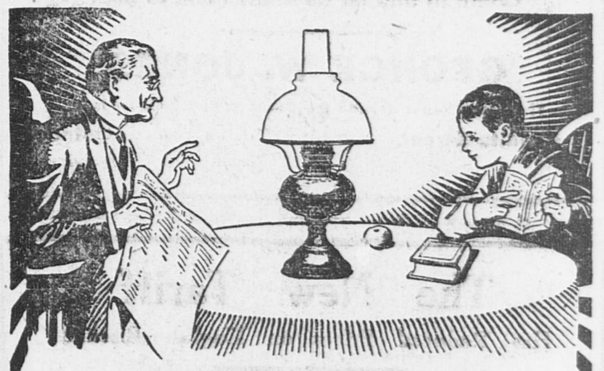
We sold you your first pair of LA FRANCE because they looked good and fitted perfectly.
You keep on buying LA FRANCE because they look better and fit more perfectly for a longer time than the other kinds.

We show herewith No. 331, a snappy Plaza model, developed in Sterling Patent Colt, button, cloth top. This is a shoe for the avenue or afternoon shopping tour. Comes also with mat top.

LA FRANCE

—Charles H. Hoyt, whose famous line about the tramp who was "run over by a baby carriage" is still remembered by oldtime theatregoers, never heard of a happening in New York the other day or he would have incorporated that in some farce. This happening was the holding up by the police of an automobile funeral band of autos that were going beyond the city speed limit. When even the dead have to be hurried along at 35 miles an hour, as in this instance, the dizzy side of New York is once more uppermost.—Brockton Enterprise.

—Some of the Western states have adopted a rigorous law against false advertisements, having gone so far that in Everett, Washington, the other day a dealer was fined $50 for selling a fountain pen that had been advertised as part of the stock, once belonging to another dealer. There was no claim that the purchaser did not get as good a fountain pen as he paid for, but simply that he was deceived about where it came from. The old legal maxim "let the buyer beware" has certainly been lost in the shuffle.



The Best Light On Any Subject

RAYO Lamps give the softest, steadiest light for work or play, for young or old.

Rayo Lamps

No straining of the eyes. A constant comfort to all the family.

Solid brass, nickel-plated. Handsome. Strong. Easy to clean and rewick. Lighted without removing chimney or shade.

At dealers everywhere, or write for descriptive circular.

STANDARD OIL COMPANY
New York of New York Buffalo
Albany Boston

GREAT VARIETY OF WEATHER

Thunder Storm, Rain, and Snow all in 48 Hours

A combination of thunder and lightning, a downpour of rain, a sudden drop of 28 degrees in temperature. A forty mile gale. A snow storm that covered the earth with a mantle of white and last but not least a bright sunny day, was the variety of weather that has been handed out to New England during the last 48 hours.

It was between 2 and 3 o'clock Monday morning when heavy peals of thunder and vivid flashes of lightning aroused the soundest of sleepers and the first thunder storm ever recorded in New England in December was on. This storm had followed a heavy downpour of rain.

The thunder storm over and a heavy gale of wind came being accompanied by a sudden dropping of temperature. Monday morning dawned clear but there was a bitting wind and the air felt very much like snow but it was not until noon that the first flakes of snow came. At first the snow was so fine as to be almost like rain but this gradually thickened until by 1 o'clock a genuine snow storm was in progress The shoe men who had been holding their supply of rubbers on hand for many weeks smiled and there was quite a rush to provide the feet with the necessary rubber protection. The snow however was rather squally and was over by sundown.

The high wind however continued through the night and the mercury continued to be at a low ebb. At sunrise this morning the mercury registered 21 degrees above zero and it was cold but the wind had died out considerable and when the sun came up the day developed into an ideal December day, and a glorious day for Christmas shoppers.

CONTEST FOR PRESIDENCY

Street railway employees of the Quincy, Braintree and Weymouth barns met in Electa hall Monday evening and nominated the officers to be voted for at the annual meeting on Dec. 29. Several contests have developed and it is expected that the election this year will be one of the warmest ever held in the city. The polls will be open until every man will have had a chance to vote and it is probable that the last one will be cast about three o'clock in the following morning.

President John Faircloth is a candidate for re-election. He will be opposed by James Ford of Weymouth and William Gould of Quincy. All three have been employed with the road for some time and quite a following is behind each candidate.

—At a fire in a Chicago theatre the audience of 1,000 persons refused to become panic-stricken, but remained and applauded the work of the stage hands who extinguished the blaze. And for once, no doubt, they went home feeling that they saw a show worth the money.

Sawmill waste of Douglas fir, of which an enormous quantity is found in the western forests, is being used to make paper pulp by a mill at Marshfield, Oregon.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

QUINCY REGISTRY
FOR NURSES
20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.
Will supply trained and practical nurses, attendants and nursery assistants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.
MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar,
Tel. Quincy 131-W.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point
Tel. Quincy-Mass. 1153 M Nov 3-tf

FUNERAL OF MRS. HYLAND

The funeral of Mrs. Martin Hyland was held this morning from her home on Standish avenue. A high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. John the Baptist church, Quincy by Rev. Fr. Walter Quinlan. The musical program of the mass was the Gregorian chant under the direction of John Mahon organist, assisted by the regular choir.

The burial was at St. Mary's cemetery, West Quincy. The bearers were John Manning, Joseph W. Walsh, Jeremiah J. Lynch James Brennan, Stephen Riely and Daniel O'Hare.

The floral tributes showed love and esteem and were as follows:

Standing pillow with cross marked —"Wife,"

Standing wreath—marked "Sister."

Small spray—marked "Mama."

Lyre with broken cord—marked "Aunt" from Annie, Mary and Michael Gahan

Large wreath of green galax leaves and white carnations—Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Adams.

Wreath—Mr. and Mrs. John Derringer.

Spray—Francis McCormick and family.

Spray—Mr. and Mrs. John P. McLoughlin.

Spray—Miss Mary McDonald.

Spray—Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert A. Doyle.

Spray—Miss Ella L. Cain.

Spray—Mrs. and Mrs. Joseph W. Walsh.

Spray—Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Anderson.

WIDER OUTLOOK

(Continued from Page One)

he has attained is dead but doesn't know it. The only man who isn't educated is the man who thinks he is.

"Education each day gives opportunities for acquiring new truths. It opens up fascinating vistas of increased opportunity.

"A college education means for women the creation of inspiration and power that equips them for useful service in the home and in society.

Several vocal solos by Herbert Y. Follett accompanied by Mrs. Follett gave an added pleasure to the evening.

At the business meeting, Miss Clara E. G. Thayer reported for the committee on benevolence, telling of the Thanksgiving distributions and asking support in the way of money and clothing to continue the good work.

Mrs. Aylmer Hatch for the kindergarten committee reported over $200 realized from the recent entertainment.

At the close of the evening an apron sale was held by the girls of Miss Warshaw's class, proceeds for the benevolence committee.

HIAWATHA'S WEDDING FEAST.

A London critic wrote after the first performance of Hiawatha's Wedding Feast, "No more beautiful or haunting strain is to be found in the entire world than the last which is set to the poet's simple but masterly description of the departure of the guests "Leaving Hiawatha happy with the night and Minnehaha."

S. Coleridge Taylor the composer of Hiawatha was born in 1875 and died in 1912. He was of most pronounced individuality , true and deep emotion. His part writing is delightfully free and his instrumentations gorgeous.

The poem Hiawatha appeared to his imagination and at the age of 22 he set it to music in the only way it seems possible. One of the most cleverly adapted themes is set to the lines of Iagoo's boasting. In the lovely tenor solo, "On, away, awake beloved" we have a display of vigor and tenderness combined of which any living composer might well be proud. A born musician, a young master rejoicing in his youth and strength speaks to us here in a beautiful language and which delighting musicians and connoisseurs, can also be understood by the ordinary music lover, so direct is its utterance, so forceful in its expressions, so deep and true in feeling.

Another critic, said, "It is a distinct creation and as such we hail it with rare delight and warmest welcome."

The first performance was at the Royal College of Music in London, Nov. 11, 1898. The first Boston performance was by the Cecelia Society, March 14, 1900. It is receiving attention more and more from choral societies the world over and the Quincy Choral Society is fortunate in its choice of work for its coming concert on Wednesday evening at High school hall.

CITY COUNCIL

(Continued from Page One.)

building a United States navy supply ship at the Boston Navy yard for which the government had made an appropriation of $1,425,000, and pledging its support to the plan to secure the building of the ship at the Boston navy yard. Resolution adopted.

Councilman Bailey offered an order apppropriating $500 to settle the claim of the Thomas Crane public library for land taken for the widening of Coddington street. Referred to the Finance Committee.

On motion of Councilman Bryant the order increasing the number of permanent policemen by three additional members was taken from the table and referred to the Finance Committee.

On motions of Councilmen Bryant and Barker the matters on the table referred to above were taken from the table and rejected.

In the calendar the order accepting a part of Roberts street and the order creating the office of Assistant Assessors took their second reading and were passed under suspension of the rules.

Councilman Gilliatt offered an order for a committee of three to include the President to be appointed to arrange for the annual inauguration night banquet. Adopted.

The Committee are President Whiton, Councilmen Bailey and Ross.

At this point a photographer appeared before the Council with a proposition to take the portraits of the Councilmen free of cost and furnish each councilman with one picture and to furnish a group picture of the entire council to adorn the walls of the Council Chamber.

The offer was accepted and the members of the council will visit the studio Sunday at 2.30 to pose before the camera.

Adjourned at 8.43 until Monday Dec. 15.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The annual election of officers of Gen. Sylvanus Thayer Post No. 87 G. A. R. was held in Grand Army hall last evening. The following officers were chosen for the ensuing year:

Commander—William L. Gage.

Senior Vice Commander—Royal Belcher.

Junior Vice Commander — Solon David.

Quartermaster—Charles G. Anderson.

Adjutant—Edwin L. Curtis.

Chaplain—Henry B. Whitman.

Surgeon—John Q. Ela.

Officer of the Day—Joseph M. Foster.

Officer of the Guard—Henry A. Monk

Delegate to Convention — H. A. Monk.

Alternate—William J. Tirrell.

Trustee—3 years—Captain James T. Stevens.

—Miss Brenda Franklin, press agent for Mrs. Pankhurst, says she has received three offers of marriage from "great, big, fine American men" since she came to this country. Well, if Miss Brenda believes in the theories and methods of her chief, there is here offered another instance to show how some men hunt trouble in its lair.—Brockton Enterprise.

DON'T DOPE WITH ALCOHOLIC "TONICS"

This is honest advice for you who are run down and sick—don't dope with alcoholic "tonics." We're backing this advice with our personal guarantee of satisfaction to you, or your money back.

There are a lot of so-called "tonics" on the market that do not depend for their short-lived popularity on any real merit they possess, but upon the fact that the alcohol in most of them and the dangerous or habit-forming drugs in some of them give a few moments' exhilaration and liveliness after a dose is taken. After a while, even this effect ceases to take place, and the unfortunate patient, worse off than before, turns for relief to something else.

Don't dope yourself with such stuff. Take real medicine that will do you real good that will supply to your system the strengthening, disease-relieving and disease-resisting ingredients it needs. Take Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion, and get well and keep well It is a real blood and nerve-food medicine. It contains no alcohol nor any other dangerous or habit-forming drugs, but is made entirely from ingredients needed to build up the strength and health of the ailing.

You who are weak and run-down, and you who are apparently well now, but are liable to suffer from various cold weather ailments, use Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion to get and keep well and strong. For the tired-out, run-down, nervous, emaciated or debilitated—the convalescing—growing children—aged people—it is a sensible aid to renewed strength, better spirits, glowing health.

Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion—king of the celebrated Rexall Remedies—is for freedom from sickness of you and your family. Pleasant-tasting—unlike the cod liver oil preparations—you'll be as enthusiastic about it as we are when you have noted its strengthening, invigorating, building-up, disease-preventing effects. If it does not help you, your money will be given back to you without argument. Sold in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store—one of more than 7,000 leading drug stores in the United States, Canada and Great Britain.

—Edward J. Murphy, 1415 Hancock cor. Granite Streets, Quincy, Mass. "The Rexal Store."

MARRIAGE OF CLERGYMAN

Rev. Willam B. Ayers Married in Newton Monday

Rev. William B. Ayres of the Park and Downs Congregational church who was the central figure in a sensational suit brought by Chester A. Boynton for the alienation of his wife's affections, and Miss Sarah A. Miller of Newton were married there Monday evening.

The details of the secret marriage were given out this morning by Mrs. George D. Miller, mother of the bride. She said the cermony was performed by Rev. Dr. Asher Anderson and that it was private. Mr. Ayers wanted everything quiet and there were no attendants.

Rev. Dr. Anderson is secretary of the National Council of Congregational ministers and defended Mr. Ayers during the split in the Park and Downs church.

Mr. Ayres, although 29 years of age has been married four times. His first marriage was annulled and he and his second wife were separated by divorce proceedings. The third Mrs. Ayres died.

BELIEVE CHILD STRANGLED

No finding on the autopsy performed on the body of the child found beneath a pile of clothes in a trunk at 56 Arthur street, Saturday night has been made public by Medical Eaminer Dr. Fred E. Jones but the police department has nenewed activities and the collecting evidence to strengthen its case. According to rumors the death of the child was due to unnatural causes, probably strangulation.

Mrs. Anna Kantolo who was in the house when the body was found by police investigating the complaints of neighbors is virtually under arrest on a technical charge of concealing the birth of a child. She is at the Quincy City Hospital where she was taken by orders of Dr. Jones.

The police are working on the theory that a cord was used in strangling the child but that its material was so soft that even when tightened enough to cause death no marks remained. Capt. Daniel R. McKay has been assigned to the case.

W. S. W. CLUB.

The W. S. W. Club met at the home of Walter Nicol, Gay street, Friday evening. Whist was in progress for the first hour, the prizes going to Annie Denton and Sylvester Nicol, while the consolation prizes were given to Lizzie Grassick and Enos Costa. A social hour followed during which singing and dancing was enjoyed and refreshments were served by the host

The members of the club are Walter Nicol, Annie Denton, Sylvester Nicol, Lizzie Grassick, Victor Ericson. Grace Jones, Enos Costa and Mary McLeod.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Lizzie Grassick on Caledonia avenue.

The Greeting of Democracy.

The story that the kaiser loves most to tell his intimates, declares Mr. William Armstrong in the Woman's Magazine, concerns the visit of his brother, Prince Henry of Prussia, to America.

The incident happened just as the prince was landing at New York. Beside him on deck stood Admiral von Tirpitz. On the dock was a dense crowd. From its midst a stentorian voice called, "Henry, Henry!"

The prince did not understand that the hail was meant for him until the admiral, smiling broadly, said, "Your royal highness, I think some one wants to speak to you."

Then Prince Henry looked over toward the human megaphone, who still continued to bawl out his name. Seeing that he had caught the royal gaze, the owner of the voice shouted, "How's Bill?"

Not Sam's Fault.

Sam Snedeker, the commissary man and held in the community to be a good churchman, annoyed the minister extremely by getting up and walking out of the church while the sermon was in progress. The preacher spoke to Sam about it.

"It isn't my fault, doc," Sam protested. "It's a sort of affliction I got."

The preacher told Sam he'd better see the camp doctor. A few days later the preacher met the doctor.

"Did Sam Snedeker come to you for advice?" asked the preacher.

"Yes," said the doctor, "but I told Sam I couldn't do anything for him."

"What was Sam's affliction?"

"Affliction! He didn't say anything about that. Sam said he'd been troubling you by walking in his sleep."—New York Post.

SCHMIDT WANTS TO DIE

Trial of Renegade Priest Opens In New York

New York, Dec. 9.—Two hundred veniremen jammed Judge Foster's court for the trial of Hans Schmidt, the renegade priest, who confessed killing Anna Aumuller, whose dismembered body was found in the Hudson river.

The defendant's fight to escape the death chair will be based on an insanity plea, although alienists employed by District Attorney Whitman have pronounced Schmidt sane.

Wealthy friends came to Schmidt's aid with the result that three able lawyers were retained in his behalf. They are W. M. K. Olcott, Alphonse G. Koelble and Terrence J. McManus. District Attorney Whitman delegated James H. Delehanty to present the state's case.

Just before he was taken into the courtroom Schmidt quarrelled with his lawyers when they suggested that his case might be strengthened if they secure further delay. The prisoner burst out furiously:

"Why delay? I killed the girl. I want to die for it. I'm tired of this cell and this delay."

ARSENALS BENEFITED

Scientific Management at Watertown Has Doubted Output

Washington, Dec. 9.—A vindication of the scientific management systems in government arsenals is the feature of the annual report of Brigadier General William Crozier, chief of ordnance. Under the plan of paying premiums over and above regular wages, amounting to $22,000. during seventeen months, machinists and molders in the Watertown arsenal have increased the amount of their work two and a half to three times.

General Crozier points out that not only is time gained in that way, and much pay saved, but large economies are effected in overhead charges. One result has been the reduction of the allotments made for the Watertown arsenal by $73,401.

SAYS CROWN PRINCE BACKED UP SOLDIERS

Socialist So Asserts In Statement to Constituents

Berlin, Dec. 9.—The hand of the German crown prince was at work in the recent crisis over the incidents between the military and civil authorities in Alsace, according to Dr. Georges Weill, a Socialist deputy in the imperial parliament.

Speaking in his constituency of Metz, Dr. Weill said the crown prince sided strongly with the soldiery and had visited the imperial chancellor, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, on Dec. 3, the day on which the chancellor made his unsatisfactory speech in parliament, which resulted in the passage of a vote of nonconfidence in the government.

Dr. Weill declared that the chancellor's hazy references on that occasion to the emperor's antimilitary orders were undoubtedly due to his desire to reconcile the wishes of the German ruler and his eldest son.

Lietenant Baron von Forstner of the Ninety-ninth infantry, the instigator of the trouble between the soldiers and the citizens of Zabern, told some friends that he was as good as retired from the army.

WILL PROTECT PANKHUST

Militant Leader of Suffragettes Greatly Weakened by Hunger Strike

London, Dec. 9.—Accompanied by a heavy suffragette bodyguard, Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, greatly weakened by her latest hunger and thirst strike, left Exeter for London.

The militants have fitted up a private suite for Mrs. Pankhurst in the headquarters of the Women's Social and Political union in Lincoln's Inn house. She will be housed there indefinitely, always under the guardianship of "General" Flora Drummond's militants.

According to Mrs. Dacre-Fox, the suite will be barricaded to protect Mrs. Pankhurst from the police.

TO PRESENT ULTIMATUM

English Postoffice Employes Want 15 Percent Increase

London, Dec. 9.—The prospect of a strike of nearly 100,000 employes of the British postoffice during the Christmas season increases daily. A national committee of the employes' unions will meet this week to decide whether the strike shall be called before Christmas or not.

The general sentiment among the men appears to be in favor of giving Herbert Samuel, the postmaster general, an ultimatum immediately demanding a 15 percent increase of salary for all postoffice workers.

Two Schooners In Collision

Vineyard Haven, Mass., Dec. 9.—The schooner Daniel Bailey fouled the schooner Emma S. Briggs in the harbor. The Bailey was shifting her anchorage and was blown against the Briggs, tearing away her jibboom.

Robinson Wins In Westbrook, Me.

Westbrook, Me., Dec. 9.—George O. K. Robinson, Democrat, was re-elected mayor of Westbrook over William H. Holston, Republican, by a plurality of 84 in a total vote of 823 to 739.

To-Night

if you feel that you have eaten something not good for you—if you feel qualmish and have a bitter taste—don't let it go and suffer to-morrow from a sick headache and no-good feelings. Take the right corrective. Besides, you may have a severe attack of Indigestion or of Biliousness. You can prevent trouble and need have no fears for the morrow if you

TAKE

BEECHAM'S PILLS

"The Largest Sale of Any Medicine in the World"

This famous family remedy acts unfailingly—and quickly and safely—in correcting and preventing disordered conditions of the organs of digestion.

Beecham's Pills not only relieve immediate distress but they tone the stomach, stimulate the liver, regulate the kidneys and bowels. You will have better digestion, purer blood, clearer complexion; you will be hardier and more cheerful after you have obtained the valuable, unequaled aid of Beecham's Pills.

Try them! Try a dose this very night and Secure a Gladsome To-Morrow

At All Druggists, 10c, 25c.

Directions of Special Value to Women Are With Every Box

EXCHANGE YOUR INGERSOLL WATCH

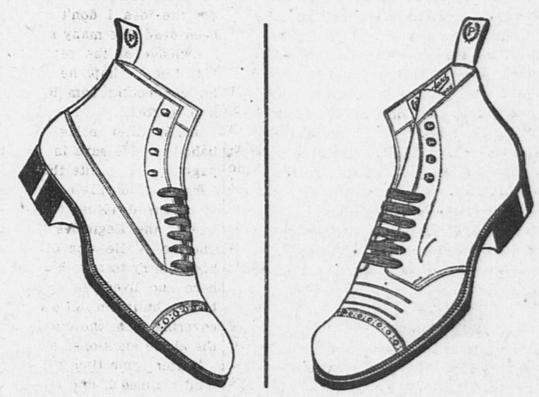
Special Offer

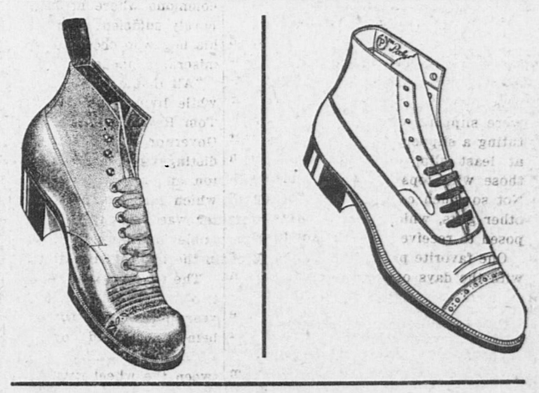
We will take your Ingersoll Watch in exchange and allow the full price you originally paid no matter where you bought it—toward the purchase of a high grade, extra accurate jeweled TRENTON model—the first really fine watch at a moderate price.

Trenton Watches from $5.00 to $25.00

An opportunity to save $1 to $2 on your Xmas Present

SANDBERG BROS.





REMICK'S

Music Hall Block, Quincy

Quincy Daily Ledger

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30.
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branschied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
Newcomb Square—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. Smith.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck.
L. A. Cook, Washington Street.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. R. Lowe, Washington Street.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield Water st.
A. Pierson, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—Capt. Fosdick's.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity: Fair weather is indicated for Wednesday and Thursday.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	7.03
Sun sets	4.12
Length of day	9.09
Moon rises	4.04
High water, A. M.	8.45
High water, P. M.	9.15
Days decrease 6 hours,	8 minutes
Full Moon, Dec. 13,	10.00 A. M.
Last Quarter, Dec. 20	11.16 A. M.
New Moon, Dec. 27	9.59 A. M.
First Quarter, Dec. 5,	9.59 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today	36 degrees
Dec. 9 1912,	25 degrees
Dec. 9, 1911,	48 degrees

Dec. Noon Maximum 14 years—67
Dec. Noon Minimum, 14 years—2

NEWSY BRIEFS

Mrs. George N. Rice who was in St. Elizabeths Hospital Boston during November is now at her home on Standish avenue, and her convalescing since returning has caused her family to be most hopeful.

The Massachusetts Highway Commission is now issuing registration of automobiles for 1914 so that any person who desires to use a car Jan. 1st., had better apply at once and avoid the first of the year congestion.

Bethany Women's Union opened a two days sale today in the chapel. A supper will be a feature tonight in charge of Mrs. A. H. Gilson and tomorrow night there is to be an entertainment.

St. Margarets Guild of Christ church meets this evening with Mrs. Charles Wilson. It is an important meeting as there is still much to be done on the box for Welcome House. The box means Christmas cheer to many less fortunate girls.

"Hiawatha's Wedding Feast" by S. Coleridge Taylor is to be given tomorrow night at High school hall by the Quincy Choral society. The first part of the program will be miscellaneous. George S. Dunham of Brockton will conduct and the Society will be assisted by Arthur Hackett, tenor soloist and the Brockton Philharmonic orchestra. This will be the first of two concerts to be given this season by the Society.

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

HOW TO TAKE GOOD CARE OF YOUR HAIR

Nothing spoils your good looks so much as homely hair—stringy, dull-colored, harsh. Nothing adds to good looks so much as beautiful hair—soft, silky, wavy and glossy. No matter how beautiful your hair is now, you can improve its good looks by using Harmony Hair Beautifier. If your hair is homely and ugly now, Harmony Hair Beautifier will make it softer, silkier, glossier, more beautiful in every way. It also makes it easier to put up and helps it to "stay put." Its rich rose odor hides the unpleasant, oily smell of the hair. Harmony Hair Beautifier is rightly named; it beautifies the hair.

Very easy to apply—simply sprinkle a little on your hair each time before brushing it. It contains no oil, and will not change the color of the hair, nor darken gray hair.

To keep your hair and scalp dandruff-free and clean, use Harmony Shampoo. This pure liquid shampoo gives an instantaneous rich lather that immediately penetrates to every part of hair and scalp, insuring a quick and thorough cleansing. Washed off just as quickly, the entire operation takes only a few moments. Contains nothing that can harm the hair; leaves no harshness or stickiness—just a sweet-smelling cleanliness.

Both preparations come in odd-shaped, very ornamental bottles, with sprinkler tops. Harmony Hair Beautifier, $1.00. Harmony Shampoo, 50c. Both guaranteed to satisfy you in every way, or your money back. Sold in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store—one of the more than 7,000 leading drug stores of the United States, Canada and Great Britain, which own the big Harmony laboratories in Boston, where the many celebrated Harmony Perfumes and Toilet Preparations are made.

—Edward J. Murphy, 1415 Hancock Cor. Granite Streets, Quincy, Mass. "The Rexal Store."

NEW BOWLING LEAGUE FORMED

Quincy Council K. of C. to Have Four Team League

The Knights of Columbus bowling league has organied and tonight the candidates for the four teams will be given their tryouts on the Coliseum alleys. It is expected that between 35 and 45 men will respond to the call, judging from the interest manifested when the league was first proposed.

Deputy Grand Knight Peter M. Sullivan has been elected president, Al Thompson, secretary and James Powers, treasurer. The officers have the support of the entire council and hope to make this bowling season a most practical one. The council has in the past been represented in the Knights of Columbus league but this is the first time that a league will be fathered by the members.

MOLDLOFT LEAGUE.

The members of the Moldloftsmen league will hold their midseason banquet at the Quincy house Saturday night and it is expected that every men connected with the team as a bowler or rooter will be present. Since the opening of the season on the City Square alleys many supporters of the teams have witnessed each match and it is the intention of the members to promote a feeding of good fellowship. Tuesday evening the regular match was between the Byars five and Stanford quintette, the former winning an easy four points. The summary:

BYARS.

Arenberg	73	76	72	221
Henley	87	83	68	238
Cadman	91	91	74	256
Auld	89	79	84	252
Byars	95	71	94	260
	435	400	392	1227

STANFORD.

Smith	70	68	93	231
McLean	67	58	56	181
Hamilton	82	76	87	245
Moe	82	73	74	229
Stanford	76	86	75	237
	377	361	385	1123

ELECTRICIANS WIN.

The Electricians beat the Hull Draftsmen in a Fore River league match on the Coliseum alleys Monday evening, 3 to 1. The Draftsmen took the third string by four pins but fell away behind in the total. Olindy made 114 pins for best single in competition and directly after made 126 outside of competition. His total in the match was 312. Fromme, Ryan and Fitzgerald were tied at 104. The summary:

ELECTRICIANS.

Lincoln	90	87	77	254
Smith	84	81	97	262
Mitchell	84	84	91	259
Fitzgerald	73	66	104	243
Olindy	114	105	93	312
	445	423	462	1330

HULL DRAFTSMEN.

Fromme	88	82	104	274
Kennedy	75	87	86	248
Sullivan	66	76	89	231
Ryan	91	74	104	269
Rhodes	74	66	83	223
	394	385	466	1245

ST. MARYS LEAGUE.

Capt. Morrisette beat the team of Capt. oyce on the St. Mary's league Monday evening, 3 to 1. Brunot made high single, getting 98. The summary:

CAPT. MORRISETTE.

Patriarca	95	89	94	278
Ryan	90	84	74	248
Morrisette	81	82	77	240
Dummy	70	70	70	210
Elcock	73	84	82	239
	409	409	397	1215

CAPT. T. JOYCe.

O'Brien	77	70	72	219
Brunot	84	73	98	255
Sullivan	80	72	78	230
T. Joyce	75	80	87	242
Knight	75	86	87	248
	391	381	422	1194

The present outlook is that the people who lend money to Huerta will have to take their pay in bull-fight tickets.

FUGITIVES WIN IN WEARY TRIP

Struggle Eight Days Over Mexican Desert

ENDURED GREAT HARDSHIPS

Several of Huerta's Generals and Host of Subordinate Officers In Crowd of Refugees—Men, Women and Children Representing Some of the Richest Families Suffer With Rest

Presidio Tex., Dec. 9.—The complete rout of Huerta's federal army in northern Mexico, with the frantic flight of his generals for safety to the border, and the demoralization of the unpaid troops, was established with the arrival at Ojinaga, Mex., opposite Presidio, of the civilians and soldiers who deserted Chihuahua City.

In the remarkable hegira in which the refugees struggled for eight days over an 185-mile trail through the desert, and endured great hardships for want of food and water, were General Salvador Mercado, Huerta's deposed military governor and commander of the federal troops in the north; General Pascual Orozco, General Antonio Rojas, General Marcello Caraveo, General Ynez Salazar and a host of subordinate officers. They had deserted their posts in fear of General Francisco Villa's rebel army and virtually had surrendered to the rebels at Chihuahua, the state capital and the largest of the far northern cities.

Along with them came burdened with what property they could carry, men, women and children, representing some of the richest families in the republic. Their flight with the army was in the face of reports they might expect no mercy should they fall into the hands of the rebels. Luis Terrazaz, a wealthy land owner, reputed to own half of the state of Chihuahua, was said to have brought with him a vast fortune in cash, fearing it might be looted by the rebels if he remained in the evacuated city.

Whether the federal officers and the soldiers would attempt to seek refuge in the United States was not made known on their arrival. Just before the approach of the federals, whose oncoming was announced by twenty exhausted soldiers early in the day, the few rebels at Ojinaga, who were greatly outnumbered by the advancing federals, left their garrison and retreated to the field.

This left the way open for the federals to advance to the Rio Grande without fighting. It was believed they probably would remain on the Mexican side so long as they were not pressed by the rebels. General Villa's rebel forces had been in pursuit of the fugitives, but the federals by evacuating the city unawares, had an advantage in point of time and Villa's forces were unable to overtake them.

United States troops were on the border to take action in case of any infringement of the neutrality laws. It was known that the authorities had telegraphed to El Paso for a capais for the arrest of General Orozco, who is under indictment in this country. General Salazar is also under indictment in the United States.

SPINE SHORTENED

Brockton Boy Seriously Injured by Fall From Window

Brockton, Mass., Dec. 9.—While opening a window in his room, Estacio Ferreira, 12 years old, slipped and fell from the window to the ground, about thirty feet below. His spine was telescoped and two of the dorsal vertebrae were dislocated, without fracturing them.

The boy's spine was shortened about half an inch, but it is believed that his life can be saved by means of an extension frame and plaster jacket. He is now at the Brockton hospital.

The boy's injury was so sensitive that the hospital officials could do nothing more than place him in the extension frame, which is arranged so as to take most of his weight off his spine.

CAUGHT FOOT IN FROG

Alfred Mulligan Run Down by Engine In Pawtucket Yards

Pawtucket, R. I., Dec. 9.—Alfred Mulligan, a spare brakeman, caught his foot in a frog at the Pine street crossing and was run down by the switcher on which he was employed. Both legs and an arm were severed and the head cut, and death followed soon afterward at the Memorial hospital.

The dead man was 21 years of age, the son of William Mulligan, and lived at the corner of Hopkins and Anthony avenues, Salesville.

Louis Semoine Recaptured

Adams, Mass., Dec. 9.—Louis Semoine, a "trusty" at the Worcester county jail, who escaped three weeks ago, and for whom the authorities have been searching, was arrested at the home of his wife here.

12,081,100 Bales of Cotton Ginned

Washington, Dec. 9.—Cotton ginned prior to Dec. 1 amounted to 12,081,100 running bales, including 85,760 round bales and 61,516 bales of Sea Island cotton, the census bureau announced.

WINSTON CHURCHILL

First Lord of British Admiralty Who Favors a Naval Holiday

FAVORS NAVAL HOLIDAY

House Overwhelmingly In Favor of the Resolution

Washington, Dec. 9.—By an overwhelming vote of 317 to 11 the house passed the Hensley resolution requesting President Wilson, so far as he can do, with due regard for the interests of the United States, to cooperate with the suggestion of Winston Churchill, first lord of the British admiralty, for an international naval holiday of one year.

The resolution expressed it to be the opinion of the house that Churchill's suggestion offers means of "immediately lessening the enormous burden on the people and avoiding the waste of investment in war material."

THINKS CAPTAIN OF SLOOP SLAIN

Son Finds Abandoned Craft Ashore on Island

Norfolk, Va., Dec. 9.—Captain James E. Marks of Sanford, Va., master of the oyster sloop Mary Inez, is believed to have been robbed, murdered and his body cast into the waters of Chesapeake bay.

The Mary Inez has been found abandoned ashore on Guynn's island, Va., and Captain Marks' son was in Norfolk asking the police to investigate his father's supposed murder.

The son says he found blood stains on the sloop. Captain Marks was in Norfolk a week ago and delivered a boat load of oysters. He received a check for $215, cashed it and took the money when he left Norfolk on the Mary Inez with a new crew which consisted of one or two negroes. Their names are unknown. There was no one aboard the Mary Inez when she was found ashore on Guynn's island.

REPRIEVE IS SOUGHT

Petition to Governor of Vermont to Save Life of Murderer Bosworth

Windsor, Vt., Dec. 9.—A petition for the reprieve of Arthur Bosworth, a British subject, now confined in the Vermont state prison and sentenced to be hanged on Jan. 2, 1914, has been sent to Governor Fletcher by his attorneys, Frank H. Clark of Windsor and Roland E. Stevens of White River Junction, and it is expected that early action will be taken in the matter.

Bosworth was convicted in the Chittenden county court of killing Mae LaBelle at Essex Junction in May, 1911, and sentenced to be hanged at Windsor on the 24th day of January, 1913, the jury which convicted him recommending hanging in his case. During the trial it was brought out by the state's alienist that Bosworth was a degenerate, mentally below par and always had been.

CHINAMAN FINED $25

Mary La Belle Is Taken to Boston For Investigation

Newburyport, Mass., Dec. 9.—In police court, Gong Sing, the Chinaman taken in the raid on his laundry by the police, pleaded guilty to a statutory charge and was fined $25, which he paid.

The woman arrested at the time, who said she was Mary La Belle of Boston, was not in court, as she had been taken to Boston by Mrs. B. F. Lewis, secretary of the local associated charities, in order to investigate some of the stories she told.

Mortars With Eleven-Mile Range

Washington, Dec. 9.—The ordnance bureau has finished a number of powerful twelve-inch mortars of new design for the Panama canal fortifications which, upon test, have shown a maximum range of more than eleven miles, compared with eight and a half miles for the most powerful type formerly in use.

SUFFRAGETTES MEET PRESIDENT

He Declines to Urge Measure Before Congress

EVERY STATE IS REPRESENTED

Wilson Bases Refusal on Ground That His Private Views Could Not Govern His Actions—Conference In White House Was Picturesque—Executive Smiles Welcome to Women

Washington, Dec. 9.—Facing a delegation of American militant suffragettes, President Wilson refused to send a special message to congress urging votes for women.

He also declined to incorporate such a suggestion in one of his regular messages. And, until congress itself asks him to, he said, he could not recommend that the house of representatives appoint a special committee to investigate the question of suffrage such as now exists in the senate.

However, the president was so diplomatic in handling the delicate situation that the women left him satisfied that if he ever gets the opportunity he will aid their cause.

The president based his refusal on the fact that his private views could not govern his actions. As leader of his party, he insisted that only such organic questions as had been passed upon by a national convention or a conference of selected representatives of the party were subject to his action.

The conference in the executive offices was picturesque. Every state and territorial organization representing the national suffrage movement had its delegate present. They marched to the White House in the teeth of a bitter, biting wind, fully determined that at last a chief executive of the nation would be forced into the open either for or against the vital question for which they are fighting.

President Wilson received them standing in front of his big desk. His face was drawn and haggard from the effects of his recent illness, but he shook hands warmly with Dr. Anna H. Shaw, president of the national association, and Mrs. Medill McCormick, chairman of the special committee. The women gathered in a half-circle about the chief executive and he smiled his welcome to three or four of them whom he knew personally. In the gathering was Mrs. Susan W. FitzGerald of Boston. When all were in position, Dr. Shaw, addressing President Wilson, said:

"We have made pilgrimages to the capital every year. We have always been received courteously. Yet, the legislation we have so strongly advocated has been buried in the committees of the senate and the house."

Dr. Shaw reviewed the suffrage move, insisting that congress had denied women the rights of equal representation and a voice in the making of the laws.

Dr. Shaw said the suffragists realized the president's "liberal position on questions affecting the rights of the people," and felt they could appeal directly to him. She suggested three ways in which he could help—a special message, a paragraph in a regular message, or to use influence on the house to have a special suffrage committee named.

TWO MORE VICTIMS

"Poison Needle" Gang Still Active In New York City

New York, Dec. 9.—Despite the activity of city and federal authorities, clews as to the identity of the members of the "poisoned needle" gang were lacking. There were further developments, however, to indicate the widespread activity of the "slavers."

Two disappearances of young women were reported to the police. The victims were Miss Mabel Vera Moulton, aged 16, and Miss Jessie McCann, a Brooklyn girl.

"I believe my daughter was a victim of the needle, for she had no reason to leave home," declared Miss Moulton's mother. The girl was employed in a department store.

Miss McCann, whose parents are wealthy, disappeared on the street in the fashionable district of Brooklyn in which she lived.

Mayor Kline, a personal friend of the girl's father, is spurring the police to extraordinary exertions.

Miss McCann is devoutly religious and nearly all her social connections are in church circles. There is no suspicion that there is any romantic element in the disappearance.

Woman Held as Counterfeiter

New York, Dec. 9.—Kate O'Brien, aged 50, weight 300, was arrested by United States secret service men charged with counterfeiting. She was found in an East Side flat equipped with a complete outfit for making small coins. The woman is said to have been associated for years with "Pete" Woods, an old-time counterfeiter recently captured in New Jersey.

Burglars Clear Out Safe

Worcester, Mass., Dec. 9.—Safe blowers broke into the general store and postoffice at Princeton depot, kept by George A. Bigelow, and stole everything of value in the safe.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE.

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Edward MacMulkin to Mary MacFarland, dated April 28, 1911, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, book 1175, page 457, for default in the performance of the condition of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction, upon the mortgaged premises, on Tuesday, the twenty-third day of December A. D. 1913, at four o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises described in said mortgage, viz:—

A certain parcel of land situated in that part of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, called Atlantic, being lot No. 19 on a plan of Norfolk Downs made by Charles D. Elliott, dated April 1892, recorded with Norfolk Book of Plans 14, plan 640, and bounded and described as follows:—Northeasterly by Hancock street fifty-eight (58) feet; southeasterly by lot No. 18 on said plan one hundred thirty-one and 5-10 (131.5) feet; southwesterly by lot No. 27 on said plan fifty-four and 16-100 (54.16) feet; northwesterly by an unnamed court as shown on said plan and lot No. 20 on said plan nineteen and 2-10 (19.2) feet and one hundred fourteen and 7-100 (114.07) feet respectively. Also one other parcel of land, being a portion of lots 27 and 28 as shown on said plan, and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at the Southwesterly corner of lot No. 19 as shown on said plan and thence running about easterly one hundred thirty-one and 64-100 (131.64) feet, thence turning and running about southerly forty and 5-100 (40.05) feet, thence turning and running about westerly one hundred twenty-three and 20-100 (123.20) feet to the unnamed court, thence turning and running about northerly forty-nine and 25-100 (49.25) feet, together with all the buildings in the two above named parcels. The first parcel above named containing 7640.08 square feet, and the second parcel above named containing about 5662 square feet. Being the same conveyed to said Edward MacMulkin by Silas H. Sanford by deed dated September 17, 1901 and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, book 909, page 329.

Terms, five hundred dollars ($500) cash at time and place of sale, when other terms will be announced.

MARY MacFARLAND.

William Flaherty, Atty., 515 Barristers Hall, Boston, Mass.

Nov. 25-3t 25, 2, 9

ARTHUR L. THOMAS
Attorney-at-Law
3-4-5-6 Greenleaf Block
Telephone Quincy 460 Jan.2-1y

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

In effect Nov. 16, 1913

The letters in the same line as the figures below stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows.

a	Wollaston
b	Norfolk Downs
c	Atlantic
d	Neponset
e	Pope's Hill
*	Saturdays Only
f	Harrison Square
g	Savin Hill
h	Crescent Avenue
i	South Boston
r	Quincy Adams
†	Except Saturday

Exp.—Express train.

TO BOSTON			FROM BOSTON
Leave	Stop	Arrive	Leave	Stop	Arrive
r 5 14	abcdefghi	5 41	5 44	lhgfedcba	6 14 r
r 6 9	abci	6 40	6 09	lhgfedcba	6 39 r
r 6 22	e	6 49	6 29	a	6 47
			6 47	Exp	7 04
r 6 40	abcf	7 00	7 14	hgfedcba	7 31 r
r 7 08	abcd	7 30	7 34	a'	7 52
7 28	a	7 46	7 37	a	7 56
r 7 32	Exp	7 49	7 44	c	8 06 r
r 7 42	ab	8 06	8 34	cba	8 55 r
7 55	a	8 12	8 44	b	9 02
r 8 13	abc	8 32	9 00	fedba	9 32 r
8 24	a	8 41	9 44	a	10 01 r
r 8 33	a	8 50	10 14	lhgfedcba	10 41 r
r 8 59	ad	9 16	10 51	Exp	11 10
r 9 28	abc	9 39	11 14	hgfedcba	11 41 r
r 10 04	a	10 21	11 49	a	12 07
r 10 19	abcdefghi	10 45	12 14	hgfedcba	12 41 r
11 12	a	11 28	12 20	a	12 38
11 24	abcdefgh	11 59	12 50	Exp	1 06
12 06	a	12 20	1 16	fedcba	1 40 r
			*1 32	a	1 50
r 12 27	abcdefghi	12 53	1 44	a	2 01
r 1 16	a	1 34	2 14	fedcba	2 37 r
2 04	a	2 20	2 34	Exp	2 50
r 2 19	abcdefgh	2 45	3 14	hgfedcba	3 40 r
r 3 13	Exp	3 28	3 44	a	4 02
4 04	a	4 20	4 12	fedcba	4 35 r
r 4 26	abcdefgh	4 53	4 15	a	4 32
5 12	a	5 19	4 40	c	4 58
r 5 30	abcdefg	5 55	4 55	a	5 11
6 04	a	6 21	5 13	a	5 32
6 12	ab	6 32	5 19	hgfeca	5 43
6 57	a	7 15	5 28	ba	5 46 r
r 7 22	Exp	7 39	5 40		5 57
7 29	ab	7 48	5 58	a	6 17 r
r 8 06	abcdef	8 32	6 01	fedcb	6 24
9 00	a	9 18	6 16	a	6 35
r 9 10	abc	9 29	6 30	ecba	6 52 r
* 9 17	Exp.	9 32	6 59	fedcba	7 24 r
r 10 07	abcdef	10 30	7 11	a	7 28
* 10 19	a	10 37	8 04	fedcba	8 28 r
11 13	a	11 30	* 8 19	Exp	8 35
r 11 30	abcd	11 50	9 19	a	9 37
			9 34	b	9 53 r
			10 01	ba	10 24
			10 24	fedcba	11 02 r
			†11 05	a	11 25 r
			†11 09	fedcba	11 35 r
			†11 25	ba	11 43 r
			†11 29	ba	11 49
			12 05	cba	12 26 r

SUNDAYS

r	7 43	abc	8 03	6 29	ba 6 48
	8 30	Exp	8 35	8 34	cba 8 55 r
r	8 46	abcdefghi	9 13	10 39	cba 10 59 r
r	9 13	abc	9 33	12 14	lhgfedcba 12 42
	9 31	a	9 47	12 44	Exp 1 01
	10 25	ac	10 42	1 29	lhgfedcba 1 57 r
	11 08	Exp	11 45	2 14	hgfedcba 2 42 r
r	11 16	abcdefghi	11 43	2 44	a 3 02
	1 04	a	1 23	3 14	lhgfedcba 3 42 r
r	1 16	abcdefgh	1 43	4 20	cba 4 48 r
r	3 10	abc	3 36	5 14	lhgfedcba 5 42 r
r	4 16	abcdefghi	4 43	6 09	Exp 6 25
	4 59	ab	5 16	6 14	lhgfedcba 6 42 r
	5 06		5 23	7 02	cba 7 22 r
	6 16	abcdefghi	6 43	8 14	lhgfedcba 8 41 r
	7 21	Exp	7 36	8 39	a 8 56 r
	7 29	abcdefghi	7 55	8 49	Exp 9 05
r	8 16	abcdefghi	8 43	9 29	lhgfedcba 9 52 r
	9 46	a	10 04	10 44	cba 11 04 r
	46	abc	11 05

LONG LIVED ROOFING

Buy your roofing with the idea that it is going to last for years to come.

NEPONSET PAROID ROOFING

is made carefully from the very best materials obtainable. It has received the endorsement of the leading railroads of the United States as well as that of the United States Government. We also handle the Neponset Wall Board which comes in 3 finishes and is good for any room in the house. Call or write for samples.

L. GROSSMAN & SONS
Tel. 979-W
Jackson St., Near Quincy Adams Depot

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

EXECUTRIX NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed executrix of the will of Thomas S. Copeland late of Quincy in the County of Norfolk, deceased, testate, and has taken upon herself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs.

All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased, are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

RUBINA S. COPELAND,
Executrix.

(Address)
53 Phillips St., Wollaston, Mass.
November 28th, 1913.
Dec. 2-3t 2-9-16

Bay State Street Railway Company

TIME TABLE

In effect April 8, 1912.

(Subject to change without notice.

Leave QUINCY for

Braintree, 6.15, 6.50 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Braintree, 6.25 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.25 P. M Sundays, 7.55 A. M. and then same as week days.

Brockton, 6.15, 6.50 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Brockton 6.20, 7 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 9.30 P. M. Sundays, 8 A. M. then same as week days.

West Quincy, and East Milton, 5.30 5.50, 6.10 A. M., and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M.) Sundays, 8.50 A. M. then same as week days. Return leave East Milton, 5.55, 6.15, 6.45 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.45 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.10 midnight.) Sundays, 7.25 A. M., then same as week days.

East Weymouth, 6.00, 6.15, 6.35, 7.05, 7.35 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.05 P. M. then 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.35 A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave East Weymouth, 6.50, 6.15, 6.45, 7.00, 7.10, 7.45, A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.45 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M. then same as week days.

Houghs Neck, 5.15, 5.35, 6.10, 6.40, 7.10, 7.40, A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. then 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 6.50, 7.40 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. Return leave Houghs Neck, 5.40, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 7.30, 8.00, 8.30, 9.05 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.35 P. M. then 12.10 midnight. Sundays, 7.20, 8.05, 8.35, 9.05 A. M every 30 minutes to 11.35 P. M.

Neponset via Hancock Street, 5.45 6.20, 6.50 A. M. and every 30 min. to 10.50 P. M. then 12.50 midnight. Sundays, 6.50 A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 6.45 7.10, 7.40 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. then 12.35 midnight. Sundays, 7.40 A. M. then same as week days.

Neponset via Wollaston—6.03, 6.33, 7.03 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.03 P. M. then 11.20, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.03 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 6.36, 6.55, 7.25, A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.25 P. M. then 11.42 P. M. and 12.12 midnight. Sundays, 7.25 A. M. then same as week days.

Neponset, via Norfolk Downs, 6.25, 6.55, 7.25, 8, 8.30 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11 P. M.) Sundays, 7.30 A. M. then the same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 7, 7.30 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.30 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.30 P. M.) Sundays, 8 A. M. then same as week days.

Weymouth Landing, 5.20, 6.05, 6.35 6.55, 7.25 7.55 A. M. then every 10 minutes, until and including 10.55 P. M. Sundays, 7.25, A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave Weymouth Landing, 5.45, 6.15, 6.40, 7.15 7.45 A. M. then every 30 minutes until and including 11.15 P. M. Sunday 7.45 A. M. then same as week days.

Leave NEPONSET for

Squantum, 6.25, 6.55, 7.25, 7.55, 8.25, 9.35, A. M. every 60 minutes to 4.35 P. M. then 4.55, 5.25, 5.55, 6.25, 7.35, 8.35, 9.35, 10.35 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.30, P. M. Sundays, 7.35, A. M. every 60 minutes to 10.35 P. M. Return, leave Squantum, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 7.30, 8.00, 8.30, 9.00 A. M. every 60 minutes to 5.00 P. M. then 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.15, 8.00 A. M ..ery 60 minutes to 11.00 P. M.

THOMAS GARROS.
Superintendent.

WITHIN THE LAW

By MARVIN DANA

FROM THE PLAY OF BAYARD VEILLER

Copyright, 1913, by the H. K. Fly company.

(Continued from last issue.)

CHAPTER V.

Keeping Within the Law.

MARY'S heart leaped at the possibility back of those three words: "within the law." She might do anything, seek any revenge, work any evil, enjoy any mastery as long as she should keep within the law. There could be no punishment then. That was the lesson taught by the captain in high finance. He was at pains always in his stupendous robberies to keep within the law. To that end he employed lawyers of mighty cunning and learning to guide his steps aright in such tortuous paths.

There, then, was the secret. Why should she not use the like means? Why, indeed? She had brains enough to devise, surely. Beyond that she needed only to keep her course most carefully within those limits of wrongdoing permitted by the statutes. The sole requirement would be a lawyer equally unscrupulous and astute.

She took Joe Garson into her confidence. He was vastly astonished at the outset and not quite pleased. To his view this plan offered merely a fashion of setting difficulties in the way of achievement.

Presently, however, the sincerity and persistence of the girl won him over. The task of convincing him would have been easier had he himself ever known the torment of serving a term in prison. Thus far, however, the forger had always escaped the penalty for his crimes, though often close to conviction. But Mary's arguments were of a compelling sort as she set them forth in detail, and Garson agreed that the experiment should be made.

An agreement was made by which Joe Garson and certain of his more trusted intimates in the underworld were to put themselves under the orders of Mary concerning the sphere of their activities. Furthermore, they bound themselves not to engage in any devious business without her consent. Aggie, too, was one of the company thus constituted, but she figured little in the preliminary discussions, since neither Mary nor the forger had much respect for the intellectual capabilities of the adventuress, though they appreciated to the full her remarkable powers of influencing men to her will.

It was not difficult to find a lawyer suited to the necessities of the undertaking. Mary selected Sigismund Harris, an attorney, just in the prime of his mental vigors, who possessed a knowledge of the law only to be equaled by his disrespect for it.

Forthwith the scheme was set in operation. As a first step Mary Turner became a young lady of independent fortune, who had living with her a cousin, Miss Agnes Lynch. The flat was abandoned. In its stead was an apartment in the Nineties on Riverside drive, in which the ladies lived alone with two maids to serve them.

Aggie's Winsome Innocence.

Garson had rooms in the neighborhood, but Jim Lynch, who persistently refused the conditions of such an alliance, betook himself afar, to continue his reckless gathering of other folk's money in such wise as to make him amenable to the law the very first time he should be caught at it.

A few tentative ventures resulted in profits so large that the company grew mightily enthusiastic over the novel manner of working. In each instance Harris was consulted and made his confidential statement as to the legality of the thing proposed. After a few perfectly legal breach of promise suits, due to Aggie's winsome innocence of demeanor, had been settled advantageously out of court Mary devised a scheme of greater elaborateness, with the legal acumen of the lawyer to impose it in the matter of safety. It was planned as the swindling of a swindler, which in fact, had now become the secret principle in Mary's morality.

A gentleman possessed of some means, none too scrupulous himself, but with high financial aspirations, advertised for a partner to invest capital in a business sure to bring large returns. This advertisement caught the eye of Mary Turner, and she answered it. An introductory correspondence encouraged her to hope for the victory in a game of cunning against cunning. She consulted with Harris and especially sought from him detailed information as to partnership law. His statements gave her such confidence that presently she entered into a partnership with the advertiser. By the terms of their agreement each deposited $30,000 to the partnership account.

This sum of $60,000 was ostensibly to be devoted to the purchase of a tract of land, which should afterward be divided into lots and resold to the public at enormous profit. As a matter of fact, the advertiser planned to make a spurious purchase of the tract in question by means of forged deeds granted by an accomplice, thus making through fraud a neat profit of $30,000.

No sooner was the $60,000 on deposit in the bank than Mary Turner drew out the whole amount, as she had a perfect right to do legally. When the advertiser learned of this he was, naturally enough, full to overflowing with wrath. But after an interview with Harris he swallowed his wrath as best he might. He found he could not go into court with clean hands, which is a prime stipulation of the law, though often honored in the breach. So he let himself be mulcted in raging silence.

The event established Mary as the arbiter in her own coterie. She next decided that a certain General Hastings would make an excellent sacrifice on the altar of justice—and to her own financial profit. The old man was a notorious roue, of most unsavory reputation as a destroyer of innocence. It was probable that he would easily fall a victim to the ingenuous charms of Aggie. As for that precocious damsel, she would run no least risk of destruction by the satyr.

General Hastings met Aggie in the most casual way. He was captivated by her freshness and beauty, her demureness, her ignorance of all things vicious. Straightway he set snares. He showered every gallant attention on the naive, bread and butter miss and succeeded gratifyingly soon in winning her heart—to all appearance. But he gained nothing more, for the coy creature abruptly developed most effective powers of resistance to every blandishment that went beyond strictest propriety. His ardor cooled suddenly when Harris served a summons in a suit for $10,000 damages for breach of promise.

Even while this affair was still in the course of execution Mary found herself engaged in a direction that offered at least the hope of attaining her great desire—revenge against Edward Gilder. This opportunity came in the person of his son, Dick. After much contriving, she got an introduction to that young man. Forthwith she showed herself so deliciously womanly, so intelligent, so daintily feminine, so singularly beautiful that the young man was enamored almost at once. The fact thrilled Mary to the depths of her heart, for in this son of the man whom she hated she saw the instrument of vengeance for which she had so longed. Yet this one thing was so vital to her that she said nothing of her purposes, not even to Aggie, though that observant person may have possessed suspicions more or less near the truth.

It was some such suspicion that lay behind her speech as, in negligee, she sat smoking a cigarette, while watching Mary, who was adjusting her hat before the mirror of her dressing table one pleasant spring morning.

"Dollin' up a whole lot, ain't you?" Aggie remarked affably, with that laxity of language which characterized her natural moods.

"I have a very important engagement with Dick Gilder," Mary replied tranquilly.

"Nice boy, ain't he?" Aggie ventured insinuatingly.

"Oh, I suppose so," came the indifferent answer from Mary as she tilted the picture hat to an angle a trifle more jaunty.

"I don't get you, Mary. You never used to look at the men. The way you acted when you first run round with me, I thought you sure was a suffragette. And then you met this young Gilder—and—good night, nurse!"

"Well?"

"His old man sends you up for a stretch for something you didn't do, and you take up with his son like"—

"And yet you don't understand!" There was scorn for such gross stupidity in the musical voice.

Aggie choked a little from the cigarette smoke as she gave a gasp when suspicion of the truth suddenly dawned on her slow intelligence.

"Hully gee!" Her voice came in a treble shriek of apprehension. "I'm wise!"

"But you must understand this," Mary went on, with an authoritative note in her voice. "Whatever may be between young Gilder and me is to be strictly my own affair. It has absolutely nothing to do with the rest of you or with our schemes for money making. And, what is more, Agnes, I want to know what you meant by talking in the public street yesterday with a common pickpocket."

Aggie's childlike face changed swiftly its expression from a sly eagerness to sullenness.

"You know perfectly well, Mary Turner," she cried indignantly, "that I only said a few words in passin' to my brother Jim. And he ain't no common pickpocket. Hully gee! He's the best dip in the business."

"But you must not be seen speaking with him!" Mary directed, with a certain air of command now become habitual to her among the members of her clique. "My cousin, Miss Agnes Lynch, must be very careful as to her associates."

"He just stopped me to say it's been the best year he ever had," she explained, with ostentatious vanity.

"How can that be when the dead line now is John street?"

"The dead line!" Aggie scoffed. "Why, Jim takes lunch every day in the Wall street Delmonico's. And only yesterday he went down to police headquarters just for a little excitement, 'cause Jim does sure hate a dull life. Say, he told me they've got a mat at the door with 'Welcome' on it in letters three feet high. Now, what do you think of that! And, oh, yes!" she continued happily, "Jim, he lifted a leather from a bull who was standing in the hallway there at headquarters! Jim sure does love excitement."

"I have an important engagement with Dick Gilder."

(To be Continued.)

☞PRATT'S BREAD is wholesome, nutritious, crisp and delicious. Get it of your grocer.

CHOICE ARTICLES

FROM THE

PHILIPPINES

LUCBON HATS—Very best grade of the famous Panamas and Bankoks made. Absolutely none better, woven under water by hand. Can be crushed into a ball and not lose shape. Made for both Ladies and Gentlemen. $5 and $10.

ROMBLON MATS—Handsomest and most durable Grass Mats or Rugs made in the world. Beautiful colors and designs, large enough to cover one-half floor of rooms. $5.

MANILA CIGARS—$3 for a trial box of the Very Best Cigars made in the Philippines.

Oriente Cigarrettes—Best made, large package containing 25 small packages, 750 Cigarrettes, $2.

Sent by registered mail, free of duties, on receipt of price.

C. A. SHORT & CO.,

Lucena, Tay, P. I.

Oct 4 1&O 3m

Penniman's

TAXI SERVICE

Taxies and Touring Cars with careful and safe drivers to let for all occasions.

C. H. PENNIMAN, Prop.

Telephone 207.

June 13-tf

SWITHIN

Real Estate

Mortgages-Insurance

Greenleaf Block

Quincy

Tel. Quincy 460. Nov. 10-tf

CIVIC FEDERATION SEEKS REFORMS

Will Redraft Model Workmen's Compensation Measure.

TO GET STATES' REPORTS.

Special Commission and 25,000 Employers to Give Views on Plan For Industrial Accidents—Other National Problems to Be Acted Upon.

The fourteenth annual meeting of the National Civic federation will be held in New York city on Thursday and Friday, Dec. 11 and 12. The program this year will include reports from the various departments of the federation, which reports will call for discussion and action on many important propositions of national interest that will be presented.

These departments are: The department on compensation for industrial accidents and their prevention, the food and drug department, the welfare department, the woman's department, the department on industrial mediation laws, the department on regulation if municipal utilities, the department on regulation of industrial corporations and the department on industrial economics.

Report on Compensation Acts.

The department on compensation for industrial accidents and their prevention has a commission of six men, who have been making a study of the actual results of the working of the various forms of compensation acts. This commission consists of Cyrus W. Phillips, J. Walter Lord, Louis B. Schram, Otto M. Eidlitz, James Duncan and John Mitchell, the two last named having been selected by the American Federation of Labor to represent it in this inquiry.

The commission has confined its work to the states where the compensation law has been in effect for at least a year. These states include Massachusetts, New Jersey, Michigan, Ohio, Illinois, Wisconsin, California, Oregon and Washington. The report of this commission will contain the results of a questionnaire sent to 25,000 employers in these states who have either gone under the acts (which are elective) or have refused to do so.

The views of the workingmen themselves, either through their unions or as individuals, will also be included. In the light of the information secured by this commission the model workmen's compensation bill of the National Civic federation will be redrafted.

Laws Governing Food and Drugs.

One session at the annual meeting will be devoted to the consideration of the food and drug problem. The federation has an expert committee which will be prepared to propose an outline for work that it is hoped will prove of great assistance to the department of agriculture and the forty-eight state and dairy commissions which are charged with the administration of the federal and state laws relating to those subjects.

How adequate are the federal and state laws today? What changes, if any, are proposed? Is the administration of the law effective in protecting the people in these matters? These questions all will be considered.

The department on industrial mediation laws, which was so successful in securing the passage of the Newlands act, providing the arbitration of disputes between interstate railroads and their employees, will report on a model state mediation bill. The department on regulation of municipal utilities will report on its proposed model bill for the regulation by the state of street railways, gas, electric light and other municipal utilities.

COST OF A MEXICAN WAR.

Would Be $350,000,000 For 560,000 Men For Six Months.

The republic of Mexico has an area of 765,537 square miles. This is as large as all of the United States east of the Mississippi river, except New England and New York. It has a population of approximately 16,000,000. But more than half of these can neither read nor write. Only about 3,000,000 are whites, and a large part of the population is savage.

The strategy of intervention, continues Oswald F. Schuette in Leslie's, would consist largely of hurling against the City of Mexico two invading armies—one from Vera Cruz, on the east coast, and one from the Texan border on the north. The northern army would hold at bay all the forces of Mexico now in her northern states, while the American forces to be landed from the east could make speedy work of the fight to the capital.

The war department's plans, with the estimate of an army of 560,000 men, contemplates such a show of superior force that it would sweep everything before it. On this basis the actual invasion might be completed within six months. How much longer the occupation of Mexican territory would be necessary completely to restore peace belongs to prophecy.

An invasion by 560,000 men, lasting for six months, it is believed, would approximate a cost of $350,000,000, almost $2,000,000 a day. This is an allowance of a little more than $100 per month per man, a conservative per capita cost to put such an army in active service and keep it moving.

VESSEL IS LOST BY STEFANSSON

Is Adrift Somewhere In Confines of Arctic Circle

TWENTY-FIVE MEN ON BOARD

Leader of Expedition and Small Party Was on Hunting Trip When Heavy Gales Blew Ice Pack In Which Karluk Was Frozen Into Open Sea—Not Anxious About Crew

Ottawa, Dec. 9.—Somewhere within the confines of the Arctic circle drifts Vilhjalmar Stefansson's staunch little vessel, the Karluk, safely frozen in an ice pack.

But the leader of the expedition is not with his vessel and is unaware of its whereabouts, according to a dispatch received from the explorer himself, by George J. Desbarats, deputy minister of naval affairs, and acting minister of marine of fisheries.

Stefansson's message states that believing the Karuk safe in the ice in longitude west 147, fifteen miles off shore, he took a party ashore with him to hunt. The next day heavy gales sprang up and then fog. When the weather cleared the Karluk was not in sight and had undoubtedly been carried away by the wind which drove the ice pack off shore.

So far, the search for the Karluk has been unsuccessful, but as there is a crew of twenty-five men on board and plenty of provisions, no anxiety is felt for its welfare.

The message was dated Oct. 30, from Point Barrow, Alaska, and was sent overland from there to Circle, from where it was dispatched on Dec. 5. The message reads:

"The Karluk, beset by heavy ice on Aug. 12, in longitude west 147, fifteen miles off shore. Ship frozen in on Aug. 17 and drifted with the ice until Sept. 10, when the drift stopped.

"On Sept. 2, believing the ship fast for the winter and as it was necessary to secure fresh meat, I took Jeness, McConnell, Wilkins and three Eskimos ashore to hunt. North gales sprang up Sept. 22 with snow and fog. When the storm cleared on the 24th the ice had gone and the Karluk with it. The ice undoubtedly went west before the wind.

"The Karluk may possibly have broken free and steamed east, but she probably remained fast and drifted west with the ice. Followed the coast west to Barrow but the Karluk has not been sighted.

"The schooners Sachs and Alaska, with the southern party, are safe at Collison point. The schooner Belvidere, with cargo of freight and provisions, is wintering near the international boundary. I am planning an ice expedition from the 145th meridian to the Mackenzie delta, making survey and taking soundings for steamer route. The Karluk has on board a company of twenty-five, including Beuchat, Mackay, Mamen, McKinley, Murray and Malloch, with the members of the crew and five Eskimo."

Those on shore with Stefansson now are Dr. D. Jenness of Wellington, N. Z., assistant anthropologist; Burt M. Wilkins of Montreal, the photographer; B. M. McConnell, Los Angeles, Cal., assistant to Stefansson and meteorologist.

The other scientific men who remain on board the Karluk are Henry Beuchat, anthropologist; Alister Forbes-Mackay, Edinburgh, surgeon; Biarme Mamen, Christiania, Norway, assistant geologist; W. L. McKinley, Glasgow, expert in terrestial magnetism; James Murray, Glasgow, oceanographer; George Malloch, Ottawa, chief geologist and topographer.

TAKEN FOR BURGLAR

Wakefield Man Was Telephoning For Doctor For Sick Wife

Wakefield, Mass., Dec. 9.—When Patrolman Peterson saw a man enter the Greenwood station of the Boston and Maine railroad he had visions of capturing the burglar who has been robbing Wakefield houses and other places recently.

Patrolman Peterson saw the man try the doors and windows of the station. Finally the man found a window open and he entered the station. When the man came out Peterson grabbed him.

The captive satisfied the officer that he was not a burglar, but had entered the station to telephone for a doctor for his sick wife. Inquiry at the telephone office confirmed the statement and the man was later identified as a well-known resident of the Greenwood district and released.

Heavy Snowfall In New Hampshire

Concord, N. H., Dec. 9.—A heavy fall of snow in New Hampshire is reported at West Lebanon and the vicinity, where about seventeen inches has fallen. The Boston and Maine railroad started out a plough from here to open up the lines in the vicinity.

Expect Heavy Vote In Lowell

Lowell, Mass., Dec. 8.—Tuesday's election will decide several interesting contests. There are two candidates for mayor, four for aldermen, and four for school committee. A heavy vote is anticipated.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents. No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

LOST

LOST—On Hancock street between the car barn and Dr. Hunting's residence a bunch of keys. Finder please return to the Ledger office. Suitable reward. 6-tf

WANTED

WANTED—Room for light housekeeping, by man and wife. Write Mrs. L., Ledger office. 9-1t

WANTED—Childrens sewing. Mrs. A. J. Fox, 56 Division street, Montclair. 5-6t

WANTED—Housekeeper's position by an American woman in widower's family, reference exchanged. Mrs. D. W. Hall, Wollaston, Mass. 3-6t

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing. Myatt, 40 Baxter street. Tel. 1307-M. Quincy, Res. 22-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—A black horse, in good condition, kind and gentle, valuable for driving and light teaming. Can be seen any time at 95 Adams street, Quincy. 6-6t

FOR SALE—1910 Franklin Touring Car. Price $400. Has been overhauled recently by the Franklin Company. This car is fully equipped with gas tank, wind shield, top, and in fact, everything that is needed on an automobile. It is in first-class condition in every way. Will be pleased to demonstrate at any time. John J. Gallagher, 14 Faxon Block. 5-6t

FOR SALE—Lady's black Russian Pony jacket, size 34. At home evenings. Geo. W. Jennings, 317 Washington street, Braintree. 5-6t

FOR SALE or TO LET—New houses Apply to Thompson B. Crane, 403 Washington street, Quincy. 1-tf

MISCELLANEOUS

RENT FREE—until Jan. 1st. Two adjoining houses, 28 and 30 Pleasant street to desirable tenants, who will agree to stay one year, or longer. $5.00 per week in advance. Stable for one horse if desired. $1.00 a week extra. Apply 36 Pleasant street. 5-tf

GRAVEL and loam given away via Quincy Adams depot must be taken at once. Enquire of L. Grossman & Sons, Jackson street, Quincy Adams. Tel. 979-W. 3-6t

WM. H. TEASDALE

REAL ESTATE

Insurance Mortgages

NOTARY PUBLIC JUSTICE OF THE PEACE

Room 23 Adams Building

Telephones { Residence 544-3 / Offices 83-M

otf

TO LET

Large Front Office Greenleaf Block—2 entrances—right at the head of the stairs—one of the most desirable offices in Quincy.

Office, Durgin-Merrill Block—3 large windows—only 1 flight up—exceptional opportunity.

Hancock Building—City Square Offices—small front office, $11 a month

Office—Hancock Chambers, 16x18 feet one flight up, very low rent.

Store House—off Granite St., in the rear of Greenleaf Block.

GREENLEAF BLOCK

CITY SQUARE

(Best Location in City)

Offices—Large or small.

Desk Room—Street floor, right in the rear of main entrance, good light and air, $5 up a month.

Transient Rooms—Well furnished and with care, $1 a day.

Furnished Rooms—With care steam heat, and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week

HALLS

Music Hall—Music Hall Block—Capacity 962—highest possible rating by the State. "Excellent" in every particular.

New Colonial Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—Capacity 240—the best possible location for a Hall.

Hancock Hall—Hancock Building City Square—Capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,

(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)

Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 21066) Quincy

JAMES F. BURKE & CO.

Real Estate and Insurance

Care of Property. Mortgages

Justice of Peace. Notary Public

Room 4, Savings Bank Building

Tel. 285 M. Nov. 11-tf

YOU need the Ledger EVERY DAY. SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

TO LET

TO LET—Furnished rooms with or without board, Grant Place, opposite Central Garage, Washington street. 9-3t

TO LET—A private family will let large furnished front room with or without board. 45 Wayland street, Wollaston. 6-3t

TO LET—9 room house on Hancock street, near Quincy center. In first class repair and reasonable rent. Apply to Mr. Galligan at Kincaide's Furniture store. 6-tf

TO LET—In Wollaston very desirable five room bungalow on high land, $26; also seven room house, $30; five room apartment, $20; six room apartment, $16. All improvements and in first class condition. H. W. Richmond, 105 Brook street, Wollaston. Tel. 358-2. 6-6t

TO LET—Lower flat, 5 rooms bath modern improvements in new house pleasantly situated in corner lot 29 Atherton street, Bigelow Park. Rent reasonable to right party. Inquire on premises or 72 Glencoe place. 5-6t

A SNAP—7 room flat to let, all improvement, fine location, will let five dollars cheaper if taken at once. Apply H. K. Ellis, 36 Warwick street, Wollaston. Tel. Maine 4577. 5-6t

UPPER APARTMENT. In two-family house on Spear Street. Five rooms, bath, large pantry and closets, also open attic with finished heated chamber. Every improvement, electric light, furnace, range etc. Ready for immediate occupancy. Telephone Quincy 278 M or enquire mornings of Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. lpo

TO LET—Five nice large sunny rooms, all improvements. Apply 23 Dysart street. 4-6t

TO LET—Tenement 4 rooms and bath all improvements, set range. Vacant Jan. 1, 1914. Apply 180 Franklin street. 3-6t

TO LET—Upper flat in two flat new house at 1 Bradford street, 5 rooms and bath. All improvements. Ready Jan. 1st. Apply to Wm. E. Duggan, 32 Bryant avenue, West. Quincy. 26-12t

TO LET—173 Whitwell street, half house, modern conveniences, $20 per month. Ready for immediate occupancy. Apply Penniman's Stable, Granite street. 19-tf

RUSSELL PARK — Commodious house of seven rooms, large hall and bath. Modern, every convenience open fireplace, furnace, range, set tubs, electric lights, cemented cellar, etc. Best residential neighborhood. Ready for immediate occupancy. For further details or key see Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. tf lpo

TO LET—Nicest 4 room and bath lower flat in town. Every improvement $19.00. 126 Glendale road. S. E. Thomas Greenleaf Block. 17-tf

TO LET—5 room tenement at 117 Quincy street, $20 per month. Apply Berman Furniture Co. 6-tf

TO LET—Houses of 5, 6 and 10 rooms. M. T. Sullivan. Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy, Mass. 11-tf

WANTED

OFFICE BOYS

Bring School Certificate

Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation

Dec. 6-3t

ANOTHER BARGAIN

Make me an offer for a ten room house on Whitwell Street.

You will own it if you will talk buy, as it is one of those chances some one will miss.

HENRY W. SAVAGE

Real Estate, Boston.

E. C. HAYDEN, Local Representative

Telephone 1877-M Quincy.

Nov 17-tf

M. T. SULLIVAN

Real Estate Insurance

Auctioneer Care of Property

Justice of the Peace

Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

Read Ledger Advs.

KINCAIDE THEATRE

at 2.30, 5, 10, 15c., at 7.45, 10, 15, 25c

MON. TUES. WED.
Program subject to change

MURRY LIVINGSTON & CO.
Comedy Dramatic Playlet
"The Man From Italy"

COOPER & MAY Singing and Scenic Changes

TWISTO
The Human Pretzel

SIR WALTER WEENES
Just a little Nonsense

PATHE WEEKLY
World's News in Pictures

Feature Picture in 2 parts
The Green-Eyed Monster of Jealousy

A Picture full of fun
Edwin's Badge of Honor

Kincaide Theatre Orchestra

NEWSY BRIEFS

William Pratt of Wendell road has gone to Connecticut to live, business calling him there.

The Winneberger house on Howard street is being moved across the street to the Webster Newcomb place, owned by Kauffman the tailor.

Among the Councilmen-elect noticed at Monday nights meeting of the City Council were Carl E. Carlson, Robert B. Craig, Robert J. Williams, Jr. and Otto Gelotte. Mr. Carlson occupied a seat inside of the railing.

The second of the current events lectures by Mrs. Leila Pennock under the auspices of the literature committee of the Quincy Women's club is to be given to morrow afternoon at three o'clock at the clubhouse on Presidents hill.

SUCCESS OF TEAM ASSURED

Twenty candidates for the basket ball team at the Quincy high school have responded to the call of Captain James Jenkins and so much interest has been shown by the student body it is safe to assume that the success of this year will far surpass that of last year when the school team made a mark in interscholastic circles.

Yesterday and today the candidates were tried out, games being played between scrub teams. The popularity of the game promises to be greater than ever before and the faculty is optimistic of the seasons results.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

LAND COURT.

To Emile Badot, Mary A. Badot, Gene M. McCormick, Ellen B. Fegan, James Fegan, Walter R. Fegan, Lawrence J. Keegan, Ruth McGrath, John McGilvary, James J. Riley and Annie L. Newcomb, of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, and said Commonwealth; the City of Quincy, a municipal corporation located in said County of Norfolk; Herbert F. Doble, Special Administrator of the estate of Enoch H. Doble, late of said Quincy, deceased; Henry E. Sheldon, of Milton, in said County of Norfolk; Edward J. Fegan and Mary A. Fegan, of Rockland, in the County of Plymouth, and said Commonwealth; Albert J. Shackley, of Brooklyn, in the State of New York; Margaret A. Brown, of Pasadena, in the State of California; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by John B. McGilvary, of said Quincy, to register and confirm his title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situate in the westerly part of said Quincy, bounded southerly on Crescent street (formerly called Cemetery Street) sixty-nine feet; westerly on land now or late of one Anderson, formerly of the heirs of Edward Fegan ten rods, northerly on land now or late of one McCormick formerly of Robertson, seventy-five feet; and easterly on Hall Place ten rods; containing 11,880 square feet, more or less.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition, and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

You are hereby cited to appear at the Land Court to be held at Boston, in the County of Suffolk, on the twenty-ninth day of December A. D., 1913 at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, Charles Thornton Davis, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this eighth day of December in the year nineteen hundred and thirteen.

CLARENCE C. SMITH, Recorder.
Attest with Seal of said Court.
(Seal.)

Dec. 9-3t 9-16-23

DIRECTORS EXAMINE PLANS

New Club House in Wollaston an Assured Fact

The full board of directors of the Sachem Club examined the plans of their proposed clubhouse Monday evening. Among those present was William Chapman, the architect. He went into detail relative to several improvements made over the original sketches.

It has been practically decided that the stage and its appurtenances will be under the direction of Matt Ott of Wollaston, a well known comedy actor and producer of plays. Mr. Ott, because of his wide experience in the theatrical world was chosen unanimously and all equipment will be installed as he directs.

The club occupies at present a prominent place in social circles in Wollaston and Norfolk Downs and the interest of the members marks a new era in its growth. It is better known in other parts of the city from its annual productions which have been given in Alpha hall to large and enthusiastic audiences.

WEYMOUTH TO HAVE COUNCIL

At a meeting of the Grand Council of Royal and Select Master held at the Masonic Temple in Boston Monday a charter was granted to Temple council of East Weymouth. Up to the present time, Quincy members of the cryptic rite have taken their degrees at Boston council, the only other council in this vicinity being at Brockton. Now that a council is to be formed at East Quincy, Quincy will probably be included in its jurisdiction. The membership in the cryptic rite in Masachusetts now numbers about 9,000.

KNOCKED DOWN BY QUINCY AUTO

A Boston paper reports that an automobile owned and operated by Frederick L. Baxter of Quincy knocked down Frederick L. Dodge at Brighton Sunday afternoon. According to the report Dodge was standing on the curbing talking with some friends and without looking stepped into the street directly in front of the automobile and was struck. Witnesses to the accident exonerate Mr. Baxter from all blame.

BANQUET TONIGHT.

The annual meeting and banquet of the Quincy Granite Manufacturers Association is to be held this afternoon and evening at the American house, Boston. The business session will be held in the late afternoon and the banquet will follow at 6 o'clock. As usual speechmaking will follow the banquet.

YOU need the Ledger EVERY DAY. SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

A Merry Xmas to all.

When buying Pianos or Musical Instruments see
JOHNSEN
6 Chestnut Street, Quincy
Pianos from $10 up
Dec. 8-12t

Call Quincy 501-W
if you want your furniture, mattresses and cushions repaired in good order at low prices M. MIRKIN, upholsterer, 1080 Hancock treet near the Quincy High School.
Dec.1-1m

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER and GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
Orchard Place, off Spear street, Quincy

PINE TREE CLUB, BRAINTREE.

The regular meeting of the Pine Tree club was held in G. A. R. hall, South Braintree Monday evening with a fine attendance. An enjoyable program was presented consisting of piano solos by Otis Randall, readings by Urban T. Landry, vocal solos by Mrs. Harold Bean, readings by Miss Mary Schraut and vocal duets by Mrs. Harold Bean and Mrs. Sadie Schraut.

There was an abundance of refreshments of sandwiches, coffee, doughnuts and cheese, candy, salted peanuts, etc. A mammoth doughnut, fried by Mrs. George L. Randall was presented to Oakes A. Bridgham, the speech being made by Frank C. Allen.

The club members had the laugh on Mrs. Harold L. Jones who forgot the meeting, thinking it was to occur a week later and was obliged to fry 7.5 doughnuts at the last minute.

The committee of arrangements was as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Luce, Mr. and Mrs. Oakes A. Bridgham, Mrs. George E. Stone, Mrs. George L. Randall and Mrs. Harold L. Jones.

BRIEFS

Following out the recommendation of the grand lodge, Mt. Wollaston lodge I. O. O. F., will entertain the Encampment branch at its meeting tonight. A banquet is one of the features on the program.

It will be something new to have a group picture of the Council ornament the walls of the Council Chamber. The picture will not be complete however owing to the absence of Councilman Cunningham who resigned and Councilman Farquharson who died. A group picture of the first council ornaments the office of the City Auditor.

Telepathy.

"Telepathy" is an instance of a newfangled word for an old thing. Bacon called it "sympathy" between two distant minds. Izaak Walton similarly explained Dr. Dunne's vision in Paris of his wife and dead child, observing that "if two lutes are strung to an exact harmony and one is struck the other sounds." Scottish highlanders, who would have been puzzled by the word "telepathy," have long been familiar with the idea for which it stands. Andrew Lang quoted the case of a poor highland woman who wrote to her son in Glasgow, "Don't be thinking too much of us, or I shall be seeing you some evening in the byre."

My father once had a curious telepathic experience. He was dressing in his bedroom one morning when he suddenly saw the face of a Scotch servant girl, contorted with agony, in the looking glass before him. He went downstairs to the kitchen and found the girl writhing in a fit upon the floor, her face exactly as he had seen it in the mirror.—London Spectator.

Beneficial Exercise.

Exercise to be beneficial must do these things:

First.—It must slightly increase the strength and force of the heart beat, so as to improve the circulation and do away with any tendency to sluggishness.

Second.—It must slightly quicken and deepen the breathing rate so that more pure air is drawn into the lungs and less impure air is left behind.

Third.—It must stimulate into normal activity the myriads of glands in the skin whose duty it is to rid the body of a part of the poisonous substances constantly being formed within us.

Practically any exercise, if carried out with the correct degree of moderation, will accomplish these results and so deserves the term "beneficial exercise." The trouble is that indulged in past moderation almost every form of exercise can do more harm than good.—New York World.

Too Late For Classification

WANTED—Young man. F. W. Woolworth & Co., Adams Building. 9-3t

WANTED—By the day, housework, cleaning, etc. Apply to Hilda Hinda, at 373 Water street, near Brewers corner. 9-3t.

WANTED—Young lady to assist in store. Steady position and good opportunity to become familiar with a popular line. Write C. F. C. Ledger office. 9-3t.

WANTED—House lot in Quincy, about 10,000 square feet, or house with some land at reasonable price. Send full particulars, first letter. Write B. J. Ledger Office. 9-1t.

DEATHS

SANDISON—In Quincy, December 8, John Sandison in his 55th year. Funeral services at late home, 33 McDonald street, Thursday, Dec. 11, at 2.30 P. M. Relatives and friends invited. 9-2t

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass.

DEATH DUE TO HEMOPHILIA

The death of Michael F. Glynn of Neponset whose body was taken to the morgue instead of to the cemetery was not due to the negligence of any person according to Medical Eaminer Leary who performed an autopsy Monday. Dr. Leary said Glynn died from hemophilia which is the medical term for bleeding to death. The body was interred Monday afternoon in New Calvary cemetery.

The mystery in his death is scarcely solved for the general public by the diagnosis of the medical examiner according to Dr. W. A. Evans who states that hemophilia is not a disease but that death may be due to the following reasons:—

"Haemophiila is a constitutional defect, usually hereditary, characterized by a tendency to uncontrollable bleeding upon the slightest provocation—a pin-prick, even—due to the absence of the normal coagulating elements from the blood. Death occurs, from hemorrhage from a supposed insignificant wound, as in the case of Glynn, from a drawn tooth."

TAYLOR—POORE.

Miss M. Doris Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Taylor of Weymouth and Herbert C. Poore son of Mr and Mrs. Walter A. Poore of East Braintree were married on Monday evening at their future home, 8 Stetson street, East Braintree. The double ring ceremony was performed in the presence of relatives and intimate friends, by Rev. Frank Pressy of Cambridge, a former pastor of the Baptist church in Weymouth and a family friend of the bride. A small reception followed the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of embroidered net over white messaline, with Duchess lace garniture and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. The maid of honor was Miss Dorothy Taylor, the bride's sister who wore a blue painted chiffon gown, trimmed with beaver fur. Her bouquet was of pink roses. The best man was Mr. Herbert P. Sawtell of Worcester, a classmate of Mr. Poore at Worcester Polytechnic Institute.

The bride is a graduate of Boston University, class of 1913 and a member of Sigma Kappa sorority fifteen members of which attended the ceremony. The groom is a graduate of W. P. I. class of 1907 and is a recognized authority on bituminous road building, being an expert engineer in the employ of the Barrett Mfg. Co. of Boston. Mr. and Mrs. Poore left immediately for a trip to New York, Philadelphia and the far south.

BRAINTREE GRANGE.

The regular meeting of Braintree Grange was held in Odd Fellows hall, South Braintree Monday evening and the following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing term:

Master—Charles W. Matthews.
Overseer—George Burton.
Lecturer—Mrs. Harriet G. Tirrell.
Steward—Owen Faulkner.
Ass't steward—Bert Sands.
Chaplain—Mrs. Mary E. Bangs.
Treasurer—Miss Lillian Twitchell.
Secretary—Miss Mildred Dyer.
Gate keeper—Miss May Sands.
Ceres—Mrs. Isabelle Milloy.
Pomona—Mrs. Della Wilkins.
Flora—Miss Edna Johnson.
Lady ass't steward—Miss Emily Davis.
Member of executive committee for 3 years—Mrs. Carrie E. Hollis.

HAD CARVING KNIFE.

CCostantino Grassi was arrested in is home on Union street Monday evening after he had chased a fellow countryman through the house with a carving knife. In court this morning the complaint wanted to acknowledge satisfaction but Judge Avery heard the government side of the case, examined which is about 14 inches long and continued the case to tomorrow for a hearing.

Bird & Son, East Walpole, Mass., makers of Neponset Waterproof Building Products, the best known of which are the roofings, building papers and wall board, have recently started to manufacture a shingle. They have just had printed a booklet called "The Greatest Roofing Development of the 20th Century," and also a folder containing a sample of the shingle, and anyone interested in this new product will do well to obtain a copy of one or both of these pieces of advertising matter. Neponset Shingles possess all the good features of wooden shingles and none of their defects. They will outlast wooden shingles and will not catch fire from sparke and embers as wooden shingles do. These shingles are handled in Quincy by L. GROSSMAN & SONS.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

HERE'S a noteworthy fact about the live store and its service.

Even at this late date you can secure practically as wide a choice in

Kuppenheimer Clothes

as at the beginning of the season.

Copyright 1913 The House of Kuppenheimer

English, Semi-English or Conservative Suits for men and young men of every style and fabric preference.

$18 to $27.00

All sorts and sizes in O'COATS

$18 to $27

$10.00 $12.00 $15.00

Copyright 1913 The House of Kuppenheimer

SUITS AND O'COATS up to the minute for Style and Fabric

By comparison you can prove for yourself a saving to you from $2.00 to $3.00 a Garment.

REMICK'S, Music Hall Block

SPECIAL ELECTION

(Continued from Page One.)

Candidates seeking the office must file nomination papers, so that their name may appear on the ballot at the primaries which will have to be held. The City Council will have to call a caucus and designate polling places and after the caucus, or primaries will have to call a special election in Ward Three and designate polling places for the same. In fact all of the machinery of a regular election will have to be gone through with.

This will require several weeks time so that it will be well along toward the first of March, if not later, before the required number of Councilmen from Ward Three has been secured.

In the light of what has transpired it would seem that the ward committee had been a little lame in not discovering, before it had gone too far that Mr. Cowe did not possess the necessary qualifications as a citizen to be eligible for election.

There are seven spruces in the United States. Four are confined to the west; two to the east; while one, white spruce, has a continent-wide distribution.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.
SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

SOUTH BRAINTREE

Frank W. Newhall, Jr., has purchased the fish business of George W. Hunt and has reopened the market in White's block.

Mrs. W. F. Dickinson of Newark, N. J., was the recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Call of Williams avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Pratt and family have moved from the lower tenement in the Bagonzi flat on Hall avenue to Randolph.

The regular meeting of the Noah Torrey school association will be held in the Noah Torrey school hall, Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 17 at 3 o'clock.

The members of the Heights base ball club, thrice winners of the Sunset league pennant are making preparations for their concert and dance to be held in the Town hall next Friday evening.

George Kaprillian and sister Rosie of Hobart avenue who have been making their home with their uncle, Mr. Rovhenian left this week for San Francisco, Cal., to join their parents who located in the state some time ago.

The ladies of the Braintree Woman's Catholic club will observe Cardinal O'Connell's birthday in a fitting manner at their meeting next Thursday evening which they will hold in Knights of Columbus hall, Holbrook avenue.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

At the regular meeting of Monatiquot Lodge, No. 8, Knights of Pythias last Monday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing term:

C. C.—Winfield L. Jacobs.
V. C.—Irving N. Holbrook.
P.—Henry B. Vinton.
M. W.—Edward G. McGill.
M. of F.—George E. Woodworth.
M. of E.—M. Alonzo Minchin.
K. of R. and S.—Clarence E. Southworth.
M. of A.—Laban H. Barnes.
I. G.—E. B. Arnold.
O. G.—Henry H. Marston.
Trustee for 3 years—C. E. Southworth.
Representative for 2 years—M. A. Minchin.
Alternate for 2 years—E. B. Arnold.
D. D. G. C.—Andrew T. Moore and suite of Brockton paid an official visit to the lodge the same evening.

—Northern New York reports turkeys plentiful and likely to be cheaper than usual at Thanksgiving time. Glad to know they are plentiful, but we should hate to have much money bet that they would be far under the usual prices when the holiday rush begins.

DO YOU WANT PUSINESS?
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

Old Company's Lehigh Egg Coal

for Your furnace
Is there anything better mined?

We Sell It
Try a Ton

C. PATCH & SON Inc.
1422 Hancock Street

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

LARGEST GUARANTEED CIRCULATION IN THE CITY

Vol. 28 No. 286 QUINCY MASS. WEDNESDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 10 1913 PRICE TWO CENTS

MODEL TANK EXPERIMENTS

Interesting Talk Before Marine Draftsmen

Prof. H. H. W. Keith, Instructor of Naval Architecture at Massachusetts Institute of Technology delivered a very interesting and instructive lecture before the draftsmen last evening on "Model Tank Experiments."

Prof. Keith has been in the employ of the United States government for a number of years, in the course of which he has had a great deal of experience in the Model Basin at Washington, D. C.

He pointed out very clearly the different methods used in this work in England, Germany and other foreign countries and compared them with those in use in the United States, giving figures and drawing sketches to illustrate.

The members at the conclusion of his remarks tendered him a rising vote of thanks.

This lecture is the first of a series which the society has planned to hold during the winter months and from the large gathering present last evening, it will surely meet with success.

The committee in charge were S. B. Crosby, G. Copland, A. R. Kennedy, B. Meurk, D. L. Moffat and A. Robertson.

The society had as their guests J. F. Paige assistant Chief Engineer Fore River, J. J. Crain of the electrical division, E. C. Bennett chief of draftsmen of hull division, E. P. Larkin Chief draftsman of the engine division, J. T. Dalcher assistant chief draftsman Engine division and L. Brath assistant chief draftsman hull division. All connected with the Fore River Shipbuilding corporation.

The entertainment committee of the Norwegian Society reported at the meeting in the Johnson building on Tuesday evening that the annual dancing party recently held in Alpha hall was a fine success. Considerable new business was introduced and H. C. Lund was admitted to membership. The election of officers will take place on Dec. 16.

LODGE HOST OF ENCAMPMENT

Good Cheer Reigns Supreme at Odd Fellows Hall

Seventy five members of Manet Encampment, I. O. O. F. were the guests of Mt. Wollaston lodge in the lodge rooms in the Adams building Tuesday evening. Good fellowship and cheer were boon companions during the visitation and a pleasant and interesting evening was passed.

The entertainment opened with remarks by Grand Representative of the Grand Encampment, Sam Wood, Jr. He was followed by professional talent from the Kincaide's theatre and the fine program received prolonged and hearty applause from those present.

Speeches were made by George C. Ela, Frank W. Flowers, Charles Wood, Charles Harwood, Aubrey R. Keith, all past chief patriarchs and Brother McKay of the subordinate lodge. When Alec Kennedy past Chief Patriarch finished his remarks he presented the lodge with cigars from the encampment.

At the close of the program a collation was served in the banquet hall, after which cigars were distributed. The evening closed with card playing singing and a general good time.

Noble Grand Matthew Swanson acted as master of ceremonies and much credit was extended to the committee that arranged the evening's program.

The committee of arrangements were E. Frank Mitchell, chairman, Thomas Furnald, Abel Gomez and Thomas Baker.

ON BUSINESS TRIP.

J. Barraja-Frauenfelder sailed from New York Tuesday on the Hamburg American Line Steamer Cincinnati for Naples on an extended business trip through Europe. After spending the Christmas holidays at his home he plans to travel northward, returning via Paris and Cherbourg. He will also visit the principal shipyards and manufacturing plants that make turbines and Diesel engines.

MRS. WIGGS CABBAGE PATCH

One of Attractions at Fair of Bethany Union

In marked contrast with the wintry blast outside, was the glow and spring-like scene at the fair of Bethany Women's Union in the chapel of Bethany church on Tuesday afternoon and eyening. Branches of peach blossoms were extensively used in decorating and it was indeed a pretty scene. Under the skillful gardening of Mrs. E. E. Miller and her many assistants the blossoms burst forth for the occasion in all their beauty.

"Mrs. Wiggs Cabbage Patch" was there too, and attracted much attention. In one corner of the chapel, enclosed in a new pure white fence upon which a trumpet vine grew was a model garden. There were several rows of artificial cabbages made from crepe paper. Some grew for boys and some for girls, and some were worth five cents and some ten. After paying the entrance fee at the gate, boys and girls could select their cabbage and they found a treasure hidden in the roots.

Mrs. A. E. Sargent originated the novel idea and was assisted by Mr. Sargent and the following ladies: Mrs. Charles Barron, Mrs. Joseph P. Prout, Mrs. A. L. Hayden, Mrs. V. E. Miller, Mrs. E. E. Miller, Mrs. Theophilus King, Mrs. John T. Hunt, Mrs. E. L. Mitchell and Mrs. F. J. Moore.

Mrs. H. E. Crane the president was in general charge of the fair. and there were several attractive booths. Those in charge were:

Fancy—Mrs. George A. Sidelinger, Mrs. Frank W. Crane, Mrs. Fanny Sears, Mrs. J. F. Welch Mrs. H. W. Beattie, Mrs. F. F. Prescott, Mrs. Geo. Badger, Mrs. Edwin Livingstone, Mrs. M. M Newcomb, Mrs. Charles Tucker, Mrs. H. H. Schulze, Mrs. S. I. Wood, Mrs. A. H. Brown, Mrs. Arthur Fitts, Mrs. Lucy Newcomb Emery, Mrs. L. E. Wetherell.

Fancy Apron—Mrs. Frances Dunbar, Mrs. C. E. Sargent, Mrs. Frank Mitchell, Mrs. E. L. Goodridge, Mrs. W. G. Shaw and Mrs. Bert Miller.

Children's Goods—Mrs. H. McPhail, Mrs. William Cantley and Mrs. Charles England.

Household—Mrs. George Macfarlane, Mrs. B. A. Willmott, Mrs. George Wardwell, Mrs. Annie Badger and Mrs. Fred H. Breslyn.

Pop Corn—Miss Florence Sabean, Miss Eleanor Bates, Miss Williamina Laing, Miss Edith Avery and Miss Hazel Sabean.

Candy—Miss Addie J. Park, Mrs. John Bell, Mrs. R. E. Fenner, Mrs. Feorge Adams, Mrs. E. L. Collins, Miss Lewis, Miss Emma Spaulding, Miss Fannie Gordon, Miss Wilbas, Mrs. C. T. Cox, Mrs. F. P. Horton, Mrs. James McDonnell, Miss Lillie Taber and Mrs. Curtis Pierce.

Cooked food—Mrs. A. L. Melcher, Mrs. N. B. Roberts, Mrs. E. J. Saunders and Mrs. Frank Carlton.

Ice Cream—Harry Brooks, William Cantley and others.

In the dining room there was a very attractive restaurant with Japanese decorations. The bill of fare was very complete and varied including soups, entree, meats, salads, sandwiches, desert, miscellaneous and drinks. Everything was well cooked and the service of the following young ladies as waiters was all that could be desired: Miss Helen Bromley, Miss Avah Gilson, Miss Helen Mitchell, Miss Marion Mitchell, Miss Ada Williams, Miss Emma Spaulding, Miss Mila Bates, Miss Harriet Griffiths, Miss Annie Jones, Miss Etta Cummings and Miss Charlotte Nash.

Mrs. A. H. Gilson was chairman of the supper committee and was assisted by Mrs. A. F. Broberg, Mrs. E. I. Beal, Mrs. C. T. Sherman, Mrs. L. F. LaRose, Mrs. William Hart, Mrs. Gilbert Miller, Mrs. Samuel Ames, Mrs. J. S. Swingle, Mrs. G. B. Bates, Mrs. Alfred Bean, Mrs. Damon, Mrs. Kate L. Keast, Mrs. Ford and Mrs. Fisher.

The fair will be continued this afternoon and evening and the restaurant will be open from 5.30 to 7.30. Last night the entertainment included piano solos by Mrs. Henry B. Tourtellot, and a piano duett by Mrs. Lucy Newcomb Emery and Mrs. Tourtellot. Tonight a play will be presented—"The girl who paid the bill."

HOLDS SEVENTH ANNUAL DANCE

Ball of Pride of Quincy Lodge Brith Abraham Well Attended

The seventh annual ball of Pride of Quincy Lodge No. 443 Independent Order of Brith Abraham in Music hall, Tuesday night was attended by representative residents of this city and members of Hebrew societies from Boston and vicinity. The delegation from the Quincy Young Men's Hebrew Association and its auxiliary was large.

Among the guests of the evening were Representative Michael T. Sullivan, Senator-elect Louis F. R. Langelier, Representative-elect Edward J. Sandberg and Councilman Thomas Griffin.

Joseph Szathmary, chairman of the ball committee and Miss Ethel Litchman led the grand march which included nearly all couples in the hall. Dancing was enjoyed until 2 A. M. and refreshments were served. Music for the concert preceding the march and for the dancing was by Wilson's orchestra.

The ball committee included Joseph Szathmary, chairman, Samuel Castleman, vice chairman, Benjamin Rappaport, treasurer, Joseph Kadets, secretary. Joseph B. Grossman was floor director and Louis Stone was his assistant. Henry Litchman acted as chief of aids, with Hyman Edelstein assistant, Louis Fagen, marshal and Benjamin Marshall, assistant marshal.

The aids were B. Shangold, Joseph Halter, George Schwartz, Hyman Edelstein, Samuel Dobrow, Henry Litchman, Louis Fagen, M. Mirken, B. Schwartz, B. Julius, Louis Stone, Benjamin Mason, Israel Shangold, Joseph B. Grossman, Mary Grabowsky, A. S. Berkovitz and B. Francer.

FIFE AND DRUM CORPS DANCE

Many friends of the Quincy Fife and Drum Corps attended their third annual dance in Electa hall, Tuesday evening. The corps has been organized for seven years and is composed of 25 well known residents of the city. Plans are being made for the erection of a club house and the proceeds of the dance will be devoted to that purpose.

The floor was in charge of William Kane who was also chairman of the committee. He was assisted by William and David Littlewood, Arthur Phillips and Axel Mattson. Music was by Wilsons orchestra. Refreshments were served and dancing enjoyed until midnight.

Pride of Granite lodge I. O. O. L. M. U. will hold a whist party after its meeting Thursday afternoon at Clan McGregor hall.

NO PROMISES TO BREAK AND NO POLITICS AT CITY HALL

Mayor-Elect John L. Miller Makes First Public Speech Since Election at Granite Manufacturers' Banquet

Annual Affair One of Most Successful in History of the Association

Mayor-elect John L. Miller made his first public speech, since his election at the annual meeting and banquet of the Granite Manufacturers association Tuesday evening at the American house, Boston. It was a little after 7 o'clock when Mr. Miller arrived having come in from Quincy in an automobile. As he entered the dining hall, the guests at the tables rose as one man and gave him a reception such as is seldom accorded any man. Room for the Mayor-elect was made at the head table and the dinner proceeded.

Much interest was manifested in the appearance of the Mayor-elect for being his first public appearance, some statement of the policy he intended to pursue during the coming year was looked for. In this they were not disappointed and if the policy is carried out he will receive the endorsment of all citizens.

The association met in the late afternoon, at which time the annual meeting was held and the following officers elected, Alfred O. Diack, under whose reign the association has prospered being unanimously elected president. The other officers elected were as follows:

Vice President, Francis Morrison.
Treasurer, James Joss.
Secretary, Thomas J. Dunphy.

Executive Committee, the President, vice president and treasurer ex-officio with E. D. Marnock, George Elcock, P. J. Cahill, Joseph Walker, William M. Adrian and Alexander Falconer.

It was a little after 6.30 when the doors of the big dining room were thrown open and the members of the association marched in. Across one side of the room was the head table, elevated a little above the floor. The tabe looked very attractive with its floral decorations of yellow chrysanthemums, and pink and white carnations, while the individual tables on the floor were decorated with ferns and carnations.

President Alfred O. Diack occupied the seat of honor, others at this table being Mayor Eugene R. Stone, Mayor-elect John L. Miller, Senator-elect Louis F. R. Langelier, Representative Michael T. Sullivan and Representative-elect Edward J. Sandberg, John L. Hamilton, president of the Board of Trade, Postmaster Charles L. Hammond, Alexander Smith, secretary of the National Granite men's association Rupert F. Claflin, treasurer of the Granite Trust Co., John Q. A. Field a former president of the association and a veteran granite man, Wellington W. Mitchell, of the Assessors department, Vice President Francis Morrison and Treasurer James Joss of the association, George O. Collyer, of Granite Marble and Bronze, W. J. Spargo of the Quincy Telegram and George T. Magee of the Daily Ledger.

MAYOR-ELECT JOHN L. MILLER.

The dinner was a most excellent one the menu being as follows:

Marston Mills Oysters
Mock Turtle, a l'Anglaise
Consomme Caroline
Olives Radishes
Filet of Halibut, en Coquille
Roast Stuffed Vermont Turkey
Cranberry Sauce
Delmonico Potatoes
Green Peas
Roman Punch
Lobster Patties, Cardinal
Mocha Tree
Frozen Pudding and Vanila Ice Cream
Assorted Cheese and Crackers
Demi Tasse

During the dinner there was music by an orchestra and singing by a colored vocalist, whose stock of songs seemed never ending. All the popular airs were sung, in many of which the well known vocalists of the association joined.

Dinner over President Diack briefly welcomed the guests and members stating that he was more than pleased at the large attendance. He was also glad to see the enthusiasm shown, but regretted that the members did not show like enthusiasm in attending the meetings of the association which, caused a voice in a distant corner to pipe out, "Give us the same dinner." He said that he believed if the banks would be more conservative that the granite men would do more business. After thanking the members for his re-election he called upon Mayor Stone as the first speaker.

His Honor said that he had not much to say. He confined himself largely to the public dock situation. Several sites, he said, had been suggested and he expected that something would develop from them any day. If the members of the association had only attended the public meetings on the question as well as they attend the meeting tonight it would have been accomplished long ago, but at these public meetings, Wollaston was about the only section represented. He hoped

(Continued on Page Two.)

SIXTH SEASON

Quincy Choral Society

Mr. GEORGE S. DUNHAM, Conductor

MISCELLANEOUS PROGRAM and

HIAWATHA'S WEDDING FEAST

By S. COLERIDGE-TAYLOR

HIGH SCHOOL HALL

WEDNESDAY EVENING, DEC. 10th, 1913

At 8 o'clock

SOLOIST

MR. ARTHUR HACKETT, Tenor

BROCKTON PHILHARMONIC ORCHESTRA

TICKETS

LIMITED number reserved seats 75 cents. General admission 50 cents

TICKETS for sale by members and at Hearn's Drug Store.

Dec. 1-6t-1-3-6-8-9-10

SPECIAL

for THURSDAY and FRIDAY

ROMATIC WAFERS

20c Value

15c Pound

SUGAR PEAS

12 1-2c Value

10c Can

Adams Market R. E. FOY & CO. Water St. Market

EXCHANGE YOUR INGERSOLL WATCH

Special Offer

We will take your Ingersoll Watch in exchange and allow the full price you originally paid no matter where you bought it—toward the purchase of a high grade, extra accurate jeweled TRENTON model—the first really fine watch at a moderate price.

Trenton Watches from $5.00 to $25.00

An opportunity to save $1 to $2 on your Xmas Present SANDBERG BROS.

WHY WAIT UNTIL THE LAST MINUTE BEFORE DOING UP YOUR CHRISTMAS GIFTS ?

Do them now and get your White Wrapping Paper at the Ledger--Patriot Office.

LARGE SHEETS

20 cents a dozen

SHEETS

By single sheet 2 cents each

Old Company's Lehigh Egg Coal

for Your furnace

Is there anything better mined ?

We Sell It

Try a Ton

C. PATCH & SON Inc.

1422 Hancock Street

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1869

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second-Class matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

TELEPHONES
News . . . Quincy 425
Business . . Quincy 1910

NOTICE

Again we ask those sending news or other matter by mail to direct it to the company or newspaper rather than to individual members of the company or employees. If addressed to individuals and they were ill or not at the office, it might be several days in reaching its proper destination and if news matter would be too late for use.

President Wilson has just had a chance to test several of the 7853 standard remedies for curing a cold in the head.

The cost of living experts insist that people should do their own marketing, but persons having social standing will have to look out not to be seen on the streets with a market basket.

If the government applies sufficient persuasion, it is believed the public will be willing to mail their parcel post packages at least two days before Christmas.

It is admitted that working girls should not be expected to give more than a month's salary for Christmas presents.

As more fatalities were reported from the deer season than ever before it is considered that this form of hunting belongs among the manly sports.

You can't expect a man to find his winter overcoat when his wife is the only one who knows where he put it last.

Many Congressmen will go home for the holidays, even if there is no adjournment, as every little absence helps delay legislation.

Your Christmas presents would be more attractive if you bought them now, but you wouldn't have the satisfaction of treading on a lot of people's toes about the counters.

Harvard students earned $56,000 last year. That ought to be easy, as all a Harvard man has to do is to sit around and give information.

It is suggested that a house be built for Harry Thaw to live in until the courts decide his case, but it ought to be built of very enduring material.

THE PURE FOOD MOVEMENT.

Three thousand years ago Moses enacted some sanitary laws for the children of Israel that in some points are in advance of the common practice of today. Before the Christian era, Rome and Athens had inspectors of markets and meats, a precaution neglected in many places.

The pure food movement makes progress. But according to the work laid out for the National Civic Federation's annual meeting at New York, Dec. 11, much remains to be done. It is pleasant to note that this convention is to bring together representatives of the National Grocers' and Druggists' Associations, for consultation with health and food experts.

The ordinary grocer is a very honest sort of fellow, who has no desire or intention of poisoning his patrons. But it is a known fact that some food manufacturers who make pure foods are not prospering as handsomely as others who use adulterants.

Many a grocer has gone on year after year selling foods which without his knowledge contain light admixtures of poisons. He has never heard of any trouble. Why should he buy higher priced pure good?

It takes an active public sentiment in the patronage of every grocery store to bring pressure through the retailer on the food manufacturers.

Many soft drinks contain coal tar dyes that are heart depressers. Much of certain brands of chocolate is cornstarch. Some almond extracts contain nitro benzene, an important ingredient in shoe blacking. Some canned vegetables which are suspiciously green get their color from copper. Few people care for copper lined stomachs.

Tell your grocer that you want pure food, and he will see that you get it!

AIMLESS SHOPPING.

With all the uneconomic character of the Christmas rush in trade, one thing is sure, that the enormous business done at holiday time could never be transacted, were not the public becoming accustomed to direct their shopping through the advertising.

In the old days a Christmas shopper started out on her errands with vague ideas of what she wanted and proposed to get. She loitered up and down the streets, gazing into the store windows, and failing to see what she needed she drifted in and out of various places, pawing over goods until she at last found something that would do.

All this took the time of clerks, obstructed the passage to the counters of those who had more definite ideas. The stores were filled with a lot of undecided people, who took time to make up their minds.

The common procedure in conducting a shopping foray today starts out with newspaper reading. For many weeks previous to Christmas, the newspapers are filled with attractive advertising describing in much detail the holiday offerings. Many merchants do a public service by printing lists of suggestions of gifts for men, for women, for girls, and for boys, giving also a range of prices, and here and there bits of useful description.

Thus the rough preliminary work of deciding on gifts is largely done at home. After people have mulled over these notices for a few days, they have a more positive idea of what they want, and they know pretty near where they can get it. They pursue their purpose with some definiteness of aim, and do not waste a lot of time in indecision over the general nature of gifts.

The people who have plenty of money to spend are apt to be persons of forethought, who like to plan purchases in advance by studying the newspapers. People of small means find that the advertising contains many tips helping them to make substantial savings.

NORWOLL CLUB TO HOLD SALE

All things which are destined to be truly great have a small beginning, and thus it was in the year 1909, when seven fellows gathered together at the Park and Downs church; although their ambitions were high, they little thought that the club they were forming would be as prosperous and flourishing as it is at the present time, neither did they think that its now rapidly increasing membership would include such earnest and enthusiastic workers. The name in itself is original, and is intended to show the hearty co-operation of Norfolk Downs and Wollaston, the same being derived from the "Nor" in Norfolk Downs and the "Woll" in Wollaston. The club, very early showed its ability to exist, and it steadily grew more and more popular as its membership increased from the original seven charter members to thirty-four, between the ages of seventeen and twenty. It soon became recognized for the excellence of its entertainments as well as its originality in staging such, while Ladies' Night was one of the many affairs eagerly anticipated by those of the fairer sex, the fellows having proved themselves capable hosts. Nor have the aims of the club been directed in the social field alone, it presented the building committee of their church with twenty-five dollars, and also contributed an equal amount towards a new organ, both of which gifts were greatly appreciated. It has been the good fortune of the club to entertain several noted men, among whom, was Lieut. Wilson, U. S. N., who was tendered a farewell reception, and was presented with a handsome loving cup, as a slight token of their great appreciation. Mr. Critchton who is their leader at present, and has worked hard in their behalf is responsible in a large measure for the healthy condition of the organization. He is, by the way, a past master in coach-amateur theatricals and has shown another phase of the club's versatility. This is in the form of a novel minstrel show which will be presented in the vestry of the Park and Downs Church, Wednesday and Thursday evenings of this week. Attractive posters billing the show have been displayed in surrounding towns, one of the designs being the joint work of Elisha B. Bird, the designer, and Stanley E. Smith, both of Wollaston, and is deserving of great credit. Hard work has been accomplished and the best of every thing has been secured.

—Sir Thomas Lipton doesn't employ married men to work on his new challenger yacht, as he fears the secrets of her construction might leak out through the channels of matrimony. Sir Thomas you understand is a bachelor, which explains why he dares come across with a proposition like that.—Taunton Herald.

NO PROMISE TO BREAK

(Continued from Page One.)

that next year the granite men would meet with the dock committee and the thing was assured. He also hoped that every man would stand behind the Mayor-elect, Mr. Miller. It is up to you gentlemen and not the Mayor. In closing he wanted to say that he wished Mr. Miller well and his administration a success and he wanted to publicly congratulate him on his election and to say that if he would come to City Hall at any time he would give him all the information he could on matters that were pending.

MAYOR-ELECT MILLER

was the next speaker and when he rose to speak he was greeted with another outburst of applause. He said that it gave him great pleasure to be present. He was anxious to attend this meeting as he considered the association, or some of them, had done loyal work to put him in the position and cause his election. He wanted to thank them and also the citizens of Ward Three who had stood so loyally by him.

He could not tell what the next administration would be. He had not taken up anything as yet and would not for the next two or three weeks; until he got a little more strength. He should not play politics in City Hall but should do the work, and if he found any heads of department playing politics, there would be a change in that department shortly. He was prepared to do what the people sent him there to do. He had no promises to break and he would go into office with absolute freedom. This he said would be a wonderful relief to politicians who had made promises to taste the freedom which he did.

Mayor-elect did not remain long after making his brief remarks but took an automobile back to Quincy.

Senator-elect Langelier said he was not a politician but now that he was going to the senate he supposed he was a statesman. He felt he could thank the granite men for the honor he was enjoying today. He congratulated the organization on the good work it was doing and the way in which they did it. He was glad to do his little part toward the public dock question and during coming session he would do what he could to see that Quincy came in for a share of the proposed appropriation of $5,000,000. He also spoke of other legislative bills for the harbor improvement.

He also spoke of the advantages to be obtained by publicity and believed that if the granite men would make a pool and expend it advertising Quincy granite it would be of vast benefit to the industry.

John L. Hamilton President of the Board of Trade said that it was a pleasure for the Board of Trade to assist the Granite Manufacturers association, in some of their projects, and that it was always ready to assist, and if he was honored by a reelection as its President he could assure the association of the Board's hearty co-operation. He was a member of the dock committee and he believed that the Mayor-elect was interested in the City of Quincy and if he thinks the present dock committee able to grapple with the situation he would retain them, and it would not be long before the association had its dock. The Board of Trade was ready at all times to assist in furthering anything for the interest of Quincy.

Rupert F. Claflin treasurer of the Granite Trust Co., spoke very briefly as he was just making his departure when called upon. He knew that the granite business was quiet at the present time and that it was hard for the business. It was a reflection on the manufacturers that they did not attend the association meetings in larger numbers.

Representative M. T. Sullivan spoke of legislation that would aid the granite business and pledged his support to all measures that would help the business. He also wanted to thank the granite men for his election for he felt that he had their support, not only of the manufacturers but of the men and the banks. He believed that the manufacturers should get as large a profit as possible as it would hold the men.

The ship building business he said was an artificial business but the granite business was a natural business, and he believed it to be the duty of the City of Quincy to protect and foster the granite trade. He spoke of the bill of last year relative to having all granite used on public buildings dressed in this state and while the bill failed last year he believed it would pass this year. He also spoke of a proposed bill that would enable the manufacturer to levy on monuments after they had been set. Manufacturers should be allowed to collect their bills.

Representative-elect Edward J. Sandberg also spoke of the public dock question and stated that in the legislature next year as in other years he would always be ready to do what he could or Quincy. He believed that the city should have a public dock. Any law proposed that would be good for Quincy he would work for. Mr. Miller has been elected Mayor with your help and while he did not vote for him he believed it his duty to do all he could to make his administration a success.

Mr. Sandberg regretted very much that ex-Mayor William T. Shea was unable to be present tonight. He was a man who had done much for the association and he hoped that all that could would call upon him.

Mr. Ford representing the Milford Granite Co., spoke briefly expressing his pleasure at being present.

Postmaster Hammond told how near he had come to being a stone cutter 35 or 36 years ago, and he had thanked God he had been late in applying for a job. He said that the department which he represented was of benefit to the granite trade and that it tried to help them all it could. If there was anything that the granite men wanted if they would only come and see him he would do his best to get it for them. He also spoke of the postal savings bank connected with the office, stating that at one time it had deposits in Quincy amounting to $50,000 but owing to some of the Fore River men going away it was now but about $30,000. It was of great advantage to the people as they could deposit money any time between 8 A. M. and 8 P. M. He also spoke briefly of the parcel post which was helping the granite men and said that some time the weight that might be sent by parcel post might be increased by tons. In closing he urged that if there was anything the granite men desired in the way of postal service to see him.

George O. Collyer of Granite, Marble and Bronze spoke briefly stating that while he knew business was dull at the present time from a canvass he had made among the trade the outlook was very promising for the coming season. He also spoke of the need of a law to prevent the erection of mausoleums which were a menace to health.

The last speaker was John Q. A. Field who said that the granite manufacturers association was the oldest in the city and that the one reason for its success was the fact that politics never entered into its deliberations. He also paid his respects to the public dock in which he has never been in favor.

ELMENDORF TRAVEL TALKS.

At Symphony hall, Boston, Friday evening and Saturday afternoon, Dwight Elmendorf will present two extra travel talks. Friday evening will be devoted to "The Nile Journey" from Cairo to Khartoum, and Saturday afternoon the Sahara Desert or "The Garden of Allah," will be pictured and described. In the first of these illustrated travel talks, Mr. Elmendorf will conduct his audience to Cairo, after which the journey will lead through the fertile delta of the Nile, past innumerable tombs and temples to Wadi Halfa, thence across the Nubian Desert to the heart of the great Sudan,—Khartoum and Omdurman. In his lecture, "Sahara Desert," he will describe the experiences of a seven hundred mile journey through the mighty Sahara, starting at Susa on the eastern coast of Tunis and ending with the beautiful oasis of Biskra. The lectures will be profusely illustrated with colored views and motion pictures, all taken and colored by the lecturer himself. This will be Mr. Elmendorf's last appearance in Boston until the fall of 1914.

Those cantankerous Navajo Indians not satisfied that the Whites are willing to take their lands off their hands for nothing, are on the warpath once more.

The World's Confidence in any article intended to relieve the sufferings of humanity is not lightly won. There must be continued proof of value. But for three generations, and throughout the world, enduring and growing fame and favor have been accorded because they have proved to be the best corrective and preventive of disordered conditions of stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. The first dose gives quick relief and permanent improvement follows their systematic use. A trial will show why, in all homes, the use of Beecham's Pills

BEECHAM'S PILLS

Continues To Increase

Sold everywhere. In boxes 10c., 25c.
The largest sale of any medicine. No one should neglect to read the directions with every box.

LYNN IS AGAIN IN WET COLUMN

License Forces Win After Being Beaten For Six Years

NO-LICENSE IN NEWBURYPORT

Worcester Increases License Majority —Scanlon Defeats Ex-Mayor White In Lawrence by 152 Votes—Mayor O'Donnell Defeated In Lowell by Dennis J. Murphy

Boston, Dec. 10.—Two of the sixteen Massachusetts cities which held elections yesterday changed their attitude on the license question.

Lynn broke a drouth of six years by voting in favor of license; Newburyport returned to the no-license fold after a year in which liquor was legally sold by reason of a scant margin of three votes, declared for license last year.

Worcester, several years ago the largest no-license city in the world added further to the increasing majority there in favor of license.

Only one of the mayors who came up for reelection was refused. This was Mayor James E. O'Donnell of Lowell, who was defeated by Dennis J. Murphy. Mayor Michael A. Scanlon of Lawrence was apparently returned by a margin of 152 votes, which was doubted by his opponent, ex-Mayor White, on whose request a recount will be held. Ex-Mayor White's reentry into politics was made after serving a jail sentence for conspiracy, and this lent interest to the Lawrence election.

National party lines were largely lost in the cities in which elections were held, many being under commission forms of government. As a result indications of Republican, Democratic or Progressive success or failure were lacking in most cases.

Republicans suffered a defeat in Newton, where Edwin O. Childs, Jr., running as an independent with Democratic backing, although a Republican in national politics, was successful in defeating the regular Republican candidate, Allston Burr. It was the first time such an overturn has occurred in Newton in twenty-one years.

A Republican gain was recorded in Worcester, where Mayor George M. Wright was reelected by the largest plurality ever accorded a candidate for mayor in that city.

After one of the bitterest fights in years, the city of Lynn, for six consecutive years a no-license community, switched to the license column by a majority of 58 votes.

The total vote was, yes 7888, no 7830, as compared with last year's vote of yes 7343, no 8115.

Mayor Frank A. Rivers, Independent, was relected at Chicopee by a majority of 541 over Houlihan, Democrat.

License prevailed again, the vote being: Yes, 1782; no, 1058. The vote in 1912 was: Yes, 1736; no, 1102.

MAY PROVE ALIBI

Eldridge Seen In Gardiner at Time Parents Were Burned

Augusta, Me., Dec. 10.—Information that may assist Fernald M. Eldridge, held in the Augusta jail under suspicion, in proving an alibi, was learned during the investigation of the death of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Eldridge, in Litchfield, Sunday.

Conductor Walker thought he was a passenger on his car which left Spear's corner at 8 a. m., and reached Gardiner half an hour later. The conductor planned to see him at the jail for the purpose of identifying him.

The elder Eldridge was seen alive by a neighbor at 9:30 a m. It is claimed that with the aid of other witnesses who saw the son at Gardiner during the forenoon, it can be shown that he did not have time to return to the farmhouse before the fire was observed and the bodies discovered at noon.

KILLED BY GAS

Rich Woman Found Dead and Two Nieces Unconscious

Columbus, O., Dec. 10.—Mrs. L. B. Hart, aged 71, was found dead in er home in Worthington, a suburb, and her two nieces, Misses Barbara and Rachael Hart, are in a dying condition as a result of being overcome by gas fumes.

Mrs. Hart and two nieces were left a legacy of $500,000 by the late United States Senator J. G. Fair of Nevada, who was an uncle of the two young women.

The Misses Hart had recently returned from a visit to relatives in California.

To Probe Mine Murder

Calumet, Mich., Dec. 10.—The Houghton county board of supervisors requested Circuit Judge O'Brien to call a special grand jury to investigate the murder of three English miners at Painesdale Sunday, arising from the copper strike.

Cincinnati Has Water Famine

Cincinnati, Dec. 10.—Many office buildings, schools, factories and hospitals are without water as the result of the breaking of the city's principal water main.

Capital $150,000 Surplus $200,000

DO BUSINESS HERE AT HOME.

If you are a resident of Quincy, we suggest that you patronize the merchants of your home city. Why go to Boston for goods that can be bought handily and economically here? We stand for the interests of Quincy, and like the Quincy merchants we give our customers good value. For instance a safety deposit box in our vault for $5 a year that would cost you $10 in Boston.

THINK THIS OVER!
THINK OF YOUR HOME TOWN FIRST!

Our $5 Box Is Larger Than a $10 Box In Boston.

GRANITE TRUST CO.
FOUNDED 1836

For Winter Wear Call on Jones

The healthy boy—the boy with red blood in his veins—is the boy that will want one of our sweaters and a skating or hockey cap.

Made by the American Knitting Co., they will outwear most of the knit goods put out by some manufacturers. Warm, soft and comfortable, they're just what every boy should have—and the "governor" should have one, too.

The man with the Auto or the owner of a horse should have a pair of our gauntlet Auto gloves and one of those warm caps that can be made into three different styles—one style for blustering days,—one for cold still days—and a style for mild days.

Come in and let us show them to you.

GEORGE W. JONES
The Store "Just Around the Corner" that sells for less.
1 Granite Street, Quincy.
Dec. 8-3t

THE CORSET SHOP
8 Maple Street
All Popular makes of
Corsets and Brassieres
Hosiery and
McCall Patterns
Correct fitting of Corsets a specialty

I have been very fortunate to have, during my temporary absence, the services of an expert corsettiere, who who will give the same personal attention to fittings and alterations as has always been accorded to customers.

MISS S. E. DUNPHY
Oct 30-tf

CARPETS
Oriental
Domestic RUGS
LINOLEUM
MATTINGS
AT LOWEST POSSIBLE PRICES
John H. Pray & Sons Co.
646 Washington Street, Opp. Boylston Street

All Goods will be Delivered Free at Residences in Quincy
REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY
Messrs. OTHO A. HAYWARD and WALTER J. WELLINGTON.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

WHAT THEY ARE DOING AND SEASONS' PLANS

News of Women's Clubs is a feature of the Daily Ledger every Wednesday. Secretaries of organizations should send notices of club activities, to reach the Club Editor not later than Tuesday night to insure insertion the ne' day.

St. Chrysostom's branch of the Girls' Friendly society is to meet Thursday evening at quarter of eight in the parish rooms. Members are asked to note the change of hour and date for this meeting, it being done to accommodate the speaker, Rev. Henry Bedinger, rector of St. Peter's church Salem. Mr. Bedinger has the reputation of being an interesting and eloquent speaker and his subject "Travel Abroad" cannot fail to please. Members may invite parents and friends to the meeting.

* * *

An illustrated reading of Henry Van Dyke's, "The Other Wise Man" and special music will make the meeting Friday afternoon of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Y. M. C. A. an interesting one and should call out a large attendance.

* * *

Mrs. F. E. Cleveland of Third hill, Wollaston is to be hostess Friday afternoon for a meeting of members of St. Chrysostom's Guild. The afternoon is to be devoted to work in preparation for the Guild's birthday party.

* * *

Next week's meeting of the Friday club will be held at the home of Mrs. Dexter E. Wadsworth, with Mrs. Zenas S. Arnold as chairman of the afternoon; subject: "The rise of Modern Italian Literature—Manzoni, Silvio Pellico.

* * *

Mrs. J. Henry Emery will be hostess Monday afternoon for the meeting of Charitable Ten Circle of King's Daughters.

* * *

Miss Abigail B. Wood of School street is to entertain the Junior Friday club at her home on Monday afternoon when Southern France and Romance literature will be taken up for study under the leadership of Mrs. L. H. Sturtevant. The next meeting will be after the holidays.

* * *

Katharyn Crane Memorial club meets next Tuesday afternoon with its treasurer, Miss Carrie A. Crane of Whitney road.

* * *

Mrs. P. J. Bowker of the Women's Municipal League is to tell of the work and aim of the League at the Meeting of the Wollaston Women's club on Tuesday afternoon. The meeting will be in charge of the Social and Industrial Committee of the club. This will be the last meeting of the club until after the holidays.

* * *

The program committee of the Quincy Women's club is planning a festival meeting during the holiday season, Dec. 30, when the meeting will be held at Alpha hall. Miss Alice Barnard Diaz who will give folk dances with incidental folk songs, is a charming and skilful dancer and her costumes are not only correct but very beautiful. The folk songs will be rendered by Mrs. Laurance H. Sturtevant, Mrs. Frank J. Moore and Mrs. Royal Turner. Six daughters of the club in costume of different countries will usher. This will be a peculiarly appropriate meeting for the holiday season and one which club members and their friends will enjoy.

On account of the Christmas holidays, the Hospital Aid meeting has been cancelled for this month.

* * *

The Wollaston W. C. T. U. meets Friday at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Avard Walker, 315 Belmont street. Mrs. Samuel F. Barker will talk on "Work among foreign speaking people"

* * *

Whatsoever Circle meets with Mrs. George R. Thompson, 170 Arlington street, Monday evening at quarter of eight.

* * *

hTe Quincy Day Nursery association acknowledges donations received at the Nursery during November from Mrs. Royal Eastman, Mrs. D. E. Wadsworth, Mrs. E. C. Hultman and the C. C. Johnson fund.

* * *

WOLLASTON WOMEN'S CLUB.

At the meeting of the Wollaston Women's club is the Park and Downs church, Dec. 5th, the president, Mrs. Arthur D. Ropes read a letter from Eugene F. DeNormandie, president of the Sachem club asking the co-operation of the women. He requested a committee of three be appointed by the Women's club to meet with a similar number from the Sachem club to look over the proposed plans of the Sachem clubhouse and report back to the club.

On a motion from the floor it was voted to lay the matter of a clubhouse on the table, temporarily and the following committee was appointed to meet with the Sachem club: Mrs. Arthur D. Ropes, Mrs. Thomas H. Fenno and Miss Florence G. Olney. The two committees will meet at an early date and the committee of the Women's club will report at the next meeting when the question of a clubhouse will once more be discussed.

* * *

Under the auspices of the educational committee of the Quincy Women's club, Mrs. J. R. Mellen, chairman, a travel talk is to be given by Miss Edith Randall, Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 17 at three o'clock in the new Adams school for the upper grades of the Adams and Cranch schools, Mr. Townsend, master, and the John Hancock and Lincoln, Mr. Wilson, master. Miss Randall is to speak on "A German Christmas" and Christmas carols will be sung. It is expected 600 or 700 pupils will enjoy the treat prepared for them.

* * *

QUINCY WOMEN'S CLUB.

The doors of the Quincy Women's club were thrown open earlier than usual Tuesday afternoon that club members might have an opportunity previous to the meeting of inspecting the truly wonderful work of the blind, an exhibition and sale being held under the auspices of the Philanthropy committee. There were rugs, braided and woven, embroidered sofa pillows, scarfs, doilies, etc., children's bibs, mittens, towels, bags, aprons, holders waste paper baskets knitted and crocheted articles in fact a great collection of beautiful and useful articles So perfect was the workmanship that it did not seem posible that it was done by the blind; done too, for the most part, in the homes of the makers. Club members were much interested and generous in their patronage.

At half past two the president Mrs. Chandler W. Smith called the meeting to order, the clerk and treasurer giving their reports. Several announcements were made of conferences and lectures asking the patronage of club members.

Reports by committees were Arts and Crafts by Mrs. Tenney of the second lecture in the home decoration series, Thursday afternoon at Mrs. George W. Abele's, Goffe street, subject, "Architecture," also musical program furnished by Mrs. Abele. Mrs. Tenney also made the pleasing announcement that her committee was to fit up the passage way and what is known as the loom room on the second floor for coat room with racks, hangers, etc,. so that club members might have a place to put their wraps. The announcement was received with applause.

Mrs. Arnold of Literature Committee called attention to the next current events lecture; Miss Randall spoke of the next meeting at Alpha hall, Dec. 30 which would be a festival meeting and especially fine.

The president said two matters had been brought to the executive board for consideration, which had been approved by them and asked the approval of the club; one the federating of all the women's clubs of Quincy. The board recommended that the Wollaston, Squantum, Riverside and other clubs be asked to join the federation and appoint committees to include the president of each club and one for every 50 of the club membership and it was so voted several speaking in favor believing co-operation would work out for the greatest good of all.

The second matter recommended to the club by the board was better train service to Boston at noon it having been brought out that a train could be had, leaving Quincy at 12.50 if the women of the city really wanted it. A movement was started last year for a train around one o'clock but through a misunderstanding of the officials of the road and the Quincy Board of Trade the train was given up. The members were unanimous in a desire for the train and so voted, the motion being amended to include Wollaston as well as Quincy. The president appointed Miss Annie L. Prescott, Mrs. C. C. Hearn and Mrs. Edwin C. Bennett, a committee to confer with the Quincy Board of Trade relative to the train and asking their co-operation.

In closing the business session the president extended Christmas greetings and told of the Christmas candle in the window and carol singing in the west end in Boston and how the pretty idea had grown in popular favor. She thought it worthy of adoption by the Quincy club. women.

Again the club had the pleasure of listening to its own Glee club, two selections by Lynes being rendered—"The Dance of the Dragon Flies" and "Nocturne."

The afternoon's program was in charge of the Philanthropic committee, Mrs. Wilson Marsh, chairman. She spoke briefly of some of the work of her committee in providing Christmas cheer for the Quincy Home and asked for volunteers to see if something could not be devised for the Fresh Air camp. It was hoped to have Dr. Fernald lecture in Quincy in January. In introducing the speaker, Mrs. Josephine Clements, manager of the Bijou theatre, Boston, Mrs. Marsh said possibly it might occur to some to wonder what the connection was between moving picture shows and the philanthropy committee but when it was known that some families spend on moving picture shows an amount equal to the relief they receive from the board of charities, perhaps there was a connection; however Mrs. Marsh was not sure but what they needed the picture show as a relief from the burdens of life.

Mrs. Clements was received with warm applause and her charming personality held the close attention of her listeners for an hour in which time they learned much they never dreamed of about moving pictures.

Mrs. Clement told how moving pictures were selected for presentation in a theatre the mode of procedure being similar to going to a library for a book. The pictures were reeled off and you made your selection. Where one was particular as she was, careful scrutiny was necessary and even then she cut out a few features before presenting in her theatre. The taking of a moving picture was very expensive generally costing up into the thousands, $50,000 being no uncommon figure, and those subscribing for the pictures had to pay a big price for their use.

Her little stock company singers, violinists, lecturers were selected with care and that their work was appreciated was manifested by daily attendances of over 2000 the same people coming again and again.

In the few years Mrs. Clement has been manager of the Bijou theatre she has fully demonstrated that the people like clean shows and that it was possible to give it to them at a very small admission price.

It has meant hard and constant work on her part and her able corps of assistants.

The moving picture will henceforth have special interest to club women and they should also be interested in having the shows up to the standard set by Mrs. Clement.

Mrs. George Fleming was the hostess for the social hour, assisted at the tea urns by Mrs. Eben W. Sheppard and Mrs. Charles R. Safford and club members.

* * *

A. P. Q. CHAPTER.

The members of the Abigail Phillips Quincy chapter, D. A. R. of Wollaston who braved the inclement weather and attended the regular meeting of Dec. 8, at the home of Mrs. Charles A. Gridley in Holbrook were well repaid for their effort. Seated in the large room, about the cheerful blaze in the fireplace all forgot that there were blustering winds and snow outside.

The regent, Mrs. E. E. Jameson was in the chair and the usual reports were given. The financial results of the recent concert and also the sale of Dec. 2, were very satisfactory. It was decided to join again this year with the Old State House Chapter of Melrose, in entertaining at State Headquarters on the afternoon of Feb. 2. Three new names, Mrs. William C. Sturtevant of Wollaston, and Misses Lillie A. and Lulu A. Childs of Dorchester were proposed for membership. The vote was favorable in each case. The regent called attention to the special meeting of Jan. 1, when the chapter entertains the state officers.

Mrs. Ralph gave an excellent paper on "Old Dorchester" which gave a good idea of the town in its early days when pleasant homes and farm lands were in evidence, and the three decker flat unknown.

An attractive lunch, served by the hostess, brought an end to a very pleasant afternoon.

* * *

QUINCY ALLIANCE.

Quincy Branch Alliance held a most enjoyable Christmas meeting in the parlor of the First Parish church, Monday afternoon. After a very brief business meeting, Mrs. Fenno the president, introduced Miss Edith Randall in whose charge was the program of the afternoon.

Mrs. James H. Slade sang in her usual pleasing manner, "Rejoice greatly" from the Messiah and "Christmas Carol" by Barnby. Mrs. Zenas S. Arnold read the beautiful "Christmas Hymn," by Domett and Mrs. Theodore Hardwick held her audience by telling in a most appealing manner the wonderful story, "Beasleys Christmas Party" by Booth Tarkington.

The hostesses of the afternoon were Mrs. E. B. Marsh and Mrs. William B. Nichols.

* * *

TRAVEL TALKS.

The travel talks to be given by Miss Edith Randall, chairman of the program committee of the Quincy Women's Club, begin this week Friday at three o'clock. Mrs. J. Henry Emery of 156 Adams street will open her house for the first in the series of four talks which are to be in the form of a "Personally conducted" trip to Europe from the sailing from Boston to the return and will cover many little practical details not usually given by speakers.

In proportion to its weight, California redwood is the strongest conifer so far tested at the U. S. forest products laboratory. This strength is due to its long wood fibers.

CLUB EVENTS

DECEMBER.

10—Bethany W. U. Entertainment.
10—St. Chrysostom's Guild.
11—Q. W. C. Arts and Crafts, lecture.
11—St. Chrysostom's G. F. S.
12—Wom. Aux., Y. M. C. A., reg.
12—Q. W. Club—Travel Talk, Mrs. Emery's.
12—W. W. Club, Parliamentary Law Class.
12—St. Chrysostom's Guild at Mrs. Cleveland's.
13—Ford Hall, Boston, Chas. Zueblin, lecturer.
15—Junior Friday Club, Miss Wood's.
15—Charitable Ten, Mrs. J. H. Emery's.
16—W. W. Club, regular meeting.
16—K. C. M. Club, reg. meeting.
18—Atlantic Shakespeare So., reg.
19—Friday Club, Mrs. Wadsworth's.
30—Q. W. Club, Alpha Hall, reg.
31—Wol. Alliance, New Years reception.

JANUARY.

1—Atlantic Shakespeare So.
1—Q. W. Club—Board meeting.
1—A. P. Q. Chapter, D. A. R.—Mrs. Jameson's.
2—Friday Club—Mrs. Alden's.
2—Q. W. C. T. Union—Protection Hall.
3—Civil Service Reform Class—Boston Public Library.
5—Junior Friday—Mrs. Hall's.
5—Adams Chapter, D. R.
6—K. C. M. Club—Florence Mead's.
6—W. W. Club.
6—Quincy Day Nursery Asso.
7—Wol. Aux. W. B. of Missions.
7—S. W. Club—Mrs. McGrain's.
7—Fragment So., First Church.
8—Q. W. Club—Art Lecture—Miss Thomas.
9—Travel Talk by Miss Randall.
9—Y. M. C. A. Aux.—Y. M. C. A. Hall
12—A. P. Q. Chapter, D. A. R.—Mrs. O'Malley's.
12—Quincy Alliance—First Church Chapel.
13—Q. Y. W. Club.
13—Q. W. Club—Reg. at Clubhouse.
14—Wol. Alliance—Wol. Unitarian Vestry.
15—Atlantic Shakespeare So.
16—Friday Club—Mrs. Hardwick's.
16—Q. W. Club—Revels.
19—Junior Friday—Mrs. Wright's.
20—K. C. M. Club—Mrs. Crane's.
20—W. W. Club.
26—Quincy Alliance—First Church Chapel.
27—Q. W. Club—Reg. at Clubhouse.
27—Q. Y. W. Club.
28—Wol. Alliance—Wol. Unitarian Vestry.
28—Q. W. Club—Current Events.
28—Home Makers' lecture—Perkin's Hall, Boston.
29—Hospital Aid—Wollaston Unitarian Vestry.
29—Atlantic Shakespeare So.
30—Friday Club—Mrs. Lacey's.
31—Riverside Club—Hurdy Gurdy Party.

OFFICIAL VISITATION

Was Red Letter Night for Quincy Lodge of Elks

Tuesday night was another red letter one with Quincy lodge of Elks for it was the occasion of an official visitation of its deputy Grand Exalted Ruler, Dr. Frederick L. Hayes, past Exalted Ruler of Brookline lodge of Brookline.

The district deputy was accompanied by a large suite who included the following:

P. E. R. Charles F. J. McCue of Cambridge lodge, and chairman of the grand lodge committee on credentials, as acting Grand Leading Knight.

P. E. R. Maj. Patrick O'Keefe of Boston lodge, President of the Massachusetts Association of Elks, as acting Grand Loyal Knight.

E. R. Dr. Everett M. Bowker of Brookline lodge, as acting Grand Lecturing Knight.

P. E. R. Timothy J. Sullivan of Waltham lodge as acting Grand Esquire.

Joseph J. Coody, Esq. of Attleboro lodge as Acting Grand Chaplain.

Joseph N. Shafer of Quincy lodge as acting Grand Secretary, who delivered the valedictory.

The announcement that the grand officers were in waiting was received by Exalted Ruler Philip H. Sullivan shortly after 8 o'clock and they were escorted to the lodge room by a committee of Quincy lodge and they received a royal welcome.

After the usual ceremonies the grand officers witnessed an exemplification of the work of the officers of Quincy lodge who conferred the degree upon several candidates.

After the work the District Deputy took occasion to compliment the officers on the good work and on the condition of the lodge. Other addresses were also made by the other grand officers, Maj. O'Keefe speaking especially on the work of the Massachusetts Elks association. Others spoke on the good of the order and what Elkdom stands for and how brothers should apply its principles to their daily life.

After the meeting an adjournment was made to the club house on Foster street where caterer Thompson served a banquet. This was followed by an entertainment which included music by Prof. Biney and sketches by some of the artists from Kincaide's theatre and a sleight of hand performer.

At the business meeting of the lodge it was voted to hold the annual ball, which is always looked upon as a grand social event, early in February and a large committee has been appointed to arrange the program and carry it into effect.

DEATH OF AN EX-COUNCILMAN

Ex-Councilman Newman A. Savage died at his home 181 Franklin street Tuesday after a long illness. Mr. Savage was born in Thomaston, Me. March 9, 1854 and came to Quincy about 32 years ago where he has since resided. At the age of 15 years he had mastered the stone cutters trade at which he was employed for the greater part of his life.

He was elected to the City Council in 1904 from Ward Three and served one year in the Council of 1895. He was affiliated with Mt. Wollaston lodge of Odd Fellows, Manet Encampment and Col. A. B. Packard camp Sons of Veterans. He leaves a widow and one son, Newman Savage.

RELIEF CORPS ELECTION

At the regular meeting of Paul J. Revere W. R. C. Tuesday evening, the following officers were elected President—Mrs. Idella Savage.

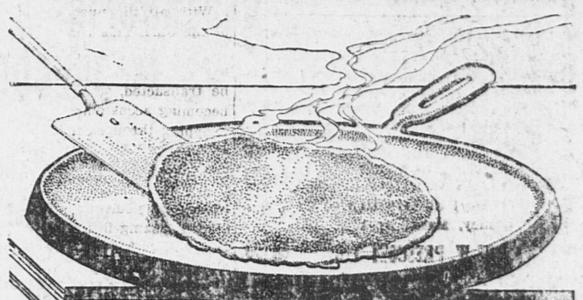
S. V. Pres.—Mrs. Marion Baker.
J. V. Pres.—Mrs. Ella Hayden.
Treasurer—Mrs. Laura Holt.
Chaplain—Mrs. Sarah C. Williams.
Conductor—Miss Isabella Birnie.
Guard—Mrs. Annie R. Brown.
Delegate—Mrs. Annie Grignon.
Alternate—Mrs. Sarah C. Williams.

Mrs. Emma Jilbert, formerly of 6 West street, but who is now making her home with her daughter Mrs. L. G. Murray of Jamaica Plain has just returned from Penargyl, Pa., where she has been visiting relatives over the Thanksgiving holidays.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.



Hot from the Griddle

Aunt Jemima's pancakes, piping hot from the griddle, spread thick with fresh butter and lots of syrup—can you think of anything that tastes better than that?

On a winter's morning, there isn't anything half so good. For Aunt Jemima's makes the finest pancakes that ever went into your mouth. The good, old-time kind—plump, tender and fluffy and Um! so delicious to taste. Try Aunt Jemima's on the folks at home tomorrow. You can stir 'em up in a minute, and be sure of having dandy hot cakes every time.

Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.

Aunt Jemima's Pancake Flour

makes delicious waffles and muffins. Try them.

At your grocer's—in a red package. Read on top how to get Aunt Jemima's Funny Rag Dolls.

RAPPOLD AND DE GOGORZA.

A concert of peculiar attractiveness is scheduled to be given in Symphony hall, Boston, Sunday afternoon, at 3.30. It will be a concert of songs by two very distinguished artists, Madame Marie Rappold of the Metropolitan Opera house, New York, and Emilio de Gogorza, the baritone. BothMadame Rappold and Mr. de Gogorza have many friends in Boston and vicinity who will welcome their return. Madame Rappold has sung a number of times with Symphony orchestra and Mr. de Gogorza, although he has not been heard here in several years, stands in the first rank of concert baritones.

There will be six groups, each of the artists singing three. Madame Rappold's first group will be German songs by Schubert, Rubinstein, Reger and Strauss. Her second group will comprise a French song by Bachelet, one by Dvorak, and two Puccini arias, while her last group will be songs in English. Mr. de Gogorza's first group will comprise French songs by Hue, Debussy and Faure and one Russian song by Moussorgsky. His second group will be songs in English by Hatton, Sidney Homer, Bruno Huhn and incidentally the charming old English Ballad, "Sally in our Alley." His last group will be five Spanish songs which he sings so inimitably.

☞PRATT'S BREAD—the staff of life for you and your wife. Get a loaf today.

(ADVERTISE.)

Pratt's Vienna Bread

A Bread made after a fixed formula by expert workmen in a light, modern bakery.

Sold Through Grocers

QUINCY REGISTRY FOR NURSES

20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.

Will supply trained and practical nurses, attendants and nursery assistants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.

MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar,
Tel. Quincy 131-W.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner

Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock street, Quincy.

Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point
Tel. Quincy.Mass. 1153 M Nov 3-.tf

Let the "Blue Bell" Sign Remind You

OF THE ERRAND YOU FORGOT TO EXECUTE and a ready way out of the difficulty

OF THE ORDER YOU WERE ASKED TO DELIVER for your firm or for your home

OF THE ENGAGEMENT FOR WHICH YOU HAVE BEEN DELAYED and the quickest way of explaining your inability to meet it

OF THE CALL YOU PROMISED TO MAKE but failed to make, through forgetfulness

Of a hundred ways in which, to use a quaint phrase, you may "LET YOUR HEAD SAVE YOUR HEELS"

Remember

The sign indicates the presence of a Pay Station

From any Pay Station you may talk, at a reasonable charge, to any of 495,000 telephones connected with the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company's system in the four northern New England states

Also with telephones in 30,000 cities and towns connected with the Long Distance Lines of the great Bell system.

New England Telephone and Telegraph Company

Quincy Daily Ledger

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30.
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branschied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
Newcomb Square—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. Smith.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck.
L. A. Cook, Washington Street.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington Street.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield Water st.
A. Pierson, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—Capt. Fosdick's.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity: Fair weather is indicated for Thursday and Friday.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	7.04
Sun sets	4.12
Length of day	9.08
Moon rises	5.11
High water, A. M.	9.30
High water, P. M.	10.00
Days decrease 6 hours,	9 minutes
Full Moon, Dec. 13,	10.00 A. M.
Last Quarter, Dec. 20	11.16 A. M.
New Moon, Dec, 27	9.59 A. M.
First Quarter, Dec. 5,	9.59 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today	40 degrees
Dec. 11 1912,	25 degrees
Dec. 11, 1911,	48 degrees
Dec. Noon Maximum 14 years—67
Dec. Noon Minimum, 14 years—2

JUNIOR SOCIAL AND SUPPER

A Junior social and supper was held in Y. M. C. A. hall Tuesday evening with an attendance of fifty. At six o'clock the boys sat down to a baked bean supper which was topped off with apple pie and cocoa. The gymnasium work which they had previously evidently put an edge on their appetites for at the end of three quarters of an hour there was nothing left but the dishes.

The indoor social athletic meet which followed proved to be popular with the crowd and all fifty entered into the events with great zest.

Prizes were awarded to Maynard Hatch, Gordon Nickerson, Sidney Maxwell, Roger Ahlstrom and Albert Stephenson.

Arrangements for the evening were in charge of Jack Melville, Sturgis Hunt and Alden H. Blanchard.

—There is a wholesome discontent which stirs up dissatisfaction with that which is wrong and works to make it right, but there is the increasing discontent of those who do not know how to be happy themselves and who apparently dislike to see others happy.—Foxboro Reporter.

☞PRATT'S BREAD is best because more care is used in the making. Grocers.

CHOICE ARTICLES
FROM THE
PHILIPPINES

LUCBON MATS—Very best grade of the famous Panamas and Bankoks made. Absolutely none better, woven under water by hand. Can be crushed into a ball and not lose shape. Made for both Ladies and Gentlemen. $5 and $10.

ROMBLON MATS—Handsomest and most durable Grass Mats or Rugs made in the world. Beautiful colors and designs, large enough to cover one-half floor of rooms. $5.

MANILA CIGARS—$3 for a trial box of the Very Best Cigars made in the Philippines.

Oriente Cigarrettes—Best made, large package containing 25 small packages, 750 Cigarrettes, $2.

Sent by registered mail, free of duties, on receipt of price.

C. A. SHORT & CO.,
Lucena, Tay, P. I.

Oct. 4 1.&O 3m

HEPTASOPHS VS McGREGORS

Some Exceptionally Good Bowling Tuesday Night

The Heptasophs and Clan McGregor leagues bowled on the Coliseum alleys Tuesday evening before a gallery that created uproar after uproar after the men executed skillful coups.

Gillen of the Heptasophs set a new mark for that league by securing a single of 118, His showing on the two succeeding strings was no where near his start and Mark Gill with 300 took the high total.

The McGregor men fell slightly below the standard set in the last three matches and owing to the absence of four men dummy strings counted. Mavers made 109 for high single and Dell who has performed in fine manner since the opening night netted the total with 308. Peter Dackers finished his evenings work with a single of 107. Five others rolled more than 100.

The team of Capt. Mavers had no difficulty in taking four points from the Thompson five. The summary:

MAVER.

Dummy	78	77	78	233
Michael	81	83	75	239
Maver	109	95	79	283
Dunbar	80	80	95	255
Troupe	81	85	95	261
	429	420	422	1271

THOMPSON.

Davidson	87	77	78	242
Dummy	80	80	75	235
Thompson	82	87	81	250
Dummy	81	84	79	244
McDonald	78	86	80	244
	408	414	393	1215

A total of 1322 against 1252 and the loss of four points was the experience of the Micheals five at the hands of the McKenzie quintette. The summary:

McKENZIE.

Gordon	81	87	83	251
Smith	73	90	78	241
McKenzie	88	93	83	264
Mitchell	96	101	76	273
Drummond	97	97	99	293
	435	468	419	1322

MICHAEL.

Dummy	81	87	78	246
Dummy	73	90	76	239
A. Michael	76	78	91	245
J. Michael	80	93	94	267
Newhal	101	84	70	255
	411	432	409	1252

Captaint McLeans rollers beat the O'Neil aggregation, 3 to 1, the latter taking the first single by 21 and losing the balance of the match. The showing of Dell in the second was responsible for the point and also protected the total. The summary:

McLEAN.

Paterson	82	96	98	276
Eaton	88	79	78	245
Oswald	77	93	82	252
McLean	94	93	104	291
Dell	92	104	112	308
	433	465	474	1372

O'NEIL.

D. Dackers	91	89	81	261
Hughes	100	85	99	284
Raleigh	97	93	91	281
O'Neil	92	92	77	261
P. Dackers	74	96	107	277
	454	455	455	1364

Captain Wilson and his bowlers took three out of four points in the Heptasophs from the men of Captain Mullen. The summary:

CAPT. WILSON.

Gillen	118	89	76	283
Soeller	79	74	73	226
DeCoste	93	85	76	254
Byron	89	83	80	252
Wilson	72	81	69	222
	451	412	374	1237

CAPT. MULLEN.

Mullen	89	82	74	245
Cunniff	86	97	77	260
Burns	80	79	89	248
A. McKay	84	71	81	236
Lemieux	69	79	90	238
	408	408	411	1227

Captains Gill and Gibney had a battle royal, the match going to the former team, 3 to 1. It was anyones match until the Gill bowlers fell down in the third and gave up the string by 12 pins. The summary:

CAPT. GIBNEY.

Irving	82	77	93	252
S. McKay	87	74	84	245
Gibney	79	80	80	239
Healey	87	71	96	254
Dunn	91	91	91	273
	426	393	444	1263

CAPT. GILL.

Canty	82	79	73	234
Smith	61	76	73	210
Lecco	84	73	87	244
Kolson	87	93	73	253
Gill	106	98	96	300
	420	419	402	1241

DEFIES THE REICHSTAG

German Imperial Chancellor Will Not Resign

Berlin, Dec. 10.—Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the imperial chancellor, defied parliament to pass amendments to the constitution proposed by the Socialists making the imperial chancellor responsible to the house for the acts of the emperor and providing for his dismissal upon the demand of the house.

Philip Scheidemann, a Socialist leader, at the opening of the budget debate moved the adoption of the amendments put forward by the party, and appealed to the house to refuse to vote supplies until Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg shall either resign or be dismissed by the emperor.

The chancellor declared the amendments proposed were a clear invasion of the imperial prerogative, and announced that he had neither presented his resignation nor did he intend to do so.

STARTS TO SHOOT CAT, KILLS SELF

Trips on Cellar Stairs and Blows Off Back of Head

North Haven, Conn., Dec. 10.—William E. Dickerman, treasurer of the Morgan & Humiston company of New Haven, manufacturers of doors and windows, died at his home from a wound from a shot gun. The medical examiner, Dr. Goodyear, says death was "probably accidental."

Members of the family say that Dickerman went down the cellar stairs with a shot gun to shoot a cat, when he tripped and fell, the gun being discharged. The back of his head was blown off. Mr. Dickerman was 52 years old and was widely known throughout the state. He had been in poor health lately.

STORM NATION'S CAPITOL

Two Thousand Men and Women Demand Prohibition

Washington, Dec. 10.—Prohibition forces from all over the country are gathered in Washington, prepared for a mighty demonstration today before the national Capitol.

More than 2000 men and women, representing the Anti-Saloon League of America and the Women's Christian Temperance union, marched in separate bodies to the Capitol bearing petitions demanding national prohibition by constitutional amendment.

One thousand men, representing the anti-saloon force, will be received at the Capitol first, after which they will withdraw and the women will make their plea.

Brigadier General A. S. Daggett will act as grand marshal of the men's procession, while the women will be headed by Mrs. Lillian M. N. Stevens of Maine, president general of the W. C. T. U.

A DIFFICULT OPERATION

Surgeons to Graft Part of Man's Leg Bone to Spine

New Britain, Conn., Dec. 10.—Wilson Hancock of this city, whose back was broken in an automobile accident in Canajoharie, N. Y., two months ago, will undergo an unusual operation. Physicians have decided to graft to his spine a six-inch piece of bone, which will be removed from one of his legs.

Up to the time of the accident Hancock was a pianist in a moving picture theater in Jamestown, N. Y. After the injury he was taken to the Post-Graduate hospital in New York, but it was not until some time later that it was discovered that his back was broken.

Paris Puts Ban on Hatpins

Paris, Dec. 10.—An ordinance making it a misdemeanor for women to wear hatpins with unprotected points while in street cars, omnibuses, the subway, theatres, expositions or any public place likely to be crowded has been issued by the prefect of police, Celestin Hennion.

May Die of Wounds

Hartford, Dec. 10.—Mrs. Mary Varese, 24, is in a serious condition at a hospital with knife wounds in throat and body, and her husband, James Varese, 27, is held by the authorities on a charge of assault with intent to kill.

GOVERNOR BALDWIN

Connecticut Executive Deluged With Pleas For Mrs. Wakefield

WAKEFIELD PLEAS DELUGE BALDWIN

Clerks In Executive Offices Overworked Opening Petitions

Hartford, Dec. 10.—Faster than the clerks in the executive offices at the capitol can open them come petitions to Governor Baldwin asking for clemency for Mrs. Bessie J. Wakefield, sentenced to be hanged for the murder of her husband.

The correspondence goes into the waste basket as fast as opened, but overflowing waste baskets sent to the boiler room barely keep pace with the incoming mail sacks. A batch of 6000 signed petitions promised by telegraph from Louisville, Ky., came by express. Here and there is a request that the law be permitted to take its course.

The new feature is the mailing in of photographs of children. One photograph had written across it: "The mother of these children is praying for the life of the mother of the Wakefield babies."

TO BUILD AT BATH

Iron Works to Construct Yacht to Compete In America's Cup Trials

Bath, Me., Dec. 10.—George Owen of Newton, Mass., designer of the yacht to be built here for a syndicate of New York, Pennsylvania and Boston yachtsmen, to compete with two others for the honor of defending the America cup next year, is here in conference with the builders.

John McInnes, superintendent of construction for the Bath Iron Works, will have charge of the construction of the racer, and with President John S. Hyde and Mr. Owen is completing arrangements to begin the work soon. The yacht will be built under cover and closely guarded. No information about the plans is available here for the present, except that the hull will be of Tobin bronze.

WILL ARREST MINERS

To Be No Delay In Colorado, Says District Attorney

Denver, Dec. 10.—Warrants for the arrest of the United Mine Workers of America officers and members indicted by the federal grand jury at Pueblo last week, were placed in the hands of United States Marshal Dewey C. Bailey.

Referring to dispatches from Washington saying that service of the warrants would be held back until officials of the department of justice have given an opinion as to the merits of the grand jury findings, District Attorney Harry E. Kelly said that the warrants would be served at once and the cases prosecuted in the United States district court.

PLUNGES INTO RIVER

Only Three Passengers In Coach That Left Rails on Central Vermont

Waterford, Conn., Dec. 10.—Central Vermont railroad train No. 12, from Willimantic to New London, was derailed just north of the railroad bridge here, and although one of the coaches plunged headlong down an embankment and into the Thames river, no one was seriously injured.

There were only three persons in this coach and the train crew rescued them without difficulty. Except for a wetting, and a severe shaking up, the three passengers appeared to be none the worse for their experience.

Finds Wife Asphyxiated

Brockton, Mass., Dec. 10.—Mrs. Marcia E. Dougherty, 70, of 28 Temple street, was asphyxiated by escaping gas while preparing supper. A gas jet had been open in the kitchen, where she was engaged in her work. Her husband, returning from his work, found her dead on the floor with the room filled with gas.

Says Husband Tickled Her

Pittsburg, Dec. 10.—Mrs. Anna K. Macklin, who is seeking a divorce, bases her suit on the claim that her husband was in the daily habit of tickling and pinching her until she became exhausted.

CARRANZA SAYS HE HAD TO KILL

Determined to Enforce the Law With Vigor

EXPLAINS JUAREZ KILLINGS

Tells Governor Hunt of Arizona Why Bloody Reprisals Are Visited Upon Huertista Prisoners of War by Revolutionists—Rebels Disable Gunboat at Tuxpam and Take Dynamite

Phoenix, Ariz., Dec. 10.—A letter from General Venustiano Carranza, defending the execution by General Francisco Villa of federal officers captured at Juarez and telling why bloody reprisals were being visited by the revolutionists upon Huertista prisoners of war, was given out by Governor George W. P. Hunt of Arizona.

Carranza's letter, dated at Hermosillo, Sonora, Mex., Nov. 27, was in reply to a communication which Governor Hunt sent to the rebel chieftain, suggesting that a continuation of summary executions by insurgent commanders would horrify the people of the United States and alienate their sympathy.

Hunt wrote as a private citizen, not as governor of Arizona. In his reply Carranza says:

"While recognizing with pleasure the spirit of frank friendship which actuated your letter, your personal sympathy and that of the people of the United States with the furtherance of civilization and justice which we are carrying on, I cannot the less deplore the fact that, with an imperfect understanding of the peculiar character of the Mexican problems, there is likelihood in certain cases, notwithstanding one's good intention, of placing a wrong construction on some of our acts.

"This is due, in all probability, to the fact that the criminal acts with which this struggle was begun and the cruel measures employed to maintain it are forgotten.

"The Mexican people, in the beginning of this civil struggle initiated by Francisco I. Madero, exhausted all their power of clemency and forgiveness, but experienced, as the only results of their magnanimity, tyranny in their country's interior and the loss of prestige outside of its borders.

"I want to insure the operation of the country's institutions and to reestablish tranquility for all time by means of definite and effective restoration of the national organization.

"The occurrences at the city of Juarez were far from being invested with the importance which our enemies, in their intemperate frame of mind, desired to give them.

"In conclusion, it is my desire to assure you that the same humane sentiments which you possess also animate me, and that even though I find it necessary, in deference to the existing national feeling, justice to public confidence and the necessity of restoring peace to my country, to be somewhat strict in the enforcement of the law of Juarez, I have provided at the same time that this law shall be applied only when the limitations are fixed by the most pressing needs.

"It shall be enforced against wilful enemies, with the privilege of pardon and safety extended always to the guiltless and misguided. I hope, furthermore, to retain your sympathy, as well as that of the people of North America, in favor of our cause. You may be sure that I will take into consideration your high ideals to the extent of recommending, always with due respect to the law, greater forbearance toward our enemies."

Rebels Disable Gunboat

Mexico City, Dec. 10.—The rebels under General Candido Aguilar, in the vicinity of Tuxpam, scored a success over the federal troops there by slipping round the edge of the town and boarding the gunboat Tuxpam, disabling her machinery and guns, and getting away with a quantity of dynamite.

According to the story reaching the federal capital the trick turned by the rebels was due to "carelessness on the part of some of the federals."

The gunboat was stationed at some distance above the town for the purpose of observing the movements of the rebels. The latter secured a gasoline launch, manned it with twenty men, and boarded the gunboat at a moment when she had been left in charge of a small crew, which they overpowered.

Duchess Bars Tango

Ottawa, Dec. 10.—The tango dance is not to be allowed at government house festivities. The Duchess of Connaught, who is very fond of dancing, has decided to draw the line and has let it become known that she is positively apposed to the tango.

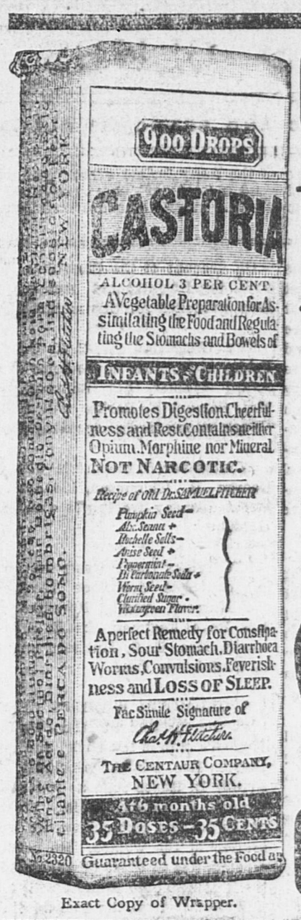
Wedding Liquor Kills Children

New York, Dec. 10.—Of five children, who, while guests at a wedding ceremony found bottles of liquor and drank them, two are dead.

Seeking to Be Exact.

"My grandpa had a perplexity fit yesterday," said small Dorothy.

"Perplexity fit!" echoed little Clarice. "You mean a parallel stroke, don't you?"—Stray Stories.



Exact Copy of Wrapper.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
In Use For Over Thirty Years
CASTORIA
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

In effect Nov. 16, 1913

The letters in the same line as the figures below stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows.

a Wollaston	f Harrison Square
b Norfolk Downs	g Savin Hill
c Atlantic	h Cre[illegible] Avenue
d Neponset	i South Boston
e Pope's Hill	r Quincy Adams
* Saturdays Only	† Except Saturday

Exp.—Express train.

TO BOSTON			FROM BOSTON
Leave	Stop	Arrive	Leave	Stop	Arrive
r 5 14	abcdefghi	5 41	5 44	ihgfedcba	6 14 r
r 6 19	abcd	6 40	6 09	ihgfedcba	6 39 r
r 6 32	e	6 48	6 29	a	6 47
			6 47	Exp	7 04
r 6 40	abcf	7 00	7 14	hgfedcba	7 41 r
r 7 08	abcd	7 30	7 34	a	7 52
7 28	a	7 46	7 37	a	7 56
r 7 32	Exp	7 49	7 44	c	8 03 r
r 7 42	ab	8 00	8 34	cba	8 55 r
7 55	a	8 12	8 44	b	9 02
r 8 13	abc	8 32	9 09	fedba	9 22 r
8 24	a	8 41	9 44	a	10 01 r
r 8 33	a	8 50	10 14	ihgfedcba	10 41 r
r 8 59	ad	9 16	10 54	Exp	11 10
r 9 18	abc	9 39	11 14	hgfedcba	11 41 r
r 10 04	a	10 21	11 49	a	12 07
r 10 19	abcdefghi	10 45	12 14	hgfedcba	12 41 r
11 12	a	11 28	12 20	a	12 38
11 24	abcdefgh	11 50	12 50	Exp	1 06
12 04	a	12 20	1 16	fedcba	1 40 r
			* 1 32	a	1 50
r 12 27	abcdefghi	12 53	1 44	a	2 01
r 1 18	a	1 34	2 14	fedcba	2 37 r
2 04	a	2 20	2 34	Exp	2 50
r 2 19	abcdefgh	2 45	3 14	hgfedcba	3 40 r
r 3 18	Exp	3 28	3 44	a	4 02
4 04	a	4 20	4 12	fedcba	4 25 r
r 4 26	abcdefgh	4 53	4 45	a	4 32
5 12	a	5 19	4 50	c	4 58
r 5 30	abcdefg	5 55	4 55	a	5 13
6 04	a	6 21	5 13	a	5 32
6 12	ab	6 32	5 19	hgfeca	5 43
6 57	a	7 15	5 28	ba	5 46 r
r 7 22	Exp	7 39	5 40		5 57
7 29	ab	7 48	5 58	a	6 17 r
r 8 00	abcdef	8 32	6 01	fedcb	6 24
9 00	a	9 18	6 16	a	6 35
r 9 10	abc	9 29	6 30	ecba	6 52 r
* 9 17	Exp.	9 32	6 59	fedcba	7 24 r
r 10 07	abcdef	10 30	7 11	a	7 28
* 10 19	a	10 37	8 04	fedcba	8 28 r
11 13	a	11 30	* 8 19	Exp	8 35
r 11 30	abcd	11 40	9 19	a	9 37
			9 34	b	9 53 r
			10 0[illegible]	ba	10 24
			10 34	fedcba	11 02 r
			* 11 06	a	11 25 r
			† 11 09	fedcba	11 35 r
			* 11 25	ba	11 43 r
			† 11 29	ba	11 49
			12 05	cba	12 26 r

SUNDAYS

r 7 43	abc	8 03	6 29	ba	6 48
8 30	Exp	8 45	8 34	cba	8 55 r
r 8 46	abcdefghi	9 19	10 39	cba	10 59 r
r 9 13	abc	9 33	12 14	ihgfedcba	12 42
9 31	a	9 47	12 44	Exp	1 01
10 25	ac	10 42	1 29	ihgfedcba	1 57 r
11 08	Exp	11 25	2 14	ihgfedcba	2 42 r
r 11 16	abcdefghi	11 48	2 44	a	3 02
1 04	a	1 23	3 14	ihgfedcba	3 42 r
r 1 16	abcdefgh	1 43	4 26	cba	4 43 r
r 3 10	abc	3 30	5 14	ihgfedcba	5 42 r
r 4 16	abcdefghi	4 43	6 09	Exp	6 25
4 59	ab	5 16	6 14	ihgfedcba	6 42 r
5 06		5 23	7 02	cba	7 22 r
6 16	abcdefghi	6 43	8 14	ihgfedcba	8 41 r
7 21	Exp	7 36	8 39	a	8 56 r
7 29	abcdefghi	7 55	8 49	Exp	9 05
r 8 16	abcdefghi	8 43	9 29	ihgfedcba	9 57 r
9 46	a	10 04	10 44	cba	11 04 r
[illegible]		11 05

Bay State Street Railway Company

TIME TABLE

In effect April 8, 1913.

(Subject to change without notice.

Leave QUINCY for

Braintree, 6.15, 6.50 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Braintree, 6.25 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.25 P. M. Sundays, 7.55 A. M. and then same as week days.

Brockton, 6.15, 6.50 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Brockton 6.20, 7 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 9.30 P. M. Sundays, 8 A. M. then same as week days.

West Quincy, and East Milton, 5.30 5.50, 6.10 A. M., and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M.) Sundays, 8.50 A. M. then same as week days. Return leave East Milton, 5.55, 6.15, 6.45 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.45 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.10 midnight.) Sundays, 7.25 A. M., then same as week days.

East Weymouth, 6.00, 6.15, 6.35, 7.05, 7.35 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.05 P. M. then 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.35 A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave East Weymouth, 5.50, 6.15, 6.45, 7.00, 7.10, 7.45, A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.45 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M. then same as week days.

Houghs Neck, 5.15, 5.35, 6.10, 6.40, 7.10, 7.40, A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. then 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 6.50, 7.40 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. Return leave Houghs Neck, 5.40, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 7.30, 8.00, 8.30, 9.05 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.35 P. M. then 12.10 midnight. Sundays, 7.20, 8.05, 8.35, 9.05 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.35 P. M.

Neponset via Hancock Street,—5.45 6.20, 6.50 A. M. and every 30 min. to 10.50 P. M. then 12.50 midnight. Sundays, 6.50 A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 6.40 7.10, 7.40 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. then 12.35 midnight. Sundays, 7.40 A. M. then same as week days.

Neponset via Wollaston—6.05, 6.35, 7.03 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.03 P. M. then 11.20, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.03 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 6.35, 6.55, 7.25, A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.25 P. M. then 11.42 P. M. and 12.12 midnight. Sundays, 7.25 A. M. then same as week days.

Neponset, via Norfolk Downs, 6.25, 6.55, 7.25, 8, 8.30 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11 P. M.) Sundays, 7.30 A. M. then the same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 7, 7.30 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.30 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.30 P. M.) Sundays, 8 A. M. then same as week days.

Weymouth Landing, 5.20, 6.00, 6.20 6.55, 7.25 7.55 A. M. then every 30 minutes, until and including 10.55 P. M. Sundays, 7.25, A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave Weymouth Landing, 5.45, 6.15, 6.40, 7.15 7.45 A. M. then every 30 minutes until and including 11.15 P. M. Sundays 7.45 A. M. then same as week days.

Leave NEPONSET for

Squantum, 6.25, 6.55, 7.25, 7.55, 8.25, 9.35, A. M. every 60 minutes to 4.35 P. M. then 4.55, 5.25, 5.55, 6.25, 7.35, 8.35, 9.35, 10.35 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.30, P. M. Sundays, 7.35, A. M. every 60 minutes to 10.35 P. M. Return, leave Squantum, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 7.30, 8.00, 8.30, 9.00 A. M. every 60 minutes to 5.00 P. M. then 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.15, 8.00 A. M. every 60 minutes to 11.00 P. M.

THOMAS GANNON,
Superintendent.

WITHIN THE LAW

By MARVIN DANA
FROM THE PLAY OF
BAYARD VEILLER

Copyright, 1913, by the H. K. Fly company.

(Continued from last issue.)

Mary lifted her dark eyebrows in half amused inquiry.

"It's no use, Agnes," she declared, though without entire sincerity; "I can't quite keep up with your thieves' argot—your slang, you know. Just what did this brother of your do?"

"Why, he copped the copper's kale," Aggie translated, glibly.

Mary threw out her hands in a gesture of dismay.

Thereupon the adventuress instantly assumed a most ladylike and mincing air which ill assorted with the cigarette that she held between her lips.

"He gently removed a leathern wallet," she said sedately, "containing a large sum of money from the coat pocket of a member of the detective force." The elegance of utterance was inimitably done. But in the next instant the ordinary vulgarity of enunciation was in full play again. "Oh, gee!" she cried gayly. "He says Inspector Burke's got a gold watch that weighs a ton, an' all set with diamon's, which was give to 'im by admirin' friends. We didn't contribute."

"Given to him," Mary corrected, with a tolerant smile.

"What difference does it make?" Aggie demanded scornfully. "He's got it, ain't he? Just as soon as I get time I'm goin' after that watch—believe me!"

"No, you are not. You are under my orders now. And as long as you are working with us you will break no laws."

"But I can't see"— Aggie began to argue with the petulance of a spoiled child.

"When you were working alone did you have a home like this?"

"No."

"Or such clothes? Most of all, did you have safety from the police?"

"No; but, just the same, I can't see"—

"Agnes, the richest men in this country have made their fortunes, not because of the law, but in spite of the law. They made up their minds what they wanted to do and then they engaged lawyers clever enough to show them how they could do it and still keep within the law. Any one with brains can get rich in this country if he will engage the right lawyer. Well, I have the brains, and Harris is showing me the law—the wonderful twisted law that was made for the rich. Since we keep inside the law we are safe.

"And now I must be off to a most important engagement with Mr. Dick Gilder."

CHAPTER VI.

A Tip From Headquarters.

AGGIE gave herself over to more cigarettes in an easy chair sprawled out in an attitude of comfort never taught in any finishing school for young ladies. Soon the coming of Joe Garson, who was usually in and out of the apartment a number of times daily, provided a welcome diversion. Aggie explained in response to his question that Mary had gone out to keep an engagement with Dick Gilder.

"Mary has been with him a good deal lately," he said, half questioningly.

"That's what," was the curt agreement.

"Think she's stuck on him?"

"Why not?" Aggie retorted. "Bet your life I'd be if I had a chance. He's a swell boy, and his father's got the coin too."

At this the man moved impatiently, and his eyes wandered to the window. Again Aggie studied him with a swift glance of interrogation.

"Joe, if there's anything on your mind shoot it."

"It's Mary," Garson explained, with some embarrassment; "her and young Gilder."

"Well?" came the crisp question.

"Well, somehow," Garson went on, still somewhat confusedly, "I can't see any good of it for her."

"Why?" Aggie demanded, in surprise.

"Old man Gilder's got a big pull, and if he caught on to his boy's going with Mary he'd be likely to send the police after us—strong! Believe me, I ain't looking for any trip up the river."

"We ain't done nothin' they can touch us for. Mary says so."

"Whether we've done anything or whether we haven't don't matter," he objected. "Once the police set out after you they'll get you. Russia ain't in it with some of the things I have seen pulled off in this town."

"Oh, can that 'fraid talk!" Aggie exclaimed roughly. "I tell you they can't get us. We've got our fingers crossed."

A noise at the hall door interrupted her, and she looked up to see a man, while behind him appeared the maid, protesting gnarily.

"Never mind that announcing thing with me," the newcomer rasped to the expostulating servant in a voice that suited well his thick set figure, with the bullet shaped head and the bull like neck. He was Cassidy, who had had Mary Turner in his charge on the occasion of her ill fated visit to Edward Gilder's office four years before.

"Hello, Joe!" he cried familiarly. "Hello, Aggie!"

"Well?" Joe demanded.

"Just a little friendly call," Cassidy announced in his strident voice "Where's the lady of the house?"

"Out." Aggie spoke very sharply.

"Well, Joe," Cassidy went on, "when she comes back just tell her it's up to her to make a getaway and to make it quick."

"Say," Aggie retorted viciously, "you can't throw any scare into us. You hain't got anything on us. See?"

"Nothing on you, eh? Well, well, let's see." Cassidy regarded Garson with a grin. "You are Joe Garson, forger." As he spoke the detective took a notebook from a pocket, found a page, and then read: "First arrested in 1891 for forging the name of Edwin Goodsell to a check for $10,000. Again arrested June 19, 1893, for forgery. Arrested in April, 1898, for forging the signature of Oscar Hemmenway to a series of bonds that were counterfeit. Arrested as the man back of the Reilly gang in 1903. Arrested in 1908 for forgery."

"Haven't any records of convictions, have you?"

"No, but we've got the right dope on you, all right, Joe Garson." He turned savagely on the girl.

"And you're little Aggie Lynch," Cassidy declared as he thrust the note-

"Is that all you've got about her?" Garson demanded.

book back into his pocket. "Just now you're posing as Mary Turner's cousin. You served two years in Burnsing for blackmail. You were arrested in Buffalo, convicted and served your stretch. Nothing on you? Well, well!"

Again there was triumph in the officer's chuckle. He went on speaking with obvious enjoyment of the extent o which his knowledge reached.

"And the head of the gang is Mary Turner. Arrested four years ago for robbing the Emporium. Did her stretch of three years."

"Is that all you've got about her?" Garson demanded with such abruptness that Cassidy forgot his dignity sufficiently to answer with an unqualified yes.

"Nothing in your record of her about her coming out without a friend in the world and trying to go straight? You ain't got nothing in that pretty little book of your'n about your going to the millinery store where she finally got a job and tipping them off to where she come from?"

"Sure, they was tipped off. We got to protect the city."

"Got anything in that record of your'n," Garson went on venomously, "about her getting another job and your following her up again and having her thrown out? Got it there about the letter you had old Gilder write, so that this influence would get her canned?"

"Oh, we had her right the first time."

"You did not. She was railroaded for a job she never done. She went in honest, and she came out honest."

"And that's why she's here now with a gang of crooks," Cassidy retorted.

"Where else should she be?" Garson demanded violently. "You ain't got nothing in that record about my jumping into the river after her. That's where I found her—a girl that never done nobody any harm, starving because you police wouldn't give her a chance to work. In the river because she wouldn't take the only other way that was left her to make a living, because she was keeping straight! Have you got any of that in your book?"

"Anyway," the officer went on, with a new confidence, now that his eyes were free from the gaze that had burned into his soul, "you've got to clear out, the whole gang of you—and do it quick."

"We don't scare worth a cent," Aggie snapped, with the virulence of a vixen. "You can't do anything to us. We ain't broke the law." There came a sudden ripple of laughter, and the charming lips curved joyously as she added, "Though perhaps we have bent it a bit."

"Well, you've got the tip." Cassidy returned, somewhat disconcerted, after a stolid fashion of his own. "It's up to you to take it, that's all. If you don't one of you will make a long visit with some people out of town, and it'll probably be Mary. Remember, I'm giving it to you straight."

Cassidy turned and went noisily out of the drawing room. As she heard the outer door close behind the detective Aggie's expression grew vicious.

"The truck horse detective!" she sneered. "An eighteen collar and a six and a half hat! He sure had his nerve trying to bluff us!"

"Perhaps it wasn't a bluff, Aggie," Garson suggested

"Well, what have we done, I'd like to know?"

Garson answered with a note of weariness that was unlike him.

"It ain't what you have done," he said quietly. "It's what they can make a jury think you've done. And, once they set out to get you—God, how they can frame things! If they ever start out after Mary"— He did not finish the sentence, but sank down into his chair with a groan that was almost of despair.

(To be Continued.)

DR. CRAIG ACQUITTED

Court Rules State Failed to Support Its Charges

Shelbyville, Ind., Dec. 10.—William B. Craig was acquitted of the charge of murdering Dr. Helene Knabe in her apartments in Indianapolis, Oct. 23, 1911.

After a trial lasting since Nov. 28 and with only the state's side presented, the defence's motion to take the case from the jury and dismiss the charge against Dr. Craig was granted by Judge Blair. The jury brought in a formal verdict of acquittal.

Judge Blair held that the state had introduced no evidence that Craig had murdered Dr. Knabe.

"I recognize the unusual procedure of taking a case of such magnitude from the jury," said the court, "but I have gone through the evidence and find that the state failed to support the charge."

The indictment against Alonzo M. Ragsdale, indicted jointly with Dr. Craig, was nolled by Frank Baker, prosecutor of Marion county. Ragsdale was executor of the estate of Dr. Knabe and in the indictment was charged with being an accessory after the fact by secreting evidence incriminating Craig.

COMPROMISE FOR $50,000

Daughter of "Big Tim" Sullivan Wins by Order of Supreme Court

New York, Dec. 10.—Counsel for Margaret C. Sullivan, 17, obtained an order from the supreme court to compromise for $50,000 her claim against the estate of the late Congressman Timothy D. Sullivan, the East Side Tammany leader.

This is the first time the name of Margaret C. Sullivan has appeared in any court proceeding looking to a settlement of the estate. It had not previously been known that "Big Tim" had a daughter with a claim against the estate, although a young woman, Miss Aida V. Sullivan, an actress, who claimed to be an adopted daughter, had put in such a claim.

NEW YORK MACHINE IN WORKING ORDER

Glynn's Legislative Program to Be Forced Through

Albany, Dec. 10.—Democratic leaders declared that the full legislative program embodied in Governor Glynn's message will be carried out this week. They hope to adjourn the legislature sine die Friday night.

The governor asserted that he had assurances from a majority of the assemblymen that when the bills came to a vote they would be present to support his legislation.

He is confident that his entire program will be carried out.

There will be a hearing on the workmen's compensation bill before the joint judiciary committee today.

The present arrangements of the Democratic leaders is to press the bill relating to primary and general elections, election of United States senators and the calling of a constitutional convention Thursday.

HOLMES & HALL
REPAIRERS OF HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
SHADES
DOOR BELLS
LOCKS and KEYS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

ARTHUR L. THOMAS
Attorney-at-Law
3-4-5-6 Greenleaf Block
Telephone Quincy 460 Jan.2-1y

Penniman's
TAXI SERVICE
Taxies and Touring Cars with careful and safe drivers to let for all occasions.
C. H. PENNIMAN, Prop.
Telephone 207.
June 13-tf

SUPREME COURT TO REVIEW CASE

Thaw's Sanity to Be Determined by Highest Tribunal

RESERVES DECISION ON BAIL

Judge Aldrich Will Not Release Him Until He Decides Whether He Would Be a Menace to Community —Jerome Outlines Plans of New York State When It Gets Fugitive

Concord, N. H., Dec. 10.—Judge Aldrich of the United States district court reserved judgment on the question of admitting Harry K. Thaw to bail until he determines upon the best method of deciding whether Thaw would be a menace to the community if released.

Judge Aldrich stated during the hearing that he intends the case shall be reviewed by the United States supreme court and both sides given every opportunity of presenting the question of the legality of the New York state statute regarding the criminal insane.

William T. Jerome, who appeared for the state of New York, became very bitter in his argument, declaring that "a man who spent $25,000 to bribe a state officer would not hesitate at forgetting a few thousand dollars bail." And asked if he meant Thaw would leave the state he said: "I most certainly do."

Judge Aldrich refused to listen to a review by Jerome of the decisions of New York courts which Jerome declared would prove that Thaw "is not a fit man to be let loose in any country."

Judge Aldrich said he preferred to consider the case on a basis of developments in this state.

At the close of the hearing it was arranged that Thaw attorneys will have twenty days in which to file briefs in the federal habeas corpus case after the record is printed.

"We expect to take Thaw back to New York," said Jerome, "to try him for the crime with which we have charged him and to punish him for it, and then to put him where he belongs and to keep him there for the protection of the public."

The hearing consisted principally of an argment between Judge Aldrich and Jerome. In the course of the argument Jerome suggested a possible decision that the court might make.

"Don't worry about that," said Aldrich. "The constitutional questions involved in this case are of such importance that I shall not pass upon them myself, but shall forward them as promptly as possible to the supreme court of the United States."

"Let us get them there as soon as possible," retorted Jerome.

Thaw did not attend the hearing. He was represented by his New Hampshire counsel, Merrill Shurtleff of Lancaster, and DeWitt C. Howe of Concord. Mr. Jerome, Deputy Attorney General Franklin Kennedy and Bernard Jacobs of Lancaster appeared for New York state.

TO BAR CERTAIN DRUGS

Government Officials Plan to Stop Traffic In Narcotics

Washington, Dec. 10.—There are more than 1,000,000 drug users in the United States, and the habit is growing by such leaps and bounds that a heretofore dormant provision in the pure food law may be utilized by the government to curtail the traffic in narcotics.

This was the information given by department of agriculture officials. The provision which may be called into force is that forbidding the importation of any drug "dangerous to the health of the people of the United States."

Dr. Carl L. Alsberg, chief of the bureau of chemistry of the agricultural department, and Dr. Lyman F. Kebler, chief of the drug division, said that there is not one case in 10,000 where an internal dose of such drug as cocaine is necessary.

A bill is now pending in the senate for restriction of the sale of habit forming drugs by compelling registration of every sale.

Dr. Kebler said he believed any attempt to enforce the provision against importation of dangerous drugs would meet with violent opposition, but that such a move would aid in checking the growth of "dope fiends."

Will Try Again to Kill Lopez

Bingham, Utah, Dec. 10.—Seven sheriffs and their deputies, who have been searching the Utah-Apex mine for Ralph Lopez, Mexican desperado, will fill the mine again with poisonous gas in an effort to suffocate the "bad man."

Autoists Hurt In Beverly

Beverly, Mass., Dec. 10.—Ernest J. Moring and H. J. Kelliher of Salem were thrown out and dangerously injured when the automobile they were driving skidded and struck a tree on Brimble avenue.

Forced to Kiss Wife's Hand

Bayonne, N. J., Dec. 10.—In lieu of a jail sentence Recorder Mara compelled Francesco Domoroski, charged with wife beating, to kneel on the floor, kiss his wife's hand and ask forgiveness.

LONG LIVED ROOFING
Buy your roofing with the idea that it is going to last for years to come.
NEPONSET PAROID ROOFING
is made carefully from the very best materials obtainable. It has received the endorsement of the leading railroads of the United States as well as that of the United States Government. We also handle the Neponset Wall Board which comes in 3 finishes and is good for any room in the house. Call or write for samples.
L. GROSSMAN & SONS
Tel. 979-W
Jackson St., Near Quincy Adams Depot

EXECUTOR'S NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed executor of the will of Emily C. Amsden late of Quincy in the County of Norfolk deceased testate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs.

All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased, are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called to make payment to

WILLIAM S. SAYWARD,
Executor

(Address)
110 Winthrop ave., Wollaston, Mass.
November 25th, 1913.
Nov. 26-3t 26-3-10.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives of The Commonwealth of Massachusetts in General Court assembled

The undersigned, citizens of Quincy and Boston, respectfully petition for the passage of such legislation as may be necessary to provide for annexing to the City of Boston that part part of the City of Quincy known as Squantum

(Signed)
CHARLES S. LAWLER
TIMOTHY F. CALLAHAN
JAMES H. HAGAN
PERLEY P. BOSTWICK
HERMAN J. BERGHAUS
JOSEPH D. UPPLING,
JAMES H. FOSTER,
EDWARD EAGAR
WILLIAM HARVEY.
Dec. 5-3t 5-10-17

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

LAND COURT.

To George O. Sears, John A. Knowles and Maria F. Watt, of Boston, in the County of Suffolk, and said Commonwealth; Paulina S. Pratt, Ellen M. Damon, Mary J. Joy and Laura S. Wainwright of Cohasset, Eliza A. Pray, Sarah Hudson and Sarah K. Rockwood, of Weymouth, Hammond M. Whitney, of Brookline, in the County of Norfolk, and said Commonwealth; Elizabeth S. Cushing of Hingham, in the County of Plymouth, and said Commonwealth; Emma F. Howe of Reading, in the State of Pennsylvania; Frank J. Hudson of Butte, in the State of Montana; Leonard P. Hudson, Sarah E. Warnock, Fred L. Hudson and Daniel F. Hudson of Lander in the State of Wyoming; Sarah E. Hudson, Edwin Hudson and Emma F. Rogers, of Salt Lake City, in the State of Utah; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Sarah C. Wheelwright of said Boston to register and confirm her title in the following described land:

Two certain parcels of land with the buildings thereon, situate in said Cohasset, bounded and described as follows:

First: A parcel situated on the northeast side of Atlantic Avenue, bounded southwest by said Avenue by three courses, ten hundred thirty and 64-100 (1030.64) feet; northwest by land of George O. Sears three hundred and two (302) feet; northeast, east and northeast again by mean high water line of Massachusetts Bay; east by land of John A. Knowles about fifty-three (53) feet; and south by the same eighty-nine and 12-100 (89.12) feet.

Petitioner also claims such portions of the beach and flats adjacent to said parcel as lie between the side lines thereof extended according to law to extreme low water mark. Said parcel contains two and 95-100 (2.95) acres more or less to said mean high water line.

Second: A parcel situated on the southwest side of said Avenue, bounded northeast by said Avenue by three courses nine hundred ninety-one and 20-100 (991.20) feet; east by land of heirs of Martha Joy twenty-seven and 31-100 (27.31) feet; southwest, south and southeast by land of said petitioner, formerly of Thomas Willcutt et al by seven courses measuring in all eleven hundred forty-three and 50-100 (1143.50) feet; northwest by land of said George O. Sears three hundred seventy-one and 13-100 (371.13) feet. Last described parcel contains two and 55-100 (2.55) acres more or less.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition, and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

You are hereby cited to appear at the Land Court to be held at Boston, in the County of Suffolk, on the fifth day of January A. D. 1914, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, Charles Thornton Davis, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this first day of December in the year nineteen hundred and thirteen.

Attest with Seal of said Court.
CLARENCE C. SMITH,
Recorder.
(Seal)
Dec. 3-3t 3-10-17

YOU need the Ledger EVERY DAY. SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents. No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

WANTED

WANTED—Several young men or women to do special advertising among families, good salary to right persons, with fine chance for promotion. Experience unnecessary, permanent position. Address Wm. J. Andrews, District Manager Gen. Delivery, Quincy, Mass. 10-3t

WANTED—Young man. F. W. Woolworth & Co., Adams Building. 9-3t

WANTED—By the day, housework, cleaning, etc. Apply to Hilda Hinda, at 373 Water street, near Brewers corner. 9-3t.

WANTED—Young lady to assist in store. Steady position and good opportunity to become familiar with a popular line. Write C. F. C. Ledger office. 9-3t.

WANTED—Childrens sewing. Mrs. A. J. Fox, 56 Division street, Montclair. 5-6t

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing. Myatt, 40 Baxter street. Tel. 1307-M. Quincy, Res. 22-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—A black horse, in good condition, kind and gentle, valuable for driving and light teaming. Can be seen any time at 95 Adams street, Quincy. 6-6t

FOR SALE—1910 Franklin Touring Car. Price $400. Has been overhauled recently by the Franklin Company. This car is fully equipped with gas tank, wind shield, top, and in fact, everything that is needed on an automobile. It is in first-class condition in every way. Will be pleased to demonstrate at any time. John J. Gallagher, 14 Faxon Block. 5-6t

FOR SALE—Lady's black Russian Pony jacket, size 34. At home evenings. Geo. W. Jennings, 317 Washington street, Braintree. 5-6t

FOR SALE or TO LET—New houses Apply to Thompson B. Crane, 403 Washington street, Quincy. 1-tf

MISCELLANEOUS

RENT FREE—until Jan. 1st. Two adjoining houses, 28 and 30 Pleasant street to desirable tenants, who will agree to stay one year, or longer. $5.00 per week in advance. Stable for one horse if desired. $1.00 a week extra. Apply 36 Pleasant street. 5-tf

TO LET
Large Front Office Greenleaf Block—3 entrances—right at the head of the stairs—one of the most desirable offices in Quincy.
Office, Durgin-Merrill Block—3 large windows—only 1 flight up—exceptional opportunity.
Hancock Building—City Square
Offices—small front office, $11 a month
Office—Hancock Chambers, 16x18 feet one flight up, very low rent.
Store House—off Granite St., in the rear of Greenleaf Block.
GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best Location in City)
Offices—Large or small.
Desk Room—Street floor, right in the rear of main entrance, good light and air, $5 up a month.
Transient Rooms—Well furnished and with care, $1 a day.
Furnished Rooms—With care steam heat, and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week
HALLS
Music Hall—Music Hall Block—Capacity 962—highest possible rating by the State. "Excellent" in every particular.
New Colonial Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—Capacity 240—the best possible location for a Hall.
Hancock Hall—Hancock Building City Square—Capacity 150.
Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 21066) Quincy

JAMES F. BURKE & CO.
Real Estate and Insurance
Care of Property. Mortgages
Justice of Peace. Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 885 M. Nov. 11-tf

WM. H. TEASDALE
REAL ESTATE
Insurance Mortgages
NOTARY PUBLIC JUSTICE OF THE PEACE
Room 23 Adams Building
Telephones { Residence 544-3 / Office 685-M
otf

TO LET

TO LET—In private Swedish family nice warm rooms and good board, 5 minutes walk from depot. Write S. F. P., Ledger Office. 10-3t

TO LET—Tenement of 7 rooms, all improvements, 64 Merrymount road. Apply W. W. Adams, 12 Greenleaf street. 22-S-W-tf

TO LET—Furnished rooms with or without board, Grant Place, opposite Central Garage, Washington street. 9-3t

TO LET—9 room house on Hancock street, near Quincy center. In first class repair and reasonable rent. Apply to Mr. Galligan at Kincaide's Furniture store. 6-tf

TO LET—In Wollaston very desirable five room bungalow on high land, $26; also seven room house, $30; five room apartment, $20; six room apartment, $16. All improvements and in first class condition. H. W. Richmond, 105 Brook street, Wollaston. Tel. 358-2. 6-6t

TO LET—Lower flat, 5 rooms bath modern improvements in new house pleasantly situated in corner lot 29 Atherton street, Bigelow Park. Rent reasonable to right party. Inquire on premises or 72 Glencoe place. 5-6t

A SNAP—7 room flat to let, all improvement, fine location, will let five dollars cheaper if taken at once. Apply H. K. Ellis, 36 Warwick street, Wollaston. Tel. Maine 4577. 5-6t

UPPER APARTMENT. In two-family house on Spear Street. Five rooms, bath, large pantry and closets, also open attic with finished heated chamber. Every improvement, electric light, furnace, range, etc. Ready for immediate occupancy. Telephone Quincy 278 M or enquire mornings of Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 1po

TO LET—Five nice large sunny rooms, all improvements. Apply 23 Dysart street. 4-6t

TO LET—Upper flat in two flat new house at 1 Bradford street, 5 rooms and bath. All improvements. Ready Jan. 1st. Apply to Wm. E. Duggan, 32 Bryant avenue, West. Quincy. 26-12t

TO LET—173 Whitwell street, half house, modern conveniences, $20 per month. Ready for immediate occupancy. Apply Penniman's Stable, Granite street. 19-tf

RUSSELL PARK — Commodious house of seven rooms, large hall and bath. Modern, every convenience open fireplace, furnace, range, set tubs, electric lights, cemented cellar, etc. Best residential neighborhood. Ready for immediate occupancy. For further details or key see Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. tf lpo

TO LET—Nicest 4 room and bath lower flat in town. Every improvement $19.00. 126 Glendale road. S. E. Thomas Greenleaf Block. 17-tf

TO LET—5 room tenement at 117 Quincy street, $20 per month. Apply Berman Furniture Co. 6-tf

TO LET—Houses of 5, 6 and 10 rooms. M. T. Sullivan. Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy, Mass. 11-tf

ANOTHER BARGAIN
Make me an offer for a ten room house on Whitwell Street.
You will own it if you will talk buy, as it is one of those chances some one will miss.
HENRY W. SAVAGE
Real Estate, Boston.
E. C. HAYDEN, Local Representative
Telephone 1877-M Quincy.
Nov 17-tf

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block,
QUINCY

SWITHIN
Real Estate
Mortgages-Insurance
Greenleaf Block
Quincy
Tel. Quincy 460. Nov. 10-tf

Read Ledger Advs.

KINCAIDE THEATRE

at 2.30, 5, 10, 15c., at 7.45, 10, 15, 25c

MON. TUES. WED.
Program subject to change

MURRY LIVINGSTON & CO.
Comedy Dramatic Playlet
"The Man From Italy"

COOPER & MAY Singing and Scenic Changes

TWISTO
The Human Pretzel

SIR WALTER WEENES
Just a little Nonsense

PATHE WEEKLY
World's News in Pictures

Feature Picture in 2 parts
The Green-Eyed Monster of Jealousy

A Picture full of fun
Edwin's Badge of Honor

Kincaide Theatre Orchestra

CANDIDATES GIVEN TRYOUT

The candiates for the bowling teams of the Quincy Council, Knights of Columbus league were given their tryouts on the City Square alleys Tuesday evening. Twenty-five presented themselves and the 20 highest men will be divided into four teams at a meeting of the offices of the league which will be held this week. There is much enthusiasm among the lovers of small ball rolling and the matches promise to be captains will be announced within a few days.

EAST BRAINTREE.

Clement Levangie of Shaw street has moved into the new house he has just built on Cotton avenue. Mr. Levangie has occupied the old Newton homestead on Shaw street for the past two years.

Elmer Goodspeed of Sheppard avenue has been confined to his home the past week with the mumps.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Waring are pleased to have their daughter Dorothy with them again. Dorothy has been at the Children's hospital, Boston, suffering from infantile paralysis of one foot. A successful operation was performed however and her many friends are glad to learn that her complete recovery is expected.

Mr. T. H. Emerson has returned from his trip to Annapolis where he has been visiting his son Arthur who is in the Naval Hospital. Mr. Emerson reports that although his son is very weak he is out of danger and gaining a little each day. Many of his friends have been very anxious about him and all are pleased to learn that he is gaining steadily.

The Ladies Benevolent society of the Union church has an eye out for the poor. Two barrels of clothing for men, women and children, have been sent to Miss Florence Foster who is in the missionary field among the negroes at Tryon, North Carolina.

George C. Stewart, an illuminating engineer, has been sent here by J. D. Shadduck who is constructing engineer for the Old Colony Gas Co., to visit the homes of those who use gas with one of the local engineers, giving instructions on the use of gas. The object of the company is to educate the people so that they may get the most heat possible out of a cubic foot of gas.

Mr. F. A. Leonard of Elm street is putting the finishing touches on what used to be the Wilkins stable, but is now a very pretty seven room house. Mr. Leonard recently purchased the stable and the four acres of land surrounding it, from Mr. A. B. Austin. Another cellar is staked out on Elm street that Mr. Leonard expects to see a house on before spring.

Gustaf Nelson is greatly improving the looks of his house and outbuildings with a coat of paint.

Mr. J. L. Christe is enjoying the warmth of the new hot water heating system just installed in his house on Somerville avenue.

There is being built at George Lorings shop on Allen street a thirty foot speed launch. This launch has a beam of five feet and is to be equipped with a 35 H. P. four cylinder four cycle sterling engine. Mr. A. P. Homer of Wollaston who is commodore of the Boston Yacht club motor boat fleet at Hull is the owner.

George P. Smith, manager of the Old Colony Gas Co., returned this week from Philadelphia where he has been attending a meeting of the national Commercial Gas Association.

☞White wrapping paper for doing up your Christmas gifts can be obtained at the Ledger-Patriot office for 20 cents a dozen sheets or by the single sheet at 2 cents per cheet.

FORTUNES BY ADVERTISING

Quincy Merchants Told by Expert How It Is Done

Quincy merchants and others interested in advertising are to be offered a course of study in advertising equal to the very successful ones in Boston, but at much less cost. John J. Morgan of the Morgan & Morgan advertising agency of Boston, who has been active in the courses of the Pilgrim Publicity Association, the Boston Y. M. C. A., and at Boston College, was at the Quincy Y. M. C. A. Tuesday evening, and gave an interesting illustrated talk on "Advertising."

It was an opportunity which all the merchants of the city should have jumped at, but the attendance was small. Mr. Morgan told of several instances where from very small beginnings large enterprises had been developed and fortunes accumulated in a few years by advertising. Some of the advertisements were reproduced on the screen.

Mr. Morgan said advertising was the force that brings people with money to your store. Every merchant with something to sell should advertise. There was no mystery about it. Just good judgment and common sense. Advertisements, first of all, should attract attention. Another definition of advertising was, the art of promoting the sale of commodities. Advertising promotes new business.

Advertising is the greatest force in business today. Like electricity, advertising has developed within the last 25 years. The manufacturers of patent medicines showed its possibilities, but today the newspapers are not taking that kind of advertising. Advertising men are jealous of their profession, and are organized to shut out frauds. This helps all legitimate advertising.

Advertising needs ideas, and a knowledge of the field. Advertising should lead to action. Mr. Morgan advised to avoid extremes. Gentle rain "Ads." on one hand, and gigantic fire sales on the other, were not good advertising. By employing local papers home merchants will get considerable of the business which is otherwise attracted to the big cities.

Mr. Morgan and Secretary Bromley outlined the course in advertising which it is proposed to start about Jan. 1.

FALSE RETURNS WERE ALLEGED

Dr. John H. Anderson of Quincy pleaded guilty to a charge of making false returns on insurance papers and was fined $100 by Judge Avery this morning. Sentence was suspended to Dec. 14, 1914.

The charge was the result of the investigation of Arthur Keating, a state police officer, who charges that Dr. Anderson signed applications of insurance when informed by the agent that the applicant was in good health and did not make a personal examination as required by law.

Five complaints were lodged against him, four of which were placed on file.

One complaint charges that being an examining physician for the Boston Mutual Insurance Co., of Boston he did knowingly and willfully make a false and fradulent statement and representation in reference to the application for life insurance by one James H. McNeil. The company writes industrial insurance.

OFFICIAL VISITATION.

Quincy Loyal Orange Lodge received an official visitation Tuesday evening from State Grand Master Robert Rogers of Boston who was accompanied by John Porter of Boston of the grand lodge. The meeting was held in Protection hall and was well attended. One application was received and plans made for the installation of officers in January. The election will take place Dec. 16 and effort will be made to have a large attendance.

DISTRICT COURT.

Costantino Cossi was fined $25 on a charge of assault and battery, committed Monday, and $10 for drunkenness this morning. He was arrested shortly after the assault occurred on a warrant, and admitted to bail. Dominick Chivioaroli his bondsman was arrested on a default warrant issued last Spring and was fined $75.

Charles Cummings a veteran of Post 88 G. A. R. leaves Friday for the sunny south to spend the winter.

BABYHOOD OF TELEPHONE

Interesting Talk Before Wollaston Club

What will doubtless go down as one of the notable meetings of the Wollaston Unitarian club took place Tuesday evening when Thomas A. Watson, co-inventor with Alexander Graham Bell of the first telephone delivered an address on "The birth and babyhood of the telephone."

Intensely dramatic was the telling of the incidents of that famous June 2, 1875 when the secret of the telephone was happened upon. Mr. Watson said in part:

"I realize now what a lucky boy I was when at 13 years of age, I had to go to work for my living. After trying several vocations I at last found just the job that suited me in the electrical workshop of Charles Willams at 109 Court street, Boston.

"My promotion was rapid and before two years had passed I had tried my skill on about all the regular work of the establishment.

"Besides the regular work at Williams, there was a constant stream of wild-eyed inventors coming to the shop to have their ideas tried out in brass and iron.

"My enthusiasm and perhaps my sympathetic nature made me a favorite workman with those men of visions and in 1873-4 my work had become largely making experimental apparatus.

"One day when I was hard at work a tall, slender, quick-motioned man, with pale face, black side-whiskers and drooping moustache, big nose and high sloping forehead crowned with bushy jet black hair came rushing over to my work bench.

"It was Alexander Graham Bell whom I saw for the first time. He was bringing to me a piece of mechanism I had made for him, but not as directed. It was a receiver and transmitter of his harmonic telegraph with which he intended to win fame and fortune. It was a simple affair by which he expected to send six or eight Morse telegraph messages over a single wire at the same time.

"I made half a dozen pairs of these instruments for Bell but they did not work. But the spring of 1875 was the dark hour just before the dawn.

"On the afternoon of June 2, 1875 we were hard at work on the same old job, testing some modification of the instruments. Things were badly out of tune that afternoon in that hot garret, not only the instruments, but. I fancy, my enthusiasm and my temper, though Bell was as energetic as ever.

"I had charge of the transmitters as usual setting them squealing one after another, while Bell was retuning the receiver springs one by one, pressing them against his ear. One of the transmitter springs, I was attending to stopped vibrating and I plucked it to start again.

"It didn't start and I kept on plucking it, when suddenly I heard a shout from Bell in the next room, and then out he came with a rush, demanding, 'What did you do then? Don't change anything! Let me see!'

"I showed him. It was very simple. The make and break points of the transmitter spring I was trying to start had become welded together, so that when I snapped the spring the circuit had remained unbroken while that strip of magnetized steel by its vibration over the pole of its magnet, was generating that marvelous conception of Bell's—a current of electricity that varied in intensity precisely as the air was varying in density within hearing distance of that spring.

The speaking telephone was born at that moment. All the experimenting that followed the discovery, up to the time the telephone was put into practical use was largely a matter of working out details.

We spent a few hours verifying the discovery and before we parted that night Bell gave me directions for making the first electric speaking telephone.

"I followed these directions and had the instrument ready for its trial the very next day. I made every part of the first telephone myself, but I didn't realize while I was working on it what a tremendously important piece of work I was doing.

"For the test I ran a wire down two flights to the third floor where William's main shop was. I got more satisfaction from the experiment than Mr. Bell, for shout my best, I could not make him hear me, but I could hear his voice and almost catch the words.

"I rushed upstairs and told him what I had heard. It was enough to show him that he was on the right track and before he left that night he gave me directions for several improvements in the telephones I was to have ready for the next trial.

"It was not until the following March that I heard a complete and intelligible sentence. The first message of the telephone was "Mr. Watson, please come here, I want you."

Perhaps if Mr. Bell had realized he was about to make a bit of history, he would have been prepared with a more sounding and interesting sentence.

"In the summer of 1876 the telephone was talking fairly well and Bell decided to make an exhibit at the Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia.

Progress was rapid and on October 9, 1876 we got permision from the Walworth Manufacturing Company to use their private telegraph wire running from Boston to Cambridge, about two miles long."

Mr. Watson related the rapid growth in popularity, of the money secured for further work by giving telephone entertainments with Watson at one end a score of miles away, the other end in a hall where Bell was lecturing.

Several inventions and improvements of the telephone that followed were described.

"My connection with the telephone business," said Mr. Watson, "ceased in 1881. A doctor told me after the strenuous years I had passed through I needed a change and had better go abroad.

"When I returned a year later I found so many better men doing the work I had been doing that I never cared to go into it again.

"I was looking for more trouble and so went into shipbuilding, where I found all I needed.

"Such is my very inadequate story of the earliest days of the telephone so far as they made part of my life.

"Today when I go into a central office or talk over a long distance wire my greatest pride is that I am one of the great army of telephone men, every one of whom has played his part in making the Bell telephone service what it is today."

QUINCY MAN FOUND NOT GUILTY

A jury of the Superior Court returned a verdict of not guilty at Dedham Tuesday in the case of Guiseppe Catto of South Quincy, charged with unlawfully soliciting orders for liquor. Catto was summoned into court by Inspector Goodhue and Judge Avery imposed a fine of $50 and recomended an appeal. A similar charge against A. Fontano, B. Tamburrini, F. D. DiBona and Luigi DiBona was continued pending this verdict. They will probably be disposed o this week.

The case was submitted to Judge Raymond on an agreed statement of fact between Assistant District Attorney Fred G. Katzman and J. J. McAnarney, counsel for the defense. In directing the jury to return a verdict of not guilty Judge Raymond ruled that soliciting, properly defined must be for the benefit of the dealer. This defendant was not acting for the dealer but simply for a lower price for members of a society.

The case was brought under an old law on which a ruling had never been made. It is intensely interesting to residents of this city.

GRAND ROYAL ARCH CHAPTER

At the annual meeting of the Grand Chapter, Royal Arch Chapter, held at the Temple in Boston Tuesday Ex. Eugene A. Holton of Boston, was elected Grand High Priest. Among the other officers elected was Ex. Walter E. Piper of Quincy, who was elected as Grand Master of the First Veil. Ex. Bernard B. Winslow of Brockton was appointed by the Grand High Priest. Among the other officers elected was Ex. Walter E. Piper of Quincy who was elected as Grand Master of the First Veil. Ex. Bernard B. Winslow of Brockton was appointed by the Grand High Priest as District Deputy Grand Master of the 7th Capitular district which includes St. Stephen's chapter of Quincy.

The annual reports showed that 1428 had been admitted to membership during the past year and that the membership of the state was 24,165.

FOREST NOTES.

—Twenty states have published reports of their wood-using industries.

—It is predicted that western yellow pine will furnish an excellent source of turpentine as the southern pine becomes exhausted.

—The Philippine bureau of forestry uses a launch for service between islands. The U. S. forest service employs several, both on inland lakes and in salt water, in Alaska and Florida.

VACCINATE BY FORCE

Five Hundred "Guests" at Municipal Lodging House Put Up Fight

Chicago, Dec. 10.—Five hundred highly incensed "guests" of the Municipal lodging house at 162 North Union avenue, after four hours of turbulence, were vaccinated. Some fled to the fire escapes, but were shooed back by the police.

When the commotion had been slightly suppressed, the six doctors arrived and entered the lodging house. The guests were informed that one of their number, Frank Wolters, had been seized with smallpox and that it was necessary for the health of the community to vaccinate everybody who had known, or associated with him. An outburst followed, but the guests were finally "lined up" and doctors became active.

MANY WINDOWS BROKEN

Stone Throwers Make Trouble at Lawrence Mills

Lawrence, Mass., Dec. 10.—Many windows at the Kunhardt mill and the Farwell bleachery, where the boile firemen have been on strike for a few weeks. were broken by stone throwers.

Nicholas O'Neil, formerly a fireme at the Pacific mills, was arrested i connection with the trouble.

In the police court O'Neil pleade not guilty to complaints of malicious mischief, and the hearing was continued till Dec. 11. He was release on $300 bail.

Lawrence Striker Shot

Lawrence, Mass., Dec. 10.—Whil William Townsend, a striking fire man was standing on a street corner he was hit in the hand by a bullet apparently from an automobile truc which was conveying strike breaker to the Pacific mills. No arrests wer made.

Tuberculosis Cured by Garlic

New York, Dec. 10.—Garlic as a cure for tuberculosis has demonstrated its superiority over fifty-two other medicines in tests made on 1000 patients at the Metropolitian hospital here, according to physicians at the institution.

STRUCK BY TRAIN

Dr. Huntington of Amesbury Killed at Newburyport

Newburyport, Mass., Dec. 10.—Dr. T. M. Huntington, an oculist, with an office at 34 Fair street this city, was struck by a freight train in the yard of the Boston and Maine station and instantly killed.

No one saw the accident. The body was not discovered until the train had passed through. How he came to get under the train is not known, as the point where he was struck is some distance away from the station and a part of the yard over which there is no travel.

Dr. Huntington was about 65 years of age, and his home was in Amesbury, but he had spent much of his time for years past in Cuba, coming here for the winter season. He leaves a wife. He was the son of William Huntington, one of the old families of Amesbury

Satisfying a Customer Carried to an Extreme

By HOLLAND.

A WOMAN who bought a dress which she found was not just what she wanted went with it to one of the biggest stores in the world and said it did not suit her. She wanted her money back, but explained that she had lost the sales slip. The sum she claimed was given to her.

Two days later she found the sales slip and discovered that she had not bought the dress at the store to which she had taken it, but had bought it at a rival establishment. She went to the store and explained.

"We knew you had not bought the dress here," explained the manager, "but you were palpably dissatisfied with it, and our aim is to satisfy all our customers. If we have impressed on your mind the fact that we are more than fair we are satisfied. We covet nothing more than such a reputation as we are sure you will give us."

Many will think that this was carrying fairness too far. Perhaps it was, but it was done by the greatest retail merchant of this age, one whose name is known wherever the English language is spoken and whose expenditures for advertising run up to a million dollars a year.

Successful advertisers know that satisfied customers are an invaluable asset. You have an advantage in dealing with the liberal advertisers.

Walter E. Simmons of Wollaston continues very weak from his serious illness but is slowly improving.

☞Get your white wrapping paper for Christmas gifts at the Ledger-Patriot office. Come early and avoid the rush. Large sheets 2 cents each. By the dozen 20 cents.

FOR A

Christmas Present

NOTHING COULD BE BETTER THAN

A QUINCY HISTORY

EACH YEAR THE HISTORY OF

OLD BRAINTREE AND QUINCY

WRITTEN BY

W. S. PATTEE, M. D.

AND PUBLISHED IN 1878

GROWS MORE VALUABLE, AS IT CONTAINS HISTORICAL DATA ABOUT QUINCY THAT CANNOT BE OBTAINED ELSEWHERE

$3.50 PER COPY

FOR SALE BY

GEO. W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.

1424 HANCOCK STREET

QUINCY

NEWSY BRIEFS

Dr. H. A. Jones, dentist of Faxon avenue has rented the G. L. Gill house on Maple street and will occupy as soon as improvements are made.

The education committee of the Riverside club is to give a hurdy gurdy party the afternoon of Dec. 31.

John Palisi of 263 Copeland street while cranking his automobile Saturday had the misfortune to break his right wrist.

Arthur Herbert, youngest son of Mrs. Laura Leslie has recently enlisted in the United States navy. Mrs. Leslie and her sons are to visit him at Newport, Thursday.

Alpha hall will be the scene of a pretty party on New Years evening under the auspices of the T. W. E. T. C. Club, composed of well known young men of the city. The affair will be the first held by the club and a large list of invitations has been sent out by the members.

Miss Olive Marcelle, a graduate nurse of the Quincy Hospital who has been nursing in a New York hospital for several months returned to this city a few days ago for an operation for appendicitis on Monday at the Quincy Hospital. She is resting as comfortably as can be expected.

Mrs. George W. Abele of Presidents lane, opens her house tomorrow afternoon for an art lecture under the auspices of the arts and crafts committee of the Quincy Women's club, being the second in the series on home decoration. The speaker Francis W. Hight will have as his subject Architecture. Mrs. Abele is to furnish a special musical program previous to the lecture which promises to be a pleasant feature.

A Merry Xmas to all.

When buying Pianos or Musical Instruments see

JOHNSEN

6 Chestnut Street, Quincy

Pianos from $10 up

Dec. 8-12t

Call Quincy 501--W

if you want your furniture, mattresses and cushions repaired in good order at low prices M. MIRKIN, upholsterer, 1060 Hancock street near the Quincy High School.

Dec.1-1m

LEWIS N. CURTIS,

PAINTER and GLAZIER.

LEADED STAINED GLASS.

DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER

OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.

Orchard Place, off Spear street, Quincy

REMARKABLE RECOVERY.

According to J. E. Hamilton, of 259 Chautuaqua avenue, Point Norfolk, Virginia, his four year old son has been transformed from a seemingly hopeless invalid into a healthy youth in six weeks time by the turtle vaccine treatment of Dr. Friedmann. Mr. Hamilton who was formerly employed and lived in Quincy moved to Point Norfolk a little over a year ago and says that shortly afterward his son developed a tubercular condition of the right hip. The disease progressed rapidly and the child was soon helpless and unable to turn in bed without help. Tubercular glands were also forming in the neck and as last resort Mr. Hamilton brought the patient on a cot to the Friedmann Institute in New York. "I had despaired of recovery for my son," said Mr. Hamilton "but at the urgent request of a relative brought him here. He was given the first injection of the vaccine six weeks ago. For a week he did not show any improvement in fact he seemed to be worse, but at the beginning of the second week his appetite picked up. "As this was an encouraging sign I consented to allow the child to remain at the Institute another week and then it was noticed that the wound in his hip was beginning to close. Two weeks later the wound had entirely healed leaving only a red scar and the child was able to leave his bed. He has now gained 9 pounds and I consider him completely recovered."

Too Late For Classification

TO LET—Tenement 4 rooms and bath all improvements, set range. Vacant Jan. 1, 1914. Apply 180 Franklin street. 10-6t

TO LET—With private family, desirable room with modern conveniences. Address "R," Ledger office or telephone Quincy, 1796-W. 10-6t

TO LET—Tenement of 6 rooms, all improvements. Rent only $18.75, C. W. Guy, 42 Butler road, near High school. 10-tf

WANTED—Cooks, kitchen, general second, parlor, chamber maids, also housekeeper, first class places, good wages. L. M. Flynn, oldest employment office in city, 1535 Hancock street Tel. 2235-W, Quincy. 10-3t

LOST—A black leather travelling case, between Adams Academy and Norfolk Downs by way of Wollaston car line. Return to Pneumatic Scales Corporation, Norfolk Downs. Reward assured. 10-tf

DEATHS

SANDISON—In Quincy, December 8, John Sandison in his 55th year. Funeral services at late home, 33 McDonald street, Thursday, Dec. 11, at 2.30 P. M. Relatives and friends invited. 9-2t

SAVAGE—In Quincy, December 9, Newman A. Savage in his 59th year. Funeral services at the residence 181 Franklin street, Friday at 2 o'clock. 10-1t

Established 1870 Telephone

JOHN HALL

FUNERAL DIRECTOR

Carriage and Ambulance Service

1485 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass.

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

LARGEST GUARANTEED CIRCULATION IN THE CITY

Vol. 28 No. 287 QUINCY MASS. THURSDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 11 1913 PRICE TWO CENTS

MASONS ELECT GRAND MASTER

Membership of State Now 65,697 With 225 Lodges

An unusual tribute was paid Melvin M. Johnson at the annual communication of the Grand Lodge of Masons at Masonic Temple, Boston, Wednesday when he received 551 votes which meant his unanimous election as Grand Master.

The annual report of the retiring Grand Master, Everett C. Benton showed that there were 255 lodges in Massachusetts with a membership of 65,697 a net gain of 2,407 during the past year. Six new lodges had been constituted and others were under dispensation.

In alluding to the Masonic Home the Grand Master said that the lodges of the state had contributed $16,040 as a result of visitations by deputies during the past term.

During the business session charters were granted to Sojourner lodge in the Canal zone and to Mt. Orthodox lodge of Springfield. Walter S. Pinkham of Wollaston District Deputy Grand Master of the 26th Masonic district was among the deputies registered.

NEW TELEPHONE SUBSCRIBERS.

Following are the subscribers connected with the Quincy Exchange for the week ending Dec. 10.

111-W Dennen, J. W., 75 Adams St.
2042-M New Adams School, Independence avenue.
2296-M Pitts, Catherine E., Mrs. 968 Hancock street.
158-3 Theimann, Smith P., Wollaston
843-W Wright, L. P., Wollaston.
1417-M Griffin, Frank J., 44 Faxon Road.
1664-M Brown, James G., 206 Highland Avenue.

MONSTER
MOTION PICTURE PLAY
SEASON'S BIG SUCCESS
7 REEL FILM
ADVENTURE--COMEDY--ROMANCE
TOM SLADE
THE BOY SCOUT HERO
AN EVENING OF SOLID ENJOYMENT
QUINCY MUSIC HALL
FRIDAY, DECEMBER 12
AT 8 P. M.
ADMISSION 25 CENTS
Dec. 11-2t

EDMONSTON'S
Goodyear Shoe Repairing
Cor. Maple and Chestnut Streets
Anything from an EYELET to a WHOLE SOLE
Dec. 11-3t

QUINCY MUSIC HALL
SATURDAY MATINEE and NIGHT
VAUDEVILLE and MOVING PICTURES
2 Reel Feature
"THE MASTER CRACKSMAN"
Dec. 11-3t

VERDICT FOR INSURANCE CO.

Wins Suit For Conversion of Check for $31,402

A verdict for the Quincy Mutual Fire Insurance Co., in the sum of $31,402 was ordered by Judge White in the Superior court Wednesday, in its suit against the International Trust Co., for the conversion of a check given in payment of a forged note of the town of Framingham.

The note was one of a number forged by the town treasurer, John B. Lombard, who was sentenced to state prison some time ago.

LIVELY BLAZE AT ATLANTIC

The alarm from Box 61 at 9.03 Wednesday night sent the apparatus flying to 365 Hancock street formerly occupied by Herbert S. Barker but now occupied by D. M. Ennis. The fire started among some goods stored on an enclosed piazza. Just what started the blaze is not known, but although quite a lively blaze at the start the department made short work of it. The loss will not exceed $25.

NATIONAL FORESTERS.

Quincy Branch of the Irish National Foresters have elected the following officers for the year:

Chief Ranger—Thomas Rogan.
Vice Chief Ranger—J. Morrisey, Sr.
Treasurer—James M. Cantfill.
Financial Secretary—Daniel Scully.
Recording Secretary—Richard J. Gray.
Senior Woodward--Martin O'Shaughnessey.
Junior Woodward—Cornelius Driscoll.
Senior Beadle—John Curry.
Junior Beadle—James Kelly.
Trustees—Daniel Drohan, James Kelly, Martin O'Shaughnessey.
Physician—Dr. John H. Ash.
Auditing committee—Joseph Cavanaugh, M. Tracy, M. O'Brien.
Arbitrative committee—Edward McGinty, J. F. Morrisey, Jr., F. Clinton, John Bryan, Daniel J. Donahue.

The children and young people of the Methodist church, Atlantic, gave a unique entertainment in the vestry Tuesday evening. The literary part of the program was most creditable. At the close of the program the young people clustered about the candy tables and a social time was enjoyed.

BILL TO ALLOW SUNDAY WORK

Home Farmers Interested in Proposed Bill

The business man who finds little time for recreation, but who delights in his litle back yard garden, will be interested in the petition that has just been filed with the legislature by Representative Beck of Chelsea, which provides that it shall be lawful for any man, who maintains a garden appurtenant to his home, for the purpose of raising flowers, fruit or vegetables for the use of his household and not for sale, to work in the same on Sundays.

Under the present law it is unlawful to do any work on Sunday except that which is absolutely necessary and then a permit for such work must be obtained from the Chief of Police.

If the proposed petition should be enacted into a law, one may expect to see the amateur farmer spending his spare time on Sundays next summer trying to get the best of weeds and the almost hundred kinds of bugs that make the life of the home farmer miserable.

FIRE DEPT. PROMOTIONS

Competitive Examinations Necessary After Jan. 1.

Under a new ruling of the Civil Service Commission there will be no more promotions in the fire department service in cities other than Boston without a competitive examination and by successive grades. Up to the previous time it has been the rule of the Civil Service Commission to allow the promotion of a man of a lower rank to a higher rank by a non competitive examination. That is the appointing power in a city has named the man he desired to appoint, which man has simply taken a non competitive examination and then been promoted. After the first of January however if there is a vacancy it must be filled by a competitive examination of the men eligible to appointment to that position. This is a much fairer way as under the present rule it was possible for the man with a pull with the appointing officer to be jumped from the ranks over other men to an official position.

CORNELL—GULBRANSON.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pierce Gulbranson, East Milton Wednesday evening, their daughter Edna was united in marriage to Sidney Cornell. The service was solemnized by Rev. John Cornell of New York, a cousin of the bridegroom, assisted by Rev. Edward C. Boynton, pastor of the East Milton Congregational church.

The bride wore cream charmeuse with long square train and overdress of point lace with pearl ornaments. The tulle veil was arranged cap fashion with a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. Miss Clara Ripley of Dorchester was maid of honor. She wore rose pink charmeuse trimmed with silver lace and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Edward S. Cornell, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Eleanor W. Cornell, sister of the bridegroom, was flower girl and Bamford E. Rogers, cousin of the bride, was the page. The ushers were Thomas L. and John Cornell, brothers of the bridegroom. The house was decorated in keeping with the season, Christmas greens being used profusely, also pink roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Cornell will live at Mt. Vernon, N. Y.

☞White wrapping paper for doing up your Christmas gifts can be obtained at the Ledger-Patriot office for 20 cents a dozen sheets or by the single sheet at 2 cents per sheet.

HIAWATHA'S WEDDING FEAST

Quincy Choral Society Presents Fine Program

The Quincy Choral Society gave its seventh concert Wednesday evening to an audience that comfortably filled the hall of Quincy High school. What was lacking in numbers was present in enthusiasm and applause was given generously. The affair was the annual fall concert of the society and precedes the spring presentation of "The Elijah," by Mendlessohn.

This was the first time that the society had rendered a varied program, the custom being since its organization to give oratorios or opera. The difficult task of pleasing an audience of cosmopolitan tastes was hardly accomplished but the unusual merit of the program presented made up in many ways for the distinctive numbers.

The chorus with Miss Florence G. Olney as accompanist, did exceptionally well and all times was strong on attack, particularly in the "Regina Coeli," of Mascagni, which was rendered with much spirit and voice while none of the distinctive harmonies were shaded by a too heavy soprano chorus.

Much praise was bestowed on George S. Dunham, conductor, after the concert for the fine manner in which he has trained his chorus which speaks for the splendid results attained during the past months.

The society was assisted by Arthur K. Hackett tenor and the Brockton Philharmonic orchestra.

The first part of the program opened with three dances from Henry VIII, "the Morris, Shepherds and Torch" dances, played by the orchestra. "Kremers chorus song of Thanksgiving" followed after which the orchestra gave the "Andante Cantabile of Tschaikowsky" from string Quartet Op. 11. The rendering of the "Indian Mountain Song," of Charles Wakefield Cadman by a ladies' chorus was one of the most pleasing features of the evening.

Arthur Hackett sang a group of tenor songs for which he was loudly applauded. "The Spirit Flower," by Campbell-Tipton, "The Pine tree," by Mary Turner Salter and "Tell Me Charming Creature," (old English melody) by Lane-Wilson were his contributions and the first part closed with the singing of "Regina Coeli," from Cavalleria Rusticana by the chorus.

The second part of the program was the singing of the "Hiawatha's Wedding Feast," by S. Coleridge-Taylor in which Mr. Hackett sang the awakening song. The narrative has entirely to do with the preparations made for the wedding feast, its being served the guests and the amusement provided after the repast had been disposed of. With the exception of the awakening by Mr. Hackett there were no solo parts, all the feast intending to demonstrate the perfection of a chorus, and who is to say, after hearing the singers that they possessed no charm of voice or manner.

Guarantors of the Choral society are: Brooks Adams, Redfield Allen, Mrs. Walter E. Burke, Albert L. Barbour, William R. Bateman, George H. Brown, Clarence Burgin, Richard D. Chase, D. L. F. Chase, H. Everett Crane, Joseph Dasha, Mrs. W. B. Doble, Herbert T. Drake, Ernest L. Collins, H. N. Crane, Henry M. Faxon, Thomas Fenno, Dr. John A. Gordon, Otho A. Hayward, Charles C. Hearn, Dr. N. S. Hunting, Charles H. Johnson, Delcevare King, Theophilus King, F. P. Larkin, Dr. C. J. Lynch, Mrs. Herbert Lawton, Victor E. Miller, Dr. James H. Maloney, Edward J. Parker, Mrs. Wm. B. Rice, Harry L. Rice, Joseph A. Sedgwick, William G. Shaw, Mrs. Eben W. Sheppard, Frederick H. Smith, Eugene R. Stone, Thomas Swithin, George A. Sidelinger, Chandler W. Smith, John E. Sprague, Jonathan Swingle, Arthur S. Townsend, William R. Thomas, Arthur L. Thomas, Rev. Rufus B. Tobey, L. Dowley Williams, T. L. Williams, Mrs. Geo. H. Wilson, Mrs. Dexter E. Wadsworth, Rev. Benj. Willmott and James F. Young.

Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

NORWOLL CLUB ENTERTAINMENT

Presents an Original Black Face Sketch

An original black face entertainment entitled "Uncle Joe's birthday" by members of the Norwoll club drew a large crowd to the vestry of the Park and Downs church Wednesday evening on the opening night. The sketch was filled with songs and dances, jokes and local hits that kept the audience ago from start to finish.

The scene opens in the humble cabin of Uncle Joe who is drowsing over his newspaper at the open fire. Singing is heard in the distance and the old man listens. It comes nearer and in troop a crowd of neighboring darkies to pay Uncle Joe a visit on his eighty-fourth birthday. Songs and stories result and at the close of the evening the darkies troop away singing as they go. The performance concluded with a medley of the various songs sung.

Among the musical numbers were "Tom Bigbee River" by Artemus Dingwell, "When Uncle Joe plays ragtime on his old banjo" by Percy Carter, "My old Virginia home" by Frank Dunham, "Cubanola Glide" by William Jackson, "Million Dollar Doll," by Stanley Smith, trio "Massa's in the cold, cold ground" by Messrs Painten, Crichton and Dingwell, "Alabam" by Allen Painten, "Some week, sometime —not now" by Edwin Brown, concluding with "Old Black Joe" by Clark Crichton, "He'd have to get under—get out and get under" by Edwin Brown and the medley with "Dixie" by the chorus.

The character part "Uncle Joe" was taken with rare skill by Clark Crichton while Artemus Dingwell made a typical darkey "parson." The dialect of the others was good, the cast including: William Dixon, Edwin Brown, Percy Carter, Allen Painten, Alexander MacTear, Frank Dunham, Ralph Green, Robert Hall , William Jackson and Stanley Smith.

Miss Freda Klingenhagen was the accompanist.

WORKMAN LOSES HIS RIGHT EYE

N. Abraham, 28 Winter street had his right eye removed at the Eye and Ear Infirmary at Boston this morning as the result of being struck by a steel chip while walking along the deck of the Nevada which is under construction at the Fore River shipyard. He was treated at the Red Cross hospital by Dr. W. F. Blanchard who later removed him to Boston.

GLANVILL OLSEN.

Glanvill Olsen, son of Capt. and Mrs. Neil Olsen was interred in St. Mary's cemetery this afternoon in the presence of the immediate family and their friends. The child was four years and five months old and died Tuesday morning. The funeral was held from the home of the parents, 35 Dysart street.

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

The Song Shop wishes you a Merry Christmas
Pianos $100 and up
Easy Terms or Cash
Hallett & Davis Piano Co.
Sheet Music. Postal Cards
M. B. & C. W. BAHR,
AGENTS,
1291 Hancock Street
Dec. 11-6t

Gould's Orchestra
Concert, Reception and Dance Work Solicited
Address Communications to
ALICE G. GOULD, Director
15 Willow St., East Braintree
Dec. 11-6t-o-12-1w

HONORS COMING TO COUNCILMAN

Councilman Duffy President of Eagles and Law Class

Councilman Frank J. Duffy was elected president of John Adams Aerie of Eagles Wednesday night at the largest meeting held since the aerie was instituted. This is the second executive position conferred on Mr. Duffy this week, his class mates at the Boston Y. M. C. A. Evening Law school choosing him as their vice-president on Monday evening.

A delegation from the aerie of Augusta, Maine, were the visitors of the evening and they extended invitations to the local members to return the visit at any time.

Twenty-four applications for membership were received and a class initiation is planned for January. The installation of officers will take place Dec. 23, one day earlier than the regular date on account of the closeness of the Christmas holiday.

A committee has been appointed to make all the arrangements for the annual ball which will be given in Alpha hall on Feb. 19. The officers chosen were:

Worthy President—Frank J. Duffy.
Worthy Vice President—John C. Faircloth.
Chaplain—Frank Lynch.
Financial Secretary—Henry J. Langelier.
Secretary—Edward S. Welsh.
Inside Guard—Hugh J. McLeod.
Outside Guard—Edward S. Shaw.
Trustees—George P. Woodman, one year, Charles M. Lister, two years, Charles Casna, three years.
Past Worthy President—John J. Felley.
Retiring Past Worthy President—James J. Mellen.
Physician—Dr. John T. Reynolds.

REPORT HE HAS ENTERED SUIT

It was reported this morning that Dr. John H. Ash, whose name was used in a Boston paper Wednesday evening, in a court case, instead of the correct name, has entered suit against that paper. The case was that of Dr. John H. Anderson who was fined in the district court for making false returns on insurance papers. The paper in question published the story that Dr. John H. Ash, City Physician was the man fined. In view of Dr. Ash's recent prominence in the municipal election where he was a candidate for Mayor the publication of the article created considerable excitement.

NOTICE.

IF THE PERSON WHO TOOK A LADY'S HANDBAG FROM BETHANY CHAPEL, DEC. 10, WILL RETURN SAME TO THIS OFFICE BEFORE DEC. 13 THEY WILL AVOID MUCH TROUBLE. 11-1t.

WONDER WHERE THEY RESIDE

Question if it is Goffee St or Presidents Lane

People residing on the easterly slope of Presidents Hill are wondering just where they live. Whether it is on Goffe street or on Presidents Lane. For this reason orders placed with engravers for crests for stationery are being held up. For a number of years the street running from Adams to Granite street has been hailed and known as Goffe street. Some months ago however the City Council was petitioned to change the name to Presidents Lane. A public hearing was held and much ink has been used in communications for and against the proposed change.

Eventually however the order changing the name passed the City Council and is now before the Mayor awaiting his approval or his disapproval. Until he makes up his mind, residents in that section of the city will be kept in suspense as to just what street they reside on.

The Mayor has ten days after the order reached him in which to make up his mind what to do and from what can be learned at City Hall he is giving the matter his serious consideration.

DIVISION 5, A. O. H.

The annual election of officers of Div 5, A. O. H. was held in Hibernian hall Wednesday evening and John J. Donohue was elected president. He is youngest president the division has ever had. The meeting was largely attended. The officers chosen were:

President—John J. Donahue.
Vice President—Timothy Sullivan.
Recording Secretary—James M. Cantfill.
Financial Secretary — Martin O'Shaughnessey.
Treasurer—Edward Powers.
Sergeant at Arms—Daniel Donahue.
Sentry—Thomas Cotter.
Standing committee—Daniel Mannix, Timothy Cremins, Daniel Ahearn, Francis Clinton, Timothy Coughlin.
Physician—Dr. George M. Sheahan.

A Merry Xmas to all.
When buying Pianos or Musical Instruments see
JOHNSEN
6 Chestnut Street, Quincy
Pianos from $10 up
Dec. 8-12t

SPECIAL
for THURSDAY and FRIDAY
ROMATIC WAFERS
20c Value
15c Pound
SUGAR PEAS
12 1-2c Value
10c Can
Adams Market R. E. FOY & CO. Water St. Market

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second-Class matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the . . . .

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

TELEPHONES
News . . . Quincy 425
Business . . Quincy 1910

NOTICE

Again we ask those sending news or other matter by mail to direct it to the company or newspaper rather than to individual members of the company or employees. If addressed to individuals and they were ill or not at the office, it might be several days in reaching its proper destination and if news matter would be too late for use.

A great many people don't attend church nowadays, as they pay their minister to look after such details.

The Congressmen have got to pay a 1 per cent income tax. It was a great oversight not to provide for their own exemption.

There are many handsome holiday displays in our store merchant's windows, which would awaken great admiration if they were seen on the streets of some distant city.

Another investigation of municipal corruption in New York. Night and day shifts of graft hunters in that city seem to be called for.

Anyway that billion of American money invested in Mexico is furnishing the natives with some jolly bonfires.

Mrs. Pankhurst threatens to return to this country again in 1914, in spite of the difficulty of living in a country where it is customary to eat three meals a day.

Many of the militia boys are hoping to be called to the Mexican border, which would be a pleasant place to spend the winter, with the further prospect that the game covers will be found well stocked with Mexicans.

The European powers were going to wipe the warring Balkan powers off the earth. Actually the most heroic thing they did was to walk up to a letter box and mail letters of advice to the Sultan and others. So they are not likely to do anything very startling down in Mexico.

THE ALMANAC.

Some one dropped a 1914 almanac on the editor's desk the other day. He was about to chuck it into the waste basket, being already provided for in this respect, when an elderly citizen present in the office asked to see the little pamphlet. He remarked that it was not discarded so readily when he was a boy.

He went on to say that in his early home, reading was very scarce. Robert B. Thomas' "Old Farmers' Almanac," still cherished in many homes, used to turn up yearly about Dec. 1, and was greeted with a warm welcome. Everything in the house had been read and re-read. If the almanac was a few days late, his mother, who had a keen and unsatisfied desire for books, began to inquire why Father had not secured the new copy.

This quaint old yellow backed specimen of literature had farm advice for each month of the year, tables of eclipses, and the signs of the zodiac, a department of old fashioned wit and humor, information about the courts and government, and puzzles. According to our caller, it was a thrilling moment when this new stock of literature, fresh from the hand of the printers, reached the home. Great was the competition as to who should have the first reading of it.

Many of the patent medicine companies also used to distribute almanacs having humorous paragraphs and anecdotes, in addition to advertising of their remedies. These productions were full of lugubrious accounts of diseases, and morbid analysis of symptoms. But in a day of scarce literature, they seemed better than nothing, and were eagerly called for at the druggist's.

Almanacs are still issued, but they are largely directories of information. They do not find the hungry desire for reading as of old. A torrent of newspaper and magazine literature pours through our homes. Anything must be new, fresh, and original, or very brilliant, to attract much notice in the wide field of print.

BREAKS FORTY YEARS' RECORD

New Haven Suspends Further Payment of Dividends

DIRECTORS' VOTE UNANIMOUS

As Road Has Paid 5 Percent in Dividends This Year Validity of Proposed Bond Issue as Savings Bank Investment Will Not Be Impaired—Stock Falls to Low Figure of 71½

New York, Dec. 11.—After an unbroken record of forty years as a dividend payer, the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company has finally been forced to the necessity of suspending further disbursements on its $157,000,000 of stock.

This decision was reached, after a protracted meeting of the directors at the Grand Central terminal. The action of the board, while partly foreshadowed by the recent acute weakness of the stock, will come as a shock to thousands of investors, particularly in New England.

It is estimated that not less than $40,000,000 of New Haven stock and bonds, as well as securities of affiliated companies, are held by savings banks and other financial institutions, as well as in estates. This is especially true of Massachusetts and Connecticut, and applies in no small degree to Vermont and New Hampshire.

The action of the directors, most of whom were present, was unanimous.

Inasmuch as the New Haven has already paid 5 percent in dividends during the calendar year now ending, the validity of its proposed bond issue as a savings bank investment will not be impaired. Under the laws of some New England states, savings institutions are prohibited from purchasing the bonds of a corporation whose stock pays less than 4 percent in any calendar year.

Regarding resumption of dividends Chairman Elliott said:

"We are letting the future take care of itself."

New Haven began paying dividends in 1873, and for twenty years thereafter maintained a 10 percent rate. In 1894 it fell to 9 percent; in 1895 to 8 percent, which rate it continued to pay until the early part of this year, when dividends were cut to 6 percent, on the basis of 1½ percent quarterly.

A new low record for the stock was made on the local exchange, when it fell to 71½, or less than one-third of its quoted price a few years ago.

A TRAGIC DEATH

Woman Stricken After Turning on Gas and Baby Asphyxiated

Worcester, Mass., Dec. 11.—Mrs. Susan Wray, 34, and her daughter, Winnifred, 17 months of age, were found dead at their home, 190 Vernon street, victims of a cerebral hemorrhage and gas poisoning. Two young children in a nearby room escaped being poisoned.

Mrs. Wray and the child were found by Mr. Wray when he came home from his work. The bodies were found in Mrs. Wray's bedroom, the child in its crib and Mrs. Wray on the floor in an attitude of prayer.

An examination showed the deaths to have been among the most tragic in the history of the city. Mrs. Wray had probably arisen to do her housework. It being dark, she turned on the gas. Before she could light the gas she had been stricken.

Falling to the floor, unable to move or cry for aid, she was found by her husband, whose arrival was in time to save the other children.

'FAKE S. O. S. CALL

Bureau of Navigation Looking For Man Who Reported Disaster

Washington, Dec. 11.—Suspicion that fake wireless messages may have been sent out by some amateur, reporting disaster on the steamer Rio Grande, has led the bureau of navigation of the department of commerce to start an investigation.

The penalty is fine or imprisonment or both.

The messages were received at New York and Norfolk Sunday night telling of fire aboard the Rio Grande and saying 197 passengers had been taken off the vessel and later returned.

Finally came messages from the Mallory line officials saying the Rio Grande carried no passengers. The arrival of the ship at Brunswick branded the message as a fake.

No Trace of Missing Barge

Providence, Dec. 11.—No tidings of the barge Francis S. Hampshire, which parted from her tow off Block island, was received here and the craft and her three men were practically given up as lost. The tug Scully and the revenue cutter Gresham cruised around off Block island but could find no trace of the missing vessel.

Decree In White Mountain Reserve

Concord, N. H., Dec. 11.—Judge Edgar Aldrich in the United States district court has filed a decree in the condemnation proceedings for national forest reserve lands in the White mountains, whereby the Pike Woodlands company and others are paid $93,709.15 for 7,072.09 acres.

BANFF LECTURE.

Plans for a New Year's eve supper and entertainment were made at the regular meeting of the Squantum Improvement association in the Vacation House, Squantum, Tuesday night. There was a large attendance and a most enjoyable hour followed the business meeting when Herman Berghaus, a member of the association, who passed four months this summer at Banff in the Canadian rockies, told of his trip and of conditions in the great Northwest.. There was discussion regarding asking the new Quincy City Council to accept Huckins avenue and Bellevue road; the matter of telephone contracts and charges; additional train service; and the raising of funds for winter meetings.

The meeting opened at 8 o'clock with President Herbert A. Smith in the chair. Reports of Secretary James Foster and Treasurer Charles Bostwick were read and accepted. Rev. T. W. Davison, of the Atlantic Memorial church who conducts weekly services in Squantum, spoke of the need of greater social interest in the community. He said that Squantum had just been through a hot political fight and was now well represented in the City Council. He said that social affairs for the interest of everyone should be promoted by the Improvement association and by the Women's club. "The Squantum Improvement association has gained the reputation of being the most progressive organization of its kind in Quincy. You do not appoint committees and then never hear from them again. You call them to account. Squantum took the initiative in securing a special car for high school pupils which has proven a great advantage to both Squantum and Atlantic." He suggested that the association arrange for some general good time on New Year's eve. He was heartily applauded.

James Hagan seconded the suggestion of Mr. Davison. He said that Squantum had been through a hot political battle but it should be the proudest moment in Squantum's life," that she has two representatives in the Quincy City Council. "I believe we should have more sociability and the only way to bring this about is in just such gatherings as Mr. Davison has suggested. Let that social feeling extend beyond the borders of Squantum. Let us extend the hand of good fellowship to all."

A motion was made and adopted that a committee be appointed to arrange for a supper and entertainment on New Year's eve and that a charge of 25 cents per person be made. President Smith appointed the following committee—Rev. Mr. Davison, chairman; Charles Bostwick, Warren Fifield, J. H. Sumner and James Foster.

John H. Loughan, chairman of the street committee, said the time was now ripe to get a petition in shape to present to the new city council. He said he felt that Squantum would surely get the appropriation it deserved for street improvement this year if the matter was properly presented. There was considerable discussion as to how the matter should be presented and it was finally decided that the street committee take the matter up for action.

Criticism was made of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company charging Squantum telephone users $4 annually as a mileage charge. It was stated that in the past five years Squantum people had certainly paid enough to cover the entire cost of installation of service in this community without the added rate of $4 a year being kept up. This was said to be an unjust tax upon Squantum people. It was voted that a committee of three be appointed to take the matter up, W. N. Kenyon, chairman, Charles Bostwick and John Jepson.

Mr. Berghaus was then introduced and amid hearty applause began his talk on his western trip. He said in part—"I had heard much of the golden West but I found it is a place for the young man and not a middle aged man who has been a New Englander for 33 years. There is too much roughing it for the older man in the West. It is a young man's country. When I found it was 60 degrees below zero at times and that you had to go 100 miles for a load of wood I decided it was no place for me. Squantum never looked so good to me before.

"In the far Canadian West everything is controlled by the Canadian Pacific railroad. They sell everything from a three weeks old ham sandwich to immense tracts of lands and the most expensive furs. In one place where the people of a village did not do as the railroad wanted them to, the railroad moved their tracks 50 miles away. But the people put their homes on wheels and followed the railroad.

"On the trip from Boston the ride to Montreal and to Toronto is beautiful. But along the shores of Lake Superior we travelled for 500 miles seeing nothing but hills, woods and water. We arrived at Winnipeg and found a beautiful city with handsome wide streets, electric lights and all improvements. Then came an 800 mile ride to Calgary over land that was almost perfectly flat, with not a tree in sight. Little places were scattered along about 100 miles apart. I saw no birds, no animals except the prairie dog. Calgary is a beautiful place and is destined to be the Chicago or the Kansas City of the Northwest. Great slaughter houses are being erected by the railroad and by "Pat" Burns, who shares with Swift's Canadian company the control of the northwest beef business. Burns alone has over 40,000 heads on cattle on his ranches.

"Then we go on to Banff in the Canadian rockies. The last few hundred miles of the way is a steady climb until the railroad in 4500 feet above sea level. It took two and three great mountain engines to haul the train up this grade. Banff is the most beautiful place on the American continent. Don't take my word for it but that is what the American and European tourists say. The great Canadian Pacific hotel where I stayed is located there. It is a magnificent hotel accommodating 700 guests. Black and brown bear are so tame that they come right up to the hotel and feed. The hotel is in the Canadian park which covers 6000 square miles. No one is allowed to shoot game so that deer and bear are very tame. Salmon is only 10 cents a pound and I saw one salmon that weighed 67 pounds. Although Banff is one of the most beautiful places on the American continent give me good old Squantum and old New England as a permanent home."

Three cheers were given Mr. Berghaus at the close of his talk. He showed many interesting pictures of places seen upon his trip.

JOHN LANGTRY.

John Lantry of Atlantic, an engineer in the employ of the Boston Consolidated Gas Light Co. died suddenly at the offices of the company, 24 West street, Boston, Tuesday morning, shortly after he had reported for duty. Death was attributed to heart disease. He has been connected with the company for 20 years and was well thought of by his associates and many friends. He formerly resided in Dorchester and eight years ago moved to Atlantic where he made his home at 68 Madison street. He was 55 years old and leaves a daughter in Seattle and a brother in Boston.

Perfect biscuit perfectly produced

Eternal vigilance is exercised by National Biscuit Company in the selection of the ingredients that enter into its products.

National Biscuit Company products are perfectly protected by being packed in attractive small tins, in packages with the famous In-er-seal Trade Mark or in the familiar glass-front cans.

Wherever biscuit are sold, there you will find the perfect biscuit of the National Biscuit Company. Each variety, whether known as crackers or cookies, wafers or snaps, cakes or jumbles, is the best of its kind.

Buy biscuit baked by

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

Always look for that name

BALLOTS TAMPERED WITH

Portland Officials Have Evidence That Boxes Were Opened

Portland, Me., Dec. 11.—Evidence of a possibility that ballots cast in precinct one of ward eight have been tampered with since leaving the ward room was disclosed in the reexamination of the ballots cast for mayor at the last municipal election.

In twenty-one ballots it was found that a cross had been placed in the Republican column, and a line drawn with pencil through the name of Wilford G. Chapman, the Republican candidate. The ballots were counted as straight Republican by the ballot clerks, and both Democratic and Republican clerks asserted that they were not so marked when they were counted.

The reexamination of all the ballots was completed, and those agreed on give Curtis, Democratic candidate, a plurality of thirty instead of the nine given by official returns. This computation gives Curtis the twenty-one ballots in ward eight and there are besides forty ballots in dispute. The Republican committee will meet to decide whether to carry the matter any further.

TO OWN WIRE SYSTEMS

Government Preparing to Take Over Telephone and Telegraph

Washington, Dec. 11.—Postmaster General Burleson strongly intimated that the administration would give its support to the preparation of government ownership of telephone and telegraph companies.

Burleson said that his own mind was open on the subject and added: "I have taken up the matter with President Wilson and he also has an open mind. There will be no hasty action, but I believe we will arrive at a conclusion on this subject that will meet with the people's approval. I shall have something to say on the question in my annual report."

While no definite program has been formulated a preliminary survey is being made and indications point to considerable congressional support under the leadership of Representative David J. Lewis of Maryland.

$8.25 WAGE MINIMUM FOR OREGON WOMEN

Maximum of Fifty-Four Hours In Week Also Fixed

Portland, Or., Dec. 11.—A ruling made by the state welfare commission, prescribes a minimum scale of $8.25 a week for all women employed in industrial occupations in the state of Oregon and fixes fifty-four hours as the maximum they may be employed in any one week.

The time of employment before a woman shall be considered as experienced worker and entitled to the minimum wage is fixed at one year, and the wage for the apprentice period is fixed at $6 a week.

BEER KEGS SHORT

Dealers Cheated $6,000,000 In Year, Sealer Claims

Worcester, Mass., Dec. 11.—State Sealer Thure Hanson and his deputies, assisted by sealers of weights and measures of twelve Massachusetts cities, brought to a close a state-wide investigation of alleged brewery barrel shortages, and found evidence of an annual shortage of over $6,000,000, represented by total shortage of 11,250,000 gallons, ranging from 1½ to 2½ gallons to each barrel.

The investigations which have been conducted quietly during the past six weeks were made in Worcester, Springfield, Holyoke, Boston, Pittsfield, Lawrence, Lowell and New Bedford.

Another fact brought out developed that, although the revenue stamps call for barrels to contain thirty-one gallons, the state law specifies 31½ gallons to the barrel, and the brewers if guilty are responsible to both federal and state authorities.

The Brewers' association will have a meeting in Boston and have invited State Sealer Hanson to be with them.

TO START NORTH

Fram Will Not Wait For Opening of Panama Canal

Colon, Dec. 11.—The date set for the departure of the Arctic exploration ship Fram for San Francisco has been set for Monday next. The Fram will go by way of the Strait of Magellan.

The steamer has been waiting here since Oct. 3 for passage through the canal, but as this at the present time is impossible, it was deemed advisable to take the long route.

If the Fram is delayed too long in reaching San Francisco, it would mean a year lost for Captain Amundsen's polar expedition, as the vessel should enter the ice not later than autumn, 1914. She must refit and take on stores at San Francisco before sailing north.

General Alarm For Salem Fire

Salem, Mass., Dec. 11.—A general alarm was sounded here for a fire in the Saunders block, which caused a loss of about $5000. The Saunders building is at the junction of Essex street and Barton square, directly opposite the Salem theatre and business blocks surround it on all sides. The fire started in a pool room on the second floor.

Capital $150,000 Surplus $200,000

WHAT IS A SAFETY DEPOSIT BOX?

It is a strong steel box, in a doubly-locked compartment in our fire and burglar-proof vault. You have the keys to it. It is absolutely PRIVATE and absolutely secure. You can go to it freely at any time during business hours.

This costs you only $5 per year---only half what you would have to pay for a smaller box in Boston.

Our $5 Box is Larger Than a $10 Box in Boston.

GRANITE TRUST CO.
FOUNDED 1836

FOR A

Christmas Present

NOTHING COULD BE BETTER THAN

A QUINCY HISTORY

EACH YEAR THE HISTORY OF

OLD BRAINTREE AND QUINCY

WRITTEN BY

W. S. PATTEE, M. D.

AND PUBLISHED IN 1878

GROWS MORE VALUABLE, AS IT CONTAINS HISTORICAL DATA ABOUT QUINCY THAT CANNOT BE OBTAINED ELSEWHERE

$3.50 PER COPY

FOR SALE BY

GEO. W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.

1424 HANCOCK STREET

QUINCY

THE CORSET SHOP

8 Maple Street

All Popular makes of

Corsets and Brassieres

Hosiery and

McCall Patterns

Correct fitting of Corsets a specialty

I have been very fortunate to have, during my temporary absence, the services of an expert corsettiere, who who will give the same personal attention to fittings and alterations as has always been accorded to customers.

MISS S. E. DUNPHY

Oct. 30-tf

At ATLANTIC

Quincy Daily Ledger

On Sale after 3.30 P. M.

--- AT ---

BRANSCHIED & MARTENS

Why not put in an order and have it left every day at your home?

THE EDUCATIONAL FIELD

High School — Public Schools
Woodward Institute — Parochial School

Mr. Robert O. Small, Deputy Commissioner of Education, spent the afternoon of Monday with the Superintendent of Schools and Principal Spofford of the Industrial school. He inspected the work done at the school rooms in the Old Adams building and then went to the different shops to see the boys at work. The Quincy school represents the type of industrial school that the state is endeavoring to foster both because of its efficiency and ultimate connection with shop conditions and because of its economy of operation, the operating costs—under $75 per capita per year, gross expense—being less than those of any other industrial school in the state. The per capita cost of the Boston Industrial School on the other hand is $300 per year. The state sharing in the cost reduces it in each instance one half.

The industrial evening schools all close their terms this week or next. In one or two instances the necessity of night work at the Fore River has reduced the attendance but all the class have had a very profitable term and it is possible that one or two of them may continue for a second term after the opening of the new year.

* * *

ADAMS SCHOOL.

The dedicatory exercises of the new Adams School will be held in the Assembly Hall of the new building on Thursday evening, December 18th, under the auspices of the Parents' and Teachers' Association. At this time it is expected that addresses will be made by Eugene R. Stone, Mayor; J. L. Miller, Chairman of the School Board; Albert L. Barbour, Superintendent of Schools; Arthur W. Newcomb, Chairman of the Sub-Committee for the Adams School and Charles Francis Adams, 2nd, of Boston. At the close of the exercises the entire building wil be thrown open for the inspection of the public.

Through the kindness of the Education Committee of the Quincy Women's Club, the pupils of the four upper grades of the Adams, Cranch, John Hancock and Lincoln Schools are to have the pleasure of listening to a timely talk by Miss Edith Randall given in the Assembly Hall next Wednesday afternoon. Miss Randall, from personal experience, will tell the children how Christmas is celebrated in Germany.

It is learned with pleasure that Miss Beatrice Rothwell, who was injured in the Adams school early in November is improving, though slowly, and by Christmas time may be able to walk a little.

* * *

CRANCH SCHOOL.

The Parents' and Teachers' Association will meet on Tuesday evening, December 16th, in the corridor of the school. Mrs. Milton P. Higgins of Worcester, President of the Massachusetts Branch of the National Parent-Teacher Association, will speak on "A Restless Age and its Remedy."

* * *

ADAMS EVENING SCHOOL.

The attendance of the Adams Evening School continues to be remarkably good, fully 75 per cent better than last year. Much interest is being shown by the advanced class in singing America every evening, and Wednesday night they sang the hymn in the Syrian room, the Italian rooms, the Hebrew room and the room of mixed nationalities. Many of the men are planning to take out their naturalization papers as soon as they feel they have the ability to pass the examination required by the Federal Officers.

* * *

CODDINGTON SCHOOL.

A meeting of The Parent-Teachers' Association of the Coddington School will be held in the assembly hall of the school, Wednesday evening, Dec. 17th at 8 o'clock.

Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott will speak on "Our Responsibility to Childhood." Soloist: Miss Catherine L. Brown. A large attendance of parents and friends is desired.

* * *

CHANGE OF DISTRICT LINES.

With the opening of the next term, the change in the district lines between the Adams school, and the Washington, Coddington schools will go into effect, in all except the 8th grades where pupils who might otherwise be changed will graduate with their present classes. It is estimated that about 60 children, nearly all from the Washington school will go to the new buildings, greatly relieving the present congestion at the building above named. No doubt there will be some objection to the change on the part of a few parents but it has been the policy of the school committee to maintain the district lines rigidly where there is no overcrowding and to grant no avors to one parent which are not offered to other parents in the same locality.

* * *

SCHOOL MASTERS CLUB.

The semi annual meeting of the Quincy School Masters Club will be held next Tuesday evening at the Quincy House in Boston. Supt. W. D. Parkinson of Waltham will be the speaker after the banquet.

PUBLIC LIBRARY NOTES.

Those who are taking the University Extension course in elementary economics by Prof. Metcalf of Tufts College, will be interested in the following books lately added to the library:—

Bullock, C. J. Elements of economics 64.163.
Bullock, C. J. Introduction to the study of economic 64.159
Ely, R .T. Outlines of economics 64.162
Marshall, Wright, Field. Materials for the study of elementary economics 64.159
Seager. Introduction to economics. 64.162

Besides these new books the Library also has the following by the above authors:—

Ely, R. T. Introduction to political economy 80.11
Ely, R. T. Problems of today 80.12
Ely, R. T. Studies in the evolution of industrial society 69.129
Marshall, A. Elements of industry 80.9

THE CHRISTMAS LIST.

The Christmas bulletin in the main hall of the Library is attracting much attention. Pictures of the Madonnas, a charming poem, and a long list of entertainments, stories and poems for both adults and children, make it both artistic and useful.

LARGE CLASS TAKE DEGREE

Owing to the large number of candidates that were to take the Chapter degrees, Wednesdays convocation of St. Stephen's Royal Arch Chapter opened at 4 o'clock in the afternoon at which time the Most Excellent degree was exemplified. There was a short recess at 6.30 at which time a banquet was served. The evening session opened at 7 o'clock when the Royal Arch degree was conferred on a class of 26. The work was performed by Excellent Lawrence D. Duncan and the regular officers of the chapter.

☞PRATT'S BREAD—always crisp, clean, pure and wholesome. Try it. Grocers.

WHY WAIT UNTIL THE LAST MINUTE BEFORE DOING UP YOUR CHRISTMAS GIFTS?

Do them now and get your White Wrapping Paper at the Ledger--Patriot Office.

LARGE SHEETS
20 cents a dozen
SHEETS
By single sheet 2 cents each

Call Quincy 501--W

if you want your furniture, mattresses and cushions repaired in good order at low prices M. MIRKIN, upholsterer, 1060 Hancock street near the Quincy High School.
Dec.1-1m

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED
Orchard Place, off Spear street, Quincy

STORY OF A FRONT TOOTH.

A Small Fortune That Was Restored to Its Rightful Owners.

One winter morning a little boy of eight or ten years ran into the office of the United Charities in New York city crying bitterly. Between his sobs he gasped out, "Uncle has stolen mother's front tooth; please get it back for us."

His mother, then lying dead at home, was an actress. In her youth she had had a large diamond inserted in her front tooth, and the advertisement had proved profitable.

As the years passed misfortune overtook her; she was deserted by her husband; the family larder was often empty and the children hungry. Resolutely she refused to part with the diamond, always telling the children that after her death the money it brought would support them for some time.

When the little mother became ill with tuberculosis the children hushed her fears about their future with reassurances of the value of the jewel. But before the funeral a wicked uncle came in the night and pulled out the tooth.

An officer was sent at once to the uncle with threats of arrest if restitution was not made at once. The mission was successful, the tooth restored, the diamond taken out, sold and the proceeds used for the children.—Condensed From Survey.

A FRIEND IN NEED.

Joe Jefferson's Story of the Man Who Helped His Parents.

The late Joe Jefferson told this story of his childhood days:

"When my parents were traveling in the west we had a hard time to get along, meeting with bad luck in town after town. Finally we came to a little village in Illinois and prepared to give the play. However, the people of this town had recently turned against the theater, and the license was far beyond what we could pay. We were almost in despair, for our situation was desperate, not enough money to give our play in the town where we were and not enough to get to the next town.

"Finally my father found a young lawyer who listened to his story with sympathy and promised to help us. He succeeded in getting us a permit to play free of cost. We made good money that night, which carried us on to the next town in comfort.

"I recently played in this same town, which is now the good sized city of Springfield, and I visited the cemetery where that young lawyer now lies. On the stone which marks his grave is carved the name 'Abraham Lincoln.'"—Ladies' Home Journal.

Iron That Does Not Rust.

It costs the owners of steel ships millions of dollars annually to protect their vessels from excessive rusting. Do what they will, the process of oxidation goes on, and every so often the metal hulls have to be treated with anti-corrosives. The same silent process of decay is going on in the metal work of bridges, of railway and trolley lines. The inventor who can find a preventive against rust will save the world almost incalculable wealth. And the curious thing is that once upon a time the world knew of such a preventive. There is still to be seen at Delhi, the new Indian capital, an iron monument, which, no matter what the weather may be, never shows signs of rust. Scientists look that piece of iron over, but it keeps its secret well. Yet if the old Hindu metallurgists could do as much, why not the metallurgists of today?—Rochester Post-Express.

Macaulay and Music.

Macaulay was entirely insensible to the charms of music. We find him writing from Windsor castle on Jan. 14, 1851: "At table I was between the Duchess of Norfolk and a foreign woman who could hardly speak English intelligibly. I got on as well as I could. The band covered the talk with a succession of sonorous tunes. 'The Campbells Are Coming' was one." And Macaulay's biographer, Sir George Otto Trevelyan, supplies the following instructive footnote: "This is the only authentic instance on record of Macaulay's having known one tune from another."—London Spectator.

Painful Isolation.

To avoid learning bad habits little Frank was being reared in the most exclusive manner. The little fellow often became lonely playing by himself. One day he was enjoying a stolen interview over the back yard fence with some other boys. "Why don't you come and play with us?" asked one.

"'Cause mamma won't let me associate with other boys," was the reply. "Why, she won't hardly let me associate with myself."—Lippincott's.

Appreciation.

"Of course you owe a great deal to your wife?"

"No doubt of it," replied Mr. Cumrox. "She always gives some of the finest parties of the season, and if I weren't married to her I wouldn't be invited to them."—Washington Star.

His Speed Limit.

First Fond Mother—My Reginald has to have a new set of school books every year.

Second Fond Mother—He should take Harold for a model. My Harold always stays in the same books for three years.—New York Post.

Let a man have but an aim, a purpose, and opportunities to attain his end shall start forth like buds at the kiss of spring.—Bishop Spalding.

ALL SOULS' MEN'S CLUB.

The December meeting of the club was held in the parish hall, Braintree, Monday evening, with a very large attendance of members and their guests. Supper was served at 6.30 o'clock and the menu was of the usual high standard consisting of hot roast beef, baked potatoes and gravy, peas, cabbage salad, rolls, coffee, pumpkin pie, and cheese and last but not least, water from the famous Avonia spring. After supper, cigars were lighted and Presiden tRhoades announced that the eminent lawyer, Hon. Samuel J. Elder, who was to have been present and speak on "People I have seen," would be unable to fulfill his engagement because of a threatened attack of pneumonia. He was happy to state however that Mr. Elder was reported as improving.

Hon. Charles T. Gallagher the other speaker was on hand and though he chose to compare himself to an old hat in a window, he nevertheless filled in most acceptably and made the evening so interesting and entertaining that he was accorded an ovation at the close of his remarks. Mr. Gallagher is an eminent lawyer and a very prominent member of the Masonic fraternity. He was therefore well qualified to speak on a subject of which he has made a profound study, namely, "The life of John Paul Jones the famous naval commander of the Revolution."

John Paul Jones was not the rough and unlettered pirate that English historians describe but on the contrary an educated gentleman, a linguist and a poet. He was an authority on naval affairs, a mason and a member of a famous French lodge of that order to which Benjamin Franklin also belonged. The speaker gave a graphic account of the sea fight between the Bon homme Richard and the Serapis and mentioned other victories all of which gave the Colonies a great prestige. In his opinion, the exploits of Jones were instrumental in bringing France to our aid as an ally, without which he thought we never could have been successful in the Revolution and might still be subjects of England.

Mr. Gallagher concluded by telling of the finding after years of search, the body of John Paul Jones in the obscure and almost forgotten St. Louis cemetery in the outskirts of Paris, now buried under twelve feet of earth on which are buildings and streets. The body was perfectly preserved in its metallic casket filled with alcohol and now it lies buried in a magnificent crpyt built at a cost of $75,000 by the U. S. Government of Annapolis. A beautiful monument was also erected to his memory on the banks of the Potomac.

John Paul Jones was the first man to make vessels of a foreign power strike their flags to the Stars and Stripes and is described as "He that hath made the flag respected among nations that are respectable."

At the conclusion of his address Mr. Gallagher related a budget of witty stories many of them in dialect, which "brought down the house" and left his hearers breathless with laughter. After the singing of "America" the meeting was adjourned at 8.55 o'clock.

IMPROVEMENT APPRECIATED.

That the new management of the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R. Co. intends to right any faults of management or equipment is evidenced by the promptness with which they answered the complaint of John W. West a prominent citizen of East Braintree regarding the need of extending the platform at East Braintree depot. A few weeks ago Mr. West on alighting from a train injured his leg, the car having passed beyond the platform and the distance from the last step to the ground being about double that he expected it to be. When able to travel about. Mr. West interviewed the superintendent of the road explaining the need of extending the platform to conform to the 8 and 9 car trains now used. A courteous reply was received from the superindent saying that the matter would be looked into and the fault remedied. Inspectors were sent out and in an interview with the Observer reporter the publicity department of the road stated that the platform would be extended to care for an eight car train which requires about 550 feet of platform. Our reporter was given to understand that the roadbed would be graded to suit the increased length of platform, and that additional lights would be placed to light the same.

SERVICE CLUB SUPPER.

The Gas Service Club, all employees of the Citizens Gas Light Co. held their monthly supper in the Thompson Cafe, Tuesday evening followed by a business session at the offices of the company on Granite street. Fred Howe read a paper on the relations with the consumer following which there was a discussion on general gas appliances. After the adjournment the bowlers held their rolloffs on the City Square alleys.

HOUGHTON & DUTTON CO., BOSTON

Why Not Save Money On Your Christmas Gifts This Year?

Possibly you are concerned about the high cost of living. Here's the solution:

Buy Christmas Gifts at Our Low Cash Prices

This great cash store is better ready for the heavy Christmas buying than ever before. You may purchase nearly every thing on your list in this great store

Greater Stocks — More Room — Broader Aisles — Better Service — Never So Many Fine Gifts at Such Remarkably Low Prices

Bring the Boys and Girls to Boston
See Our Giant Electrical Santa Claus
The Biggest Toy in the World
Nothing like it ever before in Boston See Santa any day from 4.30 to 5.30. Saturdays 4.30 to 10.

A Legal Stamp With Every 10c Purchase — It Pays to Pay Cash
HOUGHTON & DUTTON CO.
NEW ENGLAND'S GREATEST CASH STORE
TREMONT AND BEACON STS. BOSTON

—In the 14 stand-pat municipalities of Massachusetts on the liquor question, we notice that Quincy stood patter, so to speak, for the no-license regime, the vote for non-sale being almost double that of the other side. Public sentiment in the Granite City of Massachusetts ought to be strong enough, therefore, to put down most of the illicit sales during the year to come. That is the theory of the thing, at any rate, and it requires only a little practice to carry out the theory. —Barre Times, Vermont.

☞White wrapping paper for doing up your Christmas gifts can be obtained at the Ledger-Patriot office for 20 cents a dozen sheets or by the single sheet at 2 cents per sheet.

(ADVERTISE.)

EXCHANGE YOUR INGERSOLL WATCH
Special Offer

We will take your Ingersoll Watch in exchange and allow the full price you originally paid no matter where you bought it—toward the purchase of a high grade, extra accurate jeweled TRENTON model—the first really fine watch at a moderate price.

Trenton Watches from $5.00 to $25.00

An opportunity to save $1 to $2 on your Xmas Present
SANDBERG BROS.

Old Company's Lehigh Egg Coal
for Your furnace
Is there anything better mined?
We Sell It
Try a Ton
C. PATCH & SON Inc.
1422 Hancock Street

Quincy Daily Ledger

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30.
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branschied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
Newcomb Square—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. Smith.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck.
L. A. Cook, Washington Street.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington Street.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield Water st.
A. Pierson, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—Capt. Fosdick's.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity: Fair weather with seasonable temperature Friday.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	7.04
Sun sets	4.12
Length of day	9.08
Moon rises	6.20
High water, A. M.	10.15
High water, P. M.	19.45
Days decrease 6 hours,	9 minutes
Full Moon, Dec. 13,	10.00 A. M.
Last Quarter, Dec. 20	11.16 A. M.
New Moon, Dec. 27	9.59 A. M.
First Quarter, Dec. 5,	9.59 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today	38 degrees
Dec. 11 1912,	48 degrees
Dec. 11, 1911,	62 degrees

Dec. Noon Maximum 14 years—67
Dec. Noon Mfnimum, 14 years—2

FOOTBALL AS EDUCATION

H. R. Hitchcock, the big guard of Harvard's victorious football team, will speak at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday morning at 9.15. All boys of Quincy are cordially invited to attend the meeting and hear a talk on "Football as an Education." Hitchcock, although not as much talked of in the newspapers as Brickley, Hardwick and Mahan, was just as valuable a player and was part of the great line which made it possible for Brickley to get off his famous series of drop kicks. Hitchcock will tell of the Yale game and various other things of interest in connection with football at Harvard.

In addition to being a great football player, Hitchcock is one of the most popular men in college being president of his class Junior year and being chosen one of the class marshals for the Commencement season next June.

A special invitation is extended to the High school football team to attend the meeting and all boys will be welcome.

BIG WHIST SCORE.

What was nearly a record score was made by Warren H. Rideout at the weekly whist tournament of the Granite City Club his percentage being over 89 per cent. The second best score was made by George G. Field. Following the tournament the entertainment committee served a dutch lunch which included frankfurts, potato salad, sauerkraut pickles and coffee.

—The project to have the government build and operate a railroad in Alaska for the purpose of opening up the coal deposits of that territory seems likely to be favorably considered by Congress. It will afford an opportunity of demonstrating just how efficiently and economically the government can operate a railroad and as an experiment it may, in the end, be worth all it costs.

—How would it answer to have plaintiffs in damage cases bring in sworn statements of what they believed to be actual damage instead of the ad damnum (with a possible accent on the second syllable) they now represent? The claim wouldn't look quite so big but without a doubt they would get just as much out of it.—Waltham Free Press.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS?
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

CHICHESTER S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter's Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

WEEKLY MATCH TENNIS CLUB

Jenner High Man on Both Singles and Doubles

The weekly bowling matches of the Wollaston Tennis Club league were held on the Coliseum alleys Wednesday evening. Jenner with 119 secured high single, and Munroe made the second best showing with 113. Jenner also secured high total with 316.

The five of Captain Estes beat the bowlers of Captain Emery 3 to 1. The summary

CAPTAIN ESTES.

R. Baker	69	85	74	228
Nickerson	76	85	87	248
Cranshaw	93	79	65	237
Estes	78	75	79	232
Jenner	119	101	96	316
	435	425	401	1261

CAPT. EMERY.

W. Smith	74	92	77	243
Barker	78	81	76	235
Brigham	82	72	80	234
Emery	69	84	81	234
Munroe	78	83	113	274
	381	412	427	1220

Captain Litchfield and his men took three out of four points from the quintette of Captain Green. The summary:

CAPT. LITCHFIELD.

W. Baker	81	83	72	236
Crossley	91	80	70	241
Hiller	85	92	84	261
Hillman	79	85	71	235
Litchfield	88	96	100	284
	424	436	397	1257

CAPT. GREEN.

Davis	84	66	75	225
Carr	66	91	81	238
Nelson	63	76	81	220
Raymond	87	86	86	259
Green	80	96	95	271
	380	415	418	1213

In the match between Captains Baker and Powers the former was an easy victor, 4 to 0.

CAPT. BAKER.

Hutton	64	72	82	218
Weld	85	93	78	256
L. Smith	98	88	67	253
Brown	76	80	83	239
C. Baker	90	95	106	291
	413	428	416	1257

CAPT. POWERS.

Ela	72	87	71	230
Murray	68	84	78	230
Bartlett	72	76	85	233
Bishop	84	83	83	250
Powers	88	88	79	255
	384	418	396	1198

The first equal division of the point for several weeks in the league was made by Captains Geddes and Hoxie, each taking two. The summary:

CAPT. GEDDES.

Albee	57	78	83	218
Gardner	81	71	82	234
McLean	91	83	102	276
Manning	82	80	75	237
Geddes	83	87	93	263
	394	409	485	1228

CAPT. HOXIE.

Wilmarth	73	73	68	214
Oldham	81	90	77	248
Bird	88	77	75	240
Raymond	78	79	81	238
Hoxie	82	100	80	262
	402	419	381	1202

Y. M. C. A. BOWLING.

Yale took 3 points out of 4 in its match with Princeton in the Employed Boys bowling league at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday night. Harvard defeated Dartmouth by a similar score last week and on next Monday will meet Yale to settle the supremacy. The summary:

YALE. (EMPLOYED BOYS.)

Rahaim	80	77	84	241
Hall	56	75	68	199
Osberg	68	83	80	231
	204	235	232	671

PRINCETOWN.

Ryan	67	58	54	179
Lubarsky	69	71	60	200
Martin	80	63	80	223
	216	192	194	602

Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

CAMPAIGN CASH WAS UNLAWFUL

Witness Before New York Grand Jury Accuses G. M. Palmer

VAN WIRT ON WITNESS STAND

Vice President of Engineering Company Gave $1500 and Received Contracts For $40,000 Worth of Canal Work—Claimed Breweries Gave Campaign Contributions

New York, Dec. 11.—The grand jury listened to evidence tending to show that George M. Palmer, chairman of the New York state Democratic committee, accepted a campaign contribution from a corporation, a misdemeanor punishable upon conviction by a year's imprisonment or $1000 fine, or both, but took no action.

It was understood that Dudley E. Van Wirt, the only witness called in the case yesterday, furnished evidence which broadened the case to such an extent that the district attorney asked for an adjournment in order to supoena more witnesses.

Van Wirt, who is vice president of the Flood & Van Wirt Construction and Engineering company of Hudson Falls, N. Y., which had $20,000 in state road contracts, was before the jury nearly three hours. He was questioned about a $100 contribution which he said was solicited from him by William J. Morrissey, deputy superintendent of public works under Duncan W. Peck, and which he sent to Palmer. This was in 1912, when he had a $320,000 state canal contract, over which Morrissey had supervision.

It was brought out before the jury, it was learned, that some months after making his contribution, Van Wirt received an additional canal contract of $40,000 on which his rate of profit was approximately equivalent to his $1500 contribution.

Van Wirt was closely questioned also, it is understood, concerning a previous $2000 contribution which he said he sent to the Democratic state committee after Fowler had asked him to give $3500. The jury wanted to know, it was learned, if there was any significance in the fact that the $1500 which he was asked to give up in connection with his canal contract was the exact amount which he had failed to give to comply with the request of Fowler.

John A. Hennessy, former Governor Sulzer's graft investigator, promised to produce another "bagman" who has, he declared, collected $250,000 in unreported campaign contributions from highway contractors and whose testimony, he said, would be the most sensational that has yet been heard.

He declared further that when the highway investigation was completed he would place evidence before the district attorney that many thousands of dollars had been collected from the brewing interests as campaign contributions that had likewise never been reported.

FIND STRANGER IN CELL

Man Confined Seventy Days Without Charge Against Him

Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 11.—Officials at the county jail here found a stranger in one of the cells. He had been in the cell seventy days. His name was not on the jail books. There had been no warrant issued for him. There was no charge against him.

Jail officials said they could not let him out since officially they had no reason to believe he was in. So an attorney applied to the circuit court for a writ of habeas corpus.

The prisoner said his name was Thurman Hoskins and, so far as he knew, he never had committed a crime. He said an officer arrested him and put him in the cell. He had ascribed the long delay in being faced by his accusers to "the slow rolling of the wheels of justice."

Forty Girls Flee Fire

Providence, Dec. 11.—Forty young girls were driven out into the cold, most of them clad only in their night clothes, when a fire was discovered in a new, unoccupied addition to a fashionable private school for girls on the East Side. A squad of police ran into the building and quieted the hysterical students

Government Destroys Bulletin

Chicago, Dec. 11.—The United States government seized and destroyed the current weekly bulletin of the Chicago health department. The black page of the bulletin bore a reproduction of a photograph of the reverse side of a silver dollar. Reproducing a likeness of any coin subjects offenders to a fine of $100.

Greet Woman 102 Years Old

Mansfield, Conn., Dec. 11.—Miss Annie Conant of Mansfield celebrated her one hundred and second birthday. Among the congratulations one came from a school cum, Miss Betsy Capron, who is herself nearly 102.

Flag Bunting Test.

The United States government's test for color in bunting is six hours' immersion in salt water and six hours' exposure to the sun.

TAMPICO TO BE ATTACKED SOON

Rebel Army of 4000 Men Nearing the City

VILLAREAL IS IN COMMAND

Troops Given Strict Orders to Refrain as Far as Possible From Destruction of Property—Will Make Every Effort to Protect Foreigners —United States Fleet In Readiness

Vera Cruz, Mex., Dec. 11.—An overwhelming force of revolutionaries threatens to attack Tampico at any moment, according to advices received by wireless telegraphy from Clarence A. Miller, American consul at that seaport.

A messenger from General Villareal, the rebel commander, reached the American consulate in Tampico with the information that 4000 rebels commanded by Generals Villareal and Castro were approaching the city. The advance guard of the rebel column, it was said, had reached Laguna Puerite, nine miles from Tampico.

General Villareal declared his intention of proceeding without delay to attack the city. He said he had given his followers strict orders to refrain as far as possible from the destruction of property and to make every effort to protect the lives of foreigners, but feared they would be gravely imperilled in the confusion resulting from an assault on the city and possible fighting in the streets. For this reason General Villareal earnestly requested the American authorities to take immediate steps to remove all foreign residents from the place.

Up to the time of the dispatch of Consul Miller's advices no definite action had been taken on this request, but Rear Admiral Fletcher, the commander of the United States fleet, had made preparations to take on board all his vessels at a moment's notice all foreigners and to land marines if it appeared advisable.

It is understood the captain of the German cruiser Bremen conferred with Rear Admiral Fletcher on the question of landing of marines and gave assurance he would act in complete harmony with the American admiral's desires.

Urge Huerta to Ask For Truce

Mexico City, Dec. 11.—Tentative efforts were made by the conservative element in the Mexican government to induce Provisional President Huerta to ascertain if General Venustiano Carranza would be willing to cease fighting for the purpose of holding an election at which the constitutional leader would be a candidate for the presidency of the republic, or would name his choice for that office.

It is assumed in political circles that General Carranza would have opposition in the presidential race by candidates from the capital manned by the Catholics and other political parties.

FIND "DIPHTHERIA MARY"

Young Girl Carries Millions of Germs In Her System

Wheeling, W. Va., Dec. 11.—The board of health officials here have discovered a "Diphtheria Mary" similar to "Typhoid Mary," who some time ago caused the New York health authorities so much trouble. The local germ incubator is Mildred Shilton, 14 years old.

According to Health Officer W. C. Etzler, the girl carries millions of the diphtheria germs around in her system, yet she never has been ill of the disease.

That the Shilton girl is responsible for the epidemic of diphtheria which now is raging among the pupils of the Madison school on the island, Wheeling's most fashionable residence district, is the assertion of the board of health officials.

TO ABOLISH BREAD LINE

Chicago Will Have Five-Cent Hotel For Down and Outers

Chicago, Dec. 11.—Chicago's bread line will be abolished with the new year. A hotel, where real beds can be had for 5 cents a night and where meals will be furnished at from 1 to 5 cents each, will supplant the bread line on Jan. 1.

Charles G. Dawes, former comptroller of the currency, who has been the host to the unfortunates in the bread line, is the founder of the hotel, which will bear the name "The Rufus Dawes Memorial." It will represent a father's memorial to a dead son. Connected with the hotel will be free baths and a free employment agency.

Blacksmith In Leading Opera Role

Cassel, Ger., Dec. 11.—Franz Bachmann, a blacksmith who still works at his forge in the locomotive shops here, has been chosen to fill the leading role in "The Magic Flute," to be given at the court opera house on Dec. 16.

Smith Is Elected President

New York, Dec. 11.—A. H. Smith was elected president and director of the New York Central and the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern railroads to succeed W. C. Brown, recently resigned.

RICHMOND P. HOBSON

Alabama Representative Who Is Feeling Pugilistic

COPYRIGHT BY CLINEDINST, WASH. D.C.

HOBSON DARES DONOVAN

Alabama Representative Appears In Fighting Mood

Washington, Dec. 11.—Hostilities between Representative Donovan of Connecticut and Representative Hobson of Alabama, both Democrats, broke out in the house again and Donovan blocked Hobson's request for an hour's time to discuss a petition for a prohibition amendment to the constitution.

For almost an hour the two members had been carrying on a private argument close to the speaker's rostrum, with the feeling so apparent that some congressmen expected them to come to blows. Later they continued the argument in the lobby, where Hobson is reported to have invited the Connecticut member to fight.

BOYS DISCOVER A MISPLACED RAIL

Flag Passenger Train and Get Large Purse

Anderson, Ind., Dec. 11.—Two boys, one 8 and the other 10 years old, who modestly refused to give their names, saved Big Four passenger train No. 48 from a probably disastrous wreck just north of here.

The boys, taking a short cut along the railroad track on their way to school, found a rail out of place. They knew the passenger train was about due and rushed down the track to meet it.

When they saw the train approaching the boys took off their coats and, from the middle of the track, waved them until the engineer brought his train to a stop. The sudden stop of the train brought a number of passengers from the coaches and when the boys explained the trouble a large purse was made up for them.

FLOOD LOSS $25,000,000

Death List In Texas Now Placed at 250 and 5000 Homeless

Galveston, Dec. 11.—With 230 persons listed as dead in the great flood, which covered 40,000 square miles of territory in central and southern Texas, state officials estimated the damage at $25,000,000.

Sixty-three cities, towns and villages have suffered from the high water and 5000 persons are homeless.

The rice crop was nearly ruined. Within the next twenty-four hours it is expected that the waters will be falling at all points. Districts are still isolated and wire communication will have to be established before the full extent of the disaster is known. Within the past twenty-four hours more than 100 bodies were recovered.

BABY LOSES HAND

Three-Year-Old Boy Was Playing In Father's Butcher Shop

New York, Dec. 11.—While playing in his father's butcher shop, at 2194 Second avenue, 3-year-old John Mocera, son of James Mocera, had his hand cut off in an electric meat grinding machine.

The boy's mother had just placed some meat in the machine and turned on the current when the little fellow toddled over to his mother's side. He placed his hand in an opening of the machine and in an instant it was amputated. The boy was taken to the Harlem hospital in a critical condition.

Murderer Dies In Chair

Auburn, N. Y., Dec. 11.—Nelson Sharp, of Monroe county, died in the electric chair for the murder of Patrolman Frank Ford of the Rochester police, May 18, 1912. In a statement given out when he was taken to the execution chamber, Sharp admitted his guilt.

Woman Smuggler Fined

Trenton, Dec. 11.—Mrs. Ella Fleming of Los Angeles, Cal., was fined $2000 in the United States district court for smuggling $3500 worth of wearing apparel. Mrs. Fleming arrived at Hoboken Nov. 24 on the steamship George Washington. The fine was paid.

KNOW IT WELL

Familiar Features Well Known to Hundreds of Quincy Citizens.

A familiar burden in many a home,
The burden of a "bad back."
A lame, a weak or an aching back
Often tells you of kidney ills.
Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys.

Here is good testimony to prove their merits:

Mrs. Francis R. Barnes, E. Weymouth, Mass., says: "My back ached and I was very weak. The trouble was always much worse when I was tired. I heard what Doan's Kidney Pills had done for others and I decided to try them. The first few doses helped me very much and I kept on using them until I had finished a box. I improved wonderfully. About a year later I had another attack and two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills cured me. I haven't had any trouble since."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sale agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

QUINCY REGISTRY FOR NURSES

20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.

Will supply trained and practical nurses, attendants and nursery assistants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.

MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar,
Tel. Quincy 131-W.

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

In effect Nov. 16, 1913

The letters in the same line as the figures below stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows.

a Wollaston	f Harrison Square
b Norfolk Downs	g Savin Hill
c Atlantic	h Cross Avenue
d Neponset	i South Boston
e Pope's Hill	r Quincy Adams
* Saturdays Only	† Except Saturday

Exp—Express train.

TO BOSTON			FROM BOSTON
Leave	Stop	Arrive	Leave	Stop	Arrive
r 5 14	abcdefghi	5 41	5 44	hgfedeba	6 14 r
r 6 10	abcl	6 40	6 09	hgfedeba	6 39 r
r 6 32	e	6 49	6 29	a	6 47
			6 47	Exp	7 04
r 6 40	abcf	7 00	7 14	hgfedeba	7 41 r
r 7 08	abcd	7 30	7 34	a	7 52
7 28	a	7 46	7 37	a	7 56
r 7 32	Exp	7 49	7 44	c	8 03 r
r 7 42	ab	8 00	8 34	cba	8 55 r
7 55	a	8 12 *	8 44	b	9 02
r 8 13	abc	8 32	9 09	fedba	9 32 r
8 24	a	8 41	9 44	a	10 01 r
8 33	a	8 50	10 14	ihgfedeba	10 41 r
r 8 59	ad	9 16	10 54	Exp	11 10
r 9 18	abc	9 39	11 14	hgfedeba	11 41 r
r 10 04	a	10 21	11 49	a	12 07
r 10 19	abcdefghi	10 45	12 14	hgfedeba	12 41 r
11 12	a	11 28	12 20	a	12 38
11 24	abcdefgh	11 50	12 50	Exp	1 06
12 04	a	12 20	1 16	fedeba	1 40 r
			* 1 32	a	1 50
r 12 27	abcdefghi	12 53	1 44	a	2 01
r 1 16	a	1 34	2 14	fedeba	2 37 r
2 04	a	2 20	2 34	Exp	2 50
r 2 19	abcdefgh	2 43	3 14	hgfedeba	3 40 r
r 3 13	Exp	3 34	3 44	a	4 02
4 04	a	4 20	4 12	fedeba	4 35 r
r 4 26	abcdefgh	4 53	4 15	a	4 32
5 12	a	5 19	4 40	c	4 58
r 5 30	abcdefg	5 55	4 55	a	5 11
6 04	a	6 21	5 13	a	5 32
6 12	ab	6 32	5 19	hgfeca	5 43
6 57	a	7 15	5 28	ba	5 46 r
r 7 32	Exp	7 39	5 40		5 57
7 29	ab	7 48	5 53	a	6 17 r
r 8 09	abcdef	8 32	6 01	iedcb	6 24
9 00	a	9 18	6 16	a	6 35
r 9 10	abc	9 29	6 30	ecba	6 52 r
* 9 17	Exp.	9 32	6 59	fedeba	7 24 r
r 10 07	abcdef	10 30	7 11	a	7 28
* 10 19	a	10 37	8 04	fedeba	8 28 r
11 13	a	11 30	* 8 19	Exp	8 35
r 11 30	abcd	11 50	9 19	a	9 37
			9 34	b	9 53 r
			10 0	ba	10 24
			10 34	fedeba	11 04 r
			*11 06	a	11 25 r
			11 09	fedeba	11 35 r
			*11 25	ba	11 43 r
			11 29	ba	11 49
			12 05	cba	12 26 r

SUNDAYS

c	7 43	abc	8 08	6 29	ba	6 48
	8 30	Exp	8 45	8 34	cba	8 55 r
c	8 46	abcdefghi	9 13	10 39	cba	10 59 r
r	9 13	abc	9 33	12 14	ihgfedeba	12 42
	9 31	a	9 47	12 44	Exp	1 01
	10 25	ac	10 42	2 29	ihgfedeba	1 57 r
	11 08	Exp	11 25	2 14	hgfedeba	2 42 r
r	11 16	abcdefghi	11 43	2 44	a	3 02
	1 04	a	1 23	3 14	ihgfedeba	3 42 r
r	1 18	abcdefgh	1 43	4 26	eba	4 48 r
r	3 10	abc	3 30	5 14	ihgfedeba	5 42 r
r	4 16	abcdefghi	4 43	6 09	Exp	6 25
	4 59	ab	5 16	6 14	ihgfedeba	6 42 r
	5 06		5 23	7 02	eba	7 22 r
	6 16	abcdefghi	6 43	8 14	ihgfedeba	8 41 r
	7 21	Exp	7 36	8 39	a	8 56 r
	7 29	abcdefghi	7 55	8 49	Exp	9 05
r	8 16	abcdefghi	8 43	9 29	ihgfedeba	9 57 r
	9 46	a	10 04	10 44	cba	11 04 r
	11 03		11 05

CHOICE ARTICLES

FROM THE

PHILIPPINES

LUCBON HATS—Very best grade of the famous Panamas and Bankoks made. Absolutely none better, woven under water by hand. Can be crushed into a ball and not lose shape. Made for both Ladies and Gentlemen. $5 and $10.

ROMBLON MATS—Handsomest and most durable Grass Mats or Rugs made in the world. Beautiful colors and designs, large enough to cover one-half floor of rooms. $5.

MANILA CIGARS—$3 for a trial box of the Very Best Cigars made in the Philippines.

Oriente Cigarrettes—Best made, large package containing 25 small packages, 750 Cigarrettes, $2.

Sent by registered mail, free of duties, on receipt of price.

C. A. SHORT & CO.,
Lucena, Tay, P. I.

Oct 4 1&O 3m

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pattengill's, 1391 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Tel. Quincy, Mass. 1129 W Nov 8—tf

YOU need the Ledger EVERY DAY.
SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

Bay State Street Railway Company

TIME TABLE

In effect April 8, 1913.

(Subject to change without notice.

Leave QUINCY for

Braintree, 6.15, 6.50 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Braintree, 6.25 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.25 P. M. Sundays, 7.55 A. M. and then same as week days.

Brockton, 6.15, 6.50 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.30 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Brockton 6.20, 7 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 9.30 P. M. Sundays, 8 A. M. then same as week days.

West Quincy, and East Milton, 5.20, 5.50, 6.10 A. M., and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M.) Sundays, 6.50 A. M. then same as week days. Return leave East Milton, 5.55, 6.15, 6.45 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.45 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.10 midnight.) Sundays, 7.25 A. M., then same as week days.

East Weymouth, 6.00, 6.15, 6.35, 7.05, 7.35 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.05 P. M. then 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.35 A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave East Weymouth, 5.50, 6.15, 6.45, 7.00, 7.10, 7.45, A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.45 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M. then same as week days.

Houghs Neck, 5.15, 5.35, 6.10, 6.40, 7.10, 7.40, A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. then 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 6.50, 7.40 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. Return leave Houghs Neck, 5.40, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 7.30, 8.00, 8.30, 9.05 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.35 P. M. then 12.10 midnight. Sundays, 7.20, 8.05, 8.35, 9.05 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.35 P. M.

Neponset via Hancock Street,—5.45 6.20, 6.50 A. M. and every 30 min. to 10.50 P. M. then 12.50 midnight. Sundays, 6.50 A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 6.40 7.10, 7.40 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. then 12.35 midnight. Sundays, 7.40 A. M. then same as week days.

Neponset via Wollaston—6.03, 6.33, 7.03 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.03 P. M. then 11.20, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.03 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 6.25, 6.55, 7.25, A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.25 P. M. then 11.42 P. M. and 12.12 midnight. Sundays, 7.25 A. M. then same as week days.

Neponset, via Norfolk Downs, 6.25, 6.55, 7.25, 8, 8.30 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11 P. M.) Sundays, 7.30 A. M. then the same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 7, 7.30 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.30 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.30 P. M.) Sundays, 8 A. M. then same as week days.

Weymouth Landing, 5.20, 6.00, 6.25, 6.55, 7.25 7.55 A. M. then every 30 minutes, until and including 10.55 P. M. Sundays, 7.25, A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave Weymouth Landing, 5.45, 6.15, 6.40, 7.15 7.45 A. M. then every 30 minutes until and including 11.15 P. M. Sundays 7.45 A. M. then same as week days.

Leave NEPONSET for

Squantum, 6.25, 6.55, 7.25, 7.55, 8.25, 8.35, A. M. every 60 minutes to 4.35 P. M. then 4.55, 5.25, 5.55, 6.25, 7.35, 8.35, 9.35, 10.35 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.30, P. M. Sundays, 7.35, A. M. every 60 minutes to 10.35 P. M. Return, leave Squantum, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 7.30, 8.00, 8.30, 9.00 A. M. every 60 minutes to 5.00 P. M. then 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.15, 8.00 A. M. every 60 minutes to 11.00 P. M.

THOMAS GAMMON,
Superintendent.

WITHIN THE LAW

By MARVIN DANA
FROM THE PLAY OF
BAYARD VEILLER

Copyright, 1913, by the H. K. Fly company.

(Continued from last issue.)

CHAPTER VII.
A Legal Document.

MARY TURNER spent less than an hour in that mysteriously important engagement with Dick Gilder of which she had spoken to Aggie. After separating from the young man she went alone down Broadway, walking the few blocks of distance to Sigismund Harris' office.

Harris regarded his client with an appreciative eye as he bowed in greeting and invited her to a seat.

"I sent your cousin, Miss Agnes Lynch, the release which she is to sign," he explained, "when she gets that money from General Hastings. I wish you'd look it over when you have time. It's all right, I'm sure, but I appreciate your opinion of things, Miss Turner—particularly of legal documents."

"Thank you," Mary said. "And have you heard from them yet?"

"No," the lawyer replied. "I gave them until tomorrow. If I don't hear then I shall start suit at once." Then the lawyer's manner became unusually bland and self satisfied as he opened a drawer of the desk and brought forth a rather formidable appearing document, bearing a most impressive seal.

"You will be glad to know," he went on unctiously, "that I was entirely successful in carrying out that idea of yours as to the injunction. My dear Miss Turner, Portia was a squawking baby compared with you."

"Thank you again," Mary answered as she took the legal paper. For a moment her glance ran over the words of the page.

"It's splendid!" she declared. "Did you have much trouble in getting it?"

"Why, no," he declared. "But at the outset when I made the request the judge just nearly fell off the bench. Then I showed him that Detroit case to which you had drawn my attention, and the upshot of it all was that he gave me what I wanted without a whimper. He couldn't help himself, you know."

That mysterious document with the imposing seal reposed safely in Mary's bag when she returned to the apartment.

Mary had scarcely received from Aggie an account of Cassidy's threatening invasion when the maid announced that Mr. Irwin had called.

"Show him in," Mary directed.

"Who's the gink?" Aggie demanded.

"You ought to know. He's the lawyer retained by General Hastings in the matter of a certain breach of promise suit."

"Hope he's brought the money."

"Leave the room now," Mary ordered. "When I call to you come in, but be sure and leave everything to me. Merely follow my lead. And, Agnes—be very ingenue."

"Oh, I'm wise—I'm wise," Aggie nodded as she hurried out toward her bedroom. "I'll be a squab—surest thing you know!"

Next moment Mary gave a formal greeting to the lawyer who represented the man she planned to mulct effectively.

Irwin lost no time in coming to the point.

"I called in reference to this suit which Miss Agnes Lynch threatens to bring against my client, General Hastings."

"It's not a threat," Mr. Irwin. "The suit will be brought."

"You realize, of course, that this is merely plain blackmail."

"If it's blackmail, Mr. Irwin, why don't you consult the police?"

Mary turned to the maid, who now entered in response to the bell she had sounded a minute before. "Fanny, will you ask Miss Lynch to come in, please?" Then she faced the lawyer again, with an aloofness of manner that was contemptuous. "Really, Mr. Irwin," she drawled, "why don't you take this matter to the police?"

"You know perfectly well," the lawyer said bitterly, "that General Hastings cannot afford such publicity."

"Oh, as for that," Mary suggested evenly, and now there was a trace of flippancy in her fashion of speaking, "I'm sure the police would keep your complaint a secret. Really, you know, Mr. Irwin, I think you had better take your troubles to the police rather than to me. You will get much more sympathy from them."

The lawyer sprang up with an air of sudden determination.

"Very well, I will then," he declared.

Mary pushed in his direction the telephone that stood on the table.

"3100 Spring," she remarked encouragingly, "will bring an officer almost immediately." She leaned back in her chair and surveyed the baffled man amusedly.

"Nevertheless," he rejoined, "you know perfectly well that General Hastings never promised to marry this girl. You know"— He broke off as Aggie entered the drawing room.

Now, the girl was genuine in seeming almost beyond belief—a childish creature, very fair and dainty, guileless surely, with those untroubled eyes of blue, those softly curving lips of warmest red and the more delicate bloom and the rounded cheeks. There were the charms of innocence and simplicity in her manner as she stopped just within the doorway, whence she regarded Mary with a timid, pleading gaze, her slender little form poised lightly as if for flight.

"Did you want me, dear?" she asked.

"Agnes," Mary answered affectionately, "this is Mr. Irwin, who has come to see you in behalf of General Hastings."

"Oh," the girl murmured, her voice quivering a little as the lawyer, after a short nod, dropped again into his seat. "Oh, I'm so frightened!" She hurried, fluttering, to a low stool behind the desk beside Mary's chair, and there she sank down, drooping slightly and catching hold of one of Mary's hands as if in mute pleading for protection.

"Nonsense!" Mary exclaimed soothingly. "There's really nothing at all to be frightened about, my dear child. You mustn't be afraid, Agnes. Mr. Irwin says that General Hastings did not promise to marry you. Of course you understand, my dear, that under no circumstances must you say anything that isn't strictly true and that if he did not promise to marry you you have no case—none at all. Now, Agnes, tell me. Did General Hastings promise to marry you?"

"Oh, I'm so frightened!"

"Oh, yes—oh, yes, indeed!" Aggie cried falteringly. "And I wish he would. He's such a delightful old gentleman!"

The legal representative of the delightful old gentleman scowled disgustedly at this outburst.

"Was that promise made in writing?"

"No," Aggie answered gushingly. "But all his letters were in writing, you know. Such wonderful letters! So tender and so—er—interesting!"

"Yes, yes, I dare say," Irwin agreed hastily, with some evidences of chagrin.

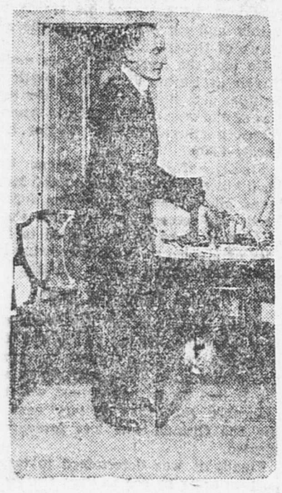
"But you're quite sure, Agnes," Mary questioned gently, "that General Hastings did promise to marry you?"

"Oh, yes," Aggie declared tensely. "Why, I would swear to it." The limpid eyes, so appealing in their soft luster, went first to Mary, then gazed trustingly into those of the routed attorney.

"We're beaten," he confessed dejectedly, turning his glance toward Mary, whom plainly he regarded as his real adversary in the combat on his client's behalf. "I'm going to be quite frank with you, Miss Turner, quite frank," he stated, with more geniality, though with a very crestfallen air. "We can't afford any scandal, so we're going to settle at your own terms." He took from his pocket a thick bill case and from this a sheaf of banknotes, which he laid on the desk before Mary, with a little laugh of discomfiture over having been beaten in the contest.

As he did so Aggie thrust forth an avaricious hand, but it was caught and held by Mary before it reached above the top of the desk, and the avaricious gesture passed unobserved by the attorney.

"We can't fight where ladies are concerned," he went on, assuming as best



"We can't afford any scandal."

he might contrive a chivalrous tone. "So, if you will just hand over General Hastings' letters, why, here's your money. You have the letters, haven't you?" he demanded abruptly.

Aggie coyly took a thick bundle from its resting place on her rounded bosom.

"They never leave me," she said.

"Well, they can leave you now, all right," the lawyer remarked unsympathetically. He reached quickly forward for the packet, which Aggie extended willingly enough. But it was Mary, who, with a swift movement caught and held it.

"I think," Mary explained tranquilly, "that you had better see our lawyer, Mr. Harris, in reference to this. We women know nothing of such details of business settlement."

"Oh, I see," he said disagreeably, with a frown to indicate his complete sagacity in the premises.

"I thought you would, Mr. Irwin," Mary returned. "If you'll take the money to Mr. Harris Miss Lynch will meet you in his office at 4 o'clock this afternoon, and, when her suit for damages for breach of promise has been legally settled out of court, you will get the letters. Good afternoon, Mr. Irwin."

The lawyer made a hurried bow which took in both of the women, and walked quickly toward the door.

"Oh, you forgot your marked money, Mr. Irwin," Mary said.

The lawyer wheeled and stood staring at the speaker with a certain sheepishness of expression that bore witness to the completeness of his discomfiture. Without a word he walked back to the desk, picked up the money and restored it to the bill case.

"Young woman," he said emphatically, "you ought to have been a lawyer." And he took his departure, while Mary smiled in triumph and Aggie sat gaping astonishment.

"You've darn near broke my heart," she cried, bouncing up violently, "letting all that money go out of the house. Say, how did you know it was marked?"

"I didn't," Mary replied blandly. "But it was a pretty good guess, wasn't it?" Couldn't you see that all he wanted was to get the letters and have us take the marked money? Then, my simple young friend, we would have been arrested very neatly indeed—for blackmail."

"Gee!" she cried. "That would have been fierce! And now?" she questioned apprehensively.

Mary's answer repudiated any possibility of fear.

"And now," she explained contentedly, "he really will go to our lawyer. There he will pay over that same marked money. Then he will get the letters he wants so much. And just because it's a strictly business transaction between two lawyers, with everything done according to legal ethics!"

"And it's actually the same old game!" Aggie mused.

(To be Continued.)

☞PRATT'S BREAD costs a little more—is worth a good deal more. Ask your grocer.

HOLMES & HALL
REPAIRERS OF HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
SHADES
DOOR BELLS
LOCKS and KEYS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

ARTHUR L. THOMAS
Attorney-at-Law
3-4-5-6 Greenleaf Block
Telephone Quincy 460 Jan.2-1y

Penniman's
TAXI SERVICE
Taxies and Touring Cars with careful and safe drivers to let for all occasions.
C. H. PENNIMAN, Prop.
Telephone 207.
June 13-tf

SWITHIN
Real Estate
Mortgages-Insurance
Greenleaf Block
Quincy
Tel. Quincy 460. Nov. 10-tf

ACTRESS IS SHOT

Miss Belmont Receives Possibly Fatal Wound While Dining

New York, Dec. 11.—Miss Florence Belmont, leading lady at the Casino theatre, Brooklyn, while dining with a Providence, R. I., man and another actress in the King Joy restaurant at 592 Flatbush avenue, was shot and perhaps mortally wounded by a young man.

The shooting, according to the police, was done by Fred Brinner, 25, son of William B. Brinnier a wealthy lawyer of Kingston, N. Y., and former district attorney of Ulster county.

For the last year Brinnier, it is alleged, has annoyed Miss Belmont, and insisted on marrying her. The young man suddenly appeared at Miss Belmont's table and snapped:

"You have played me a mean trick." Then he drew a revolver and fired. He then turned, pushed aside men who tried to intercept him, and fled.

The bullet entered Miss Belmont's right cheek. She was taken to the Brooklyn hospital.

BARGE SA'LOR STABBED

Gloucester Police Unable to Find Man Who Used Knife

Gloucester, Mass., Dec. 11.—William Edwards, of the crew of a coal barge now stationed in Gloucester harbor, lies in the local police station with a five inch cut in his back and a knife wound of three inches under his left ear and within a fraction of an inch of the jugular vein. The Gloucester police are bending every effort to find his assailant.

Edwards' cries for help, coming from a wharf at the foot of Rogers street, brought Officer Eason to that point just in time to see the assailant disappear down the street. Eason sumoned the ambulance and the wounded man was taken to the office of a physician where his wounds were dressed. As yet he has been unable to give an account of the affair.

RUTHENIANS CAUSE DIN IN PARLIAMENT

Protest Government In Matter of Electoral Reforms

Vienna, Dec. 11.—Such a din was created by the Ruthenian deputies in the Austrian imperial parliament that the sitting was suspended by the speaker. For over an hour the Ruthenians, as a protest against the alleged passive attitude of the government in the matter of electoral reform, blew shrill whistles and bugles, rang electric bells and trumpeted with motor horns, at the same time wrenching the lids from their desks and beating the pieces furiously together.

The trouble began when one of the Ruthenians proposed the adjournment of the house as a mark of its disapproval of the government policy. The Austrian premier, Count Karl Sturgkh, opposed the motion, which was negatived, and immediately the Ruthenians started an uproar which became so deafening that the speaker quit the chair.

MUST STAND THE SMOKE

Commissioners Turn Down Request of Chicago Women

Chicago, Dec. 11..—When Chicago women voters go to the polls next spring they will be compelled to mark their ballots in a haze of tobacco smoke. A request that smoking be prohibited at the polls was made to the election commissioners by the Political Equality league. The commissioners informed the women that there is no law by which smoking can be prohibited.

Politicians announced that they will invoke court action in an attempt to prevent women from acting as judges and clerks of elections. Their opposition will be based on the Illinois law, which limits the working hours of women to ten hours. They say that election officers are often required to work from eighteen to twenty hours while ballots are being marked and counted.

ACQUIRE NEW CAR L NE

San Francisco Takes Over Presidio and Ferris Railroad Property

San Francisco, Dec. 11.—At midnight last night the city of San Francisco acquired its second street railway when it took over the Union street line from the Presidio and Ferris Railroad company.

The voters sanctioned the purchase of this line at a recent election at which a bond issue was endorsed for the building of a number of street railways to provide transportation to the Panama-Pacific exposition. The board of supervisors has ordered the first payment of $50,000 on the Union street line.

Tunnel Through Mt. Royal

Montreal, Dec. 11.—Daylight has pierced Mount Royal for the first time. Two gangs of laborers tunneling 600 feet underground met in the heart of the mountain. This new tunnel is three and one-third miles long and was built for the Canadian Northern Railway company.

Search Travelers For Arms

Belfast, Ire., Dec. 11.—The embargo on arms and ammunition in Ireland is so stringent that the baggage of all incoming travelers is examined by customs officials.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

LAND COURT.

To Elizabeth C. Hall and Annie J. Lincoln, of Taunton, in the County of Bristol, and said Commonwealth; Arthur F. Hall, of Everett, Sophia T. Parker, of Framingham, George W. Souther of Newton in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth; Darius W. Gilbert, Edward E. H. Souther, Catherine D. Stevens, E. Pomroy Collier, Emily L. Bates and Paul J. Bates, of Cohasset, in the County of Norfolk, and said Commonwealth; Alexander E. Stoddard and William O. Souther, Jr., of said Cohasset and George E. Adams of Quincy, in said County of Norfolk, Trustees under the will of Elliot Stoddard; Harriet R. Eaton, of Portland, in the State of Maine; James W. Hall and Elizabeth B. Hall, of Winslow, in the State of Washington; Nellie B. Sander, of Seattle, in said State of Washington; Sarah L. Attridge of Hoguiam, in said State of Washington; George O. Hall and Clara P. Hall of Burlingame, in the State of California; Maria H. Billings of Mill Valley, in said State of California; Phoebe B. Weil, of Oakland, in said State of California; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Ella H. Stoddard of said Cohasset, to register and confirm her title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land situate in said Cohasset, and being shown on plan of land, Cohasset, Mass., belonging to heirs of Isaac Hall dated May 11, 1912, E. C. Sargent, Surveyor, recorded with Norfolk Deeds and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point on Highland Avenue at land now or formerly of the estate of Allen C. Bates, thence running along said Highland Avenue in a northerly direction twenty-nine and 78-100 (29.78) feet to land now or formerly of the estate of George Hall, thence turning and running a little north of east one hundred sixteen (116) feet to a point, thence turning and running in a northerly direction ninety-eight and 8-10 (98.8) feet to a stone wall at land now or formerly of Darius H. Gilbert, thence turning and running in a northeasterly direction by said wall and a ledge by an irregular line about two hundred fifty five feet to a point at land now or formerly of Edward Stevens, thence turning and running along said land of Stevens by a stone wall in a general southeasterly direction by an irregular line about two hundred eighty-one feet to land of the estate of Elliot Stoddard, thence turning and running in a southwesterly direction by said land of the estate of Elliot Stoddard three hundred twenty-nine and 50-100 (329.50) feet to a ledge and land now or formerly of E. P. Collier, thence turning and running in a northwesterly direction along said ledge seventy-two and 55-100 (72.55) feet to a bolt in said ledge, thence turning and running a little north of west fifty-seven and 16-100 (57.16) feet to a drill in a ledge, thence turning and running in a westerly direction along land now or formerly of the estate of Allen C. Bates two hundred four and 9-100 (204.09) feet to the point of beginning. Containing according to said plan 80,290 square feet more or less.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition, and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

You are hereby cited to appear at the Land Court to be held at Boston, in the County of Suffolk, on the fifth day of January A. D. 1914, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, Charles Thornton Davis, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this second day of December in the year nineteen hundred and thirteen.

Attest with Seal of said Court.
CLARENCE C. SMITH,
Recorder.
(Seal.)
Dec. 4-3t 4-11-18

LONG LIVED ROOFING
Buy your roofing with the idea that it is going to last for years to come.
NEPONSET
PAROID ROOFING
is made carefully from the very best materials obtainable. It has received the endorsement of the leading railroads of the United States as well as that of the United States Government. We also handle the Neponset Wall Board which comes in 3 finishes and is good for any room in the house. Call or write for samples.
L. GROSSMAN & SONS
Tel. 979-W
Jackson St., Near Quincy Adams Depot

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block,
QUINCY

JAMES F. BURKE & CO.
Real Estate and Insurance
Care of Property. Mortgages
Justice of Peace. Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 285 M. Nov. 11-tf

WM. H. TEASDALE
REAL ESTATE
Insurance Mortgages
NOTARY PUBLIC JUSTICE OF THE PEACE
Room 23 Adams Building
Telephones { Residence 514-3 / Office 685-M

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents. No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

WANTED

WANTED—Young man, high school graduate about 20 years of age, for office position. Good chance for right party. Write T. R., Ledger office. 11-2t

WANTED—Two office girls good chance for right parties. Write T. K. Ledger office. 11-2t

WANTED—Cooks, kitchen, general second, parlor, chamber maids, also housekeeper, first class places, good wages. L. M. Flynn, oldest employment office in city, 1535 Hancock street Tel. 2235-W, Quincy. 10-3t

WANTED—Several young men or women to do special advertising among families, good salary to right persons, with fine chance for promotion. Experience unnecessary, permanent position. Address Wm. J. Andrews, District Manager Gen. Delivery, Quincy, Mass. 10-3t

WANTED—Young man. F. W. Woolworth & Co., Adams Building. 9-3t

WANTED—By the day, housework, cleaning, etc. Apply to Hilda Hinda, at 373 Water street, near Brewers corner. 9-3t.

WANTED—Young lady to assist in store. Steady position and good opportunity to become familiar with a popular line. Write C. F. C. Ledger office. 9-3t.

WANTED—Childrens sewing. Mrs. A. J. Fox, 56 Division street, Montclair. 5-6t

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing. Myatt, 40 Baxter street. Tel. 1307-M. Quincy, Res. 22-tf

FOR SALE

BUILD A COTTAGE at half price. As I have sold all my real estate I must sell at once, a lot of new and second hand building material at any price 2000 feet 2x8, 2000 feet 2x3, 4x4 etc at $15. M. Car load Atlas cement 35 cents bag, plumbing supplies 100-4 inch Ex H fittings some Ex H 4 inch pipe, 18 oak seats, 8 tanks fitted with B B valves one half price, 20 kegs 8 P nails slightly damaged by fire $1.00 keg, few sinks, 16 inch smoke stack 75 feet high. All must be sold at once. Hotel Pandora, Houghs Neck. Tel. Quincy 2161Z. 11-3t

FOR SALE—A black horse, in good condition, kind and gentle, valuable for driving and light teaming. Can be seen any time at 95 Adams street, Quincy. 6-6t

FOR SALE—1910 Franklin Touring Car. Price $400. Has been overhauled recently by the Franklin Company. This car is fully equipped with gas tank, wind shield, top, and in fact, everything that is needed on an automobile. It is in first-class condition in every way. Will be pleased to demonstrate at any time. John J. Gallagher, 14 Faxon Block. 5-6t

FOR SALE—Lady's black Russian Pony jacket, size 34. At home evenings. Geo. W. Jennings, 317 Washington street, Braintree. 5-6t

FOR SALE or TO LET—New houses Apply to Thompson B. Crane, 403 Washington street, Quincy. 1-tf

TO LET

Large Front Office Greenleaf Block—2 entrances—right at the head of the stairs—one of the most desirable offices in Quincy.

Office, Durgin-Merrill Block—3 large windows—only 1 flight up—exceptional opportunity.

Hancock Building—City Square Offices—small front office, $11 a month

Office—Hancock Chambers, 16x18 feet one flight up, very low rent.

Store House—off Granite St., in the rear of Greenleaf Block.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best Location in City)

Offices—Large or small.

Desk Room—Street floor, right in the rear of main entrance, good light and air, $5 up a month.

Transient Rooms—Well furnished and with care, $1 a day.

Furnished Rooms—With care steam heat, and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week

HALLS

Music Hall—Music Hall Block—Capacity 962—highest possible rating by the State. "Excellent" in every particular.

New Colonial Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—Capacity 240—the best possible location for a Hall.

Hancock Hall—Hancock Building City Square—Capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 2106) Quincy

LOST

LOST—Wednesday, Dec. 10, Lady's gold watch and long chain. Waltham works, closed face. Notify C. A. Penley, Room 14, City Hall. 11-3t

TO LET

TO LET—Tenement 4 rooms and bath all improvements, set range. Vacant Jan. 1, 1914. Apply 180 Franklin street. 10-6t

TO LET—With private family, desirable room with modern conveniences. Address "R," Ledger office or telephone Quincy, 1796-W. 10-6t

TO LET—Tenement of 6 rooms, all improvements. Rent only $18.75, C. W. Guy, 42 Butler road, near High school. 10-tf

TO LET—In private Swedish family nice warm rooms and good board, 5 minutes walk from depot. Write S. F. P., Ledger Office. 10-3t

TO LET—Furnished rooms with or without board, Grant Place, opposite Central Garage, Washington street. 9-3t

TO LET—9 room house on Hancock street, near Quincy center. In first class repair and reasonable rent. Apply to Mr. Galligan at Kincaide's Furniture store. 6-tf

TO LET—In Wollaston very desirable five room bungalow on high land, $26; also seven room house, $30; five room apartment, $20; six room apartment, $16. All improvements and in-first class condition. H. W. Richmond, 105 Brook street, Wollaston. Tel. 358-2. 6-6t

TO LET—Lower flat, 5 rooms bath modern improvements in new house pleasantly situated in corner lot 29 Atherton street, Bigelow Park. Rent reasonable to right party. Inquire on premises or 72 Glencoe place. 5-6t

A SNAP—7 room flat to let, all improvement, fine location, will let five dollars cheaper if taken at once. Apply H. K. Ellis, 36 Warwick street, Wollaston. Tel. Maine 4577. 5-6t

UPPER APARTMENT. In two-family house on Spear Street. Five rooms, bath, large pantry and closets, also open attic with finished heated chamber. Every improvement, electric light, furnace, range etc. Ready for immediate occupancy. Telephone Quincy 278 M or enquire mornings of Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 1po

TO LET—173 Whitwell street, half house, modern conveniences, $20 per month. Ready for immediate occupancy. Apply Penniman's Stable, Granite street. 19-tf

RUSSELL PARK — Commodious house of seven rooms, large hall and bath. Modern, every convenience open fireplace, furnace, range, set tubs, electric lights, cemented cellar, etc. Best residential neighborhood. Ready for immediate occupancy. For further details or key see Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. tf 1po

TO LET—Nicest 4 room and bath lower flat in town. Every improvement $19.00. 126 Glendale road. S. E. Thomas Greenleaf Block. 17-tf

TO LET—5 room tenement at 117 Quincy street, $20 per month. Apply Berman Furniture Co. 6-tf

TO LET—Houses of 5, 6 and 10 rooms. M. T. Sullivan. Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy, Mass. 11-tf

MISCELLANEOUS

RENT FREE—until Jan. 1st. Two adjoining houses, 28 and 30 Pleasant street to desirable tenants, who will agree to stay one year, or longer. $5.00 per week in advance. Stable for one horse if desired. $1.00 a week extra. Apply 36 Pleasant street. 5-tf

ANOTHER BARGAIN
Make me an offer for a ten room house on Whitwell Street.
You will own it if you will talk buy, as it is one of those chances some one will miss.
HENRY W. SAVAGE
Real Estate, Boston.
E. G. HAYDEN, Local Representative
Telephone 1877-M Quincy.
Nov 17-tf

A "WANT"
advertisement is a small notice inserted in the LEDGER to tell the public what you want. Whether you need help or employment, house, horse or automobile, the little "want ad." is the agent to find it for you. Such small classified advertisements, on page 5 of the LEDGER, costs but 25 cents for 25 words or less, one time; three consecutive insertions 50 cents; 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents. Leave your notice at the Ledger Office, 1424 Hancock Street.

Thursday
Friday
Saturday
KINCAIDE THEATRE
at 2.30, 5, 10, 15c,
at 7.45, 10, 15, 25c
Program Subject to Change

GARDNER VINCENT & CO.
Novelty Fantasy
"The Flying Horse"

HARRY BOOKER & CO.
In their laugh-lifting Sketch
"The Walking Delegate"

VIRGINIA HERBERT
Singing and Dancing

BARNEY O'NEIL
Ireland's Favorite Singer

Western Feature Picture
ESCAPE OF JIM NOLAN

Two Good Comedy Pictures
"A WOMAN IN THE ULTIMATE"
"THE LAUNDRESS AND LADY"

NEXT WEEK
ANNIVERSARY PROGRAM

TRANSFERS IN FIRE DEPT.

The first of the rumored changes at the West Quincy fire station became effective today when Richard Joyce reported at the fire station at Quincy Point and Edward Barry who has been at that house since his appointment last spring was sent to West Quincy.

Joyce was not the driver of the hose wagon on the night the hose company failed to respond to Box 224 until it was too late to be of assistance.

WAR ON PEDDLERS.

The first man arrested in Milton since Chief Maurice Pierce of the police department declared war on unlicensed peddlers was Mohammed Aneen, a Syrian and in court this morning he was fined $5 for violation of the Milton by laws. Aneen, is a Syrian by birth and a Turkish subject but could talk no English. While the court officers were searching for an interpreter Aneen commenced talking Italian with Officer Calabro of Hingham and he acted during the trial.

HOME FROM BROOKLYN.

Although the Finnish Congregational church at Brooklyn, New York would not release Rev. John E. Lillback of Quincy from the acceptance of their call they have granted him an indefinite period in which to assume the pastorate. Rev. Mr. Lillback tendered his resignation as pastor of the Finnish Congregational Church several months ago but owing to the severe illness of his wife he has not left his Quincy field. He returned from Brooklyn Wednesday night after a brief trip.

Rev. Henry Bedinger, rector of St. Peters church, Salem is to speak on "Travel Abroad" tonight at St. Chrysostom's church under the auspices of the Girls Friendly society.

Get your white wrapping paper for Christmas gifts at the Ledger-Patriot office. Come early and avoid the rush. Large sheets 2 cents each. By the dozen 20 cents.

CITY OF QUINCY

IN COUNCIL.

ORDERED:

Dec. 8, 1913.

On the petition of Charles H. Penniman for a license to keep and sell gasoline on Wibird street, that a public hearing be given to all parties interested on Monday evening Dec. 15, 1913 at 8 o'clock in the Council Chamber, City Hall. And the petitioner is hereby directed to give notice of this hearing to all parties interested by publishing a copy of this order in one or more Quincy newspapers.

Adopted Dec. 8, 1913.

Attest:—GEORGE T. MAGEE,
Clerk of Council.
Dec. 11-1t

JOHN SANDIRSON.

The funeral of John Sandison who died suddenly at the polishing plant of Bishop Bros., in South Quincy on Monday, was held from his home, 53 McDonnell street this afternoon. Services were conducted by Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott of the Bethany Congregational church. Burial was in Mt. Wollaston cemetery. The funeral was well attended by members of the polishers union and long time friends. A delegation from Clan McGregor attended the services.

EAST BRAINTREE.

Mr. C. W. Matthews of Liberty street has sold his entire herd of cows to Fred Chandler of Summer street, Weymouth. The high price of hay and grain is given by Mr. Matthews as the reason for disposing of his cattle.

Mrs. T. H. Emerson of Bellevue road is recovering from a week's illness and her numerous friends are pleased to see her out again.

Mr. W. K. Gilmore who built the neat bungalow on the corner of Claremont avenue and Liberty street, now owned by Walter A. Poore, is framing a new house on the opposite corner of Claremont avenue. Mr. Gilmore is now living in the house on Bellevue road, owned and recently occupied by Charles B. Edwards, but will move into his new house as soon as it is completed.

Robert Gibson is making extenisve repairs on the group of buildings near his stable on Commercial street.

The Thayer estate on Hayward street is awaiting its owners. There are four heirs to this estate which is in the hands of Charles S. Sullivan, a lawyer in Charlestown, and as soon as the court distributes the property it is expected some action will be taken to make use of it.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brown of Hillcrest road have moved into the double house on Hobart street, owned by Stephen E. Maloney of Bowditch street

Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Crane and family of Hobart street, have moved into the old Newton homestead on Shaw street, owned by Mr. N. A. F. Nelson, and recently occupied by Clement Lavangie.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Haddow of North Bowditch street have moved to 166 Franklin street, Quincy.

During the past week Mrs. Eliza B. Ludden a resident of this town for the past thirty-five years, but now living with her daughter Mrs. Edwin Brown of Whitman, celebrated her eighty-ninth birthday. Mrs. Ludden is the oldest member of the Reynolds Relief Corp 102 of Weymouth which sent a delegation of fifteen women in honor of the occasion. Mrs. Ludden has four children living, Mrs. Brown her host, Mrs. Carrie L. Loring of this town, Herbert Ludden of New York and George Ludden of this town. Mrs. Loring was with her mother on this 89th birthday and found her enjoying her usual robust health.

Try an Advertisement in
The Quincy Daily Ledger

Through the Daily Newspaper the Advertiser can make a local and intimate appeal to his prospective customer in his own community and in his own vernacular.

The Newspaper Advertisement is not buried—it is accessible. The Newspaper Advertisement of a commodity continually or daily needed is read by the very people whose continual or daily need the Advertiser desires to supply. The Newspaper Advertisement may be seen thirty times a month—it is not limited to one appearance.

Geo. W. Prescott Publishing Company
1424 Hancock Street, -- Quincy, Mass.

HOW WE WHIPPED MEXICO IN '47; YEAR OF WAR BARREN OF RESULT

Lessons Learned Then Are of Value Now—Bold Move Ended Tedious Conflict.

Victory Came With Shift of Scene of Action, Making Capital Pivotal Point.

SIXTY years ago it cost the United States the lives of 25,000 men and $200,000,000 to defeat Mexico. It took two years of fighting to win back peace between the two nations.

Critics of the war department and of the administration took up the cry that the war's cost in blood and money was tremendously increased because of our unpreparedness. That the losses were not greater, says a writer in the New York Press, was due to the fact that the campaign was undertaken with the single view of subduing Mexico—of punishing her for objecting to our annexation of Texas and of forcing her to recognize our ownership of the territory.

The campaign was begun in northern Mexico only because we had troops there and because it was the natural place to begin it. When we saw peace never would come that way the scene of operations was shifted south, and the City of Mexico was taken.

Causes That Led Up to War.

President Andrew Jackson in a message to congress in 1837 had said that insults to Americans in Texas would more than justify war. At that time, however, he advocated mildness and toleration.

For some years before that the United States had been trying to acquire Texas by purchase. Texas then was a part of Mexico, but was even less under the control of the central government than are the northern states today. The population was made up largely of American settlers.

From 1829 to 1835 Andrew Jackson and John Quincy Adams made Mexico offers of from $1,000,000 to $15,000,000 for Texas, all in vain.

Then, on March 2, 1836, Texas declared her independence as a republic. The Mexican army under Santa Anna was defeated by the Texans under General Sam Houston, and the independence pretty well established. Mexico would not recognize it, but the American congress did.

Texas wanted to join the United States, but Jackson would not conclude a treaty of annexation. Mexico had said American annexation of Texas would mean war.

Nine years later it was learned that Mexico was preparing to recognize the independence of Texas on condition that she would not enter the United States.

In February, 1845, congress admitted Texas as a state. Texas claimed the Rio Grande as her southern and western boundary. Mexico claimed the territory to the Nueces river, about 150 miles north of the Rio Grande. Texas agreed to leave the settling of the boundary to the United States.

Invasion by Mexico.

To settle this boundary line General Zachary Taylor, in command of the American troops in the southwest, in July, 1845, was ordered to take his men into Texas and defend her ports. At the same time the American squadron under Captain Stockton was ordered into the gulf of Mexico.

Jan. 13, 1846, Taylor was ordered to take up positions opposite Matamoros, Mier and Laredo, Mexican towns within 150 miles of the mouth of the Rio Grande.

Beginning the march on March 8, Taylor in ten days had fortified a position on the left bank at the mouth of the Rio Grande. In another ten days he was within cannon range of Matamoros.

The American and Mexican forces were facing across the river. General Arista, in command of the Mexicans, demanded that Taylor retire to the Nueces. Taylor refused, and the Mexicans crossed the Rio Grande.

On April 24 a party of sixty-three American scouts was ambushed by the Mexican forces, eleven killed or wounded and the rest captured.

May 13, 1846, congress declared that a state of war existed between the United States and Mexico and voted 50,000 men and $10,000,000.

These were the conditions.

Taylor had about 4,000 men at the mouth of the Rio Grande. American ships—what there were of them—were in the gulf of Mexico. We were confronted with the problem of raising an army of 50,000 or 100,000 men and raising it quickly—and getting it into Mexico.

General Winfield Scott, in command of the American army, took charge of the campaign from Washington. It was decided to send three distinct armies into Mexico. The army of the west was to march into New Mexico and take Santa Fe, the army of the center was to take Chihuahua, the capital of the state of that name, and carry on the fight in the northern provinces, and the third army, under General Taylor, was to be sent into central Mexico.

The difficulties of recruiting our forces and getting them into fighting shape made it impossible to undertake these three campaigns immediately and together. It was several months before they were well under way.

Meanwhile, three days after the first attack on American troops, Captain Walker, in command of a camp of Texas rangers at Point Isabel, on the gulf coast, a few miles north of the mouth of the Rio Grande, was attacked by the Mexicans. Several of his men were killed or wounded.

General Taylor at once left his camp opposite Matameros, under Major Brown, and went to defend Point Isabel. He drove the Mexicans south and on May 8 engaged Arista's forces at Palo Alto, between Point Isabel and the Rio Grande.

Our Troops In Enemy's Country.

May 17, four days after war had been declared, Taylor crossed the Rio Grande, and the invasion of Mexico began. Two days later he took Matamoros.

These fights had been little ones, but they had been won over the odds that were fought against during the entire war. The Mexican forces were utterly routed and retreated in the direction of San Luis Potosi.

GENERAL WINFIELD SCOTT.

Taylor with 7,000 men advanced into the state of Nuevo Leon, and on Sept. 21 laid siege to Monterey, its capital, which he entered Sept. 24.

Saltillo, in Coahuila, was taken in November. Taylor sent Generals Patterson and Puttman on into Tamaulipas, and the next month they took its capital, Victoria.

Meanwhile, the American flag had been raised in California and New

HOW AMERICANS INVADED MEXICO.

Mexico, both then part of Mexico, and the army of the center had advanced into Mexico.

Washington believed that New Mexico and the northern Mexican states were in a condition bordering on revolt and were ready to declare their independence. All haste, therefore, was made as soon as war was declared to get the armies of the center and the west ready for the field.

The latter part of June the army of the west departed for Santa Fe, the plan being to take New Mexico by capturing its capital.

Aug. 18 General Kearny entered Santa Fe. The Mexican army, under General Armijo, had evacuated the place, and the American flag was raised without the firing of a gun.

Sept. 25 Kearny set out for California and the Pacific. He met a returning party, however, and was told that Captain Fremont was in possession.

Santa Anna Raises Army.

In July the army of the center, comprising 3,000 men, under General John E. Wool, had started down the Mississippi. In September it entered Mexican territory, planning to march direct to Chihuahua.

But the ignorance of the war department of Mexican topography was so great that they had not planned for the Sierra Gorda range of mountains, directly in the path of General Wool's march.

When Wool saw the peaks looming up 4,000 feet into the air ahead of him he decided not to cross them. He started south toward Saltillo.

On Oct. 29 Wool took Monclova and proceeded on to Saltillo. He abandoned the idea of attacking Chihuahua. In December he reached Saltillo and joined forces with General Taylor.

Tampico was taken by Commodore Perry's fleet and garrisoned by Taylor's troops.

Meanwhile Santa Anna, who was captured in 1836 by the Texan army under General Sam Houston, had been permitted to return to Mexico in the belief he would be friendly to American interests and help bring the war to a close.

He landed at Vera Cruz, became chief magistrate of Mexico and immediately began reorganizing the defenses. Leaving the government in the hands of Gomez Farias, the vice president, he gathered his troops together and set out to check the advance of General Taylor.

He met the American forces under Taylor at Buena Vista, just south of Saltillo, and one of the bloodiest battles of the war ensued. Santa Anna's forces numbered 20,000. Taylor had barely 4,500.

Finally, after 800 Americans had been killed or wounded and 2,000 Mexicans killed, Santa Anna was forced back. He returned to San Luis Potosi. From there he was called to the City of Mexico to check a growing insurrection against Gomez Farias.

Capital Now the Goal.

In the early part of 1847, nearly a year after the opening of the war, the campaign of the Rio Grande was practically at a close. The only advantage the United States had gained was the assurance that the territory east of the Rio Grande was lost forever to Mexico.

Finally it was determined to transport an army by sea to Vera Cruz and march directly against the City of Mexico. General Scott was directed to lead this army.

By March 22 Scott's investment of the positions about Vera Cruz was complete. The place had a population of 7,000 and was strongly fortified, but four days after the bombardment commenced the city and the Castle of San Juan de Ulloa, a harbor fortification, surrendered together. Scott took possession of Vera Cruz March 27.

Delayed at Vera Cruz waiting for supplies, it was late in April when the army started for the capital. On the way Scott took Jalapa and Puebla, halting at Puebla again for supplies and re-enforcements. Aug. 7 he set out on his eventful march to the capital.

Three Battles Won by Scott.

Aug. 19 Scott met the Mexican forces and defeated them overwhelmingly in three battles that really were part of one general engagement—Contreras, Churubusco and San Antonio.

Meanwhile the United States had been doing all possible to end the war by a diplomatic adjustment. An armistice was declared, to begin Aug. 23. The negotiations fell through, however, and the armistice ended Sept. 7. Scouting parties sent out that day by Scott discovered the army of Santa Anna was intrenched, with its right wing resting on the fortifications of Casa Mata and its left on those of Molino del Rey.

Sept. 8 the Mexican positions were stormed and carried. Scott's army was at the doors of the City of Mexico.

But before the capital could be entered Scott thought it necessary to take Chapultepec, a strongly fortified hill towering above the city and between it and the American army.

The Mexicans made a desperate, but unavailing defense.

The Americans pushed on fighting against desperate resistance until they were in the suburbs of the city outside the Belen gate.

A deputation asked General Scott for terms of capitulation. His terms were refused. Thereupon Scott ordered the divisions of Generals Worth and Quitman to enter the city.

Flag Over the Palace.

The American colors were raised over the National palace shortly after 7 o'clock in the morning of Sept. 14, 1847. By Sept. 16 our forces were completely in possession of the Mexican capital. Feb. 2, 1848, five months after the City of Mexico had fallen and a year and nine months after war had been declared, a treaty of peace was signed. It was ratified by the Mexican congress May 25. Before the end of June the American troops were out of Mexico.

The treaty recognized the Rio Grande as the southern and western boundary of Texas, and ceded California and New Mexico to the United States. In return the United States paid Mexico $15,000,000 cash and assumed $3,500,000 in claims of American citizens which the Mexican government had agreed to pay by the convention of 1840, but had later repudiated.

Polk was urged to annex all of Mexico. He refused to consider it.

Aliens' Postal Deposits the Biggest.

New York leads all other American cities in the use of the postal savings banks, according to the report of Postmaster Morgan transmitted to the department at Washington. It showed that 33,839 depositors in the city have to their credit in the local government savings institution a total of $3,092,699. Italian born residents lead immigrants from other countries by a wide margin, while the deposits of foreign born white persons lead those of Americans by 63 2-10 per cent.

LADIES AID HOLD SALE

A very successful Christmas sale was held Wednesday afternoon in the vestry of the Wollaston Unitarian church by the Ladies Aid Alliance. A large and attractive display of articles was on view which found many purchasers. Tea and other refreshments were served by Mrs. H. F. Davis and Mrs. Harrison Loud.

The apron and fancy table was in charge of the sewing committee of the Alliance. In charge were: Mrs. Jesse I. Litchfield, chairman, Miss Maria Weston, Mrs. Charles S. Adams, Mrs. Charles E. Barker, Mrs. George B. Damon and Mrs. W. K. Taylor.

Presiding over the cake table were: Miss Harriet L. Turner, Mrs. Genie Bliss and Mrs. H. T. P. Bates.

The candy table was under direction of the Choir Guild, an organization of young ladies, consisting of Miss Charlotte Barstow, Helen Moulton, Katherine Adams and Louise Emery assisted by Gretchen Horst, Priscila Robinson, Anna Weston, Helen Thompson and Marcia Adams.

CLOSING NIGHT BETHANY FAIR

There was another large attendance Wednesday evening at the closing night of the Bethany Union fair and most of the articles at the various booths were disposed of. The entertainment Wednesday evening included a vocal solo by Albert Hayden and the presentation of a play entitled "The girl who pays the bill." The characters in the play were taken by the young men and women of the church.

CLAIM HE STOLE CHICKENS

A man giving his name as Robert Robertson of Quincy was arrested on the tracks near the Harrison square railroad station about five o'clock this morning by officers of Station 11. He was carrying three plump chickens and said he left West Quincy about three o'clock. In the Dorchester court this morning he was sentenced to four months in the House of Correction on a charge of larceny of chickens from persons unknown. The birds are at Station 11 and the owner can obtain same by proving property.

INJURED BY EXPLOSION

Franz Marceau of Wollaston, the well known athlete escaped serious injuries Wednesday when chemicals with which he was experimenting exploded in the laboratory at Dartmouth college. Physicians at first thought that he would lose the sight of both eyes but today one is apparently in good condition and it is thought that the other will be all right within a few days. The explosion created much excitement at the college. Marceau is captain of the cross country team and is a popular student.

FACE CUT BY FLYING GLASS

A woman giving her name as Mrs. John Cushing of Boston was cut in the face by flying glass when an auto she was operating collided with a milk wagon of B. F. Hodgkinson in City Square this morning.

Another woman passenger whose name could not be learned was uninjured.

When the collison occurred the pole of the wagon smashed through the wind shield and tore the steering wheel from its fastening.

The machine was registered in the name of Henry R. Milton of Waltham. Mrs. Cushing was on her way to Hingham when the accident occured. The machine was taken to the garage of C. P. Gould for repairs.

"The Making of a Scout" is to be given tomorrow night at Quincy Music hall for the benefit of Boy Scouts. It is a monster motion picture play of adventure, comedy and romance, dealing with the life of Tom Slade, the Boy Scout hero, and promises to be a big treat for the boys and girls as well as the adults who attend.

NEWSY BRIEFS

Miss Jane D. Topening of New Haven, Conn., is the guest of Mrs. C. P. Gould of Adams street.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Sandberg have moved from Newbury street, Boston to this city.

George L. Gill Lodge is to give an entertainment in I. O. O. F. hall, Adams Building, Monday evening, entitled the "Old Maids Convention."

Maple Lodge K. and L. of H. is to give an entertainment Wednesday evening in Protection hall, which friends of the members are invited to attend.

Miss Randall gives the first of a series of four travel talks tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. Henry Emery, Adams street, for members and friends of the Quincy Women's club.

Tomorrow's meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Auxiliary promises to be of unusual interest as Henry Van Dyke's "The Other Wise Man" is to be read. Music will also be a feature of the meeting.

Funeral service of Mrs. Axel Erickson were held from 488 Beale street, Wollaston at 2 o'clock on Wednesday. Services were held at the Finnish church, West Quincy at 2.30. Interment was in Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

Among the winners of souvenirs at the whist party of the Mt. Wollaston Club in Odd Fellows hall Wednesday evening were Mrs. James Young, Mrs. E. E. Marnock, Matthew Swanson and Alex Marnock. Nine tables were in play.

The regular meeting of the Auxiliary to the Y. M. C. A. will be held at the building Friday at three o'clock. An attractive Christmas program has been prepared. "The Story of the Other Wise Man," by Henry van Dyke will be read and will be illustrated by a set of forty views. There will also be special music and refreshments. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

A great treat is promised the upper grades of the Adams, Cranch, John Hancock and Lincoln schools next Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock at the new Adams school, when Miss Edith Randall will tell the 600 or 700 pupils gathered how Christmas is observed in Germany where it is made much of, and the customs are very interesting. Christmas carols will be sung. The entertainment was planned by the Education committee of the Quincy Women's club, assisted by Miss Randall and Mr. Townsend and Mr. Wilson, masters of the schools to enjoy the treat.

"THE MAMMOTH CAVE."

An interesting lecture was delivered in the Wollaston Methodist church Wednesday evening when Rev. T. C. Pollard of Newton spoke on "The Mammoth Cave." Mr. Pollard was formerly located in Kansas and conducted a number of parties through this marvellous natural phenomenon.

His lecture was illustrated with a series of 24 canvases painted by noted artists of both the exterior and interior of the cave showing the many chambers and other features.

The discovery of the cave and other interesting incidents concerning it were related by the speaker, who further enlivened his address with many anecdotes, humorous and otherwise.

—The fascination of printer's ink has taken a fast hold upon the native Filipino, according to the last annual report of John S. Leach, director of printing in the Philippines. As a result native printers' devils are so numerous that, since the installation of the system of training native printers was begun in 1902 the force in the Bureau of Printing is now composed of ninety-four per cent of Filipino workmen. Under this system, the report states apprentices are graded in six classes, above which come junior craftsmen and craftsmen. In the year ending June 30 twenty juniors advanced to the rank of craftsmen and there was a similar advance all along the line. The total of 165 apprentices was distributed over all the divisions of the plant.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mr. Axel Erickson wishes to thank friends and neighbors for kindness shown in his recent bereavement and for the beautiful floral tributes.

Quincy, Mass., Dec. 11 11-1t

Too Late For Classification

LOST—In City Square, or in City Square stores, about noon Thursday, a $20 bill. Reward if returned to Ledger Office. 11-3t

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass.

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

LARGEST GUARANTEED CIRCULATION IN THE CITY

Vol. 28 No. 288 QUINCY MASS. FRIDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 12 1913 PRICE TWO CENTS

BRAINTREE MAN SHOOTS WIFE THEN CUTS HIS OWN THROAT

Jeremiah O'Neil Fires Four Shots at Wife, One of Which Takes Effect In Her Left Lung

When Pursued He Ran Down Cellar And Cut His Throat From Ear to Ear

Jeremiah O. O'Neil, aged 42 years of 6 Fountain street, South Braintree, made a murderous assault on his wife Mary, at their home about 11.30 this morning, then running down stairs turned the revolver on himself. The revolver failed to explode, however and drawing a razor he slashed at his own throat, causing almost instant death.

The murderous assault came without warning. Mrs. O'Neil was at work about her kitchen when her husband entered and began to shoot. Mrs. O'Neil immediately grappled with him and endeavored to wrench the revolver from him but was unsuccessful. While this tussle was in progress the maddened man repeatedly beat her over the head with the revolver.

(Continued on Page Six.)

COME TO THE MEN'S STORE FOR MEN'S GIFTS

To our regular stock of Men's Goods--So large and Attractive in variety, quality and price, we have added an immense stock of things "Christmasy."

INTERWOVEN HOSIERY
You can buy one pair for 25c
Four pairs in Christmas box $1.00
One pair Silk for 50c
Two pairs in Christmas box $1.00

CHENEY SILK
None Better
Handkerchief and Tie to match, Tie and Socks to match. Socks, Handkerchief and Tie to match
$1.00 $1.25 $1.50

PAJAMAS AND NIGHT ROBES
Big stock here to select from
A useful Holiday Gift
50c. to $2.00

UMBRELLAS
You can step right in at the door just around the corner and find a selection of Men's, Women's and Children's Umbrellas from ... 50c. up to $5.00

ARM BANDS & GARTERS
in Xmas boxes
25c 50c 75c $1.00

NECKWEAR
Thousands of Ties to choose from. All the newest and latest made to our order for the Holiday season, all in single boxes.
25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00

HANDKERCHIEFS
Plain or Initial Linen and Silk ..... 5c to $1.00
Sealpackerchief, advertised in the magazines are here at 3 for 25c. up to 25c each

SLIPPERS
We have a big line of the Comfy Slippers made by the Daniel Green Felt Shoe Co.
75c, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75
The New Tango Dancing Pumps in Satin and Patent $1.50 $2.00
Slippers for men, women, and children ... 50c $2.50

SUSPENDERS
The President, The Bull Dog and all leading makes in Xmas boxes
25c. 50c. 75c. $1.00.

HOLEPROOF HOSIERY
6 pairs guaranteed to wear six months or new Hose free. In Holiday boxes, $1.50, $2.00. 3 pairs Silk guaranteed for 3 months $2.00

SWEATERS
Direct from mills to us. With and without Collars in Blue, Tan, Crimson, Dark Oxford and Light Oxford
$1.00 to $8.00.

GLOVES
Dress Gloves, Auto Gloves, Fur Lined Gloves, Working Gloves, lined and unlined
Prices 25c to $5.00.
We have the Popular Mark Cross Gloves at $1.50

HOCKEY CAPS
25c, 50c, $1.00.
Over Gaiters and Leggins, 25c to $1.00.

Shirts are Useful Xmas Gifts, This Store offers you a Big Selection from the Full Dress to the Every Day Outing Shirt, Prices 50c up to $2.50.

The Famous Red Man Brand of E. & W. Collars—2 for 25c

—Ask For Legal Stamps Your Cash Discount—

GEORGE W. JONES
1 Granite Street, Quincy

A LETTER OF APPRECIATION

Col. Anderson Praises Work of Choral Society

The following letters from T. B. Pollard, president of the Quincy Choral society and Col. Edward Andersoin will be read with interest.

Col. Edward Anderson in his many travels and experiences has had opportunities not given most people to hear similar concerts. and his tribute therefore is worthy of more than a passing notice.

To the Editor of the Ledger:

I wish to thank you for the excellent account of the Choral Society concert which you printed in today's issue. No doubt out of consideration for our feelings you gave the impression that we had a fair sized audience. It was really very small. The management feels that the concert deserved a good audience. The enclosed letter was received this morning and though not written for publication I have obtained Col. Anderson's permission to publish it. I hope you will find a place for it in an early issue.

Yours truly,
T. B. POLLARD,
President of the Choral Society.

Dec. 11, 1913.

President T. B. Pollard.
Quincy Choral Society.

My dear friend:

I hope you will not think me presumptuous or vain if I think it may please you and the Choral Society by which I was so surprised and delighted last evening if I express my appreciation.

In the four-score years that I have just entered I have heard some of the best choruses, but I am sure your society need not blush beside any of them.

Mr. Hackett was admirable and the Brockton Philharmonic orchestra was delightful, but your society was a surprise and a charm. I was amazed at their remarkable rendering of Kremser's song of Thanksgiving, the rare qualities of the ladies voices in the Indian Mountain song, and the deep feeling of the Christmas Song of glory and power by Mascagni; but when it came to the Wedding Feast of Hiawatha, with its intricate harmonies, its deep pathos and wild story, I was at once amazed and delighted.

I heard Mrs. John Wood read the poem at the New Boston Theatre sixty years ago—nobody had been kind to the new poem and the Scandinavian rythm before, and she brought it a wild enthusiasm—but deeply as I had realized the wonderful Saga, you gave me a new inspiration Wednesday evening. Mr. Hackett's song of Chibiabos in exquisite spirit and feeling, and Mr. Dunham is an admirable conductor; but my surprise is that you have found and trained such, and so many voices, and to such rare perfection.

Excuse my seeming to know so much of the music of last night, after the vanity of supposing you will care for my enthusiasm; but with a deep gratitude for, and admiration of your society, believe me,

Most sincerely your friend,
Edward Anderson.

Dec. 11, 1913.

☞Get your white wrapping paper for Christmas gifts at the Ledger-Patriot office. Come early and avoid the rush. Large sheets 2 cents each. By the dozen 20 cents.

The Song Shop wishes you a Merry Christmas
Pianos $100 and up
Easy Terms or Cash
Hallett & Davis Piano Co.
Sheet Music. Postal Cards
M. B. & C. W. BAHR,
AGENTS,
1291 Hancock Street
Dec. 11-6t

Gould's Orchestra
Concert, Reception and Dance Work Solicited
Address Communications to
ALICE G. GOULD, Director
15 Willow St., East Braintree
Dec. 11-6t-o-12-1w

COMEDY FOR GIRLS GIVEN

Quincy Point Ladies Present "The Conspirators"

The December sale, supper and entertainment of the Ladies Aid Society of the Washington Street Congregational Church was given in the vestry Friday evening with a very large attendance. Tables for the sale of aprons, fancy articles, dolls, punch, candy, cake and Christmas articles were arranged about the vestry and the proceeds of the evening were large.

A supper of cold boiled ham, rolls, macaroni and cheese, coffee, escallopped potatoes, baked beans and pies of all kinds was served by the members and at eight o'clock the curtain unrolled on the Conspirators, a two act comedy for girls which was the feature of the evening.

The cast included Miss Ruth Kinsman, Miss Gladys Rouse, Miss Madeline Betts, Miss Mehitable Knight, Miss Laura Wright, Miss Marion Bailey, Miss Catherine McKenzie, Miss Nellie Lorenson, Miss Mary Wilson, Mrs. Arthur B. Foster, Mrs. Walter Perry and Miss Isabelle Foster. The comedy was well done and was perhaps the best ever presented at the church. Ice cream was served at the close of the entertainment.

The supper committee was Miss Ella M. Freeman, Mrs. Joseph Fitton, Mrs. Godfrey, Mrs. Charles Griswold, Mrs. Joseph Gibb, Mrs. Milligan, Mrs. B. Hayden, Mrs. W. Hayden and Mrs. J. Forest.

The tables were in charge of the following:

Candy—Mrs. J. Peterson, Mrs. M. Wight.

Dolls—Elizabeth Scouler, May Oliver, Catherine Yule.

Cake—Mrs. Wade Shorter, Mrs. D. Scouler, Jr.

Punch—Mrs. Eugene R. Stone, Mrs. E. H. Bushnell.

Apron—Mrs. H. E. Bonney, Mrs. G. Carter, Mrs. Walter Hayden.

Fancy—Mrs. C. W. Newcomb, Mrs. T. McKenney, Mrs. J. F. Roache, Mrs. J. Giff, Helen Lincoln.

Ice cream—Mrs. Schlenker, Miss Cora Barnes, Mrs. Brent.

HENS STOLEN FROM QUINCY

The hens found in the possession of Robert Robertson of Quincy who was sentenced to four months in the House of Correction at Dorchester Thursday after he was caught on the tracks at the Harrison Square station were claimed Thursday by Dr. Owen Leonard of 100 Farrington street, Wollaston.

The hens graced the sacred precincts of Station 11 until the owner learned where they were. He was not averse to talking about his birds and said one was a very rare specimen. So rare in fact that ornithologists who almost admit that the specimen is extinct, would hardly recognize it—a laying hen.

It was reported to the police Thursday night that two other places have been broken into during the past three nights.

COURT OFFICERS REPORT.

The report of the court officers at the Quincy district court up to December 1, is as follows:

Committed to Dedham,	230
Committeed to hospitals,	38
Committeed to schools,	12
Committed to state farm,	14
Committed to Sherburne	4

During this period the officers have served 195 summons and five warrants

PIERCE STUDIO
ANYONE WHO SITS FOR PHOTOGRAPHS
On or before Dec. 20. can have their work for CHRISTMAS
Stormy weather makes no difference
Adams Building, Quincy
Dec. 12 6t

CASE SIMILAR TO QUINCY

Woburn Elects Man as Alderman Who Can Not Serve

Woburn is having the same experience as Quincy in having elected a man as a member of the Board of Aldermen, who can not serve for the reason that he has not resided in the city for more than a year.

The person in question is "Jack" Geraghty who married Julia French of Newport after an elopment some few years ago. Geraghty was elected a member of the Board of Aldermen at the election last Tuesday and the officials have now discovered a clause bership on the Board to persons who in the City Charter limiting the mem, have resided there for more than a year.

In Woburn however there is another clause in its charter which provides that in such cases the vacancy caused shall be filled by the remaining members of the Board.

Unfortunately Quincy with its model charter does not contain that provision and a special election must be held.

HEPTASOPHS' GLEE CLUB

Granite Conclave of Heptasophs held their annual meeting in Protection hall Thursday evening and commenced what promises to be one of the busiest years since its institution. Practically all of the members were present. Besides the election of officers, a glee club was formed. During the evening solos in English and Swedish were rendered by John Kalson.

The glee club will be directed by Bert Irving and William Provost and among its members are John E. Byron, Parker Healey, John Kalson, Charles Hersey. Others are expected to join at the next meeting.

The officers for the ensuing year are:

Archon—Bert Irving.
Provost—William Canty.
Prelate—John E. Byron.
Inspector—John Kalson.
Warden—Arthur Gibney.
Sentinel—Arthur Lemieux.
Financier—Fred P. Hill.
Treasurer—John Cahill.
Secretary—Mark Gill.
Trustees—John Houghton, John Cahill, Fred P. Hill.

(ADVERTISE.)

NOTICE.
IF THE PERSON WHO TOOK A LADY'S HANDBAG FROM BETHANY CHAPEL, DEC. 10, WILL RETURN SAME TO THIS OFFICE BEFORE DEC. 13 THEY WILL AVOID MUCH TROUBLE. 11-2t

CITY SQUARE BURGLAR SCARE

Ringing of Burglar Alarm Prevents a Break

The ringing of the burglar alarm bell at C. F. Pettengill's jewelry store shortly after 6.30 Thursday night startled citizens passing at the time one of whom immediately telephoned employees of the store and Mr. Cole promptly came to the store to make an investigation.

The store closed at 6 o'clock at which time the burglar alarm was turned on and tested and found to be all right. When Mr. Cole arrived at the store, in response to the call, he could find nothing out of the way and it was thought that the wires must have been crossed.

This morning however a thorough test was made of the alarm and it was found to be working all right. It was also found that the cause of the alarm sounding was that someone had tampered with the rear entrance to the store.

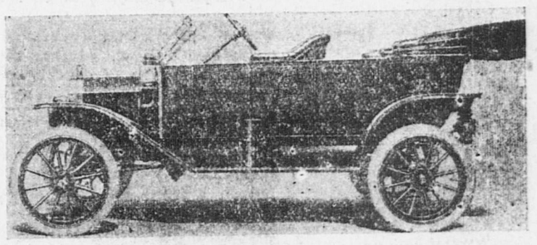
This gives rise to the belief that parties had attempted to break in, chosing the early evening as the safest time, but on hearing the burglar alarm ring they beat a hasty retreat.

MT. WOLLASTON DANCING CLUB

The Mt. Wollaston Club, composed of members of Mt. Wollaston Lodge, I. O. O. F. held a dancing party in Alpha hall Thursday evening. Guests were present from the Manet Encampment, Mt. Wollaston lodge, and George L. Gill Rebekah lodge. Dancing was enjoyed until midnight, music being furnished by Wilson's orchestra.

The committee was Frank Carlton, E. Frank Mitchell, Thomas E. Furnald, Walter Walker, Matthew Swanson, Abel Gomez, William Richards, Arthur Dunstan, Charles Wood.

MONSTER MOTION PICTURE PLAY
SEASON'S BIG SUCCESS
7 REEL FILM
ADVENTURE--COMEDY--ROMANCE
TOM SLADE
THE BOY SCOUT HERO
AN EVENING OF SOLID ENJOYMENT
QUINCY MUSIC HALL
FRIDAY, DECEMBER 12
AT 8 P. M.
ADMISSION 25 CENTS
Dec. 11-2t



THE QUINCY GARAGE, 87 Adams Street, Quincy
Agent for FORD and CASE CARS
A full Line of Supplies always on hand
Michelin Tires in stock
Now Ready for Delivery the 1914 Ford Car, $550 for 5 Passenger, $500 for Runabout, $750 for Touring Car F. O. B. Detroit.
For Particulars or Demonstration call Quincy 435
Night or Day never closed. C. P. GOULD, Prop.
Dec. 12-1o-tf

QUINCY MUSIC HALL
SATURDAY MATINEE and NIGHT
VAUDEVILLE and MOVING PICTURES
2 Reel Feature
"THE MASTER CRACKSMAN"
Dec. 11-3t

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second-Class matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

TELEPHONES
News . . . Quincy 425
Business . . Quincy 1910

NOTICE

Again we ask those sending news or other matter by mail to direct it to the company or newspaper rather than to individual members of the company or employees. If addressed to individuals and they were ill or not at the office, it might be several days in reaching its proper destination and if news matter would be too late for use.

There is a general feeling among those selecting Christmas presents that their friends need about 37 calendars to get through the year with.

The governor of Pennsylvania has been offered the degree of L. L. D. This is a fitting achievement of his prospective achievement in becoming a baseball magnate.

From the way Mr. and Mrs. Sayre are being entertained in London, it does not seem likely that they will be given any chance to sit out on some secluded park bench.

Eggs are getting scarcer and scarcer. Fresh eggs are high, strictly fresh eggs higher still, but if you want recently laid eggs, you must pay the limit.

Several charity affairs have been held lately without calling on Mrs. Woodrow Wilson to give them an apron.

If President Wilson does not travel more he will soon have to do an awful lot of riding back and forth between Washington and New York to get the worth of his travelling fund.

Many people are demanding that the government continue to distribute free seeds as before, and no doubt it would be a popular move to have the post office clerks go around and plant them.

East Boston and Winthrop people are moving to have a curfew law passed for those sections. If the curfew law is no better obeyed than in Quincy it will not be of much use. While the curfew is sounded at 8.55 on the fire alarm circuits but few if any young people pay any attention to it. The sounding of the alarm at that hour has now come to be looked upon more as test blows for the fire alarm circuits.

DEFECTIVE RAILS.

Some people may be so constituted that they enjoy travelling 60 miles an hour over a curving railroad track, with the plunging of the cars enough to throw a passenger from his seat. When the many tons of a railroad car are the leverage forced against a brittle track, it is no wonder that so many accidents come from defective rails. The last report of the Commerce Commission shows that 15 per cent of disasters from defective equipment come from this cause.

Heavier traffic it is estimated, has doubled the strain on rails in recent years. The steel mills have been so rushed, that it is said they have not cut out enough imperfect portions of their ingots. Foreign critics assert that too little pains is taken to apply faithfully every known means of turning out a perfect rail.

Many a steel rail, previously subjected to all known tests, breaks suddenly, when thousands of other rails subjected to the same strain hold good. A prominent cause is what it called "segregation." The constituents of rail material in cooling tend to separate, so that certain portions fail to contain elements necessary to resist strain.

There are evidently two causes for these frequent breakages, the first, defective manufacture, which the railroads are making some effort to have remedied, the other the tendency to run at high speed along curved tracks.

Formerly, a great many people were aggrieved if they spent 15 moments more time than usual on a journey of three or four hours. Fifteen minutes pass quickly at home. But to impatient travellers they seem unendurable. There are a growing number of people who would not mind a few additional moments spent in slowing up around curves.

QUINCY SHOULD BE FIRST.

The unwiseness of the City Council in passing resolutions without investigation was demonstrated Monday evening when it endorsed the movement of the "Build a Ship in Boston" conference to have the million dollar supply ship which the government is to build, built at the Boston navy yard. It is doubtful if the Council when it passed the resolution gave a thought to the fact that in Quincy there is a shipyard which gives employment to thousands of our citizens while less than a dozen Quincy men are employed at the Boston navy yard.

The fact is that the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation has received an invitation from the Navy Department at Washington to bid on this same vessel and should the contract be awarded to this company it does not take much reasoning to see what a benefit it would be to a large number of citizens of Quincy. If the supply ship is built at the navy yard it will possibly benefit a dozen Quincy men by giving them additional employment, so that the resolution would seem like legislation for the few and not for the many.

There is no doubt that if the members of the City Council had understood the situation the resolution as introduced would never have been passed. It is a case where a simple sounding resolution not carefully considered might tend to work inestimable harm to a Quincy industry.

The opinion seems to be that the resolution had its inspiration in the brain of some Quincy man employed at the navy yard who is anxious to see the ship built there.

Now that the resolution has been passed and sent on its way to the officers of the "Build a Ship in Boston" conference it might be a good thing if the Council passed a similar resolution endorsing the Fore River Shipbuilding Co. and sent it to Washington.

LECTURE ON THE MAMMOTH CAVE

The Rev. E. C. Pollard of Newton, and pastor of the Atlantic Methodist Episcopal church gave an illustrated lecture in the auditorium by the Wollaston Methodist church on Mammoth Cave, Kentucky, Wednesday evening. Mr. Pollard painted vivid word pictures of the exquisite nature wonders found there. He spoke of the many enormous auditoriums all of white lime stone and the stalacites and stalagmites all of white lime and particularly of the Bridal chamber where even today young people of Kentucky go to be married. There is a statue of Martha Washington which is an optical illusion caused by a light which the guide causes to be made half a mile from the sight seeing party; the beautiful Styx river which is viewed by the party taking boats; the snow chamber where the roof is seemingly covered with snow balls, and a call from the guide brings down an artificial snow storm of chrystallized lime; the National cemetery where as different people visit the cave from different states in the Union a stone is placed on the pile representing the state.

In the chamber of snakes the emblems of Odd Fellowship and Masonry are to be seen on the roof. Down, down in the bottom or lower level there is the Echo lake where a sound is increased a thousand times; there are to be found the blind fish, and above again the Martha's vineyard and chamber of flowers.

The lecture was most instructive and pleasing to both adults and children. He carried the whole audience with him over the entire journey of sixteen miles. It has been arranged for Mr. Pollard to give his illustrated lecture of Yellowstone Park.

SECOND NIGHT GREAT SUCCESS.

The second night of "Uncle Joe's birthday," the original black face entertainment produced in the Park and Downs vestry by members of the Norwoll club, Thursday evening, was a greater success than the first performance. A large number attended and all of the solos and choruses, "went over," many of them calling for encores. Clark Crichton who took the character part of Uncle Joe and who coached the production received many compliments on the proficiency of his darkies. John Dingwell was stage manager and Earle Gilliatt business manager. The affair was in charge of a committee consisting of: Clark Crichton, Percy Carter, Allen Painten, Earle Gilliatt and Artemus Dingwell. The ushers were: Earle Gilliatt, Leslie Miller, Wesley Browne, Bruce Moargan and Ira Gilliatt.

White wrapping paper for doing up your Christmas gifts can be obtained at the Ledger-Patriot office for 20 cents a dozen sheets or by the single sheet at 2 cents per sheet.

EAST BRAINTREE.

The kitchen of the Union church has been crippled for the past two years with a stove that was all right once, but is now very much lacking. Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Crane have overcome the difficulties by donating their almost new kitchen range. A new electric stove has been installed in Mrs. Crane's home on Quincy avenue.

Eugene G. Arnold formerly of Shaw street is now living at Mrs. King's on Brookside road.

The Miller Chapter Epworth League of the M. E. church entertained the Old Colony Circuit League on Monday evening, Dec. 8. Rev. Ira Lebaron of Taunton a former president of the circuit gave a very interesting address. Refreshments were served and a very pleasant evening was enjoyed by the one hundred and fifty guests present.

Mrs. Violet King of Brookside road has been ill for the past few days with the grip, but is expected to be out again soon.

Miss Florence Johnson is spending the week end with Mrs. David G. Doane of Bowditch street.

Miss Mary Mitchell of Shaw street is spending the week end with Miss Conway of Melrose.

John Fredrickson opened a new grocery store on the corner of Somerville avenue and Shaw street this week. Mr. Fredrickson formerly owned a small store on Quarry street in West Quincy.

The members of the G. Y. G. C. club spent a very pleasant evening at the home of Miss Jennie Aitken Wednesday, Dec. 10. After the regular business meeting light refreshments were served and then the popular music was enjoyed. The next meeting will be held at the home of the Misses Vesta and Amelia Raasch.

Tuesday morning Timothy Hooley, formerly section foreman at the N. Y., N. H. & H. railroad, while strolling around Richard's coal wharf, lost his footing and fell into the river. Fortunately several employees of the coal company witnessed the accident and promptly rescued him from what came near being another drowning accident in this vicinity. Mr. Hooly appeared none the worse for his ducking.

Dr. F. Herbert Gile, chairman of our Board of Health spoke before a large audience on "Medical Inspection in the Schools," at the monthly meeting of the Jonas Perkins School Association Tuesday evening, Dec. 9. A social hour followed Dr. Giles' very instructive speech in which lively discussions were enjoyed, and everybody gained considerable knowledge during the evening. Piano solos were furnished by Henry Cleary and Miss Esther Nelson.

JOHN SANDISON.

The funeral of John Sandison was held from his late home, 33 McDonald street Thursday afternoon. The service was conducted by Rev. B. A. Willmott and the service at the grave by Clan McGregor of which the deceased was a member. There were many beautiful floral tributes. including pillow from the family; wreath—Mr. and Mrs. James Long, and Henry Smith of Barre, Vt.; broken column—Fellow Workmen; standing wreath—Lincoln Polishing Company; St. Andrew's cross—Clan McGregor; chrysanthemums—Friends at Lauriat's; wreath—Quincy Rod and Gun club; standing crescent—Marion Fraser; spray of carnations—Bethany Y. P. S. C. E.; spray of roses—Mr. and Mrs. Wilkinson and family; spray of jonquils—Mrs. Moran and Mrs. Farquhar; spray jonquils—Mr. and Mrs. Moorehead; spray carnations—Mr. and Mrs. Forsyth; spray carnations—Mr. and Mrs. McConnell; spray carnations—Mr. and Mrs. Gillis; spray carnations—Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Litchfield; spray carnations—Mr. and Mrs. Rennie; spray chrysanthemums—Mr. and Mrs. Patterson; spray carnations—A Friend; spray—Mr. and Mrs. Dowey; calla lilies—Mrs. Miller.

YOU need the Ledger EVERY DAY. SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

A Merry Xmas to all.
When buying Pianos or Musical Instruments see
JOHNSEN
6 Chestnut Street, Quincy
Pianos from $10 up
Dec. 8-12t

FIERCE BATTLE ON IN TAMPICO

Admiral Fletcher Ready to Land Marines If Necessary

TAKING REFUGEES ON SHIPS

Grave Fears Rebels Will Fire Oil Tanks Along Both Sides of River—Leaders Warned Not to Fight on Neutral Territory or Near Foreign Property

Vera Cruz, Mex., Dec. 12.—Fighting between the rebels and federals for possession of the city of Tampico is in progress, according to reports received here from Rear Admiral Frank F. Fletcher, commander of the American warships off that port. The latest dispatch to be received here, said that the federal outposts had been driven in and that the insurgents had taken possession of the left bank of the river, from its mouth to Tampico.

No foreigner had been injured, the admiral said, nor had any property been destroyed. A number of refugees were taken on board the United States scout cruiser Chester and the cruiser Tacoma, and others were in buildings near the ships.

Other dispatches sent by Rear Admiral Fletcher from Tampico and received at Vera Cruz, said:

"General Castro has attacked Tampico. Reports indicate that the rebel band is pushing back the federal advance guard.

"I am taking all possible measures to protect and care for Americans and other foreigners, except British and German subjects, who are being looked after by their own representatives.

"The rebels are reported to be respecting Americans and American property."

Under date of noon, Admiral Fletcher telegraphs:

"The federal forces at Tampico have been reinforced and now number 2000 men. The Tacoma and Chester are in the river, with 150 marines from the American battleships aboard. A place of safety for Americans and other foreigners has been assigned, under the guns of the warships.

"The steamer Logician, which has been chartered by the British admiral and manned by a crew from the British cruiser Suffolk, has all the British residents of the town on board. All the Germans are aboard the steamer Cecilie.

"I have warned the leaders of both sides that fighting will not be allowed near the neutral territory assigned to noncombatants nor near valuable foreign property.

"No steamer is available for American refugees.

"Firing continues in the suburbs. I have hoisted my flag on the Tacoma."

The British cruiser Berwick arrived here from Puerto Mexico and probably will proceed to Tampico.

Grave fears are felt here lest the insurgents should fire the oil tanks lining both sides of the river at Tampico, in which event it is believed the warships will be compelled to retire down the river.

Extraordinary efforts are being made by the military authorities to complete the loading of ammunition for the federal cavalry and infantry firearms, on board the Mexican gunboats Vera Cruz and Progreso.

Insult British at Chihuahua

Juarez, Mex., Dec. 12.—Americans who arrived from Chihuahua reported that the rebels, since their occupation of the city, had entered the British vice-consulate and forcibly seized Luis Terrazas, a son of the wealthy land owner, and after carrying him through the streets, placed him in jail.

This act is considered of far-reaching significance if true, as Great Britain has not been in the habit of allowing liberties of this kind to be taken with her consulates. Just what the outcome will be is hard to predict just now. The British government may decide to demand, through the United States, an immediate apology from Carranza, which would to a certain extent give the rebels recognition.

FLAMES ROUT PATIENTS

Fire In Cellar of Hartford Hospital Quickly Checked by Firemen

Hartford, Dec. 12.—Fire under one of the wards in the Hartford hospital, caused a slight panic until the fifty or more patients were removed in safety.

The fire started in a plumbing shop in the cellar and what is known as "Ward 5" was filled with smoke. Nurses and attendants acted promptly and removed all the patients. Two alarms were turned in and the fire was quickly under control.

Pope Confirmed as Receiver

Hartford, Dec. 12.—Colonel George Pope has been confirmed by Judge William S. Case of the superior court as permanent receiver of the Pope Manufacturing company. Under this decision, Pope will be the sole receiver in Connecticut.

Vermont Grange Favors Suffrage

Rutland, Vt., Dec. 12.—A resolution favoring the extension of suffrage to women was adopted at the convention of the state grange.

ELECTRIC CHICKENS

Latest Idea In Poultry Farming Seems to Be Success

London, Dec. 12.—An electric chicken is the latest idea in poultry farming, according to Thorne Baker, who lectured before the Royal Society of Arts. When the chickens are electrically treated they lose their nervousness and seem to thrive in a marvellous manner.

Mr. Baker came to the conclusion that the most profitable application of electricity to the farm was in poultry rearing. Mortality was practically nonexistent where suitable electrification was used.

The vitality of the chickens treated was remarkable. Instead of running away when a finger was put to the netting they would rush up and peck it vigorously. They were so highly charged with electricity that quite a distinct shock was felt in the fingers on touching them, although the birds were supremely unconscious of anything, and the sparks which flew from their beaks on pecking one's finger did not appear to be felt in the least by them.

WORKMAN LOSES EYE

Piece of Hot Iron Strikes Syrian at Fore River Yards

Quincy, Mass., Dec. 12.—The United States superdreadnought Nevada, building in the Fore River yards, caused N. Abraham, a Syrian, to lose one of his eyes. Abraham, who lives at 28 Winter street, was working on the protective deck of the big fighting ship when a piece of steel chipped from a hot rivet by a riveting machine struck him in the right eye.

Crazed with pain, he was led down from the deck of the ship by fellow workmen and was taken to the Red Cross hospital in the yard. Dr. W. H. Blanchard, the surgeon in charge, gave first aid and then took Abraham to the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary in Boston, where it was found necessary to remove the eye.

CLAIMS HIS JUNK SHOP WAS FIRED

Norwood Man Says Old Enemy Threatened Him

Norwood, Mass., Dec. 12.—A fire of supposed incendiary origin totally destroyed the two-story storehouse off Dean and Pond sreets owned and occupied by Benjamin Kezneck, a wholesale junk dealer. Kezneck declares that the fire was set by an old enemy whose name he gave the police, and says that the person threatened to get even with him.

Several tons of scrap paper and second-hand furniture were burned. The total damage was about $3000. Kezneck had no insurance on his property.

There were no stoves in the building and as it was situated quite a distance from the street, the police are almost certain the fire was set.

Kezneck said that a man with whom he had business dealings some time ago had said "one of these days your storehouse won't be there." The police will investigate.

GETS OWN EVIDENCE

Brockton Woman Plays Detective and Has Husband Arrested

Brockton, Mass., Dec. 12.—Claiming that she acted as her own detective, Mrs. John A. Anderson, wife of a prominent leather merchant, secured a warrant for the arrest of her husband on a statutory charge, and Anderson's arrest followed a short time later.

The girl in the case, Miss Julia Shmikus, aged 19 of 19 Bellevue avenue, is also under arrest. Anderson is 45 years of age, and lives at 404 Montello street. He has a factory at 29 East Ashland street, and the Shmikus girl was in his employ.

TO IGNORE DEMANDS

Fall River Mill Men Will Not Recognize I. W. W.

Fall River, Mass., Dec. 12.—The I. W. W. of this city have made a second demand on the Cotton Manufacturers' association for an advance in wages of 25 percent. President Hills of the association says:

"This demand, like the first, asking for an increase in wages of 20 percent will be ignored. It is not the purpose of the manufacturers to have anything to do with the I. W. W."

Vermont Governor Refuses Reprieve

Montpelier, Vt., Dec. 12.—Governor Fletcher refused to grant a reprieve to Arthur W. Bosworth, who is condemned to die on the gallows on Jan. 2 for slaying Mae Labelle two years ago. The governor said he was convinced the law should take its course. Miss Labelle was shot at Essex Junction because she had refused to receive attentions from him.

Morganthau Meets Sultan

Constantinople, Dec. 12.—Henry Morganthau of New York, the new American ambassador to Turkey, was received in official audience by the sultan.

Cave-In Kills Laborer

Worcester, Mass., Dec. 12.—Tony Papinicol, employed in a sand pit in Southbridge, was killed when the bank caved in on him and broke his back.

Capital $150,000 Surplus $200,000

"THE SECRET OF SUCCESS IS TO BE READY FOR ONE'S OPPORTUNITIES"—DICKENS

It is not enough to know an opportunity when you see it; you must be prepared to grasp it and make it your own.

Moral: A Bank account helps you to be ready for opportunities.

Our $5 Box is Larger Than a $10 Box in Boston.

GRANITE TRUST CO.
FOUNDED 1836

EXCHANGE YOUR INGERSOLL WATCH
Special Offer

We will take your Ingersoll Watch in exchange and allow the full price you originally paid no matter where you bought it—toward the purchase of a high grade, extra accurate jeweled TRENTON model—the first really fine watch at a moderate price.

Trenton Watches from $5.00 to $25.00

An opportunity to save $1 to $2 on your Xmas Present

SANDBERG BROS.

FOR A
Christmas Present
NOTHING COULD BE BETTER THAN
A QUINCY HISTORY

EACH YEAR THE HISTORY OF
OLD BRAINTREE AND QUINCY
WRITTEN BY
W. S. PATTEE, M. D.
AND PUBLISHED IN 1878
GROWS MORE VALUABLE, AS IT CONTAINS HISTORICAL DATA ABOUT QUINCY THAT CANNOT BE OBTAINED ELSEWHERE

$3.50 PER COPY

FOR SALE BY
GEO. W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
1424 HANCOCK STREET
QUINCY

THE CORSET SHOP
8 Maple Street
All Popular makes of
Corsets and Brassieres
Hosiery and
McCall Patterns
Correct fitting of Corsets a specialty

I have been very fortunate to have, during my temporary absence, the services of an expert corsettiere, who who will give the same personal attention to fittings and alterations as has always been accorded to customers.

MISS S. E. DUNPHY
Oct. 30-tf

AMUSEMENTS

DOINGS ON THE STAGE IN

BOSTON AND VICINITY

QUINCY MUSIC HALL.

Saturday afternoon and evening at Music hall a high class vaudeville and moving picture entertainment will be given. The artists who are to appear are all first class and sure to please. The feature picture entitled "The Master Cracksman" is a powerful and thrilling drama, filled with exciting and interesting situations. It deals with the invention of a poor man who is robbed by a large corporation and who finally comes into the possession of his own, through aid rendered by his son and sweetheart. It is a splendid presentation and affords a great moral lesson. Especially engaged for Saturday is a great Quincy favorite Harry LaToy the Tramp Juggler in a wonderful act.

KINCAIDE THEATRE.

Next week Quincy's pretty playhouse is one year old and Manager Wardwell has arranged to have a week-long celebration of the happy event. The theatre was opened December 16th, so naturally Tuesday the 16th will be the biggest day of all when extra attractions will be on the program, in addition to the following engaged for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon and evening. Jim Pembroke Trio in a good singing and talking skit and pianologue impersonations of eminent composers, such as Lizst, Hoffman, Paderewski, etc., Olimphia Marwick in a high class singing offering that is simply great. Kennedy & Bert bring a lot of special scenery which, with electrical effects, makes their comedy skit very pleasing. The Peers put on a trapeze act that's exceptionally good. The pictures are of more than ordinary interest, and that's saying something. Pathe Weekly is always watched with pleasure. Pictures of the Mexican Revolution, in fact the first actual authentic views of the warfare will be shown for the first time in any theatre. Then there will be a 2 reel stirring feature picture "The Plot of India's Hillmen," and lots of good music by the Kincaide Theatre Orchestra.

TREMONT TEMPLE.

The first presentation in Boston of "A Boy and the Law," a five reel photo play founded on the life of William Eckstein, will be given on next Monday, December 15, at the Tremont Temple. The film has been exhibited with great success in New York. It is acted throughout by young Eckstein and shows in detail the work of Judge Brown, founder of the Utah Juvenile Court, the Parental Court of Gary, Indiana, and author of the Federal Parental and Educational Court bill. The engagement is booked for a limited time only.

BOSTON OPERA HOUSE.

The program for the fourth week of the season at the Boston Opera House will carry on the high standard that has been set, both as regards the diversity and interest of the works produced, and also the uniformly excellent nature of the casts that have presented them. Dec. 15, Saint-Saens's "Samson et Dalila," which was heard but once last season, will be presented. The role of Dalila will offer Mme. D'Alvarez an opportunity worthy of her rare vocal and histrionic powers. In Wednesday night's performance of "Thais" Mary Garden will make her last appearance in Boston until the latter part of the season. This is one of Miss Garden's most famous characterizations, and additional interest will be lent to the performance by the fact that the Athanael is to be the popular Vanni Marcoux. Friday night "The Jewels of the Madonna" will be repeated, and it is very probable that this will be the last repetition of the brilliant Wolf-Ferrari piece for the present. Mme. Edvina will, of course, sing the role of Maliella, and Vanni Marcoux will re-appear as Raffaele. Saturday afternoon will present a notable performance of "La Traviata," as Luisa Tetrazzini will sing Violetta on that occasion. It will be Mme. Tetrazzini's first appearance of the season, and in one of her best-liked roles. Especial attention is directed to the unusual excellence of the popular priced performance on Saturday night. The bill will be double.—"Cavalleria Rusticana" and "I Pagliacci," and these works will be sung by regular subscription artists. The well-known and well-liked Elizabeth Amsden will sing Santuzzo, in "Cavalleria," and Leon Laffitto will be the Turiddu. The Nedda, in "Pagliacci" will be sung by Margherita Beriza, a newcomer who has been extremely successful in Paris.

OLYMPIA THEATRE.

The Scollay Square Olympia, Boston's newest and magnificent $2,000,000 playhouse, and the only theatre in New England installed with an organ has already become the talk of Boston. During the first week more than 65,000 persons paid admission, a record attendance never before equalled in Boston's theatrical history and one that is likely to remain unbroken for a long time. It is devoted exclusively to the exhibition of high class vaudeville and feature photo plays and runs continuously from 9 in the morning until 10.30 at night.

MAJESTIC THEATRE.

"The Great Adventure," Winthrop Ames' production of Arnold Bennett's popular novel, "Buried Alive," remains at the Majestic Theatre for one week more. The story of the famous artist, who exchanged names with his valet and inherited troubles on account of the valet's sudden death, mainly through his having corresponded with a young and comely widow, through a matrimonial agency, and later by the appearance of his former deserted wife and two sons, has been noted as a real novelty of extraordinary interest and genuine amusement. Being presented with every attention to detail in production and by a company of unusual excellence, Lyn Harding apearing as the artist and Janet Beecher as the widow and later wife, it may safely be regarded as one of the season's most important offerings.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

With "The Strange Adventures of Miss Brown," John Craig will offer at the Castle Square next week one of the most amusing comedies ever written. It is good pre-holiday fun, and in spite of the counter attractions of Christmas shopping, it is bound to attract large audiences. Miss Brown is merely a myth. Captain Courtenay, a British soldier masquerades in that guise, and he affords endless diversion in his love making with the belle of a select academy for young ladies. At the Castle Square the farce will be carefully cast, and Mr. Carleton, Mr. Meek, Mr. Ormonde, Mr. Roberts, Miss Olssen and Miss Colcord will appear in the leading roles. Week after next Mr. Craig will present his annual Christmas musical spectacle. This time he has selected "Miss Pocahontas," in which melody, humor and beautiful scenery will combine to interest the audience.

PLYMOUTH THEATRE.

Those who have not yet witnessed "The Broad Highway," presented by the Henry Jewett Players, at the Plymouth Theatre, Boston, had better take advantage of the last chance. The piece enters upon its farewell week next Monday. This warning should be especially heeded by those who have read the book, for unlike most dramatizations of popular novels, "The Broad Highway" retains many of the most important events related in the novel. The adaptation has been made by Jeffery Farnol, the author, while Mr. Jewett has given the play an elaborate setting and surrounded it with an excellent cast. As a special Christmas attraction Manager Wright, of the Plymouth Theatre, has secured "Under Cover," a new drama of smart New York life and the thrilling operations of the United States Secret Service. The production is staged by the Messrs. Selwyn and Company, the same firm that produced "Within the Law." The play has its first presentation on Thursday, December 25.

SHUBERT THEATRE.

With a score or more of individual players, many recruited from headline position in vaudeville, welded into a harmonious and smoothly acting company, of which sixty dazzling winter garden beauties are a predominant feature, presenting a bright and clever review of the past season's success, and staged with originality, lavishness and close attention to detail never equalled within the memory of the oldest theatre goer, "The Passing Show of 1913" comes to the Shubert Theatre, beginning Dec. 15th, for a limited engagement which will include popular priced matinees on Wednesday and Friday in addition to the regular Saturday matinees. This latest of the Winter Garden spectacles is in two acts and shows twelve magnificent scenes of surpassing splendor the most striking of which is the reproduction of the capitol steps at Washington. The company is the original Winter Garden one of 125 and includes Conroy and LeMaire, Whiting and Burt, Charles and Mollie King, May Boley, Laura Hamilton, Louise Bates, Swan Wood, Artie Mehlinger, Johnny Johnstone, DeHaven and Nice, Grace Kimball and others.

WHY WAIT UNTIL THE LAST MINUTE BEFORE DOING UP YOUR CHRISTMAS GIFTS ?

Do them now and get your White Wrapping Paper at the Ledger--Patriot Office.

LARGE SHEETS

20 cents a dozen

SHEETS

By single sheet 2 cents each

Call Quincy 501--W

If you want your furniture, mattresses and cushions repaired in good order at low prices M. MIRKIN, upholsterer, 1060 Hancock street near the Quincy High School.

Dec.1-1m

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
Orchard Place, off Spear street, Quincy

NEWS ITEMS FROM MILTON

The Midgets won their second game of the season Saturday when they defeated the Needhams 33 to 12 in a one sided contest. This week they meet the Tilton A. C. and anticipate another victory.

The Acenda Club will hold a Xmas sale in the vestry of the First Baptist church Dec. 16.

B. Sidman, Boulevard, East Milton, will move to Pierce street Jan. 1.

Mrs. Mary Hodges and Mrs. Sybil McSwords of Adams street have been attending the session of the Superior court at Dedham this week as witnesses in a damage suit.

Miss Pauline Davison of Pleasant street is convelescent at her home after a long illness. She will leave on a European trip Jan. 1.

Miss Esther Cunningham of Edge Hill road is at Commonwealth avenue for the winter.

Skating has been enjoyed for several days on Noglers pond in East Milton and preparations are being made to flood the pond and rink at the Cunningham gymnasium.

Three new bowling alleys have been installed at the Cunningham gym, workmen putting the final touches on Friday. This offers an opportunity for enthusiasts and through the eight team league which is underway and individual bowlers but little rest will be given the new stretches this season.

A severe wind storm passed over East Milton Tuesday its velocity reaching about 50 miles an hour. Trees were uprooted in several parts of the district but the only damage was at the East Milton fruit store where a frame of the awning was wrenched from its fastenings and smashed through a plate glass window.

The last of the recitals of Shakespeare by Marshall Darrach will be given in Town Hall Monday evening. Hamlet has been chosen as the final number.

Sparks set fire to the crossing shanty at the golf links Friday and before the fire department arrived the building was destroyed. The crossing tender has been without shelter the past week.

That Pine Tree Brook which flows into the Neponset river should be improved and made a beauty spot was the general belief expressed at the Town Hall Thursday evening. A committee consisting of Ellerton P. Whitney, Dr. Walter Lane and Lincoln Bryant, appointed at the last town meeting have held a hearing on the matter and there were no opponents to the proposed improvement expressed.

The committee appointed to consider precinct voting in Milton have held several meetings since the public hearing in Town Hall but will not make their report until the March town meeting.

Capt. Axel Gustafson, one of the football stars of the past season has been elected captain of the kockery team at Milton high this winter. A general call was sent out for candidates last week. Among last years men available are Hugh Robertson, Gerald Poole, Walter Farrell, and Robert Sweeney. New men that promise to develop into speedy players are Chester C. Whittemore, Paul Crowell, James Maguire, Patrick Doherty, Sumner Bradbury, Joseph Simpson, Louis Sprague. In all probability, Stacy Sears, a former interscholstic star will coach the team.

Mrs. Ann R. Carter, a 75 year old resident died at her home, 57 Sheldon street, Tuesday. She has lived in the town for many years and was the widow of Walter H. Carter.

TENNIS CLUB WIN.

The Wollaston Tennis club defeated the Squantum Yacht club on the latters alleys at Wollaston, Thursday evening getting three out of the four points.. They lost the second string by two pins. Ellison made high single with 95 and Litchfield took the high three strings total with 270. A return match will be rolled later in the season on the coliseum alleys.

The summary:

WOLLASTON TENNIS CLUB.

Litchfield	88	91	91	270
Munroe	76	76	86	238
Hillman	83	86	85	254
Baker	89	89	76	254
Jenner	74	87	85	246
	410	429	423	1262

SQUANTUM YACHT CLUB.

Starrett	90	84	90	264
Eppes	68	85	81	234
Ellison	77	95	79	251
Freeman	74	81	70	225
Dunn	89	86	81	256
	398	431	401	1230

SUPPER AND XMAS SALE

Hall Place Ladies Hold Successful Sale

A most successful supper, entertainment and Christmas sale was held in the vestry of the Hall Place M. E. church, Thursday evening by the Ladies Aid society assisted by the Epworth League.

A splendid supper was served at six to a good crowd others coming later. The supper consisted of baked beans, salads, rolls, pickles, cake, pie and coffee.

At 8 o'clock a fine entertainment was given, of selections by the Pine Tree quartet; violin solos by Harold Norris accompanied by Miss Jessie Burke; piano duets by Misses Gertrude and Ethel Beale of Quincy Point, piano solos by Julius Fuller and a short sketch entitled a "Peck of Trouble."

The Pine Tree quartet is composed of four young men, who came from Bath, Maine, three of whom were classmates in the Bath High school; Harry Cameron, Albert Cameron and Mr. Henderson of Dorchester and George Stewart of Quincy. They rendered excellent music and made a great hit with the audience.

The piano duets by Misses Beale of Quincy Point and the selections by Julius Fuller and Harold Norris were well played.

"A Peck of Trouble" came near proving too good measure. Miss Phoebe Peck and Miss Lucinda Peck, unmistakably from the country, to be exact, "Perkins Corner," are visiting their city cousins, Miss Hazel and Miss Bertha Peck, for the purpose of keeping them company in the absence of the latter's father and mother. But the country cousins improved their time by working (as they supposed) to better their positions. Phoebe advertises for a chance on the stage and proves her dramatic ability by her familiarity with the sleep-walking scene from Macbeth. Lucinda advertises for a young man, lawyer or architect preferred; object, matrimony. The "ads" are discovered by Bertha and Hazel and explanations follow, during which the young man "Percy Algernon Randolph" who has answered Lucinda's ad arrives, when she suddenly decides she doesn't want him. She is obliged to see him however and finds him to be none other than her old sweetheart, Dave Skinner. The climax is reached when Phoebe in trying to break the contract she has signed, engaging her in a dramatic company which turns out to be a circus learns that Dave Skinner is the one who has cheated her. In reality Dave has saved both girls and Lucinda forgives him.

The cast of characters was:

Phoebe Peck	Jessie Burke
Lucinda Peck	Hilda Frances
Hazel Peck	Edna Burke
Bertha Peck	Florence Manhire
Katherine Lewis, a friend	Jennie Manhire

After the entertainment a successful sale of useful and fancy articles was held. The committees in charge were: Supper—Mrs. Fred L. Badger, Mrs. Geo. Hawes, Mrs. Laura Johnson, Mrs. Charles Wentzel, Mrs. Henry Geer. Fancy table—Mrs. William McCormick, Mrs. Daniel McNeil, Mrs. Chas. Jose. Entertainment— Mrs. Joseph Francis, 4th vice president of Epworth League.

WINDING UP ITS BUSINESS

Few Matters Now Pending Before City Council

Although next Monday night will be the last scheduled meeting of the year of the City Council it is probable that an adjourned meeting will be necessary to finish up the business. At the present time the larger part of the business in the calendar has been disposed of, but there are some matters before the Finance Committee which if reported favorably upon will require two readings to pass.

These matters will be considered Monday evening at a meeting of the Finance Committee to be held just previous to the council meeting. The License committee will also meet at the same time and it is expected that they will clean the calendar of business which has been referred to it.

(ADVERTISE.)

Easy To Take

"The Largest Sale of Any Medicine in the World"

There's no doubt about Beecham's Pills—when you take them you are not experimenting with an untried, unproved medicine. In countless thousands of homes in all parts of the world Beecham's Pills are regarded as the one indispensable family remedy because they so quickly and certainly correct the ills from which all humanity occasionally suffers.

Beecham's Pills are thoroughly dependable—and can be taken in absolute security. They remove the cause of bad health; they cleanse the system; stimulate the liver; regulate the bowels; make the blood purer; improve the digestion. After a few doses you will feel so much stronger, more cheerful—be in so much better health—you will never be willing to be without Beecham's Pills. It is best to have them on hand ready to take at the first sign of trouble—ready to produce their splendid effect. Never be without

BEECHAM'S PILLS

At All Druggists—10c, 25c

Directions of Special Value to Women are with every box

THE OCTOBER FIRE LOSSES

Chief Engineer Litchfield reports that during the month of October there were 12 bell and 4 telephone alarms. The amount of property at risk was $15,600 the insurance on the same $11,100 and the loss $4,607. During these fires the department laid 3,000 feet of hose, used 281 gallons of chemicals and raised 225 feet of ladders. The working hours at fires were 10 hours and 50 minutes.

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING.

The Ladies Benevolent Society of Memorial church, Atlantic had a large and enthusiastic business meeting Wednesday afternoon. The recent fair netted another $1000 toward paying off the church mortgage before Jan. 1. The second to be paid since Oct. 1. Mrs. Sarah Butler, president expressed her thanks for the fine work of the ladies and for the excellent spirit of co-operation in the society.

Rev. T. W. Davison also expressed his appreciation. In reviewing its work since coming into the new edifice less than three years ago Mr. Davison told how much the church was indebted to the ladies who had purchased the organ costing nearly $2000, and now they had reduced the mortgage to $3000 in less than three years since the dedication. He said that it was all the more appreciable as many of the women would not think of working in their homes as hard as they had for the church.

The president answered that the work in the church had been a pleasure, and the success something of which they were proud.

Refreshments were served by a committee consisting of Mrs. Harry Read, Mrs. Harvey Holt, Mrs. Spencer Apollonio and Mrs. W. F. Cummings.

(ADVERTISE.)

Open Tonight and Saturday Night

KINCAIDE FURNITURE STORE

THE HOUSE OF HELPFUL CREDIT

Gifts That Mean Something

ALL the family will appreciate and enjoy the furniture one member receives. The pleasure of the gift lasts indefinitely. Every one is pleased and proud. We illustrate some especially attractive articles for Father, Mother, Sister, Brother—each a real gift that will afford a world of pleasure.

The Hoosier Cabinet, by saving millions of steps and hours of time, makes cooking easy and pleasant. What present would mother appreciate more?

A luxurious Morris chair, a pretty dressing table, a footstool for tired feet—each will delight indefinitely.

We invite you to call and look over our big stock of handsome, well-made, worthy gift furniture. Prices are moderate.

We hold your selection for Christmas Eve delivery. Better than Santa Claus, to have our wagon drive up to your house.

KINCAIDE & COMPANY

Old Company's Lehigh Egg Coal

for Your furnace

is there anything better mined ?

We Sell It

Try a Ton

C. PATCH & SON Inc.

1422 Hancock Street

Quincy Daily Ledger

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30.
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branschied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
Newcomb Square—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. Smith.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck.
L. A. Cook, Washington Street.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington Street.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield Water st.
A. Pierson, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—Capt. Fosdick's.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity: Fair weather and higher temperature in indicated for Saturday and continued fair Sunday.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	7.05
Sun sets	4.12
Length of day	9.07
Moon rises	6.30
High water, A. M.	10.45
High water, P. M.	11.15

Days decrease 6 hours, 10 minutes

Full Moon, Dec. 13,	10.30 A. M.
Last Quarter, Dec. 20	11.16 A. M.
New Moon, Dec. 27	9.59 A. M.
First Quarter, Dec. 5,	9.59 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today	38 degrees
Dec. 12 1912,	36 degrees
Dec. 12, 1911,	61 degrees

Dec. Noon Maximum 14 years—67
Dec. Noon Minimum, 14 years—2

NEWSY BRIEFS

Martin King has returned from an extensive business trip through the western states.

Edward S. Brewer has been elected as captain of the Milton Academy 1914 football team. During the present season he has been playing half back.

Rev. A. G. Sporrong of the Swedish Congregational church will preach tonight at the Vacation house at Squantum. There will also be special music. All Scandinavians are cordially invited to attend.

Rev. Gerhard W. Palmgren of Hartford, Conn., a former pastor of the Swedish Congregational church was in town Wednesday evening and preached at the Wednesday evening meeting at the church.

Hutchins Mitchell of Upland road has been transferred from the U. S. S. Walke to the Torpedo boat Burroughs of which Boston is the home port. Mr. Mitchell is a chief yeoman and finished a 15 days furlough Friday.

Ave Maria Council, Knights of Columbus are planning for the annual ball to be given during February. A committee appointed includes Owen O'Toole, Charles Reardon, Joseph Barry, J. Edward Reinhalter, George McDonald, Edward Monahan, Charles Buckley, Michael Crowley, Angelo Bizzozero, George Reinhalter.

GAME FOR THE PETS.

The City Square Pets and the Brewers Corner boys settled their bowling dispute on the City Square alleys Thursday evening, all sides of the contest being favorable to the Pets who won by a substantial margin. The score:

City Square Pets	442	441	436	1319
Brewers Corner	378	399	405	1182

☞PRATT'S BREAD—not made by guess-work, but by a scientific formula. Leading grocers sell it.

HUB-MARK RUBBERS

See that the Hub-Mark is on the rubber before you buy. It is your insurance of Standard First Quality Rubber Footwear for every purpose

SOLD BY

A. HALL
A. NELSON
B. FRITZ & SON
PAYSON-MITCHELL CO.

Oct. 17-20t

FIRST HARD GAME SATURDAY

Good Game Promised at Quincy Y. M. C. A. Gym

The local Y. M. C. A. first team will have its first hard game of the season on Saturday night when the crack North Carolina Battleship team lines up against them. The Chelsea game is the only one of the four games played that was at all hard, Beverly, Malden and Boston being defeated by large scores. Quincy under-estimated the Chelsea five and as a result the local team was lucky to get away with a 22 to 19 victory. Up to date Quincy has scored 157 points and the opponents 69. Trask who plays center has been the best scorer for Quincy having made 11 goals in each game but the first one.

The North Carolina team has met but one defeat and that was last week at Cunningham Gym when they were beaten in a great game by the score of 33 to 32. Several changes have been made in the team since last year and the team has been going better than ever. The crack forward McGeehan, who scored most of the points last season has been transferred to another ship and a new center is also on the team. Trask and Ormsby ought to have a fine game as they both play the same style, relying on speed and endurance rather than the "rough-house" stuff. North Carolina will line up as follows: Lombarde and Gregg, forwards; Ormsby, center; McDowell and Hanson, backs.

The opening game will be between Melrose and Quincy 2nd beginning at 8:15. F. A. Wilhand of Chelsea will officiate.

SLIGHT FIRE IN PANTRY DRAWER

The alarm from Box 56 at 3.6i Thursday morning was for a slight fire in a pantry drawer at the residence of Eugene H. Sprague at Wollaston, which was probably caused by a domestic placing a stove cloth in the drawer. The fire made quite a smoke and when the alarm was sounded it was thought to be more serious than it proved to be. The firemen when they arrived however had but little to do. The family can not account for the fire as they say the domestic is very careful. The firemen however found a stove lifter in the drawer and as the fire was in one corner of the drawer Chief Litchfield is of the opinion that a hot stove cloth must also have been put in the drawer and spontaneous combustion started the fire. The loss was slight.

—Forty-five old salts, sea captains of the old school, who have probably visited every nook and corner of the world, were personally conducted by their hostess through Mrs. John L. Gardner's Italian palace, Fenway court, Boston, one day last week.

☞White wrapping paper for doing up your Christmas gifts can be obtained at the Ledger-Patriot office for 20 cents a dozen sheets or by the single sheet at 2 cents per sheet.

TO MAKE YOUR HAIR MORE BEAUTIFUL

To give your hair that gloss and lustre and wavy silky-softness, use Harmony Hair Beautifier. It takes away the dull dead look of the hair, and makes it bright—turns the stringiness into fluffiness—overcomes the oily odors and leaves a sweet, true-rose fragrance—makes the hair easier to put up neatly and easier to keep in place. It is just exactly what it is named—a hair beautifier, and whether your hair is ugly now or beautiful, it will improve its appearance. You'll be proud of and delighted with the results, or your money back. Very easy to apply—simply sprinkle a little on your hair each time before brushing it. Contains no oil; will not change the color of hair, nor darken gray hair.

To keep your hair and scalp dandruff-free and clean, use Harmony Shampoo. This pure, liquid shampoo is most convenient to use, because gives an instantaneous rich, foaming lather that immediately penetrates to every part of hair and scalp, insuring a quick, thorough cleansing. Washed off just as quickly, the entire operation takes only a few moments. Contains nothing that can harm the hair; leaves no harshness or stickiness—just a sweet-smelling cleanliness.

Both preparations come in odd-shaped, very ornamental bottles, with sprinkler tops. Harmony Hair Beautifier, $1.00. Harmony Shampoo, 50c. Both guaranteed to satisfy you in every way, or your money back. Sold in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store—one of the more than 7,000 leading drug stores of the United States, Canada and Great Britain, which own the big Harmony laboratories in Boston, where the many celebrated Harmony Perfumes and Toilet Preparations are made

—Edward J. Murphy, 1415 Hancock Cor. Granite Streets, Quincy, Mass. "The Rexal Store."

SPOILED BY HEAT

Tons of Dressed Poultry Lost by Unprecedented Warm Weather

Washington, Dec. 12.—Reports received by the department of agriculture from all over the country tell of an unprecedented spoilage of dressed poultry in the unseasonably warm weather preceding Thanksgiving day. In view of the scarcity and high prices of meat foods, the department experts regard such a general waste as almost a calamity.

It is stated that not a single pound of this poultry would have been wasted had shippers and handlers followed proper methods of chilling, dressing, storing and handling of poultry. Poultry dealers are urged to follow suggestions of the department in the handling of their goods in order to prevent a repetition of this waste at Christmas time.

"The value of poultry destroyed in New York city by the board of health around Thanksgiving amounted to more than $100,000," says a statement, "and this is but little when compared with the quantities which dealers refused of their own initiative. Many tons of these products went to the fertilizer or crematory."

WOMEN RUSH GUARDS

Judge Bars Morbid and Curious From Schmidt Trial

New York, Dec. 12.—Women stormed the court of Judge Foster in an attempt to attend the trial of Hans Schmidt, accused of murdering Anna Aumuller, and precipitated a near riot.

When the trial began Judge Foster barred the morbid and curious, but more than 100 women appeared and advanced to the door in a body. They were ordered away by the bailiff on guard at the door and then they "rushed" him. Several got by, but other court attendants rushed to his aid and they were driven out.

Mrs. Joseph Igler, whose husband was a cousin of Miss Aumuller, testified that the slain girl boasted just before her death that she was going to marry a millionaire. She said the girl threatened to shoot her because she upbraided her for her relations with Schmidt.

GARRISON SEEKS MAN FOR WOOD'S PLACE

Secretary Will Pick New Chief of Staff

Washington, Dec. 12.—Announcement was made by Secretary Garrison that on April 22, next, Major General Leonard Wood would cease to be chief of staff of the United States army.

On that date General Wood's four-year detail expires, and although there is a provision in the statutes which would permit the term to be extended in case of war or any other emergency, Secretary Garrison declared he would follow the spirit of the law and choose a successor.

The secretary's reference to the subject was occasioned by the publication of a report that the Mexican situation provided an "emergency" under which General Wood might be continued in office.

"I think the law is a good one," said Garrison, "and I shall follow the spirit of it by choosing another man."

STRIKERS GIVE BATTLE

Copper Workers Barricaded In Hall and Defy Officers

Calumet, Mich., Dec. 12.—An attempt by deputies and members of the Citizens' alliance to arrest copper mine strikers barricaded in the Western Federation of Miners' hall at South Range precipitated a fierce battle between the two factions. Thirty-five armed strikers were arrested. A special train, loaded with reinforcements for the alliance members, was sent out from Houghton.

About forty strikers are believed to be surrounded in the federation hall. All are said to be armed with rifles. Deputy Sheriff Tom Driscoll of Houghton was shot and fatally wounded in the battle. Many other persons are reported wounded, but details are lacking.

PLANT MAINE LOBSTERS

Bureau of Fisheries Ship Four Thousand to Pacific Coast

Washington, Dec. 12.—In an effort to transplant the Maine lobster to the Pacific coast the bureau of fisheries has just made a shipment of 4007 lobsters to the San Juan islands in the Puget sound region. The crustaceans were packed in 200 crates and shipped in a refrigerator car.

Secretary Redfield has been notified that only 11 percent of the lobsters died on the journey which was made in five days and four hours. Similar shipments, it is announced will be made until the lobster is firmly established on the Pacific coast.

Funeral For Wrong Man

Scranton, Pa., Dec. 12.—About to be chief mourner at the funeral of a man supposed to be her husband, Mrs. Fred L. Williams heard her better half was at work in Hornell, N. Y., and left.

Settle Lawrence Firemen's Strike

Lawrence, Mass., Dec. 12.—The strike of the firemen at the Farwell bleachery was adjusted on the basis of a sixty-hour week offered by the mills before the strike was called.

HOBSON PLEADS FOR PROHIBITION

Cheered by Excited Women In House Galleries

WOULD AMEND CONSTITUTION

House Leader Underwood, Who Is Engaged In Race With Speaker For Senate Denies Being Allied With Liquor Interests—Demonstration Continued For Some Time

Washington, Dec. 12.—Shattering the rules of the house of representatives, champions of prohibition who packed the galleries broke into repeated outbursts of applause and actually shouted from their seats as Congressman Hobson of Alabama pleaded for a resolution which would submit a constitutional prohibition amendment to the states.

The extraordinary demonstration continued unrestrained for many minutes as Hobson proceeded dramatically to discuss the prohibition question, and was not checked until the speaker had drawn into controversy his colleague, Representative Underwood, who is now engaged with him in a race for the senate.

The injection of personal politics into the situation brought the majority leader to his feet with a reply to Hobson, and this precipitated applause from the members on the floor.

In the course of his speech, Mr. Hobson said:

"We ought to have our party understand now while the war is on that it never was intended for an alliance with the liquor interests. Yet there is a great Democrat, a great Alabaman, who is present today, who recently announced—at least that is the way I read it in the reports—that if prohibition continues to be injected into Democratic policies, either prohibition would be ground to the dust or the Democratic party must die. I take second place to no man who loves his party and let me tell you that if the Democratic party can only live by joining with the liquor interests to debauch the American people, then in God's name let it die."

Mr. Hobson fairly shouted these words as he reached the climax. With arms waving in the air, and shaking his head almost literally in the faces of members who sat near him, including Underwood a few feet away, he drew from the packed galleries prolonged cheering and even the stamping of feet to increase the pandemonium.

"I wish to say to the gentleman from Alabama," Underwood began, "that I regret exceedingly that in presenting petitions for the cause of prohibition to the house that he should have drawn ino his speech a partial utterance of mine that misinterprets my remarks. At some other time and in the proper place I will interpret my own remarks."

Hobson declared that the personal issue had become a national question, that the senatorial fight in Alabama was such that "the liquor interests on one side and the moral forces on the other had made it a national question."

When quiet was restored, and Mr. Underwood again spoke.

"I cannot sit here in silence," he said, "and allow my colleague to assert that I am the candidate of any interest without challenging his statement. I am not, never have been and do not intend to be the candidate of the liquor interests. I never have received a dollar from the liquor interests, nor do I intend to receive such. I have asked the people of my state to elect me on other issues."

MAY CUT GIRL'S THROAT

Pin Lodged In Her Windpipe Cannot Be Removed

New York, Dec. 12.—Fourteen-year-old Rose Wade of Sea Cliff, L. I., is suffering much pain as the result of a pin becoming lodged in her throat while she was in school. She was holding the pin near her mouth when she laughed at the grimace of a boy pupil. The pin flew down her throat and stuck there.

The teacher tried unsuccessfully to dislodge the pin, then took the child to Dr. H. G. Wahlig, who worked two hours with instruments to remove the pin, but was unsuccessful. If the pin does not dislodge itself very soon Dr. Wahlig will call a surgeon and have it removed through a slit cut in the child's windpipe.

Long Trip In Small Boat

Havana, Dec. 12.—Captain Mattias Johnston of Perth Amboy, N. J., arrived here piloting a small boat, the George Washington, 28 feet long, 5 feet wide and displacing only a quarter of a ton, in which he had made the voyage from Eastport, Me., whence he sailed on Aug. 3.

Official Shot In Dublin Strike

Dublin, Dec. 12.—John Hollwey, vice chairman of the port and docks board, was seriously injured by a stray bullet fired by a carter who was being assailed by strikers. He was wounded in the forehead.

White Slavers Are Jailed

Savannah, Ga., Dec. 12.—In the United States court three convicted white slavers were sentenced to a year and a day in the federal prison in Atlanta.

A. SHUMAN & CO.
THE SERVICE STORE

Ready—Hundreds of Desirable Gifts for All the Family

In "The Store of Christmas Cheer"

Buy worthy gifts. Buy them amid true holiday surroundings. Buy early.

These are the three essentials for making Christmas a "season of happiness" for all. And here—ready for agreeable, unhurried selection—are innumerable suggestions, all of highest quality, and all reasonably priced. Just a few as samples of what awaits you here:

Gifts for Men		Gifts for Women
Neckwear	25c to $3.00	Handkerchiefs	12½c ea. to $1.50 box
Hosiery	25c to $2.50	Gloves	$1.00 to $6.50
Handkerchiefs	12½c to $1.50	Hosiery	25c to $2.50
Gloves	50c to $6.50	Shopping and Other Bags,	$2.50 to $17.50
Underwear	$1.00 to $5.50	Mackinaws	$10.00
Pajamas	$1.15 to $8.00	Manicure Sets	$1.25 to $8.00
Shirts	$1.15 to $6.00	Umbrellas	$1.00 to $18.00
House Jackets	$5.00 to $20.00	Fur Gloves	$3.50 to $12.00
Dressing Gowns and Robes,	$2.75 to $30.00	Tango Sets for Slippers	$2.50 to $4.50
Silk Accordion Reefers	$5.00 to $10.00	Bath Robes, $2.75, $3.75, $5 and up
Suit Cases	$5.00 to $18.00	Waists, for dress wear	$2 and up
Sweaters	$5.00 to $13.50	Gifts for Boys
Mackinaws	$8.00 to $15.00	Shirts	$1.00 and $1.50
Slippers	$1.75 to $3.00	Pajamas	$1.00 and $1.50
Fitted Travelling Bags	$16 & $17.50	Neckwear	25c, 50c and $1.00
Military Brushes	$2.50 to $7.50	Sweaters	$3.50 and $5.50
Collar Boxes	$1.00 to $4.00	Bath Robes	$3.50 and $5.00
Fitted Toilet Cases	$3.50 to $18.00	Gloves	50c to $1.25
Combination Sets	$1.10 to $2.50	Novelty Velvet Suits	$10 to $18
Fur Driving and Auto Caps and Gloves	$3.50 to $25.00	Fur Band Caps	$2.50 to $5.00
Fur-lined Overcoats	$55.00 to $175	Gifts for Girls
		Sport Coats	$10.00
		Bath Robes	$1.25
		Knitted Toques	$1.00 and $1.50

Shuman Christmas Service Bureau

Among its conveniences are: Postage stamps, weighing packages, merchandise calls, adjustments, Red Cross seals, messenger calls, packages checked, information.

Umbrellas marked free. Merchandise and glove bonds. Small articles packed in holiday boxes with beautiful gift cards.

Shuman Corner, Washington and Summer Streets, Boston

NEW OFFICERS AUXILIARY 5

The annual meeting of Ladies Auxiliary 5, A. O. H. was held in St. Mary's hall Friday evening with a large attendance. The installation will be on Jan. 12 and it is expected that state and county officers will be present. The officers chosen were:

President—Miss Helen M. Conlon.
Vice President—Mrs. Ellen Sullivan.
Recording Secretary—Miss Louise Egan.
Financial Secretary—Miss Alice M. O'Brien.
Treasurer—Mrs. Hannah McGrath.
Sergeant-at-Arms — Miss Emeline O'Brien.
Sentinel—Mrs. Mary Haggerty.
Physician—Dr. George M. Sheahan.

EXECUTOR'S NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed executor of the will of Mina R. Myers late of Barrington in the County of Cook and State of Illinois deceased, testate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, and appointing Richard D. Chase of Quincy Mass., his agent, as the law directs.

All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to the subscriber.

ROY C. MYERS, Executor.
(Address)
Richard D. Chase, Agent.
Quincy, Mass., Dec. 5, 1913.
Dec. 5-3t 5-12-19

Penniman's TAXI SERVICE

Taxies and Touring Cars with careful and safe drivers to let for all occasions.

C. H. PENNIMAN, Prop.
Telephone 207.
June 13-tf

QUINCY REGISTRY FOR NURSES

20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.

Will supply trained and practical nurses, attendants and nursery assistants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.

MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar,
Tel. Quincy 131-W.

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

CHOICE ARTICLES FROM THE PHILIPPINES

LUCBON HATS—Very best grade of the famous Panamas and Bankoks made. Absolutely none better, woven under water by hand. Can be crushed into a ball and not lose shape. Made for both Ladies and Gentlemen. $5 and $10.

ROMBLON MATS—Handsomest and most durable Grass Mats or Rugs made in the world. Beautiful colors and designs, large enough to cover one-half floor of rooms. $5.

MANILA CIGARS—$3 for a trial box of the Very Best Cigars made in the Philippines.

Oriente Cigarrettes—Best made, large package containing 25 small packages, 750 Cigarrettes, $2.

Sent by registered mail, free of duties, on receipt of price.

C. A. SHORT & CO.,
Lucena, Tay, P. I.
Oct 4 I.&O 3m

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner

Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point.
Tel. Quincy.Mass. 1153 M Nov 3-tf

WITHIN THE LAW

By MARVIN DANA
FROM THE PLAY OF
BAYARD VEILLER

Copyright, 1913, by the H. K. Fly company.

(Continued from last issue.)

CHAPTER VIII.
The Thief.

MARY was in joyous spirits after her victorious matching of brains against a lawyer of high standing in his profession when she had entered the telephone booth, which had been installed in an extra closet of her bedroom for the sake of greater privacy on occasion. During her absence from the drawing room Garson again came into the apartment seeking her. On being told by Aggie as to Mary's whereabouts he sat down to await her return, listening without much interest to the chatter of the adventuress. The maid appeared and said:

"There's a girl wants to see Miss Turner."

"She says it's important. I guess the poor thing's in hard luck from the look of her," the kindly Fannie added.

"Oh, then, she'll be welcome, of course!" Aggie declared, and Garson nodded in acquiescence. "Tell her to come in and wait, Fannie. Miss Turner will be here right away." She turned to Garson as the maid left the room. "Mary sure is an easy boob," she remarked cheerfully. "Bless her soft heart!"

A minute later a girl perhaps twenty years of age stepped just within the doorway and stood there with eyes downcast after one swift, furtive glance about her. Her whole appearance was that of dejection. Her soiled black gown, the cringing posture, the pallor of her face, proclaimed the abject misery of her state.

"Are you Miss Turner?" she asked in a voice broken by nervous dismay.

"Really, I am very sorry," Aggie replied primly, "but I am only her cousin, Miss Agnes Lynch. But Miss Turner is likely to be back any minute now."

"Can I wait?" came the timid question.

"Certainly," Aggie answered hospitably. "Please sit down."

As the girl obediently sank down on the nearest chair Garson addressed her sharply, so that the visitor started uneasily at the unexpected sound.

"You don't know Miss Turner?"

"No," came the faint reply.

"Then, what do you want to see her about?"

"She once helped a girl friend of mine, and I thought—I thought"—

"You thought she might help you," Garson interrupted.

"You have been in stir—prison, I mean," Aggie hastily corrected the lapse into underworld slang.

Came a distressed muttering of assent from the girl.

The conversation was put to an end by the entrance of Mary, who stopped short on seeing the limp figure huddled in the chair.

"A visitor, Agnes?" she inquired.

At the sound of her voice the girl looked up and spoke with some degree of energy.

"You're Miss Turner?" she questioned.

"Yes," Mary said. Her words rang kindly and she smiled encouragement.

A gasp burst from the white lips of the girl, and she cowered as one stricken physically.

"Mary Turner! Oh, my God! I"—She hid her face within her arms and sat bent until her head rested on her knees in an abasement of misery.

Vaguely startled by the hysterical outburst from the girl, Mary's immediate thought was that here was a pitiful instance of one suffering from starvation.

"Joe," she directed rapidly, "have Fannie bring a glass of milk with an egg and a little brandy in it, right away."

The girl in the chair was shaking soundlessly under the stress of her emotions. A few disjointed phrases fell from her quivering lips.

"I didn't know—oh, I couldn't!"

"Don't try to talk just now," Mary warned, reassuringly. "Wait until you've had something to eat."

Aggie, who had observed developments closely, now lifted her voice in tardy lamentations over her own stupidity.

"Why, the poor gawk's hungry!" she exclaimed. "And I never got the dope on her. Ain't I the simp!"

The girl regained a degree of self control and showed something of forlorn dignity.

"Yes," she said dully, "I'm starving."

Mary regarded the afflicted creature with that sympathy born only of experience.

"Yes," she said softly, "I understand." Then she spoke to Aggie. "Take her to my room and let her rest there for awhile. Have her drink the egg and milk slowly and then lie down for a few minutes anyhow."

Half an hour afterward Aggie reported with her charge, who, though still shambling of gait and stooping, showed by some faint color in her face and an increased steadiness of bearing that the food had already strengthened her much.

"She would come," Aggie explained. "I thought she ought to rest for awhile longer anyhow."

"I'm all right, I tell you," came the querulous protest.

"Are you quite sure?" Mary said to the girl. "Then tell us all about it—this trouble of yours, you know. What is your name?"

"Helen Morris."

"I don't have to ask if you have been in prison. Your face shows it."

"I—I came out—three months ago."

"And you'd made up your mind to go straight?"

"Yes." The word was a whisper.

"You were going to do what the chaplain had told you," Mary went on. "You were going to start all over again, weren't you?"

The bent head of the girl bent lower in assent.

"It doesn't work very well, does it?"

"No; I'm whipped."

Mary's manner changed. She spoke cheerfully for the first time.

"Well, then, how would you like to work with us?"

"You—you mean that"—

"Our kind of work pays well when you know how. Look at us. Suppose I should stake you for the present and put you in with a good crowd. All you would have to do would be to answer advertisements for servant girls. I will see that you have the best of references. Then, when you get in with the right people you will open the front door some night and let in the gang. Of course you will make a getaway when they do and get your bit as well."

There flashed still another of the swift, sly glances, and the lips of the girl parted as if she would speak. But she did not; only her head sagged even lower on her breast and the shrunken form grew yet more shrunken.

"It doesn't suit you? Good! I was in hopes it wouldn't. So, here's another plan. Suppose you could go west—some place where you would have a fair chance, with money enough so you could live like a human being till you got a start?"

There came a tensing of the relaxed form, and the head lifted a little, so that the girl could look at her questioner.

"I will give you that chance," Mary said simply, "if you really want it."

The wretched girl sat suddenly erect, and her words came eagerly.

"Oh, I do!" And now her hungry gaze remained fast on the face of the woman who offered her salvation.

"Then I have just one thing to say to you first. If you are going to live straight start straight, and then go through with it. Do you know what that means?"

"You mean keep straight all the time?" The girl spoke with a force drawn from the other's strength.

"I mean more than that. I mean forget that you were ever in prison. I don't know what you have done—I don't think I care. But whatever it was, you have paid for it—a pretty big price too."

"I have, I have!" The thin voice broke, wailing.

"Well, then," Mary went on, "just begin all over again, and be sure you stand up for your rights. Don't let them make you pay a second time. Go where no one knows you, and don't tell the first people who are kind to you that you have been crooked. If they think you are straight, why, be it. Then nobody will have any right to complain. Will you promise me this?"

"Yes, I promise," came the answer, very gravely, quickened with hope.

"Good!" Mary exclaimed, with a smile of approval. "Wait a minute," she added and left the room.

"Huh! Pretty soft for some people," Aggie remarked to Garson, with a sniff.

Mary returned soon. In her hand she carried a roll of bills. She went to the girl and held out the money.

"Take this. It will pay your fare west and keep you quite awhile if you are careful."

But, without warning, a revulsion seized on the girl. She shrank again and turned her head away as her body trembled.

"I can't take it!" she exclaimed. "I can't! I can't!"

"Didn't you come here for help?"

"Yes," was the faltering reply, "but—but—I didn't know—it was you!"

"Then you have met me before?" Mary said quietly.

"No, no!" The girl's voice rose shrill.

Aggie spoke her mind with frankness. "She's lying."

Garson agreed. His yes was spoken in a tone of complete certainty. That Mary, too, was of their opinion was shown in her next words:

"So you have met me before? Where?"

The girl unwittingly made confession in her halting words.

"I can't tell you." There was despair in her voice.

"You must."

The girl only crouched lower.

"I can't!" she cried again, panting as if in exhaustion.

"Why can't you?"

"Because—because"— The girl could not go on.

"What were you sent up for?"

"For stealing."

"Stealing what?"

"Goods."

"Where from?"

"The Emporium."

In a flash of intuition the whole truth was revealed to the woman who stood looking down at the cowering creature before her.

"The Emporium!" she repeated. There was a tragedy in the single word. "Then you are the one who"—

The accusation was cut short by the girl's shriek.

"I am not! I am not. I tell you!"

For a moment Mary lost her poise. Her voice rose in a flare of rage.

"You are! You are!"

The craven spirit of the girl could

"You cried and lied, and they let you off with a year."

struggle no more. She could only sit in a huddled, shaking heap of dread. Mary soon mastered her to such an extent that when she spoke again, as if in self communion, her words came quietly, yet with overtones of a supreme woe.

"She did it!" Then after a little she addressed the girl with a certain wondering before this mystery of horror "Why did you throw the blame on me?"

The girl made several efforts before her mumbling became intelligible, and then her speech was gasping, broken with fear.

"I found out they were watching me, and I was afraid they would catch me. So I took them and ran into the cloak room and put them in a locker that wasn't close to mine and some in the pocket of a coat that was hanging there. God knows I didn't know whose it was. I just put them there—I was frightened"—

"But they caught you later. Why didn't you tell then?"

"I was afraid." came the answer from the shuddering girl. "I told them it was the first time I had taken anything, and they let me off with a year."

"You cried and lied, and they let you off with a year. I wouldn't cry, I told the truth—and"— Mary's voice broke in a tearless sob. The color had gone out of her face, and she stood rigid, looking down at the girl whose crime had ruined her life with an expression of infinite loathing in her eyes.

Aggie took advantage of the pause. Her voice was acid. "Some people are sneaks—just sneaks!"

Somehow the speech was welcome to the girl, gave her a touch of courage sufficient for cowardly protestations. It was more like the abuse that was familiar to her. A gush of tears came.

"I'll never forgive myself, never!" she moaned.

"Oh, yes, you will," Mary said malevolently. "People forgive themselves pretty easily. Stop crying. Nobody is going to hurt you." She thrust the money again toward the girl and crowded it into the half reluctant, half greedy hand. "Take it, and get out." The contempt in her voice rang still sharper. "Go, before I change my mind!"

The girl needed no second bidding. With the money still clutched in her hand she went forth swiftly, stumbling a little in her haste, fearful lest at the last moment the woman she had so wronged should change in mood and take back the money.

Freed from the miasma of that presence, Mary remained motionless for a long minute, then sighed from her tortured heart.

"A girl I didn't know," she said bewilderedly, "perhaps had never spoken to—who smashed my life like that! Oh, if it wasn't so awful it would be—funny! It would be funny!"

(To be Continued.)

PRATT'S BREAD is good for growing children—nourishing and satisfying. Grocers sell it.

ARTHUR L. THOMAS
Attorney-at-Law
3-4-5-6 Greenleaf Block
Telephone Quincy 460 Jan.2-1y

SWITHIN
Real Estate
Mortgages-Insurance
Greenleaf Block
Quincy
Tel. Quincy 460. Nov. 10-tf

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS?
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

HUSBAND GIVEN HORSE MEDICINE

Alleged Mrs. Buffum Has Confessed to His Murder

FOUR CHILDREN RECOVERING

Implicates Farm Hand Who Is Also Indicted and Arraigned In Supreme Court With Woman—Crime Committed So She Would Be Free to Marry Young Frahm

Little Valley, N. Y., Dec. 12.—Mrs. Synthia Buffum and Ernest Frahm, a young farmhand, were indicted and arranged here on charges of murder in the first degree. District Attorney George W. Cole said that Mrs. Buffum had made a confession in which she admitted administering poison to her husband, Willis Buffum, and her four children that she might be free to marry young Frahm. Buffum died on Aug. 27.

One of the children, Laura, 10 years old, is still critically ill. The others are slowly recovering. Frahm and Mrs. Buffum pleaded not guilty and were remanded to the county jail.

The alleged confession of Mrs. Buffum was given to the district attorney at Buffalo. In it Cole states Mrs. Buffum says the poison was placed in the food prepared for the family, covering a period of over a month. It was in the form of horse medicine containing poison.

Mrs. Buffum was brought here from Buffalo. The grand jury had reported an indictment against her in the morning and she was at once arraigned before Justice Herbert P. Bissell of the supreme court.

After her arraignment Mrs. Buffum was taken to the grand jury room, where, it is understood, she gave evidence against Frahm, which resulted in his indictment an hour later. Frahm had appeared before the grand jury last week and upon his refusal to answer questions regarding letters alleged to have passed between him and Mrs. Buffum, he was committed to the county jail for ten days for contempt of court.

He had two days more to serve on his sentence for contempt when he was arraigned in court on the murder charge.

The attention of the county authorities was called to the Buffum case during the first week of September, shortly after the death of Willis Buffum. At that time four of the Buffum children became ill, the symptoms of their attack resembling in many respects the illness of the father. The children are Laura, 10 years old, Francis, 13, Clarence, 16, and Herbert, 18. Another son, Norry, aged 4, died of a peculiar ailment last May.

Dr. M. L. Hillsman, the family physician, called a consultation of doctors and as a result of their diagnosis that the children were suffering from poisoning, the district attorney began an investigation.

LAW PREDICTS WAR

Says Government Seems Content to Let Matters Drift

Carnarvon, Wales, Dec. 12.—Andrew B. Law, leader of the opposition in the house of commons, speaking here, repeated his prediction that the imposition of home rule on Ulster would result in civil war.

"If the government," he continued, "have any proposal to make which holds out even a prospect of avoiding the evils we dread, we shall consider it without any regard to party advantage or disadvantage, but with sole regard for the welfare of the nation."

He added that the government seemed content to let matters drift and that meanwhile the likelihood of reaching a settlement by consent was growing smaller.

POLICE USE NEEDLES

Are Being Used on Chicago Mashers and Scheme Works Fine

Chicago, Dec. 12.—Police Captain Halpin has assigned one of his strongest detectives to mingle with the Christmas crowds and protect girls from "mashers."

The detective is armed with a large needle, and when he discovers a man "ogling" a girl, moves alongside and jabs it an inch or so into his leg, depending largely upon provocation.

"The scheme works fine," said Captain Halpin. "There is never any argument. The needle we use is not poisoned, but it does the work."

Geraghty's Election Held Void

Woburn, Mass., Dec. 12.—Because he has lived here only six months, "Jack" Geraghty, who was married to Julia French of Newport after an elopement a few years ago, cannot serve as alderman. Geraghty was elected last Tuesday, but city officials have discovered a clause in the city charter limiting membership on the board of aldermen to persons who have resided here for more than a year.

Supreme Court Justices Ill

Washington, Dec. 12.—Chief Justice White is confined to his home with a cold. Justice Lurton also is absent from the court, suffering from a cold.

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate.

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Clarence H. McDonald of Randolph, Massachusetts, to Herbert T. Whitman and Charles C. Barton, as they are Trustees of the Edison Park Land Associates, dated May 28, 1906, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, book 1030, page 301, for breach of the condition of said mortgage deed and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described on Monday the twenty-ninth day of December 1913, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed and therein described as follows, to wit: "A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in said Quincy, being Lot No. 71 on plan made by H. T. Whitman, Surveyor, dated October, 1895, recorded with Norfolk Plans, Book 20, Plan 901. Said parcel of land is bounded and described as follows, to wit:— Northeasterly on Graham street, ninety (90) feet; southeasterly on Lot No. 60 on said plan, sixty (60) feet southwesterly on Lot No. 70 on said plan, ninety (90) feet; and northwesterly on a City Way, known as Edison Park, sixty (60) feet; containing according to said plan 5400 square feet of land."

Said premises will be sold subject to a prior mortgage upon which $2000, and accrued interest remains unpaid, recorded with said Norfolk Deeds, book 892, page 415, also to all unpaid taxes, sewer and municipal assessments, if any there be. Further terms will be announced at the sale.

HERBERT T. WHITMAN,
CHARLES C. BARTON,
Trustees of the Edison Park Land Associates.
Quincy, Mass., Dec. 5, 1913.
Dec. 5-3t 5-12-19

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate.

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Louise F. Ellis, wife of Henry K. Ellis, of Quincy in the County of Norfolk and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, to The Wollaston Co-operative Bank, a corporation duly established by law, and located at Quincy, in the County of Norfolk and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, which mortgage is dated April 16, 1912, and recorded in Norfolk Registry of Deeds, Book 1213, page 602, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on Saturday, the twentieth day of December, A. D. 1913, at three o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed and not heretofore released from the operation thereof. The said property not heretofore released to be sold as aforesaid is described as follows, to wit:—

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon situated in that part of said Quincy called Atlantic and being a portion of Lot numbered eight hundred forty-nine (849) on a Plan of Norfolk Downs by Charles D. Elliott, dated April 1892 and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Book of Plans 14, plan 640, and bounded southeasterly by Apthorp street, forty-five (45) feet; southwesterly by Warwick street, eighty-seven and 88-100 (87.88) feet; northwesterly by land now or formerly of Samuel F. Smith, fifty-two (52) feet; and northeasterly by land now or formerly of said Louise F. Ellis, about one hundred (100) feet; containing 4560 square feet.

Said premises will be sold subject to any existing restrictions of record, and subject also to any outstanding tax titles, unpaid taxes or municipal assessments, if any such there are.

$200 will be required to be paid in cash at the time and place of sale; other terms will be announced at the sale.

THE WOLLASTON CO-OPERATIVE BANK, Mortgagee,
by Herbert W. Pinkham,
Treasurer.
Quincy, Mass., November 24th, 1913.
Nov. 28-3t 28-5-12

LONG LIVED ROOFING
Buy your roofing with the idea that it is going to last for years to come.
NEPONSET
PAROID ROOFING
is made carefully from the very best materials obtainable. It has received the endorsement of the leading railroads of the United States as well as that of the United States Government. We also handle the Neponset Wall Board which comes in 3 finishes and is good for any room in the house. Call or write for samples.
L. GROSSMAN & SONS
Tel. 979-W
Jackson St., Near Quincy Adams Depot

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block,
QUINCY

JAMES F. BURKE & CO.
Real Estate and Insurance
Care of Property. Mortgages
Justice of Peace. Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 285 M. Nov. 11-tf

WM. H. TEASDALE
REAL ESTATE
Insurance Mortgages
NOTARY PUBLIC JUSTICE OF THE PEACE
Room 23 Adams Building
Telephones | Residence 544-3 Office 685-M
otf

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

WANTED

WANTED—Painter. Good man on ceilings. 313 Copeland street, West Quincy. 12-1t

WANTED—A man, "a live wire" to canvass the city of Quincy and sell the most up to date vacuum carpet cleaner manufactured. Must give satisfactory reference. Wm. S. Currier, Currier's Market, 1381 Hancock street.

WANTED—Young man, high school graduate about 20 years of age, for office position. Good chance for right party. Write T. R., Ledger office. 11-2t

WANTED—Two office girls good chance for right parties. Write T. K. Ledger office. 11-2t

WANTED—Cooks, kitchen, general second, parlor, chamber maids, also housekeeper, first class places, good wages. L. M. Flynn, oldest employment office in city, 1535 Hancock street Tel. 2235-W, Quincy. 10-3t

WANTED—Several young men or women to do special advertising among families, good salary to right persons, with fine chance for promotion. Experience unnecessary, permanent position. Address Wm. J. Andrews, District Manager Gen. Delivery, Quincy, Mass. 10-3t

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing. Myatt, 40 Baxter street. Tel. 1307-M. Quincy, Res. 22-tf

FOR SALE

BUILD A COTTAGE at half price. As I have sold all my real estate I must sell at once, a lot of new and second hand building material at any price 3000 feet 2x8, 2000 feet 2x3, 4x4 etc at $15. M. Car load Atlas cement 35 cents bag, plumbing supplies 100-4 inch Ex H fittings some Ex H 4 inch pipe, 18 oak seats, 8 tanks fitted with B B valves one half price, 20 kegs 8 P nails slightly damaged by fire $1.00 keg, few sinks, 16 inch smoke stack, 75 feet high. All must be sold at once. Hotel Pandora, Houghs Neck. Tel. Quincy 21012. 11-3t

FOR SALE—A black horse, in good condition, kind and gentle, valuable for driving and light teaming. Can be seen any time at 95 Adams street, Quincy. 6-6t

FOR SALE or TO LET—New houses Apply to Thompson B. Crane, 403 Washington street, Quincy. 1-tf

TO LET
Large Front Office Greenleaf Block—2 entrances—right at the head of the stairs—one of the most desirable offices in Quincy.
Office, Durgin-Merrill Block—3 large windows—only 1 flight up—exceptional opportunity.
Hancock Building—City Square
Offices—small front office, $11 a month
Office—Hancock Chambers, 18x18 feet one flight up, very low rent.
Store House—off Granite St., in the rear of Greenleaf Block.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best Location in City)
Offices—Large or small.
Desk Room—Street floor, right in the rear of main entrance, good light and air, $5 up a month.
Transient Rooms—Well furnished and with care, $1 a day.
Furnished Rooms—With care steam heat, and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week

HALLS
Music Hall—Music Hall Block—Capacity 862—highest possible rating by the State. "Excellent" in every particular.
New Colonial Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—Capacity 240—the best possible location for a Hall.
Hancock Hall—Hancock Building City Square—Capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Greenleaf Block, 'Phone 21066 Quincy

HOLMES & HALL
REPAIRERS OF HOUSEHOLD
FURNISHINGS
SHADES
DOOR BELLS
LOCKS and KEYS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

YOU need the Ledger EVERY DAY.
SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

LOST

LOST—In City Square, or in City Square stores, about noon Thursday, a $20 bill. Reward if returned to Ledger Office. 11-3t

LOST—Wednesday, Dec. 10, Lady's gold watch and long chain. Waltham works, closed face. Notify C. A. Penley, Room 14, City Hall. 11-3t

TO LET

TO LET—Upper flat in two flat new house at 1 Bradford street, 5 rooms and bath. All improvements. Ready Jan. 1st. Apply to Wm. E. Duggan, 32 Bryant avenue, West. Quincy. 12-6t

TO LET—Tenement 4 rooms and bath all improvements, set range. Vacant Jan. 1, 1914. Apply 180 Franklin street. 10-6t

TO LET—With private family, desirable room with modern conveniences. Address "R," Ledger office or telephone Quincy, 1796-W. 10-6t

TO LET—Tenement of 6 rooms, all improvements. Rent only $18.75, C. W. Guy, 42 Butler road, near High school. 10-tf

TO LET—In private Swedish family nice warm rooms and good board, 5 minutes walk from depot. Write S. F. P., Ledger Office. 10-3t

TO LET—9 room house on Hancock street, near Quincy center. In first class repair and reasonable rent. Apply to Mr. Galligan at Kincaide's Furniture store. 6-tf

TO LET—In Wollaston very desirable five room bungalow on high land, $26; also seven room house, $30; five room apartment, $20; six room apartment, $16. All improvements and in first class condition. H. W. Richmond, 105 Brook street, Wollaston. Tel. 358-2. 6-6t

UPPER APARTMENT. In two-family house on Spear Street. Five rooms, bath, large pantry and closets, also open attic with finished heated chamber. Every improvement, electric light, furnace, range etc. Ready for immediate occupancy. Telephone Quincy 278 M or enquire mornings of Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. lpo

TO LET—173 Whitwell street, half house, modern conveniences, $20 per month. Ready for immediate occupancy. Apply Penniman's Stable, Granite street. 19-tf

RUSSELL PARK — Commodious house of seven rooms, large hall and bath. Modern, every convenience open fireplace, furnace, range, set tubs, electric lights, cemented cellar, etc. Best residential neighborhood. Ready for immediate occupancy. For further details or key see Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. tf lpo

TO LET—Nicest 4 room and bath lower flat in town. Every improvement $19.00. 126 Glendale road. S. E. Thomas Greenleaf Block. 17-tf

TO LET—5 room tenement at 117 Quincy street, $20 per month. Apply Berman Furniture Co. 6-tf

TO LET—Houses of 5, 6 and 10 rooms. M. T. Sullivan. Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy, Mass. 11-tf

MISCELLANEOUS

RENT FREE—until Jan. 1st. Two adjoining houses, 28 and 30 Pleasant street to desirable tenants, who will agree to stay one year, or longer. $5.00 per week in advance. Stable for one horse if desired. $1.00 a week extra. Apply 36 Pleasant street. 5-tf

ANOTHER BARGAIN
Make me an offer for a ten room house on Whitwell Street.
You will own it if you will talk buy, as it is one of those chances some one will miss.
HENRY W. SAVAGE
Real Estate, Boston.
E. C. HAYDEN, Local Representative
Telephone 1877-M Quincy.
Nov 17-tf

A "WANT"

advertisement is a small notice inserted in the LEDGER to tell the public what you want. Whether you need help or employment, house, horse or automobile, the little "want ad." is the agent to find it for you. Such small classified advertisements, on page 5 of the LEDGER, costs but 25 cents for 25 words or less, one time; three consecutive insertions 50 cents; 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents. Leave your notice at the Ledger Office, 1424 Hancock Street.

Read Ledger Advs.

Thursday
Friday
Saturday

KINCAIDE THEATRE

at 2.30, 5, 10, 15c.
at 7.45, 10, 15, 25c

Program Subject to Change

GARDNER VINCENT & CO.
Novelty Fantasy
"The Flying Horse"

HARRY BOOKER & CO.
In their laugh-lifting Sketch
"The Walking Delegate"

VIRGINIA HERBERT
Singing and Dancing

BARNEY O'NEIL
Ireland's Favorite Singer

Western Feature Picture
ESCAPE OF JIM NOLAN

Two Good Comedy Pictures
"A WOMAN IN THE ULTIMATE"

"THE LAUNDRESS AND LADY"

NEXT WEEK
ANNIVERSARY PROGRAM

SPECIAL
for THURSDAY and FRIDAY

ROMATIC WAFERS
20c Value
15c Pound

SUGAR PEAS
12 1-2c Value
10c Can

Adams Market R. E. FOY &CO. Water St. Market

EDMONSTON'S
Goodyear Shoe Repairing
Cor. Maple and Chestnut Streets
Anything from an EYELET
to a WHOLE SOLE

Dec. 11-3t

INSPECTORS WIN MATCH.

In a postponed match in the Fore River league on the Coliseum alleys Thursday evening the Argentine Inspectors and the Electricians divided the points. The summary:

ARGENTINE INSPECTORS. . . .

Koozer	82	95	90	267
Novelli	87	91	85	263
Villegas	80	93	94	267
Wilkendorf	91	81	88	260
Santa Cruz	85	79	87	251
	425	439	444	1308

ELECTRICIANS.

Lincoln	83	106	70	259
Malnati	90	83	76	249
Smith	99	81	90	270
Fitzgerald	89	92	78	259
Olindy	86	83	87	256
	447	445	401	1293

BOWLERS WHITEWASHED.

East Weymouth bowlers administered a whitewash to the local car men on the Coliseum alleys Thursday evening. The score:

E. Weymouth	444	433	443	1320
Car Men	413	421	433	1267

John H. Gillis of Pleasant street underwent an operation Thursday at the Massachusetts General hospital.

CALLED TO A BOSTON CHURCH

Rev. A. M. Thompson, a prominent member of the Quincy Minister's Association, who resigned as pastor of the First United Presbyterian church last May has been extended a call by the members of St. Andrews Church, Shawmut avenue and Concord street, Boston where he has supplied the past three months.

In all probability eRv. Mr. Thompson will accept and the matter will be presented to the Presbytery, which convenes at Boston Monday, for confirmation.

Rev. Mr. Thompson succeeds Rev. Archibald McKinnon who accepted a call from the church at Inverness, C. B..

Rev. Mr. Thompson is a native of Hans county, Novia Scotia. He received his early education in the schools of his native place and later at the Presbyterian college in Halifax where he graduated in 1895. In June of that year he became pastor of the Calvin Presbyterian church at Margaree, C. B., where he stayed until called to Ferrona, N. S. in 1899. He was pastor at the latter place until 1907 when he came to Quincy.

MURDER AND SUICIDE

(Continued from Page One.)

After much tugging she managed to wrench herself away and running to the window threw it open and shouted for help. As she stood at the window O'Neil fired another shot at her. This bullet took effect and she toppled out of the window. As she did so the enraged husband fired two more shots at her. Fortunately however neither of these took effect.

Just at this time O'Neil caught sight of two men running across the field, who had heard the cries and were rushing to the woman's assistance. Thinking to escape he ran down cellar and turned the revolver on himself and pulled the trigger. The revolver failed to explode however and drawing a razor from his pocket he slashed his throat in such a manner that death was almost instaneous.

The cries of the woman and the sound of the shots aroused the neighborhood and soon a large crowd had gathered at the scene of the tragedy. Emergency calls were sent to the town physicians and Dr. Dearing, Dr. Merriam and Dr. Sullivan soon responded and seeing the woman's' condition, ordered her removal to the Quincy City hospital where she was taken in the police ambulance.

The body of O'Neil was allowed to remain pending the arrival of the Medical Examiner.

According to the attending physicians the bullet passed through the left shoulder blade into the lung and her condition is considered as very serious.

There are six children in the family but fortunately none of them were at home at the time.

O'Neil has been employed by the New Haven railroad as a switchman at Braintree and it is reported that he has been drinking heavily of late, and it is believed that crazed by rum he became jealous of his wife and determined to kill her and then take his own life.

OFFICERS OF DAVIS CLASS

The Davis Bible Class of the Calvary Baptist church commences its new year next Sunday. It will be conducted under the direction of Rev. C. C. Tilley, pastor and the officers chosen were:

President—Alfred A. Beaulieu.
Vice President—S. H. Shellman.
Secretary—Lindsey Smith.
Treasurer—Edward Brown.
Chairman Devotional committee—Edward Mundie.
Chairman Social committee—George McDonnell.
Chairman Athletic committee—Albert Neil.

LORING—WILLEY.

Amos J. Loring overseer of prisoners at Dedham jail and for several years Braintree's energetic Chief of Police was united in marriage Thursday evening at Braintree to Miss Carrie B. Willey of 328 Elm street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Daniel Roy Freeman of All Souls' church, the bridal couple being attended by Miss Cora F. Loring of Braintree and Mr. John H. House of Weymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Loring left immediately after the ceremony for a brief wedding trip returning from which they will reside at 328 Elm street where they will be at home after Jan. 1.

Mr. Loring enjoys the distinction of being the first Chief of Police that Braintree has ever had before his promotion being night officer at East Braintree.

He was shot three years ago during a pistol duel with a burglar in a blind aftic in a house at East Braintree. Chief Loring also shot his man afterward placing him under arrest, although at that time a bullet was lodged under one of his ribs.

PRIEST TRANSFERRED.

Rev. Fr. Maurice Lynch, for many years a curate at the Church of the Immaculate Conception at East Weymouth has been transferred to St. Patricks parish in Watertown of which Monsignor Ambrose F. Roche is pastor. Father Lynch has many friends in this city who unite in expressing their best wishes for a continuation of his successes. Rev. Fr. T. James Hurley, now of St. Josephs church at Lynn is appointed as his successor.

Wo-he-lo, Wo-he-lo, Wo-he-lo, tonight in Colonial hall, the Wampatuck Camp Fire Girls are giving a play "The Uninvited Member" with a camp fire tableau as a finale. The Eagle Patrol of Boy Scouts are to act as ushers.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS?
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

Rexall
Means "King of All"

Strengthen Your System to Resist Cold Weather Diseases

Put yourself in shape, now, to successfully combat and keep from having colds, grippe, bronchitis, pneumonia, catarrh, typhoid fever, rheumatism, etc. Get well and strong. See to it that your blood and nerves—your entire system—are in perfect condition.

Rexall TRADE MARK

Olive Oil Emulsion
(WITH HYPOPHOSPHITES)

Is designed to prevent as well as to relieve disease, whether caused by cold weather, overwork or worry. Vaccination prevents smallpox; inoculation with antitoxin prevents diphtheria. Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion strengthens the body to resist the growth of disease germs in the blood, and thus fortifies the system and puts it into a proper healthy condition to resist disease.

Every person not in perfect health has incipient germs of some distressing ailment in his or her system.

You who are weak and run-down, from whatever cause—

You who are apparently well now, but whom past experience has taught are liable to catch cold easily and suffer from the various other effects of cold weather—

Take home a bottle of Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion today and use it as a means to get well and keep well.

It Is an Ideal Nerve Food Tonic

The Hypophosphites it contains are recommended by leading physicians everywhere as extremely valuable in all cases of debility and weakness. The pure Olive Oil is one of the most nutritious and most-easily-digested foods known to science. It helps to rebuild wasting tissues and restore health and strength in convalescence and in all conditions of feebleness, debility, wasting, emaciation, malnutrition, and particularly in throat and lung affections. It is equally suitable for the child, the adult and the aged. It contains no alcohol or dangerous or habit-forming drugs.

It is very pleasant to take.

Enough for full two weeks' treatment, $1.00.

Sold only at The Rexall Stores—the World's Greatest Drug Stores—and always with a full guarantee of satisfaction, or your money back.

Sold in this community only at

The Rexall Store

EDWARD J. MURPHY'S

1415 Hancock, Cor. Granite Sts., Quincy, Mass.

NEW CHURCH CONSIDERED

Pros and Cons of Question Discussed at Length

At a largely attended meeting held in the Wollaston Congregational church, Thursday evening, the members and friends of the church freely discussed the pros and cons of a new stone church edifice and parish house. The meeting was held with the idea of sensing the opinion of the parish as to just what should be done in order that wise action might formally be taken at a special meeting to be held later or at the regular annual meeting of the church to be held in January.

A hymn by the congregation and a prayer by the pastor Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath Ph. D. opened the meeting. Views and plans of the proposed building had been transferred to lantern slides. These were thrown on a screen and the pastor gave a detailed description of each.

Rev. Dr. Sneath stated that there were three propositions before them for choice: First, to move the present wooden building to the rear, change it into a parish house, and build a new stone church in front of it for worship.

Second, to have the present building remain where it is, build a new parish house of stone in the rear and later build a church in front of it. Third, to remove the present building and dispose of it, building a new stone church and parish house at a cost of $60,000.

Charles A. Campbell, chairman of the plans committee was in favor of an entirely new church and parish house. Every one wants a new church, he declared. The question is, can we afford it? I think it would be the best thing we could do, to take on some task with which to burden ourselves. We can do it. Do we want to do it? A new building would result in a large accession to our membership and a tremendous inspiration to all of us.

Charles P. Hutchins, absent on business, sent a message favoring a new church and parish house.

Rufus B. Tobey was in favor of building the parish house first and the new church later. He felt doubt as to financing the entire proposition at once.

Mrs. Lincoln asked regarding the financing of the scheme and Mr. Tobey for the finance committee replied briefly.

B. H. Bain, favored a new church and parish house. It will mean a big sacrifice and a big undertaking. We will have to cut corners close but I am willing to be one of those here to do it.

A large number of speakers followed among them: Charles A. Randall, Amos T. Leavitt, H. T. Whitman, Chester N. Godfrey, Charles Sayward, Charles Alden, N. G. Nickerson, Mrs. Sneath and others. The majority favored a new church and parish house, but one or two expressed doubt as to finances and suggested building either one or the other first.

Toward the end of the discussion, Mrs. Sneath addressed the women expressing her confidence in the project and urging them to work up enthusiasm over it.

The meeting closed with the singing of "Onward Christian Soldiers" and a benediction by the pastor.

—Bruce Eytinge has aroused the hope at New York that some day every man may be his own automobile. Eytinge appeared at the electrical show on roller skates. Suspended from his shoulders were storage batteries, connected with small motors on the skates. Eytinge turned a switch and the skates started. He said the outfit cost him about $50.

MARSHALL RETURNS TO FALL RIVER HOME

Wealthy Hat Manufacturer Found In New York

Fall River, Mass., Dec. 12.—James Marshall, the millionaire hat manufacturer, who has been missing since Tuesday, returned to his home here on the train from Providence.

Mr. Marshall disappeared from the Grand Central station in New York last Tuesday. He was with his physician on the way to a sanatorium, where he was to have taken a treatment for a nervous trouble.

Mr. Marshall was accompanied from New York by his brothers, John and William, who are associated in business with him here. It was given out that he was in good physical condition, and that after leaving his physician, in the railroad station, he went about New York city and made calls on a number of business acquaintances.

500-YEAR-OLD BOY

Mummy of Supposed Member of Inca Tribe Comes to New York

New York, Dec. 12.—A 500-year-old boy came to New York in a wooden box 10x12x6 inches. The boy was 12 years old when mummified some five centuries ago. The mummy was found in the mountains of Peru by Thomas G. Taylor of Montreal, and was admitted to the country without payment of duty under the clause in the tariff providing for the free entry of antiquities.

Taylor said that he thought the mummy was that of an Inca boy. The centuries it had spent within the tomb had failed to dim the luster of its short black hair. The body was embalmed with the head drawn down to the knees and had shrunk to but a fraction of its original proportions.

Binding cloths, rotted by time, still clung to the body.

IS "NOT A PERSON"

Girl Cannot Be Admitted to London Bar Because of Sex

London, Dec. 12.—The appeal of Miss Gwyneth M. Bebb from the decision of the Incorporated Law society barring her from admission to the bar because of her sex has been rejected by the high court.

The court adhered to the view that a woman is not a "person within the meaning of the solicitors' act of 1843," gracefully adding the words: "Doubtless the applicant is of superior education and intelligence to many males, but the court has nothing to do with that."

Miss Bebb is a graduate of Girten college, Cambridge.

R. F. D. Men For Christmas Rush

Washington, Dec. 12.—In order to facilitate the handling of bulky parcels during the holiday season, Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Blakeslee authorized postmasters at second class postoffices, having both city and rural delivery service, to use rural carriers in the deliveries of parcel post mail within city limits wherever possible.

BIRTHS

HUNTINGTON—In Wollaston, Dec. 11, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Huntington nee Thayer of 60 Willow street.

JOHNSON—In Wollaston, Dec. 10, a daughter to Dr. and Mrs. E. R. Johnson of Newport avenue.

MARRIAGES

STONEHOUSE—SMITH —In Quincy, Dec. 8, by Rev. C. C. Tilley, Robert Benjamin Stonehouse of Cambridge, and Annie Elizabeth Smith of Quincy.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1385 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass.

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

LARGEST GUARANTEED CIRCULATION IN THE CITY

Vol. 28 No. 289 QUINCY MASS. SATURDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 13 1913 PRICE TWO CENTS

ORDER CHANGING NAME OF GOFFE ST. VETOED

Mayor Finds Constable Did Not Serve Hearing Notices in Time

Order Called For 14 Days Notice but Only 13 Days Notice Given

At the eleventh hour Mayor Stone ran up against a snag in the matter of changing the name of Goffe street to Presidents Lane which left no other alternative than for him to veto the order.

The Mayor had until 5 o'clock tonight in which to approve, veto or allow the order to become a law without his signature.

During the past few days His Honor sent communications to every property owner on the street asking for their approval or disapproval to changing the name of the street. Of the returns received 19 favored and 15 were opposed and there were six who failed to reply. In addition to this the Mayor's telephone has been kept busy all the morning by citizens interested in one way and another and it was quite a problem as to just what to do when a telephone was received from an abuttor claiming that legal notice was not given of the proposed change.

It was a technical point but just enough to throw the whole proceedings overboard.

The order calling the hearing passed the City Council June 23, and provided that the Clerk should give fourteen days notice to the abutters by serving an attested copy of the order upon the owner or owners of property abutting the street at least fourteen days before the date of hearing.

The date of the hearing was Sept. 8, at 8.15 o'clock. The notices were given Chief of Police Burrell, a constable authorized to serve civil process, in ample time but it is evident by his return that they were not served in time.

According to the official return made by Chief Burrell, the notices were served Aug. 26, some by being delivered in hand and others by mailing, prepaid to the last and usual place of abode of the said owners.

If the date the notices were served and the date on which the hearing was held can both be counted there was just fourteen days. If however, as is usually the case but one of these days are counted, there were but thirteen days, so that the required notice was not given.

There was but little other left for the Mayor to do than to veto the order on these grounds, as it was very evident that had he signed the order the question would have been taken to the courts. For this reason the street will be known as Goffe street for some time yet, unless sixteen members of the Council think different on the technical question and pass the order over the veto. However, it lets the Mayor out of a perplexing situation, in view of the fact that many prominent citizens were arrayed on each side of the question.

NOTICE.

IF THE PERSON WHO TOOK A LADY'S HANDBAG FROM BETHANY CHAPEL, DEC. 10, WILL RETURN SAME TO THIS OFFICE BEFORE DEC. 16 THEY WILL AVOID MUCH TROUBLE. 11-3t

COMEDY BY CAMP FIRE GIRLS

The Wampatuck Camp Fire Girls presented the "Univited member," a two act comedy and a tableaux to an appreciative audience in New Colonial hall, Friday evening. The Eagle Patrol of Boy Scouts acted as ushers and assisted in the candy sale which followed. The tableaux consisted of camp fire scenes by members dressed in their costume, closing with singing of songs by the camp. During the evening several dances were given by Miss Ruth Bass.

The girls taking part were Jennie Gibbs, Doris and Elsie Carter, Doris and Marion Peterson, Mabel Roche, Francis Ward, Marion Allen, Sarah and Mary Leet, Eva Forrest.

DR. ANDERSON EXPLAINS.

Elitor Quincy Ledger.

Inasmuch as considerable noteriety has ben given to the incident, by reason of an error in the publication therof, I feel the public are entitled to be informed of the real facts in the case recently decided against me in the Quincy District Court.

While there was a technical violation of the insurance laws, I acted in the matter solely to enable a mother of a family to secure for herself and children protection by insurance, where the husband was not willing to be insured and tells company of the examination. The requested information on application was obtained from the wife, and I was pleaded to by the agent to pass the same. The ones most benefited by the transaction were the wife and children my fee was 50c. The examiner of industrial insurance receives 25c, 50c, $1.00 fees. I feel the public should know that my only motives were to help out some one else and that I received no other renumeration for my act.

Yours truly,
John H. Anderson, M. D.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

Rebecca Wiswell Tent, Daughters of Veterans held their election of officers in G. A. R. Hall Friday evening and re-elected Mrs. Emma E. Ela president. The installation will be in January. The officers chosen were:

President—Mrs. Emma E. Ela.
Senior Vice President—Mrs. Annie Merritt.
Junior Vice President—Mrs. Annie Grignon.
Treasurer—Mrs. Mary A. Berry.
Patriotic Instructor—Mrs. Minnie Glover.
Trustees—Mrs. Luella Thayer, Mrs. Levina Dorley, Mrs. Fannie Grignon.

(ADVERTISE.)

GIVEN TIE AND HOSE SHOWER

Popular Organist Given Many Gifts of Adornment

John Mahon, organist and director of the choir of St. John's church, who will be married in January to Miss Loretta Hart of Weymouth was given a "tie and hose" shower by the choir members after the rehearsal Friday evening. The affair took place in the hall of the St. John's parish school and was planned by Miss Julia Duffy.

Quantities of ties and hose were showered on Mr. Mahon and during the evening vocal solos were rendered by Miss Eva Rice. James Grant and a trio consisting of Edwin E. Donovan, Russell and Peter M. Sullivan. Several piano solos were given by Miss Mary McConarty and John Mahon. Refreshments were served.

CONDITION CRITICAL

Mrs. Abbie O'Neil, whose husband, Jeremiah, shot her and later committed suicide in their home in Braintree Highlands Friday morning is in a critical condition at the Quincy City Hospital. But slight hopes are held out for her recovery. Because of her weak condition, Dr. Daniel B. Reardon house surgeon deemed it not advisable to probe for a bullet lodged in the left lung. Another bullet struck her on the back of the hand, tore its surface and mutilated two fingers, completely severing the tip of the small finger. The body of her husband is in a Randolph morgue.

The sale at the home of Mrs. Fred Holbrook, Revere road of fancy work and embroidery has been continued through all next week.

PRATT'S BREAD is baked for those who want good bread. Grocers sell it.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS?
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

FINED $300 ON ONE COMPLAINT

Plea of Guilty Entered in Cedarcrest Inn Cases

Mrs. E. Grace Reynolds, proprietor of the Cedarcrest Outing Club which was raided on the night of the Harvard-Yale game withdrew her plea of not guilty to a charge of keeping and maintaining a liquor nuisance and keeping and exposing liquor for sale, this morning and was fined $300 by Judge Avery on the later charge. He granted a continuance to Wednesday so that an appeal could be taken. He said that the first charge would be dismissed if the selectmen of the Town of Braintre so recommended.

Chief Horace W. Hunt of Braintree who made the raid said that he saw no liquor on the tables and that no complaint as to the conduct about the club had been made by people living in that vicinity. He said he had received same from residents of Braintree. The liquor which was found in an addition to the house and in an upstairs closet was valued at about $850.

Inspector Alfred W. Goodhue who assisted him in the raid said that people were dining there when he and the police arrived but that no liquor was on the tables. He said that there was no evidence of intoxication or disorder and that in his investigation he learned that none but members were served. He said Mrs. Reynolds, as far as he could learn refused to serve intoxicated persons and that an internal revenue license was issued to the Cedarcrest Outing Club on July 12, 1913 upon payment of a $25, hung behind the desk in the office.

People in the neighborhood of the club had made no complaints to him but residents of Quincy were disturbed by noisy parties of autoists coming from and going in the direction of the club.

Mrs. Reynolds he said, told him that she believed she was within her rights inasmuch as she had a club license and that the only violation she thought she might have committed was the serving of liquors after hours.

William J. Kelly, her attorney stated that she had expressed her intention of leaving Braintree as soon as the matter was disposed of.

Several photographers were outside court when Mrs. Reynolds left the building but were unable to secure a picture of her.

OPENS TWO DAYS FAIR

Pastor and Ladies of St. Paul's Church in Charge

The first of two nights fair under the auspices of the St. Paul's M. E. church opened in Union hall Friday evening. The attendance was large and the proceeds netted from the sale of fancy articles and refreshments were large. They will be applied to the church fund. Booths were set in all parts of the hall and their gay decorations harmonized with the quiet mural decorations.

The affair is the first under the direction of Rev. Axel Hillman who assumed the pastorate several months ago. He is the active head of the committee and assisting him are the ladies of the church. During the evening there were readings by Mrs. Alida Lagergren and piano solos by Miss Mary Roseng and Emily Eliason.

The committee is Mrs. Alida Lagergren, Mrs. Selma Steele, Mrs. Augusta Ellison, Mrs. Alma Carlson, Selma Gustafson, Edith Olson, Olga Anderson Hilda Ellison, Emma Anderson, Berger Ellison, Mrs. John Carlson, Mrs. Inga Lingberg, Uno Carlson.

BRIDS—KILEY.

Miss Anna Kiley, a New York actress and William Brids of 11 Jackson street appealed Wednesday to Judge Avery to set aside the five day law so that they could be immediately married. He granted their request and they were married Thursday at Amesbury by Fred A. Brown, J. of P. The news became known this morning when the license was returned to the office of the city clerk. The groom is a salesman.

Always Reliable

Relief from the ailments caused by disordered stomach, torpid liver, irregular bowels is given—quickly, safely, and assuredly—by the tried and reliable

BEECHAM'S PILLS

Sold everywhere. In boxes, 10c., 25c.

COME TO THE MEN'S STORE FOR MEN'S GIFTS

To our regular stock of Men's Goods--So large and Attractive in variety, quality and price, we have added an immense stock of things "Christmasy."

INTERWOVEN HOSIERY
You can buy one pair for 25c
Four pairs in Christmas box $1.00
One pair Silk for 50c
Two pairs in Christmas box $1.00

CHENEY SILK
None Better
Handkerchief and Tie to match, Tie and Socks to match. Socks, Handkerchief and Tie to match
$1.00 $1.25 $1.50

PAJAMAS AND NIGHT ROBES
Big stock here to select from A useful Holiday Gift
50c. to $2.00

UMBRELLAS
You can step right in at the door just around the corner and find a selection of Men's, Women's and Children's Umbrellas from ... 50c. up to $5.00

ARM BANDS & GARTERS
in Xmas boxes
25c 50c 75c $1.00

NECKWEAR
Thousands of Ties to choose from. All the newest and latest made to our order for the Holiday season, all in single boxes.
25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00

HANDKERCHIEFS
Plain or Initial Linen and Silk ..... 5c to $1.00
Sealpackerchief, advertised in the magazines are here at 3 for 25c. up to 25c each

SLIPPERS
We have a big line of the Comfy Slippers made by the Daniel Green Felt Shoe Co.
75c, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75
The New Tango Dancing Pumps in Satin and Patent $1.50 $2.00
Slippers for men, women, and children ... 50c $2.50

SUSPENDERS
The President, The Bull Dog and all leading makes in Xmas boxes
25c. 50c. 75c. $1.00.

HOLEPROOF HOSIERY
6 pairs guaranteed to wear six months or new Hose free. In Holiday boxes, $1.50, $2.00. 3 pairs Silk guaranteed for 3 months $2.00

SWEATERS
Direct from mills to us. With and without Collars in Blue, Tan, Crimson, Dark Oxford and Light Oxford
$1.00 to $8.00.

GLOVES
Dress Gloves, Auto Gloves, Fur Lined Gloves, Working Gloves, lined and unlined
Prices 25c to $6.00.
We have the Popular Mark Cross Gloves at ... $1.50

HOCKEY CAPS
25c, 50c, $1.00.
Over Gaiters and Leggins, 25c to $1.00.

Shirtsare Useful Xmas Gifts, This Store offers you a Big Selection from the Full Dress to the Every Day Outing Shirt, Prices 50c up to $2.50.

The Famous Red Man Brand of E. & W. Collars 2 for 25c

—Ask For Legal Stamps Your Cash Discount—

GEORGE W. JONES
1 Granite Street, Quincy

Electric Decorations
Are Popular
For Christmas
Special Fittings
BECKFORD & LYNCH
3 Saville St., Quincy
Dec. 13-6t

THE QUINCY GIFT
The Most Appropriate Christmas Gift to Residents and Lovers of Quincy are the
ILLUSTRATED BOOKS ABOUT QUINCY
By the Rev. D. M. Wilson
WHERE AMERICAN INDEPENDENCE BEGAN. $2.25
ILLUSTRATED SKETCH OF QUINCY AND BRAINTREE.
Board Covers 50c. Paper Covers 25c
For Sale by Brown & Co., Quincy; G. C. Shunk, Wollaston; Branschied & Martens Atlantic.
Dec. 13-6t-13 15-17-2'-22-24-p-2w

TO LET

Large Front Office Greenleaf Block—2 entrances—right at the head of the stairs—one of the most desirable offices in Quincy.

Office, Burgin-Merrill Block—3 large windows—only 1 flight up—exceptional opportunity.

Hancock Building—City Square

Offices—small front office, $11 a month

Office—Hancock Chambers, 16x18 feet one flight up very low rent.

Store House—off Granite St., in the rear of Greenleaf Block.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best Location in City)

Offices—Large or small.

Desk Room—Street floor, right in the rear of main entrance, good light and air, $5 up a month.

Transient Rooms—Well furnished and with care, $1 a day.

Furnished Rooms—With care steam heat, and detached bath with hot and cold water $2.00 to $5.50 per week

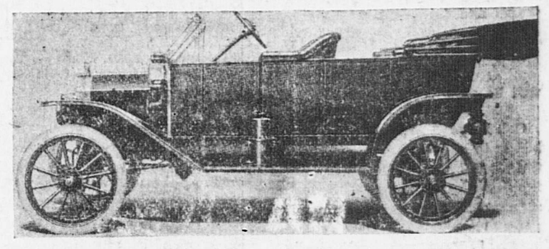
HALLS

Music Hall—Music Hall Block—Capacity 760—highest possible rating by the State. "Excellent" in every particular.

New Colonial Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—Capacity 240—the best possible location for a Hall.

Hancock Hall—Hancock Building City Square—Capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Keith.)
Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 2106) Quincy



THE QUINCY GARAGE, 87 Adams Street, Quincy
Agent for FORD and CASE CARS
A full Line of Supplies always on hand
Michelin Tires in stock
Now Ready for Delivery the 1914 Ford Car, $550 for 5 Passenger, $500 for Runabout, $750 for Town Car F. O. B. Detroit.
For Particulars or Demonstration call Quincy 435
Night or Day never closed. C. P. GOULD, Prop.
Dec. 12-10-tf

1876-1913

WE HAVE OFFERED FOR YOUR INSPECTION AND SELECTION EACH YEAR RELIABLE GOODS, AND WE SUGGEST YOU LOOK OVER OUR LINE OF

Watches, Cut Glass, Silver Ware, Jewelry, Clocks, Etc.

TO AID YOU IN YOUR CHRISTMAS SHOPPING WE INVITE YOUR INSPECTION OF OUR STOCK.

C. F. PETTENGILL
1391 Hancock Street Near Granite Street
TELEPHONE QUINCY 166-M Dec.13,10t

CARPETS
Oriental Domestic RUGS
LINOLEUM
MATTINGS
AT LOWEST POSSIBLE PRICES
John H. Pray & Sons Co.
646 Washington Street, Opp. Boylston Street

All Goods will be Delivered Free at Residences in Quincy
REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY
Messrs. OTHO A. HAYWARD and WALTER J. WELLINGTON.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Established 1889

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second-Class matter.

Subscription

By the year $6.00
By the month .50

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the . . . .

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

TELEPHONES

News . . . Quincy 425
Business . . Quincy 1910

In spite of the fact that some of the girls are wearing tomato reds coats many of the men don't turn their heads to look at them.

THE SHORT DAYS.

The first part of December brings the earliest sunsets, while the latest sunrise does not occur until the last of December and first of January. Fortunately the United States is so situated so to latitude that its hours of work are not greatly affected by the winter withdrawal of the sunlight.

Europe lies farther toward the pole. In the latitude of Endinburgh and farther north, with only six or seven hours daylight, much less in some cities, at this time of year, the long darkness must involve a heavy tax for light and constitute a severe eye strain.

In our country towns, many factories have depended on oil lights at this time of year. Time spent in trimming and cleaning lamps is dead loss, and imperfect illumination is a handicap to work, which must affect shop production. The modern factory recognizes this loss, and provides such efficient illumination that the effect of short days is reduced to a small minimum.

To some persons the early darkness brings a feeling of depression. Others find darkness restful, with its suggestion of quiet and sleep.

YOUNG PEOPLES DANCING PARTY

The second dancing party in the course of dances and entertainments of the Young People's Religious Union of the First church was held Friday evening at Alpha hall, and was one of the prettiest dancing parties of the season. The dance was largely attended by young people, while many of the older friends of the union watched the merry scene from the balcony.

Wilson's orchestra furnished the music and the party was matronized by Mrs. Adelbert L. Hudson, Mrs. Henry M. Faxon and Mrs. Sylvester Miller. The next in the course will be held at the chapel of the church and will be an entertainment.

Col. Edward Anderson of Presidents hill is to address the Young People of the First Parish in the chapel at 4.30 Sunday afternoon upon "Courage."

Sept. 13-eow Sat. I. 20-eow-P

CHOICE ARTICLES

FROM THE

PHILIPPINES

LUCBON HATS—Very best grade of the famous Panamas and Bankoks made. Absolutely none better, woven under water by hand. Can be crushed into a ball and not lose shape. Made for both Ladies and Gentlemen. $5 and $10.

ROMBLON MATS—Handsomest and most durable Grass Mats or Rugs made in the world. Beautiful colors and designs, large enough to cover one-half floor of rooms. $5.

MANILA CIGARS—$8 for a trial box of the Very Best Cigars made in the Philippines.

Oriente Cigarrettes—Best made, large package containing 25 small packages, 750 Cigarrettes, $2.

Sent by registered mail, free of duties, on receipt of price.

C. A. SHORT & CO.,
Lucena, Tay, P. I.

Oct 4 1&O 3m

SUNDAY SERVICES

FIRST PARISH CHURCH—City Square, Rev Adelbert Lathrop Hudson, minister. Residence, Miller Stile Inn, Tel. 21 72. Office hours at church 9 to 12 A. M., Monday, Wednesday and Friday, Tel. 1290. Morning Service at 10.30 A. M. Subject of sermon: "The Evolution of Religion: IV "The Religion of Israel to the birth of Jesus Christ." Sunday School at 12 noon. Mr. Henry W. Porter, Superintendent. The ministers class will conclude the subject of "Confucianism in China and Japan." The Young People's Religious Union will meet at 4.30 P. M.

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Cor Junction Hancock and Chestnut streets. Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott, Pastor. 10.30 Morning Worship. Message by Dr. William W. Dorman of Whitman. 12.00, Bible School. Classes for all ages. 6.15, Christian Endeavor meeting. 7.30 Pleasant Sunday evening service Lecture by the pastor "Jacob seeking for a wife." A word of counsel to young men.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST—Quincy, Alpha Hall, cor. Hancock street and Cottage ave. Morning service and Sunday school at 10 45 Subject: "God, the Preserver of Man" Golden Text: Psalms 54:4-7 Behold God is mine helper for he hath delivered me out of all trouble." Wednesday 7.45 P. M. A testimony and experience meeting. Reading room open from 3 to 5. M. week days, holidays excepted. All are welcome.

FIRST UNIVERSALIST CHURCH — Quincy Rev. Merrill C. Ward, pastor. Services at 3 P. M. Sermon theme: "We would see Jesus." Sunday school at 2 P. M.

WASHINGTON STREET CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Quincy Point. Rev. Stephen C. Lang pastor. Morning Worship at 10.45 Subject: "Treasure Interest." Evening Worship at 7.30 Subject: "A Biblical Romance."

CHRIST CHURCH, EPISCOPAL—Quincy, corner Elm street and Quincy avenue. Rev. Richard E. Armstrong, rector. Holy Communion at 8 A. M. Sunday School at 9.30. Morning Prayer and sermon at 10.45. Prayer and Address at 7.30.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH — Franklin street Rev. C. C. Tilley, Pastor. Residence 26 Richie Road. Morning Service at 10.30. Subject: "The Veil Lifted on the Mount of Transfiguration." Sunday School at 11.45. Evening Service at 7, Subject: "Catchy Foxes." Regular Prayer meeting on Thursday evening at 7.30.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH — Water and Quincy Streets. Rev. J. A. Matheson Minister. Sabbath Services, Morning worship 10.30, Bible School and Mens Class 11.45. Jr. C. E. 3.00. Y. P. S. C. E. 6.00. Evening worship and praise 7.30. Congregational prayer and praise Thursday 7.30

FIRST UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH Corner of School and Pleasant streets. Rev. D. B. McLeod, M. A., pastor. Services next Sabbath at 10.30 and 7. Morning Subject: "Sin as a Detective" Evening Subject: "Overcoming Christians" A sermon for Young People. Sabbath School and Bible Classes, 11.45. Junior Endeavor at 3. Senior Endeavor at 6. Prayer meeting Thursday evening at 7.30. "Come thou with us and we will do thee good."

SWEDISH CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Garfield street. Rev. A. G. Sporrong, pastor, 14 Euclid avenue. Tel. Quincy 1482-M. Sunday morning service 10.45 Topic: Christ and John the Baptist. Evening service at 7 o'clock Topic: The prophatic word Assurance of. 12 noon Sunday School rehearsal of Christmas programme 5.45 P M. Communion.

ST. PAUL'S SWEDISH M. E. Church — Rev A. E. Hillman, pastor. Residence 121 Glendal Road. Divine Worship at 10.30 A. M. Subject: "The great invitation." Sunday School in the Vestry at 12 M. Epworth League Service at 6 o'clock P. M. Evening service at 70'clock Subject: "Rescued from the depths.', Third talk of a series on "Gospel Messages from the Book of Jonah." A cordial welcome is extended to all.

HALL PLACE M. E. CHURCH—West Quincy Rev. T. C. Martin, pastor, Residence, 12 Hall place. Morning worship at 10.30 Sunday School at 12.45 Epworth League at 6.15. Subject: "Denaturizing our holiday and Holy days" Leader: Miss Burke. Evening service at 7 P. M. Prayer meeting Friday evening at 7.30 Junior League Friday afternoon at 3.45.

WOLLASTON CONGREGATIONAL — Corner Lincoln and Winthrop avenues, Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath, Ph. D., pastor. Res. No. 20 Marion street Telephone Quincy 1116 M. Morning worship 10.45, sermon by pastor. Sunday school at 12.15, Chas. A. Campbell, Supt. Women's Class led by Mrs. A. A. Lincoln. Men's Class led by Dr Sneath Junior Endeavor Meeting at 4 P. M Y. P. S. C. E. at 6 P. M. Stereopticon Lecture by the pastor in the Auditorium 7 P. M. Subject "Hawaiian Islands." Midweek service on Thursday 7.45 in Vestry Leader, Dr. Sneath. Subject "The proper use of the Church" John 2: 13-25.

WOLLASTON METHODIST EPISCOPAL—CHURCH—Rev. George Mervyn Balley, Pastor Residence, 52 Brook Street Telephone, Quincy 378-2 10.45 A. M. Divine Worship sermon by pastor. Theme: Unrequited Service 12 M. Sunday School, J. A. Sedgwick Supt. 6 P. M. Epworth League, Devotional Service. 7. P. M. Song service led by Chorus Choir. Pastor's Message Subject: When I was made 2 or New Uses for Old Material. Seats free. Everybody welcome

WOLLASTON BAPTIST CHURCH — Cor. Prospect and Warren avenues. Rev. Joseph Walther, minister. Morning service at 10.45. Subject: Are we doing our best? Sunday school at 12.15 Junior Endeavor at 3.30. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6. Evening service at 7. Subject: Going on to Perfection. Sermon by the minister.

WOLLASTON UNITARIAN CHURCH — Corner Beale and Farrington streets. Rev. Carl G. Horst, minister. Residence 39 Grand View ave. Telephone Quincy 317-1. The Church Auditorium is equipped with earphones. Service of worship with sermon at 10.45 A. M. Kindergarten class for children of three years and over in charge of Miss Cummings, a trained kindergartner, at 10.45 in the vestry. Sunday school with graded classes at 12. Frank A. Page, Superintendent. The Wollaston Forum meets at 12. Subject: "Remedies for the Social Ills." The discussion will be opened by Walter M. Hatch.

ST. CHRYSOSTOM'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH—Hancock street. Wollaston — Rev. Frederick H. Steenstra, rector, residence, the rectory. 253 Hancock street. Holy Communion at 8. Morning Prayer and sermon at 10.30. Sunday School at 12.00 M. Evening Prayer and Address 7.30.

PARK AND DOWNS CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH — Beach street and Rawson road Wollaston. Rev. William B. Ayers, pastor. Services at 10.45 Morning service "Patience" Evening at 7. Continuation of the lecture "The Shepherd of the Hills." Seats Free. Everyone welcome.

ATLANTIC M. E. CHURCH — corner Newbury lavenue and Squantum Streets. Rev. E. C. Pollard, pastor. Residence 19 Wesley Street, Newton, phone 2184 Newton North. Preaching Sunday at 10.45 A. M. Subject: "God's cause dear to his people" Isaiah 62: 1. Class meeting at 10. A. M. Sunday School at 12.15 noon. Probationers class meets at 3.30 P. M. Revival service at 7 P. M. All welcome.

MEMORIAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH — Atlantic Rev. Thomas W. Davison, pastor. Morning service at 10.45. Sermon by the Pastor. Theme: "The Demands of Today." Sunday School at 12 M. Junior Endeavor Society at 3.30 P. M. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6 P. M. Evening service at 7 o'clock. A cordial welcome to all.

SPIRITUALIST MEETINGS — Electa Hall, Johnson building, Quincy Sq. Sunday 7.30 P. M Russell H. Gilbert, Editor of Stoughton News writer of Verse and Lecturer, will give his illustrated Lecture "Tree of Spiritualism" Followed by Miss Mabelle E. Leighton of Watertown as message Bearer. Special music will be rendered. All welcome

BOWLING SCORES

In the regular matches of the Fore River bowling league on the Coliseum alleys Friday evening the Machine Floor trimmed the Government Draftsmen and the Ex-Apprentices and the Pine Fitters tied. The Shipfitters forfeited to the Machine Gallery.

High single was made by Moran of the Gallery who secured 122 on his first and dropped to 76 on the second. Several others in this team made good singles. The summary

MACHINIST GALLERY.

White	90	113	98	301
Williams	77	81	108	266
Moran	122	76	83	281
Carlson	90	112	84	286
Tirrell	95	102	103	300
	474	484	476	1434

SHIPFITTERS

The Machine Floor took all four points from the Government Draftsmen and none of the scores were very high. The summary

MACHINIST FLOOR.

Ryan	78	91	96	265
Cockett	82	84	85	251
Russell	88	78	79	245
Vose	81	84	73	238
Akeroyd	92	83	99	274
	421	420	432	1273

GOVERNMENT DRAFTSMEN.

Melendy	86	83	73	242
Tavolai	77	78	83	238
Descolzo	81	78	99	258
Anderson	71	77	76	224
O'Neill	90	88	79	257
	405	404	410	1219

The Ex-Apprentices and the Pipe Fitters divided the points in a match that held several stiff contests. The summary

EX-APPRENTICES.

Maddin	86	76	75	237
Farquharson	104	78	98	280
Ash	73	78	79	230
Manning	83	76	90	249
Morgan	82	80	83	245
	428	388	425	1241

PIPE FITTERS.

Kalson	98	75	86	259
Stenk	85	74	71	230
Gallagher	95	88	81	264
Hamilton	70	82	76	228
Graham	95	82	79	256
	443	401	393	1237

In the regular match of the Moldloftsmen league at the City Square alleys Friday evening, McLennan's team beat Minhinicks 3 to 1. The scores run low. The summary

McLENNAN.

Robinson	75	78	86	239
McLennan	80	76	70	226
McLean	70	87	76	227
Sines	70	77	71	224
Wishart	65	68	61	194
	360	380	364	1110

MINHINICKS.

Ferguson	99	71	73	243
McKelvie	64	65	67	196
Taggart	74	93	75	242
Minhinicks	82	76	78	236
Dummy	59	61	53	173
	378	366	346	1090

Clan McGregor found Clan Steward an easy victim on the Coliseum alleys Friday evening in the Greater Boston league of the Order of Scottish Clans. Morton of the locals secured 114 for high single and 296 for best total. The total was 1382 to 1134. The summary:

CLAN McGREGOR.

O'Neil	83	97	94	274
McKenzie	87	100	101	288
Dackers	89	89	90	268
Drummond	80	77	99	256
Morton	105	114	77	296
	444	477	461	1382

CLAN STEWARD

Henderson	83	78	68	229
Taylor	63	81	84	228
Smith	76	62	67	205
Rodgen	75	86	74	235
Graham	71	80	86	237
	368	387	379	1134

Red Cross seals in aid of the tuberculosis work in Quincy go on sale today at the Post Office, also at the Y. M. C. A., where Alden Blanchard will have their sale in charge. They may be had at the Post Office all next week.

Be sure this trade-mark "PETER PARLEY" is on the wrapper of the next loaf of bread that you buy at your grocers.

A Merry Xmas to all.

When buying Pianos or Musical Instruments see

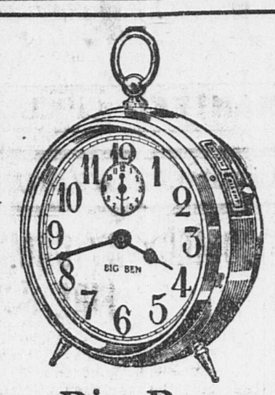
JOHNSEN
6 Chestnut Street, Quincy
Pianos from $10 up
Dec. 8 12t



Big Ben

has something to say to people who like to get up promptly in the morning.

He guarantees to call them on the dot just when they want and either way they want, with one prolonged, steady call or with successive gentle rings.

And he guarantees to do it day after day and year after year, if you only have him oiled every year or so.

I've known him ever since he was "that high" and I'll vouch for everything he says.

Get One of Our
CHRISTMAS GIFT CATALOGUES

Select goods Early in order to have the order and Engraving promptly attended to.

SANDBERG BROS.
Jewelers
1281 Hancock St., Quincy

BRIEFS

Mrs. John Cunningham is very sick at her home on Newbury avenue.

C. F. Pettengill has a real Christmassy window, the effect being a fireplace and chimney.

John C. Ward has returned to his home after spending a few days with his brother in Lowell.

W. I Hartley of Appleton street has started the foundation for a bungalow on Atlantic street.

Col. Henry L. Kincaide is to address the men of the Universalist club of North Weymouth, Monday night, telling of his trip to South America.

L. J. Hayford of East Squantum street has been confined to his home several days by illness, but is again able to attend to business.

Herbert Burch of East Squantum street has returned to business, having been confined to his home with a severe cold.

Bertha Fuller of Botolph street has been confined to her home several days by illness.

There will be an extra business meeting of the Fragment society Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. It is thought over $800 was made at the recent fair.

A telegraphic dispatch announces that the battleship Vermont is limping toward Hampton Roads with a broken shaft. The Vermont was built at the Fore River and launched in 1905.

If you see a lot of the members of the City Council about City Square Sunday, do not worry. They are simply about to pose before the camera to have their pictures taken.

Mrs. Lela O. Peirce of the Water department at City Hall returned Friday from a three weeks trip to the South where she has been the guest of her parents, ex-Councilman and Mrs. Stephen O. Moxon.

The Patriarchal degree was conferred on five candidates at meeting of Manet Encampment, I. O. O. F. in their rooms Friday evening under the direction of Frank Badger, chief patriarch.

Mr. Takahara Takamatsu, a Japanese student at the Theological school in Cambridge is to tell the Galahad club of Christ church at their meeting Wednesday night of the customs and habits of his people.

The stores are taking on a holiday look with Christmas greens and red and green decorations. To walk the length of the shopping district and view the variety of window decorations is enough to tempt the buyer and next week the Christmas rush will be on.

The Quincy Ministers Association at its recent monthly meeting voted unanimously to ask the co-operation of all the members and friends of the Quincy churches in observance of the beautiful custom of having candles burn in the windows of their homes Christmas eve.

A strong attraction in the way of Christmas exercises will be given Sunday morning, Dec. 21st at the Park and Downs Congregational church representing the birth of Christ in which the infant class some 70 little ones dressed in vestments will take a leading part at the manger.

WOLLASTON HEIGHTS.

An Appreciation. Where most are healthy, a few are wealthy, and all are wise in selecting their home site.

Years ago, when first settled, some one slightingly remarked, "Everyone in Wollaston has a bay-window and a baby." Today, the changed style in architecture no longer considers the bay-window essential, and those babes have grown up. Though the remark was made as derogatory, really, no sunnier things exist, than that same bay-window and baby.

The writer once asked Joseph Everett Chandler what he considered first, when outlining the plan for a house, and he said "The sun." The sun shines full and free on Wollaston Heights.

It has been so fully developed, and the natural advantages are so great, that scarcely a spot is available on which to build even another modest house. The first hill commands a beautiful view of harbor and islands, and the sleeping-porch of many a residence has Boston light for its beacon

Second hill, only a little farther removed from the water, shows long vistas down the avenue, and to the observant and initiated there are tantalizing visions of large ripe peaches and heavy clusters of grapes in their season, in the back-gardens of the houses on the slopes.

Third hill, always so-called, with its picturesque gray tower, overtops the other two, and added to the sea view has an unbroken inland one, including at least a sight of nine towns. A famous Boston physician was asked some years ago by a patient who must live near Boston, "Where?" and was answered, "Wollaston, healthy and high." "But, doctor, those awful hills!" "Not bad, if you'll only take them slowly enough," was the answer.

The railroad has furnished the town good transportation facilities, the schools are good, the schoolhouses modern, and the people as a community go to church. Civic pride prevails, and Quincy may well be proud of this shining jewel in its crown, for it cannot be hid. R.

Mrs. Norman Chaplin is rehearsing a new play which she has written for the Junior Auxiliary of Christ church, which will be given early in January in the parish house.

Perfect biscuit perfectly protected

No matter what National Biscuit Company product you ask for—crackers or cookies, . . wafers or snaps, . . cakes or jumbles—it will be delivered to you in perfect condition, either in packages with the famous In-er-seal Trade Mark, in attractive small tins or from the familiar glass-front cans.

Freshness is assured through the distributing service of the National Biscuit Company, which affords a constant supply of biscuit to every part of the United States.

Buy biscuit baked by

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

Always look for that name

Capital $150,000 Surplus $200,000

OPEN A BANK ACCOUNT HERE

Do business in a business-like way, and secure for yourself the great number of privileges that are yours without cost as a result. Office hours are convenient and employees obliging and polite. There is much information and advice that is free to our depositors, and we are always ready to consult with you if you wish.

Our $5 Box Is Larger Than a $10 Box in Boston.

GRANITE TRUST CO.
FOUNDED 1836

BETHANY CHURCH.

At the pleasant Sunday evening service at the Bethany church, the pastor, Rev. B. A. Willmott will lecture on "Jacob seeking for a wife."

This is another lecture on Applied Christianity and is especially prepared as a word of counsel to young men. Young people will find help in these services and are cordially invited to come.

At the morning service, Rev. William W. Dornan, pastor of the Congregational church in Whitman will preach. Mr. Dornan was at one time pastor of the United Presbyterian church of Quincy and his many friends will be glad to hear him again.

THE WOLLASTON FORUM.

The Wollaston Forum is devoting its sessions to the general subject of "The Religious Aspects of Socialism." Tomorrow's topic is "Remedies for the Social Ills" and the discussion will be opened by Mr. Walter M. Hatch. Remember the place—Wollaston Unitarian church, Cor. Beale and Farrington streets and the hour—twelve o'clock Sunday. Every one is welcome.

☞PRATT'S BREAD never varies. It is made and baked by a fixed rule. Ask your grocer.

YOU need the Ledger EVERY DAY.

SAVE TIME!

Time is Money

Save it by doing business by Telephone

You get your message and its reply for one price

Avoid mistakes and avert misunderstandings by direct dealing

The New England Telephone and Telegraph Company has connections everywhere

"To save time is to lengthen life"

New England Telephone and Telegraph Company

Dec. 13-ol-1t

THE CORSET SHOP

8 Maple Street

All Popular makes of

Corsets and Brassieres
Hosiery and
McCall Patterns

Correct fitting of Corsets a specialty

I have been very fortunate to have, during my temporary absence, the services of an expert corsettiere, who who will give the same personal attention to fittings and alterations as has always been accorded to customers.

MISS S. E. DUNPHY

Oct. 30-tf

CITY OF QUINCY

The owners and occupants of the following described parcels of real estate situated in the City of Quincy in the County of Norfolk and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and the public are hereby notified that the taxes, street watering assessments, main sewer assessment apportionments, particular sewer assessments, particular sewer assessment apportionments, gypsy moth assessments and sidewalk and street betterment assessment apportionments thereon severally assessed for the years hereinafter specified, according to the list committed to me as Collector of Taxes for said City of Quincy by the Assessors of Taxes, and also main sewer assesments thereon severally assessed according to the list committed to me as said Collector by the Commissioner of Public Works, remain unpaid and that the smallest undivided part of said land sufficient to satisfy said real estate taxes, sewer, gypsy moth, street watering, sidewalk and street betterment assessments or apportionments with interest and all legal costs and charges or the whole of said land if no person offers to take an undivided part thereof, will be offered for sale by public auction at the Council Chamber in the City Hall of said City of Quincy on at 9.00 o'clock, A. M., for the payment of said real estate taxes, sewer, street watering, gypsy moth, sidewalks and street betterment assessments or apportionments with interest, costs and charges thereon unless the same shall have been previously discharged.

MONDAY, DEC. 22, 1913.

WARD FOUR.

Orin Bates, East Milton. A certain parcel of land containing 28422 square feet, situated upon the southwesterly side of Adams street, bounded: northwesterly by land now or late of Jessie Cordingley, southwesterly by land now or late of Quincy Savings Bank, southeasterly by Bryant street and northeasterly by Adams street, (excepting from the above described parcel, lots 1-27-28,) Plan 4077. Tax of 1912 $176.00. Then for Street Watering Assessment $3.28.

Blue Hill Quarry Co. A certain parcel of land containing 2 acres, situated in West Quincy, Tract 15, lot 3 (Thomas Swithin) Quarry, bounded Hillside Park, southeasterly by land now or late of Blue Hill Quarry Co. and southwesterly by land now or late of Blue Hill Quarry Co. Tax of 191. $44.00.

Blue Hill Quarry Co. A certain parcel of land containing 2 acres, situated in West Quincy, possibly lot 36, tract 55 (formerly Andrew Milne), bounded: northeasterly by Hillside Park, southeasterly by land now or late of Townsend and Clements, southwesterly by land now or late of Blue Hill Quarry Co. and McDonnell and McDonnell and northwesterly by land now or late of Blue Hill Quarry Co. Tax of 1912 $8.80.

Blue Hill Quarry Co. A certain parcel of land containing 2 15-100 acres, situated in West Quincy, part tract 14, part lot 20 in vicinity of Blue Hill Quarry, bounded: northeasterly by land now or late of Blue Hill Quarry Co., southwesterly by land now or late of Quincy Quarries Co., northwesterly by land now or late of Quincy Quarries Co. and Robert Cantley Tax of 1912 $4.95.

Blue Hill Quarry Co. A certain parcel of land containing 5 5-100 acres situated in West Quincy, tract 45, woodland adjoining Blue Hill Quarry, bounded: northeasterly, southeasterly and southwesterly by land now or late of Blue Hill Quarry Co. and northwesterly by land now or late of Robert Cantley. Tax of 1912 $11.00.

Blue Hill Quarry Co. A certain parcel of land containing 4 3-4 acres situated in W. Quincy being land formerly of "Swithin and Jones" bounded: northeasterly by land now or late of Quincy Quarries Co. and Hillside Park, northwesterly by land now or late of Robert Cantley, southwesterly by land now or late of Blue Hill Quarry Co. and southeasterly by land now or late of McDonnell. Tax of 1912 $10.45.

Blue Hill Quarry Co. A certain parcel of land containing 6 acres, with building thereon, situated in West Quincy, tract 45, Quarry Blue Hill bounded: northeasterly, northwesterly and southwesterly by land now or late of Blue Hill Quarry Co. and southeasterly by land now or late of Blue Hill Quarry Co. and McDonnell Tax of 1912 $169.40.

Blue Hill Quarry Co. A certain parcel of land containing 3 45-100 acres, situated in West Quincy, lot 19, tract 13, part of McDonnell lot, bounded: northeasterly, by land now or late of McDonnell, southeasterly by land now or late of Dean and Horrigan, southwesterly by land now or late of Quincy Quarries Company, and northwesterly by land now or late of Blue Hill Quarry Co.. Tax of 1912 $8.80.

Aloys Burkhardt. A certain parcel of land containing 1-4 acres with building thereon, situated upon the southeasterly side of a private way off West street, bounded: southeasterly by land now or late of Louise Kreitman, westerly by land now or late of Enoch H. Doble and Sarah Clare, northwesterly by land now or late of heirs of Stephen Kusser and northeasterly by a private way known as Wittich place. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 13, plan 4041, Balance of Tax of 1912 $10.80.

Edward M. Bryan. A certain parcel of land containing about 11500 square feet, situated upon the northwesterly side of West street, bounded: northeasterly by land now or late of Edmund G. Hayden, northwesterly by land now or late of Edward J. Lane, southwesterly by land now or late of Hilma Mann, and southeasterly by West street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 2, plan 4042. Tax of 1912 $9.90.

Lorenzo Caravaglio. A certain parcel of land containing 1 7-10 acres with buildings thereon, situated upon the corner of Willard and Robertson streets, bounded: easterly by land now or late of Wilbur F. Lakin and others, northerly by land now or late of Mary E. Foley and by Bryant street, westerly by land now or late of Hannah M. Nimerskern and Mary E. Foley and by Willard street and southerly by Robertson street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 1, plan 4074. Tax of 1912, $103.40 Then for Street Watering Assessment $2.94.

Lorenzo Caravaglio. A certain parcel of land containing 6030 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the northwesterly side of Robertson street, being part lot 22, bounded: southwesterly by a brook, northwesterly by land now or late of Mary B. Doyle, northeasterly by land now or late of heirs of Joseph F. Berry and southeasterly by Robertson street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as part lot 22, plot 8, plan 4074. Tax of 1912 $37.40.

Mary F. Carroll. A certain parcel of land containing 28500 square feet, situated upon the northerly side of Morton street, bounded: easterly by land now or late of Edward and Hannah M. Sandberg, northerly by land now or late of Daniel F. Fitzgerald, westerly by land now or late of Mary F. Carroll and southerly by Morton street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 10, plan 4011. Tax of 1912 $13.20.

Maria G. Ciccone, Millis. A certain parcel of land containing 2518 square feet situated upon the easterly side of Side street being lot 20, bounded: northerly and southerly by land now or late of Maria G. Ciccone, easterly by land now or late of heirs Nicholas Williams and westerly by Side street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 21, plan 4057. Tax of 1912 $2.75.

Maria G. Ciccone, Millis. A certain parcel of land containing 2511 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the easterly side of Side street being lot 19, bounded: northerly by land now or late of Maria G. Ciccone, easterly by land now or late of heirs of Nicholas Williams, southerly by land now or late of Andrea Mazzola and westerly by Side street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 19, plan 4057. Tax of 1912 $64.35.

Maria G. Ciccone, Millis. A certain parcel of land containing 2525 square feet situated upon the easterly side of Side street being lot 21, bounded northerly by land now or late of Andrea Mazzola, easterly by land now or late of heirs of Nicholas Williams, southerly by land now or late of Maria G. Ciccone and westerly by Side street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 21, plan 4057. Tax of 1912, $2.75.

Michael Cross. A certain parcel of land containing 17374 square feet with buildings thereon, situated upon the southeasterly side of Bryant street, bounded southwesterly by land now or late of heirs of Patrick Shea, southeasterly by land now or late of Joseph Robertson est. and Charles S. Parsons, northeasterly by land now or late of William T. Shea and northwesterly by Bryant street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lots 40 and 41 and parts 1 and 2, plan 4076. Balance of tax of 1912, $35.15.

Angela DiBona. A certain parcel of land containing 6816 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the southeasterly side of Centre street being lot 4, bounded southwesterly by land now or late of Mary B. Garrity southeasterly by land now or late of heirs of W. G. A. Pattee, northeasterly by land now or late of James E. Kelley and northwesterly by Centre street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 4, plot 12, plan 4029 Tax of 1912, $44.00. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment, $.90.

Amanda E. Dierf. A certain parcel of land containing 8050 square feet with buildings thereon, situated upon the easterly side of Nelson street bounded northerly by land now or late of Maria E. Sammallahti, easterly by land now or late of Clarence Burgin southerly by land now or late of John J. Nisula and westerly by Nelson street. Being designated on Assessors plan as plot 55, plan 4002. Tax of 1912 $35.20.

Patrick Dillon and Mary Curtin. A certain parcel of land containing 20961 square feet with buildings thereon situated upon the corner of Willard and Robertson streets, bounded northeasterly by land now or late of LeClair Bros., southeasterly by land now or late of Helma Johnson, southwesterly by Willard street, and northwesterly by Robertson street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 1, plot 4, plan 4073. Tax of 1912, $50.60. Then for Street Watering Assessment, $1.80.

William J. Doyle. A certain parcel of land containing 8200 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the corner of Doble and West streets being lot 19, bounded northeasterly by land now or late of Sarah Clare northwesterly by land now or late of Sarah Clare, southwesterly by Doble street and southeasterly by West street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 19, plot 1, plan 4041 Tax of 1912, $.55. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment, $.75.

Mary E. Erickson. A certain parcel of land containing 127000 square feet with buildings thereon, situated upon the south side of Quarry street bounded westerly by land now or late of Quincy Quarry Co., southeasterly by land now or late of Peter T. Fallon and others, easterly by land now or late of Peter T. Fallon and others and northerly by Quarry street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 3, plan 4004. Tax of 1912, $82.50.

Mary E. Forbes. A certain parcel of land containing 35052 square feet with buildings thereon, situated upon the southeasterly side of West street bounded: northeasterly by land now or late of Old Colony Railroad Co. southeasterly by land now or late of Fanny C. Adams and H. T. Whitman southwesterly by land now or late of Arthur C. McDonnell and northwesterly by West street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 12, plan 4030. Tax of 1912 $55.55.

R. Lena Fuller. A certain parcel of land containing 29700 square feet with buildings thereon, situated upon the southerly side of Copeland street, bounded: easterly by land now or late of William McGann, Jr., southerly by land now or late of Old Colony R. R. Co., southwesterly and westerly by land now or late of Old Colony R. R. Co., and northerly by Copeland street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 9, plan 4049. Tax of 1912 $160.60, Then for Main Sewer Assessment apportionment $14.13. Then for Street Watering Assessment $3.06.

R. Lena Fuller. A certain parcel of land containing 23760 square feet with buildings thereon, situated upon the easterly side of Hall Place, bounded: northerly by land now or late of heirs of Patrick Carey and Mary A. Carey, easterly by land now or late of Catholic Cemetery, southerly by land now or late of Clarence E. Fuller and westerly by Hall Place. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 13, plan 4064. Tax of 1912 $85.80.

Henry F. Geer. A certain parcel of land containing 10578 square feet, situated upon the northeasterly side of Wesson street, being lot 13, bounded: northwesterly by land now or late of Peter Dolan, northeasterly by land now or late of Caroline B. Tobey, southeasterly by land now or late of Henry F. Geer and southwesterly by Wesson avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 13, plot 7, plan 4036. Tax of 1912 $4.40.

Henry F. Geer. A certain parcel of land containing 10578 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the northeasterly side of Wesson street, being lot 15, bounded: northwesterly by land now or late of Henry F. Geer, northeasterly by land now or late of Caroline B. Tobey, southeasterly by land now or late of Edward B. Finn, southwesterly by Wesson ave. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 15, plot 8, plan 4036. Tax of 1912 $41.80.

Susie M. Harper, Weymouth. A certain parcel of land containing 14621 land now or late of Jacob A. Turner square feet, situated upon the northerly side of Chesley road, being lots 2, 3 and 4, bounded southwesterly by and James S. Liddle, northerly by land now or late of Susie M. Harper, easterly by land now or late of Susie M. Harper, and southerly by Chesley road.Tax of 1912 $15.40.

Susie M. Harper, Weymouth. A certain parcel of land containing 6600 square feet, situated upon the corner of Bryant Ave. and Chesley road being lot 1, bounded: westerly and northerly by land now or late of Susie M. Harper, easterly by Bryant avenue and southerly by Chesley road. Tax of 1912, $6.60.

Catherine Havahan, Somerville. A certain parcel of land containing 11200 square feet, situated upon the northerly side of a private way, Hillside Park being lots 102 and 103, bounded: easterly by land now or late of J. and L. Duncan, northerly by land now or late of City of Quincy and heirs of Julius Johnson, westerly by land now or late of City of Quincy and southerly by private way off Forest avenue. Tax of 1912 $3.30.

Catherine F. Igo. A certain parcel of land containing 12653 square feet with buildings thereon, situated upon the southerly side of Kent street bounded, easterly by land now or late of Annie S. Kelley, southerly by land now or late of Catherine F. Igo, southwesterly by land now or late of Catherine McLaughlin and northerly by Kent street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lots 25-23-21, plot 16, plan 4022. Tax of 1912 $26.40.

Catherine F. Igo. A certain parcel fo land containing 5080 square feet with building thereon, situated off Kent street, bounded: northerly and westerly by land now or late of Catherine F. Igo, southerly by land now or late of J. W. Nightingale and easterly by land now or late of Annie S. Kelley. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 3, plot 17, plan 4022. Tax of 1912 $16.50.

Charles G. Johnson. A certain parcel of land containing 9000 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the easterly side of Buckley street, bounded: northerly by land now or late of William Kelley, easterly by land now or late of Ida Sjolund, southerly by land now or late of Joseph F. Johnson and Ida Sjolund and westerly by Buckley street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 3, plan 4003. Balance of Tax of 1912 $34.50. Then for Main Sewer Assessment apportionment $6.75.

Laura E. Lamb. A certain parcel of land containing 17250 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the westerly side of Common street, bounded: northerly and westerly by land now or late of Margaret E. and Annie F. Burns, southerly by land now or late of Peter T. and James E. Fallon and easterly by Common street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 9, plan 4013. Tax of 1912 $29.70. Then for Street Watering Assessment $1.82. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment $.60.

Laura E. Lamb. A certain parcel of land containing 6650 square feet with buildings thereon, situated upon the southwesterly side of Crescent street being lot A, bounded: northwesterly by land now or late of Catherine E. O'Brien, southwesterly by land now or late of Meyer Winer, southeasterly by land now or late of Mary Callahan and northeasterly by Crescent street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot A, plot 6, plan 4052. Tax of 1912 $83.60. Then for Main Sewer Assessment apportionment $10.37. Then for Street Watering Assessment $1.68.

Laura E. Lamb. A certain parcel of land containing 12994 square feet with buildings thereon, situated upon the easterly side of Crescent street bounded northerly by land now or late of Mabel G. Gragg, northeasterly by land now or late of Annie F. and Margaret E. Burns and Peter T. and James E. Fallon, southerly by land now or late of John H. Ash and westerly by Crescent street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 18, plan 4013. Tax of 1912, $115.50. Then for Main Sewer Assessment apportionment, $7.99. Then for Street Watering Assessment, $.36. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment, $.45.

Andrea (or Andrew) Mazzola. A certain parcel of land containing 10545 square feet situated upon the corner of Side street and Quarry street Ext., bounded easterly by land now or late of H. T. Whitman and Orlando Lawrence, southerly by land now or late of Maria G. Ciccone, westerly by Side street and northerly by Quarry street and land now or late of Adams and Whitman. Being designated on Assessors' plan as part lot 18, plot 19, plan 4057. Tax of 1912, $8.80.

Arthur McDonnell. A certain parcel of land containing 1 acre with buildings thereon situated upon the southeasterly side of West street bounded northeasterly by land now or late of Mary E. Forbes, southeasterly by land now or late of Fanny C. Adams and H. T. Whitman, southwesterly by a private way and northwesterly by West street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 11, plan 4030. Tax of 1912, $82.50.

Mary E. McGee, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 11584 square feet situated upon the corner of Hillside Terrace and Forest avenue, bounded easterly by land now or late of G. H. Field, northerly by land now or late of Nathaniel H. Stone et al, trustees, westerly by Forest avenue and southerly by Hillside Terrace. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lots 8 and 9, plan B. Tax of 1912, $1.10.

Mary E. McGee, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 19741 square feet situated upon Hillside Park being lots 68, 69, 70, bounded easterly by Forest Avenue, northerly by land now or late of City of Quincy, westerly by land now or late of City of Quincy and southerly by land now or late of A. R. E. T. and private way. Tax of 1912, $4.40.

Mary E. McGee, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 23200 square feet situated upon Hillside Park being lots 81, 82, 83, 84, bounded southerly by private way, easterly by land now or late of City of Quincy, northerly by land now or late of Johnson and Cahill and Crooker and westerly by Blue Hill Quarry Co. Tax of 1912, $4.40.

Mary E. McGee, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 6000 square feet situated upon Hilside Park being lot 78, bounded northerly by private way, westerly by land now or late of Blue Hill Quarry Co., southerly by land now or late of heirs of Julius Johnson and easterlyl by land now or late of Julius Johnson. Tax of 1912, $1.10.

Mary E. McGee, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 6000 square feet situated upon Hillside Park being lot 77, bounded northerly by private way, westerly by land now or late of heirs of Julius Johnson, southerly by land now or late of heirs of Julius Johnson and easterly by land now or late of P. J. Cahill. Tax of 1912, $1.10.

Mary E. McGee, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 6000 square feet situated upon Hillside Park being lot 93, bounded northerly by private way, westerly by land now or late of heirs Julius Johnson, southerly by land now or late of City of Quincy and Catherine Havahan and westerly by land now or late of City of Quincy. Tax of 1912, $1.10.

Mary E. McGee, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 40770 square feet situated upon Hillside Park being lots 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99 100, bounded northerly by a private way, westerly by land now or late of Quincy Quarries Co., southerly by private way, and easterly by land now or late of heirs of Julius Johnson and City of Quincy. Tax of 1912, $4.40.

Mary E. McGee, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 71300 square feet situated upon the northerly side of Grove street, bounded easterly by land now or late of W. R. Thomas, J Ferriter, J. Cashman, and N. T. Murphy, northerly by land now or late of Alex S. Wheeler and Edward W. Hutchins, westerly by land now or late of Patrick W. Grady and City of Quincy and southerly by Grove street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lots 9 to 19 inclusive, plan A. Tax of 1912 $8.80. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment, $1.15.

John P. Minihan. A certain parcel of land containing 8860 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the northerly side of Rustic place being lot A, bounded easterly by land now or late of John T. Murphy, northerly by land now or late of Walter H Ripley, westerly by land now or late of John H. Hussey and southerly by Rustic place. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot A, plot 6, plan 4014. Tax of 1912, $46.20.

John P. Minihan. A certain parcel of land containing 9325 square feet situated upon the southerly side of Grove street being lot 21, bounded easterly by land now or late of Cornelius Mullen, southerly by land now or late of Michael Minihan, westerly by land now or late of John H. Dinegan and northerly by Grove street. Tax of 1912, $3.30. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment, $.75.

William Mortenson. A certain parcel of land containing 6000 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the northerly side of Arthur street bounded westerly by land now or late of Lars Gustafson, northerly by land now or late of Simon Ovaska and Geo Arponen, easterly by land now or late of Gustaf Sundelius and southerly by Arthur street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 5, plot 7, plan 4002. Tax of 1912, $53.10.

Andrew Nelson. A certain parcel of land containing 9240 square feet with buildings thereon, situated upon the easterly side of Buckley street, bounded northerly by land now or late of August Williams, easterly by land now or late of Nestor Westerinen, southerly by land now or late of Annie C. May and westerly by Buckley street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 7, plan 4003. Tax of 1912, $102.85 Then for Main Sewer Assessment apportionment, $6.13.

Margaret O'Connell. A certain parcel of land containing 5048 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the southeasterly side of Robertson street, bounded: southwesterly by land now or late of Joseph Walters southeasterly by land now or late of Quincy Mutual Fire Insurance Co. northeasterly by land now or late of John Flaherty and northwesterly by Robertson street. Tax of 1912, $20.35

Laura G. Pierce. A certain parcel of land containing 4 7-10 acres with building thereon, situated upon the southerly side of Wood street, bounded: southwesterly by land now or late of Adams School and Temple Fund, southerly by Braintree line, southeasterly by Willard street and northerly by Wood street or Purgatory road. Tax of 1912, $25.30.

Harlow H. Rogers, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 4050 square feet, situated upon the corner of Ballou and Robertson streets, bounded: northwesterly by land now or late of Mary B. Doyle, southwesterly by land now or late of Florentine Walters, southeasterly by Robertson street and northeasterly by Ballou street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as part lot 21, plot 10, plan 4074. Tax of 1912 $6.60.

Mary E. Rogers, Waverly. A certain parcel of land containing 3150 square feet, situated upon the northwesterly side of Furnace Avenue, bounded: northeasterly by land now or late of Mertella C. Badger and Olive H. Grant, northwesterly by land now or late of Michael Monahan, southwesterly by land now or late of heirs of Thomas J. Sulivan and southeasterly by Furnace avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 12, plan 4049. Tax of 1912, $4.40.

Joel Sargent. A certain parcel of land containing 48000 square feet with buildings thereon, situated upon the westerly side of Willard street, bounded: southwesterly by land now or late of Mary E. Farrell, westerly by land now or late of Quincy Quarries Co., northerly by land now or late of Mutual Fire Insurance Co. and R. D. Chase and easterly by Willard street. Tax of 1912 $79.20. Then for Street Watering Assessment $1.84. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment $1.20.

Mary Shea. A certain parcel of land containing 4900 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the southeasterly side of Ashland street being lot 5, bounded: southwesterly by land now or late of Alice Franzi, southeasterly by land now or late of Franz Dufour, northeasterly by land now or late of Richard T. Calhan and northwesterly by Ashland street. Tax of 1912 $29.70.

Wilhelmina Waisanen. A certain parcel of land containing 6000 square feet with buildings thereon, situated upon the northerly side of Arthur street, bounded: westerly by land now or late of Manley E. Clough, northerly by land now or late of Nicholas Anderson, easterly by land now or late of Karl T. Bockstrom and southerly by Arthur street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 2, plan 4002. Balance of Tax of 1912 $13.80.

Nester Westerinen. A certain parcel of land containing 9700 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the westerly side of Nelson street, bounded: northerly by land now or late of Axel Wahlberg, westerly by land now or late of Andrew Nelson, southerly by land now or late of Charles W. Smith and easterly by Nelson street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 21, plan 4003. Tax of 1912 $50.60. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment, $.30.

Mary E. White. A certain parcel of land containing 1 26-100 acres with buildings thereon, situated upon the southwesterly side of Miller street, bounded northwesterly bf land now or late of Genoviffa Gandiano, southwesterly by brook southeasterly by land now or late of Peter T. Fallon and northeasterly by Miller street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 3, plan 4044. Tax of 1912, $68.20. Then for Main Sewer Assessment apportionment, $19.12. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment, $.30.

Heirs or devisees of Joseph S. Beale. A certain parcel of land containing 13 acres, situated upon Pine Hill, bounded northerly by land now or late of Elisha Marsh, easterly by land now or late of Adams Real Estate Trust, northerly by land now or late of Heirs of Moses French and westerly by land now or late of Adams Real Estate Trust. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 3, plan 4034. Tax of 1912, $22.00.

Catherine T. Carey, South Braintree. A certain parcel of land containing 14000 square feet, situated upon the northeasterly side of Rogers street being lots 19 and 20, bounded northeasterly by land now or late of H. T. Whitman, southeasterly by land now or late of Richard D. Chase, northwesterly by land now or late of James L. Fennessy and southwesterly by Rogers street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lots 19 and 20, plots 13, 14, plan 4070. Tax of 1912, $9.35.

John J. Cashman. A certain parcel of land containing 6000 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the southerly side of Crescent street, bounded westerly by land now or late of heirs of Charles L. Badger, southerly by land now or late of John Cashman and heirs of Charles L. Badger, westerly by land now or late of heirs of Chas. L. Badger and northerly by Crescent street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 2, plan 4052. No. 6510 Main Sewer Assessment $44.43.

Susie M. Harper, Weymouth. A certain parcel of land containing 24527 square feet situated upon the westerly side of Willard sreet, bounded northerly by land now or late of heirs of Vm. Corcoran, westerly by land now or late of Old Colony Railroad Co., southerly by land now or late of Hannah Sullivan and easterly by Willard street. Tax of 1912, $26.95. Then for Street Watering Assessment, $3.90. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment, $1.80.

Susie M. Harper, Weymouth. A certain parcel of land containing 2 7-10 acres with building thereon, situated upon the westerly side of Bryant avenue, bounded northerly by land now or late of Granite Railway Co., westerly by load now or late of Jacob A. Turner and James S. Riddle, southerly by land now or late of Susie M. Harper and easterly by Bryant avenue. Tax of 1912, $112.20.

Charles H. Kristen and David Savanen. A certain parcel of woodland containing 8 53-100 acres situated off Willard street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Nathaniel H. Stone et al Trustees, easterly by land now or late of Nathaniel H. Stone et al Trustees, southerly by land now or late of Quincy Quarries Co., and westerly by a cartway. Tax of 1912, $33.00.

WARD FIVE.

Thomas H. Adams. A certain parcel of land containing 5000 square feet, with buildings thereon, situated upon the corner of Wilson avenue and Newport avenue, bounded southwesterly by land now or late of Thomas H. Adams, southeasterly by land now or late of A. L. Baker, northeasterly by Newport avenue and northwesterly by Wilson avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 20, plot 6, plan 5104. Balance of No. 6144 Main Sewer Assessment, $21.00.

Thomas H. Adams. A certain parcel of land containing 5000 square feet, with building thereon, situated upon the southeasterly side of Wilson avenue, bounded southwesterly by land now or late of City of Quincy, northeasterly by land now or late of Thomas H. Adams, southeasterly by land now or late of A. L. Baker and northwesterly by Wilson avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 19, plot 5, plan 5104. No. 6145 Main Sewer Assessment, $36.00.

Frank C. Andrews. A certain parcel of land containing 5000 square feet, situated upon the corner of Hobart and Arlington streets, bounded westerly by land now or late of Frank C. Andrews, southerly by land now or late of Charles R. Sherman, northerly by Hobart street and easterly by Arlington street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 20, block 20, section 6, plan 5108. Tax of 1912, $4.40.

Abbie F. Benson. A certain parcel of land containing 2200 square feet, with building thereon, situated upon the northeasterly side of Safford street, bounded northwesterly by land now or late of Louise B. Holman, northeasterly by land now or late of Merrill K. Green, southeasterly by land now or late of Wellie P. Black and southwesterly by Safford street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as part lot 9, block 18, section 6, plan 5128. Balance of Tax of 1912, $4.60.

Addie F. Blanchard, Hyde Park, Mass. A certain parcel of land containing 3184 square feet, situated upon the easterly side of Hancock street, bounded southeasterly by land now or late of Mary A. Burke, northeasterly by land now or late of Addie F. Blanchard, northwesterly by land now or late of Agnes V. Tobbenboske and westerly by Hancock street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 10, plot 17, plan 5018. Tax of 1912, $13.20. Then for Street Watering Assessment, $1.12.

Addie F. Blanchard, Hyde Park, Mass. A certain parcel of land containing 4750 square feet, situated upon the northwesterly side of Beach street, bounded southwesterly by land now or late of Mary A. Burke and Addie F. Blanchard, northwesterly by and now or late of Agnes V. Tobbenboske, northeasterly by land now or late of Clark G. Boynton and southeasterly by Beach street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 8, plot 15, plan 5018. Tax of 1912, $18.70. Then for Street Watering Assessment, $1.00.

John Carr, Malden. A certain parcel of land containing 5000 square feet, situated upon the corner of Wilson avenue and Farrington street, bounded easterly by land now or late of John Carr, southerly by land now or late of John Carr, westerly by Wilson avenue and northerly by Farrington street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 20, block 24, section 6, plan 5131. Tax of 1912, $6.60.

John Carr, Malden. A certain parcel of land containing 5000 square feet, situated upon the southerly side of Wilson avenue, bounded easterly by land now or late of John Carr, southerly by land now or late of John Carr, westerly by land now or late of Alexander N. Morrisey and northerly by Wilson avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 19, block 24, section 6, plan 5131. Tax of 1912, $5.50.

John Carr, Malden. A certain parcel of land containing 5000 square feet, situated upon the westerly side of Farrington street, bounded northerly by land now or late of John Carr, westerly by land now or late of Charles W. Pickering, southerly by land now or late of Alexander N. Morrissey and easterly by Farrington street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 15, block 24, section 6, plan 5131. Tax of 1912, $6.60.

Elizabeth H. Clarke, W. Roxbury. A certain parcel of land containing 3262 square feet, situated upon the northerly side of Eustis street, bounded northeasterly by land now or late of Arthur T. Brazer, northwesterly by land now or late of Antoinette Ungroska, southwesterly by land now or late of Charles R. Sherman and southeasterly by Eustis street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 553, plot 12, plan 5012. Tax of 1912, $6.60.

Charles M. Conant. A certain parcel of land containing 4686 square feet, situated upon the northwesterly side of Hilda street, bounded southwesterly by land now or late of Karl E. Carlson, northwesterly by land now or late of Karl E. Carlson, northeasterly by land now or late of Charles A. Eaton and southeasterly by Hilda street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 45, plot 79, plan 5198. Tax of 1912, $5.50.

Catherine Doherty. A certain parcel of land containing 5000 square feet, with building thereon, situated upon the northwesterly side of E. Elm avenue, bounded northeasterly by land now or late of Meta Sass, northwesterly by land now or late of John P. Granahan, southwesterly by land now or late of Edwin S. Beckford and southeasterly by East Elm avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as N. W. side lot 594, plot 4, plan 5053. Tax of 1912, $50.60. Then for Street Betterment Assessment apportionment $3.21.

Patrick F. Eagan, Brighton. A certain parcel of land containing 5490 square feet, situated upon the corner of Hamden Circle and Rawson road, bounded northeasterly by land now or late of Agnes M. Dickson, southeasterly by land now or late of Elizabeth J. Cleveland, southerly by land now or late of William D. McKenzie and westerly by Rawson road. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 565, plot 25, plan 5012. Tax of 1912, $12.10. Then for Street Watering Assessment, $2.30.

Royal S. Eastman. A certain parcel of land containing 5000 square feet, situated upon the northerly side of Copley street, bounded westerly by land now or late of Winthrop H. Chick northerly by land now or late of Lotta P. and James Salisbury, easterly by land now or late of Lotta P. and James Salisbury and southerly by Copley street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 706, plot 3, plan 5061. Tax of 1912, $3.30.

Jennie M. Follett. A certain parcel of land containing 4065 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the easterly and southerly side of Park street, bounded southerly by land now or late of Hazel R. Carlisle, easterly by land now or late of Eugene H. Sprague, northerly and westerly by Park street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as part lots 21 and 25 block 4, section 1, plan 5186. Tax of 1912, $88.00.

Gertrude F. Greene, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 10100 square feet situated upon the southerly side of Summit avenue, bounded easterly by land now or late of Herbert L. Greene, westerly by land now or late of Francis H. Bishop, southerly by land now or late of Ralph E. and William Cameron Forbes and Commonwealth of Mass., and northerly by Summit avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 10, block 1, section 4, plan 5198. Tax of 1912, $11.00.

Herbert L. Greene, Milton. A certain parcel of land containing 9750 square feet situated upon the southerly side of Summit avenue, bounded easterly and southerly by land now or late of Commonwealth of Mass., westerly by land now or late of Gertrude F. Greene and northerly by Summit avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 11, block 1, section 4, plan 5198. Tax of 1912, $11.00.

Oscar F. Gummeson. A certain parcel of land containing 7550 square feet situated upon the easterly side of Cummings avenue, bounded northerly by land now or late of Wood, Flagg and Thornton Trs. Katherine E. Harrington, Richard L. Mahon and Joseph H. Kilpatrick, easterly by land now or late of Charles F. Jones, southerly by land now or late of Wood, Flagg and Thornton Trs. and Harold Wilder and Westerly by Cummings avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 516, plot 8, plan 5010. Tax of 1912, $14.85.

William A. Hatch, Chelsea. A certain parcel of land containing 5000 square feet with unfinished building thereon, situated upon the westerly side of Sachem street bounded northerly by land now or late of F. E. Cutter and Walter S. Wood, westerly by land now or late of Samuel N. Mayo and Louis J. Jobin, southerly by land now or late of Samuel N. Mayo and easterly by Sachem street . Being designated on Assessors' plan as part lot 674, plot 12, plan 5055. Tax of 1912. $30.80. Then for Particular Sewer Assessment apportionment, $11.48.

Amos L. Ingraham, Calgary, Can., Primelia A. and Phoebe Ingraham, Brookline. A certain parcel of land containing 4720 square feet situated upon the easterly side of Hancock street, bounded southerly by land now or late of Mary C. Inslee, southeasterly by land now or late of Amos L. and Albert E. Ingraham and Primelia Ingraham, northeasterly by Merrymount avenue and westerly by Hancock street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 1, plot 1, plan 5041. Tax of 1912, $14.30. Then for Street Watering Assessment, $2.12.

Heirs or devisees of Robert S. Jones. A certain parcel of land containing 10,000 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the southerly side of South Central avenue, bounded westerly by land now or late of Est of Jane E and Laura J. Jones, southerly by land now or late of E. S. Sparrow, George A. Brackett and Phillips S. Dresser, easterly by land now or late of Ida C. Dresser and northerly by South Central avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 7, block 1, section 1, plan 5192. Balance of tax of 1912, $55.30. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment $.25.

Heirs or devisees of Robert S. Jones. A certain parcel of land containing 12920 square feet situated upon the southerly side of South Central avenue, bounded easterly by land now or late of Est. of Jane E. and Laura J. Jones, southerly by land now or late of E. S. Sparrow, westerly by land now or late of Walter E. Simmons and northerly by South Central avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 6, block 1, section 1, plan 5192. Tax of 1912, $26.40.

Charles W. Lee, Reading. A certain parcel of land containing 5000 square feet situated upon the easterly side of Freeman street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Eunice Moran, easterly by land now or late of Chas. W. Webster, southerly by land now or late of Sarah S. Molarskey and westerly by Freeman street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 231, plot 7, plan 5007. Tax of 1912, $11.00.

Mary E. Maxim. A certain parcel of land containing 5219 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the corner of Elm and Wollaston avenues, bounded easterly by land now or late of Mary E. Maxim, southerly by land now or late of Cora B. F. Rhoades, westerly by Wollaston avenue and northerly by Elm avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as part lot 51, plot 7, plan 5043. Tax of 1912, $80.85. Then for Street Watering Assessment $1.20. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment, $.90.

Mary E. Maxim. A certain parcel of land containing 7148 square feet situated upon the southerly side of Elm avenue, bounded easterly by land now or late of John G. and Mildred Lanning, southerly by land now or late of Harry N. Thomas, westerly by land now or late of Mary E. Maxim and Cora B. F. Rhoades and northerly by Elm avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 52, plot 8, plan 5043. Tax of 1912, $26.40. Then for Street Watering Assessment, $1 sors' plan as lot 133, plot 4, plan 5047. Balance of tax of 1912, $41.00. Then for Main Sewer Assessment apportionment, $4.86. Then for Particular Sewer Assessment apportionment, $3.59.

James McTear. A certain parcel of land containing 3615 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the northerly side of Beach street, bounded easterly by land now or late of Abbie E. Hooper, northerly by land now or late of John W. Dorety, westerly and southerly by land now or late of James McTear. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 1, plot 7, plan 5021. Balance of Tax of 1912, $8.40. Then for Particular Sewer Assessment apportionment, $4.52. Then for Street Watering Assessment, $.72.

James McTear. A certain parcel of land containing 3000 square feet situated off Willow street, bounded northerly and easterly by land now or late of James McTear, westerly and southerly by land now or late of Elizabeth M. Brigham. Being designated on Assessors' plan as part lot 323, plot 26, plan 5021. Tax of 1912, $5.50.

James McTear. A certain parcel of land containing 3000 square feet situated off Willow street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Wood, Flagg and Thornton Trs., and Norman L. Burchsted, westerly by land now or late of Elizabeth M. Brigham, southerly and easterly by land now or late of James McTear. Being designated on Assessors' plan as part lot 322, plot 27, plan 5021. Tax of 1912, $5.50.

James McTear. A certain parcel of land containing 1550 square feet situated upon the northwesterly side of Beach street, bounded northerly and westerly by land now or late of James McTear and Elizabeth M. Brigham, easterly by land now or late of Abbie E. Hooper and southeasterly by Beach street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 25, plan 5021. Tax of 1912, $4.40.

James Meaney. A certain parcel of land containing 4648 square feet with buildings thereon situated upon the northeasterly side of Standish avenue, bounded southeasterly by land now or late of Clair L. Baker, northeasterly by land now or late of Henry M. Faxon, northwesterly by land now or late of Martha Hinricksen and southwesterly by Standish avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as part lots 115 and 116, plot 23, plan 5088. Tax of 1912, $46.20.

George W. Mitchell. A certain parcel of land containing 5000 square feet situated upon the westerly side of Sachem street bounded northerly by land now or late of George W. Mitchell, westerly by land now or late of Mabel Y. Harlow, southerly by land now or late of Samuel N. Mayo and easterly by Sachem street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 669, plot 6, plan 5055. Tax of 1912, $8.80.

George W. Mitchell. A certain parcel of land containing 5000 square feet with buildings thereon, situated upon the westerly side of Sachem street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Samuel N. Mayo, westerly by land now or late of George W. Mitchell, southerly by land now or late of George W. Mitchell and easterly by Sachem street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 670, plot 7, plan 5055. Tax of 1912, $88.00.

Margaret Mullen, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 3875 square feet situated upon the northeasterly side of Billings road, bounded northwesterly by land now or late of Clifford H. Taber, northeasterly by land now or late of Georgianna Fay, southeasterly by land now or late of Irene M. Forbes and southwesterly by Billings road. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 748 a, plot 22, plan 5002. Tax of 1912, $8.80.

Flora Murphy. A certain parcel of land containing 6370 square feet situated upon the corner of Phillips street and Waterston avenue, bounded northerly by land now or late of Howard L. Fowler, easterly by land now or late of Ellen M. Ryder, southerly by Waterston avenue and westerly by Phillips street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 159, plot 1, plan 5048. No. 6444 Main Sewer Assessment $56.71.

Edith Nelson. A certain parcel of land containing 8945 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the westerly side of Hancock street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Cora H. Turner, westerly by land now or late of Thomas Fenno, Alice M. Carr and Abbie F. Fenno, southerly by land now or late of Thomas Fenno, Alice M. Carr and Abbie F. Fenno and easterly by Hancock street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 1, plot 5, plan 5102. Balance of Tax of 1912, $10.20. Then for Street Watering Assessment, $1.72. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment $.50.

Sarah M. Litchfield, New Braintree. A certain parcel of land containing 11250 square feet, with buildings thereon, situated upon the corner of Warren and Highland avenues, bounded north westerly by land now or late of Henry Webb, Jr., north easterly by land now or late of Sarah M. Litchfield, south easterly by Warren avenue, and south westerly by Highland avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 1, part 2, block 3, section 2, plan 5180. Tax of 1912, $165.55. Then for Main Sewer Assessment apportionment, $16.38.

Sarah M. Litchfield, New Braintree. A certain parcel of land containing 11250 square feet, situated upon the north westerly side of Warren avenue, bounded southwesterly by land now or late of Sarah M. Litchfield, northwesterly by land now or late of Henry Webb, Jr., northeasterly by land now or late of Baptist church and south easterly by Warren avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as part lot 2, block 3, section 2, plan 5180. Tax of 1912, $36.85.

Ida L. Patten, Quincy, Joseph B. Dimock and Ernest E. Patten, Quincy. A certain parcel of land containing 10980 square feet, situated upon the northeasterly side of Franklin avenue bounded northeasterly by land now or late of Winthrop H. Chick, southeasterly by land now or late of Winthrop H. Chick, southwesterly by Franklin avenue and northwesterly by Franklin avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 730, plot 1, plan 5060. Tax of 1912, $4.40.

Ida L. Patten, Quincy, Joseph B. Dimock, and Ernest E. Patten, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 3361 square feet with unfinished building thereon, situated upon the northerly side of Copley street, bounded easterly and westerly by land now or late of Michael and Hannah Landers and southerly by Copley street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as Lot 711, plot 16, plan 5068. Tax of 1912, $13.20.

Ida L. Patten, Quincy, Joseph B. Dimock and Ernest E. Patten, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 5000 square feet, situated upon the corner of Franklin avenue and Minot street, bounded northeasterly by land now or late of Ida L. Patten, northwesterly by land now or late of Sarah M. McMann, southwesterly by Franklin avenue and southeasterly by Minot street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 735, plot 6, plan 5060. Tax of 1912, $6.60.

Ida L. Patten, Quincy, Joseph B. Dimock and Ernest E. Patten, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 5000 square feet, situated upon the corner of Copley and Minot streets, bounded northwesterly by land now or late of Winthrop H. Chick, southwesterly by land now or late of Ida L. Patten and others, southeasterly by Minot street and northeasterly by Copley street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 728, plot 7, plan 5060. Tax of 1912, $4.40.

Ida L. Patten, Quincy, Joseph B. Dimock, and Ernest E. Patten, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 5250 square feet, situated upon the westerly side of Willow street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Frank W. Damon, southerly by land now or late of Ida L. Patten and others and easterly by Willow street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 181, plot 24, plan 5048. Tax of 1912, $8.80.

Ida L. Patten, Quincy, Joseph B. Dimock, and Ernest E. Patten, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 5250 square feet, situated upon the westerly side of Willow street, bounded northerly and southerly by land now or late of Ida L. Patten and others, westerly by land now or late of Margaret A. Broderick and easterly by Willow street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 180, plot 23, plan 5048. Tax of 1912, $8.80.

Ida L. Patten, Quincy, Joseph B. Dimock, and Ernest E. Patten, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 5250 square feet, situated upon the westerly side of Willow street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Ida L. Patten and others, westerly by land now or late of Grace E. Hamblett, southerly by land now or late of Fred I. Rayner, and easterly by Willow street. Being designated on Assessor's plan as lot 182, plot 25, plan 5048. Tax of 1912, $8.80.

Ida L. Patten, Quincy, Joseph B. Dimock, and Ernest E. Patten, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 2100 square feet, situated upon the southwesterly side of Willow street, bounded southeasterly by land now or late of William W. Cummings and Frank E. Sanborn, south westerly by land now or late of William Emmel, northwesterly by land now or late of Ida L. Patten and others and northeasterly by Willow street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 310, plot 13, plan 5036. Tax of 1912, $4.95.

Ida L. Patten, Quincy, Joseph B. Dimock, and Ernest E. Patten, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 6300 square feet, situated upon the southwesterly side of Willow street, bounded north westerly by land now or late of Anna F. Tripp, southwesterly by land now or late of William Emmel, southeasterly by land now or late of Ida L. Patten, Ernest Patten and Joseph B. Dimock and northeasterly by Willow street. Being designated on Assesors' plan as lot 311, plot 11, plan 5036. Tax of 1912, $13.75.

Ida L. Patten, Joseph B. Dimock and Ernest C. Patten. A certain parcel of land containing 5250 square feet situated upon the westerly side of Willow street, bounded northerly by land now or late of said owners, westerly by land now or late of Grace E. Hamblett, southerly by land now or late of Fred I. Rayner and easterly by Willow street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as Lot 182, plot 25, plan 5048. No. 6365 Main Sewer Assessment $36.00.

Ida L. Patten, Joseph B. Dimock and Ernest C. Patten. A certain parcel of land containing 5250 square feet, situated upon the westerly side of Willow street, bounded northerly and southerly by land now or late of said owners, westerly by land now or late of Frank W. Damon and easterly by Willow street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 179, plot 22, plan 5048. No. 6366 Main Sewer Assessment, $36.00.

Ida L. Patten, Quincy, Joseph B. Dimock, and Ernest E. Patten, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 5250 square feet, situated upon the westerly side of Willow street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Ida L. Patten and others, westerly by land now or late of Grace E. Hamblett, southerly by land now or late of Fred I. Rayner, and easterly by Willow street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 182, plot 25, plan 5048. Tax of 1912, $8.80.

Ida L. Patten, Quincy, Joseph B. Dimock, and Ernest E. Patten, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 2100 square feet, situated upon the southwesterly side of Willow street, bounded southeasterly by land now or late of William W. Cummings and Frank E. Sanborn, south westerly by land now or late of William Emmel, northwesterly by land now or late of Ida L. Patten and others and northeasterly by Willow street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 310, plot 13, plan 5036. Tax of 1912, $4.95.

Ida L. Patten, Quincy, Joseph B. Dimock, and Ernest E. Patten, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 6300 square feet, situated upon the southwesterly side of Willow street, bounded north westerly by land now or late of Anna F. Tripp, southwesterly by land now or late of William Emmel, southeasterly by land now or late of Ida L. Patten, Ernest Patten and Joseph B. Dimock and northeasterly by Willow street. Being designated on Assesors' plan as lot 311, plot 11, plan 5036. Tax of 1912, $13.75.

Ida L. Patten, Joseph B. Dimock and Ernest C. Patten. A certain parcel of land containing 5250 square feet situated upon the westerly side of Willow street, bounded northerly by land now or late of said owners, westerly by land now or late of Grace E. Hamblett, southerly by land now or late of Fred I. Rayner and easterly by Willow street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as Lot 182, plot 25, plan 5048. No. 6365 Main Sewer Assessment $36.00.

Ida L. Patten, Joseph B. Dimock and Ernest C. Patten. A certain parcel of land containing 5250 square feet, situated upon the westerly side of Willow street, bounded northerly and southerly by land now or late of said owners, westerly by land now or late of Frank W. Damon and easterly by Willow street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 179, plot 22, plan 5048. Tax of 1912, 8.80.

Ida L. Patten, Quincy, Joseph B. Dimock, and Ernest E. Patten, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 5250 square feet, situated upon the westerly side of Willow street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Ida L. Patten and others, westerly by land now or late of Grace E. Hamblett, southerly by land now or late of Fred I. Rayner, and easterly by Willow street. Being designated on Assessor's

Ada T. Hayden, Milton. A certain parcel of land containing 1908 square feet, situated upon the corner of Shorcham and Border streets bounded northwesterly by land now or late of Catherine Kittrick, northeasterly by land now or late of Catherine E. McNeil, southeasterly by land now or late of Border street and southwesterly by Shoreham street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 1, plot 25, plan 6101 a. Tax of 1912, $2.20.

Ada T. Hayden, Milton. A certain parcel of land containing 1832 square feet, situated upon the northeasterly side of Shoreham street, bounded northwesterly and southeasterly by land now or late of Catherine Kittrick, northeasterly by land now or late of Catherine E. McNeil and southwesterly by Shoreham street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 2, plot 26, plan 6101 a. Tax of 1912, $2.20.

Ada T. Hayden, Milton. A certain parcel of land containing 1770 square feet, situated upon the northeasterly side of Shoreham street, bounded northwesterly and southeasterly by land now or late of Catherine Kittrick, northeasterly by land now or late of Ada T. Hayden and southwesterly by Shoreham street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 3, plot 27, plan 6101 a. Tax of 1912, $1.65.

Ada T. Hayden, Milton. A certain parcel of land containing 1885 square feet, situated upon the corner of Shoreham street and Standish road, bounded southeasterly by land now or late of Catherine Kittrick, northeasterly by land now or late of Ada T. Hayden, northwesterly by Standish road and southwesterly by Shoreham street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 4, plot 28, plan 6101 a. Tax of 1912, $2.20.

Ada T. Hayden, Milton. A certain parcel of land containing 1250 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the southeasterly side of Agawam street, bounded southwesterly by land now or late of Mabel H. Verrill, southeasterly by land now or late of Charles R. Burkart, northeasterly by land now or late of Ada T. Hayden and northwesterly by Agawam street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 31, plot 45, plan 6101 a. Tax of 1912, $16.50.

Ada T. Hayden, Milton. A certain parcel of land containing 1250 square feet, situated upon the southeasterly side of Agawam street, bounded northeasterly by land now or late of Mabel H. Verrill, southeasterly by land now or late of Ada T. Hayden, southwesterly by land now or late of James H. Sumner and northwesterly by Agawam street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 34, plot 42, plan 6101 a. Tax of 1912, $1.65.

Ada T. Hayden, Milton. A certain parcel of land containing 1250 square feet, with building thereon, situated upon the southeasterly side of Agawam street, bounded southwesterly and southeasterly by land now or late of Ada T. Hayden, northeasterly by land now or late of James H. Sumner and northwesterly by Agawam street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 35, plot 41, plan 6101 a. Balance of tax of 1912, $12.05.

Ernest R. Hitchcock. A certain parcel of land containing 2513 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the corner of Glover and Newbury avenues, bounded easterly by land now or late of Mary H. Murphy, northerly by land now or late of Wm. McCanville, westerly by Newbury avenue and southerly by Glover avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot A, plot 1, plan 6028. Tax of 1912, $39.60. Then for Main Sewer Assessment apportionment, $2.72.

George W. Hopkins and Francis J. Small. Trs. A certain parcel of land containing 5000 square feet situated upon the westerly side of Fayette street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Hopkins and Small Trs., westerly by land now or late of Jas. A. Crevella et al, southerly by land now or late of Axel E. Carlson and easterly by Fayette street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 1102, plot 8, plan 6107. No. 6194 Main Sewer Assessment $36.00.

Ada F. Howard. A certain parcel of land containing 3390 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the corner of Vane street and Billings Rd. Bounded easterly by land now or late of Mollie Whyatt, southerly by land now or late of Wood, Flagg & Thornton Trs. westerly by Vane street and northerly by Billings road. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 97 A, plot 1, plan 6006. No. 6073 Main Sewer Assessment $8.42.

Clara B. Kestner, Somerville. A certain parcel of land containing 3000 square feet situated upon the southerly side of Conant road, bounded easterly and westerly by land now or late of Clara B. Kestner, southerly by land now or late of Elmer H. Warren and northerly by Conant road. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 48, plot 48, plan 6060. Tax of 1912, $8.25.

Clara B. Kestner, Somerville. A certain parcel of land containing 3600 square feet situated upon the southerly side of Conant road, bounded easterly by land now or late of Mellie L. Lane and Elmer H. Warren, southerly by land now or late of Elmer H. Warren, westerly by land now or late of Clara B. Kestner and northerly by Conant road. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 49, plot 49, plan 6060. Tax of 1912, $9.90.

Clara B. Kestner, Somerville. A certain parcel of land containing 3250 square feet situated upon the southerly side of Conant road, bounded easterly by land now or late of Clara B. Kestner, southerly by land now or late of Henry F. Mosses, westerly by land now or late of Carl P. and Louise L. Mellows and northerly by Conant road. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 44, plot 44, plan 6060. Tax of 1912, $7.15.

Clara B. Kestner, Somerville. A certain parcel of land containing 3250 square feet situated upon the southerly side of Conant road, bounded easterly and southerly and westerly by land now or late of Clara B. Kestner and northerly by Conant road. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 45, plot 45, plan 6060. Tax of 1912, $8.80.

Clara B. Kestner, Somerville. A certain parcel of land containing 1625 square feet situated upon the northerly side of Conant road, bounded westerly by land now or late of Clara B. Kestner, easterly by land now or late of Clara B. Kestner, easterly by land now or late of Minnie A. Green and southerly by Conant road. Being designated on Assessors' plan as part lot 56, plot 56, plan 6061. Tax of 1912, $3.85.

Leonard Lawrence, Roxbury. A certain parcel of land containing 9572 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the southerly side of Appleton street, bounded easterly by land now or late of Frederick J. Stewart, southerly by land now or late of Charles E. S. McCorry, westerly by land now or late of William R. Cole and northerly by Appleton street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 53, plot 12, plan 6057. Tax of 1912, $80.30. Then for Street Watering Assessment, $1.40.

Edward MacMulkin, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 7640 square feet with buildings thereon, situated upon the westerly side of Hancock street, bounded southerly by land now or late of Annie L. Craig, westerly by land now or late of Edward MacMulkin, northerly by land now or late of Theresa Barker and easterly by Hancock street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 19, plot 5, plan 6035. Tax of 1912, $114.40. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment, $1.14.

Edward MacMulkin, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 3362 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the southerly side of a private way off Holmes street, bounded westerly by land now or late of George N. Robinson, southerly by land now or late of Edward MacMulkin, easterly by land now or late of Edward MacMulkin and Annie L. Craig and northerly by a private way. Being designated on Assessors' plan as part lot 27, plot 18, plan 6035. Tax of 1912, $18.70.

Edward MacMulkin, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 2300 square feet situated upon the southerly side of private way off Holmes street, bounded easterly by land now or late of Edward MacMulkin and Annie L. Craig, southerly by land now or late of Jeanette I. Wilson, westerly by land now or late of George N. Robinson and northerly by land now or late of Edward MacMulkin. Being designated on Assessors' plan as part of lot 28, plot 19, plan 6035. Tax of 1912, $5.50.

John F. Maguire, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 3750 square feet situated upon the southwesterly side of Newport avenue, bounded northwesterly by land now or late of Hopkins & Small Trs., southwesterly by land now or late of Andrew Noble, southeasterly by land now or late of Mary E. Lazzaro and northeasterly by Newport avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 907, plot 6, plan 6102. Tax of 1912, $4.40.

Daniel F. McLeod, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 6450 square feet, situated upon the southerly side of West Squantum street, Bellevue Park, bounded westerly by land now or late of Horatio N. Holbrook, southerly by land now or late of heirs of Daniel Sullivan, easterly by land now or late of K. Palmer and northerly by West Squantum street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 11, plot 4, plan 6115 section 2. Tax of 1912, $8.80.

Isabella Morton. A certain parcel of land containing 4829 square feet with buildings thereon, situated upon the corner of Billings road and Apthorp street, bounded northeasterly and northwesterly by land now or late of Plaisted Trust, southwesterly by Billings road and southerly by Apthorp street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 876 a, plot 20, plan 6018. Tax of 1912, $59.20. Then for Main Sewer Assessment apportionment, $6.45. Then for Street Watering Assesment, $.90.

Magnus Munn, Sharon. A certain parcel of land containing 2869 square feet with cellar thereon, situated upon the corner of Faxon road and Jefferson street, bounded northerly by land now or late of William A. Cook, westerly by land now or late of Newell and Snowling Construction Co., southerly by Jefferson street and easterly by Faxon road. Being designated on Assessors' plan as most southerly third part of lot 30, plot 15, plan 6026. Tax of 1912, $7.15.

Magnus Munn, Sharon. A certain parcel of land containing 1206 square feet, situated upon the easterly side of Holmes street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Elizabeth M. P. Cottam, easterly by land now or late of Abbie B. Wellman, southerly by lanw now or late of Colin Goodwin and westerly by Holmes street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as part lot 6, plot 11, plan 6037. Tax of 1912, $2.75.

Nettie L. O'Connor, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 3086 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the easterly side of Clive street bounded northerly and easterly by land now or late of heirs of Nathan Holbrook, southerly by land now or late of Louise S. Kolb and westerly by Clive street and land of Florence I. Burditt. Being designated on Assessors' plan as part lot 44, plot 11, plan 6054. Tax of 1912, $41.80.

Helena O'Sullivan, South Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 4980 square feet situated upon the corner of West Squantum street and private way, bounded westerly by land now or late of Helena O'Sullivan, southerly by land now or late of Henry W. Hunt, northerly by Squantum street and easterly by Private way. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 145, plot 8, plan 6141. Balance of tax of 1912, $2.05.

Helena O'Sullivan, South Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 34290 square feet situated upon the southerly side of West Squantum street, bounded southerly by land now or late of Henry W. Hunt and Martin L. Cafe and private way, westerly by land now or late of Henry W. Hunt and Charles S. Taylor and by Squantum street, easterly by land now or late of Martin Cafe and northerly by West Squantum street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lots 146, 147, 148, 149, 150, 153, 154, plots 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, 13, 12, plan 6141. Balance of tax of 1912, $2.00.

Josiah Quincy, Trustee. A certain parcel of land containing 7200 square feet situated upon the westerly side of Holmes street, bounded northerly by land now or late of James M. Williams & Old Colony R. R. Co., westerly by a private way, southerly by land now or late of Wm. E. Harmon and easterly by Holmes street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 3, plot 3, plan 6061. Tax of 1912, $15.95. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment $1.80.

Josiah Quincy, Trustee. A certain parcel of land containing about 5090 square feet situated upon the easterly side of Holmes street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Fred W. Wood, easterly by land now or late of Isabella Moir, southerly by land now or late of Sarah G. Gardiner and William F. Macy and westerly by Holmes street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 4 a, plot 7, plan 6004. Tax of 1912, $11.00.

E. Russell Rich, Milton. A certain parcel of land containing 7078 square feet situated upon the southerly side of Winslow road, bounded easterly and southerly by land now or late of John R. Nelson, westerly by land now or late of Georgianna Rich and northerly by Winslow road. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 183, plot 2, plan 6090. Being registered as Transfer certificate No. 1039, book 6, page 1039 Norfolk District of the Land Court. Tax of 1912, $6.05.

Georgianna Rich, Milton. A certain parcel of land containing 9087 square feet with building thereon situated upon the corner of Winslow road and East Squantum street, bounded northeasterly by land now or late of E. Russell Rich, southeasterly by land now or late of John R. Nelson, southwesterly by East Squantum street and northwesterly by Winslow road. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 184, plot 1, plan 6090. Being registered as Transfer Certificate No. 1040, book 6, page 1040, Norfolk District of the Land Court. Tax of 1912, $50.60.

Lottie L. Smeltzer, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 4500 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the northerly side of Arnold road, bounded northerly and easterly and westerly by land now or late of Milton L. Conant and Southerly by Arnold road. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 122, plot 18, plan 6017 F. Balance of tax of 1912, $30.60.

Patrick J. Sullivan, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 7990 square feet situated upon the corner of Billings road and Royal street, bounded easterly by land now or late of Edward J. Merlin, southerly by land now or late of Margaret R. Dingwell, westerly by Royal street and Northerly by Billings road. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 377 plot 1, plan 6012. Tax of 1912, $17.60. Then for Main Sewer Assessment apportionment, $7.33. Then for Street Watering Assessment, $1.42.

Patrick J. Sullivan, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 5000, square feet, situated upon the easterly side of Royal street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Jessie A. Banks, easterly by land now or late of Frank G. Coombs, southerly by land now or late of Albert O. Norton and westerly by Royal street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 330, plot 20, plan 6012. Tax of 1912, $11.00.

Arthur H. Weed, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 13974 square feet with building thereon, situated off Belleview avenue, bounded northerly by land now or late of Hilda Carlson, easterly by Quincy Bay, southerly and westerly by land now or late of Mary F. Callahan. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 23, plot 2, plan 6086. Tax of 1912, $92.40.

Abbie B. Wellman. A certain parcel of land containing 4558 square feet situated upon the northerly side of Moscow street, bounded easterly by land now or late of Jas. H. Riley, northerly by land now or late of Elizabeth M. P. Cottam, westerly by land now or late of Magnus Munn, Colin Goodwin and Henry Black and southerly by Moscow street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 5, plot 10, plan 6037. Tax of 1912, $11.00.

Herbert L. Bill. A certain parcel of land containing 6957 square feet, situated upon the easterly side of Newbury avenue, bounded northerly by land now or late of Chas. E. Stratton, southerly by land now or late of heirs of Gilbert A. Waterhouse, easterly by land now or late of Henry W. Hunt and westerly by Newbury avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 7, plot 42, plan 6056. Tax of 1912 $8.80. Then for Main Sewer Assessment apportionment, $7.29. Then for Street Watering Assessment, $1.40.

Edith A. Costain. A certain parcel of land containing 3200 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the northeasterly side of Hancock street, bounded northeasterly, southeasterly and northwesterly by land now or late of heirs of Thomas Costaine and southwesterly by Hancock street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 4, plot 7, plan 6171. Tax of 1912, $29.15. Then for Street Watering Assessment, $.80. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment, $.60.

Paul W. Costain and heirs or devisees of Margaret Costain. A certain parcel of land containing 3200 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the northeasterly side of Hancock street, bounded northwesterly by land now or late of heirs of Thomas Costaine, northeasterly by land now or late of heirs of Thomas Costaine, southeasterly by land now or late of Eliab Ramsdell and southwesterly by Hancock street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 8, plot 6, plan 6171. Tax of 1912, $10.45. Then for Street Watering Assessment, $.80. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment, $.60.

Heirs or devisees of Thomas Costain. A certain parcel of land containing 22665 square feet, situated upon the northeasterly side of Hancock street, bounded northwesterly by land now or late of Edith A. Costaine, Rose and Michael J. Dolan and heirs of H. N. Glover, southeasterly by land now or late of Edith A. Costaine and Paul W. and Margaret Costaine and Eliab Ramsdell, southwesterly by Hancock street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 5, plan 6171. Tax of 1912, $26.40.

Jeremiah W. Donovan. A certain parcel of land containing 20739 square feet situated upon the northwesterly side of West Squantum street, bounded southwesterly and northwesterly by a salt marsh, northeasterly by land now or late of Jeremiah W. Donovan and southeasterly by West Squantum street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 1, plan 6158. Tax of 1912, $14.30.

Jeremiah W. Donovan. A certain parcel of land containing 23850 square feet, situated upon the northwesterly side of West Squantum street, bounded northwesterly and southwesterly by a salt marsh, northeasterly by land now or late of Old Colony Railroad and southeasterly by West Squantum street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 4, plan 6158. Tax of 1912, $26.40.

John Donovan. A certain parcel of land containing 5325 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the northerly side of Walnut street, bounded easterly by land now or late of Ann Gilmartin, northerly by land now or late of heirs of Francis Guild, westerly by land now or late of John J. Kerrigan and southerly by Walnut street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 4, plan 6167. Tax of 1912, $34.10.

John Donovan. A certain parcel of land containing 5855 square feet with building thereon, situated upon the southerly side of Newbury street, bounded easterly by land now or late of William J. Delorey, southerly by land now or late of heirs of Francis Guild, westerly by land now or late of Timothy J. Golden and northerly by Newbury avenue. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 6, plan 6168. Tax of 1912, $34.10.

Effie E. Fanning, Cambridge. A certain parcel of land containing 2192 square feet, situated upon the corner of Farrington and West Squantum streets, bounded southerly by land now or late of Odlina Hunter, westerly by Squantum street and easterly by Farrington street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 1071, plot 1, plan 6108. Tax of 1912, $2.75.

Sarah G. Gardner. A certain parcel of land containing about 5050 square feet with building thereon situated upon the easterly side of John street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Herbert S. Barker, easterly by marsh, southerly by land now or late of City of Quincy and westerly by John street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 10, plot 10, plan 6157. Tax of 1912, $8.80. Then for Street Watering Asessment $1.00.

Michael Lally and ux Catherine T. Lally, as joint tenants. A certain parcel of land containing 4820 square feet with buildings thereon, situated upon the southeasterly side of River street, bounded northeasterly by land now or late of Mattis Berzis et ux Annata, southeasterly by land now or late of Edward J. McGovern, southwesterly by a passage way and northwesterly by River street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 15, plan 6169. Balance of Tax of 1912, $11.40.

Jeremiah O'Leary, Daniel J. Doyle and J. Montgomery Sears, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 1825 square feet, situated upon the southerly side of Aberdeen road, bounded: westerly by land now or late of Jeremiah O'Leary, Daniel J. Doyle and J. Montgomery Sears, southerly by land now or late of Nelson, easterly by land now or late of Frank E. Wells and northerly by Aberdeen road. Being designated on Assesors' plan as lot 35, section B, plan 6080 B. Tax of 1912 $1.65.

Jeremiah O'Leary, Daniel J. Doyle and J. Montgomery Sears, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 1837 square feet, situated upon the southerly side of Aberdeen road, bounded: easterly and westerly by land now or late of Jeremiah O'Leary, Daniel J. Doyle and J. Montgomery Sears, southerly by land now or late of Nelson and northerly by Aberdeen road. Being designated on Assesors' plan as lot 36, section B, plan 6080 B. Tax of 1912 $1.65.

Jeremiah O'Leary, Daniel J. Doyle and J. Montgomery Sears, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 1862 square feet, situated upon the southerly side of Aberdeen road, bounded: easterly and westerly by land now or late of Jeremiah O'Leary, Daniel J. Doyle and J. Montgomery Sears, southerly by land now or late of August Wallquist and northerly by Aberdeen road. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 37, section B. plan 6080 B. Tax of 1912 $1.65.

Jeremiah O'Leary, Daniel J. Doyle and J. Montgomery Sears, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing 1887 square feet, situated upon the southerly side of Aberdeen road, bounded: easterly by land now or late of Jeremiah O'Leary, Daniel J. Doyle and Montgomery Sears, southerly by land now or late of August Wallquist, westerly by land now or late of Robert K. Dickerman and northerly by Aberdeen road. Being designated on Assessors' plan as lot 38, section B, plan 6080 B. Tax of 1912 $1.65.

John Rogerson, Boston. A certain parcel of land containing about 4575 square feet situated upon the easterly side of John street, bounded northerly by land now or late of Sarah G. Gardiner, easterly by marsh, southerly by land now or late of Frank P. and Adela J. Fulton and westerly by John street. Being designated on Assessors' plan at lot 9, plot 9, plan 6157. Tax of 1912, $.55.

Harold Wilder. A certain parcel of land containing 2887 square feet with building thereon situated upon the northwesterly side of Myrtle street, bounded southwesterly by land now or late of Mattie E. Kilpatrick, northerly by land now or late of heirs of Sam'l. Wood, northeasterly by land now or late of Martha E. Jenkins and southeasterly by Myrtle street. Being designated on Assessors' plan as plot 6, plan 6166. Tax of 1912, $40.15. Then for Gypsy Moth Assessment, $.60.

OSCAR S. SANDBERG,
Collector of Taxes,
City of Quincy.

Wards 1, 2 and 3 in Evening Telegram.

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 3, Bergin & Merrill Block,
QUINCY

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To all persons who are interested in the real estate hereinafter mentioned:

Whereas Henry D. Federhen of Quincy in said County, having an interest in certain real estate situated in Quincy in said County and described in said petition, has presented to said Court his petition setting forth that said real estate is subject to a vested or contingent remainder or reversion created under the will of John Federhen late of Quincy in the County of Norfolk deceased, and praying for the appointment of Old Colony Trust Company, a corporation of Boston in the County of Suffolk, or some other suitable person, as trustee to sell and convey at private sale or public auction said real estate, for reasons therein set forth. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Dedham, in said County of Norfolk, on the seventh day of January A. D. 1914, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this eleventh day of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen.

John D. Cobb, Register.
Dec. 13-3t 13-15-22

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To all persons interested in the estate of William H. Foster late of Quincy in said County, deceased:

Whereas, Emery B. Gibbs the administrator of the estate of said deceased, has presented for allowance, the first and final account of his administration upon the estate of said deceased; You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham in said County, on the seventh day of January A. D. 1914, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be allowed. And said administrator is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to all persons interested in the estate fourteen days at least before said Court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twelfth day of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen.

JOHN D. COBB, Register
Dec. 13-3t 13-15-22

Commonwealth of Massachusetts
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To all persons interested in the estate of Lucretia A. Gill late of Quincy in said County, deceased:

Whereas, Edward B. Marsh executor of the will of said deceased, has presented for allowance, the first and final account of his administration upon the estate of said deceased: You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Brookline in said County, on the twenty-fourth day of December A. D. 1913, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be allowed. And said executor is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to all persons interested in the estate fourteen days at least before said Court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this tenth day of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen.

JOHN D. COBB, Register.
13-3t 13-20-22

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Dora A. French late of Quincy in said County, deceased:

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by Hannah A. Porter of said Quincy, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the executrix therein named, without giving a surety on her official bond; You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Brookline in said County of Norfolk, on the twenty-fourth day of December A. D. 1913, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this eleventh day of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen.

JOHN D. COBB. Register.
Dec. 13-3t 13-20-22

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED
Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENT

WANTED—A man, "a live wire" to canvass the city of Quincy and sell the most up to date vacuum carpet cleaner manufactured. Must give satisfactory reference. Wm. S. Currier, Currier's Market, 1381 Hancock street.

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing. Myatt, 40 Baxter street. Tel. 1307-M. Quincy, Res. 22-tf

BUILD A COTTAGE at half price. As I have sold all my real estate I must sell at once, a lot of new and second hand building material at any price 3000 feet 2x8, 2000 feet 2x3, 4x4 etc at $15. M. Car load Atlas cement 35 cents bag, plumbing supplies 100-4 inch Ex H fittings some Ex H 4 inch pipe, 18 oak seats, 8 tanks fitted with B B valves one half price, 20 kegs 8 P nails slightly damaged by fire $1.00 keg, few sinks, 16 inch smoke stack, 75 feet high. All must be sold at once. Hotel Pandora, Houghs Neck. Tel. Quincy 21012. 11-3t

FOR SALE or TO LET—New houses Apply to Thompson B. Crane, 403 Washington street, Quincy. 1-tf

SWITHIN
Real Estate
Mortgages-Insurance
Greenleaf Block
Quincy
Tel. Quincy 460. Nov. 10-tf

JAMES F. BURKE & CO.
Real Estate and Insurance
Care of Property. Mortgages
Justice of Peace. Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 885 M. Nov. 11-tf

WM. H. TEASDALE
REAL ESTATE
Insurance Mortgages
NOTARY PUBLIC JUSTICE OF THE PEACE
Room 23 Adams Building
Telephones { Residence 544-8 / Office 880-M
otf

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1351 Hancock street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Waverly Court, Quincy Point
Tel. Quincy, Mass. 1128 M Nov 8-tf

LONG LIVED ROOFING
Buy your roofing with the idea that it is going to last for years to come.
NEPONSET PAROID ROOFING
is made carefully from the very best materials obtainable. It has received the endorsement of the leading railroads of the United States as well as that of the United States Government. We also handle the Neponset Wall Board which comes in 3 finishes and is good for any room in the house. Call or write for samples.
L. GROSSMAN & SONS
Tel. 979-W
Jackson St., Near Quincy Adams Depot

Call Quincy 501--W
if you want your furniture, mattresses and cushions repaired in good order at low prices
M. MIRKIN, upholsterer, 1930 Hancock street, near the Quincy High School.
Dec. 1-1m

Penniman's
TAXI SERVICE
Taxies and Touring Cars with careful and safe drivers to let for all occasions.
C. H. PENNIMAN, Prop.
Telephone 207.
June 13-tf

QUINCY REGISTRY
FOR NURSES
20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.
Will supply trained and practical nurses, attendants and nursery assistants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.
MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar,
Tel. Quincy 131-W.

WILLIAM R. DIMOCK
Carpenter and Builder
Plans furnished and estimates given. All work personally and promptly attended to 133 PROSPECT AVENUE
WOLLASTON
Telephone 1238 W Quincy.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENT

LOST—In City Square, or in City Square stores, about noon Thursday, a $20 bill. Reward if returned to Ledger Office. 11-3t

LOST—Wednesday, Dec. 10, Lady's gold watch and long chain. Waltham works, closed face. Notify C. A. Penley, Room 14, City Hall. 11-3t

TO LET—48 Revere road two connecting rooms with kitchenette for housekeeping. Also a nice room with sun all day, two large closets. Hot water heat and bath. 13-tf

TO LET—Lower flat, 5 rooms bath modern improvements in new house pleasantly situated in corner lot 29 Atherton street, Bigelow Park. Rent reasonable to right party. Inquire on premises or 72 Glencoe place. 13-6t

TO LET—Upper flat in two flat new house at 1 Bradford street, 5 rooms and bath. All improvements. Ready Jan. 1st. Apply to Wm. E. Duggan, 32 Bryant avenue, West. Quincy. 12-6t

TO LET—Tenement 4 rooms and bath all improvements, set range. Vacant Jan. 1, 1914. Apply 180 Franklin street. 10-6t

TO LET—With private family, desirable room with modern conveniences. Address "R," Ledger office or telephone Quincy, 1796-W. 10-6t

RUSSELL PARK — Commodious house of seven rooms, large hall and bath. Modern, every convenience open fireplace, furnace, range, set tubs, electric lights, cemented cellar, etc. Best residential neighborhood. Ready for immediate occupancy. For further details or key see Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. tf lpo

TO LET—Tenement of 6 rooms, all improvements. Rent only $18.75, C. W. Guy, 42 Butler road, near High school. 10-tf

TO LET—9 room house on Hancock street, near Quincy center. In first class repair and reasonable rent. Apply to Mr. Galligan at Kincaide's Furniture store. 6-tf

TO LET—Tenement of 7 rooms, all improvements, 64 Merrymount road. Apply W. W. Adams, 12 Greenleaf street. 22- S-W-tf

TO LET—173 Whitwell street, half house, modern conveniences, $20 per month. Ready for immediate occupancy. Apply Penniman's Stable, Granite street. 19-tf

TO LET—Nicest 4 room and bath lower flat in town. Every improvement $19.00. 126 Glendale road. S. E. Thomas Greenleaf Block. 17-tf

TO LET—5 room tenement at 117 Quincy street, $20 per month. Apply Berman Furniture Co. 6-tf

TO LET—Houses of 5, 6 and 10 rooms. M. T. Sullivan. Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy, Mass. 11-tf

UPPER APARTMENT. In two-family house on Spear Street. Five rooms, bath, large pantry and closets, also open attic with finished heated chamber. Every improvement, electric light, furnace, range etc. Ready for immediate occupancy. Telephone Quincy 278 M or enquire mornings of Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. lpo

WILL SOMEONE please answer who would like a piano in their home for Christmas. This one can be rented for a time and after a fair trial very favorable terms can be arranged towards its purchase. Write at once. Box 10 this office. 13-6t

RENT FREE—until Jan. 1st. Two adjoining houses, 28 and 30 Pleasant street to desirable tenants, who will agree to stay one year, or longer. $5.00 per week in advance. Stable for one horse if desired. $1.00 a week extra. Apply 36 Pleasant street. 5-tf

ANOTHER BARGAIN
Make me an offer for a ten room house on Whitwell Street.
You will own it if you will talk buy, as it is one of those chances some one will miss.
HENRY W. SAVAGE
Real Estate, Boston.
E. G. HAYDEN, Local Representative
Telephone 1877-M Quincy.
Nov 17-tf

HOLMES & HALL
REPAIRERS OF HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
SHADES
DOOR BELLS
LOCKS and KEYS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

ARTHUR L. THOMAS
Attorney-at-Law
3-4-5-6 Greenleaf Block
Telephone Quincy 460 Jan.2-1y

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

Look for the TRIANGLE

LOOK for this triangle before you buy any heater.

It is the trademark of the latest model of the Perfection Smokeless Oil Heater.

It is the sign of the greatest improvements ever made in oil heating devices.

PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER

The Perfection Heater, as now made, gives more heat, holds more oil, is better made and works better than any other heater on the market.

It has a wide, shallow oil font, which allows the oil to pass readily up the wick and insures reliable, unchanging flame and heat, whether the font is full or nearly empty.

The Perfection is smokeless, because the patent locking flame-spreader prevents the wick being turned up high enough to smoke. It is easy to re-wick, because the carrier and wick are combined—just turn out the old and slip in the new.

Indicator tells how much oil is in the font. Filler plug is pushed in like a cork—no screw, no thread to wear. Attractive latticed window frame.

The Perfection Heater is finished in vitreous turquoise-blue enamel or plain steel drums; looks well, lasts well, easy to carry wherever wanted.

Dealers everywhere—or write for descriptive circular

STANDARD OIL COMPANY
of New York
New York, N. Y. Albany, N. Y.
Buffalo, N. Y. Boston, Mass.

Look for the TRIANGLE

TRADE MARK REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.

KINCAIDE THEATRE

At 2.30, 5, 10, 15c At 7.45, 10, 15, 25c.

MON. TUE. WED.

1st ANNIVERSARY

Program Subject to Change

KENNEDY AND BURT
The Kings of Comedy
Introducing Novel Scenic Effects

THE PEERS
Comedy Trapeze Artists

OLYMPIA MARWICK
High-Class Singing Offering

W. E WHITTLE
Ventriloqual Sketch With Special Scenery
"Back to the White House"

First Authentic Views of
MEXICAN WAR
Pictures Actually Taken on the Battle Fields

PATHE WEEKLY
World's News in Pictures

Kalem 2-Reel Feature
"PLOT OF INDIA'S HILLMEN"

Kincaide Theatre Orchestra

COMMITTEE NOT TO BLAME.

Editor of Quincy Daily Ledger:

In reading your article on the Councilmanic situation in Ward Three, in your issue of Dec. 9, I notice that you leave the impression that the Ward Committee are to blame for the present condition. In defence of said Committee, I would say that under our present election laws, that a Ward or City Committee have absolutely nothing whatever to do with nominations, or nomination papers, as all such papers are given out at City Hall and after the proper number of signatures have been obtained, are returned to City Hall to be certified by the Board of Registrars and the Ward Committee have no more knowledge of such papers than any other citizen.

Hoping that in justice to the committee you will publish this in an early issue, I am respectfully,

George Gauthier,
Chairman Ward 3, Rep. Com.

AN ENJOYABLE MEETING.

The regular meeting of the Women's Auxiliary was held Friday afternoon in W. M. C. A. hall, and was largely attended. The devotional service was in charge of Mrs. I. W. Sneath, who read St. Luke's story of the birth of Christ.

Miss Angela McCarthy rendered most delightfully two vocal solos, accompanied by Frank C. Gilbert.

It was regretted that Miss Susan R. Brokenshire was unable to speak, but those present felt well repaid after listening to the reading of Van Dyke's beautiful story of "The Other Wise Man" by Mrs. William F. Hodgkinson. The story was illustrated by nearly fifty colored slides and Mrs. Hodgkinson's interpretation of it, brought out all its strong points in a very impressive manner. She proved a charming reader, and did ample justice to the fascinating story.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. David Goodspeed, Mrs. Edwin Smith, Mrs. Sidney Baker and Mrs. Carroll Bates.

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

Social Realm

The announcement comes from London by special cable to the New York Times of Nov. 30 that John Morgan Richards is to be honored, a committee having organized to entertain him on his golden wedding anniversary on Dec. 31. Mr. Richards is the father of the late Mrs. Craigie, "John Oliver Hobbes"; and it is intended to entertain Mr. and Mrs. Richards at dinner. Mr. Richards went to London from America in 1867. A committee has been formed with Lord Northcliffe as chairman supported by Lord Curzon, the ex-Viceroy of India, the Hon. Harry Lawson, Sir W. Robertson Nicoll, T. P. O'Connor, Sir George Ridell and the Hon. C. Arthur Pearson. Mrs. Richards is the sister of Mrs. John L. Eldridge of this city.

The Pickwick club is to have a Christmas party at its meeting Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. William H. Doble, South street. Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney and Miss Marjorie Fay have the program in charge.

Mrs. Edward Lyman Low who was a guest in Brooklyn, New York of the Henry C. Lows, over the Thanksgiving holidays, has been a guest this week of Mr. and Mrs. Russell C. Low of Presidents hill, returning Friday to her home in Rochester, New York.

Miss Clara Fuller of Plympton is the guest of her brother, J. C. Fuller of Botolph street.

Francis P. Loud of Washington street has gone over to New York to spend the Christmas holidays with his daughter Mrs. Brandau of 926 Amsterdam avenue. Mrs. Loud has been there a few weeks and returns with Mr. Loud at New Years.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Woodbury, nee Mandigo, are leaving Quincy after the holidays to make their home in Providence, R. I., to the regret of their friends. They have been residents here for several years, being active in musical and social circles also in Christ church.

Mrs. Arthur Stanley of Elm avenue returned the first of the week from Gloucester where she has been visiting her mother Mrs. George F. Bailey, since before Thanksgiving.

A meeting of the Massachusetts Society of the Daughters of the Revolution is to be held Tuesday afternoon at Hotel Westminster, Boston in celebration of Boston Tea Party day. There will be a paper on "Progress of Music in New England by Alice Warren Pope, read by Margaret Crandall Miller, illustrated by vocal and instrumental music of the different periods; Bessie Talbot Salmon, soloist.

The Quincy Tennis club has announced its eighth annual dance to be held Friday evening, Dec. 26th at Quincy Music hall. As it is during the Christmas holidays when our young men and women are home from college; the season of house parties and entertaining, it promises to be a brilliant and pleasant affair. George E. Pfaffmann is president of the club.

An entertainment for the benefit of Pond Home is to be given in First Church chapel Friday evening when "Lady Betty," a one act comedy will be presented by the Eastern Players, a versatile company, well and favorably known to Quincy people. The part of Sir Harry Rashmore will be taken by Erastus Osgood, Lady Betty by A. Isabelle Davis and Wilson, the maid by Ruth Hardy.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Huntington, nee Thayer of Willow street, Wollaston are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a daughter, born December eleventh.

Miss Ella Horton of Squantum street spent several days this week in New York.

Mrs. J. Henry Emery of Adams street is to be the hostess Tuesday afternoon for a meeting of Charitable Ten Circle of King's Daughters. In place of the usual sewing and business, the meeting will be in the nature of a Christmas social as there will be a musical program and Miss Edith Randall who has spent a winter in Germany will tell of "A Christmas in Germany." It promises to be a delightful meeting. It is held Tuesday afternoon the 16th instead of the usual Monday on account of the program.

Lawrence F. Loring plans to spend the holidays in Wollaston but will return to his work in Florida in January.

Miss Frances Hammond and Miss Ella Granger of Worcester are week end guests of Mrs. Albert W. Fay of Newport avenue.

Miss Ida Marie Rogers of Lowell is visiting her school friend, Mrs. L. J. Hayford.

Miss Cora W. Titus of New Braintree has been visiting relatives in Wollaston this week.

Rev. and Mrs. Paul Harris Drake of Wollaston, have been guests in Pembroke this week of her mother, Mrs. Amelia Pulsifer.

Dr. and Mrs. Elmon R. Johnson of Newport avenue are receiving numerous congratulations upon the birth of a daughter born December tenth. Now their little family consists of two boys and two girls.

Mrs. Winfred Ware of Hanover, formerly of Atlantic visited friends in Atlantic last week.

Mr. and Mrs. James S. Whiting of Wollaston were guests of friends at Manomet over the week end.

Rev. C. P. Marshall and family of Plymouth, formerly of Quincy Point, are in Dover, N. H., for a few days, going up to attend the 275th anniversary of the First Congregational church of Dover, and to see old friends. Mr. Marshall spent his early life in Dover.

A Christmas party Wednesday afternoon at the home of Miss Charlotte A. Powell, 61 Columbia road, Dorchester, is to take the place of the usual literary meeting of the New England Woman's Press Association. The program with Mrs. Sarah Lee Mortimer as chairman will include a roll call with response with a Christmas sentiment; an original paper; a poem; readings; tableaux vocal and piano solos. The reception committee will serve refreshments and there will be a real Christmas tree with gifts for each.

Miss Sybil Marsh of Irving place was among those taking part in the Harvard Dramatic club play Thursday night at Brattle hall, Cambridge, it being the eleventh season's presentation by the club. Two plays were given "The Three Strangers" and "Let's Get Married," the latter a farce-comedy well acted and affording the audience much amusement.

A most unique and enjoyable bridal shower was given at the home of the Misses Elizabeth and Ethel Elcock in honor of the coming marriage of Miss Teresa Keating. Among those present were the teachers of the Jonas Perkins school and friends from Dorchester, Sharon, New Bedford and Quincy.

Wednesday afternoon Dec. 31, Mrs. Fred Jones will be the hostess for her bridge whist club.

Mrs. John H. Emerson of Adams street, East Milton was at home to friends Wednesday afternoon in honor of her guest, Mrs. Henry Hutchins of Greenboro, North Carolina. Mrs. Hutchins was before her marriage Miss Alice Smith of Milton.

Mrs. P. J. Bowlker, sister of President Lowell of Harvard and president of the Women's Municipal league is to be the speaker Tuesday afternoon at the meeting of the Wollaston Women's club in the Wollaston Unitarian church. Mrs. Bowlker will speak on the work and aim of the Municipal League. The club is especially honored in having her speak to them instead of sending one of her committee and a large meeting is anticipated.

—By a narrow margin of 58 votes, Lynn, Mass., went "sloppy," thus changing the complexion of the biggest no-license city in the world. The contest was so close as almost to need an arbitrator.—Barre Vt. Times.

Too Late For Classification

WANTED—Board for infant child. Best of references required. Write B. Ledger Office. 13-3t

MARRIAGES

BRIDS—KILEY—In Amesbury, Dec. 11, by Fred A. Brown, J. of P., William Brids of Quincy and Anna Kiley of New York.

SPUGS.

The Spug Society of which Miss Wilson is president, is organized not only to suppress useless giving at Christmas, but also to educate the public taste in the matter of making useful gifts.

To eradicate such a beautiful custom as that of Christmas giving would be neither possible or desirable, but the habit of making useful gifts is certainly a most sensible one. The shops are full of articles which are acceptable to every one, such as dainty handkerchiefs, gloves, hoisery, neckwear, ribbons, aprons, house linen, umbrellas, rain coats, shirtwaists, silk petticoats, also everything to make the baby comfortable and happy. All of these things and countless others are to be found at D. E. Wadsworth & Company. 13-1t

For Your Baby.
The Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
is the only guarantee that you have the Genuine
CASTORIA
prepared by him for over 30 years.
YOU'LL give YOUR baby the BEST
Your Physician Knows Fletcher's Castoria.
Sold only in one size bottle, never in bulk or otherwise; to protect the babies.
The Centaur Company, Chas. H. Fletcher Pres't.

WANT TO BE A PART OF BOSTON

Squantum Residents Petition for Annexation

The necessary preliminary steps have been taken by several citizens of Squantum to have that section of the city annexed to the City of Boston. The petiton has already been filed with the legislature at the state house and is signed by Charles Lawler, Timothy F. Callahan, James H. Hagan, Perley P. Bostwick, Herman J. Berghaus, Joseph D. Upling, James H. Foster, Edgar F. Eagar and William E. Harvey.

One of the reasons given why the citizens desired to leave their parent is the dissatisfaction with the treatment received at the hands of the City of Quincy.

The matter of annexing Squantum is not a new one for it started several years ago when the residents became dissatisfied, or rather there were a number of things wanted at that time. One of these was desire that a bridge be built across the Neponset river from Squantum to Neponset providing a short cut to Boston and doing away with a long trip through Atlantic.

Another thing wanted at that time was a steam fire engine located at Squantum, with a permanent fire department. Then they wanted a police force of several men to be on duty night and day. Of course they also wanted their streets accepted, street lights, and water.

A committee from the legislature visited the peninsular making the trip from the Atlantic station in barges, for at that time there were no street cars. A committee from the City Council also accompanied the party.

On their arrival at Squantum the party were taken over the territory, on which at that time houses were few and far between. They were also provided with a most excellent dinner. Then they went back to Beacon hill and promptly turned the proposition down.

Since that timee the street railway has been built. The City of Quincy has extended its water mains to the section. Squantum street has been rebuilt for almost its entire distance. A number of electric street lights have been erected, not to say anything about other improvements that have been given them by the city.

They have not however had all of their streets accepted. Water has not been extended through all of their streets. Lights have not been placed at stated intervals in every street. No piece of fire apparatus has been located there with permanent men and they do not have many uniformed police officers parading about and watching the sad sea waves.

It is for the lack of these things therefore that they desire annexation believing with annexation will come immediately all of the improvements named above.

With Teams and Trucks
KINCAIDE MOVES HOUSEHOLD GOODS
Our light and heavy Trucks and Teams are ready to move you anywhere anytime you say. Our men are courteous, careful, thoroughly-experienced movers. This store stands back of their work and guarantees you complete satisfaction. Charges are reasonable. Let's have your order early. Write, call or Telephone Quincy 1200.
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO. 1495 Hancock St.

PIERCE STUDIO
ANYONE WHO SITS FOR PHOTOGRAPHS
On or before Dec. 20. can have their work for CHRISTMAS
Stormy weather makes no difference
Adams Building, Quincy
Dec. 12 6t

Old Company's Lehigh Egg Coal
for Your furnace
Is there anything better mined?
We Sell It
Try a Ton
C. PATCH & SON Inc.
1422 Hancock Street

EDMONSTON'S
Goodyear Shoe Repairing
Cor. Maple and Chestnut Streets
Anything from an EYELET to a WHOLE SOLE
Dec. 11-3t

CHICHESTER S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter s Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

The Song Shop wishes you a Merry Christmas
Pianos $100 and up
Easy Terms or Cash
Hallett & Davis Piano Co.
Sheet Music. Postal Cards
M. B. & C. W. BAHR,
AGENTS,
1291 Hancock Street
Dec. 11-6t

Gould's Orchestra
Concert, Reception and Dance Work Solicited
Address Communications to
ALICE G. GOULD, Director
15 Willow St., East Braintree
Dec. 11-6t-o-13-1w

T. BAKER
Saws Recut, Set and Filed. Cutlery and Edge Tools Ground and Polished. Razors Honed. Skates Ground. Jobbing of all kinds.
59 Pond Street, Quincy.
27-14t on Sat.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass.

QUINCY MUSIC HALL
SATURDAY MATINEE and NIGHT
VAUDEVILLE and MOVING PICTURES
2 Reel Feature
"THE MASTER CRACKSMAN"
Dec. 11-3t

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

LARGEST GUARANTEED CIRCULATION IN THE CITY

Vol. 28 No. 290 QUINCY MASS. MONDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 15 1913 PRICE TWO CENTS

SEE FIREMEN ANSWER ALARM

Unannounced Visit to the Central Fire Station

Mayor Stone and Councilman Griffin paid an unexpected visit to the Central Fire Station Saturday evening and were witnesses to the rapidity in which the firemen can appear on the floor when the alarm sounds.

His Honor and Councilman Griffin had been attending a meeting of the Dock Committee and at about 9.30 thought it a good scheme to make an unannounced call at the Central Fire station. They arrived there about 9.30 and found that the men with the exception of the floor man had retired for the night.

Two blows were then snapped in on the fire alarm circuits and the next instant the firemen came tumbling down the poles. pell mell, and took their places on the apparatus. The Mayor and Councilman Griffin were very much pleased with the exhibition.

Friends of Maple Lodge are looking forward to an enjoyable entertainment Wednesday evening at Electa hall, the entertainment committee having secured one of the victrolas on which Edison has been at work for 35 years. Its possibilities as an entertainer will be demonstrated.

PIERCE STUDIO

ANYONE WHO SITS FOR PHOTOGRAPHS

On or before Dec. 20. can have their work for CHRISTMAS

Stormy weather makes no difference

Adams Building, Quincy

Dec. 12 6t

DEDICATION ON MEMORIAL DAY

Hibernians Erect Memorial to Irish Emigrants

The State officers of the A. O. H. met at Worcester on Sunday and voted to have the dedication of the monument to the Irish emigrants, who were wrecked off the coast of Cohasset, on Memorial Day, 1914, at Cohasset.

The movement was started two years ago and is in charge of Dennis J. Slattery of Weymouth. He reported that the funds amounted to $2368. The monument is now in the process of manufacture at the granite yard of Patrick Tangney on Garfield street, Quincy. The memorial is to be a Quincy granite Celtic cross, 17 feet high, on the face of which will be carved the emblem of the A. O. H. and on the reverse the emblem of the Ladies Auxiliary.

The inscription will be written by Rev. Fr. Edward J. Fitzgerald of Clinton. The co-operation of the Grand Army Post in Cohasset has been secured in arranging the details of the dedication, which will be attended by the National officers of the A. O. H.

WORKMAN HAS A BAD FALL

Thomas Higgins 29 years of age of 23 Lark street S. Boston, a roofer, received painful injuries in a 25 foot fall from the roof of the house at 225 Arlington street, Wollaston, Saturday afternoon. He was taken to the Quincy City Hospital in the police ambulance.

He received a fracture of the left thigh, mutiple contusions and severe bruises about the head. He is in fair condition.

Christmas Gifts

FOR ALL PURSES

CANDIES

Page & Shaws
Foss' Premier and Quality
Lowney's Bells

10c to $12

CIGARS IN BOXES

Wait & Bond 7-20-4
Quincy Ginita
Blenheim and Private Stock

PERFUMES AND TOILET WATERS

Colgates, Rogan & Gallet, 25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00

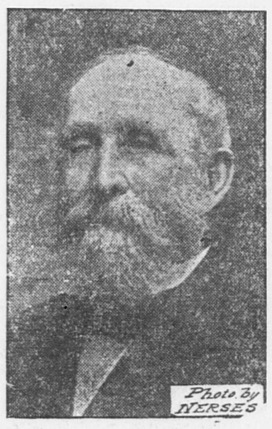
HEARN'S PHARMACY FAXON BLOCK CITY SQUARE

Dec 15—L 6t

HONORARY LIFE MEMBERSHIP

Unusual Honor is Extended to James T. Penniman

The Granite City club established a new precedent Saturday night when by a rising unanimous vote, James T. Penniman was elected an honorary life member of the club. Mr. Penniman who is now in his 94th year has been a member of the club for many years. Although well along in years, the club up to a few months ago, had no more active a member than Mr. Penniman. He was a constant attendant at the club especially on Wednesday and Saturday evenings, entering heartily into the festivities, as heartily as the youngest. Of late however his family have deemed it inadvisable for him to be out alone evenings and his ever smiling face has been missed , by the members to whom he was familiarly known as "Uncle James."



JAMES T. PENNIMAN.

The regular meeting of the club was held Saturday evening and as there were a number of applications for membership, pending, and the club membership being at its limit, Mr. Penniman graciously expressed his desire to withdraw as a member of the club. The resignation was accepted and he was immediately elected as an honorary member for life, the vote being taken by a rising vote and as noted above being unanimous.

Announcement was made that on the night before Christmas the club as usual would keep open house and entertain its members and friends. An orchestra will furnish music during the entire evening and a buffet lunch will be served in the dining room.

Loyal Ladies, Clan McGregor, No. 1, are to meet at Clan McGregor hall, Wednesday at 2 P. M. to attend the funeral of their late sister Mrs. Christina Coe, of 23 Bennington street.

(ADVERTISE.)

THREATENS TO STAB OFFICER

Officer Hinchon Has Tussle With Prisoner

The quickness of Officer Hinchon prevented him from receiving a stab wound Sunday night on Copeland street and later landing John Carlson aged 26 years in the police station charged with assault with a dangerous weapon.

While Carlson was passing through Copeland street he was jeered by a crowd of small boys. Becoming angered at their jeers he turned and rushed at them, and as usual landed on an innocent spectator, Erno Ruska, a six year old boy. As Carlson knocked the boy to the ground Officer Hinchon arrested him and taking him to the patrol box rang for the wagon. As the wagon came in sight, Carlson who up to that moment had been standing peacefully . beside the officer, drew a dirk knife and attempted to plunge it into the officer.

There was a short but sharp scuffle which resulted in Carlson losing his knife and being bundled into the patrol wagon and taken to the station where he was locked up charged with assault with a dangerous weapon.

In court this morning he was arraigned for drunkenness, for assault on the Rusko boy and for assaulting Officer Hinchon. The charge of drunkenness was placed on file and he was fined $10 for assaulting the boy and $25 for assaulting Officer Hinchon.

MANY MOURN AT HIS BIER

Body of Dead Priest Viewed by Thousands

The body of Rev. Wiliam H. Fitzpatrick, for 38 years rector of St. Gregory's church lay in state at the church Sunday from 3 to 6 o'clock and between those hours thousands of men, women and children from all over the eastern part of the state filed through the church. Services in honor of the dead priest were attended by the Foresters, the Knights of Colubus and various church societies. Twenty-five men of the church were honorary pall bearers when the body was taken from the parochial residence to the church, followed by seven priests and hundreds of members of the parish.

This morning at 10 o'clock the final rites were held and were attended by Cardinal O'Connell and fully 300 priests from the parishes in the diocese.

MRS. EMILY IDA LANGELIER.

Mrs. Emily Ida Langelier mother of Senator-elect Louis F. R. Langelier passed away at 3.40 Sunday morning at the latter's home on Lunt street, Norfolk Downs, after an illness of nearly four years, caused by valvular heart trouble.

Mrs. Langelier was the widow of Remie Langelier of St. Hyacinth, P. Q., and was born in Rastatt, Baden Baden, Germany, on April 10, 1839.

She lived for a long time in South Boston and of late years has been spending her winters in Quincy with her two sons and her summers in Bridgewater with her daughter.

She is survived by three daughters and two sons: Mrs. Amelia Willwerth of Jamaica Plain, Mrs. Francis Gross of Los Angeles, California, Mrs. Marie Munroe of Bridgewater, Henry J. Langelier of Franklin avenue, Wollaston and Senator-elect Louis F. R. Langelier.

Funeral services will be held from the home of Louis F. R. Langelier, 16 Lunt street, Norfolk Downs at 12.30 on Tuesday. Friends and ralatives are invited.

The interment will be at Prospect Cemetery, Bridgewater. Rev. Joseph Eames of the Bridgewater Episcopal church will be the officiating clergyman.

LAUNCH AMOLCO TUESDAY NOON

Miss Taussig to Be Sponsor for Molasses Boat

The single screw steamship Amolco, built by the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation for the Boston Molasses Company will be launched at the Fore River plant Tuesday, at 12 o'clock noon. She will be christened by Miss Taussig, daughter of Felix Taussig, president of the American Molasses Co.

The vessel is one of the largest of this class of steamships in the service. She is 325 feet 6 inches overall, 46 feet beam. and her moulded depth to the upper deck is 25 feet, and her load draught is 20 feet. She is constructed of steel to the highest class in Lloyd's registry being specially surveyed by that society to obtain the class 100 AL and designed to operate in either the molasses or bulk petroleum and general cargo and sugar trade.

The hold is diveded into five double tanks with a general cargo spare forward and aft of same, the latter being separated from the former by cofferdams extending the full depth of ship. The spaces on the second deck at sides and forward and aft of expansion trunk are also used for carrying general cargo, these and the holds being operated through large hatches fitted with wood covers and the usual tarpaulins and battening arrangements. The tanks are fitted with oil-tight hatches and may be utilised for the transportation of molasses or bulk petroleum, a special pumping system having been installed for loading and discharging liquid cargo, also a steam heating system for liquefying cargo as well as to efficiently clean all spaces by steam.

The total capacity for stowing molasses is 800,000 galls., and the capacity of the coal bunkers about 500 tons . A double bottom is fitted under coal bunker and machinery spaces and divided into two tanks, the one under the coal bunker and boiler room being used for reserve feed water and one under the engine room for ballast. The pumping system for handling liquid cargo has been especially designed for pumping heavy viscous liquids such as molasses or oil. The cargo pumps, two in number, are of the Blake horizontal duplex types with steam cylinders 16 in. in diameter, pump cylinders 10 in. diam. with 18-in. stroke. A 10-in. suction main of wrought iron extends through the cargo holds on the starboard side above the floors, with 8-in. suction branches extending into each tank, each branch being fitted with a steel gate valve and bell-mouth suction end. An 8-in. discharge main of wrought iron extends through the holds above floor, port side, with branches leading to each tank, and to overboard discharge connections forward and aft. The entire system is so arranged that the cargo pumps can pump from the cargo tanks and discharge overboard from barge direct to cargo tanks from any one cargo tank to any other and from sea to any cargo tank for ballast purposes. The tanks may also be filled through the discharge main. Steam coils are fitted around the suction bell mouth in each hold so that heavy oil cargo may be partially heated in order that it may run more readily to the pumps.

The propelling machinery, located in the stern of the ship, consists of a vertical inverted three-cylinder triple-expansion engine with cylinders 22 in., 37 in., 60 in., diam., having a stroke of 42 in., supplied with steam at 180 lb. pressure by two single-ended Scotch boilers working under a heated forced-draught system

The boilers are 13 ft. 6 in. mean diameter, and 10 ft. 10 in. long, arranged in a single stoke-hold. Each boiler has three Morrison furnaces, 42 in. inside diameter, and three combustion chambers. The tubes are 2 1-2 in. outside diameter. The total heating surface for two boilers is 4,000 sq. ft., with 100 sq. ft. of grate, giving a ratio of 40 to 1. Air for heated forced draught is delivered to the furnaces by a fan located in the fire-room and driven by a 6-in. by 6-in. vertical engine. On each uptake there is a heater box around which the air passes before entering the furnaces.

The refrigerating plant consists of a one-ton ammonia direct expansion type outfit, motor driven. One ash hoist engine of the Hyde make, 4 1-2 in. by 4 1-2 in. double cylinder, is located in the stoke-hold.

Electric Decorations

Are Popular

For Christmas

Special Fittings

BECKFORD & LYNCH

3 Saville St., Quincy

Dec. 15-6t

THE QUINCY GIFT

The Most Appropriate Christmas Gift to Residents and Lovers of Quincy are the

ILLUSTRATED BOOKS ABOUT QUINCY

By the Rev. D. M. Wilson

WHERE AMERICAN INDEPENDENCE BEGAN. $2.25

ILLUSTRATED SKETCH OF QUINCY AND BRAINTREE,

Board Covers 50c. Paper Covers 25c

For Sale by Brown & Co., Quincy; G. C. Shunk, Wollaston; Branschied & Martens Atlantic.

Dec. 13-6t-13 15-17-2?-22-24-p-2w

TRANSFERS IN FIRE DEPT.

Richard T. Callahan of the West Quincy fire station who was suspended from active duty a week ago, pending an investigation as to why the West Quincy apparatus did not respond to an alarm from Box 224 in season, was returned to duty this morning. He has however been transferred from the West Quincy station to the Wollaston station. Henry Hughes who has been on duty at the Wollaston station has been transferred to the West Quincy house, and will be second in command of the station.

GOODHUE HAD LAST LAUGH

Italians Sinister Smile Gave Officer Clew

Luigi Panepinto, 132 1-2 Washington street, pleaded guilty this morning to a charge of keeping and exposing liquor for sale and was fined $75. His store was raided Sunday afternoon by Inspector Goodhue and patrolman Johnson, who found two half pints of liquor.

For nearly an hour the officers searched but found no evidence and as they were about to leave Luigi laughed and an Italian in the store said "stung." The officers returned and after sounding the walls discovered a sliding panel which when forced opened revealed several shelves and the liquor produced in evidence.

DISTRICT COURT.

Emily Noyes was committed to Sherburne for an offense committed at Weymouth Saturday.

Harry G. Noyes, charged with idle and disorderly conduct at Weymouth was sentenced to the State Farm.

George Keefe was fined $30 for a statutory offense at Weymouth and was sentenced to three months for drunkenness, latter sentence suspended.

John Carlson was fined $25 for assault on Officer Hinchon and $10 for assault on Erno Rusko at Quincy.

(ADVERTISE.)

Great Bargains Shoes and Rubbers

Selling about Half Price

4 Buckle Arctics $1.98

One Buckle Arctics 98c

At MAX LEVY'S

Cor Washington and Temple Streets

Dec. 15-t

VERY ACCEPTABLE GIFTS

Just Arrived ! Several New Styles and Some of Them Beauties

PORTABLE GAS LAMPS

AND HALL LANTERNS

.·. ALSO .·.

"IWANTU" GAS IRONS

IN FANCY HOLLY BOXES

HEATS IN FOUR MINUTES. STAYS HOT ALL THE TIME. TEN HOURS IRONING FOR FOUR CENTS.

☞ Have you investigated the Reznor Gas Heating Stoves? Everything from the handy little portable to the superb fireplace heater.

CITIZENS' GAS LIGHT CO.

Granite Street Near City Squrae

Dec. 15 9t

1876-1913

WE HAVE OFFERED FOR YOUR INSPECTION AND SELECTION EACH YEAR RELIABLE GOODS, AND WE SUGGEST YOU LOOK OVER OUR LINE OF

Watches, Cut Glass, Silver Ware, Jewelry, Clocks, Etc.

TO AID YOU IN YOUR CHRISTMAS SHOPPING WE INVITE YOUR INSPECTION OF OUR STOCK.

C. F. PETTENGILL

1391 Hancock Street Near Granite Street

TELEPHONE QUINCY 160-M Dec.13,10t

Old Company's Lehigh Egg Coal

for Your furnace

Is there anything better mined?

We Sell It

Try a Ton

C. PATCH & SON Inc.

1422 Hancock Street

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1689

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second-Class matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the . . . .

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

TELEPHONES
News . . . Quincy 425
Business . . Quincy 1910

NOTICE

Again we ask those sending news or other matter by mail to direct it to the company or newspaper rather than to individual members of the company or employees. If addressed to individuals and they were ill or not at the office, it might be several days in reaching its proper destination and if news matter would be too late for use.

Now that the store clerks are on the keen jump, the public will enjoy its Christmas shopping.

Although business is dull, the automobile factories are running overtime as the basic necessities of life have to be provided whatever else happens.

They may prohibit the importation of arms into Ireland, but the material for shillelahs is lying around fairly handy.

Don't think for a moment that the kids will be satisfied with gifts of clothing. They are not sufficiently breakable.

Of course Gov. Tener of Pennsylvania might have liked a comfortable seat in the United States Senate, but a stern sense of duty compels him to accept the more weighty responsibilities of the National Baseball League presidency.

The town of Braintree has recently purchased a large tract of land at the junction of Adams and Commercial streets, East Braintree, and in accordance with a vote passed at the last town meeting it will be used as a public playground for that section. The land was bought from Irving W. Bean of Cedar street and is large enough for football, baseball and also for tennis courts. This makes the third playground in Braintree, one for each village and there should be no congestion in future. The land is dry, level and admirably suited for the purpose for which it was bought. We trust that the playground question has been solved. The annual appropriations for up-keep and the question of park commissioners so called will doubtless be bones of contention at future town meetings.

Quite recently a number of gentlemen, yacht designers from Boston and vicinity, visited Braintreeo for the purpose of trying out several new models of racing yachts as a means of determining the best and fastest types of craft for possible defenders of the America's cup against the challenger which will be sent across the ocean by Sir Thomas Lipton to capture the trophy. The tiny racers were launched in Sunset lake and made a pretty sight as they tacked and went through various maneuvers showing off their fine points or defects as the case might be. It is an ideal spot for such tests and it may chance that one of these miniature yachts will show such speed and other necessary qualifications that her lines will be embodied in the pride of the seas that shall defeat the challenger and keep the famous trophy on this side of the Atlantic.

PARCEL POST AND THE FARMER.

After Jan 1. parcel post packages weighing 50 pounds can be carried within the first two zones. The change is made on the theory that it will help the farmers and merchants to make a much wider use of the new service.

It has certainly seemed strange that more farmers have not made an effort to use the parcel post. Next summer, when 50 pounds can be carried, it would seem certain that market gardners could get higher prices, and sell to the consumer for less than retail prices.

All that it needs is a little personal soliciting or newspaper advertising, to get the business. What is the matter with the farmer's boy that he does not build up a trade for the necessaries of life for which in-town people are now paying high prices? There must be a great many people who would order produce direct from the farmers by post card or telephone could they but know where to send for it.

FINANCIAL NEWS.

(Special to Ledger.)

Securities continue to exhibit surprising resisting qualities. Discouraging influences are numerous and active, and yet values, except in special instances, are well maintained and show a disposition to rally upon the slightest encouragement. Of course this is attributable to the sold out condition of the market; also to to the fact that the finacial district has largely discounted any possible business reaction.

Mexico has somewhat disappeared as a disturbing factor, chiefly because of the unqualified opposition of the Administration to intervention; the present policy apparently being to allow Mexico to work out its own salvation as other nations are obliged to do.

The currency bill has now passed beyond the apprehensive stage. Its provisions are being gradually but surely brought more into line with sound banking opinion, and it is now accepted as certain that the bill will be passed in reasonably satisfactory form within a very short period, and possibly before adjournment for the Christmas holidays.

There is also less apprehension regarding any drastic anti-trust legislation. Mr. Wilson's remarks upon the Sherman law were eminently sound and prudent. The law as at present drawn and as interpreted by the Supreme Court of the United States is quite sufficient to restrain monopoly. To wipe it off the statute books, or to amend it, would simply be throwing away all the past labors of the Supreme Sourt to make it reasonable and equitable; and a new law would simply precipitate fresh agitation, then litigation and prolonged unsettlement of matters already satisfactorily adjusted. Mr. Wilson's suggestion of supplementary legislation clearing up ambiguous points, especially as to definitions, appears to be the best solution of the difficulty.

A careful search of the business situation fails to find any very encouraging features. December is always a month of slowing down, but this year the tendency is more marked than usual. The causes are both economic and political. The most fundamental reason is the worldwide high cost of capital.

As a matter of fact economic conditions in the United States are sounder and more encouraging than those prevailing elsewhere. And yet business depression is nowhere so marked as along the seaboard of the United States, and this depression is gradually extending itself throughout the West and South. Why should this country suffer a keener recession in business than any other country, when intrinsic conditions are generally sound? There is no other explanation for this unfortunate condition of affairs except that of pernicious political activity.

The sharp declines in NewHaven, New York Central and Canadian Pacific came as surprises, yet the shock did not extend beyond those issues. Lower prices may be expected as we approach nearer to the new year, but should there be any improvement in prevailing economic and political tendencies a recovery in values would promptly follow, and the rise would be materially accelerated by the present outstanding short interest. Depression in the steel trade is less acute, and idle woolen looms are beginning to restart now that they can better estimate the effect of the new tariff. The more distant outlook for money is for relatively easier rates, although such can hardly be anticipated before the middle of January, and some stringency may occur in connection with the closing of the year. January disbursements aggregating about $250,000,000 will shortly be due and the December investment demand should be an elment of support, especially in the bond market and for high-grade shares.—Henry Clews, Banker, New York, Dec. 12, 1913.

DEATH OF FR. FITZPATRICK.

Rev. William Fitzpatrick, the venerable curate of St. Gregorys parish, Milton, was found dead in bed Friday morning by Rev. Fr. Charles P. Heaney, senior curate. For years it has been the custom of Father Fitzpatrick to celebrate seven o'clock mass and when he failed to appear Father Heaney entered his room and made the discovery. He was minus his shoes and collar and is thought to have been reclining on the bed when he passed away. Death was due to arterial schlerosis, superinduced by the effects of a recent shock.

He was for 38 years pastor at Milton and was beloved in the community. He was an officer of the Milton Savings Bank and of the Massachusetts Co-operative Bank at Fields corner. He was a great church builder and particularly solicitous for the rising generation.

Father Fitzpatrick was born in Erroiton, N. S. He was the only surviving member of the class of 1856 of Holy Cross college and at an alumnus banquet in 1912 delivered the valedictory he gave when he graduated. He was ordained Dec. 26, 1856, four years after he entered the Sulpician Seminary at Montreal.

He began his life work in Milford and East Boston and his first parish included Reading, Melrose and Stoneham where his name is now held in veneration by many people. He succeeded Father McNulty as pastor of St. Gregory's in 1875 and during the 37 years as pastor three parishes have grown out of his original parish.

A few months ago he took his first vacation and visited Pope Pius X. His ambition was to see the Holy Father once more and to commence the erection of a parochial school.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS?
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

CALLED TO BRAINTREE.

The Rev. M. Oakman Patton of Whitman, has accepted the call to become rector of the Emmanuel Episcopal church of this town. Rev. Mr. Patton has officiated at the afternoon services here for some time but with the beginning of the new year morning services will be held. Mr. Patton became a postulant for holy orders in 1910 coming from the Congregational church, was made a deacon the latter part of 1911, by Bishop Lawrence and six months later was advanced to the priesthood by Bishop Lawrence in St. Paul's Cathedral, Boston. He has been rector of All Saints' church, Whitman, for two years and one month during which time he has done wonderful work.

Mr. Patton has more than doubled the communicant list, thoroughly reorganized the parish, and paid off more than $600 on the church debt. The Sunday school has been enlarged from three classes to seven and an average attendance of about twelve has grown to about fifty.

REV. M. OAKMAN PATTON.

He is vice president of the Home for Aged Women and a member of the Federation of Churches.

Rev. Mr. Patton has stimulated the Whitman church so greatly, that with him here on the field, and by the aid of the morning service, it is expected that the Emmanuel church will have a big growth the coming year.

WILLEY—WHITTEMORE.

An elaborate home wedding took place the evening of Nov. 26 at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Whittemore, Mt. Ida, Newton when their niece Miss Bessie Whittemore formerly of Wollaston and a graduate of the Quincy High school, became the bride of Clinton Burgess Willey of Newton.

The drawing room and reception rooms were beautifully decorated for the occasion with a profusion of pink roses, chrysanthemums and ferns and in the dining room the decorative scheme was yellow with an attractive arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. John Goddard, pastor of the Church of the New Jerusalem, the bridal party standing in a bower of pink roses and pink chrysanthemums with background of palms and ferns.

Miss Whittemore was married on the anniversary of the wedding day of her grandparents, and was a most charming bride, in an exquisite wedding gown of white charmeuse with bodice of lace and chiffon, pearl trimmings and court train. She wore a tulle veil with coronet of orange blossoms and carried a full shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. Her only ornament was a gold and platinum pin set with pearls and sapphires, the gift of the bridegroom.

The flower girl, little Miss Margaret Whittemore, of Provo, Utah, a niece of the bride, was dressed in white and carried a basket of bride roses.

The ribbon bearers, who included the Misses Ruth Hodgkins and Eleanor E. Whittemore, nieces of the bride, assisted by Dorothea and Caroline Whittemore, cousins of the bride, were daintily gowned in white shadow lace over white messaline with ribbon bows and sashes of palest blue.

Many beautiful and costly gifts were showered upon the young couple both being popular members of society, and being prominently identified with the musical and social affairs of the Newtonville New Church Society, of which they are members.

Mr. Willey is a graduate of Williams college and is assistant sales manager of the Carter Ink Co., Boston. They are making their home in Cambridge where they will be at home to friends after Jan. 15.

—Why automobiles should be limited to a speed of 20 or 25 miles on some of the state highways, while motor-cycles are suffered to tear along the very same highways at the rate of 40, 50 and even 60 miles an hour, is a conundrum for a lot of people who do not buy gasoline or run a "car."—Salem News.

FROM REVEILLE TO TAPS.

Paul Kamerer of New York city gave a patriotic lecture at Quincy school assembly hall, Friday afternoon at 3.45 also another in the evening at 8 Both were well attended by pupils, parents and friends.

The lecture was illustrated with stories, songs, recitations, bugle calls and war reminiscences and was very instructive as well as entertaining The bugle calls were all explained, his first being "Reveille" which is the first call in the morning to awaken soldiers, and the last "Taps" which is the last call at night, "Out with lights; go to bed, down on the ground, snow or soft side of two fence-rails."

Mr. Kamerer related several humorous and pathetic stories many from his own observation. He emphasized the worth of "temperance" and dwelt upon the injuries caused by cigarettes.

The lecturer was with Gen. Grant from Pittsburg Landing until after the capture of Vicksburg, then with Gen. Sherman to Jackson, Meridian, Kenesaw, Mt. Atlanta, "March to the Sea" through North and South Carolina, Virginia and in the "Grand Review" in Washington, D. C. at the close of the war. These lacts made his lecture all the more interesting, as well as the fact that his bugle was used by him and in his Battery all through the war of '61 to '65.

MR. LORING'S WILL.

Under the will of Benjamin J. Loring of East Braintree, Mrs. Carrie F. Loring, wife of the testator, receives the most of the estate, and is appointed executrix. The album of members of Company A, First Battalion of Massachusetts Volunteer Heavy Artillery, and other pictures connected with the Civil War, are to be placed in the collection of war pictures owned by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and the Military Order of the Loyal Legion. The town of Braintree will receive pictures of Civil War generals, the Braintree Public Library will be given war volumes and the Weymouth Public Library is left pictures. Charles O. Miller is given two sabres, one that Mr. Loring captured at Aldis, Va., and one that he found at Bull Run.

MILTON

W. I. Tuckerman of Brackett street is confined to his home by illness.

Miss Frances Gosselin of Bunton place will be one of the soloists in the Faelten recital in Huntington Chambers hall, Boston. Thursday evening. She will play the Etude de Concert by Heller and Sonatina by Kuhlau, assisted by Lewis Harlow of 36 Belcher Circle, East Milton.

—After two unsuccessful tries for the position, John L. Miller, the well-known granite manufacturer, was elected mayor of the city of Quincy, Mass., recently, running as an independent candidate. By his election, Quincy is assured of a hustling official who will put no small amount of energy into the publicity end of the city's industries. The granite industry there is likely to come into its full share of booming through Mayor Miller.—Barre Vt. Times.

(ADVERTISE.)

Big Ben
has something to say to people who like to get up promptly in the morning.

He guarantees to call them on the dot just when they want and either way they want, with one prolonged, steady call or with successive gentle rings.

And he guarantees to do it day after day and year after year, if you only have him oiled every year or so.

I've known him ever since he was "that high" and I'll vouch for everything he says,

Get One of Our
CHRISTMAS GIFT CATALOGUES

Select goods Early in order to have the order and Engraving promptly attended to.

SANDBERG BROS.
Jewelers
1281 Hancock St., Quincy

BIG EXPLOSION WRECKS BUILDING

Office of Arlington Gas Light Company Badly Shattered

BOILER THROWN 300 FEET

No One Injured In Accident Although Lodger Upstairs Is Blown From His Bed—Cause Is Still a Mystery—Damage Estimated at $2500—Shock Felt For Miles

Arlington, Mass., Dec. 15.—A terrific explosion from as yet unknown cause wrecked the building of the Arlington Gas Light company, 606 Massachusetts avenue, hurled a 200-gallon boiler tank 300 feet down an adjacent street, tore down electric wires and endangered a score of lives.

One side of the office was torn completely from the building and launched against a nearby lunch cart.

No persons were standing in the immediate vicinity, for the path of the boiler torn from its fastenings and projected through the air like a torpedo, left debris of wreckage in its wake.

Only one man suffered any unusual consequences as a result of the explosion, which shook the buildings of the entire town and surrounding places. James Duncan, who is a lodger in the building, was blown out of his bed. The explosion sent its force outward rather than upward, a singular incident in connection with the mysterious affair.

Notwithstanding the heavy damage, no one was seriously injured and fire failed to follow the explosion.

The wrecked building is used on the street floor as an office by the gas company. Upstairs are the apartments of Mr. and Mrs. Charles LaBreque and their 8-year-old child, Leon. Next door is the Columbian night lunch cart of LaBreque.

After an investigation the police declared the cause of the explosion to be a mystery. The office had been shut up since Saturday night. In the window was a display of gas lighting and heating apparatus. There are three theories being considered by the authorities. The first is that the explosion was caused by leaking gas. A second theory is that the explosion was the result of the burning gas jets overheating the air in the closed office and that the explosion was in reality a hot air explosion. Others claim the safety valve on the boiler failed to work and that it was the boiler that blew up.

Although the fire department was called to the scene, there was no fire, and the fire department had little to do. The explosion practically wrecked the building. The foundations were disturbed, every window was broken, the walls on two sides were blown out and the staircases collapsed. Windows on adjacent property suffered severely and the wires in front of the building were blown to the street.

The damage to the building is estimated at $2500.

The shock of the explosion was felt throughout Arlington and parts of surrounding towns. Immediately afterward scores of people, alarmed at rumors of a huge loss of life, flocked to the scene. The telephone office was overwhelmed with calls from people who called in to ask the cause of the terrific shock that jarred the town.

OLD SHIP CAST UP

Submarine Disturbance Makes Ocean Boil on California Coast

Santa Barbara, Cal., Dec. 15.—For several days a submarine disturbance has kept the ocean along the south coast in a fury, during which time the weather has been fine and the water comparatively calm several miles from the shore.

The wreckage of an old ship was cast up. A few miles southward part of a mastodon's skeleton, which apparently had been brought up from a great depth, was washed ashore. The skeleton fragments included about thirty-five feet of vertebrae and the skull with eight-foot tusks intact.

The ship's wreckage bore indications that it had lain on the ocean bottom for perhaps 100 years.

NO MORE CHOCOLATE

Emergency Diet of Soldiers Tabooed by Secretary Garrison

Washington, Dec. 15.—Chocolate rations, long the mainstay of the army as an emergency diet, have been tabooed and Secretary Garrison has ordered that no more supplies of this food compound shall be issued to troops.

This ration has been issued in eighteen-ounce portions, and while its nutritive value is pronounced good and its keeping properties excellent, Dr. C. F. Longworthy of the agricultural department has reported that it is "defective as to digestibility and, therefore, deleterious to the health of its consumers."

Dead With Twenty Wounds

Chicago, Dec. 15.—Mike Laporta was called to the door of his home, in the South Side Italian quarter, by cries of "Hurry, your brother is dying." A moment later he was struggling with three men, who left him dead with twenty stab wounds in his body.

Capital $150,000 Surplus $200,000

MAYBE YOU DON'T REALIZE

That we can do a lot for you besides keeping your money in a safe place. We help you with your accounting, your credits, and your collections. We give free legal advice on business subjects. We have a wonderful fund of information that you would do well to remember. Call in and find out some of the advantages of being a "Granite Trust" depositor.

Our $5 Box Is Larger Than a $10 Box In Boston.

GRANITE TRUST CO.
FOUNDED 1836

BRAINTREE

The members of the Vesper Choir Association were entertained by Mrs. James Folsom of Mount Vernon street on Tuesday evening.

Rev. M. O. Patton, rector of the Emmanuel church expects to come to Braintree to reside in the near future.

The house owned by Mr. Vinton on Vinton avenue has been hired by Mr. F. P. Stone who is connected with the electric express.

Mrs. M. E. Hawes formerly of Middle street was in town Thursday calling on friends.

Miss Sears, teacher of the seventh grade of the Hollis school, has accepted a position in the schools of Brockton and will begin her duties there the first of January.

The weekly calendar of Christ church, Quincy, in its issues this week has the following words of appreciation of our townsman James H. Stedman "The parish will learn with regret that James H. Stedman has resigned from the vestry. Mr. Stedman withdraws to give his entire support to Emmanuel church, Braintree, where the people have taken upon themselves the arduous task of maintaining a

The Depot Pharmacy has added two more up-to-date attractions. One of there is a new piano, the other is a Regina music box. Mr. Worcester believes that you can work faster with music than without.

Mrs. Louise Johnston, formerly Miss Louise Tirrell, is now living with her husband's parents at East Bridgewater.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth A. Hollis, 282 Union street, have issued invitations to the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage on Thursday evening, Dec. 25.

Rea Long, manager of the High school base ball team for 1914, has arranged a good schedule for next year. The game of most importance is the one with Fairhaven High on their own grounds May 30.

morning service. All that Mr. Stedman gave to Christ church of wise counsel, active service, and generous offerings will be transferred to the daughter church in his own town of Braintree, over whose promise of growth we greatly rejoice."

Roscoe Spaulding will be able to handle much more business since he has got the new building added. With the two buildings he has a fine garage with excellent accommodations.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tilden of Mt. Vernon avenue, were the guests of relatives in Jamaica Plain, Monday.

Frank Story of Sherbrooke avenue was the guest of his parents at Hillsboro, N. H., Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Williams of Sampson avenue, spent Monday in Plymouth.

Miss Louise Weatherbee who was in the class of 1914 at B. H. S., and who moved to Bridgewater, is now training for a nurse in Boston.

Harry Allen, the crack foot ball play and grocer's clerk has changed his occupation and will now become an all-round printer. He entered today the employ of the George W. Prescott Pub. Co., at the Quincy office.

Sold on Easy Terms

Saves Millions of Steps

Useful Presents Appreciated

Give each member of the family something that they can use and enjoy all the year. They will appreciate such presents far more than knick-knacks.

For the housekeeper of the family, more hours of leisure and millions of steps saved with a Hoosier Cabinet. This gift means easy cooking, convenience and comfort for the rest of her life. An easy chair for father or brother, something for the sister's room, doll house furniture for the "baby" are gifts which afford years of pleasure.

All on exhibition here, at all prices. All high class, desirable goods no matter how reasonable. We carry no other kind.

Held for delivery for Christmas, if you wish. Let our wagon be your Santa Claus.

(110)

Open Tonight

KINCAIDE FURNITURE STORE
THE HOUSE OF HELPFUL CREDIT
Entire 5-Floor Building 1495 Hancock Street

SUNDAY IN QUINCY CHURCHES

NOTE—Press corespondents of Churches are requested to limit reports of sermons to 100 words, unless abstracts are requested. Where fifty or more sermons are delivered in Quincy every Sunday it is impossible to report them at length. Brief items of church news are requested. Name and address should accompany all reports.

FIRST PARISH CHURCH.

Rev. A. L. Hudson preached on "The Religion of Israel to the birth of Jesus Christ." He showed that the Israelites starting with a Babylonian form of Polytheism deevloped by slow degrees that lofty conception of ethical Monotheism whose perfect expression is found in the life and teachings of Jesus Christ. The Persian religion had already developed the idea of the one God—Ahura Mazda. But the thought of God as Universal and yet personal, the Universal Father of Mankind, is the gift of the Hebrew Nation to the World.

Next Sunday, which will be observed as Christmas Sunday, Mr. Hudson will preach on "The Religion of Jesus Christ."

In the afternoon, Col. Anderson gave a stirring address to the young people on "Bravery."

Among the announcements from the pulpit was a statement of the action of the Ministers' Association of Quincy, selecting January 11, as "Everybody-Go-to-Church Sunday," in accordance with a plan which has been carried out successfully in other cities of the country.

WOLLASTON CONGREGATIONAL.

The Sunday morning sermon was based on John 12:24, "Except a grain of wheat fall into the earth and die, it abideth by itself alone, but if it die, it beareth much fruit." After reading a stirring appeal from Dr. Patten for 120 young men and women to serve immediately in foreign countries, Dr. Sneath gave as an ideal for young men and women, a life consecrated wholly to God's service. It does not follow, he said, that we must go to foreign or home lands; in business life in home life, in the world, we are to let our lives and everything we are and possess minister to the welfare of those around us. The most unmanly men and unwomanly women are dominated by selfishness; true manhood and womanhood is found in self sacrifice.

The Christian Endeavorers held a chain meeting at 6.00 o'clock, Miss Avis C. Tobey, leader.

At 7.00 o'clock the pastor gave a stereopticon lecture on "The Hawaiian Islands," with colored lantern slides and H. F. Van Buskirk rendered several solos.

Tuesday evening at 6.00 occurs the Monthly meeting of the Men's club. Following supper at 6.30, there will be an address in the church at 8.15, with lantern slides, subject, "Personal Reminiscences of a Bird Man," and the speaker, Carl Ovington, the noted flyer.

A large chorus is practising the cantata, "The Holy City," to be given at the vesper service, Dec. 28.

WOLLASTON UNITARIAN.

Beautiful flowers, good singing, splendid congregation and a stirring sermon on "The Help of Religion" characterized the Sunday morning service at the Wollaston Unitarian church.

Walter M. Hatch made the opening address at the Wollaston Forum session which considered "Remedies for the social ills."

The Unitarian Sunday School Union meets in All Souls' church, Roxbury, this evening. Supper at 6 followed by "A Christmas Story" by Miss Frances M. Dadman and "The Festival of Childhood" by Rev. Palfrey Perkins.

The Alliance holds a Christmas meeting in the vestry Wednesday, at 2.30. There will be Christmas stories, poems and music.

The annual Christmas party for the children comes Tuesday, Dec. 23.

Members of this church are urged to use their influence, wherever possible, against the modern dances, like the tango etc.

Dec. 21, will be observed as Christmas Sunday. There will be a morning and evening service of worship. In the morning members of the Sunday school will unite with the congregation in worship. Special music will be rendered by a double mixed quartet. In the evening at 7.30 o'clock a "Candle Light Christmas" will be held. All the windows, the altar, the pulpit and the chancel will be lighted with Christmas candles. A special devotional service has been prepared for this unique service, the first of the kind in the history of Quincy. Christmas carols, old and new, will be rendered by the Girls' Choir. The doors will be open at seven o'clock. All seats are free and the public is cordially invited.

Members of our church are requested to have candles burning in their windows Christmas eve.

Sunday, Jan. 11, will be observed as E. G. T. C. Sunday.

PARK AND DOWNS.

The beautiful Sabbath morning, Sunday called out many people to worship at the Park and Downs Congregational church. The pastor Rev. Wm. B. Ayers took for his text Matthew 5-12th "Let your light so shine before men that they may see your good works and glorify your Father in heaven."

A plea for personal interest and personal presence in religous and social service. The minister said that the corporations of our day are becoming too vast. The heads of such are out of personal touch with the men who do the work. Men are employed in masses and machines. Then he pointed out the many societies and committees into whose care the work of charity, morals, and religion is being placed.

Organization, system, by these we are attempting to redeem the mass. More than anything else men need the touch of other lives. Personal friendship and personal interest must be shown. Jesus was the supreme example of this. He never sent anybody else to do His work. No blind beggar was too obscure to receive His personal care. At the evening service, a talk on the vicarious elements of conduct. If men realized how much pain and misery visited daily upon others for their sins; a new and overwhelming sense of responsibility would come over the race and his would be a vastly better race. Nothing is so contagious as character, along subtle channels of communication, evil thought and designs leap from mind to mind. There is no justice in the world. For every sinner punished a score of innocent ones suffer. Vicarious suffering is a fact. If evil is contagious so is goodness. The highest illustration of this is the influence of Christ spreading first to the twelve, then to several hundred several thousand and the long march across the Continents and down the centuries is commenced.

MRS. JULIA DALTON.

Mrs. Julia Dalton, wife of William Dalton of Holbrook and daughter of Mrs. Margaret Burke of Hancock court died at the Carney Hospital, South Boston, Saturday afternoon from pneumonia. She leaves her husband and five children.

QUINCY REGISTRY FOR NURSES

20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.

Will supply trained and practical nurses, attendants and nursery assistants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.

MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar.
Tel. Quincy 131-W.

WHY WAIT UNTIL THE LAST MINUTE BEFORE DOING UP YOUR CHRISTMAS GIFTS?

Do them now and get your White Wrapping Paper at the Ledger--Patriot Office.

LARGE SHEETS

20 cents a dozen

SHEETS

By single sheet 2 cents each

This bread comes to you in dust-proof wrappers, trade-marked "PETER PARLEY."

ASK YOUR GROCER FOR IT

SOUTH BRAINTREE

Mrs. Daniel Regan of Somerville was the guest Thursday of Mrs. Robert Wylie of Quincy avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hollis of Worcester were in town several days this week.

Orrin Jackson is making his home with Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Simonds of Central avenue.

Miss Margaret Bannon of Pond street, has been quite ill the past past week. Her many friends hope for her immediate recovery.

George B. M. Drollett is building quite a large ice house near his stable on Pond street. Mr. Drollett delivers his ice in Randolph.

Tony Farquharson, who bought a large tract of land on Pond street, for the purpose of improving and booming that locality, has erected an office building and will continue to improve the property.

Mr. and Mrs. Myer and family recently moved from Randolph into the house on Franklin street, owned by George F. Gardner, a former citizen of this town now residing in Bridgewater.

Miss Ellen Bondreau, who has been the guest of Mrs. James Levangie for the past six weeks, returned Saturday to her home in Wellfleet.

Mr. and Mrs. James Levangie and family of Washington street were the recent guests of relatives in Dorchester.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace S. Burgess recently moved into the lower apartment of the house owned by Mrs. Horace Jones on Franklin street.

Friends will be glad to know that Mrs. F. H. Merriam's mother, Mrs. Jones of Stoughton is recovering from the severe illness occasioned by an attack of pneumonia.

Friends will be glad to know that Richard M. Sanborn, who has been confined to his home by illness the past six weeks, is much improved in health and resumed his business duties in Quincy on Monday.

Gilbert V. Pennock of Frederick road has been confined to his house for the past few days threatened by an attack of the grip.

Mrs. G. Dallas Willis, Jr., and children of Washington street, have been making an extended visit in Chatham, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis H. Tirrell.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Eaton of Worcester, were the week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Tupper of Franklin street. Mrs. Eaton is the daughter of Walter Penniman, a former resident of South Braintree.

The new seats for the Pearl theatre have arrived and were put in use on Thursday evening. Renovations and repairs are continuing and will probably be finished in about two weeks.

Master Aubrey Hayden, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hayden of Town street has the scarlet fever.

Mesdames Minnie Cook, Ethel Hayden and Maria Hollis of Auxiliary 16, S. V. A., attended the bi-monthly meeting of the Past Presidents' Association at East Weymouth on Monday afternoon.

The regular meeting of Monatiquot Council 987 Royal Arcanum was postponed from last Wednesday night until a latter date.

Antietam Sons of Veterans Auxiliary will hold their next meeting in G. A. R. hall December 22 instead of on the regular date. Mrs. Catherine Holbrook is the newly elected president.

The regular monthly meeting and election of officers of Division 13, Ladies Auxiliary, A. O. H., will be held next Wednesday evening in K. of C. hall.

Miss Marguerite Packard of Washington street entertained friends from Quincy and Dorchester on Sunday.

Frank E. Smith who has been employed at the Rice & Hutchins shoe factory resigned his position and left for Haverhill this week much to the regret of his many friends.

Miss Elizabeth Gilbert who is now making her home in Weymouth with Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Locke was the guest of friends in town on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Lothrop of Holbrook avenue moved Monday of this week into their new home in the apartment house recently erected by Mrs. Preston Foss on French avenue.

Elmer Thayer of Pond street, lost a valuable collie dog on Tuesday last, it being run over by an automobile.

Edward T. Newcomb was made happy Friday with a present which will give him a good breakfast. The gift was a Rhode Island Red egg, three and one-fourth inches long and six inches in circumference. Samuel B. Chick, 639 Washington street is owner of the hen which laid the egg.

☞White wrapping paper for doing up your Christmas gifts can be obtained at the Ledger-Patriot office for 20 cents a dozen sheets or by the single sheet at 2 cents per sheet.

TOO SMALL FOR CONGREGATION

Owing to the growth of membership in the Fininsh Congregational church the present edifice is too small to comfortably accommodate the number attending services on Sunday evenings and arrangements have been made to occupy the Finnish Temperance hall for Sunday evening services. They will be conducted by Rev. J. E. Lillback, pastor, and from time to time there will be sermons by visiting clergymen. Music on these occasions will be furnished by a choir of local people.

COMMITTEE ON DOCKS MEETS

A meeting of the City Council and citizens committee who are considering the advisability of establishing a public dock in Quincy and the question of the site for the same met Saturday night in the Mayor's office at City Hall.

In accordance with the custom of the committee however nothing is to be given out as to what transpired. Early in the year when the committee first met it was voted that nothing that transpired in its meetings should be given to the public until the committee was ready to make its final report.

CITY SQUARE ACCIDENT

A demonstration car operated by Philip A. Parenton of 143 L street, South Boston, struck the machine of J. W. Rose of 227 Bournside street, Dorchester, as it stood opposite Hancock court, on Hancock street, Sunday afternoon. A fender on the demonstration car was badly bent.

In the machine with Mr. Rose was his wife and baby and another young woman. Riding with the demonstrator was E. J. Carroll of 202 West second street and two women. They were slightly shaken up, but uninjured.

The acident occurred when the demonstration car which was making a turn failed to work.

ALLEGED THAT CHECK WAS BAD

An unknown man attempted to pass a worthless check at the hardware store of Nathan Ames this noon and was arrested by Officer Murray and Malone while he was in the store of Sanborn and Damon. Last Friday a man answering his description succeeded in passing one on Charles McFarland in Wollaston. His method was to order goods and delivered to a Putnam street house and then tender a check in payment.

He ordered in the name of Dudley W. Tracey and the check was for $22 drawn on the account of Osgood Tarr & Co. at the NewEngland Trust Co. Boston. He gave his name as Lawrence W. Manning of Atlanta, Ga., and had several checks on him when searched at the police station.

—The American hen should be a proud bird these days with her product entering so universally into the household economy discussion. Down in West Virginia such a high value is placed on eggs that a person was sentenced to a year in prison for stealing but two of them.—Taunton Herald.

—Are the plain people insurging against their professional prophets? Here is one of them who writes to his paper to say that as "one of the common people" he is getting "darned tired" of being ruled by men whose occupation with public affairs is usually in inverse ratio to their success in private affairs, and he goes on to say:—"In fact, I'm tired of being ruled by the wild ass who is always appealing to "the people." Give me instead a man who has been successful in business or has had a real law practice." We are afraid this wearied and disgusted commoner has inadvertently hit on the crux of the great American political difficulty. As a rule the really successful and capable business men and lawyers have neither time nor taste for politics—more's the pity.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

PLUMS ARE RIPE

Governor of New York Has $1,000,000 Worth of Jobs to Dispose Of Albany, N. Y., Dec. 15.—With nearly $1,000,000 worth of patronage in state offices, large and small, to be distributed by appointment, to take effect in a few weeks, members of the political organizations in this state and members of the senate and assembly are eagerly awaiting a hint by Governor Glynn as to who will receive the chief rewards for the prompt action of the legislature in putting through his various reform measures with a speed which had never been equalled in this state.

As far as known the governor has not decided on a single appointment. He said that he proposed to give much thought to the organization of the new compensation commission. Representatives of employers, employes and insurance companies are eager for places on the body which will put the new act into effect. There are numerous candidates for every place, the governor said. He has already announced that two proffers of public service commissionership have been refused.

PROPOSAL TO OPERATORS

Copper Miners Explain How They Would Arbitrate Question

Calumet, Mich., Dec. 15.—Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, explained the proposal of the copper mine strikers for arbitration which was refused by the operators.

The miners asked that two arbitrators be chosen by the operators, two by the strikers, to be other than members of the local unions or the federation, and one either by the governor of Michigan or by the President of the United States.

A demonstration planned by the strikers was postponed until next Sunday because the halls for the meetings were not available.

TO PACIFIC COAST IN A MOTORBOAT

Young Fall River Man Off on a Long Journey

Fall River, Mass., Dec. 15.—Louis Peloquin and Wilfred Dupre, two young men of this town, have started out for a voyage half way around the world in a forty-foot motorboat. The men are now on their way to Bermuda, going at easy stages down the Atlantic seacoast.

At convenient points they put in and do some work to earn money for the purchase of food and gasolene. The motorboat tour, according to the itinerary of the two, will take about one and a half years.

The ultimate destination of the two sailors is California. They will not wait for the opening of the Panama canal in 1915, however, but will sail around Cape Horn in South America. Peloquin and Doupre will land at San Francisco in ample time to take part in the 1915 exposition.

WORCESTER'S MEAN THIEF

Fred Reed Goes to Jail For Stealing Pennies From Children

Worcester, Mass., Dec. 15.—Fred Reed, said to be Worcester's meanest thief, was given a sentence of three months in the house of correction by Judge Samuel Utley for stealing fifty copper cents, the property of various school children and alleged to have been taken a cent or two at a time.

According to the police, Reed has been making a practice of going through the clothes hanging in schoolhouse entryways and abstracting from them the lunch pennies of the owners. It is also alleged occasionally he would take a garment. When arrested pawn tickets of Boston pawnbrokers were found on him.

SLAYS WIFE IN STREET

Then New York Man Stands by Body Till Arrested by Police

New York, Dec. 15.—William Barker, a bookkeeper out of employment, in the view of hundreds of Sunday promenaders on upper Madison avenue, shot and killed his wife, Mrs. Adeline Barker, and then calmly stood by the body until a policeman arrived and arrested him. Barker used a five-chamber revolver and every bullet of it found lodgment in his wife's body.

When taken into custody Barker, who is 28 years old, said that he and his wife separated recently and that he killed her because she declined to live with him again.

Council Approves Armory Plans

Concord, Mass., Dec. 15.—The governor's council has approved of plans for the new state armory that is to be built here at a cost of $60,000 to replace the one burned a year ago. Work on the new armory will be started within a short time, as soon as the contract bids have been awarded.

Hotel Man Drops Dead

Nashua, N. H., Dec. 15.—Frank B. Prescott, 65 years old, one of the best known hotel men on the Atlantic seaboard, died of apoplexy while sitting in his office. He recently celebrated his fiftieth year in the hotel business. He was born in Nashua and has been identified with many large hotels in the east.

Holeproof Hosiery FOR MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN

Soft, Stylish, Snug-fitting, Seamless.

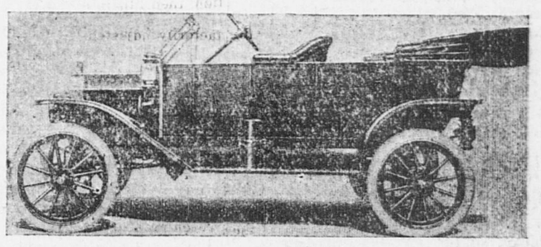
Holeproof SILK HOSE 3 pairs guaranteed 3 months

Six Pairs Cotton Hose Guaranteed to Wear Six Months or New Hose FREE

GEORGE W. JONES

1 Granite St., "Just around the Corner," Quincy

Dec. 15 2t



THE QUINCY GARAGE, 87 Adams Street, Quincy

Agent for FORD and CASE CARS

A full Line of Supplies always on hand
Michelin Tires in stock

Now Ready for Delivery the 1914 Ford Car, $550 for 5 Passenger, $500 for Runabout, $750 for Town Car F. O. B. Detroit.

For Particulars or Demonstration call Quincy 435
Night or Day never closed.

C. P. GOULD, Prop.

Dec. 12-1c-f

THAYER ACADEMY.

Friday afternoon an interesting game of basket ball was witnessed in the White gymnasium between the Senior middle and Junior middle teams of Thayer Academy.

The line-up was as follows:

SENIOR MIDDLE		JUNIOR MIDDLE
Miss J. Foss	lf	rb Miss L. Field
Miss F. Bianchi	rf	lb Miss A. Walker
Miss A. Walsh	c	c Miss L. Prescott
Miss L. Hunt	rb	lf Miss H. Summers
Miss E. Landry	lb	rf Miss E. Piercy

Senior Middle 28 Junior Middle 34. Referee, Miss Fessenden; Umpire, Palmer. Scorer McClure.

ISOLATED.

At 3 P. M. Friday, Dec. 12 the water department discovered a broken main on Pawsey street, Rock Island.

The householders on said street were notified and before sufficient water was drawn for their needs the main was shut off.

A hole was opened at the break and the men without turning on the water supply disappeared.

Suppose a fire had occurred in the immediate vicinity of the break?

Without a street for the fire apparatus (which will be built early this spring we hope) and no water to be drawn from the hydrant, another calamity was invited.

Because the men quit work at four o'clock should we and our property be placed in jeopardy?

Mr. Water Department give us a fair show.

Henry E. Hayes, Rock Island.

CHICHESTER S PILLS

THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter's Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TERS DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable

SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

Gould's Orchestra

Concert, Reception and Dance Work Solicited

Address Communications to

ALICE G. GOULD, Director

15 Willow St., East Braintree

Dec. 11-6t-o-13-1w

The Song Shop wishes you a Merry Christmas

Pianos $100 and up

Easy Terms or Cash

Hallett & Davis Piano Co.

Sheet Music. Postal Cards

M. B. & C. W. BAHR,

AGENTS,

1291 Hancock Street

Dec. 11-6t

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate.

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by James Craig and Annie L. Craig, his wife, in her own right, to Fred W. Wood dated January 25, 1905, and recorded in the Registry of Deeds for the County of Norfolk, Book 999, page 583, will be sold at public auction, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage, on the premises hereinafter described, on Tuesday the 6th day of January 1913, at forty-five minutes after two o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, and therein described substantially as follows:—

The following parcel of land situated in that part of Quincy, Massachusetts, known as "Norfolk Downs" being lot numbered 17 on plan of Charles D. Elliot, dated April 1892, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Book of plans No. 14, plan No. 640, and bounded and described as follows, viz:—Northeasterly, by Hancock Street, fifty (50) feet; Southeasterly, by lot No. 16, on said plan, one hundred twenty-eight and 48-100 (128.40) feet; Southwesterly, by lots No. 28 and 29, on said plan, fifty 2-100 (50.02) feet; Northwesterly, by lot No. 18, on said plan, one hundred twenty-nine 99-100 (129.99) feet. Containing according to said plan, sixty-four hundred sixty-one 8-10 (6461.8) feet of land.

Said premises will be sold subject to the restrictions set forth in the title deeds and to any and all unpaid taxes and assessments.

$100.00 will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale, balance in ten days from day of sale at twelve o'clock noon, at the office of the mortgagee, Room 43, 15 School Street, Boston, Mass.

FRED W. WOOD,
Mortgagee.
Dec. 15-3t 15-22-29

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Arthur H. Rogers, late of Quincy (Atlantic) in said County, deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to Ethel E. Rogers of Quincy, without giving a surety on her bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the fourteenth day of January A. D. 1914, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this tenth day of December, A. D. 1913.

JOHN D. COBB, Register.
Dec. 15-3t 15-22-29

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

Quincy Daily Ledger

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30.
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branschied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
Newcomb Square—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. Smith.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck.
L. A. Cook, Washington Street.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington Street.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield Water st.
A. Pierson, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—Capt. Fosdick's.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity: Tuesday fair. Wednesday increasing cloudiness.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	7.07
Sun sets	4.13
Length of day	9.06
Moon rises	7.21
High water, A. M.	12.45
High water, P. M.	1.15
Days decrease 6 hours,	11 minutes
Full Moon, Dec. 13,	10.00 A. M.
Last Quarter, Dec. 20	11.16 A. M.
New Moon, Dec. 27	9.59 A. M.
First Quarter, Dec. 5,	9.59 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today	38 degrees
Dec. 15 1912,	45 degrees
Dec. 15, 1911,	38 degrees

Dec. Noon Maximum 14 years—67
Dec. Noon Minimum, 14 years—2

BANQUET OF BOWLING TEAM

The members of the mould loft bowling team at the Fore River shipyard held their annual banquet Saturday night at the Quincy house Boston. The league is made up of four teams and practically every member was called upon for a speech or song. Michael Woods was the toastmaster and on the committee in charge were James E. Minhinick, Walter Stanford, William Byars and Fred McLennan.

BOWLED VERY FAST MATCH

The fastest bowling match ever rolled in this city took place Friday evening on the Coliseum alleys when an All Star team defeated the Machine Gallery representation of the Fore River league. Bernard Burke, just back from Panama got a single of 125 and a total of 340, and Carlson made a total of 330. But three pins separated the fives in the team total which was over 1400. The summary:

ALL STARS.

H. Burke	103	99	93	295
Dell	89	92	100	281
Santa Cruz	81	88	98	267
Bergfors	85	86	82	253
B. Burke	125	115	100	340
	483	480	473	1436

MACHINE GALLERY.

White	101	96	82	279
Williams	86	92	88	266
Moran	90	88	105	283
Carlson	112	110	108	330
Tirrell	92	95	88	275
	481	481	471	1433

☞PRATT'S BREAD is liked by the most discriminating people. Grocers sell it.

Call Quincy 501--W

if you want your furniture, mattresses and cushions repaired in good order at low prices M. MIRKIN, upholsterer, 1060 Hancock street, near the Quincy High School.
Dec. 1-1m

Penniman's TAXI SERVICE

Taxies and Touring Cars with careful and safe drivers to let for all occasions.

C. H. PENNIMAN, Prop.
Telephone 207.
June 18-tf

QUINCY LOSES TO NO. CAROLINA

Second Team Wins from Melrose Alumni Team

The Battleship North Carolina Basketball team took revenge on the local Association team for the defeat given to them a year ago by taking home the large end of a 24 to 22 score. The game was one of the best seen in Quincy in several years and the large crowd was kept on edge throughout the entire game. The enthusiasm was intense for the Navy team brought a large crowd of rooters with them and a goodly number of these were of the fair sex whose "rooting" was of a very strenuous nature.

The end of the first half found the visitors in the lead by the score of 14 to 5, each one of the team but Hauser having scored a goal from the field. For Quincy, Rich was the only player, who, seemed to have his "shooting" eye with him and he had scored two goals. Trask was having poor luck with his tries for most of them were rimmers which did not drop through the net. The passing and all around team work of the sailors was also far superior to that of the local players and it looked as though Quincy was in for a fine drubbing. The second period told a very different story for after a few minutes of play, Rich, Trask and Parker scored in rapid succession while the Navy had caged but one goal. Quincy crept up to within 4 points of a tie before the visitors started to score again and then Ormsby, the star center caged three baskets in rapid shape. This was the final spurt however for the Quincy boys came fast and baskets by Price, Trask and Parker ran the score up to 22 to 24 which was the final score.

For the North Carolina team Ormsby was the bright star with Gregg a close second. McDowell also played a fine game. For Quincy, Rich did the best work while Trask came fast in the last few minutes of play. Parker also played a good game scoring even with his man.

A second game has been arranged for Wednesday night, Feb. 11, here at Quincy.

The second team game was also a hot affair for the first few minutes. Melrose got the jump on the local team and kept in the lead throughout the greater part of the half. The great height of the visiting center gave him an advantage when jumping that was used to fine effect until the home boys sized up the play. Wentzell was the only man who seemed able to cage the ball, although the other men had many chances. He was covered up in good shape during the second half and as a result was able to score but once. For Quincy, Kemp in the first half and Thomas and Bishop in the last period made most of the points. Thomas especially did good work for almost all of his tries were successful. Flanders and Croucher played finely in the back field.

The summaries:

NORTH CAROLINA	QUINCY
Gregg rf	lb Parker
Lombardi lf	rb Kenn
Ormsby c	c Trask
Hauser rb	lf Rich
McDowell lb	rf Price

Score 24-22. Goals from floor—Ormsby 5, Gregg 3, Lombardi 2, McDowell 2, Rich 4, Trask 3, Parker 2, Price 1. Goals from fouls, Trask 2. Referee, Willard, Scorer L. Brooks; Timer, H. Brooks, Time 2-20m, attendance 200.

QUINCY 2ND	MELROSE
Bishop rf	lb Moore
Kemp lf	rb Davidson
Thomas lf
Miller c	c Peabody
Shirly rb	lf Wolley
Flanders rb
Croucher lb	rf Wentzell

Score 30-15. Goals from floor, Thomas 5, Bishop 4, Kemp 3, Flanders 1, Wentzell 3, Peabody 1, Moore 1, Goals from fouls, Bishop 3, Miller 1, Wentzell 3, Wolley 2; reefree, Willard scorer L. Brooks; timer, H. Brooks; time, 15-20; attendance 200.

☞White wrapping paper for doing up your Christmas gifts can be obtained at the Ledger-Patriot office for 20 cents a dozen sheets or by the single sheet at 2 cents per sheet.

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

MEXICO TO DEFY UNITED STATES

Will Disregard Orders Issued by Rear Admiral Fletcher

ACTION WOULD BE SUICIDE

Provisional President Makes Demand on Washington That Present Attitude of American Commander "Must" Be Changed—Wholesale Executions Stopped by Commander

Mexico City, Dec. 15.—General Huerta is prepared to defy the American government further than he has done before. He has issued orders to the commanders of the little Mexican gunboats at Tampico to disregard in the future the orders given by Rear Admiral Fletcher, regardless of consequences, even though such action would amount to virtual suicide.

From high authority it was learned that the Huerta government will send a protest to Washington, declaring that Rear Admiral Fletcher's attitude at Tampico 'must" be changed.

It is charged here by the government that the American commander tried to prevent the Mexican gunboats from cooperating with the land forces; that on Friday he swung his warships across the mouth of the Panuco river, delaying the gunboat Vera Cruz from landing men and supplies and blocking the movement of the other Mexican vessels.

It is also declared by the government that the rear admiral played his searchlights ashore in such a way that all the federal positions were picked out to the advantage of the rebels.

The Huerta government will put forward the statement that the acts of the American commander are evidence that intervention has practically taken place at Tampico, and an explanation will be demanded of Washington.

Both sides have executed prisoners of war, according to dispatches sent to Washington by Rear Admiral Fletcher. The most authenic dispatches from Tampico show that the rebels have been reinforced by 3000 men and that the fall of the city is imminent. Despite this the war office has issued a report of an overwhelming rebel rout, in which the rebels lost 800 men.

The war office declares that General Rabago, commanding the federal forces, reports that a heavy and sustained bombardment by the gunboats and the federal artillery resulted in the complete rout of the rebels, with great slaughter.

The number who have fallen in the actual fighting is small, but both sides are ruthlessly executing their prisoners. This started when the federals strung up a score of captured rebels in full view of the insurgent lines. The rebels retaliated at once by hanging all he federal prisoners in their hands.

These executions also were seen by the refugees aboard the warships and othr vessls. Sixty-five men had been executed when Rear Admiral Fletcher sent an officer ashore with peremptory orders that such barbarities must be stopped.

BOSTON VESSEL ON SHOAL

Schooner Charles Luling Leaking Badly and Deserted

Vineyard Haven, Mass., Dec. 15.—The Boston schooner, Charles Luling, with 300 tons of coal from New York for Falmouth, was abandoned by its crew on Middle Ground shoal, leaking badly and the master, Captain Greenlaw, said it probably would be full of water by morning. The captain's wife was set ashore in a water boat earlier in the day.

The schooner fouled a mooring and, before it could get clear, dragged her anchor, bringing up on the shoal. The revenue cutter Acushnet tried unsuccessfully to pull it off.

The Charles Luling was built in Manitowoc, Wis., in 1873, is owned by the Boston Brokerage company and has a gross tonnage of 195.

Thirty-Nine Quarantined on Train

Philadelphia, Dec. 15.—Thirty-nine passengers in the smoking car of a train which arrived here from Pittsburg were quarantined until they have all been vaccinated by city physicians. The door of the car was locked when the conductor was notified by telegraph that a passenger who had left the train at Huntingdon was suffering from smallpox.

Dr. Mary Walker to Lecture

New York, Dec. 15.—Dr. Mary Walker, who wears trousers and a top hat, will appear at Hammerstein's Victoria theatre the week beginning Jan. 5. She will lecture on the various things that have happened to her and judging from her career it sure will be an interesting skit.

President Wilson Convalescent

Washington, Dec. 15.—President Wilson was out of bed yesterday after several days of confinement with a bad cold. He sat in his room reading before a cosy fireplace, but did not leave the White House and saw no callers.

Runs Amuck In Millinery Shop

Chicago, Dec. 15.—Three persons were killed and a fourth probably fatally injured when Fred Harman ran amuck with a pistol in a millinery shop in South Oakley.

ADMIRAL FLETCHER

American Lives and Interests Near Tampico Are In His Care

Dispatches from Rear Admiral Fletcher say that after four days of fierce fighting the Mexican federal garrison at the seaport of Tampico, reinforced by the arrival of gunboats with troops, ammunition and dynamite, has driven the attacking constitutionalists out of range of their guns. With cessation of hostilities medical officers from the gunboat Tacoma and the scout cruiser Chester are ashore in the military hospitals helping to care for more than 200 wounded.

PREFERS DEATH TO LIFE WITHOUT ARM

Young Worcester Man Commits Suicide In Lake

Worcester, Mass., Dec. 15.—Because he felt that the loss of his arm would hamper him through life, Michael C. Guerin, 30, of 90 Fox street, drowned himself in Lake Quinsigamond on Dec. 1. His body was found near one of the ice houses that line the shore.

Until a short time ago, when he sustained the accident that cost the loss of his arm, Guerin had been foreman for a wire company. Of late he had been engaged in different work, and found that he could not do it to his own liking because of his physical defect.

CRETE IS ANNEXED

Grecian Flag Hoisted by King With Imposing Ceremonies

Canea, Crete, Dec. 15.—The formal annexation of the island of Crete to Greece was carried out with imposing ceremonial.

King Constantine personally ran up the Hellenic flag over the fort. People flocked to the capital from all parts of the island and from Greece and tumultuously greeted the king, the crown prince, Premier Venizelos and other ministers.

The island of Crete was finally evacuated Feb. 15, by the protecting powers, Great Britain, Russia, France, and Italy, and the Greek flag was hoisted. A detachment of bluejackets and marines from the British cruiser Yarmouth hauled down the flags of the powers, which had flown since 1898, as well as that of Turkey, with full military honors.

CANNOT TOUCH EMPLOYES

Brockton Shoeshop Foreman Fined Ten Dollars In Court

Brockton, Mass., Dec. 15.—Judge Walter I. Lane, in police court, decided that no foreman has a right to lay violent hands on an employe for any purpose, and consequently imposed a $10 fine on Alfred H. Newcomb, foreman of the George E. Keith company's stitching department. An appeal was taken.

Judge C. C. King, counsel for the defendant, argued, when the case was tried a week ago, that authorities existed which gave a foreman the right to forcibly compel an employe to obey an order. He was given time to find his authorities, but had to report that he found nothing that applied to the question.

Captain Cotton Dead at Newport

Newport, R. I., Dec. 15.—Captain Joseph P. Cotton, under whose supervision the first electric trolley line was built here, died suddenly of heart failure, aged 76 years. He leaves a son, Dr. Frank Cotton of Boston.

Plan General Strike In Philadelphia

Philadelphia, Dec. 15.—Plans for a general strike of all union labor in this city, in sympathy with the striking garment workers, were discussed at a meeting of the Central Labor union.

Aggie's childlike face changed swiftly its expression from a sly eagerness to sullenness.

"You know perfectly well, Mary Turner," she cried indignantly, "that I only said a few words in passin' to

SENATOR ROOT SEES DISASTER

Makes Vehement Attack on New Currency Measure

BILL DEFENDED BY POMERENE

Opposes Vigorously Proposals For Public Ownership and Government Control of Proposed Regional Banks—Senator Gallinger Launches Presidential Boom For Senator Root

Washington, Dec. 15.—The administration currency bill was submitted to a severe arraignment in the senate by Senator Elihu Root of New York.

He declared that the measure without statutory limitation on the issue of the proposed new currency could bring about an inflation of credit that would "result in a dreadful catastrophe."

The note issue section of the bill, he said in a dramatic peroration, "exhibits the opinions of a very great leader of the Democratic party, whose financial heresies have twice been repudiated by the American people."

The only check to an inflated currency, Senator Root contended, was in the hands of a federal reserve board, "appointed under the same influence that put into this bill these false theories, and bound to proceed in accordance with them."

The bill was defended by Senator Pomerene of Ohio, who opposed vigorously the proposals for public ownership and government control of the proposed regional banks, and declared that the bill would relieve any financial depression now existing.

Senator Weeks will speak next Tuesday against the guarantee of bank deposits. This is one of the supplemental speeches the Massachusetts senator has in mind. He participated in the running debate and interrupted Senator Pomerene, taking exception to various Democratic interpretations of the measure.

Sharp differences of opinion, appearing in the debate on the floor, and a marked disinclination to compromise, which was evident in corridor conferences between Democratic and Republican leaders, dissipated the hopes for an early vote on the bill which has prevailed for several days. Republican senators who were willing to end debate summarily if they could secure the elimination of certain features of the bill, including the proposals to guarantee bank deposits and the redemption of the proposed new notes in "gold or lawful money," met little encouragement and the leaders almost gave up hope for an early vote.

Senator Root, in opening his attack on the bill, presented an amendment calculated to place a restriction on the issue of the proposed government notes, by taxing the reserves held against the notes when they fell below 50 percent and by imposing a graduated tax on the issues above $900,000,000 and $1,200,000,000. Some restrictive amendment, he declared, was absolute necessary.

He asserted that under the bill, as presented by Senator Owen, it provided for "easy money for everybody," and that any one who could "draw and sign a bill" could secure currency. An inflation of credit, he said, could be prevented only by the action of the federal reserve board.

Just after Senator Root concluded his speech, Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire, launched a presidential boom for the New York senator. In a statement lauding Mr. Root, as the ablest advocate of sound economic and financial doctrines in this country, Senator Gallinger said:

"Unless the Republican party nominate Senator Root as their candidate for the presidency of the United States they will miss the greatest opportunity that has ever presented itself to that party."

A YOUNG SCHOLAR

Three-Year-Old Los Angeles Boy Is Able to Read Fluently

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 15.—Marshall Gretmore is 3 years old and can read. On his second birthday his mother bought him a set of blocks with raised letters.

The child reads fluently and with interest. His education is being carried out along the line of developing personality and self-control. As a result of the latter object he is never allowed to cry, and will even receive chastisement without tears.

$18,000 Fire at Bingham, Me.

Bingham, Me., Dec. 15.—A fire which caused damage estimated at $18,000, burned out the dry goods store of Mark Saskge & Co., and the general merchandise store of Preble and Robinson. Good water pressure was credited with averting a serious fire in the business section.

Ninety Carloads of Pecans

Brownswood, Tex., Dec. 15.—Ninety carloads of pecans—2,500,000 pounds—were gathered in central Texas this year, for which the growers received approximately $200,000. Ballinger reported the prize tree, which netted its owner $300.

Maine Hunter Killed

Bangor, Me., Dec. 15.—Albert L. Page of East Eddington was shot and instantly killed while huntingg near Kingman.

IS QUINCY SATISFIED?

The Evidence Is Convincing. The Testimony Open to Investigation.

Before a statement can be accepted here, it must be supported by local testimony—by the evidence of someone residing in Quincy. Statements from unknown people in remote places may be true, but we cannot prove them. Here is a statement by a Quincy resident:

C. P. Russell, 37 Washington Street, Quincy, Mass., says: "My kidneys were weak and acted irregularly. I also suffered from pains in my back. I used Doan's Kidney Pills, and the first box relieved me. I intend to continue taking this medicine."

"When Your Back is Lame—Remember the Name." Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. Russell had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

CHOICE ARTICLES FROM THE PHILIPPINES

LUCBON HATS—Very best grade of the famous Panamas and Bankoks made. Absolutely none better, woven under water by hand. Can be crushed into a ball and not lose shape. Made for both Ladies and Gentlemen. $5 and $10.

ROMBLON MATS—Handsomest and most durable Grass Mats or Rugs made in the world. Beautiful colors and designs, large enough to cover one-half floor of rooms. $5.

MANILA CIGARS—$3 for a trial box of the Very Best Cigars made in the Philippines.

Oriente Cigarrettes—Best made, large package containing 25 small packages, 750 Cigarrettes, $2.

Sent by registered mail, free of duties, on receipt of price.

C. A. SHORT & CO.
Lucena, Tay, P. I.
Oct 4 L&O 3m

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

In effect Nov. 16, 1913

The letters in the same line as the figures below stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows.

a Wollaston	f Harrison Square
b Norfolk Downs	g Savin Hill
c Atlantic	h Crescent Avenue
d Neponset	i South Boston
e Pope's Hill	r Quincy Adams
* Saturdays Only	† Except Saturday

Exp.—Express train.

TO BOSTON			FROM BOSTON
Leave	Stop	Arrive	Leave	Stop	Arrive
r 5 14	abcdefghi	5 41	5 44	ihgfedcba	6 14 r
r 6 19	abcd	6 40	6 09	ihgfedcba	6 39 r
r 6 32	e	6 49	6 29	a	6 47
			6 47	Exp	7 04
r 6 40	abcf	7 00	7 14	hgfedcba	7 41 r
r 7 08	abcd	7 30	7 34	a	7 52
7 28	a	7 46	7 37	a	7 56
r 7 32	Exp	7 49	7 44	c	8 03 r
r 7 42	ab	8 00	8 34	cba	8 55 r
7 55	a	8 12	8 44	b	9 02
r 8 13	abc	8 32	9 09	fedba	9 32 r
8 24	a	8 41	9 44	a	10 01 r
r 8 33	a	8 50	10 14	ihgfedcba	10 41 r
r 8 59	ad	9 16	10 54	Exp	11 10
r 9 18	abc	9 39	11 14	hgfedcba	11 41 r
r 10 04	a	10 21	11 49	a	12 07
r 10 19	abcdefghi	10 45	12 14	hgfedcba	12 41 r
11 12	a	11 23	12 29	a	12 38
11 24	abcdefgh	11 50	12 50	Exp	1 06
12 04	a	12 20	1 16	fedcba	1 40 r
			* 1 32	a	1 50
r 12 27	abcdefghi	12 53	1 41	a	2 01
r 1 16	a	1 34	2 14	fedcba	2 37 r
2 04	a	2 20	2 34	Exp	2 50
r 2 19	abcdefgh	2 45	3 14	hgfedcba	3 40 r
r 3 13	Exp	3 32	3 44	a	4 02
4 04	a	4 20	4 12	fedcba	4 35 r
r 4 26	abcdefgh	4 53	4 15	a	4 32
5 12	a	5 19	4 40	c	4 58
r 5 30	abcdefg	5 55	4 55	a	5 11
6 04	a	6 21	5 13	a	5 32
6 12	ab	6 32	5 19	hgfeca	5 43
6 57	a	7 15	5 28	ba	5 46 r
r 7 22	Exp	7 39	5 40		5 57
7 29	ab	7 48	5 58	a	6 17 r
r 8 09	abcdef	8 32	6 01	iedcb	6 24
9 00	a	9 18	6 16	a	6 35
r 9 10	abc	9 29	6 30	ecba	6 52 r
* 9 17	Exp.	9 32	6 59	fedcba	7 24 r
r 10 07	abcdef	10 30	7 11	a	7 28
* 10 19	a	10 37	8 04	fedcba	8 28
11 13	a	11 30	* 8 19	Exp	8 35
r 11 30	abcd	11 50	9 19	a	9 37
			9 34	b	9 53 r
			10 0	ba	10 24
			10 34	fedcba	11 01 r
			* 11 00	a	11 25 r
			† 11 09	fedcba	11 35 r
			* 11 25	ba	11 43 r
			† 11 29	ba	11 46
			12 05	cba	12 26 r

SUNDAYS

r 7 43	abc	8 03	6 29	ba	6 48
8 30	Exp	8 45	8 34	cba	8 55 r
r 8 46	abcdefghi	9 13	10 39	cba	10 59 r
r 9 13	abc	9 33	12 14	ihgfedcba	12 42
9 31	a	9 47	12 44	Exp	1 01
10 25	ac	10 42	1 29	ihgfedcba	1 57 r
r 11 16	abcdefghi	11 43	2 14	hgfedcba	2 42 r
1 04	a	1 23	2 44	a	3 02
r 1 16	abcdefgh	1 43	3 14	ihgfedcba	3 42 r
r 3 10	abc	3 30	4 26	cba	4 48 r
r 4 16	abcdefghi	4 43	5 14	ihgfedcba	5 42 r
4 59	ab	5 16	6 09	Exp	6 25
5 06		5 23	6 14	ihgfedcba	6 42 r
6 16	abcdefghi	6 43	7 02	cba	7 22 r
7 21	Exp	7 36	8 14	ihgfedcba	8 41 r
7 29	abcdefghi	7 55	8 39	a	8 56 r
r 8 16	abcdefghi	8 43	8 49	Exp	9 05
9 46	a	10 04	9 29	ihgfedcba	9 57 r
10 46	abc	11 05	10 44	cba	11 04 r

A Merry Xmas to all.

When buying Pianos or Musical Instruments see

JOHNSEN
6 Chestnut Street, Quincy
Pianos from $10 up
Dec. 8 12t

LONG LIVED ROOFING

Buy your roofing with the idea that it is going to last for years to come.

NEPONSET PAROID ROOFING

is made carefully from the very best materials obtainable. It has received the endorsement of the leading railroads of the United States as well as that of the United States Government. We also handle the Neponset Wall Board which comes in 3 finishes and is good for any room in the house. Call or write for samples.

L. GROSSMAN & SONS
Tel. 970-W
Jackson St., Near Quincy Adams Depot

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED
Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

Bay State Street Railway Company

TIME TABLE

In effect April 8, 1913.

(Subject to change without notice.

Leave QUINCY for

Braintree, 6.15, 6.50 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Braintree, 6.25 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.25 P. M. Sundays, 7.55 A. M. and then same as week days.

Brockton, 6.15, 6.50 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Brockton 6.20, 7 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 9.30 P. M. Sundays, 8 A. M. then same as week days.

West Quincy, and East Milton, 5.30 5.50, 6.10 A. M., and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M.) Sundays, 6.50 A. M. then same as week days. Return leave East Milton, 5.55, 6.15, 6.45 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.45 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.10 midnight.) Sundays, 7.25 A. M., then same as week days.

East Weymouth, 6.00, 6.15, 6.35, 7.05, 7.35 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.05 P. M. then 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.35 A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave East Weymouth, 5.50, 6.15, 6.45, 7.00, 7.10, 7.45, A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.45 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M. then same as week days.

Houghs Neck, 5.15, 5.35, 6.10, 6.40, 7.10, 7.40, A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. then 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 6.50, 7.40 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. Return leave Houghs Neck, 5.40, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 7.30, 8.00, 8.30, 9.05 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.35 P. M. then 12.10 midnight. Sundays, 7.20, 8.05, 8.35, 9.05 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.35 P. M.

Neponset via Hancock Street,—5.45 6.20, 6.50 A. M. and every 30 min. to 10.50 P. M. then 12.50 midnight. Sundays, 6.50 A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 6.40 7.10, 7.40 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. then 12.55 midnight. Sundays, 7.40 A. M. then same as week days.

Neponset via Wollaston—6.08, 6.34, 7.03 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.03 P. M. then 11.20, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.03 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 6.25, 6.55, 7.25, A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.25 P. M. then 11.42 P. M. and 12.12 midnight. Sundays, 7.25 A. M. then same as week days.

Neponset, via Norfolk Downs, 6.25, 6.55, 7.25, 8, 8.30 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11 P. M.) Sundays, 7.30 A. M. then the same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 7, 7.30 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.30 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.30 P. M.) Sundays, 8 A. M. then same as week days.

Weymouth Landing, 5.20, 6.00, 6.30 6.55, 7.25, 7.55 A. M. then every 30 minutes, until and including 10.55 P. M. Sundays, 7.25, A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave Weymouth Landing, 5.45, 6.15, 6.40, 7.15 7.45 A. M. then every 30 minutes until and including 11.15 P. M. Sundays 7.45 A. M. then same as week days.

Leave NEPONSET for

Squantum, 6.25, 6.55, 7.25, 7.55 8.25, 9.35, A. M. every 60 minutes to 4.35 P. M. then 4.55, 5.25, 5.55, 6.25, 7.35, 8.35, 9.35, 10.35 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.30, P. M. Sundays, 7.35, A. M. every 60 minutes to 10.35 P. M. Return, leave Squantum, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 7.30, 8.00, 8.30, 9.00 A. M. every 60 minutes to 5.00 P. M. then 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.15, 8.00 A. M. every 60 minutes to 11.00 P. M.

THOMAS GAMMON, Superintendent

WITHIN THE LAW

By MARVIN DANA
FROM THE PLAY OF
BAYARD VEILLER

Copyright, 1913, by the H. K. Fly company.

(Continued from Friday Issue.)

CHAPTER IX.
A Bridegroom Spurned.

"YOU know—Aggie told you—that Cassidy was up here from headquarters. He didn't put a name to it, but I'm on." It was Garson speaking. Mary regarded him inquiringly, and he continued, putting the fact with a certain brutal bluntness after the habit of his class. "I guess you'll have to quit seeing young Gilder. The bulls are wise. His father has made a holler."

"Don't let that worry you, Joe," she said tranquilly. She allowed a few seconds go by, then added as if quite indifferent, "I was married to Dick Gilder this morning." There came a squeal of amazement from Aggie, a start of incredulity from Garson.

"Yes," Mary repeated evenly, "I was married to him this morning. That was my important engagement," she added with a smile toward Aggie.

Aggie sat erect, her baby face alive with worldly glee.

"Oh, gee, what luck!" she exclaimed noisily. "Why, he's a king fish, he is. Gee, but I'm glad you landed him!"

"Thank you," Mary said with a smile that was the result of her sense of humor rather than from any tenderness.

It was then that Garson spoke. He put a question of vital significance.

"Do you love him?"

The question caught Mary all unprepared, but she retained her self control sufficiently to make her answer in a voice that to the ordinary ear would have revealed no least tremor.

"No," she said. She offered no explanation, no excuse; merely stated the fact in all its finality.

"Then you won't leave us?" Garson asked. "We're going on as we were before?" The hint of dejection in his manner had vanished. "And you won't live with him?"

"Live with him?" Mary exclaimed emphatically. "Certainly not!"

Garson was still patient in his determination to apprehend just what had come to pass.

"Does he understand the arrangement?" was his question.

"No, not yet." Mary admitted, without sign of embarrassment.

Garson was intently considering another phase of the situation, one suggested perhaps out of his own deeper sentiments.

"He must think a lot of you," he said gravely. "Don't he?"

"I—I suppose so."

Garson spoke very softly, but with an intensity that left no doubt as to the honesty of his purpose.

"I'd say throw up the whole game and go to him, if you really care."

There fell a tense silence. It was broken by Mary.

"I married him to get even with his father," she said. "That's all there is to it. By the way, I expect Dick will be here in a minute or two. When he comes just remember not to—enlighten him."

"Mr. Gilder," Fannie announced.

"Any one with him?"

"No, Miss Turner," the maid answered.

"Have him come in," Mary ordered.

Garson made hasty excuses and went out on the heels of the maid. Aggie, however, consulting only her own wishes in the matter, had no thought of flight, and, if the truth be told, Mary was glad of the sustaining presence of another woman. She got up slowly and stood silent, while Aggie regarded her curiously. A moment later the bridegroom entered. He was still clean cut and wholesome. Some sons of wealthy fathers are not after four years' experience of the white lights of town. And the lines of his face were firmer, better in every way. It seemed, indeed, that here was some one of a resolute character, not to be wasted on the trivial and gross things. He caught Mary in his arms with "Hello, dear!" smothered in the kiss he implanted on her lips.

Mary strove vainly to free herself.

"Don't, oh, don't!" she gasped.

Dick released his wife and smiled the beatific smile of the newly wed.

"Why not?" he demanded, with a smile.

"Agnes!" It was the sole pretext to which Mary could turn for a momentary relief.

The bridegroom faced about and perceived Agnes. He made a formal bow and spoke quietly.

"I beg your pardon, Miss Lynch, but"—a smile of perfect happiness shone on his face—"you could hardly expect me to see any one but Mary under the circumstances. We were married this morning."

Aggie accepted the news with fitting excitement.

"Goodness gracious! How perfectly lovely!"

"You bet it's lovely!" Dick declared. He turned to Mary, his face glowing with satisfaction.

"Mary," he said, "I have the honeymoon trip all fixed. The Mauretania sails at 5 in the morning, so we will"—

"Where is your father?" the bride asked, without any trace of emotion.

"O Lord! I had forgotten all about dad. I'll tell you what we'll do. We'll send dad a wireless from the ship, then write him from Paris."

"What was your promise? I told you that I wouldn't go with you until you had brought your father to me and he had wished us happiness."

"Mary," Dick said reproachfully, "you are not going to hold me to that promise?"

"I am going to hold you to that promise, Dick."

"All right. You pack up what things you need, girlie—just a few, because they sell clothes in Paris. And meantime I'll run down to dad's office and have him back here in half an hour. You will be all ready, won't you?"

"Yes, yes. I'll be ready. Go and bring your father."

"You bet I will!" Dick cried heartily. He would have taken her in his arms again, but she evaded the caress.

"Just one!" Dick pleaded.

"No," the bride replied with determination.

There was silence in the drawing room until the two women heard the closing of the outer door of the apartment. Then, at last, Aggie relieved her pentup emotions in a sigh that was near a groan.

"Oh, gosh!" she gasped. "The poor simp!"

Garson, learning from the maid that Dick Gilder had left, returned just as Mary was glancing over the release with which General Hastings was to be compensated, along with the return of his letters, for his payment of $40,000 to Miss Agnes Lynch.

Mary spoke crisply to Agnes. "And now you must get ready. You are to be at Harris' office with this document at 4 o'clock, and remember that you are to let the lawyer manage everything."

"I don't see the use of all this monkey business," she protested. "All I want is the coin."

"Listen, Agnes. The last time you tried to make a man give up part of his money it resulted in your going to prison for two years."

"But that was so exciting."

"And this way is so safe," Mary rejoined sharply. "Besides, my dear, you would not get the money. My way will. Your way was blackmail. Mine is not. Understand?"

"Oh, sure!" Aggie replied grimly, on her way to the door.

"Mr. Griggs," Fannie announced. There was a smile on the face of the maid, which was explained a minute later, when the visitor was shown into the drawing room, for his presence was of an elegance so extraordinary as to attract attention anywhere—and mirth as well from ribald observers.

"Just one," Dick pleaded.

Meantime Garson had explained to Mary.

"It's English Eddie. You met him once. I wonder what he wants? Probably got a trick for me. We often used to work together."

"Nothing without my consent," Mary warned.

"Oh, no, no, sure not!" Garson agreed.

Further discussion was cut short by the appearance of English Eddie himself, a tall, handsome man in the early thirties, who paused just within the doorway and delivered to Mary a bow that was the perfection of elegance. Mary made no effort to restrain the smile cause by the costume of Mr. Griggs. Yet there was no violation of the canons of good taste, except in the aggregate. From spats to hat, from walking coat to gloves, everything was perfect of its kind. Only there was an overelaboration, so that the ensemble was flamboyant. And the man's manners precisely harmonized with his clothes, whereby the whole effect was emphasized and rendered bizarre. Garson took one amazed look and then rocked with laughter.

Griggs regarded his former associate reproachfully for a moment and then grinned in frank sympathy.

"From your costume," Mary suggested, "one might judge that this is purely a social call. Is it?"

"Well, not exactly," Griggs answered with a smile.

"So I fancied," his hostess replied. "So, sit down, please, and tell us all about it."

English Eddie wasted no time.

"Now, look here," he said rapidly, "I've got the greatest game in the world. Two years ago a set of Gothic tapestries worth $300,000 and a set of Fragonard panels worth nearly as much more were plucked from a chateau in France and smuggled into this country."

"Are them things really worth that much?" Garson exclaimed.

"Sometimes more," Mary answered. "Morgan has a set of Gothic tapestries worth half a million dollars."

Griggs went on with his account.

"About a month ago the things I was telling you of were hung in the library of a millionaire in this city." He hitched his chair a little closer to the desk and leaned forward, lowering his voice almost to a whisper as he stated his plan.

"Let's go after them. They were smuggled, mind you, and no matter what happens he can't squeal. What do you say?"

Garson shot a piercing glance at Mary.

"It's up to her," he said. Griggs regarded Mary eagerly as she sat with eyes downcast.

(To be Continued.)

HOLIDAY SUGGESTIONS.

Pretty Accessories That Every Woman Likes—Favors at Small Cost.

The shops and exchanges are replete with pretty new conceits that make the most acceptable sort of favors to carry a Christmas greeting, and the woman who has time and taste needs little money to concoct most of them, thought they cost a pretty penny in many instances.

HEAD DRESSINGS.

All sorts of coiffure ornaments are fashionable so filet bands of all sorts are an excellent choice for women of all ages. These may be of tinselled or beaded net, of jets of any color, for the term "jet," no longer means black alone, as it used to. Or the band may be a plain strap of velvet and rely upon an upstanding spray of lace, feather or some of the thousand-and-one artificial aigrettes that have appeared to replace the outlawed natural plumage. The prevailing styles in hairdressing are high, the hair massed at or near the crown of the head with the shape of the head always evident.

THEATRE CAPS.

The caps for wear with a morning gown, or an elaborate evening get-up, differ only in the elaborateness of their materials, hardly at all in their form which is usually a variation of the mob cap. The newest thing is to stretch the lace over a small wire frame which often has a narrow brim of fur or velvet, and a bit of color in the shape of a single rose, or a tiny bouquet of buds of odd blendings. Dull metal laces, in silver or gold are first choice for these dainty little hats but they are often made of other laces and nets with a touch of the fashionable tinsel added in their garniture. Punchinello shapes, with their points tipped up on the sides, and bowl and pancake shapes strapped under the chin with velvet ribbon are favorite and becoming forms for these transparent head coverings.

5607
5669
5620
Hat

The above designs are by The McCall Company, New York, Designers and Makers of McCall Patterns.

POSSIBILITIES OF RIBBON.

More than ever before perhaps can one obtain fashionable effects with ribbons. Black ribbon is particularly desirable for hat bows, girdles, cravats and many odd and pretty waist garnitures in fichu and stole effects. Any fashion book will supply ideas of the ways in which ribbon can be employed in making acceptable and modish gifts.

Ribbon and silk and velvet flowers are all desirable, and among the newer forms in which these appear are hat pin heads, and slipper buckles, and ornaments across the top of side combs, which transform cheap ten or fifteen cent combs into smart prettiness. Bunches of queer looking wool flowers, in odd mixed colorings, backed by frills of metal or ecru lace are seen on some of the best imported hats and dresses, and these can be quickly made of odd bits of colored zephyrs. Little band boxes are the favorite receptacles for these artificial nosegays. One can buy them or make them without much trouble.

SACHETS.

Sachets are always acceptable provided care is exercised to secure the favorite perfume of the recipient, for fastidious people do not like a mixture of scents. Little flat cushions sewed fast to gilt safety pins that can be pinned fast to the corsage, or wherever else one desires, are among the most popular forms, and scented bags of flowered ribbon to hold a pair of stays, or evening slippers are sure to be appreciated by the woman who likes dainty belongings.

Fannie Field.

New York, Dec. 10, 1913.

NUNS FIGHT FIRE

School and Convent at Montpelier, Vt., Threatened by Flames

Montpelier, Vt., Dec. 15.—Sister Superior Xavier, principal of St. Michael's Catholic schdol, located on Court street, this city, dashed into the basement of the building when fire was discovered and until driven out by fierce heat and thick smoke, fought the fire with a hand extinguisher.

The building houses the school and the convent of the Sisters of Mercy.

When the fire started from an overheated furnace, while the sisters were engaged in decorating one of the school rooms for Christmas, the nuns scattered throughout the building rapidly collecting valuable statuary, pictures and furnishings which were placed out of the reach of the flames.

An alarm was sounded by a student, and after a hard battle the blaze was subdued. The loss, principally from smoke and water, will amount into the thousands. The building was covered by insurance.

LURED BY AD

Providence Girl Held Prisoner Two Weeks In Los Angeles

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 15.—Answering a note smuggled out of a cottage in the south end of the city, policewomen found Bertha Lake, the 23-year-old daughter of an oysterman near Providence, R. I., who says she had answered a matrimonial advertisement and had been held a prisoner for two weeks by the man whom she came here to marry.

The man, Robert Ciboch, a young Austrian, was arrested, and investigation is under way which may result in the filing of a serious charge against him.

Miss Lake said she answered an advertisement in a matrimonial paper which led to a correspondence with Ciboch. This resulted in his sending her a railroad ticket, on which she came here. On her arrival she said Ciboch took her to the cottage and there drugged her, after refusing to marry her.

HUNT FOR BANDIT TRAPPED IN MINE

Lopez Alive and Defiant Is Report Brought to Sheriff

Bingham, Utah, Dec. 15.—Belief that Ralph Lopez, Mexican bandit and slayer of six men, who has been in hiding in the Utah-Apex mine for days, is still alive and determined to fight to the death before capture, was encouraged by traces of his activities in the mine, and the sheriff and posses which are seeking the murderer have renewed their search. Objections entered by the mine owners delayed the siege for twenty-four hours, but these objections have been overcome.

When the conference between the legal authorities ended Sam Rogers, a shift boss, resigned, saying that he would not enter the stronghold of the desperado.

Rogers told of having talked with Lopez twice in one of the tunnels of the Utah-Apex mine in the last two days and of the desperado remarking they would meet again, but when the time came for the shift boss to enter the tunnel he was well on his way to Salt Lake.

TO WED DESPITE CZAR

Court Inclined to Think Forbidden Marriage Will Take Place

St. Petersburg, Dec. 15.—European court society is eagerly awaiting to see whether the czar's private order forbidding the marriage of his niece, Princess Irene Alexdrovna, daughter of the czar's sister, Grand Duchess Xenia, to Count Soumarokoff Elston, son and sole heir of Princess Youssoupoff, the richest woman in Russia, will be carried out.

The marriage has been officially declared off, but society is inclined to believe the match was a genuine love affair and that it will take place regardless of the wishes of the czar or other members of the royal family.

MEAT FOR THE NEEDY

Rabbit "Drive" In Oregon Nets 1200 Bunnies In Two Square Miles

Pendleton, Ore., Dec. 15.—Meat for the needy in several Oregon cities was furnished free of charge by farmers of this section. In a drive covering only two square miles the farmers killed 1200 rabbits which had destroyed much fall sown wheat.

The animals were shipped to Portland and other cities for distribution among the poor. It is being arranged to continue the drives over a territory of twenty-five square miles and clear the wheat fields of the pests.

Figueroa to Fly Over Andes

Santiago, Chile, Dec. 15.—Senor Figueroa, who has been making preparations for a flight over the Andes, left here for the foot of the mountains and hopes to carry out his object this week. The flight will be attempted at a point where the mountains attain an altitude of nearly 20,000 feet.

Panama Artillery Shipped

New York, Dec. 15.—Ten mortar guns and carriages were loaded on the steamship Cristobal, for shipment to the Panama canal zone. They will be used in the fortifications. A detachment of artillery will accompany the equipment.

Sheriff's Sale.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
NORFOLK, ss.
Quincy, Dec. 13, 1913.

Taken on Mesne Process, and will be sold at public auction on Thursday, December 18, 1913, at nine o'clock A. M., at Penniman's Stable, Granite Street, in said Quincy, the following personal property, to wit:—

Two horses, three harnesses, two open express wagons and one buggy. Terms cash.

GEORGE H. FIELD,
Deputy Sheriff.
Dec. 15-1t

MORTGAGEE'S SALE.

Pursuant to the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Columbus S. French to the Wildey Savings Bank, dated July 23, 1903 and recorded in Norfolk Deeds book 953 page 527, will be sold at public auction on the premises described in said mortgage for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same on Thursday Jan. 8, 1914 at 9.30 o'clock in the forenoon all and singular the real estate described in said deed, a certain lot of land containing 5,000 square feet of land with the buildings thereon situated in Quincy Mass., and being lot No. 20 on a plan of House Lots on Cranch Hill by H. T. Whitman surveyor dated Jan. 20, 1897 and recorded with said registry book 777, page 538. Said lot is bounded as follows to wit:— northeasterly on Whitwell street sixty feet; southeasterly on lot No. 21 on said plan one hundred feet; southwesterly on lots No. 49 and No. 50 on said plan sixty feet; northwesterly on lot No. 19 on said plan one hundred feet. Said premises will be sold subject to any existing restrictions, unpaid taxes and tax sales, if any.

WILDEY SAVINGS BANK.
Mortgagee.
Boston, Dec. 13, 1913.
Dec. 15-3t 15-22-29

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To all persons who are interested in the real estate hereinafter mentioned:

Whereas Henry D. Federhen of Quincy in said County, having an interest in certain real estate situated in Quincy in said County and described in said petition, has presented to said Court his petition setting forth that said real estate is subject to a vested or contingent remainder or reversion created under the will of John Federhen late of Quincy in the County of Norfolk deceased, and praying for the appointment of Old Colony Trust Company, a corporation of Boston in the County of Suffolk, or some other suitable person, as trustee to sell and convey at private sale or public auction said real estate, for reasons therein set forth. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Dedham, in said County of Norfolk, on the seventh day of January A. D. 1914, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is ordered to serve his citation by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this eleventh day of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen.

John D. Cobb, Register.
Dec. 13-3t 13-15-22

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To all persons interested in the estate of William H. Foster late of Quincy in said County, deceased:

Whereas, Emery B. Gibbs the administrator of the estate of said deceased, has presented for allowance, his first and final account of his administration upon the estate of said deceased; You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham in said County, on the seventh day of January A. D. 1914, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be allowed. And said administrator is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to all persons interested in the estate fourteen days at least before said Court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twelfth day of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen.

JOHN D. COBB, Register
Dec. 13-3t 13-15-22

ADMINISTRATRIX'S NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administratrix of the estate of Winifred Cullen, late of Quincy in the County of Norfolk, deceased, intestate, and has taken upon herself that trust by giving bond as the law directs.

All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

AGNES E. CONRAD, Adm.
(Address)
Care of Wheaton Kittredge, 515 Barristers Hall, Boston.
December 4, 1913.
Dec. 6-3t 6-8-15

ARTHUR L. THOMAS
Attorney-at-Law
3-4-5-6 Greenleaf Block
Telephone Quincy 460 Jan.2-1y

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents. No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

WANTED

WANTED—Boy to work in Candy Shop. Apply 46 Gay street. I. E. Nickerson. 15-tf

WANTED—Board for infant child. Best of references required. Write B. Ledger Office. 13-3t

WANTED—A man, "a live wire" to canvass the city of Quincy and sell the most up to date vacuum carpet cleaner manufactured. Must give satisfactory reference. Wm. S. Currier, Currier's Market, 1381 Hancock street.

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing. Myatt, 40 Baxter street. Tel. 1307-M. Quincy. Pac. 22-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE — Apples, Baldwins, Greenings and Russets. A. J. Cavanagh, 72 Cedar Street Braintree. Tel. 41-4. 15-6t

FOR SALE or TO LET—New houses Apply to Thompson B. Crane, 403 Washington street, Quincy. 1-tf

SWITHIN
Real Estate
Mortgages-Insurance
Greenleaf Block
Quincy
Tel. Quincy 460. Nov. 10-tf

JAMES F. BURKE & CO.
Real Estate and Insurance
Care of Property. Mortgages
Justice of Peace. Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 288 M. Nov. 11-tf

WM. H. TEASDALE
REAL ESTATE
Insurance Mortgages
NOTARY PUBLIC JUSTICE OF THE PEACE
Room 23 Adams Building
Telephones { Residence 544-3 / Office 683-M
otf

TO LET
Large Front Office Greenleaf Block—2 entrances—right at the head of the stairs—one of the most desirable offices in Quincy.
Office, Durgin-Merrill Block—3 large windows—only 1 flight up—exceptional opportunity.
Hancock Building—City Square Offices—small front office, $11 a month
Office—Hancock Chambers, 16x18 feet one flight up, very low rent.
Store House—off Granite St., in the rear of Greenleaf Block.
GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best Location in City)
Offices—Large or small.
Desk Room—Street floor, right in the rear of main entrance, good light and air, $5 up a month.
Transient Rooms—Well furnished and with care, $1 a day.
Furnished Rooms—With care steam heat, and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week

HALLS
Music Hall—Music Hall Block—Capacity 962—highest possible rating by the State. "Excellent" in every particular.
New Colonial Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—Capacity 240—the best possible location for a Hall.
Hancock Hall—Hancock Building City Square—Capacity 150.
Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 21056) Quincy

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1591 Hancock street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point Tel. Quincy-Mass. 1158 M Nov 8-tf

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

TO LET

TO LET—48 Revere road two connecting rooms with kitchenette for housekeeping. Also a nice room with sun all day, two large closets. Hot water heat and bath.
water heat and bath. 13-tf

TO LET—Lower flat, 5 rooms bath modern improvements in new house pleasantly situated in corner lot 29 Atherton street, Bigelow Park. Rent reasonable to right party. Inquire on premises or 72 Glencoe place. 13-6t

TO LET—Upper flat in two flat new house at 1 Bradford street, 5 rooms and bath. All improvements. Ready Jan. 1st. Apply to Wm. E. Duggan, 32 Bryant avenue, West. Quincy. 12-6t

TO LET—Tenement 4 rooms and bath all improvements, set range. Vacant Jan. 1, 1914. Apply 180 Franklin street. 10-6t

TO LET—With private family, desirable room with modern conveniences. Address "R," Ledger office or telephone Quincy, 1796-W. 10-6t

RUSSELL PARK — Commodious house of seven rooms, large hall and bath. Modern, every convenience open fireplace, furnace, range, set tubs, electric lights, cemented cellar, etc. Best residential neighborhood. Ready for immediate occupancy. For further details or key see Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. tf lpo

TO LET—Tenement of 6 rooms, all improvements. Rent only $18.75, C. W. Guy, 42 Butler road, near High school. 10-tf

TO LET—9 room house on Hancock street, near Quincy center. In first class repair and reasonable rent. Apply to Mr. Galligan at Kincaide's Furniture store. 6-tf

TO LET—173 Whitwell street, half house, modern conveniences, $20 per month. Ready for immediate occupancy. Apply Penniman's Stable, Granite street. 19-tf

TO LET—Nicest 4 room and bath lower flat in town. Every improvement $19.00. 126 Glendale road. S. E. Thomas Greenleaf Block. 17-tf

TO LET—5 room tenement at 117 Quincy street, $20 per month. Apply Berman Furniture Co. 6-tf

TO LET—Houses of 5, 6 and 10 rooms. M. T. Sullivan. Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy, Mass. 11-tf

UPPER APARTMENT. In two-family house on Spear Street. Five rooms, bath, large pantry and closets, also open attic with finished heated chamber. Every improvement, electric light, furnace, range etc. Ready for immediate occupancy. Telephone Quincy 278 M or enquire mornings of Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. lpo

MISCELLANEOUS

WILL SOMEONE please answer who would like a piano in their home for Christmas. This one can be rented for a time and after a fair trial very favorable terms can be arranged towards its purchase. Write at once. Box 10 this office. 13-6t

RENT FREE—until Jan. 1st. Two adjoining houses, 28 and 30 Pleasant street to desirable tenants, who will agree to stay one year, or longer. $5.00 per week in advance. Stable for one horse if desired. $1.00 a week extra. Apply 36 Pleasant street. 5-tf

ANOTHER BARGAIN
Make me an offer for a ten room house on Whitwell Street.
You will own it if you will talk buy, as it is one of those chances some one will miss.
HENRY W. SAVAGE
Real Estate, Boston.
E. G. HAYDEN, Local Representative
Telephone 1877-M Quincy.
Nov 17-tf

HOLMES & HALL
REPAIRERS OF HOUSEHOLD
FURNISHINGS
SHADES
DOOR BELLS
LOCKS and KEYS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

Read
Ledger Ads

KINCAIDE THEATRE

At 2.30, 5, 10, 15c At 7.45, 10, 15, 25c.

MON. TUE. WED.

1st ANNIVERSARY

Program Subject to Change

KENNEDY AND BURT
The Kings of Comedy
Introducing Novel Scenic Effects

THE PEERS
Comedy Trapeze Artists

OLYMPIA MARWICK
High-Class Singing Offering

W. E WHITTLE
Ventriloqual Sketch With Special Scenery
"Back to the White House"

First Authentic Views of
MEXICAN WAR
Pictures Actually Taken on the Battle Fields

PATHE WEEKLY
World's News in Pictures

Kalem 2-Reel Feature
"PLOT OF INDIA'S HILLMEN"

Kincaide Theatre Orchestra

SPEAKS ON WATERWAYS.

Vice President Frank Fessenden Crane of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association as well as Quincy's Dock and Water Front Commissioner was the speaker Saturday at the banquet of the Commercial Engineers association at the Revere house, Boston. Commissioner Crane spoke on the subject of waterways from its beginning up to the present time.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

THE SUNDAY FIRE ALARMS

The alarm from Box 42 at 10 o'clock Sunday morning was for a chimney fire in the house of Mrs. Ellen Sullivan on Granite street. There was no damage.

The alarm from Box 45 at 12.45 Sunday was a false alarm. A keyless box has just been placed in commission here and the alarm was sounded by a 7 year old Italian boy who states that he was held up to the box by an older boy.

At 9.30 Sunday night the central station auto chemical responded to a still alarm for an automobile fire on Sea street. The damage was slight.

FINNISH CHURCH DEDICATED

The newly erected Finnish Congregational church at Maynard was dedicated Sunday with a large number present, many being from Quincy. The sermon was delivered by Rev. J. E. Lillback of the Finnish Congregational Church of Quincy, a former pastor. A male choir from his church also assisted under the direction of John Anton Kuhlburg. Atfer the dedication the new painting, "Suffer Little Children to Come Unto Me" by Arthur Hekala of Quincy was unveiled. The church will accommodate 300 people and every seat was taken during the ceremonies.

(ADVERTISE.)

BRIEFS

The "Old Maids Convention" is to be given tonight at I. O. O. F. hall.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Rappaport (nee Grossman) are the parents of a girl born Friday. Mother and child are doing well.

The regular meeting of the Woman's Guild of the Park and Downs congregational church will be held Thursday afternoon followed by a social hour. Prompt attendance at 2.30 is requested. Mrs. Robinson is to give a reading of "The Bird Christmas Carol" illustrated by living pictures.

Don't forget to use the Red Cross Christmas seals liberally on your Christmas letters and gifts for in so doing you are helping a most worthy cause, the fresh air camp for tuberculosis patients. You can get the seals at the Post Office, Y. M. C. A. and at the office of H. M. Faxon, Granite street.

NATURALIZATION CLASSES.

The classes in naturalization which have been held under the direction of Rev. J. E. Lillback since he became pastor of the Finnish Congregational church will be resumed after Christmas. Last year 18 out of 23 applicants were granted citizenship. The examinations were held in Quincy by the members of the Board of Examiners. It is expected that they will hold another hearing here in the late spring. The course which has to do entirely with the government of the country consists of a series of eight lectures.

☞Get your white wrapping paper for Christmas gifts at the Ledger-Patriot office. Come early and avoid the rush. Large sheets 2 cents each. By the dozen 20 cents.

☞PRATT'S BREAD—try it with a bowl of milk and blueberries. All grocers.

OFFICERS INSTALLED

The officers of the Young Men's Hebrew Association were installed Sunday afternoon by Joseph Szathmary assisted by Past Presidents Edward Berman, Max Cutler and Sidney W. Grossman. Arrangements were made for a large meeting Thursday evening at which Senator-elect Louis F. R. Langelier will discuss "How laws are made." The officers are:

President—Samuel Kadets.
Vice-president—William Wolf.
Treasurer—Louis Sherad.
Financial Secretary—Julius Michelson.
Recording Secretary—Morris Asnes
Custodian—Israel Wolf.
Directors—Louis Berman, Joseph Szathmary, Joseph B. Grossman.

SUMMER COTTAGE BURGLARIZED

The summer cottage of Fred Rich of Dorchester, situated at Fenno street and the Wollaston Boulevard was entered some time Saturday but nothing of value taken. The break was discovered by Metropolitan Park officers that patrol the reservation.

CHRISTINA H. COE.

Christina H. Coe, wife of John J. Coe, died Monday morning in her 33rd year. Funeral services will take place at the home of her father, Robert Maver, 23 Bennington street, Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock.

ATLANTIC MEN'S CLUB.

The Men's club of the Atlantic Memorial church started Friday with their first regular meeting in a most enthusiastic manner.

Before eight o'clock the vestry was well filled by men, many of whom had lived in the community less than a year, as well as many of the oldest citizens in the place.

President Harry W. Read opened the meeting at 8 o'clock and gave a brief review of the former procedure and stated that the forming of the club was like many of the movements in Atlantic that it was started without any personal work by anybody, but the men woke up to the need of something to bring them together and spontaneously the club was formed with its main object to work for the promotion of good fellowship.

He said that one thing was neglected in the organization on account of the rapidity of their movement and that was the election of a vice-president. Charles A. Hall was unanimously elected to fill this office.

The Brigham twins of Atlantic street gave several duets on the piano then Col. Henry L. Kincaide of Quincy was introduced as the speaker of the evening. Mr. Kincaide gave a review of his trip to South America, and after leading the party safely through the leading cities of South America, showing what might be accomplished in a business way by our United States business men, he conducted the party back to Boston with a higher regard for the business methods of Old England who largely controls the South America business.

After the address refreshments were served by a committee consisting of John Abbott, Frank Leavitt and Wm. L. Buckley.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.
SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

EYESIGHT NOT IMPAIRED

A dispatch from Hanover, N. H., announces that Franz R. Marceau, the Wollaston long distance runner, who was injured some days ago by an explosion of chemicals in the laboratory at Dartmouth college had been discharged from the hospital and that he would not suffer any impairment of sight. He was at work in the laboratory experimenting with chemicals when there was an explosion and a few drops of boiling amonia splashed into his eyes, when the glass test tube exploded. It was thought at first that he would lose the sight of one eye, but he has now been discharged from the hospital and it is stated that his sight will in no way be impaired.

JEREMIAH O'NEIL.

The funeral of Jeremiah O'Neil, who committed suicide after shooting his wife twice was held Sunday afternoon at the Church of St. Francis, South Braintree and was largely attended. Services were conducted by Rev. Fr. Andrew J. Fitzgerald. Among those present were members of Div. 12, A. O. H. and the old Gaelic Football Association of which O'Neil was an ex-player. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery, Randolph. The bearers were James H. Lane, Daniel Reardon, Thomas Burke and Michael Bradley.

It was reported at the Quincy City Hospital that Mrs. O'Neil was resting comfortably and is on the road to recovery. Dr. Reardon, house surgeon, has not yet tried to probe for the bullet in her chest.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS?
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

Too Late For Classification

WANTED— Experienced Grocery and Meat man. Good wages to right man. W. H. Stevenson market, 128 Washington street, Quincy. 15-6t

WANTED—Boarders. Bath, heat, gas, near Fore River Shipyard, Mrs. Elliott, 19 Watson road. 15-3t

HORSE FOR SALE—Cheap, for want of use. H. H. I. Smith, 578 Commercial street, Weymouth Heights. Tel. Weymouth 105-1. 15-tf

BIRTHS

RAPPAPORT—In Quincy, Dec. 12, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. B. Rappaport, (nee Grossman.)

DEATHS

COE—In Quincy, Dec. 15, Christina H. wife of John J. Coe, in her 33rd year.
Funeral services at home of her father, Robert Maver, 23 Bennington street, Wednesday, Dec. 17, at 2 P. M. Relatives and friends invited. 15-2t

LANGELIER—In Norfolk Downs, Dec 14, Emily I., widow of Remio Langelier.
Funeral services at home of her son 18 Lunt street, Tuesday at 12.30. 15-1t

DALTON—In South Boston, Dec. 13, Julia, wife of William Dalton of Holbrook, aged about 37 years.

IN MEMORIAM

ELLEN M. CONNOR
Died Dec. 15, 1908
Held in loving memory by JOHN, HELEN and ALLEN CONNOR

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass.

Double Legal Stamps
Tuesday Thursday } Afternoon---12 to 6

At REMICK'S

Double Legal Stamps
Tuesday Thursday } Afternoon---12 to 6

QUINCY'S GREATEST CHRISTMAS STORE

SOMETHING USEFUL FOR EVERYBODY

Open Every Evening Until Christmas

NECKWEAR In Fancy Boxes
Biggest Variety—Biggest Values Ever Shown in Quincy
25c 35c 50c 65c
We are showing Boston's $1.00 Neckwear at 65c

Endless Variety MEN'S ARM BANDS and BRACES. All in Fancy Boxes
25c 35c 50c 65c

We could get more but are determined to hold the reputation for the best values and lowest prices

HOISERY
Men's, Boys' Women and Children. Silk, Lisle, Cotton and Cashmere. A very useful gift

GLOVES
Nothing you can think of but can be found here. For Men, Boys and Children.

BATH ROBES with SLIPPERS.
$4.98 others at $2.98 .$3.48

MEN'S PAJAMAS
98c to $2.00

MEN'S NIGHT ROBES
Flannel and Cotton
48c to $1.50

HANDKERCHIEFS
Men's Plain and Initial ..... 10c to 50c
Ladies' Plain and Initial ..... 10c to 50c

UMBRELLAS
Men's Fancy Handles ..... 98c to $5.00
Ladies' Fancy Handles ..... 75c to $5.00
Childrens' Fancy Handles ..... 50c and $1.00

SWEATERS of every description.
Lower than the Lowest
Men's ..... 98c to $8.00
Women's ..... 98c to $8.00
Boys' ..... 98c to $5.00
Girls' ..... 98c to $5.00
Children's ..... 48c to $2.00
All Colors. With or without Collars

MEN'S FANCY SHIRTS
48c to $1.50
Our Special at $1.15 is like the other fellow's $1.50

Men's Silk Shirts
$2.98 $3.98
Worth $4.00 and $5.00

Flannel Shirts
69c to $3.00
Blue, Gray and Tan

MACKINAW COATS
Neat and Nobby Effects

SMOKING JACKETS

MEN'S STIFF and SOFT HATS
$1.00 to $3.00

MEN'S CAPS
With and without band
50c to $3.00

BOYS' and CHILDREN'S HATS and CAPS
All kinds ..... 25c to $1.50

RAIN COATS.
Men's ..... $4.98 to $15.00
Women's ..... $4.98 to $12.00
Boys' ..... $3.50 to $5.00
Children's ..... $3.00 to $4.00
Every Coat Fully Guaranteed

BAGS and SUIT CASES
Black, Brown and Tan
$1.98 to $10.00
Nothing more useful

Boys' and Children's SUITS
Single and Double Breasted. Some with two pair pants
$1.98 to $8.00

Boys' and Children's OVERCOATS
Made with or without Belts
$1.98 to $8.00

MEN'S SHOES
None Better and Few as good as The Packard
All Leathers
$3.50 $4.00 $4.50 $5.00

Fellow Craft and Farnum SHOES
All Leathers $3.50
Just the same as sold by some others at $4.00

OUR MEN'S SHOES
at $3.00 and as low as $2.50 and $2.00 have stood the test

BOYS' SHOES
$1.50 to $3.00
All Leathers. Boys' High Cut Shoes, all sizes.
Black and Tan

WOMEN'S SHOES, Queen Quality
$3.50 $4.00 $4.50
Fit, Style and Comfort. All Leathers
Women's Shoes at $2.00 $2.50 and $3.00 in all Leathers will make you wonder how we can do it

CHILDREN'S SHOES
75c to $3.00
All Leathers. Fancy Top Shoes for Children in large variety

MEN'S SLIPPERS
50c to $2.00

LADIES' SLIPPERS
50c to $1.50

Boys' and Children's SLIPPERS
50c 75c $1.00

RUBBERS All Kinds
Men's, Boys' and Children's Rubber Boots all kinds. Fully Guaranteed

REMICK'S
MUSIC HALL BLOCK, QUINCY
OPEN EVERY EVENING UNTIL CHRISTMAS
DOUBLE LEGAL STAMPS Tuesday and Thursday Afternoons 12 o'clock to 6 o'clock

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

LARGEST GUARANTEED CIRCULATION IN THE CITY

Vol. 28 No. 291 QUINCY MASS. TUESDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 16 1913 PRICE TWO CENTS

ASPHYXIATED BY SMOKY LAMP

Workman Found Dead in Room on Howard Avenue

Theodore Carlson aged about 40 or 45 years was found dead in his room at a boarding house at 53 Howard avenue Monday. The death was a peculiar one and all indications point to its having been caused by a smoky oil lamp.

When Carlson did not report for work at the Fore River Monday a search was made and his room being opened he was found lying on the bed dead. The room was black with oil smoke as were also the features of the man.

Medical Examiner Fred E. Jones who was called said that his death had been due to asphyxiation. The body was removed to Hall's undertaking rooms. As far as known the man has no relatives.

From what the Medical Examiner could learn of the circumstances it looked as though when the man returned the night before he had lighted an oil lamp and lay down, and after he fell asleep the lamp began to smoke and this smoke eventually asphyxiated him.

☞Kincaide's Annex is heavily stocked with toys, games and Christmas gifts for the children, but when you want to make "the house" a present visit Kincaide's big furniture store. Useful presents are the ones that are appreciated.

AGED WOMAN HAS BAD FALL

Fractures Skull Little Hope for Recovery

Mistaking a stairway for a door, Mrs. Mary A. Rosa aged about 85 years fell headlong down the stairway sustaining a fracture of the skull, a fracture of the left arm and numerous bruises.

Mrs. Rosa was passing along a hall at her home 16 Verchild street late Monday evening, and started to open as she thought a door of a closet. Instead of that it was the door opening into the stairway leading down stairs. Before she could recover her balance she fell headlong to the lower floor.

The noise aroused others in the house who rushed to her assistance and immediately telephoned for a physician. Dr. Fred E. Jones who was called found that the woman had as noted, fractured her skull and arm. She is still at her home, and but slight hopes are entertained for her recovery.

☞It is no mistake to call Remick's the greatest Christmas store in Quincy; for it is a store for men, a store for women, and a store for children. Many Christmas suggestions are advertised today and there are several others at Remicks. Open every evening until Christmas.

Fragment society of the First Parish church meets Wednesday afternoon in the church parlor.

TWENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Loddengaard Receive Many Friends

Mr. and Mrs. Nils Loddengaard of Quincy, two of the best known Swedish residents of the city, assisted by over 100 friends, observed the twenty fifth anniversary of their marriage at their home, 24 Deldorf street, Monday evening. Guests were present from all sections of eastern Massachusetts.

At the reception Mr. and Mrs. Loddengaard were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. J. Johnson of Cambridge, Mrs. Herman Hultin and Mrs. Morris Clausen. The ushers were Algot Ericson and Andrew Olsen.

Speeches of congratulation were delivered by Councilman Charles A. Ericson and Edward J. Sandberg, Lawrence A. Jakobsen, William Ericson, Andrew Johnson and Mrs. Edward J. Sandberg. Music was by Miss Hannah Sandberg, and vocal solos were rendered by Roy Johnson and Nellie Loddengaard.

Mr. and Mrs. Loddengaard were married in this city by Rev. C. H. Johannsen of the Swedish Lutheran church at Boston. Since then a church of that faith has been erected in Quincy and both were actively interested in its erection.

Mr. Loddengaard is an engineer by trade and is completing his 20th year as an employee at the plant of Milne & Chalmers at South Quincy. He is a member of the Norwegian Society of Quincy, Court John Ericson, Foresters of America, Quincy Lodge, No. 413, Loyal Order of Moose, Scandia Lodge, Order of Vasa. He was one of the organizers and a charter member of the branch of the engineers union and has held several executive positions on important labor committees.

Mrs. Loddengaard is a member of Scandia Lodge, Order of Vasa, Daughters of Viking and Companion of Foresters of America.

Mr. and Mrs. Loddengaard have lived in Quincy 27 years and the gifts of their friends, handsome and many, were concrete expressions of the esteem in which they are held. The festivities continued until after midnight.

"Our Responsibility to Childhood" will be the topic of Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott of the Bethany church at the Parents-Teachers Association of the Coddington school in the Assembly hall Wednesday evening. Miss Catherine L. Brown, accompanied by Mr. Enrico Barraja will be the soloist of the evening. Refreshments will be served.

KUPPENHEIMER COATS TAKEN

Burglars Make Good Haul at Remick Bros. Store

That burglars recognize a good thing when they see it, was shown by the unwelcome visitors to the clothing store of Remick Bros., in Music Hall block, Monday night, for among the goods they took were two or three of the famous Kuppenheimer overcoats, for which there is such a demand. In addition to this the burglars carried off three pair of shoes and other articles, the total value of which is estimated at from $150 to $200. Just how much, or what was taken is hard to tell, especially in a store like Remick Bros., where at the present season they are carrying an unusually large line of goods.

Mr. Remick however in going hastily over his stock this morning found that two or three of the Kuppenheimer overcoats were missing.

That the place had been visited was discovered by the clerks when they opened the store this morning. Mr. Remick was immediately notified and came to the store.

Investigation showed that entrance had been made by a rear window. The burglars had secured an old window frame which they placed against the building and climbing up on this had wrenched the bottom of the screen over the window off. This was lifted part way up, one of the window panes smashed and through this the parties had evidently crawled. It was rather a small hole to crawl through and it must have been a tight squeeze.

Once inside they had to work carefully for the lights left burning in the store made the interior visible from the front entrance. The coats and other articles taken were evidently passed out through the window and the parties could then readily make their escape by the railroad tracks.

Inspector Goodhue of the police department was notified and made an investigation.

☞For Christmas candies, Christmas cigars in boxes, perfumes, etc., visit Hearn's pharmacy. Special goods for the season.

LAUNCHING AT FORE RIVER

Molasses Boat Amolco Given Her Maiden Dip

Surrounded by a number of officials of the American Molasses Company and personal friends, Miss Estelle Klieger gave the name Amolco, to the new vessel of the company's fleet when she was given her maiden dip in the waters of the Weymouth Fore river this noon. The launching was in the nature of a private one, the only spectators besides the launching party being the officials of the Fore River Corp., and workmen in the yard.

The launching party came from Boston in automobiles, arriving at the shipyard soon after 11 o'clock. Preparations for the launch were already underway and the party were taken immediately to the launching stand that had been erected about the bow of the vessel.

Miss Klieger was presented by President Bowles with a handsome bouquet which she carried under her left arm.

The vessel was to have been christened by Miss Taussig, daughter of Felix Taussig, president of the Boston Molasses Company but a break down of the automobile made it necessary at the last minute to get a substitute and Miss Kriega was selected. In the launching party were the following:

N. W. Taussig, president of the American Molasses Co., and Mrs. Taussig, Miss Helen M. Taussig, Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Taussig, treasurer of the company, Feli Taussig, president of the Boston Molasses Co., Edward C. Stevens, secretary of the Boston Mollases Co., Edward Glyn, assistant secretary, Mr. and Mrs. Stillman F. Kelly and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Perkins of Boston, C. E. Sprague, Lexington, Capt. and Mrs. Peter H. Crowell and Miss Grace Crowell of Dennis, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hall of Brockton, E. S. Walmsley, J. E. Ackerman, Max Brummel, Charles Wild, Mrs. M. M. Morse, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Liebman, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Liebman, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Willis, Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Lewis all of Boston, Charles Taussig of New York, Mrs. J. H. Kriger of Brookline, Dr. and Mrs. R. F. Graham of Greeley, Col. and Mrs. Henry E. Sears of Cambridge.

The launch was a success in every way and as she begun to move down the ways Miss Taussig, performed her part of the ceremony in such a manner as to call forth congratulations and cheers from the launching party.

As soon as the vessel struck the water, tugs came along side and took her to the fitting out dock where the finishing touches will be put on.

Immediately after the launch the launching party took their automobiles back to Boston where a launching diner was served at one of the hotels.

IMPORTANT MATTERS AT CITY COUNCIL MEETING

Order for $500 for land taken from Library Grounds debated at length

Another meeting of Council necessary to wind up business of year

The debate at Monday night's meeting of the City Council came on the order appropriating $500 to pay the claim of the Trustees of the Thomas Crane Public Library for land taken in the widening of Coddington street. President Whiton took the floor and argued against the order which failed to pass, but was later considered and laid on the table.

Contrary to expectations there was no debate on the veto of the Mayor of the order changing the name of Goffe street to Presidents Lane. The veto was laid on the table and will probably come up for action at the next meeting of the Council.

The absent members were Councilmen Devany and Richards. Among the spectators were Councilmen-elect Carlson, Nelson, Craig and Williams.

The Mayor returned without his approval the order changing the name of Goffe street to Presidents Lane, his reason being that the order was illegal. On motion of Councilman Bryant it was laid on the table.

The Mayor forwarded a communication from the City Clerk asking for the transfer of $100 from the appropriation for advertising Ordinances to the City Clerk's Miscellaneous. Laid on the table until later when Councilman Bailey offered an order transferring the amount which was adopted.

The Mayor forwarded a communication from the City Treasurer asking for an appropriation of $969.94 for interest of temporary loans. Laid on the table until later when Councilman Bailey offered an order for the same which was referred to the Finance Committee.

The Mayor forwarded a communication from the Chief of Police asking for an appropriation of $1,700 for pay of men. Laid on the table until later when Councilman Bailey offered an order for the same which was referred to the Finance Committee.

The Mayor forwarded a communication asking that the Sunday Fruit License of Luigi Panepinto whose place was raided Sunday and who was convicted in court for violation of the liquor law he revoked. Laid on the table until later when Councilman Gilliatt offered an order revoking the license which was adopted.

An application for a Sunday Fruit license was referred to the License committee.

Application from the N. E. T. & T. Co. for attachments were granted.

The Committee on Public Buildings reported no legislation necessary on the communication relative to the sale of certain land at South Quincy. Report accepted.

The Committee on Public Buildings reported reference to the next City Council on the matters relative to additions to the Washington and Atherton Hough schools and relative to the purchase of land for a playground for the Massachusetts Fields school. Report accepted.

The Finance Committee reported ought to pass on the order for $2,000 for the Poor Department. Rules suspended and order passed.

A public hearing was held at 8 o'clock on the application of C. H. Penniman for a gasoline license. Mr. Penniman appeared in favor and no one against. Hearing closed and later in the evening Councilman Gilliatt offered an order granting the license which was adopted.

The Finance Committee reported ought to pass on the order transferring $2,000 for Contagious diseases of the Board of Health. Rules suspended and order passed.

The Finance Committee reported reference to the Executive on the order for the Mayor to petition the legislature for authority to pay the heirs of W. E. Nightingale $500. Accepted.

The Finance Committee reported reference to the Executive on the petition of Charles C. Wood to be retired on a pension. Report accepted.

The joint Committee on Finance and Public Buildings reported reference to the next City Council on the

(Continued on Page Two.)

Do It NOW!

Tomorrow Is Not Coming

The time to begin reading the advertising in this newspaper is NOW.

It never was more interesting than it is today. It is not likely to be more profitable to you than it will be this very minute.

The good things you miss today will be dead opportunities tomorrow.

Success comes to the "Do-it-now men" —not to the "wait-awhiles."

Today's advertising is live news written by keen witted, bright eyed men and women for the benefit of clever people.

Begin reading the advertising today and when you begin to see the doors it opens to you, you will be the first to thank us for jogging you up.

Do it NOW.

Tomorrow? There is no such day. They have taken it off the calendar.

One Trip to Williams' will solve half of your Christmas Gift problems!

Bracelets	Table and Toilet Silver
Diamonds	Parisian Ivory
Watches	China and Cut Glass
Gifts in Gold and Silver	Fountain Pens
Christmas Novelties	Clocks
Useful Articles for Men	Leather Goods
Pearls	Umbrellas
Necklaces	Smokers' Articles

All gathered together in one big store, all on one floor.

Plenty of clerks to serve you.

Plan to come tomorrow with your shopping list. It will pay you.

WILLIAMS' JEWELRY STORE

1473 Hancock Street, Quincy

Beginning Thursday our Store is Open Every Evening

Dec. 16-6t

TO LET

Large Front Office Greenleaf Block—2 entrances—right at the head of the stairs—one of the most desirable offices in Quincy.

Office, Durgin-Merrill Block—3 large windows—only 1 flight up—exceptional opportunity.

Hancock Building—City Square Offices—small front office, $11 a month

Office—Hancock Chambers, 16x18 feet one flight up, very low rent.

Store House—off Granite St., in the rear of Greenleaf Block.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best Location in City)

Offices—Large or small.

Desk Room—Street floor, right in the rear of main entrance, good light and air, $5 up a month.

Transient Rooms—Well furnished and with care, $1 a day.

Furnished Rooms—With care steam heat, and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week

HALLS

Music Hall—Music Hall Block—Capacity 962—highest possible rating by the State. "Excellent" in every particular.

New Colonial Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—Capacity 240—the best possible location for a Hall.

Hancock Hall—Hancock Building City Square—Capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 21066) Quincy

The Most Loved of All Presents

OUR STOCK

In W. W. W. Solid Gold Fine Stone Rings and 14k and 10k

Solid Gold Pendants

is without any doubt the largest of any Store within near reach, and prices are proven to be lower than any Boston store.

The W. W. W. Solid Gold Rings carry the strongest possible guarantee, as the manufacturers will replace any Genuine Stone (except Diamonds), if they should for any reason fall out of the setting, FREE OF CHARGE.

Big Stock on hand of Fine Solid Gold and Gold-Filled Bracelets, Lockets, Pins, Brooches, Cuff Links and Bar Pins, in a well-selected variety.

Only a few days to Xmas. Select your Goods NOW---with the Store that IS doing the big Christmas business.

SANDBERG BROS.
Jewelers
1281 Hancock St., Quincy

FORESTERS NEW OFFICERS

St. Mary's Branch, No. 651, Irish National Foresters met in Hibernian hall Monday evening and held their annual election of officers. The installation will not take place until January, at a date to be decided upon later. The officers chosen were:

Chief Ranger—Miss Mary Costello.

Sub Chief Ranger—Miss Alice M. O'Brien.

Past Chief Ranger—Mrs. Ellen O'Connell.

Treasurer—Mrs. Catherine Griffin.

Financial Secretary—Miss Agnes Collogan.

Recording Secretary—Miss Mary Byrom.

Senior Woodward—Miss Helen Desmond.

Junior Woodward—Miss Mary Sheehan.

Senior Beadle—Mrs. Mary Roche.

Junior Beadle—Miss Madge Donahue.

Trustees—Mrs. Hannah McGrath, Mrs. Francis M. McGillicuddy, Miss Mary Collins.

Physician—Dr. George M. Sheahan.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

PIERCE STUDIO

ANYONE WHO SITS FOR PHOTOGRAPHS

On or before Dec. 20, can have their work for CHRISTMAS

Stormy weather makes no difference

Adams Building, Quincy

Dec. 12 6t

VERY ACCEPTABLE GIFTS

Just Arrived! Several New Styles and All of Them Beauties

PORTABLE GAS LAMPS

AND HALL LANTERNS

ALSO

"IWANTU" GAS IRONS

IN FANCY HOLLY BOXES

HEATS IN FOUR MINUTES. STAYS HOT ALL THE TIME. TEN HOURS IRONING FOR FOUR CENTS.

☞Have you investigated the Reznor Gas Heating Stoves? Everything from the handy little portable to the superb fireplace heater.

CITIZENS' GAS LIGHT CO.

Granite Street Near City Squrae

Dec. 15 9t

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second-Class matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

TELEPHONES
News . . . Quincy 425
Business . . Quincy 1910

NOTICE

Again we ask those sending news or other matter by mail to direct it to the company or newspaper rather than to individual members of the company or employees. If addressed to individuals and they were ill or not at the office, it might be several days in reaching its proper destination and if news matter would be too late for use.

The movement for boycotting eggs is spreading, in spite of the fact that the cold storage men need new automobiles every year.

Although street car builders are putting on lower platforms to accommodate the women with hobble skirts, they have not yet raised the roofs to fit the long plumes on the hats.

Senator Elihu Root has been awarded the Nobel peace prize. Although peace is unpopular nowadays, Mr. Root was not able to keep this announcement out of the papers.

Some of the Chicago post office clerks are being equipped with roller skates, but they still demand the same pay, in spite of all the fun they ought to get while working.

As a result of Cincinnati's water famine, all hotel guests were denied baths, but it is not supposed that the habits of the city were much interfered with in other respects.

Mrs. Ella Flagg Young has been forced out of the position of superintendent of schools of Chicago. Perhaps she failed to comprehend how useful the schools can be made to the politicians.

Some people are attempting to buy their Christmas gifts, without looking back to their records and seeing what their friends probably spent on the gifts received last year.

Charles Zueblin in addressing the School Voters' League in Boston Saturday said the Back Bay was decadent also Brookline and Winchester. It might be pertinent about now to ask Mr. Zueblin why he resides in such a decadent town as Winchester?

THE LOBBY PROBLEM.

The report to Congress of the lobby investigating committee is read with varying impressions, according to one's political point of view. All good citizens regret the motley crew of camp followers who hang around congressional and legislative halls. It is less open than it was once, when at Washington certain agents held headquarters in strategic committee rooms. But the Washington capitol and every state house will always find this trail. It often leads up to high authority in business and finance.

It is a difficult matter in which to discriminate. In one sense the representative of the Christian Endeavor Societies who comes to Washington to work for a better liquor law or against child labor, is a "lobbyist," in spite of the correctness of his motives. Every citizen has the right to present his views to his congressman, or any other law-maker. The way must always be left open for such expression.

In many states laws requiring the registration of all professional lobbyists have worked well. But gold bricks will be bought by business men Usually they would do better, where posible, to come to Washington and states their own case.

When a lobyist telegraphs on to his employers that a great victory has been won, he usually adds that another remittance would be acceptable. His backers should ask whether he had anything more to do with that victory than the door-keepers.

The corrupt legislator is always looking for the crooked way. He finds his affinity somewhere in the lobby. But it is probably true that the halls of law-making contain less easy marks than formerly. A man who is employing labor and carrying the burden of a business enterprise is heard with respect. But no legislator who is in any way worthy of the suffrages of his fellow citizens pays much attention to the oily elo-

DO IT NOW.

We think no better advice can be given our readers who have not already made up their Christmas gift list, than to do it now and right here in Quincy. Why go to Boston and get into the crowds, have your pocket picked and your clothing nearly torn off your back and after all that come home with something you really do not want.

The best time to shop is in the morning when the stores are not crowded and the clerks fresh and ready to show you everything in stock. You can inspect leisurely and when you buy be sure you have got reliable goods and just what you want The local merchants want your trade, will give you a dollar's worth of goods for the dollar expended and the transaction helps him, helps you and the community in which you live. Look over the Ledger advertisements and start out tomorow morning while the goods are fresh and a complete stock on hand."

THE ENDLESS CHAIN.

The man who tries to lift himself by his boot-straps is not more foolish than those who expect to bring about a relative diminution in the cost of living by increasing wages. Every employer of labor knows that the largest single item in the cost of production is the labor cost, and that if the labor cost is increased the cost of the article produced must be increased accordingly.

Follow this out to its final analysis, from the production and handling of the raw material, to the distribution and sale of the finished article, and the conclusion is inevitable that the consumer must meet the increased burden in the end, because he pays the ultimate price of the article whose cost of production, distribution and sale is increased by the increased cost of labor.

And who, after all, is the ultimate consumer but the man whose increased wages have helped to increase the cost of things he has to buy?

The conducters and trainment of the Eastern railroads are hugging the delusion to their souls that the $6,000,000 a year recently added to their wages by the Board of Arbitration is $6,000,000 added permanently to their net income. The fact is, however, that it is $6,000,000 added to the cost of living, since it must come out of the public in increased rates and fares and tend to increase prices all round.

Apropos of which we would recommend a careful perusal of the following paragraphs from the dissenting opinion of Messers. Atterbury and Smith to the award of the Board of Arbitration

"The seven per cent additional wages granted by this award, which will cost the railroads $6,000,000 a year, is in addition to the $4,000,000 recently added to railway expenses through extra crew laws passed in this territory at the behest of these labor organizations. Thus a total of $10,000,000 annually is added to the pay of trainmen without additional service being received by the railroads or the public.

"The annual burden of $6,000,000, which the award imposes, as well as the additional $4,000,000 must necessarily precede all fixed charges. The sum of $6,000,000 represents the annual interest at five per cent upon $120,000,000, capital and this annual burden is thrust upon the railroad companies at a time when the public should have increased and improved facilities and when the difficulties of raising new capital are daily increasing.

""We hope that the Board's conclusion that their action may result in a greater contentment and a greater stability of rates of wages within the Eastern and Southeastern territories will be realized, but we fear the result of this arbitration cannot but further encourage that continual round of wage demands upon the railways which regularly involve strike votes, ppublic anxiety, mediation, arbitration and compromise. It has been an endless chain process one section of thecountry being exploited by means of another; railway employees previously satisfied have been stirred into restlessness by other classes of labor receiving unjustified wage increases.

""We are in accord with the Board's opinion that some competent Governmental body should make a study of the proper economic basis for the fixing of wages.

"It is most unfortunate that the railways should be compelled to divert further sums from the essential investments—improved signals, elimination of grade crossings, heavier track and bridge structures, steel cars and other improvements absolutely necessary to the highest state of safe operation and to greater safety of the public and the employees themselves."
—Truth.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS?
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

CITY COUNCIL

(Continued from Page One.)

order appropriating $35,000 for a contagious hospital. Report accepted.

The Finance Committee reported an amendment to the order appropriating $2,300 to settle claims against the city making the amount $2,400. Report and amendment accepted and order ordered to a second reading.

The Finance Committee reported ought to pass on the order paying $500 to the Library Trustees. Order read and rules suspended.

President Whiton called Councilman Ross to the chair.

Taking the floor he asked why the committee thought the Library should be given $500.

Councilman Bailey replied that it was to pay the Trustees for certain property taken. The city took about 6,000 feet of the lot and it was a small amount for such a lot of land. The Trustees were willing to settle for that amount.

President Whiton said he was asfounded. It was ridiculous to ask the city for $500 after what had been done. Mr. Crane the donor of the library had stated that he would be satisfied. What he was dissatisfied with, was the action of certain public-spirited citizens. This board is appointed by the Mayor and it is up to him to handle. He knew the city got stuck when it paid such a large price for the lot of land.

Councilman Bailey said that the Library could use the $500 in making necessary changes and fixing up the property.

Councilman Little asked if the order was not passed if the library would have a claim on the city and Mayor Stone replied that he thought it would.

Continuing the Mayor said Mr. Crane had given the city $175,000 and the Trustees felt that they would not be doing their duty if they did not seek pay for the land taken.

President Whiton felt that the owners of the land on the corner had soaked the city. We are not required to pay this $500.

Councilman Sandberg asked the Commissioner about notices served on the trustees and the Commissioner replied that notices of the taking were served but were overlooked by the Trustees. On reply to Councilman Bryant the Commissioner said that the order took about 6,000 feet of land on Coddington street. That the building was moved across the street and leased to the insurance company for a term of five years at a nominal rental of $1 a year.

Councilman Thompson moved that the order be laid on the table.

Councilman Whiton and Sandberg opposed.

Mayor Stone said he thought the Board was doing exactly right. They are going to use the money in putting the grounds in shape. This will cost $1,500 but they are willing to pay $1,000.

Councilman Griffin said that it looked like a business proposition. The city had no right to take 6,000 feet of land without paying for it.

Councilman Bryant believed it a square deal that the Trustees should be given the $500.

Councilman Beeman asked if the taking of the land by the city benefited the property and President Whiton replied that it did.

The motion to lay on the table was lost.

The order was then put on its passage receiving 10 votes in favor and 8 against. The acting President declared the order passed but after consulting the charter stated that the order had failed to pass.

Councilman Bryant then asked that the acting president complete the roll. After some quibbling this was done, the acting president voting no, making the vote 10 yes and 9 no.

The vote on the order was then reconsidered and the order laid on the table, by a rising vote of 11 yes and 7 no.

On motion of Councilman Bailey it was voted when the council adjourn it be until Monday evening Dec. 22 at 7.45 o'clock.

Councilman Duffy offered a resolve endorsing the Fore River Shipbuilding Co., and pledging the company its support in its endeavor to secure the contract for building the supply ship, which was referred to in the resolution passed at the last meeting relative to the "Build a ship in Boston" convention. The resolution pledged its support in the efforts of the Fore River Co., to get the contract. The resolution was adopted.

Councilman Bailey offered an order transferring the sum of $295 from street lighting to Miscellaneous Highways and the sum of $295 from street lighting to permanent sidewalks. Both orders were adopted.

Adjourned at 9.09 until Monday Dec. 22.

☞PRATT'S BREAD sales have increased because it satisfies. Your grocer.

QUINCY REAL ESTATE SALES.

Charles F. Adams et al trs to Bernard L. Ericson, Verchild street.

Hermon P. Bell to Harold Wilder, Billings road, Vane street.

George W. Billings to Elizabeth A. Billings, Atlantic & Billings streets.

Giuseppina Casarico to Umberto N. Baldassini, West street.

Charlotte F. Cummings to William J. Patterson, Central avenue.

Harlan L. DeForest to George F. Phillips, Houghs Neck.

Wilton A. Dunham to Salvator Cefail, Houghs Neck.

Harriet E. Duggan gdn. to C. Antonio Rizzi, Crescent and Cross streets.

Harriet E. Duggan to C. Antonio Rizzi, Crescent and Cross streets.

Ellen B. Duncan to Richard H. Walsh.

Wilton A. Dunham to Mary E. Doirant, Houghs Neck.

George I. Kelley to Giuseppina Casarico, West street.

John Magnus to Hermon P. Bell, Billings road, Vane street.

Edward B. Marsh ex to Andrew S. Odom, Quarry street.

Daniel McMillan to John P. Granahan, Marlboro street.

Isabelle Merriam to John H. Merriam, Littlefield street, River street.

John F. Mills to Caro G. Mills.

James R. Murphy tr to Eric G. Bergfors, Butler road.

Alex Nairn to Hiram T. Tarbox, Willow street.

William Nairn adm. to Alex Nairn, Willow street.

William Nairn to Alex Nairn, Willow street.

Annie A. Oldson to Wilton A. Dunham, Adams Shore.

Harlow H. Rogers to George W. Hill, Walker street.

James E. Shannon to Mary E. Andrew et al, Houghs Neck.

George K. Smith to John Bissett et al, Vernon street.

Hiram T. Tarbox to Charles R. Sherman, Willow street.

Anton J. Thompson to Hattie M. Spear, Glendale road, Beacon street.

Alfred E. Walker to Edward H. Sears, Willow street.

August N. Weeden et al trs to Carl C. Allard, Brockton avenue.

Fred W. Wood et al trs to Carrie E. Jefferson, E. Elm avenue.

Fred W. Wood et al trs to Patrick J. McGinley, Hancock street.

(ADVERTISE.)

Perfect biscuit perfectly delivered

At the grocery store you will find many varieties of biscuit baked by National Biscuit Company. Each variety of biscuit—sweetened or unsweetened—whether known as crackers or cookies . . wafers or snaps . . cakes or jumbles —is the best of its kind.

The extensive distributing service of the National Biscuit Company extends from Coast to Coast.

This ensures a constant supply of all the perfect biscuit of the National Biscuit Company being delivered to every part of the United States.

Buy biscuit baked by

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

Always look for that name

YOUTHFUL SPEED MANIAC NABBED

Taken From Steamer Christobal Bound For Panama

POSED AS MAN OF WEALTH

Harold Boyd of Boston Left Trail of Debts, One of Which Caused His Arrest—Captain Holds Boat an Hour Over Sailing Time to Allow Officers to Get Him

New York, Dec. 16.—After a gay career of fast riding and spending, Harold B. Boyd of 18 Boylston street, Jamaica Plain, and cousin of Edward A. Burkhardt, treasurer of the Burkhardt Brewing company of Boston, was arrested as he was about to start on another ride—this time to Panama.

The steamer Christobal was held an hour after her sailing time for the officers, who took him into custody for a debt of $3156 for automobile hire, owed to Allen C. Woodside of Boston. His mother, when told of her son's trouble rushed here to his aid.

Boyd has shot through New York in a wild rush of speed, posing the police say, as a man of wealth, director and stockholder in the Burkhardt Brewing company of Boston, and as treasurer and stockholder of the John Hancock Life Insurance company.

According to Woodside, who caused Boyd's arrest, the young man has left a trail of debts behind him in his speed-crazed career, including $30,000 to the John Hancock Insurance company, $500 to Captain Caverly, his yacht captain, $100 to the Copley-Plaza hotel of Boston and $100 to a grocer at Marblehead, Mass.

Woodside says that Boyd agreed with him in April, 1912, to pay $4 an hour for the use of an automobile. From that time to August, 1913, Boyd satisfied his speed mania with Woodside's cars, until the bill amounted to $2258. Then Woodside suggested a settlement.

Woodside traced the yacht that Boyd owned to the Portland Yacht club in Portland, Me. There Captain Caverly informed the automobile man that Boyd had packed his belongings, shipped them to New York and left word that Boston would see him no more. He was off for livelier climes.

Word was communicated to Captain Skillings of the Christobal, who held the steamer an hour after the scheduled sailing time to permit the deputy sheriffs to get Boyd.

Boyd took his arrest calmly and had his baggage on board transferred to 312 Ninety-third street. Boyd retained, Assemblyman Abraham Greenberg as counsel, who, at a late hour, was trying to get the $5000 bail for his client, Boyd's mother not having come to his rescue this time.

NO POISON FOUND

Chemical Test Explodes Theory In Deaths of Mr. and Mrs. Eldridge

Augusta, Me., Dec. 16.—The report of the chemical analysis of the contents of the stomachs of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Eldridge, who were found dead in their partially burned home at West Gardiner, has been received from the Bowdoin medical school.

While the authorities refused to make public the contents of the report before its presentation at the coroner's inquest when it is resumed, reliable information was obtained that no trace of poison was found in either stomach and probably no food had been taken into the stomachs for half a day prior to death. This discredited the suicide by poison theory, it was believed, and indicated the couple met death before breakfast.

ROCKEFELLER'S CHRISTMAS

Will Pass the Holiday Season at His Home In Cleveland

Cleveland, Dec. 16.—John D. Rockefeller will pass the coming Christmas and New Year's at his Forest Hill home here. It will be the first time in fifteen years that he has passed the holiday season in Cleveland. Usually the Rockefeller family is established at its Pocantico Hills, N. Y., estate considerably in advance of Christmas.

The illness of Mrs. Rockefeller and her sister and constant companion, Miss Lucy Chapman, leads to the unusual stay here.

Hit on Nose by Trolley Wheel

Newton, N. H., Dec. 16.—The trolley wheel fell from the pole of a moving car here, chased the car, plunged through a window of the rear vestibule and struck on the nose a passenger who was standing there reading a paper. The victim was Wilbur Merrill. His glasses were smashed and he received a deep cut on the side of the nose. He returned on another car to a physician's office for treatment.

Severe Earthquake In Japan

Tokio, Dec. 16.—The strongest earthquake in several years has occurred here and was felt over an extensive area. Houses in Tokio and Yokohama were violently rocked and the people were greatly alarmed. So far as can be learned, there were no casualities and the damage was confined to windows and bric-a-brac.

Capital $150,000 Surplus $200,000

DO YOUR BANKING IN QUINCY

Stop a minute and think. Here is a home bank, a strong local institution. It is near the railroad station, and in the centre of city. It opens earlier and stays open later than the Boston banks. Its safety boxes are rented cheaper. You can know its officers personally. It offers you every privilege that you can get in any bank. Come in and get some facts about this.

Our $5 Box is Larger Than a $10 Box in Boston.

GRANITE TRUST CO.
FOUNDED 1836

Christmas Gifts
FOR ALL PURSES

CANDIES
Page & Shaws
Foss' Premier and Quality
Lowney's Bells
10c to $12

CIGARS IN BOXES
Wait & Bond 7-20-4
Quincy Ginita
Blenheim and Private Stock

PERFUMES AND TOILET WATERS
Colgates, Roger & Gallet, 25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00

HEARN'S PHARMACY
FAXON BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
Dec 15—L 6t

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATION

A competitive examination for the position of sanitary and hydraulic engineer in the service of the Commonwealth will be held on Dec. 29. From the eligible list established by this examination names will be certified to fill vacancies as they may occur. The salaries range from $60 per month up.

The examination will consist of a sworn statement of training and experience; mathematics, the same as for civil engineers, Grade A (c) engineering theory, the same as for civil engineers, Grade B; papers on water supply, water purification, sewerage work, sewerage disposal, sanitation, and design of some sanitary engineering work.

Only citizens of the United States who have been residents of Massachusetts for the past year have a right to apply. Persons desiring to take this examination may secure application blanks by applying, in person or by letter, at the office of the Civil Service Commission, Room 152, State House, Boston, Mass.

—The Grand Trunk railway is in a sad predicament in Montreal. Its trains necessarily block the street at a grade crossing, and the company has to pay a fine for every offense on which it is convicted. Fines range from $5 to $10, according to the time the street was blocked. As it works out, the railway is paying a fixed rate for occupying the city's streets. Five minutes is allowed each train, but occasionally a train stands at the crossing 25 or 30 minutes. It should be easy to split the train in such cases, and thus save a fine, to say nothing of improving the temper of citizens who use the crossing.—Taunton Herald.

—Three candidates for governor spent together about $75,000 in the late campaign. There ought to be an effective law, says the Somerville Journal, limiting campaign expenses, to make it plain to the world that the governorship of Massachusetts cannot be bought.

TO IMPROVE PRETTY HAIR AND BEAUTIFY UGLY HAIR

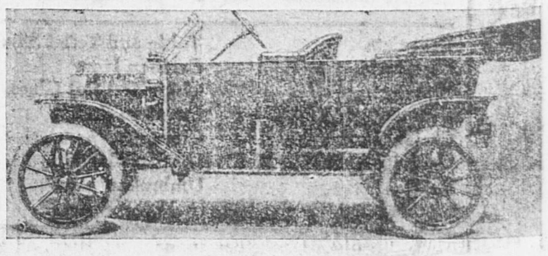
Harmony Hair Beautifier, a delightful liquid hair dressing, is just what it is named—a hair beautifier. No matter how pretty your hair now is, it can be made to look even better by using Harmony Hair Beautifier. To those who mourn because the hair is stringy, dull, lustreless and homely, Harmony Hair Beautifier will prove a real blessing and pleasure. It seems to polish and burnish the hair, making it glossy, silky-soft and more easy to put up in graceful, wavy folds that "stay put." It overcomes the oily smell of the hair with a dainty, true-rose fragrance, very pleasing to the user and those around.

Very easy to apply—simply sprinkle a little on your hair each time before brushing it. It contains no oil, and will not change the color of the hair, nor darken gray hair.

To keep hair and scalp dandruff-free and clean, use Harmony Shampoo. This pure liquid shampoo gives an instantaneous rich lather that immediately penetrates to every part of hair and scalp, insuring a quick, thorough cleansing. Washed off just as quickly, the entire operation takes only a few moments. Contains nothing that can harm the hair; leaves no harshness or stickiness—just a sweet cleanliness.

Both preparations come in odd-shaped, very ornamental bottles, with sprinkler tops. Harmony Hair Beautifier, $1.00. Harmony Shampoo, 50c. Both guaranteed to satisfy you in every way, or your money back. Sold in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store—one of the more than 7,000 leading drug stores of the United States, Canada and Great Britain, which own the big Harmony laboratories in Boston, where the many celebrated Harmony Perfumes and Toilet Preparations are made

—Edward J. Murphy, 1415 Hancock cor. Granite Streets, Quincy, Mass. "The Rexal Store."



THE QUINCY GARAGE, 87 Adams Street, Quincy
Agent for FORD and CASE CARS
A full Line of Supplies always on hand
Michelin Tires in stock
Now Ready for Delivery the 1914 Ford Car, $550 for 5 Passenger, $500 for Runabout, $750 for Town Car F. O. B. Detroit.
For Particulars or Demonstration call Quincy 435
Night or Day never closed. C. P. GOULD, Prop.
Dec. 12-lo-tf

TRIED TO PASS FORGED CHECKS

Attempt to Pass Them in Quincy Stores Fails

The man who gave his name as Lawrence W. Manning of Atlanta, Ga., who was arrested in City Square Monday noon while trying to pass forged checks in a City Square store pleaded guilty in court this morning and was sentenced to six months in the house of correction.

Manning or whatever his name is made his appearance in Wollaston last Friday when he succeeded in passing a check for $12 on Charles McFarland from whom he bought gods amounting to $8, receiving $4 in change. These goods were delivered to an address which turned out to be fictitious. The police and merchants were then notified and were on the lookout for him when word came that a man was trying to work City Square with bad checks.

At the store of T. L. Williams the man complained that his eyes were troubling him and he wanted glasses made. Mr. Williams tested his eyes and found trouble. He was in a hurry for the glasses and Mr. Williams promised them to him Wednesday.

The price was $6.50 which seemed satisfactory. As he was about to leave the store he turned back and presenting a check for $15 said "I guess I may as well pay for them now." Mr. Williams had run up against forged check men before however and was not to be caught napping, and refused to accept the check, saying that he would make the glasses and he could pay two dollars down and the balance when he came for them.

This did not suit however and he walked out.

While the fellow was in Williams store, Mr. Porter of Nathan Ames store was visiting stores about City Square trying to locate the man so that he could point him out to the police.

In a few minutes he was located in the store of Sanborn Damon where he was arrested by Officers Murray and Malone.

The goods at the McFarland store were sold by Miss Clara E. Porter who identified Manning at headquarters as the man who buncoed her.

At the Ames store business was transacted with Elbridge Porter who became suspicious after the man made a selection of paints, asked to have them delivered to the house of E. W. Branch at 72 Putnam street and tendered the worthless check. Mr. Porter refused to accept it and as the fellow left the store he recalled the McFarland episode.

Communicating with the police he and Nathan Ames searched for the man and located him in the store of Sanborn & Damon. He had made a selection of paints but decided he would call later when he saw the officers Murray and Malone. They took him into custody.

At the station he confessed to the forgery. On his person were found several checks, on the New England Trust Co., drawn by Osgood E. Tarr and made payable to Dudley W. Tracy

The news of the capture spread through Boston business houses that have been victims of the fake check dodge and this morning Manning was identified by Robert F. Cook of Jamaica Plain as the one that passed him worthless paper several days ago. Cook was accompanied by Officers Keys who was ready to take the man to Boston for trial but the sentence by Judge Avery forstalled him.

Manning said he was an architect and had been north less than a month. Unable to secure employment he was pressed for money and continued looking for victims after his first check was accepted by a Boston merchant.

—A Philadelphia shipbuilding firm has the contract to build what is said to be the largest ferryboat ever constructed in this country. The specifications for the boat call for a speed of 16 knots an hour. It will be 350 feet long and have 50 feet beam. The vessel will cost half a million dollars, and will be used to ferry trains between Key West and Havana.—Brockton Enterprise.

☞The stores of C. F. Pettengill, T. L. Williams and Sandberg Bros., jewellers, will be open every evening after Wednesday, Dec. 17, until Christmas. Dec. 16-1t

YOU need the Ledger EVERY DAY.

WE DO NOT ADVERTISE

Because advertising is an Art, a profession and a business. Advertising is all these and then some, after that.

Being a business man only we had the idea that it was not good business to do a 1-3 job and pay a 3-3 price for it.

But we are somewhat of a moralist and the moral of this is that you should let us supply your Xmas dinner from our large stock of

Turkeys	Chickens	Geese
Celery	Cranberries	Squash
Nuts	Dates	Figs
Raisins	Currants	Prunes
Apples	Oranges	Grapes

Telephone—we deliver

J. PETERSON & CO.

394 Washington Street

Quincy

Dec. 16-tf

TWENTY-ONE OLD MAIDS PRESENT

Convention Held by Geo. L. Gill Rebekah Lodge

A convention of "Old Maids, short and tall that cavorted round the hall," entertained a large number in Odd Fellows hall Monday evening. The affair was given by the members of the George L. Gill Rebekah Lodge and was a grand success.

Twenty-one Old Maids in costumes of by-gone days circled around Walter Walker, the Dr. Pinkerton of the evening and under his magic influence they became blossoms of charm and fragrance. During the evening Mrs. May Gaynor of Dorchester gave a reading and Miss Lillian Reed, accompanied by Bert Reed, rendered several selections. Cornet solos were given by George Critchley, accompanied by Miss Alice Critchley.

In the circle were Mrs. Sadie Wood Miss Abbie Feltis, Miss M. Lizzie Furnald, Mrs. Herman H. Hall, Mrs. Pushee, Mrs. Robert Welsh, Mrs. Walter Walker, Mrs. E. E. Field, Mrs. Beatrice Porterfield, Mrs. Arthur Sylvester, Mrs. Emma E. Marnock, Mrs. Addie Dewhurst, Mrs. Mary A. Jones, Miss Ethel Jones, Miss Lena Allen, Mrs. Alice Goodrich, Mrs. George C. Ela, Mrs. Mary M. Smith, Mrs. Lillian Baker, Miss Marion Baker, Mrs. Richardson.

INFORMAL RECEPTION

Ladies of Park and Downs Church Meet Mrs. Ayers

The first of what promises to be a series of social affairs to surround the newly married minister of the Park and Downs church and his wife, took place, Monday afternoon, when the ladies of the church were invited by Mrs. Thomas H. Irving to meet Mrs. William B. Ayers, at an informal reception held at the former's home on West Elm avenue.

Large numbers of the ladies took advantage of this first oportunity to meet the new Mrs. Ayers and during the reception hours, from two to four, the rooms were filled with large crowds of well wishers.

Mrs. Irving was assisted by Mrs. Charles A. Richardson. Mrs. A. J. Podbury, Mrs. Celia Mackay and Mrs. William J. Colby were the ushers.

Tea was poured by Mrs. Charles F. Bryant and Mrs. Seth S. Crocker assisted by Mrs. James A. Boone and Miss Catherine Robinson.

During the afternoon music was enjoyed, vocal solos being rendered by Mrs. Charles Tanner and Miss Ruth Page and Miss Mabel Stuart presiding at the piano. Decorations of cut flowers were in evidence.

An interesting fact in connection with the reception was that the present Mrs. Ayers was bridesmaid at the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Irving and is an intimate friend of the latter.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving and Mr. Ayers occupied the same house for several years and it was through this circumstance that Mr. Ayers met his bride.

Rev. and Mrs. Ayers were the guests over the week end of Mr. and Mrs. Irving. The couple are preparing to move this week into their new home at 38 Beach street where they will be at home to their friends and parishioners after February first.

Mrs. Ayers was present at the services of the Park and Downs church on Sunday and met a number of the congregation.

It is understood that a reception is soon to be tendered Rev. and Mrs. Ayers in the church and that other social functions are to follow.

—Regulating the saloon is a hard job. A few years ago Boston tried the scheme of compelling barroom owners to put in chairs and everybody had to be seated while drinking. Now St. Louis has ordered all chairs taken out so that men must stand and drink, the idea being that they will use less liquor and get out sooner. The St. Louis idea seems to be more sane that was the Boston scheme.—Brockton Enterprise.

☞It pays when you want reliable watches, silver ware and jewelry to visit long established jewelry stores. This is the 37th year C. F. Pettingill has catered to Quincy people.

(ADVERTISE.)

BROTHERS GO FREE

Were Wanted In Austria For Shooting In Royal Forests

Pittsburg, Dec. 16.—Stefan and Wilhelm Oberlicher, brothers, were released from the Allegheny county jail on order of J. B. Densmore, solicitor of the department of labor.

The men were arrested Dec. 3 on request of Baron Lothar Van Hauser, Austro-Hungarian consul here. It was alleged that eight months ago the men entered the royal forests of Emperor Francis Joseph and shot two deer and carried them off.

For this offence they were arrested and sentenced to eighteen months' imprisonment. They were released on bail and came to this country. Consul Van Hauser wanted to have them deported, but this request was denied by the immigration authorities, who ordered them released.

SHOOTING PUZZLES POLICE

Young New York Girl Says Victim Would Not Marry Her

New York, Dec. 16.—Social workers as well as the police were puzzled by Little Margaret Lima, 15, who is held, charged with shooting and seriously wounding Meyer Simons, a 17-year-old clerk, who she said "refused to marry" her.

The Lima girl fired six shots at Simons in front of a "movie" theatre, and, besides shooting him in the back, brought down a 12-year-old boy who was struck in the leg by a stray bullet.

Simons may recover. He insists he never saw the Lima girl before she approached him and shot him. His mother declared he was at home on the night the girl alleges she was drugged and taken to a Sixth avenue hotel. The girl has not been able to give the name of the hotel and will be asked to point out the place.

LAUNCH "MYSTERY SHIP"

British Battleship Tiger Expected to Develop 100,000 Horsepower

Glasgow, Dec. 16.—The British battleship Tiger, known as the "mystery ship," was launched at the Clydebank Shipbuilding works, where her keel plate was laid June 20, 1912.

Details of the new vessel have been carefully guarded. It is known, however, that her engines are designed to give the hitherto unattempted horsepower of 100,000, calculated to develop a speed which will eclipse that of any naval vessel afloat.

VERMONT MURDER SUSPECT ON TRIAL

William Koch Pleads Self-Defence In Gordon's Death

Rutland, Vt., Dec. 16.—Efforts to show that William Koch shot Charles Gordon in self-defense are expected to form the line of defence in the trial of Koch for murder. Gordon was killed at West Haven on Nov. 9, while examining some traps on the private game preserve owned by Koch and his sister.

When arrested, Koch asserted that Gordon had been a persistent poacher on his preserve and that when Koch remonstrated with him, Gordon raised a club in a threatening manner. Koch claimed that his revolver was discharged as he was raising his arm to ward off the expected blow.

After the shooting Koch assisted Gordon to a boat and took him to Whitehall, N. Y., after summoning three physicians. Gordon died before the boat reached Whitehall.

IF YOU ARE WEAK AND "RUN-DOWN"

Common sense demands that the first thing to be done is to put both your nerves and blood into a healthy condition. Your nerves direct the work of your various organs and the blood feeds them. Unless both nerves and blood are in health, you can't be well. Common sense also demands that the medicine you take serve both the above purposes—both tones and strengthens the nerves and nourishes the blood.

Such a medicine is Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion, the ideal nerve and blood and body builder. It is a real nerve food tonic—not an alcoholic beverage, as many so-called "tonics" are. Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion does not contain a drop of alcohol, nor any dangerous or habit-forming drug. It puts new life and health and strength into run-down systems, because every ingredient in it is put in for that purpose, and not to merely stimulate. Unlike alcoholic "medicines," it does not show its effects in a renewed liveliness immediately after taking a dose. The effects begin to be felt in a few days, however, and they last, because the whole system has been strengthened and health is being renewed. If this is not your experience, we want you to come back for your money.

You who are weak and run-down, and you who are apparently well now, but are liable to suffer from various cold weather ailments, use Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion to get and keep well and strong. For the tired-out, run-down, nervous, emaciated or debilitated—the convalescing—growing children—aged people—it is a sensible aid to renewed strength, better spirits, glowing health.

Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion—king of the celebrated Rexall Remedies—is for freedom from sickness of you and your family. You'll be as enthusiastic about it as we are when you have noted its pleasant taste, its strengthening, invigorating, building-up, disease-preventing effects. If it does not help you, your money will be given back to you without argument. Sold in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store—one of more than 7,000 leading drug stores in the United States, Canada and Great Britain.

—Edward J. Murphy, 1415 Hancock Cor. Granite Streets, Quincy, Mass. "The Rexal Store."

WOLLASTON BAPTIST CHURCH.

"Are You Doing Your Best?" was the subject of the Sunday morning sermon at the Wollaston Baptist church, and the question was most forcibly driven home to the minds of the audience. As examples, Mary Magdalene anointing the feet of Jesus, and the poor widow and her mite, were quoted.

There were three reasons mentioned why we should do our best, 1st God has done His best for us, "God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten son." It is a sin for a man to receive all from God and yet fail to do his best with the gifts. 2d Because of the world about us. Unless the people of God do their best, the task which the Saviour laid upon them will never be fulfilled, the world will never be won to Christ; if we did our best it might be accomplished in one generation. 3d. For our own sakes. Only as we do our best can we hope to advance. Besides eternal life, there is an additional reward. In order to do our best we must have faith, we must have a high ideal, we must learn the lesson from our past failures, must not be creatures of mood and feeling, we must free ourselves from the entanglements of the world. Are we doing our best, in giving in living in working, in soul-winning?

There was a large attendance in the Sunday school, especially in the primary and men's departments.

At the men's classes opening exercises Miss Gladys Flieger sang a solo The contest in the Rand class is bringing numbers, the attendance being 41 on Sunday.

There were 60 children at the Junior meeting at 3.30 in the chapel. Mrs. Walther was in charge and reported a most enthusiastic service.

The meeting of the Y. P. S. C. E. at 6.00 in the chapel was under the leadership of Miss Marion Rand, subject "Lessons from Men and Women of the Bible," and many participated; William Bullock sang.

The Popular Praise service at seven was well attended. There was special music by the chorus choir and Miss Ruth L. Hardy sang "Come unto Me." The subject for the sermon was "Going on to Perfection."

Tuesday evening at 7.45 a cottage prayer meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Seldon H. Nickerson, Ardel street, Montclair.

Wednesday afternoon at 3.00 the Elliot Home Mission Society will meet with Mrs. Philip Dresser, 18 South Central avenue, subject, "Alaska," leader, Mrs. William Waring. At 4.00 the pastor's class in the fundamental Principles of the Christian Faith, will meet in the parsonage. In the evening at 7.45 the Personal Workers' Training clss will meet at the home of Miss Marion Rand, 411 Highland avenue. All who desire to attend this class are invited also; at 7.45 the Walther Men's Class will hold a social in the chapel. H. B. Dimmick of Boston will give an address, illustrated by the Stereopticon on "The Meat Packing Industry in America." All the men in the church and congregation and their men friends invited.

Thursday evening at 7. 45 the regular meeting will be held in the chapel Archibald Adams, son of the late Dr. Adams of China will speak.

Sunday morning, Dec. 21 at 10.45 a Christmas concert will take the place of the regular service and Wednesday evening Dec. 24 at 7 o'clock the Christmas tree exercises will be held in the chapel.

☞White wrapping paper for doing up your Christmas gifts can be obtained at the Ledger-Patriot office for 0 cents a dozen sheets or by the single sheet at 2 cents per sheet.

For INDIGESTION

It is so much wiser to take the proper remedy than to let the trouble continue, that you ought to act without delay.

Indigestion robs you of your strength, of your sleep, of your power to work or to enjoy the natural pleasures of life. If it lasts—if your food is not permitted to nourish you—serious sickness is almost certain to follow. This may cause you more intense suffering and cost you a great deal of time and money to cure.

But Beecham's Pills will help you to overcome the trouble safely, surely, quickly, before harm is done. This great world-remedy is famous for the lasting good it does as well as for its immediate tonic effect upon the stomach and other organs of digestion.

BILIOUSNESS is a common form of Indigestion. It shows that poisons are being formed in the intestinal tract. Headaches, poor appetite, restless nights, bad dreams, sour taste, coated tongue, sallow skin, nervousness are among the symptoms of Biliousness. Beecham's Pills relieve these distressing conditions by removing the cause. Purer blood, sounder nerves, clearer brain, brighter spirits will be yours when your system has been cleansed of impurities and your stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels toned and regulated by

BEECHAM'S PILLS

Directions of Special Value to Women are with every box.

At all Druggists, 10c, 25c.

"The Largest Sale of Any Medicine in the World"

SAVE MAN'S LIFE

Waterbury, Vt., Shoemaker Swallowed Seven Morphine Tablets

Waterbury, Vt., Dec. 16.—Heroic treatment by physicians saved the life of William Hulbert, 35, a shoemaker of this town, who after purchasing ten morphine tablets at a local drug store, retired to his room and swallowed seven of them.

Chief of Police D. T. Harvey and Drs. Bidwell, Steele and Goodrich broke into his room and found him sitting half unconscious on the edge of a bed trying to smoke a cigar. He was in a critical condition. After hard work with a stomach pump, the man's life was saved. He has been drinking heavily lately, it is said.

Baseball Cost Fifteen Lives

Chicago, Dec. 16.—Baseball cost fifteen lives in America during the year 1913, according to figures compiled by J. R. Vickery. Fatalities were most numerous in Chicago where three persons died of injuries received on the diamond. All except one of the fifteen killed were hit by pitched balls or foul tips.

Hitchcock Loses a Point

Washington, Dec. 16.—By a vote of 40 to 35 the senate defeated the first of the Hitchcock amendments to the currency bill—that designed to fix the number of regional reserve banks at four and to require sale to the public first of stock in regional reserve banks.

Holeproof Hosiery FOR MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN

Soft, Stylish, Snug-fitting, Seamless.

Six Pairs Cotton Hose Guaranteed to Wear Six Months or New Hose FREE

Holeproof SILK HOSE 3 pairs guaranteed 3 months

GEORGE W. JONES

1 Granite St., "Just around the Corner," Quincy

Dec. 15 2t

Old Company's Lehigh Egg Coal

for Your furnace

Is there anything better mined?

We Sell It

Try a Ton

C. PATCH & SON Inc.

1422 Hancock Street

Quincy Daily Ledger

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30.
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave,
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branschied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
Newcomb Square—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. Smith.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck.
L. A. Cook, Washington Street.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 528 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington Street.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield Water st.
A. Pierson, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—Capt. Fosdick's.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity: Fair Wednesday with increasing cloudiness Thursday.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	7.08
Sun sets	4.13
Length of day	9.05
Moon rises	8.37
High water, A. M.	1.45
High water, P. M.	2.00

Days decrease 6 hours, 12 minutes

Full Moon, Dec. 13,	10.00 A. M.
Last Quarter, Dec. 20	11.16 A. M.
New Moon, Dec. 27	9.59 A. M.
First Quarter, Dec. 5,	9.59 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today	42 degrees
Dec. 16 1912,	46 degrees
Dec. 16, 1911,	44 degrees

Dec. Noon Maximum 14 years—67
Dec. Noon Minimum, 14 years—2

BRIEFS

Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Bennett of Fonda, N. Y., have returned home after an enjoyable visit to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph K. Barbour of Elm avenue, Wollaston.

Norfolk County Association quarterly meeting of the Woman's Relief Corps will be held in Canton town hall on Wednesday Dec. 17, at 10, o'clock. Dinner will be served by Canton Corps at 25 cents a plate.

Members of Loyal Ladies of Clan McGregor are to attend the funeral Wednesday afternoon of their late sister Mrs. Christina Coe of 23 Bennington street. The ladies will attend as friends of the deceased not as a body and therefore will not meet at the hall as announced Monday.

Pupils of the upper grades of the Adams, Lincoln, Cranch and John Hancock schools are to have a Christmas party tomorrow afternoon at the new Adams school when Christmas carols will be sung and Miss Edith Randall will tell of a German Christmas. The afternoon is under the auspices of the Education committee, (Mrs. Mellen, chairman) of the Quincy Women's club.

K. OF C. BOWLING.

The four highest men in the Quincy Council, Knights of Columbus rolloff qualified as captains of the teams that will make up the league. They are Paul Avery Russell Sullivan, Thomas Fallon, Jr., and Roy Coyle. The league will be underway within two weeks and all matches will be rolled on the City Square alleys.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

Electric Decorations
Are Popular
For Christmas
Special Fittings
BECKFORD & LYNCH
3 Saville St., Quincy
Dec. 13-6t

Great Bargains
Shoes and Rubbers
Selling about Half Price
4 Buckle Arctics $1.98
One Buckle Arctics 98c
At MAX LEVY'S
Cor Washington and Temple Streets
Dec. 15-3t

BOWLING SCORES

Four matches of the Fore River bowling league on the Coliseum alleys Monday evening produced several good scores. Carlson of the Machine Gallery with 113 secured the high single. Smith of the Electricians was close second with 110. Several other good strings were made.

The Machine Gallery beat the Pipe Fitters 4 to 0 in a runaway match. The summary:

MACHINE GALLERY.

White	78	96	84	258
Williams	98	88	81	267
Moran	87	101	79	267
Carlson	85	96	113	294
Mills	100	89	90	279
	448	470	447	1365

PIPE FITTERS.

Gallagher	89	97	76	262
Stenke	67	85	84	236
Hamilton	78	81	91	250
Lawton	78	76	77	231
Graham	82	96	85	263
	394	435	413	1242

The Electricians and the Blacksmiths divided the points. The summary:

ELECTRICIANS.

Dobos	94	81	91	266
Lincoln	72	68	89	229
Smith	90	88	110	288
Fitzgerald	88	105	88	281
Olindy	83	96	80	259
	427	438	458	1323

BLACKSMITHS.

Flannigan	75	108	97	280
Pitts	87	74	77	238
Broberg	86	87	75	248
McLellan	93	88	81	262
Bergfors	95	94	87	276
	436	451	417	1304

The yard defeated the Argentine Inspectors 4 to 0. The latter team has not been in form for several weeks and their highest single total was 428. The summary:

YARD.

Robbins	90	78	102	270
Anthony	96	96	105	297
McKenzie	100	87	72	259
Mill	91	81	97	270
Smith	100	87	95	282
	477	429	471	1377

ARGENTINE INSPECTORS.

Koozer	74	79	86	239
Villigar	88	93	78	259
Cruzzi	81	89	96	266
Wifkendorf	103	81	75	259
Santa Cruz	77	86	97	260
	428	428	427	1283

The Hull Draftsmen and the Government Draftsmen took two points apiece, the first and third going to the former. The summary:

HULL DRAFTSMEN.

Fromme	86	80	85	251
Kennedy	80	74	75	229
Sullivan	66	58	85	209
Ryan	107	92	92	291
Westland	100	94	100	294
	439	398	437	1274

GOVERNMENT DRAFTSMEN.

Melendy	87	114	82	283
Tavolai	79	91	84	254
Lemieux	68	83	94	245
Kelly	67	93	95	255
O'Neil	81	84	81	246
	382	465	436	1283

MOLDLOFT LEAGUE.

The Mildloftsmen league rolloff at the City Square alleys Monday evening did not result in alarming scores. Minhinicks five beat the Stanford aggregation 3 to 1, the lone tally going to the short enders by one pin. The summary:

MINHINICKS.

McKelvie	74	82	70	226
Taggart	73	68	74	215
Mahoney	80	85	87	252
Ferguson	64	74	80	218
Minhinick	80	91	96	267
	371	400	407	1178

STANFORD.

Smith	93	73	85	251
McLean	62	56	81	199
Hamilton	71	67	85	223
Moe	68	81	87	226
Hanford	74	77	70	221
	368	354	408	1130

☞White wrapping paper for doing up your Christmas gifts can be obtained at the Ledger-Patriot office for 20 cents a dozen sheets or by the single sheet at 2 cents per sheet.

MAZATLAN IS HIT BY REBELS

Town Surrounded on Land and Sea by Constitutionalists

FEDERALS UNDER HEAVY FIRE

Reports Say Huerta's Men Are Unable To Obtain More Ammunition and Are In Desperate Straits—Reports State That Rebel Loss In Tampico Will Reach 1000

Mexico City, Dec. 16.—A desperate and bloody battle is being waged at Mazatlan, the town being surrounded by rebels by land and sea, according to reports reaching Mexico City.

The rebels have mounted machine guns on stolen launches, and while the constitutionalists stormed the town from the land side the federal defenders were under heavy fire along the waterfront. To meet the new attack the federals threw up embankments along the shore.

United States Consul Alger is believed to be in Mazatlan, and there are many American and foreign residents in the town.

The federals have found it impossible, according to the reports, to obtain more ammunition and supplies and are in desperate straits.

Supposedly for the purpose of appearing democratic, General Huerta walked along the sidewalk from his residence to the national palace, attired in an old felt hat, gray sweater and brown overcoat much the worse for wear. His usual soldier bodyguard, though, was not far behind him.

To enforce discipline the rebels in Culiacan are compelling the men of the richest families to sweep the street and perform other menial tasks, according to reports.

The rebel loss in the battle with the federals for the possession of the seaport of Tampico is estimated at 1000, according to a telegram received at the ministry of the interior from the governor of the state of Tamaulipas.

The last shot in the battle was fired Sunday morning, when the rebels retired. Federal cavalry pursued the rebels for some distance, afterward returning to Tampico and reporting the rebels had dispersed, some going toward Victoria and others in the direction of Tula and Xicotencati, in the state of Tamaulipas.

The rebels were demoralized and short of ammunition, the report said.

An active campaign is to be begun by the federals in the region about Torreon. It was announced an effort to retake Durango is to be made anew.

Telegrams from Torreon indicate the local authorities deposed by the rebels have been restored to office and the public service is being reorganized.

The Mexican rebels who were repulsed at Tampico expressed confidence they would be able to take the town in another attack they plan to make when they get artillery reenforcements from Victoria, according to reports reaching here. They are said to be repairing the railway line to Victoria in order to bring up the desired cannon.

Officers of the gunboat Wheeling, which has arrived here from Tampico, expressed the belief there are now 8000 constitutionalists around the seaport and they will finally be successful in taking the town.

For the purpose of revealing their alleged plotting against Huerta, a judge in an open court began reading all of the letters addressed to the hundred imprisoned members of the last congress, which Huerta dissolved. When Huerta dissolved the congress, assumed the dictatorship and jailed the deputies, he gave as his reason the alleged discovery the men were plotting his overthrow.

SUICIDE BY GAS

Despondency Over Ill Health Drove P. H. Leduc to End His Life

Worcester, Mass., Dec. 16.—Philip H. Leduc, aged 60, was found dead in his home, 65 Salem street, from asphyxiation by illuminating gas, and the police, after investigating the case, say it is a case of suicide.

Leduc was formerly a well-known business man, but an accident twelve years ago made him permanently lame and unable to attend to his business. He had been working in the Smith mill at Cherry Valley recently. Despondency over his physicial condition is given as the reason for the suicide.

Fisherman Finds Naval Torpedo

Providencetown, Mass., Dec. 16.—William J. Corea, a fisherman of this town, dug out of the sand near the beach a twenty-two-inch torpedo supposed to belong to the United States battleship Utah. The torpedo answers the description of the explosive lost from the battleship in 1912, which the navy department advertised.

Van Horn's Liabilities $778,877.51

Concord, N. H., Dec. 16.—Isaac Van Horn of Holderness, N. H., and Boston, has filed a petition in bankruptcy with the clerk of the United States district court in this city, in which his liabilities are given as $778,877.51, and his assets as $100.

TO FINANCE REVOLT

Chinamen Hold Meeting to Plan Revolution In China

San Francisco, Dec. 16.—Five hundred members of the Chinese colony here met to take steps to finance a revolution to oust President Yuan Shi Kai of the Chinese republic from office. The meeting proclaimed that the president was trying to have himself declared emperor.

Ying Pah Hsieh of Canton, head of the Chinese National party and personal representative of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, addressed the meeting. He declared the life of the republic depended on the removal of Yuan.

S. C. Kang Hoo, head of the Progressive party in China, spoke of the necessity for organizing a movement that would take the reins of government from the hands of Yuan Shi Kai.

The envoy of Dr. Sun, accompanied by the leader of the Progressive party, will leave in a few days for Chicago and New York.

GIRL SCARRED FOR LIFE

Slashed In Face by Man She Refused as Escort

New York, Dec. 16.—Martha Goldstein of 404 Chester street, East New York, was slashed in the face when she struck a man who tried to take her by the arm. The girl was returning from a friend's house, and at Eastern Parkway and Bergen street noticed that she was being followed.

Miss Goldstein halted, and the man quickly walked up to her and offered to act as her escort. No sooner had she struck him then he drew a knife. He fled after wounding the girl. She was taken to the Brownsville police station and the cut in her face was sewed up by a doctor from a hospital, who said that the girl would carry the scar for life, but that the wound was not dangerous. Miss Goldstein was able to give only a meagre description of her assailant.

BLAME HUNTER FOR KILLING COMPANION

Maine Jury Says Page Was Criminally and Carelessly Shot

Lincoln, Me., Dec. 16.—Albert L. Page of East Eddington, killed while deer hunting near Kingman, was criminally and carelessly shot, according to the verdict of the coroner's inquest.

John Rivers, also of East Eddington, who was hunting with Page, was to be arraigned for a hearing on the charge of manslaughter.

Rivers told the officers they went out Silver Ridge road from Macwahoc. He went toward Molunkus stream and drove a deer toward Page, who was waiting near the deer runway. He said he saw the deer and fired, but did not observe his companion. Page was shot through the heart.

CRUELTY TO ANIMAL

Horse Seized That Had Been Kept Fourteen Years In Barn

Lafayette, Ind., Dec. 16.—Fourteen years ago William H. Moore, a contractor, was killed when two horses he was driving ran away. His widow, Sarah Moore, vowed nobody should ever ride behind the horses again. Since that time she and her son, Wilbur Moore, have kept the horses tied in her barn. One of the horses died two years ago.

The other still alive, was seized by a deputy sheriff. Never having been shod for fourteen years, the horse's hoofs have grown until they are nearly a foot long. The horse is practically blind from standing so long in darkness.

The humane authorities filed affidavits against Mrs. Moore and her son, charging them with cruelty to animals.

MOLTEN STEEL EXPLODES

Tossed 500 Feet In Air When Ladle Full Falls Into River

Johnstown, Pa., Dec. 16.—Thousands of windows in the business and downtown residence districts were shattered and people rushed from their homes in alarm here, following a terrific explosion of a ladle of molten steel, which was bumped from a railroad track in the Cambria Steel company's mill yard into the Conemaugh river.

The metal, tossed 500 feet in the air across the Pennsylvania railroad and Prospect Hill, was a mass of flame for fifteen minutes. Three men were probably fatally injured.

Six Years For Killing Father

Dedham, Mass., Dec. 16.—For killing his father, John Delaney, at their home at 62 Highland street, on Aug. 24, Richard J. Delaney, 35, was sentenced to from six to eight years in the state prison by Judge Brown in the Norfolk county court.

Jail Farmer For Murder

Glen Falls, N. Y., Dec. 16.—E. F. Hitchcock, a farmer 62 years old, was locked up in Washington county jail in Hudson Falls, on a charge of murdering Henry Norton, his brother-in-law.

Maine Boy Thin Ice Victim

Norridgewock, Me., Dec. 16.—Cecil Downs, aged 10, was drowned when he ventured upon thin ice on a mill stream.

WILSON ANGRY AT CARABAOS

Withdraws as Honorary Member of Association

RESENTS SATIRES ON POLICY

Orders Investigation of Military Order Composed of Men Who Served In Philippines Prior to Spanish-American War—Court-Martials and Reprimands May Follow

Washington, Dec. 16.—President Wilson formally withdrew his recent acceptance of honorary membership in the military order of the Carabao, composed of regular and volunteer officers of the army and navy who served in the Philippine islands during the four years succeeding the Spanish-American war.

Earlier in the day the president had ordered an investigation of various satires and travesties of the administration's policy toward the Philippines as portrayed at a banquet of the Carabaos in Washington Thursday night.

The affair was attended by Secretaries Redfield and Daniels and Postmaster General Burleson, Justice McKenna and Vandeventer of the United States supreme court, many members of congress and hundreds of army and navy officers. The demand for an investigation, together with intimations from the White House that courtmartials and severe reprimands would not be surprising, caused a sensation in army and navy circles in the capital.

The incident first came to the president's attention when he read accounts of it in the newspapers.

Through his secretary he communicated with various members of his cabinet, expressing his indignation that officers of the army and navy should sing songs containing profane epithets directed at a people whom the United States was endeavoring to assist to self-government and civilization.

No effort, according to White House officials, had been made to keep the banquet a private affair, copies of the songs and descriptions of the travesties being given to the press generally in advance.

It was made plain at the White House that while a general burlesque of the administration's peace policies and thrusts at Secretary Bryan and others were deeply resented because they came from army and navy officers, the chief opposition was to the spirit of hostility shown to Philippine independence as the problem is being worked out by the present administration.

Secretaries Daniels and Garrison conferred at length on the subject and called upon Rear Admiral Thomas T. Howard, U. S. N., and Major General James Aleshire, U. S. A., the two highest officers of the Carabaos, for an explanation. They promised to give all the information desired.

Dr. Joseph M. Heller, secretary of the Washington corral of the Carabao, issued a statement expressing regret on behalf of the members of the order, particularly those who had to do with Thursday night's dinner, that any feature of the program had given offence.

HUNTING SEASON ENDS

Estimated 10,000 Deer, 200 Moose and 17 Persons Lost Lives

Bangor, Me., Dec. 16.—Maine's big game season has come to an end, close time on deer beginning at midnight last night. Rough estimates placed the number of deer killed at 10,000 and the number of moose at 200. The moose season ended Nov. 30.

During the hunting season seventeen persons met their deaths in the woods—seven by accidental discharge of their own guns, four through being mistaken for deer, three by dragging guns muzzle first, two by getting in range of men firing at deer or other game, and one by drowning. Several men have been arrested for reckless or careless shooting.

TO DODGE WALL STREET

Santa Claus, For First Time In Years, Will Disappoint Many

New York, Dec. 16.—Sadness was spread among thousands in the financial district when many large brokerage firms which have annually presented large sums to their employes sent out notices that no Christmas gifts or bonuses would be given this year.

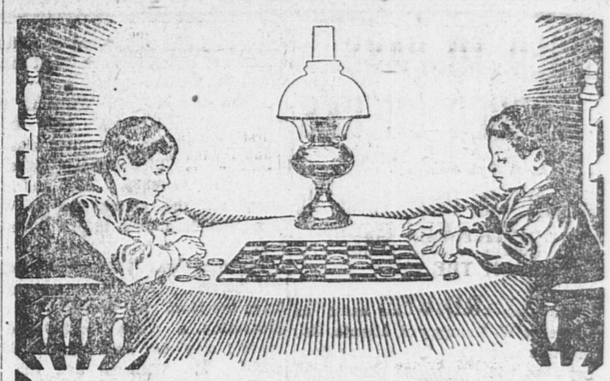
The notices upset expectations of employes of houses that have followed the Christmas gift custom for many years without a break.

Suspect Another Black Hand Murder

Braddock, Pa., Dec. 16.—Frank Cialzaro died in the hospital here, another victim, the police declare, of Black Hand feuds that have waged for almost a year. The shooting occurred within a few feet of a similar Black Hand murder three months ago.

Warwick Mule Spinners Strike

Warwick, R. I., Dec. 16.—Demanding 17 percent increase in wages, the mule spinners in the four B. B. and R. Knight company mills in Pawtucket valley, have gone on strike.



After-Supper Games

Are best by Rayo-light. Kerosene light saves young eyes that are priceless.

Rayo

The RAYO Lamp is the best kerosene lamp made. No smell, no bother. Easy to clean and rewick—can be lighted without removing chimney or shade.

Dealers everywhere—write for descriptive circular.

STANDARD OIL COMPANY
New York of New York Buffalo
Albany Boston

1876-1913

WE HAVE OFFERED FOR YOUR INSPECTION AND SELECTION EACH YEAR RELIABLE GOODS, AND WE SUGGEST YOU LOOK OVER OUR LINE OF

Watches, Cut Glass, Silver Ware, Jewelry, Clocks, Etc.

TO AID YOU IN YOUR CHRISTMAS SHOPPING WE INVITE YOUR INSPECTION OF OUR STOCK.

C. F. PETTENGILL
1391 Hancock Street Near Granite Street
TELEPHONE QUINCY 466-M Dec.13,10t

A Merry Xmas to all.

When buying Pianos or Musical Instruments see
JOHNSEN
6 Chestnut Street, Quincy
Pianos from $10 up
Dec. 8 12t

FOR SALE
New Axes
20c each 3 for 50c
While They Last
L. GROSSMAN & SONS
Jackson Street
Near Quincy Adams Depot
Dec. 13-lo-tf

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED
Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

Call Quincy 501--W
if you want your furniture, mattresses and cushions repaired in good order at low prices
M. MIRKIN, upholsterer, 1060 Hancock street, near the Quincy High School.
Dec. 1-1m

Penniman's
TAXI SERVICE
Taxies and Touring Cars with careful and safe drivers to let for all occasions.
C. H. PENNIMAN, Prop.
Telephone 207.
June 13-tf

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

In effect Nov. 16, 1913

The letters in the same line as the figures below stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows.

a	Wollaston	f	Harrison Square
b	Norfolk Downs	g	Savin Hill
c	Atlantic	h	Crescent Avenue
d	Neponset	i	South Boston
e	Pope's Hill	r	Quincy Adams
*	Saturdays Only	t	Except Saturday

Exp—Express train.

TO BOSTON Leave	Stop	Arrive	FROM BOSTON Leave	Stop	Arrive
r 5 14	abcdefghi	5 41	5 44	fhgfedeba	6 14 r
r 6 9	abcl	6 40	6 09	fhgfedeba	6 39 r
r 6 32	e	6 49	6 29	a	6 47
			6 47	Exp	7 04
r 6 40	abcf	7 00	7 14	fhgfedeba	7 41 r
r 7 08	abcd	7 30	7 34	a	7 52
7 28	a	7 46	7 37	a	7 56
r 7 32	Exp	7 49	7 44	c	8 03 r
r 7 42	ab	8 00	8 34	eba	8 55 r
7 55	a	8 12	8 44	b	9 02
r 8 13	abc	8 32	9 09	fedba	9 32 r
8 24	a	8 41	9 44	a	10 01 r
8 33	a	8 50	10 14	fhgfedeba	10 41 r
r 8 53	ad	9 16	10 54	Exp	11 10
r 9 18	abc	9 39	11 14	hgfedeba	11 41 r
r 10 04	a	10 21	11 49	a	12 07
r 10 19	abcdefghi	10 45	12 14	hgfedeba	12 41 r
11 12	a	11 28	12 20	a	12 38
11 24	abcdefgh	11 50	12 50	Exp	1 06
12 04	a	12 20	1 16	fedeba	1 40 r
			* 1 32	a	1 50
r 12 27	abcdefghi	12 53	1 44	a	2 01
r 1 16	a	1 34	2 14	fedeba	2 37 r
2 04	a	2 20	2 34	Exp	2 50
r 2 19	abcdefgh	2 45	3 14	hgfedeba	3 40 r
r 3 13	Exp	3 28	3 44	a	4 02
4 04	a	4 20	4 12	fedeba	4 35 r
r 4 26	abcdefgh	4 53	4 15	a	4 32
5 02	a	5 19	4 40	c	4 58
r 5 30	abcdefg	5 55	4 55	a	5 13
6 04	a	6 21	5 13	a	5 32
6 12	ab	6 32	5 19	hgfeca	5 43
6 57	a	7 15	5 28	ba	5 46 r
r 7 22	Exp	7 39	5 40		5 57
7 20	ab	7 48	5 58	a	6 17 r
r 8 00	abcdef	8 32	6 01	iedeb	6 24
9 00	a	9 18	6 16	a	6 35
r 9 10	abc	9 29	6 30	ecba	6 52 r
* 9 17	Exp.	9 32	6 59	fedeba	7 24 r
r 10 07	abcdef	10 30	7 11	a	7 28
* 10 19	a	10 37	8 04	fedeba	8 28 r
11 13	a	11 30	* 8 19	Exp	8 35
r 11 30	abcd	11 10	9 19	a	9 37
			9 34	b	9 53 r
			10 05	ba	10 24
			10 34	fedeba	11 04 r
			*11 06	a	11 25 r
			†11 09	fedeba	11 35 r
			*11 25	ba	11 43 r
			†11 29	ba	11 49
			12 05	cba	12 26 r

SUNDAYS

r 7 43	abc	8 03	6 29	ba	6 48
8 30	Exp	8 45	8 34	cba	8 55 r
r 8 46	abcdefghi	9 13	10 39	cba	10 59 r
r 9 13	abc	9 38	12 14	fhgfedeba	12 42
9 31	a	9 47	12 44	Exp	1 01
10 25	ac	10 42	1 29	fhgfedeba	1 57 r
11 08	Exp	11 25	2 14	hgfedeba	2 42 r
r 11 16	abcdefghi	11 42	2 44	a	3 02
1 04	a	1 23	3 14	fhgfedeba	3 42 r
r 1 16	abcdefgh	1 43	4 26	cba	4 48 r
r 3 10	abc	3 30	5 14	fhgfedeba	5 42 r
r 4 16	abcdefghi	4 43	6 09	Exp	6 25
4 59	ab	5 16	6 14	fhgfedeba	6 42 r
5 16		5 23	7 02	eba	7 22 r
6 16	abcdefghi	6 43	8 14	fhgfedeba	8 41 r
7 21	Exp	7 36	8 39	a	8 56 r
7 29	abcdefghi	7 55	8 49	Exp	9 06
r 8 16	abcdefghi	8 43	9 29	fhgfedeba	9 57 r
9 46	a	10 04	10 44	cba	11 04 r
10 46	abc	11 05

WITHIN THE LAW

By MARVIN DANA
FROM THE PLAY OF
BAYARD VEILLER

Copyright, 1913, by the H. K. Fly company.

(Continued from last issue.)

Mary shook her head decisively. "It's out of our line," she declared.

"I don't see any easier way to get half a million," Griggs said aggressively.

"If it were fifty millions it would make no difference. It's against the law."

"Oh, I know all that, of course," Griggs returned impatiently. "But if you can"—

"My friends and I never do anything that's illegal. Thank you for coming to us, Mr. Griggs, but we can't go in, and there's an end of the matter."

"But wait a minute," English Eddie expostulated. "You see, this chap Gilder is"—

"Gilder?" Mary exclaimed questioningly.

"Yes. You know who he is—the dry goods man."

Mary, however, had regained her self control, and her voice was tranquil again as she replied:

"I know; but, just the same, it's illegal, and I won't touch it. That's all there is to it."

"But half a million!" Griggs exclaimed disconsolately. "There's a stake worth playing for. Think of it!" He turned pleadingly to Garson. "Half a million, Joe!"

"English Eddie" Griggs.

The telephone rang, and Mary excused herself. The instant she was out of the room Griggs turned to Garson anxiously.

"It's a cinch, Joe," he pleaded. "I've got a plan of the house." He drew a paper from his breast pocket and handed it to the forger, who studied it with intent, avaricious eyes.

"It looks easy," Garson agreed.

"It is easy. What do you say?"

"I promised Mary never to"—

"But a chance like this! Anyhow come around to the back room at Blinkey's tonight and we'll have a talk. Will you?"

"What time?"

"Make it early, say 9."

"I'll come," Garson replied half guiltily. And in the same moment Mary re-entered.

Griggs rose and spoke with an air of regret.

"It's 'follow the leader,'" he said, "and since you are against it that settles it."

CHAPTER X.

Garson's Noiseless Gun.

SOMETHING of what was in his mind was revealed in Garson's first speech after Griggs' going.

"That's a mighty big stake he's playing for."

"And a big chance he's taking!" Mary retorted. "No, Joe, we don't want any of that. We'll play a game that's safe and sure."

The words recalled to the forger weird forebodings that had been troubling him throughout the day.

"It's sure enough," he stated, "but is it safe?"

"What do you mean?"

Garson walked to and fro nervously as he answered.

"S'pose the bulls get tired of you putting it over on 'em and try some rough work?"

"Don't worry, Joe. I know a way to stop it."

"Well, so far as that goes, so do I," the forger said, with significant emphasis.

"Just what do you mean by that?" Mary demanded, suspiciously.

"For rough work," he said, "I have this." He took a magazine pistol from his pocket. It was of an odd shape, with a barrel longer than usual and a bellshaped contrivance attached to the muzzle.

"No, no, Joe," Mary cried. "None of that—ever."

"Pooh!" The forger exclaimed. "Even if I used it, they would never get on to me. See this?" He pointed at the strange contrivance on the muzzle.

"What is it? I have never seen anything like that before."

"Of course you haven't. I'm the first man in the business to get one and I'll bet on it. I keep up with the times." He was revealing that fundamental egotism which is the characteristic of all his kind. "That's one of the new Maxim silencers. With smokeless powder in the cartridges and the silencer on, I can make a shot from my coat pocket, and you wouldn't even know it had been done. And I'm some shot, believe me."

"Impossible!" Mary ejaculated.

"No, it ain't. Here, wait, I'll show you."

"Good gracious, not here!" Mary exclaimed in alarm. "We would have the whole place down on us."

Garson chuckled.

"You just watch that dinky little vase at the table across the room there. 'Tain't very valuable, is it?"

"No," Mary answered.

In the same instant, while still her eyes were on the vase, it fell in a cascade of shivered glass to the table and floor. She had heard no sound, she saw no smoke. Perhaps, there had been a faintest clicking noise. She stared dumfounded for a few seconds, then turned her bewildered face toward Garson, who was grinning in high enjoyment.

"Neat little thing, ain't it?" the man asked, exultantly.

"Where did you get it?" Mary asked.

"In Boston, last week. And between you and me, Mary, it's the only model, and it sure is a corker."

That night in the back room of Blinkey's English Eddie and Garson sat with their heads close together over a table.

"A chance like this," Griggs was saying, "a chance that will make a fortune for all of us."

"It sounds good," Garson admitted, wistfully.

Inspector Burke.

"Well," urged Griggs, "what do you say?"

"How would we split it?"

"Three ways would be right," Griggs answered. "One to me, one to you and one to be divided up among the others."

Garson brought his fist down on the table with a force that made the glasses jingle.

"You're on," he said, strongly.

"Fine!" Griggs declared, and the two men shook hands. "Now, I'll get"—

"Get nothing!" Garson interrupted. "I'll get my own men. Chicago Red is in town. So is Dacey, with perhaps a couple of others of the right sort. I'll get them and we'll turn the trick tomorrow night."

"That's the stuff," Griggs agreed, greatly pleased.

But a sudden shadow fell on the face of Garson. He bent closer to his companion and spoke with a fierce intensity that brooked no denial.

"She must never know."

Griggs nodded understandingly.

Mary had gone to her bedroom for a nap. She was not in the least surprised that Dick had not yet returned, though he had mentioned half an hour. At the best there were many things that might detain him—his father's absence from the office, difficulties in making arrangements for his projected honeymoon trip abroad—which would never occur—or the like. At the worst there was a chance of finding his father promptly, and of that father as promptly taking steps to prevent the son from ever again seeing the woman who had so indiscreetly married him.

Yet somehow Mary could not believe that her husband would yield to such paternal coercion. Rather, she was sure that he would prove loyal to her whom he loved through every trouble. At the thought a certain wistfulness pervaded her and a poignant regret that this particular man should have been the one chosen of fate to be entangled within her mesh of revenge. There throbbed in her a heart tormenting realization that there were in life possibilities infinitely more splendid than the joy of vengeance. She would not confess the truth even to her inmost soul, but the truth was there and set her atremble with vague fears.

She had slept, perhaps, a half hour when Fannie awakened her.

"It's a man named Burke," she explained as her mistress lay blinking. "And there's another man with him. They said they must see you."

By this time Mary was wide awake, for the name of Burke, the police inspector, was enough to startle her out of drowsiness.

She got up, slipped into a teagown, bathed her eyes in cologne, dressed her hair a little and went into the drawing room, where the two men had been waiting for something more than a quarter of an hour—to the violent indignation of both.

"Oh, here you are, at last!" the big, burly man cried as she entered.

"Yes, inspector," Mary replied pleasantly, as she advanced into the room. She gave a glance toward the other visitor, who was of a slenderer form with a thin, keen face, and recognized him instantly as Demarest, who had taken part against her as the lawyer for the store at the time of her trial, and who was now district attorney. She went to the chair at the desk and seated herself in a leisurely fashion that increased the indignation of the fuming inspector. She did not ask her self invited guests to sit.

"To whom do I owe the pleasure of this visit, inspector?" she remarked coolly. It was noticeable that she said whom and not what, as if she understood perfectly that the influence of some person brought this.

"I have come to have a few quiet words with you," the inspector declared. Mary disregarded him, and turned to the other man.

"How do you do, Mr. Demarest?" she said evenly. "It's four years since we met, and they've made you district attorney since then. Allow me to congratulate you."

Demarest's keen face took on an expression of perplexity.

"I'm puzzled," he confessed. "There is something familiar, somehow, about you, and yet"—

"Can't you guess?" Mary questioned. "Search your memory, Mr. Demarest."

The face of the district attorney lightened.

"Why!" he exclaimed, "you are—it can't be—yes—you are the girl, you're the Mary Turner whom I—oh, I know you now."

"I'm the girl you mean, Mr. Demarest, but, for the rest, you don't know me—not at all!"

"Young woman," Burke said, peremptorily, "the Twentieth Century limited leaves Grand Central station at 4 o'clock. It arrives in Chicago at 8:55 tomorrow morning." He pulled a massive gold watch from his waistcoat pocket, glanced at it, thrust it back, and concluded ponderously: "You will just about have time to catch that train."

(To be Continued.)

☞PRATT'S BREAD made of the best flour by the best bakers. Your grocer.

Gould's Orchestra
Concert, Reception and Dance Work Solicited
Address Communications to
ALICE G. GOULD, Director
15 Willow St., East Braintree
Dec. 11-6t-o-13-1w

The Song Shop wishes you a Merry Christmas
Pianos $100 and up
Easy Terms or Cash
Hallett & Davis Piano Co.
Sheet Music. Postal Cards
M. B. & C. W. BAHR,
AGENTS,
1291 Hancock Street
Dec. 11-6t

CHOICE ARTICLES
FROM THE
PHILIPPINES

LUCBON HATS—Very best grade of the famous Panamas and Bankoks made. Absolutely none better, woven under water by hand. Can be crushed into a ball and not lose shape. Made for both Ladies and Gentlemen. $5 and $10.

ROMBLON MATS—Handsomest and most durable Grass Mats or Rugs made in the world. Beautiful colors and designs, large enough to cover one-half floor of rooms, $5.

MANILA CIGARS—$3 for a trial box of the Very Best Cigars made in the Philippines.

Oriente Cigarrettes—Best made, large package containing 25 small packages, 750 Cigarrettes, $2.

Sent by registered mail, freq of duties, on receipt of price.

C. A. SHORT & CO.,
Lucena, Tay, P. I.
Oct 4 1&O 3m

MRS. A. S. BURLESON

Wife of Postmaster General Will introduce Tango Tea

© 1913, by American Press Association.

TO GIVE TANGO TEA

Wife of Postmaster General to Hold First One In Washington Society

Washington, Dec. 16.—The tango, which has been attempting to get into Washington society for months, has at last found an opening. Lucy and Sidney Burleson, daughters of the postmaster general, are expert tangoers, as are many others of the younger cabinet and senatorial set.

Mrs. Burleson surprised society by issuing last week invitations for a tango tea, Dec. 26. It is the first tango tea—or "The Dansante"—in the capital, and although no less personages than President Wilson and Mrs. Wilson frown upon the tango, it is expected the affair will be a tremendous success.

NETHERLANDS HAS AGREED TO PEACE

First Negotiation Made With European Nation

Washington, Dec. 16.—Secretary Bryan and Chevalier Van Rappard, the Netherlands minister, agreed upon the terms of a peace treaty embodying the principles of the arbitration plan announced early in the present administration.

This will be the seventh of the peace treaties and the first negotiated with a European nation.

The negotiations of the peace treaty constitutes the most important work to be undertaken by Chevalier Van Rappard, who assumed the Netherlands mission here only last month. The text of the pact agreed upon will be withheld until Mr. Bryan and Chevalier Van Rappard have signed it.

ATLANTIC FLEET HOME

Five Thousand Officers and Men Will Spend Christmas In Port

New York, Dec. 16.—The end of the Mediterranean cruise of United States battleships brought to New York nearly 5000 officers and men glad to be home again with a pay day in sight and with a chance to spend the Christmas holidays ashore.

The superdreadnought Wyoming, flagship of Rear Admiral Charles J. Badger, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet, and the battleships Arkansas, Utah and Florida, were the returning ships, which were awaited here by the dreadnought North Dakota, also of the first division.

Nearly $200,000 will be dealt out to the officers and men by the paymasters of the battleships here during this week.

Report Immigration Bill

Washington, Dec. 16.—By a vote of more than two to one the house immigration committee favorably reported the Burnett immigration bill with its stringent provisions barring from entry into the United States all Asiatics, militant suffragettes, advocates of sabotage and anarchists. The literary test, requiring aliens to read or write one language, was also included.

Many Hurt In Tunnel Accident

Berlin, Dec. 16.—Four persons were known to be dead, fifteen seriously hurt, and thirty or more injured when a rock tunnel near Chemnitz caved in while a passenger train was going through it. The fall of rock smashed several coaches.

Storms of Life.

As storm following storm and wave succeeding wave give additional hardness to the shell that incloses the pearl, so do the storms and waves of life add force to the character of man.

Important News In Advertisements

By HOLLAND.

THE valuable news of the day is not confined to the news columns. It is also seen in the advertisements. Of course it is important to know what President Wilson is doing, what the latest developments are in China or what baseball club leads the league. But it is also important to know where a bargain in boys' waists, garden hose, breakfast food or straw hats may be found.

These bits of commercial news are among the advertisements. Wise persons look for them and take advantage of them when they are doing their buying. The leading merchants are continually telling you news of their stores, news that is important because it often means a real saving and always means something new and worth while.

Read the advertisements if you seek important news. Read them regularly and always with the thought that back of each advertisement are the reputation and business standing of the merchant. He could not afford to deceive you even if he were so inclined.

ONLY TRUTHFUL ADVERTISING PAYS.

Motorboats to Save Flood Victims

Galveston, Dec. 16.—A fleet of motorboats started for Liverpool, Tex., in a desperate effort to rescue 300 men, women and children cut off by flood waters there. Word received during the night said that if help did not reach the marooned victims they would perish.

Obliging.

"Will you corroborate my assevera-tions?"

"Naw, I can't do that. But I'll stand by what ye say."—Baltimore American.

They conquer who believe they can.—Old Saying.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

LAND COURT.

To Emile Badot, Mary A. Badot, Gene M. McCormick, Ellen B. Fegan, James Fegan, Walter R. Fegan, Lawrence J. Keegan, Ruth McGrath, John McGilvary, James J. Riley and Annie L. Newcomb, of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, and said Commonwealth; the City of Quincy, a municipal corporation located in said County of Norfolk; Herbert F. Doble, Special Administrator of the estate of Enoch H. Doble, late of said Quincy, deceased; Henry E. Sheldon, of Milton, in said County of Norfolk; Edward J. Fegan and Mary A. Fegan, of Rockland, in the County of Plymouth, and said Commonwealth; Albert J. Shackley, of Brooklyn, in the State of New York; Margaret A. Brown, of Pasadena, in the State of California; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by John B. McGilvray, of said Quincy, to register and confirm his title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situate in the westerly part of said Quincy, bounded southerly on Crescent street (formerly called Cemetery Street) sixty-nine feet; westerly on land now or late of one Anderson, formerly of the heirs of Edward Fegan ten rods, northerly on land now or late of one McCormick formerly of Robertson, seventy-five feet; and easterly on Hall Place ten rods; containing 11,880 square feet, more or less.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition, and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

You are hereby cited to appear at the Land Court to be held at Boston, in the County of Suffolk, on the twenty-ninth day of December A. D., 1913 at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, Charles Thornton Davis, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this eighth day of December in the year nineteen hundred and thirteen.

CLARENCE C. SMITH, Recorder.
Attest with Seal of said Court.
(Seal.)
Dec. 9-3t 9-16-23

EXECUTRIX NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed executrix of the will of Thomas S. Copeland late of Quincy in the County of Norfolk, deceased, testate, and has taken upon herself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs.

All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased, are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

RUBINA S. COPELAND,
Executrix.
(Address)
53 Phillips St., Wollaston, Mass.
November 28th, 1913.
Dec. 2-3t 2-9-16

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents. No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

WANTED

WANTED— Experienced Grocery and Meat man. Good wages to right man. W. H. Stevenson market, 128 Washington street, Quincy. 15-6t

WANTED—Boarders. Bath, heat, gas, near Fore River Shipyard, Mrs. Elliott, 19 Watson road. 15-3t

WANTED—Board for infant child. Best of references required. Write B. Ledger Office. 13-3t

WANTED—A man, "a live wire" to canvass the city of Quincy and sell the most up to date vacuum carpet cleaner manufactured. Must give satisfactory reference. Wm. S. Currier, Currier's Market, 1381 Hancock street. 12-6t

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing. Myatt, 40 Baxter street. Tel. 1307-M. Quincy, Res. 22-tf

FOR SALE

HORSE FOR SALE—Cheap, for want of use. H. H. I. Smith, 578 Commercial street, Weymouth Heights. Tel. Weymouth 105-1. 15-tf

FOR SALE or TO LET—New houses Apply to Thompson B. Crane, 403 Washington street, Quincy. 1-tf

SWITHIN
Real Estate
Mortgages-Insurance
Greenleaf Block
Quincy
Tel. Quincy 460. Nov. 10-tf

JAMES F. BURKE & CO.
Real Estate and Insurance
Care of Property. Mortgages
Justice of Peace. Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 286 M. Nov. 11-tf

WM. H. TEASDALE
REAL ESTATE
Insurance Mortgages
NOTARY PUBLIC JUSTICE OF THE PEACE
Room 23 Adams Building
Telephones { Residence 544-3 / Office 683-M
otf

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

QUINCY REGISTRY
FOR NURSES
20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.

Will supply trained and practical nurses, attendants and nursery assistants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.

MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar, Tel. Quincy 131-W.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point Tel. Quincy, Mass. 1158 M N 07 3- tf

ARTHUR L. THOMAS
Attorney-at-Law
3-4-5-6 Greenleaf Block
Telephone Quincy 460 Jan.2-1y

Read Ledger Ads

TO LET

TO LET—In Braintree, house of five rooms, including two bed rooms and bath. Rent reasonable. A J. Cavanagh, 72 Cedar street, Braintree. Telephone 4-14. Dec. 16-6t

TO LET—48 Revere road two connecting rooms with kitchenette for housekeeping. Also a nice room with sun all day, two large closets. Hot water heat and bath. water heat and bath. 13-tf

TO LET—Lower flat, 5 rooms bath modern improvements in new house pleasantly situated in corner lot 29 Atherton street, Bigelow Park. Rent reasonable to right party. Inquire on premises or 72 Glencoe place. 13-6t

TO LET—Upper flat in two flat new house at 1 Bradford street, 5 rooms and bath. All improvements. Ready Jan. 1st. Apply to Wm. E. Duggan, 32 Bryant avenue, West. Quincy. 12-6t

TO LET—Tenement 4 rooms and bath all improvements, set range. Vacant Jan. 1, 1914. Apply 180 Franklin street. 10-6t

TO LET—With private family, desirable room with modern conveniences. Address "R," Ledger office or telephone Quincy, 1796-W. 10-6t

RUSSELL PARK — Commodious house of seven rooms, large hall and bath. Modern, every convenience open fireplace, furnace, range, set tubs, electric lights, cemented cellar, etc. Best residential neighborhood. Ready for immediate occupancy. For further details or key see Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. tf lpo

TO LET—Tenement of 6 rooms, all improvements. Rent only $18.75, C. W. Guy, 42 Butler road, near High school. 10-tf

TO LET—9 room house on Hancock street, near Quincy center. In first class repair and reasonable rent. Apply to Mr. Galligan at Kincaide's Furniture store. 6-tf

TO LET—173 Whitwell street, half house, modern conveniences, $20 per month. Ready for immediate occupancy. Apply Penniman's Stable, Granite street. 19-tf

TO LET—Nicest 4 room and bath lower flat in town. Every improvement $19.00. 126 Glendale road. S. E. Thomas Greenleaf Block. 17-tf

TO LET—5 room tenement at 117 Quincy street, $20 per month. Apply Berman Furniture Co. 6-tf

TO LET—Houses of 5, 6 and 10 rooms. M. T. Sullivan. Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy, Mass. 11-tf

UPPER APARTMENT. In two-family house on Spear Street. Five rooms, bath, large pantry and closets, also open attic with finished heated chamber. Every improvement, electric light, furnace, range etc. Ready for immediate occupancy. Telephone Quincy 278 M or enquire mornings of Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. lpo

MISCELLANEOUS

WILL SOMEONE please answer who would like a piano in their home for Christmas. This one can be rented for a time and after a fair trial very favorable terms can be arranged towards its purchase. Write at once. Box 10 this office. 13-6t

RENT FREE—until Jan. 1st. Two adjoining houses, 28 and 30 Pleasant street to desirable tenants, who will agree to stay one year, or longer. $5.00 per week in advance. Stable for one horse if desired. $1.00 a week extra. Apply 36 Pleasant street. 5-tf

ANOTHER BARGAIN

Make me an offer for a ten room house on Whitwell Street.

You will own it if you will talk buy, as it is one of those chances some one will miss.

HENRY W. SAVAGE
Real Estate, Boston.
E. C. HAYDEN, Local Representative
Telephone 1877-M Quincy.
Nov 17-tf

HOLMES & HALL
REPAIRERS OF HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
SHADES
DOOR BELLS
LOCKS and KEYS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

KINCAIDE THEATRE

At 2.30, 5, 10, 15c At 7.45, 10, 15, 25c.

MON. TUE. WED.

1st ANNIVERSARY

Program Subject to Change

KENNEDY AND BURT
The Kings of Comedy
Introducing Novel Scenic Effects

THE PEERS
Comedy Trapeze Artists

OLYMPIA MARWICK
High-Class Singing Offering

W. E WHITTLE
Ventriloqual Sketch With Special Scenery
"Back to the White House"

First Authentic Views of
MEXICAN WAR
Pictures Actually Taken on the Battle Fields

PATHE WEEKLY
World's News in Pictures

Kalem 2-Reel Feature
"PLOT OF INDIA'S HILLMEN"

Kincaide Theatre Orchestra

BRAINTREE REAL ESTATE SALES.

Angelina G. C. Ellsworth to George L. Wilcox, West street, Ellsworth street.

Helen M. Ellsworth to Hattie F. Fay, River street.

Nathan Finestein et al to Henry M. Hollis.

Herbert E. Gardner est. to Henry M. Hollis. Davey road.

W. N. Sweet to Henry M. Hollis.

Philemon Tardiff to Margaret Brown, Columbia terrace.

Joseph Wardle to Henry M. Hollis, Davey road.

CORINTHIAN CLUB DANCE

The Corinthian Club held their annual dance in Alpha hall, Monday evening with guests present from Boston, Dorchester, Braintree, Weymouth, Whitman, Brockton and Rockland.

During the evening quartette selections were given by the Raw Bone Minstrels, summer colonists at Houghs Neck, Winton Murphy of Everett and Frank Graves of Chelsea. Dancing was enjoyed until midnight and music was by Cuffe's orchestra. Refreshments were served in Union Hall by Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Marvin.

The proceeds will be devoted to the summer fund of the club which consists of Miss Helen Gagan of Houghs Neck, Miss May Galvin of Brockton, Miss Bertha Cote of Weymouth, Miss Helen Olsen and Miss Margaret Kellman of Quincy.

SYRIANS FORM NEW SOCIETY

A society for Syrian people in the city was formed at Quincy Point Sunday afternoon and the membership comprises many of the residents. It will be designated as Shibban Roum and the following officers were elected:

President—Kaiser Ferris.
Vice President—Hassen Moraio.
Secretary—W. M. Francis.
Treasurer—Charlie Joseph.
Director—Abraham Ferris.

(ADVERTISE.)

ELECTION OF AMBROSE COURT

St. Ambrose Court, M. C. O. F. held its annual election of officers Monday evening and re-elected Mrs. Catherine J. O'Brien as chief ranger. The installation will take place Jan. 5. The officers chosen were:

Chief Ranger—Mrs. Catherine J. O'Brien.
Vice Chief Ranger—Mrs. Catherine Martin.
Treasurer—Mrs. Annie E. Watson.
Recording Secretary— Miss Mary McCue.
Financial Secretary—Miss Mary Pickering.
Senior Conductor— Mrs. Georgina O'Brien.
Junior Conductor—Miss Elizabeth Farrell.
Inside Sentinel—Mrs. Marq O'Dowd.
Outside Sentinel—Mrs. Annabelle McDonald.
Trustees—Mrs. Ernest Bizzozero, Mrs. Eugene Shyne, Mrs. Julia Reardon.
Physician—Dr. John H. Ash.
Delegates—Mrs. Alice T. Ash and Mrs. Mary E. Mahoney.

JOHN THOMAS.

The body of John Thomas who was buried in Pittsfield where he died will be removed to St. Mary's cemetery, Randolph. He was a former resident of Quincy and member of Div. 5, A. O. H. He left a widow and one child.

☞Get your white wrapping paper for Christmas gifts at the Ledger-Patriot office. Come early and avoid the rush. Large sheets 2 cents each. By the dozen 20 cents.

ROYAL ARCANUM ELECTION

Manet Council, No. 1763, Royal Arcanum, held its annual election of officers in Clan McGregor hall Monday evening. The installation will be Jan. 19, when elaborate ceremonies will take place. The officers chosen were:

Regent—James Birnie.
Vice Regent—John A. Clarke.
Orator—James H. Elcock.
Past Regent —Robert McLean.
Secretary—August V. Johnson.
Collector—Angus Kerr.
Treasurer—Alexander Clark.
Guide—George Imsley.
Warden—Charles Parson.
Sentry—Michael Monahan.

BRIEFS

Among the recent Bay State companys incorporated is that of the Norfolk Granite Co., of Quincy with a capital of $2100. The incorporators are Charles P. Leander, Nels Anderson, Olaf Johnson and others.

The Fore River Lodge, I. O. O. F. M. U. will hold meeting and election of officers in Protection hall, Dec. 26 Three candidates from the lodge will be presented at the class initiation that will take place in the Odd Fellows building, Tremont street, Boston on Dec. 20. Several important amendments to the bylaws are being considered by a committee.

☞The place to get gifts for men is at the men's store of George W. Jones—neckwear, shirts, gloves, hosiery and all the popular goods.

ELECTS NEW CHIEF RANGER

St. Kevins Court M. C. O. F. held its annual meeting in Poland's hall Monday evening and after discussing several important matters, elected the officers for the ensuing year. There were warm contests for all the offices. The installation will be on Jan. 5. Those elected were:

Chief Ranger—James F. Keohane.
Vice Chief Ranger—Richard A. Cole
Recording Secretary— Miss Marie Duggan.
Financial Secretary—Miss Annie T. Keohane.
Treasurer—Miss Catherine Fay.
Senior Conductor—Miss Helena Hughes.
Junior Conductor—Miss Alice Moran.
Inside Sentinel—Miss Mary Kelliher.
Outside Sentinel—Timothy O'Meara.
Court Physician — Dr. Michael Sweeney.
Delegates—John Hayes and Ted Keohane.

MRS ROSE DOLAN.

Mrs. Rose Dolan, a long time resident of Atlantic died Monday at her home, 56 Hancock street after a short illness. She was the wife of Michael J. Dolan and leaves her husband, two daughters, Mary and Margaret and one son. The funeral will be held from the home Wednesday morning and a high mass of requiem will be celebrated at the Sacred Heart Church at nine o'clock. Burial will be in New Calvary cemetery. Boston.

☞Christmas gift catalogues may be obtained at Sandberg Bros. They offer many suggestions in rings and jewelry.

BRIEFS

Karl J. Johnson, foreman of the R. E. Foy Adams market was operated on at the Quincy City Hospital this morning for apendicitis.

☞Get your white wrapping paper for Christmas gifts at the Ledger-Patriot office. Come early and avoid the rush. Large sheets 2 cents each. By the dozen 20 cents.

Too Late For Classification

TO LET—Upper apartment of 7 rooms and bath, all improvements including set range and gas stove, now ready. Inquire, A. W. Parker, 87 Merrymount road. Tel. Quincy 258-1 16-tf

TO LET—Flat of four rooms, all improvements, at 16 Bedford street. Apply 94 Cranch street. 16-3t

LOST—A small brindle Boston Terrior, white nose and chest. Canton 1913 and number on license tag on collar. Answers to name of "Buster" Reward if returned to Charles E. Joss, 24 Garfield street, Quincy, Mass. 16-3t

DEATHS

COE—In Quincy, Dec. 15, Christina H. wife of John J. Coe, in her 33rd year.
Funeral services at home of her father, Robert Maver, 23 Bennington street, Wednesday, Dec. 17, at 2 P. M. Relatives and friends invited. 15-2t

DOLAN—In Atlantic—Dec. 16, Rose, beloved wife of Michael J. Dolan of 56 Hancock street.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass.

UNCLAIMED LETTERS.

Letters remained unclaimed Dec. 13 at the Quincy Post Office for: Martin Arenersur, Peter Chrons, John Csizeugkysi, Gravinese Damiano, John Feeney, M. W. Freeman, Mrs. Gardiner, Donald M. Gordon, Miss Sophie T. Hoye, Pasquale Furiglo, Jona Kaparyuz, J. Lichman, Hiring Lupervison, Arreni Diaz Mareira, Vincenzo Militello, T. D. Nelson, August Olsson, Miss Anne L. Richerdson, L. W. Standish and Mrs. John Walsh.

WHY WAIT UNTIL THE LAST MINUTE BEFORE DOING UP YOUR CHRISTMAS GIFTS?

Do them now and get your White Wrapping Paper at the Ledger--Patriot Office.

LARGE SHEETS
20 cents a dozen
SHEETS
By single sheet 2 cents each

Double Legal Stamps—Tuesday Thursday Afternoon---12 to 6

At REMICK'S

Double Legal Stamps—Tuesday Thursday Afternoon---12 to 6

QUINCY'S GREATEST CHRISTMAS STORE

SOMETHING USEFUL FOR EVERYBODY

Open Every Evening Until Christmas

NECKWEAR In Fancy Boxes
Biggest Variety—Biggest Values Ever Shown in Quincy
25c 35c 50c 65c
We are showing Boston's $1.00 Neckwear at 65c

Endless Variety MEN'S ARM BANDS and BRACES. All in Fancy Boxes
25c 35c 50c 65c

We could get more but are determined to hold the reputation for the best values and lowest prices

HOISERY
Men's, Boys' Women and Children. Silk, Lisle, Cotton and Cashmere. A very useful gift

GLOVES
Nothing you can think of but can be found here. For Men, Boys and Children.

BATH ROBES with SLIPPERS.
$4.98 others at $2.98 .$3.48

MEN'S PAJAMAS
98c to $2.00

MEN'S NIGHT ROBES
Flannel and Cotton
48c to $1.50

HANDKERCHIEFS
Men's Plain and Initial ..... 10c to 50c
Ladies' Plain and Initial ..... 10c to 50c

UMBRELLAS
Men's Fancy Handles ..... 98c to $5.00
Ladies' Fancy Handles ..... 75c to $5.00
Childrens' Fancy Handles ..... 50c and $1.00

SWEATERS of every description. Lower than the Lowest
Men's ..... 98c to $8.00
Women's ..... 98c to $8.00
Boys' ..... 98c to $5.00
Girls' ..... 98c to $5.00
Children's ..... 48c to $2.00
All Colors. With or without Collars

MEN'S FANCY SHIRTS
48c to $1.50
Our Special at $1.15 is like the other fellow's $1.50

Men's Silk Shirts
$2.98 $3.98
Worth $4.00 and $5.00

Flannel Shirts
69c to $3.00
Blue, Gray and Tan

MACKINAW COATS
Neat and Nobby Effects

SMOKING JACKETS

MEN'S STIFF and SOFT HATS
$1.00 to $3.00

MEN'S CAPS
With and without band
50c to $3.00

BOYS' and CHILDREN'S HATS and CAPS
All kinds ..... 25c to $1.50

RAIN COATS.
Men's ..... $4.98 to $15.00
Women's ..... $4.98 to $12.00
Boys' ..... $3.50 to $5.00
Children's ..... $3.00 to $4.00
Every Coat Fully Guaranteed

BAGS and SUIT CASES
Black, Brown and Tan
$1.98 to $10.00
Nothing more useful

Boys' and Children's SUITS
Single and Double Breasted. Some with two pair pants
$1.98 to $8.00

Boys' and Children's OVERCOATS
Made with or without Belts
$1.98 to $8.00

MEN'S SHOES
None Better and Few as good as The Packard
All Leathers
$3.50 $4.00 $4.50 $5.00

Fellow Craft and Farnum SHOES
All Leathers $3.50
Just the same as sold by some others at $4.00

OUR MEN'S SHOES
at $3.00 and as low as $2.50 and $2.00 have stood the test

BOYS' SHOES
$1.50 to $3.00
All Leathers. Boys' High Cut Shoes, all sizes.
Black and Tan

WOMEN'S SHOES, Queen Quality
$3.50 $4.00 $4.50
Fit, Style and Comfort. All Leathers
Women's Shoes at $2.00 $2.50 and $3.00 in all
Leathers will make you wonder how we can do it

CHILDREN'S SHOES
75c to $3.00
All Leathers. Fancy Top Shoes for Children in large variety

MEN'S SLIPPERS
50c to $2.00

LADIES' SLIPPERS
50c to $1.50

Boys' and Children's SLIPPERS
50c 75c $1.00

RUBBERS All Kinds
Men's, Boys' and Children's Rubber Boots all kinds. Fully Guaranteed

REMICK'S

MUSIC HALL BLOCK, QUINCY

OPEN EVERY EVENING UNTIL CHRISTMAS

DOUBLE LEGAL STAMPS Tuesday and Thursday Afternoons 12 o'clock to 6 o'clock

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

LARGEST GUARANTEED CIRCULATION IN THE CITY

Vol. 28 No. 292 QUINCY MASS. WEDNESDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 17 1913 PRICE TWO CENTS

ATTEMPT AT ROBBERY AT QUINCY POINT LAUNDRY

Three Young Men Represent Themselves as Officers and Demand Opium

Handcuffed Shu Goon, who jumps through window and cuts artery

One of the boldest attempts at robbery in Quincy took place early Tuesday evening when three young men entered the laundry of Shu Goon at 591 Washington street. Whether the men were seeking opium for their own use or robbery is not known although it is thought that robbery was the motive.

It was about 5.30 when the three men entered the laundry. One of them threw open his coat showing a badge, leading the Chinaman to believe he was an officer. In fact it is said that the man with the badge said he was a secret service man looking for opium. Goon denied that he had any opium in the shop at which the men said they would search the place.

They then started toward the back shop and once there they made a grab for Goon and threw him down, and one of them attempted to snap a pair of handcuffs onto his wrists.

During the scuffle which followed Goon wrenched himself away and dashed through the window smashing the glass and cutting his wrist in a bad manner. His cries at this time had attracted some attention and as a crowd could be seen coming the three men ran out of the shop and started up Washington street toward City Square.

Word was telephoned the police and Chief Burrell immediately ordered Officer Murray to watch the Quincy Point road for suspects, while Inspector Goodhue and Officer Whelan were hurried to the scene in the auto patrol.

The officers found Goon in the office of Dr. Bushnell who was trying to stop the flow of blood from the cut artery in the Chinaman's wrist. The handcuffs however prevented the wound being properly dressed.

The first thing the officers attempted to do was to try and remove the handcuffs. It was an old fashioned cuff and the police had no keys that would fit it and the only way it could be removed was by filing it off.

Files were secured from a nearby hardware store but three of these were used up before the Chinaman's wrist was freed. In the meantime a tourniquet had been applied to Goon's arm to prevent his bleeding to death.

Later is was learned that three suspicious characters had boarded a Quincy bound car at Newcomb Square. The car was chased with the police auto and overtaken near the Central Fire station. The conductor pointed out the men who had boarded the car at Newcomb Square. They were taken off and taken to Quincy Point in the patrol wagon to see if Goon could identify them. He however declared they were not the parties and they were released.

The holdup coming so early in the evening created considerable excitement in the vicinity of Chubbuck street and had the three men fallen into the hands of some of the many Fore River workmen who are about this corner at the time it would have fared hard with them.

The police are somewhat at loss to know if robbery was the object of the visit or whether the men were dope fiends and were seeking opium. As it is well known that Chinamen usually have considerable money about them it is believed that robbery was the object.

CHRISTMAS MUSIC.

Choir masters, musical directors and organists are asked to send in their musical programs for Christmas Sunday services. Those for the coming Sunday should reach this office not later than Friday morning to insure their publication in the Ledger and Patriot Saturday. Those for Sunday Dec. 28 should be sent in by Dec. 25.

THE QUINCY GIFT

The Most Appropriate Christmas Gift to Residents and Lovers of Quincy are the

ILLUSTRATED BOOKS ABOUT QUINCY

By the Rev. D. M. Wilson

WHERE AMERICAN INDEPENDENCE BEGAN. $2.25

ILLUSTRATED SKETCH OF QUINCY AND BRAINTREE,

Board Covers 50c. Paper Covers 25c

For Sale by Brown & Co., Quincy; G. C. Shunk, Wollaston; Branschied & Martens Atlantic.

Dec. 13-M-13 15 17-2-22-24-p-2w

VERY ACCEPTABLE GIFTS

Just Arrived! Several New Styles and All of Them Beauties

PORTABLE GAS LAMPS

AND HALL LANTERNS

∴ ALSO ∴

"IWANTU" GAS IRONS

IN FANCY HOLLY BOXES

HEATS IN FOUR MINUTES. STAYS HOT ALL THE TIME. TEN HOURS IRONING FOR FOUR CENTS.

☞ Have you investigated the Reznor Gas Heating Stoves? Everything from the handy little portable to the superb fireplace heater.

CITIZENS' GAS LIGHT CO.

Granite Street Near City Squrae

Dec. 15 9t

ELECTION AND PRESENTATION

Daughters of Viking Remember Mrs. Loddengaard

The annual election of officers and the presentation of a candelabra and a handsome cut glass dish to Mrs. Nils Loddengaard a member who observed her silver anniversary Tuesday evening, were the features of the meeting of the Daughters of Viking, Companions to the Foresters of America in Protection hall Tuesday evening.

The candelabra was the gift of the members of the society and the cut glass dish was the gift of Dr. John H. Ash. The presentations were made by Chief Companion Mrs. Peter Johnson. During the evening vocal solos were rendered by Mrs. Bertha Carlson Poter.

Two applications for membership were received and tentative plans accepted for the installation which will take place Jan. 6. The officers chosen were:

Chief Companion—Mrs. Ida Ericson
Sub Chief Companion—Mrs. Anna Anderson.
Secretary—Mrs. Selma Hermanson.
Financial Secretary—Miss Olga Lundquist.
Treasurer—Mrs. Gertrude Alquist.
Inside Guard—Miss Esther Hallquist.
Outside Guard—Mrs. Carl Bonivier.
Trustee for 3 years—Mrs. Emma Nicolson.

☞ Christmas gifts for all members of the family and your friends can always be obtained at a jewelry store, and the stock of T. L. Williams offers great variety this year.

WE DO NOT ADVERTISE

Because advertising is an Art, a profession and a business. Advertising is all these and then some, after that.

Being a business man only we had the idea that it was not good business to do a 1-3 job and pay a 3-3 price for it.

But we are somewhat of a moralist and the moral of this is that you should let us supply your Xmas dinner from our large stock of

Turkeys	Chickens	Geese
Celery	Cranberries	Squash
Nuts	Dates	Figs
Raisins	Currants	Prunes
Apples	Oranges	Grapes

Telephone—we deliver

J. PETERSON & CO.

394 Washington Street

Quincy

Dec. 16-tf

INDIA AND HER ACHIEVEMENTS

First Parish Club Hears Swami Paramananda of India

The attendance at the monthly dinner of the First Parish club Tuesday evening in the chapel of the First church was the largest of the season. Six long tables were laid on the floor of the chapel each of which was comfortably filled. Across the front of the platform was the usual table for the guests of the evening.

The club members met in the lower room as usual a little after 6 o'clock and enjoyed a social half hour until dinner was announced. The dinner was one of roast beef, with mashed potato, macaroni, coffee, rolls, pickles and ice cream. The beef was pronounced to have been excellent.

At the head table, aside from the President, Rev. A. L. Hudson, were the speaker of the evening, Swami Paramananda, of India and his friend; Mr. Flint, Col. Edward Anderson, Rev. Carl G. Horst of the Wollaston Unitarian church, President John L. Hamilton, of the Board of Trade, John T. Conway, general superintendent of the Old Colony street railway, Secretary, Henry R. Holden and City Clerk, Emery L. Crane.

In introducing the speaker of the evening Rev. Mr. Hudson said that India's idea of civilization was as remote as possible from ours. During the past 25 years Hindoo thought and philosophy has been profoundly permeating the masses. Books are now coming so that we may study what these people are doing.

The speaker of the evening was then introduced. He was a man of small features, almost boyish in appearance, and of very dark complexion. He spoke English fluently, almost without accent. His voice was very soft, and even and at no time during his talk did he reach that enthusiasm so apparent in American speakers.

The ideas of India and its people, said the speaker, that is obtained from travellers and tourists are of but one kind and you cannot judge, or know these people until we turn our eyes toward the past, because we are not able to judge them unless we go into its past history. Its civilization dates back to two or three thousand years before Christ, and it holds an equal position to early civilization as does Egypt, China or Babylonia. What things were achieved in the past we do not find because they have been destroyed by foreign nations, so that but little is left to us of the civilization of ancient India.

From the earliest it has contributed to mould civilization and it had an exchange of commerce as early as the eighth century.

Heretofore the tourist and traveller have only seen the dark side. He could not say that they were untruthful but they have been unable to see and find out our country, during their brief visit. Most travellers and lecturers try for the most curious and strange things, and not to represent the ideas, but those things which will interest their hearers. There is nothing higher than the study of the early records of Hindoo philosophy. Civilization in India has cultivated the arts and sceences, and their language is wonderful.

The speaker then spoke of the language of India quoting ancient scripture in the native language.

They regard a human being as a child of God, who has the right to contribute his mite toward the uplifting of a great mission. They are a simple people. A peaceful and loving people. The Greeks found many of their ideas of medicine and surgery in India. He also said that in India we find many things that can be used in the civilized world. They were lovers of peace and never wanted to conquor another nation. They were always open hearted to others and we find side by side churches of different races.

In dia has something to give and has something to receive. We are seeking to bring the east and west together. We have something that appeals to the higher instinct of man.

At this point the room was darkened and a number of pictures of

(Continued on Page Six.)

A RESTLESS AGE AND ITS REMEDY

Interesting Talk by Mrs. Milton P. Higgins

A meeting of the Parents and Teachers' Association of the Cranch School was held Tuesday evening. There was a good attendance of parents and friends.

Owing to the absence of the President, Clarence Burgin, the meeting was presided over by William A. Richards, the vice president.

Music for the evening consisted of Christmas songs, sung by pupils from grades three, five and six, accompanied by Miss Turner.

Mrs. Milton P. Higgins, President of the Massachusetts Branch of Parent-Teacher associations gave an interesting talk. Her subject was: "A Restless Age and Its Remedy."

Mrs. Higgins said, "We should always be thinking of higher things to look up to.

"Look back to the time when people began to leave their home country to make new homes here. That was a Restless Age.

"When the colonies were growing, England wanted to tax them. That caused another Restless Age which resulted in a revolution.

"Inventions make neighbors of the world. We have people of all nations coming to America and we must make them a solid nation.

"This is a great work to be accomplished in Massachusetts through the Parents' and Teachers' association.

"There is no surer way to reach the hearts of these people than by the love and education of their children.

"The foundation of our country is the home. We represent the home as no other organization does.

"One ambition of the Massachusetts Parent-Teacher associations is that we shall be stronger than the associations of the other states and thus lead them.

"The remedy of this Restless Age is the Parent-Teacher associations."

Mrs. Higgins spoke of the great need of a school hall for the Cranch school and said that all should work for such a need.

At the conclusion of her talk Mrs. Higgins was given a rising vote of thanks.

The social hour was in charge of Miss Elsie B. Martin of grade one and her committee, Mrs. Michael Barrett, Mrs. John Fornell, Mrs. John Deady, Mrs. Gustaf Berglund and Mrs. James Duncan.

BRIEFS

The Wollaston Methodist Club meets this evening in the vestry.

The new Adams school is to be dedicated tomorrow evening.

The Y. M. C. A. bowling alleys are being renovated and put in first class condition.

Preparations are being made for a Christmas cantata to be given Christmas eve at the Wollaston M. E. church.

Queen Esther Circle of the Wollaston M. E. church meets this evening at the home of Miss Beulah Collett.

The Riverside club is holding a fair on Friday of this week in Colonial and Hancock halls. In connection with the fair there is to be a whist party in the afternoon and a dance in the evening.

The Pleiades club of the Wollaston Methodist Episcopal church at their monthly meeting held at the home of their Sunday School teacher Miss Marguerite Louise Holbrook, voted to give a play in the spring. They will be coached by Mrs. Arthur Russell Poquett.

FOR SALE

New Axes

20c each 3 for 50c

While They Last

L. GROSSMAN & SONS

Jackson Street

Near Quincy Adams Depot

Dec. 1-lo-tf

REV. FR. McCOY REMEMBERED

Holy Name Society Visit Former Director

Rev. Fr. Thomas R. McCoy who succeeded Rev. Fr. Henry T. Grady as pastor of St. Mary's parish was visited by the officers and consultors of the Holy Name Society of the Cathedral of the Holy Cross of Boston Tuesday evening and Judge Joseph A. Sheehan, in behalf of the officers and consultors presented Father McCoy with a handsome mahogany hall clock.

In his presentation speech Judge Sheehan spoke of the inspiring enthusiasm and zeal of Father McCoy while he was director of the Holy Name Society and said that himself, his associates and friends all treasured an affection and esteem for him because of his earnest work and splendid results.

Father McCoy made a brief acceptance. He said he was surprised at the gift and thankful and said it would always be one of the strongest ties of friendship between himself and his former Holy Name members.

During the evening quartette selections were rendered by Paul, Joseph and Peter Morrisette and Joseph Daley. Among those present from West Quincy were the officers of the newly organized Holy Name Society of St. Marys parish, Dr. John H. Ash and Dr. John T. Reynolds.

ONLY JONES.

Beginning today the Ledger publishes part one of one of the shortest and cleverest serial stories ever written, entitled "Only Jones." It is a day before Christmas story in three parts by Henry Kitchell Webster, Samuel E. Kiser and Wilbur D. Nesbit, the production of three clever men. One wrote part one and turned it over to number two who wrote part two and passed it along to number three to complete. Our readers will find an hour of extreme interest if they read "Only Jones."

FRANCIS W. HOLSTON.

Francis W. Holston, 35 years old, died at his home on Davis street, Tuesday. He was the assistant manager of Jenkins Bros. of Boston and leaves a wife.

IS WANTED IN MANY PLACES

Manning The Check Forger Squeals on Confederates

Lawrence W. Manning, sentenced to six months in the House of Correction by Judge Avery Tuesday, was taken to Boston police headquarters before committal. There he admitted he had operated in Boston and furnished information which led to the capture of a confederate wanted in Suffolk County for forgery and other offences.

Manning was indicted, together with a man named tSephensen by the Suffolk Grand Jury in 1910. Stephenson is serving a sentence. William Newhall who was arrested while following up the clue is the third man for whom police have been searching. The field of operation of the trio extended to all parts of the state. Telephone messages at Quincy headquarters brought to light that Manning was wanted in Reading, Lowell, Somerville, Worcester, Roslindale and Jamaica Plain.

Boston police circles are jubilant over the capture of Manning and the subsequent arrest of Newhall and conferred much credit on the local police for their prompt work.

BARRY—MANNEX.

Joseph L. Barry of 912 Sea street, Houghs Neck and Gertrude C. Mannex of Boston were married Monday evening at the Sacred Heart parish house, Roslindale by Rev. Fr. John F. Cummings. They will live at Houghs Neck.

Auction Sale of Household Furniture, Dec. 31, 1913

At 9 o'clock A. M.

Kincaide's Storage Warehouse

Off Granite Street, Quincy

Will be sold at Public Auction to satisfy lien for storage charges: a certain lot of Household Furniture now stored in the name of

WILLIAM O'BRIEN

formerly of North Abington, Mass., consisting of Two Parlor Tables, One Leather Chair, One Office Chair, One Lounge, One Rocker and other articles.

Also, Goods stored in name of

A. M. MORTON

(formerly of Quincy), consisting of One Bureau, Two Beds, Springs and Mattresses, Two Sewing Machines, Three Chairs, Easels and other articles.

Dec. 17-2t 17-24

Christmas Gifts

FOR ALL PURSES

CANDIES

Page & Shaws
Foss' Premier and Quality
Lowney's Bells

10c to $12

CIGARS IN BOXES

Wait & Bond 7-20-4
Quincy Ginita
Blenheim and Private Stock

PERFUMES AND TOILET WATERS

Colgates, Roger & Gallet, 25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00

HEARN'S PHARMACY FAXON BLOCK CITY SQUARE

Dec 15—L 6t

1876-1913

WE HAVE OFFERED FOR YOUR INSPECTION AND SELECTION EACH YEAR RELIABLE GOODS, AND WE SUGGEST YOU LOOK OVER OUR LINE OF

Watches, Cut Glass, Silver Ware, Jewelry, Clocks, Etc.

TO AID YOU IN YOUR CHRISTMAS SHOPPING WE INVITE YOUR INSPECTION OF OUR STOCK.

C. F. PETTENGILL

1391 Hancock Street Near Granite Street

TELEPHONE QUINCY 180-M Dec.13.10t

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second-Class matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the . . . .

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

TELEPHONES
News . . . Quincy 425
Business . . Quincy 1910

NOTICE

Again we ask those sending news or other matter by mail to direct it to the company or newspaper rather than to individual members of the company or employees. If addressed to individuals and they were ill or not at the office, it might be several days in reaching its proper destination and if news matter would be too late for use.

Those 13 hour daily sessions of the Senate cured the long winded talkers all right.

Step by step the parcel post is crowding the express companies off of the earth.

Canada complains that the "free list" in our recent tariff is draining her food stuff, but still it has not lowered the cost of living here.

Next thing some cheerful idiot will be forming a new S. S. S., meaning thereby a "Society for the Suppression of Spugs."

It doesn't cost a thing to take some stock in the Christmas spirit.

The Colonel is still carrying everything before him in South America, even a riot having been held in his honor in Columbia.

A Congressman has introduced a bill to protect claves. But it is veal he has in mind, not slit skirts.

A New York theater advertises "a clean play for clean people." And we look for that theater to have a new advertising manager soon.

The Society of the Prevention of Useless Giving is a fine thing of course, but many of us will not have the moral courage to join it.

It is hoped that Congress will adjourn for the holidays, so that the President can enjoy his vacation in listening to applicants for office.

The prosperous farmer will soon be demanding "bulletins from the department of Agriculture" on the selection and care of automobiles.

A WASTE OF FUEL.

The advancing price of coal has been such of recent years as to lead to federal investigations, now under way. But not merely have the prices of coal kept increasing, also the old time standby, the wood pile, is not the cheap provider of winter comfort as of yore.

In large cities the prices asked for enough wood to feed a fire place or kitchen stove are frequently prohibitive. In rural sections the forest rather than the coal mine is often the main dependence for fuel. In many villages prices are being paid that represent a big advance in cost of living.

The fuel wood supply of this country has been scandalously wasted. Lax regulation and public carelessness has permitted forest fires to sweep off in a day, the supplies of a town for a generation. In cutting, isolated wood piles are often forgotten and left to rot on the ground. Every vestige of a tree is swept off. If young trees could but be spared another crop would be ready for marketing in about half the time it now takes to grow a forest.

The American people have no conception of the thrifty, prudent way in which in other lands the supplies of wood fuel are utilized and husbanded. The gathering of "fagots" seems to be a regular trade, and every scrap of dead wood in the forest is utilized. In many sections of Europe certain kinds of trees seem merely like big tassels on the tops of poles. The lower limbs are cut off periodically, and form a cheap fuel supply for people who can afford nothing better.

Now that so many of the natural resources of the country are being exhausted, it is time to devise means for better utilizaion. In forest lands scattered wood piles, dead limbs, and limbs from cut trees, are rotting on the ground, sufficient to warm the poor people of a city.

REMINISCENCES OF A BIRD MAN

Earle Ovington Talks to Wollaston Men's Club

Earle L. Ovington the aviator who gained national eminence in aviation circles by winning the tri-state race in 1911, over a course of 174 miles, extending from Boston to Nashua, Worcester, Providence, thence to Boston, appeared in the role of a lecturer before the members and friends of the Congregational Men's club at the Wollaston Congregational church, Tuesday evening, and delighted an audience that filled almost every available seat, with his lecture "Personal reminiscences of a bird man."

Thoroughly instructive in character was the lecture which teemed with personal references to the Wrights, Graham-White, LeBlanc, Parmelee, Sopwith, Johnson and other noted aviators.

Mr. Ovington's lecture covered the science of aviation from the time when Wilbur Wright first flew his heavier-than-air machine in 1903, up to the present day.

Mr. Ovington's narrative was punctuated with sallies of wit that served to put the audience in good humor, while the stereopticon views, which the lecturer confessed were largely taken from photographs taken by the "newspaper boys" during his active career as an air man threw an interesting sidelight on the subject.

Mr. Ovington opened his talk with a simple but interesting experiment in which he took a piece of paper to illustrate the lifting power of the two surfaces.

"Man did not fly until he curved his wings," said the speaker, "He didn't know why at first but further investigation showed him. Not only does the lower surface of the plane lift but on account of suction from above the upper surface lifts two and one half times as much as the lower."

"The aeroplane practically came into being as a heavier than air machine, ten years ago," stated Mr. Ovington. "Aero flights evaded the genius of man for centuries, but finally the problem was solved by the Wright brothers in 1903."

"The first attempts at flying were made in machines we call gliders and from the early glider the Wright aeroplane evolved. The development of the future rests with the hydro plane and the latest creation, the flying boat, is quite seaworthy." Mr. Ovington believed flying by this method was safer than that of the automobile.

There were two extremes of aeroplanes, Mr. Ovington explained. One like Tom Sopwith's "family bus" which was used to take several passengers for a joy ride in the clouds and a machine of the baby Wright type.

Mr. Ovington stated that he did most of his flying in a 70 horse power Bleriot machine and he always employed 13 as his lucky number. There was a reason for this.

When he went to France to take up the study of aviation he was put in room 13 at the hotel. He signed at Bleriot's school as number 13, and his first flight was made on January 13, 1911. He gained his brevet-license the 13th of the next month. The bond covering his machine during its stay in America was number 13 and he made his first flight in America when he was 13 backwards. "Out of 107 flights with my machine I never smashed a stick or drew blood," he said, "It looks dangerous to bank a machine," said Mr. Ovington when a picture was shown of a machine in the act of banking, "but it is dangerous if you don't."

Mr. Ovington explained how this was. He showed pictures of the Gnome motors and explained how aviators balanced their machines on the currents of air.

"The difficult part of running an aeroplane is maintaining the balance" said Mr. Ovington. "You can appreciate this when I say that a movement two inches in a wrong direction means certain death to the aviator. But that movement is seldom made."

Interesting pictures of the method of warping the wings of a machine were shown as were pictures of aeroplanes encircling the Statue of Liberty.

"The French are very enthusiastic over aviation," said Mr. Ovington, and he showed the interior of the great Bleriot works at Pau, France.

The method of instructing students in the science of flying was pictorially shown, while pictures of frequent wrecks attested to the dangerous nature of the pursuit.

"The Bleriot people have a way of getting back at you by levying charges for repairs," said the aviator. "When I tell you that a man is charged $2.50 for the repair of a broken wire you can imagine what a fellows' bill would be when he smashes the machine."

"When I was at the school, there was a fellow from Holland who smashed three machines in successive flights. He was recalled by the government on account of the expense."

Mr. Ovington described the thrills he encountered while flying over a thunder cloud. "I was up in the sunlight looking down at the clouds and occasionally I could see flashes of lightening."

Mr. Ovington had the honor of carrying the first aerial mail for the United States government and he showed pictures of Postmaster General Hitchcock handing him the first mail bag ever carried in a flying machine.

He also had the distinction of being the first aviator to write a letter while flying in midair. A facsimile of the letter, written to the late Timothy L. Woodruff then president of the Aero club of America was thrown on the screen.

Pictures of the Squantum meet and of Mr. Ovington's tri-state flight were shown. "I never made $10,000 quite so easily before" observed Mr. Ovington.

Mr. Ovington stated he had given up exhibition flying to please his wife. "I am satisfied now, to sit by and see the other fellows at it."

At the close of the lecture several questions were asked and Mr. Ovington demonstrated flights with a minature glider that went a remarkable distance.

The usual supper was served and remarks were made by Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath, Rev. George M. Bailey of the Methodist church, Chester N. Godfrey, Albert N. Murray, Rufus B. Tobey and others.

Chester I. Campbell presided and a number of rousing songs were sung with Walter Abell at the piano.

ABIGAIL ADAMS LODGE ELECTS

Abigail Adams Lodge, No. 11., I. C. of A. met in Clan McGregor hall Tuesday evening and held their election of officers. Mrs. Margaret Stronach was elected financial secretary for the 11th term. The officers will be installed Jan. 6 by Deputy Supreme President Miss Josephine K. Mahoney of South Boston. Five applicants will be initiated on that evening by the degree team of the lodge. The officers chosen were:

President: Mrs. Russell Medlyn.
Vice President—Mrs. Josie Daw.
Past President—Mrs. Mary Pritchard.
Recording Secretary—Mrs. Catherine Cotter.
Financial Secretary—Mrs. Margaret Stronach.
Treasurer—Mrs. Elizabeth McKenzie.
First Guide—Mrs. Hannah Imlay.
Second Guide—Mrs. Helen Collins.
Inside Sentinel—Mrs. Annie Kain.
Outside Sentinel—Mrs. Annie Sullivan.
Trustees—Mrs. Hannah McGrath, Charles McKenzie and William Walsh.
Physician—Dr. John T. Reynolds.
Pianist—Mrs. Mary Barnicoat.

MASTERS CLUB DINNER PARTY

The Quincy School Masters club met Tuesday evening at the Quincy house, Boston, and after enjoying dinner listened to an interesting talk by William D. Parkinson, superintendent of schools at Waltham. There were twenty masters present, the guests of the evening including Supt. Albert L. Barbour, superintendent of schools and James Howlett of Medford, a former master of the High school.

AGNES LYONS.

Agnes Lyons, the two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Lyons of 2 Cherry street died Tuesday from pneumonia. The funeral will take place from the home Thursday morning and burial will be in Mt. Wollaston cemetery. Little Agnes was one of fifteen children stricken by infantile paralysis during the recent epidemic. She had practically recovered when she contracted a slight cold and pneumonia speedily developed. Because of the inroads on her constitution by the infantile paralysis but little success was made in the fight with pneumonia and she succumbed Tuesday morning.

☞White wrapping paper for doing up your Christmas gifts can be obtained at the Ledger-Patriot office for 0 cents a dozen sheets or by the single sheet at 2 cents per sheet.

SACHEM CLUB HOUSE PLANS

Women's Club Undecided if They Will Co-operate

At the meeting of the Wollaston Woman's club in the Wollaston Unitarian church, Tuesday afternoon, it was voted after considerable discussion to lay on the table the matter of co-operating with the Sachem club in the building of a club house.

This action followed the report of a committee, consisting of Mrs. Arthur D. Ropes, Mrs. Thomas H. Fenno and Miss Florence G. Olney, appointed at the last meeting to confer with a committee from the Sachem club.

This joint committee met Monday evening and the members from the Sachem club displayed rough drafts of the proposed club house. The Sachem club committee consisted of Arthur P. Russell, Eugene F. DeNormandie and W. F. Kimball.

The plans as contemplated will include separate bowling alleys for men and women, lockers, laboratories and necessary heating arrangements in the basement.

The ground floor will be divided into two parts. Should the Women's club decide to co-operate the front portion will be reserved for them, to be divided as is desired by them.

In the rear portion will be billiard, card and smoking rooms for the men. It is so arranged that both sections may be thrown into one at affairs including both the men and women.

On the second floor will be a hall, with a gallery, having a capacity of 600 or 700. The building will be of wood. It is proposed to start building operations March first.

Just what action the Womans club will take is problematical. At present two motions have been tabled.

One provides for the building by the women of a club house of their own. The other concerns the matter of co-operating with the Sachem club.

Future moves depend on the courses of action taken concerning these two motions now on the table.

SPECIAL MATCH.

The special match between the Sons of St. George and Foy's Clerks on the City Square alleys Tuesday evening created much interest among the amateur bowlers of the city. The points were evenly divided, the high total going to the Sons of St. George by a wide margin. The Clerks easily took the first two strings but fell down badly on the third, thereby losing the total. J. Andrews of the Sons with 106 had high single and also netted 271 for high total. The summary:

SONS ST. GEORGE.

S. Collins	71	87	85	243
Andrews	106	80	85	271
Harling	70	81	82	233
A. Andrews	81	79	83	243
E. Collins	85	82	88	255
	313	409	423	1245

FOY'S CLERKS.

Howard	78	74	81	233
Henley	67	89	62	218
Mortin	79	93	75	247
Johnson	76	84	74	234
Avery	73	80	79	232
	373	420	371	1164

TO HOLD NEW YEARS PARTY.

John Adams Commandery, Knights of Malta held their last regular convocation of the year in Colonial hall, Tuesday evening and initiated several candidates. Plans were presented for a regular old fashioned New Years party on Jan. 5, 1914 in which the members, wives and friends will participate. The evening was turned over to the collation committee after routine business was disposed of and a bountiful repast was served.

☞"Only Jones."

Penniman's
TAXI SERVICE
Taxies and Touring Cars with careful and safe drivers to let for all occasions.
C. H. PENNIMAN, Prop.
Telephone 207.
June 13-tf

Call Quincy 501-W
if you want your furniture, mattresses and cushions repaired in good order at low prices M. MIRKIN, upholsterer, 1060 Hancock street, near the Quincy High School.
Dec. 1-1m

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

LAND COURT.

To George O. Sears, John A. Knowles and Maria F. Watt, of Boston, in the County of Suffolk, and said Commonwealth; Paulina S. Pratt, Ellen M. Damon, Mary J. Joy and Laura S. Wainwright of Cohasset, Eliza A. Pray, Sarah Hudson and Sarah K. Rockwood, of Weymouth, Hammond M. Whitney, of Brookline, in the County of Norfolk, and said Commonwealth; Elizabeth S. Cushing of Hingham, in the County of Plymouth, and said Commonwealth; Emma F. Howe of Reading, in the State of Pennsylvania; Frank J. Hudson of Butte, in the State of Montana; Leonard P. Hudson, Sarah E. Warnock, Fred L. Hudson and Daniel F. Hudson of Lander in the State of Wyoming; Sarah E. Hudson, Edwin Hudson and Emma F. Rogers, of Salt Lake City, in the State of Utah; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Sarah C. Wheelwright of said Boston to register and confirm her title in the following described land:

Two certain parcels of land with the buildings thereon, situate in said Cohasset, bounded and described as follows:

First: A parcel situated on the northeast side of Atlantic Avenue, bounded southwest by said Avenue by three courses, ten hundred thirty and 61-100 (1030.64) feet; northwest by land of George O. Sears three hundred and two (302) feet; northeast, east and northeast again by mean high water line of Massachusetts Bay; east by land of John A. Knowles about fifty-three (53) feet; and south by the same eighty-nine and 12-100 (89.12) feet.

Petitioner also claims such portions of the beach and flats adjacent to said parcel as lie between the side lines thereof extended according to law to extreme low water mark. Said parcel contains two and 95-100 (2.95) acres more or less to said mean high water line.

Second: A parcel situated on the southwest side of said Avenue, bounded northeast by said Avenue by three courses nine hundred ninety-one and 20-100 (991.20) feet; east by land of heirs of Martha Joy twenty-seven and 31-100 (27.31) feet; southwest, south and southeast by land of said petitioner, formerly of Thomas Willcutt et al by seven courses measuring in all eleven hundred forty-three and 50-100 (1143.50) feet; northwest by land of said George O. Sears three hundred seventy-one and 13-100 (371.13) feet. Last described parcel contains two and 55-100 (2.55) acres more or less.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition, and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

You are hereby cited to appear at the Land Court to be held at Boston, in the County of Suffolk, on the fifth day of January A. D. 1914, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, Charles Thornton Davis, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this first day of December in the year nineteen hundred and thirteen.

Attest with Seal of said Court.
CLARENCE C. SMITH,
Recorder.
(Seal)
Dec. 3-3t 3-10-17

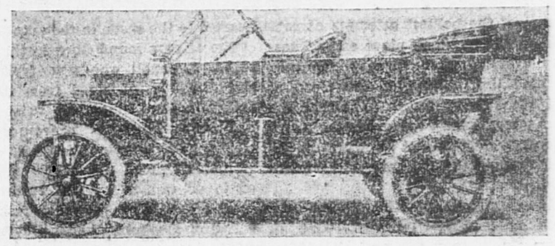
Electric Decorations
Are Popular
For Christmas
Special Fittings
BECKFORD & LYNCH
3 Saville St., Quincy
Dec. 13-6t

Great Bargains
Shoes and Rubbers
Selling about Half Price
4 Buckle Arctics $1.98
One Buckle Arctics 98c
At MAX LEVY'S
Cor Washington and Temple Streets
Dec. 15-1t

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

QUINCY REGISTRY
FOR NURSES
28 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.
Will supply trained and practical nurses, attendants and nursery assistants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.
MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar.
Tel. Quincy 131-W.

Capital $150,000 Surplus $200,000
PERISHABLE PAPERS
are perhaps kept in your house with nothing between them and destruction or theft but a thin wall of wood. That isn't prudent, when, for $5 you can encase them in steel—in a box accessible to YOU ONLY—in our fire and burglar proof vault. Use a Granite Trust Safety-deposit box and sleep well o'-nights!
Our $5 Box is Larger Than a $10 Box in Boston.
GRANITE TRUST CO.
FOUNDED 1836



THE QUINCY GARAGE, 87 Adams Street, Quincy
Agent for FORD and CASE CARS
A full Line of Supplies always on hand
Michelin Tires in stock
Now Ready for Delivery the 1914 Ford Car, $550 for 5 Passenger, $500 for Runabout, $750 for Town Car F. O. B. Detroit.
For Particulars or Demonstration call Quincy 435
Night or Day never closed. C. P. GOULD, Prop.
Dec. 12-1o-tf

One Trip to Williams' will solve half of your Christmas Gift problems!

Bracelets	Table and Toilet Silver
Diamonds	Parisian Ivory
Watches	China and Cut Glass
Gifts in Gold and Silver	Fountain Pens
Christmas Novelties	Clocks
Useful Articles for Men	Leather Goods
Pearls	Umbrellas
Necklaces	Smokers' Articles

All gathered together in one big store, all on one floor.
Plenty of clerks to serve you.
Plan to come tomorrow with your shopping list. It will pay you.
WILLIAMS' JEWELRY STORE
1473 Hancock Street, Quincy
Beginning Thursday our Store is Open Every Evening
Dec. 16-3t

CARPETS
Oriental
Domestic RUGS
LINOLEUM
MATTINGS
AT LOWEST POSSIBLE PRICES
John H. Pray & Sons Co.
646 Washington Street, Opp. Boylston Street

All Goods will be Delivered Free at Residences in Quincy
REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY
Messrs. OTHO A. HAYWARD and WALTER J. WELLINGTON.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

WHAT THEY ARE DOING AND SEASONS' PLANS

News of Women's Clubs is a feature of the Daily Ledger every Wednesday. Secretaries of organizations should send notices of club activities, to reach the Club Editor not later than Tuesday night to insure insertion the same day.

At the regular monthly business meeting of the Woman's Guild of St. Chrysostom's church held Wednesday which was also an all days sewing meeting, a delicious luncheon was served by the following ladies: Mrs. William H. Spooner, Mrs. Herbert B. Lowe, Mrs. George Horte and Mrs. Benjamin A. Hobson. The members hope that this committee will serve again in the near future.

* * *

Most of the clubs are having a recess until after the holidays

* * *

Atlantic Shakespeare Society at its meeting Thursday afternoon concludes the reading of the play King Henry the Fourth, Mrs. Cecil Marble being chairman for the afternoon. In January "Measure for Measure" will be taken up.

* * *

Miss Carrie A. Crane of Whitney road entertained members of the Katharyn Crane Memorial club Tuesday afternoon at her home.

* * *

The club women of Rutland, Vermont, have undertaken a splendid work—the raising of funds for a gymnasium and club rooms for the young women and young men of their city. Their aim is to raise $25,000 for the building and equipment and the engaging of a competent person to have charge of the work as soon as the building is ready for occupancy. The excellence of the project and the public-spiritedness of the women promoters deserve the best response on the part of all Rutland people.

* * *

The Squantum Women's club has joined the State Federation, being the 264th club in the Federation, which is one of the largest and strongest bodies of women in the country. Mrs. Jessie Parker Reed is president of the Squantum club.

* * *

The Girls Friendly Society of St. Chrysostom's church meet Friday evening in the parish room and the meeting will be given over to sewing for Christmas.

* * *

Junior Friday club had an enjoyable meeting Monday afternoon at the home of Miss Abigail B. Wood, with Mrs. L. H. Sturtevant in charge of the program.

* * *

This week's meeting of the Friday club will be at the home of Mrs. D. E. Wadsworth. Mrs. Zenas S. Arnold will be chairman for the afternoon.

* * *

Tuesday afternoon there will be a meeting of the Guild at the Park and Downs church with a musical program and the reading of the Birds Christmas Carol, by Mrs. Frank Robinson, illustrated by tableaux by the children of the church, assisted by Mrs. W. C. Crane.

* * *

THE PHILERGIANS, BRAINTREE.

Tuesday evening, members of the Philergians of Braintree held their regular meeting in the Cochato hall. It is usual for the club to meet in the afternoon but the lecturer could not be secured for an afternoon date so the change to the evening was decided upon. The president, Mrs. George O. Wales was in the chair and the records of the previous meeting were read.

Attention was called to the next meeting on Jan. 6. Pitt F. Parker, the cartoonist being the lecturer. It would also be known as Nurses' supply day. Anything that a nurse can use in her rounds will be acceptable, money, clothing, linen, jelly, food in short anything which can be used in the work being done by the Friendly Aid society. A box will be placed near the door in which packages and donations may be placed.

The speaker of the evening was Havrah W. L. Hubbard of the Boston Opera Company and in the year book the announcement read, Opera Talk with music.

Mr. Hubbard said he was not going to lecture but talk, that his remarks were not to be of an educating or elevating nature, but he was to explain the story of the opera, so that the oportunity for enjoyment and pleasure would be the greater when witnessing the opera. He spoke of art and what it should mean saying it should not be a thing of which to be afraid or avoided because of a lack of technical knowledge. He pointed out the fact that a thing of artistic merit whether it be of a musical nature or not was the high moment in one's life perpetuated for one's repeated enjoyment and for others. One of artistic temperament first had the ideal, then the idea and then the actual and practical expression.

He said people were kept from attending grand opera for two reasons, the expense and their lack of understanding. There are many reasonably priced seats that are to be preferred because of their advantages of vision and hearing and Mr. Hubbard advised trying them. He said, that grand opera was not a musical entertainment but a drama with music added to it and added that "if the public demand an English rendition, the great stars would need to learn our tongue and thus would our pleasure be increased."

He advised getting an idea of the story of the opera before attending by reading the libretto, then go to the performance in a joyous frame of mind with the imagination keen and reap the individual benefit which is surely there for each listener.

Madam Butterfly was the subject of the talk. He called it a simple story which was beautifully human and loved by all civilized countries. The story was written by John Luther Long, was dramatized by Belasco and played with Blanch Bates in the principal character of Cho-Cho-San. Later Puccini, an Italian dramatic composer transformed it into an opera and it was produced at Milan with fine success. Four months later, after having reshaped it somewhat, it was again produced in London. Since then, many thousands have seen it in this country and abroad. Puiccini is thought by many to be the most wonderful and talented composer since Verdi. He is beloved for his many wonderful operas, among them are the familiar la Tosca, La Boheme, (the latter first secured for him international reputation.) Madam Butterfly and "The Girl of the Golden West." He is at present working on another which promises much to the musical world.

Madam Butterfly typifies a splendid woman, one who gives up everything for the love of her life and remains true to it through every trial and vicissitude. Mr. Hubbard spoke of the charming manner of living among the Japanese and of the exquisite simplicity of their homes. Their love for their parents is only exceeded by love of country and the Mikado.

Mr. Hubbard gave his audience a correct idea of the Japanese Opera in two acts and was accompanied by Floyd M. Baxter at the piano. The entire program was a delightful one, delicately and beautifully presented, leaving a wonderful impression on the minds of the hearers.

* * *

LADIES AID SOCIETY.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Wollaston Methodist Episcopal church met for a business meeting in the vestry, Monday afternoon, the president Mrs. George Crothers presiding. Reports were given of the annual fair. It was voted to pay $150 toward the tithing fund. Plans were made for the furnishing of the ladies' parlor. Miss A. N. Merrill in the name of Group One invited members of the Society to a thimble party to be held Thursday afternoon Jan 1st. in the church parlors. A vote of thanks was extended to L. C. Merrill for refinishing the floors in the lower part of the church.

(Continued on Page Five.)

Pratt's Vienna Bread

Give your Children all the bread they want, but see that it 's Pratt's Bread

LEADING GROCERS

FALLS INTO FURNACE BROOK

Girard White, the six year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph White of Miller street was thrown into Furnace Brook Tuesday afternoon when the supports of a fence on which he was climbing collapsed. He struck on his head and received a slight abrasion of the forehead. After medical treatment he was able to walk to his home.

YOU need the Ledger EVERY DAY.

"Only Jones"

A Day-Before-Christmas Story in Three Parts by Henry Kitchell Webster Samuel E. Kiser and Wilbur D. Nesbit

Copyright by W. G. Chapman

Part One

REV. Arthur Montgomery Simms-Sinclair was suffering in the flesh and in the spirit. A cup of tea was in his right hand, a wreath of holly dangling from that wrist, and P. Wilmering Delancey standing at his left and interrupting his profound remarks to Miss Ursula Allen made a combination to try his soul. The words, the glances, the smiles that he felt were meant for him were being coolly appropriated by P. Wilmering. Worse than that, P. Wilmering was able to sip his tea without allowing the holly to slide to his shoulder. Nor was the holly tickling the wrist of P. Wilmering as it was that of Rev. Simms-Sinclair. P. Wilmering acted as if he might have sipped tea with both hands cuffed behind him. Rev. Simms-Sinclair almost wished his rival were in that predicament, and about forty miles away at the same time. Now, Jones, who was patiently putting holly and evergreen about the woodwork and pictures —(the three men had graciously come to help get things ready for the children's party)—Jones, we say, was not bothering Rev. Simms-Sinclair. Jones was not bothering any one. In the main, it was Ursula Allen who bothered the reverend young gentleman. Women—young women—can bother the mind of man without intending so to do. Ask them. They will assure you they never have any such intention. That is exactly what Ursula Allen would have told you, but she would not have believed her own statement, for Ursula was a woman, and she believed herself to be attractive. This belief was shared by Rev. Simms-Sinclair and P. Wilmering and—but Jones didn't count.

"Ah," mused Rev. Simms-Sinclair, doing a Hermann the Great movement and capturing his cup before it jumped from the edge of the saucer, "ah, what would Christmas be without the children?" His eyes took on a mellow look and he gazed tenderly at the two young people before him. "What would Christmas be without the children?"

"Were you speaking to me?" asked Jones, after neither of the others had supplied Rev. Simms-Sinclair with a reply.

"Er—ah—that is, my remark was purely a general one," explained the rector of St. Paul's.

"Kind of an echo-answers-why proposition?" said Delancey.

"Or the children without Christmas?" asked Ursula, handing another bunch of evergreen to Jones. "One poor family down in Abbledale alley has sixteen children. Sixteen. Think of that!"

"Fellow ought really to think of sixteen children in instalments," declared P. Wilmering, earnestly. "If I have to think of all of them at once I'd rather think of an orphans' home and be done with it."

Rev. Simms-Sinclair saw his opportunity to waft himself into the wave of sympathy that was engulfing Ursula. It was one of those opportunities which Rev. Simms was continually looking for, and few of which escaped him when offered by P. Wilmering.

"What can the father of those little ones do?" he inquired, with pathos in his voice. To hear him, one could conjure up pictures of a worn, weary man coming home in the gloomy twilight, disentangling himself from thirty-two arms and trying to answer sixteen simultaneous requests for a penny. "What can the father of those poor little ones do?" he repeated, at the same time giving Ursula a glance of yearning affection which that young lady might, or might not, interpret as being intended for herself or for the suffering father of sixteen children.

"Write to Roosevelt," suggested Jones, who was standing on a chair and trying to harmonize a strand of cypress and holly berries with a rubicund visage of good old Uncle Jethro Allen, who had fought, bled and died in the Mexican war—and lived to tell of it.

Of course Jones had no business butting in at such a time. He was there to assist only in the work of decoration, and not to umpire the love game of the Rev. Simms-Sinclair and P. Wilmering.

Ursula dimpled. "I want everybody to be happy on Christmas day, and if there is anything I can do or say for them on Christmas eve, I am only too glad of it. And it is simply noble of you men to help so much in getting the house ready."

Jones, who was posing as one figure of the Laocoon group, with some ten yards of greens representing the entwining serpent, glanced at the tea cups and then laughed as well as a man may be expected to laugh when his hilarity is strained through a serried row of tacks and teeth. Delancey walked down the room to study the effect of the decorations, and Simms-Sinclair drew nearer to Ursula, to say softly:

"You were speaking of wanting this to be a happy Christmas for all, Miss Ursula. And that if there was anything you could say or do you would be only too glad. Now, there is one poor, lonely soul that you can cheer at this time. It is—"

Before he could finish, Delancey came back, and Rev. Simms-Sinclair is yet wondering whether he fractured a commandment by concluding his remark with a reference to a poverty-stricken parishioner of his who had been released from jail only to learn that his job had not been held for him during his stay in the cells.

IT WAS URSULA ALLEN WHO BOTHERED THE REVEREND YOUNG GENTLEMAN

"Poor man!" Ursula sighed. "We must take a basket to his family. He has children, you say?"

"Yes. That is fine of you—splendid. Ah, what would Christmas be without the—"

"Without the mistletoe," Delancey interrupted. "Simms-Sinclair, take a look at that wreath Jones has hung upon the brow of the bust of Grandpa Allen. As an arbiter of what is elegant and decorous in this community, doesn't it give the benign old gentleman rather a bacchanalian air?"

"Such an idea!" Ursula gurgled, glancing at the bust.

While the rector was adjusting the wreath on Grandpa Allen, Delancey told Ursula that he had something to say to her when she had a moment to spare.

"My goodness!" she said. "I don't know when I'm going to have a restful moment until after New Year's."

"But this will only take a minute. Maybe—"

"Shall I put the mistletoe on the chandelier or will you trust to luck?" Jones asked suddenly, from behind Delancey, and Delancey is quite sure he consigned Jones to a place where Christmas is entirely unknown.

"I didn't know we had any mistletoe," Ursula pouted.

It is a wrong idea to tell girls about the mistletoe.

"Mistletoe," Simms-Sinclair remarked, ponderously, "I may say, is a relic of an ancient pagan rite, and should be—"

"Those pagans had their faults," Delancey asserted; then with a feeble smile: "But they always stood up for their rites."

"A pun!" said Ursula, sarcastically. "Puns give me the creeps."

(Continued on Page Four.)

PIERCE STUDIO

ANYONE WHO SITS FOR PHOTOGRAPHS

On or before Dec. 20. can have their work for CHRISTMAS

Stormy weather makes no difference

Adams Building, Quincy

Dec. 12 6t

CLUB EVENTS

DECEMBER.

18—Atlantic Shakespeare So., reg.
19—Friday Club, Mrs. Wadsworth's.
19—Q. W. R. Club—Christmas Sale.
30—Q. W. Club, Alpha Hall, reg.
31—Wol. Alliance, New Years reception.
31—Riverside Club—Hurdy Gurdy Party.

JANUARY.

1—Atlantic Shakespeare So.
1—Q. W. Club—Board meeting.
1—A. P. Q. Chapter, D. A. R.—Mrs. Jameson's.
2—Friday Club—Mrs. Alden's.
2—Q. W. C. T. Union—Protection Hall.
3—Civil Service Reform Class—Boston Public Library.
5—Junior Friday—Mrs. Hall's.
5—Adams Chapter, D. R.
6—K. C. M. Club—Florence Mead's.
6—Quincy Day Nursery Asso.
6—W. W. Club—Evening Lecture—Wol. S. Hall.
7—Wol. Aux. W. B. of Missions.
7—S. W. Club—Mrs. McGrain's.
7—Fragment So., First Church.
8—Q. W. Club—Art Lecture—Miss Thomas.
9—Travel Talk by Miss Randall.
9—Y. M. C. A. Aux.—Y. M. C. A. Hall
12—A. P. Q. Chapter, D. A. R.—Mrs. O'Malley's.
12—Quincy Alliance—First Church Chapel.
13—Q. Y. W. Club.
13—Q. W. Club—Reg. at Clubhouse.
14—Wol. Alliance—Wol. Unitarian Vestry.
15—Atlantic Shakespeare So.
16—Friday Club—Mrs. Hardwick's.
16—Q. W. Club—Revels.
19—Junior Friday—Mrs. Wright's.
20—K. C. M. Club—Mrs. Crane's.
20—W. W. Club.
26—Quincy Alliance—First Church Chapel.
27—Q. W. Club—Reg. at Clubhouse.
27—Q. Y. W. Club.
27—King's Daughters—Concert.
28—Wol. Alliance—Wol. Unitarian Vestry.
28—Q. W. Club—Current Events.
28—Home Makers' lecture—Perkin's Hall, Boston.
29—Hospital Aid—Wollaston Unitarian Vestry.
29—Atlantic Shakespeare So.
30—Friday Club—Mrs. Lacey's.

JOHN LUCETTE.

Pneumonia claimed another victim Tuesday when John Lucette, of 81 Willard street, a well known West Quincy Italian and the father of seven children died at the Quincy City Hospital, several days after he was admitted.

Morton Pardoned by President

Washington, Dec. 17.—Dr. William J. Morton of Boston, sentenced to Atlanta penitentiary with Julian Hawthorne for fraud in promoting a mining concern, was granted a pardon by President Wilson. His civil rights will be arrested. Hawthorne left the prison some time ago.

Captain Chapin Critically Ill

New York, Dec. 17.—The condition of Captain Frederick L. Chapin of the battleship Wyoming, who is critically ill at the naval hospital in Brooklyn, was reported unchanged. Chapin was taken to the hospital when the Wyoming arrived from the European cruise of the Atlantic fleet

ARTHUR L. THOMAS
Attorney-at-Law
3-4-5-6 Greenleaf Block
Telephone Quincy 460 Jan.2-1y

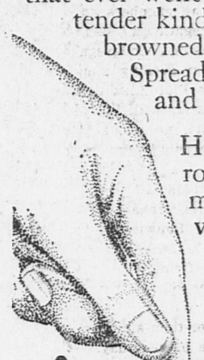
Say, These are Great!

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

"Great"—you'll hear that from almost everybody at the table every time a plate of Aunt Jemima's delicious pancakes comes in piping hot from the kitchen. Aunt Jemima's makes the finest cakes that ever went into your mouth—the plump, tender kind—light as a feather—temptingly browned, and Um! so delicious to taste. Spread thick with good, fresh butter and lots of syrup, they are great.

Have Aunt Jemima's for tomorrow's breakfast. Takes just a minute to stir 'em up. Good for waffles and muffins, too.

Your grocer has Aunt Jemima's in a bright red package. (Read what it says on the top about the funny Rag Dolls for the kiddies.)



Aunt Jemima's Pancake Flour

"Only Jones" is the name of the short serial story now running in the Christmas Ledgers. Quincy has a "Jones" and he is the only one in the men's furnishing business in our city but he is not the subject of this clever little story. Read about the other "Jones."

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives of The Commonwealth of Massachusetts in General Court assembled

The undersigned, citizens of Quincy and Boston, respectfully petition for the passage of such legislation as may be necessary to provide for annexing to the City of Boston that part of the City of Quincy known as Squantum.

(Signed)
CHARLES S. LAWLER
TIMOTHY F. CALLAHAN
JAMES H. EAGAN
PERLEY P. BOSTWICK
HERMAN J. BERGHAUS
JOSEPH D. UPPLING,
JAMES H. FOSTER,
EDWARD EAGAR
WILLIAM HARVEY.
Dec. 5-3t 5-10-17

EXECUTRIX NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed executrix of the will of Delia A. Dizer late of Atlantic (Quincy) in the County of Norfolk, deceased, testate, and has taken upon herself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs.

All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased, are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

ALIDA R. BAKER, Executrix.
(Address)
Mrs. Geo. W. Baker, Ocean street, Atlantic, Mass.
Dec. 16th, 1913.
Dec. 17-3t 17-24-31

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED
Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

WHY WAIT UNTIL THE LAST MINUTE BEFORE DOING UP YOUR GHRISTMAS GIFTS?

Do them now and get your White Wrapping Paper at the Ledger--Patriot Office.

LARGE SHEETS
20 cents a dozen

$
$

SAVED BY BUYING
Patch's Special
COALS

C. PATCH & SON, Inc.
1422 Hancock Street

Quincy Daily Ledger

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity: Fair Thursday and probably Friday.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	7.08
Sun sets	4.13
Length of day	9.05
Moon rises	9.53
High water, A. M.	2.30
High water, P. M.	2.45
Days decrease 6 hours,	12 minutes
Full Moon, Dec. 13,	10.00 A. M.
Last Quarter, Dec. 20	11.16 A. M.
New Moon, Dec. 27	9.59 A. M.
First Quarter, Dec. 5,	9.59 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today	50 degrees
Dec. 16 1912,	40 degrees
Dec. 16, 1911,	39 degrees

Dec. Noon Maximum 14 years—67
Dec. Noon Minimum, 14 years—2

BRIEFS

The Pickwick club has a Christmas party tonight at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Doble.

The Ledger begins today a short Christmas serial entitled "Only Jones."

Plans are well underway for a concert to be given under the auspices of the King's daughters on Tuesday evening, Jan. 27.

The choir of Bethany church is arranging for a concert to be given in the church Tuesday evening, Jan. 13, under the direction of Mrs. Frank J. Moore.

Miss Elizabeth Landess who was at her home on John street last week went Tuesday to Haverhill where she has accepted the position of night supervisor at the Tuberculosis hospital.

Musical programs for the services on Sunday in the various churches will be published in the Saturday Ledger and Patriot and those having the music in charge are asked to send us their programs as soon as possible.

"Lady Betty" is to be given Friday night in First church chapel for the benefit of Pond Home with the parts taken by Erastus Osgood, A. Isabelle Davis and Ruth Hardy. The play was written by Prof. Osgood, eight of whose plays now being acted. "Lady Betty" he considers one of the best he has ever written.

☞Don't fail to read "Only Jones" the cleverest short serial story ever written for the holiday reader.

The Most Loved of All Presents

OUR STOCK

In W. W. W. Solid Gold Fine Stone Rings and 14k and 10k

Solid Gold Pendants

is without any doubt the largest of any Store within near reach and prices are proven to be lower than any Boston store.

The W. W. W. Solid Gold Rings carry the strongest possible guarantee, as the manufacturers will replace any Genuine Stone (except Diamonds), if they should for any reason fall out of the setting, FREE OF CHARGE.

Big Stock on hand of Fine Solid Gold and Gold-Filled Bracelets, Lockets, Pins, Brooches, Cuff Links and Bar Pins, in a well-selected variety.

Only a few days to Xmas. Select your Goods NOW---with the Store that IS doing the big Christmas business.

SANDBERG BROS.
Jewelers.
1281 Hancock St., Quincy

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point
Tel, Quincy, Mass. 1158 M Nov 3-tf

McGREGOR MATCHES.

The Clan McGregors bowled their regular matches on the Coliseum alleys Tuesday evening. Several high singles were made.

Dell netted 118 for high and had a total of 300, McKenzie had 112, Mavers and Birnie 107, Morton and Nichols 109, R. Mitchell 105, Troupe 111, P. Dackers 104.

The McKenzies snapped 4 to 0 on the Mavers crew, passing them in the total by more than 100. The summary:

McKENZIE

Gordon	83	94	100	277
H. Smith	96	86	76	258
McKenzie	85	112	85	282
R. Mitchell	105	77	92	274
Drummond	86	97	98	281
	455	466	451	1372

MAVERS.

Martin	84	90	92	266
Diack	69	74	72	215
Mavers	88	107	71	266
Dunbar	84	94	73	251
Troupe	95	90	85	270
	420	455	393	1268

The Thomsons took the first string from the O'Neils by one pin, the second by ten and lost the third by 26 and the total by 15. The points were divided two apiece. The summary:

THOMPSON.

Troupe	91	111	72	274
Thomson	74	90	78	242
Davison	76	87	92	255
McDonald	92	81	78	251
Birnie	107	89	83	279
	440	458	403	1301

O'NEIL.

D. Dackers	70	81	75	226
Hughes	81	86	83	250
Raleigh	94	99	85	278
O'Neil	90	99	94	283
P. Dackers	104	83	92	279
	439	448	429	1316

With Morton, Nichol and A. Michael over 290 in the total the Michaels five sliped a 4 to 0 beating on the McLeans. The summary:

MICHAEL.

Nichol	100	109	86	295
Craig	90	79	86	255
A. Michael	93	75	97	265
J. Michael	91	98	101	290
Morton	85	109	98	292
	459	470	468	1397

McLEAN.

Paterson	85	83	99	267
Esson	84	87	79	250
Oswald	80	83	80	243
McLean	83	90	80	261
Dell	100	82	118	300
	432	425	464	1321

DeCOSTE THE STAR.

DeCoste of the team of Capt. Wilson was the individual star in the weekly roll off of the Heptasophs on the Coliseum alleys Tuesday evening. His second string was 107, his third 110 and his total 304. High string however went to DeCoste of the team of Capt. Wilson. His second was 116 but his first and third were not so good.

Captains Gibney and Wilson split two points apiece in their match. The summary:

CAPT. GIBNEY

Irving	84	77	81	242
S. McKay	88	77	102	267
Gibney	80	81	82	243
Healey	79	84	83	246
Dunn	89	91	100	280
	420	410	448	1278

CAPT. WILSON.

Wilson	82	81	92	255
Hennesey	71	87	83	241
DeCoste	77	116	94	287
Byron	84	88	84	256
Gillen	86	86	86	258
	400	458	439	1297

Capt. Gill's five had no difficulty in taking four points from the quintette of Capt. Mullin. The summary:

CAPT. GILL.

Canty	83	92	82	257
Smith	83	85	80	248
Tilman	79	78	78	235
Kolson	82	83	77	252
Gill	87	107	110	304
	424	445	427	1296

CAPT. MULLEN.

Lemieux	78	94	83	264
A. McKay	69	82	70	221
Burnes	70	74	70	214
Mullen	85	82	71	238
Stevens	95	86	87	268
	406	418	381	1205

SATURDAY GAMES.

Two good basket ball games are assured at the Y. M. C. A. on Saturday evening when the first team will meet the Boston Wanderers, and the second team will play the Tilton A. C. of Winthrop.

(ADVERTISE.)

ONLY JONES

(Continued from Page Three.)

"Puns, I may say, have been characterized as the lowest order of wit," supplemented Rev. Simms-Sinclair. It was but another one of the opportunities he was watching for and never overlooked, and for just an instant he felt he had scored heavily on Delancey.

"But you can't tell what the pun was—and that's worse than making one," Delancey retorted.

"Now, let's not quarrel over it," Ursula laughed. "I'm wondering what has become of Mr. McAdam. He promised to be here, too, to help."

"Not Jabez McAdam, the railroad organizer, or disorganizer, or whatever you call him?" Delancey asked.

"Yes, and two or three others, and a lot of pretty girls. They are coming tonight to assist. I chose the prettiest ones I know, because you men must have beauty about you."

"As far as I am concerned," Delancey vowed, "I stand with the old Prussian poet—what's his name?—the fellow that spiked his verses with capital letters and asked whether you got off the car at this corner or rode as far as the barns."

"What in the world are you talking about?" Ursula asked.

"I mean the chap that wrote that thing to the lady and told her that as long as he had her and a cold bottle and a best-selling book the wilderness would be a furnished apartment with a kind-hearted janitor."

Simms-Sinclair gravely took a cup from the table and studied it before correcting P. Wilmering. He was sure P. Wilmering needed correcting because of the effect it would have on Ursula, and besides, frivolity of such an order did not meet with his approval.

"It was not a Prussian poet," he announced. "It was a Persian—Omar Khayyam—and he—"

A muffled mumble came from Jones.

"Are you choking on a tack, Mr. Jones?" Ursula cried, going toward him. "I told you to be careful."

Jones took some tacks from between his lips and explained that he had merely been laughing.

"Mr. Jones always sees the funny side of things," Ursula said.

Simms-Sinclair heard this statement with calm approval. Was not the laugh on P. Wilmering?

"What I'd like to know," Ursula remarked, "is which of you is going to play Santa Claus tonight."

"Which of us?" asked Simms-Sinclair. "A man of my cloth could hardly—I must beg of you to excuse me from such a task."

Now Simms-Sinclair could think rapidly when he had to, and just then he was swiftly reflecting that whoever enacted the role of Santa Claus would be kept from the side of Ursula the entire evening. Also, P. Wilmering Delancey could think quickly. No Santa Claus for him. He knew what he wanted Santa Claus to give him, and he knew if he played Santa he would not get a chance to ask for it.

"I haven't any conscientious scruples," he explained, "but I couldn't take the part of Santa Claus. I haven't the flesh. The spirit is willing but the flesh is missing. Simms-Sinclair is all right for the part. He's fat—"

"Sir!" from Simms-Sinclair.

"He's fat, and good natured—sometimes—and he's fond of children. What would Christmas be without them, Simms-Sinclair?"

"I'll be Santa," Jones offered.

"Oh, you're the very man for the part!" Ursula beamed.

"Couldn't get a better," agreed the rector.

"Just what you should do," Delancey asserted.

"But where's Mr. McAdam?" Ursula asked, wonderingly. "He said he would come this afternoon, sure."

"McAdam has his troubles," Delancey said. "He always impressed me as a very clever gentleman—mayhap a trifle crude, but then—"

DELANCY TOLD URSULA HE HAD SOMETHING TO SAY TO HER

McADAM FELT HIS HEART THUMPING AGAINST HIS BREAST

"O, they just want to sue him for merging a lot of railroads and making a lot of money," Delancey explained. "In this country, if you don't make money some one will sue you, and as soon as you do make money they begin picking out the jury."

"He will be here, though," Ursula declared, positively. "Mr. McAdam always keeps his promises. He does what he says he will do. He is one of those big, bold, aggressive men who conquer all obstacles—"

"Howdy all," some one said, heartily. "Didn't bother to ring. Just walked in. Jeems, there, in the hall, didn't seem to want me to, but I convinced him I wasn't calling on him."

"We're all glad to see you, at any rate," Ursula smiled. "I was only this moment saying you would be sure to come."

"Yes," McAdam laughed. "I overheard you, while Jeems was getting his breath. Glad to have a friend at court. Wish you'd be on the bench if they ever serve those papers on me. Now, what's up here?"

"We've been decorating for Christmas."

"Christmas?"

"To be sure. Tomorrow, you know. This is Christmas Eve."

"You don't say! I've been so busy I haven't kept track of holidays—not even Fourth of July or Thanksgiving—except Sundays. Have to remember Sundays, don't we, Simms-Sinclair?" (He pronounced the rector's name as it was spelled.)

"Simms-Sinkler, if you please," said that gentleman, stiffly. It ruffled him to have any of his parishioners forget that he was not of the common run of Sinclairs, and to permit them to forget it might affect his standing as rector of St. Paul's.

"Sure! Have it your own way. But why don't you say it the way you spell it, or spell it the way you say it?"

"It's the way we English pronounce it, and one naturally wishes to have his name pronounced as he—"

"Of course, my boy. Sure! Simms-Sinkler, then. How's that sound?" Delancey said, eyeing Ursula, but she was studying the holly over a picture.

"Well, tastes differ. Some people may want to take Delancey for a name, and some may want to take McAdam. How about that, Jones?"

"You never can tell," Jones replied, brushing some holly leaves from his coat.

"Oh, I guess you can tell all right enough. All you got to do is find out. Isn't that right, Miss Ursula?"

"Now, our work here is over for the present," Ursula evaded. "I must begin my round of Christmas visits. I have any amount of presents for my poor charges."

"And don't forget, Miss Ursula," begged Simms-Sinclair, "that you promised to look in on some of my worthy parishioners. There's the man who lost his position."

"Look here," McAdam remarked, bluntly. "If I'd known Miss Ursula was going to run around and see each fellow's objects of charity, blest if I wouldn't have had ten or fifteen men fired—for Christmas week, anyhow."

"But the cases I mention are real," Simms-Sinclair stated.

"There's that man with the free silver ratio of children," Delancey suggested.

"There are a goodly number of them," calmly continued the rector. "I have a wedding ceremony to perform at six o'clock and cannot devote the time I should like to the visits. When I took my degree at Oxford I promised myself that never should a Christmas go by without my visiting the poor."

McAdam pulled from his pocket a hugely corpulent roll of bills. The outer wrapper had a C on it, and the bundle was as thick as his wrist. He flipped the bills against the end of his thumb and said:

"I'll not be left out. I'll just tuck one of them shinplasters into each of Miss Ursula's baskets. That's me. I may be late getting into the game but I'll make my ante good. I'll go along with you on this good Samaritan trip and scatter seeds of sunshine. Isn't there some kind of a song about scattering seeds of sunshine?"

"There is," Simms-Sinclair informed him.

"Well, money talks, but we'll make it sing this time. Eh!"

"That is simply grand of you, Mr. McAdam," Ursula asserted, and McAdam felt his heart thumping fiercely against his vest. "I know you are a man who wants to make the poor little children happy, aren't you?"

"Sure! Of course. Going to have a bunch of them here tonight, aren't you? Mighty pretty decorations."

"Yes, Mr. Jones put most of them up. Don't you think the children will like them?"

"Sure! Should say so! Tell you what. I'll just tie some ten-dollar bills every foot or so on those ropes of green stuff. Then tell the kids it's a new kind of flower and your Uncle Dudley is the florist."

"I'm afraid that might keep the children from enjoying the trifles I am going to put on the tree for them," Ursula demurred.

"I'll cut it out, then," Jabez replied. "You just tell me where to spill the money and I'll tap my barrel. I'm in your hands, understand."

He looked so meaningly at Ursula that Delancey felt the ground being pulled from under his feet. His own allowance did not permit of such recklessness, and besides he considered such a display of wealth as McAdam was making as vulgar.

"Let me come to the front with my bright idea," he begged. "It's getting late in the afternoon, and my automobile is ten times as fast as Miss Allen's carriage will be. I'll take her and her packages around to the houses she wants to find. It'll be no trouble at all. My big machine is to call for me here in just a minute."

"You are awfully kind," Ursula answered. "But I could not think of troubling you. Mr. Jones was going with me as a general utility man, and—"

"Jones is tired out now with all he has done," P. Wilmering said.

"And besides he has to prepare for the Santa Claus work of this evening," submitted the rector.

"Don't consider me at all," Jones requested. "I think Mr. Delancey's suggestion very good."

"But you haven't yet finished your work," Simms-Sinclair argued. "You haven't yet hung the mistletoe."

"Hang the mistletoe!" Jabez exclaimed. "What we need is more confidence and less mistletoe. We could have left packages at half a dozen places while we are arguing. Let's all get into the buzz wagon and take the things around. Let's all of us go. I don't intend to be crowded out as soon as I get here. Not me. Not Jabez McAdam. No, sir! This is the first Christmas I've heard of in five years and I'm going to stay to the finish. Come on. Where's the bundles? Handing out these things will be more fun than I've had for a mighty long time, and I want to begin it right away. Show us the packages, Miss Ursula, and we'll get busy with them."

Under the domination of this master of men and money there was nothing else to do but to obey. Delancey peered out of the window and saw his machine standing near the curb, ready for him. Ursula showed them the packages, heaped in the rear of the wide hall. Then the men began carrying out the things. They moved by platoon—four at a time. Neither of them would let any of the others be left alone in the house with Ursula, even for a moment.

"There isn't going to be room for all of us, I'm afraid," Delancey informed them presently. "The machine is chuckfull of bundles now."

"Leave me out," Jones said. "I'd rather run along home, anyhow. Give me that package for Mrs. Callahan, and I'll take it to her. It's not much out of my way."

He went into the house to get his hat brushed. Ursula followed him, calling back:

"Wait a minute. I must go and show Mr. Jones where to hang the mistletoe."

The others waited what seemed to them a prodigiously long time.

"I've got that six o'clock wedding," Simms-Sinclair fretted. "Every minute counts with me."

"Huh!" Jabez commented. "Every minute counts with me, too. Let's all go in and see about that mistletoe."

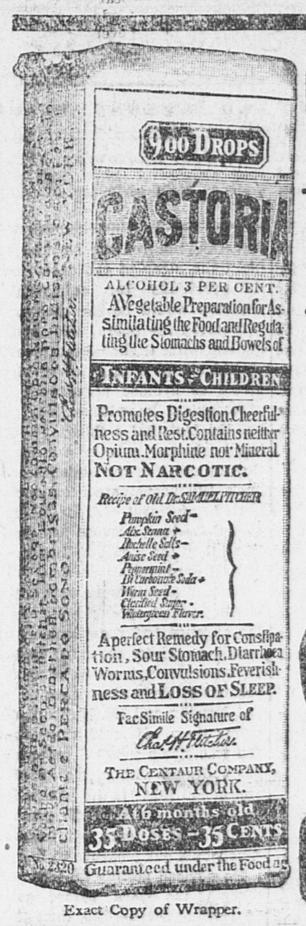
(To be Continued.)

☞PRATT'S BREAD—baked by experts in a light, well-ventilated building. All grocers.

A Merry Xmas to all.

When buying Pianos or Musical Instruments see

JOHNSEN
6 Chestnut Street, Quincy
Pianos from $10 up
Dec. 8 12t



Exact Copy of Wrapper.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
In Use For Over Thirty Years
CASTORIA
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

FOR A

Christmas Present

NOTHING COULD BE BETTER THAN

A QUINCY HISTORY

EACH YEAR THE HISTORY OF

OLD BRAINTREE AND QUINCY

WRITTEN BY

W. S. PATTEE, M. D.

AND PUBLISHED IN 1878

GROWS MORE VALUABLE, AS IT CONTAINS HISTORICAL DATA ABOUT QUINCY THAT CANNOT BE OBTAINED ELSEWHERE

$3.50 PER COPY

FOR SALE BY

GEO. W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.

1424 HANCOCK STREET

QUINCY

Do It NOW!
Tomorrow Is Not Coming

The time to begin reading the advertising in this newspaper is NOW.

It never was more interesting than it is today. It is not likely to be more profitable to you than it will be this very minute.

The good things you miss today will be dead opportunities tomorrow.

Success comes to the "Do-it-now men" —not to the "wait-awhiles."

Today's advertising is live news written by keen witted, bright eyed men and women for the benefit of clever people.

Begin reading the advertising today and when you begin to see the doors it opens to you, you will be the first to thank us for jogging you up.

Do it NOW.

Tomorrow? There is no such day. They have taken it off the calendar.

WITHIN THE LAW

By MARVIN DANA
FROM THE PLAY OF
BAYARD VEILLER

Copyright, 1913, by the H. K. Fly company.

SYNOPSIS

Mary Turner, a department store clerk, is sentenced to prison for three years for a theft she did not commit.

Edward Gilder, owner of the department store, consents to see Mary before she goes to prison, expecting her to confess.

Mary protests her innocence to Gilder and begs him to pay better wages to his clerks to save them from temptation.

After three years in prison Mary is freed, but the police prevent her holding positions. She jumps into the river to end her life, but is rescued by Joe Garson, a forger.

Mary forms a partnership with Garson and his gang, by which they mulct rich victims in a legal manner, keeping "within the law."

Mary is warned by the police to leave town after she has formed the acquaintance of Richard Gilder, her former employer's son.

Helen Morris, the girl who had committed the theft for which Mary was imprisoned, sees Mary and confesses her guilt.

Mary marries Dick Gilder without his father's knowledge and then refuses to sail for Europe with him.

Joe Garson, against Mary's protest, agrees with Eddie Griggs, another crook, to help commit a burglary in Gilder's home.

Edward Gilder sees his son's bride and tries to induce her to give up her husband. Dick refuses to leave her even when she tells him she is an ex-convict.

(Continued from last issue.)

"Working for the New York Central now?" Mary asked blandly.

"You'd better be packing your trunk," the inspector rumbled.

"But why? I'm not going away."

"On the Twentieth Century limited this afternoon," the inspector declared in a voice of growing wrath.

"Oh, dear, no!"

"I say yes!" The answer was a bellow. "I'm giving you your orders. You will either go to Chicago or you'll go up the river."

"If you can convict me. Pray, notice that little word 'if.'"

The district attorney interposed very suavely:

"I did once, I remember."

"But you can't do it again," Mary declared with an assurance that excited the astonishment of the police official.

"How do you know he can't?" he blustered.

"Because if he could he would have had me in prison some time ago."

"Huh!" Burke exclaimed gruffly. "I've seen them go up pretty easy."

"The poor ones; not those that have money. I have money, plenty of money—now."

"Money you stole!" the inspector returned brutally.

"Oh, dear, no!" Mary cried with a fine show of virtuous indignation.

"What about the $30,000 you got on that partnership swindle? I s'pose you didn't steal that!"

"Certainly not," was the ready reply. "The man advertised for a partner in a business sure to bring big and safe returns. We formed a partnership with a capital of $30,000. We paid the money into the bank, and then at once I drew it out. It was legal for me to draw that money—wasn't it, Mr. Demarest?"

The district attorney admitted the truth of her contention.

"Well, anyhow," Burke shouted, "you may stay inside the law, but you've got to get outside the city. On the level, now, do you think you could get away with that young Gilder scheme you've been planning?"

"What young Gilder scheme?"

"Oh, I'm wise—I'm wise!" the inspector cried roughly. "The answer is, once for all, leave town this afternoon or you'll be in the Tombs in the morning."

"It can't be done, inspector."

Mary opened a drawer of the desk and took out the document obtained that morning from Harris and held it forth."

"What's this?" Burke stormed, but he took the paper.

Demarest looked over the inspector's shoulder, and his eyes grew larger as he read. When he was at an end of the reading he regarded the passive woman at the desk with a new respect.

"What's this?" Burke repeated helplessly. Mary was kind enough to make the document clear to him.

"It's a temporary restraining order from the supreme court instructing you to let me alone until you have legal proof that I have broken the law."

"But it can't be done," shouted Burke.

"You might ask Mr. Demarest," Mary suggested pleasantly, "as to whether or not it can be done. The gambling houses can do it and so keep on breaking the law. The race track men can do it and laugh at the law. The railroad can do it to restrain its employees from striking. So why shouldn't I get one too? You see, I have money. I can buy all the law I want. And there's nothing you can't do with the law if you have money enough. Ask Mr. Demarest. He knows."

"Can you beat that?" Burke rumbled. He regarded Mary with a stare of almost reverential wonder. "A crook appealing to the law!"

"Well, gentlemen, what are you going to do about it?"

"Miss Turner," the district attorney said, with an appearance of sincerity, "I'm going to appeal to your sense of fair play."

"That was killed four years ago."

But Demarest persisted. Influence had been brought to bear on him. It was for her own sake now that he urged her.

"Let young Gilder alone."

Mary laughed again.

"His father sent me away for three years—three years for something I didn't do. Well, he's got to pay for it."

By this time, Burke, a man of superior intelligence, as one must be to reach such a position of authority, had come to realize that here was a case not to be carried through by blustering, by intimidation, by the rough ruses familiar to the force.

"Don't fool yourself, my girl," he said in his huge voice, which was now modulated to a degree that made

"Well, gentlemen, what are you going to do about it?"

it almost unfamiliar to himself, "You can't go through with this. There's always a weak link in the chain somewhere. It's up to me to find it, and I will."

"Now," she said, and there was respect in the glance she gave the stalwart man, "now you really sound dangerous."

Fannie appeared at the door.

"Mr. Edward Gilder wishes to see you, Miss Turner," she said. "Shall I show him in?"

"Oh, certainly," Mary answered, with an admirable pretense of indifference, while Burke glared at Demarest, and the district attorney appeared ill at ease.

CHAPTER XI.

Gilder Meets Bride.

THERE entered the erect, heavy figure of the man whom Mary had hated through the years. He stopped abruptly just within the room, gave a glance at the two men, then his eyes went to Mary, sitting at her desk, with her face lifted inquiringly. He did not pause to take in the beauty of that face, only its strength. He stared at her silently for a moment. Then he spoke, a little tremulous from anxiety.

"Are you the woman?" he said. There was something simple and primitive, something of dignity beyond the usual conventions, in his direct address.

Mary's acknowledgment was as plain as his own question.

"I am the woman. What do you want?"

"My son."

Mary guessed that his coming was altogether of his own volition, and not the result of his son's information, as at first she had supposed.

"Have you seen him recently?"

"No."

"Then, why did you come?"

"Because I intend to save my boy from a great folly. I am informed that he is infatuated with you, and Inspector Burke tells me—why—he tells me—why—he tells me"— He paused, unable for a moment to continue from an excess of emotion.

Inspector Burke filled the halting sentence.

"I told you she had been an ex-convict."

"Yes," Gilder said, after he had regained his self control. He stared at her pleadingly. "Tell me, is this true?"

Here, then, was the moment for which she had longed through weary days, through weary years. Here was the man whom she hated, suppliant before her to know the truth. Her heart quickened. Truly, vengeance is sweet to one who has suffered unjustly.

"Is this true?" the man repeated, with something of horror in his voice.

"It is," Mary said quietly.

For a little, there was silence in the room. At last, Gilder spoke with the sureness of a man of wealth, confident that money will salve any wound.

"How much?" he asked, baldly.

Mary smiled an inscrutable smile.

"Oh, I don't need money," she said, carelessly. "Inspector Burke will tell you how easy it is for me to get it."

"Do you want my son to learn what you are?" he said.

"Why not? I'm ready to tell him myself."

Then Gilder showed his true heart in which love for his boy was before all else.

"But I don't want him to know," he stammered. "Why, I've spared the boy all his life. If he really loves you—it will"—

"Are you the woman?"

At that moment, the son himself entered hurriedly. In his eagerness he saw no one save the woman he loved. At his entrance, Mary rose and moved backward a step involuntarily, in sheer surprise over his coming.

The young man went swiftly to her, while the other three men stood silent. Dick took Mary's hand in a warm clasp, pressed it tenderly.

"I didn't see father," he said happily, "but I left a note on his desk at the office."

Then, somehow, the surcharged atmosphere penetrated his consciousness, and he looked around, to see his father standing grimly opposite him. But there was no change in his expression beyond a more radiant smile.

"Hello, dad!" he cried, joyously. "Then you got my note?"

"No, Dick, I haven't had any note."

The young man spoke with simple pride.

"Dad we're married. Mary and I were married this morning."

Mary kept her eyes steadfast on the father. There was triumph in her gaze. This was the vengeance for which she had longed, for which she had plotted, the vengeance she had at last achieved. Here was her fruition, the period of her supremacy.

Gilder seemed dazed by the brief sentence.

"Say that again," he commanded.

"Dad, Mary and I were married this morning."

"I married your son this morning," Mary said in a matter of fact tone. "I married him. Do you quite understand, Mr. Gilder? I married him." In that insistence lay her ultimate compensation for untold misery. The father stood there wordless, unable to find speech against this calamity that had befallen him.

(To be Continued.)

☞PRATT'S BREAD is always in favor because delicious in flavor. Your grocer.

Could's Orchestra
Concert, Reception and Dance Work Solicited
Address Communications to
ALICE G. GOULD, Director
15 Willow St., East Braintree
Dec. 11-6t-o-13-1w

The Song Shop wishes you a Merry Christmas
Pianos $100 and up
Easy Terms or Cash
Hallett & Davis Piano Co.
Sheet Music. Postal Cards
M. B. & C. W. BAHR,
AGENTS,
1291 Hancock Street
Dec. 11-6t

CHOICE ARTICLES
FROM THE
PHILIPPINES

LUCBON HATS—Very best grade of the famous Panamas and Bankoks made. Absolutely none better, woven under water by hand. Can be crushed into a ball and not lose shape. Made for both Ladies and Gentlemen. $5 and $10.

ROMBLON MATS—Handsomest and most durable Grass Mats or Rugs made in the world. Beautiful colors and designs, large enough to cover one-half floor of rooms. $5.

MANILA CIGARS—$3 for a trial box of the Very Best Cigars made in the Philippines.

Oriente Cigarettes—Best made, large package containing 25 small packages, 750 Cigarettes, $2.

Sent by registered mail, free of duties, on receipt of price.

C. A. SHORT & CO.,
Lucena, Tay, P. I.
Oct. 4 1&O 3m

AMONG THE CLUBS

(Continued from Page Three.)

WOLLASTON WOMEN'S CLUB.

The regular meeting of the Wollaston Women's club was held Tuesday afternoon at the Unitarian church and well attended. There were guests present from Los Angeles, Cal., Winthrop, Mass., and West Virginia. The sale of guest tickets is on the increase at the last meeting $12.20 being taken during the afternoon.

After the regular business there was a short musical program—"Rejoice Greatly" from the Messiah, being sung by Mrs. Mary Hastings Slade, with Mrs. Edith Barry at the organ. Mrs. T. J. Bowlker, sister of President Lowell of Harvard and president of the Woman's Municipal League was the speaker of the afternoon, and gave a most interesting talk on the varied and far reaching work of the League, the main theme being, "The spirit behind the work." The models described illustrating clean and unclean storekeeping and conditions prevailing under sanitary and unsanitary conditions were most vividly described by Mrs. Bowlker. The results from these teachings to the poorer classes of the city of Boston and really wonderful as related by Mrs. Bowlker.

The committee appointed to meet the Sachem club in reference to a clubhouse reported that the Sachem club would start its building in March. Just what the Women's club will do has not been decided, and the matter laid on the table until further notice.

The Social and Industrial committee of the club, Mrs. Charles S. Adams chairman reported that they were to unite with the Quincy and Riverside clubs Christmas day in entertaining at the Quincy Home. There will be a musical and literary program and readings by Dr. Bartlett of Atlantic. The girls' choir from the Wollaston Unitarian church will sing Christmas carols, and there will be gifts and boxes containing candy, cake and nuts for each inmate.

The Exchange did a great business. The next sale will be on Jan 20.

The next meeting of the club will be the lecture by Dr. Woods Hutchinson in Wollaston School hall Jan. 6 at 8 o'clock.

The President wished the members a merry Christmas and the meeting adjourned with a social hour spent in the vestry where tea was served.

• • •

RIVERSIDE CLUB.

The Quincy Women's Riverside club is having an active month with its regular meeting on the 3d and two social affairs, a Christmas sale, whist and dance Dec. 19 afternoon and evening in Colonial and Hancock halls and an afternoon hurdy gurdy party at the clubhouse, Edison park Dec. 31. The following are chairmen of table for the Christmas sale: Fancy—Mrs Spooner; apron, Mrs. Ella A. Hayden flowers, Mrs. Annie Hayden; candy Mrs. Harmon; cake, Mrs. Bass; grab bag, Mrs. I. A. Souther; refreshments Mrs. Oxford; whist afternoon and evening, Mrs. Eugene R. Stone.

Mrs. Thompson B. Crane is chairman of the hurdy gurdy party and has an able corps of assistants.

• • •

BOSTON CITY FEDERATION.

"What is the object of the Boston City Federation?" was one of the questions asked Mrs. Frank L. Young of Dorchester, its president.

"Its object is to work for civic betterment," was the answer; "not as an individual organization, but through the clubs that make up its membership. These comprise 70 organizations from different sections of Greater Boston, with 20,678 members. Each organization is represented at the meeting by two delegates with power to vote on all questions under consideration. Men's clubs are eligible to membership in the federation.

"Four open meetings are held during the year, and a board meeting each month where important matters are considered. The federation may be called a clearing house for ideas, and the questions discussed and the plans proposed relate directly to community welfare. These words 'community welfare' might almost be called the motto of our organization.

"The federation initiates the project, which is always for the good of the city, and the different clubs take up the work after it has been discussed and the best methods for so doing have been determined. The federation also prevents the duplication of work, and thus a waste of time and energy which might be used in another direction. For instance, a group of women belonging to a club in one part of the city began to work along certain lines when it was discovered that another club was doing the same thing. One organization could manage it without difficulty, thus allowing the other to centralize its efforts in another direction where there was an equally crying need. So, you see, we try to conserve effort in order to enlarge the results.

"We are interested, and are trying to interest the public, in the need of street matrons. Such women are much needed in certain sections of the city to warn young girls of the danger of hanging round the corners of the street, and near places of amusement. These girls are innocent enough, and are merely out for 'a good time' and unaware of the peril surrounding them. With our large membership it ought not to be difficult to lead public opinion in the right direction, and to obtain the necessary legislation, giving such matrons the power to send girls home who are found in dangerous localities.

"Another matter investigated is the condition in public dance halls, moving picture shows, and similar places of amusement for young people. These are some of the features of our work, and you will thus see why the City Federation is one of the strongest powers for righteousness in the city, and in any emergency can be a tremendous help as it can be called on quickly, and the united influence of these different organizations may be made very effective."

The founder and first president of the federation was Mrs. George W. Perkins, now president of the Massachusetts State Federation, and of the Boston branch of the Collegiate Alumnae, who is one of the directors. Mrs. Frank L. Young, the present president of the federation, is a woman of great executive ability and is prominent in many different clubs and organizations.

Mrs. Robert A. Woods, the first vice-president, is the wife of Robert A. Woods, the social worker, and Mrs. Woods, beside being one of the founders of the Boston Business Women's Club, South Bay Sorosis and the South End Woman's Club, is one of Boston's most active social workers. Mrs. R. L. O'Brien is an active worker in the Woman's Municipal League, and a graduate from the Boston University School of Medicine; Mrs. Arthur H. Merritt, the recording secretary, is also a very active worker in many organizations and is at present the president of the Dorchester Woman's Club, a club of 500 members; Mrs. Donald M. Blair, the treasurer, is the ex-president of the Women-in-Council of Roxbury and a director of the state federation; Mrs. Frank C. Richardson, the corresponding secretary, is also corresponding secretary of the New England Women's Club, a member of the literature and library extension committee of the state federation and an ex-president of the Home Club.

The directors other than Mrs. Perkins are Mrs. May Alden Ward, president of the New England Women's Club and a former president of the state federation; Mrs. Mary S. Woolman, president of the Women's Educational and Industrial Union, and head of the home economics department of Simmons College; Miss Marion Nichols, an active worker in the women's auxiliary of the Massachusetts Civil Service Reform Association and chairman of the legislative committee of the City Federation; Mrs. Sarah Van Nurden, vice-president of the Council of Jewish Women: Mrs. Harry R. Stowe, president of the Daughters of Vermont; Mrs. George A. Tyzzer, president of the Roslindale Community Club; Mrs. Frederick T. Manson, corresponding secretary of the Home Club of East Boston, and for historian, Mrs. A. A. Fales, president of the Dorchester Daughters of Maine. The departments of the federation are education, with the president, Mrs. Young, as chairman; sanitation and smoke nuisance, Mrs. R. L. O'Brien, chairman; legislative, Miss M. C. Nichols, chairman; street matron, Mrs. Robert A. Woods, chairman; community welfare, Mrs. Arthur H. Merritt, chairman.

• • •

WOLLASTON W. C. T. U.

The monthly meeting of the Wollaston W. C. T. U. was held at the home of Mrs. Avard Walker of Belmont street Friday afternoon, Dec. 12. After the usual business, Mrs. Samuel F. Barker spoke on "Work among Foreign Speaking People," giving a very interesting talk on the great work the World's W. C. T. U. is doing among foreign speaking people.

Last year there were 1,100,800 immigrants, two thirds of them males, who in a short time will be voters and makers of our laws. The duty and necessity of Americanizing and Christianizing our foreign population should appeal to the heart of every White Ribboner and urge her to ask "What Can I do?" The foreigner comes to this Christian land let us give him Christian treatment. Let us in everything uphold and maintain the high ideals which our Forefathers received from the Bible, then shall we be able to teach our foreigners and their children to build with us a grand God-fearing nation.

☞White wrapping paper for doing up your Christmas gifts can be obtained at the Ledger-Patriot office for 20 cents a dozen sheets or by the single sheet at 2 cents per sheet.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.
No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

WANTED

WANTED—An experienced man to drive a Wet Wash Laundry wagon. A married man, who is at present employed, preferred. Wages $18.00 to $20.00 for three days a week. Write W. Ledger Office stating experience. 17-3t

WANTED— Experienced Grocery and Meat man. Good wages to right man. W. H. Stevenson market, 128 Washington street, Quincy. 15-6t

WANTED—Boarders. Bath, heat, gas, near Fore River Shipyard, Mrs. Elliott, 19 Watson road. 15-3t

WANTED—A man, "a live wire" to canvass the city of Quincy and sell the most up to date vacuum carpet cleaner manufactured. Must give satisfactory reference. Wm. S. Currier, Currier's Market, 1381 Hancock street. 12-6t

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing. Myatt, 40 Baxter street. Tel. 1307-M. Quincy, Res. 22-tf

FOR SALE

HORSE FOR SALE—Cheap, for want of use. H. H. I. Smith, 578 Commercial street, Weymouth Heights. Tel. Weymouth 105-1. 15-tf

FOR SALE or TO LET—New houses Apply to Thompson B. Crane, 403 Washington street, Quincy. 1-tf

SWITHIN Real Estate
Mortgages-Insurance
Greenleaf Block
Quincy
Tel. Quincy 460. Nov. 10-tf

JAMES F. BURKE & CO.
Real Estate and Insurance
Care of Property. Mortgages
Justice of Peace. Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 885 M. Nov. 11-tf

WM. H. TEASDALE REAL ESTATE
Insurance Mortgages
NOTARY PUBLIC JUSTICE OF THE PEACE
Room 23 Adams Building
Telephones { Residence 544-3 / Office 885-M
otf

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

TO LET

Large Front Office Greenleaf Block—2 entrances—right at the head of the stairs—one of the most desirable offices in Quincy.

Office, Durgin-Merrill Block—3 large windows—only 1 flight up—exceptional opportunity.

Hancock Building — City Square Offices—small front office, $11 a month

Office—Hancock Chambers, 16x18 feet one flight up, very low rent.

Store House—off Granite St., in the rear of Greenleaf Block.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best Location in City)
Offices—Large or small.

Desk Room—Street floor, right in the rear of main entrance, good light and air, $5 up a month.

Transient Rooms—Well furnished and with care, $1 a day.

Furnished Rooms—With care steam heat, and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week

HALLS

Music Hall—Music Hall Block—Capacity 962—highest possible rating by the State. "Excellent" in every particular.

New Colonial Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—Capacity 240—the best possible location for a Hall.

Hancock Hall—Hancock Building City Square—Capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 21066) Quincy

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER. YOU need the Ledger EVERY DAY.

TO LET

TO LET—Flat 5 rooms and bath, first floor. All improvements. Nice location. 129 Independence avenue. Apply 60 Trafford street or Telephone Quincy 489-W. 17-6t

TO LET—Upper apartment of 7 rooms and bath, all improvements including set range and gas stove, now ready. Inquire, A. W. Parker, 87 Merrymount road. Tel. Quincy 258-1 16-tf

TO LET—Flat of four rooms, all improvements, at 16 Bedford street. Apply 94 Cranch street. 16-3t

TO LET—In Braintree, house of five rooms, including two bed rooms and bath. Rent reasonable. A. J. Cavanagh, 72 Cedar street, Braintree. Telephone 4-14. Dec. 16-6t

TO LET—48 Revere road two connecting rooms with kitchenette for housekeeping. Also a nice room with sun all day, two large closets. Hot water heat and bath. water heat and bath. 13-tf

TO LET—Lower flat, 5 rooms bath modern improvements in new house pleasantly situated in corner lot 29 Atherton street, Bigelow Park. Rent reasonable to right party. Inquire on premises or 72 Glencoe place. 13-6t

TO LET—Upper flat in two flat new house at 1 Bradford street, 5 rooms and bath. All improvements. Ready Jan. 1st. Apply to Wm. E. Duggan, 32 Bryant avenue, West. Quincy. 12-6t

RUSSELL PARK — Commodious house of seven rooms, large hall and bath. Modern, every convenience open fireplace, furnace, range, set tubs, electric lights, cemented cellar, etc. Best residential neighborhood. Ready for immediate occupancy. For further details or key see Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. tf lpo

TO LET—9 room house on Hancock street, near Quincy center. In first class repair and reasonable rent. Apply to Mr. Galligan at Kincaide's Furniture store. 6-tf

TO LET—173 Whitwell street, half house, modern conveniences, $20 per month. Ready for immediate occupancy. Apply Penniman's Stable, Granite street. 19-tf

TO LET—Nicest 4 room and bath lower flat in town. Every improvement $19.00. 126 Glendale road. S. E. Thomas Greenleaf Block. 17-tf

TO LET—5 room tenement at 117 Quincy street, $20 per month. Apply Berman Furniture Co. 6-tf

TO LET—Houses of 5, 6 and 10 rooms. M. T. Sullivan. Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy, Mass. 11-tf

UPPER APARTMENT. In two-family house on Spear Street. Five rooms, bath, large pantry and closets, also open attic with finished heated chamber. Every improvement, electric light, furnace, range etc. Ready for immediate occupancy. Telephone Quincy 278 M or enquire mornings of Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. lpo

MISCELLANEOUS

WILL SOMEONE please answer who would like a piano in their home for Christmas. This one can be rented for a time and after a fair trial very favorable terms can be arranged towards its purchase. Write at once. Box 10 this office. 13-6t

RENT FREE—until Jan. 1st. Two adjoining houses, 28 and 30 Pleasant street to desirable tenants, who will agree to stay one year, or longer. $5.00 per week in advance. Stable for one horse if desired. $1.00 a week extra. Apply 36 Pleasant street. 5-tf

ANOTHER BARGAIN

Make me an offer for a ten room house on Whitwell Street.

You will own it if you will talk buy, as it is one of those chances some one will miss.

HENRY W. SAVAGE
Real Estate, Boston.
E. C. HAYDEN, Local Representative
Telephone 1877-M Quincy.
Nov 17-tf

HOLMES & HALL
REPAIRERS OF HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
SHADES
DOOR BELLS
LOCKS and KEYS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

KINCAIDE THEATRE

At 2.30, 5, 10, 15c At 7.45, 10, 15, 25c

THURS. FRIDAY SAT.
Program Subject to Change

MURRAY LANE & CO.
Dramatic Singing Sketch
"FININ' DAD"

THE DAVIS TROUPE
Acrobats Par Excellence

DORA RONCA
Violinist De Luxe

HANLEY & JARVIS
Fun Makers "A la France"

2 Part Feature Picture
THE CYPHER MESSAGE
A Thrilling Detective Drama

SOPHIE'S HERO
Western Comedy Full of Fun

THE STOLEN TREATY
A Mighty Interesting Drama

LOTS OF LIVELY MUSIC

CASE FURTHER CONTINUED.

The case of Mrs. E. Grace Reynolds of the Cedarcrest Outing Club was called this morning and again continued to Friday so that arrangements could be made to appeal from a fine of $300 that will be imposed by Judge Avery. The interest in the case is waning and few spectators were at court.

☞ The show Windows of the Citizens Gas Light Company have a holiday attire. Many new style of portable gas lamps and the "Iwantu" gas irons are shown in one window, and in the other is a fireside scene where dolls play a prominent part. One says "My Daddy reads by gas," another "My Ma heats her sitting room with gas," and the third "My Mother cooks with gas."

FREAKISH DRESS FANCIES.

Odd Touches that Smarten Costumes —Tulle Turbans—Rose Girdles and Butterfly Trimmings—Velevet Ribbon Bracclets and Neck Bands.

Very freakish are some of the newest modes. Nothing seems too bizaare for indoor or evening wear, and many styles that now seem fairly quiet and sedate would have appeared screamingly loud a few years back.

TINSEL RELIEVED BY FUR.

No end of glitter in beadings and tinsel is used on every item of the fashionable get-up. The touches of fur and velvet that are universal give the needed relief to what would otherwise be unbearably garish effects. Every sort of tunic is used, and their trimmings are varied indefinitely, though the preference seems to be for narrow bands of fur or rhinestones, or a combination of both these garnitures. Pointed finishes are smart and double and triple crosslines circle the figure between waist and knee, and the upward tilt at the waist is becoming more popular though at first everyone pronounced it ugly. On evening frocks, one of the favorite girdles consists of a band of full blown silk roses about two inches in diameter, and butterflies are a favorite finish for the girdle either at centre front or back of the waistline, which by the way is more apt to accord with the natural line of the figure than formerly, though there is no rule about it.

TULLE TURBANS.

At the opera and theatres—one sees a good many tulle turbans and Juliette caps of beads and silver or gold cord. Many of the turbans have high upstanding trimmings held in place with a brooch which the wearer unclasps in deference to the rule against obstructing the view of the stage, and deftly replaces at the end of the performance. The Juliette caps have the advantage of not being in anyone's way and therefore there is no need to doff them, especially if they are bewitchingly becoming.

The above designs are by The McCall Company, New York, Designers and Makers of McCall Patterns.

VELVET JEWELRY.

The old time liking for velvet bands with fancy slides, as bracelets and neckbands, is very much seen, and apt to be especially becoming to women who need the aid of striking contrast. Sets of slides will go in many a Christmas stocking, and be appreciated alike by buds of matrons.

NECK FIXINGS.

The neckwear shown at all the fashionable shops, is endlessly attractive, and a plain waist can be instantly transformed into elaborate prettiness when the dainty fichus and frills are added while vestees of brocade, and embroidered velvets completely change the effect of a simple lace waist, or plainly tailored coat.

Rosalind May.

New York, Dec. 15, 1913.

BRIEFS

Miss Dorothy Noble of Safford street is ill with the mumps.

The Mission circle of the Universalist church met Monday afternoon with Mrs. John Williams on Quincy street. The topic for the month was "Christmas." A very pleasant afternoon was spent. The January meeting will be held January 19 with Mrs. Hyland, Grand View avenue, Wollaston.

The combined morning and evening choirs of Bethany Congregational church are working on the cantata, "The Daughter of Jairus," by Stainer, which with a short miscellaneous program they will present on the evening of Jan 13. The choir concert is an annual occurrence, the "Holy City" being given last year with splendid success.

—But by and by there will be a change. Croakings and predictions of dire disaster can not always dominate. Millions of men will refuse to believe that the sky is no longer blue, on sunshiny days, or that the grass will not be green in the verdant days of springtime.—Salem News.

☞ Get your white wrapping paper for Christmas gifts at the Ledger-Patriot office. Come early and avoid the rush. Large sheets 2 cents each. By the dozen 20 cents.

PASTOR ACCEPTS CALL.

A dispatch from North Attleboro announces that Rev. M. O. Patton of Sheldonville has accepted a call to become the pastor of the Episcopal church at Braintree, where he will commence his work Jan. 1.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS? ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

(ADVERTISE.)

Too Late For Classification

TO LET—Tenement 4 rooms and bath all improvements, set range. Vacant Jan. 1, 1914. Apply 180 Franklin street. 10-12t

PIANOS—Buy a piano. Several makes. Square man to trade with. Send postal and he will call. In your city every day. Walter H. Lyons, Randolph. 17-3t

MARRIAGES

BARRY—MANNEX—In Roslindale, Dec. 15, by Rev. John F. Cummings Joseph L. Barry of Houghs Neck and Gertrude C. Mannex of Roslindale.

DEATHS

LYONS—In Quincy Point, Dec. 16, Agness, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Lyons of 2 Cherry street, aged 2 years, 4 months.

LUCETTE—In Quincy, Dec. 16, John Lucette, of 82 Willard street.

HOLSTON—In Norfolk Downs, Dec. 16, Francis W. Holston of Davis street, in his 35th year.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass.

When Run Down

in physical condition it is usually because the action of the organs of digestion has become irregular or defective. Then there is need for a safe and speedy medicine to relieve the ills which occasionally depress even the brightest and strongest. The one remedy you may take and feel safe with is

BEECHAM'S PILLS

(The Largest Sale of Any Medicine in the World)

The first dose gives speedy relief in sick-headache, biliousness, constipation, lack of appetite, heartburn, dyspepsia, and lasting improvement follows the timely use of this favorite and reliable home remedy. You will become healthier and stronger, and more cheerful if you let Beecham's Pills

Pick You Up

Sold everywhere. In boxes, 10c., 25c.

Directions with every box point the way to health and are especially valuable to women.

INDIA AND HER ACHIEVEMENTS

(Continued from Page One.)

India showing some of its many ancient temples, with their rare carving, which were works of art, were thrown upon the screen by the stereopticon.

In closing the speaker said his people showed a tolerance toward all people. They never tried to change the religion of the different races which come to them. She is ready to accept what the west can give her and is ready to give what she has. God grant that we shall have an understanding and mingling of ideas of the great races.

Several of the members asked questions of the speaker, particularly about the work of the missionaries and in answer to these the speaker said the missionaries were not accomplishing anything with the higher classes although they had done some good work among the lower classes. What India needed most was education and physical development. Very few intelligent minds will accept the teachings of the missionaries. In some cases their promises have not been fulfilled. There are many colleges in India and all well educated people speak English. They however do not have the same opportunity as Englishmen to hold high positions, although some of them do. Missionaries however can do a great deal of good in the way of education.

At the close of the evening the speaker was given a rising vote of thanks for his very interesting and instructive talk.

In closing the president announced that the subject for the January meeting would be Mexico.

Double Legal Stamps—— Tuesday Thursday } Afternoon---12 to 6

At REMICK'S

——Double Legal Stamps Tuesday Thursday } Afternoon---12 to 6

QUINCY'S GREATEST CHRISTMAS STORE

SOMETHING USEFUL FOR EVERYBODY

Open Every Evening Until Christmas

NECKWEAR In Fancy Boxes
Biggest Variety—Biggest Values Ever Shown in Quincy
25c 35c 50c 65c
We are showing Boston's $1.00 Neckwear at 65c

Endless Variety MEN'S ARM BANDS and BRACES. All in Fancy Boxes
25c 35c 50c 65c

We could get more but are determined to hold the reputation for the best values and lowest prices

HOISERY
Men's, Boys' Women and Children. Silk, Lisle, Cotton and Cashmere. A very useful gift

GLOVES
Nothing you can think of but can be found here. For Men, Boys and Children.

BATH ROBES with SLIPPERS.
$4.98 others at $2.98 .$3.48

MEN'S PAJAMAS
98c to $2.00

MEN'S NIGHT ROBES
Flannel and Cotton
48c to $1.50

HANDKERCHIEFS
Men's Plain and Initial ..... 10c to 50c
Ladies' Plain and Initial ..... 10c to 50c

UMBRELLAS
Men's Fancy Handles ..... 98c to $5.00
Ladies' Fancy Handles ..... 75c to $5.00
Childrens' Fancy Handles ..... 50c and $1.00

SWEATERS of every description.
Lower than the Lowest
Men's ..... 98c to $8.00
Women's ..... 98c to $8.00
Boys' ..... 98c to $5.00
Girls' ..... 98c to $5.00
Children's ..... 48c to $2.00
All Colors. With or without Collars

MEN'S FANCY SHIRTS
48c to $1.50
Our Special at $1.15 is like the other fellow's $1.50

Men's Silk Shirts
$2.98 $3.98
Worth $4.00 and $5.00

Flannel Shirts
69c to $3.00
Blue, Gray and Tan

MACKINAW COATS
Neat and Nobby Effects

SMOKING JACKETS

MEN'S STIFF and SOFT HATS
$1.00 to $3.00

MEN'S CAPS
With and without band
50c to $3.00

BOYS' and CHILDREN'S HATS and CAPS
All kinds ..... 25c to $1.50

RAIN COATS.
Men's ..... $4.98 to $15.00
Women's ..... $4.98 to $12.00
Boys' ..... $3.50 to $5.00
Children's ..... $3.00 to $4.00
Every Coat Fully Guaranteed

BAGS and SUIT CASES
Black, Brown and Tan
$1.98 to $10.00
Nothing more useful

Boys' and Children's SUITS
Single and Double Breasted. Some with two pair pants
$1.98 to $8.00

Boys' and Children's OVERCOATS
Made with or without Belts
$1.98 to $8.00

MEN'S SHOES
None Better and Few as good as The Packard
All Leathers
$3.50 $4.00 $4.50 $5.00

Fellow Craft and Farnum SHOES
All Leathers $3.50
Just the same as sold by some others at $4.00

OUR MEN'S SHOES
at $3.00 and as low as $2.50 and $2.00 have stood the test

BOYS' SHOES
$1.50 to $3.00
All Leathers. Boys' High Cut Shoes, all sizes.
Black and Tan

WOMEN'S SHOES, Queen Quality
$3.50 $4.00 $4.50
Fit, Style and Comfort. All Leathers
Women's Shoes at $2.00 $2.50 and $3.00 in all Leathers will make you wonder how we can do it

CHILDREN'S SHOES
75c to $3.00
All Leathers. Fancy Top Shoes for Children in large variety

MEN'S SLIPPERS
50c to $2.00

LADIES' SLIPPERS
50c to $1.50

Boys' and Children's SLIPPERS
50c 75c $1.00

RUBBERS All Kinds
Men's, Boys' and Children's Rubber Boots all kinds. Fully Guaranteed

REMICK'S
MUSIC HALL BLOCK, QUINCY
OPEN EVERY EVENING UNTIL CHRISTMAS
DOUBLE LEGAL STAMPS Tuesday and Thursday Afternoons 12 o'clock to 6 o'clock

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

LARGEST GUARANTEED CIRCULATION IN THE CITY

Vol. 28 No. 293 QUINCY MASS. THURSDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 18 1913 PRICE TWO CENTS

RESPONSIBILITY TO CHILDHOOD

Address by Rev. Mr. Willmott at Coddington School

The assembly hall of the Coddington school was well taxed Wednesday evening at the meeting of the Parents and Teachers association, upwards of 300 being present.

The speaker of the evening was Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott of the Bethany church who gave a very able address on "Our Responsibility to Childhood."

The soloist of the evening was Miss Catherine L. Brown who was accompanied by Enrico Barraja. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Miss Brown's selections which were sung with much expression were "Calm as the night" by Carl Bohm, "Song of the Might"" by Warren Story Smith and "The Fairy Pipers" by A. Herbert Brewer.

Rev. Mr. Willmott the speaker of the evening spoke in part as follows:

It is apparent to all students of our common life that we are much inclined to shift our responsibility to other shoulders. Duty has become an irksome word to many people. The obligations, which as parents, we owe to childhood cannot be transferred to others without loss to society and the child. To those who have children to train, our present social life with its new freedom, new standards of conduct and restlessness under restraint, when that restraint hinders personal pleasure, all conspire to make the task difficult.

In our difficulty we are inclined to turn to the public school for help. We find in the schools of our State a system that produces types of life of which no citizen need be ashamed. It is a great power for the making of men and women. The city makes a wise investment when its spends to its utmost capacity to make the school efficient, for it is more economical to spend money to form the character of our children than to reform it later in life. The last place to exercise a "cheese paring" process is in the public schools. All reasonable expenditures should be made that the children of our State should be sent out as intelligent well equipped citizens. We also discover a staff of workers in the schools who are inspired by the highest motives, and considering the contribution they are making to our public life, very poorly paid.

But we also discover, that already this system is loaded down with duties that make their work very difficult, and we must seek to hinder any further responsibility being placed on their shoulders.

It would be better to have the social life of the young people centre around the home rather than the school, and under the proper supervision of the parents who really should assume this responsibility. It is neither fair to the school officials, nor just to the child that the responsibility for the wholesome social life of the child should be placed upon the teachers who have already all they can do efficiently.

It is also suggested that the teaching of Sex Hygine be taught in our public schools; but here again, while the school authorities might with profit circulate helpful literature among the parents, to add another responsibility to the school which belongs to the home would be a mistaken kindness. Few teachers are qualified to teach such a subject, and not many doctors are fitted to do so. It would only add to the difficulty we seek to remove. Such responsibility to childhood should be carried by the home, and if some must suffer until parents assume this sacred task, then rather than have the home and parents shorn of the divine duty, some must suffer that many may be brought to a sense of their duty.

Parents need to cultivate a more healthy intelligent individuality that they may fulfill their responsibility to childhood. It is unwise to assume, that, because your children have a smattering of French and Latin that you cannot share, they know more of life than experience has taught you. You know men as they cannot know them until contact with the real world has been their teacher. The child is your child and no social life will bear for you your sorrow at hteri loss of that character that should be dearer to you than all popular whims and passing fads.

To God you are responsible and no should wish to do, what none can really accomplish, shift the responsibility which you owe to your children over to the public schools.

MISSIONARY WORK IN UTAH

The monthly social of the Ladies' Missionary Society of the Park and Downs church was held in the vestry Wednesday evening.

Mrs. N. W. Hankemeyer of Boston delivered an interesting lecture on "Missionary work in Utah." Special music was furnished by the church orchestra consisting of: Charles A. Richardson, Miss Emily Bjorkman, Miss Louise Steffens, F. J. Bussler and Mrs. William M. Burrell.

Refreshments were served by a committee consisting of Mrs. A. W. Dingwell, Mrs. F. J. Brown and Mrs. Alonzo V. Bissett. Mrs. J. A. Boone had charge of a table of goods left over from the recent fair.

QUINCY MUSIC HALL

BIG VAUDEVILLE and MOVING PICTURE
Program for SAT. MAT. and NIGHT
One of the Greatest 2 Reel Features Ever Made
"The Quick Sands" A Thriller from Start to Finish. Don't Miss This Show.

Dec. 18 3t

POPULAR PLACE OF AMUSEMENT

Anniversary of Opening of Kincaide's Theatre

This is anniversary week at Kincaide's theatre, it being a year ago Tuesday on which the doors of this pretty amusement house were thrown open to the public for the first time. That the venture of a first class moving picture and vaudeville house in Quincy has proved a success is readily apparent from the crowded houses that have been in attendance every afternoon and evening since the theatre opened.

It has been the policy from the start to put on nothing but the best in the way of motion pictures and vaudeville acts, that could be procured, regardless of expense, and the policy has been a wise one.

Under the management of George A. Wardwell, the theatre has proved a popular place with all classes. Weekly theatre parties are a rule and on certain evenings each week it has been the plan of parties to occupy certain seats in the house.

Aside from this the theatre has proven an excellent place in which to hold public gatherings on Sundays, such as no-license meetings, and it will also be recalled that Quincy lodge of Elks also obtained the use of the theatre for its flag day celebration which was the occasion for a large gathering.

Perfect order has always been maintained and objectional persons are rigidly excluded, as well as anything of a suggestive nature being rigidly excluded from the daily programs.

This being anniversary week an exceptionally good program has been given every afternoon and evening, and although it being the week before Christmas, when almost everybody is busy, there has been no falling off in the attendance.

The success of the venture is now assured and the public should extend its congratulations to Col. Kincaide, the owner, for providing the citizens such a place of amusement, and also Capt. Wardwell on the able manner in which he has managed the house.

GRANITE CUTTERS MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Quincy cutters branch of the Granite Cutters union was held Wednesday evening and these officers elected:

President, Edward Brault.
Vice President, C. Pagnani.
Financial Secretary, Patrick Crimmins.
Treasurer, Martin Shaughnessey.
Corresponding Secretary, James Reid.
Auditors, Edward Powers, Fred Beer and N. DiBona.
Business Agent, Arthur Tremayne.

(ADVERTISE.)

SWIMMING AND LIFE SAVING

Free Lessons for Men and Boys at Quincy Y. M. C. A.

The Massachusetts Humane Society, whose headquarters are at 231 Tremont Building, Boston has obtained the use of the Y. M. C. A. swimming pool for the two weeks beginning on Monday Dec. 22 for the purpose of teaching and demonstrating swimming and life-saving methods to the men and boys of Quincy.

Mr. William J. McCarthy, the swimming expert of New Bedford who has conducted successful campaigns at Cambridge, Worcester, New Bedford and Fitchburg and other cities will be in charge of the work. Mr. McCarthy has been employed by the Humane Society for the past three years in this line of work and has taught over 3,000 boys and men how to swim and to take care of drowning persons.

It is planned to work with the Grammar School boys all of next week except on Christmas day and Saturday afternoon, the 27th. Boys who are in the 6th, 7th and 8th grades are being divided into squads and groups according to schools. Tickets will be distributed to each boy and upon presentation of this ticket at the Y. M. C. A. the boy will be permitted to enter the natatorium and locker room. Each first lesson will take up about 30 minutes.

The men of the Fore River Co., will receive their instructions from Mr. McCarthy during the evening hour of next week commencing at 8 o'clock. Tickets will be given out at the gate as the men leave the yard on Saturday and these tickets may be exchanged at Cook's Pharmacy on Washington street, Sargent's Restaurant, opposite the yard gate or at the Y. M. C. A. building for other tickets which will entitle the holder to admission to the locker room and baths.

Classes for the High School boys, Police, Firemen and Street Railway employees will be conducted the second week of the campaign, from December 29 to January 3d.

CHRISTMAS MUSIC.

Choir masters, musical directors and organists are asked to send in their musical programs for Christmas Sunday services. Those for the coming Sunday should reach this office not later than Friday morning to insure their publication in the Ledger and Patriot Saturday. Those for Sunday Dec. 28 should be sent in by Dec. 25.

☞"Only Jones."

FOUND!

The Market Recommended by

SANTA CLAUS

To Get a Square Deal Every Day

CHOICE
NORTHERN TURKEYS

And All The Fixin's

FOR SUNDAY DINNER
FOR CHRISTMAS DINNER

Here are a few of our prices:

We Cut Rump Steak	35c
Rump Roasts	22c
Roast Pig Pork	18c
Top Round Steak	28c
Fancy Sirloin Steak	22, 25c

BOSTON MARKET
1433 Hancock Street
Near Granite Street

Dec. 18-6t

ASSISTANT REGISTER

Weymouth Man Appointed to Succeed McCoole

Thomas V. Nash, a Weymouth lawyer, was appointed assistant registrar of probate of Norfolk County by Judge James H. Flint, Wednesday to succeed J. Raphael McCoole of Dedham, who was chosen registrar at the November election.

Mr. Nash is 34 years old, a graduate of the Boston Y. M. C. A. law school in the class of 1908 and chairman of the Weymouth school committee for seven years. He has been acting as clerk in the Boston post office for fourteen years.

The funeral of Agnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Lyons of Quincy Point was held this morning from the home of her parents, 2 Cherry street. Burial was in Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

ANNUAL OF L. H. H. CLUB

The members of the L. H. H. club of the Bethany church met Wednesday evening at the home of the retiring president, Warren Crane of Avon Way. After the election of officers various indoor athletic events were indulged in which included the following:

Putting the 2 pound sponge, won by A. Beach.

Running Broad Grin, won by W. Crane.

39 inch marshmellow dash, won by Guy Shaw.

Warren Crane was the winner of the greatest number of points and the booby was captured by A. Beach

The officers elected were as follows:

President, Phillip Innes.
Vice President, Albert Beach.
Secretary, Edwin Stephens.
Treasurer, Clarence Gronberg.
Serg't at Arms, Carl Bonivieu.

Refreshments were served and the club adjourned at 9.40.

Miss Maria Pettengill of Seaville, Maine, is the guest of her aunt Mrs. H. D. Black of North Central avenue, Wollaston.

DEDICATION OF ADAMS SCHOOL

No Tickets Required. Open to General Public

The dedication of the new Adams school building will be held this evening and will be open to the general public who are cordially invited to attend.

President Pinel of the Adams Parents and Teachers association will preside and the program will include addresses by Mayor Eugene R. Stone, Superintendent of Schools Albert L. Barbour, John L. Miller, chairman of the school committee and Mayor-elect; Arthur W. Newcomb, chairman of the sub-committee of the Adams school, and Brooks Adams, Esq.

Immediately after the dedicatory exercises the building will be open to the public for inspection.

The association wish to impress upon the public that no tickets are required for the dedication and that the public are cordially invited to attend.

COME TO THE MEN'S STORE FOR MEN'S GIFTS

To our regular stock of Men's Goods--So large and Attractive in variety, quality and price, we have added an immense stock of things "Christmasy."

INTERWOVEN HOSIERY
You can buy one pair for 25c
Four pairs in Christmas box $1.00
One pair Silk for 50c
Two pairs in Christmas box $1.00

CHENEY SILK
None Better
Handkerchief and Tie to match, Tie and Socks to match. Socks, Handkerchief and Tie to match
$1.00 $1.25 $1.50

PAJAMAS AND NIGHT ROBES
Big stock here to select from
A useful Holiday Gift
50c. to $2.00

UMBRELLAS
You can step right in at the door just around the corner and find a selection of Men's, Women's and Children's Umbrellas from ... 50c. up to $5.00

ARM BANDS & GARTERS
in Xmas boxes
25c 50c 75c $1.00

NECKWEAR
Thousands of Ties to choose from. All the newest and latest made to our order for the Holiday season, all in single boxes.
25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00

HANDKERCHIEFS
Plain or Initial Linen and Silk ..... 5c to $1.00
Sealpackerchief, advertised in the magazines are here at 3 for 25c. up to 25c each

SLIPPERS
We have a big line of the Comfy Slippers made by the Daniel Green Felt Shoe Co.
75c, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75
The New Tango Dancing Pumps in Satin and Patent $1.50 $2.00
Slippers for men, women, and children ... 50c $2.50

SUSPENDERS
The President, The Bull Dog and all leading makes in Xmas boxes
25c. 50c. 75c. $1.00.

HOLEPROOF HOSIERY
6 pairs guaranteed to wear six months or new Hose free. In Holiday boxes, $1.50, $2.00. 3 pairs Silk guaranteed for 3 months $2.00

SWEATERS
Direct from mills to us. With and without Collars in Blue, Tan, Crimson, Dark Oxford and Light Oxford
$1.00 to $8.00.

GLOVES
Dress Gloves, Auto Gloves, Fur Lined Gloves, Working Gloves, lined and unlined
Prices 25c to $6.00.
We have the Popular Mark Cross Gloves at $1.50

HOCKEY CAPS
25c, 50c, $1.00.
Over Gaiters and Leggins, 25c to $1.00.

Shirts are Useful Xmas Gifts, This Store offers you a Big Selection from the Full Dress to the Every Day Outing Shirt, Prices 50c up to $2.50.

The Famous Red Man Brand of E. & W. Collars 2 for 25c

— Ask For Legal Stamps Your Cash Discount —

GEORGE W. JONES
1 Granite Street, Quincy

$
$

SAVED BY BUYING
Patch's Special
COALS

C. PATCH & SON, Inc.
1422 Hancock Street

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second-Class matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO
Incorporated.

TELEPHONES
News . . . Quincy 425
Business . . Quincy 1910

NOTICE

Again we ask those sending news or other matter by mail to direct it to the company or newspaper rather than to individual members of the company or employees. If addressed to individuals and they were ill or not at the office, it might be several days in reaching its proper destination and if news matter would be too late for use.

The editors who are demanding immediate war with Mexico are willing to shed their last drop of ink in Uncle Sam's defence.

There is a movement in the large cities to make the streets safer for pedestrians. The first thing to do is to persuade people not to go out doors.

Of course it is unfortunate when long hat feathers are stuck into other people's faces, but attention has to be attracted in some way to your stylish millinery.

Fear is expressed lest fuel oil supplies give out. The public might be able to stand the stoppage of the industries, but it would be awful if the automobile gasoline supplies were exhausted.

It seems to be fashionable for the modern girl to conceal her ears, but if this is due to a feeling of modesty it is not observable in other directions.

A WOMAN SUPERINTENDENT

Some one says that the two most notable things about Mrs. Ella Flagg Young of Chicago, are that although a woman, she has a $10,000 salary as superintendent of schools, and that every gown of hers has a pocket. Relative to the latter point most women will say that it takes force of character thus to defy the unanimous and militant convictions of the dressmakers.

When the Chicago school board practically forced Mrs. Young out a few days ago, they failed to consider that a personality that so combines both forceful and gracious qualities wins a great many adherents. To the politicians it is wasting good money to give any woman a $10,000 job. But the politicians view is getting obsolete. as the emphatic protest against Mrs. Young's retirement suggests.

When Mrs. Young began teaching in the Chicago schols in -1862. about all the important posiitons she has occupied since that time were forbidden to women. As a member of the National Education Association, she had to sit in the gallery and see the men do the business. It was quite a turnover when she rose to the president's chair of the same organization and preserved order among the men. Hers has been a life of struggle and of overcoming difficulties that encompass any woman who cuts a path into fields new to her sex.

Many instances of quick penetrating intuition can be found in Mrs. Young's work, all suggesting that women superintendents may not be so rare in future. While mechanical ventilating systems are fashionable now, Mrs. Young believes that open windows several times a day are better than any patent scheme. It was remarked, after the school principals had been more or less late at their first meeting, that something happened as a result of which they were not tardy afterward. She works to fit young folks for everyday living, and they do not lose sight of the mechanical trades and home economics.

GOVERNORSHIP TO BASEBALL.

Even to-day, to many of our sober old timers, baseball is a kind of kid game. It is good wholesome exercise for boys, but when a man quits his ledgers to howl on the grand stands, it is time to get a commercial report on his credit.

Persons taking this view will not comprehend how John K. Tener, governor of Pennsylvania, could prejudice his political career to become president of the National Baseball League, even giving up promising chances of a United States senatorship by so doing.

Thereby they fail to realize the large opportunity that professional baseball opens to-day to men possessing certain qualities. Of course the business side of it is hardly the career to which you can recommend a young man. When your $15,000 beauty may go wrong merely from twisting his ankle in getting off a trolley car, you run up against hazards surpassing those of the green cloth.

A few years ago it was estimated that the American people spent $15,000,000 annually on professional ball. A number of team franchises are valued at $1,000,000 or over. The vast coliseums of steel and concrete going up in the larger cities are indications that the managers are looking to a business future where profits of single teams will run well up toward a million.

Next to the gift for finding star material in uncouth and immature specimens, probably a gift for diplomacy counts highest in this business.

Baseball players are one of the most high strung types of personality in existence. The marvellous alertness of eye and nerve that give them their physical skill, make many of them sensitive to slights, cause them to brood over real and fancied wrongs. Governor Tener will find the job of harmonizing all these conflicting hopes and ambitions even more difficult than placating "the boys" in politics.

THE PROPOSED DENTAL LAW.

There seems to be some doubt as to the social value of the proposed dental law, which the Massachusetts Civic League is planning to support before the incoming legislature. Some of the League's reasons for supporting the law are here presented.

The Massachusttts dental law is behind those in most of the states. Other New England states have modern laws enacted in recent years. The aim of the proposed law is to bring Massachusetts up to date.

This law will get under many of our difficulties. Perhaps 95 per cent some put it as high as 98 per cent of our school children have dental defects. Eighty per cent of these defects could be prevented by proper cleaning of the teeth. Under the Massachusetts law no one but a registered dentist may clean teeth. There are not enough dentists to handle the school children alone. Cleaning teeth is a simple matter. The proposed law provides that it may be done by anyone under the supervision of a dentist and that a dentist who abuses his privileges shall have his certificate taken from him. In short, under the new law we can prevent an enormous amount of dental decay and other defects.

Bad teeth have an important part in the break-down of physicial and nervous conditions. They are also directly responsible for the spread of contagious diseases. Cases are known where decayed teeth have carried disease germs for many months after the patient recovered, others catching the disease. Decayed teeth offer one of the best breeding grounds for germs.

There is some tendency to the belief that this is not a social problem. To all who believe that it is better to take care of broken-down individuals there is perhaps no answer. To those who believe that it is the function of society to keep people on their feet there seems to be a good case to present. It is because of the constructive elements in the proposition that the Massachusetts Civic League has taken it up.

☞"Only Jones" is the name of the short serial story now running in the Christmas Ledgers. Quincy has a "Jones" and he is the only one in the men's furnishing business in our city but he is not the subject of this clever little story. Read about the other "Jones."

☞White wrapping paper for doing up your Christmas gifts can be obtained at the Ledger-Patriot office for 20 cents a dozen sheets or by the single sheet at 2 cents per sheet.

☞PRATT'S BREAD is wholesome, nutritious, crisp and delicious. Let it of your grocer.

—The gathering and selling of acorns is a new industry, in Arkansas, to supply eastern nursery firms with material for forest planting.

—Last year the forest service distributed 116,000 basket willow cuttings: 15,000 to forest schools, 20,000 to agricultural experiment stations, and 81.000 to individuals.

—More than 800,000 horsepower has been developed from steams on national forests under government regulation. This represents the output under conditions of lowest streamflow.

—Florida buttonwood, a tree confined largely to the keys along the south coast, is very highly prized for use in cooking on ship's galleys. It burns slowly with an even heat and makes little smoke or ash.

GOFFE STREET.

Editor Daily Ledger:—

It would seem from some of the arguments put forth in favor of ridding a certain street in Quincy from the name of Goffe that some of those in favor of the change thought they said all that need be said against Goffe when they referred to him as a "regicide."

To the mind of any one who believes in divine right of Kings, Goffe by participating in the trial and impeachment of Charles the First, did something which ought to place him beyond the pale of civlization, but those of us who have taken the trouble to study history and ascertain the facts don't see it that way.

Charles the First was one of the worst of the many bad kings who ruled England. Theodore Roosevelt in his book on Oliver Cromwell says that Charles was "incurably dishonest." He ruled the realm for eleven years without a parliament. He raised money from his subjects by illegal methods. His star chamber and his Court of High Commission drove thousands, whose religious and political principles were not in accordance with his own, to seek refuge in the wilds of America. The colony of Maryland was founded by Catholic refugees in 1653, and Connecticut and Rhode Island were founded by Puritans two or three years later.

Finally the oppressions and arbitrary exercises of illegal power on the part of the king drove the subjects to arms, and the country was ravaged by civil war. Parliament proceeded to impeach the king for "making war upon his subjects," a new but fair definition of treason. A tribunal consisting of one hundred and fifty members and called the "High Court of Justice" after a seven day trial found the king guilty and the sentence was expressed in the following terms; "For which treasons and crimes this court doth adjudge that he the said Charles Stuart, as a tyrant, traitor, murderer and public enemy should be put to death by severing his head from his body." This was in 1649.

The sentence was carried out three days later, and as Carlyle so well expressed it, "flunkyism, cant, clothworship, or whatever ugly name it have, has gone about incurably sick ever since."

Goffe, I understand, was a member of the High Court of Justice. The restoration of the Stuarts, eleven years later, caused him to seek refuge in this country. Perhaps with this light thrown on the situation, the people "on the hill" will be willing to endure the name a while longer. It is a name to honor, not to execrate. Goffe served his country and his people in a time that tried men's souls.

Yours truly,
Student of History.
Quincy, December 16.

BRIEFS

Just a week to Christmas.

The Granite Cutters union has elected Michael Tracy, A. DiBona and John Bryan to serve for one year as delegates to the Executive board.

The polishers branch of the Cutters union will elect officers tonight and the tool sharpeners branch will elect officers on Friday evening.

Although the stores in City Square usually close at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening, they remained open this week on account of the approaching holiday.

City Square was thronged with Christmas shoppers all day Wednesday and Wednesday evening. The weather was ideal for shopping and belated buyers were out in force.

The central station auto chemical responded to a still alarm at 8.29 Wednesday for a lively grass fire on Adams street. The fire was extinguished with a chemical stream.

The greenhouses, for many years on the A. .B Packard estate on Hancock street, were razed this week. It is understood that Frank C. Packard will improve the property.

Platform tickets for the dedication of the new Adams school building this evening have been sent by the committee to every member of the Educational Committee of the Quincy Women's club.

Carl Johnson of the R. E. Foy Adams Market who was operated upon at the Quincy City Hospital Wednesday for appendicitis passed a comfortable night and is doing well today.

A dispatch from Washington states that on Wednesday, Senator Weeks presented a petition from the Quincy City Council, among others in favor of having the navy supply ship built at the Charlestown navy yard.

Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

NEW TELEPHONE SUBSCRIBERS.

Following are new subscribers connected with the Quincy Exchange for the week ending Dec. 17:

1588 W—Newton, Arthur, 169 Kendrick avenue.
335 W—De Coste, Timothy Daniel, 289 Whitwell street.
845 M—Smith, E. P., 122 Upland road.
859 W—Cusick, B. D., 1 Edwin street.
1408 W—Harrington, H. L., 252 Farrington street.
1150—Grof, L. W., Wollaston.
2299 M—Lamb, M. H., Atlantic.
1902 W—Larsson, Gustaf, 227 Norfolk street.
836 W—McLean, Henry F., 126 Winthrop avenue.
1924 M—Trott, J. H., 18 Rogers street, H. N.
2067 M—Odell, Edward F., 32 Billings street.
849 W—Cronin, Catherine T., West Quincy.
833 M—Sullivan, Gerald A., 12 Elm Place.
832 W—Howe, F. G., Jr., 41 Greenleaf street.
835 W—Gurney, Thomas, Newbury avenue.

WHEEL COLLAPSED.

There came near being a serious accident in City Square Wednesday afternoon when one of the wheels of a heavily loaded team of the Adams express company collapsed. On the rear of the team was a young boy and several heavy bundles. When the wheel collapsed the heavy bundles and boy went out together but they separated before they struck the ground and the boy was uninjured. It was a very narrow escape for him however.

—Brattleboro, Vermont is to institute a system of medical inspection in public schools. It is a system which might well be adopted by every town in the state, particularly by the larger communities, as one of the best safeguards of the public health.—Barre Times.

—New York has no reason to be ashamed of having raised $4,000,000 for the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations in a two-weeks' campaign, extended by one day.—Somerville Journal.

☞The Boston Market (Sturgis & McKim) quote meat prices today which are sure to invite trade. See what Santa Claus has found.

A persistent purpose to produce perfect biscuit

National Biscuit Company is inspired by a persistent purpose to produce perfect biscuit and to deliver them in perfect condition.

The accomplishment of this purpose has resulted in the building of modern bakeries, in the invention of new machinery, in the exercise of unceasing care, in the selection of finest ingredients.

The perfect products of the National Biscuit Company are delivered to you in perfect condition—some in packages with the famous Inner-seal Trade Mark, some in attractive small tins and some from the familiar glass-front cans.

Buy biscuit baked by

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

Always look for that name

TEA, ITS USE AND ABUSE

Address Before Methodist Men's Club

At the meeting of the Men's club of the Wollaston Methodist church Wednesday evening, those present listened to a lecture of high interest by Thomas G. Breen of Wollaston entitled "Tea: Its Use and Abuse."

Mr. Breen is a member of a large tea importing concern of Boston and has made this subject a life study. Mr. Breen is an Irishman and proud of it and kept his audience amused with his shafts of native wit and humor.

"The abuse of tea," he said, "may be traced to its introduction 200 years ago. The business is in the hands of a ring. When I tell you that the tea coming in each year costs its importers but 20 millions of dollars you can see it is a pretty small trade.

"Every dealer looked at tea as something he ought to double his money on. Tea bought at 15 cents retailed at from 60 cents to a dollar per pound. At the present time dealers in large cities to whom I sell the best tea at 84 1-2 cents per pound retail it at from 4 to 5 dollars per pound.

"We say this is a coffee country. Why is it? Because the men in the trade have applied themselves on the subject of coffee to get a continuity in the cup. This continuity has been secured in flour, tobacco and other products but tea is one subject that has been left absolutely alone.

"In the old country each housewife would bring her spat of butter to the store and barter it. All the butter would be thrown in one tub and it would then be shipped to the city as best country butter. If you cut it down the center you would find butter of a dozen different shades. It is the same way with tea in China and Japan today.

"It was not until the Chicago Fair in 1903 when Ceylon tea was introduced in this country that conditions began to change. Even then a little Ceylon tea was put in China tea and it was called Ceylon tea. Until the pure food laws of 1906, America was the dumping ground of the tea markets of the world.

"There are as many different kinds of tea as there are lights on the street. We have to blend to secure continuity of the cup. It is by blending that we get over the difficulty of water. For water is different in different parts of the country and water has a great deal to do with the tea.

"To be sure of our tea and see that the flavor is preserved we should buy it in a packet. Tea absorbs odors and should be kept air tight. The virtue of tea is in the making. Most of us should use half the quantity we generally do. One teaspoon for every three cups is right.

"Boiling water should be poured on the leaves and left to stand from five to six minutes. After that time the tannen begins to come out of the tea and if the tea is strong enough and left long enough it would tan the lining of your stomach.

"Good tea correctly made is not injurious to either children or adults. The consumption of tea in England per capita is 7 1-2 times that of the United States."

Mr. Breen told how tea was tested and had a large amount of apparatus with him by which he tested six or seven varieties of tea. Questions and refreshments closed a delightful evening.

At the business meeting the usual pleasantries, which are a feature of this club, were enjoyed. T. E. Perley read a bright and snappy edition of the Wollaston Herald whose news was distinctly personal.

WALTHER MEN'S CLASS

At the monthly social of the Walther Mens class in the Wollaston, Baptist chapel H. B. L. Dimmick of Wollaston, a representative of the Boston branch of Swift and Company, delivered an interesting stereopticon lecture on "The meat packing industry of America."

The history of the Chicago stock yards was related and its various stages shown. Methods of buying, branding and inspecting cattle were also depicted.

The rise of the Swift business from its first small plant to its present extensive operations was told in word and picture.

The methods of killing dressing and marketing hogs, sheep, beef and the by products were told and the lecture was voted most instructive and interesting.

Capital $150,000 Surplus $200,000

DIAMONDS
RUBIES
GOLD

Tempt the dishonest when kept in a bureau or desk drawer. Keep yours in one of our steel safety deposit boxes—$5 a year—where nobody but you can get at them, but where they are convenient when you want them. Some folks pay twice as much to keep valuables in Boston safety boxes, but they're handier here and just as safe.

Our $5 Box is Larger Than a $10 Box in Boston.

GRANITE TRUST CO.
FOUNDED 1836

1876-1913

WE HAVE OFFERED FOR YOUR INSPECTION AND SELECTION EACH YEAR RELIABLE GOODS, AND WE SUGGEST YOU LOOK OVER OUR LINE OF

Watches, Cut Glass, Silver Ware, Jewelry, Clocks, Etc.

TO AID YOU IN YOUR CHRISTMAS SHOPPING WE INVITE YOUR INSPECTION OF OUR STOCK.

C. F. PETTENGILL
1391 Hancock Street Near Granite Street
TELEPHONE QUINCY 466-M Dec.13,10t

Christmas Gifts
FOR ALL PURSES

CANDIES
Page & Shaws
Foss' Premier and Quality
Lowney's Bells
10c to $12

CIGARS IN BOXES
Wait & Bond 7-20-4
Quincy Ginita
Blenheim and Private Stock

PERFUMES AND TOILET WATERS
Colgates, Roger & Gallet, 25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00

HEARN'S PHARMACY FAXON BLOCK CITY SQUARE
Dec 17—L 6t

FOR A
Christmas Present
NOTHING COULD BE BETTER THAN
A QUINCY HISTORY
EACH YEAR THE HISTORY OF
OLD BRAINTREE AND QUINCY
WRITTEN BY
W. S. PATTEE, M. D.
AND PUBLISHED IN 1878
GROWS MORE VALUABLE, AS IT CONTAINS HISTORICAL DATA ABOUT QUINCY THAT CANNOT BE OBTAINED ELSEWHERE
$3.50 PER COPY
FOR SALE BY
GEO. W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
1424 HANCOCK STREET
QUINCY

THE EDUCATIONAL FIELD

THOMAS CRANE PUBLIC LIBRARY
HIGH SCHOOL PUBLIC SCHOOLS
WOODWARD INSTITUTE PAROCHIAL SCHOOL

PUBLIC LIBRARY NOTES.

Quincy people who are fortunate enough to have before them, daily, the best examples of New England Colonial architecture in the old homes of the town, will be glad to have an opportunity of comparing these examples with those of the best Georgia and South Carolina homes of the same period.

The Library Art Club exhibit, now open in the Art Gallery of the Thomas Crane Public Library, is made up of plates showing the beauties of old churches, halls and houses of the "great and near great" of the Pre-revolutionary period in the South.

Quaint old gateways exquisitely panelled and carved doorways that rival even Salem's famous collection, interiors, whose every line reflects the grandeur of the "Old South," charming fireplaces, spiral staircases, carved furniture and details of frescoed ceilings, all will appeal to lovers of the beautiful in Colonial architecture.

* * *

A meeting of the Advisory Committee on Industrial Education of which H. Gerrish Smith is chairman will be held in the School Committee rooms on Monday evening next, for the purpose of considering the plans for an all day industrial school, which it is hoped will be in operation next year. Such a school would take boys only up to the age of 16 when they would be transferred to the half time department in co-operation with a regular employment.

The half time school now has 60 pupils in attendance and is being visited frequently by delegates from other cities for the purpose of getting information as to its plan of operation. The city of Fall River has notified Supt. A. L. Barbour that it will have a representative in the city Friday of this week to look over the school.

With the present ample room which the old Adams building affords, there will be opportunity for expansion in the school as well as an excellent quality of work.

Mr. Barbour has just made returns to the state for the costs of conducting the school for the year ending Dec. 1, 1913. The total expenditures for the year were $3233.67. Deducting the tuition receipts and the rebate for one half the balance which the state allows the net cost to the city for the year's work was only $1200.58. This makes the per capita cost very much less than that of the high school per capita cost.

HIGH SCHOOL.

Tomorrow noon time between 12.15 and 1.15, at the conclusion of the term before the Christmas holidays the Glee Club at the High school will give a concert in the hall for the rest of the school and such others as may be interested to come in. The musical activities of the High school are increasing in scope steadily and good musical work will soon be produced there by several of its organizations.

WOODWARD INSTITUTE.

The annual Christmas party given by the three upper classes at Woodward Institute will be held tomorrow evening in the main hall and will, no doubt, be largely attended.

CHRISTMAS VACATION.

No doubt may of the young people in the schools will be employed as usual in the stores of the city during the Christmas vacation. Employers should take care that employment certificates are secured by such pupils no matter if the employment is to continue for but a few days or for a few hours each day. The laws regulating such employment are now more stringent than ever before, especially as to employment in the evening or for more than 8 hours per day and the state has a large force of inspectors in the field to see that such laws are complied with. Such laws are not peculiar to this state alone but are uniform with those of several other states and are in line with a move toward uniformity throughout the nation.

EVENING SCHOOLS.

The evening classes at the high school as well as the trade classes have all completed their terms work. The classes for foreign speaking people still have several weeks to complete and will be in session through the Christmas vacation, except on Wednesday. The class for granite men will begin a second term on Dec. 29 in the old Adams school and the drawing classes for machinists and mould loft men will also be continued at the high school.

WE DO NOT ADVERTISE

Because advertising is an Art, a profession and a business. Advertising is all these and then some, after that.

Being a business man only we had the idea that it was not good business to do a 1-3 job and pay a 3-3 price for it.

But we are somewhat of a moralist and the moral of this is that you should let us supply your Xmas dinner from our large stock of

Turkeys	Chickens	Geese
Celery	Cranberries	Squash
Nuts	Dates	Figs
Raisins	Currants	Prunes
Apples	Oranges	Grapes

Telephone—we deliver

J. PETERSON & CO.
394 Washington Street
Quincy
Dec. 16-tf

SCALP BADLY LACERATED

Stumbles and Falls Against Sharp Edge of Desk

Mrs. Minnie Jepson aged 38 years of Branch place off Nightingale avenue, was seriously and painfully injured at her home, early this morning. Mrs. Jepson got up early and in walking about the room which was slightly dark, she stumbled and fell. In falling, her head struck the sharp edge of a desk making a deep gash in her scalp that extended from ear to ear.

Dr. John H. Ash was called and after staying the flood of blood and rendering first aid treatment sent the woman to the City Hospital. While her injuries are not necessarily dangerous it is probable that she will be marked for life.

Certain Women Voters Barred

Chicago, Dec. 18.—Suffrage leaders were elated when they learned that efforts will be made to prevent inmates of disorderly houses from voting in the aldermanic election next spring. County Judge Owens said that the vote of such inmates could be challenged on the ground that they cannot claim legal residence.

Smallpox Aboard Battleship Ohio

Washington, Dec. 18.—Orders were issued by the navy department holding the battleship Ohio at Guantanamo, Cuba, until all danger is averted. Reports said only two cases of smallpox had developed so far.

Boston Man Killed by Dynamite

Pittsfield, Mass., Dec. 18.—Guiseppe D'Amico of Boston, foreman for a firm engaged in a sewer contract was killed by the explosion of dynamite.

QUINCY MAN AN OFFICER

Quincy Board of Trade Joins State Board

Members of the executive council of the Massachusetts State Board of Trade assembled at Hotel Vendome, Boston, Wednesday afternoon for their second meeting. Committee meetings preceded the luncheon, and afterwards the meeting was devoted to business. The application of the Quincy Board of Trade for membership was accepted, and the following named were elected vice presidents of the State board: Arthur H. Hall of Leominster, Frederic N. Chandler of Lawrence, John O. Hall of Quincy, William A. Clark of Northampton and George H. Vose of Beverly. Edmund Reardon of Cambridge was elected an associate member.

The committee on ways and means reported a resolution, which was adopted, instructing the secretary to procure copies of all bills filed before the Legislature during the session of 1914, and to notify the constituent bodies of the State board of all matters of special interest to them. The committee also was authorized to employ counsel, when it considers it necessary, in connection with legislative matters. The purpose of this action is to insure closer attention to the various matters before the Legislature.

The suggestion of the Paint and Oil Club of New England that a week in the spring be set apart as "Clean Up and Paint Up Week," was acted upon favorably, following a report by the committee on municipal affairs. It was voted to work in harmony with the association formed by the Chamber of Commerce to prevent fraudulent advertising. Favorable action was taken also upon several referenda submitted by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

WILL RELEASE ELDRIDGE

Evidence at Hearing Showed He Was Away When Parents Died

Augusta, Me., Dec. 18.—Wilmot B. Eldridge and his wife, Addie B. Eldridge, met their death on Dec. 7 last by "suffocation from smoke and fire, the cause of the fire being unknown," according to the verdict rendered by the coroner's jury.

Fernald M. Eldridge, the son of the dead couple, who has been detained by the authorities since the fire, will probably be released. Evidence was presented at the hearing tending to show that he was not at home on the morning of the tragedy.

DEAD UNDER AUTOMOBILE

Partly Burned Body of G. H. Baker Found In Remnants of Car

Binghampton, N. Y., Dec. 18.—The partly burned body of George H. Baker, aged 41, of Owego, son of Ex-State Railroad Commissioner Frank H. Baker, was found lying beneath the burned remnants of his touring car at Apalachin, a short distance from this city.

Baker left Owego to visit his sister, Mrs. John Webster, in this city, and started for home in the morning. How the accident occurred is not known.

Laborers Die In Fire

Rockville, Conn., Dec. 18.—Martin Coughlin, aged 40, and Leon Roberts, aged 60, both farm laborers, lost their lives in a fire which damaged the Vernon House.

Free Lunch For Churchgoers

Aurora, Ills., Dec. 18.—Free lunch will be served at the First Methodist church next Sunday to encourage attendance.

Fruit cake—first in peace, first in war, first in the hearts of its countrymen.

—The public health service at Washington has issued a warning against the practice of sending consumptives to the arid regions of the west on the supposition that the climate will, unaided, effect a cure of tuberculosis and pulmonary diseases. It is evident from observations by them made that, while the climate in some localities may assist in some degree, yet the important things are systematic treatment, care, good food, fresh air and congenial surroundings, and those can be found in old new England as well as anywhere else. We find many people in this state, too, who labor under the impression that there is some wonderful curative property in the air of the town of Rutland, simply because the sanitarium is located there. Rutland is no better and no worse than fifty other towns of the state in these particular properties.—Spencer Leader.

Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

"Only Jones"

A Day-Before-Christmas Story in Three Parts

by Henry Kitchell Webster, Samuel E. Kiser and Wilbur D. Nesbit

Copyright by W. G. Chapman

(Continued from last issue)

Part Two

When Miss Allen came from the house again Rev. Arthur Montgomery Simms-Sinclair, Mr. Jabez McAdam and Mr. Delancey were lined up at the rear of the automobile, each determined to help her into it. The situation might have been embarrassing if Mr. Jones had not happened to accompany her down the steps. As it was, she permitted him to assist her to a seat; but another difficulty immediately presented itself. Only one of the men could sit in the tonneau with the lady. Mr. Delancey heartily wished that both Jabez McAdam and Rev. Arthur Montgomery Simms-Sinclair might at that moment have been in Baton Rouge or Ispahan. It is perhaps needless to explain how the matter ended. Time was when the church could dictate, but we live in the age of business. Mr. McAdam had in his commercial training acquired the habit of acting quickly, and he scrambled into the coveted seat without giving ministerial dignity a chance to assert itself.

Rev. Arthur Montgomery Simms-Sinclair looked at his watch and, seeing that it was ten minutes after five, begged Delancey to put on his high speed.

"It is necessary for me to marry those people at six o'clock," he urged, "and we must make better time than this or we cannot get around."

"My emergency brake doesn't work well," Delancey replied, hoping the minister might be induced to desert them, "and we can't take the risk of having Miss Allen hurt in an accident."

"Don't creep along on my account," she said; "I've outgrown pony carts. Besides, you know, I'm in a hurry, too. I must get home in time to dress for the party. There will be a lot of children there, and every one of them will expect me to greet her in person. Besides, the Christmas tree isn't entirely ready yet, so you can't go too fast for me."

"Yes, hit 'er up," added Jabez, glancing anxiously back. "We're not afraid. People 'll be askin' us where the hearse is if we poke along like this."

"Very well," said Delancey, going ahead at full speed. "I think we'll be able to get around in good time."

A big touring car shot out of a cross street a few minutes later, and in order to avoid a collision it was necessary for Delancey to make a sudden swerve. He was a good driver and dodged the threatened disaster with skill, but the quick turn nearly threw Miss Allen and Jabez into each other's arms and the girl's face flushed prettily.

When they stopped in front of the home of the Widow Sturgis Miss Allen and Delancey went in to deliver a bundle. While they stood in the hall waiting for the good woman's lame son—who had lost an overwhelming majority of his toes flipping cars—to summon her from the kitchen, the gentleman wiped some grease from his knuckles and glanced anxiously around, saying:

"When I called on you this afternoon I had a distinct purpose in mind, but this is the first chance I have had to mention it. May I tell you now what I have been longing ever since —"

He was interrupted by Mr. Simms-Sinclair, who rushed in to say that he considered it his duty to leave a spiritual message with the provisions. After him came Jabez McAdam, who had just remembered that Mrs. Sturgis might be in need of ready money, and he begged that lady, as she came forward with expressions of gratitude and five more of her children, to accept a bill which he put into her hand.

"You see," he explained, "I've been a mighty busy man, and I guess I've neglected a lot of things I ought to have done long ago. Thank heaven, there's widows and orphans I can still help. What did your husband die of?"

"A tobacco heart, poor man," the widow replied. "But he bore up brave to the last, and was smokin' an hour before it happened. If he could only of held on a little longer he'd of left enough cigar coupons to get little Jimmie an open-faced watch."

"Some people may be too good to touch money with anything but tongs," the philanthropist said to Ursula, "but if there's any shortage of peace on earth and good will toward men in this town to-night it won't be my fault."

"It was very noble of you to do that," she replied. "I'm so glad you came along. And—and—of course your money isn't tainted, is it?"

Jabez cast a furtive glance at the girl out of the corner of his eye to see whether she was in earnest and replied slowly: "Well, I don't know just what you would consider tainted. Some people haven't liked the way in which I got some of my money, but my conscience is fairly easy, and my greenbacks haven't been refused by any one up to date."

"I consider it no more than proper, Mr. McAdam," the minister made haste to say as they were starting forward again, "to warn you of the danger of giving money promiscuously. When you toss your lucre into people's laps you rob them of self-reliance, their most precious possession. Help is like whisky. A little of it may occasionally be beneficial, but it is likely to be demoralizing when given too freely. The recipients of such bounty are too likely to fall into the habit of expecting to be taken care of without due effort on their own part, and then they soon become confirmed paupers whose demoralization extends to their children."

THE SITUATION MIGHT HAVE BEEN EMBARASSING IF MR. JONES HAD NOT HAPPENED TO ACCOMPANY HER

"Never mind," Jabez answered; "this is Christmas eve, and I know of lots better things than tryin' to get people to sing hosannas on empty stomachs."

Shortly before they arrived at the residence of Mrs. Mercedes Lynch, Delancey, while steering with one hand and endeavoring with the other to turn up the lights, ran into a coal wagon. But fortunately, beyond interrupting the reverie of the driver, who was placidly delaying a street car, no damage was done.

The three gentlemen accompanied Miss Allen on her errand of mercy to the cottage, where Mrs. Lynch met them at the door, and, having accepted Ursula's gift, informed them that she had just received a letter from the son who was her only support and comforter. He had arrived at San Francisco—she didn't know just where from—and intended to come home as soon as she could raise the money to pay his way.

"There," said Jabez McAdam, stripping a bill from his roll, "that'll help some, I guess. Don't be afraid. I didn't make it out of oil or copper, and I'm no campaign funds collector, either."

"What a splendid giver you are," Miss Allen observed as the door closed behind them; "it would take her months to earn that much."

"Yes," added Delancey, "it will be of great assistance. The poor boy can use it to tip the porters on his way home—or buy souvenirs."

"I wish," Rev. Mr. Simms-Sinclair said to Delancey, as they went back to the car, "that you would permit me to run this machine a while. It seems to me that you are not getting half enough speed out of it. I drove Mr. Fairweather's 40-horse power Excel-

(Continued on Page Four.)

PIERCE STUDIO
ANYONE WHO SITS FOR PHOTOGRAPHS
On or before Dec. 20. can have their work for CHRISTMAS
Stormy weather makes no difference
Adams Building, Quincy
Dec. 12 6t

KINCAIDE FURNITURE STORE
THE HOUSE OF HELPFUL CREDIT
Open Evenings beginning tomorrow--Friday

Christmas

Make your gift worth while by selecting it from our stock of fine furniture. Father will never get through enjoying a luxurious Morris chair, every young girl wants an attractive dressing table like the illustration, all the family will value a handsome table or library lamp.

To please Mother most, give her a Hoosier Cabinet that will save her millions of steps, hours of time and make cooking easy forever more.

All on exhibition in our showrooms, which we invite Holiday shoppers to visit.

Choose what you want and we will keep it until Christmas Eve. Then our wagon will play Santa Claus for you.

Special

The Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet, may, if you wish, be bought on easy terms. Come in and we will explain the special selling plan.

KINCAIDE & CO.
(112)
Entire 5-Floor Building 1495 Hancock Street

MORE TRUTHS.

Do not let the worry of Christmas Dinner spoil the Best Day of the year

Let Us Take Care of your What-to-Eat Worry

Begin NOW. Thanksgiving was our Biggest and Best.
Not One single complaint about Our Turkeys.

Why? Oh! Just JOHNSON BROS!

Masters of Details. High Quality. Experienced Clerks.
This is the True Remedy for all your Food Worries.

We will be here CHRISTMAS Nuff Sed.

JOHNSON BROS. Johnson Building City Square
Dec. 18 6t

THIEVES RAID HEN HOUSE

Seventeen Pullets of Choice Breed Stolen

The biggest hen house raid ever made in this city occured in the hen house of Timothy Crowley on Murdock avenue, Quincy Point, Wednesday night when 17 pullets, of choice breed, were taken from their roosts by thieves. No clue has been obtained.

Neighbors say that shortly before midnight suspicious noices were heard in the vicinity of the hen house but they were not prolonged enough to suggest investigation. It is thought that the culprits are the same that have been operating under the cover of darkness in surrounding towns the past three week.

This morning the sale on padlocks increased in the city as all owners of hens in the Point district have double locked their premises.

VERMONT IN TOW

Further Trouble Develops In Crippled Battleship's Engineroom

New York, Dec. 18.—Wireless messages received at Sandy Hook from the battleship Vermont, disabled last week when she broke a shaft, state that on Sunday morning she was forced to reduce speed to eight knots because of additional trouble.

Some of the holding rivets of the port truss bearings were carried away and on Monday she was forced to stop and request aid from the battleship Delaware, which nas been detailed to accompany the disabled vessel to Norfolk. The Delaware has taken the Vermont in tow and is proceeding at a three-knot speed.

A Merry Xmas to all.
When buying Pianos or Musical Instruments see
JOHNSEN
6 Chestnut Street, Quincy
Pianos from $10 up
120 Songs with Piano Acc. for 10 cents
Dec. 8 12t

WHY WAIT UNTIL THE LAST MINUTE BEFORE DOING UP YOUR GHRISTMAS GIFTS?

Do them now and get your White Wrapping Paper at the Ledger--Patriot Office.

LARGE SHEETS
20 cents a dozen

Quincy Daily Ledger

THE WEATHER.

Generally fair Friday and probably Saturday.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	7.09
Sun sets	4.14
Length of day	9.05
Moon rises	11.07
High water, A. M.	3.30
High water, P. M.	3.45
Days decrease 6 hours,	12 minutes
Full Moon, Dec. 13,	10.00 A. M.
Last Quarter, Dec. 20	11.16 A. M.
New Moon, Dec. 27	9.59 A. M.
First Quarter, Dec. 5,	9.59 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today	46 degrees
Dec. 16 1912,	40 degrees
Dec. 16, 1911,	39 degrees

Dec. Noon Maximum 14 years—67
Dec. Noon Minimum, 14 years—2

STANDING IN CLANS LEAGUE

The standing of the Clan McGregor bowling league to Dec. 20 gives the O'Neils first place, with the McLeans in second place. The standing:

Team	Won	Lost	P. F.
Capt. O'Neil	35	17	16748
Capt. McLean	32	20	16706
Capt. Michael	29	23	16827
Capt. McKenzie	26	26	16676
Capt. Maver	22	30	16276
Capt. Thomson	15	37	16423

HIGH 3-STRING TEAM
Capt. Maver 1406
HIGH SINGLE TEAM.
Capt. Maver 496
INDIVIDUAL 3-STRINGS.
Morton 316
Dunbar 316
INDIVIDUAL SINGLE STRING
RALEIGH 129
INDIVIDUAL HIGH AVERAGE. ..
Dell 94-4-23
Morton 92-29-36
Dackers 90-36-39
McLean 88-4-39

—It is an old story about the man who engaged a horse at a livery stable and was cautioned not to overdrive him. His reply was, "I am hiring this horse for a funeral and I propose to keep up with the procession if it kills the beast." That was considered a passable joke twenty years ago, but it is so no longer in view of the arrest of a chauffeur who was setting the pace for a funeral procession in Long Island City a few days ago, the policeman testifying that he was making thirty-five miles an hour. Apparently this was not an exceptional instance, as it was claimed that funerals through that region had become so speedy as to endanger the lives of persons crossing the streets over which they went.—Milford Gazette.

☞Don't fail to read "Only Jones" the cleverest short serial story ever written for the holiday reader.

Good Backs for Bad

Quincy Residents are Learning How to Exchange the Old Back For a Stronger One.

Does your back ache, feel weak and painful?
Do you suffer headaches, languor and depression?
Is the urine discolored, passages irregular?
The kidneys may be calling for help.
Weak kidneys cannot do their work.
Give them the help they need.
To cure a kidney backache you must cure the kidneys.
Use a tested and proven kidney remedy.
Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test.
Convincing proof of merit in Quincy endorsement:
Mrs. S. Nelson, 177 Washington St., Quincy, Mass., says: "One of my family had pains across the small of the back. Four boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills were used and they made a great improvement. Doan's Kidney Pills deserve great credit for what they have done in this case."
For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.
Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point
Tel. Quincy, Mass. 1180 M

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED
Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

NEW RECORD FOR THREE STRINGS

Monroe of Tennis League sets new Bowling Mark

Hoxie set a new record for high single in the league of the Wollaston Tennis Club by getting 128 on the Coliseum alleys Wednesday evening. The matches while not always close were interesting.

Munroe also set a new record for three string total, getting 321. Litchfield came second with 306 and Hoxie with with 303. Munroes showing was due to strings of 113, and 104 twice.

The team of Captain Powers outpointed the team of Captain Emery, 4 to 0, 59 pins separating them in the total. Munroe, at anchor, received no support whatever from his team mates. The summary

CAPT. POWERS.

Ela	92	108	80	280
Murray	77	78	82	237
Bartlett	93	89	86	268
Bishop	85	85	85	255
Powers	89	91	80	260
	436	451	413	1300

CAPT. EMERY.

W. Smith	72	92	72	236
Barker	77	75	61	213
Brigham	75	84	70	229
Emery	67	77	98	242
Munroe	113	104	104	321
	404	432	405	1241

The string of Capt. Hoxie resulted in his clinching one point for his team while three went to the rollers of Capt. Baker. The summary:

CAPT. A. BAKER.

Hulton	77	79	88	244
Weld	88	80	79	247
L. Smith	76	75	77	228
Brown	92	86	84	262
C. Baker	86	92	99	277
	419	412	427	1258

CAPT. HOXIE.

Raymond	62	75	63	200
Wilmarth	76	76	76	228
Bird	77	77	77	231
Oldham	101	86	88	275
Hoxie	90	85	128	303
	406	399	432	1237

At no time was there any doubt as to the outcome of the Captains Litchfield-Estes match, the former jumping a lead in the first string and holding to it for four points. The summary:

CAPT. LITCHFIELD.

W. Baker	75	82	77	234
Crossley	83	89	75	247
Hiller	101	75	77	253
Hillman	95	91	94	280
Litchfield	96	108	102	306
	450	445	425	1320

CAPT. ESTES.

R. Baker	82	76	67	225
Nickerson	87	87	73	247
Cranshaw	68	68	66	202
Estes	90	81	88	259
Jenner	98	85	111	294
	425	397	405	1227

The team of Capt. Geddes slipped a 3 to 1 defeat across on the men of Capt. Green, the third single alone going to the latter. The summary:

CAPT GEDDES.

Albee	78	85	74	237
Gardner	81	81	81	243
McLean	89	96	79	264
Manning	82	82	82	246
Geddes	90	82	82	254
	420	426	398	1244

CAPT. GREEN.

Davis	83	82	82	247
Carr	83	68	73	224
Nelson	76	75	82	233
A. Raymond	76	75	97	248
Green	93	86	88	267
	411	386	422	1219

A committee in New York recommends that in future the height of buildings be limited to sixteen stories, or at most eighteen. The fear is of panic in the gigantic skyscrapers and it is realized that if all the people in several of them in one section of the city rushed madly into the already congested and narrow streets at once some fearful things might happen and especially if there was reason for a panic. New York is getting too big for the size of the island.—Brockton Enterprise.

—A gigantic Christmas tree, blazing with hundreds of multi-colored lights, and from the top of which will shine forth a star that will carry a message of cheer to the homeless and friendless of Boston, will usher in Christmas eve on the Common.

☞PRATT'S BREAD is baked by experts in proved ovens. Sold by grocers.

LEAGUE BEING REORGANIZED

Some Good Basket Ball Promised by ten teams

The first steps in the reorganization of the N. E. A. A. A. U. basket ball league were taken at a meeting in St. Joseph's hall, Boston, Wednesday evening at which all the members of the commission directing the sport were present. The league will be placed on a working basis at a meeting next Monday evening.

Quincy A. A. winners of the championship for the past two years was represented by William H. Flynn who repeated the statement of James E. Sullivan, the biggest man in the A. A. U., "the object of the league is to discourage professionalism in basket ball." If necessary Mr. Sullivan will personally tour New England in an effort to open the league under auspicious conditions.

The first and second teams of the following will enter: St. Mary's A. A., North End; St. Mary's C. A. Cambridge; Quincy A. A., Quincy; St. Alphonsus A. A., Roxbury and St. Joseph T. A. Society. Before Monday arrangements will probably be completed for 10 teams to start the schedule.

Chairman Cuddy said that with the sanction of the local and National bodies of the A. A. U., basket ball would be taken up this year with more earnestness than ever, and that the league would not be confined only to greater Boston, but would, if present plans went through, embrace teams not only in this, but possibly in other states.

Clubs and associations outside the N. E. A. A. A. U., are requested to come into the league, as registration in the New England body can be made after joining. Another meeting of the committee has been called for next Monday night at the St. Joseph T. A. Society rooms, at which it is hoped more teams will be taken in.

ELECTION AND INSPECTION

The annual nomination, election and inspection of Gertrude A. Boyd, auxiliary to the Spanish War Veterans was held Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. George A. Wardwell at 25 Miller Stile Road.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

President, Mrs. Bertha Weixler.
Senior Vice, Mrs. Bertha Gould.
Junior Vice, Miss Gertrude Boyd Hanley.
Chaplain, Mrs. mily Slyvester.
Guard, Mrs. Mamie Allen.

The installation will be held at the residence of Mrs. John McGue at 115 Upland road, Wednesday, Jan. 7.

Following the business session the auxiliary was inspected by Mrs. Alma Mandaville of Brockton, after which refreshments were served.

CHICHESTER S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter's Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggists. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER'S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

Call Quincy 501-W
if you want your furniture, mattresses and cushions repaired in good order at low prices M. MIRKIN, upholsterer, 1060 Hancock street, near the Quincy High School.
Dec. 1-1m

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

QUINCY REGISTRY FOR NURSES
20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.
Will supply trained and practical nurses, attendants and nursery assistants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.
MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar.
Tel. Quincy 131-W.

ONLY JONES

(Continued from Page Three.)

sior all summer, you know, and every minute is becoming precious."

Delancey took the seat beside Miss Allen in the tonneau, telling the reverend gentleman to go ahead and do the driving, if he thought he would be an improvement.

It happened that a man in a buggy was coming rapidly down the street, for which reason McAdam jumped up beside the rector, without waiting to file a protest. They were off with a series of irregular explosions and before arriving at the next stopping place Rev. Arthur Montgomery Simms-Sinclair had torn a wheel from a butcher's cart, upset an express wagon and smashed through a crate of geese, much to the delight of Miss Allen, who declared that it was perfectly splendid.

"Don't wory about the butcher," said Jabez McAdam, "I'll see that he gets a new outfit. Before I take another ride in this kind of a thing with a preacher at the helm, though, I'm goin' to find out about my heart. Say, reverend, would you mind bearin' down a bit on the slow pedal?"

The gentleman at the wheel evidently considered it beneath his dignity to reply, but, calling back to Delancey, he asked what time it was. It was eighteen minutes to six. They still had three calls to make and, even with the best of luck, the minister knew that he would not have a moment to spare. That couple must be married at six o'clock in order to catch a train, for which reason Mr. Simms-Sinclair had to be on time. He put on the high speed, swung around a corner so swiftly that Miss Allen had difficulty in keeping herself from being flung into Delancey's arms, and after ripping a few spokes from one of the wheels of a delivery wagon they stopped in front of the home at which the turkey was to be left.

"Let me carry it," said Jabez McAdam, as Ursula was handing out the bird.

"No," the rector protested, "this family belongs in my parish, and I must accompany Miss Allen with her gift. A spiritual blessing should go with the fowl. The family must be imbued with spirit of the blessed day of Christ's birth, and I think I shall be able to do that better than either of you gentlemen. Give me the turkey, Miss Ursula, and we will take it in together."

While they were contending for possession of the turkey a policeman rushed upon them from nobody knew where, and, grasping Rev. Arthur Montgomery Simms-Sinclair by a shoulder, informed that gentleman that he was under arrest for exceeding the speed limit.

"My good man," he rector argued, "you don't understand the situation. You see—"

"I know all about it," the officer interrupted. "The whole force has been ordered to look out for you people. Does any of your friends want to come along to the station? It'll take a lot of explaining and you can tell your sad story to the desk sergeant. Maybe he will let you go on bail until tomorrow, and then, again, maybe you'll have to spend the night in the cooler. Strikes me that's the correct place for folks who don't know any better than to tear through the streets the way you did, smashing up wagons and people and things."

Seeing that the case was hopeless, the clergyman got into the tonneau with the officer, and, bidding Miss Allen a sorrowful good-by, they left her with the righteous McAdam and the bundles.

On the way to the police station Rev. Arthur Montgomery Simms-Sinclair happened to place one of his feet on something soft and bulky. Reaching down, he clutched a large wad of bills.

"Hello!" he cried to Delancey, "look at this. McAdam's roll!"

The automobile was brought to a sudden stop, and after negotiations that were brief but satisfactory to all parties the officer got out, wishing his former prisoners a Merry Christmas.

(To be Continued.)

The Most Loved of All Presents

OUR STOCK
In W. W. W. Solid Gold Fine Stone Rings and 14k and 10k

Solid Gold Pendants

is without any doubt the largest of any Store within near reach and prices are proven to be lower than any Boston store.

The W. W. W. Solid Gold Rings carry the strongest possible guarantee, as the manufacturers will replace any Genuine Stone (except Diamonds), if they should for any reason fall out of the setting, FREE OF CHARGE.

Big Stock on hand of Fine Solid Gold and Gold-Filled Bracelets, Lockets, Pins, Brooches, Cuff Links and Bar Pins, in a well-selected variety.

Only a few days to Xmas. Select your Goods NOW—with the Store that IS doing the big Christmas business.

SANDBERG BROS.
Jewelers
1281 Hancock St., Quincy

Electric Decorations
Are Popular
For Christmas
Special Fittings
BECKFORD & LYNCH
3 Saville St., Quincy
Dec. 13-6t

Great Bargains Shoes and Rubbers
Selling about Half Price
4 Buckle Arctics $1.98
One Buckle Arctics 98c
At MAX LEVY'S
Cor Washington and Temple Streets
Dec. 15-6

One Trip to Williams' will solve half of your Christmas Gift problems!

Bracelets	Table and Toilet Silver
Diamonds	Parisian Ivory
Watches	China and Cut Glass
Gifts in Gold and Silver	Fountain Pens
Christmas Novelties	Clocks
Useful Articles for Men	Leather Goods
Pearls	Umbrellas
Necklaces	Smokers' Articles

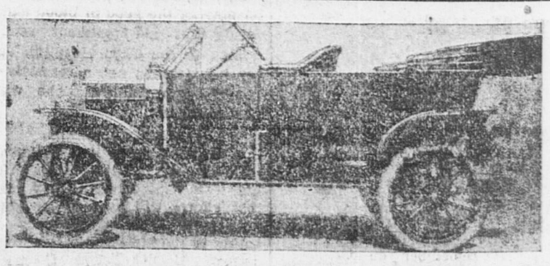
All gathered together in one big store, all on one floor.
Plenty of clerks to serve you.
Plan to come tomorrow with your shopping list. It will pay you.

WILLIAMS' JEWELRY STORE
1473 Hancock Street, Quincy
Beginning Thursday our Store is Open Every Evening
Dec. 16-6t

VERY ACCEPTABLE GIFTS
Just Arrived! Several New Styles and All of Them Beauties
PORTABLE GAS LAMPS
AND HALL LANTERNS
ALSO
"IWANTU" GAS IRONS
IN FANCY HOLLY BOXES
HEATS IN FOUR MINUTES. STAYS HOT ALL THE TIME. TEN HOURS IRONING FOR FOUR CENTS.
☞Have you investigated the Reznor Gas Heating Stoves? Everything from the handy little portable to the superb fireplace heater.
CITIZENS' GAS LIGHT CO.
Granite Street Near City Squrae
Dec. 15 9t

Do It NOW! Tomorrow Is Not Coming

The time to begin reading the advertising in this newspaper is NOW.
It never was more interesting than it is today. It is not likely to be more profitable to you than it will be this very minute.
The good things you miss today will be dead opportunities tomorrow.
Success comes to the "Do-it-now men" —not to the "wait-awhiles."
Today's advertising is live news written by keen witted, bright eyed men and women for the benefit of clever people.
Begin reading the advertising today and when you begin to see the doors it opens to you, you will be the first to thank us for jogging you up.
Do it NOW.
Tomorrow? There is no such day. They have taken it off the calendar.



THE QUINCY GARAGE, 87 Adams Street, Quincy
Agent for FORD and CASE CARS
A full Line of Supplies always on hand
Michelin Tires in stock
Now Ready for Delivery the 1914 Ford Car, $550 for 5 Passenger, $500 for Runabout, $750 for Town Car F. O. B. Detroit.
For Particulars or Demonstration call Quincy 435
Night or Day never closed. C. P. GOULD, Prop.
Dec. 12-1o-tf

WITHIN THE LAW

By MARVIN DANA
FROM THE PLAY OF
BAYARD VEILLER

Copyright, 1913, by the H. K. Fly company.

SYNOPSIS

Mary Turner, a department store clerk, is sentenced to prison for three years for a theft she did not commit.

Edward Gilder, owner of the department store, consents to see Mary before she goes to prison, expecting her to confess.

Mary protests her innocence to Gilder and begs him to pay better wages to his clerks to save them from temptation.

After three years in prison Mary is freed, but the police prevent her holding positions. She jumps into the river to end her life, but is rescued by Joe Garson, a forger.

Mary forms a partnership with Garson and his gang, by which they mulct rich victims in a legal manner, keeping "within the law."

Mary is warned by the police to leave town after she has formed the acquaintance of Richard Gilder, her former employer's son.

Helen Morris, the girl who had committed the theft for which Mary was imprisoned, sees Mary and confesses her guilt.

Mary marries Dick Gilder without his father's knowledge and then refuses to sail for Europe with him.

Joe Garson, against Mary's protest, agrees with Eddie Griggs, another crook, to help commit a burglary in Gilder's home.

Edward Gilder sees his son's bride and tries to induce her to give up her husband. Dick refuses to leave her even when she tells him she is an ex-convict.

(Continued from last issue.)

"It's a frameup!" Burke roared. He glared at the young man. "Tell your father it ain't true. Why, do you know what she is? She's done time." He paused for an instant, then spoke in a voice that was brutally menacing. "And she'll do it again!"

The young man turned toward his bride. There was disbelief, hope, despair, in his face.

"It's a lie, Mary," he said. "Say it's a lie!" He seized her hand passionately.

"It is the truth," Mary said firmly. "I have served three years in prison."

There was a silence of a minute that was like years.

Dick turned his tortured face to his

"Dad, Mary and I were married this morning."

bride of a day. Then he spoke again more beseechingly.

"Say there's a mistake."

Mary spoke with a simplicity that admitted no denial.

"It's all quite true."

The man who had so loved her, trusted her, stood trembling for a moment, tottered and sank into a chair.

The father looked at Mary with a reproach that was pathetic.

"See," he said, and his heavy voice was for once thin with passion—"see what you've done to my boy!"

"What is that compared to what you have done to me?"

"What have I done to you?" he questioned, uncomprehending.

"Do you remember what I said to you the day you had me sent away?"

"I don't remember you at all."

"Perhaps you remember Mary Turner, who was arrested four years ago for robbing your store, and perhaps you remember that she asked to speak to you before they took her to prison."

The heavy jowled man gave a start.

"Oh, you begin to remember! Yes! There was a girl who swore she was innocent—yes, she swore that she was innocent. And she would have got off—only you asked the judge to make an example of her."

"You are that girl?"

"I am that girl."

There was a little interval of silence. Then Mary spoke again remorselessly.

"You took away my good name; you smashed my life; you put me behind the bars. You owe for all that. Well, I've begun to collect."

"Say, there's a mistake."

"And that is why you married my boy?"

"It is." Mary gave the answer coldly, convincingly.

Convincingly, save to one—her husband. Dick suddenly aroused and spoke with the violence of one sure.

"It is not!"

He stood up and went to Mary, and took her two hands in his, very gently, yet very firmly.

"Mary," he said softly, yet with a strength of conviction, "you married me because you love me."

"No," she said gravely, "no, I did not!"

"And you love me now!" he went on insistingly.

"No, no!" Mary's denial came like a cry for escape.

"You love me now!" There was a masterful quality in his declaration, which seemed to ignore her negation.

"I don't," she repeated bitterly.

"Look me in the face and say that."

There was a silence that seemed long, though it was measured in the passing of seconds. At last Mary, who had planned so long for this hour, gathered her forces and spoke valiantly. Her voice was low, but without any weakness of doubt.

"I do not love you."

"Just the same you are my wife, and I'm going to keep you and make you love me."

"She's a crook!" Burke said.

"I don't care what you've been!" Dick exclaimed. "From now on you'll go straight. You'll walk the straightest line a woman ever walked. You'll put all thoughts of vengeance out of your heart because I'll fill it with something bigger—I'm going to make you love me."

Burke spoke again:

"I tell you she's a crook."

Mary moved a little, and then turned her face toward Gilder.

"And, if I am, who made me one? You can't send a girl to prison and have her come out anything else."

Burke swung himself around in a movement of complete disgust.

"She didn't get her time for good behavior."

"And I'm proud of it!" came her instant retort. "Do you know what goes on there behind those stone walls? Do you, Mr. District Attorney, whose business it is to send girls there? Do you know what a girl is expected to do to get time off for good behavior? If you don't, ask the keepers.

"I served every minute of my time—every minute o' it, three full, whole years. Do you wonder that I want to get even, that some one has got to pay? Four years ago, you took away my name—and gave me a number. Now, I've given up the number—and I've got your name."

CHAPTER XII.

Aftermath of Tragedy.

THE Gilders, both father and son, endured much suffering throughout the night and day that followed the scene in Mary Turner's apartment, when she had made known the accomplishment of her revenge on the older man by her ensnaring of the younger.

Dick had followed the others out of her presence at her command, emphasized by her leaving him alone when he would have pleaded further with her. Since then he had striven to obtain another interview with his bride, but she had refused him. He was denied admission to the apartment. Only the maid answered the ringing of the telephone, and his notes were seemingly unheeded.

Distraught by this violent interjection of torment into a life that hitherto had known no important suffering, Dick Gilder showed what mettle of man lay beneath his debonair appearance. And that mettle was of a kind worth while. He did not for an instant believe that she was guilty of the crime with which she had been originally charged and for which she had served a sentence in prison. For the rest, he could understand in some degree how the venom of the wrong inflicted on her had poisoned her nature through the years, till she had worked out its evil through the scheme of which he was the innocent victim. He cared little for the fact that recently she had devoted herself to devious devices for making money, to ingenious schemes for legal plunder.

So, in the face of this catastrophe, where a less love must have been destroyed utterly, Dick remained loyal. His passionate regard did not falter for a moment. It never even occurred to him that he might cast her off, might yield to his father's prayers, and abandon her.

The father suffered with the son. He was a proud man, intensely gratified over the commanding position to which he had achieved in the commercial world, proud of his business integrity, of his standing in the community as a leader, proud of his social position, proud most of all of the son whom he so loved. Now, this hideous disaster threatened his pride at every turn—worse, it threatened the one person in the world whom he really loved.

He realized that his son loved the woman—nor could he wonder much at that. His keen eyes had perceived Mary Turner's graces of form, her loveliness of face. He had apprehended, too, in some measure at least, the fineness of her mental fiber and the capacities of her heart. Deep within him, denied any outlet, he knew here lurked a curious, subtle sympathy for the girl in her scheme of revenge against himself.

Gilder, in his library this night, was pacing impatiently to and fro, eagerly listening for the sound of his son's return to the house. He was anxious for the coming of Dick, to whom he would make one more appeal. If that should fail—well, he must use the influences at his command to secure the forcible parting of the adventuress from his son.

Finally the son entered the room and went at once to his father, who was standing waiting, facing the door.

"I'm awfully sorry I'm so late, dad," he said simply.

"Where have you been?" the father demanded gravely. But there was great affection in the flash of his gray eyes as he scanned the young man's face, and the touch of the hand that he put on Dick's shoulder was very tender. "With that woman again?"

"No, father, not with her. She won't see me."

"Naturally! She's got all she wanted from you—my name!"

"It's mine, too, you know, sir."

Gilder looked at his son with a strange, new respect.

"Dick," he cried—"boy, you are all I have in the world. You will have to free yourself from this woman somehow. You owe me that much."

"I owe something to her, too, dad."

"What can you owe her? She tricked you into the marriage. Why, legally it's not even that. There's been nothing more than a wedding ceremony. We must get you out of the scrape."

"I'm not sure that I want to get out of it, father."

"You want to stay married to this jail bird!"

"I'm very fond of her."

"Now that you know?"

"Now that I know," Dick said distinctly, "Don't you see, father? Why, she is justified in a way—in her own mind anyhow, I mean. She was innocent when she was sent to prison."

"Don't talk to me about her innocence. There's only one course open to you, my boy. You must give this girl up. If you don't what are you going to do the day your wife is known into a patrol wagon and carted to police headquarters, for it's sure to happen? The cleverest of people make mistakes, and some day she'll

(To be Continued.)

HOLMES & HALL
REPAIRERS OF HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
SHADES
DOOR BELLS
LOCKS and KEYS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

CHOICE ARTICLES
FROM THE
PHILIPPINES

LUCBON HATS—Very best grade of the famous Panamas and Bankoks made. Absolutely none better, woven under water by hand. Can be crushed into a ball and not lose shape. Made for both Ladies and Gentlemen. $5 and $10.

ROMBLON MATS—Handsomest and most durable Grass Mats or Rugs made in the world. Beautiful colors and designs, large enough to cover one-half floor of rooms. $5.

MANILA CIGARS—$3 for a trial box of the Very Best Cigars made in the Philippines.

Oriente Cigarrettes—Best made, large package containing 25 small packages, 750 Cigarrettes, $2.

Sent by registered mail, free of duties, on receipt of price.

C. A. SHORT & CO.,
Lucena, Tay, P. I.
Oct. 4 1&O 3m

HOLDS WEEKLY TOURNAMENT

Nine tables were in play Wednesday evening at the weekly whist tournament of the Granite City club and it remained for S. T. MacQuarrie, the genial president of the club to carry off first honors while the second best score was secured by G. Emery Greene. After twenty-five hands Tom Smith and his crew served a hot clam chowder. The weekly tournament will be omitted next Wednesday evening, the night before Christmas. On that evening the club will as usual keep open house and extend its hospitality to its members and their friends. An orchestra will furnish music during the entire evening and a buffet lunch will be served in the dining room, so that there will be something doing from early evening until midnight.

EAST BRAINTREE

The East Braintree Debating Club will have a meeting in the Engine House hall on Monday evening, Dec. 22. The debate in regard to laying a twelve inch water main over Union street from South Braintree will be debated. Every citizen is invited to be present and take part in the evening's debate.

The Aero Club held its regular weekly meeting in their club room on Shaw street Monday, Dec. 15. A committee of five, Clifton Remick, Leo Starr, Edward Avery, John Cahill, Jr. and Arthur Hamilton, were elected to nominate officers for the coming year and plans were laid for the fourth annual banquet, which it is expected will be held in Pythian hall, Weymouth, followed by dancing.

Mr. Stewart the illuminating engineer who has been with the Old Colony Gas Co. the past two weeks will leave for Chester, Pa., Sunday, where he will continue his good work.

Theodore Spear is at home on Hayward street to enjoy the Christmas vacation granted scholars of Vermont Academy. Theodore has just finished the semi-annual exams which he passed with credit.

Frank O. Whitmarsh, chief of the fire department attended the regular monthly meeting of the Fire Chiefs club of Massachusetts on Wednesday, Dec. 17, which was addressed by the Hon. Edward P. Barry, lieutenant governor elect of Massachusetts. Mr. Whitmarsh is a very popular member of this organization as is shown by his office of sergeant at arms which he has held for the past nineteen years.

Lewis Pitts of Shaw street is making extensive alterations on the interior of his home.

Five families on Bowditch street are now enjoying running water in their homes. An extension of six hundred feet to the six inch main on this street has enabled the water department to lay four services which went to the homes of Jacob Clay, Morris Gurney, William Allen and Mr. Greenlaw. The latter service also supplies Mrs. David Doane.

A whist party under the direction of the Home Benefit Association of East Braintree will be run Tuesday evening, Dec. 23, at the Engine House hall. Souvenirs will be awarded those having the highest scores of the evening. A committee of three Thomas McCaffrey, Edward Frazer and Leonard Felkner is in charge of the evening's pleasure.

Mrs. H. J. Britton who has been visiting her sister Mrs. C. M. Vaughan left this week to join her husband, who is manager of the Terminal hotel in Atlantic, Georgia.

Mrs. Louise Bates was somewhat surprised to find an expressman at her door Monday morning with a beautiful doll. A look at the shipping tag brought light upon the scene. Mrs. Bates attended a church fair in South Weymouth where she took the lucky ticket in a drawing contest which makes her owner of this handsome doll.

Mrs. James Johnson is making extensive repairs on her stable on Allen street.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mavor of Hayward street left this week for California where they will spend the winter.

The Old Colony Street Railroad has installed a complete set of new poles at the drawbridge on Quincy avenue.

A street light has been installed in front of Mr. Fredrickson's' store on Shaw street which will be of much service to the general public.

The teachers of the Abraham Lincoln school have arranged a very unique program for Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 23, at the Lincoln school hall. Parents and their friends are invited to come and enjoy this afternoon which promises to be very amusing as well as instructive to both children and parents. The program will start at two thirty sharp and it is hoped the seats will be well filled.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

LAND COURT.

To Elizabeth C. Hall and Annie J. Lincoln, of Taunton, in the County of Bristol, and said Commonwealth; Arthur F. Hall, of Everett, Sophia T. Parker, of Framingham, George W. Souther of Newton in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth; Darius W. Gilbert, Edward E. H. Souther, Catherine D. Stevens, E. Pomroy Collier, Emily L. Bates and Paul J. Bates, of Cohasset, in the County of Norfolk, and said Commonwealth; Alexander E. Stoddard and William O. Souther, Jr., of said Cohasset and George E. Adams of Quincy, in said County of Norfolk, Trustees under the will of Elliot Stoddard; Harriet R. Eaton, of Portland, in the State of Maine; James W. Hall and Elizabeth B. Hall, of Winslow, in the State of Washington; Nellie B. Sander, of Seattle, in said State of Washington; Sarah L. Attridge of Hoguiam, in said State of Washington; George O. Hall and Clara P. Hall of Burlingame, in the State of California; Maria H. Billings of Mill Valley, in said State of California; Phoebe B. Weil, of Oakland, in said State of California; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Ella H. Stoddard of said Cohasset, to register and confirm her title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land situate in said Cohasset, and being shown on plan of land, Cohasset, Mass., belonging to heirs of Isaac Hall dated May 11, 1912, E. C. Sargent, Surveyor, recorded with Norfolk Deeds and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point on Highland Avenue at land now or formerly of the estate of Allen C. Bates, thence running along said Highland Avenue in a northerly direction twenty-nine and 78-100 (29.78) feet to land now or formerly of the estate of George Hall, thence turning and running a little north of east one hundred sixteen (116) feet to a point, thence turning and running in a northerly direction ninety-eight and 8-10 (98.8) feet to a stone wall at land now or formerly of Darius H. Gilbert, thence turning and running in a northeasterly direction by said wall and a ledge by an irregular line about two hundred fifty five feet to a point at land now or formerly of Edward Stevens, thence turning and running along said land of Stevens by a stone wall in a general southeasterly direction by an irregular line about two hundred eighty-one feet to land of the estate of Elliot Stoddard, thence turning and running in a southwesterly direction by said land of the estate of Elliot Stoddard three hundred twenty-nine and 50-100 (329.50) feet to a ledge and land now or formerly of E. P. Collier, thence turning and running in a northwesterly direction along said ledge seventy-two and 55-100 (72.55) feet to a bolt in said ledge, thence turning and running a little north of west fifty-seven and 16-100 (57.16) feet to a drill in a ledge, thence turning and running in a westerly direction along land now or formerly of the estate of Allen C. Bates two hundred four and 9-100 (204.09) feet to the point of beginning. Containing according to said plan 80,290 square feet more or less.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition, and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

You are hereby cited to appear at the Land Court to be held at Boston, in the County of Suffolk, on the fifth day of January A. D. 1914, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, Charles Thornton Davis, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this second day of December in the year nineteen hundred and thirteen.

Attest with Seal of said Court.
CLARENCE C. SMITH,
Recorder.
(Seal.)
Dec. 4-3t 4-11-18

ARTHUR L. THOMAS
Attorney-at-Law
3-4-5-6 Greenleaf Block
Telephone Quincy 460 Jan.2-1y

FOR SALE
New Axes
20c each 3 for 50c
While They Last
L. GROSSMAN & SONS
Jackson Street
Near Quincy Adams Depot
Dec. 18-1o-tf

Penniman's
TAXI SERVICE
Taxies and Touring Cars with careful and safe drivers to let for all occasions.
C. H. PENNIMAN, Prop.
Telephone 207.
June 13-tf

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.
No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

WANTED

WANTED—An experienced man to drive a Wet Wash Laundry wagon. A married man, who is at present employed, preferred. Wages $18.00 to $20.00 for three days a week. Write W. Ledger Office stating experience. 17-3t

WANTED— Experienced Grocery and Meat man. Good wages to right man. W. H. Stevenson market, 128 Washington street, Quincy. 15-6t

WANTED—A man, "a live wire" to canvass the city of Quincy and sell the most up to date vacuum carpet cleaner manufactured. Must give satisfactory reference. Wm. S. Currier, Currier's Market, 1381 Hancock street. 12-6t

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing. Myatt, 40 Baxter street. Tel. 1307-M. Quincy, Res. 22-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Land on Butler road or I can build you a house on it very reasonably, or will exchange for other real estate. John Bergfors, 65 Granite street. 18-6t

PIANOS—Buy a piano. Several makes. Square man to trade with. Send postal and he will call. In your city every day. Walter H. Lyons, Randolph. 17-3t

HORSE FOR SALE—Cheap, for want of use. H. H. I. Smith, 578 Commercial street, Weymouth Heights. Tel. Weymouth 105-1. 15-tf

FOR SALE or TO LET—New houses Apply to Thompson B. Crane, 403 Washington street, Quincy. 1-tf

SWITHIN
Real Estate
Mortgages-Insurance
Greenleaf Block
Quincy
Tel. Quincy 460. Nov. 10-tf

JAMES F. BURKE & CO.
Real Estate and Insurance
Care of Property. Mortgages
Justice of Peace. Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 885 M. Nov. 11-tf

WM. H. TEASDALE
REAL ESTATE
Insurance Mortgages
NOTARY PUBLIC JUSTICE OF THE PEACE
Room 23 Adams Building
Telephones { Residence 544-3 / Office 685-M
o-tf

TO LET
Large Front Office Greenleaf Block—2 entrances—right at the head of the stairs—one of the most desirable offices in Quincy.
Office, Durgin-Merrill Block—3 large windows—only 1 flight up—exceptional opportunity.
Hancock Building—City Square Offices—small front office, $11 a month
Office—Hancock Chambers, 16x18 feet one flight up, very low rent.
Store House—off Granite St., in the rear of Greenleaf Block.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best Location in City)
Offices—Large or small.
Desk Room—Street floor, right in the rear of main entrance, good light and air, $5 up a month.
Transient Rooms—Well furnished and with care, $1 a day.
Furnished Rooms—With care steam heat, and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week

HALLS
Music Hall—Music Hall Block—Capacity 962—highest possible rating by the State. "Excellent" in every particular.
New Colonial Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—Capacity 240—the best possible location for a Hall.
Hancock Hall—Hancock Building City Square—Capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 21066) Quincy

Read Ledger Ads

TO LET

TO LET—Flat 5 rooms and bath, first floor. All improvements. Nice location. 129 Independence avenue. Apply 60 Trafford street or Telephone Quincy 489-W. 17-6t

TO LET—Upper apartment of 7 rooms and bath, all improvements including set range and gas stove, now ready. Inquire, A. W. Parker, 87 Merrymount road. Tel. Quincy 258-1 16-tf

TO LET—Flat of four rooms, all improvements, at 16 Bedford street. Apply 94 Cranch street. 16-3t

TO LET—In Braintree, house of five rooms, including two bed rooms and bath. Rent reasonable. A. J. Cavanagh, 72 Cedar street, Braintree. Telephone 4-14. Dec. 16-6t

TO LET—48 Revere road two connecting rooms with kitchenette for housekeeping. Also a nice room with sun all day, two large closets. Hot water heat and bath.
water heat and bath. 13-tf

TO LET—Lower flat, 5 rooms bath modern improvements in new house pleasantly situated in corner lot 29 Atherton street, Bigelow Park. Rent reasonable to right party. Inquire on premises or 72 Glencoe place. 13-6t

TO LET—Upper flat in two flat new house at 1 Bradford street, 5 rooms and bath. All improvements. Ready Jan. 1st. Apply to Wm. E. Duggan, 32 Bryant avenue, West. Quincy. 12-6t

TO LET—Tenement 4 rooms and bath all improvements, set range. Vacant Jan. 1, 1914. Apply 180 Franklin street. 10-12t

RUSSELL PARK — Commodious house of seven rooms, large hall and bath. Modern, every convenience open fireplace, furnace, range, set tubs, electric lights, cemented cellar, etc. Best residential neighborhood. Ready for immediate occupancy. For further details or key see Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. tf lpo

TO LET—9 room house on Hancock street, near Quincy center. In first class repair and reasonable rent. Apply to Mr. Galligan at Kincaide's Furniture store. 6-tf

TO LET—173 Whitwell street, half house, modern conveniences, $20 per month. Ready for immediate occupancy. Apply Penniman's Stable, Granite street. 19-tf

TO LET—Nicest 4 room and bath lower flat in town. Every improvement $19.00. 126 Glendale road. S. E. Thomas Greenleaf Block. 17-tf

TO LET—5 room tenement at 117 Quincy street, $20 per month. Apply Berman Furniture Co. 6-tf

TO LET—Houses of 5, 6 and 10 rooms. M. T. Sullivan. Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy, Mass. 11-tf

UPPER APARTMENT. In two-family house on Spear Street. Five rooms, bath, large pantry and closets, also open attic with finished heated chamber. Every improvement, electric light, furnace, range etc. Ready for immediate occupancy. Telephone Quincy 278 M or enquire mornings of Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. lpo

MISCELLANEOUS

WILL SOMEONE please answer who would like a piano in their home for Christmas. This one can be rented for a time and after a fair trial very favorable terms can be arranged towards its purchase. Write at once. Box 10 this office. 13-6t

RENT FREE—until Jan. 1st. Two adjoining houses, 28 and 30 Pleasant street to desirable tenants, who will agree to stay one year, or longer. $5.00 per week in advance. Stable for one horse if desired. $1.00 a week extra. Apply 36 Pleasant street. 5-tf

ANOTHER BARGAIN

Make me an offer for a ten room house on Whitwell Street.

You will own it if you will talk buy, as it is one of those chances some one will miss.

HENRY W. SAVAGE
Real Estate, Boston.
E. G. HAYDEN, Local Representative
Telephone 1877-M Quincy.
Nov 17-tf

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

YOU need the Ledger EVERY DAY.

KINCAIDE THEATRE

At 2.30, 5, 10, 15c At 7.45, 10, 15, 25c

THURS. FRIDAY SAT.
Program Subject to Change

MURRAY LANE & CO.
Dramatic Singing Sketch
"FININ' DAD"

THE DAVIS TROUPE
Acrobats Par Excellence

DORA RONCA
Violinist De Luxe

HANLEY & JARVIS
Fun Makers "A la France"

2 Part Feature Picture
THE CYPHER MESSAGE
A Thrilling Detective Drama

SOPHIE'S HERO
Western Comedy Full of Fun

THE STOLEN TREATY
A Mighty Interesting Drama

LOTS OF LIVELY MUSIC

More than twelve hundred hotels in San Francisco have agreed not to raise rates for the exposition trade, but even so it will be advisable to take plenty of money with you if you go to San Francisco for the fair.—Somerville Journal.

—The letter carrier works eight hours a day for six days in the week, the ditch digger from seven till five, and each takes orders from the "old man" alone, but the doctor is at everybody's call for twenty-four hours in the day and seven days in the week, with no boss but his own conscience, but nobody calls him a "working man."—Truth.

☞White wrapping paper for doing up your Christmas gifts can be obtained at the Ledger-Patriot office for 0 cents a dozen sheets or by the single sheet at 2 cents per sheet.

HEAR ABOUT GERMAN XMAS

Unusally Clever Talk by Miss Edith Randall

The pupils of the Adams, Cranch, John Hancock and Lincoln schools united Wednesday afternoon in the hall of the new Adams school in a Christmas festival, given under the auspices of the Educational Committee of the Quincy Women's club. The affair was unusually successful being attended by 725 pupils and 22 teachers.

The afternoon was in charge of the sub committee of the Educational Committee, who included Mrs. A. S. Carleton, Mrs. Walter S. Pinkham and Mrs. Arthur Foster.

The festival was held at 3 o'clock and opened with the singing of Christmas carols by the V and VIII grades led by Mr. Wilson of the John Hancock school.

Miss Edith Randall then gave a very clever and most unusually interesting talk on a German Christmas. Her talk depicted Christmas among the Germans and was thoroughly enjoyed.

The program of the afternoon closed with singing of Christmas carols by the VI grade pupils led by Miss Turner and the VII grades led by Miss Griffin.

☞Peterson's Market is on Washington street, midway between City Square and Quincy Point,—a little out of the way—but can be reached by telephone easily, and goods will be delivered promptly. Can we supply your Christmas dinner?

SWEENEY NEW CHIEF RANGER

Quincy Court, M. C. O. F. held its annual election of officers in G. A. R. hall Wednesday evening. The attendance was large. The installation plans will be announced later. The officers chosen were:

Chief Ranger—Michael Sweeney.
Vice Chief Ranger—Alcide Carron.
Recording Secretary—Mrs. Mary T. Avery.
Financial Secretary—Miss Mary A. Sullivan.
Treasurer—Mrs. Lucy G. Howard.
Senior Conductor—John S. Pitts.
Junior Conductor—William Taylor.
Inside Sentinel—L. Doucette.
Outside Sentinel — Bartholemew Durgin.
Trustees—David R. Frazier, Michael Dorley, John H. Heffernan.
Delegates—Michael Dorley, John H. Heffernan, and Michael Sweeney and Hugh P. Tracy, alternates.
Physician—Dr. George M. Sheahan.

ENGAGEMENT CANCELLED.

Senator-elect Louis F. R. Langelier because of the death of his mother Mrs. Remi Langelier on Sunday has cancelled his engagement to speak before members of the Young Men's Hebrew Association this evening, and it was announced this morning that the meeting will not held.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS?
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

☞Get your white wrapping paper for Christmas gifts at the Ledger-Patriot office. Come early and avoid the rush. Large sheets 2 cents each. By the dozen 20 cents.

GOOD GAMES FOR SATURDAY

The strong "Wandereds" of Boston will be the opponents of the local Association First team on Saturday night and a great game ought to result. This team played under the name of the "Wonalonsetts" last season and made an enviable record for a new team, winning 16 out of 21 games. The Second team will line up against the crack Tilton A. C. of Winthrop, a team which has tried to win a game from the Quincy 2nd for the past three years. This year the team has been greatly strengthened by the addition of several of the Winthrop High School players and a close game ought to be played.

Wilband of Chelsea will referee. First game at 8.15.

AGAINST THE COMMISSION FORM

Haverhill and Gloucester were the first Massachusetts cities to adopt a commission form of government, about five years ago. Wednesday evening at a mass meeting largely attended, Gloucester voted to seek a new city charter. A petition will be sent to the Legislature.

The funeral of Mrs. Rose Dolan was held from her home, 56 Hancock street Atlantic, Wednesday morning. A high mass of requiem was celebrated at the Church of the Sacred Heart by Rev. J. P. Cuffe. Burial was in New Calvary cemetery, Boston.

ENTERTAIN MANY FRIENDS

Maple Lodge, Knights and Ladies or Honor entertained many friends after the regular meeting in Protection hall Wednesday evening. Among those present were District Deputy Mrs. Mary McGue of Somerville and Supreme Chaplain, Mrs. Mary Harding of Dorchester.

Vocal selections were rendered by Miss Annfe Anabile of East Weymouth and there were readings by Mrs. Sarah Williams, Mrs. E. E. Field, Miss M. Lizzie Furnald. Piano solos were given by Mrs. Effie L. Rhines, Mrs. Bertha McCurdy and Miss Edna Grignon.

After the entertainment a collation was served and dancing was enjoyed until a late hour. The committee in charge consisted of Miss M. Lizzie Furnald, Miss Isabelle McBirnie and Mrs. Margaret Webster.

DEDHAM BEQUESTS.

Edward A. Penniman, who died at Lucerne, Switzerland in July, left several public bequests which will be appreciated at Dedham. To the Public Library of Dedham he bequeather $5000, to the Dedham Historical Society a like amount and $2000 to the Fisher Ames Club. The Metropolitan Museum of Art of New York will get Mr. Penniman's famous collection of coins.

Mr. Penniman was a native fo Dedham and some years ago was a Boston banker. The last years of his life he lived in New York, and was almost unknown in Dedham. He was about 85 years old.

(ADVERTISE.)

ASSAULT CASES BEING HEARD

Harry Orkin was complainant and defendant on assault and battery charges before Judge Avery this morning. Orkin was of material assistance in aiding the government secure a conviction against Rebecca Finkleman, charged with the illegal sale of intoxicating liquor at Quincy Point. A few days after the raid he went to the Finkleman house where he claims he received a severe beating.

He charges that Justina Kopach and Rebecca Finkleman both assaulted him, the former by punching him on the face and breaking his glasses and the other by hitting him over the head with a tea pot. Mrs. Kopach charges that Orkin assaulted her.

The cases are being heard separately but are very complicated. Much of the testimony will be given through interpreters and there are many witnesses to be heard.

BRIEFS

Miss Leola Goding of 25 Miller Stile road is going to Maine for the Christmas holidays.

Schools close Friday for the Christmas holidays. The new term will commence Monday, Dec. 29.

Such a good impression did Rev. George M. Bailey of the Wollaston Methodist church make at the last meeting of Wollaston Congregational Mens club that the organization immediately voted to make all of the Wollaston pastors honorary members of the club.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS?
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

ARTISTIC EFFECTS

Are gained in every Box or Bouquet of Cut Flowers we arrange.
We have all the

POTTED PLANTS

that are in season such as Poinsettias, Azaleas,
Cyclamen, Primroses,
Lorraine Begonias, etc.

CHRISTMAS WREATHS of all kinds.

JOHNSON, the Florist
City Flower Store, City Square
Dec. 18-6t

Too Late For Classification

TO LET—5 Parson street, lower floor, 5 rooms and bath, hard wood floors. Rent $16.00 ready January 1, 1914. Apply on premises or at 38 Independence Ave. 18-tf

WANTED—Good, honest, reliable man to work in shop, keep fires and do general shop work. Write "Work." Ledger Office. 18-3t

WANTED—A strictly temperate reliable nurse, would take confinement cases at $13 per week. After Jan. 5 for further particulars. Address S. B. Randall, Quincy, Mass. 18-3t

DEATHS

THOMPSON—In Townsend, December 18, Florence Emerson Thompson, adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred W. Thompson of Wollaston.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass.

Double Legal Stamps—Tuesday Thursday Afternoon---12 to 6

At REMICK'S

Double Legal Stamps—Tuesday Thursday Afternoon---12 to 6

QUINCY'S GREATEST CHRISTMAS STORE

SOMETHING USEFUL FOR EVERYBODY

Open Every Evening Until Christmas

NECKWEAR In Fancy Boxes
Biggest Variety—Biggest Values Ever Shown in Quincy
25c 35c 50c 65c
We are showing Boston's $1.00 Neckwear at 65c

Endless Variety MEN'S ARM BANDS and BRACES. All in Fancy Boxes
25c 35c 50c 65c
We could get more but are determined to hold the reputation for the best values and lowest prices

HOISERY
Men's, Boys' Women and Children. Silk, Lisle, Cotton and Cashmere. A very useful gift

GLOVES
Nothing you can think of but can be found here. For Men, Boys and Children.

BATH ROBES with SLIPPERS.
$4.98 others at $2.98 .$3.48

MEN'S PAJAMAS
98c to $2.00

MEN'S NIGHT ROBES
Flannel and Cotton
48c to $1.50

HANDKERCHIEFS
Men's Plain and Initial ..... 10c to 50c
Ladies' Plain and Initial ..... 10c to 50c

UMBRELLAS
Men's Fancy Handles ..... 98c to $5.00
Ladies' Fancy Handles ..... 75c to $5.00
Childrens' Fancy Handles ..... 50c and $1.00

SWEATERS of every description. Lower than the Lowest
Men's ..... 98c to $8.00
Women's ..... 98c to $8.00
Boys' ..... 98c to $5.00
Girls' ..... 98c to $5.00
Children's ..... 48c to $2.00
All Colors. With or without Collars

MEN'S FANCY SHIRTS
48c to $1.50
Our Special at $1.15 is like the other fellow's $1.50

Men's Silk Shirts
$2.98 $3.98
Worth $4.00 and $5.00

Flannel Shirts
69c to $3.00
Blue, Gray and Tan

MACKINAW COATS
Neat and Nobby Effects

SMOKING JACKETS

MEN'S STIFF and SOFT HATS
$1.00 to $3.00

MEN'S CAPS
With and without band
50c to $3.00

BOYS' and CHILDREN'S HATS and CAPS
All kinds ..... 25c to $1.50

RAIN COATS.
Men's ..... $4.98 to $15.00
Women's ..... $4.98 to $12.00
Boys' ..... $3.50 to $5.00
Children's ..... $3.00 to $4.00
Every Coat Fully Guaranteed

BAGS and SUIT CASES
Black, Brown and Tan
$1.98 to $10.00
Nothing more useful

Boys' and Children's SUITS
Single and Double Breasted. Some with two pair pants
$1.98 to $8.00

Boys' and Children's OVERCOATS
Made with or without Belts
$1.98 to $8.00

MEN'S SHOES
None Better and Few as good as The Packard
All Leathers
$3.50 $4.00 $4.50 $5.00

Fellow Craft and Farnum SHOES
All Leathers $3.50
Just the same as sold by some others at $4.00

OUR MEN'S SHOES
at $3.00 and as low as $2.50 and $2.00 have stood the test

BOYS' SHOES
$1.50 to $3.00
All Leathers. Boys' High Cut Shoes, all sizes.
Black and Tan

WOMEN'S SHOES, Queen Quality
$3.50 $4.00 $4.50
Fit, Style and Comfort. All Leathers
Women's Shoes at $2.00 $2.50 and $3.00 in all
Leathers will make you wonder how we can do it

CHILDREN'S SHOES
75c to $3.00
All Leathers. Fancy Top Shoes for Children in large variety

MEN'S SLIPPERS
50c to $2.00

LADIES' SLIPPERS
50c to $1.50

Boys' and Children's SLIPPERS
50c 75c $1.00

RUBBERS All Kinds
Men's, Boys' and Children's Rubber Boots all kinds. Fully Guaranteed

REMICK'S

MUSIC HALL BLOCK, QUINCY

OPEN EVERY EVENING UNTIL CHRISTMAS

DOUBLE LEGAL STAMPS Tuesday and Thursday Afternoons 12 o'clock to 6 o'clock

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

LARGEST GUARANTEED CIRCULATION IN THE CITY

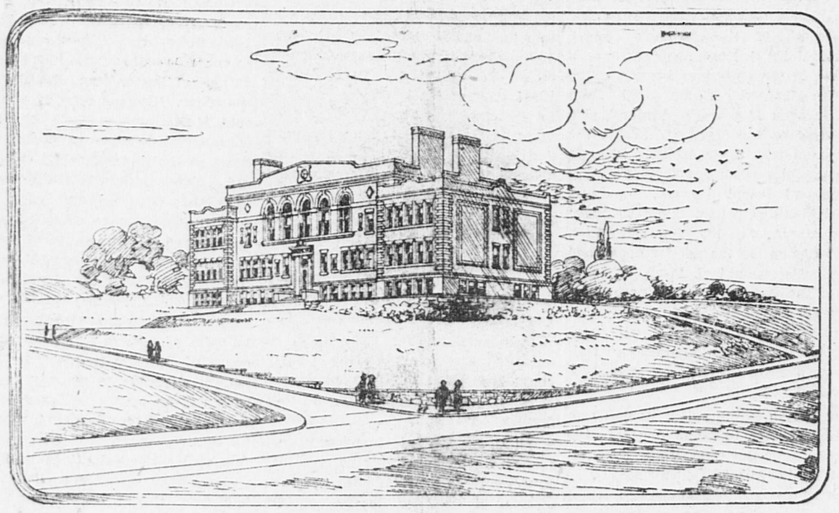
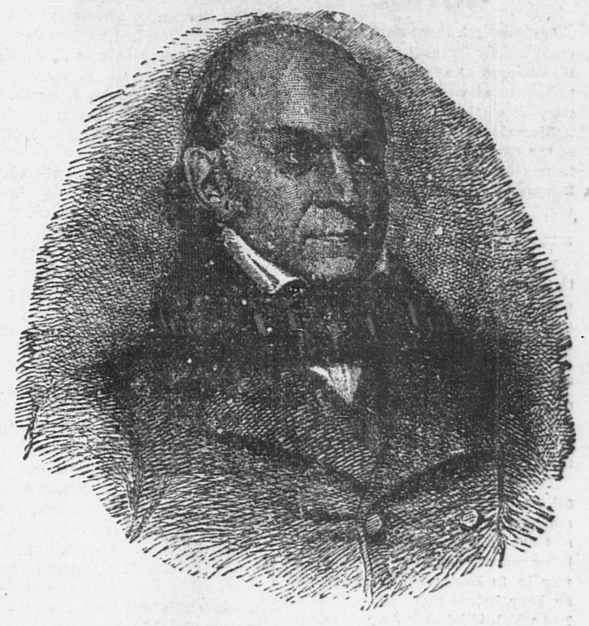
Vol. 28 No. 294 QUINCY MASS. FRIDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 19 1913 PRICE TWO CENTS

NAMED IN HONOR OF THE TWO QUINCY PRESIDENTS

John Adams.



NEW ADAMS SCHOOL HOUSE



J. Q. Adams

The dedicatory exercises for the handsome new $80,000 Adams school were held Thursday evening in the assembly hall and it was a proud day for the Adams school district. The affair was under the direction of the Parents-Teachers Association of the school and was attended by about 1000 people. President Alfred Pinel of the association presided. City officials and members of the School Committee former teachers and others interested in education were among the invited guests.

Before and after the exercises there was a general inspection of the building and each teacher received visitors at her room. The members of the association acted as ushers. Music during the evening was by Wilson's orchestra.

The speakers were Mayor Eugene R. Stone, John L. Miller, Mayor-elect and Chairman of the School Committee; Alfred L. Barbour, Superintendent of Schools; Arthur W. Newcomb, school committee from Ward Two, and Brooks Adams, a great grandson of President John Adams and a grandson of President John Quincy Adams.

President Pinel said an association was formed three years ago to secure a new schoolhouse and we take pride in the fact that we have got this beautiful new building. It is the handsomest school in the city and is located on one of the handsomest sites and it is the result of the concerted effort of the association. He extended an invitation for all parents to join the association and help in carrying out the decorative scheme and also to lend their encouragement to the teachers.

Mayor Stone said it was a pleasure to congratulate the citizens on this splendid building. It has been agitated for several years. From the first school house of 1826, now the police station, to the present building is a great advance. It shows how Quincy has progressed along educational lines in less than 100 years. The inconveniences of schooling in the past have been eliminated. Our city government and School Committee have kept up with the others. We have one of the best schoolhouses and it is located on one of the best sites in the city. It has the largest playground area in the city and I want to congratulate the residents of Ward Three.

Chairman Miller said he was pleased to be at this dedication, for the agitation for a new schoolhouse had dragged along for nine years. Now we see its consumation. The section should be proud of their building and I congratulate them. One fact that should be brought out is that no matter how beautiful the building, how grand the architecture, the corps of teachers is an important part of any school. Their faithfulness is a large item. Some of our best scholars were educated without modern conveniences. With the encouragement of the parents we must look for results and this is where the Parent-Teachers Associations can do much work. I am glad to be with you and speak to such a representative audience of Ward Three people.

Supt. Barbour said it is needless for him to say how much he rejoiced in the occupation of this building. I recall the organization of the association in the old dingy building. He called attention to two innovations in the new building the basement and the hall. The rooms in the basement will be used for training in home craft Cooking and rough carpentry will be taught. The building is the first in the city to be so equipped and all future buildings will probably be so. We are coming back to the old New England custom of making the school the centre of the neighborhood. Mayor Stone has spoken of the building and Chairman Miller of the teachers. and I want to lay special stress on the use of the building. I want you to feel that you can consult with the teachers about the education of your child. Many things are contributory to education, but if you as commander and pilot neglect your important duty, the education of your child will not be complete. It is the most profitable business you have on hand. Learn the disposition and tendencies of your child and only through that will you use to the best advantage that which the city affords, the building and the teachers.

Arthur W. Newcomb said that Quincy, like every other New England village, had its schools. The first, at the foot of Penns hill in 1699, was 29 by 16 feet. A Mrs. Belcher was the teacher and John Adams was a pupil. He helped grind the corn in the grist mill nearby and received three pennies. When this building became too small, an abandoned building was offered for educational purposes and was refused. The matter was discussed at three town meetings and finally a new one was built. It had a belfry and the bell was rung by John Adams.

The second school, 36 by 30 feet, on School street was built of granite. In 1841 it outgrew its usefulness and $900 was appropriated and 14 feet was added to the rear and one story added. In 1855 the new school on Phipps street just vacated was built and was the first in the district to be named the "Adams school" in honor of two Quincy Presidents. When built there were 311 children in the district. In 1879 it was enlarged to its present size on an appropriation of $8,000.

In 1910 there were 456 pupils at the Adams school. In the past the expense per pupil was $21. The cost today is $29 per pupil, the annual appropriation for maintenance being $190,000. The erection of buildings is not included. This building is not a monument of iron and steel. We have here a living inspiration, old New England ideals. I call it the old New England triangle, held by three cardinal virtues, simplicity, purity and honor.

Brooks Adams was introduced as a descendant of the Quincy Presidents, a family which will also be held in high esteem by Quincy people.

Mr. Adams said: "I wish that I had any prospect of being able to fill the expectations which have been most improvidently aroused by the gentleman who has introduced me. I am afraid I have not anything to say which can improve or interest you. I am pleased to be with you here tonight for one reason and that is because this dedication does arouse in me a train of thought which deepens as I grow older until I sometimes feel as if it had become a fixed idea, and I shall be glad to take this occasion to communicate it to you.

"It is that feeling of intense responsibility which continually increases in me toward the generation which is to succeed us. All the speakers have dwelt upon the enormous expansion of our country and it is perhaps unprecedented in history. You have only to compare this building with that little cottage down the road where my great-grandfather lived with his wife ,to see the expansion. Are you producing intellect, an increase of power commensurate with the increase of responsibility which comes with this prodigious growth?

"Are you men as much more powerful than those of the past, as today is more powerful than the past? If not, why are we not? And is there anything we can do with the rising generation to protect them?

"We agree on the beauty of the building, but the more I grow the more I doubt whether intellectual energy is produced by money. Look back 150 years, and to all intents and purposes there was nothing we could call education. Franklin, Washington, even Lincoln had no formal education. Take John and Sam Adams, Webster, Choate, John Storer. They had an education of a certain kind, but the real one they had was the one they gave themselves. Their lives demonstrated their voracity for books and the effort toward teaching themselves concentration. When John Adams lived down there he was the leading lawyer of the province, and he lived in a little house that would now hardly be inhabited by the poorest of the population. If you are curious to see how he spent his money, see his books at the Boston Public Library. I doubt if any member of the bar has such a library now.

He collected them because they were means to an end, but before he could use them he had to learn how to apply his mind. Concentration creates power. We give ourselves our own education. We do not get it in school. It is of no use expecting that children can be taught. They must teach themselves. They must teach themselves concentration, and unless they reach that point it will fail and future generations must fail..

"We must learn like Lord Bacon, 'to labor terribly.'" Mr. Adams during the talk gave personal reminiscenses of Senator Lodge, Roosevelt and Lord Westboro, men with remarkable concentrative power.

Among the other invited guests on the platform were members of the School Committee, members of the City Council, city officials, past and present officers of the Parents-Teachers Association, clergymen of the Adams district, Councilmen-elect of Ward Three, School committee-elect of Ward Three, masters of the other Quincy schools, former masters of the Adams school, members of the ducational committee of the Quincy Women's club, Mrs. Eugene R. Stone, Mrs. John L. Miller and wives of other invited guests.

Along the front of the platform were palms from Paterson's greenhouses and Christmas decorations which made a pretty scene. The committe on decorations were Miss Lora Lamb, Miss Jennie Griffin, Mrs. Lucy B. Page, Miss Nellie Desmond and Miss Mary Griffin.

All the teaching corps of the school assisted in the reception, viz: Arthur S. Townsend, Mary L. Egan, Jennie Griffin, Beatrice H. Rothwell, Martha Isaac, Jennie F. Griffin, Bessie E. Roberts, Elizabeth W. Ross, Lucy B. Page Eliza F. Dolan, Ruth Kemp, Euphrasia Herman and Lora Lamb.

CHRISTMAS MUSIC.

Choir masters, musical directors and organists are asked to send in their musical programs for Christmas Sunday services. Those for the coming Sunday should reach this office not later than Friday morning to insure their publication in the Ledger and Patriot Saturday. Those for Sunday Dec. 28 should be sent in by Dec. 25.

☞ An extra good program is promised for the Saturday matinee and night at Quincy Music hall with high class vaudeville acts and the best moving pictures ever shown in Quincy including the thrilling two-reel feature "The Quick Sands." For the Christmas matinee and night the famous Miller Bros. 1913, 101 Ranch will be shown by moving pictures. To avoid the rush at the door get your tickets Saturday afternoon.

QUINCY MUSIC HALL

BIG VAUDEVILLE and MOVING PICTURE
Program for SAT. MAT. and NIGHT
One of the Greatest 2 Reel Features Ever Made
"The Quick Sands" A Thriller from Start to Finish. Don't Miss This Show.

Dec. 18-3t

MORE TRUTHS.

Do not let the worry of Christmas Dinner spoil the Best Day of the year

Let Us Take Care of your What-to-Eat Worry

Begin NOW. Thanksgiving was our Biggest and Best.
Not One single complaint about Our Turkeys.

Why? Oh! Just JOHNSON BROS!

Masters of Details. High Quality. Experienced Clerks.
This is the True Remedy for all your Food Worries.

We will be here CHRISTMAS Nuff Sed.

JOHNSON BROS. Johnson Building City Square

Dec. 18-6t

FOUND!

The Market Recommended by

SANTA CLAUS

To Get a Square Deal Every Day

CHOICE
NORTHERN TURKEYS

And All The Fixin's

FOR SUNDAY DINNER
FOR CHRISTMAS DINNER

Here are a few of our prices:

We Cut Rump Steak	35c
Rump Roasts	22c
Roast Pig Pork	18c
Top Round Steak	28c
Fancy Sirloin Steak	22, 25c

BOSTON MARKET

1433 Hancock Street
Near Granite Street

Dec. 18-6t

MERRY CHRISTMAS!!

Come to the Foy stores for everything in our line. Largest, newest and most complete stock. Nothing carried over.

The Good Housekeeping Stores, so designated by Good Housekeeping Magazine (of which Dr. Wiley is editor.)

Our prices are right all down the line. We give careful attention to all orders, and aim by courteous and fair treatment to give perfect satisfaction to our customers.

For Sunday Dinner

Fresh Eastern Pork	17c lb
Leg Mutton	15c lb
Brussells Sprouts	15c basket

"Delmonte" Raisins	10c pkg	Cluster Raisins--Centaur--	27c lb
Purity Currants	10c pkg	Xmas Nabisco's	2 pkgs 25c
Fancy Citron	18c lb	Cranberries	10c qt
Lemon and Orange Peel	18c lb	Oregon Apples--Table--	30c doz
Ribbon Candy	2 lb. Box 23c	Laurel Wreaths	25c
Dromedary Dates	10c pkg	Xmas Trees	25c up
Snow-ball Pop Corn	3 pkgs 25c	Jars Mince Meat--all ready--	25c
Walnut Meats--1913 crop	55c lb	Hotel Astor Rice	3 pkgs 25c

Pastry Flour—Foy's Special—Small Bags	20c
Kennedy's Common Crackers	3 lbs 25c
Bell's Dressing	9c can
Sage	5c can
Campbell's Tomato Soup	3 cans 25c
Logan & Johnson's Raspberry and Strawberry Jam	15c
Romantic Spiced Crackers, regular 20c lb., special	2 lbs 25c

R. E. FOY & CO.

Grocers and Marketmen

Adams Market, Adams Bldg. Water St. Market, Water Cor. Quincy

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second-Class matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the . . . .

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

TELEPHONES
News . . . Quincy 425
Business . . Quincy 1910

NOTICE

Again we ask those sending news or other matter by mail to direct it to the company or newspaper rather than to individual members of the company or employees. If addressed to individuals and they were ill or not at the office, it might be several days in reaching its proper destination and if news matter would be too late for use.

We understand there is again agitation for a noon train to Boston to accommodate patrons of matinees and concerts. At the meeting of the Quincy Women's club last week a committee was appointed to confer with the Board of Trade to secure a train at 12.50. The Wollaston Women's club is also interested in the train and would like it to stop there also.

The present noon tarins do not quite fill the bill and the need of another is apparent. The 12.04 is a quick train and appreciated; the 12.27 very slow being accommodation stopping all the way in to Boston; then it is nearly an hour before there is another, the 1.16 which if late even a few minutes makes it impossible to reach most of the theatres until after the performance begins.

There is no doubt but what a train at 12.50 would be well patronized as it would permit of a noon lunch at home and also ample time in Boston to get to the various places of amusement without undue hurrying. It is to be hoped the ladies and the Board of Trade will be able to convince the railroad officials that the train at 12.50 is a necessity.

THE MARVEL OF THE DAWN.

To some people it is one of the pleasures of December, that it gives the chance to see the eternal and ever new and mystic beauty of the sunrise.

Do you ever hear one say anything about seeing the sunrise nowadays? Prospectuses of popular resorts mention the sunsets. The poets sing about sunsets. But if you want to find any sunrise poetry, you must go back several generations. No person can any longer keep step with the social life of his neighbors, if he makes it a practise to see the dawn except in December.

Yet if one had never seen a sunrise its beauty would be classed with the world's Niagaras and its Alps. There is then a radiance that appears only occasionally at sunset. The hours of night have permitted diffusion of moisture, every little particle of which is a rainbow.

Newspaper paper usually know something about the sunrise. Most of them have had their periods of night work. These hours involve some separation from the habits of their fellow citizens. They work while others play, sleep while others wake.

Wearily they plod home in the early dawn. It often seems cheerless enough. If they work and live among high buildings, there may be but a reflected glory over the chimney tops. Yet to a great many, the silent, solitary, morning tramp homeward has often been solaced by the glory of the East.

The sunset has the melancholy of any diminuendo. Not merely do the prismatic colors fade, but there is an ever growing sense of isolation, loneliness, separation. The great Life-Giver has gone. At the dawn all is reversed. There is the sense of growing power and comfort. The brightness of the rising may fade, but in its place there grows ever more confident the clear white sustaining force of the daylight.

☞White wrapping paper for doing up your Christmas gifts can be obtained at the Ledger-Patriot office for 20 cents a dozen sheets or by the single sheet at 2 cents per sheet.

☞"Only Jones" is the name of the short serial story now running in the Christmas Ledgers. Quincy has a "Jones" and he is the only one in the men's furnishing business in our city but he is not the subject of this clever little story. Read about the other "Jones."

NEW PRESIDENT OF BUFFALOES

Charles H. Finn Elected--Installation January 1

At the regular meeting of Quincy herd No. 1, Benevolent Order of Buffalo in Hibernian hall Thursday evening one candidate was initiated and two aplications were received. The committee having in charge the annual dance reported a large advance sale of tickets and all arrangements for same were completed.

The election of officers for the ensuing term resulted as follows:

Past President—Albert J. Williams.
President—Charles H. Finn.
Vice President—John J. Byron.
Chaplain—Hiram Thayer.
Recording Secretary—John J. Kingdom.
Financial Secretary—Herbert Seldon.
Treasurer—Albion I. Dixon.
Marshal—Joseph Griffin.
Inside Guard—Charles H. Hersey.
Outside Guard—Thomas Cotter.
Physicians—Dr. John H. Ash and Dr. John T. Reynolds.
Trustees—Sydney Greenwood, Chas. P. Russell and L. P. Barnes.
Delegates to Supreme convention—Dr. John H. Ash, Michael Lyons and George Davey.

The newly elected officers will be installed at the regular meeting Jan. 1. After the regular business was concluded a social hour was enjoyed during which whist was played and refreshments were served.

The entertainment committee of the herd are planning several social events for the winter prominent among which will be a Ladies Night sometime in February.

SCANDIA LODGE ELECTS OFFICERS

Scandia lodge, Order of Vasa, held an election of officers in Protection hall Thursday evening. The officers will be installed on New Year's evening by Deputy Mrs. Eva Holmberg of Brockton, accompanied by a suite of 15. An entertainment and supper will be part of the evening's program. One application was received and three members admitted. They will be initiated at the installation meeting. The officers chosen were:

President—Carl Bonwien.
Vice President—Carl Andre.
Secretary—Bernard Ericson.
Vice Secretary—Alma Forsman.
Financial Secretary—William Anderson.
Treasurer—Bernard Johnson.
Chaplain—Hilda Johnson.
Master of Ceremonies—Elvira Carlberg.
Vice Master of Ceremonies—Anna Johnson.
Inside Guard—John Larson.
Outside Guard—Olaf Hanson.
Trustee—John Thoren.
Physician—Dr. Hjalmar Ahlstrom.

ANOTHER BREAK AT BRAINTREE

The waiting room of C. L. Smith, near the Braintree depot, was entered by burglars some time during Thursday night. The parties gained entrance by breaking the glass in a rear door. This allowed a hand to be passed through so that the spring catch could be turned. Once inside, the parties rummaged about at will. The cash drawer in which a small amount of money had been left to make change with in the morning, was opened and the cash taken. The parties also carried off a box of 100 cigars. This is all that has been missed The value of the cigars and cash amounted to about $15. This is the third break in this immediate vicinity within a few weeks.

COLDEST DAY OF THE SEASON

The temperature at noon today reached the lowest point thus far the present winter. Today at noon the glass registered 31 degrees which is five degrees lower than it has been before this winter. The lowest noon temperature reached in December a year ago was 25 degrees which was on Dec. 9. A year ago today at noon the temperature was 44 degrees. At sunrise today the mercury was at 18.

WOULD BE DETECTIVES ARE ROUNDED UP

They Were the Gang Who Held up Shu Goon, the Quincy Point Laundryman

Have a Few Points to Learn From Inspector Goodhue

Late Thursday afternoon Inspectors Rooney and McCauley of the Boston police acting with Inspector Goodhue of the Quincy police trailed John H. Rose, aged 29 years, a native of the Hawaiian Islands living at the Mariners' Home, and John Smith, aged 23 years, of Finland, also a lodger at the Mariners' Home, the two men met three others, two of whom, John Olson, aged 24 years, a Dane and Joseph Powers, aged 17 years, both of whom claim to have been staying at 193 Sumner street, East Boston, as the parties concerned in the sensational hold-up of Shu Goon, the Quincy Point Chinese laundryman, Tuesday night. The five were crowded into a shop on Commercial street, up against a wall where a rigid search was made for weapons.

According to the police story, Olson confessed first to being one of the parties, and the other three immediately followed. The fifth man was allowed to go. According to their story, they were amateur detectives, and were only practicing, when they entered the Chinaman's shop and handcuffed him, and that their main object was to search for opium.

In the possession of the young men were found a large quanity of examination papers issued by a western detective agency, who one of the men said, promised to employ them when they became proficient enough to pass the examination. One of the party had a pair of old fashioned handcuffs in his possession which the police promptly locked upon his own wrists.

According to the story told by the four young men, they are not robbers and did not enter Goon's shop with the intention of robbing him. They formerly worked on a dredger at Vineyard Haven, and while there saw the advertisement of the dedective agency. They were informed that they could become real detectives upon passing a certain examination, and would be equipped with badges. In order to get this outfit however it became necessary to make a stipulated payment which they did. They then began to make diligent study, but tiring of the theoretical end of the business they determined to go out and do something practical. This brought them to Quincy.

They selected the laundry of Goon and boldly entered, and pointing a revolver at the Chinaman demanded to know where his opium was. They started to handcuff the Chinaman before he could answer their questions. A scuffle ensued during which Goon jumped out through a window and made his escape. The would-be detectives then became frightened and fled.

So securely had they fastened the handcuffs about one wrist of the Chinaman that Inspector Goodhue had to use up three files before they could be gotten off, in the meantime a tourniquet was applied to Goon's arm by Dr. Bushnell to prevent the man from bleeding to death from an artery which had been severed when he jumped through the window.

Inspector Goodhue who had been assigned to the case, communicated with police headquarters, Boston, and a careful search was made at various places to learn if any handcuffs had been sold. They learned from one concern that some had been sold last week, and obtaining a description of the parties the officers started out to search for them. The first men they met were Rose and Smith, and they were trailed about the city in hopes that they would meet some of their companions, and in this manner the officers would be able to get the other men.

Late in the afternoon, the work of the Inspector was rewarded, when Rose and Smith met three others of the gang, and as noted above all five were crowded into a shop and later arrested. As it was proved to the satisfaction of the officers that the fifth man was not concerned in the Quincy affair he was allowed to depart.

On being searched a quantity of detective literature was found including a book of 53 pages containing questions relative to shadowing people, clews, etc. Another of the men had sets of finger impressions to study. This was known as lesson No. 7.

In reply to questions they said they did not intend to rob Goon but thought that if they secured some opium there it would qualify them as real detectives without further study. Rose also told the officers that he formerly worked at the Fore River plant in Quincy, and in this manner had been shadowing Goon. They all said that they were seafaring men.

At police headquarters Boston the four were given an actual test of taking finger prints, and the measurement of criminals, after which they were turned over to Inspector Goodhue and taken to Quincy, where they were locked up for the night.

This morning they were lined up before Judge Avery at the District court and given another opportunity to explain why they held up an inoffensive Chinaman.

While the Boston inspectors and Inspector Goodhue had the five men in the corner of a sail loft on Commercial street, Capt. Mackay of the Quincy police, who was in that vicinity on other business, came upon the party and assisted the inspectors in taking the five men to police headquarters, and this morning in court swore out the complaints against two of the four who were held.

Although the four men admitted that they were present at the laundry when the Chinaman was held up, the police believe there were but three men concerned in the affair. They all pleaded not guilty when arraigned in court and their cases went over until Dec. 27 for a hearing.

While in court Shu Goon, the Chinaman, aws given an opportunity to look them over and he positively identified them as the parties who had held him up.

It is understood that after the cases in the Quincy court are disposed of that Federal officers will take a hand in the matter and arrest them for impersonating Federal officers, as it is claimed the men told the Chinamen they were United States detectives searching for opium.

The Most Loved of All Presents

OUR STOCK
In W. W. W. Solid Gold Fine Stone Rings and 14k and 10k

Solid Gold Pendants

is without any doubt the largest of any Store within near reach and prices are proven to be lower than any Boston store.

The W. W. W. Solid Gold Rings carry the strongest possible guarantee, as the manufacturers will replace any Genuine Stone (except Diamonds), if they should for any reason fall out of the setting, FREE OF CHARGE.

Big Stock on hand of Fine Solid Gold and Gold-Filled Bracelets, Lockets, Pins, Brooches, Cuff Links and Bar Pins, in a well-selected variety.

Only a few days to Xmas. Select your Goods NOW---with the Store that IS doing the big Christmas business.

SANDBERG BROS.
Jewelers
1281 Hancock St., Quincy

HYDE PARK'S BIG MISTAKE

Taxes Are Higher Although Tax Rate is Lower

Revere is agitating a city charter or annexation to Boston, and is seeking light from outside. L. P. Winchenbaugh of Hyde Park, recently Progressive candidate for Senator in the Quincy district addressed the voters of Revere, Wednesday evening, and as Hyde Park was annexed to Boston in 1911, his views are of interest not only to Revere but to Quincy.

One of the interesting points made by Mr. Winchenbaugh was that Hyde Park taxpayers are now paying more in taxes in spite of the lower tax rate as part of Boston than they did under the Town Government. The speaker said, if the town of Hyde Park had chosen to raise the property valuations as the city officials have done, nd dispense with public improvements they were then making and which Boston officials have cut off, the town might have had a tax rate of $12.

"Boston has no more interest in Hyde Park today than if we were a part of China," said Mr. Winchenbaugh. "West Roxbury has prospered in spite of annexation and not because of it. The people there would vote to divorce the arrangements if they could. Mayor Fitzgerald told the people of the district, it must pay its own expenses. In carrying out this policy the valuations of property have been raised to a point one-half more than property can be sold for. Many people thought property could be sold to better advantage if we were annexed, but it has not proved true. Public spirit in Hyde Park is dead today. The Mayors so-called town meetings do not attract 75 voters.

"We have received a reduction in water charges and an increase in police protection, but the latter we have to pay for. Our schools are no more efficient, and they are costing much more. The fundamental trouble is, that a government suited to the congested Metropolitan District does not adapt itself to suburban conditions. The Mayor and his subordinates admit that it costs the city double the amount to do the same things which Hyde Park did as a separate town.

"There is a feeling which expresses itself this way: 'We are tired of fighting the problems of government: let Boston do it.' This is an argument which is unworthy of Americon citizens. If there could be a vote in Hyde Park today it would be two to one against the step that was taken."

The speaker spoke in favor of the town form of government, but in answer to questions said the city charter was preferable to annexation for Revere.

☞At Remicks will be found useful gifts for everybody. Raincoats, sweaters, umbrellas, slippers, hosiery gloves, etc. Open every evening until Christmas.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

FOR NERVOUSNESS

Nervousness comes from nerve exhaustion, an unhealthy condition of the nerves of some part of the body, usually caused by lack of nerve nourishment. If you are nervous, you need a nerve food—something to tone and strengthen your nerves. Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion is the ideal nerve-food tonic, a real medicine for the nerves, a real builder of strength and health for the blood and every part of the system. It is not a stimulant. It contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs, as many so-called "tonics" do that stimulate your heart and muscles for a short time after taking, only to leave you weaker and worse off than before. It is a real medicine, containing ingredients necessary to overcome your weakness and nervousness, and give new strength and life and health to every part. It may not make you feel better the first day, because the nerve and tissue foods it contains need time to get into the blood before the good work of upbuilding can begin. But it will make you feel better and less nervous before you have taken anywhere near as much of it as you have of other things that did you nothing but harm. If it does not—if it fails to satisfy you in every way, we want you to tell us so and get your money back.

You who are weak and run-down, and you who are apparently well now, but are liable to suffer from various cold weather ailments, use Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion to get and keep well and strong. For the tired-out, run-down, nervous, emaciated or debilitated—the convalescing—growing children—aged people—it is a sensible aid to renewed strength, better spirits, glowing health.

Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion—king of the celebrated Rexall Remedies—is for freedom from sickness of you and your family. Pleasant-tasting—unlike the cod liver oil preparations—you'll be as enthusiastic about it as we are when you have noted its strengthening, invigorating, building-up, disease-preventing effects. If it does not help you, your money will be given back to you without argument. Sold in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store—one of more than 7,000 leading drug stores in the United States, Canada and Great Britain

—Edward J. Murphy, 1415 Hancock cor. Granite Streets, Quincy, Mass. "The Rexal Store."

Capital $150,000 Surplus $200,000

If It's Strong Enough For The State It's Strong Enough For You!

This bank is a legal depository for funds of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. It is a strong and substantial institution. It is managed with the best interests of its depositors in mind. It is safe-guarded by both state and federal regulation. Its officers and directors are men known to you as successful and level-headed. It is a good place for you to bank.

Our $5 Box is Larger Than a $10 Box in Boston.

GRANITE TRUST CO.
FOUNDED 1836

1876-1913

WE HAVE OFFERED FOR YOUR INSPECTION AND SELECTION EACH YEAR RELIABLE GOODS, AND WE SUGGEST YOU LOOK OVER OUR LINE OF

Watches, Cut Glass, Silver Ware, Jewelry, Clocks, Etc.

TO AID YOU IN YOUR CHRISTMAS SHOPPING WE INVITE YOUR INSPECTION OF OUR STOCK.

C. F. PETTENGILL
1391 Hancock Street Near Granite Street
TELEPHONE QUINCY 466-M Dec.13,10t

Christmas Gifts
FOR ALL PURSES

CANDIES
Page & Shaws
Foss' Premier and Quality
Lowney's Bells
10c to $12

CIGARS IN BOXES
Wait & Bond 7-20-4
Quincy Ginita
Blenheim and Private Stock

PERFUMES AND TOILET WATERS
Colgates, Roger & Gallet, 25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00

HEARN'S PHARMACY
FAXON BLOCK CITY SQUARE
Dec 15—L 6t

FOR A
Christmas Present
NOTHING COULD BE BETTER THAN
A QUINCY HISTORY

EACH YEAR THE HISTORY OF
OLD BRAINTREE AND QUINCY
WRITTEN BY
W. S. PATTEE, M. D.
AND PUBLISHED IN 1878
GROWS MORE VALUABLE, AS IT CONTAINS HISTORICAL DATA ABOUT QUINCY THAT CANNOT BE OBTAINED ELSEWHERE

$3.50 PER COPY

FOR SALE BY
GEO. W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
1424 HANCOCK STREET
QUINCY

AMUSEMENTS

DOINGS ON THE STAGE IN

BOSTON AND VICINITY

BOSTON OPERA HOUSE.

The programs for Friday and Saturday of the current week at the Boston Opera House have been re-arranged in order to include the return appearance of Anna Pavlova and her company demanded by their success last October. The bill Friday night, Dec. 19 is "La Traviata," with Mme. Tetrazzini and the same cast that was announced for Saturday afternoon. Saturday matinee "I Pagliacci," with Alice Neilsen, Edeardo Ferrari Fontana and Mario Ancona in the cast. The second part of the program will consist of a ballet and a number of divertissements by Pavlova and her associates. In the evening, "Cavalleria Rusticana" will be given, with Elizabeth Amsden and the same cast previously announced; followed by the Russian ballet.

The fifth week of the opera season will co-incide with the Christmas holidays; and it is to be celebrated by a series of performances that will take their fitting place in the festivities of the week. Monday evening "La Tosca," will be repeated with Louise Edvina in the title role. Wednesday night appearance of Mme. Tetrazzini in the brilliant role of Lucia in "Lucia di Lammermoor." "Samson et Dalila", will be repeated Friday night, and is certain to be a notable event, as the same cast will be heard who sang it at its initial presentation of the season. At the Saturday matinee, "Haensel and Gretel" will be presented for the first time this year. This opera is particularly appropriate for the holiday season, when even the children of middle age are kindly disposed to fairies and witches and their fantastic doings. Saturday evening "Il Trovatore" will be presented.

PLYMOUTH THEATRE.

"Under Cover," a drama that is based upon the activities of the United States Secret Service in the detection of smugglers of the class the former President Theodore Roosevelt would call "Malefactors of great wealth," will be the attraction at the Plymouth Theatre beginning Christmas Day matinee. This play is produced by Selwyn and Company, who saw the great dramatic value of "Within the Law," the most successful theatrical offering of the century. In "Under Cover" they believe they have found another drama that will appeal and they have selected a company of players that is unusually strong in ability and reputation. While not a "crime" play in the sense that that term has been applied to dramas of recent years, a crime is involved and in the solution of the mystery of the smuggling into the United States of a diamond necklace of great value the author, Lawrence Haile, has written a story of suspense, mystery and sustained interest that does not find its solution until the last moments. It is a play that will hold the interest and grip the heart while many lines of clever wit and humor abound in the dialogue.

MAJESTIC THEATRE.

So successful has been the engagement of Arnold Bennett's rich comedy, "The Great Adventure," at the Majestic Theatre that the stay has been extended another week. The play is a dramatization by Arnold Bennett of his novel, "Buried Alive." Its scenes show various phases in the altogether remarkable career of Ilam Carve, the celebrated painter, whose unconquerable shyness leads him to permit his valet to be buried as himself in Westminster Abbey and goes to live quietly in a suburb as the husband of Janet Cannot, with whom the valet has been in correspondence through a matrimonial agency. The novelty of such an incident is amusing and leads to many humorous situations. Janet Beecher appears as Mrs. Cannot and Lyn Harding as Ilam Carve. The production came to Boston direct from Mr. Ames' Booth Theatre in New York, where it enjoyed a phenomenally successful run of nearly three months, and Boston has been favored with the original New York cast and production. As a satire with its shafts of wit directed at the well known British habit of ignoring her illustrious sons until they are dead—or supposed to be—and then making up for all sins of omission by burying thew with all honors at Westminster Abbey, "The Great Adventure" has all the charm of the most brilliant of a Bernard Shaw comedy.

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE.

In the new musical comedy success "The Marriage Market" in which Charles Frohman is starring handsome and graceful Donald Brian, and which comes here direct from the successful run at the Knickerbocker Theatre, will be found one of the biggest and popular musical organizations extant. Quit a wedding of talents were necessary to produce this latest of international musical successes. In its original Hungarian version the book and lyrics were written by Messrs. M. Brody and F. Martes; and the music was composed by Victor Jacobi, a man whose tunes were unknown before the presentation of "The Marriage Market" but who now bears the distinction of being one of the few composers whose melodies are whistled on the streets and played throughout the country. Despite its foreign authorship, the locale of this musical success is laid in California, where a gentleman disguised as a cowpuncher" weds the daughter of a senator at a "marriage market"—an old Spanish custom in which native girls are auctioned off in fun to the highest bidders among the ranchmen. In this case, however, the marriage proves ot be a real one, and the bride in earning this pleads for her freedom. It is granted, and for the remainder of the play the audience is kept in suspense as to whether the newly wedded couple who seem to be ideally mated will live happy ever after or not. Here indeed is a novel plot, that is only interrupted by the very charming music of Victor Jacobi, and the wonderful dances of Mr. Brian and the other artists.

Mr. Frohman has given "The Marriage Market" a really stunning production, and the costuming is a delight to the eye. The entertainment as a whole is the most lavish of all the Frohman musical comedy successes. Matinees will be given Wednesday and Saturday and special Christmas matinee.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

Tuesday evening, Mr. Craig will begin at the Castle Square his sixth annual Christmas festival season. He has chosen as this year's attraction the famous musical play, "Miss Pocahontas," originally presented by the Cadets, and it will be staged with effective costuming and elaborate scenery. The authors of "Miss Pocahontas" are R. A. Barnet (who wrote the libretto of "Jack and the Beanstalk,") and Robert M. Baker, and its music is the work of Daniel J. Sullivan. Its theme is taken from one of the most romantic episodes of early American history, and as usual in musical plays plenty of liberty is taken with actual events and actual people. From this playing with history arises no small amount of the humor of the production. The scenes of "Miss Pocahontas" are placed in Jamestown, Virginia, in the early days of the settlement of this country, and its characters include (in addition to the beautiful Indian maiden who once saved the life of Captain John Smith,) her father Powhatan, John Rolfe and John Smith himself. The play pursues its way merrily, interspersed with music and specialties, and filled with a lively humor, and it promises to offer a picturesque Christmas entertainment on the Castle Square stage. It is specially adapted to the entertainment of children, many of whom will have the opportunity to see it during the school vacation period. The cast of "Miss Pocahontas" will include Miss Doris Olsson as Pocahontas, William P. Carleton as Captain John Smith, and the entire John Craig company, supplemented by a chorus of some forty singers in the other roles. The theatre will be closed Monday for final rehearsals, the first performance being given on Tuesday evening, December 23rd.

A Merry Xmas to all.

When buying Pianos or Musical Instruments see

JOHNSEN

6 Chestnut Street, Quincy

Pianos from $10 up

120 Songs with Piano Acc. for 10 cents

Dec. 8 12t

Great Bargains

Shoes and Rubbers

Selling about Half Price

4 Buckle Arctics $1.98

One Buckle Arctics 98c

At MAX LEVY'S

Cor Washington and Temple Streets

Dec. 15-6

ALL DEFENDANTS DISCHARGED

After a trial lasting two days in which a large number of witnesses were heard, which required the services of Hebrew and Russian interpreters, Judge Avery dismissed the complaints against Justin Kepock, Harry Orkin, Rebecca Finkelman and Martin Pininsky. These are the assault cases which grew out of the raid on the premises of Rebecca Finkelman some days ago. The case was a very complicated one.

FUNERAL OF MRS. COE.

Rev. James A. Matheson of the First Presbyterian church officiated at the funeral services of Mrs. Christine H. Coe, wife of John J. Coe, which were held Thursday afternoon at the home of her father, Robert Maver, 23 Bennington street. He was assisted by Rev. Dr. James Todd of South Boston, a former pastor of the Quincy church. Among those who attended were members of the Loyal Ladies of Clan McGregor O. S. C. The floral remembrances were many. Burial was in Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS? ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

PRES. SCHWAB INTERVIEWED

Says Business in Iron and Steel Is Very Dull

Charles M. Schwab, president of the Bethlehem Steel Company and also of the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation, journeyed all the way from Pennsylvania on Thursday to meet the members of the New England Iron League at their annual dinner at the Copley-Plaza.

After the banquet was over, Mr. Schwab consented to talk a half hour with reporters in the brilliantly appointed tea room of the hotel. Regarding general business he said:

"I am pessimistic and, for the first time in 20 years, I have good reason to be. Business in iron and steel is very bad, and I don't think it is going to improve right away."

Of the Fore River Ship building plant at Quincy which the Bethlehem company obtained recently, he said:

"Since buying the Fore River plant we are making it the most modern in the world. It is going to be the best that money can make it. Ship building has not been profitable in the past but we are going to make it just as profitable as it is possible to do."

The tariff received attention in this manner:

"It is unfortunate that steel and iron from England and Belgium are being brought into this country. The tariff is largely responsible for this state of affairs, and the real reason that business is bad is that we cannot ship our goods into those countries while they can send all they want to us.

"Because of this the labor situation must be affected. Over there the laborers only receive one-third the average wage we pay, yet we are expected to compete with them in our own country on an even basis. Our only recourse is to reduce the cost, and any one who knows realizes that the only way to reduce the cost is to reduce the cost of labor. That is the only solution."

"Then you mean that radical changes must necessarily take place in the labor circles of your industry?" was asked.

"Oh, I never make predictions like that. I can't really tell you what we will do. But it is plain that with the tariff against us we must do something."

EAST BRAINTREE.

Freeman Thayer formerly of East Braintree, made several calls on Hayward street this week among his friends, and seemed to be in first class health.

Mr. and Mrs. William Foster of Quincy avenue are receiving many congratulations on the birth of a son. Miss Sadie Rudderham has been confined to her home on Hayward street with a severe cold the past week, but is expected to be out again the first of next week.

William McCarty who lived with his sister Mrs. Franklin Whitten of Bellevue road, before he enlisted with the marines, has arrived at Pensacold where he expects to stay for some time.

Jacob Clay of Bowditch street who has been very ill for the past month is much better and will be in good condition to enjoy his Christmas dinner.

Miss Ada Reed who has been with her cousin Mrs. Thomas Haynes of Hayward street all summer returned to her home in Needham this week, where she will spend the winter.

Much excitement was caused and many ladies wet their feet when a water main burst in front of George R. Dobson's home on Hayward street Tuesday morning.

Charles O. Miller of Liberty street has purchased the ten acres of land on Penns hill, recently owned by the late Amos W. Stetson.

Mrs. Elizabeth Broadford of Hayward street fell down a flight of stairs at her home, landing on her side and breaking two ribs. Mrs. Broadford was very much shaken up but her friends are glad to learn that she is speedily recovering.

Mrs. William Gutterson of Bellevue road entertained Mrs. James Trainor, Mrs. Margaret Bicknell, Mrs. William McCarthy Mrs. Mally Philips and Mrs. Franklin P. Whitton Wednesday afternoon. Luncheon was served and a very pleasant afternoon enjoyed by all.

Christmas programs of the churches will appear in the Daily Ledger tomorrow.

☞PRATT'S BREAD—the staff of life for you and your wife. Get a loaf today.

"Only Jones"

A Day-Before-Christmas Story in Three Parts by Henry Kitchell Webster, Samuel E. Kiser and Wilbur D. Nesbit

Copyright by W. G. Chapman

(Continued from last issue)

Part Three

Jabez had often thought of running for congress. He wasn't thinking of it now, but force of habit is strong. "The law," he observed with satisfaction, as he eyed the dwindling red light of the automobile, "the law has got to come down just as hard on the just as on the unjust. That's what democracy means and it's according to the Bible, too."

Ursula, with something between a shiver and a shrug, began picking up the packages at her feet.

"Never mind about them," said Jabez. "I'll get a cab in a minute."

"We'll take the street car, if you please," said Miss Allen. If her voice was as cold as that, no wonder she shivered. She seemed to try to thaw it out a little as she went on. "They run right near Miss Bigg's house—and there's one coming now. Oh, no, these things aren't heavy. I'm leaving the goose for you." She was already crossing the street. Jabez and the goose followed reluctantly.

The car was slowing down for them. "We'd better take a cab after all," pleaded Jabez. "This seems pretty public."

She looked at him in cold surprise. "That's exactly what it is," she answered, and the conductor helped her up the step.

They were hardly seated when a man in a tan overcoat leaned across the aisle and tapped our hero confidentially on the knee. "Isn't your name Jabez McAdam?" he asked.

"You've made a mistake this time," said Jabez over his shoulder. "You need another guess."

"I've got it coming," said the other, darkly, and he walked to the forward platform, which was crowded with smokers.

Jabez looked remorsefully after him and uncertainly at Miss Allen. She looked serenely out of the opposite window of the car.

"You certainly can't be evading the clutches of the law?" said Miss Allen. There was a mischievous twinkle in her eyes and the corners of her mouth twitched, but McAdam saw nothing of all that, and his look and attitude showed that he was feeling far from comfortable.

"Why, it's nothing," said Jabez. "A pack of busybodies want to muddle in my private affairs. And you wouldn't believe the way they've hounded me. I have to dodge a constable on every street corner. They've made it impossible for me to tend to neccssary business. But I had to come in to see you. Miss Allen—er—can you see what that fellow is doing on the front platform?"

"He seems to be talking to a friend of his," said Ursula "—and now the other man is looking in through the window."

"At me?" demanded Jabez.

Ursula glanced over his shoulder and pursed her lips judicially. "I think so," she said.

Jabez turned to look, then thought he wouldn't.

"And now," continued Ursula, "they're coming back into the car."

"Good-bye," yelled Jabez. The door stuck, as car doors will. When the man in the tan overcoat got it open, Jabez was gone. Looking eagerly out of the window Ursula thought she saw a man scuttling like a scared cat up a dark little cross street; she thought she saw him take a header over an ash barrel half submerged in an old snow bank, but she could not be sure.

Then she turned back and began gathering up what she could find of Mrs. Biggs' Christmas dinner. She was so busy at this and so intent on ignoring the thirty-two pairs of eyes which were trying to bore holes in her, that she was unaware that the conductor had come in and was standing over her.

"Fare, please," he said, coldly "And," he added, "if that gent that just skipped out was wid you, you kin pay for him, too."

Ursula began tumbling over the things in her lap. "I'm"—in a sort of gasp—"I'm afraid," she said, "that I must have left my purse in the automobile."

The conductor was not an amiable man. "It makes no odds to the comp'ny where you left it," he began. "Ten cents, please, now." But at this moment a man who had been riding on the front platform with a turkey came back into the car. "Here's your ten cents," he said, and sat in the vacant place beside Miss Allen.

"I was taking this bird out to Mrs. Callahan's," he observed in his prosaic way as he tucked it between his feet. "I'm glad I happened to be on the same car."

It was Jones.

"I'm glad, too," said Ursula.

Not another word was spoken by either for some time, but a sense of security settled on the girl, and as for Jones, feeling that he was the right man at the right time, he settled back comfortably in the seat and mentally patted himself on the back, complacent and happy.

We now return to the man who fell over the ash barrel. McAdam, for it was indeed he, was not hurt, for the barrel was covered with a heap of last week's snow, shoveled up there from the street. He quickly decided that, for the moment, he was safest where he was. He crouched down in the snow behind the barrel "with listening ear," as Shakespeare says, waiting for the chase to go by. Two, three, five minutes passed and nothing of the sort happened. Only the snow, in which he nestled, slowly melted around him, became, in fact, uncomfortably slushy. Perhaps the pursuit was abandoned, or perhaps there was some trick about this apparent inactivity. He would try to find out.

Cautiously he lifted his head and looked down the street. Nothing to be seen at first but the crowd hurrying along the well-lighted avenue where the cars ran. But when he looked again he had the doubtful satisfaction of seeing two dim figures—one unmistakably in a tan overcoat—lounging in an entry near the corner. They didn't seem to mind waiting. Indeed, their attitude said plainly as words, "We've got him. He must come out this way and then we'll nail him." Meanwhile, sheltered from the weather, they just chatted and waited and watched.

"ISN'T YOUR NAME JABEZ McADAM?," HE ASKED

McAdam sagaciously reflected that if they remained so cheerfully at this end of the street it must be because they knew there was no way for him to get out the other. Perhaps they would give him up eventually, but in the meantime— How warm and dry Delancey and Rev. Arthur must be in the comfortable police station!

Suddenly he straightened up. "Shucks!" he murmured, "it's Christmas eve. They'll be glad of a little peace and good will on their own account. I'll put it strong. Say two hundred apiece." He reached back to his hip pocket, where his joy-dispenser, still obese, unimpaired by the stray leaves which had fluttered from it that evening, should have reposed. You know what had become of it. McAdam, happily for him, did not. He paddled around in the snow in search of it, then gave it up and collected from his various pockets his total cash resources. They came to two dollars and fifty-five cents. Would the constables accept his promise to pay? He was inclined to think not.

He uttered a sigh of despair, for without that friendly bulge in his hippocket he felt forsaken indeed, when his eye chanced on a lighted window across the street. "J. Schoenhoeven," was printed on it, "wigs and costumes." And then his eye lighted with hope. "Saved!" he murmured.

Snatching his chance when a fire engine went tearing down the avenue—on its way, no doubt, to some premature Santa Claus afire in a Christmas tree—he dashed across the street, up the stairs, into the shop.

"I'm going to a party tonight," he said to the young man in charge. "I want to wear something neat and handsome that—that'll keep my friends from knowing me."

Ordinarily, McAdam had only to appear to command respect, but falling over an ash barrel, staving in his hat, and lying for half an hour in the street had made him a good deal less impressive. At least it did not overpower the clerk.

"About what price?" he asked, coldly.

Jabez looked a bit sick at that.

(Continued on Page Four.)

VERY ACCEPTABLE GIFTS

Just Arrived! Several New Styles and All of Them Beauties

PORTABLE GAS LAMPS

AND HALL LANTERNS

ALSO

"IWANTU" GAS IRONS

IN FANCY HOLLY BOXES

HEATS IN FOUR MINUTES. STAYS HOT ALL THE TIME. TEN HOURS IRONING FOR FOUR CENTS.

☞ Have you investigated the Reznor Gas Heating Stoves? Everything from the handy little portable to the superb fireplace heater.

CITIZENS' GAS LIGHT CO.

Granite Street Near City Squrae

Dec. 15 9t

One Trip to Williams' will solve half of your Christmas Gift problems!

Bracelets	Table and Toilet Silver
Diamonds	Parisian Ivory
Watches	China and Cut Glass
Gifts in Gold and Silver	Fountain Pens
Christmas Novelties	Clocks
Useful Articles for Men	Leather Goods
Pearls	Umbrellas
Necklaces	Smokers' Articles

All gathered together in one big store, all on one floor.

Plenty of clerks to serve you.

Plan to come tomorrow with your shopping list. It will pay you.

WILLIAMS' JEWELRY STORE

1473 Hancock Street, Quincy

Beginning Thursday our Store is Open Every Evening

Dec. 16-6t

Do It NOW!

Tomorrow Is Not Coming

The time to begin reading the advertising in this newspaper is NOW.

It never was more interesting than it is today. It is not likely to be more profitable to you than it will be this very minute.

The good things you miss today will be dead opportunities tomorrow.

Success comes to the "Do-it-now men" —not to the "wait-awhiles."

Today's advertising is live news written by keen witted, bright eyed men and women for the benefit of clever people.

Begin reading the advertising today and when you begin to see the doors it opens to you, you will be the first to thank us for jogging you up.

Do it NOW.

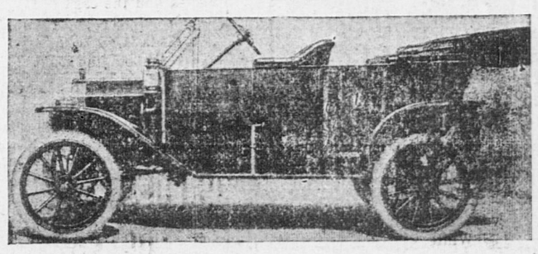
Tomorrow? There is no such day. They have taken it off the calendar.



THE QUINCY GARAGE, 87 Adams Street, Quincy

Agent for FORD and CASE CARS

A full Line of Supplies always on hand

Michelin Tires in stock

Now Ready for Delivery the 1914 Ford Car, $550 for 5 Passenger, $500 for Runabout, $750 for Town Car F. O. B. Detroit.

For Particulars or Demonstration call Quincy 435

Night or Day never closed. C. P. GOULD, Prop.

Dec. 12-lo-tf

Quincy Daily Ledger

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity. Saturday fair and Sunday probably fair.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	7.10
Sun sets	4.14
Length of day	9.04
Moon rises	12.21
High water, A. M.	5.15
High water, P. M.	5.45
Days decrease 6 hours,	13 minutes
Full Moon, Dec. 18,	10.00 A. M.
Last Quarter, Dec. 20	11.16 A. M.
New Moon, Dec. 27	9.59 A. M.
First Quarter, Dec. 5,	9.59 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today	46 degrees
Dec. 16 1912,	44 degrees
Dec. 16, 1911,	41 degrees

Dec. Noon Maximum 14 years—67
Dec. Noon Minimum, 14 years—2

NEWS ITEMS FROM MILTON

John Warren, a motorman employed by the Bay State Street Railway died while operating a car bound for East Milton at 7.03 Tuesday morning. Conductor Doherty ran the car to the transfer station where the body was viewed by the medical examiner. He said death was due to heart disease. The body was sent to Maine Tuesday night for burial. The car had one passenger aboard when the motorman expired.

Mrs. William S. Flynn and Ralph Fobes are at Ardmore, Penn., for the winter.

The Christmas vacation has been extended to two weeks by the School Committee. The fall term closes Friday and the winter term opens, Jan. 5.

A Christmas musicale, including selections from the Messiah was given by the Athletic association of the Milton High school in the assembly hall Thursday afternoon. All available space was taken up by the large crowd that attended. The soloists were Mrs. Charlotte Williams Hill, soprano; Willard Flint, bass and Miss Harriett Whittier, contralto. The closing number was Hallelujah chorus of 150 voices. The affair was the first of its kind ever attempted at the school and the proceeds were large.

Christmas Day will be observed at the Church of Our Saviour by a communion service and sermon at 8 A. M. by Rev. H. Boyd Edwards, rector, and a service at 10.30 which will be conducted by T. W. Attridge, lay reader. The services on the following Sunday will be the same. A Christmas tree will be held in the Guild room on Monday evening. On Christmas night the children of the Church of Our Savior and of St. Margaret's Church will jointly celebrate at the latter church.

An enjoyable dancing party was given in the Town Hall the evening of Dec. 13 by the Anti-Suffrage Club.

Mrs. C. M. Parry of 7 Warner road is back from Norwalk, Conn., where her mother Mrs. Fred Mead passed away last week.

The Acenda Club of the East Milton Baptist church held a Christmas sale of fancy articles in the vestry this week. A large sum was netted.

☞PRATT'S BREAD is best because more care is used in the making. Grocers.

HUB-MARK RUBBERS

See that the Hub-Mark is on the rubber before you buy. It is your insurance of Standard First Quality RubberFootwear for every purpose

SOLD BY

A. HALL
A. NELSON
B. FRITZ & SON
PAYSON-MITCHELL CO.
Oct. 17-20t

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1891 Hancock street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point
Tel. Quincy,Mass. 1159 M Nov 3-tf

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED
Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

ACTIVITIES AT Y. M. C. A.

Sports, State Meets, Boys' Meetings and Banquets

Two good basket ball games are expected Saturday evening, the first team meeting the Boston Wanderers and the second team endeavoring to take a fall out of their old rivals, the Tilton A. C. of Winthrop.

Preparations for the swimming campaign which begins next Monday are nearing completion, and it is expected that several hundred boys will avail themselves of the opportunity to learn how to swim and to receive instruction in the resuscitation of drowning persons.

During the month of December the Juniors have had weekly competition in bowling and the leaders to date are Nelson, Moore, Wester and McMillan. Nelson has the high single with a 93.

The Senior pool tournament which was started last week is in progress and there are six survivors to date, Brooks, England, Djerf, Flanders, McFarlane and Hallowell.

The eighth annual Boys State meet will be held on Saturday December 27. Mr. LaRose is expecting a larger entry list than ever before and Quincy will put forth every effort to win back her laurels which were wrested from her by Salem last year.

Rev. J. A. Matheson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will be the speaker at the Saturday morning meeting this week. He has a very interesting talk on the subject "Picking up the Buoy."

The Junior competitions are arousing a lot of interest in the members of the class and rivalry is keen. Princeton which leads in the gymnasium work is last in the Boys department competition for attendance and new members, and Carlisle which is first in the latter contest is last in gymnasium work. Harvard is second to Princeton in the gym work, and Yale is within one point of Carlisle in the other contest.

The Quincy association will be represented by a team of four older boys at the State games championship to be held in Boston Y. M. C. A. on Monday and Tuesday, December 29 and 30. Although the team has not been definitely chosen yet, it is probable that it will consist of Martin in pool, Hunt in ping pong; Skinner in checkers and Djerf in bowling.

BOWLING AT Y. M. C. A.

The Harvard and Yale bowling teams of Employed Boys of the Y. M. C. A. rolled off their match Thursday evening and the latter took three points to one for Harvard. Osgood of Yale made the high single, and his total which was the highest of any would have been a good one but for a poor second string.

YALE.

Osberg	70	91	79	240
Hall	76	70	82	228
Osgood	93	68	86	247
	239	229	247	715

HARVARD.

Johnson	82	76	76	234
Gronberg	65	85	78	228
Djerf	78	82	85	245
	225	243	239	707

The score in the league now stands Yale, won 6, lost 2. Harvard, won 4, lost 4. Dartmouth won 1, lost 3. Princeton, won 1, lost 3. Dartmouth and Princeton will bowl next Monday night.

TURKEY ROLL-OFF.

The Wollaston Grocers held a turkey roll-off on the Coliseum alleys Thursday evening. Tabb was the winner with a total of 274. Second prize went to Arthur DeCoste.

RATHER ONE SIDED.

A team of St. Mary's bowlers beat a five captained by James Sweeney on the St. Mary's alleys Thursday evening, 4 to 0. The score:

St. Mary's	428	444	453	1325
Extra Five	406	384	383	1173

SCOTCHMEN WIN.

Clan McGregor bowlers, calling themselves the Giants, beat the Melon Chopees on thee Coliseum alleys Thursday evening, 3 to 1. The score:

Giants	446	426	406	1278
Melon Chopee	395	434	402	1231

CAR MEN WIN.

The Car Men beat the Come Backs in a special match on the Coliseum alleys, Thursday evening, 3 to 1. The score:

Car Men	461	463	417	1341
Come Backs	441	432	428	1301

NEW OFFICERS FOR REBEKAHS

The annual meeting of George L. Gill Rebekah Lodge was held Thursday evening and these officers elected:

Noble Grand—Sadie M. Wood.
Vice Grand—Sadie M. Walker.
Recording Secretary—Georgietta Thayer.
Financial Secretary—Abbie Feltis.
Treasurer—M. Lizzie Furnald.
Trustee for three years—Melissa M. McCormick.

After the business meeting there was a pleasing entertainment given by the Ward Five and Ward Six Committee, consisting of an Edison Victrola concert which was greatly enjoyed.

After the adjournment the committee served refreshments in the banquet hall.

The announcement of the re-election of Mrs. Sadie M. Wood as Noble Grand for the second term and Miss M. Lizzie Furnald as treasurer for the 19th term was the signal for much applause.

Just at the close of the meeting Mrs. Mary E. Stebbins was stricken with a serious illness and after treatment by Dr. F. Ramon Burke she was removed to her home. Her condition is serious. Mrs. Stebbins is a very popular member.

DISTRICT COURT.

The cases against George E. Fogg of Braintree in connection with the raid at the Cedarcrest Inn were called There were two complaints and C. C. Mellin, town counsel of Braintree, asked for a further continuance. Counsel for Fogg objected. He also claimed that one of the warrants had been changed since the arraignment. The court suggested that if this was done it was wrong, and that a new complaint should be issued. Mr. Kelley however insisted that as Fogg had been arraigned on that warrant, he should go to trial on that. After some further discussion however the cases went over until Jan. 3.

John H. Rose, John Smith John Olson and Joseph Powers, the would be detectives, were arraigned for assault and battery on Shu Goon at Quincy. All four pleaded guilty and were sentenced to a year each in the house of correction.

Alfred S. Tirrell, pleaded nolo contendere to a complaint charging him with the violation of the liquor law at Weymouth, and was fined $75.00.

Andrew J. Frazier was fined $20 for exceeding the speed limit with a motor cycle on the Park Reservation at Milton.

Anna Komtola was arraigned for concealing the death of a female child at Quincy and was held in $1,000 for the grand jury. This is the case where the dead body of an infant girl was found in a trunk at 56 Arthur street.

The continued cases of Mrs. E. Grace Reynolds for violation of the liquor law at Braintree were called and again continued until Jan. 3.

CHRISTMAS FUND.

Quincy council Knights of Columbus held their regular meeting in Colonial hall, Thursday evening. An appropriation of $80 was made for a Christmas fund. The appropriation will be expended together with the other funds during the Christmas season for the relief of the worthy poor.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS?

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

DON'T LET YOUR HAIR SPOIL YOUR GOOD LOOKS

Take the right care of your hair, and instead of spoiling your good looks, it will improve them. You can't beautify your hair with barettes, ribbons and such things. Knick-knacks make homely hair look even worse, because the contrast shows off its ugliness to greater effect.

If you want beautiful hair—soft, silky, lustrous and glossy—use Harmony Hair Beautifier, a dainty, liquid hair dressing. Use it also if you want your hair to go into place—in wavy, graceful fashion—more easily, and stay where you put it. It overcomes the unpleasant, oily odor with a delightful rose fragrance. Very easy to apply—simply sprinkle a little on your hair each time before brushing it. Contains no oil; will not change color of hair, nor darken gray hair.

To keep hair and scalp dandruff-free and clean, use Harmony Shampoo. This pure liquid shampoo gives an instantaneous rich lather that immediately penetrates to every part of hair and scalp, insuring a quick, thorough cleansing. Washed off just as quickly, the entire operation takes only a few moments. Contains nothing that can harm the hair; leaves no harshness or stickiness—just a sweet cleanliness.

Both preparations come in odd-shaped, very ornamental bottles, with sprinkler tops. Harmony Hair Beautifier, $1.00. Harmony Shampoo, 50c. Both guaranteed to satisfy you in every way, or your money back. Sold in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store—one of the more than 7,000 leading drug stores of the United States, Canada and Great Britain, which own the big Harmony laboratories in Boston, where the many celebrated Harmony Perfumes and Toilet Preparations are made. —Edward J. Murphy, 1415 Hancock Cor. Granite Streets, Quincy, Mass. "The Rexal Store."

ONLY JONES

(Continued from Page Three.)

"Something about two-fifty," he said.

With a haughty wave of the hand, the young man pointed to a dingy heap upon the counter, the last of its race. "That's all we have at two-fifty," he said, and turned away with his nose in the air, leaving poor Jabez to paw over the disreputable, worn and dirty garments and wigs which looked as if they had done duty at scores of masquerade balls in the cheapest quarters of the city.

Reverend Arthur and Delancey reached the Allen's house at exactly eight o'clock, simultaneously with six little girls from across the street. In the hall they encountered Ursula. She bundled the little girls off upstairs.

"And I must be off, too," she said. "We're just this minute up from dinner. We were dreadfully late getting home, and I have to dress. I wish I had time to hear how you two got out of jail."

"We didn't find it necessary to accompany the officers to the station—" began Reverend Arthur, coolly. "We—"

"I'll hear all about it later," she interrupted. "Now run along and help Mr. Jones with the Christmas tree in the music room; you know—"

"Ah, Mr. Jones is here," said Delancey. "Has Mr. Mc—"

"Mr. Jones dined here," said Ursula, turning toward the stairway. "You must help him get through with the tree, because he has to dress. He is going to be my Santa Claus, you know."

My Santa Claus! If they had known she regarded it in just that light they would have fought for the part themselves. Well, it was too late now.

So they went to the music room to the menial occupation of "helping Jones." But Jones said they could do nothing for him; indeed his expression of fact was so vivacious when they all but set fire to the tree with a cigarette that they retired in good order to the great hall, where they gloomily discussed Jones and the good luck that seemed to attend him. He certainly had scored on them more than once already in the course of this eventful evening and their love for him was not increasing with noticeable rapidity.

"Think of him dining here in his morning coat," observed Delancey.

"He makes himself useful," said Reverend Arthur. So they stood where they commanded a view of the great front door, lazily looked over the new arrivals and waited for Ursula's reappearance on the scene to make it worth while taking part.

Jeames stood by the big door grandly admitting the guests. The bell rang downstairs where he could not hear it, but a footfall on the porch or the crunching of a carriage in the drive told him when anyone was coming. So he was a good deal surprised not to say startled, at hearing without any preliminary sound whatever, a faint rat-tat on the door.

He opened it a little way and was still more surprised at seeing no one there. Then, as he was about to close it again, he was electrified by a hoarse whisper:

"Open the door. Let me in."

Opening wider, he made out a dark figure with a venerable beard in the shadow of the doorway. This was scandalous.

"Be off, now," he said severely. "No beggars allowed."

"Beggar," said the hoarse voice, as though something were choking it. "I'm a friend of Miss Allen's. Stand aside, you fool, and let me in. Quick! They'll see me in a minute."

"You look like a friend of hers! You do indeed! Come, be off now, or I'll turn you over to the police."

"I'm her Santa Claus. That's why I'm dressed this way," shouted the applicant, furiously, but not forgetting caution so far as to come out into the light.

"You're drunk," said Jeames, advancing into the dark, courageously intent on flinging the intruder off the porch.

It was a false move. Disreputable he looked, drunk he might be, but the unknown was certainly quick. Before Jeames had fairly got clear of the door he had shot past him into the vestibule.

The light revealed the full horror of him, a tunic of greasy red cotton flannel with draggled tufts of white along the edges. Red worsted tights, of which the less said the better. A pair of yellow oilcloth boots, broken and muddy, and over his head and shoulders a torn tangle of frowsy white hair. And this hideous travesty prefigured Santa Claus! Here was the saint of Christmas, the jovial old gentleman who brought gifts to all and about whose knees the sweet little children were to cling while he stroked their hair and patted their innocent cheeks.

Upon this blasphemous parody Jeames sprang with a cry of horror. But the parody was more than he bargained for, that was evident in less than five seconds. However, reinforcements were at hand. Rev. Arthur rushed to the rescue, and a little behind came Delancey.

(To be Continued.)

Call Quincy 501--W

if you want your furniture, mattresses and cushions repaired in good order at low ptices M. MIRKIN, upholsterer, 1060 Hancock street, near the Quincy High School.
Dec. 1-1m

COME TO THE MEN'S STORE FOR MEN'S GIFTS

To our regular stock of Men's Goods--So large and Attractive in variety, quality and price, we have added an immense stock of things "Christmasy."

INTERWOVEN HOSIERY
You can buy one pair for 25c
Four pairs in Christmas box $1.00
One pair Silk for 50c
Two pairs in Christmas box $1.00

CHENEY SILK
None Better
Handkerchief and Tie to match, Tie and Socks to match. Socks, Handkerchief and Tie to match
$1.00 $1.25 $1.50

PAJAMAS AND NIGHT ROBES
Big stock here to select from
A useful Holiday Gift
50c. to $2.00

UMBRELLAS
You can step right in at the door just around the corner and find a selection of Men's, Women's and Children's Umbrellas from ... 50c. up to $5.00

ARM BANDS & GARTERS
in Xmas boxes
25c 50c 75c $1.00

NECKWEAR
Thousands of Ties to choose from. All the newest and latest made to our order for the Holiday season, all in single boxes.
25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00

HANDKERCHIEFS
Plain or Initial Linen and Silk
..... 5c to $1.00
Sealpackerchief, advertised in the magazines are here at 3 for 25c. up to 25c each

SLIPPERS
We have a big line of the Comfy Slippers made by the Daniel Green Felt Shoe Co.
75c, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75
The New Tango Dancing Pumps in Satin and Patent $1.50 $2.00
Slippers for men, women, and children ... 50c $2.50

SUSPENDERS
The President, The Bull Dog and all leading makes in Xmas boxes
25c. 50c. 75c. $1.00.

HOLEPROOF HOSIERY
6 pairs guaranteed to wear six months or new Hose free. In Holiday boxes, $1.50, $2.00. 3 pairs Silk guaranteed for 3 months
$2.00

SWEATERS
Direct from mills to us. With and without Collars in Blue, Tan, Crimson, Dark Oxford and Light Oxford
$1.00 to $8.00.

GLOVES
Dress Gloves, Auto Gloves, Fur Lined Gloves, Working Gloves, lined and unlined
Prices 25c to $6.00.
We have the Popular Mark Cross Gloves at $1.50

HOCKEY CAPS
25c, 50c, $1.00.
Over Gaiters and Leggins, 25c to $1.00.

Shirts are Useful Xmas Gifts, This Store offers you a Big Selection from the Full Dress to the Every Day Outing Shirt, Prices 50c. up to $2.50.

The Famous Red Man Brand of E. & W. Collars 2 for 25c

—Ask For Legal Stamps Your Cash Discount—

GEORGE W. JONES
1 Granite Street, Quincy

Electric Decorations
Are Popular
For Christmas
Special Fittings
BECKFORD & LYNCH
3 Saville St., Quincy
Dec. 13-6t

QUINCY REGISTRY FOR NURSES
20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.
Will supply trained and practical nurses, attendants and nursery assistants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.
MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar,
Tel. Quincy 131-W.

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

$ $
SAVED BY BUYING
Patch's Special
COALS
C. PATCH & SON, Inc.
1422 Hancock Street

WITHIN THE LAW

By MARVIN DANA
FROM THE PLAY OF
BAYARD VEILLER

Copyright, 1913, by the H. K. Fly company.

SYNOPSIS

Mary Turner, a department store clerk, is sentenced to prison for three years for a theft she did not commit.

Edward Gilder, owner of the department store, consents to see Mary before she goes to prison, expecting her to confess.

Mary protests her innocence to Gilder and begs him to pay better wages to his clerks to save them from temptation.

After three years in prison Mary is freed, but the police prevent her holding positions. She jumps into the river to end her life, but is rescued by Joe Garson, a forger.

Mary forms a partnership with Garson and his gang, by which they mulct rich victims in a legal manner, keeping "within the law."

Mary is warned by the police to leave town after she has formed the acquaintance of Richard Gilder, her former employer's son.

Helen Morris, the girl who had committed the theft for which Mary was imprisoned, sees Mary and confesses her guilt.

Mary marries Dick Gilder without his father's knowledge and then refuses to sail for Europe with him.

Joe Garson, against Mary's protest, agrees with Eddie Griggs, another crook, to help commit a burglary in Gilder's home.

Edward Gilder sees his son's bride and tries to induce her to give up her husband. Dick refuses to leave her even when she tells him she is an ex-convict.

Inspector Burke calls on Gilder and tells him that a burglary at his home that night has been arranged through Griggs, a stool pigeon, to trap Mary Turner and her gang.

Garson and his gang break into Gilder's home and are followed by Mary, who is told of the proposed burglary. While they are there Dick returns home.

(Continued from last issue.)

Dick threw out his hands in a gesture of supreme denial. But the father went on remorselessly.

"They will stand her up where the detectives will walk past her with masks on their faces. Her picture, of course, is already in the rogues' gallery, but they will take another—yes, and the imprints of her fingers and the measurements of her body."

"I owe something to her, too, dad."

The son was writhing under the words. The woman of whom these things were said was the woman whom he loved. Yet every word had in it the piercing, horrible sting of truth.

"That's what they will do to your wife," Gilder went on harshly, "to the woman who bears your name and mine. What are you going to do about it?"

"It will never happen. She will go straight, dad. That I know. You would know it if you only knew her as I do."

Gilder was in despair. What argument could avail him? He cried out sharply in desperation.

"Do you realize what you're doing? Don't go to smash, Dick. Just at the beginning of your life. Oh, I beg you, boy, stop! Put this girl out of your thoughts and start fresh. You're all I have, my boy."

"Yes, dad," came the answer. "If I could avoid it I wouldn't hurt you for anything in the world. I'm sorry, dad, awfully sorry"— He hesitated, then his voice rang out clearly: "But I must fight this out by myself—fight it out in my own way. And I'm going to do it!"

The butler entered.

"A man to see you, sir," he said.

The master took the card. "Very well," he said, "show him up." His glance met the wondering gaze of his son.

"It's Burke," he explained.

"What on earth can he want—at this time of night?" Dick exclaimed.

"You may as well get used to visits from the police."

A moment later Inspector Burke entered the room.

"She's skipped!" he said triumphantly.

Dick made a step forward. His eyes flashed, and there was anger in his voice as he replied:

"I don't believe it."

"She left this morning for Chicago," Burke said, lying with a manner that long habit rendered altogether convincing. "I told you she'd go." He turned to the father and spoke with an air of boastful good nature. "Now, all you have to do is to get this boy out of the scrape and you'll be all right."

"If we only could!" The cry came with deepest earnestness from the lips of Gilder, but there was little hope in his voice.

"I guess we can find a way to have the marriage annulled or whatever they do to marriages that don't take," said Burke.

The brutal assurance of the man in thus referring to things that were sacred moved Dick to wrath.

"Don't you interfere," he said.

Nevertheless Burke held to the topic.

"Interfere! Huh!" he ejaculated, grinning broadly. "Why, that's what I'm paid to do. Listen to me, son. The minute you begin mixing up with crooks you ain't in a position to give orders to any one. The crooks have got no rights in the eyes of the police. Just remember that."

But Dick was not listening. His thoughts were again wholly with the woman he loved, who, as the inspector declared, had fled from him.

"Where's she gone in Chicago?"

Burke answered in his usual gruff fashion, but with a note of kindliness that was not without its effect on Dick.

"I'm no mind reader," he said. "But she'll probably stop at the Blackstone—that is, until the Chicago police are tipped off that she is in town."

The face of the young man took on a totally different expression. He went close to the inspector and spoke with intense seriousness.

"Burke," he said pleadingly, "give me a chance. I'll leave for Chicago in the morning. Give me twenty-four hours start before you begin hounding her."

The inspector smiled acquiescence.

"Seems reasonable," he admitted.

"No, no, Dick!" the father cried. "You shall not go! You shall not go!"

The inspector shot a word of warning to Gilder in an aside that Dick could not hear.

"Keep still," he replied. "It's all right."

"You give me your word, inspector," Dick said, "that you won't notify the police in Chicago until I've been there twenty-four hours?"

"You're on." Burke replied genially. "They won't get a whisper out of me until the time is up."

"Then I'll go." Dick smiled rather wanly at his father. "You know, dad, I'm sorry, but I've got to do what I think is the right thing."

It was not until the door was closed after Dick that Burke spoke.

"He'll go to Chicago in the morning, you think, don't you?" he asked.

"Certainly," Gilder answered. "But I don't like it."

"Best thing that could have happened! You see, he won't find her there."

"Where did she go then?" Gilder queried, wholly at a loss.

"Nowhere yet. But just about the time he's starting for the west I'll have her down at headquarters. Denarest will have her indicted before noon. She'll go to trial in the afternoon, and tomorrow night she'll be sleeping up the river. That's where she is going."

Gilder stood motionless for a moment. "But," he said wonderingly, "you can't do that."

"Well, perhaps I can't, but I will!" Suddenly his face grew hard. His heavy jaw shot forward aggressively as he spoke.

"Think I'm going to let that girl make a joke of the police department? Why, I'm here to get her, to stop her anyhow. Her gang is going to break into your house tonight."

"What?" Gilder demanded. "You mean she's coming here as a thief?"

"Not exactly," Inspector Burke confessed, "but her pals are coming to try to pull off something right here. She wouldn't come, not if I know her. She's too clever for that. Why, if she knew what Garson was planning to do, she'd stop him."

The inspector paused suddenly. For a long minute his face was seamed with thought. Then he smote his thigh with a blow strong enough to kill an ox. His face was radiant.

"I've got her!" he cried. He went to the desk where the telephone was and took up the receiver.

"Give me 3100 Spring," he said. As he waited for the connection he smiled widely on the astonished Gilder.

"Headquarters?" he called. "Inspector Burke speaking. Who's in my office? I want him quick." He smiled as he listened, and he spoke again to Gilder. "It's Smith, the best man I have. That's luck, if you ask me." Then again he spoke into the mouthpiece of the telephone.

"Oh, Ed, send some one up to that Turner woman. You have the address. Just see that she is tipped off that Joe Garson and some pals are going to break into Edward Gilder's house tonight. Get some stool pigeon to hand her the information. You'd better get to work quick. Understand?"

The inspector hung up the receiver and faced his host with a contented smile.

"What good will all that do?" Gilder demanded impatiently.

"She'll come to stop 'em. When we get the rest of the gang we'll grab her too. Just call your man for a minute, will you, Mr. Gilder?"

Gilder pressed the electric button on his desk. At the same moment, through the octagonal window, came a blinding flash of light that rested for seconds, then vanished. Burke was startled by the mysterious radiance.

"What's that?" he demanded sharply.

"It's the flashlight from the Metropolitan tower," Gilder explained. "It swings around this way about every fifteen minutes. The servant forgot to draw the curtains."

CHAPTER XIII.

The Burglary at Gilder's.

THE entrance of the butler brought the inspector's thoughts back to the matter in hand.

"My man," he said authoritatively, "I want you to go up to the roof and open the scuttle. You'll find some men waiting up there. Bring 'em down here. They're police officers. You get 'em down here, and then you go to bed and stay there till morning. Understand?"

The butler looked at his master for guidance. Receiving a nod, he said:

"Very well, sir."

"How do you know they're going to break into the house tonight," Gilder demanded of Burke, "or do you only think they're going to break into the house?"

"I know they are. I fixed it."

"You did?"

"Sure; did it through a stool pigeon."

"Oh, an informer!" Gilder interrupted, a little doubtfully.

"Yes," Burke agreed; "stool pigeon is the police name for him. Really, he's the vilest thing that crawls."

"But if you think that," Gilder expostulated, "why do you have any thing to do with that sort of person?"

"Because it's good business," the inspector replied. "We know he's a spy and a traitor and that every time he comes near us we ought to use a disinfectant. But we deal with him just the same because we have to. Now the stool pigeon in this trick is a swell English crook. He went to Garson yesterday with a scheme to rob your house. He tried out Mary Turner, too, but she told Garson to leave it alone. But he met Griggs afterward and agreed to pull it off. Griggs got word to me that it's coming off tonight, and so, you see, Mr. Gilder, that's how I know."

"I see," Gilder admitted without any enthusiasm. "But why do you have your men come down over the roof?"

"It wasn't safe to bring them in the front way. It's a cinch the house is being watched. I wish you would let me have your latch key. I want to come back and make this collar myself."

"But why not stay, now that you are here?"

"Suppose some of them saw me come in? There wouldn't be anything doing until after they saw me go out again."

The hall door opened, and the butler re-entered the room. Behind him came Cassidy and two other detectives in plain clothes. At a word from his master the disturbed Thomas withdrew.

"Now," Burke went on briskly as the door closed behind the servant, "where could these men stay out of sight until they're needed?"

There followed a little discussion which ended in the selection of a storeroom at the end of the passage on the ground floor.

"And now, Mr. Gilder," the inspector said energetically, "I'm going to give you the same tip I gave your man. Go to bed and stay there."

"But the boy," Gilder protested. "What about him? He's the one thing of importance to me."

(To be Continued.)

HOLMES & HALL
REPAIRERS OF HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
SHADES
DOOR BELLS
LOCKS and KEYS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

CHOICE ARTICLES
FROM THE
PHILIPPINES

LUCBON HATS—Very best grade of the famous Panamas and Bankoks made. Absolutely none better, woven under water by hand. Can be crushed into a ball and not lose shape. Made for both Ladies and Gentlemen. $5 and $10.

ROMBLON MATS—Handsomest and most durable Grass Mats or Rugs made in the world. Beautiful colors and designs, large enough to cover one-half floor of rooms. $5.

MANILA CIGARS—$3 for a trial box of the Very Best Cigars made in the Philippines.

Oriente Cigarettes—Best made, large package containing 25 small packages, 750 Cigarettes, $2.

Sent by registered mail, free of duties, on receipt of price.

C. A. SHORT & CO.,
Lucena, Tay, P. I.
Oct. 4 1.&O 3m

GOFFE STREET ALL RIGHT

Richard D. Chase Objects to Change of Name

Editor of Daily Ledger:

Early last summer a petition for change of name of Goffe street was circulated and quite numerously signed. The writer (like some others) was temporarily overcome with good nature instead of held by good common sense, and signed the paper. Regret speedily followed and investigation found others in like position.

At public hearing before City Council in September, one person appeared "in favor" and several persons "opposed" change; the matter was referred to Committee on Streets. The arguments of the opponents of change at said hearing were so strong that together with the natural convictions of unbiased men (and there are many who believe that changes of this kind are public and not local issues, and should receive calm, judicial treatment instead of temporary clamor) the remark was several times volunteered by the listeners (not said opponents) that the "petition was dead and would never be heard from again."

The said Committee reported "leave to withdraw." Then a councilman from Ward Five, had the matter returned to the Committee on streets. The next time it saw public light was Monday night, Dec. 1, when a report recommending change was filed by said committee (although a full committee did not pass on it) and was accepted, and passed by the Council—probably under routine conditions as frequently follow committee reports. Night before election, (regarded by some as a strategic point) was chosen for pulling off the stunt (according to report there were but few Councilmen present) to change Quincy history and to send Judge and General Goffe's name into permanent oblivion. Of course some of the men had little sympathy in the process, but did not feel called upon to resist the swift current of events as apparently laid out.

When the bill reached the Mayor for his signature, he kindly sought written opinions of the property holders on the street in question. The result, as given in the Daily Ledger, was 19 favoring, 15 opposing and 6 silent on the proposed change. The petitioners, after all of the pressure applied, failed to produce a majority of owners favoring change.

On the night of the public hearing statement of opinion by petitioners was made that "ninety per cent of interested parties desired change."

Last Saturday morning the Mayor had to make this decision and at that time his attention was brought to the fact that there had been irregularity in the proceedings, and that there was a legal obstacle in the way of his approval. The Mayor promptly vetoed the order and it is now "on the table."

Special means had advanced the order, favorable to petitioners, to the Mayor's decision. Special legal rights fortunately helped the opponents whose unanswerable arguments had been so far overcome.

At present the opponents are enjoying many voluntary expressions of endorsement of their position by prominent citizens who are not sufferers in the Goffe street tempest, but who have regard for the stability of Quincy history. We will not now rehash our arguments, but beg to call attention to a paragraph in an able editorial in Boston Transcript last summer, viz:

"Quincy, which has honored her Presidents before will honor them quite as truly in honoring one of Oliver's (Cromwell) soldiers who helped to make possible their presidency."

Also please read again this extract from Mr. Fenno's splendid letter of Dec. 8, viz:

"In 1872 there was an article in the warrant for the town meeting, to see if the town would change the name of the street from Goffe to Bass street. At that time I spoke to C. F. Adams, Jr., about it, and he said the name should not have been given in the first place, but it was a poor plan to change an established name without good reason for so doing, and to change from one name to another as proposed was no reason at all. On these grounds he spoke against the change in town meeting, and the proposal was defeated. If that argument was good ten years after the street was accepted it is good after fifty years.

"It is well that the city of Quincy honors the family that for five generations has ably and faithfully served the country, state and town, but considering the multiplicity of hills, roads streets, academies, temples, bridges, shores, lanes and houses that bear the name of Adams or President, a stranger coming to town would think that there was no other family name worthy of mention."

In behalf of the active opponents, a multitude of Quincy citizens whom we believe object to proposed unnecessary change on general principles—although they have not employed me as their representative—and myself, I am respectfully yours,

Richard D. Chase.

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate.

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Clarence H. McDonald of Randolph, Massachusetts, to Herbert T. Whitman and Charles C. Barton, as they are Trustees of the Edison Park Land Associates, dated May 28, 1906, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, book 1030, page 301, for breach of the condition of said mortgage deed and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described on Monday the twenty-ninth day of December 1913, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed and therein described as follows, to wit: "A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in said Quincy, being Lot No. 71 on plan made by H. T. Whitman, Surveyor, dated October, 1895, recorded with Norfolk Plans, Book 20, Plan 901. Said parcel of land is bounded and described as follows, to wit:— Northeasterly on Graham street, ninety (90) feet; southeasterly on Lot No. 60 on said plan, sixty (60) feet southwesterly on Lot No. 70 on said plan, ninety (90) feet; and northwesterly on a City Way, known as Edison Park, sixty (60) feet; containing according to said plan 5400 square feet of land."

Said premises will be sold subject to a prior mortgage upon which $2000, and accrued interest remains unpaid, recorded with said Norfolk Deeds, book 892, page 415, also to all unpaid taxes, sewer and municipal assessments, if any there be. Further terms will be announced at the sale.

HERBERT T. WHITMAN,
CHARLES C. BARTON,
Trustees of the Edison Park Land Associates.
Quincy, Mass., Dec. 5, 1913.
Dec. 5-3t 5-12-19

EXECUTOR'S NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed executor of the will of Mina R. Myers late of Barrington in the County of Cook and State of Illinois deceased, testate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, and appointing Richard D. Chase of Quincy Mass., his agent, as the law directs.

All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to the subscriber.

ROY C. MYERS, Executor.
(Address)
Richard D. Chase, Agent.
Quincy, Mass., Dec. 5, 1913.
Dec. 5-3t 5-12-19

SWITHIN
Real Estate
Mortgages-Insurance
Greenleaf Block
Quincy
Tel. Quincy 460. Nov. 10-tf

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

ARTHUR L. THOMAS
Attorney-at-Law
3-4-5-6 Greenleaf Block
Telephone Quincy 460 Jan.2-1y

FOR SALE
New Axes
20c each 3 for 50c
While They Last
L. GROSSMAN & SONS
Jackson Street
Near Quincy Adams Depot
Dec. 16-1o-tf

Penniman's
TAXI SERVICE
Taxies and Touring Cars with careful and safe drivers to let for all occasions.
C. H. PENNIMAN, Prop.
Telephone 207.
June 13-tf

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.
No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

WANTED

WANTED—Hustling young man for laundry team. One having experience in grocery or other retail delivery work preferred. Salary and commission will average $18 per week. Old Colony Laundry Co. 19-3t

WANTED—Boarders. Bath, heat, gas, near Fore River Shipyard, Mrs. Elliott, 19 Watson road. 19-3t

WANTED—A strictly temperate reliable nurse, would take confinement cases at $13 per week. After Jan. 5 for further particulars. Address S. B. Randall, Quincy, Mass. 18-3t

WANTED—Good, honest, reliable man to work in shop, keep fires and do general shop work. Write "Work." Ledger Office. 18-3t

WANTED—An experienced man to drive a Wet Wash Laundry wagon. A married man, who is at present employed, preferred. Wages $18.00 to $20.00 for three days a week. Write W. Ledger Office stating experience. 17-3t

WANTED— Experienced Grocery and Meat man. Good wages to right man. W. H. Stevenson market, 128 Washington street, Quincy. 15-6t

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing. Myatt, 40 Baxter street. Tel. 1307-M. Quincy, Res. 22-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Land on Butler road or I can build you a house on it very reasonably, or will exchange for other real estate. John Bergfors, 65 Granite street. 18-6t

PIANOS—Buy a piano. Several makes. Square man to trade with. Send postal and he will call. In your city every day. Walter H. Lyons, Randolph. 17-3t

HORSE FOR SALE—Cheap, for want of use. H. H. I. Smith, 578 Commercial street, Weymouth Heights. Tel. Weymouth 105-1. 15-tf

FOR SALE or TO LET—New houses Apply to Thompson B. Crane, 403 Washington street, Quincy. 1-tf

JAMES F. BURKE & CO.
Real Estate and Insurance
Care of Property. Mortgages
Justice of Peace. Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 885 M. Nov. 11-tf

WM. H. TEASDALE
REAL ESTATE
Insurance Mortgages
NOTARY PUBLIC JUSTICE OF THE PEACE
Room 23 Adams Building
Telephones { Residence 544-3 / Office 885M
o-tf

TO LET
Large Front Office Greenleaf Block—2 entrances—right at the head of the stairs—one of the most desirable offices in Quincy.
Office, Durgin-Merrill Block—3 large windows—only 1 flight up—exceptional opportunity.
Hancock Building—City Square Offices—small front office, $11 a month
Office—Hancock Chambers, 16x18 feet one flight up, very low rent.
Store House—off Granite St., in the rear of Greenleaf Block.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best Location in City)
Offices—Large or small.
Desk Room—Street floor, right in the rear of main entrance, good light and air, $5 up a month.
Transient Rooms—Well furnished and with care, $1 a day.
Furnished Rooms—With care steam heat, and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week

HALLS
Music Hall—Music Hall Block—Capacity 963—highest possible rating by the State. "Excellent" in every particular.
New Colonial Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—Capacity 240—the best possible location for a Hall.
Hancock Hall—Hancock Building City Square—Capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 21056) Quincy

Read Ledger Ads

LOST

LOST—A gentleman's dark green sweater from an automobile between Quincy and Boston, Thursday evening, Dec. 18. Reward $2.00 if returned to 1295 Hancock street, Quincy. 19-3t

TO LET

TO LET—No rent before Jan. 1, tenement all modern improvements. Rent $18.75, near High School and car barn. Plenty of sunshine. C. W. Guy, 42 Butler road. 19-tf

TO LET—Furnished or unfurnished rooms, heat and bath. Suitable for young men or elderly person requiring care. Apply 4 High School avenue, next Central Fire Station. 19-3t

TO LET—5 Parson street, lower floor, 5 rooms and bath, hard wood floors. Rent $16.00 ready January 1, 1914. Apply on premises or at 38 Independence Ave. 18-tf

TO LET—Flat 5 rooms and bath, first floor. All improvements. Nice location. 129 Independence avenue. Apply 60 Trafford street or Telephone Quincy 489-W. 17-6t

TO LET—Upper apartment of 7 rooms and bath, all improvements including set range and gas stove, now ready. Inquire, A. W. Parker, 87 Merrymount road. Tel. Quincy 258-1 16-tf

TO LET—In Braintree, house of five rooms, including two bed rooms and bath. Rent reasonable. A J. Cavanagh, 72 Cedar street, Braintree. Telephone 4-14. Dec. 16-6t

TO LET—48 Revere road two connecting rooms with kitchenette for housekeeping. Also a nice room with sun all day, two large closets. Hot water heat and bath. water heat and bath. 13-tf

TO LET—Lower flat, 5 rooms bath modern improvements in new house pleasantly situated in corner lot 29 Atherton street, Bigelow Park. Rent reasonable to right party. Inquire on premises or 72 Glencoe place. 13-6t

TO LET—Tenement 4 rooms and bath all improvements, set range. Vacant Jan. 1, 1914. Apply 180 Franklin street. 10-12t

RUSSELL PARK — Commodious house of seven rooms, large hall and bath. Modern, every convenience open fireplace, furnace, range, set tubs, electric lights, cemented cellar, etc. Best residential neighborhood. Ready for immediate occupancy. For further details or key see Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. tf lpo

TO LET—173 Whitwell street, half house, modern conveniences, $20 per month. Ready for immediate occupancy. Apply Penniman's Stable, Granite street. 19-tf

TO LET—Nicest 4 room and bath lower flat in town. Every improvement $19.00. 126 Glendale road. S. E. Thomas Greenleaf Block. 17-tf

TO LET—5 room tenement at 117 Quincy street, $20 per month. Apply Berman Furniture Co. 6-tf

TO LET—Houses of 5, 6 and 10 rooms. M. T. Sullivan. Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy, Mass. 11-tf

UPPER APARTMENT. In two-family house on Spear Street. Five rooms, bath, large pantry and closets, also open attic with finished heated chamber. Every improvement, electric light, furnace, range etc. Ready for immediate occupancy. Telephone Quincy 278 M or enquire mornings of Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. lpo

MISCELLANEOUS

WILL SOMEONE please answer who would like a piano in their home for Christmas. This one can be rented for a time and after a fair trial very favorable terms can be arranged towards its purchase. Write at once. Box 10 this office. 13-6t

RENT FREE—until Jan. 1st. Two adjoining houses, 28 and 30 Pleasant street to desirable tenants, who will agree to stay one year, or longer, $5.00 per week in advance. Stable for one horse if desired. $1.00 a week extra. Apply 36 Pleasant street. 5-tf

ANOTHER BARGAIN

Make me an offer for a ten room house on Whitwell Street.

You will own it if you will talk buy, as it is one of those chances some one will miss.

HENRY W. SAVAGE
Real Estate, Boston.
E. G. HAYDEN, Local Representative
Telephone 1877-M Quincy.
Nov 17-tf

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

KINCAIDE THEATRE

At 2.30, 5, 10, 15c At 7.45, 10, 15, 25c

THURS. FRIDAY SAT.
Program Subject to Change

MURRAY LANE & CO.
Dramatic Singing Sketch
"FININ' DAD"

THE DAVIS TROUPE
Acrobats Par Excellence

DORA RONCA
Violinist De Luxe

HANLEY & JARVIS
Fun Makers "A la France"

2 Part Feature Picture
THE CYPHER MESSAGE
A Thrilling Detective Drama

SOPHIE'S HERO
Western Comedy Full of Fun

THE STOLEN TREATY
A Mighty Interesting Drama

LOTS OF LIVELY MUSIC

BAD CHECKS IN ROXBURY.

Raymond F. Newell was arraigned in the West Roxbury district court on Thursday on a charge of passing worthless checks in the Forest Hill section. He was held in $500 for the Grand Jury by Judge Perrins on three charges. The arrest of Newell followed the arrest of Lawrence W. Manning in Quincy on Tuesday after the latter had attempted to pass a worthless check at the store of Nathan Ames. Both admit they know each other and the police suspect they worked together.

☞Get your white wrapping paper for Christmas gifts at the Ledger-Patriot office. Come early and avoid the rush. Large sheets 2 cents each. By the dozen 20 cents.

GARDNER CLUB MEETING

Interesting Talk on Business Management on Large Scale

A most enthusiastic meeting of the Gardner club of Christ Church was held Thursday evening in the parish house. A very large attendance turned out to hear what Merton A. Turner, the clubs new director, had planned for the evening which certainly was a treat.

W. L. Shaw, the efficiency expert of the McElwain Shoe Co., of Boston and Manchester, N. H., gave a most interesting and instructive talk. He spoke chiefly about the scientific management of business and about the planning and systematizing of large corporations. His talk was only the first of a series of interesting talks which the Gardner club is planning for the coming year. The next speaker will be C. I. Wilson of the Boston Woven Hose Co., on Jan. 1 and all young men over seventeen are cordially invited.

CHRISTMAS MAIL.

The Wollaston post office will be open for the receiving of mail on Sunday between the hours of four and eight P. M. Arrangements to handle the Christmas mail has been completed and Supt. McDougall feels that he will be equipped with sufficient clerks and carriers to easily maintain the standard of service from that office. On Christmas Day, besides the regular carrier delivery there will be an additional parcel post delivery.

YOUNG TAFT A LAWYER

Takes Oath In Supreme Court With Sons of Former Slaves

Columbus, Dec. 19.—Among a class of sixty-four young men who were sworn in in the supreme court as practising attorneys, one was a son of a former President of the United States and grandson of a member of President Grant's cabinet. Two others were sons of former slaves.

Robert A. Taft, son of the former president and grandson of Alfonso Taft, took the oath, which was administered by Chief Justice Nichols.

Howard Gilliard, messenger to Governor Cox, and Samuel Huffman of Springfield were the negro members of the class, all of whom recently passed at the state bar examination.

Gunboats In Steamer's Hold

San Francisco, Dec. 19.—Designed for service in the shallow waters of China and the Philippines, the "knockdown" gunboats Monocacy and Palos are stowed away in the hold of the steamer Mongolia, which sailed for the Orient. Each boat will carry a crew of 140 men and two officers.

Mitchel to Forego Banquets

New York, Dec. 19.—Finding it impossible, he said, to fulfill the duties of an "after-dinner mayor" and an "after-breakfast mayor." John P. Mitchel, mayor-elect has announced that he must forego the former pleasure.

Gets $2800 For Three Fingers

Concord, N. H., Dec. 19.—A verdict of $2800 was awarded Andrew G. Stewart of this city in a suit he brought against the American Woolen company for the loss of three fingers.

Erie Train Held Up

Nyack, N. Y., Dec. 19.—Six masked robbers held up a westbound Erie freight train at Fairview, near here.

A son was welcomed this morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Roberts of Putnam street, and he was promptly named Paul.

BRIEFS

A special meeting of Rural lodge, A. F. and A. M. was held Thursday evening to confer degrees.

The executive committee of the Wollaston Citizens Association met for the first time in their new headquarters, the Wollaston hotel, Thursday evening.

The Central station auto chemical responded on a still alarm at 1 o'clock this noon to extinguish a grass fire in the rear of the Old Colony laundry building near the railroad tracks.

The public schols closed today for the Christmas holidays. They will reopen Monday, Dec. 29. Christmas exercises were held in several rooms of the different buildings.

George W. Ougler of 55 Edwin street Ashmont, died on Wednesday. He was by trade a boat builder and worked at Marblehead, Quincy and Neponset.

Secretary Bromley went to Auburndale Thursday to attend the two days house party for Y. M. C. A. general secretaries given by Rev. Allan A. Stockdale.

Mrs. Thomas Fenno of Hancock street opened her house Thursday afternoon for an anti-suffrage meeting, Mrs. W. W. Churchill of Milton being the speaker.

The funeral of John Lucette was held from his home 79 Willard street Thursday afternoon and was largely attended. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery.

"Lady Betty" written by Erastus Osgood, is to be given this evening in First Church chapel for the benefit of Pond Home. In the cast will be Mr. Osgood, Mrs. Isabelle Davis and Miss Ruth Hardy, all home talent, and therefore the more entertaining.

CHRISTMAS AT HIGH SCHOOL

The close of the present school term and the approach of the Christmas holidays was fittingly observed this noon at the Quincy High school At the close of the morning session at 12.15, all the pupils of the school gathered in the assembly hall where they with the teachers enjoyed a concert of Christmas carols by the Glee club of the school. The concert was of exceptionally high order showing the careful musical training which the students have been given. In addition to the musical program there were several Christmas recitations by some of the pupils.

BRIEFS

The fire hydrants throughout the city are being repainted black with aluminum tops.

Joseph McConnel of 31 Bradford street passed away this morning in his 31st year. Funeral services will be held from the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William McConnel on Sunday afternoon.

James H. Stedman of Braintree, the newly appointed prison commissioner, was a visitor at the District Court this morning and occupied a seat on the bench with Judge Avery.

Many people visiting the new dry goods and art store near the High school, 1062 Hancock street, have admired the two beautiful windows, one a New Hampshire winter scene, the other a fire place.

☞Johnson Bros. meats always give satisfaction, because of the quality. A good place to order your Christmas dinner.

SALESMAN SHOOTS BRIDE

Says She Was Going to Leave Him After Nine Days of Wedded Life

Indianapolis, Dec. 19.—John F. Conrad, a salesman, shot and fatally wounded Mrs. Catherine Conrad, 19, his bride of nine days, at their apartment. While waiting for the police Conrad wrote to his mother, who lives in Toledo, the story of the crime.

Conrad told the police he shot his wife because she had threatened to leave him. He blamed the girl's sister, Mrs. William E. Aikens of this city, for the trouble.

Just before being taken to the police station, Conrad went to the bed where his wife lay and begged her forgiveness.

"Go away," exclaimed the girl. "If I am to die, I never want to see you again. My love has turned to hate."

HOBSON GETS CHALLENGE

Is Attacked For Absences From House by Representative Donovan

Washington, Dec. 19.—A challenge to a debate in Alabama on the question, "Resolved, That absence from congress by a representative in good health is honest and justifiable," was issued to Representative Hobson, of Alabama, by Representative Donovan of Connecticut.

These members recently came near blows over the liquor question. Donovan says Hobson has attended the sessions of the house so infrequently that he ought to resign. Hobson accepts the challenge.

Maine Grange Is For Suffrage

Bangor, Me., Dec. 19.—Women's suffrage was indorsed by the state grange of Maine.

Quincy council completed arrangements Thursday evening for a whist party in their rooms on Saturday evening at which the prizes will be turkeys.

ARTISTIC EFFECTS

Are gained in every Box or Bouquet of Cut Flowers we arrange.
We have all the

POTTED PLANTS

that are in season such as Poinsettias, Azaleas, Cyclamen, Primroses, Lorraine Begonias, etc.

CHRISTMAS WREATHS of all kinds.

JOHNSON, the Florist
City Flower Store, City Square
Dec. 18-6t

☞White wrapping paper for doing up your Christmas gifts can be obtained at the Ledger-Patriot office for 0 cents a dozen sheets or by the single sheet at 2 cents per sheet.

BIRTHS

BENTLEY—Dec. 8, a son, Bradford Morrill, to Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Bentley, formerly of Quincy.

ROBERTS—In Quincy, Dec. 19, a son, Paul to Mr. and Mrs. James Perry Roberts of Putnam street.

DEATHS

McCONNEL—In Quincy, Dec. 19, Joseph, son of William and Jane McConnel in his 31st year. Funeral services at late home, 31 Bradford street, Sunday, Dec. 21, at 2 P. M. Relatives and friends invited. 19-2t

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street. Quincy, Mass.

Double Legal Stamps Tuesday Thursday Afternoon---12 to 6 — At REMICK'S — Double Legal Stamps Tuesday Thursday Afternoon---12 to 6

QUINCY'S GREATEST CHRISTMAS STORE

SOMETHING USEFUL FOR EVERYBODY

Open Every Evening Until Christmas

NECKWEAR In Fancy Boxes
Biggest Variety—Biggest Values Ever Shown in Quincy
25c 35c 50c 65c
We are showing Boston's $1.00 Neckwear at 65c

Endless Variety MEN'S ARM BANDS and BRACES. All in Fancy Boxes
25c 35c 50c 65c

We could get more but are determined to hold the reputation for the best values and lowest prices

HOISERY
Men's, Boys' Women and Children. Silk, Lisle, Cotton and Cashmere. A very useful gift

GLOVES
Nothing you can think of but can be found here. For Men, Boys and Children.

BATH ROBES with SLIPPERS.
$4.98 others at $2.98 .$3.48

MEN'S PAJAMAS
98c to $2.00

MEN'S NIGHT ROBES
Flannel and Cotton
48c to $1.50

HANDKERCHIEFS
Men's Plain and Initial ..... 10c to 50c
Ladies' Plain and Initial ..... 10c to 50c

UMBRELLAS
Men's Fancy Handles ..... 98c to $5.00
Ladies' Fancy Handles ..... 75c to $5.00
Childrens' Fancy Handles ..... 50c and $1.00

SWEATERS of every description. Lower than the Lowest
Men's ..... 98c to $8.00
Women's ..... 98c to $8.00
Boys' ..... 98c to $5.00
Girls' ..... 98c to $5.00
Children's ..... 48c to $2.00
All Colors. With or without Collars

MEN'S FANCY SHIRTS
48c to $1.50
Our Special at $1.15 is like the other fellow's $1.50

Men's Silk Shirts
$2.98 $3.98
Worth $4.00 and $5.00

Flannel Shirts
69c to $3.00
Blue, Gray and Tan

MACKINAW COATS
Neat and Nobby Effects

SMOKING JACKETS

MEN'S STIFF and SOFT HATS
$1.00 to $3.00

MEN'S CAPS
With and without band
50c to $3.00

BOYS' and CHILDREN'S HATS and CAPS
All kinds ..... 25c to $1.50

RAIN COATS.
Men's ..... $4.98 to $15.00
Women's ..... $4.98 to $12.00
Boys' ..... $3.50 to $5.00
Children's ..... $3.00 to $4.00
Every Coat Fully Guaranteed

BAGS and SUIT CASES
Black, Brown and Tan
$1.98 to $10.00
Nothing more useful

Boys' and Children's SUITS
Single and Double Breasted. Some with two pair pants
$1.98 to $8.00

Boys' and Children's OVERCOATS
Made with or without Belts
$1.98 to $8.00

MEN'S SHOES
None Better and Few as good as The Packard
All Leathers
$3.50 $4.00 $4.50 $5.00

Fellow Craft and Farnum SHOES
All Leathers $3.50
Just the same as sold by some others at $4.00

OUR MEN'S SHOES
at $3.00 and as low as $2.50 and $2.00 have stood the test

BOYS' SHOES
$1.50 to $3.00
All Leathers. Boys' High Cut Shoes, all sizes. Black and Tan

WOMEN'S SHOES, Queen Quality
$3.50 $4.00 $4.50
Fit, Style and Comfort. All Leathers
Women's Shoes at $2.00 $2.50 and $3.00 in all Leathers will make you wonder how we can do it

CHILDREN'S SHOES
75c to $3.00
All Leathers. Fancy Top Shoes for Children in large variety

MEN'S SLIPPERS
50c to $2.00

LADIES' SLIPPERS
50c to $1.50

Boys' and Children's SLIPPERS
50c 75c $1.00

RUBBERS All Kinds
Men's, Boys' and Children's Rubber Boots all kinds. Fully Guaranteed

REMICK'S
MUSIC HALL BLOCK, QUINCY
OPEN EVERY EVENING UNTIL CHRISTMAS
DOUBLE LEGAL STAMPS Tuesday and Thursday Afternoons 12 o'clock to 6 o'clock

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

LARGEST GUARANTEED CIRCULATION IN THE CITY

Vol. 28 No. 295 QUINCY MASS. SATURDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 20 1913 PRICE TWO CENTS

CHRISTMAS MUSIC IN THE CHURCHES

Rich Programs Which Include Cantatas, Carol Services and Anthems

Festivals and Tree Exercises Also Arranged

Each year it would seem as though the Quincy churches surpassed all previous records in musical programs for the Christmas season. All the churches of the city were requested to forward their plans for Christmas, and they include cantatas, carols, anthems and festivals.

CHRIST CHURCH.

The observance of Christmas will begin Christmas eve at seven o'clock with the carol service and Christmas tree. Following a brief address the tree will be lighted, while the carol, "There's a Wonderful Tree," will be sung by Mrs. Moore. This part of the Christmas Festival is a delight not only to the children but to all with young hearts. This service is open to public and all are invited. Particularly are parents invited to bring their children who are not yet members of the Sunday school, to see the tree.

Two services will be held Christmas day, the first an early celebration of the Holy Communion at 8 o'clock; the second, a later celebration at 10.30 with sermon and festival music.

BETHANY CHURCH.

Music at Bethany Congregational church, Christmas Sunday morning at 10.30 will be as follows:

Prelude—Noel D'Evry
"Hark what mean those Holy Voices" Steane
Chorus
Response—Carol—Children's Choir in Balcony.
Offertory—Pastorale Guilmant
Violin, Piano, Organ
Anthem—"It is the Blessed Christmas Morn." Bartlett
Soprano Solo, Violin Obligato and Chorus.
Postlude Dubois

At the evening service at 7.30, the vested girl's choir will be assisted by the morning choir and the following program presented:

Prelude—Andante Pastorale Best
Anthem—Hark what mean those Holy Voices." Steane
Solo—"Christmas Song" A. Adam
Mr. Hayden
"O Holy Night" Stainer
Vested Choir
Trio—Pastorale Guilmant
Violin, Piano, Organ
Anthem—"It is the Blessed Christmas Morn." Bartlett

The chorus will be assisted by Mrs. Emma Shufeldt Moore, soprano; Albert L. Hayden, bass; Miss Edith Rowbound, violinist; Mrs. Daisy Bemis Sampson, pianist and Miss Agnes B. Ruggles at the organ.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN.

An interesting and profitable musical service has been prepared for the morning and evening services in the First Presbyterian church, Water anl Quincy streets.

The choir will sing:
"Tis Heavens Reply."
"And Three Were Shepherds."
"What Mean Those Heavenly Voices."
"Hark the Glad Tidings."
"Praise Ye The Lord."

The following solos will also be rendered:
"Jehovah.
"Comfort Ye."
"O Thou That Tellest."
"He Shall Feed His Flock."

The pastor Rev. James A. Matheson will have a Christmas message for both services and you are invited to share and enjoy these services.

FIRST PARISH CHURCH.

The church quartet will give the musical program at the First Parish Church Christmas Sunday, assisted at the vesper service by the entire Sunday school with Christmas carols and hymns. The music for the morning service will be as follows:

Service prelude—"Prayer" Stark
Antiphonal Responses
Anthem—"Calm on the list'ning ear of night" Parker
Response—"Hear, O Father" Gilbert
Anthem—"Sing, O heavens" Bergh
Organ postlude—"Finale" Fauchey

UNIVERSALIST CHURCH.

Christmas music at the three o'clock service Sunday afternoon at the First Universalist church Rev. Merrill C. Ward, pastor will be as follows:

"Calm on the listening ear of Night"
"Joy to the World the Lord is Come."
"All hail the power of Jesus' Name."
Solo—"The Message of Peace," Dressler
Miss Edith Hyland
Solo—"O Holy Night" Adams
Mrs. John K. Ruggles
Theme of pastor's sermon "Immanuel"

WOLLASTON BAPTIST.

The church and Sunday school of the Wollaston Baptist church unite in a Sunday school concert in the church Sunday morning at 10.45 when the following will be the order of service:

Organ Prelude—Offertory in B flat Read
Hymn
Lord's Prayer in unison.
Carol by choir—"Softly the Night" Gilbert
Scripture by Men's classes Psalm 145
Prayer by Pastor
Response, organ
Primary exercises
Anthem "O Zion that tellest" Buck
Offertory—"Offertoire" Batiste
Recitation by Roland Hall.
Exercise by young girls
Hymn
Benediction, Pastor.
Organ Postlude "Postlude in D" Schnecker

Sunday school at 12.15 Christmas lesson "The word made flesh. Junior Endeavor at 3.30 subject "What is the best way to keep Christmas?" Y. P. S. C. E. at 6, subject "The Christmas spirit and how it may prevail," leader Miss Edith B. Armstrong. Evening service at 7 when pastor will preach a Christmas sermon and the large chorus choir sing "Night Song of Bethlehem" by Buck and "Holy Christmas Night" by Lassen.

Christmas tree exercises will be held Wednesday evening at 7 in the chapel.

(Continued on Page Four.)

☞PRATT'S BREAD—always crisp, clean, pure and wholesome. Try it. Grocers.

T. BAKER

Saws Recut. Set and Filed. Cutlery and Edge Tools Ground and Polished. Razors Honed. Skates Ground. Jobbing of all kinds.

59 Pond Street, Quincy.

27-14t on Sat.

THE ANGELS PUT UP A HOLLER

Theatrical Promoters Found Guilty of Conspiracy

Irving F. Moore, theatrical agent and James W. Riches, broker, of Boston were found guilty in the superior criminal court Friday of "conspiracy to defraud" by fleecing a Quincy man and a Somerville man who answered advertisements which offered to make them treasurers of the "Purple Widow" company at $25 per week with one third share in the profits of the company.

The two men whom they were charged with fleecing are Edward P. Lemke, a machinist of Norfolk Downs and Ralph Garno, a salesman of Somerville. Lemke and Garno testified that they paid $300 and $500 respectively, but remained with the company less than two weeks.

At the trial, William Carlton, manager and leading comedian in "The Purple Road" company, testified for the Government that Moore told him his counsel had "to slip the hill some money at different times"" because Edward Lemke, an "angel" for the show, "had put up a holler." Carlton explained that an "angel "in theatrical parlance was one who advanced money for a show.

Moore is a theatrical man, with offices at 218 Tremont street and Riches is a broker with offices at 259 Washington street. It is alleged they advertised for a treasurer for the show, and when any one responded they sought to have him invest money representing that he would receive a salary of a fixed sum weekly and a share in the profits.

Edward P. Lemke, testified that he came from Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and went to work as a machinist for $15 a week at Norfolk Downs. He went to the office of Riches in consequence of seeing an advertisement. He said Riches told him he would get $25 a week salary and $50 a week in profits. He heard Riches say over the telephone that witness had $230.

With an introduction card from Riches, witness went to Moore's office The latter showed him a telegram stating the show was making a hit. Witness said he was given to understand that its bookings included New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore, at a guarantee of $450 a week. Moore, he said, told him the company had played in Chelsea and Beverly.

He said Moore wanted $500 from him, but he could get only $300. Moore said that would be all right and the balance of $200 could be taken out of the profits coming to witness from the show. He was told the show was then playing in Beverly, but he learned later that it was rehearsing at 175 Tremont street.

Ralph Garno of Adams street, West Somerville, said he saw an advertisement for a treasurer and ticket taker for a theatrical company and responded to it. He said he put up $500 with Moore with the understanding that he would receive $25 a week and one-third of the profits. He joined the company at New London in July.

☞Vaughn's Spa is quoting cut prices on candies. Christmas box goods a specialty

☞Yes, Emanuel has a large new stock of fancy boxes for his Christmas confections. Choice chocolates are more attractive in a pretty box.

THE QUINCY GIFT

The Most Appropriate Christmas Gift to Residents and Lovers of Quincy are the

ILLUSTRATED BOOKS ABOUT QUINCY

By the Rev. D. M. Wilson

WHERE AMERICAN INDEPENDENCE BEGAN. $2.25

ILLUSTRATED SKETCH OF QUINCY AND BRAINTREE.

Board Covers 50c. Paper Covers 25c

For Sale by Brown & Co., Quincy; G. C. Shunk, Wollaston; Branschied & Martens Atlantic.

Dec. 13-6t-13-15-17-20-22-24-p-2w

RECEPTION AT WOODWARD

Annual Christmas Party Enjoyed by Pupils and Guests

The annual Christmas reception was given at Woodward Institute Friday evening by the Senior, Junior and Sophomore classes. The attendance was large, many of the young men present being students at Quincy High and Thayer Academy.

The matrons were Mrs. Horace W. Rice, Mrs. Albert L. Barbour and Mrs. John D. Buckingham. The receiving corner was banked with potted plants and palms and the ushers were members of the classes.

The reception was held in the study hall which was prettily decorated with Christmas colors and greenery. The serving of frappe and other refreshments was dispensed with, and the custom of serving ice water instead was established. Dancing was enjoyed during the evening and music was by Westons orchestra.

CHRISTMAS AT POST OFFICE

Extra Hours on Sunday and Extra Carriers

Superintendent Charles L. Hammond of the Quincy post office announced this morning that the office will be open for the receiving of mail on Sunday evneing from 4 to 8 o'clock. Extra efforts will be made to handle the large increase in the Christmas mail this year. On the holiday five men will assist the regular carriers in making their delivery and six wagons will be used in the distribution of the parcel post packages. The season is one of the busiest ever experienced at the local office and the increase in parcels post receipts and deliveries are greater by far than last year.

D. E. WADSWORTH & CO.

Suggestions for Christmas Gifts

Gloves	Shirt Waists
Handkerchiefs	Rain Coats
Aprons	Sweaters
Ribbons	Silk Petticoats
Umbrellas	Kimonos
Hose	House Linens

and

Everything for the Baby

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE

ARTISTIC EFFECTS

Are gained in every Box or Bouquet of Cut Flowers we arrange.

We have all the

POTTED PLANTS

that are in season such as

Poinsettias, Azaleas, Cyclamen, Primroses, Lorraine Begonias, etc.

CHRISTMAS WREATHS of all kinds.

JOHNSON, the Florist

City Flower Store, City Square

Dec. 18-6t

FATALITY AT WOLLASTON FIRE

W. Quincy Torrey, the Victim, a Life Long Resident of the City

His Aged Sister, Mrs. Catherine Couchier, Rescued

Willard Quincy Torrey, one of Quincy's old residents was smothered and burned to death this morning in a fire which damaged his home at 267 Farington street to the extent of $2,000. Just how the fire started is not known, but from appearances it was caused by hot coals from a stove in Mr. Torrey's room dropping onto the floor. Mr. Torrey and his sister, Catherine Couchier lived in thehouse together, both being well along in years. Mrs. Couchier ocupied a room on the first floor and Mr. Torrey, a room in the second floor over the kitchen.

The fire was discovered shortly after 5.15 A. M. and an alarm was sounded from Box 52 at 5.27.

A man named Murphy was passing the house about that time and saw smoke and heard the fire crackling. Rushing to the front door he kicked it in, and as it opened Mrs. Couchier was found standing in a dazed condition just inside the door. She was taken across the street to the house of F. H. Spinney and made comfortable An attempt was then made to get up stairs to the room occupied by Mr. Torrey, but the fire had gained such headway that this was found impossible.

In the meantime an alarm had been sounded from Box 52, which brought the Wollaston apparatus which is located but a short distance away, as well as the Atlantic and Central station auto combinations. When he firemen arrived, however, the interior of the upper floor was a roaring mass of flames and it was some minutes before the streams of water had quenched the flames enough to enable the firemen to get in and try to rescue the unfortunate man. It was too late, however, for he was dead.

Mr. Torrey was found on the floor near the front of the stove. One foot was down the hole that had been burnt in the floor and the body lay over against the floor. It would appear from the position of the body that he had been aroused by the fire and had attempted to get out of the room. That, being somewhat overcome by smoke he had stepped into the hole that had been burnt through the floor in front of the stove and being unable to help himself had fallen over and was suffocated. His body was also burned somewhat.

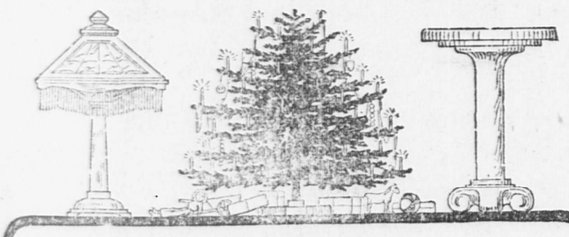
Medical Examiner Dr. F. E. Jones was summoned and the body given in charge of an undertaker.

(Continued on Page Six.)

Open Evenings Until Christmas

KINCAIDE FURNITURE STORE

THE HOUSE OF HELPFUL CREDIT



Gifts Delivered for Christmas

ANYTHING you select from our big and varied stock of really appreciated Christmas gifts will be held for you and delivered for Christmas. No need to lock doors and screen windows to insure a surprise. We will play Santa Claus.

If you select a Hoosier Cabinet for the housekeeper of the family—wife, mother or sister—a Morris chair, lamp or good table for father or brother, something attractive and convenient for the rooms of the younger members of the family, you will delight each recipient.

Pay us a visit. It will be profitable to you. Prices reasonable—quality high.

The Kincaide Easy Payment Plan is at your disposal for Christmas buying. And this Great Store is overflowing with Good Gift Suggestions. COME.

KINCAIDE & CO. Quincy's Live Furniture Store

Entire Building 1495 Hancock St.

TURKEY ROLL OFF

CHRISTMAS EVE.

At 8 o'clock sharp

Twenty Highest Men to Qualify

Three high non-consecutive strings Candle Pins may be selected.

First Prize, 14-lb. Turkey
Second Prize, 12-lb. Turkey
Third Prize, 10-lb. Turkey
Fourth Prize, a Chicken

Special Prizes Also on Christmas Day

COLISEUM ALLEYS

Near Quincy Depot

VERY ACCEPTABLE GIFTS

Just Arrived! Several New Styles and All of Them Beauties

PORTABLE GAS LAMPS

AND HALL LANTERNS

∴ ALSO ∴

"IWANTU" GAS IRONS

IN FANCY HOLLY BOXES

HEATS IN FOUR MINUTES. STAYS HOT ALL THE TIME. TEN HOURS IRONING FOR FOUR CENTS.

☞ Have you investigated the Reznor Gas Heating Stoves? Everything from the handy little portable to the superb fireplace heater.

CITIZENS' GAS LIGHT CO.

Granite Street Near City Squrae

Dec. 15 6t

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second-Class matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the . . . .

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO
Incorporated.

TELEPHONES
News . . . Quincy 425
Business . . Quincy 1910

NOTICE

Again we ask those sending news or other matter by mail to direct it to the company or newspaper rather than to individual members of the company or employees. If addressed to individuals and they were ill or not at the office, it might be several days in reaching its proper destination and if news matter would be too late for use.

The downfall of Mrs. Elia Flagg Young shows what a dangerous thing it is to run the schools on a business like basis.

In spite of the obligations assumed when President Wilson took the oath of office, he has let the White house mint patch run out.

Some people are kicking because the government has to pay for grapefruit knives for the senators. Surely they don't expect the senators to suck the fruit.

There are two Sundays in the year when most everybody goes to church, the non-going as well as the regular attendant, Christmas and Easter. In our churches tomorrow there will be good services with timely sermons, special music, concerts by the Sunday schools and good cheer and cordial good will will prevail throughout the city. Let every one be a part of it.

HOW ABOUT YOUR TREES?

There is no time in the year when more effective work can be done in ridding trees of pests than in the winter and present month has been an unusually good one for out-door work. Start a campaign now against the brown-tail moth. When what looks like a little bunch of leaves glued together is seen still resisting the winds of winter and clinging to the trees, it is safe to assume that it harbors a small million eggs. There is not enough public money to clean off these plague spots, but the owners of trees for their own self-interest should clear their premises. The nests should be cut off and burned. Be sure they are burned and not dropped about to scatter over the country.

CHRISTMAS CANDLES.

The idea started in Boston a few years ago, and adopted since by other communities, of burning candles in the windows Christmas eve, is a pretty custom especially when combined with serenades by bands of carol singers.

This year through the women's clubs many have not only heard of the Christmas eve candle but have been asked to adopt the idea and burn candles in the windows of their homes Christmas eve.

If our people take up the idea many of our streets will look like fairy land with the little beacons shining forth into the night. We understand that Wollaston has become enthused over the candle idea and the Hill, Plains, Park and Downs will be all aglow and several bands of carol singers have organized.

CHRISTMAS EXCESSES.

With what enthusiasm the recipient of Christmas gifts says "Thank you." Afterward, in the seclusion of the family, the remark is often made that if one could only have the money the gifts cost, how welcome it would be.

Tawdry pictures that do not decorate, futile bric-a-brac adding to the labors of the family cleaner, shiny toys that soon go to the broken glass barrel, how large a portion of the Christmas revel is absolute waste!

Two types of Christmas gifts express the Christmas spirit of peace and good will. These are gifts to near relatives and intimate friends, to the children near and dear to you, all of whose tastes you know, and those of money and articles of household use given to the poor.

Gifts to mere acquaintances and the less intimate circles of friendship soon degenerate into mercenary swapping. They are a heavy tax on many people of moderate means, and the wealthy are burdened by the time and thought required.

Make Christmas a more real expression of joy and gladness!

TO WIND-UP ITS BUSINESS

City Council May Adjourn Sine Die on Monday

What will probably be the last meeting of the City Council of 1913 will be held Monday evening. The last scheduled meeting was held Monday evening but as there were several matters which required an additional reading it was necessary to adjourn for a week.

In addition, there are two matters on the table which will probably cause considerable debate. One of these is the veto by Mayor Stone of the order changing the name of Goffe street to Presidents lane. The other is the order appropriating $500 to pay the trustees of the Thomas Crane Public Library for land taken for the widening of Coddington street. This order failed to pass at the last meeting, but the vote was reconsidered and the order laid on the table. Spirited debates are sure to be held on both of these matters.

In the calendar are several matters which will come up for their second reading and passage while the committees which have not cleaned up the business referred to them will make reports on the same. For these reasons the meeting promises to be a busy one.

FUN FEST AND FAIR RIVERSIDE CLUB

The annual fun fest and fair of the Quincy Women's Riverside Club was held Friday afternoon and evening. Whist was played afternoon and evening in Hancock hall and there was dancing in Colonial hall. Music was by Wilson's orchestra. Tables were set around Hancock hall for the sale of articles and presided over by the members of the club.

The afternoon whist winners were Mrs. Anna J. Gould, Mrs. Mary L. Thomas, Mrs. Beatrice Walsh and Miss Lena Allen. It was in charge of Mrs. E. R. Stone and Mrs. Thompson B. Crane.

The dance committee included Mrs. Mary M. Sprague, Mrs. Emma E. Marnock, Mrs. Mary A. Jones, Miss Beatrice B. Marnock, Miss Mattie E. Hodgkinson, Mrs. Mary E. Avery, Miss Muriel Arnold, Mrs. Margaret Pitts. Mrs. Emma E. Marnock was floor directress.

The tables were as follows:

Cake—Mrs. John S. Bass, Mrs. J. F. Roche, Mrs. James M. Gibb, Mrs. J. Peterson.

Fancy—Mrs. George M. Spooner, Mrs. Thomas Smith, Mrs. Charles H. Hodgkinson, Mrs. Mabel Keene, Mrs. Annie Betts.

Apron—Mrs. Ella Hayden, Mrs. Mary Jones, Mrs. John Schlenker, Mrs. Mary McGilvray, Mrs. Theresa Hobart.

Refreshments—Mrs. Samuel Oxford, Mrs. S. E. Godreau, Mrs. Margaret Pitts, Mrs. Alfred Coates, Mrs. Susan Cashman, Mrs. Annie E. Matheson.

Candy—Mrs. Annie F. Harmon, Mrs. Otis McDonnell, Mrs. Alice Nolan.

Christmas Tree — Mrs. Isabelle Souther, Mrs. Emma E. Marnock.

Flowers—Mrs. Bradford Hayden, Miss Edith Stone.

RED CROSS CHRISTMAS SEALS.

Wednesday will be the last chance to buy Red Cross Christmas seals. Those who wish to add their mite to the cause that is fighting to eliminate tuberculosis should keep that date in mind. These stamps are on sale at the Post Office Y. M. C. A. and various stores. They cost but one cent each and they can be purchased in any quantities. Many mercantile establishments have bought supplies for all their mailing matter. If every Christmas letter or package should have one the results would be surprisingly large.

Eighty per cent of the money from sales in Quincy goes to help the local work and is a help much needed.

CRANCH SCHOOL BOYS WANTED

There was a misunderstanding relative to the tickets for the free swimming lessons at the Y. M. C. A. They were not given out to the boys at the Cranch school yesterday as intended. The boys of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades are scheduled for 3, 3.30 and 4 o'clock Monday afternoon. Please be prompt as other boys are scheduled for 4.30.

FAREWELL RECEPTION.

A great outpouring of Knights of Pythias and their ladies is expected at the farewell reception and banquet to be tendered Rev. Allen A. Stockdale, for several years Grand Prelate of the Massachusetts Knights of Pythias at Ford hall, Boston, Dec. 30, at 7 P. M. Mr. Stockdale, who is about to leave Boston to become pastor of the Union Central church of Toledo, after a notable career as pastor of the Union Congregational church, is exceedingly popular with the members of the order. Not only was he Grand Prelate for a considerable term of years, but he has been active in the work of the organization from many angles. He has been in great demand for several years as a speaker at fraternal affairs and has preached a special sermon each year to the Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias which has always been largely attended as well by the members of the Knights of Pythian lodges and of the Pythian sisters.

Mr. Stockdale was born in Zanesville, Ohio, Sept. 15, 1875, was graduated from Taylor University, Indiana, in 1896, and shortly afterwards entered the pulpit. In 1896 he entered Boston University School of Theology and previous to his graduation from that institution officiated at several different churches. His first settled pastorate was at Berkeley Temple in this city. When Berkeley Temple was consolidated with the Union church, Mr. Stockdale became pastor of the combined church.

He has been a member of the Knights of Pythias for more than a dozen years, having joined while pastor of Chester Avenue Chapel of Chelsea, and being Past Chancellor of Mystic Lodge of that city. He is now a member of New England Lodge of Boston.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATION.

A competitive examination of applicants for stenographer-typewriter, class 9, will be held at Boston, Jan. 12 The regulation speed tests of 75 words, 100 words, 120 words, and 150 words a minute will be given. The examination includes arithmetic; copying printed matter (on typewriter, testing accuracy, speed and technique) transcribing rough draft on (typewriter); tabulation (on typewriter); handwriting; letter (copy), to be put in proper form, headed, paragraphed, punctuated, etc.

Only citizens of the United States who have been residents of Massachusetts for the past year have a right to apply for the service of the Commonwealth; and only citizens of the United States who have been residents of Massachusetts for the past year and of Boston for the six months last past have a right to apply for the service of Boston. Men or women desiring to take this examination may secure application blanks by applying in person, or by letter, at the office of the Civil Service Commission, Room 151 State House, Boston.

CHRISTMAS EVE CANDLES.

Dorchester is to be brilliantly illuminated on Christmas eve, for almost everyone in that community is enthusiastic over the plan to place lighted candles in their windows. Candles will be placed in the windows of the houses and lighted between 6 and 7 o'clock. Carollers will sing about the streets to add to the festivity. They will be members of the various young people's societies, the Sunday school and other children and singers. They will first remember the "shut-ins" and will sing for them. Thus the celebration will embody the "community idea" and will be participated in by almost everybody.

ACCIDENT PROVED FATAL.

John Corcoran, father of Councilman Daniel F. Corcoran who was taken to the Quincy City Hospital on State election day, with injuries received by falling while superintending the unloading of wood, died there Friday night. He was in his 52nd year and was a well known resident of West Quincy.

The funeral will be held from his home on Grove street, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Services will be held in St. Mary's church at 3.45. Burial will be in St. Mary's cemetery. The deceased leaves another son, Timothy, who is a foreman of sewer extension by the city.

Certain Relief from headaches, dull feelings, and fatigue of biliousness, comes quickly --and permanent improvement in bodily condition follows—after your stomach, liver and bowels have been toned and regulated by

BEECHAM'S PILLS

Sold everywhere. In boxes, 10c, 25c.

BRIEFS

The student Volunteer Band of the Clarendon Street Baptist church, Boston conducted the Y. P. S. C. E. at Memorial church Sunday evening.

All members and friends of the Atlantic M. E. Church are requested to attend the Christmas services the coming Sabbath at 10.45 A. M. The music will be rendered by the Sunday school.

The regular monthly missionary meeting of the Woman's Guild of St. Chrysostom's church will be held Monday afternoon at half past two instead of Wednesday which is the day before Christmas. This is the last meeting of the Year.

The Atlantic M. E. Sunday school will have a Christmas tree Christmas night. A treat will be given the children, received from the tree by Santa Claus. A literary program will precede the giving of the presents.

Rev. T. W. Davison will conduct the Christmas tree exercises at the Squantum Vacation house Tuesday evening. Since last September the Sunday school of Squantum has enrolled fifty scholars, and the Christmas tree service is its first social function.

At the Pleasant Sunday evening service at Bethany church the pastor will speak on the spirit that should pervade all people at this joyous season of the year, the people will sing the old carols, and the two choruses will sing. All who have no regular church home will be cordially welcomed to this service which will be pervaded with joy.

Mrs. Eugene C. Hultman, president of the Quincy Day Nursery association hopes that our readers will not forget the Day Nursery at this festive season. Gifts of new toys, dolls, fruit and money will be very acceptable aids in giving the children at the Nursery a Christmas celebration. Gifts may be sent direct to the Nursery or to Mrs. Hultman, 219 Washington street.

At the Park and Downs church Sunday morning in place of the regular service there will be a concert by the Sunday school, a special feature of which will be the kindergarten class of little ones some seventy in number ranging from two to six years of age, which will take the leading part in the exercises. The whole will represent the birth of Christ. Flowers will be distributed at the manger and there will be the three wise men and angels. It should be a beautiful sight with the little ones in their vestments, singing and speaking. Mrs. J. A. Boone has the exercise in charge.

PRATT'S BREAD costs a little more—is worth a good deal more. Ask your grocer.

(ADVERTISE.)

The Most Loved of All Presents

OUR STOCK

In W. W. W. Solid Gold Fine Stone Rings and 14k and 10k

Solid Gold Pendants

is without any doubt, the largest of any Store within near reach and prices are proven to be lower than any Boston store.

The W. W. W. Solid Gold Rings carry the strongest possible guarantee, as the manufacturers will replace any Genuine Stone (except Diamonds), if they should for any reason fall out of the setting, FREE OF CHARGE.

Big Stock on hand of Fine Solid Gold and Gold-Filled Bracelets, Lockets, Pins, Brooches, Cuff Links and Bar Pins, in a well-selected variety.

Only a few days to Xmas. Select your Goods NOW---with the Store that IS doing the big Christmas business.

SANDBERG BROS.
Jewelers
1281 Hancock St., Quincy

Perfect biscuit perfectly produced

Eternal vigilance is exercised by National Biscuit Company in the selection of the ingredients that enter into its products.

National Biscuit Company products are perfectly protected by being packed in attractive small tins, in packages with the famous In-er-seal Trade Mark or in the familiar glass-front cans.

Wherever biscuit are sold, there you will find the perfect biscuit of the National Biscuit Company. Each variety, whether known as crackers or cookies, wafers or snaps, cakes or jumbles, is the best of its kind.

Buy biscuit baked by

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

Always look for that name

BRIEFS

Thomas Burgin of Presidents hill is recovering from a sprained ankle.

The ladies of the Atlantic M. E. church are planning to hold another fair in January.

Percival A. Hall has returned to his home on Walker street after a trip of several weeks through the south.

Charles Phillips of Walnut street was taken to the Peter Bridgham hospital, Brookline, Tuesday being ill with pneumonia.

The folk dancing class of the Quincy Young Women's club is to be omitted, Tuesday, Dec. 23rd on account of the Christmas holiday season.

Many trains will be dropped on the N. Y. N. H. & H., Christmas day that as many as possible of the employees may enjoy a holiday. Those intending to travel that day should consult the timetables posted in the various stations.

The usual Christmas party for children, given by the Alliance of the First Parish church will be held in the chapel, Tuesday, Dec. 23 at 3.30 p. m. Members of the Alliance and church are asked for contributions to help defray the expense of the party.

Don't forget to use the Red Cross Christmas seals liberally on your Christmas letters and gifts for in so doing you are helping a most worthy cause, the fresh air camp for tuberculosis patients. You can get the seals at the Post Office, Y. M. C. A. and at the office of H. M. Faxon, Granite street.

Sunday school superintendents and those having in charge the Christmas festivals of the various Sunday schools of the city are requested to send an outline of the program for publication in the Ledger the first of the week. To ensure insertion they should reach this office Saturday afternoon or Monday.

Miss Violet Doane of Atlantic is in North Carolina, where she is to spend the winter, in hopes of regaining her health which, for some time has been the cause of much anxiety, among her friends. While in the south, Miss Doane will continue dressmaking, and it is hoped she will return to Atlantic, in the spring, entirely recovered.

Capital $150,000 Surplus $200,000

WHY THIS BANK IS LIKE A GOOD STORE

A successful store-keeper is liberal with his customers—his clerks are courteous and ready to oblige—he gives his trade good service. This bank like the merchant wants business, and to get and hold business it offers prompt and painstaking service. Perhaps you will be surprised to find out how many things we do for our depositors—come in and let us tell you about our services.

Our $5 Box is Larger Than a $10 Box in Boston.

GRANITE TRUST CO.
FOUNDED 1836

MERRY CHRISTMAS !!

Come to the Foy stores for everything in our line. Largest, newest and most complete stock. Nothing carried over.

The Good Housekeeping Stores, so designated by Good Housekeeping Magazine (of which Dr. Wiley is editor.)

Our prices are right all down the line. We give careful attention to all orders, and aim by courteous and fair treatment to give perfect satisfaction to our customers.

For Sunday Dinner

Fresh Eastern Pork	17c lb
Leg Mutton	15c lb
Brussells Sprouts	15c basket

"Delmonte" Raisins	10c pkg	Cluster Raisins--Centaur--	27c lb
Purity Currants	10c pkg	Xmas Nabisco's	2 pkgs 15c
Fancy Citron	18c lb	Cranberries	10c qt
Lemon and Orange Peel	18c lb	Oregon Apples--Table--	30c doz
Ribbon Candy	2 lb. Box 23c	Laurel Wreaths	25c
Dromedary Dates	10c pkg	Xmas Trees	25c up
Snow-ball Pop Corn	3 pkgs 25c	Jars Mince Meat--all ready--	25c
Walnut Meats--1913 crop	55c lb	Hotel Astor Rice	3 pkgs 25

Pastry Flour—Foy's Special—Small Bags 20c
Kennedy's Common Crackers 3 lbs 25c
Bell's Dressing 9c can
Sage 5c can
Campbell's Tomato Soup 3 cans 25c
Logan & Johnson's Raspberry and Strawberry Jam 15c
Romantic Spiced Crackers, regular 20c lb., special 2 lbs 25c

R. E. FOY & CO.
Grocers and Marketmen
Adams Market, Adams Bldg. Water St. Market, Water Cor. Quincy

1876-1913

WE HAVE OFFERED FOR YOUR INSPECTION AND SELECTION EACH YEAR RELIABLE GOODS, AND WE SUGGEST YOU LOOK OVER OUR LINE OF

Watches, Cut Glass, Silver Ware, Jewelry, Clocks, Etc.

TO AID YOU IN YOUR CHRISTMAS SHOPPING WE INVITE YOUR INSPECTION OF OUR STOCK.

C. F. PETTENGILL
1391 Hancock Street Near Granite Street
TELEPHONE QUINCY 466-M Dec.17,10t

The Social Realm

On Christmas night
A bayberry candle
Burned to the socket
Brings luck to the house
Food to the larder
And gold to the pocket.
—Anne Abbott.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Doble, nee Grace Spear, who have been occupying the Charles A. Howland house on Adams street for a few weeks, have rented very attractive apartments on Glendale road just south of the Russell A. Sears, and near several of their friends. They hoped to be settled for the Christmas holidays.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Muirhead, nee Margaret Little of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania are receiving congratulation on the birth of a son born, Dec. 11th.

* * *

Henry Rodgers was the week end guest of his brother Herbert T. Dodgers of Marshfield Hills.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Sturtevant, and Miss Alice Putnam of Adams street leave this week for Florida where they will board their steam yacht the Grey Duck for their usual winter's cruise in southern waters.

* * *

Mrs. H. J. Grass of Montclair is visiting the Rev. H. S. Weeks of Brattleboro, Vermont and from there goes on to visit relatives in Schenectady, New York for the holidays returning home a few days after Christmas.

* * *

Mrs. Alice J. Bainbridge of Prospect avenue went Friday to Brooklyn, New York where she will be the guest over the Christmas season of Mrs. Henry Bainbridge. Soon after New Years Mrs. Bainbridge leaves for Southern Pines, Carolina, where she will stay until late in the spring.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Wendall G. Corthell of Grand View avenue left Wednesday for DeLand, Florida where they will stay the remainder of the winter.

* * *

Mrs. S. I. Wood leaves next week for Trenton, New Jersey for a short visit with her daughter Mrs. Cecil Blanchard. Little Elinor Blanchard who has been with her for several weeks returns with her and is looking forward to seeing her new baby brother.

* * *

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Moore of Dysart street are pleased to learn that the rumor that they wereto move to Providence early in the New Year may not prove true as they hope to arrange to continue their residence here, where they have so many friends and are so pleasantly situated.

* * *

Mrs. Grace H. Rogers has closed her house at Marshfield Hills and is to spend the winter with her sons in Wollaston and Brookline.

A bread made after a fixed formula by expert bakers, sold by Grocers under its trade-mark name "PETER PARLEY." It is wrapped for protection.

Mrs. Frank E. Cleveland's hospitality in opening her home on Hillside avenue Wollaston Friday afternoon, Dec. 12 for the members of the Woman's Guild of St. Chrysostom's church proved a profitable and pleasurable afternoon. Over two hundred bags were made for the New Year's party to be held some time before the beginning of the Lenten season. Fruit punch and fancy crackers were served by the hostess, assisted by her mother Mrs. William H. Parker who makes her home with her.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Stokes Prichard of West Elm avenue are at Roanoke Virginia until after the Christmas holidays visiting relatives.

* * *

Mrs. Walter A. Barbour of Waterbury, Cannecticut is the guest of her cousins the Everett B. Goodrichs of Farrington street.

* * *

Wednesday night Mrs. W. C. Crane of 32 Briggs street entertained friends from Brattleboro, Vermont at an informal dinner party.

* * *

The committee on the Twelfth Night Revels entertainment is already at work planning for this year's festivities. The promise is for "the best yet." Everyone who went last year to the Revels is going to attend this year and those who did not have the pleasure are assuring themselves that they won't miss the fun this year. It is to be held this year in a larger hall, Music hall, having been secured and the date for the Revels is Jan. 16th.

* * *

Mrs. William McGlaughflin has returned to her home on Billings street after spending two months in the West.

* * *

Mrs. William C. Crane of Briggs street gave a debutante luncheon Friday to Boston friends in honor of the coming out of Misses Jane and Elsie Waldo of Marlborough street.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert C. Poore of East Braintree returned this week from their wedding trip to New York, Washington and Florida.

* * *

The marriage of Miss Loretta Hart of Weymouth and John Mahan of Quincy, organist at St. John's church is to be solemnized Monday December the twenty-ninth.

* * *

Mrs. Edward J. Murphy of Russell park who was out of health in the early fall and has been away for a few months returned this week much improved and looking the picture of health. She is receiving a warm welcome from many friends.

* * *

Miss Mildred Hallett of Boston has been the guest of Mrs. J. Willard Hallett of Warwick street.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. W. Esten of Arnold road spent a few days at Randolph this week.

* * *

Mrs. I. Gordon McKenna and baby of Arnold road have returned from a two weeks' visit to relatives at Hyde Park.

* * *

Miss M. I. Wallace of Brookline and Miss Mabel Wallace of Charlestown have been guests of Mrs. Henry Kneeland Ellis, Jr., of Warwick street.

* * *

Miss Doris Chase of Centreville is the guest of Mrs. William J. Voss of Marshall street.

Mr. and Mrs. John O. Hall, Jr., are expected the first of the week from Yarmouth, Maine to spend the Christmas holidays with Mr. and Mrs. John O. Hall and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Hall of Upland road.

* * *

Mrs. Lydia C. Hultman, who has been on a visit to her daughter Mrs. Louis Eckert in Austria Hungary, is on her way home and is expected to arrive in New York, Christmas day.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cummings, nee Clara Bennett, were given a surprise shower Saturday evening when three automobiles filled with friends called on them at their new home, 256 Farrington street. They were Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Landry, Mr. and Mrs. H. Kneeland Ellis, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. J. Wallard Hallett, Miss M I. Wallace Miss Mildred Hallett, Mrs. E. W. Small, Miss Mabel Wallace and Herbert Cummings.

LADY BETTY A NEW PLAY

Presented by Author for Benefit of Pond Home

Notwithstanding the nearness of the Christmas season there was a good sized audience at First Church chapel last evening to enjoy the play "Lady Betty" given for the benefit of Pond Home.

Preceding the play a musical program was given; songs by Miss Ruth Hardy of Wollaston and violin and piano selections. Miss Hardy's group of songs was received with hearty applause. She has a sweet sympathetic voice.

The play "Lady Betty" a one act comedy was written by Erastus Osgood, who also played the leading role of Sir Harry Rashmore. It is a romance of Colonial days, the scene being laid in the morning room of Sir Harry's Virginia home. There were three actors in the cast, Sir Harry, Mr. Osgood, Lady Betty, Mrs. Isabelle Davis; and Wilson, Miss Ruth Hardy; all of Quincy and well known for their dramatic talent.

As was to be expected, but not always the case, when the author is also the actor, Mr. Osgood gave a fine interpretation of the part of Sir Harry, the Englishman whose life had been saddened by an early love affair and who had settled in a new country after retiring from the army and coming into his title. He was fond of sports, his horses and dogs but had become a woman hater.

Miss Hardy as Wilson, an optimist enjoying the sunshine and thinking Sir Harry queer, carried her part well.

Mrs. Davis as Lady Betty loked and acted the part. An English woman visiting friends in Virginia she was forced by a storm to seek shelter in Sir Harrys house. For years since the death of her husband she had searched the world over for a lost miniature said to contain in its frame a last message from her husband. Not only was the miniature found in Sir Harrys possession but it helped them discover that they had been early sweethearts although the years had changed them. Mistakes were explained away and they decided to become lovers again.

It was a pretty little romance well played and if there is any criticism it would be that it was all too short, as the audience would have enjoyed much more of the clever acting of the home company.

SENTENCED FOR ONE YEAR

Amateur Detectives Change Plea at Last Moment

A few minutes before court adjourned Friday afternoon, John H. Rose, John Olson, James Powers and John Smith, the four amateur detectives who had been arrested in connection with the hold up of Shu Goon at his laundry at Quincy Point, signified that they desired to change their plea of not guilty to that of guilty.

When the cases were called earlier in the day all four of the defendants, although they had made a confession to the officers entered a plea of not guilty, and the case was continued until next week Friday. The men were then taken to the basement of the court room and locked up pending the time the court officers should take them to Dedham jail.

Evidently they came to the conclusion that it would be better to plead quilty and they notified the court officer, who again took them back to the court room where they retracted their plea of not guilty and pleaded guilty. On this plea they were sentenced to one year in the house of correction.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar J. Olson Kindly Remembered

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar J. Olson observed the twenty-fifth anniversary of the marriage at their home on Cranch street Friday evening. Guests were present from Dorchester, Braintree, Weymouth, Boston, Malden and Quincy.

Mr. and Mrs. Olson were presented with a tray of silver dollars in behalf of the guests present, and a silver service from their four sons. Elizabeth, the daughter, assisted them in receiving their friends who arrived during the evening.

An entertainment was provided and refreshments were served. The celebration did not adjourn until midnight.

FINGERS CRUSHED.

The hands of Gustaf Bronstrom of 44 Carlson street, were caught under a dynamo when it overturned on the Rividavia on Thursday, and four fingers were badly crushed under the heavy load. He is at his home and it is not improbable that Dr. William H. Blanchard of the Red Cross Hospital at the shipyard will be able to save some of the fingers. Brontrom is married and has three children.

GENTLEMEN'S NIGHT.

English Ivy lodge, Order of the Daughters of St. George, observed their 16th anniversary in Clan McGregor hall Friday evening with gentlemen's night. The attendance was large. Solos were given by George Davey, Miss Lucy Brooks, William Hampton and William Walker, and there were readings by Arthur Tremayne. Dancing and refreshments were enjoyed during the evening and music was by Provosts orchestra. The committee included, Miss E. M. Johnson, Mrs. Annie Tregaskis, Miss Lena Allen, Mrs. James King, Mrs. George Davey, Mrs. Charles Vanner and Miss Beatrice Hunter .

WILLIAMSON—DOBIE.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Laing of 18 Wibird street last evening, Miss Mary Dobie and Thomas Howie Williamson were united in marriage by Rev. A. M. Thompson, in the presence of several friends. They left that evening for a wedding trip, and will make their future home in Quincy.

There will be a quartet of 40 voices at the Wollaston Congregational church Sunday at the four o'clock vesper service. Gaul's Holy City, cantata will be rendered under the direction of W. R. Rogers.

☞ Harry McCabe who will be at Music hall tonight is a well known Quincy boy and his friends are planning to give him a big reception. His act is one of the best on the vaudeville stage.

ONLY JONES

Will be Continued Monday.

NO CHANGES IN WARRANT

That Is After It was Served on George E. Fogg

Developments in the George E. Fogg cases in connection with Cedarcrest Inn, after court adjourned Friday, showed that there was but little cause for the objections made by William Kelley, counsel for Mr. Fogg, that erasures had been made in the warrant after it was served. It appeared that had Mr. Kelley read a little further on he would have found the words he missed.

It seems that when the warrant was first drawn the words "then and there under his control" were written in the second line of the warrant, and afterward changed, before the warrant was served. Mr. Kelley saw the warrant in its original form and took a copy of it. In reading it however, before giving it to the officer to serve it was decided by the clerk's office that the warrant would be in better form to add the words in another place on the warrant. This was done and the original writing crossed out.

Had Mr. Kelley read the warrant through Friday he would have found the words, which he claimed had been erased, and which came near resulting in a new warrant being issued.

N. E. O. P. OFFICERS.

At the regular meeting of Quincy lodge N. E. O. P., Friday evening in Protection hall, the following officers were elected:

Warden—Chester D. Brown.
Vice Warden—James M. Ellison.
J. P. Warden—Mary A. McNeil.
Secretary—Laura E. Holt.
Financial Secretary—Lois J. Davidson.
Treasurer—Edmund C. Sawin.
Chaplain—Eliza J. Holton.
Guide—Hoyt N. McCanley.
Guardian—Edward H. Geddes.
Sentinel—Abbie McCormack.
Trustee for three years—C. Josephine Thompson.
Representatives to Grand Lodge—Laura E. Holt and Mary E. Spooner.
Alternate representatives to Grand Lodge—Isabelle V. Sawin and Edmund C. Sawin.

The installation will take place, Jan. 16.

SHIPYARD ACCIDENT.

The boom of a derrick fell on the hand of John McKenistry, boss carpenter at the Fore River shipyard, Thursday, and fractured four bones and tore the ligaments of the right hand. He was treated at the Red Cross Hospital by Dr. William H. Blanchard, and later removed to his home, 602 South street.

Wednesday evening at seven o'clock the Sunday school of the Wollaston Methodist church will have a tree and cantata followed by the usual distribution of presents to the pupils.

The days are now at their shortest but after Sunday they will begin to increase in the afternoon at the rate of a imnute a day. The mornings however will continue to grow shorter for some days yet.

A Merry Xmas to all.

When buying Pianos or Musical Instruments see
JOHNSEN
6 Chestnut Street, Quincy
Pianos from $10 up
120 Songs with Piano Acc. for 10 cents
Dec. 8 12t

Call Quincy 501--W
if you want your furniture, mattresses and cushions repaired in good order at low prices M. MIRKIN, upholsterer, 1060 Hancock street, near the Quincy High School.
Dec. 1-1m

One Trip to Williams' will solve half of your Christmas Gift problems!

Bracelets	Table and Toilet Silver
Diamonds	Parisian Ivory
Watches	China and Cut Glass
Gifts in Gold and Silver	Fountain Pens
Christmas Novelties	Clocks
Useful Articles for Men	Leather Goods
Pearls	Umbrellas
Necklaces	Smokers' Articles

All gathered together in one big store, all on one floor.
Plenty of clerks to serve you.
Plan to come tomorrow with your shopping list. It will pay you.

WILLIAMS' JEWELRY STORE
1473 Hancock Street, Quincy
Beginning Thursday our Store is Open Every Evening
Dec. 6-6t

MORE TRUTHS.

Do not let the worry of Christmas Dinner spoil the Best Day of the year
Let Us Take Care of your What-to-Eat Worry
Begin NOW. Thanksgiving was our Biggest and Best.
Not One single complaint about Our Turkeys.
Why? Oh! Just JOHNSON BROS!
Masters of Details. High Quality. Experienced Clerks.
This is the True Remedy for all your Food Worries.
We will be here CHRISTMAS Nuff Sed.
JOHNSON BROS. Johnson Building City Square
Dec. 18 6t

Pretty Christmas Boxes and Choice Chocolates
At EMANUEL'S CANDY STORE
Fresh Christmas Candy, 10 cents
Other Candies from 25 cents up
Dec. 20-4t

BRIEFS

James Cantfill, sealer of weights and measures, attended the convention of the Massachusetts Sealer Association in Ford hall, Boston, Thursday.

The funeral of Theodore Carlson who was asphyxiated by a smoky lamp Monday night at 53 Howard avenue, was held this afternoon. Burial was in Mt. Wollaston cemetery where a service was conducted by Rev. Leander Hokenson of the Swedish Lutheran church.

Estelle M. Rivinius, wife of Louis A. Rivinius died at the Eye and Ear Infirmary at Boston on Friday from the effects of an operation. She was in her 54th year. Funeral services will be held at her late home, 56 Pleasant street, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The funeral of Francis W. Holston, who died Tuesday in his 35th year, was held Friday afternoon from his home on Davis street. Services were conducted by J. E. Sprague, Christian Science reader. Burial was in Woodlawn cemetery, Everett.

Wednesday evening, the Sunday school of the Water Street Presbyterian church will hold their annual Christmas concert in the vestry of the church. The program will consist of a drill, cantata "Santa Claus on Strike," and exercises by the Primary department. An efficient committee of teachers have charge of the program and it promises to be most entertaining. There will be the usual distribution of goodies for the children of the school.

Mrs. Mary Reynolds, wife of John Reynolds, died Friday afternoon, aged about 40 years. The funeral will be held from her home, 18 Wesson avenue, Sunday afternoon, and services will take place in St. Mary's church at 3 o'clock.

The marriage ceremony of Matti Rooney and Miss Sandra Jaensun was performed at East Boston, Friday night by Rev. J. E. Lillback. The groom is a blacksmith in the employ of the Boston Bridge Co., and is well known in this city. His bride also has many friends here. They will live at 147 Havre street. East Boston.

QUINCY MUSIC HALL
BIG VAUDEVILLE and MOVING PICTURE
Program for SAT. MAT. and NIGHT
One of the Greatest 2 Reel Features Ever Made
"The Quick Sands" A Thriller from Start to Finish. Don't Miss This Show.
Dec. 18-3t

Christmas Gifts FOR ALL PURSES

CANDIES
Page & Shaws
Foss' Premier and Quality
Lowney's Bells
10c to $12

CIGARS IN BOXES
Wait & Bond 7-20-4
Quincy Ginita
Blenheim and Private Stock

PERFUMES AND TOILET WATERS
Colgates, Roger & Gallet, 25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00

HEARN'S PHARMACY FAXON BLOCK CITY SQUARE
Dec 15—L 6t

Christmas Candies
Our Assortment of Confectionery is larger than ever, and we are making a specialty of Fancy Box Goods. We are packing a few choice boxes at the store which are really great bargains.

OUR RIBBON CANDY
Fresh Every Day, 15c., 2 for 25c
40c Caramels 35c
40c Assorted Chocolates 29c
40c Ruth Ting-a-Ling 35c
Fresh Cut Rock Candy 15c
2 pounds for 25c

VAUGHN'S SPA
1449 Hancock St., Quincy
Dec. 20-4t

CARPETS Oriental Domestic RUGS LINOLEUM MATTINGS
AT LOWEST POSSIBLE PRICES
John H. Pray & Sons Co.
646 Washington Street, Opp. Boylston Street
All Goods will be Delivered Free at Residences in Quincy
REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY
Messrs. OTHO A. HAYWARD and WALTER J. WELLINGTON.

Quincy Daily Ledger

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity. Generally fair Sunday and probably Monday.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	7.10
Sun sets	4.14
Length of day	9.04
Moon rises	12.21
High water, A. M.	5.15
High water, P. M.	5.45
Days decrease 6 hours,	13 minutes
Full Moon, Dec. 13,	10.00 A. M.
Last Quarter, Dec. 20	11.16 A. M.
New Moon, Dec. 27	9.59 A. M.
First Quarter, Dec. 5,	9.59 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today	41 degrees
Dec. 20 1912,	40 degrees
Dec. 20, 1911,	35 degrees

Dec. Noon Maximum 14 years—67
Dec. Noon Minimum, 14 years—2

MILTON

Marshall Darrach completed a series of three readings by giving Hamlet in the Town hall on Monday evening.

The Midgets won the third game of the season by defeating the Tilton A. C.. 35 to 19 in the Cunningham gynasium Saturday.

An informal dancing party was given in Milton High school hall Thursday afternoon by the members of the senior class.

After Christmas the Thursday Evening Club will hold a series of lectures which promises to be of interest to the members. Great enthusiasm has been shown in the completion of the program which includes several speakers of note who will discuss current events.

The will of Rev. Fr. William Fitzpatrick of Milton Lower Mills filed Wednesday leaves $4000 to Catholic institutions and the residue to be equally divided among Holy Cross College at Worcester, Boston College at Newton and St. John's Seminary at Brighton. Christina Monro, for many years his housekeeper is left $1000 and Mary Shine, his servant, $500. Two neices, Ellen and Cassie Fitzpatrick of Woburn will recive $500 apiece. The estate has not been inventoried. The Carney Hospital receive $1500 and $500 each will go to the Working Boys Home in Newton, St. Mary's Infant Asylum in Dorchester, Home for Destitute Catholic Children, Little Sisters of the Poor and the House of the Good Shepherd.

WILL FIGHT RUSSELL WILL.

"Dakota Dan" plans to fight the will of the late William Russell by which $350,000 is left to "Fresno Dan" acknowledged by William as the rightful heir to the one-half of the Russell estate. An appearance has been entered for Dakota Dan by his attorney, William R. Scharton. The will was allowed by Judge McIntire. Dakota Dan obtained employment at the Fore River shipyard several weeks ago and up to within a week intended to open a boarding house in that district. It is understood that he has changed his plans in this respect.

Friends of Daniel Flowers are glad to hear of his arrival at San Francisco, Cal., on Thursday.

FOUND!

The Market Recommended by

SANTA CLAUS

To Get a Square Deal Every Day

CHOICE NORTHERN TURKEYS

And All The Fixin's

FOR SUNDAY DINNER
FOR CHRISTMAS DINNER

Here are a few of our prices:

We Cut Rump Steak	35c
Rump Roasts	22c
Roast Pig Pork	18c
Roast Pork	16 1-2c
By the Strip
Top Round Steak	28c
Fancy Sirloin Steak	22, 25c

BOSTON MARKET

1433 Hancock Street
Near Granite Street

Dec. 18-6t

CLAN McGREGOR TEAM VICTORY

In a Scottish Clan league match on the Coliseum alleys Friday evening the McGregors of Quincy beat the McNeils of Malden, 4 to 0. Shuthers West of the visitors had high single 102 and P. Dackers best total, 278. The match was witnessed by a large gallery. The summary:

CLAN McGREGOR.
Birnie	103	83	72	258
McLean	88	102	101	291
P. Dackers	97	85	96	278
Dell	83	90	96	269
Drummond	91	78	89	258
	462	438	454	1350
McNEILL.
West	103	100	69	272
Cameron	84	85	78	247
McLarge	92	90	76	258
Hammon	71	70	83	224
Fairhaven	85	89	88	262
	435	434	394	1263

FORE RIVER BOWLING LEAGUE

Several disappointments awaited the follows of the Fore River bowling league Friday evening. The Blacksmiths and the Foundry match on the Coliseum alleys was postponed and the Shipfitters forfeited to the Ex-Apprentices.

Bernard Burke, came to the rescue with the picked team and defeated the Ex-Apprentices, 4 to 0. Burke and Santa Cruz were tied at 104 for high single.

ALL STARS.
H. Burke	80	97	89	266
Santa Cruz	104	97	74	275
Goodhue	81	83	97	261
Raleigh	90	85	99	274
B. Burke	82	104	76	262
	437	466	435	1338
EX-APPRENTICES.
Madden	72	71	79	222
Farquhar	91	103	84	278
Ash	73	90	88	251
Manning	81	75	77	233
Morgan	83	72	103	258
	400	411	431	1242

DANCE AT ELECTA HALL.

A dancing party in Electa hall was attended by many of the Scottish residents of the city Friday evening. Among those present were a delegation of stewards from the Steamship Scotian. Refreshments were served during the evening. Music was by George Thompson, Donald Sharp and Donald McLaughlin. The affair was under the direction of Robert Auld, John Hyslop and Alexander Skeldon.

☞ R. E. Foy & Co. wish you a Merry Christmas, and invite you to come to either of their markets for your Sunday dinner.

Great Bargains
Shoes and Rubbers
Selling about Half Price
4 Buckle Arctics $1.98
One Buckle Arctics 98c
At MAX LEVY'S
Cor Washington and Temple Streets
Dec. 15-6

CHOICE ARTICLES

FROM THE

PHILIPPINES

LUCBON HATS—Very best grade of the famous Panamas and Bankoks made. Absolutely none better, woven under water by hand. Can be crushed into a ball and not lose shape. Made for both Ladies and Gentlemen. $5 and $10.

ROMBLON MATS—Handsomest and most durable Grass Mats or Rugs made in the world. Beautiful colors and designs, large enough to cover one-half floor of rooms. $5.

MANILA CIGARS—$8 for a trial box of the Very Best Cigars made in the Philippines.

Oriente Cigarrettes—Best made, large package containing 25 small packages, 750 Cigarrettes, $2.

Sent by registered mail, free of duties, on receipt of price.

C. A. SHORT & CO.,
Lucena, Tay, P. I.
Oct. 4 L&O 3m

CHRISTMAS MUSIC

(Continued from Page One.)

MUSICAL SERVICE.

Music to be given at St. Chrysostom's Episcopal church at the Sunday evening service at 7.30 o'clock will be as follows:

Magnificat Simper
Nunc Dimittis Simper

CANTATA

Story of Bethlehem, by Spence
Part I. The Shepherds.
Tenor solo and chorus—"There were Shepherds"
George Campbell
Bass solo "And Lo the Angel of the Lord."
Mr. Bentham
Soprano solo—"Fear Not."
Miss Edna Fowler
Chorus—"Glory to God."
Bass Solo "And it came to Pass"
Mr. Bentham
Chorus "Let us now go even unto Bethlehem."
Soprano solo, "And they came with haste."
Miss Gladys Parlee
Bass solo, "Sleep Holy Babe."
Mr. Bentham
Chorus, "Sleep Holy Babe."
Soprano Solo, "And thou Bethlehem."
Miss Gladys Barlee
Chorus, "He shall be Great."
Part II. "The Magi."
Soprano solo and chorus, "Oh Holy Night"
Mrs. Spooner.
Bass solo "Now when Jesus was born"
Mr. Bentham
Male Quintet, "Where is he."
Messrs. Campbell, Spooner, Hanson, Mitchell and Bentham
Men's chorus, "And Lo"
Soprano solo, "And when they were come"
Miss Muriel Wheelan
Tenor solo, "Earth hath many a noble City"
Mr. Campbell
Finale—Adestes Fidelis.
Chorus, "Oh come all ye faithful"
Ladies Quartet—"Sing chorus of Angels."—Misses Spooner, Parlee, Bussell and Croucher.
Chorus and Finale—"Yea Lord we Greet thee."

Mrs. George B. Curran—Organist and Director.

The carol service and Christmas tree will take place in the church Christmas eve at six o'clock. Parents and friends are cordially invited to come with the children.

Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock in the parish rooms there will be a Christmas party for the younger members of the school and Wednesday evening beginning at seven o'clock there will be a Christmas party for the older members,—those who meet in the church on Sundays.

On Christmas day the Holy Communion will be celebrated at 7.00 A. M. At 10.00 A. M., will follow the regular morning service, morning prayer shortened form Holy Communion and short sermon.

WOLLASTON UNITARIAN.

Christmas Sunday, Dec. 21, will be observed with a morning and evening service. The Sunday school unites with the congregation in the morning worship. A double mixed quarete—Mrs. Oscar L. Baker, Mrs. Frank A. Page, Mrs. Royal L. Turner, Mrs. Louis B. Weston, Alfred R. Moulton, Charles A. Powers, Frederick H. Bishop and Louis B. Weston—will render the anthems. In the evening there will be a candle light service, the first of the kind held in Quincy The church is beautifully decorated and will be lighted with candles. Two magnificent candle sticks (39 inches high) will grace the altar and candelabras will furnish the light for the chancel. The girls' choir will render carols old and new, and will be assisted by Miss Helen L. Moorhouse, celloist, Mrs. Frank A. Page, soprano. and Mrs. R. L. Turner, alto. Doors will be open at 7 o'clock.

Order of Service at 10.45 A. M.
Organ Prelude.
Invocation.
Carol "In the lonely midnight."
Scripture Reading.
Carol "Hark a burst of heavenly music."
Scripture Reading.
Carol "Calm on the listening ear of night."
Responsive Reading from the Prophets.
Anthem "Sing upto the Lord." Novello
Double Quartet.
Scripture Reading.
Carol "We three Kings of Orient are."
Carol "The first Christmas." Primary Department.
Prayer.
Carol "Silent Night."
Organ Interlude.
Carol "Bethlehem." Norrie.
Double Quartet.
Christmas Offering.
Sermon.
Congregational Hymn "It came upon the midnight clear."
Benediction.
Choir Response.
Organ Postlude.

Candle Light Service at 7.30 P. M.
Organ Prelude.
Processional (the singers carrying candles) "Waken, Christian Children." Thayer.
Invocation.
Carol "Carol, Sweetly Carol" Simper.
'Cello Solo "Melody." Boellmann.
Miss Helen I. Moorhouse.
Carol "A Christmas Lullaby." Pflueger.
Alto Solo "A Perfect Day." Bond. with 'Cello Obligato.
Mrs. Royal L. Turner.
Scripture Reading.
Response "Lord's Prayer" chanted by the Girl's Choir.
'Cello Solo "Romance" Saint Saens.
Miss Helen I. Moorhouse.
Carol "Softly the Night is sleeping." Gilbert.
Offertory "Evening Star." Wagner.
Carol "O little town of Bethlehem" Barnby.
Duet "Hail to the Monarch" Marston.
Mrs. F. E. Page and Mrs. R. L. Turner
Carol "Silent Night." Haydn
Closing Prayer and Benediction.
Recessional "Adeste Fidelis."
Organ Postlude "Jubilate" Chas. H. Whittier.

Will be Continued Monday.

WITHIN THE LAW

By MARVIN DANA
FROM THE PLAY OF
BAYARD VEILLER

Copyright, 1913, by the H. K. Fly company.

MEMORIAL CONGREGATIONAL.

A fine musical program has been arranged for the special Christmas vesper Sunday evening at Memorial church, Atlantic. The music will be furnished by the choir, under the direction of Spencer Apollonio and the program is as follows:

"Glory to God in the Highest" Frank Brackett.
Soloist, Miss Lora Churchill
"O Night of Peace and Stillness" William Spence
Soloists, Miss Jordine Davison and Mr. Butterworth.
"Arise, Shine for Thy Light has Come" C. F. Lloyd Soprano solo, "Consider and Hear Me" Wooler
Mrs. Harvey Holt
Quartet; God shall wipe away all tears" J. F. Field

The quartet is composed of Mrs. Harvey Holt, Miss Maud Read, W. Norton Stetson, and Hargraves Heap. Miss Hazel Davison, organist.

The church will be decorated with mountain laurels, under the direction of John Peacock and Frank Damon.

The evening service is to be a Christmas candle service.

The Scripture interpretation will be given Sunday morning by Miss Maud E. Read.

Miss A. B. Beale of Dorchester will render selections on the violin.

SACRED HEART CHURCH.

Four masses will be celebrated in the upper Sacred Heart church on Christmas day at 6, 8, 9 and 10.30, and at 9 o'clock a mass for the children will be celebrated in the baseemnt chpael. The celebrants will be Rev. Fr. J. P. Cuffe, pastor, and Rev. J. F. McNiff, curate. The Christmas tree for the children will be held the Sunday following the holiday.

The 10.30 mass will be a solemn high mass and the music will be the Gregorian chant, sung by a quartette consisting of Miss Catherine Dolan, soprano; Miss Clara Duggan, alto; William Biganess and Fred Brown, tenor. It will be directed by Miss Louise Costello, organist.

The selections will be the Asperges Me, Kyrie Eliason, Gloria, Credo, Adeste Fideles, Sanctus, Benedictus and Agnus Dei.

Vespers in the evening will be the plain chant vespers, sung by the quartette. The Gregorian selections will be Dixit Dominus, Confitebor, Viatus Via, Laudate Fueri, Laudate Dominum, Adeste Fideles, Alma Redemptoris, O Salutaris, solo by Mr. Biganess with violin obligato by Miss Beatrice Costello, Tantum Ergo, Laudate Dominum and Holy God.

EAST MILTON CONGREGATIONAL.

At the morning service at 10.30 Sunday Rev. E. C. Boynton, the minister, will preach on "The Shepherds of Kingdom Come." The musical selections by H. R. Boardman, organist and Miss Edith Robinson, soloist, are as follows: Prelude: "The Holy Night," by Dudley Buck; anthem: "We Have Seen His Star," by Simper; soprano solo, by Miss Robinson; anthem: "The Birthday of the King," by Neidlinger; Postlude: "Hallelujah Chorus," by Handel. The Sunday school concert will be held in the afternoon at 3.30. In addition to the recitations some of the old English Christmas carols will be sung. The prelude will be the march from "Die Meistersinger," by Wagner, and the postlude, Toccata in C major, by D'Evry.

COME TO THE MEN'S STORE FOR MEN'S GIFTS

To our regular stock of Men's Goods--So large and Attractive in variety, quality and price, we have added an immense stock of things "Christmasy."

INTERWOVEN HOSIERY
You can buy one pair for 25c
Four pairs in Christmas box $1.00
One pair Silk for 50c
Two pairs in Christmas box $1.00

CHENEY SILK
None Better
Handkerchief and Tie to match, Tie and Socks to match. Socks, Handkerchief and Tie to match
$1.00 $1.25 $1.50

PAJAMAS AND NIGHT ROBES
Big stock here to select from
A useful Holiday Gift
50c. to $2.00

UMBRELLAS
You can step right in at the door just around the corner and find a selection of Men's, Women's and Children's Umbrellas from ... 50c. up to $5.00

ARM BANDS & GARTERS
in Xmas boxes
25c 50c 75c $1.00

NECKWEAR
Thousands of Ties to choose from. All the newest and latest made to our order for the Holiday season, all in single boxes.
25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00

HANDKERCHIEFS
Plain or Initial Linen and Silk ..... 5c to $1.00
Sealpackerchief, advertised in the magazines are here at 3 for 25c. up to 25c each

SLIPPERS
We have a big line of the Comfy Slippers made by the Daniel Green Felt Shoe Co.
75c, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75
The New Tango Dancing Pumps in Satin and Patent $1.50 $2.00
Slippers for men, women, and children ... 50c $2.50

SUSPENDERS
The President, The Bull Dog and all leading makes in Xmas boxes
25c. 50c. 75c. $1.00.

HOLEPROOF HOSIERY
6 pairs guaranteed to wear six months or new Hose free. In Holiday boxes, $1.50, $2.00. 3 pairs Silk guaranteed for 3 months
$2.00

SWEATERS
Direct from mills to us. With and without Collars in Blue, Tan, Crimson, Dark Oxford and Light Oxford
$1.00 to $8.00.

GLOVES
Dress Gloves, Auto Gloves, Fur Lined Gloves, Working Gloves, lined and unlined
Prices 25c to $6.00.
We have the Popular Mark Cross Gloves at $1.50

HOCKEY CAPS
25c, 50c, $1.00.
Over Gaiters and Leggins, 25c to $1.00.

Shirts are Useful Xmas Gifts, This Store offers you a Big Selection from the Full Dress to the Every Day Outing Shirt, Prices 50c up to $2.50.

The Famous Red Man Brand of E. & W. Collars 2 for 25c

— Ask For Legal Stamps Your Cash Discount —

GEORGE W. JONES

1 Granite Street, Quincy

Electric Decorations
Are Popular
For Christmas
Special Fittings
BECKFORD & LYNCH
3 Saville St., Quincy
Dec. 13-6t

QUINCY REGISTRY FOR NURSES
10 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.
Will supply trained and practical nurses, attendants and nursery assistants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.
MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar,
Tel. Quincy 131-W.

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

$
$
SAVED BY BUYING
Patch's Special
COALS
C. PATCH & SON, Inc.
1422 Hancock Street

For Your Baby.

The Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

is the only guarantee that you have the Genuine

CASTORIA

prepared by him for over 30 years.

YOU'LL give YOUR baby the BEST

Your Physician Knows Fletcher's Castoria.

Sold only in one size bottle, never in bulk or otherwise; to protect the babies.

The Centaur Company, Chas. H. Fletcher Pres't.

Warmth Without Smoke or Dirt

YOU get all warmth and comfort—no smoke or smell—with a New Model Perfection Heater.

The patent locking flame-spreader (shown in picture) automatically prevents turning the wick up to the smoking point.

PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER

There is nothing to get out of order in a Perfection. It gives a quick, glowing warmth and is always ready for use.

No disagreeable, dirty work in inserting and removing wicks. Wick and carrier are combined—simply lift out the old and drop in the new, which is trimmed ready for use.

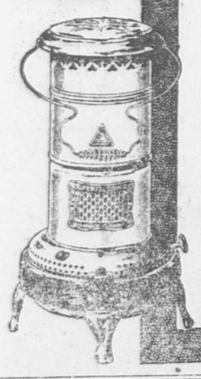
The font holds more than a gallon of oil and an indicator shows the amount of fuel left at a glance. Strong, durable catch and hinge—heater can be carried easily wherever it is wanted.

The Perfection Heater is finished in vitreous turquoise-blue enamel or plain steel drums. Lasts for years; ornamental; safe; convenient.

For sale at all dealers, or write for descriptive circular to

STANDARD OIL COMPANY
OF NEW YORK
New York, N. Y. Albany, N. Y.
Buffalo, N. Y. Boston, Mass.

Look for the Heater with the TRIANGLE



Advertise in the Ledger

SUNDAY SERVICES

FIRST PARISH CHURCH—City Square, Rev Adelbert Lathrop Hudson, minister. Residence Miller Stile Inn, Tel. 2102. Office hours a church 9 to 12 A. M., Monday, Wednesday and Friday, Tel. 1200. Morning Service at 10.30 A. M. Special Christmas music. Subject of sermon "The Religion of Jesus Christ." Christmas vespers in the church at 4:00 o'clock, in which the Sunday School will join. Sunday School Service at noon omitted.

PARK AND DOWNS CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH — Beach street and Rawson road Wollaston. Rev. William B. Ayers, pastor. Services at 10.45 A. M. Christmas exercises by the Sunday School. Evening service at 7. Continuation of lecture "The Shepherd of the Hills." Seats Free. Everyone welcome.

FIRST UNIVERSALIST CHURCH—Washington Street, Quincy. Rev. Merrill C. Ward, pastor Residence 2 Greenough Avenue, Jamaica Plain, Telephone Jamaica 616 W. Services of divine worship 3 P. M. Sermon "Immanuel" Christmas music. Sunday school 2 P. M; Y. P. C. U. 4.20 P. M. A welcome for all.

WOLLASTON UNITARIAN CHURCH — Corner Beale and Farrington streets. Rev. Carl G Horst, minister. Residence 39 Grand View ave. Telephone Quincy 217-1. The Church Auditorium is equipped with earphones. The Sunday school unites with the church in a Christmas Service at 10.45. Regular session of the Sunday and the Forum omitted. Candle Light Christmas Service, largely musical at 7.30 P. M. The public cordially invited to both services.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST—Quincy, Alpha Hall, cor. Hancock street and Cottage ave. Morning service and Sunday school at 10.45 Subject: "Is the Universe Including Man, evolved by Antomic Force?" Golden Text: Job 37: 14 Stand still and consider the wondrous works of God." Wednesday 7.45 P. M A testimony and experience meeting. Reading room open from 3 to 5. M. week days, holidays excepted. All are welcome.

ATLANTIC M. E. CHURCH—corner Newbury lavenue and Squantum Streets. Rev. E. C. Pollard, pastor. Residence 19 Wesley Street, Newton, phone 2184 Newton North. Sunday Dec. 21 Christmas services morning 10 45 Theme: "The visit of the Wise men to see Jesus." Sunday School at noon. Training class meet at 3.30 conducted by the pastor, assisted by Mrs. D. M Dicey. Sunday School will give a Christmas concert at 7 P. M.

INTERNATIONAL BIBLE STUDENTS ASSOCIATION, (undenominational) New Colonial Hall, Hancock Building, Quincy Centre. Free Lectures every Sunday by able speakers, for the promotion of Christian knowledge. Lectures Sunday Dec. 21 at 3 P. M. B. P. Bridges of Lynn, Subject "The Fathers House of many mansions." If interested in Bible Study you cannot afford to miss this interesting lecture. All seats Free. No collection. You are cordially invited.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH — Franklin street Rev. C. C. Tilley, Pastor. Residence 26 Richie Road. Morning Service at 10.30. Subject "Brightening up for Christmas." Sunday School at 11.45. Evening Service at 7 Subject: "Useful or Useless Giving." Christmas entertainment n Church Thursday evening.

CHRIST CHURCH, EPISCOPAL—Quincy, corner Elm street and Quincy avenue. Rev. Richard E. Armstrong, rector. Fourth Sunday in Advent St. Thomas. 8 A. M. Holy Communion 9.30, A. M. Sunday School 10.45. Morning Prayer, Litany Sermon. 7.30. Evening Prayer and Address.

WASHINGTON STREET CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Quincy Point. Rev. Stephen C. Lang pastor. 10.45 A. M. Special Christmas servic Subject sermon "Stars of Christmas" 4.00 P. M the Bible School Christmas concert. The public is cordially invited to attend to these services.

HALL PLACE M. E. CHURCH—West Quincy Rev. T. C. Martin, pastor, Residence, 12 Hall place. Morning worship at 10.30 Sunday School at 12.45 Epworth League service omitted. Annual Christmas Concert by the Sunday School at 7 P M. Prayer meeting, Friday evening at 7.30 Junior League Friday afternoon at 3.45. A cordial welcome for all.

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH —Cor Junction Hancock and Chestnut streets. Rev Benjamin A. Willmott, Pastor. 10.30 Morning Worship. Christmas message by the pastor "Great Joy." 12.00, Bible School. Classes for all ages. 6.15, Christian Endeavor meeting. Strangers welcomed. 7.30 Pleasant Sunday evening service Lecture by the pastor "Let us have peace."

WOLLASTON BAPTIST CHURCH— Cor. Prospect and Warren avenues. Rev. Joseph Walther minister. 10.45. Sunday School concert by church and Sunday School. 12.15 Sunday school. Junior Endeavor at 3.30. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6. Evening service at 7.

WOLLASTON CONGREGATIONAL — Corner Lincoln and Winthrop avenues, Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath, Ph. D., pastor. Res. No. 20 Marion street Telephone Quincy 1116 M. Morning worship 10.45, sermon by pastor. "Our Gift to God." Sunday school at 12.15 Chas. A. Campbell, Supt Women's Class led by Mrs. A. A. Lincoln. Men's Class led by Dr. Sneath Y. P. S. C. E. at 6 P M. led by Eugene Smith. Christmas Festival of Sunday School Wednesday 5 P. M. in vestry The Midweek service in the Vestry 7.45 Friday evening Dr. Sneath will preside, and speak Topic "Born Anew" John 3: 1—21.

ST. CHRYSOSTOM'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH—Hancock street. Wollaston — Rev. Frederick H. Steenstra, rector, residence, the rectory. 253 Hancock street. Holy Communion at 8. Morning Prayer Litany and sermon at 10.30. Sunday School 12.00 Evening Prayer and Address at 7.30.

MEMORIAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH — Atlantic Rev. Thomas W. Davison, pastor. Morning service at 10.45. Sermon by the Pastor Sunday School at 12 M. Junior Endeavor 3.30 P. M. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6 P. M. A Christmas Candle Vesper service at 7. P. M. A cordial welcome to all.

FIRST UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH—Corner of School and Pleasant streets. Rev. D. B McLeod, M. A., pastor. Residence 40 Bradford St., Quincy Preaching next Sabbath by the pastor at 10.30 Subject: "Pure and Peaceable." Sabbath School and Bible class at 11.45. Junior Endeavor at 3. Senior Endeavor at 6. Evening Subject: "The Savior weeping over lost Souls." Christmas tree entertainment Thursday evening at 7 o'clock.

ST. PAUL'S SWEDISH M. E. Church — Cor. Granite and Fort Streets Quincy, Rev. A. E. Hillman, pastor. Residence 121 Glendale Road Morning services at 10.30 A. M. Subject: "Grace' Sunday School at 12 M. Epworth League at 6 P. M. Evening service at 7 o'clock "All things are ready." Christmas day service at 5.30 A. M. The Sunday School concert Christmas evening. A cordial welcome to all.

SPIRITUALIST MEETINGS — Electa Hall, Johnson building, Quincy Sq. Every Sunday evening at 7.30 P. M. Sunday, Dec. 21st several good speakers and mediums will be present. Special music.

White wrapping paper for doing up your Christmas gifts can be obtained at the Ledger-Patriot office for 0 cents a dozen sheets or by the single sheet at 2 cents per sheet.

HOW ABOUT YOUR TREES?

The Forestry committee of the Quincy Woman's club is making an effort to put the trees in Quincy in a healthy condition. There are a great many trees upon the various streets which could be improved. There are decayed spots and dead limbs to be seen at every turn. It is possible to make all these trees start up a new growth and many of them would bear fruit if they were pruned and grafted.

The Forestry committee wishes to assist any person in Quincy who will trim his trees. They will furnish expert advice from the Massachusetts Forestry Association free of cost.

There are to be two tree experts located in Quincy for a few days to do this work, just as soon as they have finished similar work in Plymouth. If persons desiring assistance in this line will send their names to the Forestry committe of the Quincy Woman's Club or telephone. Mrs. John D. Mackay, 75 Greenleaf street, they can receive advice about their trees. Let's make our trees look as well as they should!

GAS RECEIPTS.

The November gas receipts of the Citizens Gas Light Company, available for dividends were $712, as compared with $2392 in November 1912 when the rate was higher. For five months the receipts were $13,251 as compared with $13,469 for the same months in 1912.

A local, or personal touch to a Christmas gift adds to its value. Such an addition goes with the publications of the Rev. Mr. Wilson. His book, "Where American Independence Began," contains sixty-five fine illustrations of the most famous persons and places of Quincy and old Braintree While true to history it reads as interestingly as a novel, and as the Boston Transcript says, "It will make the blood run faster and the good old American spirit revive." Then, besides, there is "The Sketch of Quincy and Old Braintree," profusely illustrated, which in cheaper form gives a brief account of what made Quincy great. The book and the board-covered copies of the "Sketch" are almost all sold, and fortunate will be those who secure either.

CHICHESTER S PILLS

THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter's Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER'S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable

SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

FOR SALE

New Axes

20c each 3 for 50c

While They Last

L. GROSSMAN & SONS
Jackson Street
Near Quincy Adams Depot
Dec. 16-lo-tf

WILLIAM R. DIMOCK
Carpenter and Builder
Plans furnished and estimates given. All work personally and promptly attended to 183 PROSPECT AVENUE
WOLLASTON
Telephone 1238 W Quincy.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point Tel. Quincy.Mass 1178 M Nov 8-tf

HOLMES & HALL
REPAIRERS OF HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
SHADES
DOOR BELLS
LOCKS and KEYS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

SWITHIN
Real Estate
Mortgages-Insurance
Greenleaf Block
Quincy
Tel. Quincy 460. Nov. 10-tf

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate.

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by James Craig and Annie L. Craig, his wife, in her own right, to Fred W. Wood dated January 25, 1905, and recorded in the Registry of Deeds for the County of Norfolk, Book 999, page 583, will be sold at public auction, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage, on the premises hereinafter described on Saturday the 10th day of January 1914, at forty-five minutes after two o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, and therein described substantially as follows:—

The following parcel of land situated in that part of Quincy, Massachusetts, known as "Norfolk Downs" being lot numbered 17 on plan of Charles D. Elliot, dated April 1892, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Book of plans No. 14, plan No. 640, and bounded and described as follows, viz:—Northeasterly, by Hancock Street, fifty (50) feet; Southeasterly, by lot No. 16, on said plan, one hundred twenty-eight and 48-100 (128.40) feet; Southwesterly, by lots No. 28 and 29, on said plan, fifty 2-100 (50.02) feet; Northwesterly, by lot No. 18, on said plan, one hundred twenty-nine 99-100 (129.99) feet. Containing according to said plan, sixty-four hundred sixty-one 8-10 (6461.8) feet of land.

Said premises will be sold subject to the restrictions set forth in the title deeds and to any and all unpaid taxes and assessments.

$100.00 will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale, balance in ten days from day of sale at twelve o'clock noon, at the office of the mortgagee, Room 43, 15 School Street, Boston, Mass.

FRED W. WOOD,
Mortgagee.
Dec. 3t 20-27-Jan 3

Commonwealth of Massachusetts
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To all persons interested in the estate of Lucretia A. Gill late of Quincy in said County, deceased:

Whereas, Edward B. Marsh executor of the will of said deceased, has presented for allowance, the first and final account of his administration upon the estate of said deceased: You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Brookline in said County, on the twenty-fourth day of December A. D. 1913, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be allowed. And said executor is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to all persons interested in the estate fourteen days at least before said Court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this tenth day of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen.

JOHN D. COBB, Register.
13-3t 13-20-22

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Dora A. French late of Quincy in said County, deceased:

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by Hannah A. Porter of said Quincy, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the executrix therein named, without giving a surety on her official bond; You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Brookline in said County of Norfolk, on the twenty-fourth day of December A. D. 1913, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this eleventh day of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen.

JOHN D. COBB, Register.
Dec. 13-3t 13-20-22

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block,
QUINCY

ARTHUR L. THOMAS
Attorney-at-Law
3-4-5-6 Greenleaf Block
Telephone Quincy 460 Jan.2-1y

Penniman's
TAXI SERVICE
Taxies and Touring Cars with careful and safe drivers to let for all occasions.
C. H. PENNIMAN, Prop.
Telephone 207.
June 13-tf

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

WANTED

WANTED—Middle age man wants position, experience with horses, steady and reliable, go anywhere. Write A. Ledger office. 20-1t

WANTED—A horse for the winter, only a few hours work each day. Write P. M. Ledger office. 20-tf

WANTED—One large or 2 small unfurnished rooms with heat, gas and clothes closet. Address Z. care Ledger Office. 20-3t

WANTED—Hustling young man for laundry team. One having experience in grocery or other retail delivery work preferred. Salary and commission will average $18 per week. Old Colony Laundry Co. 19-3t

WANTED—Boarders. Bath, heat, gas, near Fore River Shipyard, Mrs. Elliott, 19 Watson road. 19-3t

WANTED—A strictly temperate reliable nurse, would take confinement cases at $13 per week. After Jan. 5 for further particulars. Address S. B. Randall, Quincy, Mass. 18-3t

WANTED—Good, honest, reliable man to work in shop, keep fires and do general shop work. Write "Work." Ledger Office. 18-3t

WANTED— Experienced Grocery and Meat man. Good wages to right man. W. H. Stevenson market, 128 Washington street, Quincy. 15-6t

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing. Myatt, 40 Baxter street. Tel. 1307-M. Quincy, Res. 22-tf

FOR SALE

PIANOS—Buy a piano. Several makes. Square man to trade with. Send postal and he will call. In your city every day. Walter H. Lyons, Randolph. 17-9t

FOR SALE—Land on Butler road or I can build you a house on it very reasonably, or will exchange for other real estate. John Bergfors, 65 Granite street. 18-6t

HORSE FOR SALE—Cheap, for want of use. H. H. I. Smith, 578 Commercial street, Weymouth Heights. Tel. Weymouth 105-1. 15-tf

FOR SALE or TO LET—New houses Apply to Thompson B. Crane, 403 Washington street, Quincy. 1-tf

WM. H. TEASDALE
REAL ESTATE
Insurance Mortgages
NOTARY PUBLIC JUSTICE OF THE PEACE
Room 24 Adams Building
Telephones { Residence 544-3 Office 688-M
o-tf

TO LET
Large Front Office Greenleaf Block—2 entrances—right at the head of the stairs—one of the most desirable offices in Quincy.
Office, Durgin-Merrill Block—3 large windows—only 1 flight up—exceptional opportunity.
Hancock Building—City Square
Offices—small front office, $11 a month
Office—Hancock Chambers, 16x18 feet one flight up, very low rent.
Store House—off Granite St., in the rear of Greenleaf Block.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best Location in City)
Offices—Large or small.
Desk Room—Street floor, right in the rear of main entrance, good light and air, $5 up a month.
Transient Rooms—Well furnished and with care, $1 a day.
Furnished Rooms—With care steam heat, and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week

HALLS
Music Hall—Music Hall Block—Capacity 962—highest possible rating by the State. "Excellent" in every particular.
New Colonial Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—Capacity 240—the best possible location for a Hall.
Hancock Hall—Hancock Building City Square—Capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 21066) Quincy

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED
Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

LOST

LOST—A gentleman's dark green sweater from an automobile between Quincy and Boston, Thursday evening, Dec. 18. Reward $2.00 if returned to 1295 Hancock street, Quincy. 19-3t

TO LET

TO LET—No rent before Jan. 1, tenement all modern improvements. Rent $18.75, near High School and car barn. Plenty of sunshine. C. W. Guy, 42 Butler road. 19-tf

TO LET—Furnished or unfurnished rooms, heat and bath. Suitable for young men or elderly person requiring care. Apply 4 High School avenue, next Central Fire Station. 19-3t

TO LET—5 Parson street, lower floor, 5 rooms and bath, hard wood floors. Rent $16.00 ready January 1, 1914. Apply on premises or at 38 Independence Ave. 18-tf

TO LET—Flat 5 rooms and bath, first floor. All improvements. Nice location. 129 Independence avenue. Apply 60 Trafford street or Telephone Quincy 489-W. 17-6t

TO LET—Upper apartment of 7 rooms and bath, all improvements including set range and gas stove, now ready. Inquire, A. W. Parker, 87 Merrymount road. Tel. Quincy 258-1 16-tf

TO LET—In Braintree, house of five rooms, including two bed rooms and bath. Rent reasonable. A J. Cavanagh, 72 Cedar street, Braintree. Telephone 4-14. Dec. 16-6t

TO LET—48 Revere road two connecting rooms with kitchenette for housekeeping. Also a nice room with sun all day, two large closets. Hot water heat and bath.
water heat and bath. 13-tf

UPPER APARTMENT. In two-family house on Spear Street. Five rooms, bath, large pantry and closets, also open attic with finished heated chamber. Every improvement, electric light, furnace, range etc. Ready for immediate occupancy. Telephone Quincy 278 M or enquire mornings of Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. lpo

TO LET—Tenement 4 rooms and bath all improvements, set range. Vacant Jan. 1, 1914. Apply 180 Franklin street. 10-12t

TO LET—173 Whitwell street, half house, modern conveniences, $20 per month. Ready for immediate occupancy. Apply Penniman's Stable, Granite street. 19-tf

TO LET—Nicest 4 room and bath lower flat in town. Every improvement $19.00. 126 Glendale road. S. E. Thomas Greenleaf Block. 17-tf

TO LET—5 room tenement at 117 Quincy street, $20 per month. Apply Berman Furniture Co. 6-tf

RUSSELL PARK — Commodious house of seven rooms, large hall and bath. Modern, every convenience open fireplace, furnace, range, set tubs, electric lights, cemented cellar, etc. Best residential neighborhood. Ready for immediate occupancy. For further details or key see Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. tf lpo

TO LET—Houses of 5, 6 and 10 rooms. M. T. Sullivan. Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy, Mass. 11-tf

MISCELLANEOUS

RENT FREE—until Jan. 1st. Two adjoining houses, 28 and 30 Pleasant street to desirable tenants, who will agree to stay one year, or longer. $5.00 per week in advance. Stable for one horse if desired. $1.00 a week extra. Apply 36 Pleasant street. 5-tf

ANOTHER BARGAIN

Make me an offer for a ten room house on Whitwell Street.

You will own it if you will talk buy, as it is one of those chances some one will miss.

HENRY W. SAVAGE
Real Estate, Boston.
E. G. HAYDEN, Local Representative
Telephone 1877-M Quincy.
Nov 17-tf

JAMES F. BURKE & CO.
Real Estate and Insurance
Care of Property. Mortgages
Justice of Peace. Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 885 M. Nov. 11-tf

Read Ledger Ads

KINCAIDE THEATRE

At 2:30, 5, 10, 15c At 7.45, 10, 15, 25c

MON. TUES. WED.
Program Subject to Change.

WHITTIER INCE & CO.
Presenting their Peerless Comedy Sketch entitled
"THE DOCTOR'S DILEMMA"

WELCH AMERICAN TRIO
Classy Singers of Classy Songs

DEMARSE & BOYER
Novelty Musical Duo

ROBIN
Tramp Juggling Comedian

PATHE WEEKLY
Pictures of world wide interest

"WHEN MOUNTAIN AND VALLEY MEET"
An Idyl--Pictured in two parts--An artistic delight

OTHER PICTURES
And Lots of Good Music

Get your white wrapping paper for Christmas gifts at the Ledger-Patriot office. Come early and avoid the rush. Large sheets 2 cents each. By the dozen 20 cents.

(ADVERTISE.)

SEEKING LEGISLATION

To Equalize the Cost of Public Schools of State

Mayor Stone is attending the meeting this afternoon at the office of the State Board of Education in the Ford building, Boston, of the Mayors of the different cities of the commonwealth and others relative to proposed legislation for the equalizing of the cost of public schools of the state. Now rich towns are able to given children many advantages which are denied to children of the country towns.

CHRISTMAS BASKETS.

In accordance with its usual custom the Quincy Catholic club will see that many families of the city are made happy on Christmas day. The club some time ago started to raise a mile of pennies, which sum will be used in providing Christmas baskets for needy families and in providing Christmas gifts for the poor children.

With Teams and Trucks

KINCAIDE MOVES HOUSEHOLD GOODS

Our light and heavy Trucks and Teams are ready to move you anywhere anytime you say. Our men are courteous, careful, thoroughly-experienced movers. This store stands back of their work and guarantees you complete satisfaction. Charges are reasonable. Let's have your order early. Write, call or Telephone Quincy 1200.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO. 1495 Hancock St.

FATALITY AT FIRE

(Continued from Page One.)

Investigation after the fire had been extinguished showed that there was a large hole directly in front of the stove in Mr. Torrey's room and it was evident that the fire had been caused by hot coals from the stove falling upon the floor.

Such a headway had the fire made before the alarm that the building was badly gutted and was damaged to the extent of $1,500 to $2,000.

The rooms were piled full of a miscellaneous assortment of goods which furnished inflammable material for the fire which was the cause of its spreading so rapidly.

Willard Quincy Torrey, the victim was born in Quincy about 80 years ago. He was a son of Josiah Torrey who in 1824 conceived the idea of building a canal from Town river to near what is now Woodward avenue, to facilitate the shipping of granite. Josiah Torrey commenced to dig the canal, starting at a point in Town river in the rear of what is now the Quincy Home. He dug quite a ditch, which remains to this day, but lacked funds to carry out the project and it fell through the following year when a corporation was formed and the present canal near Washington street was dug. The idea of Mr. Torrey would have brought the tide water nearer City Square than the present canal, which has not been used for many years.

Willard Quincy Torrey obtained his education in the public schools, and in common with boys of that time entered the stone business, working in the quarries. In 1849 he was one of the original party of "Forty-niners" who went to California to mine for gold. He however, did not accumulate much gold and returned to Quincy He made a second trip to California later. Returning he again entered the stone business and was employed for some years cutting paving blocks.

During his active life he was a member of the fire department, being attached to the old Niagara hand engine, which was later burned. He was a member of the Washington M. French Hose Association and was a regular attendant at their outings.

Previous to moving to Wollaston some years ago, the Torrey family lived on Washington street, in the small house adjoining the Hancock chambers.

Catherine Couchier who was rescued from the burning building was a former teacher in the public schools of Quincy. She was an assistant at the Adams school at the time of the late Seth Dewing was the principal. She also taught at the Coddington and other schools of the town before her marriage.

MARRIAGES

WILLIAMSON—DOBIE—In Quincy, Dec. 19, by Rev. A. M. Thompson, Thomas Howie Williamson to Mary Dobie both of Quincy.

NOONEY—JAENSUN—In East Boston, Dec. 19 by Rev. J. E. Lillback, Matti Rooney and Miss Sandra Jaensun, both of East Boston.

DEATHS

RIVINUS—In Boston, Dec 19 Mrs. Estelle M., wife of Louis A. Rivinus of 56 Pleasant street, Quincy.

McCONNEL—In Quincy, Dec. 19, Joseph, son of William and Jane McConnel in his 31st year. Funeral services at late home, 31 Bradford street, Sunday, Dec. 21, at 2 P. M. Relatives and friends invited. 19-2t

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street. Quincy, Mass.

CHECKS FOR ALL CHURCHES

Christmas Distribution from Theophilus King Fund

Through the generosity of Theophilus King, who a year ago deposited the sum of $16,000 with the Granite Trust Co., the 32 churches of the city have received checks for $25 each.

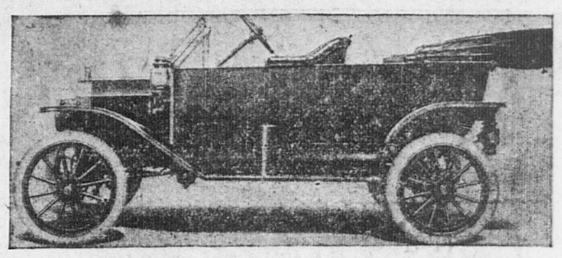
Under the terms of the deed of gift, the income from the fund is to be given every year to the different churches of the city, without regard to denomination, to be used as each church thinks best.

The original fund was $16,000 but since that time $1,000 has been added to the fund, so that it amounts today to $17,000.

The checks this year were sent out a few days ago, and will be used by the different churches in the celebration of Christmas.

OPEN HOUSE THE NIGHT BEFORE.

The Granite City club following out its usual custom will keep open house the night before Christmas when it will welcome members of the club and their friends. An orchestra will be present all of the evening and there will be the usual interchange of gifts among the members. In the kitchen an appetizing lunch will be served the entire evening. The weekly whist tournament will be omitted on this evening that the members may enter into the full enjoyment of the holiday festivities.



THE QUINCY GARAGE, 87 Adams Street, Quincy
Agent for FORD and CASE CARS
A full Line of Supplies always on hand
Michelin Tires in stock
Now Ready for Delivery the 1914 Ford Car, $550 for 5 Passenger, $500 for Runabout, $750 for Town Car F. O. B. Detroit.
For Particulars or Demonstration call Quincy 435
Night or Day never closed. C. P. GOULD, Prop.
Dec. 12-lo-tf

DEATHS

CORCORAN—In Quincy City Hospital, Dec. 19, James, beloved husband of Julia Corcoran.

Funeral from late residence 9 Grove street, West Quincy, Sunday, Dec. 21, at 3 P. M. Services at St. Mary's church at 3.45 sharp. Relatives and friends invited to attend.

REYNOLDS—In Quincy City Hospital Dec. 19, Mary, beloved wife of John Reynolds, aged 33 years.

Funeral from late residence, 18 Wesson avenue, West Quincy, Sunday, Dec. 21, at 12.45. Services at St. Mary's church at 1.30. Relatives and friends invited to attend.

COLLIGAN—In Quincy, Dec. 20, Grace F., beloved wife of Edward Colligan, aged 30 years. Notice of funeral later.

LAUNCHING AT BATH.

Miss Madeline Chase, daughter of Charles P. Chase of Everett, treasurer of the Darrow-Mann Co., will be the sponsor for the new barge Irene, building at Bath for the Commercial Towboat of Boston, which will be launched next Tuesday. The Irene is 229.6 feet long overall and has a net tonnage of 1075. She will carry 2200 tons of coal on a draft of 17 feet. She will be placed in the coal carrying trade between Chesapeake Ports and Boston.

The Central station auto chemical responded on a still alarm at 4.20 Friday afternoon for a grass fire off Adams street.

(ADVERTISE.)

Double Legal Stamps—Tuesday Thursday Afternoon---12 to 6

At REMICK'S

Double Legal Stamps—Tuesday Thursday Afternoon---12 to 6

QUINCY'S GREATEST CHRISTMAS STORE

SOMETHING USEFUL FOR EVERYBODY

Open Every Evening Until Christmas

NECKWEAR In Fancy Boxes
Biggest Variety—Biggest Values Ever Shown in Quincy
25c 35c 50c 65c
We are showing Boston's $1.00 Neckwear at 65c

Endless Variety MEN'S ARM BANDS and BRACES. All in Fancy Boxes
25c 35c 50c 65c
We could get more but are determined to hold the reputation for the best values and lowest prices

HOISERY
Men's, Boys' Women and Children. Silk, Lisle, Cotton and Cashmere. A very useful gift

GLOVES
Nothing you can think of but can be found here. For Men, Boys and Children.

BATH ROBES with SLIPPERS.
$4.98 others at $2.98 .$3.48

MEN'S PAJAMAS
98c to $2.00

MEN'S NIGHT ROBES
Flannel and Cotton
48c to $1.50

HANDKERCHIEFS
Men's Plain and Initial ..... 10c to 50c
Ladies' Plain and Initial ..... 10c to 50c

UMBRELLAS
Men's Fancy Handles ..... 98c to $5.00
Ladies' Fancy Handles ..... 75c to $5.00
Childrens' Fancy Handles ..... 50c and $1.00

SWEATERS of every description. Lower than the Lowest
Men's ..... 98c to $8.00
Women's ..... 98c to $8.00
Boys' ..... 98c to $5.00
Girls' ..... 98c to $5.00
Children's ..... 48c to $2.00
All Colors. With or without Collars

MEN'S FANCY SHIRTS
48c to $1.50
Our Special at $1.15 is like the other fellow's $1.50

Men's Silk Shirts
$2.98 $3.98
Worth $4.00 and $5.00

Flannel Shirts
69c to $3.00
Blue, Gray and Tan

MACKINAW COATS
Neat and Nobby Effects

SMOKING JACKETS

MEN'S STIFF and SOFT HATS
$1.00 to $3.00

MEN'S CAPS
With and without band
50c to $3.00

BOYS' and CHILDREN'S HATS and CAPS
All kinds ..... 25c to $1.50

RAIN COATS.
Men's ..... $4.98 to $15.00
Women's ..... $4.98 to $12.00
Boys' ..... $3.50 to $5.00
Children's ..... $3.00 to $4.00
Every Coat Fully Guaranteed

BAGS and SUIT CASES
Black, Brown and Tan
$1.98 to $10.00
Nothing more useful

Boys' and Children's SUITS
Single and Double Breasted. Some with two pair pants
$1.98 to $8.00

Boys' and Children's OVERCOATS
Made with or without Belts
$1.98 to $8.00

MEN'S SHOES
None Better and Few as good as The Packard
All Leathers
$3.50 $4.00 $4.50 $5.00

Fellow Craft and Farnum SHOES
All Leathers $3.50
Just the same as sold by some others at $4.00

OUR MEN'S SHOES
at $3.00 and as low as $2.50 and $2.00 have stood the test

BOYS' SHOES
$1.50 to $3.00
All Leathers. Boys' High Cut Shoes, all sizes.
Black and Tan

WOMEN'S SHOES, Queen Quality
$3.50 $4.00 $4.50
Fit, Style and Comfort. All Leathers
Women's Shoes at $2.00 $2.50 and $3.00 in all
Leathers will make you wonder how we can do it

CHILDREN'S SHOES
75c to $3.00
All Leathers. Fancy Top Shoes for Children in large variety

MEN'S SLIPPERS
50c to $2.00

LADIES' SLIPPERS
50c to $1.50

Boys' and Children's SLIPPERS
50c 75c $1.00

RUBBERS All Kinds
Men's, Boys' and Children's Rubber Boots all kinds. Fully Guaranteed

REMICK'S

MUSIC HALL BLOCK, QUINCY

OPEN EVERY EVENING UNTIL CHRISTMAS

DOUBLE LEGAL STAMPS Tuesday and Thursday Afternoons 12 o'clock to 6 o'clock

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

LARGEST GUARANTEED CIRCULATION IN THE CITY

Vol. 28 No. 296 QUINCY MASS. MONDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 22 1913 PRICE TWO CENTS

ALL QUINCY MOURNS FOR EX-MAYOR SHEA

Only Executive to Serve the City of Presidents for Four Years

Was Also Member of First City Council in 1889

Profound sorrow is expresed on all sides today, at the death of ex-Mayor William T. Shea, which took place about 5.30 this morning, and in the passing away of our ex-Mayor thousands have lost a kind friend. Mr. Shea has been in poor health for many months. Even during the time he occupied the office of Mayor his health at times was not of the best and frequently he was obliged to take a few weeks away from business cares.

When he laid down the reins of government at the beginning of the year 1912, it was that he might give up business cares of all kinds and take a good rest, which he had so richly earned. He went south for a time and upon his return seemed to have regained the health he sought. It proved only temporary however, and it was not many months before his friends again began to be worried about his health.

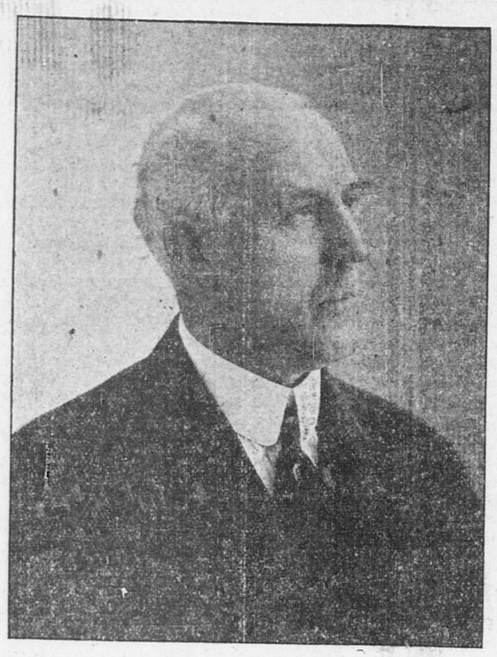
During the past year his health has been very poor and on several occasions he has suffered attacks which gave rise to the greatest fears among his family and friends. His splendid constitution however enabled him to rally, and it was a pleasure to see him about again, although his appearance, showed him far from being well.

Some weeks ago he had another bad attack and was obliged to take to the bed, from which he was never to rise. For a few days his life was at a low ebb, but then he seemed to rally again and it was hoped that he would be able to survive the winter months. It was not so to be however, although during the past few days reports from his bedside were that he was resting comfortably and seemed to be gaining. The gain was only temporary and Sunday night he had another bad turn and at 5.30 A. M. he passed peacefully away.

Few citizens have been honored more in his own city that has ex-Mayor Shea, although honors rested lightly on his shoulders, and he always had the same cheery smile and warm greeting for all. It mattered not what ones social standing was, to "Bill" as he was most familiarly known, he was a man and one man was as good as another.

While serving as Mayor, an office which he had the honor of filling for a period of four years, he was ready at any and all times to meet the citizens of Quincy. Time and time again has a citizen been seen to enter his office, in an excited frame of mind with some complaint, the fire in his eyes showing that he meant business so that it looked bad for someone. The pleasant greeting he would receive however soon took the fire from his eye and in a few minutes this same citizen would some from the office his face wreathed in smiles, and while it frequently happened that the object of his visit had not been accomplished, he was happy and went on his way satisfied.

None came more intimately in contact with the ex-Mayor during his four years of service perhaps than did the reporters who cover City Hall for the Quincy and Boston papers. Whatever his office had to give out, was for all. He never gave one reporter the advantage over the other. The newspaper men would gather mornings in the office adjoining the Mayors private office and when they made their presence known, the door would open, and they would be greeted with a cheery, "come in you common disturbers." "Have a cigar." So that when he relinquished his duties as Mayor there was not a newspaper man in Quincy who did not realize that with his going they had lost a good friend at City Hall.



THE LATE HON. WILLIAM T. SHEA
Mayor of Quincy 1908, 1909, 1910, 1911

During his life long residence in Quincy he held many positions of public trust. He had often been tried in the balance, but never found wanting. No matter where he was, or what office he held, he was always the same cheery friendly "Bill Shea."

Ex-Mayor Shea was born in Quincy in 1857, and was the son of the late William Shea who was a gallant soldier in the Crimean war and was awarded the Victoria cross, the highest badge of honor which can be bestowed on its soldiers by the British government, and is never given except to those who have performed some signal act of bravery on the field of battle.

In one of the best-known battles of the Crimea, the charge at Balaklava, his father took a prominent part, being a member of the famous "Light Brigade" immortalized by Lord Tennyson. In this charge, so well known to every school boy, the light cavalry went into action against the Russian breastworks with 607 men and came back with only 198. The survivors were presented with the Victoria cross for their bravery.

Mr. Shea came to this country after the Crimean war and settled in Quincy where he lived until his death.

The ex-Mayor went to school in the west part of the town and was graduated from the old Willard school. After leaving school he went to work at the granite trade, then the all important business of Quincy. By industry and constant application to business, he developed into a business man on a small scale and later those qualities which told in his early life served to make his business extensive until he became one of the largest contractors dealing in paving blocks in the city and for several years handled the contracts for many Massachusetts cities.

In his early life, three years before he was able to vote, Mr. Shea joined the St. Mary's C. T. A. society, an organization of young men who banded themselves together to abstain from the use of intoxicating liquor and he continued a member of the organization up to the time of his death. For five years of that time he has served as president of the society.

When Quincy became a city in 1888, he was elected a member of the first City Council, and was re-elected the following year. During those two years he served on important committees and proved himself a valuable man in those years when great care had to be taken in shaping the policies of the young city.

In 1895, when the sewer system was started in this city, he was appointed a member of the Sewerage Commission by the late Mayor Hodges, and continued in office till 1900 serving under Mayors Hodges, Adams, Sears, Keith and Hall. It was during his term of office, or in May, 1899, that the pumping station of the Quincy sewerage system was opened at Merrymount park. This plant, one of the most important in the city and one that is least heard of, is one of the best plants in any city of the size of Quincy. One of the principal reasons it is heard of so little is that it is built in a manner that calls forth no criticism, but does its work day in and day out without any friction. The building was completed during his term as chairman of the board of

(Continued on Page Six)

INAUGURATION DAY BANQUET

Councilmen of 1913 to Dine at Boston Hotel

The special committee of the City Council, appointed to arrange for the annual inauguration day banquet have completed its arrangements and announce that the banquet will be held at the New American house, Boston, on Monday evening, Jan. 5, at 6.30 sharp. There will be an informal reception at 6 o'clock during which time the members of the City Council of 1913 and the Councils of other years as well as department officials and others will have an opportunity to exchange greetings.

Members of City Councils of other years and city officials in general are invited to participate in the banquet. The tickets may be obtained from members of the committee, President Joseph L. Whiton, Charles W. Bailey and Charles A. Ross or of the Clerk of the Council, George T. Magee.

MANY ESTATES SOLD FOR TAXES

Tax Collector Sandberg held a tax collectors sale in the Council Chamber, at City Hall, this morning and sold 165 parcels of real estate for 1912 taxes.

City Clerk Crane was called to Salem this morning as a witness in a slight accident which took place on a street car upon which he was riding some months ago.

TWO FIRES THOUGHT TO BE INCENDIARY

One in Tenement House on Sumner Street with Many Occupants

Other a Vacant Summer Cottage on the Boulevard

Sunday night was a busy one for the fire department, for between the hours of 6.30 and 9.15 they were called out twice to bad fires, both of which being of such a suspicious character that Chief Litchfield said this morning that he intended to have to State fire marshal out today to investigate.

The first alarm came from Box 173 at 6.46 and was for a fire in a two tenement house at 93 Sumner street. The building was owned by Harry Cooperman who occupied the upper tenement, while the lower tenement was occupied by Ezekiel Matofsy.

The fire started in a closet under a stairway leading from the lower floor to the upper floor. There was nothing in this closet, as far as the firemen could find, to start a fire, and as its origin was somewhat suspicious, Chief Litchfield said that it had the appearance of being an incendiary. The fire made a great smoke and the firemen had a hard battle before they got the upper hand of it and it was over an hour before the all out was sounded.

Visiting in the Cooperman tenement on Sunday were a number of adults and twelve children and when the fire was discovered they lost no time in getting out of the burning building. The children became separated in the crowd which soon gathered and for a time there were grave fears that some of the children had been left in the burning building.

At that time great clouds of black smoke were coming from the building, but in spite of that Mr. Cooperman rushed through the smoke to the upper tenement and searched for the children. None were found however, and later the missing children were found among the spectators. Mr. Cooperman was nearly blinded and suffocated by smoke before he could regain the street.

The loss on the building is estimated at $1,000 and on the furniture $200.

The second fire which called out the department was in a summer house situated on the Quincy Shore reservation at Wollaston beach, numbered 619, owned by Dr. A. Waldo Forbush of Somerville, an alarm for which was sounded from Box. 513 at 9.11. This fire was also of a very suspicious nature so much so that Chief Litchfield will have it investigated by the State Fire Marshal.

According to neighbors Dr. Forbush has not been near the premises since Thanksgiving, and there is no way the fire could have started unless by burglars to cover up another crime.

The house was purely a summer affair, the partitions being of the leather board type, so that a fire once started had plenty of material to feed upon. The interior was quite badly gutted before it was extinguished, the loss being estimated at $1,000.

An investigation showed several peculiar circumstances. One was that the fire started on a shelf under a stairway, but there was nothing that would indicate that it was of spontaneous combustion and the only theory is that it was the work of an incendiary.

There is a storm door on the front of the house and the paddlock with which this is usually fastened was missing. The Metropolitan police officer on duty said that the padlock must have been taken off that day for he would have noticed it if it had been gone before. Then again there were the marks of chisel on both the window frame and sash showing that someone had evidently entered or made an attempt to enter the house by this method.

When the apparatus arrived on the scene the flames seemed to be coming from every window in the house, for

(Continued on Page Two.)

The Most Loved of All Presents

OUR STOCK
In W. W. W. Solid Gold Fine Stone Rings and 14k and 10k
Solid Gold Pendants
is without any doubt the largest of any Store within reach and prices are proven to be lower than any Boston store.

The W. W. W. Solid Gold Rings carry the strongest possible guarantee, as the manufacturers will replace any Genuine Stone (except Diamonds), if they should for any reason fall out of the setting, FREE OF CHARGE.

Big Stock on hand of Fine Solid Gold and Gold-Filled Bracelets, Lockets, Pins, Brooches, Cuff Links and Bar Pins, in a well-selected variety.

Only a few days to Xmas. Select your Goods NOW---with the Store that IS doing the big Christmas business.

SANDBERG BROS.
Jewelers
1281 Hancock St., Quincy

MORE TRUTHS.

Do not let the worry of Christmas Dinner spoil the Best Day of the year

Let Us Take Care of your What-to-Eat Worry

Begin NOW. Thanksgiving was our Biggest and Best.
Not One single complaint about Our Turkeys.

Why? Oh! Just JOHNSON BROS!

Masters of Details. High Quality. Experienced Clerks.
This is the True Remedy for all your Food Worries.

We will be here CHRISTMAS Nuff Sed.

JOHNSON BROS. Johnson Building City Square
Dec. 18 6t

TO LET

Large Front Office Greenleaf Block—2 entrances—right at the head of the stairs—one of the most desirable offices in Quincy.

Office, Burgin-Merrill Block—3 large windows—only 1 flight up—exceptional opportunity.

Hancock Building—City Square Offices—small front office, $11 a month.

Office—Hancock Chambers, 18x15 feet one flight up, very low rent.

Store House—off Granite St., in the rear of Greenleaf Block.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best Location in City)

Offices—Large or small.

Desk Room—Street floor, right in the rear of main entrance, good light and air, $5 up a month.

Transient Rooms—Well furnished and with care, $1 a day.

Furnished Rooms—With care steam heat, and detached bath with hot and cold water $2.00 to $5.50 per week

HALLS

Music Hall—Music Hall Block—Capacity 902—highest possible rating by the State. "Excellent" in every particular.

New Colonial Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—Capacity 240—the best possible location for a Hall.

Hancock Hall—Hancock Building City Square—Capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 21066) Quincy

Here is Your Opportunity

7 room house with modern conveniences nicely situated on a fine street in Wollaston. To be sold very low at present.

Here is a chance to get into a good neighborhood. House is vacant and in perfect order to move right into. Three to five minutes to station, schools, stores, etc. Price $3,300. On terms.

HENRY W. SAVAGE
Real Estate, Boston.
E. G. HAYDEN, Local Representative
Telephone 1877-M Quincy.
Dec. 22-tf

Notice to Contractors

Contractors are invited to estimate the cost of filling and grading of 10,000 to 17,000 square yards of streets located at Atlantic, Mass. Plans and specifications will be ready Saturday, December 27, 1913 at the office of Robert J. Jones, 407 Broadway, Chelsea, Telephone Chelsea 34.
22-3t

QUALITY

All Quincy Stores lay great stress on the word "QUALITY." But quality is like Elastic, you can stretch it as far as your conscience will allow.

Our "Quality" consists of those Foods that have achieved a National Reputation, we try to carry the best of them.

Each Christmas for 14 years we have had the same mark of Turkeys. We had a case on exhibition Saturday, and they certainly created a good deal of favorable comment.

We solicit your order for one of these Birds with the Fixings.

We have them all.

J. PETERSON & CO.
394 Washington Street
Quincy
Dec. 22-3t

The LADY'S SHOP
MATTIE M. STARBIRD
QUINCY, MASS

NUMBER FOUR MAPLE STREET

GIFTS FOR WOMEN

DAINTY NOVELTIES

EXCLUSIVE HAND MADE

"FROM THE LADY'S SHOP"

Dec. 22 2t

Pretty Christmas Boxes
and Choice Chocolates
At EMANUEL'S CANDY STORE
Fresh Christmas Candy, 10 cents
Other Candies from 25 cents up
Dec. 20-4t

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second-Class matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the . . . .

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

TELEPHONES
News . . . Quincy 425
Business . . Quincy 1910

NOTICE

Again we ask those sending news or other matter by mail to direct it to the company or newspaper rather than to individual members of the company or employees. If addressed to individuals and they were ill or not at the office, it might be several days in reaching its proper destination and if news matter would be too late for use.

EX-MAYOR SHEA.

The death of Hon. William T. Shea, makes a great inroad among the ex-Mayors of the City of Presidents. Quincy has been a city twenty-five years, and eleven gentlemen have filled the office of Mayor. Five only of the ex-Mayors are living; five have passed away, as will be seen below:

EX-MAYORS DECEASED.

Charles H. Porter, 1889, 1890.
William A. Hodges, 1894, 1895.
Harrison A. Keith, 1899.
James Thompson, 1905, 1906, 1907.
William T. Shea, 1908, 1909, 1910, 1911.

EX-MAYORS LIVING. ....

Henry O. Fairbanks, 1891, 1892, 1893
Charles F. Adams, 2d, 1896, 1897.
Russell A. Sears, 1898.
John O. Hall, 1900, 1901.
Charles M. Bryant, 1902, 1903, 1904.

Within two weeks Mayor Stone will become an "Ex" and John L. Miller will become the twelfth Mayor of the city.

During all these years none gave as long service as Mayor Shea, he being the first and only Mayor to serve four years and it is probably a fact that he then had a better chance for re-election than any of his predecessors, as his plurality was never less than 500. He was the first Irishman and the first Catholic ever elected Mayor of the city but he did honor to his race and his religion.

During the term of Mayor Shea, his predecessor, Hon. James Thompson, passed away and also Charles H. Porter and Harrison A. Keith so that today Hon. Eugene R. Stone is the only one living who has served as Mayor since 1904, a period of nine years. Since 1888 the Mayors of twelve years have passed away and the Mayors for thirteen years including 1913 are living. Because of the death of ex-Mayor Shea it will be a sad Christmas season for Quincy, for he was generally beloved.

LONG DISTANCE TELEPHONING.

Long distance telephone lines have just been opened from the East as far west continuously as Denver. California hopes to gossip with New York and Boston by the time the Panama fair opens.

The development of the telephone in this country, and the freedom with which it is used for long calls, are the wonder of the world. Over in Europe the telephone is still a good deal of a toy. Many business and social leaders use it with as much timidity and diffidence as if they were addressing a royal sovereign.

Only a half dozen years ago travellers in Europe desiring to call persons a hundred miles away, were frequently discouraged from so doing, as the results were often unsatisfactory.

The London Engineering magazine recently predicted that by 1920 it would be possible for the people of the United States to talk with St. Petersburgh. A considerable step was taken in that direction not long ago when telephone wires were laid under the English channel.

The difficulty in long distance telephony is not so much a question of having absolutely perfect instruments of a high degree of perfection, as the meeting of new conditions. These are difficult to describe to the non-technical reader, but could perhaps be expressed by saying that on long distances there seems to be an over accumulation of electrical energy, that tends to confused and inarticulate sounds. Gradually this difficulty is being overcome.

Travellers from Europe are impressed by the clear, loud resonance of the telephone conversation in this country, a condition not fully developed across the water. The voice a thousand miles away may seem as near as if it were next door.

MAJORITY FOR CHANGE

G. E. Pfaffman Tells Why They Want Presidents Lane

Editor of Daily Ledger:

I have been unable to determine whether it is admiration of literary attainments or a desire to influence public opinion that has inspired the pathetic appeals for our dear old friend Goffe. Some of the writers must entertain quaint ideas of the public mind in believing that their efforts are still interesting, and especially so when it is known that the leader of the opposition signed the petition in favor of "Presidents Lane."

Their passionate defense of Goffe is rather amusing in view of the fact that no one has accused this estimable gentleman of committing any crime. He simply had no place in local history, and lived and died at Hadley, Massachusetts.

Possibly King Charles played tennis Sunday afternoon, and Goffe was refused a local residence for his intolerant attitude toward this innocent diversion.

Mr. Chase's letter in Friday's Ledger seems to me a deliberate attempt to influence legislation, and pleading this is my first offense, I ask the privilege of presenting the petitioners veiws.

Mr. Chase states that at the public hearing "one person appeared in favor, and several persons opposed change." I distinctly stated at the hearing that it seemed a needless waste of time, and would lead to endless repetition if more than one person appeared, and after listening to the arguments of the opposition I found no reason to change my opinion.

I would have been perfectly content to rest our case on the arguments presented, and was surprised to learn that Mr. Chase was actively engaged in admitting to his circle of admirers, all the members of the Council. Owing to his genial activities that committee reported leave to withdraw, "although a full committee did not pass on it."

Knowing that the majority of the property owners desired favorable action, I certainly felt justified in pressing the matter, and the order was finally passed with but one dissenting vote.

The Mayor very plainly signified his intention to sign the order, but decided to give the opposition another opportunity to show its strength, and called for another vote of the property owners, stating that he would be guided by the will of the majority.

That this vote resulted in favor of changing the name is indicated by the fact that the Mayor was about to sign the order when the "little joker" was sprung, "illegal notice."

It may interest some people to learn that Mr. Chase had been holding this "litle joker" up his sleeve for several months, and that if he had presented it himself it would have been ineffective as he was present at the hearing and waived his rights.

An excellent illustration of "subterranean methods" to find a place in that little classic to be written by Mr. Hayward, and I respectfully refer him to Mr. Chase as an authority on the subject. No fair-minded person will believe that any property owner suffered through insufficient notice, or could suffer in the future.

The fact remains that the majority of the property owners still wish the old historic name "Presidents Lane" restored, and that the active opposition is embodied in the person of Mr. Chase alone.

Geo. E. Pfaffmann.

CHRISTMS FIRE WARNINGS.

Warnings by chiefs of fire departments regarding the danger of fire in connection with Christmas celebrations should be heeded by everyone. The warning against the use of lighted candles on evergreen trees is particularly to the point, as there is no danger so great as that. The candles are of necessity placed in insecure places, from which they are easily overturned by slight disturbances of the tree, the result being that the flames will come in contact with the very inflammable material used in decorating or with the tree itself, and within a moment the tree will be enveloped in fire. Under no circumstances should lighted candles be placed on the branches of the Christmas trees. Another warning that merits attention is against the practice of placing crepe paper about electric globes because the constant contact of the heated globe is likely to set fire to the flimsy material enclosing it.

HISTORICAL MISNOMERS

Charles Frances Adams Writes of Goffe Street

Editor of Quincy Ledger:

I was glad to see in the Patriot in the issue of the 13th inst. the letter of Mr. Fenno entitled "Johnny Bass's Lane."

I read it with lively and sympathetic interest. It recalled to me very vividly the condition of what is now Goffe street, but what was then known as "President's Lane" and "Johnny Bass's Lane" in and about the year 1840.

Mr. Fenno's recollection accords with my own at every point. Well do I remember the "deeply worn wheel tracks," the "stone walls on either side," and, generally the rustic character of the thoroughfare. Mr. Fenno is entirely right when he says:—"There were no sidewalks. Grass grew between the wheel ruts and great rocks stuck out at frequent intervals." It exactly describes the country thoroughfare which I walked over from my father's house on my way to and from the schoolhouse, which stood at the corner of what he calls "Johnny Bass's Lane" and Granite street. This was years before the construction of the Old Colony railroad. It is to me a matter of very considerable indifference whether that thoroughfare is forever known as Goffe street, Bass street or President's lane. I am, however, a little surprised that Mr. Fenno, with his intimate and exact recollection of the facts concerning it, had never until recently heard of the name "President's Lane."

Historically speaking,—and in these connections I set much by historical considerations—the name "President's Hill" is in itself of comparatively recent origin. The hill now known as such was formerly known as "Stony Field Hill." It so appears in the town records. It subsequently acquired its name from the fact that the larger portion of it passed into the possession of President John Adams, who lived in the old Vassall house,—more recently, the Borland house—on what is now known as "Adams Street," but which would more properly be known as the "Old Coast Road," it being a portion of the first and largest highway laid out on this continent,—that running from Newburyport to Plymouth, somewhere about the year 1636.

The names of nearly all the hills in Quincy, and about all of the streets and roads are misnomers, unintellegently given, without any regard to historical connections of the utmost interest. For instance, what is known as "Taylor's Hill" should be known as "Hutchinson Hill," it having been part of the grant of Mistress Anne Hutchinson. "President's Hill" was, as I already said, known as "Stony Field Hill" until a little over a century since. It then became "President's Hill," being, in the main, part of the farm of John Adams; and the lane to which Mr. Fenno so graphically and correctly refers, leading up to the bars of his cow pasture in the Cranch farm, was naturally known as "President's Lane," it running up the north side of "President's Hill."

I also had never heard of "Johnny Bass's Lane" until I saw it so correctly and graphically described in Mr. Fenno's communication. The Basses owned considerable property on "Stony Field Hill," and had owned it almost since the settlement. One of the Basses occupied a small house on the south side of the hill, and thus the lane on that side of the hill became known as "Johnny Bass's Lane," just as the lane on the north side of the hill became generally known as "President's Lane." Neither name was ever formally conferred; they were simply names of usage.

Long subsequently, during my early youth, the "Hancock lot," so called, given by John Adams to the town as the site of the Adams Academy, was in no way divided. What is now Dimmock street was then laid out across it. Subsequently, the Old Colony railroad bisected it. Among my earliest recollections is that of a muster held on this lot when a militia military organization encamped there for several days. This must, as I recollect it, have been about the year 1840. Dimmock street, as I remember, had not then been laid out.

I cannot recall the talk Mr. Fenno mentions as having taken place with me at the town meeting in 1872. Over forty years ago, one's memory is naturally treacherous as to what took place. I have not, however, the faintest doubt his recollection is correct in every particular.

It is, in my judgment, a great mistake to disturb locality and street names long established. Nevertheless, it is, also in my judgment, a still greater mistake to ignore, as has been so frequently done in the case of Quincy, interesting historical connection with either streets or localities. It is still worse to falsify history in that connection. That is my objection to the name "Goffe Street."

It is based upon a tradition for which, so far as I have ever been able to find out, no foundation exists; and I do not put the slighest faith in the facts stated in the passage from Whitney's publication of 1828, quoted in his letter by Mr. Fenno. I believe them to be altogether fictitious; and as for Thomas Revel, it is, to my mind, most questionable whether any such person ever lived in the neighborhood; nor is there the slightest evidence of a tradition to connect him with the regicide Goffe.

On one point only is there no room for doubt. There is no sort of question whatever that what were known as "Johnny Bass's Lane" and "President's Lane," respectively on the south and north sides of "President's Hill"; subsequently, about the year 1850, became known as "Goffe Street." Both "Bass's Lane" and "President's Lane" were names which had an historical significance. Goffe street is simply a perpetuation of a tradition for which, so far as I have been able to ascertain, any foundation would in vain be sought.

I remain, etc.,
Charles Francis Adams.

Washington, D. C. Dec. 16, 1913.

TABLEAUX AT WOLLASTON

The Birds' Christmas Carol Presented by Guild

Nearly 150 were present at the meeting of the Woman's Guild in the vestry of the Park and Downs church Thursday afternoon, when a reading of "The Bird's Christmas Carol" by Kate Douglas Wiggin, illustrated with living pictures, was given.

The series of pictures opened with a prelude which showed the naming of Carol Bird. In the distance could be heard the carols of the choir boys. The other scenes took place ten years later and showed the interesting happenings in the Ruggles home and the visit to the Bird residence.

The reading was by Mrs. Fred Robinson and the cast consisted of: Uncle Jack—William Kershaw.
Carol Bird—Fabra Ryder.
Mrs. Ruggles—Mrs. William C. Crane.
Ruggles Children — Doris Bissett, Sumner Robinson, Sidney Maxwell, Paul Knowlton, Eleanor Knight, Beulah Zwicker, Natalie Ryder, Elizabeth Richardson, and Ralph Bussler.
Choir Boys—Ralph Drew, Everett Miller, George Vibert, Paul Knowlton, Amory Waite and Earle Zwicker.

In the last tableau, solos were sung by Sumner Robinson and George Vibert. The entire affair was a tremendous success and was produced under the direction of Mrs. Arthur F. Capen, Mrs. Mayfield and Mrs. F. J. Bussler.

The tableaux followed a business meeting and social. In the social hour refreshments were served from a prettily decorated Christmas table by Mrs. Seth S. Crocker, Mrs. William J. Colby, Mrs. Frank C. Blake, Mrs. Dickson, Mrs. W. A. Dunmore, Mrs. A. W. Dingwell.

TWO FIRES

(Continued from Page One.)

as stated above the leather board partitions furnished good material for the fire to feed upon. The fire was a hard one to fight and it was necessary for the firemen to pull down most of the partitions, so that the inside of the house was badly wrecked. Most of the furnishings in the house were of the kind used in summer cottages and what was not burned was damaged by smoke and water.

ARRESTED FOR NON-SUPPORT.

David DsCoste, for whom the police held a warrant for non support of his family, came home Saturday night after an absence of two months. Officer Dewey hearing of his return went to his home to place him under arrest. He found that DeCoste had not only arrived home but had already begun his Christmas celebration. He put up quite a spirited fight with the officer but Officer Dewey put up a better one and DeCoste spent the night at the police station. He was taken to court this morning.

(ADVERTISE.)

ADAMS STREET MAY CHANGE

Should be Known as the "Old Coast Road"

Editor Daily Ledger:

Once more! Did Goffe live in the locality of Goffe street? Don't know for sure; he lived somewhere; let his name be remembered.

Did George Washington live on Washington street?

Did Benjamin Franklin live on Franklin street?

Did William Penn live on Penn's Hill?

Did President Madison live on Madison avenue?

Did Gov. Endicott live on Endicott street?

Did Gov. Winthrop live on Winthrop avenue?

Are we sure Big Injun Squantum lived on Squantum street?

Do pelicans still live on Pelican road?

Do albatross' still live on Albatross road?

Was there ever a cat seen on Cat island?

What kind of nuts grew on Nut island?

Does Moon island have moonshine all the time?

Let us change everything—for fun. I shall expect to see a movement started to change Adams street to "Old Coast road."

Yours for history, natural history and astronomy.

Z. Y. X.

FUNERAL OF JAMES CORCORAN.

The funeral of James Corcoran, who died from an injury received in a fall on State election day, was held from his home at 9 Grove street Sunday afternoon. The procession was the largest seen in West Quincy for many months and included long time friends and relatives. The floral remembrances were many and handsome and filled a barouche.

The entire membership of Div. 22, A. O. H., of which the deceased was a member attended in a body. Representatives of that society acted as pall bearers.

Services were held in St. Mary's church at 3 o'clock. They were conducted by Rev. Fr. Thomas F. McCoy, pastor. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery.

Mr. Corcoran is survived by a widow, Julia Corcoran and two sons, one of whom Daniel T. Corcoran is a member of the City Council, representing Ward Four; Timothy, another son is in the employ of the city as a foreman of sewer construction.

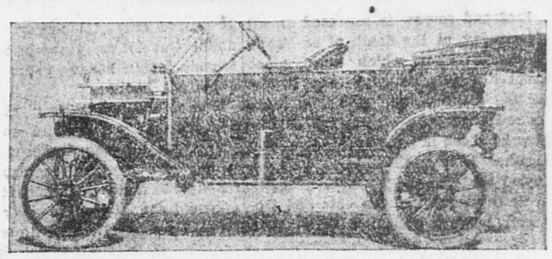
IN MEXICAN WATERS.

The battleship New Jersey, built at Quincy, which is now in Mexican waters, will not arrive at the Charlestown Navy Yard about Jan. 1, as was originally intended. The latest orders state that the ship will come about Jan. 17, as her relief in Mexican waters has been delayed by the holding up in Cuba of ships returning from the European cruise which are ordered to take the place of the New Jersey and other ships.

☞A local, or personal touch to a Christmas gift adds to its value. Such an addition goes with the publications of the Rev. Mr. Wilson. His book, "Where American Independence Began," contains sixty-five fine illustrations of the most famous persons and places of Quincy and old Braintree While true to history it reads as interestingly as a novel, and as the Boston Transcript says, "It will make the blood run faster and the good old American spirit revive." Then, besides, there is "The Sketch of Quincy and Old Braintree," profusely illustrated, which in cheaper form gives a brief account of what made Quincy great. The book and the board-covered copies of the "Sketch" are almost all sold, and fortunate will be those who secure either.

ARTISTIC EFFECTS
Are gained in every Box or Bouquet of Cut Flowers we arrange.
We have all the
POTTED PLANTS
that are in season such as
Poinsettias, Azaleas, Cyclamen, Primroses, Lorraine Begonias, etc.
CHRISTMAS WREATHS of all kinds.
JOHNSON, the Florist
City Flower Store, City Square
Dec. 18-6t

Capital $150,000 Surplus $200,000
DO BUSINESS HERE AT HOME.
If you are a resident of Quincy, we suggest that you patronize the merchants of your home city. Why go to Boston for goods that can be bought handily and economically here? We stand for the interests of Quincy, and like the Quincy merchants we give our customers good value. For instance a safety deposit box in our vault for $5 a year that would cost you $10 in Boston.
THINK THIS OVER!
THINK OF YOUR HOME TOWN FIRST!
Our $5 Box is Larger Than a $10 Box in Boston.
GRANITE TRUST CO.
FOUNDED 1836



THE QUINCY GARAGE, 87 Adams Street, Quincy
Agent for FORD and CASE CARS
A full Line of Supplies always on hand
Michelin Tires in stock
Now Ready for Delivery the 1914 Ford Car, $550 for 5 Passenger, $500 for Runabout, $750 for Town Car F. O. B. Detroit.
For Particulars or Demonstration call Quincy 435
Night or Day never closed. C. P. GOULD, Prop.
Dec. 12-1o-tf

JANUARY AMERICAN MAGAZINE.

Two articles of exceptional interest and importance appear in the January American Magazine. One is Ida M. Tarbell's account of the work of the Court of Domestic Relations in Chicago—a court especially created to handle cases that arise out of quarrels between husbands and wives. The article is filled with stories of specific cases, which show the extraordinary capacity of the court to disentangle and solve troubles which on their face would appear to be insoluble. The other article is entitled "Better Boys" and is an account by Charles K. Taylor of investigations and measurements recently worked out by which boys are classified and standardized physically as they never have been before.

Fiction is contributed by Walter Prichard Eaton, Edna Ferber, Henry Wallace Phillips, Alfred Ollivant, Maravene Thompson and Philip E. Curtiss.

QUINCY POST OFFICE.

Letters unclaimed for week ending Saturday, Dec. 20:

Mrs. P. Avery, Mrs. L. S. Banning, William H. Biggs, Jsk Elo, Jsay Elo, Vincenzo Garlisi, E. A. Hart, George A. Howell, Miss Mary Jaritinen, Jos. Warren Jewell, Baoyerov D. Kovroganav, Antonelli Lagnan, Miss Anni Lahti, John Lehti, Jimmie Liddle, James H. Lordan, Vincenzo Mulara, H. A. Poole & Son, Quincy Gazette, Miss Jennie M. Robertson, Waino Salminer, Miss Mary Todd, J. Tuominen, Del Forno Vitantonio, Mrs. Porter L. Wood, Feliks Yurkienrcz, Jhan Zawiadsky.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

WOMAN'S HOME COMPANION.

One of the most interesting contributions to the January Woman's Home Companion is an article by Ralph Waldo Trine entitled "Actualizing One's Ideals" in which the author makes many helpful suggestions which the individual reader can apply in the conduct of his own life. He shows, and shows admirably, how any human being can acquire happiness through work. It is all right to have ideals, but true success and contentment are not achieved unless action accompanies ideals.

Other notable articles are: "Finding Happiness in Winter's Garden," by Frank A. Waugh; "The Coming of the Kewpies," by Rose O'Neill; and "The Importance of Good Health," by Dr. S. Josephine Baker.

Fiction is contributed by Margaret Deland, Mary Heaton Vorse, Mary Hastings Bradley, Molly Elliot Seawell, Juliet Wilbor Tompkins and Zona Gale.

The regular Cooking, Housekeeping and Fashion departments are crowded with interesting, practical ideas and entertaining reading.

ELKS' CHRISTMAS.

Quincy lodge of Elks is arranging to provide many worthy families in the jurisdiction covered by Quincy lodge with Christmas baskets. These baskets rae made possible by voluntary subscriptions by members of this well known order. The baskets will be delivered in the different towns the day before Christmas and in addition to containing all that is necessary for a Christmas dinner will contain useful gifts for children of these families.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

1876-1913
WE HAVE OFFERED FOR YOUR INSPECTION AND SELECTION EACH YEAR RELIABLE GOODS, AND WE SUGGEST YOU LOOK OVER OUR LINE OF Watches, Cut Glass, Silver Ware, Jewelry, Clocks, Etc.
TO AID YOU IN YOUR CHRISTMAS SHOPPING WE INVITE YOUR INSPECTION OF OUR STOCK.
C. F. PETTENGILL
1391 Hancock Street Near Granite Street
TELEPHONE QUINCY 468-M Dec 13,10t

CANDLE LIGHT SERVICE WOLLASTON CHURCH

One of the Many Interesting Christmas Services on Sunday

Musical Programs of Exceptional Merit in Many Churches

WOLLASTON UNITARIAN.

The Christmas services of Sunday will long be remembered by all who were privileged to attend the Wollaston Unitarian church. The decorations were unusually beautiful. At the morning service every seat in the auditorium was taken. A fine musical program was rendered by the double mixed quartet, and the children of the Sunday school sang carols old and new. A special feature was a carol, entitled "The First Christmas" by some seventy children in the Primary department.

At the "Candle Light service" in the evening the church was filled to overflowing. Many stood up during the entire service and over a hundred, it is estimated, were turned away, not being able to have access to the vestibule even. There were candles in all the windows. To the right of the pulpit stood a very large candelabrum with seven branches. On the pulpit and in front of the choir loft were smaller candelabra with five and seven branches. On the altar steps stood two magnificent candlesticks, which had been procured for this service from New York through the courtesy of Walter M. Hatch. The rear of the chancel was converted into a forest, through the top of which appeared a beautiful star.

The services began with a processional hymn by the members of the Girls' choir, all dressed in white and carrying candles. It was a most impressive sight. The service was devotional and musical, including, cello solos by Miss Helen I. Moorhouse, alto solo, with cello obligato, by Mrs. Royal L. Turner, a duet by Mrs. Page and Mrs. Turner, and carols old and new by the choir. The ushers were Dr. Charles Monroe. Arthur Rohn, Fred M. Rollins and Lucien Thayer.

Quite a number from the Randolph Unitarian church attended the Candle Light service.

Many have expressed the wish that the Candle Light service may be repeated, so that all those that were turned away might have the opportunity to attend this unique service, so full of the symbolism of light.

The Sunday school Christmas entertainment will be held in the vestry Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock. As is customary in this church every one attending brings a present to be sent to a needy child.

The chairman of the Cheerful Letter committee asks each member of her committee to write a letter or send a Christmas card to her correspondents in time for Christmas day.

Do not forget to have lighted candles in the windows on Christmas eve at 6 o'clock. We would suggest that all draperies be removed from the windows.

The American Unitarian Association and Allied Societies will hold a reception Jan. 1, from 4 to 6 o'clock at 25 Beacon street, Boston.

Sunday, Jan. 11, will be observed as "Everybody-Go-To-Church Sunday."

The Rev. George B. Spurr of the Third Congregational Society in Hingham and Rec. C. G. Horst will exchange pulpits next Sunday morning.

The annual parish meeting occurs Jan. 26.

Mrs. Caroline F. McIntire, mother of Mrs. Edward J. Cummings, and wife of Farrington McIntire, whose name heads the membership list of our church and who was one of the original settlers on Wollaston Heights, passed to the higher life Sunday.

The Christmas offerings at the services Sunday were among the largest Christmas collections in the history of the church.

Thanks are due Arthur Rohn and Mrs. C. G. Horst and their helpers for the exquisite church decorations.

A pair of eyeglasses and a breast pin were found in the church after the candle light service. Owners may have them by applying to the minister.

FIRST PARISH CHURCH.

Rev. Adelbert L. Hudson said, in his Sunday morning sermon, that the meaning of the observance of Christmas as the anniversary of the birth of Jesus Christ centers in the undying significance to the world of that wondrous life. He had therefore chosen as the subject of his Christmas sermon, "The Religion of Jesus Christ."

He showed how Jesus, in his teachings, had taken up all that was best in the older religions of Confusius, Buddha and Zoroaster, as well as of Israel itself; but had put new and enduring vitality into all of these through his revelation of the incarnation of the Divine nature in the human. This had put new meaning into the old commandments requiring "Love to God and love to Men."

Turning to modern life he made a strong plea to busy men to realize that the vast and complicated mechanism of our age needs to be controlled by the power of the Christian spirit. Machinery is the instrument of power: but unless properly guided it destroys men instead of saving them. The salvation of even the material interests of society requires the development among us of a larger capacity for moral enthusiasm. We cannot continue to live on an inheritance of "left-over morality."

The pressing problems of the present time may be somewhat simplified by better laws and better methods. They can be solved only by better men and better women. And the development of such men and women requires that vital union of righteousness and love which is expressed in the religion of Jesus Christ.

At the 4.00 o'clock vespers the congregation and Sunday school joined in the service, the latter occupying the gallery. The attendance was unusually large at both services.

On Wednesday evening, the First Parish Sunday school will hold its Christmas festival in the church and afterward will gather around the Christmas tree in the chapel.

On Tuesday afternoon the First Parish Alliance will entertain as guests an invited group of mothers and children outside the parish, the Sunday school lending its tree for that purpose in order to pass along the Christmas cheer.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN.

Christmas Sunday was observed in a very fitting manner in the First Presbyterian church. The church was very prettily decorated with white carnations and roses by the Flower committee of the Christian Endeavor Society.

The morning service was largely attended and the pastor gave a most helpful and inspiring Christmas sermon. The musical program was as follows:

Anthem, "Tis Heaven's reply"
Choir
Soprano solo, "He shall feed His flock" From the Messiah
Miss Helen Cumming
Soprano solo, "He shall feed His flock" From the Messiah
Miss Minnie Miller
Anthem, "Hark the glad sound."
Choir

The Sabbath school service was a most profitable one and was attended by nearly 300 scholars. Decision day was observed and 100 children signed the pledge and took their stand to lead a Christian life.

The Junior Christian Endeavor Society held their regular service at 3 o'clock and the Senior Society at 6.30 Christmas spirit was the subject for both services and they were well attended and very helpful.

The evening service was given over almost entirely to music and seats were at a premium after the opening chorus. The pastor spoke very briefly on the Christmas spirit. The musical program was as follows:

Anthem , "What mean those holy voices"
Choir
Bass solo, "Jehovah"
Mr. McArthur
Tenor solo, "Comfort Ye" from the Messiah
Mr. Everett Clark
Contralto solo, "Oh thou that tellest," from the Messiah
Miss Minnie Giles.
Anthem, "And there were shepherds"
Choir
Soprano solos, "He shall feed His flock" from the Messiah
Misses H. Cumming and M. Miller
Anthem, "Hark the glad sound"
Choir

The choir of twenty voices was at its best and great credit is due to James R .Preston, organist and leader for the most excellent program. The music will be repeated in part next Sabbath when the pastor will deliver his New Years sermon.

After the evening service the flowers were taken to eight sick people of the congregation by members of the Christian Endeavor Society extending to them a word of Christmas cheer.

WOLLASTON METHODIST.

The theme of the morning sermon was "The Angel's Message to the Exiles" and the text was from Matt. 2:20. There was a large chorus choir with Mrs. F. G. Bennett at the organ and Miss Marguerite Louise Holbrook as soloist, and the following music was rendered.

Organ Prelude, "Christmas" Grison
Anthem, "The Shepherds" Schnecker
Solo, "O holy night," Adam
Miss M. L. Holbrook
Offertory, "Slumber song" Dunham
Anthem, "Christmas" Shelley
Organ, "Postlude" Steane

In place of the usual evening service the Primary department of the Sunday School gave an interesting program under the direction of Mrs. S. N. Belcher the superintendent. There was a solo by Miss Marguerite L. Holbrook, a song by seven primary girls, and a song by the primary department. Also recitations by Della Harding, Myron Lane, Mildred Noyes Ruth Cornell, Maurice Raquet, four boys, six girls, Janet Jevous, Doris Miller, Willa Smith, Stanley Sutermeister. Ralph Duncan, Beatrice Thompson, Harvey Taylor and Richard Crosscup.

An interesting feature of the program was the filling of an immense red stocking with gifts and toys to be sent to the Morgan Memorial for distribution among the less fortunate children of Boston.

The Christmas spirit was truly demonstrated as the children eagerly and cheerfully brought their gifts for this purpose.

WOLLASTON CONGREGATIONAL

The spirit of Christmas pervaded the morning service at the Wollaston Congregational church. The quartet rendered pleasingly several Christmas selections, the most appealing being the "Cradle Song of the Blessed Virgin" from Barnby's "First Christmas." The Subject of Dr. Sneath's sermon was "Our Gift to God." He spoke of this week being primarily a week for giving and receiving, calling attention in opening to God's great and unspeakable gifts to us and of the gift of Christ to the world, giving himself. We were urged not to forget in this happy week the gift we should make to God. The acceptable gift must honor God for he is worthy. At this point Dr. Sneath called attention to the vast amount of useless giving at Christmas. To honor God our gift must spring from genuine love, the love hidden behind the gift being the priceless boon. Then again it must be costly, not necessarily of great money value, but costly in that it involves willing sacrifice of self. Again it must be gladly given, as no spirit of grudging necessity would honor God. Lastly it must be made in a business like fashion intended to produce glorious results for God.

At the evening service Dr. Sneath gave a stereopticon lecture on, "The Life of Christ," using Perry pictures from the old masters.

The Christmas Festival of the Sunday School will be held in the vestry, Wednesday at 5 P. M. There will be a very attractive entertainment with Christmas Tree, with gifts for Primary Department. Santa Claus' Family will be present, and everybody will get something good. Come everybody.

The regular midweek service on Friday evening led by Dr. Sneath Topic: "Born Anew." John 3:1-21.

CHRIST CHURCH.

Ater the prayer at the Sunday evening service at Christ church, Rev. Richard E. Armstrong, continued his series of addresses on the Apostles Creed. There was a large congregation present and music was by the regular choir under the direction of Prof. F. Wrigley. Elaborate preparations are underway for the observance of Christmas.

The music at the 10.30 service on Christmas day will include:

Processional Hymn
Adeste Fideles
Kyrie Eyre
Sursum Corda Eyre
Hymn, "Angels from the realms of Glory" Smart
Sanctus Chant
Communion Hymn, No. 225 Hodges
Gloria
Offertory "Blessed be The Lord" Barnby
"Hark the Herald Angels Sing" Mendelssohn
Recessional Hymn.

Frank Wrigley organist.

PARK AND DOWNS.

One of the most novel services of the Christmas season was the service of the Park and Downs church, Sunday morning. The service was given almost entirely over to the Sunday School and was presided over by William J. Colby the superintendent.

The chancel was an artistic reproduction of the manger in which the Christ child was born. Round about was spread the new mown hay while high above shone the star of Bethlehem.

Miss Mabel Doring in robes of pure white was the Mother Mary while Alonzo V. Bissett, Robert Hall and John Dingwell in shaggy beards and rough clothes with crooks, represented the shepherds.

The service opened with a processional taken part in by nearly a hundred little tots from the primary department in tiny vestments and under the direction of Mrs. Fowler.

The tots proceeded singing to the chancel where each laid the flower he was carrying by the manger of the Christ child. The long line of innocent faces brought out more strongly by the vestments worn made a sight long to be remembered.

Seats were reserved in the front part of the church for the classes of the Sunday school. Several hymns were sung directed by Artemus Dingwell with Miss Emily Bjorkman at the organ.

A scripture reading and prayer by Superintendent Colby was followed by a response and the Lords prayer by the primary department .

Several songs and recitations by members of the primary department took place. "A Christmas Lullaby" was sung by Ralph Fowler, Randolph Fowler, Elizabeth Morris and Ruth Broadbent.

A recitation "While the shepherds watched" was given by Randolph Cook Winthrop Cook, George White, Milton Salander and Kenneth Harvey.

The "Cradle Hymn" was sung by Helen and Elizabeth Chase, "Merry Christmas" was recited by Doris Blaisdell and the primary department sang the "Fisher Song."

"The Ministering Angels" was a recitation and song by Phyllis Mosman, Eleanor Luke, Marion Letson, Alice Watts and Alice O'Neill. Barbara Klingenhagen, Ruth Ramsdell and Dorothy Berwick were the angels.

"I am so glad that Jesus loves me" was sung by the primary class and "Long ago on Christmas" by Dorothy Waite.

Superintendent Colby told in a few words of the growth of the Sunday school. A year ago there was a total enrollment of 225, while last Sunday there was a total attendance of 224 and an enrollment of 279. In another month he expected to see it reach the 300 mark.

A short but striking sermon was preached on "The Christmas message" by means of symbols, by Rev. William B. Ayers, pastor of the church.

He took a bottle of golden fluid which he called the individual life. He poured this into a glass of pure, clean water he called the world of nature.

Taking a second bottle this time of very muddy water called the stream of human nature. This he poured in the first glass showing how evil tendencies blot out the gold of the individual life.

The third bottle Mr. Ayers called Christ. This when poured into the glass of muddy water cleansed it and changed it back to its original pure and clean color.

"This," said Mr. Ayers, "is what the Christ life is doing in the world and this is what he will do for you if you let him come into your life." The recessional and benediction followed.

Mrs. James A. Boone, superintendent of the primary department was responsible for the novel service. She was assisted by Mrs. Charles Tanner, Mrs. Fowler and Miss Natalie Scott.

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL.

The Christmas services at Bethany church were very largely attended, the pleasant Sunday evening service having an attendance of 615 by actual count, only exceeded on Easter Sunday. Christmas trees and holly were prominent among the decorations.

Very pleasing musical programs were rendered at both the morning and evening services. In the morning the regular choir was assisted by the Girls Vested choir, and the Childrens chorus. The offertory was by violin, piano and organ. Besides the anthems and carols there was a beautiful solo by Mrs. Emma Shufeldt Moore assisted by chorus and violin.

In the evening some of the music was repeated, but there was a new anthem and a solo by Albert L. Hayden. Miss Agnes B. Ruggles was at the organ, Mrs. Daisy Bemis Sampson at the piano, and Miss Edith Rowbound violinist.

The pastor's message in the morning was "Great joy," telling of the meaning of Christmas.

In the evening the subject was "Let us have peace." Peace with our brother and God as well as the the world.

The Christmas tree entertainment will be held Wednesday. At 4 o'clock for the primary departments and 6.30 for older ones of the Bible school and church.

OTHER CHURCHES.

Christmas programs of other churches will appear in the Daily Ledger tomorrow.

MRS. FRANCIS McINTIRE.

Caroline F. McIntire, widow of Francis McIntire, died Sunday at the home of her daughter, 123 Winthrop avenue, in her 88th year. She has been a resident of Wollaston about 43 years, and her husband was one of the first to erect a home in that section.

Mrs. MsIntire had many friends in Wollaston and is survived by one daughter, Mrs. E. J. Cummings and one son, Herman F. McIntire of Presidents hill.

The funeral will take place at the home Tuesday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. Rev. Carl G. Horst of the Wollaston Unitarian church will officiate. After the service the body will be taken to the Massachusetts crematory at Forest Hills for cremation. The ashes will be interred in Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

SWIMMING LESSONS.

About thirty of the Coddington school boys were on hand to receive instruction in swimming at the Y. M. C. A. this morning.

The sixth, seventh, and eight grades of the Washington and Adams schools are to have the use of the Y. M. C. A. pool Tuesday. The Adams school boys are scheduled for 10, 10.30 and 11 o'clock in the forenoon, while the Washington scholars are to go at 3, 3.30 and 4 o'clock.

—The Board of Trade of Malden offers $20 to the man, woman or child in Malden who will compose the best slogan to be used in booming the city. The award will be made Jan. 15.

—Haverhill has twin sisters who were 86 years old on Tuesday, Dec. 16 Mrs. Charlotte H. Robinson and Miss Catharine L. Pettengill. Rev. and Mrs. Edmund Webber, formerly of Wollaston, were among their anniversary guests.

☞White wrapping paper for doing up your Christmas gifts can be obtained at the Ledger-Patriot office for 0 cents a dozen sheets or by the single sheet at 2 cents per sheet.

BRAINTREE

The East Braintree Debating Club will have a meeting in the Engine House hall on Monday evening, Dec. 22. The debate in regard to laying a twelve inch water main over Union street from South Braintree will be debated. Every citizen is invited to be present and take part in the evening's debate.

Theodore Spear is at home on Hayward street to enjoy the Christmas vacation granted scholars of Vermont Academy. Theodore has just finished the semi-annual exams which he passed with credit.

Mrs. H. J. Britton who has been visiting her sister Mrs. C. M. Vaughan left this week to join her husband, who is manager of the Terminal hotel in Atlantic, Georgia.

Lewis Pitts of Shaw street is making extensive alterations on the interior of his home.

Five families on Bowditch street are now enjoying running water in their homes. An extension of six hundred feet to the six inch main on this street has enabled the water department to lay four services which went to the homes of Jacob Clay, Morris Gurney, William Allen and Mi Greenlaw. The latter service also supplies Mrs. David Doane.

BOSTON POSTMASTERSHIP.

A report from Boston reached Washington on Saturday which stated that Col. A. C. Drinkwater of Braintree had been selected as postmaster at Boston. It was promptly declared to be without foundation. The general understanding has been that Representative William F. Murray has been slated for the position and the report created considerable excitement. In all probability Mr. Mansfield, the present incumbent will continue until the expiration of his term as no allegations of irregularities have been advanced against his administration.

Miss Lucy Shunk of Beach street, Wollaston is spending the Christmas holidays with her sister, Mrs. Charles C. Abbott of Waterbury, Vermont.

Miss Adelaide Lynch of 266 North Central avenue left Saturday for New York where she will spend Christmas and New Years with her aunt Mrs Hatch of Riverside drive. She will return to Wollaston about the second week in January.

Christmas Candies

Our Assortment of Confectionery is larger than ever, and we are making a specialty of Fancy Box Goods. We are packing a few choice boxes at the store which are really great bargains.

OUR RIBBON CANDY
Fresh Every Day, 15c., 2 for 25c
40c Caramels 35c
40c Assorted Chocolates 29c
40c Ruth Ting-a-Ling 35c
Fresh Cut Rock Candy 15c
2 pounds for 25

VAUGHN'S SPA
1449 Hancock St., Quincy
Dec. 20-4t

Call Quincy 501--W

If you want your furniture, mattresses and cushions repaired in good order at low prices M. MIRKIN, upholsterer, 1060 Hancock, near the Quincy High School
Dec. 1-1m

No bread could be more delicious, wholesome and satisfying. Take home a loaf and you will be convinced.
ALL LEADING GROCERY STORES.

FOR A
Christmas Present
NOTHING COULD BE BETTER THAN
A QUINCY HISTORY
EACH YEAR THE HISTORY OF
OLD BRAINTREE AND QUINCY
WRITTEN BY
W. S. PATTEE, M. D.
AND PUBLISHED IN 1878
GROWS MORE VALUABLE, AS IT CONTAINS HISTORICAL DATA ABOUT QUINCY THAT CANNOT BE OBTAINED ELSEWHERE
$3.50 PER COPY
FOR SALE BY
GEO. W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
1424 HANCOCK STREET
QUINCY

FOUND!
The Market Recommended by
SANTA CLAUS
To Get a Square Deal Every Day
CHOICE NORTHERN TURKEYS
And All The Fixin's
FOR SUNDAY DINNER
FOR CHRISTMAS DINNER
Here are a few of our prices:
We Cut Rump Steak 35c
Rump Roasts 22c
Roast Pig Pork 18c
Roast Pork 16 1-2c
By the Strip
Top Round Steak 28c
Fancy Sirloin Steak 22, 25c
BOSTON MARKET
1433 Hancock Street
Near Granite Street
Dec. 18-6t

CHOICE ARTICLES
FROM THE
PHILIPPINES
LUCBON HATS—Very best grade of the famous Panamas and Bankoks made. Absolutely none better, woven under water by hand. Can be crushed into a ball and not lose shape. Made for both Ladies and Gentlemen. $5 and $10.
ROMBLON MATS—Handsomest and most durable Grass Mats or Rugs made in the world. Beautiful colors and designs, large enough to cover one-half floor of rooms. $5.
MANILA CIGARS—$3 for a trial box of the Very Best Cigars made in the Philippines.
Oriente Cigarrettes—Best made, large package containing 25 small packages, 750 Cigarrettes, $2.
Sent by registered mail, free of duties, on receipt of price.
C. A. SHORT & CO.,
Lucena, Tay, P. I.
Oct. 4 L&O 3m

THE QUINCY GIFT
The Most Appropriate Christmas Gift to Residents and Lovers of Quincy are the
ILLUSTRATED BOOKS ABOUT QUINCY
By the Rev. D. M. Wilson
WHERE AMERICAN INDEPENDENCE BEGAN. $2.25
ILLUSTRATED SKETCH OF QUINCY AND BRAINTREE,
Board Covers 50c. Paper Covers 25c
For Sale by Brown & Co., Quincy; G. C. Shunk, Wollaston; Branschied & Martens Atlantic.
Dec. 13-6t-13-15-17-19-22-24-p-2w

Read Ledger Ads

Quincy Daily Ledger

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity. Tuesday fair and somewhat cooler.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	7.11
Sun sets	4.15
Length of day	9.04
Moon rises	2.52
High water, A. M.	7.15
High water, P. M.	7.45
Days decrease 0 hours,	0 minutes
Full Moon, Dec. 13,	10.00 A. M.
Last Quarter, Dec. 20	11.16 A. M.
New Moon, Dec. 27	9.59 A. M.
First Quarter, Dec. 5,	9.59 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today	41 degrees
Dec. 20 1912,	41 degrees
Dec. 20, 1911,	36 degrees

Dec. Noon Maximum 14 years—67
Dec. Noon Minimum, 14 years—2

PERMITS FOR NEW HOUSES

Five to be Built on Grafton Street, Ward Two

Inspector of Buildings Warren S. Parker issued the following building permits last week:

Antonio Guidier, alteration, Liberty street.

Marshall & Kirkland, manufacturing, Liberty street.

Rednor P. Coombs, dwelling, Billings road.

C. C. Grover, dwelling, Vassall street.

Jacob Asnes, removal, Main street.

Robert E. Comins, dwelling, North Central avenue.

Ralph W. Oldham, alteration, Safford street.

John B. Granahan, dwelling, Marlboro street.

Samuel Flishman, alteration, Farnum srteet.

Thomas J. Flaherty, alteration, Quincy avenue.

Lizzie J. Burgess, alteration, Highland avenue.

William T. Spargo, auto house, Bradford street.

Stephen S. Masters, dwelling, Winthrop terrace.

John Berman, et. al, five dwellings, Grafton street.

Victor E. Gerdman, stable, etc. Hancock street.

John Hall, alteration, Hancock street.

George A. Tripp, alteration, Safford street.

Christopher Sprude, removal, Winslow road.

Daniel J. Holmes, dwelling, Kemper street.

TURKEY WHIST PARTY.

The turkey whist party of Quincy council, Knights of Columbus, in their club rooms on Saturday evening was one of the most successful parties held by that organization. There were 12 tables in play. Edward J. Parker won the turkey after two hours play in which he was hard pressed by several other members. The affair was under the direction of Edward P. Histon, lecturer, assisted by the house committee.

☞PRATT'S BREAD—not made by guess-work, but by a scientific formula. Leading grocers sell it.

HERE AT HOME

Quincy Citizens Gladly Testify and Confidently Recommend Doan's Kidney Pills.

It is testimony like the following that has placed Doan's Kidney Pills so far above competitors. When people right here at home raise their voice in praise there is no room left for doubt. Read the public statement of a Quincy citizen:

George R. Williams, supt. city work, 32 Chestnut St., Quincy, Mass., says: "In my work I have considerable heavy lifting and I also get on and off a wagon a great deal. My back and kidneys were affected and I suffered from severe pains in my back. I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for two years. They have always fixed me up in good shape. I keep them in the house and am glad to recommend them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Order at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point
Tel. Quincy-Mass. 1152 M Nov 3-tf

APPEALS TAKEN BY THREE MEN

Would Be Detectives in Court Again Today

The four would be detectives who in court Friday entered a plea of guilty to a complaint charging them with assaulting Shu Goon, the Quincy Point laundryman, and were sentenced to a year in the house of correction were brought into court again this morning.

It appears that under a new law any man who receives a sentence to the house of correction for a longer period than six months must be given twenty-four hours to make up his mind whether he wishes to appeal or not, and that in the meantime he must be confined to the local police station. The twenty-four hours in this case expired Saturday night so that the men were brought to court today to say whether they desired to exercise their right of appeal.

When the cases were called James Powers, John Smith and John Olson took an appeal and were held in $500 each for the Superior court. Rose, the fourth man, said that he would take his sentence. He however said that he wished they could fix it so that he would not be turned out of jail in the middle of the winter when he would find hard work to get employment. The court however could not help him in any way so he decided to take his sentence of one year.

FORE RIVER LEAGUE.

For the first time this season the Yard team is in second place in the Fore River bowling league, their usual berth being filled by the Machine Gallery team which topped them through superior showing. The leaders are enthusiastic and intend to continue their winning streak while the Yard bowlers are equally confident that they can overthrow their rivals and fit once more in the place to which they feel accustomed. The standing:

	Won	Lost
Machine Gallery	36	4
Yard	30	6
Electricians	30	14
Argentine Inspectors	28	16
Machine Floor	25	15
Hull Draftsmen	23	21
Foundry	17	19
Gov. Draftsmen	17	23
Blacksmiths	15	29
Ex-Apprentices	8	32
Pipe fitters	8	32
Shipfitters	3	33

Y. M. C. A. BASKET BALL.

The "Old Timers" who substituted for the Wanderers of Boston, Saturday night against the first team, sprung a big surprise on the locals by capturing the game in the last minute of play. The game was close all the way through with the first team leading at the end of the half. The "Has Beens" came back strong however and tied up the score soon after play was resumed. Brooks and Jenkins played fine games for the Old Timers, while Price was the high score man for the Y. M. C. A. team.

The Y. M. C. A. second team had an easy time deefating the Tilton A. C. of Winthrop, the final score being 59 to 18. Bishop and Thomas were the stars for Quincy. Verner played well for the visitors.

ENGLISH BUILT LAUNCH.

An English-built steam launch or pinnace for the Argentine battleship Rivadavia, arrived in Boston on Friday on the steamship Cambrian of the Wilson & Furness-Leyland Line from London. The launch has a speed of 13 1-2 knots. She is patterned after the launches in use in the British Navy. The launch is 56 feet long and will be equipped with a rapid-fire gun. It will be sent to Fore River shipyard at Quincy.

MILTON A. C. GAMES.

The Milton A. C. basket ball teams won and lost in the Saturday games. At Milton the Senior five beat the Intervale A. C., 35 to 12, with Nehmer and Adams featuring for Milton. At Melrose the Milton second team beat the Melrose Y. M. C. A., 23 to 20. Irving scored 12 of the winning teams' points.

City Solicitor John W. McAnarney who has been in St. Louis for the past few weeks, returned home this morning.

CHICHESTER S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter s Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

"Only Jones"

A Day-Before-Christmas Story in Three Parts by Henry Kitchell Webster Samuel E. Kiser and Wilbur D. Nesbit

Copyright by W. G. Chapman

(Continued from Friday Issue.)

The door stood wide open. The scuffle was plainly to be seen from the street, and two men, one in a tan overcoat, were rushing across the lawn, intent on taking a hand of their own in the affair. Altogether it was lively while it lasted. But it was short.

As the two men from outside dashed up the steps the big door swung to with a click, and Jones, who had closed it, said, in his quiet way:

"Get up. Get up. Don't you know his voice? It's McAdam."

They scrambled to their feet. It is safe to say that unless they knew his voice they could hardly have recognized him. The disguise by now, at least, was effective.

They looked at him aghast. Then, as they heard Ursula's step on the stairs, Jeames, with, as Shakespeare says, "one auspicious and one dropping eye," helped him to his feet.

Jabez pulled off his wig and dropped it on the floor. He tugged impotently at his beard. "The damned thing won't come off," he said, with something like a sob. "It's glued on!"

Ursula stood before him. Pretty much everyone else in the house was there, too, for the sound of the scuffle had been audible all over it, but his experience of the last two hours had reduced him to his element. There was an epic simplicity about him. He saw only Ursula.

"I've come back," he said. "I wanted to speak to you, so I came back—"

"Come in here," said Ursula. She led him through the crowd into a little reception room and closed the door after her.

Jones herded the mob back into the drawing rooms. Jeames went back and opened the door again, looking, except as to his eyes, as though nothing had happened. But Rev. Arthur and P. Wilmering remained frozen where they stood and gazed at each other.

This is what was happening behind that closed door.

"Before you say anything to me, Mr. McAdam, I want to ask for your good wishes," said Ursula.

"My good wishes!" he echoed.

She held out her hands and he saw that she wore no rings but one solitaire brilliant upon a third finger.

It was a moment before he comprehended.

"So my account is closed out," he said. "I wasn't in time to cover my margins after all."

"It wasn't a matter of time," said Ursula, blushing a little, "but you do give me your good wishes, don't you?"

"All of 'em," he said, shaking hands. "Can I have a cup of coffee?"

After he had had it he felt enough better to look up his two rivals. He found them at last, in an obscure corner of the great hall, gloomily, he would have said, watching the festivities in the drawing room.

There was a complex tissue of emotions to be read in his face, but a smile of pure good humor dominated it.

He had not asked Ursula which of them was the successful one. At the time he hadn't cared. But now he was puzzled to, as it were, pick the winner. Whichever he was, he looked exactly as the other must feel.

"Well," said Jabez, with what cheerfulness he could muster, "which one of you fellows do I congratulate?"

"What?" shouted Reverend Arthur.

"What?" echoed Delancey.

"Whose ring is it she's wearing?" demanded Jabez. "One of you ought to know."

"Not I," said Reverend Arthur. Again echo answered:

"Not I."

And then a sickening silence enveloped them. Jabez was merely puzzled, but the hearts of Reverend Arthur and Delancey were like lead in their bosoms, the lights were blurred in their eyes and the knowledge of defeat took for the time all the joy out of life. Not one of the trio spoke, for there was nothing more to be said.

In the drawing room the tide of fun was rising steadily. Expectation stood at tiptoe. It was nearly time for the Christmas tree. For the moment the leaders of the merriment had disappeared. Ursula and Jones were nowhere to be seen.

Weren't they, though?

Suddenly Jabez laid compelling hands on the other two. They turned and followed his look.

There were two figures in the dark—the almost dark recess at the far end of the hall. This was a children's party, but these weren't children.

And then, in a moment, Reverend Arthur and Mr. P. Wilmering Delancey knew where Jones had hung the mistletoe.

"I'm going to get out of this," said Wilmering.

"I think I must be going myself," said Reverend Arthur.

"I can't go," said Jabez.

"My car is here," said Delancey. "We could make a dash—"

"I never could get out to it," said Jabez. "They're waiting for me on the sidewalk."

"Possibly," hesitated Reverend Arthur, "if I were to go first—er—dressed in such a manner as to create a diversion—"

"Reverend!" exclaimed Jabez, "you're a brick." He opened a door that happened to be at hand. "I guess we can change clothes in here," he said.

Five minutes later Jones and Ursula came upon the product of the metamorphosis. First they gasped with astonishment and then howled with delight while the reverend gentleman wriggled in sheepish embarrassment. But a few words sufficed to make clear to them the situation and then they jumped into the game with a will, adding touches here and there to Reverend Arthur's picturesque if not handsome costume.

"But you need the wig to make you complete," said Jones. "Here it is."

Reverend Arthur had put his hand to the plow. He put on the wig.

Delancey returned from a momentary sortie to the carriage drive. "My man has the motor going," he reported, "and there isn't snow enough to bother us. We can be off in a minute."

Reverend Arthur shook hands with Ursula, walked into the vestibule and James let him out into the night.

From a window they watched him as he vaulted the low fence and sped down the street pursued by a volcanic figure in a tan overcoat.

"Now!" cried Ursula. "Now is your time! Oh, don't stop. Good luck! Merry Christmas to all of you!"

They were gone. Jones alone remained at her side—only Jones!

QUINCY TENNIS CLUB BALL.

The Quincy Tennis Club is to hold its eighth annual ball in Quincy Music hall Friday, December 26 with the following list of patronesses:

Mrs. George W. Abele, Mrs. Charles E. Barker,. Mrs. Herbert S. Barker, Mrs. William R. Bateman, Mrs. Paul R. Blackmur, Mrs. W. H. Blanchard, Mrs. Frederick H. Breslyn, Mrs. Chas. M. Bryant, Mrs. Clarence Burgin, Mrs. Walter E. Burke, Mrs. William E. Cooper, Mrs. John J. Crain, Mrs. Emery L. Crane, Mrs. Harold L. Davenport, Mrs. Thomas B Davenport, Mrs. Carl E. Davis, Mrs. William I. Dewson, Mrs. William H. Doble, Mrs. Horace R. Drinkwater, Mrs. Nixon W. Elmer, Mrs. Walter P. Emery, Mrs. Henry M. Faxon, Mrs. George D. Follett, Mrs. Henry E. Frick, Mrs. Richard R. Freeman, Mrs. Joseph B. Groce, Mrs. Joseph H. Hall, Mrs. C. Theodore Hardwick, Mrs. Lyndon B. Hardwick, Mrs. Sidney C. Hardwick, Mrs. Charles E. Haskins, Mrs. Arthur B. Hillman, Mrs. Henry R. Holden, Mrs. Walter B. Holden, Mrs. Charles A. Howland, Mrs. Adelbert L. Hudson, Mrs. Eugene C. Hultman, Mrs. Nathaniel S. Hunting, Mrs. Edward E. Jameson, Mrs. John H. Johnson, Mrs. J. Brooks Keyes, Mrs. Henry L. Kincaide, Mrs. Henry H. Kitson, Mrs. Carleton C. Lane, Mrs. Thomas Lacey, Mrs. Herbert Lawton, Mrs. Perry Lawton, Mrs. Jesse I. Litchfield, Mrs. E. E. Livingston, Mrs. Ralph N. Lovell, Mrs. Russell C. Low, Miss Maud N. McFarlane, Mrs. Joseph C. Morse, Mrs. William B. Nichols, Mrs. Warren G. Ogden, Mrs. Frank A. Page, Mrs. James F. Paige, Mrs. William G. S. Pattee, Mrs. George E. Pfaffmann, Mrs. Henry W. Porter, Mrs. Charles A. Price, Mrs. John E. Prouty, Mrs. Alfred H. Remick, Mrs. James P. Roberts, Mrs. Walter L. Sargent, Mrs. Russell A. Sears, Mrs. Joseph M. Sheahan, Mrs. Carl R. Sheppard, Mrs. John O. Short, Mrs. George A. Sidelinger, Mrs. Fred Simpson, Mrs. James H. Slade, Mrs. Frederick H. Smith, Mrs. H. Gerrish Smith, Mrs. Maurice P. Spillane. Mrs. James H. Stetson, Mrs. Laurance H. Sturtevant, Mrs. Wilson Tisdale, Mrs. Gordon B. Trowbridge, Mrs. Dexter E. Wadsworth, Mrs. Robert P. Walker, Mrs. Frank H. Walsh,

The ushers will be: Charles E. Barker, Herbert S. Barker, Jr., Walter H. Binnian, Maurice I. Blackmur, Paul Blackmur, John J. Crain, Richard Crane, Harold L. Davenport, L. Kenneth Edwards, William C. Edwards, Henry M. Faxon, Arthur B. Hillman, Henry R. Holden, J. Brooks Keyes, Delcevare King, Hobart A. Lawton, John T. Nolan, George E. Pfaffmann, John S. Pfaffmann, Henry W. Porter, Carl R. Sheppard, James H. Slade, Morton Smith, Moreton T. Swallow, Robert W. Telford.

The affair will be matronized by Mrs. Herbert T. Drake, Mrs. Luther W. Glover and Mrs. Moreton T. Swallow.

AGAINST THE RULES.

Chief Engineer Litchfield intends to put a stop to people, other than members of the fire department, jumping on the apparatus while responding to an alarm and riding to the fire. It happens at times that there are no firemen on the apparatus outside of the driver who is unable to leave his seat to drive these trespassers off, and some people have a habit of taking advantage to get a ride to the fire. Chief Litchfield intends to stop this practice which is not only dangerous, but against the rules, and hereafter offenders in this matter will be prosecuted.

☞PRATT'S BREAD is good for growing children—nourishing and satisfying. Grocers sell it.

One Trip to Williams' will solve half of your Christmas Gift problems!

Bracelets	Table and Toilet Silver
Diamonds	Parisian Ivory
Watches	China and Cut Glass
Gifts in Gold and Silver	Fountain Pens
Christmas Novelties	Clocks
Useful Articles for Men	Leather Goods
Pearls	Umbrellas
Necklaces	Smokers' Articles

All gathered together in one big store, all on one floor.

Plenty of clerks to serve you.

Plan to come tomorrow with your shopping list. It will pay you.

WILLIAMS' JEWELRY STORE
, 1473 Hancock Street, Quincy
Beginning Thursday our Store is Open Every Evening
Dec 16 6t

VERY ACCEPTABLE GIFTS
Just Arrived! Several New Styles and All of Them Beauties
PORTABLE GAS LAMPS
AND HALL LANTERNS
ALSO
"IWANTU" GAS IRONS
IN FANCY HOLLY BOXES
HEATS IN FOUR MINUTES. STAYS HOT ALL THE TIME. TEN HOURS IRONING FOR FOUR CENTS.
☞ Have you investigated the Reznor Gas Heating Stoves? Everything from the handy little portable to the superb fireplace heater.
CITIZENS' GAS LIGHT CO.
Granite Street Near City Squrae
Dec. 15 9t

TURKEY ROLL OFF
CHRISTMAS EVE.
At 8 o'clock sharp
Twenty Highest Men to Qualify
Three high non-consecutive strings Candle Pins may be selected.
First Prize, 14-lb. Turkey
Second Prize, 12-lb. Turkey
Third Prize, 10-lb. Turkey
Fourth Prize, a Chicken
Special Prizes Also on Christmas Day
COLISEUM ALLEYS
Near Quincy Depot
20 4t

$
$
SAVED BY BUYING
Patch's Special
COALS
C. PATCH & SON, Inc.
1422 Hancock Street

WITHIN THE LAW

By MARVIN DANA
FROM THE PLAY OF
BAYARD VEILLER

Copyright, 1913, by the H. K. Fly company.

SYNOPSIS

Mary Turner, a department store clerk, is sentenced to prison for three years for a theft she did not commit.

Edward Gilder, owner of the department store, consents to see Mary before she goes to prison, expecting her to confess.

Mary protests her innocence to Gilder and begs him to pay better wages to his clerks to save them from temptation.

After three years in prison Mary is freed, but the police prevent her holding positions. She jumps into the river to end her life, but is rescued by Joe Garson, a forger.

Mary forms a partnership with Garson and his gang, by which they mulct rich victims in a legal manner, keeping "within the law."

Mary is warned by the police to leave town or she has formed the acquaintance of Richard Gilder, her former employer's son.

Helen Morris, the girl who had committed the theft for which Mary was imprisoned, sees Mary and confesses her guilt.

Mary marries Dick Gilder without his father's knowledge and then refuses to sail for Europe with him.

Joe Garson, against Mary's protest, agrees with Eddie Griggs, another crook, to help commit a burglary in Gilder's home.

Edward Gilder sees his son's bride and tries to induce her to give up her husband. Dick refuses to leave her even when she tells him she is an ex-convict.

Inspector Burke calls on Gilder and tells him that a burglary at his home that night has been arranged through Griggs, a stool pigeon, to trap Mary Turner and her gang.

Garson and his gang break into Gilder's home and are followed by Mary, who is told of the proposed burglary. While they are there Dick returns home.

Continued from Friday Ledger.

"If he says anything more about going to Chicago just you let him go, that's all! It's the best place for him for the next few days."

"You're in charge here," Burke said to Cassidy, "and I hold you responsible. I'm coming back to get this bunch myself, and I'll call you when you're wanted. You'll wait in the storeroom out there and don't make a move till you hear from me, unless by any chance things go wrong and you get a call from Griggs. He's got a whistle, and he'll use it if necessary. Got that straight?" Cassidy declared an entire understanding of the directions.

As the men left the room Burke turned again to Gilder.

"Just one thing more," he said. "After I've gone I want you to stay up for a half hour anyhow, with the lights burning. Do you see? I want to be sure to give the Turner woman time to get here while that gang is at work."

Gilder scrupulously followed the directions of the police inspector. Uneasily he had remained in the library until the allotted time was elapsed. He fidgeted from place to place, his mind heavy with distress under the shadow that threatened to blight the life of his cherished son. Finally, with a sense of relief he put out the lights and went to his chamber.

His thoughts were most with his son, and ever as he thought of Dick his fury waxed against the woman who had enmeshed the boy in her plotting for vengeance on himself. And into his thoughts now crept a doubt, one that alarmed his sense of justice. A horrible suspicion that he had misjudged Mary Turner crept into his brain and would not out. He fought it with all the strength of him, and that was much, but ever it abode there.

Mary Was Utterly Wretched.

Mary Turner herself, too, was in a condition utterly wretched, and for the same cause—Dick Gilder. That source of the father's suffering was hers as well. She had won her ambition of years—revenge on the man who had sent her to prison. And now the joy of it was a torture, for the puppet of her plans, the son, had suddenly become the chief thing in her life.

She had taken it for granted that he would leave her after he came to know that her marriage to him was only a device to bring shame on his father. Instead he loved her. That fact seemed the secret of her distress. He loved her. More, he dared believe, and to assert boldly, that she loved him. Had he acted otherwise the matter would have been simple enough. But he loved her—loved her still, though he knew the shame that had clouded her life, knew the motive that had led her to accept him as a husband. More—by a sublime audacity he declared that she loved him.

There came a thrill in her heart each time she thought of that—that she loved him. The idea was monstrous, of course, and yet— Here, as always, she broke off, a hot flush blazing in her cheeks.

Mary Turner was just ready for bed when a note came by a messenger who waited for no answer, as he told the yawning maid. As Mary read the roughly scrawled message, she was caught in the grip of terror. The man who had saved her from death had yielded to temptation. As he had saved her so she must save him. She hurried into the gown she had just put off. Then she went to the telephone book and searched for the number of Gilder's house.

* * * * * * *

A few moments before Mary Turner received the note from the hands of the sleepy maid one of the leaves of the octagonal window in the library of Richard Gilder's town house swung open under the persuasive influence of a thin rod of steel, cunningly used, and Joe Garson stepped confidently into the dark room.

Dacey With a Ferret Face.

For a space he rested motionless, listening intently. Reassured, he drew out an electric torch and set it glowing. A little disk of light touched here and there about the room, traveling very swiftly and in methodical circles. Satisfied by the survey, Garson crossed to the hall door, where he listened for any sound of life without and found none. The door into the passage that led to the storeroom where the detectives waited next engaged his businesslike attention. And here again there was naught to provoke his suspicion.

It seemed to him that everything was in readiness for the coming of his associates. There remained only to give them the signal in the room around the corner where they waited at a telephone. He seated himself in Gilder's chair at the desk and drew the telephone to him.

"Give me 999 Bryant," he said. There was a little wait. Then an answer in a voice he knew came over the wire.

Garson picked up a penholder from the desk and began tapping lightly on the rim of the transmitter. It was a code message in Morse. In the room around the corner the tapping sounded clearly, ticking out the message that the way was free for the thieves' coming.

For a final safeguard Garson searched for and found the telephone bell box and unscrewed the bells, which he placed on the desk. He then took his pistol from his hip pocket and thrust it into the right side pocket of his coat. Once again, now, he produced the electric torch and lighted it as he extinguished the lamp on the table.

He then went to the door into the hall, opened it and, leaving it ajar, made his way in silence to the outer doorway. The doors there were freed of their bolts, and one of them swung wide. So nicely had the affair been timed that hardly was the door open before the three men slipped in and stood mute and motionless in the hall while Garson refastened the doors. Then Garson walked quickly back to the library. Behind him, with steps as noiseless as his own, came the three men.

When all were gathered in the library Garson shut the hall door, touched the button in the wall beside it, and the chandelier threw its radiant light on the group.

(To be Continued.)

White wrapping paper for doing up your Christmas gifts can be obtained at the Ledger-Patriot office for 20 cents a dozen sheets or by the single sheet at 2 cents per sheet.

PINNED BENEATH OVERTURNED CAR

Brockton Man Dies When Machine Turns Turtle

COMPANION CAUGHT IN WRECK

Dr. Graustein, With One Foot Fast In a Wheel Lay Unconscious For an Hour—Could Hear Groans When He Regained Consciousness—Both Men Prominent

Stoughton, Mass., Dec. 22.—Pinned for an hour beneath his overturned automobile, R. Dale Smith, a prominent Brockton man, died on the roadbed in Washington street while his companion, Dr. Charles I. Graustein, lay stunned beside him.

Within a hundred yards were several houses, but their occupants were asleep and unconscious of the tragedy.

Smith was dying when Dr. Graustein regained consciousness. He could hear the groans of his friend while he struggled to free himself from the overturned car. But by the time he had extricated himself, searched about the touring car and found Smith his pulse had stopped. An hour passed between the time of the accident and when the physician felt about in the darkness for his wounded companion.

The two men were bound from Boston to Brockton. They reached Stoughton about 1 o'clock in the morning. On Washington street the machine skidded. Dr. Graustein says that when the auto began to slurr on the roadbed Smith put on more power in an effort to keep the machine on its track. The wheels, however, failed to catch the earth.

The auto described an arc, and then, snapping in the air, fell upside down. Smith was pinioned beneath the engine. Dr. Graustein in some manner caught his foot in a forward wheel and was rendered unconscious when the machine fell.

An hour later, according to Dr. Graustein, he regained his senses. His foot was still caught in the wheel and with difficulty and much pain he extricated it.

Dr. Graustein then went to the nearest house, that of John Webb, who woke up several of the neighbors and notified the police of both Stoughton and Brockton.

The party went immediately back to the place where the automobile was overturned, lifted it up and found Smith dead beneath it.

At his home in Brockton, where he is confined, Dr. Graustein said: "While I worked to free myself I heard groans. It was dark and some time before I could get free. I hobbled around and found a small flashlight. With it I located Smith beneath the car. An arm and leg was all that protruded. I felt his pulse and it was still.

"As soon as I could I went to the home of John Webb, 1275 Washington street, and told him of the accident. It was the nearest house to the scene. He telephoned to the local police and the police of Brockton, and also aroused several neighbors. In a body we went back to the automobile. When we lifted the car off Smith his body was badly battered. He was dead."

Smith lived at 222 Elm street, Brockton, and was a member of the firm of Ewell, Cooper & Co., printers.

Both young men were unmarried.

THREE FIREMEN HURT

Worcester Has $175,000 Fire In Big Department Store

Worcester, Mass., Dec. 22.—Fire took a heavy toll of Santa Claus here when flames swept the seven-story annex of the C. P. Sherer company department store, filled with holiday stock, damaged the main store and adjoining buildings, and for a while threatened the whole retail district with destruction.

The total loss will reach $175,000, nearly half of this being of special Christmas goods, including many thousands of dollars' worth of toys.

It took four hours of hard fighting, during which three firemen were severely hurt and five overcome with smoke, before the blaze was under control.

DISAPPEARS FROM TRAIN

Man Seen Clinging to Vestibule of Express Cannot Be Found

Wakefield, Mass., Dec. 22.—Swaying to and fro as she clung to the vestibule of a car on the St. John express as it rushed through Wakefield Junction at the rate of a mile a minute, an unidentified man mysteriously disappeared between this place and Malden.

The express was flagged at Malden, but no trace of the man could be found. Search for his body between the two stations was unavailing. It is supposed that he boarded the train in the Lawrence yards.

Crew Saved as Barge Sinks

New London, Conn., Dec. 22.—The barge Carlos French, with 700 tons of soft coal, after laboring in the high seas, foundered off Bartlett's Reef lightship Captain Williams and the deckhand were taken off by the tug D. S. Arnott, which had her in tow.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To all persons interested in the estate of William H. Foster late of Quincy in said County, deceased:

Whereas, Emery B. Gibbs the administrator of the estate of said deceased, has presented for allowance, the first and final account of his administration upon the estate of said deceased; You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham in said County, on the seventh day of January A. D. 1914, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be allowed. And said administrator is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to all persons interested in the estate fourteen days at least before said Court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twelfth day of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen.

JOHN D. COBB, Register
Dec. 13-3t 13-15-22

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Arthur H. Rogers, late of Quincy (Atlantic) in said County, deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to Ethel E. Rogers of Quincy, without giving a surety on her bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the fourteenth day of January A. D. 1914, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this tenth day of December, A. D. 1913.

JOHN D. COBB, Register.
Dec. 15-3t 15-22-29

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court
To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Ann Riley late of Quincy in said County deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to Henry Riley of said Quincy without giving a surety on his bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probat Court to be held at Dedham in said County of Norfolk, on the seventh day of January A. D. 1914, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twentieth day of December A. D. 1913.

JOHN D. COBB, Register.
Dec. 22-3t 22-29-5

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

FOR SALE
New Axes
20c each 3 for 50c
While They Last
L. GROSSMAN & SONS
Jackson Street
Near Quincy Adams Depot
Dec. 16-10-tf

HOLMES & HALL
REPAIRERS OF HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
SHADES
DOOR BELLS
LOCKS and KEYS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

SWITHIN
Real Estate
Mortgages-Insurance
Greenleaf Block
Quincy
Tel. Quincy 460. Nov. 10-tf

MORTGAGEE'S SALE.

Pursuant to the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Columbus S. French to the Wildey Savings Bank, dated July 23, 1903 and recorded in Norfolk Deeds book 953 page 527, will be sold at public auction on the premises described in said mortgage for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same on Thursday Jan. 8, 1914 at 9.30 o'clock in the forenoon all and singular the real estate described in said deed, a certain lot of land containing 6,000 square feet of land with the buildings thereon situated in Quincy Mass., and being lot No. 20 on a plan of House Lots on Cranch Hill by H. T. Whitman surveyor dated Jan. 20, 1897 and recorded with said registry book 777, page 538, Said lot is bounded as follows to wit:— northeasterly on Whitwell street sixty feet; southeasterly on lot No. 21 on said plan one hundred feet; southwesterly on lots No. 49 and No. 50 on said plan sixty feet; northwesterly on lot No. 19 on said plan one hundred feet. Said premises will be sold subject to any existing restrictions, unpaid taxes and tax sales, if any.

WILDEY SAVINGS BANK.
Mortgagee.
Boston, Dec. 13, 1913.
Dec. 15-3t 15-22-29

Commonwealth of Massachusetts
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To all persons interested in the estate of Lucretia A. Gill late of Quincy in said County, deceased:

Whereas, Edward B. Marsh executor of the will of said deceased, has presented for allowance, the first and final account of his administration upon the estate of said deceased: You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Brookline in said County, on the twenty-fourth day of December A. D. 1913, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be allowed. And said executor is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to all persons interested in the estate fourteen days at least before said Court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this tenth day of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen.

JOHN D. COBB, Register.
13-3t 13-20-22

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Dora A. French late of Quincy in said County, deceased:

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by Hannah A. Porter of said Quincy, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the executrix therein named, without giving a surety on her official bond; You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Brookline in said County of Norfolk, on the twenty-fourth day of December A. D. 1913, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this eleventh day of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen.

JOHN D. COBB, Register.
Dec. 13-3t 13-20-22

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To all persons who are interested in the real estate hereinafter mentioned:

Whereas Henry D. Federhen of Quincy in said County, having an interest in certain real estate situated in Quincy in said County and described in said petition, has presented to said Court his petition setting forth that said real estate is subject to a vested or contingent remainder or reversion created under the will of John Federhen late of Quincy in the County of Norfolk deceased, and praying for the appointment of Old Colony Trust Company, a corporation of Boston in the County of Suffolk, or some other suitable person, as trustee to sell and convey at private sale or public auction said real estate, for reasons therein set forth. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Dedham, in said County of Norfolk, on the seventh day of January A. D. 1914, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this eleventh day of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen.

John D. Cobb, Register.
Dec. 13-3t 13-15-22

ARTHUR L. THOMAS
Attorney-at-Law
3-4-5-6 Greenleaf Block
Telephone Quincy 460 Jan.2-1y

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

WANTED

WANTED—A horse for the winter, only a few hours work each day. Write P. M. Ledger office. 20-tf

WANTED—One large or 2 small unfurnished rooms with heat, gas and clothes closet. Address Z. care Ledger Office. 20-3t

WANTED—Hustling young man for laundry team. One having experience in grocery or other retail delivery work preferred. Salary and commission will average $18 per week. Old Colony Laundry Co. 19-3t

WANTED—Boarders. Bath, heat, gas, near Fore River Shipyard, Mrs. Elliott, 19 Watson road. 19-3t

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing. Myatt, 40 Baxter street. Tel. 1307-M. Quincy, Res. 22-tf

FOR SALE

PIANOS—Buy a piano. Several makes. Square man to trade with. Send postal and he will call. In your city every day. Walter H. Lyons, Randolph. 17-9t

FOR SALE—Land on Butler road or I can build you a house on it very reasonably, or will exchange for other real estate. John Bergfors, 65 Granite street. 18-6t

HORSE FOR SALE—Cheap, for want of use. H. H. I. Smith, 578 Commercial street, Weymouth Heights. Tel. Weymouth 105-1. 15-tf

FOR SALE or TO LET—New houses Apply to Thompson B. Crane, 403 Washington street, Quincy. 1-tf

WM. H. TEASDALE
REAL ESTATE
Insurance Mortgages
NOTARY PUBLIC JUSTICE OF THE PEACE
Room 23 Adams Building
Telephones {Residence 544-3 Office 689-M

QUINCY REGISTRY FOR NURSES
20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.
Will supply trained and practical nurses, attendants and nursery assistants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.
MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar.
Tel. Quincy 131-W.

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

Penniman's
TAXI SERVICE
Taxies and Touring Cars with careful and safe drivers to let for all occasions.
C. H. PENNIMAN, Prop.
Telephone 207.
June 13-tf

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
Old Furniture Refinished
Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

A "WANT" advertisement is a small notice inserted in the LEDGER to tell the public what you want. Whether you need help or employment, house, horse or automobile, the little "want ad." is the agent to find it for you. Such small classified advertisements, on page 5 of the LEDGER, costs but 25 cents for 25 Words or less, one time; three consecutive insertions 50 cents; 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents. Leave your notice at the Ledger Office, 1424 Hancock Street.

LOST

LOST—A gentleman's dark green sweater from an automobile between Quincy and Boston, Thursday evening, Dec. 18. Reward $2.00 if returned to 1295 Hancock street, Quincy. 19-3t

TO LET

TO LET—Lower flat, 5 rooms bath modern improvements in new house pleasantly situated in corner lot 29 Atherton street, Bigelow Park. Rent reasonable to right party. Inquire on premises. 22-3t

TO LET—Furnished or unfurnished large front room, smaller room adjoining suitable for physician. Furnished rooms $2.00 up. Steam heat all conveniences, 3 minutes from centre. 1 Adams street. 22-6t

TO LET—Flat of 5 rooms and bath at 197 Whitwell street. All improvements. Apply to John F. Anderson, 159 Whitwell street. 22-6t

HORSES TO LET—We will place with reliable people for the winter—two draft horses (for their keep)—Henry L. Kincaide & Co. 22-tf

TO LET—Single house six rooms and bath. All modern conveniences. Apply to P. J. Williams, 19 Independence avenue. 22-6t

TO LET—No rent before Jan. 1, tenement all modern improvements. Rent $18.75, near High School and car barn. Plenty of sunshine. C. W. Guy, 42 Butler road. 19-tf

TO LET—Furnished or unfurnished rooms, heat and bath. Suitable for young men or elderly person requiring care. Apply 4 High School avenue, next Central Fire Station. 19-3t

TO LET—5 Parson street, lower floor, 5 rooms and bath, hard wood floors. Rent $16.00 ready January 1, 1914. Apply on premises or at 38 Independence Ave. 18-tf

TO LET—Flat 5 rooms and bath, first floor. All improvements. Nice location. 129 Independence avenue. Apply 60 Trafford street or Telephone Quincy 489-W. 17-6t

TO LET—Upper apartment of 7 rooms and bath, all improvements including set range and gas stove, now ready. Inquire, A. W. Parker, 87 Merrymount road. Tel. Quincy 258-1 16-tf

TO LET—In Braintree, house of five rooms, including two bed rooms and bath. Rent reasonable. A J. Cavanagh, 72 Cedar street, Braintree. Telephone 4-14. Dec. 16-6t

TO LET—48 Revere road two connecting rooms with kitchenette for housekeeping. Also a nice room with sun all day, two large closets. Hot water heat and bath. water heat and bath. 13-tf

UPPER APARTMENT. In two-family house on Spear Street. Five rooms, bath, large pantry and closets, also open attic with finished heated chamber. Every improvement, electric light, furnace, range etc. Ready for immediate occupancy. Telephone Quincy 278 M or enquire mornings of Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. Ipo

TO LET—Tenement 4 rooms and bath all improvements, set range. Vacant Jan. 1, 1914. Apply 180 Franklin street. 10-12t

TO LET—173 Whitwell street, half house, modern conveniences, $20 per month. Ready for immediate occupancy. Apply Penniman's Stable, Granite street. 19-tf

TO LET—5 room tenement at 117 Quincy street, $20 per month. Apply Berman Furniture Co. 6-tf

RUSSELL PARK — Commodious house of seven rooms, large hall and bath. Modern, every convenience open fireplace, furnace, range, set tubs, electric lights, cemented cellar, etc. Best residential neighborhood. Ready for immediate occupancy. For further details or key see Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. tf Ipo

TO LET—Houses of 5, 6 and 10 rooms. M. T. Sullivan. Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy, Mass. 11-tf

MISCELLANEOUS

RENT FREE—until Jan. 1st. Two adjoining houses, 28 and 30 Pleasant street to desirable tenants, who will agree to stay one year, or longer. $5.00 per week in advance. Stable for one horse if desired. $1.00 a week extra. Apply 36 Pleasant street. 5-tf

JAMES F. BURKE & CO.
Real Estate and Insurance
Care of Property. Mortgages
Justice of Peace. Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 285 M. Nov. 11-tf

YOU need the Ledger EVERY DAY.

KINCAIDE THEATRE

At 2.30, 5, 10, 15c At 7.15, 10, 15, 25c

MON. TUES. WED.
Program Subject to Change

WHITTIER INCE & CO.
Presenting their Peerless Comedy Sketch entitled
"THE DOCTOR'S DILEMMA"

WELCH AMERI AN TRIO
Classy Singers of Classy Songs

DEMARSE & BOYER
Novelty Musical Duo

ROBIN
Tramp Juggling Comedian

PATHE WEEKLY
Pictures of world wide interest

"WHEN MOUNTAIN AND VALLEY MEET"
An Idyl--Pictured in two parts--
An artistic delight

OTHER PICTURES
And Lots of Good Music

GOOD TEMPLARS ANNIVERSARY

Frihet lodge, I. O. G. T., observed its fifth anniversary in Protection hall Saturday night with a large attendance. The celebration was confined strictly to members. An informal program was followed by dancing and refreshments. One candidate was initiated. Arrangements for a Watch party in Electa hall on New Years eve were completed. It was announced that throughout the winter a series the historic lectures would be given by men who are at present touring the country in the interests of temperance.

ONE HUNDRED POINTS SCORED.

The Midgets of Cunningham Gym won their fourth game of the season by beating Clapp Memorial at Milton Saturday night, 72 to 28. The score is the largest ever rolled up in that town by any team. The star of the game was J. Reid, right back, who shot 13 goals from the floor and one on a free try. Duggan at center was a close second, tossing 10 goals from the floor.

JUST THREE DAYS MORE BEFORE CHRISTMAS

Save Time! Save Money!

You don't have to go to Boston if you want something useful for Man, Boy, Woman or Child. We have it and at a less price than elsewhere.

Double Legal Stamps All Day

To-Morrow—TUESDAY

until 6 o'clock

Open Every Evening until Christmas

REMICK'S

Music Hall Block, Quincy

ZENI—CARULLO.

There was a pretty home wedding at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Carullo, 58 Filbert street,, West Quincy, Saturday afternoon, when their daughter Louise Caroline was united in wedlock to Frank G. Zeni of Boston, by William M. Marden, Esq., in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends. The bridal couple were attended by Pietro Regallio of Quincy and Miss Isolina Carullo a sister of the bride. The bride wore a gown of chiffon over white silk, and the bridesmaid a gown of pink silk. A wedding reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in the evening, in which they were assisted in receiving by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Zeni will reside in Boston where he is employed as chef in a well-known hotel.

MEYER SALTONSTALL.

The wedding of Miss Frances S. Saltonstall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip P. Saltonstall of Milton and George von L. Meyer, Jr., son of the ex-secretary of the navy, took place at noon Saturday in the Church of the Holy Spirit, Mattapan. The ceremony was performed by Bishop Lawrence, assisted by Rev. Allan McLean Taylor, rector of the church and the Rev. Endicott Peabody, head master at the Groton school where the father of the bride prepared for college. The church was filled with guests and the wedding was one of the most brilliant society affairs of the year.

DISTRICT COURT.

James Power, John Smith and John Olson who were sentenced Friday to one year in the house of correction for assaulting Shu Goon were brought to court this morning and took an appeal from their sentence of one year in the house of correction. They were then held in $500 each for the grand jury and being unable to secure bail were remanded to jail.

Stephen Schofield was arraigned for assault at Quincy. Case continued until Friday.

Oscar Smith of Holbrook was fined $5 and Thomas Cosgrove of Quincy $10 for drunkenness at Quincy.

David DeCoste and Edward Nelligan were arraigned for non-support of families and were sentenced to six months each in the house of correction. Appealed.

ALL QUINCY MOURNS

(Continued from Page One.)

Sewerage Commissioners and is now in the Metropolitan system.

He was a member of several fraternal and social organizations; a valued member of the Quincy Granite Manufacturers' Association, and the Board of Trade. He was also a trustee of the Quincy City Hospital Corporation, and a member of the Granite City Club.

He was also a director in the National Granite Bank, and later when that institution liquidated and became the Granite Trust Co., he became one of its directors and served as such up to the time of his death.

He was also one of the trustees of Quincy lodge of Elks, and a member of the Catholic Order of Foresters and the Knights of Columbus and a valued member of the West Quincy Improvement association .

He was a man of definite ideas and never hesitated to express himself fairly and squarely on all questions put to him for judgment. He was courteous and affable at all times and easy to approach. A man whom the humblest citizen could meet and be sure of a fair and important hearing.

His record as a respected and upright citizen, a successful business man, a man who has had experience with public affairs, coupled with his splendid record as a private citizen of Quincy, was beyond reproach. His administration was for an honest clean government; the same principles which made his own private business a success in this city and a credit to himself.

MAYOR'S TRIBUTE.

Mayor Stone when informed of the death of ex-Mayor Shea, this morning said:

"In the death of the Hon. William T. Shea the City of Quincy and the community at large have suffered a great loss. He was always active in working for what he though was best for the people, a staunch friend and worker for that which was right. He was a member of the first City Council of the City of Quincy and afterward Mayor of the City and served the citizens of Quincy on many committees and in positions of trust. He was a man of high ideals and gave to the city and the people therein the best that was in him, working as he did with heart and soul for the best interest of the community."

MAYOR-ELECT MILLER.

Mayor-elect John L. Miller at his home this morning said, "I regret to hear of the death of ex-Mayor William T. Shea. Although I have expected this intelligence at any time it is very unwelcome. I have known him for at least 35 years, and I esteemed him very highly. When he decided to enter the mayoralty contest I supported him for two years. He was a most genial man and made friends with all with whom he came in contact. His death is a loss to the city, and it seems hard to see a man of his energetic tendencies cut down in the prime of life."

MAYOR FITZGERALD

Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston was interviewed by the Daily Ledger and said:

"I was very fond of Mayor Shea, and I regret exceedingly to hear of his death. He was a fine type of manhood, and it is not surprising when he was once elected Mayor of Quincy that he was called back to the chair three times afterwards because the very nature of the man showed itself in the broadest kind of a way while in the mayors chair.

"Quincy needed him and his optimistic outlook, his good natured manner. His painstaking endeavor along the lines of the social needs of the community showed itself all through his administration.

"He was almost as well known in Boston as he was in Quincy and he sought to give the metropolitan aspect of the bigger city to the city over which he had been called upon to rule.

He wore his honors easily meeting ng the men and women, boys an girls of his community of which he served in the same manner as he did before taking office, He was unaffected, loyal to friendship and whole souled in every way.

"His affection for his mother was one of the contrasts of his character that I most appreciated. I think he took the honor of being Mayor of the city to please her as much as anything else. A man who is true to his mother cannot be unfair to anyone."

Get your white wrapping paper for Christmas gifts at the Ledger-Patriot office. Come early and avoid the rush. Large sheets 2 cents each. By the dozen 20 cents.

You should call early to get the best selections for Christmas at Remicks—big values in neckwear.

BRIEFS

Carl E. Carlson, son of August and Hatilda Carlson, died Saturday at their home at 4 Prospect hill in his third year.

Thomas K. Mullaney died Saturday afternoon at the Quincy City Hospital from pneumonia. He was for many years a resident of Brackett street but of late years has lived at 5 Quarry street. He was in his 51st year and leaves a wife and three children.

The men of St. John's parish met in the hall of the St. John's parish school Sunday evening and discussed preparations for the observance of the feast of the Holy Name in January. The attendance was large. Rev. Fr. John J. Coan was present and gave a short address.

The funeral of Mary, beloved wife of John Reynolds, who died of pneumonia, was held Sunday afternoon from the home at 18 Wesson street. Services were held in St. Mary's church, Rev. Fr. William J. Duffy officiating. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery.

The death of Mrs. Estelle M. Rivinus at Boston hospital following an operation, came as a surprise to her many friends. Her funeral was held Sunday afternoon from her home at 56 Pleasant street. Services were conducted by Rev. Henry C. Alvord of Weymouth, and burial was in Mt. Wollaston cemetery. There was a profusion of floral tributes.

BOGUS COLLECTOR.

The police are searching for a man about 50 years of age who, representing himself as the proprietor of the firm of R. L. Greenleaf & Co. of Blackstone street, collected $40 at the restaurant of John Mitchell on Temple street this morning.

Before Mitchell left for Malden he gave his clerk at the restaurant the money to pay for a bill of goods. He had been gone but a short time when the "proprietor" called and collected the amount. The theft wasn't discovered until the regular collector called. The collector and Chief Burrill are making a round of other places in this city that do business with the Boston firm. The man has been operating in Brockton and other cities the past week.

In order to accommodate the public who desire to purchase gas irons, fixtures or table lamps the Citizens Gas Co., announce that the sales room on Granite street will be open Christmas eve.

Too Late For Classification

FOR SALE—Glenwood No. 7, range. Fitted. Complete for hot water. Apply at No. 27 Cherry street, Quincy Point. 22-3t

MARRIAGES

ZENI—CARULLO—In West Quincy, Dec. 20, by W. M. Marden, Esq., Frank G. Zeni of Boston to Miss Louise Caroline Carullo of West Quincy.

MORTENSON— GORDON — At 198 Whitwell street, Quincy, Dec. 20, by the Rev. A. M. Thompson, Arthur William Mortenson and Margaret Kerr Gordon both of Quincy.

DEATHS

SHEA—In West Quincy, Dec. 22, Hon. William T. Shea, 56 years.
Funeral from his late residence, 279 Common street, West Quincy, Wednesday, Dec. 24, at 9.15 A. M. Solemn high mass of requiem at St. Mary's church at 10 o'clock. Relatives and friends respectfully invited to be present. 22-2t

COLLIGAN—In Quincy, Dec. 20, Grace F., beloved wife of Edward Colligan, aged 27 years.
Funeral from her late residence, 80 Coddington street, Tuesday, Dec. 23, at 9.15 A. M. High mass of requiem at St. John's church at 10 o'clock. Relatives and friends invited to attend.

DALEY—In Quincy, Dec. 22, Ellen C., beloved wife of James A. Daley.
Funeral from late residence, 34 Euclid avenue, Wednesday, Dec. 24, at 8.15 A. M. High mass of requiem at St. John's church at 9 o'clock. Relatives and friends invited to attend.

HOLT—In Weymouth, Dec. 20, Mrs. Amelia (Musick) Holt of 8 Loud avenue.

MULLANEY—In Quincy, Dec. 20, Thomas K. Mullaney of 5 Quarry street, in his 51st year.

CARLSON—In Quincy, Dec. 20, Carl E. Carlson, son of August and Matilda Carlson of 4 Prospect Hill, age 2 years, 8 months, 16 days.

McINTIRE—In Wollaston, Dec. 21, Caroline Fisher, widow of Farrington McIntire, in her 88th year.
Funeral services at home of her daughter, Mrs. Edward J. Cummings, 122 Winthrop avenue, Tuesday, Dec. 23 at 2.30 P. M. Relatives and friends invited.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass

MERRY CHRISTMAS

Ancestry of Santa

WHAT is Santa Claus' age?

The jolly, roistering, pot-bellied, ever young old fellow that we know has made his appearance on earth in so many guises that the secret of his first coming threatens to remain forever veiled in the midst of antiquity. No one can say with any certainty just when he first made his appearance among prehistoric men, for merry old Santa in one form or another delighted children's hearts in many a pagan household centuries before the commencement of the Christian era and prior to any recorded history.

The name of Santa Claus, by which he is known in America, is the Dutch pet name for St. Nicholas. The name Kriss Kringle, by which he is known in England, is a corruption of Christ Kindlein or the Christ Child. But the festivities that distinguish Christmas existed long before Christianity, and a jolly god of good cheer appears as the personification of the period from the earlier pagan times. Now the Santa Claus of today is simply that old jolly god sobered up, washed and purified.

The Dionysia of the Greeks, the Saturnalia of the Romans, the Twelve Nights of the old Norsemen and of the Teutons all celebrated the coming of the winter solstice. People then gave themselves up to all sorts of revelry and excess In the Dionysia the representative figure was not the young Dionysus or Bacchus, but the aged, cheery and disreputable Silenus, the chief of the Satyrs and the god of drunkards. In the Saturnalia it was Saturn; in the Germanic feasts it was Thor, both long bearded and white haired gods like Silenus.

Now, although the central figure of the Christian festival is the child God, the Christ Kindlein, the influence of long pagan custom was too strong within the breasts of the early Christians to be easily superseded. The tradition of hoary age as the true representative of the dying year and its attendant jollifications still remained smoldering under the ashes of the past. It burst into new flame when the past was too far back to be looked upon with the fear and antagonism of the church and there seemed no longer any danger of a relapse into paganism.

At first, however, the more dignified representative was chosen as more in keeping with the occasion. Saturn was unconsciously rehaptized as St. Nicholas, the name of the saint whose festival occurs in December and who as the patron of young people is especially fitted for the patronage of the festival which has come to be looked upon as especially that of the young. At first St. Nicholas did not supersede the Christ Child, but accompanied him in his Christmas travels, as, indeed, he still does in certain rural neighborhoods of Europe where the modern spirit has been least felt.

St. Nicholas, according to the hagiologist, was a bishop of Myra, who flourished early in the fourth century. He is the patron of children and schoolboys.

It is strange that everywhere St. Nicholas is most honored and his feast day most observed the most pious and instructed among the common people know little of the legend of the saint. He is treated with that mixture of seriousness and frivolity which becomes a dying myth.

In southern Germany and Austria a youth garbed as St. Nicholas and accompanied by two angels and a whole troop of devils in hideous masquerade, with blackened faces and clanking chains, on Dec. 5 (St. Nicholas' festal day) makes a round of certain houses where the little ones of the village have been collected. To the good children he brings gifts of nuts and apples, while the naughty ones are left to the devices of the satanic followers in his train.

In many places the bugbear overshadows in importance both the Christ Child and St. Nicholas. He appears under different names and in different guises. In Lower Austria he is the frightful Krampus, with his clanking chains and horrible devil's mask, who, notwithstanding his gilded nuts and apples, gingerbread and toys, which he carries in his basket, is the terror of the nursery. In Hanover, Holstein and Mecklenburg he is known as Clas. In Silesia his name is Joseph.

Sometimes the bugbear was a female. In Lower Austria she was called the Budelfrau. In Suabia it was the Berchtel who chastised children, that did not spin diligently, with rods, but rewarded the industrious with dried pears, apples and nuts.

The female bogy survives especially in Russia and in Italy. In the former place she is known as the Baboushka, in the latter as the Befana. Befana is a corruption of Epiphania or Epiphany, for it is on Epiphany, Jan. 6, that the Italians make presents to their children in commemoration of the gifts given by the three wise men to Christ on that date.

THE STORY THAT NEVER GROWS OLD.

Like the songs that are sung in the twilight,
Like all tales that are tenderly told,
Like the memories of loved ones that hallow our hearts,
There's a story that never grows old.

Lo! The angels first sing it in chorus,
And the watchers with wonder behold.
They feel the first thrill of the beautiful truth
In the story that never grows old.

Round the Christ Child of Bethlehem's cradle
Are clusters of apples of gold,
And pictures of silver adorn every page
Of the story that never grows old.

It gladdens the hearts of all children,
And millions of manlier mold
Are happier, holier, better by far,
For the story that never grows old.

—Franklin Trusdell.

The Christmas Guest.

Whoso shall come any way this night,
By moor or hill or shore,
For him the blessed candles' light,
For him the open door.
(Oh, Mary, this for thy Son's sake,
Though mine comes in no more!)

My hearth is swept, my Yule logs burn,
My board is decked and spread;
For any who may seem in turn
Are warmth and wine and bread:
(Oh, Mary, grant my son this night
Be housed and comforted!)

Bid, banned or beggared come for guest
My heart shall share his woes,
And on his head my hand shall rest
To bless him ere he goes.
(Oh, Mary, grant my son this night
That blessing and repose!)

This night, for thy one Son's dear sake,
Wait light and warmth and wine.
Oh, Mary, we be mothers both!
Take these my tears for sign,
And this I do for thy sweet Son
Wilt thou not do for mine?

—Theodosia Garrison

A Song of Christmas

TWINE the bittersweet and holly
Arched above the hearthstone's glow.
Joy, not melancholy,
Come, indrifting with the snow.
In each face the frost's a-tingle,
And afar on flying wing
Comes the sleighbell's rhythmic jingle
Through December journeying.

Set the board and ask the blessing
For the bounty amply spread,
In the simplest words expressing
What a loving Father said--
"Peace on earth"--for this is nearest
When the snows with us abide
And the winter air is clearest
In the hush of Christmastide.

HIS REINDEER STEEDS ARE PRANCING.

Bring the old musician's fiddle,
Relic of the bygone days.
Send the fairest down the middle
While the lilting music sways.
Light of foot and quick of laughter,
Swing the dancers, toe and heel.
As they pass or follow after
In the quaint Virginia reel.

Make a welcome for the stranger
Should his footstep cross the door.
By the memory of the manger
And the Christ that was of yore
Gather children's faces round you,
As he gathered them long syne,
If it be the years have crowned you
With their radiance divine.

Deck the tree and light the candles,
Let the stockings all be hung,
For a saint with furry sandals
O'er the housetops high has swung.
And his reindeer steeds are prancing
Through the star bespangled rime,
And the moonbeams pale are glancing
In the merry Christmas time.

—Ernest McGaffey.

The First Christmas

IT often has been stated that the birth of Christ must have occurred four years before the date fixed on for the current chronology and that it is probable the event befell at some other time in the year than a few days after the winter solstice. The reason for the confident assertion is the ascertaining of the fact that Herod died about four years B. C.

The basis of this supposition is the report that at the time of the birth of Christ "there were shepherds abiding in the field, watching their flocks by night," a circumstance not natural in the latitude of Bethlehem near the shortest day. That is the height of the rainy season in Judea, and the date does not appear to have been observed generally before the fifth century.

Many students of Biblical history have argued that the story about the star of Bethlehem points to a date for the Nativity not later than May 8, B. C. 6. On that date the planets Venus and Jupiter were so closely in conjunction as seen from the earth that the apparent distance between them was equal only to the breadth of the full moon. These planets were then visible in the east a couple of hours before sunrise and must have produced a strikingly beautiful appearance and have been spoken of as one object. That was about fifty days less than two years before the death of Herod, a fact which harmonizes well with other conditions of the narrative, for it is probable that the mandate for the slaughter of all the children two years old and under was issued some months before his decease, and the limit of two years would leave an ample margin for any uncertainty as to the time of the appearance of the star, as related by the magi; also there were no paschal full moons on a Friday between the years B. C. 6 and A. D. 33 and no other following that till A. D. 60.

THE STAR OF BETHLEHEM.

From this it would seem to follow that Christ was thirty-eight years old at the time of the crucifixion, and this would vindicate the sagacity of the Jewish doctors who affirmed that he was not yet fifty (forty?) years old. It is remarked, too, that in the spring of the same year there was a triple conjunction of planets—Saturn, Jupiter and Mars—and that the first two named were in conjunction as seen from the earth no less than three times in the year preceding—that is, B. C. 7.

Another theory about the star of Bethlehem which has been advanced is that the star seen by the magi is Spica, the leading brilliant in the constellation of Virgo, the Virgin. For many years before and after the Christian era the star was changing its place until it was then literally a "star in the east," and its movement in that direction may have been the very fact noticed by the wise men of some centuries preceding who expected that the prophecy about the Virgin would be fulfilled when its principal star reached the position noted. If this were so the visit of the magi from Bactria, in the far east, is easily explained, and the chief difficulty attending the explanation lies in the fact that such an important search as they undertook is noticed by only one out of the four evangelists.

The uncertainty of the centuries in regard to the date of the Nativity in year and month may never be cleared up. Its existence has been unfairly cited as reason for disbelieving the whole narration. The people of 2,000 years ago attached little importance to dates, except current ones, and it may be remembered that the destruction of Jerusalem occurred between the time of the Nativity and the writing of the gospels, at least in the shape in which it has come down to us.

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

LARGEST GUARANTEED CIRCULATION IN THE CITY

Vol. 28 No. 297 QUINCY MASS. TUESDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 23 1913 PRICE TWO CENTS

CITY COUNCIL COMPLETE BUSINESS

Goffe Street Order Debated and Veto of Mayor Stone Is Sustained

Claim of Trustees of Public Library Is Dismissed

The City Council of 1913 adjourned sine die at 9.37 Monday evening after having cleared the calendar of all the business. Goffe street still retains its name in spite of a strenuous effort of several councilmen to have the name changed to Presidents Lane. The debate of the evening occurred on this matter. There was however a short debate on the order appropriating $500 to pay the trustees of the Thomas Crane Public Library for land taken for the widening of Coddington street.

The absent members were Councilmen Bass, Johnson and Richards.

JURORS DRAWN.

The first business of the evening was the drawing of jurors, and the Mayor, City Clerk and Councilman Beeman drew the following: Henry L. Hallett, John F. Kemp, Ambrose Poland, Charles R. Sherman, Walter G. Kendall, James Marr, Francis Havahan, and Thomas J. Dwyer.

PUBLIC DOCK REPORT.

A lengthy report was received from the special committee on Public Dock which was as follows:

To His Honor the Mayor and City Council.

"Gentlemen:—Your committee acting under appointment by the Mayor and City Council to consider the matter of Public Dock are unable at this time to give any estimate on the cost of the construction of a municipal dock as we have no appropriation for making plans or borings.

"Your committee have held many meetings fully attended and they have viewed all the sites on Quincy Town River from the confluence of Town River with the Weymouth Fore River to the City Farm. The sites finally considered were the Whiton and Thomas Lands, the City Park and Playground land north of the Baker Yacht Basin, the Faxon location at the foot of River street, and the Broad Meadows location near City Farm. These locations were all carefully examined by the committee and all were submitted to the Directors of the Port of Boston for their approval, together with suitable plans made for the committee by the City Engineer.

"Several appearances were made by the committee before the Directors. These locations were all deemed suitable by the Port Directors provided they can be assured that the City will provide proper railroad facilities.

"A sub-committee was appointed to wait on the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad and the Bay State Street Railroad to see if these railroads would co-operate with the City of Quincy in the establishing of railroad connections with the municipal dock and the committee were assured by the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad that it would welcome the additional business which might accrue to the road, and also the carrying of freight by the Bay State Street Railroad from the Municipal Dock to the sidings of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Road and the railroad assured the committee that its officers would meet the committee at any time and select suitable locations for sidings. The Bay State Street Road assured the committee of their hearty co-operation in the matter of handling the freight from the docks to the railroad the granite yards or business houses.

"The committee by a unanimous vote recommended the purchase of at least from 18 to 20 acres adjoining the City Farm land and running to a point opposite Edison Park, as per plan made by the City Engineer and submitted herewith, provided however that the borings and plans show that the site is feasible.

"Your committee recommend an appropriation for borings and also for plans suitable for construction estimates."

John R. Richards
Thomas Griffin
Charles L. Gilliatt
Edward J. Sandberg
Frank Fessenden Crane
Jonathan S. Swingle
Alfred O. Diack
John L. Hamilton, Sec.
J. T. Conway.

The report was laid on the table until later in the evening when Councilman Thompson offered an order appropriating $500 to be expended in borings and plans for a dock. Referred to the next City Council.

WASHINGTON STREET.

The City Solicitor sent a communication in answer to a request forwarded by the City Council relative to the old lines of Washington street. The report in brief was that Washington street was not a turnpike road and had never been laid out as such.

The general impression of many was that Washington street at the southerly end was a part of the old turnpike road and that therefore the street according to the old lines was 66 feet wide, whereas at the present time it is but 49 1-2 feet wide. Had it been a turnpike road it would have been 66 feet wide which would mean that much of the property on the street was occupying a part of the street. The report was placed on file.

PRESIDENT JOSEPH L. WHITON

GOFFE STREET.

A communication was received from Hon. E. C. Bumpus relative to Goffe street, in which he said that he desired to change his mind in favor of having the street named Presidents Lane. He also suggests that it might be a good idea, while they were about it, to change the name of the beautiful street running from Goffe street to the depot to "Breakneck gutch" or "Hell's delight." The communication was placed on file.

EX-MAYOR SHEA.

At this point Councilman Bryant rose to a question of personal privilege, to offer the following resolution on the death of ex-Mayor William T. Shea. Before offering the resolu-

(Continued on Page Two.)

Notice to Contractors

Contractors are invited to estimate the cost of filling and grading of 10,000 to 17,000 square yards of streets located at Atlantic, Mass. Plans and specifications will be ready Saturday, December 27, 1913 at the office of Robert J. Jones, 407 Broadway, Chelsea, Telephone Chelsea 84.

22-3t

FOUND!

The Market Recommended by

SANTA CLAUS

To Get a Square Deal Every Day

CHOICE NORTHERN TURKEYS

And All The Fixin's

FOR SUNDAY DINNER
FOR CHRISTMAS DINNER

Here are a few of our prices:

We Cut Rump Steak	35c
Rump Roasts	22c
Roast Pig Pork	18c
Roast Pork By the Strip	16 1-2c
Top Round Steak	28c
Fancy Sirloin Steak	22, 25c

BOSTON MARKET

1433 Hancock Street
Near Granite Street

Dec. 18-6t

1876-1913

WE HAVE OFFERED FOR YOUR INSPECTION AND SELECTION EACH YEAR RELIABLE GOODS, AND WE SUGGEST YOU LOOK OVER OUR LINE OF

Watches, Cut Glass, Silver Ware, Jewelry, Clocks, Etc.

TO AID YOU IN YOUR CHRISTMAS SHOPPING WE INVITE YOUR INSPECTION OF OUR STOCK.

C. F. PETTENGILL

1391 Hancock Street Near Granite Street

TELEPHONE QUINCY 466-M

Dec.13,10t

Pretty Christmas Boxes

and Choice Chocolates

At EMANUEL'S CANDY STORE

Fresh Christmas Candy, 10 cents

Other Candies from 25 cents up

Dec. 20-4t

SQUANTUM WAKED UP AS NEVER BEFORE

Three Different Fires and Four Boxes Pulled Since Sunrise This Morning

Arrest Made of the Supposed Incendiary--Heavy Loss

Today the work of the firebug was transferred from the Boulevard to Squantum, where the Seal Rock Inn of 20 rooms was destroyed. Boxes 81 and 82 were pulled just before 9 A. M.

The fire was discovered by Councilman-elect John R. Nelson who was at the residence of Mrs. Joseph Uppling. He saw smoke coming from the chimney and thought it strange, as the house was unoccupied. About the same time smoke and flames burst from the first floor windows near the kitchen. He ran to his telephone to give an alarm, and the boxes were pulled about the same time.

The fire evidently started in the kitchen, and it is probable that someone entered the house during the night and built a fire in the stove.

An early arrival at the fire says he saw a boy ringing in an alarm from box near the inn, and afterwards disappear through the Crabtree estate.

The building was doomed from the start. Fortunately the wind was from the east so that it blew across a vacant field and other cottages were not in great danger. The water pressure was weak and it was difficult to get water above the second story. The Central steamer was called on a second alarm.

Little remains of the building. The loss is variously estimated from $3000 to $5000 which is covered by insurance. The owners are said to have refused $5,500 for the estate last summer.

The Seal Rock Inn was a large wooden building with about twenty rooms. It was owned by Mrs. George F. Sawyer, Jr., and Mrs. Edward C. Amazeen, and was valued by the Assessors of 1912 at $2,500. It was situated at the junction of Belleview street and Green street near Bay street.

Up to five years ago it was occupied by the Women's Educational and Industrial Union as a summer school for girls. When the union moved to the Richards house, Capt. Waite used the inn for week-end parties.

During last summer it was occupied as a restaurant and boarding house. It was unoccupied at the time of the fire.

PEOPLE UP IN ARMS.

Residents of Squantum this morning are commencing to form a vigilance committee and intend to keep a close watch on their premises to prevent further operation of the fiend. Many who had planned to visit Boston today and tomorrow to do Christmas shopping have suddenly changed their plans believing that their real estate is too valuable to leave unprotected.

The similarity of the fires since Sunday evening leads department officials to believe that they are the work of one man. In all cases the fire starts under the main staircase and spreads with remarkable rapidity. The swift progress of the flames destroys all trace of the method used, so it will spread and people living in the vicinity of Squantum are impressed with the idea that an ether bag was in use.

This according to fire authorities cannot be detected because it consists of a rubber bag filled with ether which escapes through minute punctures. A small fire started close to the bag remains hidden until the gas of the confined room ignites the ether and the explosion which follows totally destroys all trace of "why" the flames spread rapidly.

A heavy cloud of smoke hung over Squantum while the fire was at its height, and the firemen obliged to carry their hose inside the building were soon lost to sight. The upper part of the three story structure commenced falling and reports reached City Square that several men had been hurt and carried from the ruins by their fellow fire fighters.

As a matter of fact no one received any injury, but three men who were inside had a narrow escape when the ell of the house collapsed and the burning timber plunged to the cellar, falling close to where they were in action. Another firemen was thrown to the sinking floor when the pressure increased with the steamer in action but he recovered his balance before receiving any burns. All the men at noon were very much fatigued.

LATEST

Squantum is certainly fully awake today, if it never was before, and the residents of this section are thoroughly aroused for evidently a fire bug is at work trying to burn up the village. The first appearance of the fire bug was early this morning when the sounding of the fire alarm called the department to a blaze in the Seal Rock Inn which was gutter. It was noon before the all out sounded on this fire and the department returned to quarters. Hardly had the Central station apparatus returned to headquarters when another alarm was sounded from Squantum. This was from Box 8 and was sounded at 12.53. Ten minutes later another alarm sounded from Squantum for the same fire this box being 81. This acted as a second alarm and called the steamer and ladder truck from the Central station in addition to the apparatus from Wollaston and Atlantic.

These fires proved to be in buildings situated a half mile or more from the first fire. It was first thought that sparks from the first fire might have set them going, but this was found impossible. In the first place the wind was not in the right direction to take the burning sparks to the second fire and then again they were too far away.

When the department arrived they

(Continued on Page Six.)

Christmas Candies

Our Assortment of Confectionery is larger than ever, and we are making a specialty of Fancy Box Goods. We are packing a few choice boxes at the store which are really great bargains.

OUR RIBBON CANDY

Fresh Every Day, 15c., 2 for 25c

40c Caramels 35c

40c Assorted Chocolates 29c

40c Ruth Ting-a-Ling 35c

Fresh Cut Rock Candy 15c

2 pounds for 25c

VAUGHN'S SPA

1449 Hancock St., Quincy

Dec. 20-4t

FIRE FIEND BUSY ON THE BOULEVARD

Harmony Cottage Owned by Harry Bettoney Badly Gutted Last Night

Also a Bath House Owned By John H. Johnson

For the second successive night, the fire fiend plied his torch and left a ruined cottage and a bath house in his wake on Wollaston beach, causing a damage of nearly $4000. The fires were but a short distance from the cottage of Dr. Forbush on the reservation which was a prey of flames Sunday evening.

The Harmony cottage at 5 Chick street, owned by Harry Bettoney of 127 Paul Gore street, Roxbury, was completely gutted. The cottage was valued at $3000 and the contents at $250. The cottage is believed to have been fired under the main staircase as was the case in the Forbush house. The firemen on their arrival found the premises securely locked and they had to break in to fight the fire. The flames could be seen from all parts of the city and attracted a large crowd. Sparks from the burning structure set fire to the roof of the house of Joseph Wiswel at 3 Chick street, but the flames were quickly quenched. The steamer which does not respond unless needed was summoned by special alarm and many thought a general had been sent in.

Mr. Bettoney is the bandmaster of Post 68, G. A. R. band, and is known to have the premises insured. Mrs. Bettoney said she knew of no reason why her house should be set.

As the last companies were making up to go back to quarters a fire was discovered in a bath house owned by John H. Johnson at the lower end of the beach. Chief Litchfield made a record run to the building and when almost there, a man dashed around the corner and ran away. They pursued, lost sight of him, but were placed on his track by occupants of an automobile.

They followed along for some distance but failed to pick up a definite trace of his whereabouts. The escape of a firebug over the marshes created much excitement and residents of that section have become alarmed. During the past week summer homes have been broken into, the interiors damaged and the contents in some cases destroyed. The police will establish watch lines in the vicinity.

The bath house loss will be $400.

Rev. Richard E. Armstrong of Christ church officiated at the funeral of Joseph McConnell which was held from his home on Bradford street Sunday afternoon. The deceased was a Winthrop jeweler and had been at his home but a few days when he died. Burial was in Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

The funeral of Thomas K. Mullaney was held from his home at 5 Quarry street this morning. A high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Johns church by Rev. Fr. John J. Casey. The regular choir rendered the Gregorian chant under the direction of John Mahon, organist. Burial was in St. Marys cemetery.

KINCAIDE FURNITURE STORE

5 BIG FLOORS OF USEFUL XMAS GIFTS

Low Cash Prices and Easy Payment Terms

Open Tonight

Too Big for the Tree But the Best Christmas Present!

Easy Terms if You Wish

Club Together and Buy Her a Hoosier

The housekeeper of the family, whether wife, mother or sister, would rather have you make her this one splendid present than all the knick-knacks that you can gather together.

Because the Hoosier brings hours of leisure and saves millions of steps. Makes cooking easy and the kitchen a pleasant place to stay.

Gifts for All the Family

Instead of giving everyone many trifles why not choose some one handsome gift that will be used and enjoyed indefinitely.

A chair or table or reading lamp for father or brother, something for the sisters' room, a little easy chair or low table for the small members of the family please the most.

We will hold and deliver for Christmas any article or articles you select. With us as your Santa Claus you will surely have a MERRY CHRISTMAS.

KINCAIDE & CO. HOME FURNISHERS

(108)

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Established 1889

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second-Class matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO
Incorporated.

TELEPHONES
News . . . Quincy 425
Business . . Quincy 1910

HOLIDAY NOTICE.

Christmas Day will be observed as a holiday by the Daily Ledger, the office of publication being closed all day. No paper will be issued. A Merry Christmas to all!

Some railroad stockholders are getting so fussy that they object to an assessment for a Christmas present.

A man who buys himself a pair of gloves just before Christmas does not show much business foresight.

Ex-President Taft has been dieting, and he now looks quite peaked with only 270 pounds.

The holiday shopper can't tell who jostled her, but she can always get even by stepping on some one else's toes.

Some people expect their Christmas presents to be satisfactory, when they are of such a nature that they can not be passed along to any one else next year.

Now that the Mona Lisa picture has been recovered, one more item is added to the job of seeing Europe.

There's mighty little satisfaction in getting a handsome Christmas present, as it makes it necessary for you to raise the ante another year.

Splitting up the corporations under the anti-trust law is all right, but it is hoped they don't make one company own the railroad locomotives and another the cars.

Fear of the poisoned needles is expressed by the girls in many places. Also they seem to be afraid of a needle and thread.

Warnings are sent out about inflammable Christmas decorations, in spite of the popular impression that if you are well covered with insurance fires don't cost any one anything.

The cost of eggs would be reduced if more people would keep chickens, but the crowing roosters would probably wake up the neighbors at 7 A. M.

They stopped Emma Goldman from talking at Paterson, in spite of the fact that she usually runs down within eight days.

Madame Montessori thinks men would look better with long hair and knee breeches. This might be perfectly safe, except in the open season for poets.

It must have been awfully expensive remembering all the millions of third cousins before Christmas post cards were invented.

As corn meal now brings a higher price than wheat flour, it should be good form to serve johnny cake when you have company to dinner.

THE COMMUNITY SPIRIT.

It takes team play to pull off anything from winning a ball game to running a church. "United we stand, divided we fall."

The same principle is fundamental in town building. You must help your neighbor if you expect him to help you. The fact that another person lives in your town should be accepted as giving him some claim on your consideration. You are bound together by the tie of a dominating interest in common. What helps him will help you to some extent.

Every home enterprise is your ally. Help it on. Don't think that you can buy goods out town right along, and not suffer for it. Your influence encourages some one else to send money away. It never comes back. It helps build up the other fellow's town.

Fortunately the majority of our people believe and understand this. That spirit has brought our community to its present stage of prosperity. But there are always a good many who don't comprehend it. They hurt their own town and strike a blow at every interest for which they care, by failing to back up home enterprises.

CITY COUNCIL

(Continued from Page One.)

tion he spoke of the great loss to the city, and said that it was occasions like this that make people appreciate the loss which the city had sustained in the death of ex-Mayor Shea. The resolution was as follows:

Dec. 22, 1913.
City Council, Council Chamber,
Quincy, Mass.

Resolved: It is with the deepest regret that we learn of the death of our honored citizen, William T. Shea, an Ex-Councilman and Ex-Mayor. Words fail to express our feeling at this time. He is not only a great loss to his family and his friends, but is a greater loss to the entire community.

The faithfulness and integrity with which he performed his public duties made friends of everyone and by his death, the city of Quincy loses, not only a valuable servant, but a wise counsellor.

And be it further resolved: That engrossed copies of this resolution be forwarded to his immediate family with our deepest sympathy for their great loss.

The resolution was adopted by a rising vote.

A petition of the Telephone company for attachments was granted.

MORE FOR POLICE.

The Finance Committee reported ought to pass on the order appropriating $1,700 for pay of men of the police department. Rules suspended and order passed.

INCREASE OF FORCE.

The same committee reported ought to pass on the order increasing the number of permanent police by the addition of three permanent men. Rules suspended and order passed.

MORE FOR INTEREST.

The same committee reported ought to pass on the order appropriating $969.54 for interest for temporary loans. Rules suspended and order passed.

BAYFIELD ROAD.

The Committee on Streets reported reference to the next City Council on the order releasing the easement the city had obtained on Bayfield road, Atlantic, for the sewer.

NEW SEWER ASSESSMENT.

The joint Committee on Finance and Sewers reported ought to pass on the order changing the sewer assessment. Rules suspended and order passed.

TO LICENSE MINORS.

The Committee on Ordinances reported an amendment to the order establishing an ordinance concerning licenses for minors. The amendment struck out the words "fourteen years," and added the words "The application shall be approved by the Chief of Police."

Report and amendment accepted. rules suspended and order passed. The Committee on Licenses reported orders granting minor licenses which were adopted. The same committee also gave Mrs. Jennie Hollis leave to withdraw on her aplication for a Sunday fruit license.

WOODWARD FUND.

The special committee appointed to examine the Woodward Fund and Property reported that it had examined the sureties and found that the fund was well invested. That the management in accordance with the recommendation of last year's committee had taken steps to reduce overdue mortgages. Report accepted and placed on file.

ATHERTON HOUGH SCHOOL.

Councilman Ericson offered an order appropriating $40 to install electric lights in the Atherton Hough school at Houghs Neck. Order adopted.

GOFFE STREET.

Under motions, orders, etc., Councilman Bryant offered a resolve and order changing the name of Goffe street to Presidents lane.

Councilman Bailey raised the point of order that the motion was not in order as long as the veto was pending.

President Whiton ruled the point not well taken. He said that he desired to be fair on the matter and he ruled according to advice he had received.

Councilman Bryant then spoke at length in favor of his resolution. He argued that there was no law which required a public hearing to be held and quoted a number of streets where the name had been changed without a hearing. These included Lawyers lane to Columbia street, Newcomb street extension to Woodward avenue, Canal street to Revere road, Central avenue to North and South Central avenues, Faxon Park road to Kendrick avenue, Howard street to East and West Howard street, New road to Scammell street, and Squantum street to East and West Squantum street. In 1907 there were two streets in which the name was changed where hearings were held, Whalley road and Linden street.

Even if a hearing had been necessary seven days was sufficient. One person only was responsible for all the stirring up there had been over the question. Councilman Bryant said that Mr. Chase had told Mr. Lawton that he had something up his sleeve for six months. To his mind the serving of the notice on Aug. 26, was within the required time, and it was only a technical point that threw it out. He also stated that Mr. Chase had tried to get Mr. Lawton to go to City Hall in regard to the technical point, and Mr. Lawton had refused. We can not do too much to preserve places about Quincy of an historic nature.

Councilman Griffin asked about the changing of the name of Madison avenue to Germain avenue, and was informed that was done when the street was accepted. Continuing, Councilman Griffin believed that the matter should go over to next year when residents would have an opportunity to make up their minds.

Councilman Bryant replied that you might as well try to put two cats in a bag and have them agree as to get the people on the street to agree.

Councilman Ericson at this point moved to take the veto from the table.

Councilman Bryant raised to point that the motion was not in order, but the Chairman ruled the point not well taken. President Whiton also stated that if the motion to take the veto from the table prevailed the resolution of Councilman Bryant would be dead.

Councilman Bailey spoke of a ruling made by the City Solicitor, that the resolve would not be in order, but President Whiton replied that he had later ruled otherwise.

Councilman Bailey then moved that the resolve be laid on the table, but the motion was ruled out of order.

On a rising vote the veto was taken from the table 10 voting yes and 5 no.

Councilman Thompson said the question should be decided on its merits. It was not necessary for fourteen days notice and he should vote to pass the order over the veto.

Councilman Little said that he would like to see the people on the street unanimous for the change, and believed the order should remain where it was.

Councilman Bailey believed it would be a good idea to sustain the veto and let the residents on the street make up their minds what they want.

Councilman Sandberg asked Councilman Bryant a number of questions as to the actions of the Street Committee, and what he did when he was Mayor, to which Councilman Bryant replied that when he was Mayor the Council did things differently.

The question of passing the order notwithstanding the objections of the Mayor, was then put and the veto was sustained on roll call, 5 voting in favor of passing over the veto and 12 against as follows:

YES—Beeman, Bryant, Gilliatt, Hadlock, Thompson—5.

NO—Bailey, Barker, Boyd, Corcoran, Devaney, Duffy, Ericson, Gauthier, Griffin, Little, Ross, Sandberg—12.

ABSENT—Bass, Johnson and Richards.

NOT VOTING—Whiton.

MORE LIGHT.

Councilman Thompson offered an order for a light on Valley street. Referred to the Executive.

CODDINGTON STREET.

The order appropriating $500 to pay the Trustees of the Thomas Crane Public Library for land taken was taken from the table.

Councilman Ross was called to the chair and President Whiton taking the floor spoke against the order.

The order was put on its final passage and failed to pass, 10 voting yes and 8 no.

CLAIMS AND AWARDS.

The order appropriating $2,400 for claims and awards took its second reading and was passed.

... CITY PLANNING BOARD. ...

The order creating a City Planning Board was taken from the table and referred to the next Council.

Bouquets.

At this time the usual bouquets of roses were passed around.

Councilman Bryant moved a rising vote of thanks to President Whiton for the able manner in which he had presided over the Council. The vote was unanimous.

President Whiton replying, thanked the members for their vote of appreciation. He had tried to be fair to all. He felt that he had sacrificed a great deal of pleasure by taking the chair, as a man on the floor has an opportunity of joining in the debates. However it had been a pleasure to preside over the Council and he wanted to thank the members for their support.

On motion of Councilman Bailey, a vote of thanks was extended to Councilman Bryant who had the short end of the Presidency. The vote was unanimous.

In reply Councilman Bryant said that he had felt that it was much better to be on the floor where he could take an active part in the deliberations.

Councilman Bryant then said that it was apparent to all councilmen who served on committees other than the Finance Committee, that the Clerk of the Council and Committees was a kind of walking enclycopedia of information as to Council matters, and he moved a rising vote of thanks to him for his efficient service. Voted.

Before the clerk had an opportunity to deliver his little speech, Councilman Bryant said that there was another official who had served ever since the city was inaugurated and that year after year he had sat with smiling face facing the Councilmen, and he desired to move a rising vote of thanks for his efficient services. Voted.

City Messenger Tirrell in reply thanked the members, and said that he had always tried to do his duty and to accommodate the Councilmen in every way possible.

Councilman Ross then moved, and it was voted, that a rising vote of thanks be given the gentlemen of the press for their unfailing courtesy. Voted.

Councilman Little thought that the retiring members of the Council should be thanked and it was voted.

Councilman Bailey said there was another council official whom the members of the Finance Committee were especially familiar with. He was a gentleman who had been a member of the Council and was an ex-Mayor. He had been the City Auditor for several years and he had been a very efficient and obliging official. He moved a rising vote of thanks to City Auditor Fairbanks. Voted.

Adjourned sine-die at 9.37.

Perfect biscuit perfectly protected

No matter what National Biscuit Company product you ask for—crackers or cookies, . . wafers or snaps, . . cakes or jumbles—it will be delivered to you in perfect condition, either in packages with the famous In-er-seal Trade Mark, in attractive small tins or from the familiar glass-front cans.

Freshness is assured through the distributing service of the National Biscuit Company, which affords a constant supply of biscuit to every part of the United States.

Buy biscuit baked by

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

Always look for that name

FUNERAL OF MRS. COLLIGAN.

The funeral of Grace F., wife of Edward Colligan was held this morning from her home at 80 Coddington street. A high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Johns church by Rev. Fr. Walter R. Quinlan. The regular choir, under the direction of John Mahon, organist, sang the Gregorian chant Burial was in Mt. Wollaston cemetery. The bearers were James Hogan, James Colligan, James McCormick, James Murphy, David DeCoste and Jeremiah Roberts.

(ADVERTISE.)

W. H. GOULD NEW PRESIDENT

Contests for all Officers of Street Railway Union

Quincy branch of the Street Railway union which includes the employees at the Quincy, Weymouth and Braintree barns, held their annual election of officers on Monday. President John H. Faircloth was defeated for re-election by William H. Gould by nine votes. The totals were 121 to 112.

Daniel Kearns and John Connolly received 75 votes apiece for the position of correspondent to the Railway Employees Journal and a new election will be held to determine who shall have the office.

Elaborate plans for the installation of officers are being made for Jan. 12, and Organizer Fred Fay of Boston will address the members. Other state officers are expected to be present.

President Faircloth has served several terms and after the announcement of the vote he made a short address in which he thanked the members for their hearty co-operation during his term of office, and said that when the local wanted him or felt that his efforts would be of value he would always be at their call, willing and wanting to assist where he could.

There were contests for all the offices, the election resulting as follows:

President—William H. Gould.
Vice President—George W. Fay.
Recording Secretary—J. J. Kelly.
Financial Secretary—Herbert G. Johnson.
Treasurer—James E. Carey.
Conductor—Patrick Caven.
Warden—Charles Johnson.
Sentinel—John F. Fitzgerald.
Due Collector—George W. Fay.
Executive board—George W. Fay and Frank Pitts.
Sick committee—George W. Fay and John Eldridge.
Auditing committee—George Arbuckle, James E. Carey, John Connolly.
Correspondent—No choice.

FRIGHTENED OFF.

The police have a good description and are searching for the man who held up a young lady early Sunday evening betwen Goffe street and Upland road.

It was in the vicinity of 6 o'clock when the young lady started across the path from Goffe street to Upland road when she met a man coming in the opposite direction. As they approached each other the man stopped directly in front of her. As she started to move one side to pass he would also move, at the same time he began a one sided conversation. The young lady asked him to step aside, but he refused. Just at that minute the glare of a pair og automobile lamps turned the corner and shown upon them, and the man evidently thinking it time to move on stepped one side and allowed her to pass. The man made no attempt to put his hands on the young lady but she secured a good description of him.

☞PRATT'S BREAD is baked for those who want good bread. Grocers sell it.

YOUR HAIR MAY BE YOUR FORTUNE

Beautiful hair has made the fortune of many a woman, by adding charm and loveliness to an otherwise plain face. Nothing means more to good looks than beautiful hair. It adds to the attractiveness of every feature. Without it you can't be beautiful; with it you will be at least pretty.

To have beautiful hair, use Harmony Hair Beautifier. It will improve the beauty of your hair, taking away the dull harshness and stringiness, softening and polishing every hair in your head and making it soft, silky, glossy, easier to put up and keep in place, and at the same time giving it a rich and lasting rose fragrance that will delight both you and those around you.

Very easy to apply—simply sprinkle a little on your hair each time before brushing it. It contains no oil, and will not change the color of the hair, nor darken gray hair.

To keep your hair and scalp dandruff-free and clean, use Harmony Shampoo. This pure liquid shampoo gives an instantaneous rich lather that immediately penetrates to every part of hair and scalp, insuring a quick and thorough cleansing. Washed off just as quickly, the entire operation takes only a few moments.

Both preparations come in odd-shaped, very ornamental bottles, with sprinkler tops. Harmony Hair Beautifier, $1.00. Harmony Shampoo, 50c. Both guaranteed to satisfy you in every way, or your money back. Sold in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store—one of the more than 7,000 leading drugstores of the United States, Canada and Great Britain, which own the big Harmony laboratories in Boston, where the many celebrated Harmony Perfumes and Toilet Preparations are made.

—Edward J. Murphy, 1415 Hancock Cor. Granite Streets, Quincy, Mass. "The Rexal Store."

Capital $150,000 Surplus $200,000

WHAT IS A SAFETY DEPOSIT BOX?

It is a strong steel box, in a doubly-locked compartment in our fire and burglar-proof vault. You have the keys to it. It is absolutely PRIVATE and absolutely secure. You can go to it freely at any time during business hours.

This costs you only $5 per year—only half what you would have to pay for a smaller box in Boston.

Our $5 Box is Larger Than a $10 Box in Boston.

GRANITE TRUST CO.
FOUNDED 1836

The LADY'S SHOP
MATTIE M. STARBIRD
QUINCY, MASS.

NUMBER FOUR MAPLE STREET

GIFTS FOR WOMEN

DAINTY NOVELTIES

EXCLUSIVE HAND MADE

"FROM THE LADY'S SHOP"

Dec. 23-2t

MORE TRUTHS.

Do not let the worry of Christmas Dinner spoil the Best Day of the year

Let Us Take Care of your What-to-Eat Worry

Begin NOW. Thanksgiving was our Biggest and Best.
Not One single complaint about Our Turkeys.

Why? Oh! Just JOHNSON BROS!

Masters of Details. High Quality. Experienced Clerks.
This is the True Remedy for all your Food Worries.

We will be here CHRISTMAS Nuff Sed.

JOHNSON BROS. Johnson Building City Square
Dec. 18 6t

FOR A

Christmas Present

NOTHING COULD BE BETTER THAN

A QUINCY HISTORY

EACH YEAR THE HISTORY OF

OLD BRAINTREE AND QUINCY

WRITTEN BY

W. S. PATTEE, M. D.

AND PUBLISHED IN 1878

GROWS MORE VALUABLE, AS IT CONTAINS HISTORICAL DATA ABOUT QUINCY THAT CANNOT BE OBTAINED ELSEWHERE

$3.50 PER COPY

FOR SALE BY

GEO. W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.

1424 HANCOCK STREET

QUINCY

Advertise in the Ledger

AN AMATEUR SANTA CLAUS

By HAMILTON POPE GALT

Copyright, 1913, by American Press Association

WE had all agreed that Mr. O'Shaugnessy was the very one to be Santa Claus at our Christmas tree.

"No!" he said. "No!"

We had never seen Mr. O'Shaugnessy so vehement before.

"That is one thing I will never do—no, not if the czar of Russia were to command it!"

"Why?" asked some one from a safe distance.

"Because I played the part once, and I will never do it again. I may as well tell you about it, and then you'll know that it is of no use to bother me about it any more.

"One Christmas I was broke. I was hungry, and my feet were on the ground. I had asked a thousand people for something to do, anything to do, and finally a manager in a department store said, 'All right; we'll make a Santa Claus out of you.'

"I WANT THAT."

"I told him I didn't feel much like a Santa Claus inside.

"'Oh, we'll fix that all right,' he said and handed me a pillow.

"So, with pillows and boots and gloves and a fur coat outside and nothing at all inside, I started in to be Santa Claus in the toy department. While I was thinking about my wife and the two kids at home needing money, and me with no steady job, and other things like that, I heard one of the fellows in the store say to the boss:

"'Say, that St. Nicholas of yours is about as jolly as a hymn book. He reminds me of a funny song entitled "Silver Threads Among the Gold." Why don't you throw him out?'

"'I will when I get time.'

"I tried to liven up a little after hearing this praise of my histrionic talent, but it wasn't much use.

"Pretty soon I saw a boy coming down the aisle like a wolf on the fold. He was also seeking whom he might devour. He was followed by an anxious looking maid and a gentleman in a silk hat, who was an indulgent millionaire father.

"The kid sauntered along in an independent, bored way, swinging his arms kind of reckless, as if he was in hopes of breaking something and relieving the monotony.

"When he came up to where I was sitting he stopped. He had seen plenty of toys, but I guess I was something new in the way of a St. Nicholas.

"He called his daddy and pointed to me.

"'I want that,' he said.

"'Oh, no, dearie,' said the maid. 'Here, look at this nice giraffe! See! It does this!'

"The kid shook the nurse off irritably.

"'He doesn't seem to take much interest in the giraffe,' I remarked to the father.

"'No, nor anything else,' he answered in a patient, weary tone. 'He has had all these toys before, and he knows all about them, inside and out. He had one of these giraffes last year and broke it open to find out what was in it, and he was mad when he found there was nothing.'

"'I want that,' said the boy again, pointing to me.

"'He has taken a fancy to you,' continued the pa.

"'I can't see that I have any advantage over the giraffe,' I said.

"Just then the boss of the store came along. He was just busting himself for the millionaire.

"'My boy wants your Santa Claus,' said the gentleman to the boss.

"And the kid jumped up and grabbed me by the hand and began pulling at me and fighting the maid off with the other hand.

"'Well,' said the boss, 'take him along, Mr. Van Veegle. It will be no loss whatever to us, I assure you.'

"This recommend seemed to sort of encourage the millionaire.

"'I will pay you for your time,' he said to me.

"As the little fellow was pulling my arm off I got up and went along. He towed me through the aisle against a tide of open-mouthed people. We got into a big red automobile, and the millionaire said to the chauffeur, 'Home as quick as possible, for goodness sake!'

"Away we went, my white whiskers flying in the wind.

"Pretty soon the millionaire said to the chauffeur: 'Look here, you needn't display us any more than necessary. Kindly pick out some quiet streets.'

"The kid was sitting next to me, holding my hand.

"The chauffeur started to slow down in front of a mansion when the millionaire gave a shout:

"'Hold on!' he said. 'Drive on quick! I forgot Mrs. Van Veegle has company. We'll go around the back way.'

"We were turning the corner to go around the other way when the millionaire shouted again suddenly, 'Turn around quick!'

"We were dodging somebody or other that he knew.

"Finally we passed through a big gate, and the boy towed me around through a conservatory or two into a swell room.

"The man swore. There were a lot of ladies there still. They seemed to take a great interest in the pageant.

"'Well, what on earth!' screeched the millionaire's wife.

"While the man was explaining to his wife the boy led me around all over the house by the hand. He would not let go.

"He had to have me sit beside him while he ate his dinner, and I had a big, fat butler shoving my chair around for me and waiting on me. I got some birds and one thing and another under my pillow and my furs, but I was awful warm.

"HE TOWED ME THROUGH THE AISLE."

"It was too warm for comfort when it got around that there was a real, live Santa Claus at the Van Veegle house. All the children came from all over the neighborhood to maul me.

"But young Van kept a tight grip on my hand and fought them off whenever they got too near.

"When bedtime came they tried to tell little Van that Santy wanted to go home now and work on the toys for Christmas, but he held on tighter than ever and insisted that I would have to sleep with him.

"This made it pretty bad. If I was to pull off my boots and my beard and my stomach and one thing and another the boy would be paralyzed with fear, they said, and for me to turn into boots, beard, stomach and all with little Van in his little bed seemed utterly impossible.

TAKING SANTA TO KINDERGARTEN.

"We compromised by my sitting by his bed and holding his hand until he went to sleep. Would you believe it? That boy was the lightest sleeper you ever saw! Every time I tried to take my hand away his eyes would open and he would take a tighter grip.

"I sat up all night holding that kid's hand. I had a man in attendance, who brought me everything I wanted, and I had collected a ten from Papa Van, but I didn't get much sleep.

"The boy had me with him all the next day. I had to be with him when he got his bath and his breakfast, and I attended kindergarten with him.

"I was 'it' at kindergarten, too, but along about 4 o'clock he lay down on a couch and went sound asleep.

"I stole from the room softly and unobserved. I had had enough of the job and was resolved to escape.

"Just as I was getting out of the front door a good sized boy came along and started to blab something about 'Hello, Santa Claus!' and tried to grab hold of me.

"I paralyzed him by pulling out my stomach and hitting him over the head with it.

"I gained the street and flew for home, dodging this way and that to baffle pursuit and shedding beard, boots, cotton and fur all along the way.

"I hid for three days and then emerged and got a nice little job loading coal on a ship. I have always gone in for a sane Christmas ever since that little experience."

We did not press Mr. O'Shaugnessy.

Concerning Christmas Presents.

A man may not be so badly off for presents if he only has presence of mind.

The question of the hour is, "What on earth shall we buy for a Christmas present?"

Never look a gift horse in the teeth. It is also wrong to look a Christmas present in the price mark.

"What shall I give the hired girl?" is a Christmas conundrum that puzzles some. Give her last week's pay and get another girl.

The proprietor of a big hotel may love his patrons' children, but he never gives the youngsters drums or horns at Christmas. N. B.—Or any other day.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAMS

Most of the Churches Plan for Festivals

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH.

Masses will be at 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10.30 o'clock on Christmas day.

A high mass will be sung at 5 o'clock McEvoy's mass of the Angels being selected.

At 8 A. M. the mass forth e children, he singing will be by the children.

At 10.30 A. M., a solemn high mass will be sung by Rev. Fr. John J. Coan pastor, Rev. Fr. John J. Casey, deacon nd Rev. Fr. Walter R. Quinlan, subleacon. The choir will sing Korman's mass.

Proper	Tozer
Veni Creator	Lingenberger
Adeste Fideles, offertory	Reading
Recessional	Guilmant

Solemn vespers will be celebrated at 7.30 P. M. The program:

Antiphones	Men's choir
Psalms	Plain chant
Alma Redemptoris	Skellman
O Salutaris	Beethoven
Tantum Ergo	Lambilotte

Soloists, Misses Eva Rice, Mary R. Lyons, Theresa W. Wholley, Josephine Collagan and Arthur Holmes, Edwin Donovan, Dennis Sweeney and Marcus Mahon.

ST. MARY'S CHURCH.

Christmas day at St. Mary's church will be observed with impressive ceremonies. The morning services will close with a high mass. An augmented choir of 50 voices will render Turner's mass and Adeste Fidelis will be sung at the Offertory. The soloists will be Miss Celina Belleau and Miss Alice O'Neil.

In the evening at 7.30 the vespers will be celebrated. The choir under the direction of Joseph A. Morrisette and Miss Frances Cronin, organist, will be assisted by Miss Celina C. Belveau, John Hoye, Miss Alice O'Neil, Miss Mollie Berry, as soloists.

The program will include Bern Mettenleiter's Dixit Dominus, Confitebor, Beatus Vir, Laudate Pueri and Laudate Dominum. Mozart's Magnicat will be sung and the Alma Redemptoris will precede the O Salutaris of Dubois. Adeste Fidelis will be sung after which the choir and soloists will render the Tantum Ergo of Rossi. The Recesional will be the hymn to the Holy Name.

BETHANY CHURCH.

The Bethany Bible School will have its "Giving Christmas exercises" as usual this year on Wednesday at 4 P. M. for the Cradle Roll, Beginners and Primary departments, and at 6.30 P. M. for the Junior, Intermediate, Senior, Adult and Home departments in the chapel of Bethany church.

The afternoon program consists of songs and recitations by boys and girls of the department. Gifts will also be brought to the platform by representatives of the several classes.

At 6.30 there will be a cantata—"Crowning Santa Claus," and carol singing. The classes will also present gifts of food, clothing and money in ways that will be entertaining to all, and later the Knights of King Arthur will see that these gifts are delivered. "It is more blessed to give than to receive"— Acts 20: 35.

FIRST PARISH CHURCH.

The Christmas festival of the Sunday school of the First church will be held Wednesday evening at 6.30 at which hour the school and friends will gather in the church where a Christmas service will he held after which an adjournment will be made to the chapel. A children's Christmas play will be given by members of the Sunday school under the direction of Mrs. A. Isabel Davis after which presents will be distributed from a large Christmas tree to the members of the Sunday school.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN.

Wednesday evening, the Sunday school of the Water Street Presbyterian church will hold their annual Christmas concert in the vestry of the church. The program will consist of a drill, cantata "Santa Claus on Strike," and exercises by the Primary department. An efficient committee of teachers have charge of the program and it promises to be most entertaining. There will be the usual distribution of goodies for the children of the school.

CHRIST CHURCH.

The annual carol service and Christmas tree for the Sunday School will be held Wednesday evening, Christmas eve, in the church at 7 o'clock. This service is open to the public, and all are invited to come and share in the joy of the children. The order of service is as follows:

Processional Carol, "It came upon a midnight clear." Willis.

Opening Sentences and Lord's Prayer.

Psalm 23 with Gloria.

Lesson, St. Luke II, 1—15.

Carol, "Saw you never in the twilight." Tours.

Creed, versicles and collects.

Hymn 58, "O little town of Bethlehem." Redner.

Address by the rector.

Illuminating of tree, while Carol, "There's a wonderful tree" is sung; soloist, Mrs. Frank J. Moore; refrain by Sunday School chorus.

Offertory.

Closing collect and benediction.

Recessional hymn 51, "Hark! the herald angels sing." Mendelssohn.

Distribution of gifts and candy.

Two services will be held Christmas day, the first an early celebration of the Holy Communion at 8 o'clock; the second, a later celebration at 10.30 with sermon and festival music.

SWEDISH LUTHERAN.

The Scandinavian people have always celebrated Christmas in a festive manner and with a reverent spirit. This is also kept up by their children in the new orld. Pre-eminently is the "julotta" or early morning service Christmas day. This grand and joyous service will begin at 5.30 A. M. The program this year will be a very good one:

Organ prelude	Emma Witting
Christmas Anthem "All hail to Thee O blessed morn!"	Congregation
Invocation	The pastor
Hymn: "All glory be to God on high,"	Congregation
Hosana,	Choir
Christmas Address "Christ is born"	Rev. L. Hokenson
Song, "Holy Night	Choir
Liturgy
Hymn	Choir

In the evening at 7 o'clock a Sunday school festival with a Children's program. May all come.

SWEDISH CONGREGATIONAL.

Christmas day will be ushered in at 5 A. M. with a Christmas service. Rev. A. G. Sporrong, the pastor, will speak on "The glad tidings," and a male choir will sing.

In the evening at 6 o'clock the Sunday school will give the program, consisting of recitations, singing etc. A novelty on the program will be a Christmas cantata rendered by the Sunday school and an octette composed and arranged by the pastor.

After the program presents will be given the pupils. The church will be richly decorated and illuminated as usual.

Friday evening the branch Sunday school at Squantum will give a Christmas program in the vacation house at 7 o'clock. Rev. Sporrong and others will asist.

CALVARY BAPTIST.

The Christmas tree gathering at Calvary Baptist church, Franklin street will be held Christmas night at 6.30. It will open with a praise service by the choir, and prayer by the pastor, and Scripture reading. Words of welcome will be spoken by the superintendent of the Sunday school. There will be Christmas recitations by six boys, by Annie Caddy, James Colburn, Elsie M. Rhines, Nellie Elder, James Brown, Robina Skinner, Margaret Hoffman, Gladys Walters, Mary Burgess, Mabel Archibald, Reese Walters, Elizabeth Kain, Esther Perry, Carl Carlson, Lillian Smith and Henry Kidder. Songs by a young ladies class, a girls class and several solos. Bible verses by the primary department, a little prayer by Sadie Smith, chorus by the men's class, hymns by Raymond Bishop and John Leverty, and a short address by the pastor, Rev. R. C. Tilley. All are welcome to the festival.

HALL PLACE M. E.

The text for the Sunday morning service at the Hall Place M. E. church was taken from James 1-17—"Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning. The choir rendered special Christmas music with Miss Helen Martin as soloist.

Sunday school met at 12 M. The Epworth League was omitted.

At 7 P. M. the Sunday school gave their annual Christmas concert with the following program which was interspersed with choruses by school.

Scripture reading and prayer..
Exercise, "The story of the star."
Recitation "The village Christmas.
Song by young men's class.
Exercise "The cities of the Bible."
Miss Francis' class.
Recitation "The song and the star."
Rina Peoli.
Exercise "The Christmas hymn."
Miss Martin's class.
Recitation "Hark the Christmas Bells, Henry Nichols.
Song by the young men's class.
Recitation, Ethel Newcomb.
Recitation by Harold McCormick.
Solo by Miss Sarah Fuller and chorus by School.
Recitation "Christmas Chimes."
Maud Nichols.
Recitation, "Keeping Christmas."
Edna Burke.
Remarks by the Supt. Mr. Stewart.
Trio and chorus by School.
Remarks by pastor.
Solo by Miss Martin.
Collection.
Benediction and Doxology.

Christmas night the Sunday School will have their annual Christmas tree and distribution of presents.

ST. CHRYSOSTOM.

The carol service and Christmas tree will take place in the church Christmas eve at six o'clock. Parents and friends are cordially invited to come with the children.

Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock in the parish rooms there will be a Christmas party for the younger members of the school and Wednesday evening beginning at seven o'clock there will be a Christmas party for the older members,—those who meet in the church on Sundays.

On Christmas day the Holy Communion will be celebrated at 7.00 A. M. At 10.00 A. M., will follow the regular morning service, morning prayer shortened form Holy Communion and short sermon.

WOLLASTON BAPTIST.

Part of the audience at the Wollaston Baptist church were obliged to stand at the Sunday morning service, the total number present being almost 500. Practically one third were men. The musical program was exceptionally fine, and the exercises most enjoyable.

There were 370 at the Sunday school session at 12.15, the largest ever; the organized classes divided the honors between them;; the Walther class (men) having 36, the Albee class (women) 48, Rand class (young men) 45. The Christmas lesson as told by John was discussed.

Naturally the Christmas idea was also carried out at both the Junior and Senior Christian Endeavor Societies. Of the former, Mrs. Walther was in charge; of the latter, Miss Edith B. Armstrong. Miss Annie Flieger sang "It came upon the midnight clear."

At 7.00 in the auditorium a Christmas praise service was held. The choir rendered "Night song of Bethlehem" by Buck and "Softly the Night," by Gilbert. Miss Ruth Hardy sang Coombs' "Christ Child," as a solo.

Wednesday evening at 7.00 in the chapel, the annual Christmas entertainment and tree will take place. This is not only a celebration for the children, but for older people as well, all being cordially invited.

WOLLASTON UNITARIAN.

The candle light illumination of the Wollaston Unitarian church will take place at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening,

(Continued on page Five.)

The Midnight Sun

Still the best substitute for daylight—the light of the RAYO. Soft, clear and penetrating, yet never hurts the eyes.

Rayo Lamp

The RAYO is the best oil lamp made—the results of years of study. Made of solid, nickel-plated brass—durable and simple.

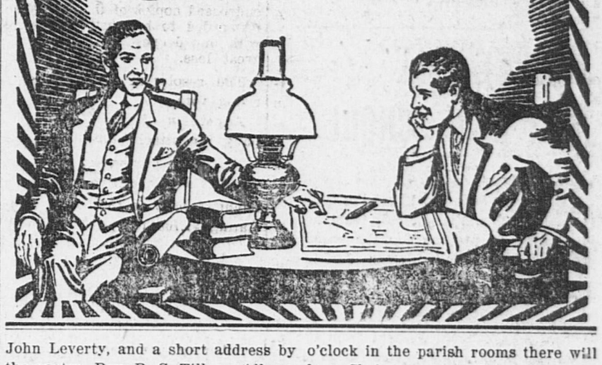
Easy to clean and rewick—can be lighted without removing chimney or shade. The best lamp you can buy, and its low price will surprise you.

At all dealers.

SO CONY PETROLEUM PRODUCTS

STANDARD OIL COMPANY

New York of New York Buffalo
Albany Boston



$ $

SAVED BY BUYING
Patch's Special
COALS

C. PATCH & SON, Inc.
1422 Hancock Street

Quincy Daily Ledger

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity. Wednesday, probably rain; Thursday, unsettled and warmer.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	7.11
Sun sets	4.15
Length of day	9.04
Moon rises	2.52
High water, A. M.	7.15
High water, P. M.	7.45
Days decrease 0 hours,	0 minutes
Full Moon, Dec. 13,	10.00 A. M.
Last Quarter, Dec. 20	11.16 A. M.
New Moon, Dec. 27	9.59 A. M.
First Quarter, Dec. 5,	9.59 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today	44 degrees
Dec. 23 1912,	37 degrees
Dec. 23, 1911,	51 degrees

Dec. Noon Maximum 14 years—67
Dec. Noon Minimum, 14 years—2

BASKET BALL AT HIGH SCHOOL

This week is the last that the Quincy High school basket ball team has in which to prepare for the season scheduled. Captain James Jenkins who hopes to lead a team that will figure in the state championship is optimistic of the outcome and has received much encouragement from the way the boys have reported for practice.

The first game will be on the afternoon of New Years day when the Alumni five will oppose them. The second game on Jan. 6, is the first of the interscholastic league games. Manager Frederick M. Atwood has but two games pending and strong teams will undoubtedly be dated before the week is out to complete the schedule.

The entrance of the team in the interscholastic league this year it is thought will open the door of a promising basket ball future. In past years, although Quincy was represented by a fine quintette, they were denied the scholastic honors.

All that is now lacking is support by the students.

It was said by a member of the faculty speaking from a platform at a recent social gathering, that even the press failed to give the teams of the past year the support merited. The reply given is, that without the support of the students, press support has but small value. But few parents care for athletics, particularly indoor sports, and unless students, male and female alike, become royal rooters a damper is put on any team no matter for what honor they arrive.

☞PRATT'S BREAD never varies. It is made and baked by a fixed rule. Ask your grocer.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

CHOICE ARTICLES
FROM THE
PHILIPPINES

LUCBON HATS—Very best grade of the famous Panamas and Bankoks made. Absolutely none better, woven under water by hand. Can be crushed into a ball and not lose shape. Made for both Ladies and Gentlemen. $5 and $10.

ROMBLON MATS—Handsomest and most durable Grass Mats or Rugs made in the world. Beautiful colors and designs, large enough to cover one-half floor of rooms. $5.

MANILA CIGARS—$3 for a trial box of the Very Best Cigars made in the Philippines.

Oriente Cigarrettes—Best made, large package containing 25 small packages, 750 Cigarrettes, $2.

Sent by registered mail, free of duties, on receipt of price.

C. A. SHORT & CO.,
Lucena, Tay, P. I.
Oct. 4 1.&O 3m

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point
Tel. Quincy.Mass. 1153 M Nov 8-tf

KEEL LAID FOR S. S. PACIFIC

When Completed Will Run Between Boston and Pacific Coast

The keel of the Pacific, one of the two large steamers for which the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation has contracts, was laid at the shipyard Monday. It will be built for the Emery Steamship Company of Boston and will be put on between Boston and the Pacific coast soon after the Panama Canal is opened.

A large force is employed and work will be rushed until completion. The keel of the sister ship, the Atlantic was laid Oct. 31 and the boat is one third in frame and plated. The Pacific is to be built on the ways from which the Amolco, the Boston Molasses Company's new steamer, was launched last week.

The contract calls for having both steamers ready for service next August and the Fore River people say they they will be completed before that time. The plan is to have them run from Boston to San Francisco, Los Angeles or San Diego and carry general cargoes, probably on regular schedules. Each ship is to be registered by the builders in Lloyd's highest class and the steamship company also will have them registered under the American Bureau of Shipping. They will be among the best steel steamers of their class for carrying coal and general bulk cargoes. They are to be sister ships, 405 feet 9 inches long, 54 feet 4 inches beam, 24 feet draft and capable of carrying 7000 tons of cargo.

SHIPYARD BOWLING LEAGUE

Two Fore River league matches were rolled on the Coliseum alleys Monday evening. The Electricians beat the Ex-Apprentices, 3 to 1. The summary:—

ELECTRICIANS.

Lincoln	85	79	81	245
Dobos	83	77	78	238
Smith	82	103	83	268
Fitzgerald	91	98	85	274
Olindy	76	96	84	256
	417	453	411	1281

EX-APRENTICES.

Madden	73	79	71	223
Farquhar	88	81	89	258
Ash	82	110	79	271
George	71	75	84	230
Morgan	89	74	98	261
	403	419	421	1243

The Argentine Inspectors with little difficulty applied the whitewash brush to the Foundry team making four points. The score:

ARGENTINE INSPECTORS.

Koozer	94	71	82	247
Villegar	82	80	103	265
Ceggi	91	86	80	257
Pozzi	73	94	94	261
Santa Cruz	103	87	96	286
	443	418	455	1316

FOUNDRY

Holmgren	64	81	88	233
Cobb	83	83	85	251
O'Hare	89	76	97	262
Karney	81	80	83	244
Charnock	93	79	87	259
	410	399	440	1249

BASKET BALL LEAGUE.

The N. E. A. A. A. U. basket ball league will start with eight teams and a meeting will be held next Monday night to arrange a schedule.

The first year of the league saw eight aggregations but las year the number dropped to four. The teams that will enter are Quincy A. A., St. Mary's A. A. of the North End, St. Mary's C. A. of Cambridge, St. Joseph T. A. Society of the West End, St. Alphonsus A. A. of Roxbury, Milton A. C. of Milton and the Coast Artillery, M V. M. A.

Quincy for two years the champions have reorganized with William H. Flynn as manager. All of the players are available and are awaiting the opening of the season. Arrangements for local games have not been completed.

Miss Edna Smith, formerly of Quincy and at present a teacher in the Engleside school at New Milford, Conn., is the guest over the Christmas holidays of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Penniman of Goffe street.

SANTA MAKES A TRIAL TRIP

'T was a week until Christmas. Santa Claus went all over his workrooms. All the toys were done and everything in place.

"The reindeer are in such fine shape and anxious for exercise I think I'll take them out for a trial run today," said he.

So saying, Santa hurried to his stables. There the reindeer were showing their impatience to be out in the open, and Santa gave orders to his stable elves to hitch up the steeds to the sleigh, as he meant to give the good animals a little exercise.

"They need a race now and then," he said. "Otherwise they'd get stiff kneed and would feel clumsy when trying to gallop over shifting clouds and ragged treetops and uneven roofs."

After the ride of several hours Santa cried out to his reindeer:

"Now to earth, my good fellows. And don't lag. We must be there just as the dark is falling over the land. If we wait till the moon comes out we'll be seen, and that would never do."

As the darkness settled over the land old Santa dropped from a fleecy cloud to the top of a tall church steeple. There he got out of his sleigh, told his reindeer not to move from that steeple and made his descent to the roof of a convenient house. And past the windows of hundreds of homes he darted, peeping into them and counting the new faces he saw for the first time.

"Lots of new little ones," he said to himself, smiling. "God bless them all. Well, they keep me busy throughout the year. And they are increasing so rapidly that I'll have to take several hundred assistants next year."

Then Santa returned to the high church steeple, and as he was getting into his sleigh the aged bell ringer, accompanied by his grandson of ten, came out of the church with a lantern in his hand. The little grandson looked up and cried out to his grandfather:

"Oh, lookee, grandpa, there in the sky! It's Santa Claus and his reindeer. See them flying! Oh, now they are gone—clean through that white cloud over the church. Oh, grandpa, did you see them?"

"No, my son, and neither did you. Your mind is so full of Christmas just now that you see things mentally. You just imagined that Santa and his reindeer were over the church. Why, it wants a whole week before Christmas, sonny, and Santa never comes till Christmas eve. Come along and don't imagine things like that anymore." And the aged bell ringer swung his lantern and led the way along the snow covered path to his home, his little grandson, Sammy, following. But in Sammy's heart was a feeling that he had not imagined seeing Santa. He felt the thing had been real. "He was just peeping round to see where the good children live and getting acquainted with the chimneys," said Sammy to himself. "But grandpa is too old to understand. He hasn't cared about Santa for many, many years. But I do, oh, I do! And how I should love to slip away up into the church tonight and visit Santa's realm! But that would be impossible. It is not intended for boys to get off the earth, so Santa comes to them."

SANTA PEEPED INTO HOUSES.

Just then Sammy's grandmother opened the kitchen door for them, and as Sammy entered the good old lady stooped and kissed him, saying:

"I just had a letter from your cousins, Mabel and Ted, saying they were coming to spend Christmas with us and that they had written Santa Claus of the change of their address so that he could fetch their gifts here—along with yours. Bless the dears!"

And Sammy knew that Santa would do as his cousins asked him to, although grandpa laughed at the idea and said: "That is nonsense, good wife. Children should not believe such silly things." But Sammy knew a thing or two that grandpa did not know.

JANE GRAY'S CHRISTMAS

The Happiest She Ever Spent

By LILLIAN WENTZ

Jane Gray looked with contemptuous eyes around the small sitting room of the little cottage which was her only home now that the Blandford knitting mills had failed and her shares of stock were entirely worthless.

"It will be the loneliest Christmas you ever spent, Jane Gray," she said to her grim reflection in the mirror that seemed all too large for the small room. The mirror was handsome, like the other furniture that had come from the big house on the hill where Jane had lived so many years in affluence because of her large holdings in the knitting mills.

A knock sounded at the kitchen door, and it was instantly followed by the opening of the door and the sound of stamping feet in the next room.

"It's only me, Jane," sang the cheery voice of Mrs. Lew Moore. "What you doing, Jane?"

"Nothing," said Jane drearily.

"Nothing? You lucky girl!"

"Lucky!" groaned Jane.

"Of course," said Mrs. Moore briskly as she sat down in a rocking chair and drew out some crocheting—"of course you wouldn't be sitting here doing nothing if your Christmas presents wasn't all done. Here's Christmas only three days off and I've got these table mats to finish for Rose Blair and three aprons to make for Cousin Phoebe."

"Christmas presents!" repeated Jane, blushing deeply. "I don't suppose you realize, Mary, that I can't afford to give any presents this year."

"Not any?" echoed Mrs. Moore rather blankly.

Jane shook her head impatiently. "How can I when I've got just money enough to buy my bread and butter? As for clothes—well, I guess I'll have to wear my old clothes for years to come."

Mary laughed heartlessly. "You've always had so many handsome clothes, Jane, that you ought to be glad there's

"THERE'S NOTHING TO SAY EXCEPT 'YES!'"

a chance you can wear some of 'em out—really wear 'em out! I've seen you put away good clothes every year that made my mouth water, and I expect the Lord was prompting you to put 'em by for this rainy day that's come upon you. I'll tell you frankly, Jane, it made me sick when I saw you put away two perfectly good seal cloaks when your sister died."

"Why?" asked Jane.

"Because I'd wanted a seal cloak for years, and I've tried and tried to save up for one, but something always happened to take the money before I could spend it—something really necessary, like sickness. Now, you, Jane, have got this store of clothes to fall back on. You ought to be thankful. Get 'em out and make 'em over, and you'll still be the best dressed woman in Blandford."

"Clothes aren't worrying me so much now, Mary," she confessed. "It's the fact that I can't give any nice presents this year."

"Very well, if you can't buy new things—and you haven't got time to make anything now, it's so late—why don't you give what you've got?"

"Give what I've got? I don't understand."

"Haven't you got a lot of extra furniture stored in the carriage house out here?" asked Mary, with animation.

"Of course I have. There were so many heirlooms and so little room in the cottage here I had to find a place for them."

"Well, why don't you give some of the things away this Christmas to some of the people who'd be pleased to death to have 'em?"

"But I'm not through with them. I like to feel that they belong to me," protested Jane weakly.

Mary darted a glance of contempt at her friend.

"You've surely got the Christmas spirit!" she sniffed. "Don't you suppose I'd rather have the time I'm spending on these plagued table mats for reading or visiting or something agreeable? It's the same way with all the presents I'm making. It's sacrifice, sacrifice, time and strength and inclinations. But I don't begrudge it," she ended, smiling softly.

Jane swallowed a lump in her throat.

"'Tain't what you give nor how much you give that counts," said Mary in a low voice. "It's the feeling that goes with it."

Jane Gray was silent for a long time. The sun dropped behind the most distant peak, and twilight fell in the little room.

"Cousin Amelia Sturgis always wanted the four rush bottomed chairs," said Jane suddenly, "I've got two sets of them, you know."

"I remember. Why don't you give 'em to her?"

"I guess I will. And Belle Sturgis said she'd die happy if she could have some of her great-grandmother's old bedquilts."

"Give her some."

"I will," decided Jane. "And Sarah Smith can have the cherry table, and Elsie Finch wants a clothes hamper. I've got two. Then Elsie's husband would set store by father's saddle. I'll send that to him. You know, he's fond of riding that mare he raised. Then there's an old blue teapot that belonged to my great-aunt, Flora. Why, Mary Moore, I do believe I could fit out the whole family with things they want! One of Dora's girls would like that wine colored velvet I used to wear. She could make it over for this winter."

"Isn't it great?" cried Mary enthusiastically. "And then after you've tied up all the things I'll have Lew bring the box wagon around, and he can cart your presents around to all the folks. And then you can have a big Christmas dinner and invite them all to come."

"Christmas dinner! Mary Moore, I can't afford to buy a turkey for myself!"

"Has any one invited you to dinner yet?"

"Yes, every one of them, but somehow it hurts me to go."

"Foolish Jane!" laughed Mary tenderly. "Now, listen to me. You told me you had 400 cans of fruit and preserves in your cellar that you brought from the big house. Well, you know I was sick last summer, and I didn't put up a speck of fruit. I'll make a trade with you. Give me some canned fruit and I'll sell you one of our biggest turkeys, and I'll make you a plum pudding and some pies, and you can trade out all the vegetables you want. What say?"

"Mary, there's nothing to say except 'yes!'" cried Jane tearfully. "I have a feeling this is going to be a wonderful Christmas."

"I've no doubt it will be the happiest one you ever spent," said Mary as she folded up her work. "I'll come over in the morning, and we'll plan out the whole thing."

It was certainly the happiest Christmas Jane Gray had known since her childhood. It is one thing to set out to do Christmas shopping with a well filled purse and a fine disregard of the price of things, and it is another and more pleasurable thing to go over one's belongings and select things that will directly appeal to the heart of the recipient. If the giving implies a sacrifice on the part of the donor the gift is the more blessed.

Jane smiled happily as she pulled out the carefully preserved articles of furniture from the carriage house and wrapped them up in gay papers, and the searching through her twenty trunks was like straying through forgotten chambers of her memory. There were pretty fans and laces and quaint trinkets and bits of jewelry to gladden the hearts of the girls and their mothers, old fashioned books and toys for the children, and for the men folks there were books and interesting curios from the collection of her father, a retired sea captain.

And all the relations who had feared to give very much to rich Jane Gray because it might be interpreted as a desire to seek favor with her gave lavishly from their grateful hearts on this particular Christmas day. And each one accepted Jane's invitation to dinner until the little house was overflowing with merriment and good cheer. They set two tables, one in the dining room for the grownups and another in the sitting room for the children, and when the delicious meal was over they all declared it was the happiest Christmas they had ever known.

"Seems as if we love each other more this Christmas," said little Sammy Finch wisely, and the elders all smiled at each other. The young girls who had always feared Jane a little gathered about her and kissed her for the pretty old fashioned gowns she had given them to make over, and Jane recognized that warm glow that Mary Moore had described as the right Christmas spirit.

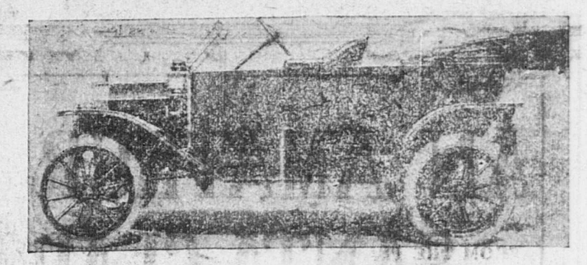
"Seems as if I'd just learned how to be happy," sighed Jane as she watched the last sleigh drive away under the Christmas stars.

A dark form came scudding through the snowy orchard that divided Jane's cottage from Mary Moore's house.

It was Mary Moore coming to cry on Jane's shoulder and tell her how happy she was because she had found the long desired seal cloak among her Christmas gifts. Jane felt a pang of remorse because she had not given it before.

But later, when she blew out her candle, she stood in her window and looked out at the soft radiance of the winter night.

"I thought this cottage was small," she mused, "but it is much larger than the big house, because it has held so much more happiness tonight. It was full to overflowing. I guess there's enough to last me the whole year, and it's taught me that giving alone ain't all. It's loving and giving that count most of all!"



THE QUINCY GARAGE, 87 Adams Street, Quincy
Agent for FORD and CASE CARS
A full Line of Supplies always on hand
Michelin Tires in stock
Now Ready for Delivery the 1914 Ford Car, $550 for 5 Passenger, $500 for Runabout, $750 for Town Car F. O. B. Detroit.
For Particulars or Demonstration call Quincy 435
Night or Day never closed. C. P. GOULD, Prop.
Dec. 12-1o-tf

QUINCY REAL ESTATE SALES.

Frank C. Andrews to Annie L. Riordan et al, Pine street.

Velzova P. Andrews to John A. Sullivan, Narraganset road.

Teresa L. Barrett to Wilton A. Dunham, Newton street, Sea street.

Adelbert E. Buffum to Robert J. Jones.

Susan F. Chase to Albert Nelson, Revere road, Cottage street.

Katherine F. Coughlin to Daniel J. Holmes, Kemper street.

Katherine F. Coughlin gdn. to Daniel J. Holmes, Kemper street.

John Gilmore to Albert Nelson et al Madison avenue.

Robert W. Graham et al to George W. Russell, Everett street.

Carl Hendrickson to Joshua W. Ellis, Beacon street.

Leroy M. Hill to Gunnar Ohman, Vassall street.

Walter A. Hogencamp to Charles V. Hogencamp, Newbury avenue Botolph street.

William Jacobs to Michael J. Toomey, Babcock street.

Maurice E. Kilpatrick to Albert Nelson.

Elizabeth G. Lennon to Mary J. Gibson et al, Granite street.

Hugh J. McDonald to Mary A. McDonald, Warwick street.

William F. Macey to James Moylan, River road.

Miles J. McInnis to William J. Tabb, Gilbert street.

Emil Nelson to William N. Swain, Ocean street.

Thomas Pegler to Gustaf Larson, Norfolk street.

Martha Pegler to Thomas Pegler, Norfolk street.

Lemuel Pitts to Felix Favorite, North Central avenue.

J. Winthrop Pratt et al trs to John Berman et al, Grafton street.

Arthur B. Rigney to George W. Russell, Cummings avenue.

Cannie Z. Rippey to Charles R. Sherman, Newport avenue.

Harlow H. Rogers tr to Albert Nelson.

Hyman Samson to S. Bayard Thompson, Quincy street.

John V. Scott to Albert E. Dunham, Darrow street.

Christina J. Sewell to Samuel Fleishman, Farnum street.

Charles R. Sherman to Cora C. Merrill, North Central avenue.

Charles R. Sherman to Robert E. Comins, North Central avenue.

Mary Smith to Fred W. Wood, Phillips street.

Charles E. Stratton to Delia McGuerty, Newbury avenue.

William N. Swain to Emil Nelson, Ocean street.

Bayard S. Thompson to David Diamond, Quincy street.

George K. Tudhope to Joseph H. Kilpatrick, Hamden Circle.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

YACHT CLUB BOWLERS SELECTED

The call for bowlers from the Wollaston Yacht club, to come out and make the team that is to represent the club in a series of matches with the Squantum Yacht club, brought out a lively set of bowlers at the Coliseum After the smoke of the battle cleared, and the scores were counted it was Hart high man with 467; Raymond and Raiche had 463 each, Ellis 441, Lothrop 427, Nelson 422 and McIntire 462. Out of the fifteen men who bowled these seven men were chosen as the team.

WON BY NORDQUIST.

Nordquist won the solid watch fob, the first prize at the City Square alleys Monday evening. His three consecutive strings, the highest of the evening, were 105, 117 and 105 a total of 327.

(ADVERTISE.)

INCREASE YOUR WEIGHT TO MATCH YOUR HEIGHT

Thin, emaciated people, who are not as heavy as one of their height should be, should take Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion, the ideal nerve and body builder. Being underweight almost always means that one's health is not good, that some part of the system is not doing its work well—that the nerves and blood are not in healthy enough shape themselves to properly direct and nourish the bodily organs causing the trouble.

Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion builds weight, because it furnishes ingredients necessary to nourish and rebuild the wasting tissues, to replenish the blood, to make the nerves strong and well. It is a real medicine—not an alcoholic beverage, as many so-called "tonics" are. The latter only stimulate, instead of feeding and strengthening the system, and leave you worse off than before.

You who are underweight, tired-out, run-down, nervous, easily exhausted, and have been vainly doping yourself with "remedies" that have done you no lasting good, take Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion. In a few days you will begin to feel better, and after a few weeks will feel like a new person—or we will gladly give you back your money. There is no alcohol, nor any dangerous or habit-forming drug in Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion. It is a strength and weight and health-building medicine—not a dope. For the emaciated and debilitated—the convalescing—growing children—aged people—it is a sensible aid to renewed strength, better spirits, glowing health.

Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion—king of the celebrated Rexall Remedies—is for freedom from sickness of you and your family. Pleasant-tasting—unlike the cod liver oil preparations—you'll be as enthusiastic about it as we are when you have noted its strengthening, invigorating, building-up, disease-preventing effects. If it does not help you, your money will be given back to you without argument. Sold in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store—one of more than 7,000 leading drug stores in the United States, Canada and Great Britain.

—Edward J. Murphy, 1415 Hancock cor. Granite Streets, Quincy, Mass. "The Rexal Store."

TURKEY ROLL OFF
CHRISTMAS EVE.
At 8 o'clock sharp
Twenty Highest Men to Qualify

Three high non-consecutive strings Candle Pins may be selected.

First Prize, 14-lb. Turkey
Second Prize, 12-lb. Turkey
Third Prize, 10-lb. Turkey
Fourth Prize, a Chicken

Special Prizes Also on Christmas Day

COLISEUM ALLEYS
Near Quincy Depot
20-4t

WITHIN THE LAW

By MARVIN DANA
FROM THE PLAY OF
BAYARD VEILLER

Copyright, 1913, by the H. K. Fly company.

SYNOPSIS

Mary Turner, a department store clerk, is sentenced to prison for three years for a theft she did not commit.

Edward Gilder, owner of the department store, consents to see Mary before she goes to prison, expecting her to confess.

Mary protests her innocence to Gilder and begs him to pay better wages to his clerks to save them from temptation.

After three years in prison Mary is paroled, but the police prevent her holding positions. She jumps into the river to end her life, but is rescued by Joe Garson, a forger.

Mary forms a partnership with Garson and his gang, by which they mulct rich victims in a legal manner, keeping "within the law."

Mary is warned by the police to leave town after she has formed the acquaintance of Richard Gilder, her former employer's son.

Helen Morris, the girl who had committed the theft for which Mary was imprisoned, sees Mary and confesses her guilt.

Mary marries Dick Gilder without his father's knowledge and then refuses to sail for Europe with him.

Joe Garson, against Mary's protest, agrees with Eddie Griggs, another crook, to help commit a burglary in Gilder's home.

Edward Gilder sees his son's bride and tries to induce her to give up her husband. Dick refuses to leave her even when she tells him she is an ex-convict.

Inspector Burke calls on Gilder and tells him that a burglary at his home that night has been arranged through Griggs, a stool pigeon, to trap Mary Turner and her gang.

Garson and his gang break into Gilder's home and are followed by Mary, who is told of the proposed burglary. While they are there Dick returns home.

(Continued from last issue.)

Griggs was in evening clothes, seeming a very elegant young gentleman indeed, but his two companions were of grosser type as far as appearances went—one, Dacey, thin and wiry, with a ferret face; the other, Chicago Red, a brawny ruffian, whose stolid features nevertheless exhibited something of half sullen good nature.

"Everything all right so far," Garson said rapidly. He turned to Griggs and pointed toward the heavy hangings that shrouded the octagonal window. "Are those the things we want?" he demanded.

"Yes," was the answer.

"Well, then, we've got to get busy."

Before he could add a direction he was halted by a soft buzzing from the telephone. For an instant he hesitated while the others regarded him doubtfully.

"We've got to take a chance." Garson went to the desk and put the receiver to his ear.

There came again the faint tapping of some one at the other end of the line, signalling a message in the Morse code. An expression of blank amazement, which grew in a flash to deep concern, showed on Garson's face as he listened tensely.

"Why, this is Mary calling," he muttered.

"Mary?" Griggs cried.

"Yes, she's on." Garson interpreted a moment later as the tapping ceased for a little. He translated in a loud whisper as the irregular ticking noise sounded again.

"I shall be there almost at once. I am sending this message from the drug store around the corner. Have some one open the door for me immediately."

"She's coming over!" Griggs cried incredulously.

"No, I'll stop her," Garson declared firmly.

But when after tapping a few words the forger paused for the reply no sound came.

"She don't answer!" he exclaimed.

"On her way already," Griggs suggested. "I'll let her in." He drew a small torch from the skirt pocket of his coat and crossed to the hall door as Garson nodded assent.

"God! Why did she have to come?" Garson muttered, filled with forebodings. "If anything should go wrong now!"

He turned back toward the door just as it opened, and Mary darted into the room, with Griggs following closely at her heels.

"What do you want here?" he demanded, with peremptory savageness in his voice, which was a tone he had never hitherto used in addressing her.

There was only tender pleading in Mary's voice, though her words were an arraignment.

"Joe, you lied to me!"

"That can be settled later!" the man snapped. His jaw was thrust forward obstinately, and his clear eyes sparkled defiantly.

"You are fools, all of you!" Mary cried. "Yes, fools! This is burglary. I can't protect you if you are caught. How can I? Oh, come!" She held out her hands pleadingly toward Garson, and her voice dropped to beseeching. "Joe, Joe, you must get away from this house at once, all of you! Joe, make them go!"

"It's too late," was the stern answer. "We're here now, and we'll stay till the business is done."

"Joe, for my sake!"

"I can't quit now until we've got what we came here after," he declared roughly.

"Boys, let's get away! Please, oh,

"This is Mary calling," Garson muttered.

please! Joe, for God's sake!" Her tone was a sob.

"I'm going to see this through," said Garson doggedly.

With a gesture of despair she turned away toward the door by which she had entered.

"You can't go," Garson said sharply. "You might be caught."

"And if I were," Mary demanded in a flash of indignation, "do you think I'd tell?"

"Of course not, Mary. I know you. You would go up for life first. Just the same, you can't take any chances. We'll all get away in a minute and you'll come with us." He turned to the men and spoke with swift authority.

"Come," he said to Dacey, "you get to the light switch there by the hall door. If you hear me snap my fingers, turn 'em off. Understand?"

With instant obedience the man went to his station by the hall door.

"Red," Garson ordered, "you get to that door." He pointed to the one that gave on the passageway against which he had set the chair tilted. As the man obeyed Garson gave further instructions.

"If any one comes in that way get him and get him quick. You understand? Don't let him cry out or make a sound."

Chicago Red held up his huge hand, widely open.

"Not a chance," he declared proudly, "with that over his mug."

"Now, let's get to work," Garson continued eagerly.

Mary spoke with the bitterness of defeat.

"Listen, Joe! If you do this I'm through with you. I quit."

"If this goes through," he countered, "we'll all quit. That's why I'm doing it. I'm sick of the game."

CHAPTER XIV.

The Noiseless Death.

RED suddenly made a slight hissing noise that arrested the attention of the others and held them in moveless silence.

"I hear something," he whispered. He went to the keyhole of the door leading into the passage. Then he whispered again, "and it's coming this way."

At the words Garson snapped his fingers. The room was plunged in darkness.

There was absolute silence in the library after the turning of the switch that brought darkness. Long seconds passed, then a little noise—the knob of the passage door turning. As the door swung open there came a gasping breath from Mary, for she saw framed in the faint light that came from the single burner in the corridor the slender form of her husband, Dick Gilder.

"I hear something," whispered Chicago Red.

The next instant he had stepped within the room and Chicago Red had pounced on his victim, the huge hand clapped tight over the young man's mouth. There came a sound of scuffling feet, and that was all. Finally the big man's voice came triumphantly:

"I've got him!"

"It's Dick!" The cry came as a wail of despair from the girl.

At the same moment Garson flashed his torch, and the light fell swiftly on young Gilder, bowed to a kneeling posture before the couch, half throttled by Chicago Red. Close beside him, Mary looked down in wordless despair over this final disaster of the night.

Garson retired a step farther before he spoke his command, so that, though he held the torch still, he, like the others, was in shadow.

"Get away, Red."

The fellow let go his grip.

Freed of that strangling embrace, Dick stumbled blindly to his feet. Then, mechanically, his hand went to the lamp on the table back of the couch. When the mellow light streamed forth he uttered an ejaculation of stark amazement, for his gaze was riveted on the face of the woman he loved.

(To be Continued.)

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

(Continued from Page 3.)

the night before Christmas, and the church will be open that the public may enter and see the decorations. The pastor requests all house-holders at Wollaston to illuminate their houses with candles from 6 to 8 P. M. It is important however that all draperies be removed from windows as a precaution against fire.

WOLLASTON METHODIST.

Wednesday evening at seven o'clock the Sunday school of the Wollaston Methodist church will have a usual cantata followed by the distribution of presents to the pupils.

ATLANTIC M. E.

The Atlantic M. E. Sunday school will have a Christmas tree Christmas night. A tree will be given the children, received from Santa Claus. After the tree by will precede the giving program ents.

BRIEFS

Leo P. Noonan goes to Maine today for a three months trip in the interest of the Boston American.

Miss Lucy Shunk of Beach street, Wollaston is spending the Christmas holidays with her sister, Mrs. Charles C. Abbott of Waterbury, Vermont.

Mr. and Mrs. Walwrath Y. Sherman of North Central avenue are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son born Dec. 21.

Mayor-elect John L. Miller paid a short visit to City Hall Monday afternoon to consult with the City Clerk relative to the plans for the inauguration Monday Jan 5.

Lt. Walter Jones is home from the Philippines and is visiting his mother in Quincy over the holidays. He is accompanied by Mrs. Jones and their little daughter.

Get your white wrapping paper for Christmas gifts at the Ledger-Patriot office. Come early and avoid the rush. Large sheets 2 cents each. By the dozen 20 cents.

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED
Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Oscar B. Johnson of Brockton in the County of Plymouth and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, to Frederick E. Tupper of Quincy in the County of Norfolk and said Commonwealth, dated July 11, 1910, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, book 1149, page 6, for breach of the condition of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on Thursday, the fifteenth day of January, A. D. 1914, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, and herein described as follows:—

A certain lot of land in said Quincy, with the buildings thereon. Said lot being numbered 34 on a plan dated February 1909, Frederick E. Tupper, Civil Engineer, duly recorded with Norfolk Plans, and bounded and described as follows viz: Northeasterly on lot No. 35 on said plan Two hundred (200) feet, Northwesterly on land of adjoining owner sixty (60) feet Southwesterly on lot No. 33 on said plan Two hundred (200) feet and Southeasterly on Sea Street Sixty (60) feet. Containing 3300 square feet of upland.

Being the same premises conveyed to said Oscar B. Johnson by Charles H. Shriver, et al, trustees, and subject to the restrictions therein contained.

Said premises will be sold subject to said restrictions and any and all tax titles, unpaid taxes, municipal liens and assessments, if any such there be. $100. will be required to be paid by the purchaser in cash at the time and place of sale; balance in ten days from date of sale on delivery of the deed.

FREDERICK E. TUPPER,
Mortgagee.

Quincy, Mass. Dec. 23, 1913.
Dec. 23-3t 23, 30, 6

USEFUL GIFTS FOR EVERYBODY

Pretty and Well Equipped Pincushions Never Come Amiss.

WHEN in doubt give pincushions, said a very astute young woman. Well, when one considers the matter it is really a wise piece of advice, for who does not need pins of all kinds, both early and often? If the said pincushion is generously supplied with a good variety and quality of pins, no matter how many other pincushions may be received, yours will be of use, for pins, like time, seem to have wings. They are here today, and tomorrow who knows where?

Each season, too, brings out new and attractive designs in which to fashion the useful pincushion. The pincushion of yesteryear can be easily recognized by the expert in fancy work.

The hanging pincushion illustrated is a dainty and useful trifle that will be appreciated by the traveler. It can be hung on the dresser, where it is always conveniently at hand and adds to the attractiveness of the barest hotel room. This pincushion is made of satin ribbon. It has a puffed border of inch wide ribbon made double by having two pieces of the ribbon sewed together and having cases on each edge through which cords may be run for drawing it up. The odd looking pendants with the ivory rings attached for the safety pins are gathered by running a few stitches first on one edge of the ribbon, then to the other, and drawing up the thread. In the center of the flower rows of small fancy pins are neatly inserted.

HANGING PINCUSHION.

Baskets are used in many ways in fashioning fancy articles. A charming use of a miniature wicker basket is illustrated here. This pincushion form was bought or made to fit the basket. This one was covered with satin and then with a layer of gold net. Two satin ribbons were woven in and out of meshes of the basket, and satin ribbon roses were used as decorations. The pins were arranged in the basket in carefully shaded rows.

BASKET PINCUSHION.

The flower pincushion is very popular this year. When making one of these try to select for it the favorite blossom of the person for whom it is being made.

One of the new kinds of pincushions is made to represent a wild rose. The center is a circle of cardboard thickly padded and covered with yellow velvet. Five large pink satin petals surround it, while, instead of a stalk, a loop of green velvet is attached with which to hang it on the wall.

Pincushions of embroidered linen are always nice and are easy to make, as almost every one can do a little simple embroidery.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

LAND COURT.

To Emile Badot, Mary A. Badot, Gene M. McCormick, Ellen B. Fegan, James Fegan, Walter R. Fegan, Lawrence J. Keegan, Ruth McGrath, John McGilvary, James J. Riley and Annie L. Newcomb, of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, and said Commonwealth; the City of Quincy, a municipal corporation located in said County of Norfolk; Herbert F. Doble, Special Administrator of the estate of Enoch H. Doble, late of said Quincy, deceased; Henry E. Sheldon, of Milton, in said County of Norfolk; Edward J. Fegan and Mary A. Fegan, of Rockland, in the County of Plymouth, and said Commonwealth; Albert J. Shackley, of Brooklyn, in the State of New York; Margaret A. Brown, of Pasadena, in the State of California; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by John B. McGilvray, of said Quincy, to register and confirm his title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situate in the westerly part of said Quincy, bounded southerly on Crescent street (formerly called Cemetery Street) sixty-nine feet; westerly on land now or late of one Anderson, formerly of the heirs of Edward Fegan ten rods, northerly on land now or late of one McCormick formerly of Robertson, seventy-five feet; and easterly on Hall Place ten rods; containing 11,880 square feet, more or less.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition, and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

You are hereby cited to appear at the Land Court to be held at Boston, in the County of Suffolk, on the twenty-ninth day of December A. D., 1913 at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, Charles Thornton Davis, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this eighth day of December in the year nineteen hundred and thirteen.

CLARENCE C. SMITH, Recorder.
Attest with Seal of said Court.
(Seal.)

Dec. 9-3t 9-16-23

ARTHUR L. THOMAS
Attorney-at-Law
3-4-5-6 Greenleaf Block
Telephone Quincy 460 Jan.2-1y

Here is Your Opportunity

7 room house with modern conveniences nicely situated on a fine street in Wollaston. To be sold very low at present.

Here is a chance to get into a good neighborhood. House is vacant and in perfect order to move right into. Three to five minutes to station, schools, stores, etc. Price $3,300. terms.

NRY W. SAVAGE
E. C. [illegible] Real Estate, Boston.
[illegible]N, Local Representative
[illegible]e 1877-M Quincy.
Dec. 22-tf

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Justice of the Peace
Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block,
QUINCY

FOR SALE
New Axes
20c each 3 for 50c
While They Last
L. GROSSMAN & SONS
Jackson Street
Near Quincy Adams Depot
Dec. 1-1o-tf

SWITHIN
Real Estate
Mortgages-Insurance
Greenleaf Block
Quincy
Tel. Quincy 460. Nov. 10-tf

HOLMES & HALL
REPAIRERS OF HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
SHADES
DOOR BELLS
LOCKS and KEYS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

WANTED

WANTED—A horse for the winter, only a few hours work each day. Write P. M. Ledger office. 20-tf

WANTED—One large or 2 small unfurnished rooms with heat, gas and clothes closet. Address Z. care Ledger Office. 20-3t

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing. Myatt, 40 Baxter street. Tel. 1307-M. Quincy, Res. 22-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Glenwood No. 7 range. Fitted. Complete for hot water. Apply at No. 27 Cherry street, Quincy Point. 22-3t

PIANOS—Buy a piano. Several makes. Square man to trade with. Send postal and he will call. In your city every day. Walter H. Lyons, Randolph. 17-9t

FOR SALE—Land on Butler road or I can build you a house on it very reasonably, or will exchange for other real estate. John Bergfors, 65 Granite street. 18-6t

HORSE FOR SALE—Cheap, for want of use. H. H. I. Smith, 578 Commercial street, Weymouth Heights. Tel. Weymouth 105-1. 15-tf

FOR SALE or TO LET—New houses Apply to Thompson B. Crane, 403 Washington street, Quincy. 1-tf

WM. H. TEASDALE
REAL ESTATE
Insurance Mortgages
NOTARY PUBLIC JUSTICE OF THE PEACE
Room 23 Adams Building
Telephones { Residence, 544-3 Office, 2M

TO LET
Large Front Office Greenleaf Block—2 entrances—right at the head of the stairs—one of the most desirable offices in Quincy.
Office, Durgin-Merrill Block—3 large windows—only 1 flight up—exceptional opportunity.
Hancock Building—City Square Offices—small front office, $11 a month
Office—Hancock Chambers, 16x18 feet one flight up, very low rent.
Store House—off Granite St., in the rear of Greenleaf Block.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best Location in City)
Offices—Large or small.
Desk Room—Street floor, right in the rear of main entrance, good light and air, $5 up a month.
Transient Rooms—Well furnished and with care, $1 a day.
Furnished Rooms—With care steam heat, and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $6.50 per week

HALLS
Music Hall—Music Hall Block—Capacity 962—highest possible rating by the State. "Excellent" in every particular.
New Colonial Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—Capacity 240—the best possible location for a Hall.
Hancock Hall—Hancock Building Square—Capacity 150.

Real Estate Trust,
Greenle[illegible] (for Mr. Kribs.)
('Phone 21066) Quincy

Quincy [illegible]s Bank
BANK HOURS:
Day except Saturday, S[illegible]usiness
P. M. to 3
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12
CLARENCE BURG[illegible]
Treasur[illegible]

QUINCY REGISTRY
FOR NURSES
20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.
Will supply trained and practical nurses, attendants and nursery assistants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.
MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar,
Tel. Quincy 131-W.

Read Ledger Ads

LOST

LOST—Jap Mink lady's collar in Quincy Square Sunday evening, Dec. 21. Person seen picking it up, please leave with starter. Reward. 23-1t

TO LET

TO LET—Lower flat, 5 rooms bath modern improvements in new house pleasantly situated in corner lot 29 Atherton street, Bigelow Park. Rent reasonable to right party. Inquire on premises. 22-3t

TO LET—Furnished or unfurnished large front room, smaller room adjoining suitable for physician. Furnished rooms $2.00 up. Steam heat all conveniences, 3 minutes from centre. 1 Adams street. 22-6t

TO LET—Flat of 5 rooms and bath at 197 Whitwell street. All improvements. Apply to John F. Anderson, 159 Whitwell street. 22-6t

HORSES TO LET—We will place with reliable people for the winter—two draft horses (for their keep)—Henry L. Kincaide & Co. 22-tf

TO LET—Single house six rooms and bath. All modern conveniences. Apply to P. J. Williams, 19 Independence avenue. 22-6t

TO LET—No rent before Jan. 1, tenement all modern improvements. Rent $18.75, near High School and car barn. Plenty of sunshine. C. W. Guy, 42 Butler road. 19-tf

TO LET—5 Parson street, lower floor, 5 rooms and bath, hard wood floors. Rent $16.00 ready January 1, 1914. Apply on premises or at 38 Independence Ave. 18-tf

TO LET—Flat 5 rooms and bath, first floor. All improvements. Nice location. 129 Independence avenue. Apply 60 Trafford street or Telephone Quincy 489-W. 17-6t

TO LET—Upper apartment of 7 rooms and bath, all improvements including set range and gas stove, now ready. Inquire, A. W. Parker, 87 Merrymount road. Tel. Quincy 258-1 16-tf

TO LET—48 Revere road two connecting rooms with kitchenette for housekeeping. Also a nice room with sun all day, two large closets. Hot water heat and bath. water heat and bath. 13-tf

UPPER APARTMENT. In two-family house on Spear Street. Five rooms, bath, large pantry and closets, also open attic with finished heated chamber. Every improvement, electric light, furnace, range etc. Ready for immediate occupancy. Telephone Quincy 278-M or enquire mornings of Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. lpo

TO LET—Tenement 4 rooms and bath all improvements, set range. Vacant Jan. 1, 1914. Apply 180 Franklin street. 10-12t

TO LET—173 Whitwell street, half house, modern conveniences, $20 per month. Ready for immediate occupancy. Apply Penniman's Stable, Granite street. 19-tf

TO LET—5 room tenement at 117 Quincy street, $20 per month. Apply Berman Furniture Co. 6-tf

RUSSELL PARK — Commodious house of seven rooms, large hall and bath. Modern, every convenience open fireplace, furnace, range, set tubs, electric lights, cemented cellar, etc. Best residential neighborhood. Ready for immediate occupancy. For further details or key see Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. tf lpo

TO LET—Houses of 5, 6 and 10 rooms. M. T. Sullivan. Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy, Mass. 11-tf

MISCELLANEOUS

RENT FREE—until Jan. 1st. Two adjoining houses, 28 and 30 Pleasant street to desirable tenants, who will agree to stay one year, or longer. $5.00 per week in advance. Stable for one horse if desired. $1.00 a week extra. Apply 36 Pleasant street. 5-tf

JAMES F. BURKE & CO.
Real Estate and Insurance
Notary Public. Justice of the Peace. Mortgages
Telephone Quincy 207.
Savings Bank Building
Nov. 11-tf

Per[illegible]
TAXI SERVICE
Taxies and To[illegible] careful and sa[illegible] Cars
[illegible]t for all occasions. [illegible]rivers
J. PENNIMAN, Pro[illegible]
Telephone 207.
June 13-tf

WITHIN THE LAW

By MARVIN DANA
FROM THE PLAY OF
BAYARD VEILLER

Copyright, 1913, by the H. K. Fly company.

SYNOPSIS

Mary Turner, a department store clerk, is sentenced to prison for three years for a theft she did not commit.

Edward Gilder, owner of the department store, consents to see Mary before she goes to prison, expecting her to confess.

Mary protests her innocence to Gilder and begs him to pay better wages to his clerks to save them from temptation.

After three years in prison Mary is freed, but the police prevent her holding positions. She jumps into the river to end her life, but is rescued by Joe Garson, a tough.

Mary forms a partnership with Garson and his gang, by which they mulct rich victims in a legal manner, keeping "within the law."

Mary is warned by the police to leave town after she has formed the acquaintance of Richard Gilder, her former employer's son.

Helen Morris, the girl who had committed the theft for which Mary was imprisoned, sees Mary and confesses her guilt.

Mary marries Dick Gilder without his father's knowledge and then refuses to sail for Europe with him.

Joe Garson, against Mary's protest, agrees with Eddie Griggs, another crook, to help commit a burglary in Gilder's home.

Edward Gilder sees his son's bride and tries to induce her to give up her husband. Dick refuses to leave her even when she tells him she is an ex-convict.

Inspector Burke calls on Gilder and tells him that a burglary at his home that night has been arranged through Griggs, a stool pigeon, to trap Mary Turner and her gang.

Garson and his gang break into Gilder's home and are followed by Mary, who is told of the proposed burglary. While they are there Dick returns home.

(Continued from last issue.)

Griggs was in evening clothes, seeming a very elegant young gentleman indeed, but his two companions were of grosser type as far as appearances went—one, Dacey, thin and wiry, with a ferret face; the other, Chicago Red, a brawny ruffian, whose stolid features nevertheless exhibited something of half sullen good nature.

"Everything all right so far," Garson said rapidly. He turned to Griggs and pointed toward the heavy hangings that shrouded the octagonal window. "Are those the things we want?" he demanded.

"Yes," was the answer.

"Well, then, we've got to get busy."

Before he could add a direction he was halted by a soft buzzing from the telephone. For an instant he hesitated while the others regarded him doubtfully.

"We've got to take a chance." Garson went to the desk and put the receiver to his ear.

There came again the faint tapping of some one at the other end of the line, signalling a message in the Morse code. An expression of blank amazement, which grew in a flash to deep concern, showed on Garson's face as he listened tensely.

"Why, this is Mary calling," he muttered.

"Mary!" Griggs cried.

"Yes, she's on," Garson interpreted a moment later as the tapping ceased for a little. He translated in a loud whisper as the irregular ticking noise sounded again.

"I shall be there almost at once. I am sending this message from the drug store around the corner. Have some one open the door for me immediately."

"She's coming over!" Griggs cried incredulously.

"No, I'll stop her," Garson declared firmly.

But when after tapping a few words the forger paused for the reply no sound came.

"She don't answer!" he exclaimed.

"On her way already," Griggs suggested. "I'll let her in." He drew a small torch from the skirt pocket of his coat and crossed to the hall door as Garson nodded assent.

"God! Why did she have to come?" Garson muttered, filled with forebodings. "If anything should go wrong now!"

He turned back toward the door just as it opened, and Mary darted into the room, with Griggs following closely at her heels.

"What do you want here?" he demanded, with peremptory savageness in his voice, which was a tone he had never hitherto used in addressing her.

There was only tender pleading in Mary's voice, though her words were an arraignment.

"Joe, you lied to me!"

"That can be settled later!" the man snapped. His jaw was thrust forward obstinately, and his clear eyes sparkled defiantly.

"You are fools, all of you!" Mary cried. "Yes, fools! This is burglary. I can't protect you if you are caught. How can I? Oh, come!" She held out her hands pleadingly toward Garson, and her voice dropped to beseeching. "Joe, Joe, you must get away from this house at once, all of you! Joe, make them go!"

"It's too late," was the stern answer. "We're here now, and we'll stay till the business is done."

"Joe, for my sake!"

"I can't quit now until we've got what we came here after," he declared roughly.

"Boys, let's get away! Please, oh,

"This is Mary calling," Garson muttered.

please! Joe, for God's sake!" Her tone was a sob.

"I'm going to see this through," said Garson doggedly.

With a gesture of despair she turned away toward the door by which she had entered.

"You can't go," Garson said sharply "You might be caught."

"And if I were," Mary demanded in a flash of indignation, "do you think I'd tell?"

"Of course not, Mary. I know you You would go up for life first. Just the same, you can't take any chances We'll all get away in a minute and you'll come with us." He turned to the men and spoke with swift authority.

"Come," he said to Dacey, "you get to the light switch there by the hall door. If you hear me snap my fingers, turn 'em off. Understand?"

With instant obedience the man went to his station by the hall door.

"Red," Garson ordered, "you get to that door." He pointed to the one that gave on the passageway against which he had set the chair tilted. As the man obeyed Garson gave further instructions.

"If any one comes in that way get him and get him quick. You understand? Don't let him cry out or make a sound."

Chicago Red held up his huge hand, widely open.

"Not a chance," he declared proudly, "with that over his mug."

"Now, let's get to work," Garson continued eagerly.

Mary spoke with the bitterness of defeat.

"Listen, Joe! If you do this I'm through with you. I quit."

"If this goes through," he countered, "we'll all quit. That's why I'm doing it. I'm sick of the game."

CHAPTER XIV.

The Noiseless Death.

RED suddenly made a slight hissing noise that arrested the attention of the others and held them in moveless silence.

"I hear something," he whispered. He went to the keyhole of the door leading into the passage. Then he whispered again, "and it's coming this way."

At the words Garson snapped his fingers. The room was plunged in darkness.

There was absolute silence in the library after the turning of the switch that brought darkness. Long seconds passed, then a little noise—the knob of the passage door turning. As the door swung open there came a gasping breath from Mary, for she saw framed in the faint light that came from the single burner in the corridor the slender form of her husband, Dick Gilder.

"I hear something," whispered Chicago Red.

The next instant he had stepped within the room and Chicago Red had pounced on his victim, the huge hand clapped tight over the young man's mouth. There came a sound of scuffling feet, and that was all. Finally the big man's voice came triumphantly:

"I've got him!"

"It's Dick!" The cry came as a wail of despair from the girl.

At the same moment Garson flashed his torch, and the light fell swiftly on young Gilder, bowed to a kneeling posture before the couch, half throttled by Chicago Red. Close beside him, Mary looked down in wordless despair over this final disaster of the night.

Garson retired a step farther before he spoke his command, so that, though he held the torch still, he, like the others, was in shadow.

"Get away, Red."

The fellow let go his grip.

Freed of that strangling embrace, Dick stumbled blindly to his feet Then, mechanically, his hand went to the lamp on the table back of the couch. When the mellow light streamed forth he uttered an ejaculation of stark amazement, for his gaze was riveted on the face of the woman he loved.

(To be Continued.)

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

(Continued from Page 3.)

the night before Christmas, and the church will be open that the public may enter and see the decorations. The pastor requests all house-holders at Wollaston to illuminate their houses with candles from 6 to 8 P. M. It is important however that all draperies be removed from windows as a precaution against fire.

WOLLASTON METHODIST.

Wednesday evening at seven o'clock the Sunday school of the Wollas on Methodist church will have a tree and cantata followed by the usual distribution of presents to the pupils.

ATLANTIC M. E.

The Atlantic M. E. Sunday school will have a Christmas tree Christmas night. A treat will be given the children, received from the tree by Santa Claus. A literary program will precede the giving of the presents.

BRIEFS

Leo P. Noonan goes to Maine Friday for a three months trip in the interest of the Boston American.

Miss Lucy Shunk of Beach street, Wollaston is spending the Christmas holidays with her sister, Mrs. Charles C. Abbott of Waterbury, Vermont.

Mr. and Mrs. Walwrath Y. Sherman of North Central avenue are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son born Dec. 21.

Mayor-elect John L. Miller paid a short visit to City Hall Monday afternoon to consult with the City Clerk relative to the plans for the in ugration Monday Jan 5.

Lt. Walter Jones is home from the Philippines and is visiting his mother in Quincy over the holidays. He is accompanied by Mrs. Jones and their little daughter.

Get your white wrapping paper for Christmas gifts at the Ledger-Patriot office. Come early and avoid the rush. Large sheets 2 cents each. By the dozen 20 cents.

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED
Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Oscar B. Johnson of Brockton in the County of Plymouth and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, to Frederick E. Tupper of Quincy in the County of Norfolk and said Commonwealth, dated July 11, 1910, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, book 1149, page 6, for breach of the condition of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on Thursday, the fifteenth day of January, A. D. 1914, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, and herein described as follows:—

A certain lot of land in said Quincy, with the buildings thereon. Said lot being numbered 34 on a plan dated February 1909, Frederick E. Tupper, Civil Engineer, duly recorded with Norfolk Plans, and bounded and described as follows viz: Northeasterly on lot No. 35 on said plan Two hundred (200) feet, Northwesterly on land of adjoining owner sixty (60) feet Southwesterly on lot No. 33 on said plan Two hundred (200) feet and Southeasterly on Sea Street Sixty (60) feet. Containing 3300 square feet of upland.

Being the same premises conveyed to said Oscar B. Johnson by Charles H. Shriver, et al, trustees, and subject to the restrictions therein contained.

Said premises will be sold subject to said restrictions and any and all tax titles, unpaid taxes, municipal liens and assessments, if any such there be. $100. will be required to be paid by the purchaser in cash at the time and place of sale; balance in ten days from date of sale on delivery of the deed.

FREDERICK E. TUPPER,
Mortgagee.

Quincy, Mass. Dec. 23, 1913.
Dec. 23-3t 23, 30, 6

USEFUL GIFTS FOR EVERYBODY

Pretty and Well Equipped Pincushions Never Come Amiss.

WHEN in doubt give pincushions, said a very astute young woman. Well, when one considers the matter it is really a wise piece of advice, for who does not need pins of all kinds, both early and often? If the said pincushion is generously supplied with a good variety and quality of pins, no matter how many other pincushions may be received, yours will be of use, for pins, like time, seem to have wings. They are here today, and tomorrow who knows where?

Each season, too, brings out new and attractive designs in which to fashion the useful pincushion. The pincushion of yesteryear can be easily recognized by the expert in fancy work.

The hanging pincushion illustrated is a dainty and useful trifle that will be appreciated by the traveler. It can be hung on the dresser, where it is always conveniently at hand and adds to the attractiveness of the barest hotel room. This pincushion is made of satin ribbon. It has a puffed border of inch wide ribbon made double by having two pieces of the ribbon sewed together and having eases on each edge through which cords may be run for drawing it up. The odd looking pendants with the ivory rings attached for the safety pins are gathered by running a few stitches first on one edge of the ribbon, then to the other, and drawing up the thread. In the center of the flower rows of small fancy pins are neatly inserted.

HANGING PINCUSHION.

Baskets are used in many ways in fashioning fancy articles. A charming use of a miniature wicker basket is illustrated here. This pincushion form was bought or made to fit the basket. This one was covered with satin and then with a layer of gold net. Two satin ribbons were woven in and out of meshes of the basket, and satin ribbon roses were used as decorations. The pins were arranged in the basket in carefully shaded rows.

BASKET PINCUSHION.

The flower pincushion is very popular this year. When making one of these try to select for it the favorite blossom of the person for whom it is being made.

One of the new kinds of pincushions is made to represent a wild rose. The center is a circle of cardboard thickly padded and covered with yellow velvet. Five large pink satin petals surround it, while, instead of a stalk, a loop of green velvet is attached with which to hang it on the wall.

Pincushions of embroidered linen are always nice and are easy to make, as almost every one can do a little simple embroidery.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

LAND COURT.

To Emile Badot, Mary A. Badot, Gene M. McCormick, Ellen B. Fegan, James Fegan, Walter R. Fegan, Lawrence J. Keegan, Ruth McGrath, John McGilvary, James J. Riley and Annie L. Newcomb, of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, and said Commonwealth; the City of Quincy, a municipal corporation located in said County of Norfolk; Herbert F. Doble, Special Administrator of the estate of Enoch H. Doble, late of said Quincy, deceased; Henry E. Sheldon, of Milton, in said County of Norfolk; Edward J. Fegan and Mary A. Fegan, of Rockland, in the County of Plymouth, and said Commonwealth; Albert J. Shackley, of Brooklyn, in the State of New York; Margaret A. Brown, of Pasadena, in the State of California; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by John B. McGilvray, of said Quincy, to register and confirm his title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situate in the westerly part of said Quincy, bounded southerly on Crescent street (formerly called Cemetery Street) sixty-nine feet; westerly on land now or late of one Anderson, formerly of the heirs of Edward Fegan ten rods, northerly on land now or late of one McCormick formerly of Robertson, seventy-five feet; and easterly on Hall Place ten rods; containing 11,880 square feet, more or less.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition, and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

You are hereby cited to appear at the Land Court to be held at Boston, in the County of Suffolk, on the twenty-ninth day of December A. D., 1913 at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, Charles Thornton Davis, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this eighth day of December in the year nineteen hundred and thirteen.

CLARENCE C. SMITH, Recorder.
Attest with Seal of said Court.
(Seal.)

Dec. 9-3t 9-16-23

ARTHUR L. THOMAS
Attorney-at-Law
3-4-5-6 Greenleaf Block
Telephone Quincy 460 Jan.2-1y

Here is Your Opportunity

7 room house with modern conveniences nicely situated on a fine street in Wollaston. To be sold very low at present.

Here is a chance to get into a good neighborhood. House is vacant and in perfect order to move right into. Three to five minutes to station, schools, stores, etc. Price $3,300. On terms.

HENRY W. SAVAGE
Real Estate, Boston.
E. C. HAYDEN, Local Representative
Telephone 1877-M Quincy.
Dec. 22-tf

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

FOR SALE
New Axes
20c each 3 for 50c
While They Last
L. GROSSMAN & SONS
Jackson Street
Near Quincy Adams Depot
Dec. 1-10-tf

SWITHIN
Real Estate
Mortgages-Insurance
Greenleaf Block
Quincy
Tel. Quincy 460. Nov. 10-tf

HOLMES & HALL
REPAIRERS OF HOUSEHOLD
FURNISHINGS
SHADES
DOOR BELLS
LOCKS and KEYS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents. No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

WANTED

WANTED—A horse for the winter, only a few hours work each day. Write P. M. Ledger office. 20-tf

WANTED—One large or 2 small unfurnished rooms with heat, gas and clothes closet. Address Z. care Ledger Office. 20-3t

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing. Myatt, 40 Baxter street. Tel. 1307-M. Quincy, Res. 22-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Glenwood No. 7, range. Fitted. Complete for hot water. Apply at No. 27 Cherry street, Quincy Point. 22-3t

PIANOS—Buy a piano. Several makes. Square man to trade with. Send postal and he will call. In your city every day. Walter H. Lyons, Randolph. 17-9t

FOR SALE—Land on Butler road or I can build you a house on it very reasonably, or will exchange for other real estate. John Bergfors, 65 Granite street. 18-6t

HORSE FOR SALE—Cheap, for want of use. H. H. I. Smith, 578 Commercial street, Weymouth Heights. Tel. Weymouth 105-1. 15-tf

FOR SALE or TO LET—New houses Apply to Thompson B. Crane, 403 Washington street, Quincy. 1-tf

WM. H. TEASDALE
REAL ESTATE
Insurance Mortgages
NOTARY PUBLIC JUSTICE OF THE PEACE
Room 23 Adams Building
Telephones {Residence 544-3 Offices 2-M

TO LET
Large Front Office Greenleaf Block—2 entrances—right at the head of the stairs—one of the most desirable offices in Quincy.
Office, Durgin-Merrill Block—3 large windows—only 1 flight up—exceptional opportunity.
Hancock Building—City Square Offices—small front office, $11 a month
Office—Hancock Chambers, 16x18 feet one flight up, very low rent.
Store House—off Granite St., in the rear of Greenleaf Block.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best Location in City)
Offices—Large or small.
Desk Room—Street floor, right in the rear of main entrance, good light and air, $5 up a month.
Transient Rooms—Well furnished and with care, $1 a day.
Furnished Rooms—With care steam heat, and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $6.50 per week

HALLS
Music Hall—Music Hall Block—Capacity 262—highest possible rating by the State. "Excellent" in every particular.
New Colonial Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—Capacity 240—the best possible location for a Hall.
Hancock Hall—Hancock Building City Square—Capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 21066) Quincy

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

QUINCY REGISTRY
FOR NURSES
20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.
Will supply trained and practical nurses, attendants and nursery assistants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.
MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar,
Tel. Quincy 131-W.

Read Ledger Ads

LOST

LOST—Jap Mink lady's collar in Quincy Square Sunday evening, Dec. 21. Person seen picking it up, please leave with starter. Reward. 23-1t

TO LET

TO LET—Lower flat, 5 rooms bath modern improvements in new house pleasantly situated in corner lot 29 Atherton street, Bigelow Park. Rent reasonable to right party. Inquire on premises. 22-3t

TO LET—Furnished or unfurnished large front room, smaller room adjoining suitable for physician. Furnished rooms $2.00 up. Steam heat all conveniences, 3 minutes from centre. 1 Adams street. 22-6t

TO LET—Flat of 5 rooms and bath at 197 Whitwell street. All improvements. Apply to John F. Anderson, 159 Whitwell street. 22-6t

HORSES TO LET—We will place with reliable people for the winter—two draft horses (for their keep)—Henry L. Kincaide & Co. 22-tf

TO LET—Single house six rooms and bath. All modern conveniences. Apply to P. J. Williams, 19 Independence avenue. 22-6t

TO LET—No rent before Jan. 1, tenement all modern improvements. Rent $18.75, near High School and car barn. Plenty of sunshine. C. W. Guy, 42 Butler road. 19-tf

TO LET—5 Parson street, lower floor, 5 rooms and bath, hard wood floors. Rent $16.00 ready January 1, 1914. Apply on premises or at 38 Independence Ave. 18-tf

TO LET—Flat 5 rooms and bath, first floor. All improvements. Nice location. 129 Independence avenue. Apply 60 Trafford street or Telephone Quincy 489-W. 17-6t

TO LET—Upper apartment of 7 rooms and bath, all improvements including set range and gas stove, now ready. Inquire, A. W. Parker, 87 Merrymount road. Tel. Quincy 258-1 16-tf

TO LET—48 Revere road two connecting rooms with kitchenette for housekeeping. Also a nice room with sun all day, two large closets. Hot water heat and bath. water heat and bath. 13-tf

UPPER APARTMENT. In two-family house on Spear Street. Five rooms, bath, large pantry and closets, also open attic with finished heated chamber. Every improvement, electric light, furnace, range etc. Ready for immediate occupancy. Telephone Quincy 278 M or enquire mornings of Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. lpo

TO LET—Tenement 4 rooms and bath all improvements, set range. Vacant Jan. 1, 1914. Apply 180 Franklin street. 10-12t

TO LET—173 Whitwell street, half house, modern conveniences, $20 per month. Ready for immediate occupancy. Apply Penniman's Stable, Granite street. 19-tf

TO LET—5 room tenement at 117 Quincy street, $20 per month. Apply Berman Furniture Co. 6-tf

RUSSELL PARK — Commodious house of seven rooms, large hall and bath. Modern, every convenience open fireplace, furnace, range, set tubs, electric lights, cemented cellar, etc. Best residential neighborhood. Ready for immediate occupancy. For further details or key see Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. tf lpo

TO LET—Houses of 5, 6 and 10 rooms. M. T. Sullivan. Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy, Mass. 11-tf

MISCELLANEOUS

RENT FREE—until Jan. 1st. Two adjoining houses, 28 and 30 Pleasant street to desirable tenants, who will agree to stay one year, or longer. $5.00 per week in advance. Stable for one horse if desired. $1.00 a week extra. Apply 36 Pleasant street. 5-tf

JAMES F. BURKE & CO.
Real Estate and Insurance
Care of Property. Mortgages
Justice of Peace. Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 885 M. Nov. 11-tf

Penniman's
TAXI SERVICE
Taxies and Touring Cars with careful and safe drivers to let for all occasions.
C. H. PENNIMAN, Prop.
Telephone 207.
June 13-tf

KINCAIDE THEATRE

At 2.30, 5, 10, 15c At 7.45, 10, 15, 25c

MON. TUES. WED.
Program Subject to Change

WHITTIER INCE & CO.
Presenting their Peerless Comedy Sketch entitled
"THE DOCTOR'S DILEMMA"

WELCH AMERI AN TRIO
Classy Singers of Classy Songs

DEMARSE & BOYER
Novelty Musical Duo

ROBIN
Tramp Juggling Comedian

PATHE WEEKLY
Pictures of world wide interest

"WHEN MOUNTAIN AND VALLEY MEET"
An Idyl--Pictured in two parts--
An artistic delight

OTHER PICTURES
And Lots of Good Music

WOLLASTON BOYS ARE FINED

Three Wollaston young men were brought into court this morning on complaint of Officer Thorne for disorderly conduct. They were Roy Nelson, William H. Berry and Sidney Hoyt. They were fined $5 each on account of costs and given until Jan. 10 to raise the money.

Theres have been many complaints from residents residing in the vicinity of Wollaston Park about the actions of the younger element and things have come to such a pass that nothing was safe, it even being charged that some of the bad boys were responsible for some of the petty breaks and thievery.

Some weeks ago Chief Burrell in order to cope with the gang made a shift in the police officers and Officer Thorne was transferred from the Quincy Point beat to this district. He was not long in getting onto the boys and the first results of his work were the hailing into court this morning of the three youths noted above. The police are determined to break up his gang if it takes the whole police force to do it.

☞White wrapping paper for doing up your Christmas gifts can be obtained at the Ledger-Patriot office for 20 cents a dozen sheets or by the single sheet at 2 cents per sheet.

QUALITY

All Quincy Stores lay great stress on the word "QUALITY." But quality is like Elastic, you can stretch it as far as your conscience will allow.

Our "Quality" consists of those Foods that have achieved a National Reputation, we try to carry the best of them.

Each Christmas for 14 years we have had the same mark of Turkeys. We had a case on exhibition Saturday, and they certainly created a good deal of favorable comment.

We solicit your order for one of these Birds with the Fixings.

We have them all.

J. PETERSON & CO.
394 Washington Street
Quincy
Dec. 2-3t

MORE TRIBUTES TO EX-MAYOR

Cornelius M. Duggan Writes of Man from the West

City Hal is to be closed tomorrow during the hours of the funeral of ex-Mayor William T. Shea. A special electric car will leave City Hall at about 10 o'clock to convey city officials and others to West Quincy to attend the funeral services.

Many prominent citizens are anxious to pay tributes to the ex-Mayor and the Daily Ledger prints several more today.

Judge Albert E. Avery said "I am pained to hear of the death of ex-Mayor William T. Shea. Not only has the City of Quincy lost an honored citizen, but I have sustained a personal loss. Mr. Shea and myself had been friends for many years and I esteemed him highly. As Mayor of Quincy he served the city with faithfulness and fidelity. He was a wise counselor and one known by all. He was a friend to everyone and everyone was his friend. Quincy has suffered a loss which it will be hard to fill.

Councilman Stephen B. Little expressed these sentiments:

"By the death of ex-Mayor Shea, Quincy has lost a sterling citizen. Diplomatic and tactful, for he was well fitted for public life, and had the faculty of controlling his feelings under trying conditions. He was an excellent son and brother. His loss will be universally felt in many ways. Our community can ill afford to lose a man of his character and ability."

Cornelius M. Duggan has written a few verses entitled, "The Man who came out of the West," which he prefaces with this tribute:

"At a complimentary dinner given to Mayor Shea by his official family at the City Club, Boston in January, 1912, City Solicitor J. W. McAnarney the toastmaster of the occasion, introduced the Mayor as "The man who came out of the West," (meaning thereby the West Quincy ward of our city.) Two years have now elapsed since that memorable night, when surrounded by friends and eminent citizens, he was the life and soul of the gathering They wished him success and many long years of happiness on his retirement from the duties and cares of public office. This untimely death will be mourned by all who admire true manhood sterling citizenship, temperate example, and all that goes to make an ideal leader of men. May his memory be an inspiration to the young men of today, to give the best in them to the service of God and country.

There's grief in the heart of the West tonight,
Her favorite son lies cold;
Famed Ward Four will follow no more,
Her chieftan brave and bold;
True, kindly, generous, lovable heart,
Too soon you have gone to rest;
Ah many's the tear, will moisten the bier,
Of the man who came out of the West.

Fair city of Quincy, he served you well,
As Mayor in City Hall;
The choice of his peers, four consecutive years,
His virtues you fondly recall:
Honest, impartial, with filial zeal,
In effort he gave you his best,
He was proud of your fame, and ennobled your name,
The man who came out of the West.

Courteous alike, to the rich and the poor,
Magnanimous, e'en to his foes,
You felt in the clasp of his hand, friendship's grasp,
As friend greeting friend only knows.
Humility, charity, attributes twain,
Were nurtured through life in his breast;
Passion and wrath he repelled from his path,
The man who came out of the West.

Great Father in Heaven, Thou know'st what is best,
Thy will (not thy children's) be done.
Thou'st promised, King Death, shall be vanquished by Faith,
And hope in Thy Nazarene Son;
E'en now while we mourn our neighbor and friend,
His soul doth commune with the blest,
The casket of clay will be soon laid away,
In its own native soil of the West.

Miss Adelaide Lynch of 266 North Central avenue left Saturday for New York where she will spend Christmas and New Years with her aunt Mrs. Hatch of Riverside drive. She will return to Wollaston about the second week in January.

SQUANTUM WAKED UP

(Continued from Page One.)

found that they had two fires to contend with. One was in the old Burkhardt estate now owned by Lotta Crabtree.

The second fire started in the cottage of E. P. Greser of Dorchester and started under the stairway in the same place as the morning fire. The cottage was situated some distance from the water mains and in spite of anything the firemen could do the building was destroyed entailing a loss of $500.

While the firemen were at work here, fire was discovered in the northeast corner of the Crabtree house and a squad of firemen were sent to cope with that fire. Its early discovery prevented this building from being much damaged the loss here being estimated at $75.

Chief litchfield was at the first fire when the fire in the Greser cottage was discovered and ordered a general alarm sounded which as stated above brought the central station apparatus to the scene.

It was well that this was done for the Central station auto chemical threw a tire when near the car barn on Hancock street and was considerably delayed while the Atlantic auto chemical got stuck in the mud.

It was while at the first fire that Chief Litchfield noticed two strangers among the spectators who were making unpleasant criticism of the work of the firemen and he directed that they be watched. The two fellows got away however and nothing more was seen of them until the fire in the Gieser cottage was discovered. Then one man was seen near the Crabtree estate and a few minutes later the fire started. This man was seen to start and run across the marshes through the mud toward Quincy.

Officer Nelson gave chase but was unable to overtake him. Jumping on a motor cycle however he gave chase over the road but the felow in the meantime had made good his excepe and had disappeared.

Although seen by many people at Squantum no one can give a very good description of him other than he was a young man and wore a heavy coat.

Inspector Goodhue was sent to Squantum while the first fire was in progress and when it was learned that a man had been seen running from the Crabtree estate he called the police patrol wagon which arrived in record breaking time.

A little later the wagon returned to the police station and Lieut. Hanson sent down a squad of police officers who will make a systematic search for the second man whose whereabouts has not as yet been learned.

Ever Youthful.

He doth not lack an almanac whose youth is in his soul.—Oliver Wendell Holmes.

A Brand New Production Of Actual Life On The Original MILLER BROS.
101 RANCH Bliss, Okla.
The Show That's Made All America Talk
REAL SCENES FROM FRONTIER LIFE
EXTRA! EXTRA!
THIS NEW PRODUCTION Never Shown Here Before! Don't Miss It!
REAL INDIANS
REAL COWBOYS
REAL COWGIRLS
Pickett, DUSKY DEMON OF OKLAHOMA
Only Man in Human History Who Ever FOUGHT BAREHANDED A SPANISH BULL
Reproduced in This Feature Production, and NOWHERE ELSE
Stampede and Round-Up of 50,000 Texas Steers
BRONCHO BUSTING
Daily Happenings at Ranch and Cow Camp
Real Indian Buffalo Hunt
Not the West Seen from a Car Window
But the land of cattle, corrals, cabins, cowtrails, coyotes.
The Feature Triumph of the Era!
A Show That Means Something!
Bring the children to see this Picture of real true Western Life. They will be interested, Amused and Instructed in "The Passing of the West."

MUSIC HALL

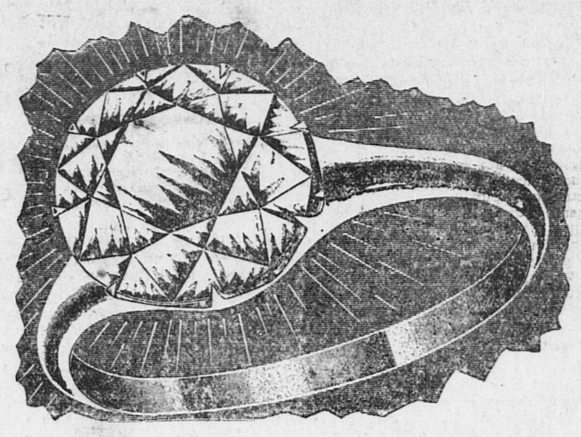
Christmas Matinee 2.30
Christmas Night 8.00
No Advance in Prices
23-2t

ARTISTIC EFFECTS

Are gained in every Box or Bouquet of Cut Flowers we arrange.
We have all the
POTTED PLANTS
that are in season such as
Poinsettias, Azaleas, Cyclamen, Primroses, Lorraine Begonias, etc.

CHRISTMAS WREATHS of all kinds.

JOHNSON, the Florist
City Flower Store, City Square
Dec, 18-6t



Diamonds and Watches

We are selling more Diamonds and Watches and Fine Jewelry than ever before, because we have got the largest stock, and the greater values to offer than any one, regardless of size. The Only Way for you to know the truth in this statement is to give us the lightest chance to talk to you and show our goods, and then you be the judge.

Diamonds

are an Investment as they are constantly increasing in value.

Diamonds can be purchased from some (so-called) Jewelers or mail-order houses at from $38.00 per carat and upwards and the same houses are apparently giving Watches and Jewelry away but if you call to see them they will work hard to sell a higher priced article as you absolutely do not want to buy the goods advertised The higher class goods is the only goods to buy and then comes the only one big question, where shall I go to get this and not pay the high prices for it. It is a study for you and for us it has been a constant study for 15 years.

Our Solution of this problem has been solved, and this is to make every customer know that they really profit by coming to us to make the purchase. We saved them money by Economical buying, one of the Sandbergs having held the buyers position the past year for the 7 retail Jewelers known as the United Jewelers. On Quantity orders is where the Manufacturers like to see us, and we all benefit from the results thereof.

We can sell Diamonds at $38.00 per carat and less if you want this class of goods. We have however only the Fine White Diamonds on hand and can sell these goods in 14k Solid Gold Ladies Rings from $3.75 each to $300.00 each

"SPECIAL"
14k Diamond Ring
$10.00

Arthur S. Waterman Fountain Pen
$1.00 $1.50

Waterman Ideal
$2.50 AND UPWARDS

The Parker Pen
$1.50 AND UPWARDS

Watches Watches

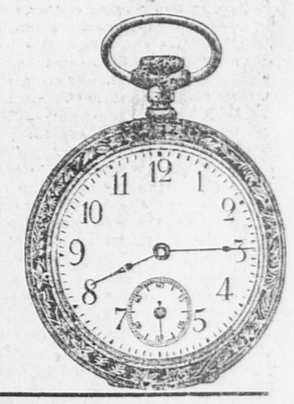
Gold Filled Watches warranted 10 years	$6.50
Gold Filled Waltham Watches warranted 20 years and upwards	$9.00
14 k. Solid Gold Ladies' Watches	12.50
14 k. Solid Gold Waltham Watches 15 Jewell Movements. Ladies' size	16.50
14 k. Our Special, Ladies' and Gents' sizes, 15 Jewe Waltham, Elgin. Extra Heavy Cases	$25.00



SANDBERG BROS., Jewelers
1281 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, MASS.

BRIEFS

The lecture in the Hall Place M. E. church Monday evening by Rev. Franklin Hamilton, D. D. of Washington, D. C., chancelor of the American University was not given owing to the enforced absence of the lecturer. The program will be carried out this evening.

☞White wrapping paper for doing up your Christmas gifts can be obtained at the Ledger-Patriot office for 0 cents a dozen sheets or by the single sheet at 2 cents per sheet.

Call Quincy 501--W

if you want your furniture, mattresses and cushions repaired in good order at low prices M. MIRKIN. upholsterer, 1060 Hancock stre t, near the Quincy High School
Dec. 1-1m

BIRTHS

JOHNSON—In Quincy, Dec. 22, a son to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson of Maple street.

SHERMAN—In Wollaston, Dec. 21, a son to Mr. and Mrs. Walwrath Y. Sherman of North Central avenue.

DEATHS

SHEA—In West Quincy, Dec. 22, Hon. William T. Shea, 56 years.
Funeral from his late residence, 279 Common street, West Quincy, Wednesday, Dec. 24, at 9.15 A. M. Solemn high mass of requiem at St. Mary's church at 10 o'clock. Relatives and friends respectfully invited to be present. 22-2t

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass.

QUINCY COUNCIL, NO. 96.

Knights of Columbus, regret to announce the death of their late brother HON. WILLIAM T. SHEA. Funeral will be held from his late residence, 279 Common street, Wednesday Dec. 24, at 9.15 A. M. Members are requested to attend.
WILIAM A. CAREY, Grand Knight,
DENNIS S. SWEENEY, Recorder.
Quincy, Dec. 23-1t

QUINCY LODGE B. P. O. E.

Members of Quincy lodge, 943 Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, are hereby notified of the death of our late brother HON. WILLIAM T. SHEA, and are requested to attend the funeral services to be held Wednesday, Dec. 24. Brothers are requested to meet at the home of our late brother 279 Common street at 8.15 A. M.
Per order,
PHILIP H. SULLIVAN, E. R.
WILLIAM S. GEORGE, Sect'y.
Quincy, Dec. 23 1t

NOTICE OF DISSOLUTION OF PARTNERSHIP.

Notice is hereby given that the partnership heretofore existing between Richard S. Williams and William R. Williams, both of said Quincy, under the firm name of Williams Bros., and carrying on the business of granite dealers and workers, is this day dissolved by mutual consent. All debts owing to the said partnership are to be received by, and all demands on the said partnership are to be presented to, the said William R. Williams who will continue the business under the above firm name.
RICHARD S. WILLIAMS.
WILLIAM R. WILLIANMS,
Quincy, Mass., Dec. 19, 1913.
23-3t

Non-negotiable.

Crawford — "Are those dollar watches any good?" Crabshaw—"They're all right, except when you're [illegible]"—Judge.

TRY A LEDGER AD

VERY ACCEPTABLE GIFTS

Just Arrived! Several New Styles and All of Them Beauties

PORTABLE GAS LAMPS
AND HALL LANTERNS
∴ ALSO ∴
"IWANTU" GAS IRONS
IN FANCY HOLLY BOXES

HEATS IN FOUR MINUTES. STAYS HOT ALL THE TIME. TEN HOURS IRONING FOR FOUR CENTS.

☞ Have you investigated the Reznor Gas Heating Stoves? Everything from the handy little portable to the superb fireplace heater.

CITIZENS' GAS LIGHT CO.
Granite Street Near City Squrae
Dec. 15 9t

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

LARGEST GUARANTEED CIRCULATION IN THE CITY

Vol. 28 No. 298 | QUINCY MASS. WEDNESDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 24 1913 | PRICE TWO CENTS

REIGN OF TERROR ENDED AT BOULEVARD AND SQUANTUM

ARREST FOLLOWS THREE DAYS' SCARE

Eighth Incendiary Fire Brings Work of Fire Fiend to an End

Herbert A. Whittaker Confesses and Implicates Another

The reign of terror which has prevailed in the Wollaston Park and Squantum district for the past few days is ended with the arrest of Herbert A. Whittaker, aged 19 years, of 17 Hamilton street, who after his arrest confessed to the police that he had set the seven fires which have kept the firemen on the jump since Sunday, and have caused untold uneasiness on the part of house owners along Wollaston beach and at Squantum.

The arrest came Tuesday night while the firemen were fighting a fire in a cottage on Hoey street, on the Pope estate bordering on the boulevard, owned by F. C. Mowry.

There were two alarms Tuesday night for the Mowry fire, the first being sounded from Box 5.13 at 7.22. This is the same box that had been sounded for two nights in succession for fires and as the apparatus speeded in response to the alarm they had visions of another incendiary fire.

WHO GAVE THE ALARM.

Arriving at the box no fire was found and they were about to start for home when word came that there was a fire at the other end of the boulevard. While at the box it was learned that a young lad had pulled in the alarm but he was nowhere to be seen. Taking the warning that there was a house on fire at the other end of the beach the apparatus sped along the boulevard toward Squantum street and were not long in locating the fire.

This fire like those of the past few days had been started beneath a stairway and was burning rapidly. The firemen quickly got to work and while busy at the fire someone rang in an alarm from Box 67 for the same fire. At that time the fire was practically under control, and one of the firemen rushing into the house informed Chief Litchfield that Box 75 had just sounded, the fireman having miscounted the box.

MIXUP ON BOX 67

Leaving the Atlantic and Wollaston apparatus in charge of this fire the Chief with the Central station auto chemical started for Box 75. On arriving there, no fire was found and they then went to Box 175 with the same result. On returning back to the Central station, the men there informed the Chief that it was Box 67 that had been pulled. The Chief then hastened back to the first fire.

Among those watching the fire was George W. Baker, a former member of the East Weymouth fire department, and a man with detective instincts. He remarked that he believed he knew the man who had started the fires and that he could get him before night.

Sergt. Philbrick of the Metropolitan police heard the remark and started to interview Baker, who turning and pointing to the garage of Charles N. Wood, nearby, remarked that would be a good place for a man to hide.

HIDING IN GARAGE.

A slight noise was then heard in the direction of the garage and at this time Sergt. Garret, also of the Metropolitan Park police, came up. These two officers started to investigate and discovering an open window in the garage, they climbed in. With the aid of a pocket searchlight they discovered Whittaker crouched in a corner.

He was immediately arrested and taken to the Quincy Shore station of the Metropolitan Park police where he readily admitted setting the fire, and said that the only thing that had bothered him was that it had taken longer than usual to start the fire, for it was sometime before he could collect shingles and paper enough to start a fire.

GIVEN THIRD DEGREE.

Before taking Whittaker to the Metropolitan Park station at Milton he was closely questioned about the other fires on Wollaston Beach and at Squantum, and is said to have admitted that he was the author of all but one.

The only fire he did not touch off was that at the bath house of John H. Johnson on Wollaston beach Monday night. He implicated a young man from Neponset as having started that fire, and armed with the information furnished the Boston police were communicated with, and it was expected that the second party in the matter would be under arrest before morning.

WHITTAKER'S RECORD.

Upon looking up the record of Whittaker the police found that he was originally a state ward and that he had been adopted by Mr. and Mrs. John S. Lyons. It is reported that the family have noticed that the young man was mentally unbalanced and that they had sought to have him sent away.

TALKED OF REWARD.

When informed later in the evening that their adopted son had confessed to setting the fires, Mr. Lyons said that the lad was mentally unbalanced. His adopted mother said that the lad had frequently talked of fires, and had remarked that he would be unable to collect the reward offered for the apprehension of the party who had been setting the fires, but they had no suspicion that he was the one who had been setting them.

BOYS GIVE CLEW.

It is said that Walter P. Jackson and Ralph Lyons, two 18 year old boys, who were playmates of Whittaker, gave the first clew which led to Baker's remark that he could locate the fire bug.

When the alarm from Box 513 sounded Tuesday night, Sergt. Bishop in charge of the Police station, sent the patrol wagon to the fire with a squad of officers, thinking that perhaps their services might be needed.

GENERAL ALARM.

The fires which have occurred with clock-like regularity in this neighborhood have aroused the citizens as they have never been aroused before and they, especially the women folk were in mortal fear lest their own homes should be fired. While the fire fiend had up to that time only applied the torch to unoccupied buildings, it was not known what he would do next, and that he might turn his attention to houses that were occupied. For this reason lights were kept burning in most of the houses while the men of the family got down their guns and were prepared to give the fire bug a welcome of hot shot.

SIX OR MORE FIRES.

The reign of terror began on Sunday night when the unoccupied cottage of Dr. J. Walter Forbush of Somerville, situated at 615 on the Boulevard was discovered in flames. This was strictly a summer cottage the partitions being of leather board. This fire was started in a closet under a stairway and was immediately pronounced as having been of incendiary origin. The alarm for this fire came from Box 513.

Monday evening the residents of the Boulevard district were again startled by an alarm from Box 513 which was followed in a few minutes by three blows, calling out the steamer. This fire was also in the unoccupied Harmony cottage on the Boulevard owned by Harry Bettoney of Roxbury and did a damage of about $4,000 before it was extinguished. While the department were at this fire and were making up ready to return to quarters a fire was discovered in the bath house of John H. Johnson at the other end of the beach. Chief Litchfield made a record run to this fire and arrived in time to see a young man dash around the corner and run away. The young man was pursued but in the darkness he got away.

THE SQUANTUM ALARMS.

Tuesday the fire fiend, who had been confining his operations to nights took an early start and before 8 A. M. had started a fire in the Seal Rock Inn at Squantum. This was a large building and unoccupied and as in other cases the fire had evidently started in a closet under the stairway.

Owing to the distance this building was located from the city water service the steamer from the Central station was called to this fire and did good work. Two boxes had been sounded for this fire, the second from Box 82 closely followed the alarm from Box 8.

TWO FIRES AT ONCE.

It was noon by the time this fire was out and the apparatus returned to quarters, but Chief Litchfield was still at the fire when an alarm was sounded from Box 8 which was quickly followed by an alarm from Box 81. This proved to be a fire in the summer cottage of E. P. Greser of Roxbury, situated half a mile from the Seal Rock Inn fire. The two alarms coming closely together acted as a general alarm and brought all the apparatus from the Central station in addition to that from Atlantic and Wollaston.

While the firemen were busy there it was discovered that old Burkhardt mansion on the hill, owned by Lotta Crabtree was also on fire and the department was divided between the two fires. The Greser cottage with its contents was destroyed but the fire in the Crabtree mansion was quickly extinguished with a small loss.

TWO MEN SUSPECTED.

It was at the Greser fire that Chief Litchfield first noticed two young men acting in rather a suspicious manner and directed that they be watched. They got away however and as it later turned out, they went to the Greser cottage and started a fire there and then to the Crabtree house. The boldness of the fire bug, made it evident that whoever the party was, he was evidently demented.

While at the Crabtree fire a young man was seen to start and run across the marsh toward Atlantic and special Officer Nelson gave chase, using a motor cycle in his efforts to overtake him. The fellow evidently hid in the woods and was not taken.

POLICE PROTECTION.

By this time the residents of Squantum had become thoroughly aroused and there were constant calls for police protection. Lieut. Hanson, who was in charge, sent a wagon load of officers to Squantum, and they under the direction of Inspector Goodhue and a quartette of newspaper reporters scoured Squantum thoroughly. The only thing that came of this combing was the holding up of two young men by Inspector Goodhue, who however were quickly able to prove to his entire satisfaction that they were not the parties wanted.

Tuesday night extra police officers were on duty at Squantum, and on the Boulevard near the scene of the first two fires, but the fire bug transferred his scene of action to a locality that was not so closely watched. Although there were several officers near by, and it was early evening with a number of people about, yet Whittaker managed to get by this guard and start the fire which resulted in his apprehension.

DISTRICT COURT.

James W. Bailey was sentenced to thirty days in the house of correction for drunkenness at Quincy.

Samuel Lindsay was fined $5 and Michael McAuliffe $10, for drunkenness at Quincy.

Herbert A. Whitaker of Quincy was arraigned on seven complaints for burning buildings at Quincy. He pleaded guilty on each ocmplaint and was held in $7,000 for the grand jury.

CHIEF ENGINEER LITCHFIELD.

Sunday evening,—Summer cottage of Dr. A. Waldo Forbush of Somerville; loss $1,000.

Monday evening,—Summer Cottage of Harry Bettoney of 127 Paul Gore st. Roxbury; loss $3,250.

Tuesday morning,—Scalrock Inn, owned by Sawyer and Amazeen; loss $4,000.

Tuesday afternoon,—House on estate of Lotta Crabtree; loss $75.

Tuesday afternoon,—Cottage of E. P. Greser of Dorchester; loss $500.

Tuesday evening,—Cottage of Fred C. Mowry; loss $200.

CHIEF OF POLICE BURRELL.

PLEADS GUILTY WHEN ARRAIGNED

Whittaker Held in $7,000 Bonds for the Grand Jury for Fires

George W. Baker Complimented for Detective Instinct

Although the fires were in Quincy they were along the Metropolitan Park reservation and the firebug was arrested by Park officers so that the Quincy police did not figure in any way in the arrest and no Quincy officers were at court this morning when the young man was arraigned.

The complaints were sworn out by Sergt. Garratt. Seven complaints were issued against him, each charging him with burning a building. Judge Pratt was on the bench and it was nearly 11 o'clock before the young man was arraigned.

It was expected that he would enter a plea of not guilty but he pleaded guilty on each complaint and was immediately held in $1,000 bonds on each, a total of $7,000 for the grand jury.

ACCOMPLICE AT LARGE.

The acomplice or Whittaker has not as yet been apprehended as the information furnished by him to the police Tuesday night did not materialize as was expected. Whittaker told the police that a chum who resided in Neponset had set the Johnson bath house fire, and the Boston police were asked to locate the fellow. They were not successful however and the second man, if there was one has not as yet been apprehended.

Some doubts were expressed this morning if he did have an accomplice and if he did as some of the police are inclined to believe the second man does not live where Whittaker says he did.

WAS AT TORREY FIRE.

The fire at the Torrey house at Wollaston on Saturday morning last is thought to have crazed young Whittaker. He was at that fire, and the incendiary fires for which hewas responsible began Sunday evening.

Hamilton street where young Whittaker resided runs parallel with Beach street between Billings road, and Rawson road, only a short distance from the Boulevard.

"DETECTIVE" BAKER

It was solely due to the natural detective instinct of George W. Baker, president of the Atlantic Improvement society, that led to the arrest Tuesday night of the young fire bug. Mr. Baker said this morning to a Daily Ledger reporter, that he always had a kind of detective instinst and that he had once been told by a phrenologist that was the profession he should follow.

Mr. Baker said this morning that he lived next house to that burned last night and that he was fearful lest his own house would be fired, especially as the house of Charles N. Wood had been entered a few days ago and some small articles stolen. While watching the fire it came across him that the party who set the fire would not be far away, and that possibly he would visit the scene later in the night and fire the Wood place. He thought that the Wood garage would be an ideal place for the fellow to hide, and suggested to Sergt. Philbrick that it would be a good idea to search the garage.

HELPED IN SEARCH.

In company with Sergt. Philbrick they went to the garage and opening one of the blinds were surprised to find that the top sash was open. While standing talking, Mr. Baker's ear caught the sound of footsteps in the garage and turning to the officer who had not heard the steps, said, "The fellow is in there now."

Mr. Baker went after Sergt. Garratt while Sergt. Philbrick stood guard, and when he came back the latter climbed over the top sash into the garage and found Whittaker hiding under a bench. It seems that Whittaker had opened the blinds and window and crawled in, after which he had closed the blinds and placed a piece of board so as to hold the lower sash in position.

THE QUINCY GIFT

The Most Appropriate Christmas Gift to Residents and Lovers of Quincy are the

ILLUSTRATED BOOKS ABOUT QUINCY

By the Rev. D. M. Wilson

WHERE AMERICAN INDEPENDENCE BEGAN. $2.25

ILLUSTRATED SKETCH OF QUINCY AND BRAINTREE.

Board Covers 50c. Paper Covers 25c

For Sale by Brown & Co., Quincy; G. C. Shunk, Wollaston; Branschied & Martens Atlantic.

Dec. 13-6t-13-15-17-2"-22-24-n-2w

MORE TRUTHS.

Do not let the worry of Christmas Dinner spoil the Best Day of the year

Let Us Take Care of your What-to-Eat Worry

Begin NOW. Thanksgiving was our Biggest and Best.

Not One single complaint about Our Turkeys.

Why? Oh! Just JOHNSON BROS!

Masters of Details. High Quality. Experienced Clerks.

This is the True Remedy for all your Food Worries.

We will be here CHRISTMAS Nuff Sed.

JOHNSON BROS. Johnson Building City Square

Dec. 18 6t

MUSIC HALL

A Brand New Production Of Actual Life On The Original MILLER BROS.

Christmas Matinee 2:30
Christmas Night 8.00
No Advance in Prices

23-2t

Auction Sale of Household Furniture, Dec. 31, 1913

At 9 o'clock A. M.

Kincaide's Storage Warehouse

Off Granite Street, Quincy

Will be sold at Public Auction to satisfy lien for storage charges; a certain lot of Household Furniture now stored in the name of formerly of North Abington, Mass., consisting of Two Parlor Tables, One Leather Chair, One Office Chair, One Lounge, One Rocker and other articles.

WILLIAM O'BRIEN

Also, Goods stored in name of

A. M. MORTON

(formerly of Quincy), consisting of One Bureau, Two Beds, Springs and Mattresses, Two Sewing Machines, Three Chairs, Easels and other articles.

Dec. 17-2t 1"-24

VERY ACCEPTABLE GIFTS

Just Arrived! Several New Styles and All of Them Beauties

PORTABLE GAS LAMPS

AND HALL LANTERNS

.·. ALSO .·.

"IWANTU" GAS IRONS

IN FANCY HOLLY BOXES

HEATS IN FOUR MINUTES. STAYS HOT ALL THE TIME. TEN HOURS IRONING FOR FOUR CENTS.

Have you investigated the Reznor Gas Heating Stoves? Everything from the handy little portable to the superb fireplace heater.

CITIZENS' GAS LIGHT CO.

Granite Street Near City Squrae

Dec. 15 9t

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1869

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second-Class matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the . . . .

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

TELEPHONES
News . . . Quincy 425
Business . . Quincy 1910

HOLIDAY NOTICE.

Christmas Day will be observed as a holiday by the Daily Ledger, the office of publication being closed all day. No paper will be issued. A Merry Christmas to all!

A fellow could get some room in his closet, if Christmas did not come along and fill it up with embroidered laundry bags.

Miss Margaret Wilson is trying to encourage useful Christmas giving. After the automobiles have been distributed, no doubt a good many barrels of flour will be sent around.

The way the New York Legislature has behaved since the election is strikingly suggestive of the feeling in Sunday school just before Christmas.

The thing that worries most people at Christmas time is how to make a 99 cent present look as if it cost $3.50.

Even Washington does not take kindly to "Presidents" as a name for its fashionable boulevard. The National House has voted to restore the old name of "Sixteenth street" to the boulevard for two years known as "Avenue of the Presidents." If Goffe street is to be changed in 1914 we suggest "Avenue of the Presidents" instead of "Presidents lane."

THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT.

In spite of all you may say against Christmas as it is observed, it has saved more of the original spirit of the festival than any other public celebration.

Thanksgiving day may have been turned from prayerful devotion into overeating, July 4 from a day of national consciousness into coarse disturbance of the peace. But Christmas still sparkles with the mirth of children, the worshipful romance of carol music and a spirit of universal friendliness.

Christmas draws the big crowds of the year to the churches. Not merely are elaborate and stately anthems performed, but the carol music now so popular is a remarkable survival of old folk songs. These spring from the life of the people and are sung in our churches to-day as they were sung in castle and cottage in Europe centuries ago. Something about these songs, their quaint tang, their picturesque, rhythmical, and harmonic originality, has made them live through the ages, and still sets the heart to dancing.

In the homes there is ever new fascination for the child heart. The rush of the kidlets at early dawn, to see what Santa has left in the stocking, is just as impetuous as ever. The old folks must be getting pretty crusty and crabbed if they don't feel some reflection from this child merriment.

Christmas greens and the candle lighted tree make a fairyland for the small folks. For older people they bring the charm of nature into the homes, and suggest the eternal newness and hope of the Christmas story.

The embattled store clerks, post office and express employes are the off side of it all. Yet a wealth of sensible and unselfish giving is done. A great many poor people receive substantial offerings that bring comfort and sympathy to meager homes.

NOTABLE FUNERAL EX-MAYOR SHEA

Solemn High Mass of Requiem Largely Attended by City Officials and Citizens

Floral Tributes Exceeded Anything Ever Seen in This City

Hon. William T. Shea, the only Mayor of Quincy ever elected four consecutive terms, was tenderly honored in death this morning by her citizens. All denominations and creeds were at his funeral which was held from his home at 279 Common street. An escort of nearly 300 preceded the hearse and over 500 were in the procession St. Mary's church, where a solemn high requiem mass was celebrated was completely filled and among those present were many out of town friends as well as Quincy people.

As the funeral left the home, the age of the honored gentleman was tolled on the fire alarm signals and City Hall, o'er which a flag hung at half mast was closed also other places of business. Headed by a platoon of police under Chief Frank E. Burrel and Captain Daniel R. McKay, the long line travelled over Common street to Copeland to Crescent to the church entrance. There the escort divided and the casket and its remains were carried between the lines

Rev. Fr. Thomas R. McCoy, pastor of St. Mary's church, was celebrant of the mass. Rev. Fr. Henry T. Grady formerly pastor, now of St. Joseph's church of Somerville, was deacon, and Rev. Fr. John P. Cuffe pastor of the Sacred Heart church of Atlantic, was sub deacon. Rev. Fr. William J. Duffy, curate at St. Mary's church, was master of ceremonies.

Seated within the chancel were Monsignor Ambrose F. Roche of Watertown, Rev. Fr. John J. Power of Cambridge and Rev. Fr. John L. Callahan of Waltham, former curate at St. Mry's church; Rev. Fr. James McNiff of Atlantic, Rev. Fr. William T. Deasey of Randolph, Rev. Fr. Francis Walsh of Reading.

Music for the mass was the Gregorian chant, under the direction of Miss Fannie Cronin, by the regular choir. Miss Alice Foley, soloist rendered De Profundis and Pie Jesu.

The bearers were James H. Elcock representing St. Francis court, M. C. O. F.; Peter Gilraine of Div. 22, A. O. H.: Lewis J. White and John F. Walsh of the Quincy lodge, B. P. O. E. and John W. McAnarney and Timothy J. Carey of Quincy council, Knights of Columbus.

The escort included Mayor Eugene R. Stone, President Joseph L. Whiton of the City Council and practically all officials of the entire city government.

Hon. Russell A. Sears, Hon. Henry O. Fairbanks and Hon. John O. Hall three ex-Mayors were present. The latter, with George F. Pinkham, Herbert T. Whitman and John C. Kapple represented the first city council of the city to which Mayor Shea was elected from Ward four.

Large delegations from St. Francis Court, M. C. O. F., Quincy Council, Knights of Columbus, Div. 22, A. O. H. and Quincy lodge, B. P. O. E., and the Holy Name Society of St. Mary's parish.

Before the body was taken from the house the ritual of the Elks was read by Chaplain Charles Gould assisted by Exalted Ruler Philip T. Sullivan and the officers . Music during the service was by the Temple quartette.

Quincy Board of Trade was represented by President John L. Hamilton, Walter E. Piper, Frank F. Crane. There was a general attendance of the merchants of the city. The Granite Manufacturers Association was represented by its secretary, Thomas J. Dunphy and Secretary Charles Daley of Medford was the delegate of the Middlesex County Branch of the Feueration of Catholic Societies and Parishes.

Others present were Hon. J. Edward Barry, mayor of Cambridge, Edward T. Quinley, and John L. Holt, superintendent and chief clerk respectively of the street department of that city, Daniel H. McGuire, high secretary-treasurer and Joseph T. Brennan, high senior conductor of the M. C. O. R., Hon. William S. McNarey, Edwin Muiready of Rockland, state deputy commissioner of probation; Samuel T. MacQuarrie, of the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation; John T. Conway and Thomas L. Gammons of the Bay State Street Railway Co., Senator-elect Louis F. R. Langelier, A. F. Bromley of the Y. M. C. A Charles Knowlton and Thomas F. Burke former Commissioners of Public Works of Quincy.

The ushers at the church were Robert J. Teasdale, John Connelly, M. Vincent Reardon, Edward T. Monahan, John A. Duggan, W. Henry Donaher, Charles J. McGilvray and William A. Carey.

An air of sadness pervaded the home of ex-Mayor Shea and the church and even after the remains had been interred in the family lot in West Quincy beside his parents, for whom his love and affections never waned, hundreds stood about the grave expressing their deep respect and eloquent love for their genial friend and comrade, "Bill Shea."

There was no pronounced eulogy but the tributes of friends, many from early childhood were affecting. Even those friends of his mature years stood by as the earth gradually covered the casket and sorrowfully bowed their heads with those who survive him.

But a short distance from the grave stood Dennis Meuse, one of the few remaining Indians of the Mic Mac tribe who became a registered citizen so that he could cast his vote for "Bill Shea" for mayor, and surrounding him were little children who gazed with wondering eyes on the large framed weeping American Indian who was not as devoid of sentiment as they suposed.

Many and handsome were the floral tributes and none were more significant than the representation of the Mayor's chair from the Hebrews of the city. The pieces were carried from the house to the grave in an open barouche. Among the remembrances were:

Among the floral tributes were:

St. Marys C. T. A. & M. R. Society,—standing cross.

St. Francis court, M. C. O. F.,—pillow of lillies, roses and ferns, marked "Brother."

Quincy council K. of C.,—standing cross.

Quincy lodge, B. P. O. Elks,—standing roses.

Granite City Club,—wreath of roses.

Paving Cutters,—broken column of ivy and violets.

Street Department of City,—gates ajar.

Lady clerks at City Hall,—bouquet of roses.

Quincy Board of Trade,—wreath of roses.

Granite Trust Co.,—wreath of roses and ivy.

City Council,—wreath of roses.

Police Department,—wreath of ivy.

Hebrews of Quincy,—vacant chair.

Washington M. French Hose Co.,—wreath of Killarney roses.

Municipal Dock Commission,—spray of pinks and roses.

His Appointees at City Hall,—standing crescent and sickle.

Quincy Yacht Club,—wreath of roses.

Rev. H. T. Grady,—Richmond roses and orchids.

Rev. J. P. Cuffe,—Richmond roses and ivy.

Mayor Eugene R. Stone,—wreath of Killarney roses.

Ex-Congressman and Mrs. Wm. S. McNary,—spray of roses and ivy and violets.

President and Mrs. J. L. Whiton,—spray of pinks and roses.

City Solicitor J. W. McAnarney,—standing cross.

Ex-Mayor and Mrs. Charles M. Bryant,—spray of roses and pinks.

Granite Manufacturers Association,—standing wreath and anchor.

City Physician and Mrs. J. H. Ash,—wreath of roses.

City Clerk and Mrs. E. L. Crane,—spray of roses.

Chief Assessor and Mrs. W. W. Adams,—spray of roses.

Sealer of Weights and Measurers, J. M. Cantfill,—cross of roses.

Overseer of Poor and Mrs. J. H. Elcock,—wreath of pinks.

Dr. George M. Sheahan,—wreath of pinks.

Mrs. J. M. Sheahan,—wreath of pinks.

W. H. Cobb,—wreath of pinks.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Murphy,—wreath of pinks.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Carey,—wreath of roses.

Mr. James Dillon and family,—wreath of pinks.

Mr. Bernard Donaher and family,—wreath of pinks.

Cousins Lou., George and Gladys,—standing cross.

H. F. Doble and family,—wreath of pinks and roses.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Loud,—spray of pinks and orchids

Mr. Wm. Loud, spray of pinks.

Mr. P. Malone Sullivan,—spray of pinks.

The Walsh family,—wreath of roses.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Sheilds,—wreath of Chrysanthemums.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cashman,—standing harp.

Miss Annie N. English,—bouquet of roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis J. White,—wreath of roses.

Mr. Fred L. Zoller,—wreath of roses.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Collins,—spray of roses.

John D. Smith,—wreath of roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Finn,—wreath of pinks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Coughlin,—wreath of roses.

Miss Annie Scollard,—wreath of roses.

Mrs. J. F. Burke and Miss Mary Burke,—column of ivy and lilacs.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Y. Woodbury,—wreath of roses.

Mrs. William Burns and the Misses Burns,—Spiritual Boquet.

George W. Holden,—spray of pinks.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph N. Kennedy,—spray of roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Phillips,—wreath of roses.

A. H. Dunhan and J. R. S. Ross,—wreath of roses.

William Powers,—plaque of Killarney roses.

Mr. and Mrs. William Reardon,—spray of lillies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. William Cashman,—standing wreath.

Dr. and Mrs. J. T. Reynolds,—wreath of roses.

Mrs. Annie Connolly and Miss Taft,—wreath of roses.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Dunphy,—wreath of roses.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Derringer,—flat bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter McKenzie,—spray of roses.

☞PRATT'S BREAD—try it with a bowl of milk and blueberries. All grocers.

QUALITY

All Quincy Stores lay great stress on the word "QUALITY." But quality is like Elastic, you can stretch it as far as your conscience will allow.

Our "Quality" consists of those Foods that have achieved a National Reputation, we try to carry the best of them.

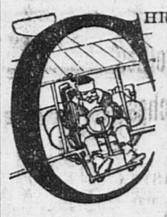
Each Christmas for 14 years we have had the same mark of Turkeys. We had a case on exhibition Saturday, and they certainly created a good deal of favorable comment.

We solicit your order for one of these Birds with the Fixings.

We have them all.

J. PETERSON & CO.
394 Washington Street
Quincy
Dec. 22-3t

A REAL PRESENT FOR CHRISTMAS



CHRISTMAS DAY had dawned as clear and sparkling as all such days should. To be sure, in the sunny southland there was no snow, and the children had to content themselves with a visit from Santa Claus in a very up to date aeroplane, but this did not matter. Even the humble cabin home of Thomas Jefferson had not been passed by, and the delighted faces of the little colored children testified that the dear saint's gifts had exceeded their wildest expectations.

Now came the most important question of the day. Everybody knows that Christmas dinner is very different from any other meal and must be planned for accordingly. But it happened that these small brothers and sisters of Thomas Jefferson, who was not very big himself, must be left to his care today, while his mammy went to the big house and helped get ready for the company. Thomas Jefferson was allowed to go along with his mammy, for he was to bring back a basket filled with dinner for himself and the others. So he walked with her very happily.

At the house pretty Miss Clarissa saw that the basket was filled.

Thomas Jefferson fairly staggered under the weight of his basket when he at last turned off to the woods. As he went he heard Miss Clarissa's sweet voice ring out in a Christmas carol and, looking back, caught sight of her seated at the piano beneath a great bunch of holly and mistletoe. These were the words he heard her sing: "And pray a gladsome Christmas for all good Christian men!" It was an old carol, and Thomas Jefferson had never given much thought to the meaning of it before, but now as he walked along with so many good things the little fellow felt so grateful that he longed to share his blessings with some one less fortunate. The woods seemed deserted, however, and Thomas Jefferson reached his cabin without meeting any one.

CHILDREN CROWDED ABOUT.

The children crowded about him eagerly, and all could hardly wait until he had opened the basket, spread the cloth and dished the dinner. Thomas Jefferson was most particular as to how he did this. Each plate must contain an exact share of the good things. Just so much turkey, just so much sauce, just so many vegetables. All were beginning with great enjoyment when a knock came at the door.

"I'll see who 'tis," said Thomas Jefferson. "You chillen just go right along wid yo' dinner."

It was a very ragged boy that stood in the doorway of the kitchen. Miserably poor and hungry he looked, and Thomas Jefferson's heart went out to him.

"If you would please give me a bit to eat," he said, "I will be very grateful. I have come a long way and have still a good way to go."

Thomas Jefferson hesitated. His mammy did not approve of giving to tramps. He had no right to give her food away. Then he thought of the dinner on his plate. That was his own without any doubt. He returned to the table, the words of the carol still ringing in his head. The children were too busy to notice that he took the plate from the table and returned with it empty. Then he set about helping the pudding. When one is very hungry and has one's mouth set for turkey and substantial good things, even delicious plum pudding does not quite satisfy. But Thomas Jefferson, remembering the carol, tried to imagine that he felt quite full. He did feel very glad to have helped some one on this glad day and so played with the new games all afternoon with a right good will.

MISS CLARISSA SAW THAT THE BASKET WAS FILLED.

But the amount of corn bread and bacon he devoured at supper time made his mammy exclaim, "Well, it do beat all, Thomas Jefferson, how much boys can eat after all that Christmas dinner!"

Capital $150,000 Surplus $200,000

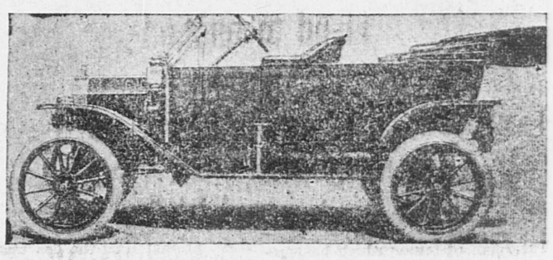
"THE SECRET OF SUCCESS IS TO BE READY FOR ONE'S OPPORTUNITIES"—DICKENS.

It is not enough to know an opportunity when you see it; you must be prepared to grasp it and make it your own.

Moral: A Bank account helps you to be ready for opportunities.

Our $5 Box is Larger Than a $10 Box in Boston.

GRANITE TRUST CO.
FOUNDED 1836



THE QUINCY GARAGE, 87 Adams Street, Quincy
Agent for FORD and CASE CARS
A full Line of Supplies always on hand
Michelin Tires in stock
Now Ready for Delivery the 1914 Ford Car, $550 for 5 Passenger, $500 for Runabout, $750 for Town Car F. O. B. Detroit.
For Particulars or Demonstration call Quincy 435
Night or Day never closed. C. P. COULC, Prop.
Dec. 12-lo-tf

Pretty Christmas Boxes
and Choice Chocolates
At EMANUEL'S CANDY STORE
Fresh Christmas Candy, 10 cents
Other Candies from 25 cents up
Dec. 20-4t

CHRISTMAS LULLABIES.

Songs Popular at Yuletide Season Traced Back For Centuries.

Christmas lullabies to the Divine Child may be traced back to medieval times. In one of the Coventry plays occurs what is plainly a cradle song to the infant Jesus, which has been preserved in music as well as in text.

Five hundred years ago the mere picture did not suffice the faithful. The scene had to be enacted. The little play was called "The Cradling of the Child." Standing on a platform above the manger, boys representing angels proclaimed the birth of the Saviour. Priests took the part of shepherds and gathered around the manger. Here stood Joseph, Mary and the servant of Joseph.

After the choir had sung hymns, among them "Christus Natus Hodie," Mary sang the first verse of the German song, "Joseph, dear Joseph mine, help me to rock my babe, that God may reward me in heaven—the Babe of the Virgin Mary." Joseph answered with the second verse of the song, "Gladly, my dear nurse, will I help thee rock thy babe, that God may reward me in heaven," etc. The servant sang: "Rejoice, Christian multitude. The King of heaven, who was born of the Virgin Mary, has taken on mortality."

And so the scene in the churches went on every Christmas.

"KNECHT RUPERT" WAS GERMAN SANTA CLAUS

The Santa Claus idea has grown out of a variety of legends and customs. The festival of St. Nicholas, who was the especial friend of the children, was celebrated in Germany about the 6th of December. It was easy enough to make this coincide with the later and more general festival. The tangible Santa Claus was called "Knecht Rupert," and usually he was some member of the family dressed up to represent a beneficent gift giver. It was the custom to have a yew bough placed in the parlor of the German home, and on this all the packages containing gifts were placed. On Christmas morning the whole family assembled to claim the gifts, each having to guess the donor. "Knecht Rupert" distributed the gifts to the younger children, but he lectured them also on obedience and good behavior, and, if any one had been bad, instead of a gift he or she was given a switch that they might be punished. So the little Germans try hard to be very good before Christmas.

☞PRATT'S BREAD is liked by the most discriminating people. Grocers sell it.

Those Who Rely on the great home remedy which has proved its power to relieve safely and speedily the minor ailments arising from defective or irregular action of the organs of digestion, find themselves spared hours of suffering and able to withstand the attacks of serious sicknesss.

BEECHAM'S PILLS

never disappoint those who take them. They help the digestion, stimulate the liver, clear the kidneys and regulate the bowels. By purifying the blood they increase cheerfulness and create confidence. As actions depend on health and strength, those who know Beecham's Pills

Enjoy Life

Sold everywhere. In boxes, 10c., 25c.
Beecham's Pills have the largest sale of any medicine in the World.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

WHAT THEY ARE DOING AND SEASONS' PLANS

News of Women's Clubs is a feature of the Daily Ledger every Wednesday. Secretaries of organizations should send notices of club activities, to reach the Club Editor not later than Tuesday night to insure insertion the next day.

Wollaston Alliance is to pass the last day of the old year in a delightful way. At 12.30 there is to be a luncheon followed by a New Year's reception.

* * *

The December meeting of the Hospital Aid Association is omitted this month because of the Christmas holidays.

* * *

Abigail Phillips Quincy Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution of Wollaston has a large affair planned for New Year's day when a reception is to be given the officers of the State Society at the home of the regent Mrs. E. E. Jameson, 58 Beach street, Wollaston Park.

* * *

Mrs. Thompson B. Crane, secretary of the Quincy Women's Riverside club, is chairman of the committee having in charge the afternoon hurdy gurdy party at the clubhouse on Wednesday Dec. 31. It promises to be one of the pretty affairs of the holiday season.

* * *

The Friday club meets next week with Mrs. William E. Alden of Chestnut street as the hostess and Miss Edith Randall and Mrs. Henry M. Faxon the committee. Italian poets —Leopardi, Guisti and Carducci will be taken up for study.

* * *

QUINCY WOMEN'S CLUB.

The philanthropy committee united with the social and industrial committee of the Wollaston Women's club and the philanthropy committee of the Riverside Women's club in a Christmas visit to the Quincy Home Tuesday. Mrs. Fred Bartlett of the Quincy Women's club, gave readings and there was music. Gifts of boxes containing candy, nuts and cake were distributed to the inmates, and it was a happy occasion.

What will undoubtedly be one of the most enjoyable meetings of the Quincy Women's club this season is the next one scheduled for Tuesday afternoon Dec. 30 at Alpha hall, and in charge of the program committee, Miss Edith Randall, chairman. Coming in the holiday season it will partake of a festival character and be enjoyable to club members and guests.

Miss Alice Barnard Diaz who will give folk dances with incidental folk songs, is a charming and skilful dancer and her costumes are not only correct but very beautiful. The folk songs will be rendered by Mrs. Laurance H. Sturtevant, Mrs. Frank J. Moore and Mrs. Royal Turner. Six daughters of the club in costume of different countries will usher.

Invitations have gone out from Mrs. H. H. Kitson and her committee for the annual Twelfth Nnght Revels on Jan. 16th. This year so large a party is anticipated to take part in the frolic that the affair is to be held at Music hall.

* * *

ATLANTIC SHAKESPEARE SO.

At its next meeting, New Year's day the Atlantic Shakespeare Society will begin the reading of another play, "Measure for Measure" with the following cast:

Vincentio,	Miss Hinkley, Mrs. Gurney
Angelo,	Mrs. Cecil Marble
Ecsalus,	Mrs. Harry W. Reed
Claudio,	Mrs. Elizabeth Cook
Lucio,	Mrs. F. J. Peirce
1st. Gentlemen,	Mrs. W. W. Whitcher
2d. Gentlemen,	Mrs. Thedore Parker
Provost,	Mrs. Charles L. Coe
Thomas,	Mrs. Parker
Peter,	Mrs. Whitcher
A Justice,	Mrs. Parker
Varrius,	Miss Cook
Elbow,	Mrs. Edward S. Tenney
Froth,	Mrs. Coe
Pompey,	Mrs. Walter A. Jackson
Abhorson,	Mrs. N. J. Nickerson
Barnadine,	Mrs. Frederick A. Bartlett
Isabella,	Mrs. William F. Cummings
Mariana,	Mrs. Elijah G. Hall
Juliet,	Mrs. Bartlett
Francisca,	Mrs. Coe
Mistress Overdone,	Mrs. Nickerson
Messenger,	Mrs. Parker

Act one will be taken up at the Jan. 1 meeting with Mrs. Jackson as chairman and Comments on the play—Boas, will be given by Mrs. Gurney.

CLUB WOMEN AT QUINCY HOME

Carry Christmas Cheer and Distribute Gifts to Inmates

The Quincy, Wollaston and Riverside Women's clubs united in making a holiday visit to the Quincy Home Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Levi Turner acting for the Philanthropy committee of the Quincy Women's club in a very pleasing manner greeted the inmates of the home, making them feel that the club women came as their friends to bring them Christmas cheer.

Singing by a chorus of young ladies from Wollaston followed and was greatly enjoyed. The members of the chorus were Miss Priscilla Robinson, Miss Dorothy Atwood, Miss Gretchen Horst, Miss Martha Robinson, Miss Dorothy Sprague, Miss Helen Thompson, Miss Anna Weston, Miss Helen Moulton, Miss Katherine Reed and Miss Priscilla White. Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, president of the Quincy Women's club accompanied on the organ.

Mrs. Arthur D. Ropes, president of the Wollaston Women's club, then made a graceful presentation of flowers to Mrs. Vaughn, matron of the home, expressing for the clubs represented appreciation of the matron's faithful fulfillment of duties.

Mrs. George F. Spooner, president of the Riverside Women's club, assisted by Mrs. Charles S. Adams, chairman of social and industrial committee of the Wollaston club, Mrs. George E. Sprague, chairman of the philanthropic committee of the Riverside club, and Mrs. Frank A. Emery of the Philanthropy committee of the Quincy club then distributed gifts to the inmates of the home, the name of each being called. The gifts were received with delight, the men especially being pleased with the cigars received.

An intermission followed, during which the club members visited and chatted informally with the old people.

After the intermission Mrs. Fred Bartlett of Norfolk Downs a member of the Quincy club read, "The children's Christmas prayers," beautifully portraying the pathos of the selection.

Singing by the chorus of young ladies was again enjoyed.

Mrs. Bartlett for her second number read, "Aunt Jemima's courtship" which filled her listeners with unrestrained mirth, as did also her encore number "When paw was a boy."

After more singing by the chorus Christmas boxes containing fruit, cake, and candies were distributed. These boxes the members of the Home were allowed to take to their rooms for individual enjoyment.

The visit was one of mutual enjoyment and benefit to the old people in the Home and to the kind hearted philanthropic visitors and the many club women whom they represented, for such philanthropy as this "is twice blest. It blesseth him that gives and him that takes."

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

CHRISTMAS TREE FESTIVALS

Many Novelties Introduced in Churches This Year

WOLLASTON UNITARIAN.

The Christmas entertainment of the Wollaston Unitarian Sunday school took place Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock when an extravaganza "Christmas of all nations" was presented.

The scene showed the Land of Father Christmas and this gentleman had as his guests two American children. Children of other nations came bringing gifts. The setting was entirely in white and with its sparkle and glitter proved a striking background for the vari-colored costumes of the players.

One of the novelties of the production were the many gifts that appeared. These were some nineteen tiny tots dressed up to represent different artieles. Three of them the doll, drum and candy box sang songs or recited.

The cast was:

Father Christmas—Everett Simmons.
American Boy—John Tribou.
American Girl—Judith Page.
Starlight—Verna Carr.
Sleighbell—Richard Moulton.
Aurora—Hope Robinson.
German—Arlene Holmes
Italian—Helen Thomas.
Spanish—Sidney Simmons.
Dutch—Mildred Geddes.
Scotch—Ned Sweetser .
Chinese—Arber Taylor.
Japanese—Virginia Bishop.
English—Bradford Thompson.
French—Frances Carr.

After the extravaganza the distribution of candy for the children of the school was made by Father Christmas and numerous assistants. Each child brought a gift for some poor person.

PARK AND DOWNS.

The Christmas tree celebration of the Park and Downs Sunday school was held in the vestry Monday afternoon and evening.

At 4 o'clock the tots of the kindergarten class were entertained with a tree under the direction of Mrs. James A. Boone. Justin Hill appeared as Santa Claus.

A 8 o'clock a concert program was enjoyed consisting of readings by Miss Edyth Pratt and music by the church orchestra.

A Christmas tree and general distribution of presents followed at which Victor Harrie appeared in the role of Santa Claus.

OTHER CHURCHES.

Most of the churches of the city are having their Christmas festivals this afternoon and evening as already announced in the Daily Ledger. Some, however will be held tomorrow.

BOYS LEG BROKEN.

A young boy, whose name could not be learned, who was assisting letter carrier John Granahan, deliver mail packages at Norfolk Downs this noon, had the misfortune to fall from his team to the ground fracturing one of his legs. A physician was called and he was removed to the City Hosiptal in the police ambulance.

Many of the Quincy young men and young ladies who attend college are at home for the holidays.

Christmas Candies

Our Assortment of Confectionery is larger than ever, and we are making a specialty of Fancy Box Goods. We are packing a few choice boxes at the store which are really great bargains.

OUR RIBBON CANDY
Fresh Every Day, 15c., 2 for 25c
40c Caramels 35c
40c Assorted Chocolates 29c
40c Ruth Ting-a-Ling 35c
Fresh Cut Rock Candy 15c
2 pounds for 25c

VAUGHN'S SPA
1449 Hancock St., Quincy
Dec. 20-4t

CLUB EVENTS

DECEMBER.
30—Q. W. Club, Alpha Hall, reg.
31—Wol. Alliance, New Years reception.
31—Riverside Club—Hurdy Gurdy Party.

JANUARY.
1—Atlantic Shakespeare So.
1—Q. W. Club—Board meeting.
1—A. P. Q. Chapter, D. A. R.—Mrs. Jameson's.
2—Friday Club—Mrs. Alden's.
2—Q. W. C. T. Union—Protection Hall.
3—Civil Service Reform Class—Boston Public Library.
5—Junior Friday—Mrs. Hall's.
5—Adams Chapter, D. R.
6—K. C. M. Club—Florence Mead's.
6—Quincy Day Nursery Asso.
6—W. W. Club—Evening Lecture—Wol. S. Hall.
7—Wol. Aux. W. B. of Missions.
7—S. W. Club—Mrs. McGrain's.
7—Fragment So., First Church.
8—Q. W. Club—Art Lecture—Miss Thomas .
9—Travel Talk by Miss Randall.
9—Y. M. C. A. Aux.—Y. M. C. A. Hall
12—A. P. Q. Chapter, D. A. R.—Mrs. O'Malley's.
12—Quincy Alliance—First Church Chapel.
13—Q. Y. W. Club.
13—Q. W. Club—Reg. at Clubhouse.
14—Wol. Alliance—Wol. Unitarian Vestry.
14—Bethany Women's Union, reg.
15—Atlantic Shakespeare So.
16—Friday Club—Mrs. Hardwick's.
16—Q. W. Club—Revels.
19—Junior Friday—Mrs. Wright's.
20—K. C. M. Club—Mrs. Crane's.
20—W. W. Club.
26—Quincy Alliance—First Church Chapel.
27—Q. W. Club—Reg. at Clubhouse.
27—Q. Y. W. Club.
27—King's Daughters—Concert.
28—Wol. Alliance—Wol. Unitarian Vestry.
28—Q. W. Club—Current Events.
28—Home Makers' lecture—Perkin's Hall, Boston.
29—Hospital Aid—Wollaston Unitarian Vestry.
29—Atlantic Shakespeare So.
30—Friday Club—Mrs. Lacey's.

BAUER AND THIBAUD.

The concert in Symphony hall on next Sunday afternoon, December 28th, will be of more than ordinary interest. It will be a concert of violin and piano music by Harold Bauer and Jacques Thibaud. Harold Bauer needs no introduction to Boston which was the first city to appreciate his fine artistry. Jacques Thibaud is generally regarded as the greatest of French violinists and is one of the very great violinists of the world. Fritz Kreisler is a profound admirer of his talent and when he was here the other day spoke most warmly of him. Thibaud was in America a matter of ten years ago and made a lasting impression on those that heard him by the beauty of his tone and the elegance of his style. In ten years, however, we hear that his art has broadened greatly and he is much more than merely an elegant violinist. The programme is as follows:—

Sonata for Violin and Piano in A
Cesar Franck
Mr. Bauer and Mr. Thibaud
Violin Solo; Sarabande, Gigue, Chaconne Bach Mr. Thibaud
Piano Solo; Faschingsschwank
Schumann Mr. Bauer
Sonata in A for Violin and Piano (Kreutzer)
Op. 47 Beethoven
Mr. Bauer and Mr. Thibaud

A Sure Sign.

Dr. Probe—I guess that Peterby doesn't intend to pay his bill this year.
Mrs. Probe—What makes you think so?
"I just got a Christmas present from him this morning."

SIGNIFICANCE OF HOLLY.

Why holly at Christmas? The pagan Romans dedicated the holly to Saturn, whose festival was in December, around Christmas. The early Christians, to escape persecution decked their homes with holly and other Saturnian emblems. The Romans sent their friends holly sprigs during the Saturnalia with wishes for their health and prosperity.

HOLMES & HALL
REPAIRERS OF HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
SHADES
DOOR BELLS
LOCKS and KEYS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

FOUND!

The Market Recommended by
SANTA CLAUS
To Get a Square Deal Every Day

CHOICE
NORTHERN TURKEYS
And All The Fixin's
FOR SUNDAY DINNER
FOR CHRISTMAS DINNER
Here are a few of our prices:

We Cut Rump Steak	35c
Rump Roasts	22c
Roast Pig Pork	18c
Roast Pork	16 1-2c
By the Strip
Top Round Steak	28c
Fancy Sirloin Steak	22, 25c

BOSTON MARKET
1433 Hancock Street
Near Granite Street
Dec. 18-6t

MERRY CHRISTMAS

"Is That You Santa?"

$
$
SAVED BY BUYING
Patch's Special
COALS
C. PATCH & SON, Inc.
1422 Hancock Street

Quincy Daily Ledger

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity. Christmas day generally fair.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	7.12
Sun sets	4.17
Length of day	9.05
Moon rises	5.26
High water, A. M.	9.00
High water, P. M.	9.45
Days decrease 0 hours,	1 minutes
Full Moon, Dec. 13,	10.00 A. M.
Last Quarter, Dec. 20	11.16 A. M.
New Moon, Dec. 27	9.59 A. M.
First Quarter, Dec. 5,	9.59 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today	44 degrees
Dec. 23 1912,	33 degrees
Dec. 23, 1911,	43 degrees

Dec. Noon Maximum 14 years—67
Dec. Noon Minimum, 14 years—2

HOSPITALS ARE NOW REQUIRED

State Brings Action Against Lowell and Gloucester

Test cases under the new law relative to the establishment of contagious hospitals in cities were started on Tuesday. Atty. Gen. Swift filed petitions in the Supreme Court against the city of Lowell and the city of Glouscester, seeking to compel each to establish and maintain a hospital for the reception of persons having smallpox, diphtheria, scarlet fever, tuberculosis and other diseases dangerous to the public health, as defined by the State Board of Health.

The State Board on Dec. 9, 1911, and Dec. 9. 1912, requested both cities under the statute to establish and maintain such a hospital, but both refused and neglected to comply with the request. It is alleged neither city has such a hospital or has made arrangements with neighboring cities or towns for the care and treatment of persons afflicted with the diseases named.

The Attorney General says that under Section 35 of Chapter 75 of the Revised Laws as amended by the Acts of 1912, Chapter 151, the cities are required to establish and maintain constantly such a hospital. An order of notice returnable Dec. 30 was issued.

HEAVY MAILS AT POST OFFICE

Parcel Post Adds Largely to The Christmas Business

Seldom, if ever, has there been such a rush at the Quincy post office to mail packages, letters and postal cards, as there has been this year and the clerks have been hard at work trying to keep ahead of the rush of Christmas mail. At the stamp window from early morning until late at night there has been a long row of people waiting for an opportunity to have their packages weighed and purchase the necessary stamps for the same.

Although the clerks are over their heads in work, all present the same obliging spirit and are rendering callers all aid and assistance possible, that their packages and letters may not go astray but reach their proper destination.

Ten extra clerks and several extra teams have been pressed into service to deliver the many packages that are arriving by parcel post, with every incoming mail.

Pratt's Vienna Bread

Baked expressly for those who appreciate the best. Always uniform in quality and quantity.

YOUR GROCER

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point
Tel. Quincy.Mass. 1158 M Nov 3-tf

SACHEM CLUB NOMINATES

Committee Report List of Directors for Annual Meeting

Morrison B. Capron chairman of the nominating committee of the Sachem club of Wollaston has announced the following nominations to be voted upon at the club's annual meeting January 12:

Directors for 3 years—Russell T. Anthony, Charles A. Bennett, Elisha B. Bird, Charles M. Bryant, John Buchanan, Frederick L. Cheever, James B. Geddes, Amos T. Leavitt, N. Gorhom Nickerson, Jr. Arthur P. Russell, George W. Stone, Frank W. White.

Directors for 2 years—E. Tyler Brigham, Morrison B. Capron, Hazen B. Chapman, Walter E. Frost, Matthew Ott, George W. Taylor.

Directors for one year—Eric H. Ewertz, W. F. Kimball, Charles P. Loring, Albert P. Moulton, Chandler W. Smith, Albert S. Vail.

Nominating Committee for 1914—Charles W. Bailey, Charles E. Barker, Charles H. Brooks, William Chapman, H. B. L. Dimmock, George W. Glover, Harold Green, Dr. E. R. Johnson, Delcevaire King, Albert N. Murray, Harry W. Read, Eugene H. Sprague.

In accordance with the bylaws of the club the newly elected directors will elect from their number a president first and second vice, secretary and treasurer.

BRAINTREE MAN RUN OVER

Fell From His Team and Was Left By Roadside

Joseph A. Link of Braintree is in a dangerous condition as the result of an accident Tuesday evening. He owns a farm on Granite street in the Rosedale section and left about 7 o'clock with a load of garden truck for Boston. Half an hour later he was found unconscious in the street near the Quincy line. The horse and wagon were missing, and probably kept along toward Boston. Link must have fallen from the wagon, and probably a wheel passed over his head. He was unconscious. Dr. C. A. Sullivan said he was suffering from concussion of the brain and his condition was serious.

QUINCY MUSIC HALL.

One of the most novel entertainments of the moving picture world will be exhibited at Quincy Music Hall Christmas Matinee and night when the famous Miller Bros. 101 Ranch Real Wild West Pictures will be shown in three reels and an historical fact "The Passing of the West, or civilizations onward march from the open prairie to the Cattle Corrals in three reels making six of the most interesting films ever shown here.

As an added attraction Chester Byers, famous Cowboy, Winner of the Grand Prize at "Calgary Stampede" will do his trick and fancy roping stunt. He is known as the man that makes a rope talk. Real Indians Cowboys, Buffaloes, and everything pertaining to the West is shown in this wonderful Production following was clipped from the U. S. feature film Censor. Guaranteed attraction First feature film to pass the Ohio State Censor Board. Mrs. Maude Mary Fuller, the Censor, said in part: "The production was good all the way through; a feature film both educational and interesting."

—John C. Shaffer, owner of several newspapers in Chicago and Denver, has bought the Index, a weekly at Evanston. Ill. The paper will be run exclusively by women. Miss Hetty Cattell of Denver will be managing editor. There will be a woman sporting editor and a woman city editor.

(ADVERTISE.)

CURRENCY BILL IS MADE A LAW

President Wilson Affixes Signature to New Measure

IS "CONSTITUTION OF PEACE"

Executive Uses Four Gold Pens In Writing Bill Into Law, Three of Which Go to Authors of Act—Declares Free and Elastic Credits Are Assurred

Washington, Dec. 24.—President Wilson signed the Glass-Owen currency bill at 6:01 o'clock last night in the presence of members of his cabinet, the congressional committees on banking and currency and Democratic leaders in congress generally.

With a few strokes of the pen, the president converted into law the measure to be known as the federal reserve act, reorganizing the nation's banking and currency system and furnishing, in the words of the president, "the machinery for free, elastic and uncontrolled credits, put at the disposal of the merchants and manufacturers of this country for the first time in fifty years."

Enthusiastic applause ran through the room, not only as the president affixed his signature, but as he delivered an extemporaneous speech characterizing the desire of the administration to take common counsel with the business men of the country and the latter's efforts to meet the government's advances on "the constitution of peace."

The event came at the close of a day of rejoicing in the national capital, for congress had recessed for two weeks for the first time since it convened last April. The Democratic leaders were jubilant because they had completed two big pieces of legislation—the tariff and the currency reform, in nine months—a performance which they considered unprecedented in the history of the country.

Four gold pens were used by the president in writing the bill into law. He wrote the words, "23, December, 1913, approved," with one, and used three pens in writing "Woodrow Wilson," splitting the first name into two syllables. The last three pens he presented to Senator Owen, Representative Glass and Secretary McAdoo, co-authors of the measure. The president answered the curiosity of the crowd as to the disposition of the fourth with the laughing remark, "This is the 40 percent gold reserve." Later it developed that Senator Chilton of West Virginia had sent up a gold pen of his own to be used in writing the date of the law. The president was in a happy humor as he slowly wrote his name.

"I'm not accustomed," he said, "to write my name in a series."

"Well, the bill was made in instalments," suggested Senator Lewis of Illinois.

HAS HORSE PULL AUTO

Nantucket Man Defies Selectmen and Exclusion Act

Nantucket, Mass., Dec. 24.—Although Clinton S. Folger, who carries the mail and what passengers desire to go from this town to Siasconset, has been found guilty of disobeying the automobile exclusion act once, and will appear in the local court to answer to two more charges of the same nature, he still defies the selectmen and daily makes his trip to "Sconset" in his "buzz wagon."

Much to the amuzement of the residents of the island and to the disgust of the selectmen, Folger calmly hitches a horse to his machine and rides without the power in the machine being turned on until he arrives at the seven-mile stretch of state road. Then he unhitches the horse turns on his power and away he goes to "Sconset."

MUST LEAVE COMMUNITY

Woman Who Re-Enacted "Lady Godiva" Gets Death Threat

Old Horton, Mo., Dec. 24.—Mrs. Paralee Collins, who was horsewhipped by night riders because she re-enacted the spectacle of Lady Godiva riding through Coventry, was notified that she must leave the community by Christmas night or she will be killed.

Members of her family are rallying to her defence and securing arms with which to repulse any attempt to carry out the threat.

Feast For Gotham's Hungry

New York, Dec. 24.—The "other half" of New York will have its Christmas tonight. With the great white star shining above Madison square to guide them, the homeless, the halt and lame will gather there. Thousands of electric lights will glow from the great Christmas tree erected in the square and the Salvation Army will provide food for the hungry men and women. Ten wagon loads of hot sausages and coffee will be served.

May Christen Canal Today

New York, Dec. 24.—Panama advices received here state that consideration has been quietly given to a proposition to put the United States ship Buffalo or some other government vessel through the Panama canal today as Colonel Goethals' Christmas gift to the American people.

NO ACCOUNTING FOR SANTA CLAUS

THE twins were deep in the mysterfes of mincemeat making under the direction of the faithful Dinah. Maud stood on a chair chopping beef and apples in a huge wooden bowl; Marian sorted raisins and citron at a side table; Dinah stirred some savory mess that cooked. So busy were they that the stealthy entrance of Wilbur was not noticed until his excited face peered over Maud's shoulder. With a startled scream she dropped her chopper: "Go away, you horrid boy! We're too busy to bother with your pranks."

"Indeed, I'm not up to any pranks at all," he began in an aggrieved tone. "I've just seen something that makes me so exclted!"

"Don't keep us in suspense!" came in curt accents from the side table.

"I've discovered all sorts of odd shaped bundles in the storeroom closet!" he exclaimed impressively. The twins gasped, and Dinah spoke crossly. "And what was you doin' in dat closet? Chillen ain't got no call to meddle in what doan' concern 'em, nohow!"

THE TRIO REVELED IN THE SHINING MASSES.

But neither of the three was to be put off thus. "How many were there?" asked Marian. "Did you peek in 'em?" queried Maud. Then Marian's sense of honor came to the rescue. "It really doesn't matter," she said. "They are evidently meant to be secrets. Perhaps Santa Claus is concerned in them."

"But," began the boy hesitatingly, "it makes me doubt if Santa Claus really exists to see all these things beforehand. Do you think there is such a person?"

"Well, Wilbur Pennington, of all silly questions! Doesn't he always fill our stockings and bring us a tree? Doesn't he always get the notes we put in the fireplace for him and give us everything we write for? Haven't we been told loads of times about his reindeer and sled and workshop at the north pole and his jolly face and all the rest of it?" These questions were fired at him in a volley by both twins.

"Well, I don't care," he answered doggedly. "The fellows in school laughed at me when I spoke of him the other day, and it does seen queer how he can do all the things he does."

"Go 'way, chile!" ejaculated Dinah. "Dere's lot ob t'ings dat's past our understandin'. Does we know how de blessed sun kin shine ober de whole country at once? Does we know how de wind blows an' de waves come rollin' widout ceasin'? We needn't care how Santa Claus gets roun' de way he do. I disremember de time when he forgot me. Ever since I was a li'l' pickaninny befo' de war he's brung me gifts. Old missus used to 'low him to set up de tree in de big mansion an' leave de darkies' gif's 'long wid de white folks' Go 'way, chile! Doan' you try to make me believe dere ain't no Santa Claus, 'cause dere jest nacherally has to be one." And Dinah stirred violently to ease her injured feelings.

WILBUR TELLS HIS SECRET.

"Of course there is a Santa Claus," said Marian, coming to her rescue. "You see, Wilbur, it's just this way. There is no doubt of the love and care that give such joy to boys and girls at this happy time—the love that gratifies their dearest wishes and takes into account all their efforts to do what is right, even though the results often look like failure.

"It really doesn't matter by what name we call this love. If we're told it is Santa Claus, why, then, we ought to agree to accept the old fellow, with all his delightful traditions and novel ways of doing kindnesses. It's really the spirit of Santa Claus that makes Christmas the happiest day in the whole year. So I, for one, am not going to deny the dear fellow's existence. Come out and explore the snowdrifts till the sun goes down. Maybe we'll discover the north pole."

And the trio reveled in the shining masses until the shadows of darkness swallowed the sunlight, much as their doubts of Santa Claus had been swallowed in the depths of trusting love.

GETS THREATS BY MAIL

Judge Landis Has Received More Than Dozen In Last Five Years

Chicago, Dec. 24.—More than a dozen letters threatening to blow up his home have been received by Judge Landis of the United States court in the last five years. This was made known when the judge was hearing a case against John Folie, charged with writing three such letters.

"I just sent the letters to scare him," pleaded the prisoner. "That's all the black-hand letter-writer ever does," remarked the judge. "In the last five years I have had from a dozen to twenty such cases as this and they all pleaded they never meant to carry out the threat, and I know they never meant to. How do I know? Because I have myself received more such letters than all the cases that have come up in my court. However, I gave them the maximum sentence."

Folie pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary.

M'REYNOLDS TO DECIDE

Pearl Harbor Dry Dock Loss Referred to Attorney General

Washington, Dec. 24.—Whether private contractors are to be held responsible to complete the government's $3,400,000 dry dock at Pearl Harbor is a question Secretary Daniels has called upon Attorney General McReynolds to decide. The attorney general's opinion is expected to hold that the contractors must go ahead with the work.

The upheaval of the bottom of the great dock was the naval tragedy of the year. The dock, designed to be a triumph of naval engineering, was to be 1000 feet long, and so arranged that it could be divided into sections for the docking of vessels of any displacement, accommodating small craft without flooding the entire dock.

The cause of the upheaval was the subject of an exhaustive report by an engineer expert, who decided that despite the obstacles to be overcome the great task could be completed.

MRS. YOUNG AGAIN HEAD OF SCHOOLS

Re-Elected by Chicago Board After Stormy Session

Chicago, Dec. 24.—Mrs. Ella Flagg Young was voted back into the superintendency of the Chicago public schools, after a stormy session of the board of education.

Seven members refused to vote, taking the ground that the board had no power to reconsider the election of John D. Shoop, assistant superintendent, who had been elected Mrs. Young's successor.

Contention also was made that the four new members of the board, named by Mayor Harrison to replace four whose resignations he had enforced, were not entitled to their seats.

The action of the board in removing Shoop and replacing Mrs. Young will at once be challenged in court, it was announced by the opposition.

ASKS FOR PARDON

Money Lender Tolman Promises to Surrender Notes

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 24.—An application for the pardon of Daniel H. Tolman, a convicted money-lender, was made to Governor Glynn. Favorable action was urged by the convict's counsel, Charles E. Towne, a former senator, as a Christmas gift for his client.

Tolman was sentenced recently for a term of six months. It was promised in his behalf that in consideration of his pardon Tolman would surrender usurious notes amounting to $500,000 reserving his right to sue for the amounts due with only the lawful interest added. Governor Glynn said that he had not given the matter much attention.

FOUR CHILDREN IN YEAR

Unusual Record For Mrs. January Hart of Allingtown, Conn.

New Haven, Dec. 24.—The giving birth to four children in one year is the unusual record of Mrs. January Hart of Gilbert street, Allingtown. The two most recent arrivals came Sunday and they and the mother are doing very well. The other pair came Jan. 19 last and were a boy and a girl. Those born last January did not survive many days.

Besides the births of the present year the Harts have two boys, 3 and 4 years old, and a girl 11 years old.

Feared Blindness, Jumps to Death

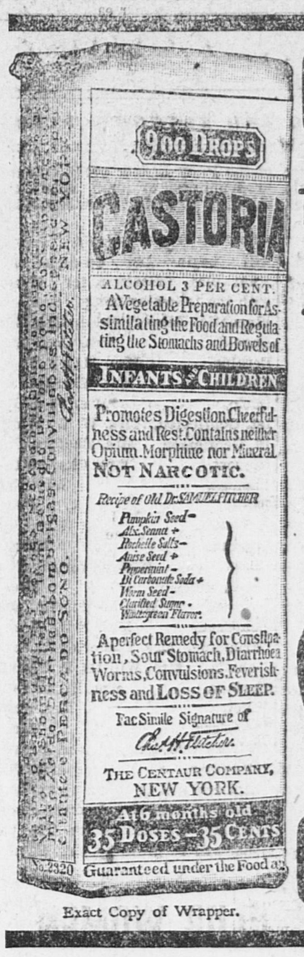
New York, Dec. 24.—Her eyesight failing and fearing total blindness Miss Annie Schaeffer, 22 years old, leaped nine floors to her death, from a Central Park, West, apartment house, where she was companion to a wealthy woman.

Trombly's Injuries Prove Fatal

Warren, R. I., Dec. 24.—Napoleon Trombley died as a result of being struck Saturday by an automobile operated by Judge Frank H Hammill of the Fifth district court.

Charged With Stealing Cloth

Taunton, Mass., Dec. 24.—Charged with stealing cloth from the Whittenton Manufacturing company, John Holinic, an employe, was arrested.



Exact Copy of Wrapper.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
In Use For Over Thirty Years
CASTORIA
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

1876-1913

WE HAVE OFFERED FOR YOUR INSPECTION AND SELECTION EACH YEAR RELIABLE GOODS, AND WE SUGGEST YOU LOOK OVER OUR LINE OF

Watches, Cut Glass, Silver Ware, Jewelry, Clocks, Etc.

TO AID YOU IN YOUR CHRISTMAS SHOPPING WE INVITE YOUR INSPECTION OF OUR STOCK.

C. F. PETTENGILL
1391 Hancock Street Near Granite Street
TELEPHONE QUINCY 466-M Dec.1,10t

TURKEY ROLL OFF
CHRISTMAS EVE.
At 8 o'clock sharp
Twenty Highest Men to Qualify

Three high non-consecutive strings Candle Pins may be selected.

First Prize, 14-lb. Turkey
Second Prize, 12-lb. Turkey
Third Prize, 10-lb. Turkey
Fourth Prize, a Chicken

Special Prizes Also on Christmas Day

COLISEUM ALLEYS
Near Quincy Depot
20 4t

CARPETS
Oriental
Domestic RUGS
LINOLEUM
MATTINGS
AT LOWEST POSSIBLE PRICES
John H. Pray & Sons Co.
646 Washington Street, Opp. Boylston Street

All Goods will be Delivered Free at Residences in Quincy
REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY
Messrs. OTHO A. HAYWARD and WALTER J. WELLINGTON.

WITHIN THE LAW

By MARVIN DANA
FROM THE PLAY OF
BAYARD VEILLER

Copyright, 1913, by the H. K. Fly company.

SYNOPSIS

Mary Turner, a department store clerk, is sentenced to prison for three years for a theft she did not commit.

Edward Gilder, owner of the department store, consents to see Mary before she goes to prison, expecting her to confess.

Mary protests her innocence to Gilder and begs him to pay better wages to his clerks to save them from temptation.

After three years in prison Mary is freed, but the police prevent her holding position. She jumps into the river to end her life, but is rescued by Joe Garson, a forger.

Mary forms a partnership with Garson and his gang, by which they mulct rich victims in a legal manner, keeping "within the law."

Mary is warned by the police to leave town after she has formed the acquaintance of Richard Gilder, her former employer's son.

Hogan Morris, the girl who had committed the theft for which Mary was imprisoned, sees Mary and confesses her guilt.

Mary marries Dick Gilder without his father's knowledge and then refuses to sail for Europe with him.

Joe Garson, against Mary's protest, agrees with Eddie Griggs, another crook, to help commit a burglary in Gilder's home.

Edward Gilder sees his son's bride and tries to induce her to give up her husband. Dick refuses to leave her even when she tells him she is an ex-convict.

Inspector Burke calls on Gilder and tells him that a burglary at his home that night has been arranged through Griggs, a stool pigeon, to trap Mary Turner and her gang.

Garson and his gang break into Gilder's home and are followed by Mary, who is told of the proposed burglary. While they are there Dick returns home.

Garson learns that Griggs had helped put up the job on him, and he kills Griggs with a noiseless revolver. Inspector Burke arrives, finding only Mary and Dick with Griggs' body.

Mary and Dick are arrested after Mary says Dick killed Griggs, a burglar. Other members of the gang are arrested and "sweated" by Burke.

(Continued from last issue.)

"Good God!" It was a cry of torture wrung from his soul of souls.

Mary swayed toward him a little, palpitant with fear—fear for herself, for all of them, most of all for him.

"Hush, hush!" she panted warningly. "Oh, Dick, you don't understand!"

"I understand this," he said brokenly at last. "Whether you ever did it before or not, this time you have broken the law." A sudden inspiration on his own behalf came to him. For his love's sake he must seize on this opportunity given of fate to him for mastery.

Dick Gilder Throttled by Chicago Red.

"You're in my hands now. So are those men as well. Unless you do as I say, Mary, I'll jail every one of them."

"Who's this, anyhow?" Chicago Red demanded.

"I'm her husband," Dick answered. "Who are you?"

"Don't speak any of you," Mary directed. "You mustn't let him hear your voices."

Dick was exasperated by this persistent identification of herself with these criminals in his father's house.

"You men back there!" he cried. "If I give you my word to let every one of you go free and pledge myself never to recognize one of you again, will you make Mary here listen to me? That's all I ask. I want a few minutes to state my case. Give me that. Whether I win or lose, you men go free, and I'll forget everything that has happened here tonight." There came a muffled guffaw of laughter from the big chest of Chicago Red.

"Your safety depends on me," the young man warned. "Suppose I should call for help?"

"You would only call once," Garson said grimly. His hand went to the noiseless weapon in his coat pocket.

"Once would be quite enough."

"You win," Garson said, with a half laugh. He turned to the other men and spoke a command.

"You get over by the hall door, Red, and keep your ears open every second. Give us the office if you hear anything. If we're rushed and have to make a quick getaway see that Mary has the first chance. Get that, all of you?"

Garson turned to Dick.

"Make it quick, remember."

Dick spoke at once, with a hesitancy that betrayed the depth of his emotion.

"Don't you care for me at all?" he asked wistfully.

The girl's answer was uttered with nervous eagerness, which revealed her own stress of fear.

"No, no, no!" she exclaimed.

"I know you do, Mary," he asserted confidently; "a little anyway. Why, Mary, can't you see that you're throwing away everything that makes life worth while? Don't you see that?"

There was no word from the girl. Her breast was moving convulsively.

"Mary, Mary!" he cried. "You've got to change. Don't be so hard. Give the woman in you a chance."

The girl's form became rigid as she fought for self control.

"I am what I am," she said sharply. "I can't change. Keep your promise, now, and let's get out of this."

"You can change." Dick went on impetuously. "Mary, haven't you ever wanted the things that other women have—shelter and care and the big things of life, the things worth while? They're all ready for you now, Mary. And what about me? After all, you've married me. Now, it's up to you to give me my chance to make good. I've never amounted to much. I've never tried much. I shall, now, if you will have it so, Mary—if you'll help me. I will come out all right, I know that; so do you, Mary. Only you must help me. I need you, and you need me. Come away with me."

"No, no! I married you not because I loved you, but to repay your father

"Don't you care for me at all?"

the wrong he had done me. I wouldn't let myself even think of you, and then—I realized that I had spoiled your life."

"No, not spoiled it, Mary! Blessed it! We must prove that yet."

"Yes, spoiled it," the wife went on passionately. "If I had understood, if I could have dreamed that I could ever care— Oh, Dick, I would never have married you for anything in the world!"

"But now you do realize," the young man said quietly. "The thing is done. If we made a mistake it is for us to bring happiness out of that error."

"Oh, can't you see?" came the stricken lament. "I'm a jailbird!"

"But you love me—you do love me, I know!" The young man spoke with joyous certainty, for some inflection of her voice had told the truth to his heart. Nothing else mattered. "But now, to come back to this hole we're in here. Don't you understand at last that you can't beat the law? If you're caught here tonight where would you get off—caught here with a gang of burglars? Why didn't you go to Chicago, as you planned?"

"Planned? With whom?"

"Why, with Burke."

"Who told you that I had arranged any such thing?"

"Burke himself did."

"When?" Mary was standing rigid now, and the rare color flamed in her cheeks. Her eyes were blazing.

"Less than an hour ago."

"Where?"

"In this room."

"What was he doing here?"

"Talking to my father."

The seemingly simple answer appeared the last straw to the girl's burden of frenzied suspicion. Her voice cut fiercely into the quiet of the room.

"Joe, turn on that light! I want to see the face of every man in this room."

The blaze of the chandelier flamed brilliantly over all. Griggs moved stealthily a little nearer the door into the passage.

But Mary's next words came wholly as a surprise.

"Dick," she cried, "what are those tapestries worth?" She pointed toward the draperies that shrouded the great octagonal window.

"Oh, $200 or $300, I suppose," he answered. "Why?"

"Never mind that. How long have you had them, Dick?"

"Ever since I can remember."

"And they're not famous masterpieces which your father bought recently from some dealer who smuggled them into this country?"

"I should say not!"

"It's a trick! Burke's done it!" Mary's word came with accusing vehemence.

There was another single step made by Griggs toward the door.

Mary's eye caught the movement, and her lips soundlessly formed the name:

"Griggs!"

The man strove to carry off the situation, though he knew well that he stood in mortal peril. He came a little toward the girl who had accused him of treachery.

"He's lying to you!" he cried forcibly, with a scornful gesture toward Gilder Leaped Toward Garson.

Dick Gilder. "I tell you those tapestries are worth a million cold."

Mary's answer was virulent in its sudden burst of hate.

"You stool pigeon! You did this for Burke!"

"I swear I didn't! I swear it!"

"It's a frameup!" Garson broke in ferociously. His tones came in a deadened roar of wrath.

On the instant, aware that further subterfuge could be of no avail, Griggs swaggered defiance.

"And what if it is true?" he drawled, with a resumption of his aristocratic manner. He plucked the police whistle from his waistcoat pocket and raised it to his lips.

He moved too slowly. Garson had pulled the pistol from his pocket, had pressed the trigger. There came no spurt of flame. There was no sound—save perhaps a faint clicking noise. But the man with the whistle at his lips suddenly ceased movement, trembled horribly and in the next instant crashed to the floor, dead.

In the first second of the tragedy Dick had not understood. But the falling of Griggs before the leveled weapon of the other man, there to lie in that ghastly immobility, made him understand. He leaped toward Garson—would have wrenched the pistol from the other's grasp. In the struggle it fell to the floor.

Before either could pick it up Chicago Red called his warning.

"Somebody's opening the front door!"

Garson sprang to the octagonal window as Dick took posession of the pistol.

"The street's empty! We must jump for it! Come on, Mary," he cried.

Already Chicago Red had snapped off the lights of the chandelier, had sprung to the window, thrown open a panel of it and had vanished into the night, with Dacey at his heels. As Garson would have called out to the girl again he was interrupted by Dick:

"She couldn't make it, Garson," he declared coolly and resolutely. "You go. I'll take care of her!"

"If she's caught"— There was an indescribable menace in the forger's half uttered threat.

"She won't be."

"If she is, I'll get you, that's all," Garson said as he dropped out of sight.

(To be Continued.)

Get your white wrapping paper for Christmas gifts at the Ledger-Patriot office. Come early and avoid the rush. Large sheets 2 cents each. By the dozen 20 cents.

CHOICE ARTICLES
FROM THE
PHILIPPINES

LUCBON HATS—Very best grade of the famous Panamas and Bankoks made. Absolutely none better, woven under water by hand. Can be crushed into a ball and not lose shape. Made for both Ladies and Gentlemen. $5 and $10.

ROMBLON MATS—Handsomest and most durable Grass Mats or Rugs made in the world. Beautiful colors and designs, large enough to cover one-half floor of rooms. $5.

MANILA CIGARS—$3 for a trial box of the Very Best Cigars made in the Philippines.

Oriente Cigarrettes—Best made, large package containing 25 small packages, 750 Cigarrettes, $2.

Sent by registered mail, free of duties, on receipt of price.

C. A. SHORT & CO.,
Lucena, Tay, P. I.
Oct 4 T&O 3m

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED
Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

A RUNAWAY'S JOLLY CHRISTMAS

JIMMY was very, very lonely, so lonely that he almost cried. A big boy of seven and a schoolboy as well can't really, truly cry. Jimmy did have a good reason for crying. Mamma, the best and dearest of all good, dear mammas, had gone away never to come back. Papa was almost always at his office.

Jimmy heard Hannah, the nurse, calling.

"Jimmy, oh, Jimmy! Just come and see what papa has sent up from the stores. It's just fine, I can tell you."

Jimmy jumped up and ran to the kitchen. On the kitchen table lay a huge turkey, "with loads o' fixin's," cook said; a great pile of red cranberries, crisp, curly celery, raisins, nuts and several big boxes.

"Will papa be home for dinner? I haven't seen him in ever so long, and I don't want dinner without papa," asked Jimmy.

"I'll tell you. We'll phone to papa and ask him specially to come to our Christmas party tomorrow and to dinner tomorrow night," nurse suggested.

"Can I really, truly phone, Hannah?"

"Yes, indeed, and I'll show you how," and Hannah led the way to the room where the telephone was.

Jimmy had to climb on a stool, he was so little, but he didn't mind a bit. Then nurse told him just what to say to central, and he called papa up. Yes, papa was coming home to dinner and would be out all day tomorrow.

Jimmy was very happy and could scarcely wait till dinner. But when dinner time came papa did not arrive. Nurse came in and told Jimmy that papa could not come home that night.

Jimmy said nothing. He didn't cry as nurse thought he would. He only looked very sober and went to his room. Then he washed his face and put on his hat and coat. He slipped down the stairs and out the front door. He was going to run away.

When he got out in the lonely country Jimmy began to be afraid. Night came on, and it was bitter cold. He felt tired and sleepy and crawled under a fence and lay down to sleep.

When Jimmy woke up his head was resting in somebody's lap, and somebody had her arms around him.

"Poor little fellow! He's nearly frozen. Jack, carry him up to the house," he heard a motherly voice say.

He looked up. The lady who was holding him wasn't a bit like his pretty mother. She had on an old, dingy brown dress and a rough gray shawl, but had a kind face. Jack, a great big boy, carried him to the farmhouse.

JIMMY GOT AN ORANGE IN HIS STOCKING.

Next morning Jimmy was awakened by being vigorously shaken.

"Get up, get up! It's Christmas, and we want to see everything," piped Bill.

They ran downstairs, and the little girls seized the boys' hands and danced around the old grandmother, who was making cake. Then they all kissed her and kissed mother and father. Jimmy got an orange in his stocking, too, like the others, and a nice new tie. But dinner was the best of all.

They all crowded around the table. Jack had shot a wild turkey, and they had celery and mashed potatoes, cranberries, jam and lots of other things, with a big pumpkin pie to crown the whole. They had just begun to eat, Jimmy declaring he "could eat a whole house of turkey," when there was a knock at the door. Jimmy looked up, and there stood papa, with Tim, the very oldest boy.

"Papa, papa!" cried Jimmy, running to him. Papa looked tired and white. He had been so frightened about Jimmy. Tim had found out that morning from Jimmy who his father was and had hastened to Jimmy's house.

"And I'll never miss having Christmas dinner with you again," said papa.

"But, papa, you'll have Christmas dinner with us today," said Jimmy. "Mrs. Russell says you're to stay."

So papa stayed and had dinner with Jimmy after all.

Notice to Contractors

Contractors are invited to estimate the cost of filling and grading of 10,000 to 17,000 square yards of streets located at Atlantic, Mass. Plans and specifications will be ready Saturday, December 27, 1913 at the office of Robert J. Jones, 407 Broadway, Chelsea, Telephone Chelsea 84.
22-3t

NOTICE OF DISSOLUTION OF PARTNERSHIP.

Notice is hereby given that the partnership heretofore existing between Richard S. Williams and William R. Williams, both of said Quincy, under the firm name of Williams Bros., and carrying on the business of granite dealers and workers, is this day dissolved by mutual consent. All debts owing to the said partnership are to be received by, and all demands on the said partnership are to be presented to, the said William R. Williams who will continue the business under the above firm name.
RICHARD S. WILLIAMS.
WILLIAM R. WILLIANMS,
Quincy, Mass., Dec. 19, 1913.
23-3t

EXECUTRIX NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed executrix of the will of Delia A. Dizer ate of Atlantic (Quincy) in the County of Norfolk, deceased, testate, and has taken upon herself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs.

All persons having demands upon he estate of said deceased, are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to ALIDA R. BAKER, Executrix.
(Address)
Mrs. Geo. W. Baker, Ocean street, Atlantic, Mass.
Dec. 16th, 1913.
Dec. 17-3t 17-24-31

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, Creditors, and all other persons interested in the estate of Theodore Carlson who died in Quincy in said County of Norfolk, intestate, leaving estate in said County of Norfolk to be administered, and not leaving a known widow, or heir in this Commonwealth:
Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant letters of administration on the estate of said deceased to Maurice P. Spillane public administrator in and for said County of Norfolk: You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the fourteenth day of January A. D. 1914, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said public administrator is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by serving a copy of this citation on the Treasurer and Receiver-General of said Commonwealth, fourteen days at least before said Court.
Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-second day of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen.
JOHN D. COBB, Register.
3t Dec. 24-31 Jan. 7

ARTHUR L. THOMAS
Attorney-at-Law
3-4-5-6 Greenleaf Block
Telephone Quincy 460 Jan.3-1y

Here is Your Opportunity

7 room house with modern conveniences nicely situated on a fine street in Wollaston. To be sold very low at present.

Here is a chance to get into a good neighborhood. House is vacant and in perfect order to move right into. Three to five minutes to station, schools, stores, etc. Price $3,300. On terms.

HENRY W. SAVACE
Real Estate, Boston.
E. G. HAYDEN, Local Representative
Telephone 1877-M Quincy.
Dec. 22 tf

FOR SALE
New Axes
20c each 3 for 50c
While They Last
L. GROSSMAN & SONS
Jackson Street
Near Quincy Adams Depot
Dec. 17-1o-tf

SWITHIN
Real Estate
Mortgages-Insurance
Greenleaf Block
Quincy
Tel. Quincy 460. Nov. 10-tf

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.
No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

WANTED

WANTED—A horse for the winter, only a few hours work each day. Write P. M. Ledger office. 20-tf

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing. Myatt, 40 Baxter street. Tel. 1307-M. Quincy, Res. 22-tf

FOR SALE

HORSES TO LET—We will place with reliable people for the winter—two draft horses (for their keep)—Henry L. Kincaide & Co.
22-tf

FOR SALE—Glenwood No. 7, range. Fitted. Complete for hot water. Apply at No. 27 Cherry street, Quincy Point. 22-3t

PIANOS—Buy a piano. Several makes. Square man to trade with. Send postal and he will call. In your city every day. Walter H. Lyons, Randolph. 17-3t

FOR SALE—Land on Butler road or I can build you a house on it very reasonably, or will exchange for other real estate. John Bergfors, 65 Granite street. 18-6t

HORSE FOR SALE—Cheap, for want of use. H. H. I. Smith, 578 Commercial street, Weymouth Heights. Tel. Weymouth 105-1. 15-tf

FOR SALE or TO LET—New houses Apply to Thompson B. Crane, 403 Washington street, Quincy. 1-tf

WM. H. TEASDALE
REAL ESTATE
Insurance Mortgages
NOTARY PUBLIC JUSTICE OF THE PEACE
Room 23 Adams Building
Telephones { Residence 544-3 Offices 84

TO LET

Large Front Office Greenleaf Block—2 entrances—right at the head of the stairs—one of the most desirable offices in Quincy.

Office, Durgin-Merrill Block—3 large windows—only 1 flight up—exceptional opportunity.

Hancock Building—City Square Offices—small front office, $11 a month

Office—Hancock Chambers, 16x18 feet one flight up, very low rent.

Store House—off Granite St., in the rear of Greenleaf Block.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best Location in City)
Offices—Large or small.

Desk Room—Street floor, right in the rear of main entrance, good light and air, $5 up a month.

Transient Rooms—Well furnished and with care, $1 a day.

Furnished Rooms—With care steam heat, and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week

HALLS

Music Hall—Music Hall Block—Capacity 962—highest possible rating by the State. "Excellent" in every particular.

New Colonial Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—Capacity 240—the best possible location for a Hall.

Hancock Hall—Hancock Building City Square—Capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 21066) Quincy

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

QUINCY REGISTRY
FOR NURSES
20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.

Will supply trained and practical nurses, attendants and nursery assistants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.

MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar,
Tel. Quincy 131-W.

Read Ledger Ads

FOUND

FOUND—In City square, Tuesday afternoon a pocket book containing a small sum of money. Owner may have same by proving property and paying charges. Mrs. Devaney, 47 Dysart street. 24-3t

TO LET

TO LET—Tenement, all improvements, reasonable rent. Apply 70 Glencoe place. 24-tf

TO LET—Lower flat, 5 rooms bath modern improvements in new house pleasantly situated in corner lot 29 Atherton street, Bigelow Park. Rent reasonable to right party. Inquire on premises. 22-3t

TO LET—Furnished or unfurnished large front room, smaller room adjoining suitable for physician. Furnished rooms $2.00 up. Steam heat all conveniences, 3 minutes from centre. 1 Adams street. 22-6t

TO LET—Flat of 5 rooms and bath at 197 Whitwell street. All improvements. Apply to John F. Anderson, 159 Whitwell street. 22-6t

TO LET—Single house six rooms and bath. All modern conveniences. Apply to P. J. Williams, 19 Independence avenue. 22-6t

TO LET—No rent before Jan. 1, tenement all modern improvements. Rent $18.75, near High School and car barn. Plenty of sunshine. C. W. Guy, 42 Butler road. 19-tf

TO LET—5 Parson street, lower floor, 5 rooms and bath, hard wood floors. Rent $16.00 ready January 1, 1914. Apply on premises or at 38 Independence Ave. 18-tf

TO LET—Upper apartment of 7 rooms and bath, all improvements including set range and gas stove, now ready. Inquire, A. W. Parker, 87 Merrymount road. Tel. Quincy 278-1 16-tf

TO LET—48 Revere road two connecting rooms with kitchenette for housekeeping. Also a nice room with sun all day, two large closets. Hot water heat and bath. water heat and bath. 13-tf

UPPER APARTMENT. In two-family house on Spear Street. Five rooms, bath, large pantry and closets, also open attic with finished heated chamber. Every improvement, electric light, furnace, range etc. Ready for immediate occupancy. Telephone Quincy 278 M or enquire mornings of Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. lpo

TO LET—173 Whitwell street, half house, modern conveniences, $20 per month. Ready for immediate occupancy. Apply Penniman's Stable, Granite street. 19-tf

TO LET—5 room tenement at 117 Quincy street, $20 per month. Apply Berman Furniture Co. 6-tf

RUSSELL PARK — Commodious house of seven rooms, large hall and bath. Modern, every convenience open fireplace, furnace, range, set tubs, electric lights, cemented cellar, etc. Best residential neighborhood. Ready for immediate occupancy. For further details or key see Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. tf lpo

TO LET—Houses of 5, 6 and 10 rooms. M. T. Sullivan. Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy, Mass. 11-tf

MISCELLANEOUS

RENT FREE—until Jan. 1st. Two adjoining houses, 28 and 30 Pleasant street to desirable tenants, who will agree to stay one year, or longer. $5.00 per week in advance. Stable for one horse if desired. $1.00 a week extra. Apply 26 Pleasant street. 5-tf

JAMES F. BURKE & CO.
Real Estate and Insurance
Care of Property. Mortgages
Justice of Peace. Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 985 M. Nov. 11-tf

Penniman's
TAXI SERVICE
Taxies and Touring Cars with careful and safe drivers to let for all occasions.
C. H. PENNIMAN, Prop.
Telephone 207.
June 13-tf

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block,
QUINCY

KINCAIDE THEATRE

at 2.30, 5, 10, 15c At 7.45, 10, 15, 25c

BIG HOLIDAY SHOW

THUR., FRIDAY, SAT.

KATHRYN PURNELL PLAYERS
Comedy Playlet Full of Fun
"The Double Reception"

MILITARY MAIDS AND STEWART
Spectacular Musical Oddity

LEE & CRANSTON
The Singer and the Violinist

TOKIO
Japanese Equilibrist

2-Reel Edison Feature
"ALEXIA'S STRATEGY"
A Thrilling Drama

"IN THE ELEMENTAL WORLD"
A Picture Full of Fun

And here's a Scream!
PICKWICKER
John Bunny Plays the Principal Part

KINCAIDE THEATRE ORCHESTRA

REVIEW OF CITY COUNCIL

Only One to Have Two Presidents—Other Data

The City Council of 1913 which wound up its business Monday evening has been the busiest Council since Quincy became a city. During the year 34 meetings have been held, making nearly three a month for every month in the year.

During this time they have received 150 communications and 104 petitions. The number of orders acted upon totals 810. In regard to these orders it might be added that nearly 400 were separate orders granting minor licenses, for the most of which the city, received a fee of $5.

Other interesting facts about the Council of 1913 may be introduced. It is the only Council that ever had two presidents. During the year two vacancies have been created, one by resignation, Councilman Cunningham having removed from the city and the other by the death of Councilman William Farquharson.

There have been many warm debates during the year, but in every case after the question under debate had been settled there was no ill feeling on the part of any councilman. Taking the Council as a whole, it has been a good one and while it accomplished much, it was much more economical than its predecessors.

LOYAL ORANGE LODGE.

Quincy Loyal Orange lodge elected officers in Protection hall, Monday evening. They will be installed Jan. 13 and the ceremonies will be followed by a turkey supper. The five head officers were re-elected. Those chosen were:

Worthy Master—Andrew Stewart.
Deputy Master—David Wright.
Recording Secretary—Herbert A. Sproul.
Financial Secretary—H. E. Sunnerberg.
Treasurer—Gus Lundberg.
Chaplain—John S. McLeod.
Director of Ceremonies—John Whiteway.
First Conductor—Murdock Gillis.
Second Conductor—David Johnson.
Inside Tyler—George Lyons.
Outside Tyler—Charles Arbuckle.
Committee on Law—John Arbuckle, Foreman, Richard Rendle, Alexander Peters, John Gregory, William Lavery
Finance committee— Joseph Herron, William Ellis, George Littlewood
Trustee—Andrew Stewart.
Delegate to the Supreme Lodge—Andrew Stewart.
Delegate to State Grand Lodge—Richard Rendle.

ARTISTIC EFFECTS

Are gained in every Box or Bouquet of Cut Flower we arrange.

We have all the

POTTED PLANTS

that are in season such as

Poinsettias, Azaleas, Cyclamen, Primroses, Lorraine Begonias, etc.

CHRISTMAS WREATHS of all kinds.

JOHNSON, the Florist

City Flower Store, City Square

Dec. 18-6t

GOOD CHEER FOR THE NEEDY

The Elks, Catholic Club and Others Remember Many

The committee of Quincy lodge of Elks are busy today carrying Christmas cheer into the homes of many needy families within the district in which their lodge is located. Each basket besides containing the things necessary for a good dinner has presents of a useful nature for the children.

The ladies of the Quincy Catholic club, who have been busy for several weeks collecting a mile of pennies, are busy today distributing gifts of a useful nature among the poor families.

The Kings Daughters, Quincy Charitable Society and Associated Charities have also remembered several.

These organizations coupled with the many visits among the poor being made by persons who prefer to hide their philanthropy under the guise of Santa Claus, make it almost certain that there will be but few, if any families, in the city who do not have something in the way of the general good cheer, and few if any children who will not have cause to bless Santa Claus.

POOR CHILDREN HAVE A TREE

Annual Christmas Party of Alliance a Happy Affair

In accordance with its usual custom the Woman's Alliance of the First church gave its annual Christmas party to the poor children outside of the parish and their mothers. The party was from 3.30 to 6.30 on Tuesday and long before the hour a crowd of expectant children were waiting for the chapel to open. The chapel presented a very attractive appearance with its Christmas decorations of green, while on one side was a massive Christmas tree resplendent with silver trimmings and mysterious looking packages which were later to be distributed among the children.

During the first hour the Christmas play by the children of the Sunday school which is to be repeated tonight at the festival of the Sunday school of the church, was given, under the direction of Mrs. A. Isabel Davis and pleased the children immensely.

Then came the Christmas tree and the distribution of presents, care being taken that each child should receive some gift. The tree over, the children engaged in games until word was received from the ladies who were arranging a treat in the way of a supper for the children and their mothers. It is needless to say that this proved to be a very enjoyable feature and a more happy crowd of children is seldom seen than those who occupied the seats at the tables. It was an occasion long to be remembered by the children and their mothers.

FINNISH CONGREGATIONAL.

The Christmas festival of the Sunday school of the Finnish Congregational church will be held this evening. There will be a Christmas tree and exercises after which the Christian Endeavor society will continue their exercises all night so as to be ready for the special service Christmas morning at 5 o'clock.

At this service there will be special music led by Mr. Leppamen with John A. Kuhlberg as soloist. There will also be singing by the Christian Endeavor Sparrows and preaching by Rev. Mr. Lillback. Christmas afternoon at 5 o'clock the Sunday School will hold a Christmas party at the Finnish Temperance hall.

Mrs. Carrie Torrey Couchier who was in the fire in which her brother lost his life at Wollaston last week, has been removed to a hospital in Brookline for observation and treatment.

☞White wrapping paper for doing up your Christmas gifts can be obtained at the Ledger-Patriot office for 20 cents a dozen sheets or by the single sheet at 2 cents per sheet.

Call Quincy 501-W

if you want your furniture, mattresses and cushions repaired in good order at low prices M. MIRKIN, upholsterer, 1060 Hancock street, near the Quincy High School

Dec, 1-1m

NEWSY BRIEFS

Former Commissioner Charles F. Knowlton is in town today.

Henry L. Porter of South Braintree has moved to Dysart street, this city.

Mr. and Mrs. John O. Hall, Jr. of Yarmouth, Me. are in town for the Christmas holidays.

Frank A. Tirrell, Jr., a student at the University of Maine law school, is at home for the Christmas holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Abbott L. Melcher of Bigelow street went to Webster, N. H., for the holidays.

The members of the Granite City club have been invited to be the guests of Col. Kincaide at his theatre Tuesday evening, Jan. 6.

Miss Marion L. Moorhouse was the cello soloist at the Park Street church, Boston, Sunday morning and evening.

Hiram A. French of 135 Crescent street passed away Tuesday evening in his 76th year. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon.

James K. Morrison arrives tonight from New York to spend Christmas with his parents on Washington street.

Mrs. Alice M. Carr of Thayer street in responding to a call for volunteers loaned her car this morning to the Boston Post and distributed 100 packages to the poor in South Boston.

Miss Hortense Andrews of Lovell, Maine, who was graduated from the Quincy High school last June, is a guest of Quincy friends for the holidays.

Miss Dora Grobovsky of this city, who is a noted pianist at the Felton Pianoforte school in Boston is to appear at a concert Christmas evening at Copley hall, Boston in a musical program of the compositions of Bache Mozart, Mendelssohn and Bethoven.

Mrs. Moreton T. Swallow, Mrs. Herbert T. Drake and Mrs. Luther S. Glover are to be the matrons at the Tennis club ball at Quincy Music hall Friday night, and coming as it does in the holiday season it promises to be a large and brilliant affair.

If you have a letter appealing for help from the Salvation Army, that has not been called for, kindly mail it to 150 Granite street, Quincy, or drop it in the kettles in City Square. The army officials say all money contributed will be used in Quincy.

CARABAOS REPRIMANDED

Letters Sent to Fourteen Officers by Secretaries of War and Navy

Washington, Dec. 24.—Fourteen letters bearing the official stamp of the secretary of war or the secretary of the navy were sent to as many prominent officials of the army, navy and marine corps.

Each of these letters contained a copy of President Wilson's stinging reprimand to the "dinner committee" of the Military Order of the Carabao for their "silly effervescences of childish wit" in connection with the recent "Wallow" of the organization.

SHOT IN BOTH HANDS

Stoughton Boy Is Victim of Peculiar Shotgun Accident

Stoughton, Mass., Dec. 24.—Edward H. Rinfret, aged 16 years, narrowly escaped death in a peculiar shotgun accident. The butt of the gun was on the ground and the boy was leaning on it, both hands over the muzzle of the weapon, when it was discharged in some manner unexplained.

The charge of bird shot, wadding and powder entered the boy's hands and he fell to the ground. It is said that the lad may have to undergo the amputation of one hand.

Stolen Silver Found Buried

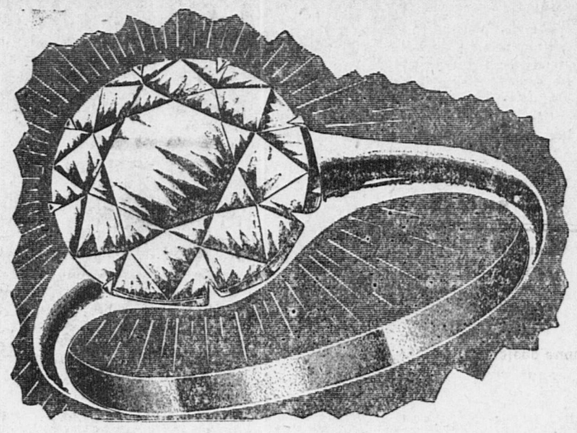
Nashua, N. H., Dec. 24.—A bundle of silver spoons and knives, a portion of the silverware stolen more than a year ago from the home of M. D. Brackett of St. Johnsbury, Vt., were found buried beneath a foot of turf on the Laton farm, by Benjamin Osgood, a farmhand.

Bad Day For Birds.

The day after Christmas, St. Stephen's day (boxing day in England), is celebrated in a queer way by some of the Manx boys, and Ditchfield says they feel privileged to stone wrens at this time because of a story to the effect that in days gone by a most dangerous siren was finally compelled to assume the form of a wren once a year (on the 26th) and ultimately to be killed by mortal hands. Another tradition furnishes an excuse on the ground that it was a wren that wakened the guard of St. Stephen just as the latter was about to escape from prison.

Enemies of the Christmas Tree.

Not every balsam nor every spruce is a Christmas tree. The expert cutter learns to tell at a glance if the branches grow in perfect rings, which give shape and symmetry to the tree. He must be sure, too, that the squirrels have not eaten the buds from the tips of the topmost branches, and that the cattle and deer have not sharpened their horns in passing.



Diamonds and Watches

We are selling more Diamonds and Watches and Fine Jewelry than ever before, because we have got the largest stock, and the greater values to offer than any one, regardless of size. The Only Way for you to know the truth in this statement is to give us the slightest chance to talk to you and show our goods, and then you be the judge.

Diamonds

are an Investment as they are constantly increasing in value.

Diamonds can be purchased from some (so-called) Jewelers or mail-order houses at from $38.00 per carat and upwards and the same houses are apparently giving Watches and Jewelry away but if you call to see them they will work hard to sell a higher priced article as you absolutely do not want to buy the goods advertised The higher class goods is the only goods to buy and then comes the only one big question, where shall I go to get this and not pay the high prices for it. It is a study for you and for us it has been a constant study for 15 years.

Our Solution of this problem has been solved, and this is to make every customer know that they really profit by coming to us to make the purchase. We saved them money by Economical buying, one of the Sandbergs having held the buyers position the past year for the 7 retail Jewelers known as the United Jewelers. On Quantity orders is where the Manufacturers like to see us, and we all benefit from the results thereof.

We can sell Diamonds at $38.00 per carat and less if you want this class of goods. We have however only the Fine White Diamonds on hand and can sell these goods in 14k Solid Gold Ladies Rings from $3.75 each to $300.00 each

"SPECIAL"

14k Diamond Ring

$10.00

Arthur S. Waterman

Fountain Pen

$1.00 $1.50

Waterman Ideal

$2.50 AND UPWARDS

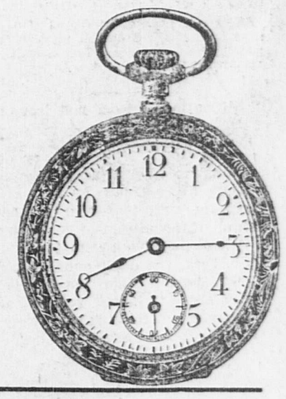
The Parker Pen

$1.50 AND UPWARDS

Watches Watches

Gold Filled Watches warranted 10 years $6.50
Gold Filled Waltham Watches warranted 20 years $9.00 and upwards
14 k. Solid Gold Ladies' Watches 12.50
14 k. Solid Gold Waltham Watches 15 Jewell Movements. Ladies' size 16.50
14 k. Our Special Ladies' and Gents' sizes, 15 Jewe Waltham, Elgin. Extra Heavy Cases $25.00

P-1823



SANDBERG BROS., Jewelers

1281 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, MASS.

CHRISTMAS IN HOLLAND.

In Holland Santa Claus pays his annual visit to all good children twenty days before he comes to this country. Dec. 5 is the feast day of St. Nicholas, alias Santa Claus. He has nothing whatever to do with Christmas, and his visit there is an Anglo-Saxon anachronism. As their patron saint, children were taught to look to Nicholas for care and protection. In England the custom was abolished with the worship of saints at the reformation and was re-established in the American guise of Father Christmas in the middle of the last century.

But in Holland Santa Claus continues to make his visits on the right day, Dec. 5. The Dutch children do not hang up their stockings, but place their shoes, filled with hay or straw for the donkey on which St. Nicholas rides, in front of the fireplace.

The Christ Child.

An Irish legend tells that on Christmas eve the Christ Child wanders out in the darkness and cold and the peasants still put lighted candles in their windows to guide the sacred little feet, that they may not stumble on the way to their homes. In Hungary the people go yet further in their tenderness for the Child. They spread feasts and leave their doors open that he may enter at his will. Throughout Christendom there is a belief that no evil can touch the child who is born on Christmas eve.

A Custom Well Forgotten.

Children used to be reminded in an uncomfortable manner that Dec. 28 was innocents' day, for it was considered wholesome on that morning to give them a good cuffing or other form of punishment, presumably to remind them of the sins which were not committed by the innocents whom Herod ordered slain on that day. Fortunately every vestige of this fashion is now blotted out.

RESOLUTIONS.

The directors of the Granite Trust Company at their meeting on Wednesday, the 24th day of December, passed the following resolution:

WHEREAS—We learn of the death of our associate William T. Shea, we unanimously pass the following resolution.

RESOLVED—That as a brother-director we have always held him in the higest esteem—a good friend—a keen adviser—a gentle nature—willing and prompt always, in the discharge of his official duties.

As a further mark of respect.

RESOLVED—That the Granite Trust Company suspend business for a period, during the funeral services.

Rupert F. Claflin, Sec.

Quincy, Dec. 24, 1913-1t.

Some of the Washington departments are installing dictagraphs. It is not supposed they will catch anything very incriminating, unless some clerk should happen to sleep audibly.

Tonight is "Candle Night."

Daily Ledger advertisers report a very good Christmas business.

DEATHS

FRENCH—In West Quincy, Dec. 23, Hiram A. French in his 76th year. Funeral services at late home 135 Crescent street, Friday, Dec. 26 at 2.30 P. M. Relatives and friends invited. Please omit flowers.

Established 1870 Telephone

JOHN HALL

FUNERAL DIRECTOR

Carriage and Ambulance Service

1485 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass.

FOR A

Christmas Present

NOTHING COULD BE BETTER THAN

A QUINCY HISTORY

EACH YEAR THE HISTORY OF

OLD BRAINTREE AND QUINCY

WRITTEN BY

W. S. PATTEE, M. D.

AND PUBLISHED IN 1878

GROWS MORE VALUABLE, AS IT CONTAINS HISTORICAL DATA ABOUT QUINCY THAT CANNOT BE OBTAINED ELSEWHERE

$3.50 PER COPY

FOR SALE BY

GEO. W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.

1424 HANCOCK STREET

QUINCY

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

LARGEST GUARANTEED CIRCULATION IN THE CITY

Vol. 28 No. 299 QUINCY MASS. FRIDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 26 1913 PRICE TWO CENTS

TREE FESTIVALS AT THE CHURCHES

In Some Sunday Schools the Children Contribute Gifts for Needy Poor Tree at Christ Church Beautifully Lighted By Electricity

CHRIST CHURCH.

The Christmas tree and festival of the primary and junior departments of the Sunday school of Christ church was held Christmas eve in the church. There was singing of Christmas carols by the members of the Sunday school.

Mrs. F. J. Moore sang "The Wonderful Tree," and as she did so the electric lights with which a large tree was decorated were turned on gradually until the whole tree was brilliant with it tiny lights of red, white and blue. The tree was plentifully hung with presents for the children which were then distributed.

On Christmas there was a Christmas service at 8 o'clock and holy communion and sermon at the 10.30 o'clock service. The christmas party of the older children of the Sunday school will be held next week..

BETHANY CHURCH.

The Bible School festivals at Bethany Congregational church were held Christmas eve. The primary department assembled in the chapel at 4 P. M., and the older ones at 6.30 P. M. The attendance was large on each occasion.

A large tree was prettily festooned with tinsel and hung with Christmas tree ornaments. At the rear of the platform was a huge brick fireplace with a cheerful fire on the hearth. Near by was the representation of a manger. Most of the children brought gifts which they deposited in this manger, and before leaving the platform they spoke a short selection and then lighted a small candle which was placed so as to form a large star. The program opened with songs, the reading of the Bible story of the birth of Jesus by Supt. Hayward and prayer. The exercise was interspersed with songs including a solo by Ruth Bishop.

Up to the time of the arrival of Santa Claus, the children kept very quiet, but D. King impersonated Santa and of course he woke them up. His greeting, hand shaking, salutes, laughs and merry making greatly pleased the little ones.

There were presents for all the children—Japanese tea sets for the girls, tops for the boys, also boxes of candy.

At the evening gathering, a Cantata of the Holidays was the attraction and Christmas was decided as the best. The parts were taken as follows:

New Year—Beatrice Sherman.

Seasons—Evelyn Shulze, Betty Ryder, Eleanor Sargent and Marion Horton.

Washington's Birthday— Elizabeth Pratt.

Valentine day—Doris Sampson.

Independence day—Irene Esterbrook.

Thanksgiving day—Dorothy Russell. Frances Horton and Corine Cantley.

Christmas day—Dorothy Green.

Pages—Elizabeth and Evelyn Burke

Crown Bearer—Esther Williams.

Piano accompanist—Miss Margaret Hunt.

Again D. King was Santa Claus.

The different classes contributed gifts for charitable objects. The Knights of King Arthur appeared in regalia and gave a good exhibition of dancing. It was the pleasure of the knights to distribute the gifts for charity. The members of the Bible school received boxes of candy.

Carols were sung by the junior chorus under the direction of Mrs. Charles Sampson. The committee on the cantata were Misses Gladys Irwin and Florence Towne.

Miss Addie Park was director of the afternoon festival and Miss Mabel Lovejoy in the evening. Others on the committee were: Miss Fannie French Mrs. A. L. Hayden, Miss Ida Mattson, Mrs. Isaac Goddard, Mrs. B. A. Willmott, Miss Charlotte Nash, Miss Florence Sabean, Miss Esther Beckford.

(Continued on Page Six.)

QUINCY MUSIC HALL

SATURDAY MATINEE 2.30
SATURDAY NIGHT 8.00
VAUDEVILLE and MOVING PICTURES
2-Reel Feature "SUCCESS." Good Seats 10c

Dec. 26-2t

GOOD CHEER FOR THE POOR

Salvation Army and Others Distribute Giffs

Probably no organization carried more good cheer into the homes of the poor of the city than did the Salvation Army. All of the funds collected by the corps, and all the clothing and other articles contributed, were given to the poor of Quincy and many a family were enabled to enjoy a Christmas dinner and many a child able to receive some of the Christmas gifts, general on this day, through the work of this organization. The army worked in connection with other philanthropic organizations of the city so that it is very doubtful if there was any family, no matter how poor that did not taste of the good cheer that prevailed throughout the day. In addition to providing dinners for the poor families the corps saw to it that the little children were given toys and things of a useful nature.

So also did the ladies of the Quincy Catholic club, the Knights of Columbus and the Elks carry their good cheer about the city. In the work of these different organizations Miss Perkins of the Associated Charities was frequently consulted so that it was made certain that all worthy cases were looked after and that no family received a double allotment of good things while some other poor family were without.

In addition to these there were many cases of charity by private parties who preferred to hide their personality under the guise of Santa Claus. The amount of such cases will never be known as the donors will never tell and the recipients of their philanthropy will never know whom to personally thank.

There were a number of cases where letters sent to Santa Claus were taken up by Quincy people and after investigation the families were supplied with a basket of good things so taking it all in all it is doubtful if Christmas cheer ever penetrated the homes of as many families in other years as it did this year.

STORM CHRISTMAS NIGHT.

The storm which had been threatening for several days arrived late Christmas afternoon, but it was rain instead of snow, although at times it was almost snow. It was particularly disagreeable being out in the evening and many were caught away from home without umbrellas. As the night drew on the wind increased in violence and at times it blew almost a gale. The fire alarm wires became crossed several times and the striking of ocasional blows on the bells arousec people from their sleep. Fortunately however there were no fires.

YOU need the Ledger EVERY DAY.

NEW FEATURE AT CHRISTMAS

Lighted Candles Placed In Windows Christmas Eve

The pretty feature of placing lighted candles Christmas eve was very generally observed, Wednesday evening, especially in Wollaston. It was made a special feature and there was hardly a house in which lighted candles were not displayed in the windows. Along Hancock street between City Square and Wollaston the same event was observed. Some homes displayed one lighted candle in each window, while others displayed two and three. It gave a silent sign of welcome and good cheer to all. This is the first year in which this custom has been observed and now that the feature has been inaugurated, it is probable that another year will see it general.

This beautiful custom was first suggested by the minister of the Wollaston Unitarian church, Rev. Carl G. Horst, to the Wollaston clergy, and then to the Quincy Ministers Association, which heartily endorsed the idea and through the clergy urged all the members and friends of the churches to make it a community affair. The Unitarian church was lighted with candles from 6 to 9 o'clock, and not a few stepped in to admire the decorations and especially the beautiful star, the work of artist Rohn, which appeared just above a forest of evergreens in the distance. The Girls choir, carrying torches, and chaperoned by Mrs. Chandler Smith visited the homes of the aged and sick at Wollaston and sang carols. Wherever they stoped to sing they attracted many appreciative listeners.

Among the illuminations especially noted were those on Wollaston Hill and at Wollaston Park. The corner of Winthrop and Lincoln avenues was a special vantage point. Here the home of Ex-Councilman Murray was one blaze of light, while across the street were large numbers of candles in the windows of Councilman Bailey. On the right was the residence of Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath where there were many candles while at the foot of the hill was the Wollaston Unitarian church, large numbers of candles filling the windows.

The entire interior of the church was lighted in the same manner as for the recent candle light service and Rev. Carl G. Horst the pastor and several members of the parish were on hand to welcome those who ventured in.

The residences of Arthur P. Russell on Winthrop avenue, H. Y. Follett and Edward J. Badger of Park street, Arthur W. Rohn of Winthrop avenue Rev. Carl G. Horst of Grand View avenue and the Pinkham residence on Warren avenue were noted. Albert W. Fay had a large candelabrum of huge candles, in his shop on Newport avenue.

On the Plain Dr. Charles S. Adams of Brook street, Albert R. Moulton of Safford street, Joseph N. Smith of Brock street and H. C. Seymour of Arlington street were among those most brilliantly illuminated.

In the Park a large group of houses in one locality formed one of the prettiet scenes. These were the homes of George T. Taylor, William M. Burrell and Charles F. Bryant of Beach street and James A. Boone and Stanley Hall of Muirhead street. This illumination could be seen at a great distance from the head of Beach street and made a sight long to be remembered.

TOOK POISON ACCIDENTALLY.

John Birnie of Payne street died at the City Hospital on Wednesday as a result of a dose of poison taken accidentally. Mr. Birnie has been in rather poor health for some time and Wednesday afternoon while the family were away it is said that he took a dose of poison by mistake for cough medicine. His condition was discovered by the family on their return and a physician summoned. He was removed to the City Hospital where he died. Mr. Birnie was a machinist by trade, but owing to ill health had not been employed of late. He was a member of Clan McGregor, Order of Scottish Clans. He leaves a widow and two sons.

TURKEY AT SAILOR'S HOME

Old Salts Exchange Gifts and Smoke Pipe of Peace

Christmas at the National Sailors' Home at Wollaston was observed in a similar manner as at Thanksgiving. All work except that absolutely necessary was omitted and at noon the "old salts" gathered in the lounging room and smoked the pipe of peace and there was an interchnge of gifts among the sailors. The dinner at noon included turkey and all that goes to make up a good dinner and it is unnecessary to say that it was thoroughly enjoyed.

CHRISTMAS AT QUINCY HOME

Good Dinner Served and All Received Useful Gifts

At the Quincy Home on Sea street, Overseer Elcock saw that the unfortunates were made happy and that they should enjoy some of the general good cheer that prevailed. At noon a turkey dinner with squash, potatoes, celery, onions, turnip, etc., not forgetting the mince pie and plum pudding was served and was thoroughly enjoyed. In addition to this the unfortunates were presented with gifts of a useful nature by the Overseer. Some received new shoes, others new suits of clothing, stockings, etc., while the women received some of those things so dear to woman's heart. It was indeed a merry day for the inmates and others,

DISTRICT COURT.

Emile Ahola, Ata Kouri and Michael W. Barry were fined $5 each for drunkenness at Quincy.

Charles T. Ironmonger was fined $15 for violation of the rules of the Metropolitan Park reservation.

Axel Anderson was fined $10 for disturbing a religious meeting at the Salvation Army barracks.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS? ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

MONDAY, DEC. 29

SALE

-- ON --

Watches, Jewelry, Novelties, Clocks, Toilet and Manicure Sets, etc.

A Grand Reduction on all Goods left on hand from the Christmas Stock of

10% to 33%

Xmas Goods must be sold regardless of Cost.

Come early in the week for a good selection and buy goods at a substantial saving.

SANDBERG BROS.

Jewelers

City Square, Quincy

WHITTAKER ADMITS THAT HE WAS ALONE

Says He Lied When He Implicated a Wollaston Boy in Fires

Incendiary Fires Have Ceased Since Whittaker's Arrest

The police who have been handling the case of Herbert A. Whittaker, the confessed firebug, have come to the conclusion that he had no accomplice and that he was working alone in the starting of fires. At the time of his arrest and confession Tuesday evening he gave the police the name of a young man whom he said had assisted him and who had started the fire which destroyed the bath house of John H. Johnson.

Tuesday afternoon Officer Kimbal of the State Fire Marshal's office in company with Officer Philbrick of the Metropolitan park police, visited the Fore River yard and interviewed Charles A. Simpson, a Wollaston boy, who it had been said by Whittaker was his companion. When told of what Whittaker had said, Simpson emphatically denied that he had been with Whittaker, or that he had anything to do with the fires.

The officers informed him that they did not intend to place him under arrest but asked if he was willing to accompany them to Dedham jail to face Whittaker. Simpson readily agreed to this and the trio immediately left in an automobile for Dedham. On their arrival at the jail, Whittaker was confronted by Simpson and after saying that he was the young man he had referred to, he added that he had lied about it, and that Simpson was not with him when he started the fires.

From what the police have been able to learn upon investigation, they are of the opinion that Whittaker was alone at the time of starting the fires.

On the night of his arrest at the fire at Atlantic, near the boulevard, Quincy officers who had received a tip as to his identity were secreted near his home waiting for him to return to place him under arrest, and had he not been arrested in the garage, through the detective instinct of Mr. Baker he would have fallen into the hands of the Quincy police that night.

His arrest and confession has removed a great load from the shoulders of property owners in that section of the city who were in constant fear lest the firebug should apply the torch to their homes in the middle of the night, for although he had confined himself to vacant houses there was no knowing when he would turn his attention to occupied houses.

Among the college boys home for the holidays were Allison Marsh, and Joseph Lincoln from Amherst, Donald Crane from Colgate, Everett Prout and Frank Tirrell from University of Maine, law department.

CHEERY AIR AT CITY HOSPITAL

Dainties and Flowars from Relatives and Friends

At the Quincy City Hospital a cheery air prevailed, in spite of the suffering that some of those in the institution experienced. The day being Christmas the usual restraint upon visitors was removed and relatives and friends of the unfortunates were allowed to come at will. Many brought little dainties for their relatives and friends and as far as possible the sick people were permitted to enjoy these good things. Then many brought flowers which were placed at the bedside and with all the sickness and suffering a cheery air prevailed.

TURKEY DINNER AT SNUG HARBOR

Christmas Observed as Holiday By Inmates

At the Sailors Snug Harbor at Germantown the pensioners gathered about the lounging room for the greater part of the day. Nothing but the necessary work was performed and the day given over to rest and enjoyment. After dinner, the menu of which included turkey, with all the fixings, the pensioners gathered in the recreation rooms, played checkers, dominoes and swapped stories of the times when they sailed the ocean blue, and how Christmas day was observed while on the high seas.

CLAN McGREGOR, O. S. C.

Died in Quincy, Dec. 24, 1913, JOHN BIRNIE. Funeral from his late residence 39 Payne street, Saturday, Dec. 27, 1913, at 2 P. M.

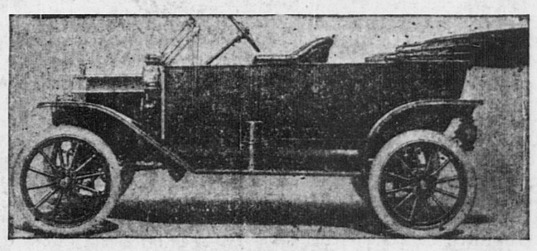
Clan McGregor No. 5 will meet in Clan McGregor Hall at 1.30 P. M.

ANGUS D. MARTIN, Chief
WALTER D. MITCHELL, Sec.
Quincy, Dec. 26, 1913. 1t

$
$

SAVED BY BUYING
Patch's Special
COALS

C. PATCH & SON, Inc.
1422 Hancock Street



THE QUINCY GARAGE, 87 Adams Street, Quincy
Agent for FORD and CASE CARS
A full Line of Supplies always on hand
Michelin Tires in stock
Now Ready for Delivery the 1914 Ford Car, $550 for 5 Passenger, $500 for Runabout, $750 for Town Car F. O. B. Detroit.
For Particulars or Demonstration call Quincy 435
Night or Day never closed. C. P. GOULD, Prop.
Dec. 12-1o-tf

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1869

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second-Class matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the . . . .

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

TELEPHONES
News . . . Quincy 425
Business . . Quincy 1910

NOTICE

Again we ask those sending news or other matter by mail to direct it to the company or newspaper rather than to individual members of the company or employees. If addressed to individuals and they were ill or not at the office, it might be several days in reaching its proper destination and if news matter would be too late for use.

So far the Society for the Prevention of Useless Giving has not tried to stop the Congressmen from giving speeches.

When the kidlets don't like their gifts they tell you so. When the older people aren't satisfied, they tell every one else.

"Breackneck Gulch," the name suggested by Judge Bumpus for that part of Saville street between the railroad tracks and Goffe street is certainly appropriate. Of the hundreds of users each day of the street many have given it other names but they would hardly be permissible in polite society.

GIVING STORE CHARACTER.

How shall the progressive merchant give his store some distinctive character of its own? Fortunes have been made by men who have succeeded in identifying a business with some individual idea.

One man calls his place the "Blue store," or the "Red store." He will paint and paper on those colors, use them in stationery, in every way connect the color idea with his place, believing that thereby his business sticks in the public mind.

Another man names his place the "Quality store" and spreads the impression that special pains are taken to buy only first grade goods. Others appeal to the note of cheapness, some identify their places with well known makers of goods. Almost any idea of this kind faithfully carried out is effective.

Probably the results are best when these individual ideas are directly related to the goods offered for sale, rather than to the mere exteriors of the store. Some men have made a remarkable success by pushing ahead some little specialty, giving the public the idea that superior knowledge, pains, and skill are used in producing it.

Most merchants do well to specialize in certain lines. The moment people get to buying one of these leaders, they will try other things from the same place.

No man can thus individualize his store without advertising. It takes lots of hammering to lodge an idea in the public mind. Once that idea is located, it is equally hard for the other fellow to drive it out.

Tell the people persistently enough that you have devoted special efforts to reach perfection in a certain line. The time will come when they won't buy much in that line until they see what you are doing.

CORPORATIONS & STOCKHOLDERS

Formerly meetings of railroad and other corporations were live wire affairs. Many stockholders would live fairly near the headquarters of the corporation in which they were interested, and they turned out in a bunch for the annual meetings. The old farmer who owned his five shares turned up with a "show me" attitude. He expressed his opinion with emphasis and appropriate gestures.

The directors listened when he talked, too. Also the widow who had put her little savings into the business was on hand, and she had ways of making her opinion felt.

The past year has seen the downfall of some very prominent railroad and industrial corporations. The railroads are now on trial before the Inter-State Commerce Commission on their petition for an advance of freight rates. Without attempting to place the blame for the fall in price of corporation shares, one thing can be said. It is a very healthful thing when the stockholders of any corporation attend its meetings and ask questions freely.

Such corporation meetings of late years have been too perfunctory. A few of the inside managers would hand over their sheaf of proxies and the business would be done without debate. Stockholders have been scattered all over the country, or have assumed that they had no business at the meetings, which have been as harmonious as a funeral.

If stockholders wish to protect their investments they should attend the meetings of these corporations. Let them not be afraid to talk. If railroad directors report the number of ties purchased and the number of telegraph poles erected, but omit to tell about new railroads acquired at a cost of millions let them demand a balance sheet that the butcher and grocer can understand.

All which suggests the advisability as far as possible of investing money near home. A corporation having a shareholders' list of home investors is doubly likely to be prudent.

MUST POSTPONE ALL NEW WORK

Railroads Not In Condition to Abolish Crossings

It is doubtful if work on the elimination of the grade crossings of Quincy is commenced in 1914. A Boston paper says all present indications seem to point to a general abandonment by the Boston & Maine and New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad of any further work in the abolition of grade crossings for the time being. About $35,000,000 has been spent on this work in Massachusetts since 1890.

The railroads have no money on hand to make the work possible, and there is no satisfactory market for the securities that would have to be issued.

The matter was brought to a head recently when the Boston & Maine crossings at Worcester came under consideration. It had been planned to spent about $1,000,000 in that city, but now the railroad says it has no money to spend.

The situation in Salem is not unlike that of Worcester. Extensive grade changes were contemplated, but it is now doubtful whether any effort will be made before the Legislature of 1914 to secure the passage of a bill for the abolition of grade crossings in Salem.

Waltham, Winchester and Sharon are in the long list of cities and towns which will have to wait for crossing changes. The cases of Amherst, Leominster and Quincy, which have been pending for a number of years, are now before the Massachusetts public service commission for approval of plans.

Electrification must necessarily be postponed for some years. Nothing will be done in this direction either by the Boston & Maine or by the New York, New Haven & Hartford until things look up.

The railroads says they are losing enough on the parcel post transportation to make a very material difference in their earnings. Not only, they say, they are receiving no extra compensation for hauling the extra freight that the parcel post gives them but they are losing directly a substantial part of their income from the express companies.

GRANITE CITY CLUB TRIBUTE

Silent Prayer to Memory of Late Member, Hon. W. T. Shea

One of the touching sentiments that took place Christmas eve at the open house night of the Granite City club occurred just as the clock struck the hour of eleven. At that time President MacQuarrie rapped for order and speaking of the death of their late member, Hon. William T. Shea, whose funeral took place that morning, requested all to rise and stand in silent prayer in his memory while the orchestra played "Nearer My God to Thee." It was a very touching sentiment, during the few minutes in which the nearly 100 present stood with bowed heads.

The attendance Wednesday evening was one of the largest in the club's history. An orchestra was present the entire evening and all of the billiard and pool tables were in constant use as were also many of the card tables. There was some interchange of gifts and Christmas good cheer prevailed throughout the evening, the only touch of sadness being noted above.

CHRISTMAS AT SQUANTUM

Purse Presented to Rev. T. W. Davison of Atlantic

Members of the Squantum Sunday school conducted by the Rev. T. W. Davison of the Atlantic Memorial church held an enjoyable concert and received presents from a Christmas tree at the Vacation House, Squantum, Tuesday night. There were fully 100 present, including the children and their parents and friends.

One of the pleasant surprises of the evening was the presentation of a substantial purse to Rev. Mr. Davison in appreciation of the fine work he is doing in Squantum. The presentation was made by Roy Olson, the nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Olson, who said:—"Santa Claus handed me this for you."

Presents from the Christmas tree were distributed by Mrs. James Foster, Mrs. Patrick Magrane and Mrs. Charles Watts. Candy was given to each child by Alfred Johnson and Joseph D. Uppling.

The concert was most enjoyable and every number was enthusiastically applauded. In closing Rev. Mr. Davison made a few remarks and his daughter, Miss Jordine Davison sang a solo in excellent voice. he evening's program was:—

Unison song, No. 218; welcome by C. E. Carlson, superintendent of the Sunday school; Merry Xmas, Clara Aldrich; selection, Marjorie Marden; "A Privilege," Lillian Rund; "Try and Try," Hazel Mason; "Open Wide," Muriel Harris; song by four girls; "A wish for Santa Claus," Theodore Aldrich; "Christmas," Lillian Swanson; Santa Claus, Hildegard Swanson; Xmas carol, Joseph Uppling; "A Boy's letter," Oscar Dahlquist, "The Prettiest Sight," Mildred Lindgren; "Xmas Long Ago," Edith Olson; "A Star," Beda Dahlquist; "Baby's Stocking," Roy Olson; duet by Joseph Uppling and son; selection, nine girls "My Dolly," Ruth Olson; "I Always Smile," Earling Hackenson; "Then and Now," Carrie Dahlquist; "Her Choir," Hazel Watts; "Bachelor's Stocking," Arthur Olson; "King's Birthday," Glennie Rund, "Bad Dreams," three girls; "Day after Xmas," Elsie Oberg; solo, Joseph Uppling; collection and song, "Hear the Pennies Dropping."

Mrs. Fred Lovejoy and son, Paul, left Tuesday night for New York City to be guests of relatives over Christmas.

Arrangements for the New Year's eve social and supper by the Squantum Improvement Association are progressing favorably. A large attendance is anticipated as many summer residents will come to Squantum to renew acquaintances for the evening.

DEBATING CLUB.

The East Braintree Debating club held its regular meeting Monday evening, Dec. 22. In the absence of the president, C. Fred Tarbox, Thomas Croke, the vice president presided. The first business before the meeting was the report of a committee consisting of the officers and executive board that was appointed to draw up new rules of order for the club. The new set of rules accepted and the attention of the meeting was then turned toward the debate regarding the twelve inch water main over Union street from South Braintree. Although the attendance was not small it was thought best in the absence of two of the debaters, to postpone it until the next meeting. It was then moved that the matter of an increase in salary for the teachers be taken up for general discussion in the form of "Resolved that the request of the teachers for an increase in salary be granted." Several interesting arguments were presented both in favor and against this increase, but as no sides were chosen it was decided to give this subject an entire evening at a future meeting.

ACCIDENT TO HELPER.

The boy who fell from the wagon of Letter Carrier John Granahan on Lunt street, Norfolk Downs, Wednesday noon was Philip Cochrane, 12 years old, of 82 Rawson road. Granahan started out from the Wollaston postal station with a large load of parcels to deliver and was being assisted by the Cochrane boy, when the latter lost his balance and fell a short distance to the ground striking in such a manner as to fracture his leg. A physician was called and the boy removed to the City Hospital in the police ambulance.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

GEORGE PARKER XMAS SUICIDE

Found In New York Room With Gas Tube In Mouth

NO REASON FOR ACT IS KNOWN

Former Boston Attorney Had Recently Been Associated With Alton B. Parker In New York—May Have Been Despondent—Leaves Family In Brookline, Mass.

New York, Dec. 26.—After practising sixteen years in Boston and New Hampshire, George F. Parker, an attorney who had recently been associated for several months with the law office of Alton B. Parker, former presidential candidate, at 111 Broadway, committed suicide in his room at 181 West Seventy-Third street. No motive except despondency over a lonely Christmas is known.

J. F. Crawford, who occupied a room adjoining that of Parker, detected gas escaping from Parker's room and tried to call him. Not succeeding, he summoned a patrolman. They forced an entrance and found Parker's body on the bed with a tube in his mouth, the other end of which was attached to the gas fixture. He had been dead for several hours, according to Dr. Giles of the Polyclinic hospital.

Mr. Parker was from Brookline, Mass., where his wife and five children live at 45 St. Paul street. Although his early legal career was devoted to Boston and New Hampshire, a few months ago he made application for admission to the New York bar, to the appellate division of the supreme court, and expected to be admitted next month.

In Parker's room was found a letter from his wife, in which she regretted that he could not be in Brookline on Christmas day. She said he would receive by post a package containing presents from her and the children.

There was also found a letter of recommendation written by Judge Parker on Dec. 10.

His work in the office of Judge Parker, to whom he was not related, has been highly satisfactory, although necessarily of a limited nature. Arthur McCausland, secretary to Judge Parker, said that the Brookline attorney was occupied with work in Long Island which demanded a thorough knowledge of law, and had intended to go to Long Island to attend to his work.

Roscoe C. Peck, another lawyer associated with Alton B. Parker, said that George Parker had been industrious and cheerful, and he could advance no theory to explain the suicide. Peck said he telephoned to Parker on Wednesday afternoon and at that time Parker had seemed perfectly contented. He had expressed his intention to stay in New York on Christmas day, and had exchanged the season's greetings.

ONE MAN KILLED

Worcester Lithuanian Stabs Three More and Is Arrested

Worcester, Mass., Dec. 26.—After killing one man, stabbing a man and a woman perhaps fatally and slashing a third man severely, Joseph Motadaghi, 22, of 23 Wilson street, who admits, according to the police, that he is wanted in Russia on a murder charge, was arrested after a desperate battle against three patrolmen.

Of his victims, George Janeszansky, 30, of 19 Winslow street, was killed outright. John Palupesky, 27, of the same address, was stabbed in the chest, so that his heart was exposed and cannot live. Mrs. Anna Spilessy, 28, one of the most leading members of the Lithuanian colony, was cut so deeply about the face, arms and body that her recovery is doubtful. Her husband, John Spilessy, was slashed about the wrists.

MRS. STEVENSON DEAD

Wife of Former Vice President Had Been Ill Several Months

Bloomington, Ills., Dec. 26.—Mrs. Adlai E. Stevenson, wife of former Vice President Stevenson, died here. She had been ill for several months. Mrs. Stevenson was 70 years old and is survived by her husband and three children, Lewis G. Stevenson, president of the Illinois state board of pardons, Mrs. Martin N. Hardin of Chicago and Miss Letitia Stevenson at home.

Mrs. Stevenson was elected president-general of the Daughters of the American Revolution four times and had recently published a history of that organization.

Wilson Invited to Panama

New York, Dec. 26.—Panama advices published here say Colonel George W. Goethals, chairman and chief engineer of the isthmian canal commission, has cabled to President Wilson an invitation to spend part of his Christmas vacation in Panama and be the first to sail through the canal.

Storms of Life.

As storm following storm and wave succeeding wave give additional hardness to the shell that incloses the pearl, so do the storms and waves of life add force to the character of man.

DAVID F. HOUSTON

Authorized by Currency Bill to Help Pick Reserve Cities

© 1913, by American Press Association.

PICKING RESERVE BANKS

Cabinet Officers Receive Claims From Many Cities

Washington, Dec. 26.—Active campaigning for federal reserve banks to be established under the new banking and currency system has been begun by a half dozen big cities in different parts of the United States.

Secretaries McAdoo and Houston, the "organization committee" authorized by the new law to choose the reserve cities, considered tentative plans for making up the list of not less than eight and not more than twelve cities to be given federal banks.

Minnesota banks and business houses took up the cudgels in behalf of St. Paul and Minneapolis, and bankers in the south are speaking up in favor of Atlanta, New Orleans and Dallas. Philadelphia and Baltimore are at odds over one bank. Applications for membership in the reserve system were received from banks in St. Albans, Vt.; Portland, Me.; Rochester, N. Y., and Portsmouth, N. H.

PROBE CAREER OF MUCH-WEDDED SAINT

Rev. Mr. Dahlstrom Deserted Probably a Score of Women

Seattle, Dec. 26.—The career of Rev. Albert Dahlstrom, who is in jail at Tacoma on a white slavery charge, is being investigated by William Byron, special agent of the department of justice, who says that the self-styled "saint" has been under scrutiny since last May. According to Byron, Dahlstrom has married and deserted probably a score of women in various parts of the United States.

The government agents assert that in 1899, while legally married to one woman in Chicago, he bigamously married another in St. Paul, by whom his first child was born.

Dahlstrom established a colony of his believers at Granite Falls, Wash. Just as the authorities were about to arrest him he disappeared and recently he was discovered living on a farm at Mountainview, with two sisters, Edna and Hilda England, whose parents live near Mountainview. One of the England girls will be the chief witness against him at his trial in Tacoma.

Dahlstrom is about 40 years old, a native of Sweden, and speaks English with difficulty. He is the founder of a religion known as "Heliga," one of the tenets of which is belief in polygamy.

STATUE HIDDEN CENTURIES

Famous Work of Art Placed In National Museum at Florence

Florence, Dec. 26.—Donatello's famous statue of St. John the Baptist, which was executed for his friend and patron, Martelli, and purchased by the Italian government for $80,000, was placed in Donatello's hall in the national museum, after having remained hidden for centuries in the old Martelli palace.

Large sums have been offered for the statue by foreign galleries and art collectors, but the law prevented its leaving the country.

Mother Accidentally Kills Daughter

Southboro, Mass., Dec. 26.—Alice, the 11-year-old daughter of C. W. Whitney, a publisher, of Boston, was accidentally shot and killed by her mother. Mrs. Whitney was extracting a shell from the magazine of a rifle when the weapon was discharged, the bullet entering the child's heart.

Premier's Son Dead In Wreck

Groningen, Netherlands, Dec. 26.—A son of Premier P. W. A. Cort Van der Linden and four other passengers were killed and twelve injured in the wreck of a holiday train, which jumped the track near this city.

Capital $150,000 Surplus $200,000

OPEN A BANK ACCOUNT HERE

Do business in a business-like way, and secure for yourself the great number of privileges that are yours without cost as a result. Office hours are convenient and employees obliging and polite. There is much information and advice that is free to our depositors, and we are always ready to consult with you if you wish.

Our $5 Box Is Larger Than a $10 Box In Boston.

GRANITE TRUST CO.
FOUNDED 1836

PLANS TO GO WEST

Miss Brance, Soul Mate of Couch, Will Fight For His Picture

Monticello, N. Y., Dec. 26.—Miss Adelaide Brance, who for three years lived in a secret room in the law office of the late Melvin H. Couch, will leave Monticello and go west as soon as she is able to realize on mortgages of which she is the owner.

This she announced from her room in the hospital ward of the jail where she has been detained since her secret companionship with Couch was discovered after his sudden death last Sunday morning.

Miss Brance, who has been in a hysterical condition since the exposure of her relations with Couch, asserted that she would not leave Monticello until she had recovered possession of a photograph of Couch, which she says the dead lawyer's wife took from his effects.

The county sheriff on behalf of Miss Brance requested Mrs. Couch to return the photograph, but the request was refused. Upon being informed of this Miss Brance declared she would take legal action to compel its return.

FAILS TO INDICT GLOVER

Coroner's Jury Finds De Villier Was Killed by Person Unknown

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 26.—Unable to decide who fired the shots which killed Daniel de Villiers, of San Antonio, Tex., during his struggle with Royal Glover, the present husband of De Villier's one-time wife, the coroner's jury returned a verdict that De Villiers had met death at the hands of a person unknown.

This verdict, according to officials, simply makes it necessary for Glover to present his self-defence plea at his trial, unless the district attorney declines to press the case.

Mrs. Glover testified that De Villiers had leaped upon her husband. She declared she saw him draw a pistol. After the shots were fired and De Villiers lay gasping upon the floor, she asserted the dying man gave her his weapon, which she laid on the floor.

GIRL OF 14 IS A CHRISTMAS BRIDE

Lynn Woman Wants to See Daughter Provided For

Lynn, Mass., Dec. 26.—Because she wanted to see her only child married and with a good home of her own, Mrs. Emma J. Weld of 48 Eutaw avenue, consented to the marriage of her 14-year-old daughter, Ruth A. Weld, to George E. Hartford, aged 21. The youthful couple were married at the home of the bride, by Rev. Donald H. Gerrish, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church.

Mrs. Weld is a widow and nearly 60 years of age. Her health has been such of late that she has been afraid that she is not going to live very long. She could not bear to leave her daughter alone and unprotected, and believes that the girl is now far better off. Mr. Weld died several years ago and mother and daughter have lived alone since; and although possessed of moderate means, they, as Mrs. Weld expressed it, "missed the protection of a man about the house."

AVIATOR CROSSES ALPS

Oscar Bider, a Swiss, Lost In Fog For Several Hours

Berne, Switz., Dec. 26.—Oscar Bider, a Swiss aviator, made a successful flight across the Alps, though for several hours he was unable to see his way because of the heavy fog. The airman arrived here after a journey from Buc, from which place he started at 9 a. m.

Bider said that after leaving the French aerodrome he was forced to maintain an altitude of 6500 feet almost constantly in order to avoid the fog. He passed over the Jura, the chain of mountains separating France from Switzerland, without being able to see any landmarks, but recovered his bearings on sighting the Jungfrau, one of the most famous mountains of the Swiss Alps, about half an hour before he came to Berne.

Larkin Coming With "Fiery Cross"

Dublin, Dec. 26.—James Larkin, the leader of the Irish transport workers, who have been on strike here since September, is going to the United States early in the new year to carry on his "fiery cross" mission among the laboring men and at the same time to collect funds, he informed the strikers in a speech delivered at Kilmainham, a suburb of Dublin.

Woman and Girl Suffocated

Providence, Dec. 26.—Mrs. Margaret Dailey, 68, and her granddaughter, Miss Margaret Murphy, 15, were suffocated in a fire in the home of Martin M. Murphy on Sheldon street. The bodies were discovered by firemen who had forced an entrance through the dense smoke. The fire damage was slight.

Motorcycle Race Postponed

Savannah, Ga., Dec. 26.—A steady rain caused the postponement of Savannah's 300-mile motorcycle race, which was to have been run Christmas day. It will be run tomorrow instead.

15 to 20

COLUMNS OF LOCAL NEWS

ARE PUBLISHED DAILY

In the [Quincy] Ledger

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

PRINTS THE NEWS

AMUSEMENTS

DOINGS ON THE STAGE IN

BOSTON AND VICINITY

QUINCY MUSIC HALL.

"Success" is to be given in two reels at the Saturday matinee and evening at Music hall with the following cast:

Allan Brooks	Irving Cummings
Edith Mason	Irene Hunt
Bert Parker	Alan Hale
Leading Lady	Vivian Prescott
Manager	George Siegmann

Allan Brooks receives back his play from the managers, rejected, and returns to his studio convinced that life is a failure and that he will end it. Edith Mason, the girl who loves him, is an artist of no talent but a strong and brave girl. While consoling him, her hand touches the pistol in his pocket and she gets it away from him. She tells him that success is not in money but in a man's heart and soul. He does not agree and declares he would sell his soul for success. She is horrified. Then a letter is brought in stating that his manuscript had been returned by mistake. Bert a young doctor, is in love with Edith but she prefers Allan. Allen decides to give a dinner in honor of all the successes of the town. Edith, unable to sell her pictures, obtains work in an art shop painting dinner cards, etc. While the dinner is taking place, Allan suggests that a failure he brought in as a contrast. Edith is dragged into the dining room against her will. As the great cross of Calvary appears, one by one the guests steal out Allan looks at Edith, then falls across the table. Edith summons Bert who pronounces Allan dead. Bert leads her away and Allan lies alone in the hall.

PLYMOUTH THEATRE.

The most interesting event of the theatrical seasons in Boston was the opening at the Plymouth Theatre, of Selwyn and Company's new melodrama of smart New York society, "Under Cover." William Courtenay, a favorite with Boston theatregoers, played Steven Denby, about whom the plot of the play revolves, and he has added in this character another laurel to his wreath of popularity. "Under Cover" is an interesting exposition of the methods of the United States Secret Service detectives attached to the Customs house in following suspected smugglers. The plot is set in the atmosphere of smart New York society one member of the fashionable set being suspected of evading duty on a diamond necklace. In order that they may get evidence the detectives, through unusual circumstances, compel a young woman of the social set to act as a secret agent. In her fight to save a younger sister and the man she loves this woman, the Ethel Cartwright, carries a mystery and suspense that are sustained to the very last and most unexpected climax.

PARK THEATRE.

May Robson will come to Boston New Year's week at the Park Theatre in "The Clever Woman," a new three-act comedy by James Forbes. Miss. Robson was last seen in Boston fifteen months ago in "A Night Out," which enjoyed a run of four weeks. She is perhaps best known to American theatregoers as the woman who made famous "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary." The story of the play is not a new one. It couldn't be and carry fittingly the message Miss Robson brings to wives and mothers—the blessedness of a sense of humor in running the various and varied affairs of the household of a newly rich man. The story is a human one—human because it is happening every day in real life. While May Robson is essentially a comedienne, her new vehicle opens a wide field for her versatility in portraying pathos as well as comedy. The famous character actress says it is the best play in which she ever starred. Paul Decker, one of America's foremost juveniles and who has been seen with Miss Robson before, is the leading man. Matinees will be on Wednesday and Saturday.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

After starting off at the Castle Square with large audiences, "Miss Pocahontas" will continue its run through next week. The play and its production is especially designed for the entertainment of the young, and as New Year's week is vacation time, they will have plenty of time to see it, especially as matinee performances are given every day. "Miss Pocahontas" is a medley of mirth and music. Powhatan, Captain John Smith, John Rolfe and Pocahontas herself give a legendary and historical flavor to its successive scenes, and there is something jolly in all of them. Indians give picturesqueness to the performance, and the colors and grouping of characters furnish it with no small number of spectacular effects. In addition to a chorus of thirty-two singers, there is an enlarged orchestra under the direction of Joseph Marr. Mr. Carleton appears as Captain John Smith, Donald Meek as Powhatan, and Miss Doris Olsson as Pocahontas, and every one of the favorite Castle Square players is in the cast.

MAJESTIC THEATRE.

"Little Women," Louisa M. Alcott's immortal story of Meg, Jo, Beth and Amy, which has enjoyed a popularity second to none of the novels of today, has been dramatized by Marian de Forest, a Buffalo newspaper woman, through an arrangement with Jessie Bonstelle (who secured the dramatic rights from the Alcott heirs) and will be presented under William A. Brady's direction, at the Majestic Theatre, Monday evening, Dec. 29th. Sweet, simple, quaint and refreshing is this tale of a half century ago, and the play is as charming as the book, bringing very close to those who know and love the story the old friends from out the covers of the book into that larger, more intimate life of the stage. Mr. Brady has assembled a representative company of players, and promises a scenic production accurate and realistic, showing the March home at Concord and the orchard at Plumfield. The play is in four acts and two scenes, and many of the costumes used have been secured from the Alcott family, including Jo's boots, which she got "from a lady who had a friend who knew an actor."

SHUBERT THEATRE.

"The Passing Show of 1913" continues at the Shubert Theatre, where it has scored an emphatic hit. As is usual with all productions sent on tour from the New York Winter Garden, its original home, it is lavishly mounted, both as to scenic embellishment and costuming. The cast provided by the Messrs. Shubert for the characterizations in the travesties on the dramatic and musical hits of the past season, as well as the dancers, singers and vaudevillians engaged for the interpolated numbers, is a superior one. The ballet divertisement of "Perfumes" gives the chorus of sixty beauties an opportunity of displaying the new Paul Poiret lamp shade gowns. Eleven other examples of the costumer's are are donned during the course of the performance. The scenes, eight in number, include the Tango Square, the Mexican Border, Incandescent Lane, the Oriental Suffragette Harem, and the reproduction of the Capitol steps at Washington, a scene of unusual splendor and magnificence. There are 3 musical numbers.

HOLLIS STREET HEATRE.

The biggest hit of the season is the verdict of all Boston regarding the production of "The Marriage Market" at the Hollis Street Theatre in which Charles Frohman is presenting handsome and graceful Donald Brian. It is one of the brightest, cleanest and most entertaining musical comedies Boston has witnessed for many days. This is what Edward H. Crosby, the noted critic of the Boston Post has to say: "It has made as big an impression here as it did in London, where it is now playing in its second year. And the praise heaped upon it by the public is well deserved. It is genuinely amusing and in every way wholesome." The biggest dancing novelty Boston has ever seen is "The Futurist Twirl" as danced by Donald Brian and a chorus of international beauties. The music of "The Marriage Market" as written by Victor Jacobi is exquisite. It is played by an augmented orchestra of thirty. The engagement is limited and it will be advisable to procure seats at once, they are on sale for two weeks in advance. Matinees are given on Wednesday and Saturday. Curtain rises promptly at 8 evenings and at 2 on matinee days.

TREMONT TEMPLE.

At the Tremont Temple beginning next Monday, Manager Plimpton will offer for a limited time only, The Pasquali Company's spectacular photo production of "The Last Days of Pompeii." It will be the first presentation of this remarkable adaptation of Lord Bulwer Lytton's famous novel, in this city. The production is the same that achieved a long run at the Wallack's Theatre in New Work City. It is presented in eight reels picturing more than 100 scenes. In all the performance runs over two hours.

On next Tuesday evening, December 30, at the Tremont Temple Miss Mildred Champagne will deliver the first of her series of talks on "The Making of a Home." Great interest is being shown in these lectures for Miss Champagne's host of readers have hitherto only known her through the means of her clever and facile pen. Miss Champagne will talk on love and marriage and will also express her views on the new feminist movement.

IN THE TEXAS FLOOD.

Letters received Christmas day from Claus and Eric Gelotte relieved the anxiety of their parents and friends. They are now in Texas and near the flooded section. They report that the waters of the river rose 30 feet and that houses were washed away with loss of life.

SWIMMING CAMPAIGN.

William V. McCarthy, former captain of the Brookline swimming team and now instructor for the Massachusetts Humane society, is to be at the Y. M. C. A. the rest of this week and all of next week, to complete the swimming campaign. Tonight the shipyard men are invited to come to the building for instruction in swimming and methods of resuscitation of drowning persons. Saturday morning the Willard school boys are to have the pool reserved for them up to 11.30.

HOLMES & HALL
REPAIRERS OF HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
SHADES
DOOR BELLS
LOCKS and KEYS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1698 W

A KIND FAMILY'S CHRISTMAS GIFT

NCE, long ago, in the mountains of southern France, there lived a poor but honest family of a father, mother and two children. The father was named Adam and the mother Hannah. The son, Peter, was twelve years of age, and the daughter, Esther, was only nine.

Father Adam was an honest, hard-working man. On the steep sides of the mountains he kept his sheep and a cow, and in a little valley that lay between the mountains Mother Hannah made a garden, tilling the soil by her own hands, with the aid of a few simple gardening tools. And her son Peter gave her what assistance a boy of his years could give. Esther kept the little thatched cottage tidy and clean, preparing the meals for the three workers who were out of doors most of the day and who came in at night from their toil very, very tired.

But they never grumbled at their lot, for they had hopes that Fortune would smile on them some time. And she did—in the form of a fairy.

One morning the day before Christmas Father Adam and family sat around their plain wooden table eating mush and milk. Adam spoke.

BEFORE HER STOOD A FAIRY.

"'Tis the holy time of Christmas, mother," he said, "and we should do an act of charity toward some one poorer than ourselves, even though it should be giving ever and ever so small a gift. The Lord gave his life for sufferers in his name on the day of his Nativity. What say you, mother?"

"You are right," agreed Mother Hannah. "There is the Widow David, who stands in great need. She has two children, and the wolves got among her sheep and killed three of the finest. She is trying hard to keep her children and herself. What say you to our sending her a bag of wheat and a small cheese?"

"Very good, mother," agreed Father Adam. "And as I shall have to watch the sheep and cow either Peter or Esther shall take the wheat and cheese to Widow David's cot."

"I'll go," offered Esther, "for Peter and mother are digging up the ground for the planting of vines in the spring."

So it was agreed that Esther should take the dogcart and make the journey over the mountain to the cottage of the Widow David. As soon as breakfast was over Esther tidied up the house and placed the noon meal—a loaf of bread, a jug of homemade wine and a small cheese—on the table. "Mother and Peter will be hungry after the forenoon spent in the garden," she said. "Poor father always carries his bread and cheese in his pocket and eats as he herds the sheep.

"Now, before going I shall fix the fire to hold till noonday; otherwise the house will be cold on mother's and Peter's return."

So saying, Esther picked up a huge log that lay beside the fireplace. "Ah, this is the log father said should burn our Christmas eve fire. It will soon be Christmas eve, and I'll throw the log on the flame and have the house cheery on the return of the dear ones." But just as Esther was lifting one end of the heavy log—the Yule log—a flash of light leaped from the farther end and caused Esther to close her eyes. When she opened them again there before her stood a fairy. "Ah! I have come to bring you some Christmas cheer," said the fairy. "Your parents are good and deserving folk. They were robbing their larder to help the needy widow. So here is a bit of good fortune for you and yours, little helpful maid. Take of it for yourselves and for those about you who are in need." Then, before Esther could reply, the fairy had disappeared, leaving on the hearth a bag of gold.

The little girl ran out and called in her parents and brother. When the father looked into the big bag of gold he said that there was enough there to keep them all in comfort for the rest of their lives and with which to help their less fortunate neighbors as well.

And you may be sure there was a merry Christmas for the family, with many good wishes for the kind fairy.

CORROSIVE ACID BURNS.

If Splashed With Vitriol Plunge Into Water at Once.

A burn from sulphuric acid—vitriol, as it is often called—is one of the most painful and disfiguring wounds that can be received. Sulphuric acid is the most powerful of caustic liquids. When it touches the tissues of the body it disorganizes them rapidly, exhausting the water in them, coagulating their albumen and changing the nature of their salts, thus bringing about a destruction that is sometimes fatal. When the burnt place heals it does so with a hideous scar, resembling that of leprosy or lupus.

On being splashed with vitriol there is only one thing to do—rush for the nearest water and plunge the burnt member into it. If the face be splashed it should be instantly immersed in a bowl or pail of water, or in a lake or river if these be handy. The object is to dilute the acid as quickly as possible and so check its rapid corrosion of the flesh, for if let alone it will eat in to a great depth.

Having washed away the acid, cover the wound at once with some alkali, such as limewater or milk of magnesia. If these are not obtainable suds made from pure soap will do. Then treat the wounds as ordinary burns are treated. If the mouth be burned it should be rinsed out with water, following this with limewater or milk of magnesia, which should be kept in the mouth as long as possible.

A burn from ammonia, though not nearly so serious as one from acid, is very painful. It should be treated with a diluted acid wash made from vinegar or the juice of a lemon or lime. Afterward it should be coated with gum tragacanth or gum arabic.—New York World.

BROAD DAYLIGHT AT NIGHT.

That's the Sight That Startles One In Alaska In Summer.

Speaking from an experience of more than 100,000 miles' travel on sea and land, it is remarkable how many things you see in Alaskan waters which you have seen nowhere else in the world. It was a novel sight to have a whole school of whales spouting at one time, with some of them cruising up near the boat and rolling over like submarines pitching in a heavy sea. And the herds of Alaskan fur seals, hoarsely bellowing as we approached, added to memory's repertoire of barking monkeys, groaning camels and trumpeting elephants.

Another unusual thrill that comes to the summer traveler in Alaska springs from the eternal daylight of that wonderful country. Whether you actually see the midnight sun or not depends upon the date and the latitude to which you ascend, but darkness is a thing of the past after the second night out of Seattle. A dusky gloaming takes its place until you get still farther north, and then you may read a newspaper on deck at midnight without straining your eyes. This phenomenon is one of the strangest in Alaska. It gives you a shock to leave the club at Dawson or Fairbanks at 1 o'clock in the morning and find yourself in broad daylight when you come out on the silent streets!—Edgar Allen Forbes in Leslie's.

Meeting a Crisis.

"How much do you charge for cutting off a dog's tail?" said a small boy to a veterinary recently, exhibiting a quarter in one hand and leading a lean canine with the other.

"The operation customarily costs $1, but I will do it for you for 50 cents," replied the gentleman addressed.

The boy looked at the coin in his hand disappointedly for a moment, but his face quickly brightened. He stuck out his hand which contained the coin and said: "That's all I've got. Cut off a quarter's worth."—National Monthly.

Passing It Along.

"What does your mother do when things go wrong?"

"She just takes it out on pa."

"And what does your sister do?"

"She hops on to pa and ma both."

"And what does your father do?"

"It's different with pa. He don't dare say much to ma and sis, and so when he gets mad he just takes it out on the street railway company and the beef trust."—Detroit Free Press.

How, Indeed.

"I never can believe a word that woman says."

"It's rather funny. She said the same thing about you yesterday."

"That's just like her. How can you have confidence in any one who talks about another behind her back?"—Chicago Record-Herald.

Railway Punctuality.

It is related that an Anglo-Indian officer once asked the station master at Delhi whether the 12 o'clock train from Calcutta was in.

"Which," was the reply—"today's or yesterday's? They are both due, but yesterday's isn't in yet!"

Took a Job Lot.

"Just one kiss," murmured the bookkeeper.

The pretty stenographer pointed to a placard.

"No Goods at Retail," it stated.

So he took a job lot.—Washington Herald.

In Old Egypt.

An American professor claims to have discovered that it was a crime to flirt in ancient Egypt. If the fair sex looked anything like the pictures they left behind them it was.—Toronto Star.

William Tripp's Old Mother

By M. QUAD

Copyright, 1913, by Associated Literary Press.

William was wicked.

When I pick out one man from a mining camp made up of 300 runaways, debt jumpers, cutthroats, gamblers, horse thieves and murderers and call him wicked I mean for the reader to infer that he was right up and down bad.

Which was exactly the case with William Tripp.

Wicked! Well, he was that!

Such a swearer as William was! He would begin as soon as his eyes were open in the morning and keep up a steady fire until 10 o'clock at night. And he was a cheat and a liar.

You wonder that we didn't run him out or hang him.

Well, somehow we always intended to, but always put it off to a more convenient date. The success of bouncing a man depends a good deal on who the man is. On our first gentle hint to William Tripp that unless he was packed up and out of camp inside of thirty minutes his anatomy would be riddled with bullets he produced a couple of revolvers, backed up against the Red Eye saloon and calmly observed that he was aching for a little excitement. I think his actions at that particular time had something to do with our giving him the rope and seeking to get along with his eccentric traits of character.

"I move," said Elder Beacon one night when we were talking about William's bad ways, "that the committee get the drop on him and then run him into the hills."

Just so, but who were the committee? That was another point we could never satisfactorily determine, and that was another reason why William continued to abide with us.

Shoot? Well, you never saw such an eye and such nerve. Just as far as he could see the bowl of a pipe in a man's mouth he could smash it with a bullet. Almost every hat in camp had an air hole made by one of his bullets, and, though I was prejudiced against William, I had to admit that he respected men's heads in shooting at their hats.

But there came a halt in William Tripp's mad career, and it happened in a queer way. A fire in his tent one night burned up a lot of his traps, and he had to make a ride of thirty miles on Colonel Cooper's old mare to replace them with new. The morning he rode out of camp was the last time we saw him, but we heard from a dozen different ones just what happened. About twelve miles from our camp was the Overland trail, and just where our own trail struck in was a pretty little valley with plenty of water and wood. It was a favorite camping spot with immigrants, and the day William Tripp reached it he found half a dozen wagons and as many families halted for a breathing spell.

The deviltry in William's nature bubbled over when he struck that valley and beheld such a scene of peace. Children were playing around, women were washing and mending, and the brawny men were repairing wagons and harness and whistling over their work. William drew rein and gazed upon the scene for a few minutes. Then he out with his revolver. Seated before one of the fires was an old woman with her knitting in hand and a pipe in her mouth. It was a long shot, but the evil one urged William to try it, and try he did.

What happened?

Something even worse than murder. The bullet went straight for the old woman's head and crashed into her brain. Then something awful followed. She rose to her feet, whirled around to face the shooter, and true as you live she seemed to look at him for thirty seconds before she tottered forward and shrieked out:

"William! Oh, my son William!"

Then she pitched forward on the grass and was dead in a second, and the red blood oozed out and made a terrible stain on the green grass.

And William—what did he do? He was like one turned to stone. The old woman's words plainly reached his ears, and he must have recognized her face. In the awful moment in which he sat gazing at the corpse on the grass it must have flashed across him that his poor mother had made that long journey with neighbors for no other purpose than to hunt him up—he the boy who had left her years ago and had been the subject of her nightly prayers ever since. Wicked as he was he must have felt her devotion and sacrifices.

And then?

He sat there in his saddle, his eyes fastened on his mother's corpse, and the revolver still in his hand. The situation had petrified him. While he sat thus one of the immigrants, who, believing that the camp was to be attacked by a force, leveled his rifle over the wheel of the wagon and sent a bullet plowing through William's heart.

Ah, well: it's years and years ago, and the twin graves in the valley have long since been trampled out of sight, and White Dog Diggings can be found no more, but the day the news of that awful tragedy came back to us we dropped spade and pick and could work no more for the day. And after a long period of silence among the men, who had instinctively gathered around Judge Desire to hear his opinion, the judge arose and said:

"Feller citizens, the wicked don't live out half his days, and don't you forgit it!"

Try an Advertisement in
The Quincy Daily Ledger
Through the Daily Newspaper the Advertiser can make a local and intimate appeal to his prospective customer in his own community and in his own vernacular.
The Newspaper Advertisement is not buried—it is accessible. The Newspaper Advertisement of a commodity continually or daily needed is read by the very people whose continual or daily need the Advertiser desires to supply. The Newspaper Advertisement may be seen thirty times a month—it is not limited to one appearance.
Geo. W. Prescott Publishing Company
1424 Hancock Street, -- Quincy, Mass.

SILVER WEDDING.

A large gathering of relatives and relatives and friends attended the silver wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth A. Hollis at their home 282 Union street, South Braintree, which was observed on Thursday evening. Guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. Hollis and the ushers were Henry H. Marston and Fred B. Watson. Refreshments of ice cream, cake and punch were served. Musical selections were rendered by an orchestra consisting of Miss Bessie M. Hollis, piano, Omer W. Hollis, violin and Frederick E. Goodnow, cornetist.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollis received a large number of valuable presents of china and silver among them being a chest of silver from Braintree Grange, a silver plate of a beautiful design from the Pythian sisters and an assortment of silver from the employees of the S. H. Couch Co. of Norfolk Downs. At a late hour the guests reluctantly departed wishing their entertainers many more observances of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollis were married Dec. 25, 1888, at 282 Union street where Mr. Hollis was born and has since lived. The cermony was performed by the Rev. William B. Heath then pastor of the M. E. church of South Braintree. Mrs. Hollis was Miss Carrie E. Merrill of Arnold street and has always lived in Braintree. Their home is blessed by four children, Miss Bessie M., Wilton M., William A., and Harold E. Hollis.

Mrs. Hollis is a member of Braintree Grange and of the Phythian Sisters. Mr. Hollis is employed by the S. H. Couch Company, electrical manufacturers, and is foreman in the telephone department in their factory at Norfolk Downs.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollis are of a most hospitable nature and lovers of sociability and their spacious rooms are often thrown open to entertain company and they are never happier than when they are providing for the pleasure and entertainment of their guests.

ONLY ONE FIRE ALARM.

The alarm from Box 227 at 10.03 Christmas morning was for a slight fire in a house at 23 Canal street occupied by Pasquala Faline. The fire started in a front room on the lower floor from a lamp. The lamp had been left burning on a commode near the window and getting too hot had burned off the top and set fire to the mat upon wrich it rested. The occupants of the house were in another room when they smelled the smoke from the burning cloth and wood. They rushed in, grabbed the burning mass and threw it out of the window. In doing so, a man had his hands badly cut by glass and was singed by the flames. The loss was very slight.

CHRISTMAS BABIES.

Two of Quincy's municipal employees received a visit from the stork on the holidays. Richard Williams, the chauffeur of Chief Engineer Litchfield was presented with a nine pound baby daughter, while Martin W. Cunniff an employee in the Street department was presented with a little son. The mothers of both infants are reported as doing nicely.

WEYMOUTH.

James DeNiel of Broad street has secured a position as Goodyear stitcher in the Rice & Hutchins shoe factory, South Braintree.

Mr. C. Callahan who recently lost his home on Mt. Pleasant by fire has moved into the house at 165 Broad street. Mr. Callahan is in charge of all inside piping for the Old Colony Gas Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Humphrey formerly of Weymouth but now living in Philidelphia, spent the Christmas with Mrs. Humphrey's mother who is Mrs. Richards of Front street.

Mr. J. E. Ludden has purchased a lot of land on Somerville avenue East Braintree and has placed lumber enough in it to build a two family house which will be built in the near future by Lloyd R. Moshier.

The many friends of Dr. George Bullock of Washington street who has recently undergone an operation at the Boothbay hospital, Boston, will be glad to learn that he is resting very comfortably. He was able to sit up a short time Wednesday afternoon and succeeded in walking a little distance. It is hoped that he will be able to come home the latter part of next week.

The lumber yard run by the late Walter Sanborn of Prospect street was sold the past week and many wide awake business men purchased lumber enough to build at least one house, while the private sale was going on, which closed at ten o'clock, Monday morning when the Rhines Lumber Company took possession of everything that was left. The Rhines Lumber Co. have been rather crowded for the past few years and manager Tenny is very much pleased with the new addition.

WEYMOUTH CHORAL SOCIETY.

The Weymouth Choral Society is making fine progress in the work preparatory to rendering a miscellaneous programme for their first concert. The community have reason to be proud of the orchestra connected with the society as they are home talent and show the true musical ability to read and execute anything presented to them. The male voices are well balanced and do excellent work in the two part music allotted to them, while the selections for female voices show that they are adapted to the qualities of their respective parts. Rehearsing under such a tactful leader as Mr. Calderwood the concert to be given Jan. 16, in Bates Opera House should enlist the patronage of many music lovers and advocates of home talent.

HOLIDAY BUSINESS GOOD.

The local storekeepers report an unusually good holiday business, especially during the first of the week and the day before Christmas. Many people found that the asortment carried by Quincy firms was equally as large as that carried by the Boston stores and that by trading at home they avoided the rush and jam of the big Boston stores and the purchasing of goods that had been handled over, and doubtless in many cases damaged.

PRATT'S BREAD made of the best flour by the best bakers. Your grocer.

At ATLANTIC
Quincy Daily Ledger
On Sale after 3.30 P. M.
--- AT ---
BRANSCHIED & MARTENS
Why not put in an order and have it left every day at your home?

Quincy Daily Ledger

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30.
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branschied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
Newcomb Square—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. Smith.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck.
L. A. Cook, Washington Street.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington Street.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield Water st.
A. Pierson, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—Capt. Fosdick's.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity. Saturday fair and colder; Sunday, continued fair.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	7.12
Sun sets	4.17
Length of day	9.05
Moon rises	6.38
High water, A. M.	10.00
High water, P. M.	10.30
Days decrease 0 hours,	1 minutes
Full Moon, Dec. 13,	10.00 A. M.
Last Quarter, Dec. 20	11.16 A. M.
New Moon, Dec. 27	9.59 A. M.
First Quarter, Dec. 5,	9.59 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today	42 degrees
Dec. 26 1912,	40 degrees
Dec. 26, 1911,	43 degrees

Dec. Noon Maximum 14 years—67
Dec. Noon Minimum, 14 years—2

NEWSY BRIEFS

The annual ball of the Quincy Tennis Club will be held this evening at Music hall from 8 to 11.30.

W. E. Irwin, who has been staying at the Y. M. C. A. for several months has returned to his home in Philadelphia.

A. H. Blanchard, boys' work director at the Y. M. C. A., spent the holiday with his parents Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Blanchard in Sherborne.

L. F. LaRose, physical director at the Y. M. C. A., and Mrs. LaRose spent Christmas day in Auburndale with relatives.

Louis A. Newcomb made a trip by auto from New York to enjoy the holidays with his sister Mrs. M. J. Whittemore.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Branch will leave next week for Wilbur-by-the-Sea on the West Coast of Florida, where they built a bungalow last winter. The property is being developed by J. W. Wilbur.

Charles H. Hardwick, Esq. undertook the role of Santa Claus Christmas morning and with his brother Robert at the wheel motored about the city distributing gifts to some twenty children.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Williams, nee Georgiana McLean, of 45 Cross street, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, born Wednesday, a nice Christmas gift. Mr. Williams is located at the Central Fire station.

The regular monthly meeting of the Wollaston Citizens' Association will be held this evening in the new permanent headquarters in the Wollaston Hotel building. Various committees are expected to report and a nominating committee will be appointed. The association is nearly one year old.

HUB-MARK RUBBERS

See that the Hub-Mark is on the rubber before you buy. It is your insurance of Standard First Quality Rubber Footwear for every purpose

SOLD BY

A. HALL
A. NELSON
B. FRITZ & SON
PAYSON-MITCHELL CO.
Oct. 17-20t

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point
Tel. Quincy Mass. 1153 M Nov 8-tf

ARTHUR L. THOMAS
Attorney-at-Law
3-4-5-6 Greenleaf Block
Telephone Quincy 460 Jan.2-1y

BASKET BALL AT Y. M. C. A.

Quincy Team Will Play Western Massachusetts Champions

The strong Northampton Y. M. C. A. basket-ball team will be the opponent of the Quincy association team Saturday night. Northampton claims the championship of Western Massachusetts having defeated all of the crack teams in that section of the state. Last year this team was the only Y. M. C. A. team to defeat both Brockton and Newton on their home floors.

Brockton turned the trick last night by defeating Northampton in a red-hot game by the score of 32 to 30. Pitcher scored the winning basket with only one minute to play.

Northampton will line up as follows: Maynard and O'Brien, forwards; Ruster, center; Keating and Hinds, backs.

Quincy will have several changes in the line-up. Parker going back to his old position as a forward, and Flanders being given a good tryout in the back position.

The Quincy second team will play the Watertown Catholic Club, a team composed of Newton and Watertown high school boys. Willard of Chelsea will referee.

ATHLETIC MEET AT Y. M. C. A.

The eighth annual athletic meet of the championship of the Boys departments of the Massachusetts Y. M. C. A. will be held tomorrow afternoon in the Quincy gym.

Entries are coming in slowly on account of the delay in the mail delivery. Cambridge, Salem, Lynn, Chelsea, Clap Memorial and Wakefield have sent in the entries of 58 boys.

The events to be contested are the 15 yard dash standing and running broad jump, three broad jumps, running high jump and potato race. The first event will start at 2 P. M.

TURKEY ROLL-OFF COLISEUM ALLEY

The twenty bowlers who had qualified to take part in the turkey roll off at the Coliseum alleys, were on hand bright and early Wednesday evening. In the roll off the three highest nonconsecutive strings of candle pins could be selected. The first prize, a 14 pound turkey was captured by Barney Burke, whose three string total was 316. DeCoste got the 12 pound turkey offered for the second prize, Hennesey the 10 pound turkey offered as the third prize, and Vigas the chicken offered for the fourth prize.

On Christmas eve and also on the holiday the Coliseum alleys and tables were busy all the time, the sport seeming to lose none of its popularity.

The winners at the bowling matches at the Coliseum alleys on Christmas day were as follows. First prize, a stick pin, G. Erickson, his scores being 108, 134 and 108 a total of 350. The second prize, cuff links was won by H. Allan, his highest single being 121. The third prize valued at one dollar went to G. White with the best five string total of 500, 103, 105, 103 101 and 88.

BOYS MEETING Y. M. C. A.

Rev. Carl Horst, pastor of the Wollaston Unitarian church, will address the boys at the Y. M. C. A. meeting Saturday morning at 9.30. His topic is especially appropriate for the Christman sermon. "The best gift." The

The Princeton team, of which Eric Nelson is captain, has charge of advertising the meeting and the boys are making a strenuous effort to break the record of attendance. All boys in the city whether members of the association or not are invited to attend these meetings. At the conclusion of meeting, regular gymnasium work will take place, after which Mr. McCarthy, the swimming expert, will teach the boys some new strokes and will give instruction in the resuscitation of drowning persons.

LIVES LOST AT CHRISTMAS FETE

Unknown Man Raises Cry of Fire at Childrens' Celebration

FRIGHTFUL PANIC FOLLOWS

Calumet, Mich., Copper Miners Searching For Person Guilty of Crime and Will Probably Lynch Him If Caught—Most of Victims Are Women and Girls

Calumet, Mich., Dec. 26.—A total of seventy-two is the corrected list of the dead in the frightful panic which followed the false cry of "Fire!" in Italian hall at a Christmas celebration of children of the striking copper miners. Parties bent on lynching are searching the city from end to end for the man who raised the cry. A Mrs. Caeser, who seized him as he shouted the fatal word, has given an excellent description of the man.

The city is in a state bordering anarchy over the appalling disaster. The miners, embittered by their long struggle and penniless condition as a result, are desperate, especially those who lost relatives in the panic. The seriousness of the situation is intensified by the freely made charge that the man who started the panic was a member of the Citizens' alliance, a body recently organized to preserve order in the mining district. The charge is strongly denied.

Instead of Christmas being a day of joy, it is one of heartrending sorrow. Outside of Red Jacket town hall, where seventy-four of the bodies were removed, thousands of men, women and children remained all night, weeping and storming at the doors in an effort to get in and see their dead. Distracted mothers and fathers stood for hours weeping, while now and then a grief stricken parent fainted. Officials were engaged in the task of placing the bodies in position for identification.

Identification will be easy, for most of the victims were suffocated when they were knocked down and piled in a heap by the frantic, fear stricken persons behind them. Only a few of the victims suffered disfigurement. Physicians said that nine-tenths of the victims died of suffocation and the rest from injuries inflicted as hundreds trampled over their bodies.

All holiday festivities have been abandoned. The coroner has impanelled a jury to make an investigation. Citizens of Calumet and Houghton have started a fund for the afflicted. Already $1200 has been obtained. A public meeting was held at which appeals for help were made. The mayors of Red Jacket and Laurium, adjoining villages, have called meeting to raise funds.

The authorities are mystified over the action of the stranger in raising the cry of fire. There was not a suggestion of fire in or near the building. The police believe him to be a madman, or else to have been too drunk to realizez what he was doing. The fact that he escaped, however, leads them to believe he was not under the influence of liquor. As soon as it became known that a "bearded man" had raised the false cry miners and others swore to lynch him.

A pathetic part of the tragedy is the fact that many of the children were mere babies—2, 3, 4 and 5 years old—who were to receive Christmas presents at the celebration. These little ones were caught in the mad dash for the exits and trampled under foot. Below the tangled mass of humanity was found most of the bodies of the children.

"HUMAN FLY" DYING

Mystery Surrounds Fall of Famous Steeplejack

San Francisco, Dec. 26.—Olof Czarnowiski, a steeplejack, known throughout the country as "The Human Fly," was found dying on the first floor landing of the St. Francis hotel annex, now in process of construction.

His skull was fractured and nearly every bone in his body was broken. Apparently he had a terrible fall, but where he fell from or when no person knew.

Czarnowiski was speechless, though half conscious. He had not been employed on the building and no one had seen him enter the annex. The nature of his injuries seemed to preclude the theory of an assault. He had on his climbing clothes.

CANADIAN POLITICIAN DEAD

John B. Mills Was Thirteen Years a Member of Parliament

Providence, Dec. 26.—John B. Mills, for thirteen years a member of the Canadian house of commons for Annapolis, N. S., died at a hospital here of embolism of the brain.

He was taken ill in London six months ago, when near the end of a trip around the world, accompanied by his wife. Mr. Mills came to Providence to see his brother-in-law, Dr. T. H. Shipman.

Speaker Clark on Lecture Tour

Washington, Dec. 26.—Speaker Clark has left for New York and New England for a week's lecture tour during the recess of the house. It is the first time during the last two sessions that he has left Washington to lecture.

BANDIT STEALS AUTO

Leaps Into Seat of $6000 Car In New York and Disappears

New York, Dec. 26.—A general alarm has been sent out to all police stations throughout the five boroughs to be on the lookout for a big limousine automobile, valued at $6000, which was stolen from in front of the home of Mrs. Martin Mosler, wife of the president of the Mosler Safe company, at 110 West Eighteenth street.

Mrs. Mosler ordered her car to be at the front door to carry guests home. The chauffeur drove up to the front of the building and stepped out of the machine. Just as he crossed the sidewalk a man sprang into the car and threw in the clutch. The automobile leaped forward down Eighteenth street, and was turned north in Amsterdam avenue. A policeman at the corner heard the cries of the chauffeur and attempted to stop the car. The bandit almost drove over the policeman before he could sidestep to safety.

Mrs. Mosler said that she had recently purchased the limousine for $6000 and that the number of the car was 46,615, N. Y. Thus far there has been no clew to the bandit of the machine.

REBELS RETAKE TORREON

Fall of City Will Help General Villa's Advance to South

Juarez, Mex., Dec. 26.—Torreon, one of the important strategic points in northern Mexico, is again in the hands of the rebels. It was taken with heavy loss of life on both sides after three days of fighting.

The fall of the city breaks up the federal program of blocking Villa's march south to Mexico City. Rebel bands are gathering about Zacatecas and Aguas Caliente, the two most important points where the federals can make a stand against the southward movement of the rebel army.

Another piece of news which has cheered the rebels is that the federals are about to evacuate Guaymas, an important west coast port. The continued desertions from the federal garrison has forced General Ojeda, the federal commandant, to withdraw all his outposts. Lieutenant Colonel Pablo Pedressa and fifteen others are the latest to surrender to the constitutionalists there.

MEXICAN KILLED IN BREAD RIOT

Five Officers Injured In Attempt to Break Up Meeting

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 26.—Rafael Adames, a Mexican, was killed and five policemen were injured in a riot at the Plaza, when the officers started to break up a meeting of several hundred unemployed and hungry men. Twenty of the rioters were arrested.

When the police arrived and began to clear the streets, stones were thrown and clubs used by the men who had been listening to speeches. Adames was one of the leaders in resisting and was shot by an officer.

Although the rioters put up a vigorous fight, none were armed and the police suffered injuries from clubs and stones only. The Plaza finally was cleared and the disturbance ended.

NEW COMET SIGHTED

Delavan's Discovery May Soon Be Visible to Naked Eye

Washington, Dec. 26.—Delavan's comet, the latest stranger in the sky to come within the range of telescopes, may be visible soon to the naked eye. The faintly illumined, be-tailed object apparently is drawing nearer the earth, although it was not to be seen by a less powerful glass than the five-inch finder of the great telescope at the naval observatory here.

Scientists here are keenly interested in the comet, which was discovered by Paul T. Delavan of the Argentine naval observatory at La Plata. It was first observed in this country by Professor Asaph Hall, U. S. N., at the naval observatory, last Thursday night.

"Boy Broker" Gets Pardon

Boston, Dec. 26.—Robert E. Davie, known as the "boy broker," who was serving a prison term of five years for misappropriating funds intrusted to him for investment, has been pardoned by the governor and council. He had served two and a half years of his sentence.

Life Crushed Out by Trip Hammer

Franklin, N. H., Dec. 26.—Life was crushed out of Roy Sweatt, an employe in an excelsior packing plant, when he was pounded by a trip hammer operating in a pit used to compress excelsior into bales. He had fallen into the pit while preparing it to receive material.

Ex-Minister to Brazil Dead

Dansville, Ills., Dec. 26.—Charles M. Travis, minister to Brazil under President Grant, and law partner of General Lew Wallace, died at the soldiers' home here after a long illness. He was 68 years old.

Boiler Explosion Kills Two

Buffalo, Dec. 26.—Two men were killed and six were injured when a Wabash railroad engine, running light, blew up on the Erie tracks a quarter-mile east of Main street, near the northern city line.

FINDS PATIENT OWN DAUGHTER

Dr. Wheeler Shocked to Find Girl on Operating Table

PROBABLY FATALLY INJURED

Consulting Surgeon at Worcester Hospital Finds Victim Had Received Injuries That Will Probably Result In Death—On Verge of Collapse at End of Examination

Worcester, Mass., Dec. 26.—Dying from injuries received in an automobile accident, a 17-year-old girl was brought unconscious into the city hospital and placed on the operating table.

Dr. Charles H. Wheeler, consulting surgeon of the hospital, was called. As he approached the operating table he almost collapsed. The girl was his daughter Anna, who had started from home a few hours before on a tour of Christmas cheer among her friends.

Steeling himself against his emotion, the father, who is one of the best known surgeons in the state, made his examination. He found that his daughter had received internal injuries that will probably result in her death.

With the assistance of Dr. Charles Drew, head of the hospital, and Dr. Homer Gage, the father, with ashen face and trembling fingers, completed the examination that made it clear to his trained faculties that his daughter had only the slightest chance to survive. Then, on the verge of collapse, he was led moaning from the operating room.

With her sister Mary, 21 years old, Miss Wheeler had left her home at 18 Chestnut street in the morning to distribute Christmas gifts among her friends. As the big touring car, with Miss Mary driving, came down the hill in Downing street and started to cross to enter Main street, a heavy trolley car of the Worcester-Springfield line swung out on Main street, and crashed into the middle of the automobile.

Miss Anna, who was in the tonneau, was crushed by the force of the impact. She was lifted from the car unconsciousness and rushed to the city hospital in the automobile of Fred Bond, who was passing. Her sister was uninjured. The automobile was wrecked.

The driver of a heavy oil wagon which was coming up the hill saw the danger to the touring car and swerved his horses to the sidewalk. Frightened, the two animals tried to run away, and sped across the curbing, bringing up on the steps of the St. Paul's church. The wagon was badly damaged. The driver, who refused to give his name, was not injured.

The trolley car was in charge of Conductor James Coughlin and Motorman Michael McIntyre.

OLD MAN ROBBED

Lexington Citizen With Ear Nearly Severed Found In Winchester

Lexington, Mass., Dec. 26.—Waylaid by robbers who literally took everything but his shirt and trousers, Timothy Wholly, 60, of Manley court, Lexington, wandered ten miles through the woods in Lexington and Winchester, suffering from severe bruises and from a cut that nearly cut off one ear.

When he was found by the police, he could give no account of the assault he had suffered, or of the loss of his clothing and valuables. He told about his wandering in the woods, where he remained all night.

His face and body were bruised and cut so when he was found that he was taken at once to the Winchester police station for treatment by Dr. C. F. McCarthy, the police station physician. Wholly said that the injury to his ear, which was nearly cut off, was caused by a big limb that broke off and fell upon him as he was stumbling through the woods.

LEAVES CASH TO CHARITY

Mrs. Israel Marks' Relatives Are Left but $5 Each

New York, Dec. 26.—For years a recluse and dealer in second hand clothing, Mrs. Israel Marks, who died in New Brunswick, N. J., last Tuesday has left a fortune of $100,000 accumulated by her late husband and herself to charity. Each of the recluse's relatives were left $5 and it is said that they have decided to contest the will when it comes up for probate.

Great mystery surrounded the fortune of $60,000 left to Mrs. Marks by her husband, who died last March. In his will he told of many hiding places where he kept his money, not one dollar being deposited in banks. The fortune was hidden in several nooks about the old house in Burnet street, where the aged couple lived, the bulk of the money being in the cellar. It is said that at the time of his death Marks was in his eighty-fifth year.

Travels Far to Be Fined

New Haven, Dec. 26.—Coming all the way from Texas to be present at the hearing in the city court, where he was accused of recklessly driving an automobile, Theodore P. Davis was fined $100 and cost after a trial lasting three minutes.

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by John H. O'Brien of Quincy in the County of Norfolk and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, to The Wollaston Cooperative Bank, a corporation duly established by law, and located in said Quincy, which mortgage is dated May 18th, 1909, and recorded in Norfolk Registry of Deeds, Book 1111, page 604, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on Saturday, the seventeenth day of January, A. D. 1914, at three o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed and therein described as follows:—A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon situated on the Southerly side of Charles Street in that part of said Quincy called Atlantic and being Lot No. 59 on a plan entitled "Plan of Lands owned by the Atlantic Land Company, Quincy, Mass." 1893, H. T. Whitman, Civil Engineer, recorded with Norfolk Deeds at the end of Book 702, (page 640.) Said land is bounded as follows:—Beginning at the Northeast corner of Lot No. 60 on said plan and running Southerly along the East East side of said Lot No. 60, ninety-four and 53-100 (94.53) feet to land now or formerly owned by C. F. Billings; thence Easterly along the North side of said Billings land, fifty and 4-100 (50.04) feet to the Southwest corner of Lot No. 58 on said plan; thence Northerly along the West side of said Lot No. 58 to the South side of Charles Street as shown on said plan, ninety-six and 66-100 (96.66) feet; thence along the South side of said Charles Street, Westerly fifty (50) feet to the point of beginning. Said lot containing 4780 square feet.

Said premises will be sold subject to a prior mortgage given by said John H. O'Brien to said Bank, dated October 16, 1906 and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Book 1040, page 635, on account of the principal of which there remains unpaid the sum of Six Hundred and Thirty-two Dollars ($632.) and subject also to any existing restrictions of record and any outstanding tax titles, unpaid taxes or municipal assessments, if any such there are.

$200 will be required to be paid in cash at the time and place of sale; other terms will be announced at the sale.

THE WOLLASTON CO-OPERATIVE BANK, Mortgagee,
by Herbert W. Pinkham, Treasurer.
Quincy, Mass., Dec. 23rd. 1913.
Dec. 26-3t 26-3-9

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

In effect Nov. 16, 1913

The letters in the same line as the figures below stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows.

a Wollaston	f Harrison Square
b Norfolk Downs	g Savin Hill
c Atlantic	h Crescent Avenue
d Neponset	i South Boston
e Pope's Hill	r Quincy Adams
* Saturdays Only	† Except Saturday

Exp—Express train.

TO BOSTON			FROM BOSTON
Leave	Stop	Arrive	Leave	Stop	Arrive
r 5 14	abcdefghi	5 41	5 44	hgfedeba	6 14 r
r 6 9	abci	6 40	6 09	hgfedeba	6 39 r
r 6 32	e	6 49	6 29	a	6 37
			6 47	Exp	7 04
r 6 40	abcf	7 00	7 14	hgfedeba	7 41 r
r 7 08	abcd	7 30	7 34	a	7 52
7 28	a	7 46	7 37	a	7 56
r 7 32	Exp	7 49	7 44	c	8 03 r
r 7 42	ab	8 00	8 34	cba	8 75 r
7 55	a	8 12	8 54	b	9 02
r 8 13	abc	8 32	9 09	fedba	9 32 r
8 24	a	8 41	9 44	a	10 01 r
r 8 33	a	8 50	10 14	hgfedeba	10 41 r
r 8 59	ad	9 16	10 54	Exp	11 10
r 9 18	abc	9 39	11 14	hgfedeba	11 41 r
r 10 04	a	10 21	11 49	a	12 07
r 10 19	abcdefghi	10 45	12 14	hgfedeba	12 41 r
11 14	a	11 28	12 20	a	12 58
11 24	abcdefgh	11 50	12 50	Exp	1 06
12 04	a	12 20	1 16	fedeba	1 40 r
			* 1 32	a	1 50
r 12 27	abcdefghi	12 53	1 44	a	2 01
r 1 16	a	1 34	2 14	fedeba	2 37 r
2 04	a	2 20	2 34	Exp	2 50
r 2 19	abcdefgh	2 45	3 14	hgfedeba	3 40 r
r 3 13	Exp	3 28	3 44	a	4 02
4 04	a	4 20	4 12	fedeba	4 35 r
r 4 26	abcdefgh	4 53	4 15	a	4 32
5 02	a	5 19	4 40	c	4 58
r 5 30	abcdefg	5 55	4 55	a	5 11
6 04	a	6 21	5 13	a	5 32
6 12	ab	6 32	5 19	hgfeca	5 43
6 57	a	7 15	5 28	ba	5 46 r
r 7 22	Exp	7 39	5 40		5 57
7 29	ab	7 48	5 58	a	6 17 r
r 8 09	abcdef	8 32	6 01	fedeb	6 24
9 00	a	9 18	6 16	a	6 35
r 9 10	abc	9 29	6 30	ecba	6 52 r
* 9 17	Exp.	9 32	6 59	fedeba	7 24 r
r 10 07	abcdef	10 30	7 11	a	7 28
* 10 19	a	10 37	8 04	fedeba	8 28 r
11 13	a	11 30	* 8 19	Exp	8 35
r 11 30	abcd	11 40	9 19	a	9 37
			9 34	b	9 53 r
			10 01	ba	10 24
			10 31	fedeba	11 01 r
			* 11 06	a	11 25 r
			11 09	fedeba	11 35 r
			* 11 25	ba	11 43 r
			† 11 29	ba	11 49
			12 05	cba	12 26 r

SUNDAYS

r 7 43	abc	8 03	6 29	ba	6 48
8 30	Exp	8 45	8 34	cba	8 55
r 8 46	abcdefghi	9 13	10 39	cba	10 59 r
r 9 13	abc	9 33	12 14	hgfedeba	12 42
9 31	a	9 47	12 44	Exp	1 01
10 25	ac	10 42	1 29	hgfedeba	1 57 r
11 18	Exp	11 55	2 14	hgfedeba	2 42 r
r 11 16	abcdefghi	11 43	2 44	a	3 02
1 04	a	1 26	3 14	hgfedeba	3 42 r
r 1 16	abcdefgh	1 48	4 26	cba	4 48 r
r 3 10	abc	3 30	5 14	hgfedeba	5 42 r
r 4 16	abcdefghi	4 48	6 09	Exp	6 26
4 59	ab	5 16	6 14	hgfedeba	6 42 r
5 46		5 23	7 02	cba	7 22 r
6 16	abcdefghi	6 43	8 14	hgfedeba	8 41 r
7 21	Exp	7 36	8 39	a	8 56 r
7 29	abcdefghi	7 55	8 49	Exp	9 05
r 8 18	abcdefghi	8 43	9 29	hgfedeba	9 57 r
9 46	a	10 04	10 44	cba	11 04 r
10 46	abc	11 05

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Norman D. Loud of Quincy in the County of Norfolk and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, to The Wollaston Co-operative Bank, a corporation duly established by law, and located in said Quincy, which mortgage is dated February 18, 1913 and recorded in Norfolk Registry of Deeds, Book 1243, page 301, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described on Saturday, the seventeenth day of January, A. D. 1914, at four o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed and therein described as follows:—

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of said Quincy called Wollaston and being Lot numbered Three (3) in Block 24 of Section 6 of Lands of the Wollaston Land Associates as shown on a plan of said Lands revised by Whitman and Breck, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Plan-book 7, Plan 277, and bounded:—Southeasterly by Hobart Street, fifty (50) feet; Southwesterly by Lot No. 2, in said block, one hundred (100) feet; Northwesterly by Lot No. 5 in said block, fifty (50) feet; and Northeasterly by Lot No. 4 in said block, one hundred (100) feet; containing 5000 square feet.

Said premises will be sold subject to a prior mortgage given by said Norman D. Loud to said Bank, dated June 16, 1908 and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Book 1084, page 429, on account of the principal of which there remains unpaid the sum of Six Hundred Ninety and 31-100 Dollars ($690.31), and subject also to any existing restrictions of record and any outstanding tax titles, unpaid taxes or municipal assessments, if any such there are.

$200 will be required to be paid in cash at the time and place of sale; other terms will be announced at the sale.

THE WOLLASTON CO-OPERATIVE BANK, Mortgagee.
by Herbert W. Pinkham, Treasurer.
Quincy, Mass., December 23rd, 1913
Dec. 26-3t 26-2-9

Bay State Street Railway Company

TIME TABLE

In effect April 8, 1913.

(Subject to change without notice).

Leave QUINCY for

Braintree, 6.15, 6.50 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Braintree, 6.25 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.25 P. M. Sundays, 7.55 A. M. and then same as week days.

Brockton, 6.15, 6.50 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Brockton 6.20, 7 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 9.30 P. M. Sundays, 8 A. M. then same as week days.

West Quincy, and East Milton, 5.30 5.50, 6.10 A. M., and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M.) Sundays, 6.50 A. M. then same as week days. Return leave East Milton, 5.55, 6.15, 6.45 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.45 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.10 midnight.) Sundays, 7.25 A. M., then same as week days.

East Weymouth, 6.00, 6.15, 6.35, 7.05, 7.35 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.05 P. M. then 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.35 A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave East Weymouth, 5.50, 6.15, 6.45, 7.00, 7.10, 7.45, A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.45 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M. then same as week days.

Houghs Neck, 5.15, 5.35, 6.10, 6.40, 7.10, 7.40, A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. then 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 6.50, 7.40 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. Return leave Houghs Neck, 5.40, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 7.30, 8.00, 8.30, 9.05 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.35 P. M. then 12.10 midnight. Sundays, 7.20, 8.05, 8.35, 9.05 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.35 P. M.

Neponset via Hancock Street,—5.45 6.20, 6.50 A. M. and every 30 min. to 10.50 P. M. then 12.50 midnight. Sundays, 6.50 A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 6.40 7.10, 7.40 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. then 12.35 midnight. Sundays, 7.40 A. M. then same as week days.

Neponset via Norfolk Downs, 6.25, 6.55, 7.25, 8, 8.30 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11 P. M.) Sundays, 7.30 A. M. then the same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 7, 7.30 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.30 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.30 P. M.) Sundays, 8 A. M. then same as week days.

Weymouth Landing, 5.20, 6.00, 6.30 5.35, 7.25 7.55 A. M. then every 20 minutes, until and including 10.55 P. M. Sundays, 7.25, A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave Weymouth Landing, 5.45, 6.15, 6.40, 7.15, 7.45 A. M. then every 30 minutes until and including 11.15 P. M. Sundays 7.45 A. M. then same as week days.

Leave NEPONSET for

Squantum, 6.25, 6.55, 7.25, 7.55, 8.25, 9.35, A. M. every 60 minutes to 4.35 P. M. then 4.55, 5.25, 5.55, 6.25, 7.35, 8.35, 9.35, 10.35 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.30, P. M. Sundays, 7.35, A. M. every 60 minutes to 10.35 P. M. Return, leave Squantum, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 7.30, 8.00, 8.30, 9.00 A. M. every 60 minutes to 5.00 P. M. then 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.15, 8.00 A. M. every 60 minutes to 11.00 P. M.

THOMAS GAMMON,
Superintendent.

WITHIN THE LAW

By MARVIN DANA

FROM THE PLAY OF

BAYARD VEILLER

Copyright, 1913, by the H. K. Fly company.

SYNOPSIS

Mary Turner, a department store clerk, is sentenced to prison for three years for a theft she did not commit.

Edward Gilder, owner of the department store, consents to see Mary before she goes to prison, expecting her to confess.

Mary protests her innocence to Gilder and begs him to pay better wages to his clerks to save them from temptation.

After three years in prison Mary is freed, but the police prevent her holding positions. She jumps into the river to end her life, but is rescued by Joe Garson, a forger.

Mary forms a partnership with Garson and his gang, by which they mulct rich victims in a legal manner, keeping "within the law."

Mary is warned by the police to leave town after she has formed the acquaintance of Richard Gilder, her former employer's son.

Helen Morris, the girl who had committed the theft for which Mary was imprisoned, sees Mary and confesses her guilt.

Mary marries Dick Gilder without his father's knowledge and then refuses to sail for Europe with him.

Joe Garson, against Mary's protest, agrees with Eddie Griggs, another crook, to help commit a burglary in Gilder's home.

Edward Gilder sees his son's bride and tries to induce her to give up her husband. Dick refuses to leave her even when she tells him she is an ex-convict.

Inspector Burke calls on Gilder and tells him that a burglary at his home that night has been arranged through Griggs, a stool pigeon, to trap Mary Turner and her gang.

Garson and his gang break into Gilder's home and are followed by Mary, who is told of the proposed burglary. While they are there Dick returns home.

Garson learns that Griggs had helped put up the job on him, and he kills Griggs with a noiseless revolver. Inspector Burke arrives, finding only Mary and Dick with Griggs' body.

Mary and Dick are arrested after Mary says Dick killed Griggs, a burglar. Other members of the gang are arrested and "sweated" by Burke.

(Continued from last issue.)

CHAPTER XV.

Within the Toils.

THE going of Garson left the room deathly still. Dick turned to Mary and took her hand in his. His arm swept about her in a protecting embrace—just in time or she would have fallen.

A whisper came from her quivering lips. Her face was close to his, else he could not have caught the uncertain murmuring. The muscles of her face twitched. She rested supinely against him as if bereft of any strength of body or of soul. Yet, in the intensity of her utterance, the feeble whisper struck like a shriek of horror.

"I—I—never saw any one killed before!"

Before he could utter the soothing words that rose to his lips, Dick was interrupted by a slight sound at the door. Instantly he was all alert to meet the exigencies of the situation. He stood by the couch, bending forward a little as if in a posture of intimate fondness. He heard the noise again presently, now so near that he made sure of being overheard, so at once he spoke with a forced cheerfulness in his inflection.

"I tell you, Mary," he declared, "everything's going to be all right for you and me. It was bully of you to come here to me like this."

The girl made no response. Dick, in his keen apprehension as to the issue, sought to bring her to realization of the new need that had come upon them.

"Talk to me," he commanded very softly. "They'll be here in a minute. When they come in pretend you just came here in order to meet me. Try, Mary. You must, dearest!" Then again his voice rose to loudness as he continued: "Why, I've been trying all day to see you.—And now here we are together. Just as I was beginning to get really discouraged. I know my father will eventually"—

He was interrupted by the swift swinging open of the hallway door. Burke stood just within the library, a revolver pointed menacingly.

"Hands up, all of you!" The inspector's voice fairly roared the command.

The belligerent expression of his face vanished abruptly as his eyes fell on Dick standing by the couch and Mary reclining there in limp helplessness.

"What are you doing in this house at this time of night?" Dick demanded. "I recognize you, Inspector Burke. But you must understand that there are limits even to what you can do. It seems to me, sir, that you exceed your authority by such an intrusion as this."

Burke waved his revolver toward Mary.

"What's she doing here?" he asked.

"You forget yourself, inspector. This is my wife. She has the right to be with me—her husband!"

"Where's your father?" he questioned roughly.

"Indeed, naturally," was the answer. "I ask you again, What are you doing here at this time of night?"

"Oh, call your father," Burke directed.

"It's late," Dick objected. "I'd rather not disturb him, if you don't mind." Suddenly he smiled very winningly and spoke with a good assumption of ingenuousness.

"Inspector," he said briskly, "I see I'll have to tell you the truth. It's this: I've persuaded my wife to go away with me. She's going to give all that other sort of thing up. Yes, we're going away together. So, you see, we've got to talk it over. Now, then, inspector, if you'll come back in the morning"—

As he spoke the white beam of the flashing searchlight from the tower fell between the undrawn draperies of the octagonal window. The light startled the inspector again, as it had done once before that same night. His gaze followed it instinctively. So within the second he saw the still form lying there on the floor.

There was no mistaking that awful, motionless, crumpled posture. The inspector leaped to the switch by the door and turned on the lights of the chandelier. In the next moment he had reached the door of the passage across the room, and his whistle sounded shrill. His voice bellowed re-enforcement to the blast.

"Cassidy! Cassidy!"

Cassidy came rushing in with the other detectives.

"Why, what's it all mean, chief?" he questioned.

"They've got Griggs!" Burke answered. There was exceeding rage in his voice as he spoke from his kneeling posture beside the body, to which he had hurried after the summons to his aids. "I'll break you for this, Cassidy," he declared fiercely. "Why didn't you get here on the run when you heard the shot?"

"Hands up! All of you!"

"But there wasn't any shot. I tell you, chief, there hasn't been a sound."

Burke rose to his feet. His heavy face was set in its sternest mold.

"You could drive a hearse through the hole they made in him," said Cassidy. Burke wheeled on Mary and Dick. "So," he shouted, "now it's murder! Well, hand it over. Where's the gun?" He nodded toward Dick as he gave his order. "Search him!"

Dick took the revolver from his pocket and held it out.

At this incriminating crisis for the son the father hastily strode into the library. He had been aroused by the inspector's shouting and was evidently greatly perturbed.

"What's all this?" he exclaimed.

Burke in a moment like this was no respecter of persons.

"You can see for yourself," he said grimly to the dumfounded magnate. "So," he went on, with somber menace in his voice, "you did it, young man." He nodded toward the detective. "Well, Cassidy, you can take 'em both downtown. That's all."

The command aroused Dick to remonstrance against such indignity toward the woman he loved.

"Not her!" he cried imploringly. "You don't want her, inspector! This is all wrong!"

"Dick," Mary advised quietly, "don't talk, please."

"What do you expect?" Burke inquired truculently. "As a matter of fact, the thing's simple enough, young man. Either you killed Griggs or she did."

The inspector with his charge made a careless gesture toward the corpse of the murdered stool pigeon. Edward Gilder looked and saw the ghastly, inanimate heap of flesh and bone that had once been a man. He fairly reeled at the spectacle, then fumbled with an outstretched hand until he laid hold on a chair, into which he sank helplessly.

"You could drive a hearse through the hole they made in him."

"Either you killed him," the voice repeated gratingly, "or she did. Well, then, young man, did she kill him?"

"Good God, no!" Dick shouted, aghast.

"Then it was you!"

"No, no! He didn't!" Mary's words came frantically.

Burke reiterated the accusation.

"One of you killed Griggs. Which one of you did it?" He scowled at Dick. "Did she kill him?"

"I told you no!"

"Well, then," he blustered to the girl, "did he kill him?"

The nod of his head was toward Dick. Then as she remained silent, "I'm talking to you!" he snapped. "Did he kill him?"

The reply came with a soft distinctness that was like a crash of destiny.

"Yes."

Dick turned to his wife in reproachful amazement.

"Mary!" he cried incredulously.

"You'll swear he killed him?" Burke asked briskly.

"Why not?" she responded listlessly.

At this intolerable assertion as he deemed it Edward Gilder sat rigidly erect in his chair.

"God!" he cried despairingly. "And that's your vengeance!"

"I don't want vengeance—now!" she said.

"But they'll try my boy for murder," the magnate remonstrated, distraught.

"Oh, no, they can't!" came the rejoinder.

"What's the reason we can't?" Burke stormed.

"Because my husband merely killed a burglar. He shot him in defense of his home!"

* * * * * * *

In his office next morning Inspector Burke was fuming over the failure of his conspiracy. He had hoped through this plot to vindicate his authority, so sadly haunted by Garson and Mary Turner. Instead of this much to be desired result from his scheming the outcome had been nothing less than disastrous.

Some one had murdered Griggs, the stool pigeon. The murder could not go unpunished. The slayer's identity must be determined. To the discovery of this identity, the inspector was at the present moment devoting himself by adroit questioning of Dacey and Chicago Red, who had been arrested in one of their accustomed haunts.

"Come across now!" he admonished. His voice rolled forth like that of a bull of Bashan. He was on his feet, facing the two thieves. His head was thrust forward menacingly, and his eyes were savage.

"I don't know nothin'!" Chicago Red's voice was between a snarl and a whine. "Ain't I been telling you that for over an hour?"

Burke gave Dacey, who chanced to be the nearer of the two, a shove that sent the fellow staggering halfway across the room under its impetus.

"Dacey, how long have you been out?"

"A week."

"Want to go back for another stretch?"

"God, no!"

"Who shot Griggs?"

The reply was a chorus from the two:

"I don't know—honest, I don't!"

In his eagerness Chicago Red moved toward his questioner.

"Honest to Gawd, I don't know nothin' about it!"

The inspector's fist shot out toward Chicago Red's jaw. The thief went to his knees under the blow.

(To be Continued.)

☞PRATT'S BREAD sales have increased because it satisfies. Your grocer.

CHOICE ARTICLES
FROM THE
PHILIPPINES

LUCBON HATS—Very best grade of the famous Panamas and Bankoks made. Absolutely none better, woven under water by hand. Can be crushed into a ball and not lose shape. Made for both Ladies and Gentlemen. $5 and $10.

ROMBLON MATS—Handsomest and most durable Grass Mats or Rugs made in the world. Beautiful colors and designs, large enough to cover one-half floor of rooms $5.

MANILA CIGARS—$3 for a trial box of the Very Best Cigars made in the Philippines.

Oriente Cigarrettes—Best made, large package containing 25 small packages, 750 Cigarrettes, $2.

Sent by registered mail, free of duties, on receipt of price.

C. A. SHORT & CO.,
Lucena, Tay, P. I.
Oct 4 L&O 3m

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED
Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

A SURPRISE SANTA CLAUS

"HAROLD! Harold Barton!" called Sally's voice from the kitchen door. "Father says be sure to close and lock"—

"Oh, I know all about it," called Harold from the barn door. "Don't bother your head about me." He turned his back and stalked into the barn, carrying a big basket filled with holly, fir boughs and mistletoe. Harold was to dress the Christmas tree and decorate the barn, for the tree was too large for the house, and the barn, which was well built, had been fitted up with stoves.

Harold and Bert Fenn put the last touches to the decorations and the tree just as the supper bell rang the day before Christmas. Dinner was early, as some cousins were to come in the evening and they had to be met at the station four miles away.

The Bentons lived on the edge of a town at the foot of a thickly wooded mountain that sheltered many a wild animal and often human beings almost as wild.

The cousins came and soon were safely tucked away in the beds and on the sofas that were not used by the uncles and aunts, and all was quiet.

Two persons were not asleep, though. Sally was thinking: "I wonder if Harold did lock the barn up well—with all our beautiful presents there. Suppose some of the woods tramps should break in. Oh, dear, I wish morning were here!"

Harold also, rolled up on a mattress on the garret floor, remembered that, although he had locked the large doors, he had not thought about the little door, and he could not remember whether it was fastened.

Morning dawned bright and crisp. Harold helped the gardener build the fires in the stoves in the barn and then waited impatiently for Uncle John, who had promised to act as Santa Claus and who could not get there until the last moment. The train arrived without Uncle John, and the smaller children were beginning to fret at the delay. So it was finally decided that they would have to do without a Santa Claus, for Uncle John had always taken that part, and no one could be persuaded to take his place.

The candles were lighted, and the family and guests trooped over to the barn. Such cries of surprise and delight there were when the big tree stood before them in a blaze of glory! When the "obs" and "ahs" had died away a little, Harold started to make an apology for the absence of Santa.

"Santa Claus was detain"— he began, when a whistling sound and then a tinkling noise like sleighbells came from the tree. He stopped in astonishment. Every one else heard the noise, too, and thirty-two pairs of eyes were turned toward the tree. Certainly something was moving in the tree. The branches toward the center shook, though no one touched the tree, and as every one watched breathlessly the branches parted, and the queerest little figure you ever saw pushed its way out and stood on a limb, bowing politely right and left. It was about two feet high, with long flowing white beard and hair and dressed just as you always expect to see Santa Claus.

QUEER FIGURE PUSHED OUT.

The children looked up in open mouthed astonishment. Harold among them, and the grownups, with puzzled expressions, were trying to solve the mystery when another sharp little whistle was heard, and the tiny Santa Claus, using his hands and feet with much skill, climbed down a branch or two. In so doing he turned his back and showed a long brown tail beneath his coat.

Then there was a shout of laughter, with clapping of hands, and the children fairly danced with joy as the small Santa Claus, sitting demurely on a branch, took hold of a very pretty pink and white dolly and, after examining her wax face closely, kissed her lovingly. At this there was a louder roar of laughter, in the midst of which a gruff voice called out:

"Here, you beggar! Let it alone!"

This voice came from the hayloft, and when the thirty-two pairs of eyes turned immediately to see who spoke they saw two pairs of legs hanging over the edge of the loft and two bearded faces peering down.

The two bearded men came down, one swinging from the beam and the other climbing down the ladder. Harold, with an exclamation of delight, flung both arms about the most hayseedy looking one.

They every one exclaimed, "Why, Uncle John!" And Uncle John laughingly explained that he and a friend, whom he introduced as Mr. Whitman, had arrived on the midnight train and, as they did not wish to disturb the family, had tried the barn doors. Then they had decided upon this surprise.

"And the Santa Claus monkey is himself a present for you, Harold, to remind you to lock doors," said Uncle John, with a twinkle in his eye.

Important News In Advertisements

By HOLLAND.

THE valuable news of the day is not confined to the news columns. It is also seen in the advertisements. Of course it is important to know what President Wilson is doing, what the latest developments are in China or what baseball club leads the league. But it is also important to know where a bargain in boys' waists, garden hose, breakfast food or straw hats may be found.

These bits of commercial news are among the advertisements. Wise persons look for them and take advantage of them when they are doing their buying. The leading merchants are continually telling you news of their stores, news that is important because it often means a real saving and always means something new and worth while.

Read the advertisements if you seek important news. Read them regularly and always with the thought that back of each advertisement are the reputation and business standing of the merchant. He could not afford to deceive you even if he were so inclined.

ONLY TRUTHFUL ADVERTISING PAYS.

Militant Margaret.

Militant minded women were known in England before the suffragettes, one of whom lies in Henry VII's chapel—Margaret, countess of Richmond, its builder's mother, with her brass effigy by Torrigiano. She hated the Turk, and she made, as Camden reports, a sporting offer to the chivalrous of her day. "On the condition that princes of Christendom would combine themselves and march against the common enemy, the Turk, she would most willingly attend them and be their laundress in the camp." That position of laundress to the crusaders would have been an easy one, for it was the fashion to make vows to change no underclothing until the holy sepulcher was regained.—Chicago News.

Labor Saving Postman.

One of the sights to be remembered in Portugal, said the Rev. H. O. Fenton, lecturing at the Royal Photographic society, was that of the postman delivering his letters among the congregation at church on Sunday, thereby saving himself many a weary walk.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Very True.

Do not talk about yourself in company. It can be done so much more satisfactorily after you have left.—Lippincott's

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block,
QUINCY

NOTICE OF DISSOLUTION OF PARTNERSHIP.

Notice is hereby given that the partnership heretofore existing between Richard S. Williams and William R. Williams, both of said Quincy, under the firm name of Williams Bros., and carrying on the business of granite dealers and workers, is this day dissolved by mutual consent. All debts owing to the said partnership are to be received by, and all demands on the said partnership are to be presented to, the said William R. Williams who will continue the business under the above firm name.

RICHARD S. WILLIAMS.
WILLIAM R. WILLIANMS,
Quincy, Mass., Dec. 19, 1913.
23-3t

Here is Your Opportunity

7 room house with modern conveniences nicely situated on a fine street in Wollaston. To be sold very low at present.

Here is a chance to get into a good neighborhood. House is vacant and in perfect order to move right into. Three to five minutes to station, schools, stores, etc. Price $3,300. On terms.

HENRY W. SAVAGE
Real Estate, Boston.
E. G. HAYDEN, Local Representative
Telephone 1877-M Quincy.
Dec. 22-tf

FOR SALE

New Axes
20c each 3 for 50c
While They Last

L. GROSSMAN & SONS
Jackson Street
Near Quincy Adams Depot
Dec. 1-lo-tf

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

WANTED

WANTED—Two furnished rooms for three adults, with board or with a small room extra to be used as kitchenette near Quincy Square or on Washington street preferred. Write A. M. K., Ledger Office. 26-3t

WANTED—Woman to wait on tables and take care of few rooms. Must be good worker. George E. Mitchell, 27 Temple street, Quincy, Mass. 26-3t

WANTED—A horse for the winter, only a few hours work each day. Write P. M. Ledger office. 20-tf

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing. Myatt, 40 Baxter street. Tel. 1307-M. Quincy, Res. 22-tf

FOR SALE

HORSES TO LET—We will place with reliable people for the winter—two draft horses (for their keep)—Henry L. Kincaide & Co. 22-tf

PIANOS—Buy a piano. Several makes. Square man to trade with. Send postal and he will call. In your city every day. Walter H. Lyons, Randolph. 17-9t

HORSE FOR SALE—Cheap, for want of use. H. H. I. Smith, 578 Commercial street, Weymouth Heights. Tel. Weymouth 105-1. 15-tf

FOR SALE or TO LET—New houses Apply to Thompson B. Crane, 403 Washington street, Quincy. 1-tf

WM. H. TEASDALE
REAL ESTATE
Insurance Mortgages
NOTARY PUBLIC JUSTICE OF THE PEACE
Room 23 Adams Building
Telephones { Residence 544-3 Office 324

TO LET

Large Front Office Greenleaf Block—2 entrances—right at the head of the stairs—one of the most desirable offices in Quincy.

Office, Durgin-Merrill Block—3 large windows—only 1 flight up—exceptional opportunity.

Hancock Building—City Square Offices—small front office, $11 a month

Office—Hancock Chambers, 16x18 feet one flight up, very low rent.

Store House—off Granite St., in the rear of Greenleaf Block.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best Location in City)

Offices—Large or small.

Desk Room—Street floor, right in the rear of main entrance, good light and air, $5 up a month.

Transient Rooms—Well furnished and with care, $1 a day.

Furnished Rooms—With care steam heat, and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week

HALLS

Music Hall—Music Hall Block—Capacity 562—highest possible rating by the State. "Excellent" in every particular.

New Colonial Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—Capacity 240—the best possible location for a Hall.

Hancock Hall—Hancock Building City Square—Capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 21066) Quincy

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

QUINCY REGISTRY
FOR NURSES

20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.

Will supply trained and practical nurses, attendants and nursery assistants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.

MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar,
Tel. Quincy 131-W.

Read Ledger Ads

FOUND

FOUND—In City Square, Tuesday afternoon a pocket book containing a small sum of money. Owner may have same by proving property and paying charges. Mrs. Devaney, 47 Dysart street. 24-3t

TO LET

TO LET—Lower flat, 5 rooms bath modern improvements in new house pleasantly situated in corner lot 29 Atherton street, Bigelow Park. Rent reasonable to right party. Inquire on premises. 22-6t

TO LET—Tenement, all improvements, reasonable rent. Apply 70 Glencoe place. 24-tf

TO LET—Furnished or unfurnished large front room, smaller room adjoining suitable for physician. Furnished rooms $2.00 up. Steam heat all conveniences, 3 minutes from centre. 1 Adams street. 22-6t

TO LET—Flat of 5 rooms and bath at 197 Whitwell street. All improvements. Apply to John F. Anderson, 159 Whitwell street. 22-6t

TO LET—Single house six rooms and bath. All modern conveniences. Apply to P. J. Williams, 19 Independence avenue. 22-6t

TO LET—No rent before Jan. 1, tenement all modern improvements. Rent $18.75, near High School and car barn. Plenty of sunshine. C. W. Guy, 42 Butler road. 19-tf

TO LET—Upper apartment of 7 rooms and bath, all improvements including set range and gas stove, now ready. Inquire, A. W. Parker, 87 Merrymount road. Tel. Quincy 258-1 16-tf

TO LET—48 Revere road two connecting rooms with kitchenette for housekeeping. Also a nice room with sun all day, two large closets. Hot water heat and bath.
water heat and bath. 13-tf

UPPER APARTMENT. In two-family house on Spear Street. Five rooms, bath, large pantry and closets, also open attic with finished heated chamber. Every improvement, electric light, furnace, range etc. Ready for immediate occupancy. Telephone Quincy 278 M or enquire mornings of Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 1po

TO LET—173 Whitwell street, half house, modern conveniences, $20 per month. Ready for immediate occupancy. Apply Penniman's Stable, Granite street. 19-tf

TO LET—5 room tenement at 117 Quincy street, $20 per month. Apply Berman Furniture Co. 6-tf

RUSSELL PARK — Commodious house of seven rooms, large hall and bath. Modern, every convenience open fireplace, furnace, range, set tubs, electric lights, cemented cellar, etc. Best residential neighborhood. Ready for immediate occupancy. For further details or key see Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. tf 1po

TO LET—Houses of 5, 6 and 10 rooms. M. T. Sullivan, Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy, Mass. 11-tf

MISCELLANEOUS

RENT FREE—until Jan. 1st. Two adjoining houses, 28 and 30 Pleasant street to desirable tenants, who will agree to stay one year, or longer. $5.00 per week in advance. Stable for one horse if desired. $1.00 a week extra. Apply 36 Pleasant street. 5-tf

JAMES F. BURKE & CO.
Real Estate and Insurance
Care of Property. Mortgages
Justice of Peace. Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 385 M. Nov. 11 tf

Penniman's
TAXI SERVICE
Taxies and Touring Cars with careful and safe drivers to let for all occasions.
C. H. PENNIMAN, Prop.
Telephone 207.
June 13-tf

SWITHIN
Real Estate
Mortgages-Insurance
Greenleaf Block
Quincy
Tel. Quincy 460. Nov. 10-tf

KINCAIDE THEATRE

At 2.30, 5, 10, 15c At 7.45, 10, 15, 25c

BIG HOLIDAY SHOW

THUR., FRIDAY, SAT.

KATHRYN PURNELL PLAYERS
Comedy Playlet Full of Fun
"The Double Reception"

MILITARY MAIDS AND STEWART
Spectacular Musical Oddity

LEE & CRANSTON
The Singer and the Violinist

TOKIO
Japanese Equ librist

2-Reel Edison Feature
"ALEXIA'S STRATEGY"
A Thrilling Drama

"IN THE ELEMENTAL WORLD"
A Picture Full of Fun

And here's a Scream!
PICKWICKER
John Bunny Plays the Principal Part

KINCAIDE THEATRE ORCHESTRA

EAST BRAINTREE

Mr. Walker of the Alden, Walker & Wilde shoe firm in East Weymouth, will mvoe into the magnificent house just completed for him on Liberty street, Monday, Dec. 29. The grounds around the house have been left rough graded for winter. Plans for many very pretty flower beds and a lawn tennis court have been made and will be developed as soon as the warm weather comes to take the frost out of the ground.

Loyd R. Moshier of Stetson street has placed several thousand feet of lumber upon the lot of land which he recently purchased on Somerville evenue. Mr. Moshier will build a two family house of this lumber as soon as the foundation, about to be started, is completed.

That the high spots are not the coldest was proven by Mrs. Annie French when sh picked a dandelion blossom near her home on Elm Knoll road the latter part of last week.

Miss Eunice Joycelin one of the teachers of the Jonas Perkins school and her sister, Miss Lois Joycelin a teacher at the Abraham Lincoln school were called to their home in Webster, Tuesday morning, on account of the sudden death of their father.

John Ryan of Lisle street is starting a six room house on Adams street, that will have all the latest improvements when it is finished which will be the first of April. Mr. Ryan will offer this house for sale as soon as it is completed.

Mrs. H. F. South of Shaw street spent the week end with her mother in Dover, N. H.

Patrick Gardener of Hobart street and Albert Reed of Commercial street had a very successful gunning trip at Scituate this week, bringing home six rabbits apiece.

A grass fire, which caught from a bonfire children set who were skating on Allen's pond, Monday afternoon, caused quite a little excitement when it got into the tall grass around the tressel which supports the Fore River Co's. track.

Miss Elizabeth Deane came from Ithica, N. Y., to visit her sister Miss Milvina Deane of Allen street, Saturday, Dec. 20, and both young ladies left Tuesday evening for their home in Falmouth where they will spend the Christmas holidays.

Two of J. F. Sheppard & Sons work horses took the liberty to run from the stable early Monday morning and after a cross country run through several yards along Allen street were captured by the driver who got many hard looks from those who have flower gardens.

Mr. and Mrs. Theo Fogg of Hayward street spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pope of Lynn.

Mr. Twiss of Milton was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Fogg on Christmas day.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradford Knight of Shaw street entertained a few friends in their home Saturday evening, Dec. 20. Many interesting hands of whist were enjoyed during the evening which was a very pleasant one for those present. Light refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Thompson of Commercial street entertained Mr. and Mrs. Crosley of Dorchester and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Thompson on Thursday and a very merry Christmas was enjoyed.

TO REPEAT CHRISTMAS MUSIC.

At the Wollaston Congregational church Sunday morning the Christmas music will be repeated. At 4 P. M. the cantata of Gaul's Holy City will be presented by the quartette and thirty voices under the direction of W. C. Rogers.

CAR ACCIDENT AT NEPONSET

Quincy Car Run Into and Several Shaken Up

Traffic on the Quincy-Dudley street car line was more or less delayed Christmas evening. Not only was there an unusual rush of Christmas visitors returning to their homes but an accident near the playground in Neponset served to further complicate and delay traffic. Three cars were concerned in the collision, one of which was a Quincy car. An Elevated car had come to a stop at the foot of the hill and the Quincy car following had also come to a stop waiting for the first car to proceed when a third car, one of the Elevated company, came along and banged into the Quincy car smashing the vestibules and forcing it ahead to the first car. The Elevated motorman was the most seriously injured and he was taken to the relief station.

There were quite a number of passengers on the Quincy car who were thrown from their seats and slightly injured. Among them was Mrs. Alice Campbell of 26 Old Colony avenue, who was shaken up, but not seriously injured.

The passengers were transferred to the front car and taken to the Neponset car barn. While the cause of the accident has not been given out it is thought to have been caused by the failure of the brake on the third car to hold. The place where the accident happened is at the foot of a steep grade opposite the playground in Neponset.

INCREASE IN POLICE FORCE

Mayor Stone Will Soon Make Appointments Authorized

It is probable that Mayor Stone will make the promotions in the police department authorized by the order passed at the last meeting of the City Council increasing the number of permanent men by three. The order called for the increase to take effect on Jan. 1. Under the civil service rules the promotion to the permanent force will be made from the reserve list, while the vacancies in the reserve force will be made from the civil service list. Increasing the force by two men means that under the civil service rules the department is entitled to an additional man on the reserve force. This increase will give the department outside of the chief, a captain, inspector, two sergeants and 27 patrolmen and a reserve force of 10 men.

EAST BRAINTREE

Stetson Avery a senior at Harvard is enjoying the Christmas vacation at his home on Commercial street.

Allen Lawson of Allen street who is in the freshman class at Harvard is at home spending his Christmas vacation.

Quincy young people visited the Boston City Hospital on Christmas day and sung carols in the wards.

Miss Mary Frazer, who had become quite popular during the year and a half she spent in East Braintree, has returned to her home in Harve Au Boucher, N. S., where she will spend the winter.

Mrs. Loyd R. Moshier of Stetson street has been suffering from a combination of Sciatica and lumbago. Mrs. Moshier is improving however and it is expected that she will be around again the first of next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Raasch and family and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Holbrook all of Roslindale were guests of Mrs. Paul Raasch of Shaw street Thursday, Dec. 25.

Albert Nelson a graduate of the Institute of Technology and now holding the position of foreman of the testing room at the American Steel Wire Company's mill in Trenton, N. J. is spending the latter part of this week at his home on Nelson street.

Call Quincy 501--W

if you want your furniture, mattresses and cushions repaired in good order at low prices M. MIRKIN, upholsterer, 1060 Hancock street, near the Quincy High School

Dec. 1-1m

SOCIAL PARADISE.

Owning a Parterre Box In New York's Opera House.

MERE MONEY CANNOT BUY ONE

It Takes More Than Wealth to Enable an Outsider to Break Into the Famous and Ultra Exclusive "Golden Horseshoe" at the Metropolitan.

Anybody with money enough can become the owner of the costliest art treasure in all the world if it is for sale. Anybody can have the finest yacht or the biggest Fifth avenue mansion or the longest string of matched pearls. This means mere money.

But the attainment of a box at the opera is without irreverence about as near achieving the kingdom of heaven on earth as it well can be. Riches alone cannot buy entrance therein.

Not one millionaire in a hundred owns a box at the opera.

Why?

Just jot down these symbols:

$$\frac{N\ (a+b)-c}{35}=x$$

Here we have social New York's chiefest problem expressed algebraically. "X" is the unknown quantity for which a given value is required. "N" is the uncertain quantity which the mathematicians call a "variant," and "a," "b" and "c" are the known quantities which can readily be ascertained by referring to the real estate records on file in New York city.

In a word, when the rich man solves it he knows exactly how much a box at the opera costs to own outright, in fee simple, he and his heirs and assigns forever, if he has the value of "N."

The correct answer has only been reached five times in thirty years! Strangely enough, too, this right result each time is never the same. Each solution, where "N" has been properly found before the lucky solver begins on his problem, gives higher figures than the one before.

Today the correct answer is $120,000, the price for which one of the coveted boxes was recently sold.

The symbol "N" means, in a word, the approval of the board of directors of the Metropolitan Opera. If you can possibly get it and have the $120,000 lying idle to boot, then you can become the proud possessor of a box at the opera—the one and greatest desideratum of those who would have impeccable social prestige in New York, which means everywhere. It also means that boxes in the "golden horseshoe" are the costliest of any opera house in the world. The right to have your six places at every performance of the opera is a mere adjunct to the ownership. It is the fact that you, personally, own the box which is the acme of the whole transaction. It means that your social standing is A1, flawless, unimpeachable, unassailable, wholly perfect!

Now let us get right down to figures and solve our problem of the opera box. We must assume, of course, that we have "N" figured down to a nicety—that is, we have the unqualified approval of the directors of the opera, the hardest quantity of all to obtain.

Our known quantities are a matter of record and easy to obtain to the last penny. We find, then, as follows: Our "a" is the value of the building; our "b" is the value of the land; our "c" is the mortgage upon the property as a whole. And the divisor, 35, is the number of boxes in the parterre at the opera, of which there can be just thirty-five, no more and no less.

So, we can now substitute figures for our algebraic symbols or letters and work out the problem by simple arithmetic. The building is figured at $1,000,000 and the land at $3,500,000. Besides this, there is an equity in a loft building where scenery is stored, which is figured at $100,000. You have just as much a share in the dingy loft as you have in your brilliant red and gold box at the Metropolitan Opera House. So the total real estate value is $4,600,000. From this you must subtract the mortgage, which is $1,000,000. Our result, then, is $3,600,000. Now, divide this by 35. We get $102,857. That is the cost price of a box at the opera. The balance is the seller's profit.

Look to this fact—the remaining original box holders of thirty years ago have quadrupled their money. They chipped in $30,000 apiece then, and now their individual holdings are $120,000 each and growing every season. Death alone ever parts an owner from his box, and then it stays in the family nine times out of ten. Why?

Simplest thing in the world—because the box is sure of a handsome income every year. A man could live in style from what his box at the opera would bring him if he had to.

Monday is the gala night of the week at the opera. A choice box—and they are all choice except that some are choicer than the rest for ocular or auditory purposes—can be rented out at a moment's notice for $3,000 for just the twenty-four Monday night performances. There are 120 nights and matinees of opera—five performances a week for twenty-three regular weeks and an extra week. So ninety-six performances are still left after you have taken in your $3,000. Sell your tickets dirt cheap for these, say $100 for the six seatings, and you have $9,600 more, or $12,600 income in all. Throw off the $600 for commissions and you have a net income of $12,000 from your tickets, or $1,000 a month. — New York World.

TREE FESTIVALS

(Continued from Page One.)

Miss Helen Bromley, Melville P. Hayward, Dr. C. T. Sherman and Richard Witherell.

FIRST CHURCH.

The annual Christmas festival of the Sunday School of the First church was held Christmas eve. The Sunday school and friends of the school gathered in the church at 6 o'clock where there was a short Christmas service which was conducted by the pastor, Rev. A. L. Hudson, following which the school and friends adjourned to the chapel where the Christmas festival was held.

The chapel looked very pretty with its decorations of green, but what was particularly pleasing to the children was a large Christmas tree.

The first thing on the program in the chapel was an entertainment which had been arranged under the direction of Mrs. A. Isabel Davis. This opened with a Christmas play, the characters being impersonated as follows:

Mrs. Richley, Norma Johnson
Mrs. Montague, Florence Meade
Marie, the French maid Natalie Saville
Nora, the German maid Roxana Schenkelberger
Dennis, the man Lowell Reed

Following this twelve little girls, dressed in white with red bells, entered, each reciting a little verse. These little girls were Gertrude Rogers, Doris Kincaide, Edith Remick, Emeline Page, Barbara Johnson, Eleanor Ricker, Marion Whiton, Olive Rogers, Martha Bixby, Doris Crepon, Dorothy Johnson.

Each little girl after reciting her verse fell fast asleep. Then three boys on red cushions entered, Fred Lovell, Stanhope Ring and Laurence MacQuarrie, each of these boys also recited a short verse and then like the little girls they fell fast asleep.

Then the two elves, Dorothy and Ruth Packard entered and as they sang the twelve little girls and three boys awoke and all shouted "Hail to Santa Claus" which was the signal for His Majesty to enter.

Santa, with his face wreathed in smiles made a short speech to the Sunday school after which he solicited the aid of the teachers in the distribution of the presents with which the branches of a large Christmas tree were laden.

This pleasant duty over Santa made his escape, his excuse for an early departure being that he had many other places to visit and that he did not want to disappoint anyone.

UNIVERSALIST CHURCH.

The Universalist Sunday School Christmas party will be held Tuesday evening, Dec. 30 at 6.30 in the church vestry. A cantata "King Christmas" will be given by the Sunday School members, to be followed by a Christmas tree and a general good time.

WOLLASTON BAPTIST.

The Wollaston Baptist Sunday school observed its annual Christmas entertainment in the chapel Wednesday evening with a pleasing program and a large number present.

The program included violin solos by Miss Marion Hardy and a duet, Luther's "Cradle Song" by Ruth and Dorothy Kempton. Miss Coons of Boston told several stories in costume. Among her costumes were those of Mother Goose and an Indian maiden. The stories she told included "The boy that saved the sheep," "Street car in the stocking" and an Indian story.

A fireplace had been cleverly constructed at the end of the room and through it Santa Claus in the person of Charles E. Goodspeed descended with his pack. Presents and candy were distributed to all including a gift from the Rand to the Walther class in the form of an alarm clock that suggested they wake up.

QUINCY POINT CHURCH.

The Christmas festival of the Sunday school of the Washington Street Congregational church was held at the church Wednesday evening and was largely attended. During the evening there was singing of Christmas hymns by the school and a Christmas play written by Miss Catherine Yule and acted by the members of her Sunday school class. The play was a pretty little thing and was well carried out. Following the play came the distribution of presents from a large Christmas tree. Santa Claus was generous and saw that eevry members of the Sunday school received a Christmas gift.

FINNISH CONGREGATIONAL.

Christmas was observed in a fitting manner at the Finnish Congregational church on Buckley street. The morning service was held at 5 o'clock and for an hour previous to that time, candles burned brightly in all of the windows. The church was very prettily decorated with green boughs and service was very largely attended. The service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. E. Lillback whose text was Light Life and Peace. There was music by the choirs and by the Christian Endeavor sparrows.

In the evening the regular Sunday School festival was held in the Finnish Temperance hall and although the hall has a seating capacity of 650 there were fifty or more who were obliged to stand. The festival was in charge of the school superintendent Matthew Riihimaki, and the program included congregational singing, prayer by the Superintendent, and scripture reading and a few words of welcome by the pastor. Then there were songs of welcome by the Bible class, after which each of the sixteen classes marched to the platform and sang songs and recited poems. The superintendent spoke briefly on the work of the Sunday School and there was music by the choir of the church under the direction of Matthew Leppanen.

Then came the Christmas tree with its loads of presents for the children each of whom received a gift of candy and other things. The festival closed by groups of children of the Sunday school gathering about the piano and singing songs.

WOLLASTON METHODIST.

A series of short cantatas formed Christmas entertainment at the Wollaston Methodist church, Christmas eve.

"The garden of the fairies" was the first and told the story of the fairy queen who sent her subjects to earth on certain missions. On their return she finds only one to have been entirely true to her task. This fairy was crowned with a golden crown by the queen.

Miss Marjorie Fownes was the queen and the fairies were: Ruth Cornell, Irene Hall, Harriet Palmer, Lucille Belcher, Elizabeth Morgan, Doris Lewis, Mildred Atwood, Florence Hall and Florence Palmer.

The second production was a tableau entitled "Holy Night" and showed the babe in the manger with the star of Bethlehem above.

The final cantata was called the "Garden of the Christmas fairy," which told the story of the Christmas of two children. Father Time appears and summons the Christmas fairy from the clock where she has been in hiding for a year. The fairy in turn calls her two assistants and conducts the party to the Christmas garden all alight and filled with fairies and good things.

Father Time was Raymond Cassidy, the two children Francena Crothers and Eleanor Wright, the Christmas fairy, Lillian Walters and her assistants Doris Lewis and Mildred Atwood. The fairies were Myron Lane Elizabeth Morgan, Ruth Cornell, Harriet Palmer, Lucille Belcher, Fred Dickey and Irene Hall.

The audience then adjourned to the vestry below to enjoy the Christmas tree. Several messages had been received from Santa Claus announcinf his progress toward Wollaston. He soon arrived and assisted by the fairies distributed the presents. The entertainment was under the direction of Mrs. Walter Sutermeister and Miss Florence Waite.

WOLLASTON CONGREGATIONAL.

The Christmas celebration of the Wollaston Congregational Sunday school was held at 5 o'clock on Christmas eve with a resplendent tree of large proportions.

The entertainment opened with a march and songs by the primary department with Mrs. Van Buskirk at the piano. Mrs. Florence Gale of Cambridge sang several songs and told a number of childrens stories including "Christmas Carol" "Peter Pan's advise" and "Little Fir tree."

Then Santa Claus in the person of Chester I. Campbell bounded in followed by his six Brownie cohorts including Charles Winters, Amos Leavitt, Jr., Arthur Holbrook, Stuart Bugbee, Wilson Blake and Donald Blake. Presents were distributed by Santa and his helpers with liberal hand and all present, young and old, were made happy with some gift.

The Christmas tree was a marvelous affair. In addition to yards upon yards of pop corn and tinsel with the usual ornaments, dozens of electric roses glowed all over the tree giving a very beautiful effect.

A feature of the evening was the giving of a set of ancient libation cups to the Rev. Isaih W. Sneath, pastor of the church. The cups were dug from the excavations at Abydos, Egypt and are of the 14th dynasty, representing the year 1500 B. C. The presentation was made by Chester I. Campbell, treasurer for America of the Egpyt Exploration Fund.

ST. CHRYSOSTOM'S CHURCH.

Music at St. Chrysostom's Episcopal church, Wollaston, at the Sunday morning service will be:

Hymn "Christians awake"
Te Deum Martin
"Oh HOLY NIGHT" Adam
Mrs. Spooner and chorus
Hymn "Sing Oh sing, this blessed Morn."
Hymn, "It came upon the Midnight clear."
Anthem, "Sing Oh Heavens" Tours
Hymn, "While Shepherds watched their flocks"

In the evening the music will be repeated with following added numbers:

Magnificat Simper
Nunc Dimittis Simper
"While Shepperds watched their flocks"
Mrs. Spooner and chorus
"Adoration" Gaul
Organ
Organ, "Hallelujah chorus" Handel

Mrs. George B. Curran is organist, and musical director and Mrs. Margaret Spooner soprano soloist.

FOR A

Holiday Present

NOTHING COULD BE BETTER THAN

A QUINCY HISTORY

EACH YEAR THE HISTORY OF

OLD BRAINTREE AND QUINCY

WRITTEN BY

W. S. PATTEE, M. D.

AND PUBLISHED IN 1878

GROWS MORE VALUABLE, AS IT CONTAINS HISTORICAL DATA ABOUT QUINCY THAT CANNOT BE OBTAINED ELSEWHERE

$3.50 PER COPY

FOR SALE BY

GEO. W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.

1424 HANCOCK STREET

QUINCY

ATLANTIC M. E.

Christmas was a red letter day for the Atlantic Methodist people. A Christmas tree loaded with presents greeted the children at 6. 30 P. M. After the singing of Christmas carols and recitations, Santa Claus distributed the presents. It was the unanimous opinion that it was the most delightful Christmas ever held. About 100 were present.

ATLANTIC MEMORIAL.

The Christmas entertainment at Memorial Church Wednesday evening attracted a large congregation of parents and children. The entertainment was different from any ever held in the church and showed a lot of work both by the committee who were Miss Marjorie Young, Miss Winnifred Cole, Miss Alice Waterhouse and Miss Margaret Read, and the children who took part. Forty-five minutes were used in dialogues and Christmas recitations the children all being dressed in appropriate costumes Then Mr. W. F. Cummings as superintendent of the Sunday School invited all to the Christmas tree service in the vestry the church where Clifton Young acted as Santa Claus and was assisted by the superintendent Frank Damon, Gordon Sherwin and Miss Ada Harding.

SOCIAL SERVICE.

The social service idea has been fairly well emphasized and put into practice in Atlantic this Christmas season. The Billikin club which has generally met for social enjoyment, met last Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Mary Farrell on Hodges avenue and every young lady brought a substantial donation to be used in giving Christmas cheer to some child or family. Rev. T. W. Davison last Sunday asked the people of Memorial church to give a liberal offering to be used for community benevolences, and the response was such as could easily carry out the pastor's wish. The Y. P. S. C. E. also co-operated with the other social efforts of the church.

MOUNT PLEASANT CAMP.

The patients at Mt. Pleasant camp passed Christmas in much the same manner as other institutions in the city. There was the usual Christmas dinner and the interchange of gifts among the patients and to the patients by visitors to the camp.

STILL BUSY AT POST OFFICE

Christmas Mail for Quincy People Unusually Large

While most people were enjoying Christmas in family gatherings the post office clerks and carriers who have been the hard worked people during the past few days were busy. Although the post office closed to the the public at 10 o'clock Christmas morning, Postmaster Hammond and his corps of clerks were on hand all day until 8 o'clock in the evening so that every piece of parcel delivery matter reached its destination during the day.

All the mail that arrived previous to the morning delivery by the carriers was delivered, but as there was but one delivery by carriers during the day the letters and postal cards which arrived during the day were not delivered until this morning. These cards were from those as a rule who had neglected the maxim of mailing their letters and cards early, although as noted above everything that arrived up to 7 o'clock Christmas morning was delivered.

Today there is also a rush of late parcels and mail at the Quincy and branch offices and five extra carriers are being used to deliver the mail while five teams are being used for the parcel post packages.

AT DAY NURSERY.

The Christmas festival at the Quincy Day Nursery will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock and will include a time honored Christmas tree and singing and speaking by the children.

(ADVERTISE.)

CARD OF THANKS.

Edward Colligan and family of 80 Coddington street desire to extend heartfelt thanks to relatives, neighbors and friends for kindness and many thoughtful acts in the hour of their bereavement, which will long be remembered.

EDWARD COLLIGAN,
and family.

Quincy, Dec. 26, 1913.

DEATHS

BIRNIE—In Quincy, Dec. 24, John Birnie in his 54th year.
Funeral services at late home 39 Payne street, Saturday, Dec. 27 at 2 P. M. Relatives and friends invited.

PINCKNEY—In Dorchester, Dec. 21, Robert Osborn, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Pinckney of 22 Montello street, aged 3 years, 9 months.

Established 1870 Telephone

JOHN HALL

FUNERAL DIRECTOR

Carriage and Ambulance Service

1485 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass.

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

LARGEST GUARANTEED CIRCULATION IN THE CITY

Vol. 28 No. 300 QUINCY MASS. SATURDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 27 1913 PRICE TWO CENTS

APPOINTMENTS TO POLICE FORCE

Thomas A. Malone, James McNamara and Alexander T. Black Selected

Officer Golden Removed for Good of the Service

Timothy J. Golden of Atlantic, a member of the permanent police force, was removed by Mayor Stone this morning. In a letter to Mr. Golden, a copy of which was placed on file in the City Clerks office and one sent to the Civil Service Commission, the Mayor says that he is removed for the good of the service and for the reason that for several years he has been physically incapacitated from performing the duties of a permanent member of the police force.

Officer Golden sustained a paralytic shock several years ago, one side being affected. Since that time he has been unable to do regular duty although he has performed some light work such as duty on election days at the voting precincts. One side however is paralyzed and unfortunately he will probably never be able to regain the use of his hand and arm.

According to the Mayor, several conferences have been held with the officer to get him to resign, as it was not desired to remove him from office unless absolutely necessary. It is said that Officer Golden has several times agreed to hand in his resignation, but has failed to do so, and that no later than this week he made a similar promise which a few days later he retracted and absolutely refused to resign.

Since he has been incapacitated from duty a reserve officer has been performing his work, but his name has still been carried on the rolls of the police department although he has not drawn salary.

Many of the members of the force looked upon Officer Golden's refusal to resign as a hindrance to the advancement of other men, as it prevented their being appointed to the regular force and being assured of permanent employment.

Under the civil service rules, Officer Golden has a right to demand a hearing but if he does not do so within a few days the vacancy will be filled by the appointment of another man.

There is a possibility that had Goldei made application to the City Council the ordinance relative to the retirement of policemen on half pay might have been applied to him, but he has not seen fit to take what advantage he may have under this ordinance.

Under an order passed at the last meeting of the City Council the permanent police force was increased by the addition of three men to take effect on January 1, 1914. These three men Mayor Stone announced this morning the promotions being made from the reserve list. They are as follows:

Thomas A. Malone, James McNamara and Alexander T. Black. The vacancies thus created in the reserve list will be filled from the civil service lists and a requisition for the same has been made to the Civil Service Commissioners.

Thomas A. Malone has been a member of the police department for many years. He served for a number of years as a special officer and in 1911 was appointed to the reserve force. McNamara and Black became members of the department in 1911 and in 1912 were appointed to the reserve force. All three men have an excellent record and have been doing good work.

Under the Revised Laws the city is entitled to one reserve officer for every three permanent officers up to 38, and one ofr every five permanent officers when the permanent force reaches that number.

Up to the present time the city has been entitled to nine reserve men but the appointment of the three new permanent men, gives the Mayor a right to appoint an additional man so that he has now four vacancies to fill in the reserve force. These will probably be announced next week.

At the Sunday evening service in Christ church, the Christmas carols "O Little Town of Bethlehem" and "Ring out Christmas Bells" will be sung.

QUINCY MUSIC HALL

SATURDAY MATINEE 2.30
SATURDAY NIGHT 8.00
VAUDEVILLE and MOVING PICTURES
2-Reel Feature "SUCCESS." Good Seats 10c

Dec. 26 2t

CARPETS
Oriental RUGS
Domestic LINOLEUM
MATTINGS
AT LOWEST POSSIBLE PRICES
John H. Pray & Sons Co.
646 Washington Street, Opp. Boylston Street

All Goods will be Delivered Free at Residences in Quincy
REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY
Messrs. OTHO A. HAYWARD and WALTER J. WELLINGTON.

TENNIS CLUB DANCING PARTY

Large and Brilliant Gathering at Quincy Music Hall

The annual dancing party of the Quincy Tennis club, at Music hall last evening was not only one of the largest parties the club has ever held, but was an unusually pretty party as well. Some very exquisite gowns were worn by the ladies and with the lively entrancing music of Poole's orchestra the scene as viewed from the balcony was a pretty one to look upon.

The younger set predominated although there was a fair sprinkling of the older set. The attendance was not confined to Quincy for among the merry party were noticed many of the younger set from adjoining towns.

The party was matronized by Mrs. Moreton T. Swallow, Mrs. Herbert T. Drake and Mrs. Luther W. Glover. Mrs. Swallow was in pale blue, Mrs. Drake in black, and Mrs. Glover in pink a combination of color that made the group a charming one.

Dancing was in order from 8 to 11.30, and it is hardly necessary to say that modern dances prevailed. The music was particularly lively as all the newer dances call for lively music and the participants entered into the affair with a zest that was pleasing to the eye.

The ushers, all well known tennis enthusiasts, were distinguished by minature tennis racquets worn on the coat lapel and included the following well known young men: Chas. E. Barker, Herbert S. Barker, Jr., Walter H. Binnian, Maurice I. Blackmur, Paul Blackmur, John J. Crain, Richard Crane, Harold L. Davenport, L. Kenneth Edwards, William C. Edwards, Henry M. Faxon, Arthur B. Hillman, Henry R. Holden, J. Brooks Keyes, Delcevare King, Hobart A. Lawton, John T. Nolan, George E. Pfaffmann, John S. Pfaffmann, Henry W. Porter, Carl R. Sheppard, James H. Slade, Morton Smith, Moreton T. Swallow, Robert W. Telford.

The patronesses were:

Mrs. George W. Abele, Mrs. Charles E. Barker, Mrs. Herbert S. Barker, Mrs. William R. Bateman, Mrs. Paul R. Blackmur, Mrs. W. H. Blanchard, Mrs. Frederick H. Breslyn, Mrs. Chas. M. Bryant, Mrs. Clarence Burgin, Mrs. Walter E. Burke, Mrs. William E. Cooper, Mrs. John J. Crain, Mrs. Emery L. Crane, Mrs. Harold L. Davenport, Mrs. Thomas B Davenport, Mrs. Carl E. Davis, Mrs. William I. Dewson, Mrs. William H. Doble, Mrs. Horace R. Drinkwater, Mrs. Nixon W. Elmer, Mrs. Walter P. Emery, Mrs. Henry M. Faxon, Mrs. George D. Follett, Mrs. Henry E. Frick, Mrs. Richard R. Freeman, Mrs. Joseph B. Groce, Mrs. Joseph H. Hall, Mrs. C. Theodore Hardwick, Mrs. Lyndon B. Hardwick, Mrs. Sidney C. Hardwick, Mrs. Charles E. Haskins, Mrs. Arthur B. Hillman, Mrs. Henry R. Holden, Mrs. Walter B. Holden, Mrs. Charles A. Howland, Mrs. Adelbert L. Hudson, Mrs. Eugene C. Hultman, Mrs. Nathaniel S. Hunting, Mrs. Edward E. Jameson, Mrs. John H. Johnson, Mrs. J. Brooks Keyes, Mrs. Henry L. Kincaide, Mrs. Henry H. Kitson, Mrs. Carleton C. Lane, Mrs. Thomas Lacey, Mrs. Herbert Lawton, Mrs. Perry Lawton, Mrs. Jesse I. Litchfield, Mrs. E. E. Livingston, Mrs. Ralph N. Lovell, Mrs. Russell C. Low, Miss Maud N. McFarlane, Mrs. Joseph C. Morse, Mrs. William B. Nichols, Mrs. Warren G. Ogden, Mrs. Frank A. Page, Mrs. James F. Paige, Mrs. William G. S. Pattee, Mrs. George E. Pfaffmann, Mrs. Henry W. Porter, Mrs. Charles A. Price, Mrs. John E. Prouty, Mrs. Alfred H. Remick, Mrs. James P. Roberts, Mrs. Walter L. Sargent, Mrs. Russell A. Sears, Mrs. Joseph M. Sheahan, Mrs. Carl R. Sheppard, Mrs. John O. Short, Mrs. George A. Sidelinger, Mrs. Fred Simpson, Mrs. James H. Slade, Mrs. Frederick H. Smith, Mrs. H. Gerrish Smith, Mrs. Maurice P. Spillane. Mrs. James H. Stetson, Mrs. Laurance H. Sturtevant, Mrs. Wilson Tisdale, Mrs. Gordon B. Trowbridge, Mrs. Dexter E. Wadsworth, Mrs. Robert P. Walker, Mrs. Frank H. Walsh,

---

The makers of war material kindly allowed Peace Sunday to be celebrated without asking the government to interfere.

NEW CHIEF PATRIARCH

Election of Officers by Manet Encampment of Odd Fellows

The following officers were elected at the regular meeting of Manet Encampment, I. O. O. F., Friday evening.

C. P.—Ethan A. Rich
S. W.—James E. Richardson.
H. P.—Robert W. Wood
Scribe—George C. Ela.
Treasurer—Frank L. Carlton.
J. W.—James Simpson.
Trustee—Frank E. Badger.

Representatives to the Grand Encampment—Frank E. Badger, Charles H. Wood, Walter H. Walker, Edward L. Goodridge and Aubrey R. Keith.

Following the election the Royal Purple degree was exemplified by officers of the encampment there being six candidates.

A collation was served at the close of the business session.

WILL BE MISSED BY REBEKAHS

Mrs. Mary E. Stebbins of Wollaston Park Passes Away

Mrs. Mary E. Stebbins of 72 Bromfield street, who was stricken by a shock on Thursday evening, Dec. 18, while at a meeting of George L. Gill Rebekah lodge, passed away this morning, aged 64 years. She was the widow of George W. Stebbins who died last March. She was born at North Grafton in 1849, and had been a resident of Wollaston Park for 23 years. Mrs. Stebbins took considerable enjoyment in attending the meetings of George L. Gill Rebekah lodge, and also the Odd Ladies lodge of Wollaston. She is survived by two sons, George Henry and Myron Richmond.

Funeral services will be held Monday morning at 10 o'clock from her late residence, and friends and neighbors are invited. Burial will be at Shrewsbury.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS?
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER

MONDAY, DEC. 29
SALE
-- ON --
Watches, Jewelry, Novelties, Clocks, Toilet and Manicure Sets, etc.

A Grand Reduction on all Goods left on hand from the Christmas Stock of
10% to 33%

Xmas Goods must be sold regardless of Cost.

Come early in the week for a good selection and buy goods at a substantial saving.

SANDBERG BROS.
Jewelers
City Square, Quincy

OIL ENGINES FOR SUBMARINES

Discoveries by Experts Which Mean Progress

Considerable progress has been made recently in the oil engines used for propelling submarines when on the surface, and in the engineering supplement of the London Times there is an interesting article on this subject.

Many difficulties have been encountered, the writer says, in these submarines, largely on account of the high speed at which the engine must run, so as to reduce the weight as much as possible. Cracked pistons and explosions due to the fuel entering the crank chamber have occurred, but these defects are gradually being eliminated.

The French government, however, in the future propose to employ steam engines as well as oil engines in their submarines. Great Britain and Germany, on the other hand, although they have also had many troubles with these engines, are preparing to construct larger Diesel engines.

The German and Italian submarines, the author of the Times article continues, are practically all fitted with two cycle engines, the German ones being either of the six-cylinder Krupp type, with an air compressor in the middle and at each end a scavenger pump, or else the six or eight cylinder M. A. N., in which scavenging is accomplished by means of stepped pistons. The Italian submarine motors are built by the Fiat Company and are of a type very similar to the M. A. N.

In Great Britain the Vickers type of Diesel engine is used almost exclusively for this purpose. It is a four-cycle engine and, since solid fuel is injected, the air compressor, which has sometimes been the cause of explosions, is unnecessary. These engines, however, unlike the two-cycle type, are not directly reversible and reversing is effected by means of the electric motors used for propelling the submarine when below the surface.

With regard to the progress made in Diesel engines for large warships, the writer says that although the development of this larger engine has been slow, yet orders have been placed recently which will have a decided effect on the construction of these engines.

GOOD MARCHING.

In the report of the Christmas festival at Bethany church it was reported that the Knights of King Arthur gave a good exhibition of "dancing." Of course this was a mistake; it should have read a good exhibition of "marching," in which the new organization has become very proficient.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS?
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

HOUGHS NECK CUT OFF BY VERY HIGH TIDE

Causeway Between Quincy Woods and Willows and the Marshes Flooded

Tide Was at 10 O'clock and Was Record Breaker

It was very fortunate Friday that there was not a high northeasterly wind with the high course of tides, for had there been, the damage to property would have been considerable. As it was, the unusually high tide did considerable damage. The high course of tides usually come with a change of the moon and at noon. Friday, however, the high tide came with a 10.30 tide.

There was a very high tide last October which followed several stormy days, which overflowed the causeway between Quincy and Houghs Neck as well as the causeway leading to Squantum, but although that tide was an unusually high one it did not compare with Friday's tide.

When the causeway near the foot of the hill at Quincy Woods, near the entrance to Post island, was raised a few years ago it was thought that it had been raised enough so that a high course of tides would not overflow it. Friday's tide however covered the street to a depth of nearly two feet, for a considerable distance, so much so that the street cars did not dare to attempt to pass through it. For nearly two hours therefore, Houghs Neck was shut off from the city proper and was practically an island.

The tide also came over the marshes leading to Rock Island so that section became for a time virtually an island. Along the shore front considerable damage was done to the steamboat wharf which was overflowed. The street leading around Great hill to Nut Island was also overflowed.

The half dozen houses along the shore front near the Willows were surrounded by water which reached the first floor of the cottages. Along the Adams Shore front the high tide also did considerable damage, especially to those cottages on low ground nead the shore.

Norton street leading from Sea street to the Merrymount subdivision property was overflowed to quite a depth. This same street was overflowed by the high tide in October and badly washed out and the tide of Friday completed the job, so that the street will have to be rebuilt and raised considerably.

Along the shore front of Wollaston and Atlantic the tide was very high but not sufficient to do any damage. The causeway leading to Squantum was overflowed in some places but not to such an extent as to close passage.

The one difficulty in raising the Causeway leading to Houghs Neck higher than it is at the present time is on account of the small cottages situated on the southerly side of the street. These cottages are now considerable lower than the street and if the street is raised further it means that they will be surounded by water every tide and then suits for damages are likely to follow. When the street was raised some time ago it was said at that time that it was raised as much as the Commissioner dared to on account of the cottages on the south side.

There are quite a number of small cottages situated on the marsh in the hollow, between Sea street and Manet avenue and as these same cottages are surrounded by water at nearly every tide, one can imagine what the condition was Friday. That some were not taken up and floated to a new location is surprising.

The marshes along the railroads tracks near Neponset were covered by the high tide but no damage was done.

Again this morning the causeways and marshes were flooded but the tide was not as high.

The situation in Boston and other places on Friday was even more serious. In Boston it rose about two feet above normal high tide, while the waves that beat against the wharves washed up over the string pieces till portions of both Long and T Wharves were so submerged that fish carts and wagons doing business there were in some instances up to their hubs in salt water while loading or unloading.

(Continued on Page Three.)

Don't Put Off
seeking relief from the illnesses caused by defective action of the organs of digestion. Most serious sicknesses get their start in troubles of the stomach, liver, bowels—troubles quickly, safely, surely relieved by
BEECHAM'S PILLS
Sold everywhere. In boxes, 10c., 25c.

$
$
SAVED BY BUYING
Patch's Special
COALS
C. PATCH & SON, Inc.
1422 Hancock Street

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second-Class matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the . . . . .

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

TELEPHONES
News . . . Quincy 425
Business . . Quincy 1910

NOTICE

Again we ask those sending news or other matter by mail to direct it to the company or newspaper rather than to individual members of the company or employees. If addressed to individuals and they were ill or not at the office, it might be several days in reaching its proper destination and if news matter would be too late for use.

Perhaps if they had the New Year come in at noon when no one wanted to sleep, there would be less trouble with noisy celebrations.

The soldiers along the Mexican border should not watch too closely, as they might see someone taking arms across the line.

In spite of the fact that the Socialists now control "Puck," it is suspected that the down trodden office boy won't get as much pay as the head editor.

Congress now has a three weeks' recess before the schoolmaster raps on the desk for recitations to begin again.

Most of us have not accomplished all that was hoped in 1913, but there is the incontrovertible fact that big things will be done in 1914.

As holiday weather is not favorable for baseball or football, the returning students can't display what they have learned at college.

There is a general feeling among business men that Congress should stop talking about the currency and trusts, and devote the rest of the session to the deplorable condition of the natives of Patagonia.

It being considered desirable to give novel and original Christmas gifts, it is very customary to pick out things that your friends never use.

If Mr. Roosevelt had devoted his remarks to the question of large families he would not have got into that argument about the Monroe doctrine with Dr. Martinez of Chili.

A Blairsville, Pa., minister was saved from an assassin's bullet by the Bible which he was carrying under his arm. This shows the advantage of taking your own copy of the Scriptures to church.

Give Your Neighbor an Equal Chance

By HOLLAND.

IF you have been buying goods of a mail order house you doubtless think it has been to your advantage to do so. You have believed that you were saving money or were getting better goods. Let us see if this is true.

Have you tried to do business with your local merchant—your neighbor—on the terms that the mail order house exacts? No? Then suppose you try it.

Just go into the store, plank down your cash and tell what you want. You might even tell the merchant that you will wait a few days for the goods. See if your local merchant can't serve you better and as cheaply as the mail order house.

The local merchant usually extends credit for two, four or six months. The mail order house demands cash in advance. It uses your money as working capital. It loses nothing in interest, nothing in bad debts or on slow paying customers. Try this cash in advance plan on the local merchant—the man you know—and see if he can't make it to your advantage to

SPEND YOUR MONEY
WHERE YOU MAKE IT.

WATCH NIGHT UNION SERVICE

Churches of Braintree Will Unite Next Wednesday Night

First Congregational Parish House, Braintree, Dec. 31, 9 to 12 P. M.

Program

9 to 9.15 Service of Praise. Conducted by W. A. Harvey.
9.15 to 9.40 Address by Rev. P. H. J. Lerrigo, M. D. of Boston.
Music
9.45 to 9.55 Address: Rev. D. R. Freeman.
Hymn
9.55 to 10.10 Address: Rev. Harry Grimes.
10.10 to 111 Social Hour Entertainment and Light Refreshments.
11 to 11.10 Address: Rev. A. Lowell Ryan.
Hymn
11.15 to 11.25 Address: Rev. Tyler E. Gale.
11.25 to 11.40 Open service for testimony and prayer.
11.40 Music.
11.45 Closing Words: Rev. J. A. Mitchell.
Silent Prayer.
12 Singing by Congregation "Blest Be The Tie That Binds."

MIDNIGHT CAROL SINGERS

A very pleasing old custom was observed Christmas eve when a double quartet composed of eight young men from Bethany church went about singing Christmas carols. Before starting they were given refreshments at the home of their efficient leader, Mrs. Jennie Hocking Hunt, after which they went to the church where the first song was sung at precisely twelve o'clock. From there they followed their chosen route, which included homes of some of the deacons and church members. It was certainly a rare treat to hear such carol singing, and the old songs were sung with the real Christmas spirit. Many comments have been made upon the gentlemanly way in which the young men conducted themselves, as well as upon their fine singing.

WOLLASTON CONGREGATIONAL

A rare musical treat is to be afforded the attendants at the vesper service at the Wollaston Congregational church at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon when the cantata "Holy City" will be given by a chorus of 49 voices assisted by the following soloists: Charles H. Everett, basso; Henry R. Rogers, tenor; Miss Ruth Hardy, soprano; and Mrs. M. Long, contralto. The cantata will be given under the direction of Walter C. Rogers director of music in the public schools at Ossining, N. Y. This same cantata was given a year ago to a very crowded house and as many were unable to obtain seats last year they should be in attendance early on Sunday.

WOLLASTON BAPTIST.

"As we enter the New Year" will be the subject of Rev. Joseph Walther at the Wollaston Baptist church Sunday morning, and the musical numbers will include "O, Zion that tellest" by Buck, and "Holy voice of night," by Lessen.

At 7 P. M. a special Christmas carol and anthem service. The pastor will preach on "Before baptism what." Baptism will follow the sermon.

HALL PLACE M. E.

The annual Christmas Tree and entertainment of the Sunday school of the Hall Place M. E. church was given Thursday evening in the vestry.

The program consisted of singing by the young mens class, solos by Miss Helen E. Martin, recitations by Ethel Newcomb, Henry Nichols, Maud Nichols and Edna Burke and a short sketch entitled "A Christmas surprise," given by Lawrence and Helen Martin, Horace Noyes, George Stewart, Albert Miller, Julius Fuller, Camile Fuller, John Lawson and Arthur Williams. During the remark by the Supt. Mr. A. D. Stewart, Santa Claus arrived and distributed presents to every member of the school. The Sunday School Board presented Mr. A. D. Stewart Supt. with "Hoffman's Christ." The church presented Mr. C. A. Goucher, chorister with an umbrella and Miss Maud Nichols, organist with a picture. A pleasant evening was spent after the tree was disposed of.

Wednesday evening an adjourned meeting of the Sunday School Board will be held at 8 P. M. in the vestry. From nine o'clock till twelve o'clock a Watch Night service will be held. Rev. Mr. Thompson, formerly of the united Presbyterian Church and Rev. Mr. Tilley of the Calvary Baptist church will speak. The Epworth League will provide refreshments during the service. All are cordially invited to attend.

WILL ACCEPT BROOKLYN CALL

Rev. J. E. Lillback to Preach Farewell Sermon Jan. 25

Rev. J. E. Lillback, pastor of the Finnish Congregational church, will announce to his congregation on Sunday that he will accept the pastorate of the church to which he has been called in Brooklyn, N. Y., and that he will preach his farewell sermon on Sunday, Jan. 25

The Congregational council which will dissolve his present pastorate will convene on Jan. 22, and Rev. Mr. Lillback will take up his new duties the later part of January. His family will remain in Quincy for a time until he gets settled in his new home.

GOOD SERVICE TO FIREMEN

The firemen connected with the Atlantic company appreciate very much the assistance of A. C. Thayer at the Seal Rock Inn fire at Squantum and regret his unpleasant predicament. He is a carpenter of Atlantic, and was at work on the roof of the Crabtree house that morning. He saw the fire at the inn and rushed to Box 8, which he had passed in the morning. He then went to the scene of the fire, and rendered good service to the Atlantic company which responded with only three men. Later he returned to the Crabtree estate and was there when the fire occurred there. Developments have shown that he had nothing to do with starting any of the fires, but really did render good service to the fire department.

ADMIRAL DEWEY

Hero of Manila Bay Is Celebrating Seventy-Sixth Birthday

© by Clinedinst.

This photo was taken several years ago, but the admiral bears his age well and looks younger than he is.

CELEBRATES ANNIVERSARY

Admiral Dewey Is Seventy-Six but Looks Much Younger

Washington, Dec. 27.—George Dewey, the admiral of the navy and hero of Manila bay, began the celebration of his 76th birthday by appearing early at his office to discharge the duties entailed upon him as president of the navy general board.

He received many birthday gifts and congratulatory telegrams from all parts of the country and spent part of the day visiting with his son, who came from Chicago for the occasion. There was no formal celebration.

Looking at least twenty years younger than his real age, the admiral held an informal reception all day long for his associates in the navy.

One of the most pleasing features of the celebration was the receipt of a note from one who signed herself "The Flag Lady," in California announcing that she was sending him a big box of golden oranges she had picked herself in California, and which contained, she said, "her blessings and best wishes."

NEWS ITEMS FROM MILTON

The seventeen patients at the Convalescent Home were served a Christmas dinner on the holiday by Miss E. J. O'Brien, the matron and superintendent. In the evening there was a Christmas tree which was followed by singing, games and dancing. Another Christmas tree exercise will be held next Sunday evening and upwards of 200 visitors will be received.

Good cheer was dispensed with a lavish hand throughout Milton on Christmas day and private parties and associations saw that every poor family was looked after and that they had a Christmas dinner while the children received presents.

East Milton children will have a week longer vacation than in Quincy for while the winter term of the Quincy schools commences on Monday Dec. 29, the winter term of the East Milton schools does not open until Monday Jan. 5.

Christmas was observed at the Church of Our Saviour by a morning service at 8 o'clock which included Holy Communion and sermon by the rector, Rev. H. Boyd Edwards, and a service at 10 o'clock conducted by the lay reader, T. W. Attridge. Christmas night the children of the Sunday School united with the Sunday School of St. Michael's church at the latter church.

The Sunday School of the Mission of Our Saviour was held Monday evening in the Guild room. There was the singing of carols and the distribution of presents from a large tree.

Work has already commenced making preparations for the new bridge over the Neponset river between Milton and Dorchester, and it is expected that the bridge will be closed for travel in a few days. A foot bridge will be provided so that persons may cross the river on foot but no temporary bridge will be provided for teams. When once active work is commenced the street will be closed up for several months.

☞PRATT'S BREAD is always in favor because delicious in flavor. Your grocer.

Perfect biscuit perfectly delivered

At the grocery store you will find many varieties of biscuit baked by National Biscuit Company. Each variety of biscuit—sweetened or unsweetened—whether known as crackers or cookies . . wafers or snaps . . cakes or jumbles —is the best of its kind.

The extensive distributing service of the National Biscuit Company extends from Coast to Coast.

This ensures a constant supply of all the perfect biscuit of the National Biscuit Company being delivered to every part of the United States.

Buy biscuit baked by

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

Always look for that name

GOOD BUSINESS IS THE BELIEF

Currency Legislation to Help Trade Throughout Country

DISCUSSION OF CONDITIONS

Representative Manufacturers of the United States Say Passage of Tariff and Other Bills Will Cause Revival —Depression Now In Some Branches of Industry

New York, Dec. 27.—That currency legislation will be followed by better business is the opinion of representative manufacturers of the country. The presidents and chief officers of more than 100 of the leading smaller manufacturing concerns, with plants ranging in value from $500,000 to $2,000,000, have written careful analyses of the condition of business as affected by currency, tariff and other legislation.

No such complete and frank discussion of the effect of present legislation on business, backed in many instances by figures and by business estimates of a personal and private nature, has been published since the tariff law went into effect.

"Get currency legislation out of the way, pass a bill, however short of perfect, as soon as possible, and business will go ahead," was the dominant note in practically every letter which mentioned the subject directly or indirectly. The larger number referred to it. Of forty companies which discussed it directly, thirty-eight approved of the bill itself as a helpful one, despite the belief that it could be better. By some there was serious criticism.

The present state of business varies widely. Basic industries like steel and its manufactures; lumber and kindred industries, sugar and leather feel the depression keenly. The building industries and those manufactures dependent on them are heavily affected. Other industries founded directly on basic industries feel a trade recession not so heavily, but still marked, as in clothing and shoe manufacturing.

Agricultural implement concerns reported excellent business despite the placing of their product on the free list. Foreigners, with the possible exception of Canada, cannot compete in this industry, and the great crops have brought much work.

Specialties like sewing machines, which went on the free list; firearms, stoves, soap, salt, have not been affected by the tariff changes and report excellent business. The price of sewing machines has been advanced and no importations have been made. In talking machines there is a boom, partly due to the holidays.

Out of seventy-six replies on the condition of business forty-two concerns, or 55 percent, find business bad. Good business is reported by thirty-two concerns. In predicting for 1914 ten out of eighteen look for worse times. The tariff law was reported injurious by about 80 percent of those which wrote about it, thirty-six out of forty-six finding it harmful.

The fundamental factor in the discussion by most of the manufacturers as militating against business prosperity was the general undermining of confidence, which, they asserted, had come through constant tinkering and hammering by the legislators.

"We can stand the tariff and the currency legislation will help," said the manufacturers to the administration and legislators generally, "but for the sake of prosperity stop attacking and let us tend to our business."

The excessive demands of labor and the extravagant standard of life demanded without returning compensation for it were other causes advanced. A plea for higher rates for the railroads came from four manufacturers as an essential of prosperity. Only one opposed.

FINDS 1804 DOLLAR

Workman at New Haven Digs Up Coin Worth $3500

New Haven, Conn., Dec. 27.—A silver dollar bearing the date 1804, highly prized by numismatics, and understood to be quoted at $3500 for collection purposes, was found here.

William Sullivan, a laborer, excavating on the site of the new ice rink for the Yale hockey team, turned over with his shovel an old jar which rested on a bowlder several feet below the surface. Under the bowl was a silver snuff box made in Nuremberg, green with oxydization and in it a United States silver dollar dated 1804, in good condition, a number of Connecticut copper coins, a continental note for $3, several state notes and some rings.

Takes Christmas Day Swim

Chicago, Dec. 27.—Miss Clara Pause, 16, celebrated Christmas by taking a long swim in the icy waters of Lake Michigan. The girl is a good swimmer and nearly every day since summer has swum to a water works intake crib four miles out in the lake. The temperature of the atmosphere was close to the freezing point all day.

Wilson's Uncle Passes Away

Chillicothe, O., Dec. 27.—Henry W. Woodrow, an uncle of President Wilson, died here after a short illness. He was a prominent lawyer.

Capital $150,000 Surplus $200,000

MAYBE YOU DON'T REALIZE

That we can do a lot for you besides keeping your money in a safe place. We help you with your accounting, your credits, and your collections. We give free legal advice on business subjects. We have a wonderful fund of information that you would do well to remember. Call in and find out some of the advantages of being a "Granite Trust" depositor.

Our $5 Box Is Larger Than a $10 Box In Boston.

GRANITE TRUST CO.
FOUNDED 1836

Advertise in the Ledger

REWICKING Made Easy

EASY wicking is only one of the many improvements that make the new Perfection Oil Heater (Triangle trade mark) superior to any oil heater ever made before.

Wick and carrier are in one. Just turn up the old wick, slip it out and drop another in place.

PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER

This New Model Perfection Heater is smokeless, odorless and economical.

The shape of the font, wide and shallow, allows the oil to pass readily up the wick and insures an even, glowing heat even when the font is almost empty. The font holds more than a gallon of oil and an indicator shows the amount of fuel left at a glance.

There is no smoke or smell with a Perfection. The automatic-locking flame-spreader prevents smoking. No gallery to unscrew, or catch oil and dust.

Made with vitreous blue enamel or plain steel drums. Ornamental, inexpensive, lasts for years. Easily cleaned and moved about.

Look for the Heater with the TRIANGLE

Dealers everywhere or write to

STANDARD OIL COMPANY
of New York

New York, N. Y. Albany, N. Y.
Buffalo, N. Y. Boston, Mass.

The Social Realm

Mrs. Everett C. Bumpus of Presidents hill returned the first of the week from a week's stay in Washington where she was the guest of Mrs. Arthur B. Bates at The Connecticut. She went on to give one of her art talks before the Washington Woman's club and enjoyed her stay being most delightfully entertained at various clubs and making dates for future art talks.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Felix J. McCann came on this week from Philadelphia to spend a month with their aunt Mrs. George G. Roberts of Lincoln avenue.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. Campbell and two daughters of Beale street are at Portsmouth, Ohio passing Christmas with their daughter, Mrs. Lee Mandeville. They are to return via Washington, D. C., where they will spend some time as well as in Philadelphia and New York.

* * *

Rev. Alfred Ray Atwood, formerly of Quincy Point, remembered several of his Quincy friends at Christmastide with greetings and a calendar. He is now educational superintendent of Sunday school work for the synod of Michigan with headquarters at Lansing.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hill and son George of New Hampshire, formerly of Atlantic, spent the holidays with relatives in Atlantic.

* * *

Henry P. Furnald left Wednesday for Albany, New York to spend the Christmas holidays with his daughter Mrs. William Warmington.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. John Walter and son of Duxbury and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Keen of Seaview are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Apollonio of Botolph street.

* * *

A wedding of the holiday season will be that on Monday of John Mahan of this city and Miss Loretta Hart of Weymouth.

* * *

The Wollaston Glee club announces another concert, the first of the 1913-14 season, to be given Wednesday evening, Jan. 7. The club has been fortunate in securing the hall in the new Wollaston schoolhouse. John A. Crowley continues as director and William E. Weston as accompanist. The club will be assisted on this date by Mme. Wilhelmina. Wright Calvert, soprano; and Arthur J. Hackett, tenor.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Phillips of Mt. Pleasant avenue, Roxbury announce the engagement of their daughter Sophia to William J. Talbot of Quincy.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. William Geekie, of Providence, R. I., and George Keekie of Washington, D. C. spent the holiday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Geekie of Atlantic street.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Griggs Howe, nee Mary Day Ripley, who were married in Springfield in October and are residing in Quincy, will be at home to their friends after January first at 41 Greenleaf street.

* * *

Miss Ethel Duffey of Scituate is the guest of Miss Helen Damon of Billings street.

* * *

Mrs. Walter E. Burke of Adams street has invited the members of St. Margaret's Guild to a "home party" at her home on Tuesday evening from eight until ten o'clock, again showing her interest in the young people of the church in a delightful way.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. James S. Hancock are to be at home New Year's day at the home of their daughter Mrs. Fred H. Hall, 345 Front street, in observance of the sixtieth anniversary of their marriage.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence W. Fearing of Weymouth announce the engagement of their daughter Miriam Clark Fearing and Mr. William J. Nutter, principal of the East Bridgewater High school.

James B. Claflin of Elmwood avenue is at home after being a year at Chicago.

* * *

Miss Hattie Sargent is to be the hostess for the meeting next Wednesday evening of the Pickwick club. The subject of opera will be discussed under the leadership of Mrs. George L. Badger and Mrs. William H. Doble. In January the club is to observe its forty-first anniversary.

* * *

Miss Abby K. Wilde of Prospect avenue is at home for the holidays from Dobbs Ferry, New York where she is an instructor at The Misses Masters School.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. D. Caswell and family of Lawrence spent the holiday with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Von Emden of Botolph street.

* * *

Miss Adelaide Lynch of 266 North Central avenue left Saturday for New York where she will spend Christmas and New Years with her aunt Mrs. Hatch of Riverside drive. She will return to Wollaston about the second week in January.

* * *

Miss Grace Cook Parker of Russell street is at home from Lincoln, New Hampshire where she is a teacher at the High school, for the Christmas recess.

* * *

Dr. William McGlaughlin of Billings street returned this week after a stay of several weeks in the west.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Percival Adams Sears nee Priscilla Alden, whose church wedding and large reception at the home of the bride was one of the social events of the fall season at Ashmont, will receive their friends at their home on Central avenue, Weston, after January first.

* * *

Clifford Backus of Arlington street is at home from University of Maine, at Orono, Maine for the Christmas recess.

* * *

John Carver of Roxbury has been the guest for several days of his sister, Mrs. George Height of Billings street.

* * *

Bruce Rogers of Connecticut is the guest of his cousin Miss Beatrice Rogers of Clive street.

* * *

Horace Jenkins of Hartford, Conn., spent the holiday with his father Frank Jenkins of Billings street.

* * *

Miss Eva Frostead of the Kimball Academy, Ashburnham is spending a week with her parents, Mr.. and Mrs. Peter Frostead of Newbury avenue.

* * *

Archibald R. Philip of Beale street, announces the engagemest of his sister Mary to William George Harvey of East Milton, late of Tullynessle and Forbes, Aberdeenshire, Scotland.

* * *

Miss Marion Shaw of Billings street a teacher in the Quincy School spent Christmas with her parents in the White Mountains.

* * *

Miss Ruth W. Parker is at her home on Russell street from Dayton, Ohio coming on to be with her family the Theodore Parkers over the Christmas holidays.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Chester Shunk, nee Eva Stuart Sheldon, whose marriage took place at the home of the bride's sister early in November, will be at home to their friends at 55 Willow street, Wollaston Park, after January first.

* * *

Mrs. Lydia C. Hultman arrived in Quincy last night from Fume, Austria Hungary, where she has been on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Louis Eckert. Mrs. Hultman arrived in New York Friday morning her steamer being some hours late.

Sept. 13-eow Sat, I. 20-eow-P

Peter Pan BREAD
REG U.S. PAT. OFF.
A bread of superlative excellence, carefully baked and wrapped in waxed tissue for your protection.
ASK YOUR GROCER

T. BAKER

Saws Recut, Set and Filed. Cutlery and Edge Tools Ground and Polished. Razors Honed. Skates Ground. Jobbing of all kinds.
59 Pond Street, Quincy.
27-14t on Sat.

SOCIAL LIFE AT BRAINTREE.

Mrs. F. W. Brett entertained a large party on Christmas day, including Mr. and Mrs. Fred David of Damariscotta, Maine, Mr. and Mrs. William Croucher of Swampscott, her parents Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Cuming of Hingham and her sons Leonel of the Harvard Medical school and Leroy of Cambridge.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. George Q. Taylor of Taylor street spent the holiday with Mrs. Taylor's mother of Dover, New Hampshire.

* * *

Miss Lulu Anderson of Middleboro spent Christmas with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Anderson of Taylor street.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Daggett of Somerville spent the holiday with the former's mother, Mrs. H. E. Daggett of Hancock street.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. George Abell of Taylor street spent Christmas with the latter's mother, Mrs. Sarah Devine of Randolph.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Beattie of Thayer place entertained a Christmas party consisting of relatives from Boston, Lowell and Quincy.

* * *

George Dolly of Lynn was the guest Thursday of his old friend and shopmate Mr. Herbert J. Eno and wife of Central avenue.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Boudreau of Central avenue spent the holiday with the latter's mother in Marlboro.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. H. Willie Simonds entertained a party of 27 relatives and friends at Christmas dinner.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. John Rydell of East Bridgewater were guests during the holidays of their daughter, Mrs. J. F. Burton of Smith terrace.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Hayden of Washington street entertained on Christmas day, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Watson of Holbrook.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Charnock of Tremont street entertained a party of twenty on Christmas day. There were two groups of four generations present. The guests were from Nova Scotia, Roxbury and Everett.

* * *

Mrs. James Levangie of Washington street entertained on the holiday Mr. and Mrs. John Simpson, Arthur Levangie, Miss Eleanor Gogan and Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Levangie.

* * *

Mrs. H. D. Mansfield and son Arthur of Ashmont street, Ashmont were guests Christmas day of Mrs. F. H. Gile and family of Washington street.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. George R. Dobson of Hayward street entertained a family party on the holiday which included J. Winsor Davy, Masters G. Burton and J. Winsor Davy of Cedar Cliff road, Dr. and Mrs. Chauncey M. Marston of Washington street and Mr. Amos Eagles of Cambridge.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Arnold entertained a large number of relatives on Thursday at their home 242 Middle street.

* * *

Joseph Porter of Attleboro was the guest on the holiday of his father Elbridge F. Porter and family of Franklin street.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Hannaford of Hancock street were guests Thursday of their niece and her husband Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Scott of Wollaston.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Levangie of Hancock street had a merry Christmas gathering with a tree in the evening for friends and relatives. A pleasant evening with music and singing and a flash light picture was much enjoyed.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Trainor of Thayer place entertained the latter's brother Frank Trainor of Revere on Christmas day.

* * *

Mrs. Richardson and Miss Herring of Cambridge spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hale of Franklin street.

* * *

Miss Sadie Cullinan of Hall avenue spent the holiday with friends in Hudson.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Fred P. Lothrop of North Stoughton were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Lothrop of French avenue on Christmas day.

Col. and Mrs. George D. Willis and their family of Washington street enjoyed their Christmas dinner at the Parker House, Boston.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Ezra H. Waitte of Hancock street entertained as guests Christmas Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hanson of Brockton, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gage of Springfield and Harlow Waitte of Providence, R. I.

* * *

Miss Annie McQuarrie of New York is spending the holiday season with Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Gerry of Newport avenue.

* * *

Dr. C. V. Haworth of Washington street is visiting his parents who reside in North Adams.

* * *

Mrs. William E. Knowlton and son Willie of Taylor street spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Morris E. Holder of Millis.

* * *

Mrs. Mary Wilcox of Hall avenue left Tuesday for her home in St. Johns, N. B.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Maxwell of Dorchester spent Sunday with friends in Dorchester.

* * *

The Stevens & Willis tack factory closed last Wednesday night until next Monday morning.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Lakin of Tremont street welcomed a little daughter to their home last Wednesday.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Wade of Dighton are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. Willie Simonds of Tremont street.

* * *

Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Beattie of Thayer place entertained a party of friends at whist. Souvenirs were awarded to Mrs. Edgar Marshall and Fred Bennett. Refreshments were served.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Gillette of Hancock street entertained the latter's uncle and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Closson of Newton, yesterday.

* * *

Harry Morrow of Thayer place is visiting his sister in Andover.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Simonds of Franklin street spent Wednesday in Dighton, the guests of the latter's parents.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gordon (nee Harriet Coy) of South Framingham are spending a few days with Mrs. Isaline R. Coy of Thayer place.

NEW TELEPHONES.

Following are the subscribers connected with the Quincy exchange for the week ending Dec. 24.

1008 W—Dewey, Henry W., Wilgus road.
1452 M—Cole, I. W., 324 Atlantic street.
1018 M—Johnson, Nils, 191 Centre street.
2058 W—Stokes, G. M., Mrs., 255 Fayette street.
1429 J—Briggs, Charles E., 63 Howard Avenue.
695 M—Driscoll, Mary G, 63 Adams street.

SUBURBAN LIFE.

The January issue of Suburban Life is as diversified as the countryside of which it treats so fully and so interestingly. "Making an Old Sawmill into a Home" is a story of an artist who accomplished the apparently impossible when he transformed an old Connecticut sawmill into a fascinating home. In this number is the first of a series of articles entitled "What Uncle Sam Will Do For You" from Surburban Life's Washington Bureau, which will tell folks just how and when to use the different departments at the National Capitol. An American in "The Japanese Art of Flower Arrangement" tells of her experience as a pupil of a little Japanese woman, and gives examples of what may be done with just a few blossoms. Other articles, such as "Building a Boys' Club With Pluck," "Using Cement on the Country Place," "How to Choose a Motor Boat," "Lattice Work Screens for Back Yards," "Planning the Home Garden Early," and "The Full Egg-Basket: How to Have It," all speak for themselves. Margaret Woodward too, has a splendid plea for the vocational school in "The Welfare of the Child Who Works." "

To Save Closet Space.

Metal towel racks, that have flat places at each curved end to screw to a wall, will almost double the capacity of your closet if screwed to the bottom of the lower shelf. A dozen garment hangers may be suspended from each one.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

DETROIT DEPOT BURNED

Valuable Records Destroyed and Loss May Reach $250,000

Detroit, Dec. 27.—A spectacular fire, starting from a cause undetermined, swept through the main depot of the Michigan Central Railway company here.

The blaze, which started in one of the office rooms in an upper story, gained great headway before it was discovered, and although several hundred persons were in the building at the time, only one, a male employe, was injured. His condition, however, is not serious.

After three hours of fighting, firemen had the conflagration apparently under control. The damage to the depot proper was estimated at $150,000. Railway records, freight and express were also consumed and officials of the road said the total loss might be a quarter of a million dollars.

BLEW UP WIFE

Charged Ellis Killed Sleeping Woman After Quarrel

Charleston, W. Va., Dec. 27.—Thomas Ellis was brought to jail here, charged with the murder of his wife on Christmas night.

They had quarrelled, according to the authorities, and while the woman was asleep Ellis is alleged to have placed a quantity of blasting powder in the middle of the floor of their mountain cabin near Winifred, W. Va., and exploded it with a fuse. The explosion which tore the cabin to pieces, aroused the settlement and Ellis was captured.

Officers secreted him in a coal mine during the night to prevent his infuriated neighbors from lynching him.

SILVER PLATE MAY SAVE MAN'S LIFE

Fitchburg Teamster's Back Was Broken In Runaway

Fitchburg, Mass., Dec. 27.—The rare operation of placing a silver plate around a broken spine will probably result in saving the life of Armand Lamothe, 40, whose back was broken when the horses attached to a wagon he was driving became frightened and dashed suddenly from the low shed of the Fitchburg Paper company in West Fitchburg, crushing Lamothe between the roof of the shed and the high seat of the wagon.

Dr. MacAusland, a Boston specialist, found that two vertabrae were broken, and he performed the delicate operation of putting in the silver plate as a last resort.

Though Lamothe is still on the danger list, it is believed that he has a chance to recover. He lives at 19 Orchard street, and has a wife and several small children.

TO EXAMINE LEEHAN

Sanity Experts Will Test Man Acquitted of Murder Last Week

White Plains, N. Y., Dec. 27.—William J. Leehan, twice arrested for drunkenness since his acquittal last week on a murder charge at Toms River, N. J., was confined in jail here, awaiting the examination of a sanity commission. A lawyer representing Mrs. Leehan, who came here when her husband was forced to spend Christmas in jail, asked the court to confine the man.

Leehan begged the court to send for his father and have him taken home to New Hampshire. Mrs. Leehan said she was unable to support her husband and was of the opinion that temporary confinement was best for him.

RECORD FOR LIFESAVERS

Save Vessels and Cargoes Valued at $13,860,000 During Fiscal Year

Washington, Dec. 27.—Out of a total of 1743 casualties at sea during the fiscal year ending June 30 last, the highest in the history of lifesaving service, only sixty-nine vessels were lost and seventy-three persons were drowned, according to the annual report of S. I. Kimball, general superintendent of the service, which has just been made public.

Through the efforts of the service, vessels and their cargoes, valued at $13,860,000, were saved. The crews of the service, with the assistance of revenue cutters and wrecking vessels, assisted 1364 vessels, valued, with their cargoes, at $6,033,000, and carrying 5168 persons.

Vermont Roads Snow-Choked

Burlington, Vt., Dec. 27.—Roads in northern Vermont were made almost impassable by a severe snow storm. While the weather bureau reported only six inches on a level, a high northeast wind piled up huge drifts. Trolley lines were badly crippled and railroads reported delays of one and two hours.

Bandit Lopez Still In Mine

Bingham, Utah, Dec. 27.—Although there is no indication that Ralph Lopez, slayer of six men, is alive in the Utah-Apex mine, Sheriff Smith announced that the bulkheads would not be removed from any of the workings searched until after New Year's day.

Suffragists to Hold Tango Teas

Washington, Dec. 27.—To attract and hold recruits to "the cause" the suffragette headquarters will hold tango teas and teach the new step.

For Your Baby.
The Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher
is the only guarantee that you have the Genuine
CASTORIA
prepared by him for over 30 years.
YOU'LL give YOUR baby the BEST
Your Physician Knows Fletcher's Castoria.
Sold only in one size bottle, never in bulk or otherwise; to protect the babies.
The Centaur Company, Chas. H. Fletcher Pres't.

HOUGHS NECK CUT OFF

(Continued from Page One.)

Men engaged in unloading fishing schooners on the south side of T. Wharf at one time during the morning were obliged to resort to a raft to convey the fish from the vessel to an elevated point on the wharf where the men—whose duty it was to receive the cargo on the wharf, themselves standing half leg deep in water—managed to get their pitchforks into the fish, transferring them into the receptacles awaiting them. One of the schooners ferried its fish to "dry land" in floating boxes.

East Boston ferry slips were at one time so flooded that it was necessary for passengers to cross a portion of the slip on planks to avoid getting wet feet.

A portion of Lewis Wharf was flooded to a troublesome degree and careful business men all along that region in several instances had their goods removed from cellars in the expectation that the flood would increase at the next tide.

NEW OFFICERS.

The Sons of Veterans Auxiliary to Abner B. Packard camp held a special meeting with Mrs. Annie Merritt this week and elected the following officers President—Alice McNeil.

Vice President—Ethel French.
Treasurer—Minnie Glover.
Chaplain—Annie Merritt.
Patriotic Instructor—Cora Johnson.
Guide—Emma Stoddard.
Assistant Guide—Delphine Kidder.
Inside Guard—Georgianna Stratford
Outside Guard—Clara Stoddard.
Color Bearer No. 1—Luelia Thayer.
Color Bearer, No. 2—Jennie Hayden
Trustees—Abbie Our, Cora Johnson and Luelia Thayer.

The turkey dinner was awarded to Mary Gilrain of Wollaston.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

NO INCREASE IN SALARY

Brockton Mayor Will Continue to Draw $2,000

The movement to increase the salary of the Mayor of Brockton has failed. The alderman passed an order increasing it from $2,000 to $2,500, but Friday night the common council failed to concur, thus killing the order.

SCHOOL CHILDREN'S PACE.

"The problem of the school fraternity is not an isolated one. It is a part of the much more extended, and therefore much more serious, problem presented by the highly developed social life of the young people of today. When luxurious motor cars, with skilled and obedient drivers, are at the disposal of our children, not only to take them to and from school, but to dash them about town and country when school is over; when the school boy apes the college man in dress, in manner, and in such personal indulgences as the cigarette and the pipe; when the school girl outdoes the gayest of society ladies in the narrowness of her skirts, the absence of her petticoats, the thinness of her stockings, and, in general, the elaborateness of her toilet; when these things are, it is certain that we have been going too far in one direction. Dances, not only frequent but lasting into the small hours are not the best accessories to productive school work and normal, healthy growth. Our young people, like ourselves, spend too much money dress too elaborately, live at too high a pressure, cultivate too much the epicurean indulgences, and too little the Sparton self-denials."—Suburban Life.

15 to 20
COLUMNS OF LOCAL NEWS
ARE PUBLISHED DAILY
In the [Quincy] Ledger
THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
PRINTS THE NEWS

Quincy Daily Ledger

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30.
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branschied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
Newcomb Square—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. Smith.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck.
L. A. Cook, Washington Street.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington Street.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield Water st.
A. Pierson, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—Capt. Fosdick's.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity. Sunday and Monday fair and somewhat warmer.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	7.13
Sun sets	4.19
Length of day	9.06
Moon rises	5.13
High water, A. M.	11.45
High water, P. M.	12.00

Days decrease 0 hours, 1 minutes

Full Moon, Dec. 13,	10.00 A. M.
Last Quarter, Dec. 20	11.16 A. M.
New Moon, Dec. 27	9.59 A. M.
First Quarter, Dec. 5,	9.59 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today	31 degrees
Dec. 27 1912,	39 degrees
Dec. 27, 1911,	44 degrees

Dec. Noon Maximum 14 years—67
Dec. Noon Minimum, 14 years—2

NEWSY BRIEFS

The Christmas services which attracted large audiences last Sunday at Memorial church will be repeated tomorrow.

M. F. Baker of Walker street has returned and will remain in Atlantic until spring, when he goes on a trip through the Middle West.

Junior Auxiliary of Christ church is to have a Christmas party Tuesday afternoon in the parish house to which they have invited the girls of the Sunday school.

At the First United Presbyterian church carols will be sung at the Sunday morning service and in the evening the choir will be assisted by Mrs. Edel Jensen Peterson, soprano of Somerville.

Miss Grace Parker who is teaching school near the White Mountains and Miss Ruth Parker, physical director at the Y. W. C. A. in Dayton, Ohio, spent the week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Parker of Russell street.

Following their usual custom the session of the Sunday school of Christ church will be omitted tomorrow. Monday night there will be a Christmas party for the scholars in the senior department and teachers and officers with tree, games and dancing.

Ex-Commodore F. E. Dawes of Wollaston and party had his annual Christmas day sail for about two hours on his famous yacht "Thordis". Dr. Dawes expects to have the last sail of the season Sunday, which is probably the record sail in these waters.

C. I. Wilson of the Boston Woven Hose Co. is to address the Gardner club of Christ church next Thursday evening at 7.45. All young me n17 years of age or over are invited to come to the parish house and hear Mr. Wilson.

At St. Chrysostom's' church Sunday at the morning and evening service there will be music appropriate to Christmas. The Sunday school will hold Christmas exercises at four o'clock in the church with carol singing and a pleasing program. The regular session of the school at noon will be omitted on account of the concert at four.

PRATT'S BREAD—baked by experts in a light, well-ventilated building. All grocers.

CHICHESTER S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chichester's Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER'S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point
Tel. Quincy Mass. 1153 M Nov 3-tf

THE LITTLE MEXICAN

By DANIEL C. HALE

I was in Mexico examining a mine for New York capitalists when President Madero was assassinated and Huerta took his place.

Fortunately for me, I had completed my work when the revolution broke out and managed to get a train for Vera Cruz, where I intended to embark for the United States. It was not a pleasant journey by any means. No one knew whether the new government would permit the train to go through or intercept it on the way for the purpose of getting its hands on an enemy or whether adherents of the old regime would take revenge on some one who had been prominent in bringing about the change. At a little station barely ten miles from Vera Cruz the train stopped and remained stationary so long that I concluded to walk the rest of the way.

Everybody went about armed, and I was no exception to the rule. But I had my vouchers about me that I was a United States citizen, and I relied for safety more on being able to prove myself a foreigner than on my armament, though I confess it would have been better for me to have been almost any other foreigner than a gringo.

I am a good walker and believed I would be able to do the distance in from two to two and a half hours. I stepped out briskly, enjoying the stretching of my legs far more than sitting in a train which for all any one could find out might remain where it was till another revolution had been accomplished. As I walked I remembered that I was on the road Cortes and his adventurers passed over when they were beginning their memorable march to the capital of Montezuma. I looked ahead, fancying that I could see their head of column coming up the declivity.

I didn't see the mailed Spaniard, but I did see the back of a man—rather a boy he seemed—walking ahead of me and in the same direction I was going. I soon caught up with him, and from his dark complexion, his coal black eyes and long lashes I knew him to be a Mexican. There was no one near us, and I accosted him in Spanish, which I spoke indifferently, bidding him good day and remarking that it was a fine morning.

He seemed very shy. But the Mexican people have not that self reliance common among us of the United States, and I did not expect him to meet me halfway. Besides, he was boyish looking and even for a boy delicate in appearance. The only sign of ruggedness about him was a color in his cheeks. He looked at me askance and as though he had no desire for my company until I told him that I was a citizen of the United States, when he began to ask me questions about how he should get from Vera Cruz to an American port, when and to what point the steamer sailed, what was the fare and other information desirable for one who intended to make the journey.

I told him what I knew on the subject and then began to talk about other things. I found him willing to converse except upon the subject of the revolution. No sooner did I mention anything, however remotely connected with the revolution, than he shut up like an oyster.

Occasionally I would glance aside at him when I knew he was not aware of it and saw on his face indications that he was under the influence of some powerful emotion. I would have liked to gain his confidence that I might learn what moved him, but I did not believe this possible, so I did not try. However, as we proceeded on our way together he ceased to appear anxious to get rid of me, and before we reached Vera Cruz he seemed to consider me something of a protector.

Finally I ventured to ask him about what he would do at Vera Cruz, and he told me he was going to sail on the first vessel leaving for the United States. I replied that I was going also and we would be fellow passengers together. When we were entering the city he surprised me by handing me his purse and asking me to buy his steamer ticket for him.

Fortunately for us both a steamer was to sail early the next morning, and we were permitted to go aboard at once. The young man retired to his stateroom, and I saw him no more that day.

In the morning I was walking the deck while the ship was making some ten knots an hour over the gulf. I saw coming up the companionway the counterpart of the boy who had been my fellow traveler the day before. But this person was a girl. The first thing that caught her eye on emerging from below was the stars and stripes flying from the peak. A relieved expression came over her face, and I knew she was saying to herself, "Thank heaven!"

"Aha, senorita!" I said. "I suspected yesterday that you were not masculine."

"Oh, senor," she replied, "you were very good to me. At first I wished to get rid of you, but at last I felt that you were my protector."

During the voyage I saw much of the girl and gained her promise on my own promise of secrecy to tell why she left Mexico in disguise. When coming into port she relieved my curiosity.

"My brother," she said, "was one of those who were reported killed while trying to escape. I stabbed to the heart the man who shot him."

OFFICER HORGAN IS ACQUITTED

Tried on Charge Made by Miss Brewer of Chelsea

O'MEARA REVIEWS EVIDENCE

Policeman Arrested Girl In Charlestown for Drunkenness—Charged In Court With Intoxication and Acquitted—She Then Brought Suit For False and Malicious Arrest

Boston, Dec. 27.—Describing at great length the difficulties under which police officers labor in proving charges against persons they arrest, Commissioner Stephen O'Meara, in the longest general order in the history of the Boston police department, dismissed the complaint against Patrolman John Horgan of the Charlestown station, who was accused of falsely and maliciously arresting Miss Ella Brewer of Chelsea on a charge of drunkenness.

"The stenographic report of the testimony shows without dispute," says the order, "that the complainant, previous to her arrest, was standing near the Elevated station unaccompanied, and in surroundings that were disorderly because of the presence of drunken sailors who ran when the policeman appeared.

"There was a conflict of testimony as to the relations of the complainant with those men. The complainant herself denied that she had anything to do with them and citizens who were witnesses for the defense testified that she was laughing and talking with them and that two of the sailors had hold of her arms, one urging her to go to Boston and the other to go to Lynn.

"There was much testimony from police officers and other residents of Chelsea as to the conduct and associates of the complainant in the streets and at public dances and her relations with sailors, but with a single exception no witness testified that he had seen her drink intoxicating liquor."

The order then goes into an exhaustive discussion of the burden on the policemen who has to go into court after a night vigil to try to establish "beyond a reasonable doubt," in the face of skillful defense by an attorney, the guilt of the prisoner he has arrested.

In accordance with the finding of a trial board, consisting of Captain Sullivan, Captain Harriman and Captain Goodwin that Horgan was not guilty, the complaint is dismissed.

Miss Brewer was arrested in City square, Charlestown, the night of Sept. 18. She was charged in court with intoxication, was represented by counsel, pleaded not guilty and was acquitted. The complaint to the commissioner followed.

TAKE STITCHES IN HEART

New York Surgeons Repair Man With Stab Wound In Breast

New York, Dec. 27.—Vincenzo Lauro, 35 years old, of 340 Degraw street, Brooklyn, was hurried to the Holy Family hospital semi-conscious from a stab wound in the left breast over the heart.

After an examination Dr. Raymond Sullivan, assisted by Dr. Edwin H. Fiske and Dr. Fred Dillemuth, decided that the left ventricle of the heart had been cut and the left lung punctured.

After cutting one rib the doctors took six stitches in the wall of the heart. That operation having been successfully finished they turned to the left lung and patched up the gash in it. The patient was removed from the operating table to a cot in the surgical ward. Two hours afterward he was reported to be improving so rapidly that Dr. Dillemuth said he felt no fear for the man's life.

REPRIMAND HACADORN

Military Attache at St. Petersburg Left Post Without Orders

New York, Dec. 27.—Major Charles B. Hagadorn, military attache of the American embassy in St. Petersburg, was found guilty by court-martial of disobeying orders and was sentenced to a mild reprimand.

Before a military court at Governor's island, Major Hagadorn was tried for "wilfully" disobeying the command of the President of the United States to remain at St. Petersburg until further orders.

The court amended the charge to read "had failed to obey," striking out the words "wilfully disobeyed," and of this offense found him guilty.

Grant's Orderly Is Dead

Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 27.—Word was received here of the death in the National Soldiers' Home at Dayton, O., of Captain William F. Roberts, who served as orderly to Generals Grant and Meade during the Civil war. Roberts was 63 years of age and was formerly a business man here. Three horses were shot under him at Petersburg and a Bible in his pocket saved his life during the same conflict.

Law Student Found Asphyxiated

Pawtucket, Dec. 27.—John Lane, a law student at Rhode Island state college, was found asphyxiated in bed. Death is believed to have been accidential.

KILLED WHILE HUNTING

Taunton Boy Discharged Gun While Climbing Fence

Norton, Mass., Dec. 27.—Fred Hirshcy was accidentally shot while hunting in the woods in the western part of the town.

Hirshcy was 18 years old and belonged in Taunton. He came to Norton in company with Everett Horton of that city, for a day's hunt. It was Hirshcy's first experience in such sport.

Late in the afternoon the boys were passing through a wooded section not far from St. Mary's Catholic church when Hirshcy's gun was accidentally discharged as he was climbing over a wall.

Horton was ahead at the time and hearing the report of his friend's gun turned around. Hirshcy was nowhere to be seen. Following the course of the smoke Horton discovered his chum lying behind a wall, breathing his last.

Medical Examiner Holden found that Hirshcy had died almost instantly. The bullet had entered his left side, causing a bad hemorrhage.

AGAIN IN TROUBLE

Dorothy MacVane Accuses Newspaper Man of Blackmail

Taranto, Italy, Dec. 27.—Miss Dorothy MacVane, the American opera prima donna, who two weeks ago was under surveillance, suspected of being a spy, asked the Italian police to arrest a Taranto newspaper man, whom she accused of attempted blackmail.

Miss MacVane, who is the daughter of a former Harvard professor, and sister of Edith MacVane, a magazine writer, charged that the journalist demanded $2000 from her for the suppression of an alleged defamatory article.

The impresario of the opera company with which Miss MacVane has been touring southern Italy accused the singer of breach of contract and insisted on attaching her furs and jewelry to satisfy his claim. It was in connection with this, Miss MacVane said, that the Italian newspaper man tried to blackmail her.

INNOCENT MAN IN PRISON FOR THEFT

Two Overcoats Exactly Alike Get Choate Into Trouble

Portsmouth, N. H., Dec. 27.—Two overcoats of the same make, quality, cloth and size, each having a button loose and a pair of the same kind of gloves in the pockets were responsible for a sentence of six months in the house of correction for Frank E. Choate of Portland.

Last Monday Choate entered the Boston and Maine railroad station here and purchased a ticket. Then he saw what he believed to be his coat lying nearby. He picked it up and started for his train.

Choate tried to tell the court at the time of his trial that he had left his own coat with a man in Portland the day before, and that in the hurry of the moment he forgot that fact and believed he was taking his own garment.

His story was not believed and he was sentenced. His sister came from Portland and brought with her the coat owned by Choate. It was the exact counterpart of the stolen garment. A petition will be forwarded to the governor of New Hampshire asking for a pardon for Choate.

FEMALE COP GETS FIGHTER

Boards Street Car Arrest Man and Rings For Patrol Wagon

Chicago, Dec. 27.—Mrs. Mary Boyd, one of Chicago's ten policewomen, is not a large woman, but she is muscular. She boarded a street car while a powerfully built man and the conductor were engaged in a fight about a transfer.

Mrs. Boyd showed her star and separated the men, telling the passenger he was under arrest. When he resisted the officer, she pulled him from the car, stood him against a post and rang for the patrol wagon.

TRIAL NEARING END

Alienists Testify Schmidt Has Been Shamming Insanity

New York, Dec. 27.—That Hans Schmidt, now on trial for the murder of Anna Aumuller, has been shamming insanity, was the burden of testimony given by four alienists appearing for the state.

At the conclusion of the expert's testimony both sides rested, and a consultation between counsel and Judge Foster resulted in adjournment. Each side will be given ninety minutes to sum up.

Firecracker Kills Politician

Nicholasville, Ky., Dec. 27.—W. M. Watts, county attorney of Jassamine county and one of the best known politicians in the state, died at a hospital in Lexington of injuries caused by the premature explosion of a firecracker at his home in Nicholasville.

Two Maine Boys Drowned

Millbridge, Me., Dec. 27.—Albert K. Kelley, aged 16, and Irving Kelley, aged 10, sons of Captain Ira Kelley of the coasting schooner Annie Gus, were drowned in Narragaugus river. A third boy reached shore in safety.

HELP TO BURY CALUMET DEAD

Twenty Thousand Dollars Raised For Stricken Families

PEACEMAKERS ARE AT WORK

Four Separate Investigations Being Made Into Disaster at Christmas Tree Celebration Where Seventy-Two People Lost Their Lives—Hope Sorrow Will End Copper Strike

Calumet, Mich., Dec. 27.—While four separate investigations of Calumet's Christmas tree disaster in which seventy-two persons, most of them children, were killed, were being made and a dispute was being waged as to who should bury the dead, peacemakers were at work in a supreme effort to bring about an end to the copper mine strike in this region.

United in their grief over the destruction of so many young lives, the warring factions—mine operators, guards and strikebreakers and the stricken union miners and their families—gave no thought to the great labor battle that indirectly is blamed for the most gruesome horror in the history of Calumet.

There was still a dispute over whether the offer of the Citizens' alliance, an organization that has been considered hostile to the strikers, to defray all the burial expenses would be permitted. Officials of the Western Federation of Miners declared that the offer would be spurned.

"We will care for our own dead," was the response to the alliance.

The feeling of hostility was not so marked when it was seen that the citizens of Calumet and other cities in the mine district were in earnest in their efforts to raise funds for the stricken families. Almost unlimited amounts of money were pledged by mine owners and merchants who have been opposing the strikers. The committees representing the operators went from house to house, comforting the surviving members of families whose dear ones were taken from them in the unnecessary panic.

Following these committees went others, and suggestions that peace be declared between the forces representing capital and labor were diplomatically expressed.

After the funeral of all the victims, it was expected by many that the spirit of fight will have been interred with the bodies of the innocent children and wives of the strikers and that peace will prevail where, had not the disaster occurred, a lasting labor war might have continued indefinitely.

The citizens' committee now has $20,000 in its hands, all donated by residents of Calumet. In Houghton a large sum has been raised, and donations are coming in from all parts of the district. The committee is inviting donations from outside the copper country.

Among the donors are Quincy A. Shaw, R. L. Agassiz, G. R. Agassiz and Maximillian Agassiz, all heavy holders of Calumet and Hecla Mining company stock, and the first two of whom are directors of the company, who gave $5000.

CHINESE RUN AMUCK

Revenue Cutter Asked to Quell Riot on British Steamer

Delaware Breakwater, Dec. 27.—The assistance of a revenue cutter has been asked to quell a disturbance among the crew of the British steamer Baron Dalmeny, which returned here with two firemen in irons and four others so badly cut that their recovery is doubtful.

The trouble started among the Chinese firemen, but from what cause could not be ascertained. Captain Gordon declares that knives had been smuggled aboard and that he will not proceed to sea until his riotous crew is replaced. He has communicated with the British consul in Philadelphia.

REBELS DESTROY TRAIN

Thirty-Four Federals Killed and Railroad Blocked

Washington, Dec. 27.—Constitutionalist forces destroyed a federal convoy train sixty miles from San Luis Potosi Dec. 23, according to state department advices. Thirty-four federals were killed and traffic is totally suspended.

Philip McLaughlin and his mother, Americans, for whose safety anxiety has been felt, were reported safe in Chihuahua. No change in the Tampico situation is reported. The steamer City of Tampico arrived at New Orleans with three American refugees.

New Commander of Woodmen

Omaha, Neb., Dec. 27.—W. A. Frazer of Dallas, Tex., sovereign adviser of the order, will automatically succeed J. C. Root, sovereign commander of the Woodmen of the World, who died at Hendersonville, N. C.

Three Men Killed by Train

Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 27.—Three foreigners were run down and killed while walking on the Monongahela division of the Pennsylvania railroad at Hays, a suburb.

WOMAN PICKED FOR NEW YORK CITY JOB

Dr. Davis to Be Commissioner of Corrections

New York, Dec. 27.—This city, for the first time in its history, is to have a woman at the head of one of its most important departments, according to those in close touch with the plans of Mayor-elect John P. Mitchel for filling the many city offices which will be at his disposal on Jan. 1.

The woman, it is understood, is Dr. Katherine B. Davis, superintendent of the Bedford reformatory for girls, and the office that of commissioner of correction, now held by Patrick A. Whitney.

The salary of the office is $7500 and all the complex and extensive correctional work of the city is under the jurisdiction of the incumbent.

SHOOTS GIRL, KILLS SELF

Moher Fired Five Times at Miss Levesque but Only One Hit

Manchester, N. H., Dec. 27.—Mary Levesque was shot and seriously wounded in a mill of the Amoskeag Manufacturing company. Her assailant, William Moher, took poison immediately after the shooting and died a short time later. Jealousy is believed to have led to the tragedy.

Before anyone could intervene he fired four bullets, only one of which hit the young woman. She was removed to a hospital, where it was said her condition was critical.

KILLED BY SON

Leon Rowe of West Burton, Me., Claims He Defended Mother

Portland, Me., Dec. 27.—Norris W. Rowe of West Burton, who, according to the authorities, was shot on Christmas eve by his 12-year-old son Leon, died at the Maine General hospital.

The boy claimed that he shot in defence of his mother, who was sick in bed when her husband seized her by the throat after he had announced his intention of killing her and their five children.

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

In effect Nov. 16, 1913

The letters in the same line as the figures below stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows.

a Wollaston	f Harrison Square
b Norfolk Downs	g Savin Hill
c Atlantic	h Crescent Avenue
d Neponset	i South Boston
e Pope's Hill	r Quincy Adams
* Saturdays Only	† Except Saturday

Exp.—Express train.

TO BOSTON			FROM BOSTON
Leave	Stop	Arrive	Leave	Stop	Arrive
r 5 14	abcdefghi	5 41	5 44	ihgfedcba	6 14 r
r 6 19	abcd	6 40	6 09	ihgfedcba	6 39 r
r 6 32	e	6 49	6 29	a	6 47
			6 47	Exp	7 04
r 6 40	abcf	7 00	7 14	hgfedcba	7 41 r
r 7 08	abcd	7 30	7 34	a	7 52
7 28	a	7 46	7 37	a	7 56
r 7 32	Exp	7 49	7 44	c	8 03 r
r 7 42	ab	8 00	8 34	cba	8 55 r
7 55	a	8 12	8 44	b	9 02
r 8 13	abc	8 32	9 09	fedba	9 32 r
8 24	a	8 41	9 44	a	10 01 r
r 8 33	a	8 50	10 14	ihgfedcba	10 41 r
r 8 59	ad	9 16	10 54	Exp	11 10
r 9 18	abc	9 39	11 14	hgfedcba	11 41 r
r 10 04	a	10 21	11 49	a	12 07 r
r 10 19	abcdefghi	10 45	12 14	hgfedcba	12 41 r
11 12	a	11 28	12 20	a	12 38
11 24	abcdefgh	11 50	12 50	Exp	1 06
12 04	a	12 20	1 16	fedcba	1 40 r
			* 1 32	a	1 50
r 12 27	abcdefghi	12 53	1 44	a	2 01
r 1 16	a	1 34	2 14	fedcba	2 37 r
2 04	a	2 20	2 34	Exp	2 50
r 2 19	abcdefgh	2 45	3 14	hgfedcba	3 40 r
r 3 13	Exp	3 28	3 44	a	4 02
4 04	a	4 20	4 12	fedcba	4 35 r
r 4 26	abcdefgh	4 58	4 15	a	4 32
5 02	a	5 19	4 49	c	4 58
r 5 30	abcdefg	5 55	4 55	a	5 11
6 04	a	6 21	5 13	a	5 32
6 12	ab	6 32	5 19	hgfeca	5 43
6 57	a	7 15	5 28	ba	5 46 r
r 7 22	Exp	7 39	5 40		5 57
7 29	ab	7 48	5 58	a	6 17 r
r 8 09	abcdef	8 32	6 01	iedcb	6 24
9 00	a	9 18	6 16	a	6 35
r 9 10	abc	9 29	6 30	ecba	6 52 r
* 9 17	Exp.	9 32	6 59	fedcba	7 24 r
r 10 07	abcdef	10 30	7 11	a	7 28
* 10 19	a	10 37	8 04	fedcba	8 28 r
11 13	a	11 30	* 8 19	Exp	8 35
r 11 30	abcd	11 10	9 19	a	9 37
			9 34	b	9 53 r
			10 07	ba	10 24
			10 34	fedcba	11 02 r
			*11 06	a	11 25 r
			11 09	fedcba	11 35 r
			*11 25	ba	11 43 r
			11 29	ba	11 49
			12 05	cba	12 26 r

SUNDAYS

r 7 43	abc	8 08	6 29	b a	6 48
8 30	Exp	8 45	8 34	cba	8 55
r 8 46	abcdefghi	9 13	10 39	cba	10 59 r
r 9 13	abc	9 33	12 14	ihgfedcba	12 42
9 31	a	9 47	12 44	Exp	1 01
10 25	ac	10 42	1 29	ihgfedcba	1 57 r
11 08	Exp	11 25	2 14	hgfedcba	2 42 r
r 11 16	abcdefghi	11 43	2 44	a	3 02
1 04	a	1 23	3 14	ihgfedcba	3 42 r
r 1 16	abcdefgh	1 48	4 26	cba	4 48 r
r 3 10	abc	3 30	5 14	ihgfedcba	5 42 r
r 4 16	abcdefghi	4 43	6 00	Exp	6 25
4 59	ab	5 16	6 14	ihgfedcba	6 42 r
5 06		5 23	7 02	cba	7 22 r
6 16	abcdefghi	6 43	8 14	ihgfedcba	8 41 r
7 21	Exp	7 36	8 39	a	8 56 r
7 29	abcdefghi	7 55	8 49	Exp	9 05
r 8 16	abcdefghi	8 43	9 29	ihgfedcba	9 57 r
9 46	a	10 04	10 44	cba	11 04 r
10 46	abc	11 05

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate.

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by James Craig and Annie L. Craig, his wife, in her own right, to Fred W. Wood dated January 25, 1905, and recorded in the Registry of Deeds for the County of Norfolk, Book 999, page 583, will be sold at public auction, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage, on the premises hereinafter described on Saturday the 10th day of January 1914, at forty-five minutes after two o'clock in the afternoon all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, and therein described substantially as follows:—

The following parcel of land situated in that part of Quincy, Massachusetts, known as "Norfolk Downs" being lot numbered 17 on plan of Charles D. Elliot, dated April 1892, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Book of plans No. 14, plan No. 640, and bounded and described as follows, viz:—Northeasterly, by Hancock Street, fifty (50) feet; Southeasterly, by lot No. 16, on said plan, one hundred twenty-eight and 48-100 (128.40) feet; Southwesterly, by lots No. 28 and 29, on said plan, fifty 2-100 (50.02) feet; Northwesterly, by lot No. 18, on said plan, one hundred twenty-nine 99-100 (129.99) feet. Containing according to said plan, sixty-four hundred sixty-one 8-10 (6461.8) feet of land.

Said premises will be sold subject to the restrictions set forth in the title deeds and to any and all unpaid taxes and assessments.

$100.00 will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale, balance in ten days from day of sale at twelve o'clock noon, at the office of the mortgagee, Room 43, 15 School Street, Boston, Mass.

FRED W. WOOD,
Mortgagee.
Dec. 3t 20-27-Jan 3

ARTHUR L. THOMAS
Attorney-at-Law
3-4-5-6 Greenleaf Block
Telephone Quincy 460 Jan.3-1y

Bay State Street Railway Company

TIME TABLE

In effect April 8, 1913.

(Subject to change without notice.

Leave QUINCY for

Braintree, 6.15, 6.50 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Braintree, 6.25 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.25 P. M. Sundays, 7.55 A. M. and then same as week days.

Brockton, 6.15, 6.50 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Brockton 6.20, 7 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 9.30 P. M. Sundays, 8 A. M. then same as week days.

West Quincy, and East Milton, 5.30 5.50, 6.10 A. M., and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M.) Sundays, 6.50 A. M. then same as week days. Return leave East Milton, 5.55, 6.15, 6.45 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.45 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.10 midnight.) Sundays, 7.25 A. M., then same as week days.

East Weymouth, 6.00, 6.15, 6.35, 7.05, 7.35 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.05 P. M. then 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.35 A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave East Weymouth, 5.50, 6.15, 6.45, 7.00, 7.10, 7.45, A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.45 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M. then same as week days.

Houghs Neck, 5.15, 5.35, 6.10, 6.40, 7.10, 7.40, A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. then 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 6.50, 7.40 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. Return leave Houghs Neck, 5.40, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 7.30, 8.00, 8.30, 9.05 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.35 P. M. then 12.10 midnight. Sundays, 7.20, 8.05, 8.35, 9.05 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.35 P. M.

Neponset via Hancock Street,—6.45 6.20, 6.50 A. M. and every 30 min. to 10.50 P. M. then 12.50 midnight. Sundays, 6.50 A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 6.40 7.10, 7.40 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. then 12.35 midnight. Sundays, 7.40 A. M. then same as week days.

Neponset via Wollaston—6.03, 6.33, 7.03 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.03 P. M. then 11.20, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.03 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 6.25, 6.55, 7.25, A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.25 P. M. then 11.42 P. M. and 12.12 midnight. Sundays, 7.25 A. M. then same as week days.

Neponset, via Norfolk Downs, 6.25, 6.55, 7.25, 8, 8.30 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11 P. M.) Sundays, 7.30 A. M. then the same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 7, 7.30 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.30 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.30 P. M.) Sundays, 8 A. M. then same as week days.

Weymouth Landing, 5.20, 6.00, 6.25, 6.55, 7.25 7.55 A. M. then every 15 minutes, until and including 10.55 P. M. Sundays, 7.25, A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave Weymouth Landing, 5.45, 6.15, 6.40, 7.15, 7.45 A. M. then every 30 minutes until and including 11.15 P. M. Sundays 7.45 A. M. then same as week days.

Leave NEPONSET for

Squantum, 6.25, 6.55, 7.25, 7.55, 8.25, 9.35, A. M. every 60 minutes to 4.35 P. M. then 4.55, 5.25, 5.55, 6.25, 7.35, 8.35, 9.35, 10.35 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.30, P. M. Sundays, 7.35, A. M. every 60 minutes to 10.35 P. M. Return, leave Squantum, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 7.30, 8.00, 8.30, 9.00 A. M. every 60 minutes to 5.00 P. M. then 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.15, 8.00 A. M. every 60 minutes to 11.00 P. M.

THOMAS GAHON,
Superintendent.

WITHIN THE LAW

By MARVIN DANA
FROM THE PLAY OF
BAYARD VEILLER

Copyright, 1913, by the H. K. Fly company.

SYNOPSIS

Mary Turner, a department store clerk, is sentenced to prison for three years for a theft she did not commit.

Edward Gilder, owner of the department store, consents to see Mary before she goes to prison, expecting her to confess.

Mary protests her innocence to Gilder and begs him to pay better wages to his clerks to save them from temptation.

After three years in prison Mary is freed, but the police prevent her holding positions. She jumps into the river to end her life, but is rescued by Joe Garson, a forger.

Mary forms a partnership with Garson and his gang, by which they mulct rich victims in a legal manner, keeping "within the law."

Mary is warned by the police to leave town after she has formed the acquaintance of Richard Gilder, her former employer's son.

Helen Morris, the girl who had committed the theft for which Mary was imprisoned, sees Mary and confesses her guilt.

Mary marries Dick Gilder without his father's knowledge and then refuses to sail for Europe with him.

Joe Garson, against Mary's protest, agrees with Eddie Griggs, another crook, to help commit a burglary in Gilder's home.

Edward Gilder sees his son's bride and tries to induce her to give up her husband. Dick refuses to leave her even when she tells him she is an ex-convict.

Inspector Burke calls on Gilder and tells him that a burglary at his home that night has been arranged through Griggs, a stool pigeon, to trap Mary Turner and her gang.

Garson and his gang break into Gilder's home and are followed by Mary, who is told of the proposed burglary. While they are there Dick returns home.

Garson learns that Griggs had helped put up the job on him, and he kills Griggs with a noiseless revolver. Inspector Burke arrives, finding only Mary and Dick with Griggs' body.

Mary and Dick are arrested after Mary says Dick killed Griggs, a burglar. Other members of the gang are arrested and "sweated" by Burke.

(Continued from last issue.)

"Now, get up—and talk!" Burke's voice came with unrepentant noisiness against the stricken man.

Cringingly Chicago Red obeyed as far as the getting to his feet was concerned. While he got slowly to his feet he took care to keep at a respectful distance from the official.

Cassidy entered the inspector's office to announce the arrival of the district attorney.

"Send 'im in," Burke directed. He made a gesture toward the doorman and added. "Take 'em back!"

"I came as soon as I got your message," the district attorney said as he seated himself in a chair by the desk. "And I've sent word to Mr. Gilder. Now, then, Burke, let's have this thing quickly?"

The inspector's explanation was concise.

"Joe Garson, Chicago Red and Dacey, along with Griggs, broke into Edward Gilder's house last night. I knew the trick was going to be pulled off, and so I planted Cassidy and a couple of other men just outside the room where the haul was to be made. Then I went away, and after something like half an hour I came back to make the arrests myself. When I broke into the room I found young Gilder alone with that Turner woman he married, and they were just talking together.

"I found Griggs lying on the floor—dead! The Turner woman says young Gilder shot Griggs because he broke into the house. Ain't that the limit?"

"What does the boy say?"

"Nothing. We've got Chicago Red and Dacey, and we'll have Garson before the day's over. And, oh, yes! They've picked up a young girl at the Turner woman's place. And we've got one real clew—for once!" He opened a drawer of the desk and took out Garson's pistol, to which the silencer was still attached.

"You never saw a gun like that before, eh?" he exclaimed. Demarest admitted the fact.

"I'll bet you never did! That thing on the end is a Maxim silencer. There are thousands of them in use on rifles, but they've never been able to use them on revolvers before. That thing is absolutely noiseless. I've tried it. Well, you see, it'll be an easy thing—easiest thing in the world!—to trace that silencer attachment. Cassidy's working on that end of the thing now."

CHAPTER XVI.

Who Shot Griggs?

FOR a few minutes longer the two men discussed the details of the crime, theorizing over the baffling event. Then Cassidy entered.

"I got the factory at Hartford on the wire," he explained, "and they gave me Mr. Maxim himself. He said this was surely a special gun, which was made for the use of Henry Sylvester, one of the professors at Yale. He wanted it for demonstration purposes. Mr. Maxim said the things have never been put on the market, and that they never will be. I got this man, Sylvester," Cassidy went on, "on the phone too. He says that his house was robbed about eight weeks ago, and among other things the silencer was stolen."

"Is there any chance that young Gilder did shoot Griggs?" asked Demarest.

"You can search me!" the inspector answered. "My men were just outside the door of the room where Eddie Griggs was shot to death, and none of 'em heard a sound. It's that infernal silencer thing. Of course, I know that all the gang was in the house."

"Did you see them go in?"

"No, I didn't, but Griggs"—

"Griggs is dead, Burke. You're up against it. You can't prove that Garson or Chicago Red or Dacey ever entered that house."

"Well, then, I'll charge young Gilder with murder and call the Turner woman as a witness."

"You can't question her on the witness stand. The law doesn't allow you to make a wife testify against her husband. No, Burke, your only chance of getting the murderer of Griggs is by a confession."

"Then I'll charge them both with the murder," the inspector growled vindictively. "And, by ——, they'll both go to trial unless somebody comes through. If it's my last act on earth, I'm going to get the man who shot Eddie Griggs."

Burke, after the lawyer had left him watched the door expectantly for the coming of Aggie Lynch, whom he had ordered brought before him. But when at last Dan appeared and stood aside to permit her passing into the office, the inspector gasped at the unexpectedness of the vision. The next instant the inspector forgot his surprise in a sincere, almost ardent admiration.

The girl was rather short, but of a slender elegance of form that was ravishing. Her costume had about it an indubitable air, a finality of perfection in its kind. On another it might have appeared perhaps the merest trifle garish. But that fault was made into a virtue by the correcting innocence of the girl's face. It was a childish face, childish in the exquisite smoothness of the soft, pink skin, childish in the wondering stare of the blue eyes, now so widely opened in dismay, childish in the wistful drooping of the rosebud mouth.

"Now, then, my girl," Burke said roughly, "I want to know"—

There came a change, wrought in the twinkling of an eye. The tiny, trimly shod foot of the girl rose and fell in a wrathful stamp.

"What do you mean by this outrage?" she stormed. Her voice was low and rich, with a charming roundness that seemed the very hallmark of gentility. "I demand my instant release."

"Wait a minute!" Burke remonstrated. "Wait a minute!"

"You wait!" she cried violently. "You just wait, I tell you, until my papa hears of this!"

"Who is your papa?"

"I shan't tell you," came the petulant retort from the girl. "You would probably give my name to the reporters. If it ever got into the newspapers my family would die of shame!"

"Now, the easiest way out for both of us is for you to tell me just who you are. You see, young lady, you were found in the house of a notorious crook."

"How perfectly absurd! I was calling on Miss Mary Turner!"

"How did you come to meet her anyhow?"

"I was introduced to Miss Turner by Mr. Richard Gilder. Perhaps you have heard of his father, the owner of the Emporium."

"Oh, yes, I've heard of his father and of him too.

"Then you must see at once that you are entirely mistaken in this matter."

"You see, young lady, the fact is that even if you were introduced to Miss Turner by young Mr. Gilder this same Mary Turner herself is an ex-convict, and she's just been arrested for murder."

"Murder!" the girl gasped.

"Yes. You see, if there's a mistake about you you don't want it to go any further—not a mite further, that's sure. So, you see, now, that's one of the reasons why I must know just who you are."

"You should have told me all about this horrid thing in the first place." Now the girl's manner was transformed. She smiled wistfully on the inspector and spoke with a simplicity that was peculiarly potent in its effect on the official.

"My name is Helen Travers West," she announced.

"Not the daughter of the railway president?"

"Yes," the girl admitted. "Oh, please don't tell any one," she begged prettily. "Surely, sir, you see now quite plainly why it must never be known by any one in all the wide, wide world that I have ever been brought to this perfectly dreadful place—though you have been quite nice. Please let me go home." She plucked a minute handkerchief from her hand bag, put it to her eyes and began to sob quietly.

The burly inspector of police was moved to quick sympathy.

"That's all right, little lady," he exclaimed cheerfully. "Now, don't you be worried, not a little bit. Take it from me, Miss West. Just go ahead and tell me all you know about this Turner woman. Did you see her yesterday?"

The girl's sobs ceased. After a final dab with the minute handkerchief she leaned forward a little toward the inspector and proceeded to put a question to him with great earnestness.

"Will you let me go home as soon as I've told you the teenty little I know?"

"Yes," Burke agreed promptly, with an encouraging smile. He added as one might to an alarmed child, "No one is going to hurt you, young lady."

"Well, then, you see, it was this way," began the brisk explanation. "Mr. Gilder was calling on me one afternoon, and he said to me then that he knew a very charming young woman who"—

Here the speech ended abruptly, and once again the handkerchief was brought into play as the sobbing broke forth with increased violence. Presently the girl's voice rose in a wail.

"Oh, this is dreadful—dreadful!" In the final word the wail broke to a moan.

Burke felt himself vaguely guilty as the cause of such suffering on the part of one so young, so fair, so innocent. But his well meant attempt to assuage the stricken creature's woe was futile. The sobbing continued.

"I'm afraid!" the girl asserted dismally. "I'm afraid you will—put me—in a cell!"

"Pooh!" Burke returned gallantly. "Why, my dear young lady, nobody in the world could think of you and a cell at the same time—no, indeed!"

"Oh, thank you!"

"Are you sure you've told me all you know about this woman?"

"Oh, yes! I've only seen her two or three times," came the ready response. "Oh, please, commissioner! Won't you let me go home?"

The use of a title higher than his own flattered the inspector, and he was moved to graciousness.

"Now, you see," he said in his heavy voice, yet very kindly, "no one has hurt you—not even a little bit, after all. Now, you run right home to your mother."

The girl sprang up joyously and started toward the door, with a final ravishing smile for the pleased official at the desk.

It was at this moment that Cassidy entered from the opposite side of the office. As his eyes fell on the girl at the door across from him his stolid face lighted in a grin. And, in that same instant of recognition between the two the color went out of the girl's face. The little red lips snapped together in a line of supreme disgust against this vicissitude of fate after all her maneuverings in the face of the enemy.

(To be Continued.)

CHOICE ARTICLES
FROM THE
PHILIPPINES

LUCBON HATS—Very best grade of the famous Panamas and Bankoks made. Absolutely none better, woven under water by hand. Can be crushed into a ball and not lose shape. Made for both Ladies and Gentlemen. $5 and $10.

ROMBLON MATS—Handsomest and most durable Grass Mats or Rugs made in the world. Beautiful colors and designs, large enough to cover one-half floor of rooms. $5.

MANILA CIGARS—$3 for a trial box of the Very Best Cigars made in the Philippines.

Oriente Cigarettes—Best made, large package containing 25 small packages, 750 Cigarettes, $2.

Sent by registered mail, free of duties, on receipt of price.

C. A. SHORT & CO.,
Lucena, Tay, P. I.

Oct 4 L&O 3m

FOR SALE
New Axes
20c each 3 for 50c
While They Last
L. GROSSMAN & SONS
Jackson Street
Near Quincy Adams Depot
Dec. 1-lo-tf

Here is Your Opportunity

7 room house with modern conveniences nicely situated on a fine street in Wollaston. To be sold very low at present.

Here is a chance to get into a good neighborhood. House is vacant and in perfect order to move right into. Three to five minutes to station, schools, stores, etc. Price $3,300. On terms.

HENRY W. SAVACE
Real Estate, Boston.
E. C. HAYDEN, Local Representative
Telephone 1877-M Quincy.
Dec. 22-tf

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED
Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

SUNDAY SERVICES

FIRST PARISH CHURCH—City Square, Rev. Adelbert Lathrop Hudson, minister. Residence Miller Stile Inn, Tel. 2172. Office hours 9 to 12 A. M., Monday, Wednesday and Friday, Tel. 1290. Morning Service at 10.30 A. M. Subject of sermon "The Old Year." Sunday School at 12 noon. Mr. Henry W. Porter Supt. The ministers class will begin the study of "Tawism," one of the popular Religions of China.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST—Quincy, Alpha Hall, cor. Hancock street and Cottage ave. Morning service and Sunday school at 10.45 Subject: "Christian Science", Golden Text: John 14: 26. The comforters which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, He shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you." Wednesday 7.45 P. M. A testimony and experience meeting. Reading room open from 3 to 5. M. week days, holidays excepted. All are welcome.

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Co. Junction Hancock and Chestnut streets. Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott, Pastor. 10.30 Morning Worship. Christmas message by the pastor "God of the ages." 12.00, Bible School. Classes for all ages. 6.15, Christian Endeavor meeting. Topic: "Our church at work in the world" 7.30 Pleasant Sunday evening service Message by the pastor "What we have tried to do."

FIRST UNIVERSALIST CHURCH—Washington Street, Quincy. Rev. Merrill C. Ward, pastor Residence 2 Greenough Avenue, Jamaica Plain, Telephone Jamaica 616 W. Services of divine worship 3 P. M. Sermon "A broader outlook." Sunday school 2 P. M; Y. P. C. U. 4.20 P. M.

CHRIST CHURCH, EPISCOPAL—Quincy, corner Elm street and Quincy avenue. Rev. Richard E. Armstrong, rector. Sunday after Christmas. 8 A. M. Holy Communion 10.45 Morning Prayer, and Sermon. 7.30. Evening Prayer and Address.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH—Franklin street Rev. C. C. Tilley, Pastor. Residence 26 Richie Road. Morning Service at 10.30. Subject: "Doctrine and Life." Sunday School at 11.45. Evening Service at 7. Subject: "Robbing the Christmas Tree." Regular Prayer Meeting on Thursday evening at 7.30.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH—Water and Quincy Streets. Rev. J. A. Matherson Minister. Sabbath Services. New Year message 10.30. Bible School and Mens Class 11.45. Jr. C. E. 3.00. Y. P. S. C. E. 6.00. Evening message 7.30. Christmas music will be repeated at both services. Congregational prayer and praise service Thursday 7.30.

FIRST UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH—Corner of School and Pleasant streets. Rev. D. B. McLeod, M. A., pastor. Residence 40 Bradford St., Quincy Preaching by the pastor at 10.30. Subject: "The End of all things is at hand." Sabbath School and Bible class at 11.45. Junior Endeavor at 3. Senior Endeavor at 6. Evening Subject: "The Unspeakable Gift." Prayer Meeting Thursday evening at 7.30.

HALL PLACE M. E. CHURCH—West Quincy Rev. T. C. Martin, pastor, Residence, 12 Hall place. Morning worship at 10.30 Sunday School at 12 M. Epworth League 6.15 Subject: Things to be forgotten and things to be remembered." Leader: Miss Hilda Francis. Evening service at 7 P. M. Prayer meeting, Friday evening at 7.30 A cordial welcome for all.

ST. PAUL'S SWEDISH M. E. Church—Cor. Granite and Fort Streets Quincy, Rev. A. E. Hillman, pastor. Residence 121 Glendale Road. Morning service at 10.30 A. M. Evening service at 7 o'clock. Watch night service New Year's eve at 9 o'clock.

SWEDISH CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Garfield street. Rev. A. G. Sporrong, pastor, 14 Euclid avenue. Tel. Quincy 148-M. Sunday morning service 10.45 Topic: "The Shepherd and His Herd." Evening service at 7 o'clock Topic: "The son of man hath come and given us an understanding." No session of the Sunday school.

ST. CHRYSOSTOM'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH—Hancock street. Wollaston—Rev. Frederick H. Steenstra, rector, residence, the rectory, 253 Hancock street. Holy Communion at 8. Morning Prayer, Ante Communion and sermon at 10.30. 4.00 P. M. Sunday School Christmas Exercises. Evening Prayer and Address at 7.30.

WOLLASTON METHODIST EPISCOPAL—CHURCH—Rev. George Mervyn Bailey, Pastor Residence, 52 Brook Street Telephone, Quincy 378-2 10.45 A. M. Divine Worship and sermon Theme: Crossing the Threshold (A New Years sermon) 12 M Sunday School, J. A. Sedgwick Supt. Men's class in pastor's charge. 6 P.M. Epworth League, Devotional Service. 7. P. M. Song service. Address by pastor. Subject: Pushing back the Boundaries this talk of especial value young people. A watch night meeting will be held at 9.30 P. M, Dec. 21.

WOLLASTON CONGREGATIONAL—Corner Lincoln and Winthrop avenues, Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath, Ph. D., pastor. Res. No. 20 Marion street Telephone Quincy 1116 M. Morning worship 10.45, sermon by pastor. "Your Gift from God." Sunday school at 12.15 Chas. A. Campbell, Supt Women's Class led by Mrs. A. A. Lincoln. Men's Class led by Dr. Sneath. Vesper service at 4. Gauls Cantata "Holy City" Y. P. S. C. E. at 6 P. M. led by Miss Margaret Harding. Regular Midweek service Thursday 7.45 P. M. in the Vestry, conducted by the pastor Subject: "Shall we have a spiritual 1914? Romans: eight chapter. A service preparatory to Communion.

WOLLASTON BAPTIST CHURCH—Cor. Prospect and Warren avenues. Rev. Joseph Walther minister. Morning service at 10.45. Sunday School 12.15 Junior Endeavor at 3.30. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6. Address by Jacob A. Fritz Supt of Merrimack St. mission Boston. Evening service at 7. The minister will preach morning and evening. Christmas music at morning and evening services. Baptisms will take place at evening service.

ATLANTIC M. E. CHURCH—corner Newbury avenue and Squantum Streets. Rev. E. C. Pollard, pastor. Residence 19 Wesley Street, Newton, phone 2184 Newton North. Preaching at 10.45 Theme: Rejoicing in Hope—or New Year reflections. Sunday School at noon. Young peoples meeting at 3.30 P. M. Evangelist services at 7 P. M. Theme: The death of the old year. The birth of the New Year. A cordial welcome extended to all.

MEMORIAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Atlantic Rev. Thomas W. Davison, pastor. Morning service at 10.45. Sermon by the Pastor Theme: "The past and future" Sunday School at 12 M. Junior Endeavor 3.30 P. M. Y. P. S C. E. at 6 P. M. Evening service at 7. o'clock The Christmas music of both morning and evening will be repeated A cordial welcome to all.

SPIRITUALIST MEETINGS—Electa Hall, Johnson building, Quincy Sq. Sunday 7.30 P. M. Speaker and Message Bearer Annie R. Chapman of Brighton, interesting speaker and fine Test medium.

INTERNATIONAL BIBLE STUDENTS ASSOCIATION, (undenominational) New Colonial Hall, Hancock Building, Quincy Centre. Free Public Lectures every Sunday These lectures are for the promotion of Christian knowledge and all are cordially invited. Lecture Sunday Dec. 28 by pastor C. N. Elliott Subject: "Heirs of God and Joint Heirs with Jesus Christ." Seats Free. No collection.

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate

By Cruff & Byrne, Auctioneers, 2370 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in certain mortgage of real estate given by Lillie B. Titus, widow, of Squantum, Quincy, County of Norfolk and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, to the Volunteer Co-operative Bank, a corporation duly established under the laws of Massachusetts and having its usual place of business in Boston, County of Suffolk and Commonwealth aforesaid, dated October 18, 1911, and recorded in the Land Court for the Registry District of Norfolk County, being Document No. 2425, noted on certificate of title No. 1331, in Registration Book 7, Page 1331, for breach of the condition of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same will be sold at public auction on the premises on Monday, January 26, 1914, at two o'clock and thirty minutes in the afternoon, the real estate described in said mortgage to wit:—A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in said Squantum, comprising lots number Four hundred eighty-two (482) to Four hundred eighty-seven (487), both inclusive, and lots numbered Five hundred (500) to Five Hundred and six (506) both inclusive, on a "Plan of lots at Squantum Park, Quincy, Mass., February 1908" Ernest W. Branch, C. E., recorded with Norfolk Deeds; said parcel is bounded and described as follows Northwesterly by Brunswick Street as shown on said plan, One hundred thirty-five and 89-100 (135.89) feet; Northerly by Orchard Street as shown on said plan, One hundred and seventy-two and 9-10 (172.9) feet; Easterly by lots No. 488 and 499 on said plan, One hundred sixty (160) feet; Southerly by Huckins Avenue as shown on said plan, two hundred thirty and 85-100 (230.85) feet; Westerly by lot No. 481 on said plan, forty-two and 53-100 (42.53) feet; and Southwesterly by lot No. 507 as shown on said plan, Sixty-five (65) feet. Containing 33,697 square feet of land.

Subject to the restrictions mentioned in deed of Charles H. McSweeney to Lillie B. Titus, as per records of Registered Land, Certificate No. 421, recorded in Norfolk Registry of Deeds. Also such rights in the beach and flats on the shore of Quincy Bay as Charles H. McSweeney had the right to convey in and by his deed to Lillie B. Titus, filed in the Norfolk Registry District as Document No. 668.

Said premises will be sold subject to existing restrictions, unpaid taxes, tax titles, and assessments, if any. Three hundred dollars ($300.00) required at sale.

VOLUNTEER CO-OPERATIVE BANK
mortgagee, by James B. Dooley, Treasurer.

For further particulars apply to William N. Swain, Attorney for the Bank. Rooms 1111-1116 Paddock Building, 101 Tremont Street, Boston, Mass.

3t Dec. 27 Jan. 3-10

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To all persons interested in the estate of Joseph F. Berry late of Quincy in said County, deceased:

Whereas, George H. Brown the trustee under the will of said deceased has presented for allowance, the fourteenth account of his trust under said will. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham in said County on the seventh day of January A. D. 1914, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be allowed. And said trustee is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to all persons interested in the estate fourteen days at least before said Court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-fourth day of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen.

J. R. McCOOLE, Asst. Register.
27-3t 27-3-5

EXECUTRIX'S NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed executrix of the will of Dora A. French late of Quincy in the County of Norfolk, deceased, testate, and has taken upon herself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs.

All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased, are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

HANNAH A. PORTER,
Executrix.
(Address)
Edgemere Road, Quincy, Mass.
December 26th 1913.
Dec. 27-3t 27-3-10

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block,
QUINCY

SWITHIN
Real Estate
Mortgages-Insurance
Greenleaf Block
Quincy
Tel. Quincy 460. Nov. 10-tf

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

WANTED

WANTED—Two furnished rooms for three adults, with board or with a small room extra to be used as kitchenette near Quincy Square or on Washington street preferred. Write A. M. K., Ledger Office. 26-3t

WANTED—Woman to wait on tables and take care of few rooms. Must be good worker. George E. Mitchell, 27 Temple street, Quincy, Mass. 26-3t

FURNITURE and Piano moving boat hauling and jobbing. Myatt, 40 Baxter street. Tel. 1307-M. Quincy Res. 22-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Lawn dressing. Will be spread if desired. Peter McConarty, 5 Pearl street. 27-6t

FOR SALE—Brand new Royal Typewriter. Apply at 1564 Hancock street, Quincy. 27-1t

PIANOS—Buy a piano. Several makes. Square man to trade with. Send postal and he will call. In your city every day. Walter H. Lyons, Randolph. 17-9t

HORSE FOR SALE—Cheap, for want of use. H. H. I. Smith, 578 Commercial street, Weymouth Heights. Tel. Weymouth 105-1. 15-tf

FOR SALE or TO LET—New houses Apply to Thompson B. Crane, 403 Washington street, Quincy. 1-tf

WM. H. TEASDALE
REAL ESTATE
Insurance Mortgages
NOTARY PUBLIC JUSTICE OF THE PEACE
Room 23 Adams Building
Telephones { Residence 544-3 / Offices 85-M

TO LET

Large Front Office Greenleaf Block—2 entrances—right at the head of the stairs—one of the most desirable offices in Quincy.

Office, Durgin-Merrill Block—3 large windows—only 1 flight up—exceptional opportunity.

Hancock Building—City Square Offices—small front office, $11 a month

Office—Hancock Chambers, 16x18 feet one flight up, very low rent.

Store House—off Granite St., in the rear of Greenleaf Block.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best Location in City)

Offices—Large or small.

Desk Room—Street floor, right in the rear of main entrance, good light and air, $5 up a month.

Transient Rooms—Well furnished and with care, $1 a day.

Furnished Rooms—With care steam heat, and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week

HALLS

Music Hall—Music Hall Block—Capacity 962—highest possible rating by the State. "Excellent" in every particular.

New Colonial Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—Capacity 240—the best possible location for a Hall.

Hancock Hall—Hancock Building City Square—Capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 21066) Quincy

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

QUINCY REGISTRY FOR NURSES

20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.

Will supply trained and practical nurses, attendants and nursery assistants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.

MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar,
Tel. Quincy 131-W.

FOUND

FOUND—In City square, Tuesday afternoon a pocket book containing a small sum of money. Owner may have same by proving property and paying charges. Mrs. Devaney, 47 Dysart street. 24-3t

TO LET

TO LET—Tenement 4 rooms and bath, all modern improvements, fine location. Apply to 220 Franklin street. 27-tf

TO LET—2 or 3 connecting rooms with heat, light and bath for housekeeping. Furnished if desired. Reasonable. 132 Marlborough street, Wollaston Park. 27-6t

TO LET—Lower flat, 5 rooms bath modern improvements in new house pleasantly situated in corner lot 29 Atherton street, Bigelow Park. Rent reasonable to right party. Inquire on premises. 22-6t

TO LET—Tenement, all improvements, reasonable rent. Apply 70 Glencoe place. 24-tf

TO LET—Furnished or unfurnished large front room, smaller room adjoining suitable for physician. Furnished rooms $2.00 up. Steam heat all conveniences, 3 minutes from centre. 1 Adams street. 22-6t

TO LET—Flat of 5 rooms and bath at 197 Whitwell street. All improvements. Apply to John F. Anderson, 159 Whitwell street. 22-6t

TO LET—Single house six rooms and bath. All modern conveniences. Apply to P. J. Williams, 19 Independence avenue. 22-6t

RUSSELL PARK — Commodious house of seven rooms, large hall and bath. Modern, every convenience open fireplace, furnace, range, set tubs, electric lights, cemented cellar, etc. Best residential neighborhood. Ready for immediate occupancy. For further details or key see Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. tf Ipo

TO LET—Upper apartment of 7 rooms and bath, all improvements including set range and gas stove, now ready. Inquire, A. W. Parker, 87 Merrymount road. Tel. Quincy 258-1 16-tf

TO LET—48 Revere road two connecting rooms with kitchenette for housekeeping. Also a nice room with sun all day, two large closets. Hot water heat and bath. water heat and bath. 13-tf

UPPER APARTMENT. In two-family house on Spear Street. Five rooms, bath, large pantry and closets, also open attic with finished heated chamber. Every improvement, electric light, furnace, range etc. Ready for immediate occupancy. Telephone Quincy 278 M or enquire mornings of Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. Ipo

TO LET—173 Whitwell street, half house, modern conveniences, $20 per month. Ready for immediate occupancy. Apply Penniman's Stable, Granite street. 19-tf

TO LET—5 room tenement at 117 Quincy street, $20 per month. Apply Berman Furniture Co. 6-tf

TO LET—Houses of 5, 6 and 10 rooms. M. T. Sullivan. Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy, Mass. 11-tf

MISCELLANEOUS

RENT FREE—until Jan. 1st. Two adjoining houses, 28 and 30 Pleasant street to desirable tenants, who will agree to stay one year, or longer. $5.00 per week in advance. Stable for one horse if desired. $1.00 a week extra. Apply 36 Pleasant street. 5-tf

JAMES F. BURKE & CO.
Real Estate and Insurance
Care of Property. Mortgages
Justice of Peace. Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 285 M. Nov. 11-tf

Penniman's
TAXI SERVICE
Taxies and Touring Cars with careful and safe drivers to let for all occasions.
C. H. PENNIMAN, Prop.
Telephone 207.
June 18-tf

Read
Ledger Ads

KINCAIDE THEATRE

At 2.30, 5, 10, 15c At 7.45, 10, 15, 25c

MON., TUESDAY, WED.
Program—subject to change

5 MUSICAL DURANDS
If you heard them here 1 year ago, you will not miss this musical treat. They're Great!

THE TORLEYS
Sensational Cyclists

McKISSICK & SHADNEY
Southern Entertainers

BILLY COLE
Novelty Ventriloquist

PATHE WEEKLY
World's News in Pictures

"DECEPTION"
A delightful Comedy-Drama

KALEM 2-REEL FEATURE
"THE CHINESE DEATH THORN"
Intensely Interesting Throughout

KINCAIDE THEATRE ORCHESTRA

BRIEFS

Two Quincy boys Yanaro and Maurano appear at Music hall this afternoon and evening in a comedy duo.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Gilson of Montello were Christmas guests at his home on Linden place remaining over for the Tennis Club Ball.

The Christmas program of music will be repeated in the First Presbyterian church Sunday at both services. The pastor Rev. James A. Matheson will have a New Year message morning and evening. It will be a service helpful to you. Come.

At the Sunday morning service at Bethany Congregational church, the choruses will repeat the Christmas music. At the pleasant Sunday evening service the young ladies' chorus assisted by Herbert C. Hayden, violin, piano and organ, will render a special musical service. The pastor will lecture on "What we have tried to do." All are cordially welcomed to these services.

The Methodists of Atlantic are setting apart Sunday, Jan. 4 as "Come Home Day." Invitations are sent out for all people who have been benefited by the Methodist pulpit though now communicants of other churches to come home and show their appreciation by attending this service. An appropriate sermon will be preached by the pastor, old time hymns will be sung and greetings from the mother church will be extended.

CHIEF WHITMARSH ILL.

The grass fire which started from the bonfire at Allen's pond, East Braintree was indirectly the cause of Chief Frank O. Whitmarsh's painful condition. The chief had returned from the fire and was taking chemicals etc., from his wagon into the hose house when his horse gave a sudden leap knocking the Chief to the ground. Thomas Croke, who had been assisting in the removal of the apparatus, managed to keep his balance on the wagon and after some difficulty succeeded in stopping the excited horse. He returned as quickly as possible to the hose house where he found Mr. Whitmarsh with a very badly bruised leg which caused this noted fire fighter to spend his Christmas in bed. It is hoped by his many friends that he will be able to be out again in the near future.

DISTRICT COURT.

Toney Santia was fined $20 for exceeding the automobile limit at Milton.

William H. Place, Henry A. White and John Sweeney were fined $5 each for drunkenness at Quincy.

HOLMES & HALL
REPAIRERS OF HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
SHADES
DOOR BELLS
LOCKS and KEYS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

NO LOSS AT MORNING FIRE

Was Near the Boulevard and Residence of Whittaker

Sparks from an overheated furnace at the house of Mr. Ellis at 29 Hamden circle caused the alarm from Box 151 at 6.53 this morning. The family started a fire in the furnace and the sparks coming up through one of the pipes gave the family the idea that there was a fire and the alarm was sounded. The recall followed in a few minutes after the alarm. Whittaker who set the fires earlier in the week lived in this neighborhood.

CHRISTMAS WEDDING

Miss Nellie McKellop Becomes Bride of William Gray

A pretty wedding was solemnized Christmas eve at 57 Howard street, East Braintree, when Miss Nellie McKellop became the bride of William Gray. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Price of Braintree in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends from Braintree, Quincy and Weymouth.

Miss Annie Woodrow was the bridesmaid while the groom was attended by Alexander Sturrock.

The bride was becomingly gowned in a white embroidered dress while the bridesmaid wore a blue satin with chiffon trimmings.

A reception followed the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Gray being assisted in receiving by Mrs. Elizabeth Wilkinson and Miss Sadie Wilson. A wedding supper was also served during the reception.

After a brief wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Gray will take up their residence on Bowditch street, East Braintree, where they will be at home after Jan. 1. They received many handsome and valuable gifts from their many friends.

SEVEN NEW HOUSES IN LIST

Building Permits Issued During the Past Week

Inspector of Buildings Warren S. Parker has issued the following building permits this week:

James H. Broughton, dwelling, Standish avenue.

K. E. Carlson, dwelling, Hilda street

Arion Kyllanen, dwelling, Albertina street.

George L. Hunter, mercantile, Sagamore street.

John P. Granahan, dwelling, East Elm avenue.

Richard J. Favorite, dwelling, Belmont street.

Mary E. Closson, auto house, North Central avenue.

M. E. Kilpatrick, dwelling, East Squantum street.

E. R. Stone, dwelling, Germain avenue.

WILLIAM R. DIMOCK
Carpenter and Builder
Plans furnished and estimates given. All work personally and promptly attended to 133 PROSPECT AVENUE
WOLLASTON
Telephone 1238 W Quincy.

With Teams and Trucks
KINCAIDE MOVES HOUSEHOLD GOODS
Our light and heavy Trucks and Teams are ready to move you anywhere anytime you say. Our men are courteous, careful, thoroughly-experienced movers. This store stands back of their work and guarantees you complete satisfaction. Charges are reasonable. Let's have your order early. Write, call or Telephone Quincy 1200.
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO. 1495 Hancock St.

CHRISTMAS AT BRAINTREE

Festivals by Sunday Schools and Special Music

EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

The last regular afternoon service of Emmanuel Episcopal church will be held tomorrow at 4 P. M. Rev. M. Oakman Patton, now residing at 2 Morrison road, Braintree, will conduct the service. Music by the vested choir under the direction of Mrs. Shields, with Miss Helen Muller, pianist. Sunday school at 3 P. M., J. A. Hillier, superintendent.

A large congregation attended the Christmas day service in Delta hall. Holy communion was celebrated with morning prayer and sermon. The music was rendered by the vested choir which has increased in numbers recently. The hall was decorated with Christmas greens.

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

The Christmas music last Sunday was very much enjoyed by all both at the morning and the afternoon services. Splendid work was done by the quartett in the morning. Several Christmas anthems were given and Dr. Pratt played two movements from Sonata No. 7—Guilmant and the Hallelujah chorus from Messiah.

The vesper service was almost entirely musical. The pastor read a few verses of scripture and offered prayer. The vested choir did excellent work on a Christmas Cantata under the leadership of Mrs. A. b. Shields at the organ. There was also special violin accompaniment. The Junior choir sang carols from the gallery.

An unusually large number attended the concert and Christmas tree of the Sunday school Wednesday evening. The program was as follows:

Welcome, William Ross.
Prayer by pastor
Recitation, If I had a quarter, Fred Johnson
Song, Stars of December, Miss Kennedy's class
Recitation, When Christ was born in Bethlehem Miss G. Burnham
Recitation, The First Christmas Helen Millory
Recitation, Jesus the King iMss Winkfield
Song, Gertrude Percy
Recitation, Santa's Goodness Primary Dept.
Recitation, Christmas Cheer Grace Howle
Recitation, Christmas Story, Henry Dow
Singing by school.
Recitation, Christmas Tide Blanche Our
Recitation, Star of the Orient Mary Milloy
Recitation, Happy Christmas, Lois Vinton
Song, Away in the Manger, Primary Dept.
Recitation, Blessed Day, Francis Vinton
Recitation, Tidings blessed tidings, Annie Ellis
Recitation, Joy of Christmas Day Gertrude Milloy
Recitation, Gladys Cook,
Recitation, Shining brightly Shining Olive Wynot
Singing by school.

Santa Claus came at the close of the concert and distributed the presents to the pupils of the school. After the Christmas tree the members of the Junior choir went out and sang Christmas carols at several homes.

Services will be held as usual next Sunday. Morning worship 10.30 A. M. Sermon, The resources of God. Sunday school 12 M. Classes for all grades. Vesper service at 4 P. M. Sermon, The Talent of Life. The first in a series in The Fuller Life. The usual musical program will be given by the quartet in the morning and by the vested choir in the afternoon. All are cordially invited to these services.

The regular monthly teachers meeting and supper will be held Monday evening, Dec. 29th. It is hoped that a large number of the teachers will be present.

There will be a Union Watch Night Service in the Parish House of the First Church, Wednesday evening 9—12 P. M. to which all are invited.

A preparatory service will be held on Thursday evening at 7.45 o'clock.

BAPTIST CHURCH. .....

Service of prayer as usual at 10.10 Sunday morning in the pastor's study. The morning worship will be held at 10.30 with sermon by the pastor.

The Christmas concert of the Bible school will be held Sunday evening at 7 o'clock, in place of the regular preaching service. A fine program has been prepared and an excellent concert is assured. Mr. and Mrs. Curtis will render selections There will also be a selection by a tenor soloist of Abington.

The union watch-night service, under the auspices of the Federation of Churches, will be held in the parish house of the First Congregational church, Wednesday evening, Dec. 31. The service will begin at 9 o'clock.

There was a large attendance at the service Sunday evening. Christmas music was furnished very acceptably by Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Curtis, and mixed quartet composed of Warner Hill, Mrs. A. B. Curtis, Miss Helen Wilson and Mr. A. B. Curtis. The subject of the pastor's sermon was "A Christless Christmas."

The Chrismas tree exercises were held Tuesday evening at 7.15. There was a good attendance of the members of the school. Rev. W. N. Tenney of Boston gave a very interesting chalk talk on "The Birth of Christ."

In addition to the usual Sunday school tree, there was a "gift," or mission tree, on which gifts for the unfortunate were placed. These gifts will be disposed of by the committee and no doubt some hearts will be made glad which otherwise would have received little Christmas cheer.

Owing to the Watch-night service the usual Thursday evening service will be omitted, Jan. 1st.

SOUTH M. E. CHURCH

The church was decorated beautifully for Christmas Sunday with evergreen boughs, festoons of green paper, and red bells. The pastor preached an inspiring sermon on "The Prince of Peace." His text was Isaiah 7:6 "For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given, and the government shall be upon his shoulder; and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, the Mighty God, the Everlasting Father, the Prince of Peace." The choir sang two anthems "O Little Town of Bethlehem" and "The Song of the Angels." A duet, "Hear the Christmas Bells," by Mrs. Swallow and Mr. Illes was greatly enjoyed.

At the evening hour the service was given over to the Sunday School, and a splendid concert was given. Especial mention should be made of little Viola Dunkerley who spoke "The Night before Christmas" so sweetly. The committee in charge was Miss Hazel Stevenson, chairman; Misses Mary Heath, Alice Johnson, Lenore and Della Ryan and Master George Dunkerley and Stanley Sylvester.

A representative of the Krowel-deen Society paid the holder of the loving cup, Mrs. Knight of East Braintree, a Christmas call Sunday, taking flowers for the cup; and found her bright and cheery and enjoying good health.

Wednesday evening the annual Christmas tree of the Sunday school was held in the vestry. An interesting program was given, after which the gifts were distributed and a social time was enjoyed by all.

Friday evening the music committee and choir were entertained at the parsonage.

Tomorrow morning the pastor's sermon will be on Investing for God. The evening subject is "The cross—both foolishness and power."

Monday evening the Epworth League will be entertained by its former treasurer, Mr. Karl Rodgers of West Somerville. It is planned to leave South Braintree on the 7.09 train.

Wednesday evening the union watch-night service will be held at the First Congregational church from 9 to 12. There will be short addresses by the various pastors, talk by Dr. Lerrigo of Boston, a social hour with music and refreshments and a devotional service. All are urged to attend.

The Thursday evening prayer-meeting will be omitted this week owing to Wednesday evening service.

The first Sunday of the new year will be observed as communion Sunday and the benevolent collection will be taken.

SOUTH CHURCH NOTES.

The Christmas music at the morning service last Sunday was thoroughly enjoyed by the congregation. Three inspiring anthems were sung by the choir. The service of worship of the Sunday school, arranged by Supt. R. E. Whitman, was in keeping with the spirit of the day and carried out in a spirit of worship by the co-operation of the school and the choir.

A Christmas concert will be given Sunday afternoon at 6 o'clock. The program, which has been arranged by Ellis F. Dyer, will be as follows:

Organ prelude.
Anthem, "O Little Town of Bethlehem."
Recitation, "Christmas Bells," Kindergarten Department.
Recitation, "Christmas Holly," Laura Campbell.
Miss Nickerson's class.
Solo, "Dear Little Babe." Dorothy Borden.
Mrs. E. F. Dyer's class.
Recitation, "The Angels' Song." Miss Strathdee's class
Recitation, "I'm Glad the Angels Sang." Evelyn Gifford
Mrs. F. F. Dyer's class.
Duet, "Please, Mr. Santa Claus, Don't Forget Me." Evelyn and Lillian Tenney.
Misses Dreghorn's and Nickerson's classes.
Recitation, "If I was Good Old Santa Claus," Vernal Dyer.
Kindergarten Department.
Reading Selected, Miss Mabell Campbell.
Mrs. J. A. Dyer's class.
Quartet, "Beautful Star of Hope" Messers. Bean, Thayer, Dill, and Marsh.
Lesson from the Scriptures.
Recitation, Luther's Christmas Carol." Miss J. M. Foster's class.
Hymn 96.
Prayer, closing with the Lord's Prayer.
Quintet, "What a Comforter," Mr. and Mrs. Bean, Messrs Thayer Dill and Marsh.
Recitation, "Offerings." Miss Campbell's class.
Offering.
Christmas Story Rev Tyler E. Gale
Gale.
Dialogue. Miss Nickerson's class.
Recitation, "A Carol," Miss Mary Schraut
Mrs. F. E. Dyer's class.
Hymn 143.
Benediction.
Postlude.

Each class in the school has been made responsible for one feature of the concert. The ushers are from Mr. Dyer's class, the decorations by Miss F. R. Foster's and Mr. Marsh's classes.

The subject of the minister's sermon Sunday morning will be "Armor of God" and the children's sermon "The Search for the Beautiful." There will be no meeting of the C. E. Society.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.

First church of Christ Scientist, will hold its regular service in Alpha hall on Sunday at 10.45 o'clock, a. m. subject: "Christian Science," Golden text from John 14.26. "The Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you." Sunday school in Union hall at the same hour On Wednesday evening at 7.45 o'clock a testimony and experience meeting. Reading room open every day except Sundays and holidays from 3 to 5 o'clock p. m. All are welcome.

SHIPYARD ACCIDENT.

Fred Cormack, aged 28 years of 6 Shaw street, East Braintree, employed in the boiler shop at the Fore River received a bad fracture of both bones in the left leg this morning and was removed to the City hospital in the police ambulance.

Cormack was engaged in taking a hand car, upon which were a number of steel plates, into the boiler shop. He was drawing the car by means of one of the plates. Suddenly the plates began to slide and before he could prevent it the load of plates fell off burying him beneath them. He was rescued by other workmen and hurried to the Red Cross hospital on the grounds where Dr. Blanchard found that he had received a bad fracture of both bones in the left leg. The police ambulance was called and he was removed to the City hospital.

CARD OF THANKS.

The members of the family of the late Hon. William T. Shea of Quincy acknowledge with thanks and deep appreciation the many kindnesses extended them during the illness of their late brother and also thank those who so kindly expressed their feelings in beautiful floral tributes.

Miss Catherine E. Shea,
Mrs. Michael F. Lyons,
Mrs. John V. Scollard,
Mrs. Arthur A. Murphy
Michael E. Shea.

DEATHS

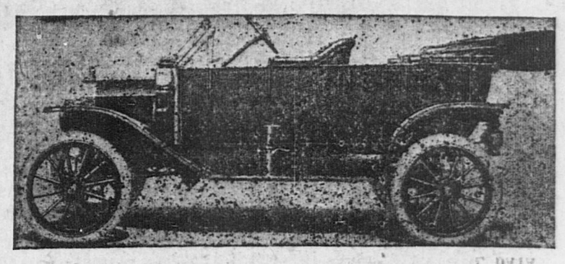
MORSE—In Hingham, Dec. 25, Mrs. Harriet A., wife of Joshua Morse.

FOSTER—In Milton, Dec. 26, Ralph Fleet Foster of 584 Randolph avenue, aged 65 years.

LYNES—In Milton, Dec. 26, Mrs. Margaret, widow of Cornelius Lynes of 11 High street.

STEBBINS—In Wollaston, Dec. 27, Mary E. widow of George W. Stebbins.
Funeral from late home 72 Bromfield street, Monday, Dec. 29 at 10 o'clock.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass.



THE QUINCY GARAGE, 87 Adams Street, Quincy
Agent for FORD and CASE CARS
A full Line of Supplies always on hand
Michelin Tires in stock
Now Ready for Delivery the 1914 Ford Car, $550 for 5 Passenger, $500 for Runabout, $750 for Town Car F. O. B. Detroit.
For Particulars or Demonstration call Quincy 435
Night or Day never closed. C. P. GOULD, Prop.
Dec. 12-1o-tf

JUDGE AVERY SUGGESTED

Favored as Candidate for Superior Bench

Claiming that they should have a representative on the superior bench, members of the Massachusets bar practising in the southeastern section of the Cape have presented the name of Judge Albert E. Avery of the Quincy district court to Gov. Foss as successor to Judge John Crawford Crosby, who has been nominated for the vacancy on the supreme bench.

What is called a "holocaust" has just caused a sensation in Boston and excited horror in the minds of thousands of citizens who are practically responsible for the terrifice castastrophe. All the risks were well known, or might have been known, to public officials and to citizens at large. More than that, conditions in every large city, including Boston, are such, and are known to be such, that at any time, the wind being in the right quarter and fire started at the wrong time, whole districts will be swept. Within the last two years there have been outbreaks of fire, speedily extinguished, which everybody knew would have been exceedingly disastrous, had they not happened on a quiet evening and so were quickly observed and easily extinguished. We build to burn, and then wonder at the awful dispensations of Divine Providence.—Christian Register.

Disillusionment.

A woman had three caskets to give to a man. One day she read in his eyes that he could take but the nearest and lowest, and that instant arose from her heart the wailing cry, "The king is dead."—Will Levington Comfort.

HIRAM A. FRENCH.

Hiram Alden French, formerly of Braintree passed away last Tuesday at the home of his sister Mrs. Annie Badger of West Quincy, death resulting from a complication of diseases. Funeral services were held at his late home yesterday afternoon, Rev. B. A. Willmott, pastor of the Bethany Congregational church officiating. Burial was in the Pond street cemetery and the bearers were comrades Henry A. Monk, Morris Gurney, Henry B. Whitman and Edwin L. Curtis of Gen. Sylvanus Thayer, Post 87, G. A. R. of this town.

Hiram A. French was born in Braintree, 75 years ago and always lived here up to about three years ago, when he went to live with his sister, Mrs. Badger in West Quincy, his only surviving relative. He enlisted December 23, 1863 as a musician in the 1st Brigade, 1st Division, 2nd Army Corps band and the bass drum which he played now hangs in the rooms of Post 87. He was honorably discharged from the service May 31, 1865 having served in all, 526 days.

He had been a member of Post 87 since March 1874. Mr. French for years operated the King Hill farm in this town and was the proprietor of the King Hill house, since destroyed by fire. He was very well known here and a popular member of Post 87.

—An exchange says: "It is worth noting that three years ago an apple orchard of fifty trees that had received no care, was taken over by the Connecticut Agricultural College. The orchard is located in Abington and after scientific care yielded a revenue of $900 this year." It's hardly believable, but is said to be positively true.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

Call Quincy 501-W
if you want your furniture, mattresses and cushions repaired in good order at low prices
M. MIRKIN, upholsterer, 1060 Hancock street, near the Quincy High School
Dec. 1-1m

FOR A
Holiday Present
NOTHING COULD BE BETTER THAN
A QUINCY HISTORY
EACH YEAR THE HISTORY OF
OLD BRAINTREE AND QUINCY
WRITTEN BY
W. S. PATTEE, M. D.
AND PUBLISHED IN 1878
GROWS MORE VALUABLE, AS IT CONTAINS HISTORICAL DATA ABOUT QUINCY THAT CANNOT BE OBTAINED ELSEWHERE
$3.50 PER COPY
FOR SALE BY
GEO. W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
1424 HANCOCK STREET
QUINCY

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

LARGEST GUARANTEED CIRCULATION IN THE CITY

Vol. 28 No. 301 QUINCY MASS. MONDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 29 1913 PRICE TWO CENTS

RAPID RISE OF ARTHUR P. RUSSELL

From Office Boy Twenty Years Ago to Salary of $12,000 Per Year

Now Transferred From Boston to Main Office at New Haven

Beginning with the new year, there is to be a radical change in the legislative policy of the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R. Co., says the Boston Globe. Attorney Arthur P. Russell of Quincy who figured so prominently in the hearing before the Public Service Commission, is to be transferred to New Haven, and Vice President Buckland, now in Washington, and formerly of Boston, is to return to Boston to take charge of the legal department having to do with measures at the State House..

The opinion prevails among the higher officials of the New Haven that the system revealed at the hearings has placed the railroad in such a position that President Elliott has called for a new deal all around.

Mr. Buckland has been one of Mr. Elliott's confidential advisers. He is a big man in legal circles, and knows the feeling of the public in Boston and this State, and has the confidence of the highest officials of the road.

There was a meeting of the board of directors of the New Haven in New York Saturday, and the informant said that the whole matter was discussed at the meeting.

It is said that there will not be an organized system of legislative espionage suported on Beacon Hill under Mr. Buckland's rule, but that the legal department of the road will rely on its regular employes at the South Station to keep the officers informed of all bills of interest to the company.

For some time President Elliott has found it advantageous to keep attorney Buckland stationed at Washington, where National legislation, affecting the company has been pending. Mr. Buckland has made the most of his position, and, it is said, that the lenient attitude of the Government on the suits against the company was largely due to Mr. Buckland's efforts.

ATTORNEY RUSSELL.

Attorney Russell, who goes to New Haven to take up legal duties in that city for the railroad company, is well known in Boston, through his work on Beacon Hill. He first became connected with the railroad as an office boy 20 years ago. He was born in Leominister in 1871, is the son of a clergyman, and removed to California at the age of 10 years.

He began his railroad career with the New York & New England Railroad when he was 16 years old as an office boy, and two years later he was promoted to the position of stenographer to James W. Perkins. When he had reached his majority he was appointed private secretary to the vice president of the company.

He was elected a member of the Legislature from Ward 15 when 27 years old. He served for the three succeeding years. He had previously been a member of the Boston City Council from Ward 16. He was also vice president of the Republican City Committee about that time.

About 1902 he began the study of law and was made chief clerk of both the law and real estate departments of the New Haven system. When 36 Mr. Russell became a member of the Governor's Council, being previously admitted to the bar in this State.

He succeeded C. F. Choate as Legislative counsel for the road, and in this position became closely associated with affairs on Beacon Hill, Mr. Russell takes pride in telling of still another occupation of his many years ago, and that was distributing handbills at a salary of $1 per day, on Hanover street Boston. Mr. Russell has drawn $6000 from the N. Y. N. H. & H. road and $6000 more from the B. & M. road.

Mr. Russell belongs to the Boston Press Club, the Boston City Club and the Ancient and Hanorable. His home is at Wollaston.

Youthful thieves entered the office of the Smith Granite Co. at South Quincy some time between Saturday night and Monday and stole some pencils and rubber stamps. Entrance was made by forcing an office window It is thought to have been the work of boys.

Evening High and Trade Classes

The following classes begin their

Second Term TONIGHT

At 7 O'clock

Class for Granite Workers
Mould Loft Class
Commercial Class
Machinst's Class

New Students may enter at this time

ALBERT L. BARBOUR,
Supt. of Schools.

Dec 29-1t

A MONDAY FEATURE--SEE PAGE 3

NEWS FROM THE QUINCY CHURCHES

All Churches Should Appoint Press Representatives and Co-operate with the Daily Ledger.

FINDS HUSBAND DEAD FROM GAS

Sad Home Coming from a Holiday Visit

The home coming of Mrs. John Christiansen of 57 Irving place, Saturday afternoon, was a sad one. Mrs. Christiansen had been on a visit to her married daughter at Hartford, Conn. She arrived home late Saturday afternoon and on entering the house detected the odor of gas. Going into the dining room she found a note from her husband on the dining room table, warning her not to enter Carl's room after dark as it was dangerous. Mrs. Christensen hastily summoned a physician, who on his arrival opened all the windows and then entered the room of their son, and found Mr. Christiansen dead.

Just when the act was committed is not known but it is thought to have been sometime Saturday afternoon, as he was expecting his wife home from Hartford before dark.

Mrs. Christiansen went to Hartford Thursday afternoon, her husband accompanying her to Boston and seeing her on the train for Hartford. He had refused to go complaining of not feeling well. Friday evening he called on some of his neighbors and thanked them for Christmas gifts and kindnesses they had shown him.

Mr. Christiansen was about 72 years of age and was employed as a mechanical engineer in Boston. The only cause assigned for his act is melancholia due to worry over business cares. He leaves a widow and a married daughter who resides in Hartford, Conn., and a son, Carl, who resides at home.

DISTRICT COURT.

It is a pretty good record when a district as large as the East Norfolk district comprising a population of over 100,000, can go three days with but two arrests of any kind and these two being cases of drunkenness. That however was the record that was reported at the District court this morning. Of the two unfortunates one was assessed $5 and the other placed on probation.

RIVADAVIA DELAYED

Will Not Have Trial Trips Until Middle of January

The battleship Rivadavia which was scheduled to leave the Fore River shipyard today will not be taken out for the balance of her trips for at least two weeks it was announced at the office of the company this morning. Slight repairs necessitating several hours delay has resulted in the loss of the high tide which would carry the mass of steel down stream without danger. Another tide in two weeks assures the departure of the vessel.

The trouble which caused the delay developed in the centre turbines, but the company is not concerned and have practically remedied the condition.

When the boat leaves the shipyard she will proceed to the Commonwealth pier at South Boston and by a peculiar coincidence, this South American warship and the largest on this side of the world may be the first to tie up at the biggest pier in the Western Hemisphere. Twenty-eight carloads of selected coal in bags will be placed on board to furnish the fuel for the final speed and endurance runs under the contract.

Having completed her tests off Rockland, Me., for the number of revolutions required by the contract, when she sails from South Boston within three weeks she will go out for her eight-hour full speed test on which she must average 22 1-2 knots an hour and for her 24 hour run at 20 knots per hour. Gun tests will be completed at the same time off the coast of Massachusetts.

The plans of the Fore River Company are to turn the ship over to the representatives of Argentina about April 10. Before delivery in Boston harbor she will be fully provisioned.

Nearly all of the 120 officers are here and positive information has been received that a transport will bring the crew of 1000 men here a week or so before delivery. Immediately upon taking charge of their boat, the Argentine officers will head the Rivadavia for New York where her hull will be scraped and painted in the monster dry dock there, after which the start will be made for Buenos Aires. The arrival of the ship in that harbor will be the occation of a great celebration.

The Moreno, a sister battleship, which is being constructed at the plant of the New York Ship Building Co.., at Camden, N. J., is not so near completion but will be turned over sometime in the summer.

TORKEYS FOR ALL

Every policeman stationed at the White House, every messenger connected with the White House offices, every workman in the White House grounds, and every domestic servant in the White House, received a Christmas turkey Wednesday, with President Wilson's compliments.

One hundred and thirty turkeys were distributed. They ranged in weight from nine to twelve pounds, the average being about ten pounds. With turkeys selling in the local markets at thirty cents a pound this feature of the President's Christmas expenditure is supposed to have cost him about $400.

MARRIED AT COURT HOUSE

New York Couple Were Unaware of Five Day Law Here

Harry H. Thayer and Mrs. Alice Lavinia Cowan, both of New York were married at the Court House Quincy on Saturday by William M. Marden, the court officer. Mrs. Cowan recently divorced from Dr. Cowan in Paris, carried with her the decree issued in the French courts. The groom is a former resident of Braintree and Weymouth.

In order that the ceremony might be witnessed by the mother of the groom both parties came to Quincy Friday. Shortly after their arrival they learned of the five-day law and Saturday morning the groom made application to Judge Pratt for permission to be married within the five days

Judge Pratt, when he learned that all other papers were ready, granted the dispensation and the marriage was speedily performed. The groom is the son of the late Washington Thayer of Weymouth Landing. He is the travelling representative of a New York house and makes his home there.

MRS. HARRIETT W. TIRRELL.

Mrs. Harriett W. Tirrell, widow of Quincy Tirrell and mother of City Messenger, Harry W. Tirrell, passed away at the home of her son on Manet avenue, this noon, after a brief illness.

Mrs. Tirrell has been a resident of Quincy for many years and a few months ago, she gave up her home at South Quincy, since which time she has made her home with her son on Manet avenue.

Mrs. Tirrell was prominently identified with Maple lodge, K and L. of H., being one of the charter members of the lodge which she joined May 8, 1880. She leaves two sons, Harry W. Tirrell, the City Messenger and Henry W. Tirrell of Bennington, Vt.

MONDAY, DEC. 29

SALE

-- ON --

Watches, Jewelry, Novelties, Clocks, Toilet and Manicure Sets, etc.

A Grand Reduction on all Goods left on hand from the Christmas Stock of

10% to 33%

Xmas Goods must be sold regardless of Cost.

Come early in the week for a good selection and buy goods at a substantial saving.

SANDBERG BROS.

Jewelers

City Square, Quincy

YACHT THORDIS OUT FOR A RECORD

Ex-Commodore Frank E. Dawes Took a Sail Sunday on Town River

It Was His Last For The Enjoyable Season of 1913

There are few more enthusiastic yachtsmen than ex-Commodore Frank E. Dawes of the Wollaston Yacht club. Commodore Dawes enjoys sailing and as long as the weather is at all favorable he does not give up the sport. Cold weather has no terrors for him and he has enjoyed many sails in the bay this year since, what is called the regular yachting season closed.

On Christmas day he went out for a short sail in the Thordis but the tide was not right for much sport so that his trip was confined to Town river.

His last sail of the season he planned to take Sunday and this he carried out. It was not far from noon when the Commodore and his crew composed of Chester Allen and Charles Oliver put out from Hanley's for a sail. It had been planned to go out into the bay and over to Hull and back, but Sunday there was no wind so that after crusing about Town river for a couple of hours, the Thordis was taken back to Hanley's where the sails were taken down and the boat put in readiness to be hauled up for the winter months.

Dr. Dawes says that he enjoys winter sailing fully as much as summer sailing and is never as happy as when at the wheel of the Thordis or the Wanderer IV both of which crafts are enrolled in the Interclub association.

FELL FROM AN ELECTRIC

Shipyard Man Seriously Injured at Midnight

Richard Knight of 26 Lawrence street, employed at the shipyard, was seriously injured late Saturday night when he accidentally fell from moving street car on Washington street near the corner of Bent place. Knight had come from Boston on the last train and was riding in the rear vestibule. At the point where he fell there is quite a sharp curve in the street car tracks and it is supposed as the car rounded the corner he lost his balance and fell off. He struck on his head and is said to have rolled over several times. He was taken aboard the car and carried to the office of Dr. W. J. Middleton where after receiving first aid treatment he was taken to the City Hospital in the police ambulance.

INAUGURATION DAY

A week from today will be inauguration day, and the ceremonies of the inauguration of a new city government will be held at 12 o'clock noon in the Council chamber, City Hall. The program will be published later.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS REOPENED TODAY

The public schools of the city opened this morning with a registration practically the same as at the close of the fall term. But little sickness is reported and not more than the normal number of contagious diseases have developed among the pupils.

On Tuesday evening the matter of announced district lines with regard to the new Adams schol will be discussed at a meeting of the School Committee. They included practically all of the Bigelow Park district and after many protests. Alfred L. Barbour, superintendent of schools withdrew them. During the past two weeks members of the committee have been over the ground and made a personal inspection and it is the belief of the parents that a better adjustment will be made at the meeting.

CHRISMAS PARTY.

Miss Marguerite Louise Holbrook entertained her music pupils at a Christmas Party at her home in Bellevue Park, Friday evening, Dec. 26. A goodly number were present and the evening was pleasantly spent in playing games. Miss Phyllis Cockburn of Boston and Miss Eldeine M. Young of Atlantic helped to entertain by rendering piano selections. There was a Christmas tree with a gift for each one present after which a collation was served.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS? ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

$

$

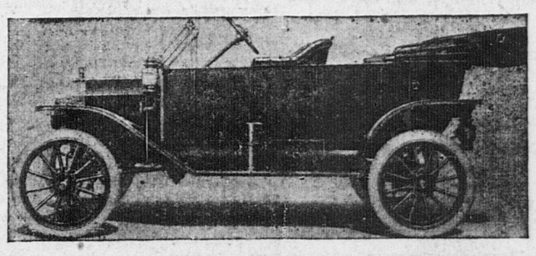
SAVED BY BUYING

Patch's Special

COALS

C. PATCH & SON, Inc.

1422 Hancock Street



THE QUINCY GARAGE, 87 Adams Street, Quincy

Agent for FORD and CASE CARS

A full Line of Supplies always on hand
Michelin Tires in stock

Now Ready for Delivery the 1914 Ford Car, $550 for 5 Passenger, $500 for Runabout, $750 for Town Car F. O. B. Detroit.

For Particulars or Demonstration call Quincy 435
Night or Day never closed. C. P. GOULD, Prop.

Dec. 12-lo-tf

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second-Class matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the . . . .

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

TELEPHONES
News . . . Quincy 425
Business . . . Quincy 1910

NOTICE

Again we ask those sending news or other matter by mail to direct it to the company or newspaper rather than to individual members of the company or employees. If addressed to individuals and they were ill or not at the office, it might be several days in reaching its proper destination and if news matter would be too late for use.

The President is going to have a complete rest on his vacation, though of course he will have to entertain the office seekers at dinner every day.

Under Mexican martial law, any one caught stealing chickens is kindly let off by death without torture.

This city manager plan will never succeed, as the offices would go to those who could do the work, rather than to those who need the jobs.

When the angels made that little remark about "Peace on earth" they of course didn't mean to include postal employes and store clerks.

HONEST SHOES.

The shoe bill is no small fraction of the family outgo nowadays. With three or four growing boys, pater familias is lucky if his average shoe bill comes under $10 a quarter. Rubber overshoes often wear out in a month. The standard shoe that once sold at $3.50 is often second grade material today.

Recognizing these conditions, a congressional committee has been holding hearings the past week on the so-called "pure shoe bill," which requires addresses of manufacturers to be stamped on the soles where substitutes for leather are used.

Probably there is no trade where there is so good a chance for substitution of inferior material as in footwear. In former years unsuspecting people were cheated by the too free use of so-called "leather boards," a compound of ground leather and other material that stood up very firm at the start, but would wilt when wet. The trade demand so-called "solid" shoes so generally now, that the average shoe stock is pretty straight in this respect.

The worst trouble is that there is so great a difference between the different parts of the same skin or hide. Toward the backbone of the animal, the skin is closely knit, capable of great resistance. A little farther toward the flanks, the same skin has a loose fabric that soon breaks apart.

By skillful dressing and reinforcing the inferior leather is made to stand up as firm and stiff as the first grade article. No system of labeling can determine the difference.

In the long run manufacturers will be the most successful by willingness to tell the truth about their goods. The public meanwhile should buy shoes with more discrimination. When the upper wrinkles too easily, ask for another pair. Shoes that are cut out too far in the flank are a poor investment, even if they sell a little cheaper. The honest manufacturer will be glad to have the trade as a whole insist on well selected stock.

PRATT'S BREAD is baked by experts in proved ovens. Sold by grocers.

Call Quincy 501-W

if you want your furniture, mattresses and cushions repaired in good order at low prices M. MILKIN, upholsterer, 1060 Hancock street, near the Quincy High School
Dec. 1-1m

HOLMES & HALL
REPAIRERS OF HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
SHADES
DOOR BELLS
LOCKS and KEYS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

ALMOST A SMASH UP

Carriage With Ladies Cuts in Front of Automobile

The quickness of Daniel Driscoll, who was operating an automobile of Myles Burke, a member of the New York police force while visiting in Quincy, saved what might have been a bad accident in City Square about 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Driscoll came down Hancock street in a five passenger Ford car and as he neared the junction of Granite street and was rounding the corner in front of the Bethany church a carriage containing two women started across the street directly in front of him. It seemed for a minute as though an accident was unavoidable. Driscoll, the driver, however, quickly turned his car toward Bethany church going up over the curbing onto the sidewalk, then quickly turned to the left again onto the street barely escaping the wall in front of the church property and the telephone pole at the corner of Chestnut street.

The steering gear of the car was put out of commission by the rods being bent, but otherwise there was no damage to the car and the occupants. The carriage containing the two women kept on their way, evidently unaware of how near they had come to being smashed up. The car bore the New York number 4060 M.

SIX CHILDREN ENTERTAINED

Their First Visit to Theatre and They Went in Style

What might be called a connecting link was an event that especially interested six Quincy children, on Friday afternoon, Dec. 26. The Lady Bountiful was Mrs. Wehrle, of Boston, whose auto was placed at the disposal of Mr. Chester I. Campbell last summer on the occasion of the outing given to the children at Nantasket.

Mrs. Wehrle communicated her desire to entertain six children from six to twelve years old, whose circumstances forbade such an enjoyment as was in the mind of this benefactress. Mr. Campbell communicated with the Quincy Associated Charities and Mr. Tobey, one of the directors, was called in, and it was no difficult matter to find the desired party. Two were from West Quincy, and the other four from Wollaston. Under the escort of Miss Avis Tobey, one of the assistants of Miss Purchase and Mrs. Arnold Hopkins, a volunteer, six children took up the line of march for Boston, where Mr. Tobey met them, and under this escort, Mrs. Wehrle, though a stranger to all, easily discovered them in the lobby of Keith's theatre.

Mrs. Wehrle was an ideal hostess. She had secured some of the best seats in the orchestra and she evidently enjoyed the delight of the children more than the entertainment. She showed them every attention, and when the curtain rose and Santa Claus and his assistants with an immense Christmas tree were revealed the happy children all over the house and the adults also broke out in loud applause. In common with the rest each of the Quincy children received a box of gifts, including a doll, from the Christmas tree.

They seemed to feel as if they had entered fairy land from the moment Mrs. Wehrle greeted them, and as it was the first time any had attended an entertainment of this kind, their feelings and actions can be better imagined than described.

The party separated; one portion was driven home under Mrs. Hopkin's care, while the other two Wollaston children and the West Quincy children, in charge of Mr. and Miss Tobey were safely conveyed home in Mr. Tribou's auto.

What a memory this will be to those little ones as they look back upon it in the days to come. What gratitude they will always cherish toward Mrs. Wehrle. Surely the reward of this good lady is found in the words of the Master when he said "It is more blessed to give than to receive."

If Lister Had Been Commercial.

If Lister had sold his discovery of the antiseptic dressing of wounds, would his name stand where it does among the immortals?—Toronto Globe.

RECORD COAL OUTPUT

Production This Year Far Exceeds That of 1912

Washington, Dec. 29.—Despite labor disturbances in Colorado, the interference of the Ohio floods last spring and a general complaint on the part of the coal operators that they were unable to work their mines at full capacity because of shortages in the labor market, there was an increased production of coal in the United States in 1913 of between 30,000,000 and 40,000,000 tons, as compared with that of 1912.

According to the estimates made public by Edward W. Parker, coal statistician of the geological survey, there will be a total production of between 565,000,000 and 575,000,000 tons at the end of the present year. The increased output is said to be normal—an index of the general industrial activity of the country.

MORTALITY DECREASING

Statistician Shows That There Is Less Danger to Birdmen

New York, Dec. 29.—The mortality due to aeroplane accidents is decreasing, according to the following statistics gathered in Paris.

In 1908 five aviators flew 1600 kilometres and one was killed; in 1909 50 aviators accomplished flights of a total distance of 440,000 kilometres, and three aviators were killed; in 1910, 500 aviators made flights of 960,000 kilometres with 29 deaths; in 1911, 1500 aviators made flights totalling 3,700,000 kilometres, and 78 were killed; in 1912, 5800 aviators flew 20,000,000 kilometres and 140 were killed.

The figures show that there was one death for every kilometres covered in 1908, while in 1912 the mortality had dropped to one death for every 140,000 kilometres.

FAMILY JARS DUE TO DRUNKENNESS

Domestic Relations Court Says 46 Percent Thus Caused

Chicago, Dec. 29.—Drunkenness is the cause of 46 percent of the cases of domestic trouble tried in the court of domestic relations in this city in the last year, according to the annual report.

Mothers-in-law caused marital unhappiness in only 6 percent of the cases, and fathers-in-law in only one. Other causes of family disagreement were: Immorality of husband, 12 percent; immorality of wife, 2 percent; ill temper of husband, 3 percent; ill temper of wife, 3 percent; immaturity, 4 percent; laziness, 3 percent; sickness, 1 percent, and miscellaneous causes, 14 percent.

CHARTERS ARE DISSOLVED

Thirteen Cotton Mills Prepare to Enter Parker Mills Company

Columbia S. C., Dec. 29.—Thirteen cotton mills in South Carolina, owned or controlled by the Parker Mills company, with an aggregate capital stock in excess of $3,800,000, filed certificates of dissolution of charter with the secretary of state. The charters were dissolved.

"This action is only a step in the organization of the so-called Parker merger," stated H. C. Welborn, of Columbia, general manager of the Hampton mills, a component company of the Parker Mills company. "This step was necessitated when the Parker Mills company, the holding company, took over these mills two years ago, but delays have prevented this legal formality being gone through with."

DYING FROM FALL

Mrs. Lizzie D. Blake, Suffrage Leader, In Critical Condition

New York, Dec. 29.—As the result of a fall two weeks ago and complications that followed, Mrs. Lillie D. Blake, for many years a leader in the women's suffrage movement, is dying at a sanitarium in West Englewood, N. J.

Mrs. Blake, suffering from a breakdown, had been at the sanitarium for more than three years. On Dec. 12 she fell and broke her hip. Her advanced years—she is 78 years old—militated against her recovery, and her physicians fear that she will not survive the shock of the injury and its after effects.

Will Shoot Unlicensed Dogs

Brockton, Mass., Dec. 29.—Because the order passed by the aldermen ordering all dogs restrained for sixty days, has not been generally observed, City Marshal Morey gave orders to his patrolmen to shoot every unlicensed dog on sight. About forty have been shot.

Fall River Bookkeeper Held in $4000

Fall River, Mass., Dec. 29.—George H. Desjardins, bookkeeper at the Fall River National bank, pleaded not guilty in the district court to a charge of embezzlement, waived examination and was held in $4000 bail for the superior court.

Yacht Club Loses Building

New York, Dec. 29.—The Bensonhurst Yacht club building, which faces Gravesend bay, was destroyed by fire, with a loss estimated at about $100,000. Silver trophies valued at nearly $20,000 were included in the loss.

THINK SOULMATE HAS COUCH WILL

Believed Widow Will Get Only Amount Required by Law

DOCUMENT CANNOT BE FOUND

Mrs. Couch Spent Two Days Searching For Will In Late Husband's Office—Sheriff Puzzled as to Who Will Pay Miss Brance's Expenses In Jail Hospital

Monticello, N. Y., Dec. 29.—Adelaide M. Brance apparently refuses to leave the home town of Melvin H. Couch, who was ner "soulmate" for many years. After declining to go away with her brother, Herbert O. Brance, she gave no hint to Sheriff Kinnie as to the day of her departure from the hospital ward of the county jail.

The attitude of Miss Brance gave rise to the report that she intends remaining here until she has filed for probate the will of Couch. There is a strong belief here that she has the will and will offer it through her attorney, former County Judge George H. Smith.

Furthermore, it is asserted that the will bequeaths the greater part of Couch's property to her, practically cutting off the widow, Mrs. Couch, with no more than the amount required by law.

That such is the condition of affairs was asserted emphatically by William Jones, a close associate of Couch.

"I am positive," said Jones, "that Couch made a will at the same time that Miss Brance made hers. Just as she bequeathed everything to him and handed him the document, so, in turn, Couch drew a will in her favor and handed the document to her so that she could have it handy in the event of his death. I will stake everything I have on that theory.

"Couch, you know, loved mystery. He liked secrecy and he was fond of deceiving people as to what he actually thought or what he was actually doing. That was the keynote of his character and that just fits the present mystery."

After the death of Couch a thorough search of his office was made by the widow and her friends for all papers and other things belonging to the lawyer. No will was found, and the word spread that the lawyer had died intestate. Mrs. Couch, however, was not satisfied and she spent two days in the offices after the funeral looking for the will.

The attitude of Sheriff Kinnie indicated that he is puzzled as to the plans of the girl. He has no authority to charge her keep to the county, as she is not a prisoner, and accordingly for several days he has been supplying her with food from his own table.

Herbert O. Brance, the brother, called the sheriff on the telephone, to learn how his sister was getting along.

SHOT BY OWN GUN

South Framingham Man Badly Hurt but May Recover

South Framingham, Mass., Dec. 29.—While hunting rabbits in the woods a mile from his home Melham Kadra, 50 years old, accidentally shot himself in the left shoulder and was later found unconscious in the woods by his son, who had gone to join him in the hunt.

Kadra had cornered a rabbit and was waiting for its appearance. He leaned his gun against a tree. When the rabbit poked its nose from its hole, Kadra grasped his gun with such haste that it was accidentally discharged. The full charge of the gun tore an ugly wound through his left shoulder.

CIVILIAN SHOOTS SOLDIER

First Incident of Kind Since Removal of Ninety-Ninth From Zabern

Zabern, Dec. 29.—Two shots were fired by an unidentified civilian at a sentry stationed in front of the barracks recently occupied by the Ninety-Ninth infantry regiment, one of the officers of which, Lieutenant Baron von Forstner, caused the trouble between the military and civilians of this city. The civilian escaped.

This is the first incident of the kind in Zabern since the removal of the Ninety-Ninth infantry, the place of which has been taken by another regiment.

Lewis to Represent America

New York, Dec. 29.—James H. Lewis, United States senator from Illinois, sailed for London as a delegate from the United States to the international conference on safety at sea, to be held in that city.

Out of Work; Ends Life

Manchester, N. H., Dec. 29.—Despondent over the loss of employment and inability to secure work at a new job, John Ryan, 28 years old, a foreman printer, committed suicide by inhaling illuminating gas.

Maine Boy Drowns In Mill Pond

Waterville, Me., Dec. 29.—Harold Lamoue, son of Frank Lamoue of North Vassalboro, was drowned while skating on the mill pond. Companions of the boy were unsuccessful in efforts to rescue him.

SISTER CARRIES POISON

Lynn Cripple Then Kills Himself With Carbolic Acid

Lynn, Mass., Dec. 29.—Calmly planning his own death, Richard Curran, 18 years old, who had been made a helpless cripple by tuberculosis of the right knee, while pretending to play with his little sister, Mary, sent her upstairs to his room to bring back bottles until she had brought to him the bottle of carbolic acid with which he wished to end his life.

Despite her protests, he then stopped the game and hid the bottle in his clothing. After the family had retired he drank its contents. He was found dead in his wheel chair.

Young Curran was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Curran of 193 Holyoke street. In a note which he left for them he said that he had planned his suicide for a long time, and that he thought it best to take his life in order that he might not be a burden to the family.

FIND VALUABLE RELICS

Skeleton of Saxon Soldier Fully Armed Discovered Near London

London, Dec. 29.—Valuable discoveries of Roman and Saxon relics have been made at the excavations on the Roman site at Lowbury, on the Berkshire Downs, four miles west of Goring-on-Thames.

Under the guidance of the archeological department of the University Reading a rectangular has been unearthed and seventy-two Roman coins, some as early as the second century, have been found.

The coins belonged to the reigns of Trajan, Antonius and Marcus Aurelius. Other discoveries included a bronze signet ring, daggers and spearheads.

The skeleton of a Saxton warrior, fully armed, was found buried close at hand.

ENGLISH EXPLORER WILL TRY AGAIN

Intends to Lead Another Expedition to South Pole

London, Dec. 29.—Sir Ernest H. Shackleton, the explorer, in a letter to The Times announces his intention to lead another expedition to the South Pole in 1914. He will start from a South American port, with the object of crossing the South Polar continent from sea to sea, returning by way of New Zealand. He adds:

"I have been enabled to undertake this expedition through the generosity of a friend, and I have taken the liberty of calling the expedition 'The Imperial Transatlantic Expedition,' because I feel that not only the people of these islands but our kinsmen in all lands under the Union Jack will be willing to assist toward the carrying out of the full program of exploration to which my comrades and myself are pledged."

ENDING GIGANTIC TASK

Complete Magnetic Survey of Globe Is Two-Thirds Finished

Washington, Dec. 29.—When the non-magnetic yacht Carnegie dropped anchor at Brooklyn, N. Y., Dec. 19, concluding a voyage which lasted more than three years, the gigantic task undertaken by the Carnegie institution of Washington eight years ago, to make a complete magnetic survey of the globe, was two-thirds accomplished.

Already virtually all the data gathered in nearly 150,000 miles of voyaging, is in the hands of hydrographers and much of it now in use by the shipmasters of the seven seas.

On the ship's charts all inaccuracies of regular navigation compass points have been noted, and the institution is now prepared to furnish shipmasters in virtually any part of the world with true compass readings, against which their own instruments may be checked and the error due to magnetic attraction aboard steel vessels may be noted.

TO SLAY BIG FISH.

Ipswich Men Say Herring Are Being Driven Away

Ipswich, Mass., Dec. 29.—The fishermen of this town are organizing an expedition to go in search of the mysterious fish which has driven the herring from Ipswich bay and seriously interferred with their business.

The fish, according to those who have had brief glimpses of it, is of huge dimensions. Its species is a matter of dispute. Some think it is a huge shark, others a blackfish and still others a whale. But whatever it is, all agree that it has driven the herring from Ipswich river and bay.

Four Held For Stealing Brass

Springfield, Mass., Dec. 29.—Probable cause was found by United States Commissioner John L. Rice against Joseph Freedman for receiving stolen property and against Michael Kane, Robert Martin and Thomas Connors for the larceny of brass in interstate shipments. The defendants were bound over for trial before the federal grand jury in Boston.

A Chance.

Husband—My colleague is the most insatiable man I ever saw. He wants everything he sees. Wife—Can't you introduce our daughter to him?—London Mail.

Capital $150,000 Surplus $200,000

DO YOUR BANKING IN QUINCY

Stop a minute and think. Here is a home bank, a strong local institution. It is near the railroad station, and in the centre of city. It opens earlier and stays open later than the Boston banks. Its safety boxes are rented cheaper. You can know its officers personally. It offers you every privilege that you can get in any bank. Come in and get some facts about this.

Our $5 Box is Larger Than a $10 Box in Boston.

GRANITE TRUST CO.
FOUNDED 1836

NEW FIRE ALARM.

Many changes in the Quincy fire alarm boxes have been noted in the Daily Ledger recently and a revised list of the boxes is printed below:

12 Palmer st. near Brockton av.
13 Shelton rd. and Sea st.
14 Church Turnout, Manet av.
15 Germantown, Sailor's Snug Har.
16 Sea st., near Rock Island rd.
17 Sea st., near Dunham's
18 Sea and Palmer sts.
19 Rock Island.
112 Sea st., near Willows.
113 Post Island.
114 Engine House, Houghs Neck.
116 Centre Road and Darrow Street.
117 Great Hill, Houghs Neck.
119 Rockland and Rhoda sts., Rock Is.

21 Whitwell and Granite sts.
23 Hancock st. and Cottage av.
24 Hancock and Chestnut sts.
25 Washington and Foster sts.
26 Hancock, opposite City Hall.
27 Washington and Elm sts.
28 Hancock and Greenleaf sts.
29 Butler rd. and Putnam st.
121 President's Hill.
122 Chestnut st. and Revere rd.
123 Hancock st., near Car Barn.
124 Adams and Goffe sts.
126 Russell Park.
221 Glendale rd. and Bedford st.
223 Whitwell st., near Hospital.
224 Adams st., near Whitwell st.
225 Field and Brackett sts.
226 Dimmock st. and Upland rd.
227 Newcomb and Canal sts.
228 Edgemere rd. and Putnam st.
235 Elm st. and Miller Stile rd.
242 (P) City Hospital.

31 Phipps, near Payne st.
32 Phipps st and Kendrick av.
34 Franklin and High sts.
35 Hancock and School sts.
36 School and Franklin sts.
37 Franklin and Water sts.
38 Penn and Liberty sts.
39 Liberty and Plain sts.
136 Quincy and Pleasant sts.
137 Water st. and Brook rd.
138 Intervale st. and Brook av.
139 Vernon st.
321 Brook av. and Centre sts.
322 Centre and Granite sts.
331 Presidents and Independence av.
332 Independence and Federal av.

41 School and Granite sts.
42 Copeland and Granite sts.
43 Copeland and Common sts.
45 Crescent and Willard sts.
46 Copeland st., near Furnace av.
47 Bates av. and Grove st.
48 Willard and Robertson sts.
49 Willard and Doble sts.
143 Station st.
147 Granite Railway Yard.
412 Willard and West sts.
413 Buckley and Arthur sts.
431 Rogers st., off Hall Place.
432 Willard st. and Furnace av.
435 Reardon and Barry sts.
441 Smith st., near Quarry st.
442 Quarry st., near Hitchcock's.
443 West and Hayden sts.
445 Quarry and Common sts.
446 Coneland opp. Willard school.
447 Grove st. and Forest av.

51 Tubular Rivet and Stud Factory.
52 Elmwood av. and Farrington st.
53 Winthrop and Warren av.
54 Hancock st., near Elm av.
56 Beale st. and Newport av.
57 Beach and Willow sts.
58 Beale and Adams sts.
59 Beale st. and Central av.
151 Billings rd. and Beach st.
152 Billings and Rawson rds.
153 Farrington st., near Wollastn F'y
154 Fenno st., near Sailors' Home.
155 Waren av., near Newton st.
512 Grand View and So. Central avs.
513 Foot of Beach st.
515 Quincy Mansion School.
524 Berlin and Woodbine sts.
552 Brook st. and North Central av.
553 Belmont st. and Lincoln av.

61 Hancock and Squantum sts.
62 Hancock and Atlantic sts.
63 Hancock st., near Atlantic Depot.
64 Billings st. and Newbury av.
64 (D) Auto Com. No. 2 House.
65 Squantum st. and Faxon road.
66 Prospect and Billings sts.
67 Squantum and Atlantic sts.
68 Squantum st., Montclair school.
69 Sterling st. and Sagamore av.
161 Newport av. opp. Wollaston F'dy.
612 Hancock st. and Billings rd.
613 Hayward st., opp. Gear Works.
614 Glover and Newbury av.
615 Oak and Walnut sts.

7 Washington and Union sts.
71 Washington and Mill sts.
72 Washington and River sts.
73 Washington and Pray sts.
74 Washington and South sts.
75 Quincy av. near Mrs. Baxter's.
76 Washington and Wharf sts.
76 (D) Power House St. Ry.
78 Fore River Shipbuilding Works.
171 Main and Union sts.
172 South Walnut, near Oak st.
173 Main and Sumner sts.
174 North st., and Commonwealth av.
175 Quincy av. and Howard st.
272 Farnum and Edison sts.
273 (P) Baker Basin.
712 Broadway and Commonwealth av.
718 (P) Johnson's Lumber Wharf.
721 Scammell st. and Glencoe pl.
722 South st. and Winthrop park.
723 South st. and Clairmont av.
725 Howard and Winter sts.

8 Squantum st. and Huckins av.
81 Bellevue rd. and Ocean rd.
82 Bellevue rd. and Huckins av.
83 Bellevue rd. and Standish rd.
8? Dorchester and Pratt sts.

(D) Duplicate (P) Private

—A tired girl in New York, with a camp stool in a crowded car, has set the sex disputants to talking. She says that since women have forced themselves into the business world, they cannot expect favors from men. There are seats at home. Women who won't stay there must not expect men to give them seats in the street cars. So she carries a little camp stool under her arm. Is the equal suffrage so many women have come to want a political camp stool taken under the arm to protect against male neglect due to the female invasion of the business world? Their attitude is like that of the street car girl. They do not want the favors of courtesy or gallantry. They want to be treated like men. They want to take care of themselves.—Haverhill Gazette.

Recruit.

"A bad mess," declared the junior partner. "Lot of urgent mail to be answered and the typewriter has just left." "The office boy is always fooling around that machine," suggested the senior partner. "Put him in now, and let's see what he can do as a pinch-hitter."—Pittsburgh Post.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS?
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

If you live at Quincy Neck
You can get the Daily Ledger
after 3.30 P. M.
at the store of
J. S. Pierce

SUNDAY IN QUINCY CHURCHES

NOTE—Press corespondents of Churches are requested to limit reports of sermons to 100 words, unless abstracts are requested. Where fifty or more sermons are delivered in Quincy every Sunday it is impossible to report them at length. Brief items of church news are requested. Name and address should accompany all reports.

FIRST PARISH CHURCH.

In his review of "The Old Year" Rev. Adelbert L. Hudson characterized the year 1913 as one of hesitation and expectancy. In international relations, all the way from the outbreak of the Balkan war to the present situation in Mexico, the World's diplomacy had been "marking time" waiting for something to happen.

In commerce and industry the same spirit was observable, producing a period of comparative inactivity while waiting to see how things will turn out.

"But what is it," he asked, "for which we are waiting?" And he found the answer in Paul's epigramatic saying that the world is waiting "for the revealing of the Sons of God." In other words the experience of the past year in all forms of activity, whether social, political, commercial or industrial, has clearly demonstrated that the world"s greatest need is men of sterling character, stirred with moral enthusiasm to administer its affairs.

At this point the world's need becomes the church's opportunity. The present nation-wide movement to increase the efficiency of our churches, which is being carried forward into the New year, is not mechanical or artificial, but marks a real reaction from indifference and lethargy.

Next Sunday Mr. Hudson will preach a New Year's sermon on "Fresh impulses."

CHRIST CHURCH.

The members of Christ Church look forward to a busy social week, commencing this evening with the Christmas party for the scholars in the senior department, the teachers and officers of the Sunday School. The affair will close with dancing in the parish house.

The Christmas party of the Junior Auxiliary will be held Tuesday afternoon and all the girls of the Sunday School are cordially invited.

Tuesday evening Mrs. Walter Burke will entertain the members of St. Margaret's Guild at her home on Adams street. The members of the Gardner Club are also included and an elaborate program has been arranged for the entertainment of those that attend.

C. I. Wilson of the Boston Woven Hose and Rubber Co will address the Gardners Thursday evening on "The value to a young man of the way of business approach." The talk is one of the series arranged by Merton A. Turner, club director.

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL.

The regular choir at Bethany church was assisted Sunday morning by Miss Edith Rowbound, violinist and Mrs. Lucie Newcomb Emery pianist and the musical program was an excellent one. The same artists also assisted the Girls' vested choir at the pleasant evening service, which included solos by Mrs. Emma S. Moore and Albert L. Hayden.

The pastor's message at the morning service was "God of the ages," and in the evening, "Our church at work for the world," being a review of what had been attempted during the year.

A preparatory service for those who intend to unite with the church at the January communion will be held Thursday evening. A large number have been expounded for membership.

WOLLASTON CONGREGATIONAL.

There was an unusually large attendance at the Sunday morning service of the Wollaston Congregational church and Dr. Sneath preached a very helpful sermon from 1 Tim. 2:3-4, "Your gift from God." He brought out the thought of how hard it was for the early Christians to sympathize with Paul's exhortation to them to pray for all men, even Nero who gloried in their persecution, but God would have all men saved. It is the will of the eternal heart that every man shall come to the light of God. The movement out west started by the Y. M. C. A. looks in the direction of more intimate and close relation between fathers and sons, and has gained wonderful headway. God as our father is looking to us as sons and daughters to come into the possession of the highest good. The Christmas gift of Eternal life is for every human being, and is an absolutely unselfish gift for humanity's good. Let us go into the new year with a confidence that knows no doubt, having faith in God.

At four o'clock, there was a vesper service, when a mixed chorus of forty voices gave Gaul's cantata "The Holy City" under the direction of Walter Rogers, the former organist. The program was carried out in a highly successful and pleasing manner, and the assistance of the Bethany church friends who helped so much with their voices is greatly appreciated. The capacity of the church was taxed by the large audience.

At six o'clock the Christian Endeavor Society held its regular monthly missionary meeting and those present found much instruction from further study about Turkey. Leader, Miss Margaret Harding.

The Ladies' Benevolent Society will hold a meeting at 2.30 Wednesday afternoon in the vestry and it is hoped all members may find it possible to attend.

Also at 7.45 Thursday evening will be held the regular midweek service, which is preparatory for communion next Sunday. Topic: "Shall we have a Spiritual 1914?" Romans 8th chapter.

WOLLASTON METHODIST.

Rev. George Mervin Bailey, gave a most appropriate sermon for the last Sunday of the Old Year. A chorus sang "The God of Abraham praise," and "A song of faith" by Galbraith was rendered by Miss Marguerite Louise Holbrook.

SUPPORT THE CHURCH

Urging every member of a church to contribute to the church's support is sound emphasis on an essential Christian principle—the duty of the believer to uphold the means of propagating the Gospel. All free-handed men will agree that nobody deserves reprobation more than the skinflint who can give to the church and won't.

—The Continent.

WOLLASTON UNITARIAN.

The Rev. George Browning Spurr, pastor of the Third Congregational Society in Hingham, preached in exchange with Rev. Carl G. Horst Sunday at the morning service of worship. The so-called Old North church in Hingham is unique in having not only the usual gallery found in all old New England meeting houses, but above that a smaller gallery across either corner of the building. These two small galleries were occupied by the slaves in olden times. This is the church where Governor John D. Long attends.

The Ladies' Aid Alliance meets Wednesday, Dec. 31, in the church vestry. Luncheon will be served at one o'clock. The business meeting after the luncheon will be followed by an address on "Peace" by Mrs. Anna Sturges Duryea. This will be the second in the course of luncheons served this season.

The American Unitarian Association and the Allied Societies will keep open house on the afternoon of Jan. 1, from four to six o'clock at 25 Beacon street, Boston. Quite a number from the church are planning to attend.

The first Sunday in January is our communion Sunday.

All who consider the Wollaston Unitarian church their church-home are invited to join its membership.

The annual parish meeting occurs Monday evening Jan. 26.

Remember the daily services at King's Chapel this week at 12 M. lasting thirty minutes.

The Young People's Religious Union holds its regular meeting next Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

Rev. Carl G. Horst attended this morning in Boston, the monthly meeting of The Ministerial Union, at which Prof. George Clarke Cox of the department of philosophy in Dartmouth College, spoke on "Open Air Ethics."

A suggestion for the New Year:

"If word of mine can make a brother's smile the brighter,
If deed of mine can make a brother's load the lighter,
God grant that I may do that act today,
Lest, waiting till tomorrow,
My brother shall have passed away
And mine be greater sorrow."

PARK AND DOWNS.

At the Park and Downs Congregational Church the helpful message given by the pastor Sunday morning was from Psalm XC-12--"So teach us to number our days that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom." He went on to say--"Our life is portioned out to us in days, months and years. For each of us the same division exists. And yet the divisions of themselves mean nothing. They are given to us that we may get the most out of them. And we do this by putting the most into them. To get the most out of the New Year you must learn to value it. If you treat time as something precious you will waste none of it.. You must also value the things time brings to you. Humanity is something you must admire and have faith in. God is someone you must keep a large place in the year for. Many people at the close of the year go back over it with regrets and often try to atone for its mistakes. So at the close of life many prepare to die by trying to blot out most of their life. The better way is to prepare to live, prepare for the New Year and fill each day with deeds of kindness and faith and good will."

The series of lectures which have drawn for the past few weeks a large attendance was resumed Sunday evening. The subject was the first and the second commandments—of Christ; Love to God and Man. Humanity has always puzzled itself over the meaning of Jesus' words. Love to mankind is large heartedness and well wishing. Love to God is large heartedness toward God, a heart open to every good influence that tells of God. Our illustration and outward expression of our love to God is shown in our large heartedness toward mankind. Of all the influences and powers that play upon our common life, this is the greatest and the most permanent.

TENNIS LEAGUE

The standing of the Wollaston Tennis Club bowling league to Dec. 27 is as follows:

Team	Won	Lost	Pin fall
Capt. Litchfield	26	6	10190
Capt. Baker	21	11	10051
Capt. Powers	19	13	9753
Capt. Geddes	18	14	9917
Capt. Green	14	18	9737
Capt. Estes	13	19	9787
Capt. Emery	10	22	9793
Capt. Hoxie	7	25	9444

Highest Average Jenner, 96 23-24.

Highest three strings,—Monroe 321.

Highest single string,—Hoxie 128.

Highest handicap single,—Cranshaw 28 20-24.

Highest handicap three strings,—Oldham 44.

NEW CHIEF RANGER.

Court John Adams, Foresters of America, has elected the following officers, who will be installed Jan. 9:

Chief Ranger—Fred Beer.
Sub Chief—James Conway.
Fin. Sec.—Alexander W. Russell.
Rec. Sec.—Charles Osborne.
Senior Woodward—Robert B. Craig.
Junior Woodward—Henry Allicaon.
Senior Beedle—William Reipke.
Junior Beedle—William McLellan.
Trustee—John Kennedy.
Lecturer—George Clarke.
Physician—Dr. John T. Reynolds.
Pianist—Charles D. Brown.

CARL H. STENZEL.

The funeral of Carl H. Stenzel of 39 Botolph street was held Friday afternoon and burial was at Mt. Hope cemetery, Forest Hills.

Carl H. Stenzel was born in East Prussia, Germany, Dec. 3, 1836. He served in the German Army for several years, coming to the United States in 1865. The last twenty-four years of his life were spent at his late home in Atlantic. He was married May 1, 1864, and if his life had been spared would have celebrated with his wife their golden anniversary, the first day of next May.

For many years he was active in the sugar refinery business in Boston. He retired from active business, however, some few years ago and since then has enjoyed life at his home on Botolph street, interspersed with frequent visits with his daughters who live in New York and New Jersey.

He leaves a wife, four children and three grandchildren, the children being Mrs. B. B. Wetherbee of Nutley, N. J., Mrs. H. W. Shaw of New York, George C. Stenzel of Atlantic and B. H. Stenzel of Los Angeles, Cal., all of whom are well known in Atlantic.

A new bread protected from human hands between our bakery and your table. Ask your grocer for and insist on getting "PETER PARLEY" BREAD.

MOUNTED POLICE TO SEEK VESSEL

Detatchment Will Make Effort to Learn Fate of Karluk

WILL START FROM DAWSON

Details of Trip So Arranged That Immediate Action May Be Made If Stefansson's Expedition Is In Need of Assistance—Party Will Have Hard Trip Over the Mountains

Tacoma, Wash., Dec. 29.—An expedition of royal mounted police will start from Dawson next Friday for Fort McPherson and Herschel island in an effort to learn the fate of the Stefansson Arctic party.

Arrangements have been made for the expedition to touch at points where news may be obtained, and in the event of their learning anything definite they are to hurry back and get into connection with dominion telegraph lines, so that their information may be wired to Ottawa.

All the details of the trip have been so arranged that immediate action may be made in the event of the expedition learning that help is required. Communication will precede the party to the mounted police stations at Herschel island and if they have heard of the Stefansson party they are to proceed to Fort McPherson with their information, so that the Dawson party may turn back and make all haste to get into communication with Ottawa. The Dawson expedition is in charge of Sergeant Dempster, who has made several trips across the Rocky mountains to Herschel island in the winter time, at which period it is considered a most dangerous route.

It will be recalled that three years ago when making the same trip Sergeant Dempster discovered the bodies of the party who attempted the trip led by Sergeant Fitzgerald. They had lost their way in the drifts and died by starvation and cold. Several other parties have been lost in a similar manner on the route which will be taken by the Dawson party.

With Sergeant Dempster will be Corporal Hacking and four Indians, all of whom have crossed the mountains before under like conditions. They will be equipped with dog sleds and, as Hacking and the Indians are expected back from Fort McPherson within ten weeks, they will have thousands of miles of continuous marching through the mountains, which they must cross twice within that brief period. At the outset the party will carry eighteen tons of supplies on the four dog sleds that have been prepared, but most of this will be dropped at emergency supply stations along the route as they enter the mountains.

It is the intention of Dempster to go from Fort McPherson to Rampart House after he has exhausted every effort to find what has become of the Stefansson expedition.

In the event of definite news being obtained regarding the Stefansson party, it is expected that a relief expedition will be started out at once, as there are many whaling men and other seafaring authorities who have been anxious to lead an expedition on the chance of being of aid to the unfortunate party on board the Karluk.

HUERTA TO LEAD ARMY

Report Says He Will Resign Presidency In Short Time

Mexico City, Dec. 29.—That Enrique Gerostieta, minister of justice, will become president of Mexico early in the new year, and that General Huerta will take the field against the rebels who refuse to conform to this arrangement, is the report that has been received with credence by some of the diplomatic representatives here.

Gerostieta is to be named minister of foreign affairs, according to the version of the story in circulation, and General Huerta will retire from the presidency, in which case the foreign minister succeeds him.

Senor Gerostieta is well along in years. He was a lawyer at Monterey, who was brought to the capital to take the portfolio of finance, but instead was appointed minister of justice.

Wounded Mill Girl Will Recover

Manchester, N. H., Dec. 29.—Miss Mary Levesque, the 25-year-old weaver who was shot by William Lamarre in a fit of jealousy as she was working at her frame in the Amoskeag mill, was reported at the Sacred Heart hospital as much improved. The interne at the hospital said that she will recover unless complications set in.

Milk Dealers Plead Not Guilty

Providence, Dec. 29.—Charles T. Briggs, chairman of the Providence branch of the Rhode Island Milk Dealers' association, pleaded not guilty in the district court to the charge of having adulterated milk in his possession with intent to sell. He was held for trial on Jan. 9. Frank De Mundo, a milk dealer, pleaded not guilty to the same charge.

Cabinet Crisis In Servia

Belgrade, Servia, Dec. 29.—Another cabinet crisis is imminent. The war minister resigned owing to the refusal of the cabinet to pass the war budget.

HE SAVED HIS FACE

By DOROTHY BURNS

While amusing myself over some old letters from India, written by my grandfather about half a century ago, I came across one to his mother, in which he announced his engagement and gave an account of how he came to marry:

"You know, my dear mother, that I have always contended that neither clergymen nor soldiers should marry. The first should always be ready to fight the devil under the banner of the cross in any land, however barbarous, and the second to fight the enemies of his country under its flag. And it seemed to me that if a soldier should take a wife she should have about her something of a soldier's nature. I do not mean that she should be expected to march to battle like a man, but that in moments of great danger she should retain her self possession.

"You remember that I came out here the year before the great mutiny and was assigned to the —th Bengal cavalry at Meerut, where it broke out. I saw enough of the terrors a soldier's wife is liable to among the English women, who were obliged to fly for their lives, many of them being butchered and some burned in their houses while their husbands attended to their military duties, to confirm my opinion that a soldier should not be encumbered with a wife, or at least if he has one she should be a marvel of courage.

"A few months ago, dear mother, I was invited to the quarters of Colonel Crocker of the fusiliers. The colonel has been in India twenty years and has a daughter, Cynthia, born just after his arrival here, so that, never having left India, she has never seen England. At my first meeting with this young lady I felt that she was to prove a strong temptation to me to desert my principles. After being constantly at her father's bungalow for three months the first part of my resolution—never to marry so long as I was a soldier—was completely broken down. I was passing an intermediate stage between that resolution and my second—if I did marry while a soldier to mate only with a woman of such remarkable nerve under danger as I had seen among the officers' wives and daughters at the breaking out of the mutiny at Meerut—when an episode happened that broke down all my scruples against marriage.

"I was dining one evening with Colonel Crocker and his family. The colonel sat at one end of the table, Mrs. Crocker at the other, while one of the younger children and Cynthia sat on one side and the other child beside me. A servant was pulling on the punkah; another, an Indian girl, was serving us at dinner. In these days one seldom talked about anything except the adventures of the mutiny, and the colonel, who was at the time it broke out at a cantonment about two miles from Delhi, was telling how he tried to induce the mutinous sepoys of the regiment to which he was attached to remain faithful to their duty when he was interrupted by Cynthia quietly telling the waitress to place a bowl of milk on the floor. The colonel gave over his narration and looked at his daughter anxiously, her mother doing the same. I saw at once that she was moved by some powerful emotion. But she neither moved nor spoke. We all sat waiting while the maid placed the bowl of milk on the floor not far from Cynthia's chair and in a position where I could see it. What was my surprise and horror to see a cobra slowly creep from where Cynthia sat to the bowl.

"The snake had been wound around her leg and uncoiled to get the milk.

"Suddenly Colonel Crocker seized a carving knife from the table and, darting to the snake, with one blow severed it in two parts.

"And now, dear mother, I have come to the other important statement contained in this letter. This brave woman has consented to be my wife. I can keep, at least, my resolution not to marry a woman who is unfitted to be the wife of a soldier. Colonel and Mrs. Crocker have consented, and Cynthia and I are very happy. To crown all, the colonel is to be retired in a few months and will use his influence to have me ordered to England, so that we shall doubtless all sail for home together. Cynthia and I shall not be married till we reach England, and you, dear mother, will be at our wedding."

This is the end of the story as given in my grandfather's letter to my great-grandmother. All turned out satisfactorily. Colonel Crocker was retired as expected and had influence sufficient to secure an order for his intended son-in-law to report at the war office in London about the same time as he himself expected to reach there. So they all went home together, and the wedding was celebrated at Twickenham, where the Crockers took up their residence after their return.

There is a sequel to this story which goes to show that my grandfather had saved his face by not telling the whole of it. The truth is that in the exuberance of youth he had talked very loudly about remaining a celibate so long as he was in the army. When he gave in he must needs have an excuse. He had a very good one, but he did not state the case in full. In another letter giving the same story the writer said that the moment the cobra was killed Cynthia Crocker fell over in a faint.

Try an Advertisement in

The Quincy Daily Ledger

Through the Daily Newspaper the Advertiser can make a local and intimate appeal to his prospective customer in his own community and in his own vernacular.

The Newspaper Advertisement is not buried in the classified. The Newspaper Advertisement of a commodity continually or daily needed is read by the very people whose continual or daily need the Advertiser desires to supply. The Newspaper Advertisement may be seen thirty times a month—it is not limited to one appearance.

Geo. W. Prescott Publishing Company

1424 Hancock Street, -- Quincy, Mass.

STUPENDOUS FIGURE OF GROUP CROWNING TRIUMPHAL ARCH —ARAB WARRIOR FOR "NATION'S OF THE EAST."

Copyright, 1913, by Panama Pacific International Exposition Company.

This photograph shows a part of one of the figures of the sculptural group, "Nations of the East," at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. The group will crown the huge Arch of the Rising Sun in the Court of the Sun and Stars, and the highest figure in the group will rise 188 feet above the floors of the court. Frederick G. R. Roth, the noted animal sculptor, whose work is widely known both in America and abroad, designed the figure above. The entire group, "The Nations of the East," was the conception of A. Stirling Calder. A companion group, "The Nations of the West," depicting Occidental civilization, will balance the "Nations of the East" on the opposite side of the court of the Sun and Stars.

THE BURNING QUESTION.

It seems to us says Truth that the burning question in New England now is not when will the New Haven and the Boston & Maine resume the payment of dividends, but who will be the stockholders of these railroads when the day of dividend-resumption comes.

Where will the stock ownership and control of these great New England properties then rest?

Hundreds of thousands of shares of New Haven and Boston & Maine have changed hands, during the past year.

Who is buying and who is selling?

Sales of the New Haven on the New York stock exchange recently totalled over 150,000 shares, and the sales for the year aggregate nearly 600,000 or over 50,000 more than changed hands in the seventeen years preceding!

These shares, and the tens of thousands of shares of New Haven and Boston & Maine sold on the floor of the Boston Stock Exchange during the past year, have come largely from small stockholders in New England.

Some of the Boston & Maine certificates recently delivered to purchasers in Boston date back nearly half a century, and most of the sales are in ten, twenty-five and fifty share lots.

Truth has charged again and again that the destructive agitation against the New England railroads, fomented and carried on so effectively through political and publicity channels for seven years, was part and parcel of a deliberate purpose to oust New England from control of its railroads.

Nothing in the history or condition of the New Haven or the Boston & Maine railroads warranted the vicious attacks that have been made upon them. This is proven conclusively by the report of Mr. Prouty, who pronounced the New Haven equal to any in the country, both as regards its passenger and freight service; and by the report of President Felton of the Chicago Great Western, who says the Boston & Maine is giving a freight and passenger service far beyond anything yet attempted in the West.

The history of this whole railroad agitation proves that the purpose of the agitators was not to improve railroad conditions in New England, but to undermine public confidence in the New England railroads and scare New England investors in New England railroad securities so that ownership of those securities might be transferred to other hands.

And that is exactly what has happened. When the smoke of battle clears away, and dividends are resumed upon the New Haven and the Boston & Maine, it will be found that the millions of dollars heretofore distributed annually to thousands of small stockholders scattered throughout New England will go to certain wealthy gentlemen in New York, Pennsylvania and other alien communities.

The suspension of the New Haven dividend will undoubtedly be a good thing for the stockholders in the long run, as Mr. Elliott says, but it will not help those who have been scared by that action into sacrificing their holdings.

And let them not delude themselves into the belief that they can sell now and repurchase later at a profit. Not a single share of New Haven or Boston & Maine stock that leaves New England now will ever come back.—Truth

15 to 20

COLUMNS OF LOCAL NEWS

ARE PUBLISHED DAILY

In the Quincy Ledger

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

PRINTS THE NEWS

Quincy Daily Ledger

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30.
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branschied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
Newcomb Square—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. Smith.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck.
L. A. Cook, Washington Street.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington Street.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield Water st.
A. Pierson, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—Capt. Fosdick's.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity. Tuesday promises to be unsettled possibly with snow or rain.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	7.13
Sun sets	4.20
Length of day	9.07
Moon rises	7.32
High water, A. M.	1.00
High water, P. M.	1.30
Days increase 0 hours,	3 minutes
Full Moon, Dec. 13,	10.09 A. M.
Last Quarter, Dec. 20	11.16 A. M.
New Moon, Dec. 27	9.59 A. M.
First Quarter, Dec. 5,	9.59 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today	33 degrees
Dec. 29 1912,	41 degrees
Dec. 29, 1911,	35 degrees

Dec. Noon Maximum 14 years—67
Dec. Noon Minimum, 14 years—2

NEWSY BRIEFS

William S. Sayward, Jr. is home from Vermont Academy, Saxton's River, Vt., for three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace F. Bates and family of Hanover spent the holiday season with Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Bates of Winthrop avenue.

Miss Esther Whitney of Brooklyn, N. Y., was the guest of Miss M. Elizabeth Bates and Mrs. H. H. Albee, Highland avenue last week.

Manet encampment I. O. O. F. will have a members' night tonight. Supper will be served at 7 o'clock followed by an entertainment.

The funeral of James, the two year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Toohey was held from their home, 161 Summer street Saturday afternoon. Burial was in Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

A well attended meeting of the Young Womens Hebrew Association was held Sunday afternoon at the home of Miss Sadie Cohen on Copeland street.

Many members of Clan McGregor, O. S. C., attended the funeral of John Birnie which was held from his home on Phipps street Saturday afternoon. Services were conducted by Rev. J. A. Matheson of the First Presbyterian church. Burial was in Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary E. Stebbins was held this morning from her home, 72 Bromfield street. Services were conducted by Rev. William B. Ayres of the Park and Downs Congregational church. The body was sent to Shrewsbury for burial. A large delegation of lodge members attended the funeral as well as many friends.

Members of the Quincy Womens club are anticipating one of the best meetings of the season tomorrow afternoon at Alpha hall when Miss Alice Barnard Diaz will give a series of folk dances, assisted by club members in folk songs and ushers in costumes of the various countries. It promises to be picturesque and enjoyable.

CHICHESTER S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chichester's Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggists. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER'S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED
Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pennengill's, 1391 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point
Tel. Quincy Mass. 1153 M Nov 3-tf

OPENING GAMES ON TUESDAY

Knights of Columbus Organize a Bowling League

With the opening of the Quincy council, Knights of Columbus league Tuesday night on the City Square alleys another chapter of the bowling story of the year commences. The men on the team are the 20 highest that qualified in the two nights tryouts. They are all amateurs but expect to equal, if not better the showing of other amateur teams now performing. The captains of the teams are Paul Avery, Russell Sullivan, Thomas Fallon and Raymond Coyle.

The make up of the Avery team is Paul Avery, Harry Lavelle, Michael T. Walch, George Gavin and Byron Brown, while Russell Sullivan leads Andrew Driscoll, Alfred J. LaCroix, Edward P. Histon and Benson Myatt.

In the Fallon aggregation are William Mahon, Thomas F. Flaherty, Timothy J. Ford, John T. Caine and Captain Fallon, and associated with Raymond Coyle are Peter M. Sullivan, Henry T. Magee, Joseph A. Keating and Alexander Thompson.

Suitable prizes are offered for the best single, total and best average. The season closes Feb. 24 with a banquet.

The officials of the league are Peter M. Sullivan president, Alexander J. Thompson secretary, and James Powers treasurer. The schedule is:

Dec. 30—Avery vs Sullivan.
Fallon vs Coyle.
Jan. 6—Avery vs Fallon.
Sullivan vs Coyle.
Jan. 8—Avery vs Coyle.
Sullivan vs Fallon.
Jan. 13—Avery vs Sullivan.
Fallon vs Coyle.
Jan. 20—Avery vs Fallon.
Sullivan vs Coyle.
Jan. 22—Avery vs Coyle.
Sullivan vs Fallon.
Jan. 27—Avery vs Sullivan.
Fallon vs Coyle.
Jan. 29—Avery vs Fallon.
Sullivan vs Coyle.
Feb. 3—Avery vs. Coyle.
Sullivan vs Fallon.
Feb. 10—Avery vs Sullivan.
Fallon vs. Coyle.
Feb. 12—Avery vs Fallon.
Sullivan vs Coyle.
Feb. 17—Avery vs. Coyle.
Sullivan vs Fallon.

BASKET BALL SCHEDULE

Will be Arranged at Meeting to be Held This Evening

Tonight the schedule of the N. E. A. A. A. U. will be arranged for the eight teams that have entered the basket ball league and from the appearances both teams of the Quincy A. A. will meet with strenuous competiton this year. Their seven opponents feel fairly certain that the local quintettes will not offer as strong a game as in the past two seasons.

Some of the teams have been unable to secure a court and a month schedule will be arranged tonight. Until all the teams are placed the complete schedule will not be made up.

Quincy although negotiating for several halls in the vicinity of City Square have not yet announced where they will play their games. It is expected that something definite may be stated by Manager Flynn at the meeting.

ANNUAL REUNION.

The eighth annual reunion and Christmas dinner of the Charles F. Bates family was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Albee, Highland avenue last week. The guests were taken to Quincy in autos, where a fine group picture was secured at Nerses. Twenty-five sat down to the Christmas dinner. At 3 P. M., when Santa Claus appeared by auto he was enthusiastically greeted by the ten grandchildren and was assisted in the distribution of gifts. Present at the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Bates, M. Elizabeth Bates of Providence; Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Bates and Helen; Mr. and Mrs. Horace F. Bates, Mary and baby Emily; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Albee, Elizabeth and Virginia; Mr. and Mrs. Carroll E. Bates, Dorothy and Eleanor; Mr. and Mrs. William Gallagher Carolyn and baby William and Mr. and Mrs. Chester E. Tenney and baby Edward. Mr. Amos D. Albee, Miss Isabel Albee and Mr. Richard Harper were present at the Christmas tree.

BOYS MEET AT Y. M. C. A.

Lynn Association Was Easy Winner With Quincy Fourth

Only three of the Quincy boys scored points on Saturday at the State boys' meet of the Y. M. C. A. at Quincy, Ahlstrom in Class A, Peterson in Class B, and Hall in Class C.

The boys were divided into three classes; Class A, 12 to 13 years; Class B, 14 to 15; Class C, 15 and 16. The individual trophies awarded went to the following: Class A. Shipman of Lynn; Class B. Wright of Wakefield; Class C, Lee of Salem.

Lynn scored 60 points, and the nearest competitor was Salem with 26 1-2. The other cities stood as follows: Wakefield, 12; Quincy, 11; Cambridge, 5; Everett, 3; Chelsea, 2 1-2.

The summary follows:

CLASS A

15-Yard Dash—Won by Sanderson of Cambridge; Shipman of Lynn, second; Grey of Lynn, third; Jones of Salem and Abbott of Chelsea, tied for fourth.

Potato Race—Won by Shipman of Lynn; Grey of Lynn, second; Harrington of Everett, third; Abbott of Chelsea, fourth.

Standing Broad Jump—Won by Ahlstrom of Quincy; Jones of Salem, second; Grey of Lynn, third; Cashman of Chelsea, fourth.

CLASS B.

15-Yard Dash—Won by Wright of Wakefield; Littlefield of Lynn, second; Emery of Lynn, third; Schackman of Lynn, fourth.

Potato Race—Won by Chapman of Lynn; Peterson of Quincy, second; Littlefield of Lynn, third; Schackman of Lynn, fourth.

Class C

15-Yard Dash—Won by Mitchell of Lynn; Lee of Salem, second; Johnson of Lynn, third; Hall of Everett, fourth.

Potato Race—Won by Ward of Lynn; Lee of Salem, second; Polansky of Salem, third; Chapman of Lynn, fourth.

Running High Jump—Won by Lee of Salem; Hall of Quincy, second; Clark of Lynn, third; Johnson of Lynn, fourth.

Three Standing Jumps—Won by Lee of Salem; Schackman of Lynn, second; Johnson of Lynn, third; Mitchell of Lynn, fourth.

SPECIAL CLASS.

Running High Jump—Won by North of Wakefield; Lee of Salem, second; Manette of Salem, third.

There were two relay races, one between the Salem and Cambridge teams which was won by Cambridge by about two feet. The Quincy and Lynn race, was a hummer from start to finish as each man was about evenly matched. Quincy won the race by about a stride but the physical director of the Lynn Association protested on account of the fact that a Quincy man had not been tagged correctly. It is customary for the relay men to tag the next runner at or ahead of the finish line, never behind the line. It happened that one of the Quincy runners had started behind the line but had not been touched until he had crossed. Rather than have an argument the Quincy boys defaulted to Lynn. However, ribbons will be given to the Quincy boys as well as to the Lynn athletes as the violation was only a technical one and did not affect the result of the meet.

Quincy made the best time in the relay race, but Mr. LaRose of Quincy said one of his men had been tagged back of the line and forfeited the win to Lynn. The sportsmanship of Quincy met with warm approval. In the second relay race, Cambridge beat Salem.

The officials of the meet were: Starter, H. H. Buxton of Lynn; judges at finish, P. J. Bradley of Salem, J. N. Fabyan of Clapp Memorial Institute of East Weymouth, F. Taft of Cambridge and A. N. Murray of Chelsea; judges of field events, W. Ellis of Everett, Charles Parker, John Melville and David Morris of Quincy; scorer, Alden Blanchard of Quincy; clerk of course, Louis F. La Rose of Quincy.

A running high jump contest was held after the regular meet for boys of 18. This was won by North of Wakefield, who made 5 ft. 3 in. In the running high jump in Class C. Lee of Salem did 5 ft. 2 in. In the running broad jump in Class B. Clark of Lynn won with 17 ft. 3 1-4 in. In the standing broad jump for Class A. Ahlstrom made the best distance, 7 ft. 6 3-4 in.

☞PRATT'S BREAD is wholesome, nutritious, crisp and delicious. Get it of your grocer.

WEDS HOUSEKEEPER

South Norwalk Man Surprises Friends by Marriage Announcement

South Norwalk, Conn., Dec. 29.—Announcement of the marriage of Warren E. Smith, connected with the Spanish Linen Suit company, and Miss Grace Alger, a beautiful young woman, surprised a large circle of friends of the two. Smith but one month ago had obtained a decree of divorce from his first wife after a long period of separation.

Miss Alger was Smith's housekeeper. Her name was mentioned during the trial of the divorce action, and Mrs. Smith in a counter action against Smith declared he had been extremely attentive to the pretty housekeeper. She went so far as to get her attorneys to introduce in the case a letter alleged to have been written by Smith to Miss Alger. In this missive Smith is alleged to have addressed Miss Alger as "little girl."

BOSWORTH MUST HANG

Murderer's Petition to Court Refused and Governor Won't Interfere

Montpelier, Vt., Dec. 29.—Attorneys for Arthur Bosworth, sentenced to be hanged at the state prison next Friday morning for the murder of Mae Labelle, appeared before Supreme Court Justice John H. Watson of this city with a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, seeking a stay of execution so that their claims that the constitutional rights of their client have been violated might be heard.

Justice Watson announced after the attorneys had presented their case that he saw no merit in the petition and refused to sign it.

Governor Allen M. Fletcher has declined to interfere with the carrying out of the sentence.

Bosworth will be the last murderer hanged in Vermont, and hereafter the electric chair will be employed.

ALLIANCE DENIES MOYER SHOOTING

President of Miners' Federation Shot and Driven From Town

Calumet, Mich., Dec. 29.—Leaders in the Citizens' alliance here denied the charges made by Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, that the alliance was responsible for a band breaking into his room in the Scott hotel, at Houghton, Friday night, beating and shooting him and then driving him out of town. The grand jury will take up the charges.

The authorities have suppressed a Socialist paper in Hancock which espoused the cause of the striking miners, and have served warrants on the business manager and other employes, in which they are charged with "conspiracy to publish misstatements calculated to incite riot." The complaints were made by Sheriff Cruse after the newspaper published charges of grave misconduct against some deputy sheriffs and others who were at the scene of the fire panic, Italian hall.

WIFE KILLS HUSBAND

Maine Woman Then Turns Revolver Upon Herself

Lewiston, Me., Dec. 29.—A tragedy at Snow Falls became known, when Mrs. Otto Kokonan, who is alleged to have shot and fatally wounded her husband at that place was brought to a hospital here in a critical condition.

Holding her year-old baby boy in her arms, Mrs. Kokonan, the authorities charge, fired at her husband and then sent a bullet into her own body. Kokonan died a few hours later. At the hospital it was said she had an even chance for recovery.

The young couple came to Maine from Finland a few years ago. Jealousy is said to have led to the shooting.

MAY BLOW UP WRECK

Hull of Five-Masted Schooner Menace to Navigation

Newburyport, Mass., Dec. 29.—The government life savers notified Boston officials of the menace to navigation of the wreck of the five-masted schooner Samuel J. Goucher, which was deposited by the last storm on top of the north jetty at the mouth of the Merrimac river.

The wreck threatens at any minute to leave her position, and as she floats just awash the waves she would prove a grave danger to shipping if she goes adrift again. It is probable a revenue cutter will blow her up.

Convict Heir to $5000

Berlin, Dec. 29.—A German convict who is serving a long sentence in the prison of St. Jacob, at St. Gall, for burglary, has just been left $5000 by the will of a relation, and is naturally overjoyed. He wants to spend the money while in prison, and give his fellow prisoners and the wardens a good time.

Miss Wheeler Still Unconscious

Worcester, Mass., Dec. 29.—Miss Anna Wheeler, 15-year-old daughter of Dr. Charles Wheeler, who was injured on Christmas day as the result of a crash between an electric car and the auto in which she and her sister were riding, is still unconscious in the city hospital. There is little hope of her recovery.

THOUSANDS IN FUNERAL LINE

Striking Calumet Copper Miners Bury Their Dead

THIRTY-NINE WHITE COFFINS

Heartrending Scenes as Fifty-Nine Caskets Are Borne Through Streets—Supply of Hearses Inadequate and Many Coffins Were Carried to Cemetery on Shoulders of Miners

Calumet, Mich., Dec. 29.—The Western Federation of Miners has buried its dead.

Fifty-nine bodies, including those of forty-four children, were carried through the streets, down a winding country highway and laid in graves in a snow-shrouded cemetery within sight of Lake Superior.

Thousands of saddened miners formed the escort of the funeral parties and passed between other thousands, who, as spectators, testified to the grief that has oppressed the community since seventy-two men, women and children were killed in the Christmas panic in Italian hall.

For hours the Sabbath calm was broken by the tolling of bells and the sound of voices intoning burial chants. There were services in six churches.

Delegation of strikers began coming into Calumet early in the day. A special train brought hundreds of federationists from the iron mines of Negaunee and Ishpeming, and every town and mining location in the copper country sent members and friends of the union to swell the ranks of the marchers in the afternoon.

By noon the union host was assembled. Months of experience in demonstrating their numbers by parading had taught the men to form ranks quickly, and with little delay they lined up four abreast.

The supply of hearses was inadequate and there were only fourteen of these vehicles in the van. Then came three undertakers' wagons and an automobile truck, the latter carrying three coffins. These vehicles contained the adult victims and the older children.

Beside one marched eight women, who acted as bearers for a member of the women's auxiliary of the western federation.

It was this woman's organization which was distributing gifts of candy, shoes, caps and mittens to the children of strikers when the panic broke out.

Behind the hearse came a section of the procession which brought tears and sobs from onlookers.

Thirty-nine white coffins, their size testifying to the short life of the little forms within, were carried by relays of strikers.

Four men bore each coffin, and as their arms grew weary or feet stumbled on the slippery roadway, companions relieved them of their burden.

Persons drawn to Calumet solely by the curiosity of the spectator became mourners as this contingent passed them. Men turned away to brush tears from their cheeks.

ARRESTED UNDER MANN ACT

Chicago Mine Promoter Accused of White Slavery

Chicago, Dec. 29.—Donald Scott, a mining promoter, was arrested at the home of his mother here, charged with violating the Mann federal white slave act. Miss Laura Leon, said to be the daughter of a ranch owner of Mexico, was detained as a witness.

Scott admitted he escorted the young woman from Mexico in the flight of nearly all foreigners from that country. She has been the guest of his mother here since reaching Chicago.

The arrest was made on the complaint of Mrs. Dolores Scott his wife, from whom he separated three years ago.

PORTSMOUTH TIMES BURNED

Loss Will Reach $10,000 but Paper Will Continue Publication

Portsmouth, N. H., Dec. 29.—The plant of the Portsmouth Times was damaged by a fire which started in the boiler room in the basement and spread up through the four-story brick building.

The Times block is located in the heart of the business district, and for a time it was feared that the flames might spread to adjoining structures. Cold hampered the firemen considerably.

The loss probably will not exceed $10,000 and will not intertere with the publication of the newspaper.

Spencer, Woman Slayer, Must Hang

Chicago, Dec. 29.—Judge Slusher, in the circuit court at Wheaton, Ills., refused to grant a rehearing on a motion for a new trial for Henry Spencer, confessed murderer of Mrs. Mildred A. Rexcroat, a dancing teacher. Spencer is sentenced to be hanged on Jan. 16.

Argentine Wheat Free

Washington, Dec. 29.—Dr. Romulus Naon, Argentine minister to the United States, notified the state and treasury departments that his country had just passed a law which would allow free importation of wheat and wheat products from Argentina.

ARE YOUR KIDNEYS WELL?

Many Quincy People Know the Importance of Healthy Kidneys.

The kidneys filter the blood.
They work night and day.
Well kidneys remove impurities.
Weak kidneys allow impurities to multiply.
No kidney ills should be neglected.
There is possible danger in delay.
If you have backache or urinary troubles,
If you are nervous, dizzy or worn out,
Begin treating your kidneys at once;
Use a proven kidney remedy.
None endorsed like Doan's Kidney Pills.
Recommended by thousands.
Proved by Quincy testimony.

Mrs. George Atkinson, 80 Main street, Quincy, Mass., says: "One of my family had trouble from weak Kidneys, caused by his work. He also suffered from backache. He used six boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and they cured him. He don't complain at all now. We give all the credit for this cure to Doan's Kidney Pills. We keep a supply in the house all the time."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name Doan's— and take no other.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE.

Pursuant to the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Columbus S. French to the Wildey Savings Bank, dated July 23, 1903 and recorded in Norfolk Deeds book 953 page 527, will be sold at public auction on the premises described in said mortgage for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same on Thursday Jan. 8, 1914 at 9.30 o'clock in the forenoon all and singular the real estate described in said deed, a certain lot of land containing 6,000 square feet of land with the buildings thereon situated in Quincy Mass., and being lot No. 20 on a plan of House Lots on Cranch Hill by H. T. Whitman surveyor dated Jan. 20, 1897 and recorded with said registry book 777, page 538. Said lot is bounded as follows to wit:— northeasterly on Whitwell street sixty feet; southeasterly on lot No. 21 on said plan one hundred feet; southwesterly on lots No. 49 and No. 50 on said plan sixty feet; northwesterly on lot No. 19 on said plan one hundred feet. Said premises will be sold subject to any existing restrictions, unpaid taxes and tax sales, if any.

WILDEY SAVINGS BANK.
Mortgagee.
Boston, Dec. 13, 1913.
Dec. 15-3t 15-22-29

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

In effect Nov. 16, 1913

The letters in the same line as the figures below stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows.

a Wollaston	f Harrison Square
b Norfolk Downs	g Savin Hill
c Atlantic	h Cre[illegible] Avenue
d Neponset	i South Boston
e Pope's Hill	r Quincy Adams
* Saturdays Only	† Except Saturday

Exp.—Express train.

TO BOSTON			FROM BOSTON
Leave	Stop	Arrive	Leave	Stop	Arrive
r 5 14	abcdefghi	5 41	5 44	ihgfedcba	6 14 r
r 6 19	abcd	6 40	6 09	ihgfedcba	6 39 r
r 6 32	e	6 49	6 29	a	6 47
			6 47	Exp	7 04
r 6 40	abcf	7 00	7 14	hgfedcba	7 41 r
r 7 08	abcd	7 30	7 34	a	7 52
7 28	a	7 46	7 37	a	7 56
r 7 32	Exp	7 49	7 44	c	8 03 r
r 7 42	ab	8 00	8 34	cba	8 55 r
7 55	a	8 12	8 44	b	9 02
r 8 13	abc	8 32	9 09	fedba	9 32 r
8 24	a	8 41	9 44	a	10 01 r
r 8 33	a	8 59	10 14	ihgfedcba	10 41 r
r 8 59	ad	9 16	10 54	Exp	11 10
r 9 18	abc	9 39	11 14	hgfedcba	11 41 r
r 10 04	a	10 21	11 49	a	12 07
r 10 19	abcdefghi	10 45	12 14	hgfedcba	12 41 r
11 12	a	11 28	12 20	a	12 38
11 24	abcdefgh	11 50	12 30	Exp	1 06
12 04	a	12 20	1 16	fedcba	1 40 r
			* 1 32	a	1 50
r 12 27	abcdefghi	12 53	1 44	a	2 01
r 1 16	a	1 34	2 14	fedcba	2 37 r
2 04	a	2 20	2 34	Exp	2 50
r 2 19	abcdefgh	2 45	3 14	hgfedcba	3 40 r
r 3 13	Exp	3 28	3 44	a	4 02
4 01	a	4 20	4 12	fedcba	4 35 r
r 4 26	abcdefgh	4 53	4 15	a	4 32
5 12	a	5 19	4 40	c	4 58
r 5 30	abcdefg	5 55	4 55	a	5 11
6 04	a	6 21	5 13	a	5 32
6 12	ab	6 32	5 19	hgfcca	5 43
6 57	a	7 15	5 28	ba	5 46 r
r 7 22	Exp	7 39	5 40		5 57
7 29	ab	7 48	5 58	a	6 17 r
r 8 19	abcdef	8 32	6 01	fedcb	6 24
9 00	a	9 18	6 16	a	6 35
r 9 10	abc	9 29	6 30	ecba	6 52 r
* 9 17	Exp.	9 32	6 59	fedcba	7 24 r
r 10 02	abcdef	10 30	7 11	a	7 28
* 10 19	a	10 37	8 04	fedcba	8 28 r
11 13	a	11 30	* 8 19	Exp	8 35
r 11 30	abcd	11 50	9 19	a	9 37
			9 34	b	9 53 r
			10 05	ba	10 24
			10 34	fedcba	11 02 r
			* 11 06	a	11 25 r
			† 11 09	fedcba	11 35 r
			* 11 25	ba	11 43 r
			† 11 29	ba	11 49
			12 05	cba	12 26 r

SUNDAYS

r 7 43	abc	8 03	6 29	b a	6 48
8 30	Exp	8 45	8 34	cba	8 55
r 8 46	abcdefghi	9 13	10 39	cba	10 59 r
r 9 13	abc	9 33	12 14	ihgfedcba	12 42
9 31	a	9 47	12 44	Exp	1 01
10 25	ac	10 42	1 29	ihgfedcba	1 57 r
11 08	Exp	11 25	2 14	hgfedcba	2 42 r
r 11 18	abcdefghi	11 43	2 44	a	3 02
1 04	a	1 23	3 14	ihgfedcba	3 42 r
r 1 18	abcdefgh	1 46	4 26	cba	4 43 r
r 3 10	abc	3 30	5 14	ihgfedcba	5 42 r
r 4 16	abcdefghi	4 43	6 09	Exp	6 25
4 59	ab	5 16	6 14	ihgfedcba	6 42 r
5 16		5 23	7 02	cba	7 22 r
6 18	abcdefghi	6 43	8 14	ihgfedcba	8 41 r
7 21	Exp	7 36	8 39	a	8 56 r
7 29	abcdefghi	7 55	8 49	Exp	9 05
r 8 16	abcdefghi	8 43	9 29	ihgfedcba	9 57 r
9 46	a	10 04	10 44	cba	11 04 r
10 46	abc	11 05

CHOICE ARTICLES

FROM THE

PHILIPPINES

LUCBON HATS—Very best grade of the famous Panamas and Bankoks made. Absolutely none better, woven under water by hand. Can be crushed into a ball and not lose shape. Made for both Ladies and Gentlemen. $5 and $10.

ROMBLON MATS—Handsomest and most durable Grass Mats or Rugs made in the world. Beautiful colors and designs, large enough to cover one-half floor of rooms. $5.

MANILA CIGARS—$3 for a trial box of the Very Best Cigars made in the Philippines.

Oriente Cigarrettes—Best made, large package containing 25 small packages, 750 Cigarrettes, $2.

Sent by registered mail, free of duties, on receipt of price.

C. A. SHORT & CO.,
Lucena, Tay, P. I.
Oct 4 1.&O 3m

QUINCY REGISTRY FOR NURSES

20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.

Will supply trained and practical nurses, attendants and nursery assistants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.

MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar,
Tel. Quincy 131-W.

Bay State Street Railway Company

TIME TABLE

In effect April 8, 1913.

(Subject to change without notice.

Leave QUINCY for

Braintree, 6.15, 6.50 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Braintree, 6.25 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.25 P. M. Sundays, 7.55 A. M. and then same as week days.

Brockton, 6.15, 6.50 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Brockton 6.20, 7 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 9.30 P. M. Sundays, 8 A. M. then same as week days.

West Quincy, and East Milton, 5.30 5.50, 6.10 A. M., and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M.) Sundays, 6.50 A. M. then same as week days. Return leave East Milton, 5.55, 6.15, 6.45 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.45 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.10 midnight.) Sundays, 7.25 A. M., then same as week days.

East Weymouth, 6.00, 6.15, 6.35, 7.05, 7.35 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.05 P. M. then 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.35 A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave East Weymouth, 5.50, 6.15, 6.45, 7.00, 7.10, 7.45, A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.45 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M. then same as week days.

Houghs Neck, 5.15, 5.35, 6.10, 6.40, 7.10, 7.40, A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. then 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 6.50, 7.40 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. Return leave Houghs Neck, 5.40, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 7.30, 8.00, 8.30, 9.05 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.35 P. M. then 12.10 midnight. Sundays, 7.20, 8.05, 8.35, 9.05 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.35 P. M.

Neponset via Hancock Street, 5.45 6.20, 6.50 A. M. and every 30 min. to 10.50 P. M. then 12.50 midnight. Sundays, 6.50 A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 6.40 7.10, 7.40 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. then 12.35 midnight. Sundays, 7.40 A. M. then same as week days.

Neponset via Wollaston— 6.03, 6.33, 7.03 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.03 P. M. then 11.20, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.03 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 6.25, 6.55, 7.25, A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.25 P. M. then 11.42 P. M. and 12.12 midnight. Sundays, 7.25 A. M. then same as week days.

Neponset, via Norfolk Downs, 6.25, 6.55, 7.25, 8, 8.30 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11 P. M.) Sundays, 7.30 A. M. then the same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 7, 7.30 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.30 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.30 P. M.) Sundays, 8 A. M. then same as week days.

Weymouth Landing, 5.20, 6.00, 6.30 6.55, 7.25 7.55 A. M. then every 30 minutes, until and including 10.55 P. M. Sundays, 7.25, A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave Weymouth Landing, 5.45, 6.15, 6.40, 7.10 7.45 A. M. then every 30 minutes until and including 11.15 P. M. Sundays 7.45 A. M. then same as week days.

Leave NEPONSET for

Squantum, 6.25, 6.55, 7.25, 7.55, 8.25, 9.35, A. M. every 60 minutes to 4.35 P. M. then 4.55, 5.25, 5.55, 6.25, 7.35, 8.35, 9.35, 10.35 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.30, P. M. Sundays, 7.35, A. M. every 60 minutes to 10.35 P. M. Return, leave Squantum, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 7.30, 8.00, 8.30, 9.00 A. M. every 60 minutes to 5.00 P. M. then 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.15, 8.00 A. M ..ery 60 minutes to 11.00 P. M.

THOMAS GAMMON,
Superintendent.

WITHIN THE LAW

By MARVIN DANA
FROM THE PLAY OF
BAYARD VEILLER

Copyright, 1913, by the H. K. Fly company.

SYNOPSIS

Mary Turner, a department store clerk, is sentenced to prison for three years for a theft she did not commit.

Edward Gilder, owner of the department store, consents to see Mary before she goes to prison, expecting her to confess.

Mary protests her innocence to Gilder and begs him to pay better wages to his clerks to save them from temptation.

After three years in prison Mary is free, but the police prevent her holding positions. She jumps into the river to end her life, but is rescued by Joe Garson, a forger.

Mary forms a partnership with Garson and his gang, by which they collect rich victims in a legal manner, keeping "within the law."

Mary is warned by the police to leave town after she has formed the acquaintance of Edward Gilder, her former employer's son.

Helen Morris, the girl who had committed the theft for which Mary was imprisoned, sees Mary and confesses her guilt.

Mary marries Dick Gilder without his father's knowledge and then refuses to sail for Europe with him.

Joe Garson, against Mary's protest, agrees with Eddie Griggs, another crook, to help commit a burglary in Gilder's home.

Edward Gilder sees his son's bride and tries to induce her to give up her husband. Dick refuses to leave her even when she tells him she is an ex-convict.

Inspector Burke calls on Gilder and tells him that a burglary at his home that night has been arranged through Griggs, a stool pigeon, to trap Mary Turner and her gang.

Carson and his gang break into Gilder's home and are followed by Mary, who is told of the proposed burglary. While they are there Dick returns home.

Carson learns that Griggs had helped put up the job on him, and he kills Griggs with a noiseless revolver. Inspector Burke arrives, finding only Mary and Dick with Griggs' body.

Mary and Dick are arrested after Mary says Dick killed Griggs, a burglar. Other members of the gang are arrested and "sweated" by Burke.

Inspector Burke has interviews with Aggie Lynch, a member of Mary's gang, and Mary, in which he gets little information.

Joe Garson, who has been arrested, is taken to Burke's office, from where he sees his pals taken to cells. The sight unsets his nerves.

(Continued from last issue.)

"Hello, Aggie," the detective remarked, with a smirk, while the inspector stared from one to the other and his jaw dropped from the stark surprise.

The girl returned deliberately to the chair she had occupied through the interview with the inspector and dropped into it weakly. It was after a minute of silence, in which the two men sat staring, that at last she spoke with a savage wrath against the pit into which she had fallen after her arduous efforts.

"Ain't that the —est luck!"

"Cassidy, do you know this woman?" asked Burke.

"Sure I do!" came the placid answer. "She's little Aggie Lynch—con woman, from Buffalo—two years for blackmail—did her time at Burnsing."

For a little time there was silence, the while Burke sat staring at the averted face of the girl. Then he set his features grimly, rose from his chair and walked to position directly in the front of the girl, who still refused to look in his direction.

"On the level, now," the inspector demanded, "when did you see Mary Turner last?"

"Early this morning. We slept together last night because I had the willies. She blew the joint about half past 10."

"On the level, when did you see Mary Turner last?"

"What's the use of your lying to me?"

"So help me," Aggie continued with the utmost solemnity, "Mary never left the house all night. I'd swear that's the truth on a pile of Bibles a mile high!"

"Have to be higher than that. Mary Turner was arrested just after midnight. Young woman, you'd better tell all you know."

"I don't know a thing!" Aggie retorted.

Burke drew the pistol from his pocket and extended it toward the girl.

"How long has she owned this gun?" he said threateningly.

"She didn't own it."

"Oh, then it's Garson's!"

"I don't know whose it is," Aggie replied. "I never laid eyes on it till now."

"English Eddie was killed with this gun last night. Now, who did it? Come on, now! Who did it?"

"How should I know? What do you think I am—a fortune teller?"

"Now, Aggie Lynch, you listen to me. Tell me what you know, and I'll see you make a clean getaway, and I'll slip you a nice little piece of money too. Now, what do you say?"

"I say you're a great big stiff! What do you think I am?" Aggie wheeled on the detective. "Say, take me out of here. I'd rather be in the cooler than here with him!"

CHAPTER XVII.

The Trap That Failed.

As the scornful maiden went out of the door under the escort of Cassidy, Burke bowed gallantly to her lithe back and blew a kiss from his thick finger tips in mocking reverence for her as an artist in her way. Then when he learned that Edward Gilder had arrived he ordered that the magnate and the district attorney be admitted and that the son also be sent up from his cell.

"It's a bad business, sir," Burke said with hearty sympathy to the shaken father after the formal greetings that followed the entrance of the two men. "It's a very bad business."

"What does he say?" Gilder questioned.

"Nothing!" Burke answered. "That is why I sent for you. I suppose Mr. Demarest has made the situation plain to you."

"Yes, he has explained it to me. It's a terrible position for my boy. But you'll release him at once, won't you?"

"I can't," Burke replied reluctantly, but bluntly. "You ought not to expect it, Mr. Gilder."

"Inspector," the magnate cried brokenly, "you—don't mean"—

"I mean, Mr. Gilder, that you've got to make him talk. That's what I want you to do for all our sakes. Will you?"

"I'll do my best," the unhappy man replied.

A minute later Dick, in charge of an officer, was brought into the room. He was pale, a little disheveled from his hours in a cell.

The father went forward quickly and caught Dick's hands in a mighty grip.

"My boy!" he murmured huskily. Then he made a great effort and controlled his emotion to some extent. "The inspector tells me," he went on, "that you've refused to talk—to answer his questions.

"That wasn't wise under the circumstances," the father remonstrated hurriedly. "However, now, Demarest and I are here to protect your interests, so that you can talk freely. Now, Dick, tell us! Who killed that man? We must know. Tell me."

Demarest went a step toward the young man. "Dick, I don't want to frighten you, but your position is really dangerous. Your only chance is to speak with perfect frankness. I pledge you my word I'm telling the truth, Dick, my boy, I want you to forget that I'm the district attorney and remember only that I'm an old friend of yours and of your father's who is trying very hard to help you. Surely you can trust me. Now, Dick, tell me: Who shot Griggs?"

"I shot Griggs," said the young man.

Demarest realized that his plea had failed, but he made an effort to take the admission at its face value.

"Why?" he demanded.

"Because I thought he was a burglar."

"Oh, I see!" he said, in a tone of conviction. "Now, let's go back a little. Burke says you told him last night that you had persuaded your wife to come over to the house and join you there. Is that right?"

"Yes."

"Now, tell me, Dick, just what did happen, won't you?"

There was no reply, and, after a little interval, the lawyer resumed his questioning.

"Did this burglar come into the room?"

Dick nodded an assent.

"And he attacked you?"

There came another nod of affirmation.

"And there was a struggle?"

"Yes."

"And you shot him?"

"Yes."

"Then, where did you get the revolver?"

Dick started to answer without thought:

"Why, I grabbed it"— Then, the significance of this crashed on his consciousness, and he checked the words trembling on his lips. "So," he said with swift hostility in his voice, "so, you're trying to trap me, too! You! And you talk of friendship. I want none of such friendship."

But Burke would be no longer restrained.

(To be Continued.)

CAUSTIC CRITICS.

When Poet Clashes With Poet Then Comes a War of Wit.

Tennyson has been severely handled by his fellow writers. Bulwer-Lytton killed three birds with a stone when he spoke of Tennyson's

Jingling medley of purloined conceits,
Out-babying Wordsworth and out-glittering Keats.

George Meredith said of the "Holy Grail" that "the lines are satin lengths, the figures Sevres china. Why, this stuff is not the muse—it's musery. The man has got hold of the muse's clothesline and hangs it with jewelry." The "Idylls of the King" are "yards of linen drapery for the delight of ladies."

But, then, Tennyson once said of Meredith that reading him was like wading through glue. And if Meredith called Matthew Arnold "a dandy Isaiah," George Moore has set it down that "in George Meredith there is nothing but crackjaw sentences, empty and unpleasant in the mouth as sterile nuts," not a particularly happy bit of style in itself.

Of Carlyle's "French Revolution" Hallam said, "The style is so abominable I could not get on with it," and of Hallam's "European History" Carlyle remarked, "Eh! The poor, miserable skeleton of a book."—New York Post.

SAWDUST HAS MANY USES.

Once Considered Waste, It Is Now a Very Valuable Product.

The sawdust man in New York is a very important business man. The wholesale sawdust dealer advertises all kinds of sawdust and requests that you will telephone your needs so that there may be an early delivery.

It used to be that any one who wanted sawdust went to the sawmill and asked for as much as he wanted. There was only one kind of sawdust in the good old days and that was an unimportant product, which anybody could have for the asking. Now the sawdust wholesaler will tell you that sawdust is a very valuable product and that the sawdust business is offering greater opportunities.

There are about sixty kinds of sawdust on the market, so says the sawdust expert, and all of them have their stated uses in the realm of trade.

All the way from the preparation of food to the polishing of precious metal ranges the usefulness of sawdust. The hardwood dusts are used for polishing in some jewelers' shops and cheaper sawdusts are used for polishing less valuable metal work. In packing and making cushions, for the covering of floors and in the fur business, sawdust is useful.—New York Herald.

Legend of Buckingham Palace.

If William IV. had gained his way Buckingham palace would be serving as parliament house. Two days after the old houses of parliament were burned Lord Broughton, who was then first commissioner of works, records in his diary: "Went to St. James' and saw his majesty. I cannot say he was much affected by the calamity, rather the reverse. He seemed delighted at having an opportunity of getting rid of Buckingham palace, said he meant it as a permanent gift for parliament and that it would be the finest thing in Europe. At 3 o'clock the king and queen went over the ruins. The king looked gratified as if at a show. Just before getting into his carriage he called the speaker and me to him and said: 'Mind, I mean Buckingham palace as a permanent gift. Mind that.'"—London Chronicle.

From Bad to Worse.

Hemmandhaw's face wore a worried look.

"I'm in trouble," he said. "I don't seem to be able to get up early in the morning."

"Why don't you get yourself a nice little alarm clock?" the head bookkeeper suggested.

"I did, but I didn't hear the thing when it went off."

"Then why don't you get a big one?"

"I did that, too, and it made me lose too much time."

"Made you lose time?"

"Yes. It rang so loudly that it awakened the man in the next room, and he beat me to the washroom."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Why Do They Do This?

Miss Prim (who is forty-one)—Yes, I was thirty only last week. Think of it! The caller (aged thirty-seven, with a charming insincerity)—Dear me! I couldn't have guessed you were more than four years my senior. I will be twenty-five next month. — Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Life's Fitful Fever.

"Terrible times these. The books aren't fit to read, and the plays aren't fit to see."

"Tough, eh?"

"Yes, and, as usual, my wife hasn't a thing fit to wear."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Appropriate.

Fair Worshiper—What is that sad, sad air you're playing, professor? The Professor—Dat iss Beethoven's "Farewell to the Piano." I see dose installment people coming mit der van.—Puck.

Frequently the Way.

"It seems to me that he made a very sound argument."

"Yes, and did you notice he made very little noise about it?"—Chicago Record Herald.

If you would learn the value of money go and try to borrow some, for he that goes a-borrowing goes a-sorrowing. Benjamin Franklin.

UNITED STATES ENGLISH.

They Think Abroad We Are Forming a New Language Here.

Unless ther are fairly conversant with current transatlantic fiction, and, above all, with the newspapers of today, Englishmen do not realize that a new language seems in process of formation in the United States. A Danish savant, the professor of languages at the Copenhagen university, has predicted that in a few centuries "they will be speaking American over in England instead of English." He is also of the opinion that "the so called slang of the present American tongue is far more poetical, picturesque and serviceable than the English of Shakespeare's time."

Making allowance for a certain exaggeration, this expression of opinion is notable as showing that an expert believes a new American "language" to be in course of development. American slang is certainly more forceful and expressive than the argot of the British Isles, and, although much of it is quite unnecessary, it consists in large part of the employment of very up to date metaphor, rather than the use of "cant phrases," as they were termed in the eighteenth century.

In fact, the use of metaphor is so pronounced that an Englishman, otherwise ignorant of "good United States lingo" might understand much of it if he were conversant with the technical terms employed in engineering or railway operations. It is creeping into English rather rapidly, a fact heartily to be deplored.—London Globe.

SWEET POTATOES IN JAPAN.

One of the Three Things There Native Women Really Love.

The sweet potato seems to have emigrated from China via the Loo Choo islands to Japan. Nearly two centuries ago Aoki Konyo recommended to the shogun the cultivation of the sweet potato all over the empire. In grateful memory of the benefactor there now stands over Aoki's grave a monument with this unique inscription, "The potato professor."

One of the distinguishing features of Tokyo is the sweet potato bakeries, where, during the colder months, hot potatoes prove a godsend to many. Around these potato shops the poorer children crowd with their coppers, anxious for the morsel which is to them what milk chocolate is to children of the west. Rumor has it that there are but three things the Japanese woman really loves—pumpkin, theater going and sweet potato.

At present there are more than 1,000 potato ovens in Tokyo, and the sale of roast potatoes annually totals more than 1,000,000 yen. In no country in the world can the poor people get pure, wholesome food more conveniently and economically than in Japan. Whether one gets a box of rice with pickles and dry fish in a station or a pot of tea for 2½ cents on the train, it is always clean and attractively served.—Detroit News Tribune.

Real Founders of Russian Music.

The old saying that a man must devote his whole life to one thing to become really great finds a curious exception in the founders of the new Russian music. The most brilliant men in this work all originally followed other lines. Tschaikowsky was a lawyer; Caesar Cui was professor of fortifications in the Military Academy of St. Petersburg and is today lieutenant general of Russian engineers; Borodine was a physician; Rimsky-Korsakov was an officer in the Russian navy; Balakieff was a timber merchant; Moussorgsky was a soldier, being an officer in one of the most famous regiments, and Sokalsky was in the diplomatic service, being stationed for several years in New York and afterward becoming editor of the principal newspaper of Odessa.—Ladies' Home Journal.

The Skepticism of Posterity.

There is one very large, very sad and very certain truth about all the relations of past and future. That truth is this—the future will not believe us. It will not believe our most solemn and profound assertions. It will rationalize them or ridicule them. In one way or another it will explain them away, for that is the most certain thing about the attitude of men toward their remote ancestors. They will believe the testimony of material things or of their own conjectures, but never the sworn word of their fathers. Were it not so there would be no room for historical criticism or perhaps for history as a science at all.—Hillaire Belloc in Pall Mall Magazine.

Senseless Question.

Briggs had hired a horse to take a little exercise. He got more exercise than he wanted, and as he limped to the side of the road to rest himself a kind friend asked him:

"What did you come down so quick for?"

"What did I come down so quick for? Do you see anything up in the air for me to hold on to?" he asked grimly.—Chicago News.

Embarrassing.

"Do you ever see the president?" asked Willie of his uncle, who lived in Washington.

"Yes; nearly every day," was the reply.

"And does he ever see you?" queried the little fellow.—Chicago News.

Milk and the Teeth.

Milk, because it contains so much lime, is one of the best foods for the teeth, which often decay for the lack of lime.

Advertisers Ask Only A Fair Trial

By HOLLAND.

ADVERTISERS do not attempt to make you agree to buy their goods for the rest of your life. They only want you to give their wares a trial, to subject them to actual test by actual use, and then be guided by experience.

Could anything prove more clearly that the advertiser has supreme confidence in his product, that he is absolutely certain that it will please you, that it will be all he says it is?

It would indeed be foolish to spend money to induce you to buy an article that would prove unsatisfactory and would result in your telling friends and neighbors of your experience. Advertisers spend millions making their trademarks known, and in order to make their trademarks valuable they must stand for a certain standard of worth. Having made their trademarks known, manufacturers exert every effort to keep the goods up to the expected high grade.

YOU CAN'T GO WRONG IN FOLLOWING ADVERTISEMENTS.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Arthur H. Rogers, late of Quincy (Atlantic) in said County, deceased, intestate:
Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to Ethel E. Rogers of Quincy, without giving a surety on her bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the fourteenth day of January A. D. 1914, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.
Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this tenth day of December, A. D. 1913.
JOHN D. COBB, Register.
Dec. 15-3t 15-22-29

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Ann Riley late of Quincy in said County deceased, intestate:
Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to Henry Riley of said Quincy without giving a surety on his bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probat Court to be held at Dedham in said County of Norfolk, on the seventh day of January A. D. 1914, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.
Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twentieth day of December A. D. 1913.
JOHN D. COBB, Register.
Dec. 22-3t 22-29-5

ARTHUR L. THOMAS
Attorney-at-Law
3-4-5-6 Greenleaf Block
Telephone Quincy 460 Jan.3-1y

FOR SALE
New Axes
20c each 3 for 50c
While They Last
L. GROSSMAN & SONS
Jackson Street
Near Quincy Adams Depot
Dec. 1-1o-tf

SWITHIN
Real Estate
Mortgages-Insurance
Greenleaf Block
Quincy
Tel. Quincy 460. Nov. 10-tf

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.
No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.
In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

WANTED

WANTED—House lot of 10,000 square feet, in Quincy or might buy house if reasonable. Send full particulars, first letter. Write B. S. Ledger Office. 29-3t

WANTED—Two furnished rooms for three adults, with board or with a small room extra to be used as kitchenette near Quincy Square or on Washington street preferred. Write A. M. K., Ledger Office. 26-3t

WANTED—Woman to wait on tables and take care of few rooms. Must be good worker. George E. Mitchell, 27 Temple street, Quincy, Mass. 26-3t

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing. Myatt, 40 Baxter street. Tel. 1307-M. Quincy, Res. 22-tf

FOR SALE

1912 Metz Factory overhauled with a light delivery body. You can deliver light loads cheaper than you can with a horse, low price. Also 12 horse power Rambler roadster 4 passenger, full equipment, good shape you can buy for the cost of the five wheels with which it is equipped. A. L. Walker, 315 Belmont street, Wollaston. 29-6t

FOR SALE—Lawn dressing. Will be spread if desired. Peter McCarty, 5 Pearl street. 27-6t

HORSE FOR SALE—Cheap, for want of use. H. H. I. Smith, 578 Commercial street, Weymouth Heights. Tel. Weymouth 105-1. 15-tf

FOR SALE or TO LET—New houses Apply to Thompson B. Crane, 403 Washington street, Quincy. 1-tf

WM. H. TEASDALE
REAL ESTATE
Insurance Mortgages
NOTARY PUBLIC JUSTICE OF THE PEACE
Room 22 Adams Building
Telephones { Residence 544-3 Offices 87-M

TO LET
Large Front Office Greenleaf Block—2 entrances—right at the head of the stairs—one of the most desirable offices in Quincy.
Office, Durgin-Merrill Block—3 large windows—only 1 flight up—exceptional opportunity.
Hancock Building—City Square
Offices—small front office, $11 a month
Office—Hancock Chambers, 16x18 feet one flight up, very low rent.
Store House—off Granite St., in the rear of Greenleaf Block.
GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best Location in City)
Offices—Large or small.
Desk Room—Street floor, right in the rear of main entrance, good light and air, $5 up a month.
Transient Rooms—Well furnished and with care, $1 a day.
Furnished Rooms—With care steam heat, and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week
HALLS
Music Hall—Music Hall Block—Capacity 962—highest possible rating by the State. "Excellent" in every particular.
New Colonial Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—Capacity 240—the best possible location for a Hall.
Hancock Hall—Hancock Building City Square—Capacity 150.
Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 21066) Quincy

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

TO LET

TO LET—Private garage. Electric lights. Apply 27 Edwards street. 29-3t

TO LET—2 or 3 connecting rooms with heat, light and bath for housekeeping. Furnished if desired. Reasonable. 132 Marlborough street, Wollaston Park. 27-6t

TO LET—Lower flat, 5 rooms bath modern improvements in new house pleasantly situated in corner lot 29 Atherton street, Bigelow Park. Rent reasonable to right party. Inquire on premises. 22-6t

TO LET—Tenement, all improvements, reasonable rent. Apply 70 Glencoe place. 24-tf

TO LET—Furnished or unfurnished large front room, smaller room adjoining suitable for physician. Furnished rooms $2.00 up. Steam heat all conveniences, 3 minutes from centre. 1 Adams street. 22-6t

TO LET—Flat of 5 rooms and bath at 197 Whitwell street. All improvements. Apply to John F. Anderson, 159 Whitwell street. 22-6t

TO LET—Single house six rooms and bath. All modern conveniences. Apply to P. J. Williams, 19 Independence avenue. 22-6t

RUSSELL PARK — Commodious house of seven rooms, large hall and bath. Modern, every convenience open fireplace, furnace, range, set tubs, electric lights, cemented cellar, etc. Best residential neighborhood. Ready for immediate occupancy. For further details or key see Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. tf lpo

TO LET—Upper apartment of 7 rooms and bath, all improvements including set range and gas stove, now ready. Inquire, A. W. Parker, 87 Merrymount road. Tel. Quincy 258-1 16-tf

TO LET—48 Revere road two connecting rooms with kitchenette for housekeeping. Also a nice room with sun all day, two large closets. Hot water heat and bath. water heat and bath. 13-tf

UPPER APARTMENT. In two-family house on Spear Street. Five rooms, bath, large pantry and closets, also open attic with finished heated chamber. Every improvement, electric light, furnace, range etc. Ready for immediate occupancy. Telephone Quincy 278 M or enquire mornings of Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. lpo

TO LET—173 Whitwell street, half house, modern conveniences, $20 per month. Ready for immediate occupancy. Apply Penniman's Stable, Granite street. 19-tf

TO LET—5 room tenement at 117 Quincy street, $20 per month. Apply Berman Furniture Co. 6-tf

TO LET—Houses of 5, 6 and 10 rooms. M. T. Sullivan. Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy, Mass. 11-tf

JAMES F. BURKE & CO.
Real Estate and Insurance
Care of Property. Mortgages
Justice of Peace. Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 285 M. Nov. 11-tf

Penniman's
TAXI SERVICE
Taxies and Touring Cars with careful and safe drivers to let for all occasions.
C. H. PENNIMAN, Prop.
Telephone 207.
June 13-tf

Here is Your Opportunity
7 room house with modern conveniences nicely situated on a fine street in Wollaston. To be sold very low at present.
Here is a chance to get into a good neighborhood. House is vacant and in perfect order to move right into. Three to five minutes to station, schools, stores, etc. Price $3,300.
On terms.
HENRY W. SAVAGE
Real Estate, Boston.
E. G. HAYDEN, Local Representative
Telephone 1877-M Quincy.
Dec. 22-tf

Read Ledger Ads

KINCAIDE THEATRE

At 2.30, 5, 10, 15c — At 7.45, 10, 15, 25c

MON., TUESDAY, WED.
Program--subject to change

5 MUSICAL DURANDS
If you heard them here 1 year ago, you will not miss this musical treat. They're Great!

THE TORLEYS
Sensational Cyclists

McKISSICK & SHADNEY
Southern Entertainers

BILLY COLE
Novelty Ventriloquist

PATHE WEEKLY
World's News in Pictures

"DECEPTION"
A delightful Comedy-Drama

KALEM 2-REEL FEATURE
"THE CHINESE DEATH THORN"
Intensely Interesting Throughout

KINCAIDE THEATRE ORCHESTRA

BRIEFS

Mrs. George Mervin Bailey is spending the week end in Plainville.

The next meeting of the Wollaston Unitarian Club comes Tuesday evening, Jan. 13.

Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Lane are entertaining Mr. Lane's father and mother during the holidays.

Miss Nettie Crittendon of Taylor street is confined to her home with tonsilitis.

John Egerton of Wollaston is spending the Christmas holidays with his parents in Freeman, Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Ewertz of Lincoln avenue have returned from a trip to New York.

George Sherwin and family of Clive street spent Christmas with relatives in Cambridge.

Mrs. Cecil Marble of East Squantum street is entertaining her mother from Weymouth for a few weeks.

Many Quincy people are planning to see the old year out and the new year in Wednesday night at one of the Boston hotels.

John Fuller and family have returned from a visit with Mrs. Fuller's sister, Mrs. Herbert Dewesbury of Providence.

Ave Maria council, Knights of Columbus, is to celebrate its second anniversary Wednesday evening. The program includes a banquet and entertainment.

Miss Jessie Marjory Bailey of Bellows Falls, Vermont, is visiting her parents, Rev. and Mrs. George M. Bailey of Wollaston.

It was not Axel Anderson of 335 Granite street who was in court on Saturday, but another man of the same name.

Mr. and Mrs. Josiah C. Fuller and daughter Bertha of Botolph street have been spending the week's vacation with relatives in Providence, R. I.

The Sheppard—Brown wedding takes place in the Wollaston Unitarian church on New Year's Day at half after seven o'clock in the evening.

Misses Marion and Ramah Baker of Wollaston gave a party Saturday evening in honor of Miss Hortense Andrews of Lovell, Maine, who is visiting Quincy friends.

Miss Aurelia Merrill's group in the First Methodist Episcopal church, Wollaston will entertain all the ladies of the other groups and church at a thimble party on New Year's afternoon in the vestry of the church.

The second term of the Evening High school begins tonight when new students may enter. There are four classes, one for granite workers, one for machinists, one for mould loft men and one commercial.

Miss Avah Gilson of Linden place, is entertaining for a few weeks her friend, Mrs. R. P. Pray and daughter Rouena, of Elizabeth, N. Y. Mrs. Pray will be remembered as Miss Helen Barnes and her many friends are giving her a warm welcome.

The members of the Young Womens Club are completing arrangements for the "Cobweb" party to be given in the High school gymnasium on the evening of Jan. 6. All will attend in costume and the affair promises to eclipse all other affairs. The members anticipate a delightful evening and feel that no better way of opening the social season of the New Year could be chosen.

Rev. Carl G. Horst officiated at three funerals last week—the first that of W. Quincy Torrey on Monday; the second that of Mrs. Caroline Fisher McIntire in her eighty-eighth year, whose body was committed to the purifying flames at Forest Hills on Wednesday, the third that of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Russell Hall of Merrymount avenue, whose body was cremated Saturday.

NORTHAMPTION VICTORIOUS

Defeat Quincy Y. M. C. A. in Game With Many Surprises

In what was the best game so far seen at the Y. M. C. A. this season the crack Northampton Y. M. C. A. team defeated the Quincy five by the score of 21 to 20. The visitors started off the game as if it was to be regular slaughter getting two goals from the floor and a foul point within five minutes of playing time. The Quincy lads acted as if they were stage-struck and also seemed to have forgotten the basket ball they ought to have known. Trask got a dandy goal from the floor and then the team seemed to came back with a rush for the score was soon up in double figures while the visitors were unable to cage the ball but 3 times in the entire half, also getting 2 goals from fouls.

The half ended 17 to 8 in Quincy's favor; but the second half saw a far different visiting team, for they scored 4 goals in rapid succession before Quincy could make a point. Trask shot a foul and then a goal from the floor, while Northampton was getting 3 points making the score 19 to 20 in Quincy's favor. Maynard, the visiting Captain slipped down the floor and dropped a fine goal about three minutes before the end of the game and Quincy was unable to score again.

NORTHAMPTON	QUINCY
Maynard lf	rg Kenn
O'Brien rf	lg Flanders
Keating rf	lg Parker
Ruiter c	c Trask
Keating, O'Brien lg	rf Price
Hinds rg	lf Parker, Rich

Score Northampton 21; Quincy 20. Goal from floor Maynard 4, Keating 2, Hinds 2, O'Brien 1, Trask 4, Price 2, Kenn 1, Flanders 1. Referee Willband. Timer H. Brooks.

The second team had an easy time with the Watertown Catholic Club beating them by the score of 37 to 16. Thomas and Miller did some fine shooting, each man getting 6 baskets. Kinshla was the only man on the visiting team to show much form, getting 5 goals. The work of the Quincy backs was especially good, Croucher and Shirley playing fine games throughout.

QUINCY	WATERTOWN
Thomas lf	rg Connelly
Bishop, Kemp rf	lg R. White
Miller c	c Ramsey
Croucher lg	rf Kinshla
Shorley rg	lf H. White

Score Quincy 37, Watertown 16. Goals from floor Thomas 6, Miller 6, Bishop 2, Shirley, Croucher 1 each, Kinshla 5, W. White and R. White 1. Goals on free tries—Thomas 5, Kinshla 2.

$14,400,062

The figures showing the value of manufactured good in the various cities of Massachusetts in 1912 are just available, and Chief Gettemy of the Bureau of Statistics reports Quincy at $14,400,062, as compared with $17,587,223 in 1911.. As battleships are two to three years building, the Quincy statistics are liable to be misleading.

However Quincy ranks No. 20 in value of manufacturers, the same number as in population and valuation

Below Quincy are North Adams, Everett, Waltham, Northampton, Marlboro, Malden, Newburyport, Gloucester, Beverly, Woburn, Newton, Melrose and Medford in the order named.

John E. Steeves and family have left Atlantic and will live at Moncton, N. B.

PRIDE OF QUINCY LODGE.

The semi-annuel election of officers of the Pride of Quincy lodge, I. O. B. A. was held Sunday evening at their hall on School street. The following officers were elected:

President—George Scwartz.
Vice-President— Benjamin Rappaport.
Recording Secretary—Joseph B. Grossman,
Financial Secretary—Jacob Kadets.
Treasurer—Louis Berman.
Inner Guard—A. S. Berkowitz.
Trustees—Henry Litchman, Max Cowper, Barnet Scwartz.

SHE WAS NOT AFRAID.

There Was No Reason Why She Should Dread the Indians.

Among the frontiersmen who closely followed the footsteps of Lewis and Clark across the Rockies was Colonel Joseph L. Meek. He settled in Oregon, and, like all the earliest pioneers, he was obliged to choose his helpmate, so the Portland Oregonian says, from among the dusky maidens of the forest.

During the early settlement of the territory the Cayuse Indians were quite menacing in their demonstrations of hostility to the little band of pioneers, so much so indeed that a meeting of the settlers assembled to take counsel about the safety of the community resolved to send two of their number across the mountains to implore aid from the government at Washington.

Colonel Meek and Squire Eberts were appointed, and they set out across the mountains and the deserts and in due time reached their destination. While there the colonel was invited to a levee given by some one of the political notables. He was introduced to a lady who naturally enough made inquiries about Oregon, the hostile Indians, and so forth.

"But your wife," began the lady in a lull between thrilling narratives, "or haven't you a wife?"

"Yes," replied the colonel, "I have a wife."

"Why," said the lady, "I should think she would be so afraid of the Indians."

"My wife afraid of Indians!" exclaimed the colonel. "Why, madam, she is herself a squaw!"

HEROIC MUSICIANS.

Conductors For Whom the Orchestra Is Merely a Pedestal.

Dr. Max Nordau has an amusing article in the Paris Revue on the evolution of the orchestra conductor. Formerly the conductor was a modest man who took infinite pains with the rehearsals and effaced himself on the great day of the public concert.

Nowadays he is a hero. You only see him. The orchestra is merely a pedestal for him. In the French army of former days there was a personage who could be compared with him—the drum major. He has the same prestige without the aid of the drum major's stature, lace and stick. He must be a finished actor. He must play the part of the lion which shoots the water into the fountain.

There was Gustav Mahler, the most astounding artist in dumb show. All the muscles of his clean shaved face were contracted into the furious mask of a samurai when he let loose the heroic sonorities and relaxed into ecstasy during the pianissimo.

Arthur Nikisch also "reflects" tragedies and idylls, but grace suits him best. In the pastoral symphony (Beethoven) he is the rococo shepherd tickling with the outstretched finger of his left hand the fair neck of a pretty shepherdess.

The President and War.

According to the constitution of the United States, article 1, section 8, clause 11, the power to declare war belongs to the congress. The president, as the chief executive, when war is declared becomes commander in chief of the army and navy, but he cannot take the initiative in bringing on the war. The president who should have the temerity to declare the country at war with another people would be instantaneously removed from his high office. The men who made the constitution upon which our government rests knew how fatal to human rights and happiness the monarchical principle had been, and therefore they saw to it that the nation's head should have nothing to do with declaring war with another nation.—New York American

His Bluff.

Mr. Montgomery was calling on a young woman to whom he wished to appear extremely well.

"Are you familiar with Dante's 'Divine Comedy,' Mr. Montgomery?" asked the young woman.

"No. I've never seen it," replied the man. "The fact is, Miss Tinder, I think this comedy business is being overdone. The sooner the stage returns to the legitimate drama the better it will be."—Lippincott's.

Jimmie's Wisdom.

Myrtle, who is studying physical geography, likes to flaunt her superior knowledge.

"Jimmie," she said to her little brother, "I bet you don't know what germination produces."

"I don't know what it produces," replied Jimmie, "but I know the German nation consumes lots of sauerkraut and wienerwurst."—Youngstown Telegram.

Her Choice.

Ethel—Strange that Kitty should have married Tom. She told me positively that she liked Jack better. Marie—Well, she felt more sure of being able to boss Tom.—Boston Transcript.

Not Appreciated.

"I've just been telling my daughter it is wrong to play the piano Sunday. Don't you agree with me?"

"But why Sunday especially?"—Lippincott's.

Explained.

"I heard her praising the conduct of a little boy just a few minutes ago. Whose boy is it?"

"Hers."—Detroit Free Press.

Industry pays debts, while despair increaseth them.—Benjamin Franklin.

In the Morning.

Through the gates of dawn is driven
Mighty Phoebus in his car,
And the gloom of night is riven
By his lance hurled afar.
Now the winds of dawn awaken.
With a bugle note they call,
And my resolution's shaken,
But I shan't get up at all!

Now the little birds are singing
Their sweet matins in the trees,
And the cock's shrill cry goes ringing
In defiance down the breeze.
Now the world begins to shuffle,
And repose from all has fled,
And they rise and don their duffle,
But I shall not leave the bed!

I can hear the dishes clatter;
I can hear the housemaid yawn.
Now I hear the children chatter
As they put their garments on.
Now I hear the missus calling,
"Do you mean to sleep all day?"
And—the thought of it is galling—
I shall get up right away!
—Chicago Daily News.

The Last Hope.

Scene.—Far out at sea; stateroom on board a huge transatlantic liner, which is being tossed about like a cork in a rough sea:

The Bootlace King, a famous Yankee millionaire (clinging despairingly to the side of his bunk)—Steward, steward!

"Yes, sir."

"I understand this ship has watertight compartments?"

"Yes, sir."

"Then tell the captain I must have one immediately. I don't care what it costs!"—Cleveland Leader.

The Months.

Old Father Time made up his months
Of egotism shy.
For April is the only one
That boasts a single I.

Nor was he touched by greed for gold.
No money lust had he.
November is the only month
Accounted worth a V.

He scarcely had a proper word
For sore emergency.
December is the only month
That ever mutters D—.

So when we look upon the tale
We thank our lucky stars
He loved the oysters well enough
To have eight months of R's.
—McLandburgh Wilson in New York Sun.

Fixing For Heinie.

"Pop"—

"Well, Julius?"

"What is the smallest form of animal life?"

"The amoeba, my son, which is one millionth the size of an ant. Why do you ask?"

"Oh, Heine Hecklebloom called me a shimp, and I wanted to know what I could call him to get even."—Chicago Journal.

A "Date."

He waited on the corner,
With fond emotions rife,
And waited for an hour,
But not upon his wife.

If she had so delayed him
'Stead of the girl who did
The anger that consumed him
He never could have hid.

And yet we heard him humming
A happy little tune,
And yet we saw him smiling
That sunny afternoon.

As if the sweetest fancies
Were flitting through his brain
And all the world around him
Held not a trace of pain.
—Birmingham Age-Herald.

What He Forgot.

"What!" exclaimed the head of the committee on contributions. "Old Man Gotrox only contributed $50 to this worthy cause?"

"Only $50," corroborated the young man who had been out to get subscriptions.

"But he ought to have given $500."

"Exactly. He forgot the ought."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Puzzling.

It puzzled the child where cows could get
Their milk, and she longed to learn.
"Now, where do you get your tears, Linette?"
Her mother asked in turn.

And then, with suddenly opened eyes
And suddenly lifted brows,
"Oh, mamma," she asked in quick surprise,
"Do they have to spank the cows?"
—Our Animals.

A Rural Complaint.

"So you think beef will be higher?"

"Yes," replied the statistician.

"Well, it's too bad the way things are mismanaged. I wish there were some way I could leave my diamonds in the barn and put the cow in the safe deposit vault."—Washington Star.

Some Muse.

A poet is a crazy chap.
We know a certain loon
Who every spring desires to sing
About the harvest moon.
—Birmingham Age-Herald.

And then there is that other boob
Who always takes a pride
To sing a tune some time in June
About the blushing bride.
—Yonkers Statesman.

The Nucleus.

First Negro—Say, what mean dis heah word "nucleus?"

Second Negro—Sumpin' what odder things gether 'bout.

First Negro—Uh, huh! Den I was one las' week w'en I upsot a beehive in de dahk.—Baltimore Sun.

The Fountain of Mirth.

The world is round,
A graceful sphere,
But folks are flat
And mostly queer.
And hence a joy
No grief can smother
For men can laugh
At one another. —Judge.

Slight Modification.

"You said you were in sympathy with me in this fight."

"I was," replied the man whose mind changes. "Now I have sympathy for you."—Washington Post.

FREAKS OF THE TIDE.

The Caldron of the Spotted Seas and the Amazon River Bore.

To the ordinary lay mind the tides along our coast are most puzzling. He knows that the tides rise and fall twice in twenty-four hours and that this depends in some mysterious way upon the moon. But if in his travels he sees a spot along the shore where there is no tide he is at a loss to account for it.

To be exact, there is only one ocean in the world where the tides follow the moon with regularity, and this is the great Antarctic basin. And the reason is that there is the only place a sweep of water is to be found that is entirely uninterrupted by land. The enormous waves caused by the moon's attraction course round the world south of Cape Horn and the Cape of Good Hope, with absolutely nothing to break them. Here in our northern hemisphere great masses of land interrupt the tidal waves and, combined with the shallowness of the inland seas, cause them to perform antics which seem most strange.

The depth of the water has much to do with the tidal irregularities. Out in the open ocean, where the tide is abnormal—about 5,000 fathoms—the speed of the waves is amazing. When the depth decreases to five fathoms the tide cannot travel more than fifteen miles an hour. In England, for example, which is surrounded by narrow, land broken seas, the result is that they get some of the most dangerous tidal races and currents to be found. The most formidable of these is the whirlpool between the islands of Jura and Scarba, on the west coast of Scotland. This is known as the "Caldron of the Spotted Seas."

There the current runs at times at the rate of more than twelve miles an hour, and the force of a heavy tidal current rushing up to the wide mouthed river forms what is called a "bore." A most striking example of this tidal feature is often seen on the Amazon, when a moving wall of water, reaching from bank to bank and to a height of more than twenty feet, will rush inland.—New York Sun.

PATHWAY TO DISASTER.

Overconfidence Has Been the Ruin of Many a Good Man.

When the skillful general wishes to capture a fort he often tries to find a place that the garrison, sure of its strength, has left unguarded. So Wolfe planned, and so Quebec fell.

Many of those accidentally drowned are good swimmers, afraid of nothing in the water.

Many a trainer, before a great intercollegiate football match, has said that his team would surely win—if the coaches could cure the players of overconfidence. Overconfidence is the sure forerunner of disaster.

Every boy has seen some wretched drunkard, with his blear eyes and broken gait, his rags and filth, shamelessly and pitifully pleading for a few pennies with which to buy a drink. No one can look on that sight, common as it is, without a shudder. Yet there was a time when every such pitiful being was free from the desire for drink. For a time he took his glass in moderation, until suddenly a hidden inheritance from some ancestor, hitherto unsuspected, awoke in him and drove him headlong. No one knows whether that taint is in his blood. Yet everywhere men are saying, "Oh, I shall never be a drunkard! I can take care of myself!"

So it was that good swimmers thought as they swam to a point beyond their strength. So it was that the poor wretch thought in the days when he drank—before it was too late.—Youth's Companion.

Music and Melody.

"Music," says Leoncavallo, author of "I Pagliacci," "is melody and melody alone. Compositions live and become immortal because of their melody, and they die for lack of it. The melody of Wagner and Strauss is 'obscured,' but the obscuration is a defect and not a virtue. Verdi is great because of his melody, and all musical greatness is to be measured by its melody and by nothing else."

Pugilistic English.

The teacher was instructing the class in the rudiments of the English language.

"John," she said, "make a sentence using the word 'indisposition.'"

John, who was evidently of a pugilistic turn of mind, assumed an aggressive pose and announced:

"When yous wants to fight you stands in dis position."—Youth's Companion.

A Man of Brains.

"I say, Reginald, I've forgotten my cardcase."

"Nevah mind, deah boy. I'll lend you some of mine."

"But—ah—the names would be different, doncherknow."

"So they would! What a head you have got, Algy!"—London Opinion.

Scientific Discovery.

"You know, of course, that billions of germs can gather on the sharp edge of a razor."

"I begin to understand," said young Mrs. Torkins. "The idea of stropping a razor is to subdue the germs by corporal punishment."—Washington Star.

Must Be Attractive.

"They say she's pretty."

"Let me tell you. When she gets on a street car the advertising is a total loss."—Pittsburgh Post.

Worry has killed many a great man, but it never made a man great.

DEBATE ON EDUCATION

Decide it is More Important to a Man Than a Woman

The members of the Young Men's Hebrew Association and the Young Women's Hebrew Association jointly debated the question "An education is more important to a man than to a woman," at the rooms of the Young mens' Association, Sunday evening The judges William Wolf, John Catler and Miss Sadie Berman awarded the debate to the affirmative. The affirmative side was taken by Leo Cutler, Miss Reba Kauffman, Miss Etta Grossman and Percy Lubarsky. The negative was discussed by Sidney Grossman, Miss Dora Berman, Israel Wolf and Miss Sadie Cohen. The rebutal was by Leo Cutler and Sidney Grossman. The attendance was large.

SKATING SOON

It looks as if the boys and girls who received skates for a Christmas present would have an opportunity to use them. The cold weather for the past few days has formed the ice on the ponds but it is not very thick just at present. Saturday afternoon there was quite a crowd of young people on the upper part of Butler's pond where the ice was quite thick but no skating on the lower part of the pond where the ice was too thin. If the present cold spell only lasts a few days more there will be some good skating.

NEW OFFICERS.

Fore River lodge, I. O. O. F., M. U., has elected these officers who will be installed Jan. 9:

Grand Master—John Barclay.
Noble Grand—John Nimmo.
Vice Grand—John Ford.
Treasurer—John Davidson.
Secretary—George Pock.
Rec. Sec.—Philip Kessell.
Chaplain—James Bruce.
Trustees—Charles W. Sears, John Nimmo, William C. McLay.
Auditing Com.—John Barclay, Philip Kessel, John Philip.
District Delegate—William McLay.
Deputy—C. W. Sears.
R. S. to N. G.—James Taylor.
L. S. to N. G.—James Gabriel.
Conductor—Charles Wendell.
Warder—William McLay.
R. S. V. G.—Stephen McMenemy.
L .S. to V. G.—Charles W. Sears.
Scene Supporters—John Simpson and John Chambers.

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Connors of Newbury avenue spent the holiday with relatives in Brighton.

H. H. Barber of Lakewood, R. I. has been visiting relatives in Atlantic the past week.

NEWS ITEMS FROM MILTON

The Midget team of Cunningham gymnasium won its 10th consecutive game of the season at the gym Saturday night when it defeated the Natick A. C. 45 to 9. Jack Reid, right guard, was the star of the contest shooting 11 baskets and getting two goals on free tries. The team is fullfilling the expectations of its rooters and is surpassing its fine record of two seasons.

Ralph F. Foster for 20 years resident manager of the Ames Iron Works died at his home in Milton Dec. 26 after an illness of six months. Mr. Foster who was 65 years of age was born in England and came to Boston in 1893. He was a member of the Victorian club of Boston, and a vestryman of All Saints' church of Ashmont. He leaves a widow, one daughter and one son, and two brothers who reside in England. He resided at 584 Randolph avenue.

VICTIM UNKNOWN HERE.

Boston papers report the arrest of two Winthrop young men early Sunday morning on the charge of attempting to rob a man who gave his name as Ouno E. Kivinicini of 392 Granite street, Quincy. The Quincy man told the police that the two young men were robbing him and when he refused to give up his money and attempted to prevent them from taking it that they had attacked and beat him about the head.

Officers Farrell and Anderson heard the cries of the man and rushed to his assistance and arrested the two assailants who gave their names as James White, aged 22 years of 175 Main street, and Carl G. Forbes, 19 years of 36 Reed street, Winthrop. The attempt at robbery took place on Purchase street about 1.30 Sunday morning.

Kivinicini's name does not appear in the Quincy directory or in the assessors' poll list and is unknown.

Too Late For Classification

TO LET—Upper flat in two flat new house at 1 Bradford street, 5 rooms and bath. All improvements. Ready Jan. 1st. Apply to Wm. E. Duggan, 32 Bryant avenue, West Quincy. 29-6t

DEATHS

TIRRELL—In Quincy, Dec. 29, Mrs. Harriett W. widow of Quincy Tirrell.

CHRISTIANSEN—In Quincy, Dec. 27, Mr. John Christiansen of Irving Place, aged 72 years.

FOGG—In South Weymouth, Dec. 25, Mrs. Elizabeth Ann, widow of Alexander R. Fogg, in her 81st year.

Established 1870 — Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass.

FOR A
Holiday Present
NOTHING COULD BE BETTER THAN
A QUINCY HISTORY
EACH YEAR THE HISTORY OF
OLD BRAINTREE AND QUINCY
WRITTEN BY
W. S. PATTEE, M. D.
AND PUBLISHED IN 1878
GROWS MORE VALUABLE, AS IT CONTAINS HISTORICAL DATA ABOUT QUINCY THAT CANNOT BE OBTAINED ELSEWHERE
$3.50 PER COPY
FOR SALE BY
GEO. W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
1424 HANCOCK STREET
QUINCY

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

LARGEST GUARANTEED CIRCULATION IN THE CITY

Vol. 28 No. 302 QUINCY MASS. TUESDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 30 1913 PRICE TWO CENTS

ONLY NINE JOBS PAY OVER $1,000

Plums at Disposal of Mayor-Elect Miller When He Takes Office

Salary of Commissioner of Public Works is Now $2,400

Mayor-elect Miller will have quite a number of plums at his disposal when he takes office. Under the City Charter, the terms of the present officials do not expire until the first Monday in February, and the Mayor-elect will probably announce his "official family," as it is known, before that time.

There are one or two offices which are under Civil Service and the present occupants can not be removed except for cause. Chief among these is the Chief of the Police Department, whose salary is $1,400, and the Sealer of Weights and Measures, whose salary is $1,000. There are several other offices that are also under civil service such as the Inspector of Plumbing, Inspector of the Board of Health, and Inspector of Meats and Provisions.

Other positions that are protected by the civil service rules are the office of Superintendent of Streets now held by Michael E. Shea; Superintendent of Sewer Department, Walter McKenzie, and several employees in the Water division.

The best plum, or rather the plum that pays the largest salary, is that of Commissioner of Public Works, a position now held by Frederick E. Tupper, and acknowledged by persons familiar with the duties of that office to be just the man for the place. This office pays a salary of $2,400.

Other offices with good salaries are the City Solicitor, City Clerk, City Treasurer, Chief Engineer, Overseer of the Poor, Tax Collector and City Engineer. Then there are some offices which the new Mayor will have to fill that are simply honorary offices, that is they pay no salary.

The full list of officers the new Mayor will fill and the salaries of each follow:

Commissioner of Public Works,	$2,400
City Treasurer,	1,500
City Clerk,	1,400
City Solicitor,	1,400
Tax Collector,	1,400
Chief Engineer, Q. F. D.,	1,400
City Engineer,	1,800
Chairman Board of Assessors,	1,500
Overseer of the Poor,	800
City Physician,	300
Inspector of Buildings,	1,000
Inspector of Animals,	200
Six Assistant assessors, each,	100
Chairman Board of Health,	500
Two members Board of Health, each	200
Secretary, Board of Health,	50
Park Commissioners, three members, no salary.
Registrar of Voters, three years,	250
Inspector of Milk,	150
Trustees Thomas Crane Library, 6, no salary.
Three Park Commissioners, no salary.
Six Managers Adams Academy, no salary.
Dock and Water Front Commissioner, no salary.
Managers Public Burial Places, 6, salary of clerk fixed by board.

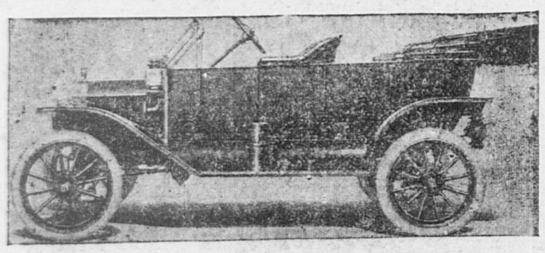
As to the clerks in the different offices, no Mayor has as yet interfered, these clerks being appointed by the official holding the office, or by the administrative board. Some of these clerks are under the protection of the civil service rules and some are not.

One of the best assets of a new official upon assuming the duties of his office is to have clerks who understand the business of that office, for a new official with a new clerk would be like a sailor going to sea without a compass. No Mayor has as yet taken a hand in the appointment of these clerks or has extended politics to these offices, by removing the present incumbents to make room for favorites. While it is not known what the new Mayor will do, he is not looked upon to make war upon the clerks, other that to demand that they give the city full service for what they receive in salary.

ROOFER FALLS FROM ROOF

At City Hospital With Dislocation of Shoulder

James Doherty, 28 years old, of 60 Rice street, North Cambridge, is at the Quincy City Hospital with severe bruises and contusions, received in a 25 foot fall from the roof of the house at the corner of West Elm avenue and Marlboro street this morning. He is also thought to have sustained a dislocation of the right shoulder. Doherty was employed as a roofer and lost his balance while at work. He fell to the ground landing on his shoulder. An emergency call was sent out for physicians and he was removed to the hospital in the police ambulance.



THE QUINCY GARAGE, 87 Adams Street, Quincy

Agent for FORD and CASE CARS

A full Line of Supplies always on hand
Michelin Tires in stock

Now Ready for Delivery the 1914 Ford Car, $550 for 5 Passenger, $500 for Runabout, $750 for Town Car F. O. B. Detroit.

For Particulars or Demonstration call Quincy 435
Night or Day never closed. C. P. GOULD, Prop.

Dec. 12-1o-tf

MEMBERS NIGHT OF ENCAMPMENT

Supper Followed by Entertainment by Professional Talent

Monday evening was "members night" with Manet encampment, I. O. O. F., and the occasion was one that called out a large attendance of patriarchs. No work was assigned for the meeting the object being to get the patriarchs together in an informal manner for a social evening, and as such it was a great success.

The evening's program opened at 7 o'clock at which hour an appetizing supper was served in the banquet hall. Following this an adjournment was made to the lodge room where a pleasing entertainment, provided by Capt. Wardwell, manager of Kinsaide's theatre was enjoyed.

The program was opened by Past Representative Sam Wood, Jr., who spoke briefly of the work of the encampment branch of the order, stating that the year just closing had been the most prosperous in the history of Manet encampment, thirty brothers having been admitted to membership. He urged the patriarchs to attend the regular meetings and thus lend encouragement to their officers.

The following entertainment was then given which was greatly enjoyed. W. J. Harringron gave a number of impersonations of well known personages. Miss Floretta Clark gave an exhibition of wooden shoe dancing, and Miss Eldora Dame gave violin and vocal solos. In addition to the professionals there was music by Manet encampment orchestra and a concert by the Edison Victrola.

LASTING IMPRESSION

In my opinion the standard newspapers are the best mediums to accomplish results. I mean just what I say—the standard newspapers. For the purpose of making a general impression I do not believe in using the religious or the business or trade publications, the theatrical or the funny papers, the fraternal, the financial or the society papers, nor do I believe in using programs or billboards. These all have their use in the proper time and place, but not for the purpose of making a general, lasting impression. —Horace Anderson before Bank Publicity Association

MAHON-HART WEDDING

Weymouth Young Lady Bride of Organist Mahon

John J. Mahon, organist at St. John's church and son of Mrs. Margaret Mahon of Upland road, and Miss Loretta Hart, daughter of Edward Hart of Weymouth, were married Monday afternoon at the Sacred Heart Church, Weymouth, in the presence of their immediate relatives and friends.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Fr. Daniel C. Riordan, pastor of the Sacred Heart church at Newton Centre. Rev. Fr. John B. Holland, pastor of the Sacred Heart church at Weymouth assisted.

Mrs. Anna White of Wollaston was matron of honor and the best man was Marcus Mahon, a brother of the groom.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the father of the bride after which Mr. and Mrs. Mahon left on a wedding trip. On their return they will reside at 54 Revere road, Quincy.

MAYOR ELECT IMPROVING

John L. Miller Now Attending to Business Daily

Many rumors and reports have reached the Daily Ledger of the serious condition of the health of John L. Miller, the Mayor-elect, but a member of the family assures the Ledger that Mr. Miller is better than at any time the past six months. His health is improving daily, and he is now attending to business every day. On Sunday morning he attended the Wollaston Baptist church and was out again in the afternoon; in fact he is out every day.

As far as possible Mr. Miller has endeavored to avoid the office seekers and has been busy preparing his inaugural address for next Monday. These are trying days for any Mayor-elect who has the apointment of so many city officials without confirmation by the City Council and Mr. Miller is anxious to fulfill his pledges to the voters before election.

GRANITE CARVER DEAD.

Leonardo Colombo died Monday at his home, 166 Independence avenue, in his 26th year. He was one of the best known granite workers in the city and was a skillful carver. Many fine pieces of granite architecture have been produced with a chisel guided by him. He was single and has lived here for a long time.

BOND APPROVED

The bond of $10,000 making the National Mt. Wollaston Bank a depository for funds of estates in bankruptcy for Norfolk County has been been approved by Judge Morton of the United States district court.

CHAIRMAN TO RETIRE.

The last meeting of the School Committee of 1913 will be held this evening. John L. Miller, the Mayor elect will retire as chairman and as a member of the board. This will be the only change in the personnel of the board.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS? ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

☞ Masquerade costumes to rent from $1. up. Mrs. R. E. Woodward, 162 Beach street, Wollaston.

adv. 30-3t.

SALE

Commencing

MONDAY, DEC. 29

-- ON --

Watches, Jewelry, Novelties, Clocks, Toilet and Manicure Sets, etc.

A Grand Reduction on all Goods left on hand from the Christmas Stock of

10% to 33%

Xmas Goods must be sold regardless of Cost.

Come early in the week for a good selection and buy goods at a substantial saving.

SANDBERG BROS.

Jewelers

City Square, Quincy

TREE FESTIVAL FOR SAILORS

Lecture and Christmas Carols at Sailors Snug Harbor

At the Sailor's Snug Harbor on Saturday evening the aged seamen enjoyed a lecture by Arthur W. Peck on "The heart of the Rockies and the Yosemite." George L. Small of the Boston Port and Seamen's Aid Society was present and helped in the singing of Christmas carols. Capt. Hoffses had planned for a Christmas tree on which each member of the home was remembered. Rev. Stephen C. Lang, the chaplain, was also present.

MAINTAIN PEACE

George Dewey, Admiral of the Navy and hero of Manila Bay, who celebrated Dec. 26, his 76th birthday, has given to the world a message of peace. . . I see no signs of war in the future says the Admiral. . . I trust there will be no more wars. . . I do feel, however, that this Nation should not be off its guard. . . My views of peace and the future of the Navy are expressed in the few words of Gen. Keifer, formerly Representative from Ohio. . . He said: In time of peace, prepare to maintain it.

That is the way I feel about the Navy, and, while I hope there will be no more wars, it seems to me that it is well for this Nation to have a four-battleship building program to replace obsolete vessels and to prepare to maintain peace.

BASKET BALL.

The managers of the teams that have joined the N. E. A. A. U. basket ball league met in Boston Monday evening but did not anounce a schedule of dates for the month of January as intended. Some of the teams have not been able to secure playing accommodations but there is every possibility of the league getting under way within another week.

The Quincy A. A. first and second teams, twice winners of the New England championship are still negotiating for a hall and expect to make a definite announcement Wednesday.

Earl Record, nephew of the late Dr. Wellington Record, died this morning at Abington in his 21st year. His body will be brought to Quincy for burial in Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

STUBBORN FIRE IN ADAMS BUILDING

National Mount Wollaston Bank and Quincy Co-operative Bank Damaged

Alarm Was Given by Operator at Telephone Exchange

One of the most stubborn fires the fire department has had to fight in a long time was discovered about 3 o'clock this morning in the Mt. Wollaston bank situated in the Adams building. It was one of those fires that was behind the walls, necessitating the tearing away of plastering and chasing the fire from place to place. While it did not do very much fire damage, it required a long time to put out and the use of considerable water.

It was due to Margaret Scanlon, one of the night operators at the Telephone exchange that the fire was discovered when it was. The fire got at the telephone wires causing a ground which threw the signal on the switchboard at the exchange. The operator unable to get any response from the bank finally called up the police station and told them there must be some trouble at the bank.

Just at that time Officer Olson rang in from his box in City Square and Sergt. Larkin who was on the desk at the police station sent him to investigate. He was not long in discovering the cause for smoke was pouring from the basement window. An alarm was sounded from Box 26.

At the same time Sergt. Larkin thinking that burglars might be at work at the bank dispatched the patrol wagon to the scene, directing the driver to pick up what officers he saw on the trip down, so that there were several officers on duty at the fire when the firemen arived.

When the department arrived they found great difficulty in getting at the fire. The basement seemed to be red hot and it was impossible for the firemen to get in there with their lines of hose. The front windows on the level of the sidewalk were then burst in and gallons of water poured into the basement in the effort to drown it out.

Upon entering the main office on the street floor it was found that the fire had not gone up through the floor but had followed the pipes up behind the ceiling both on the side next to Winer Bros. store and on the side between the office building and the stairway leading to the second floor. Ceiling fires are always hard to fight and it became necessary to chop away considerable of the plastering and follow the fire foot by foot to the second floor, both on the stairway side and on the store side.

Entrance to the second floor was had by smashing a window in the Quincy Co-operative bank office, and in here it was found that the fire had followed the pipes up behind the walls near the chimney. It was in this office that the upward progress of the fire was stopped. No fire got up into Odd Fellows hall, although the hall, which is situated on the third story was filled with smoke, and the damage here will be entirely by smoke, no water being used on this floor.

It was necessary to use some water and chemical in the Co-operative bank rooms, but there was little fire

(Continued on Page Two.)

TO LET

Large Front Office Greenleaf Block—2 entrances—right at the head of the stairs—one of the most desirable offices in Quincy.

Office, Burgin-Merrill Block—3 large windows—only 1 flight up—exceptional opportunity.

Hancock Building—City Square Offices—small front office, $11 a month

Office—Hancock Chambers, 16x18 feet one flight up, very low rent.

Store House—off Granite St., in the rear of Greenleaf Block.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best Location in City)

Offices—Large or small.

Desk Room—Street floor, right in the rear of main entrance, good light and air, $5 up a month.

Transient Rooms—Well furnished and with care, $1 a day.

Furnished Rooms—With care steam heat, and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week

HALLS

Music Hall—Music Hall Block—Capacity 962—highest possible rating by the State. "Excellent" in every particular.

New Colonial Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—Capacity 240—the best possible location for a Hall.

Hancock Hall—Hancock Building City Square—Capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 21066) Quincy

$
$

SAVED BY BUYING
Patch's Special
COALS

C. PATCH & SON, Inc.
1422 Hancock Street

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second-Class matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

TELEPHONES
News . . . Quincy 425
Business . . Quincy 1910

NOTICE

Again we ask those sending news or other matter by mail to direct it to the company or newspaper rather than to individual members of the company or employees. If addressed to individuals and they were ill or not at the office, it might be several days in reaching its proper destination and if news matter would be too late for use.

What encouragement is there for a fellow to go into politics, if he can't get a job on the new federal reserve board?

They are getting so they jam bills through Congress with only a year given to debate.

The city of Indianapolis has appointed a matron to attend dances. It does not appear that perfect eyesight is insisted on as necessary for this job.

President Wilson gets the currency bill as his Christmas present, and it is hoped that it does not go to smash as quickly as most of the new toys.

The Mona Lisa affair suggests a good way for a painter to advertise, but few of our artists are able to have any of their pictures stolen.

Anyway the President won't have to shake down the coal fire mornings during the three weeks he is at the gulf of Mexico.

A New York choir has put in a barber for its choir boys, and it also seems a mistake to let them sing without being manicured.

There is general disapproval of unclean plays, but most people feel they can't condemn then properly without spending $1.50 to see them.

Senator Lane of Oregon says he feels at home in Congress, as he was previously superintendent of an insane asylum. In the interest of humanity he must regret that the padded cell is not used more frequently.

THE NEW DANCES.

Formerly one dancing school term seemed to equip a fellow with all the steps needed for a life time. Now in high society you might as well propose a contra dance to "Old Zip Coon," as the waltz and two-step.

Many of these new figures having arisen from the underworld, a flood of protest has followed the coarse way in which they have been done. Indianapolis and other cities appoint a matron to regulate dances. Cardinal Farley of New York and many other church dignitaries have banned them, and a battle of dancing masters and chaperones has arisen over their propriety.

In favor of the new forms it can be said that the old waltz and two-step had too much sameness, and too frequent repetition of the same figure. This eventually becomes tiresome to people who are fond of rhythmical motion. To some extent the new dances represent, new original, and interesting forms. People who have the instincts of ladies and gentlemen can and do dance them correspondingly.

A certain rather novel kind of music has come in with these steps. Much of it has a very exhilarating animation, due to original syncopations, (popularly rag-time) and larger use of the minor scale; all which adds to to the zest of it.

People with rough and coarse minds do the old steps roughly and coarsely, as they are now dancing the tango. Probably parents of young people need to watch all forms of dancing more closely, particularly the new figures. A fellow who is disrespectful enough to womanhood to wind his arm several times around a girl, should receive a sharp call down from some one who knows better.

Apparently some of the new forms of dancing may become permanent. But it is up to all who engage in them to see that they are done in a way suited to the home, the school, and the church, rather than the red light district.

HAT TRIMMING CONTEST

At Gentlemens' Night of Quincy Catholic Club

The Quincy Catholic Club held their annual Gentlemen's Night in the New Colonial hall Monday evening. The interior was prettily decorated with Christmas colors and potted plants, and palms banked the stage. The attendance was large and a well balanced program was enjoyed by all.

The feature of the evening was the hat trimming contest in which men alone were entered. Quantities of trimmings, including feathers and other mysterious material was distributed to the men with instructions to fix up any of the many different shapes on the platform and when the contest was over the "artistes" marched about the hall wearing the creations while the judges, heartily laughing awarded the first prize to J. J. Hassett and the booby to Harry McGrath. The judges were Timothy O'Connell, Joseph Griffin, Robert E. Foy and William P. Reardon.

A sketch entitled "Our Aunt from California" was well given under the direction of Miss Anna Walsh, by a cast including Miss Walsh and the Misses Eva Rice, Katherine Brown, Marguerite McCarthy, Julia Duffy, Gertrude Carroll, Gertrude Hughes. Liberal applause followed the close of the presentation.

During the evening Miss Rose Conry rendered several vocal selections and several solo dances, and John Farrell and Harry McGowan contributed to the success of the evening with vocal selections and rapid fire recitations. Dancing was enjoyed and refreshments served.

THE SERVANT OF THE PEOPLE.

Of the great number of papers which recently raised subscription rates very few have laid emphasis on the most forceful reason why readers should pay the additional price, says the American Press.

Every one of them has agreed on the higher cost of living and of producing a newspaper, but has overlooked the fact that the readers themselves are to a great extent responsible for this.

The demands of the newspaper readers of today differ widely from those of a few years ago, and they are constantly changing and broadening in scope.

If the people want all these things they must pay for them.

The newspaper is the servant of the people, ever ready to give them what they want. Oftentimes the faithful servant is rewarded. The newspapers of the country are not asking for rewards. They are asking for something that is fair, just and right and instead of being forced to argue and draw diagrams to bring readers to their way of thinking, as is often the case, should be applauded and generally respected for their straightforward and businesslike stand.

GOOD SHOW AT KINCAIDE'S.

Large audiences yesterday afternoon and evening enjoyed the splendid program provided by Manager Wardwell for his patrons' amusement.

The Five Musical Durands delighted everybody. They are accomplished musicians and play a number of pleasing selections and a large variety of instruments. And the Misses Durand made a big hit with their singing and dancing specialty which was received with tremendous applause.

The Torley's tumble around on wheels in a way that certainly shows skill and their act was well received. Billy Cole proved a very pleasing entertainer and created much merriment with his ventriloquial ability. McKissick & Shadney, colored comedians, came in for a generous share of applause.

The pictures are mighty good. Pathe Weekly shows many very interesting happenings all over the world.

HAD INFERNAL MACHINE

Three Men Arrested at Richmond, Cal., Supplied With Explosives

San Francisco, Dec. 30.—By refusing to say to what purpose they intended putting an infernal machine, firearms, powerful explosives, dynamite caps and fuses which were found in a sailboat, three men arrested by the police of Richmond, across the bay from San Francisco, caused a score of detectives a great deal of work, and with but few developments.

The men, Charles King, Joseph Brown and H. G. Hanlon, were arrested Saturday as they were about to board the boat at Richmond.

The police of Richmond and Oakland say they have information that King answers the description of a man connected with dynamiting jobs in Indianapolis and elsewhere.

CORONER'S JURY OPENS INQUEST

Two Testify to Seeing Calumet Alliance Badge

OTHER WITNESSES DISAGREE

Mrs. Sizer, Only One Who Saw Man Who Raised Cry of Fire at Christmas Tree Celebration, Causing Seventy-Two Deaths, Says He Wore No Button or Insignia

Calumet, Mich., Dec. 30.—Two out of a score or more of witnesses testified before a coroner's jury that the man who caused the Christmas eve disaster wore a white button, like the badge of the Citizens' alliance.

Immediately after the adjournment, of the hearing, O. N. Hilton, the Denver attorney, in charge of the Western Federation of Miners' legal interests said further development of this phase of the inquiry would be attempted.

The president and a half a dozen members of the women's auxiliary of the federation swore that they saw no insignia on the man. Union members who stood in the vestibule of Italian hall for an hour before the panic started said the alarm came from within the hall and no person wearing such a button had passed them.

In the opinion of Attorney Lucas, prosecuting attorney of Houghton county, who conducted the examination of witnesses, facts fairly well established were that an excitable member of the audience raised the cry, that there was no actual fire in the hall and that the doors were open and the stairway clear when the panic started.

One or two witnesses said there had been some confusion in the hall before the panic started, but women in charge of the celebration denied this.

Practically all witnesses agreed that the first alarm came from a man, that it was taken up at once in different parts of the hall and that the rush for the exit was instantaneous.

Mrs. Therese Sizer, the only witness who saw the man who yelled "Fire," described her experience graphically. She was standing on a table near the stage trying to restrain a rush of children towards the Christmas tree. When she heard the alarm she jumped from the table, ran to the man and grasped him by the shoulders.

"Man, man, what are you doing?"

"There is a fire," he replied.

"No, no; keep still," said Mrs. Sizer, and tried vainly to force him into the chair.

All in the back of the hall were rushing toward the exit and the panic was beginning to spread to those about the stage, Mrs. Sizer quit arguing with the man, ran up the platform and began to play loudly upon the piano. Then the panic began to die down.

Mrs. Sizer described the man as of medium height, dressed in dark clothes, and said he had a dark moustache. She said he wore no button or other insignia and was not near the entrance to the hall when she first heard his voice.

ARREST ARMED BOY

Caught In Act of Robbing Store by Reading Policeman

Reading, Mass., Dec. 30.—Jacob Waxler, an 18-year-old Lawrence boy, was arrested by Patrolman Stockes, charged with attempting to break and enter and carrying a revolver without a license.

The policeman said he saw the youth attempting to break into the rear door of a fruit store in Black's block. Waxler, he said, reached for a revolver when he became aware of the officer's presence, but held up his hands when ordered.

The youth was held in $800 bonds for the grand jury. Waxler said he had lived in Lawrence several years; that he had been out of work recently and had been compelled to leave his home.

California's Output $95,000,000

Sacramento, Cal., Dec. 30.—The mineral output of California for 1913 will total $95,000,000, according to a report by F. McNutt Hamilton state mineralogist. The petroleum yield will show a production of 93,000,000 barrels valued at $43,500,000, an increase of $1,500,000 over last year. The value of gold mined this year will aggregate $20,000,000.

Woman's Body In Coal Bin

New York, Dec. 30.—The body of Mrs. Rollie Monahan, 34 years of age, was found in the coal bin of her home in Brooklyn. She had been killed by being beaten on the head. The woman's husband is sought.

Rear Admiral Upshur Ill

Washington, Dec. 30.—Rear Admiral Henry Upshur, dean of the United States navy, is ill at his home here suffering from ailments incident to old age. Members of his family said his condition was not dangerous.

STUBBORN FIRE

(Continued from Page One.)

here outside of that behind the walls and this was confined to a small space. There was however some slight damage to the furnishings by water.

Down in the banking rooms of the Mt. Wollaston bank the fire was confined to the front office, not reaching the rear room occupied by the directors. Outside of the burnt holes in the walls there was no damage in the banking offices and business was carried on today as usual.

Just how the fire started is somewhat of a mystery, but according to Chief Litchfield the appearances indicate that it must have started over or near the boiler. William Dewhurst the janitor, told Chief Litchfield that he was in the basement shortly before midnight looking after the fires and at that time everything was all right and there was no signs of fire. It was probably one of those fires the origin of which will never be definitely known.

As to the loss it is hard to estimate at this time, although from appearances it will not be heavy. It is believed that $1,000 will more than make the repairs and restore the building to its original state.

Too much in praise of the work of the fire department, for the manner in which it handled and subdued the fire cannot be said, and it is due to their efficient work that the loss was kept down. It was, at noted above, a most difficult fire to get at, and although the firemen tried time and time again to get into the basment the smoke was so heavy that it was impossible.

QUINCY POST OFFICE.

Letters unclaimed for week ending Dec. 27:

Theadoro Almeida, Lorenzo Amati, Balzarno Gennaro, Miss Ina Brown, Jan Dacewier, Mrs. George K. Davis, Gueseppe DiGiarmo, Konrad Elklund, George Philip, Joseph Gomez, Miss Jennie E. Holden, Mrs. P. M. Hugh, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. J. Kennedy, Astafey Morozow, August Olsson, John Oxsanook, Geo. Paisley, William Quinnett, Alton Rich, Joseph L. Sawyer, Antti Sivonen Mrs. A. Skiner, Wm. A. Stetson, Fred Trepetctel, Mrs. L. Potterweed, H. N. Wheeler, Jas Young.

A persistent purpose to produce perfect biscuit

National Biscuit Company is inspired by a persistent purpose to produce perfect biscuit and to deliver them in perfect condition.

The accomplishment of this purpose has resulted in the building of modern bakeries, in the invention of new machinery, in the exercise of unceasing care, in the selection of finest ingredients.

The perfect products of the National Biscuit Company are delivered to you in perfect condition—some in packages with the famous Inner-seal Trade Mark, some in attractive small tins and some from the familiar glass-front cans.

Buy biscuit baked by

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

Always look for that name

TRUNK MYSTERY BAFFLES POLICE

Found Dumped In Gutter With Man's Body Inside

HAVE IDENTIFIED THE VICTIM

Boy Saw Two Men Dispose of Load and Watched It For Half an Hour Before Notifying Officers—Strangulation Cause of Death but Neck Was Broken

New York, Dec. 30.—A murder mystery, which promises to rival the famous barrel murder of a dozen years ago, was brought to the attention of the police when a boy notified them that for half an hour he had watched a trunk which two men had unloaded from a pushcart and left in the gutter in Pitt street, on the East Side.

When the trunk was opened at a police station, the still warm body of a man about 40 years of age, shabbily dressed and emaciated, was found in it. The body was identified by Joseph Malloy, a former roommate, as that of John Kramenz, a Russian Pole, formerly employed in a coal mine at Charleston, W. Va.

According to the coroner, death had been caused by strangulation though in forcing the body into the trunk the neck of the man had been broken.

Stout ropes held the head and neck to the knees and feet of the body. A red bandanna handkerchief had been used as an additional precaution to prevent a return of life. Marks on the lips of the dead man have caused the police to accept the theory that he had been drugged into consciousness by the murderer.

Joseph Cooper, an employe of a "pushcart stable" on Sheriff street, nearby, rented a cart to two men answering the description given by the boy who called the police to Pitt street, of the men who asked him to take care of the trunk after it had been dumped into the gutter.

Cooper says that one of the men was tall and well dressed. The other man, a little shorter and dressed in a dark sweater and cap, wheeled the cart off, and is believed to have been merely the employe of the well-dressed man.

When the cart reached Pitt street the tall man gave his companion a coin and then helped him unload the trunk. After this the man in the sweater returned the pushcart to its owner, while the other asked the urchin to watch the trunk.

At a late hour the police had not learned where the trunk was obtained or picked up by the pushcart, nor had either of the men who carried it away been apprehended.

Kramenz is believed to have been 40 years of age, according to the man who identified him, had a brother living in Cincinnati.

Before coming east he was a coal miner in West Virginia, was later employed as a house wrecker and recently seems to have worked in an East Side stable. Molloy says that Kramenz had been known among his friends as "West Virginia."

MOVIES TO HELP INSANE

Will Be Installed as Part of System at Cincinnati Asylum

Cincinnati, Dec. 30.—The moving pictures, used as a medium through which education and knowledge of the doings of the world may be obtained, will soon be installed as a regular factor of the curative system at Longview insane asylum, this city.

It is to be made a sort of "unknown treatment," undergoing which the patient will not realize that he is being subjected to a mental test. The patient will see only a pleasant method for his entertainment, when, in reality, an accurate probe into his brain will be afforded.

Herman P. Goebel, chairman of the board of directors of the institution, is an enthusiastic believer in benefits to be derived from the movies."

TIES BODY TO BOAT

Young Seaman at Portland Then Jumps Overboard

Portland, Me., Dec. 30.—After taking the precaution to tie a rope around his neck that his body might not be lost, Seaman Frank James, aged 24, jumped overboard from the steamer Ascania, which arrived from London.

Letters to his parents in England and to the captain of the steamer revealed his intentions and explained he was despondent. Search was made and James' body was pulled from the dock by the rope, which had been attached to the steamer.

Six New York Hangars Burned

New York, Dec. 30.—Six aeroplane hangars on the Hempstead Plains aviation field were burned, causing a loss estimated at $25,000. Two monoplanes, valued at about $10,000 each, were destroyed. A dozen aeroplanes were saved. Sydney M. Beckwith, Fred G. Hilda and other aviators received minor burns.

Killed In Mine Blow-Up

Bicknell, Ind., Dec. 30.—Two men, possibly three, were killed by an explosion of gas in the Indian Creek coal mine here. Practically all of the night shift of fifty men had come from the mine when the explosion took place.

Capital $150,000 Surplus $200,000

PERISHABLE PAPERS

are perhaps kept in your house with nothing between them and destruction or theft but a thin wall of wood. That isn't prudent, when, for $3 you can encase them in steel—in a box accessible to YOU ONLY—in our fire and burglar proof vault. Use a Granite Trust Safety-deposit box and sleep well o'-nights!

Our $5 Box is Larger Than a $10 Box in Boston.

GRANITE TRUST CO.
FOUNDED 1836

At ATLANTIC

Quincy Daily Ledger

On Sale after 3.30 P. M.

--- AT ---

BRANSCHIED & MARTENS

Why not put in an order and have it left every day at your home?

INSANE MAN KILLS WIFE AND BABY GIRL

Caught on Bridge on His Way to Kentucky

Cincinnati, Dec. 30.—Robert M. Willard, who says he is a magician, shot and killed a woman registered as his wife, and a little year-old baby girl, in a prominent hotel here, and later ran shrieking down the street, driving all pedestrians to cover while flourishing a revolver. He was later captured on the suspension bridge, trying to make his way to Covington, Ky.

The murder was committed shortly after the woman and baby had retired. Mrs. Willard was shot in the left temple and twice in the body, while the baby was shot through the forehead just above the left eye.

At the police station Willard said he was a magician and a son of James Willard. He said he was born in Goldsborough, N. C., and was married in Oklahoma. He refused to give his wife's maiden name, and later denied that he ever had been married.

When locked in a cell Willard began to scream, shout and talk in an incoherent manner.

MORPHINE CAUSES DEATH

Mother and Four Children Lose Lives Using "Remedy"

Altoona, Pa., Dec. 30.—Morphine, administered by their mother as medicine, was the cause of the deaths of Harry and Laura Pifer, respectively 36 and 38, and of two younger children and the mother herself two weeks ago, according to the verdict of a coroner's jury.

James Pifer, the father, and Lawrence Pifer, another son, are dangerously ill and are not expected to recover.

It was testified that Mrs. Pifer, who was alleged to have been a trafficker in the drug, had administered it to members of her family as medicine for all complaints. No criminal intent was shown.

PUTNAM BANK CLOSES

Slump of Railroad Bonds Impair Assets to Dangerous Point

Putnam, Conn., Dec. 30.—The Putnam Savings bank was closed by order of the state bank commissioner.

The president is John M. Paine and the treasurer Joseph Tourtelotte. The total deposits are given as $2,700,000.

The reason given for temporary closing the bank is that large holdings of railroad bonds show depreciation impairing the assets to a point where heavy withdrawals of deposits could not be met.

Tender and Car Jump Track

Norwich, Conn., Dec. 30.—A locomotive tender and freight car of the freight train bound north for White River Junction from New London on the Centra. Vermont railroad jumped the track at Fitchville, turning over and tearing up about 200 feet of the track. No one was injured.

PRATT'S BREAD—the staff of life for you and your wife. Get a loaf today.

Call Quincy 501--W

if you want your furniture, mattresses and cushions repaired in good order at low prices M. MIRKIN, upholsterer, 1060 Hancock street, near the Quincy High School.
Dec. 1-1m

15 to 20

COLUMNS OF LOCAL NEWS

ARE PUBLISHED DAILY

In the Quincy Ledger

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

PRINTS THE NEWS

CHRISTMAS FESTIVALS

Tree Gatherings at St. Marys, Christ Church and Others

ST. MARYS CHURCH.

The annual Christmas tree celebration for the members and teachers of the Sunday School of St. Marys church was held in St. Joseph hall Monday afternoon. The early part of the program consisted of several reels of moving pictures which made an instant hit with the children present and turned out to be the feature of the day.

Each one that attended was presented with a box of candy and the children were given other gifts. Practically the entire membership of the Sunday School was present. The affair was under the direction of Rev. Fr. Thomas R. McCoy, pastor, and Rev. Fr. William J. Duffy, curate.

SACRED HEART CHURCH.

The Christmas tree exercises for the Sunday School children and teachers of the parish of the Sacred Heart, Atlantic, were held Sunday afternoon in the basement of the church. Previous to the distribution of presents and candy there was a concert of Christmas hymns. The exercises closed with all present attending the Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament in the upper church.

CHRIST CHURCH.

The parish house of Christ church Monday evening was the scene of a pretty party, the occasion being the annual Christmas Tree observance for the Senior department, officers and teachers of the Sunday School. The many present crowded around the tree which was gaily decorated and loaded with joke presents for each member. Loud and explosive laughter followed the opening of each gift.

The impersonation of Santa Claus by Russell Westland created much amusement because of the humorous speech preceding the presentation.

Christmas games were played and dancing was enjoyed, Robert Parnaby presided at the piano. Ice cream and cake were served. The committee consisted of one member of each class of the Sunday School and the affair was under the direction of Rev. Richard E. Armstrong the rector assisted by Superintendent, Arthur Newton, Henry Boutlier, Robert King, Miss Mildred Smith, Miss Edna Wright, Miss Margaret Hogan, Miss Agnes McCarthy, eGorge Schools, James Smith and William Martin.

UNITED PRESBYTERIAN.

Very pleasing Christmas programs were rendered by the choir of the United Presbyterian church at both the morning and evening services on Sunday. The morning selections were:

Prelude, "Berceuse" Delbruck
Carol, "Hark, the herald angels sing" Mendelssohn
Anthem, "Glory to God in the highest" Danks
Carol, "The loving heart" Erskine
Postlude, "Grand Choeur" Dubois

At the evening service:

Carol, "Holy Night"
Anthem, "It came upon a midnight clear" Scott
Anthem, "Glory to God in the highest" Danks
Solo, "The Star of Bethlehem" Adams
Mrs. Edel Jensen Petersen
Postlude, Marche Solennelle, Lemaigre

Mrs. Duncan MacKellar, organist.

The choir was assisted by Mrs. Edel Jensen Peterson, Harry Marr, John Patterson and Alan MacGeechie. The solo by Mrs. Petersen was especially good and greatly enjoyed.

WOLLASTON BAPTIST.

Christmas was continued at both services of the church Sunday. In the morning, the choir sang, "O Zion, that tellest good tidings," by Buck, and at the conclusion of the service there was a trio by the ladies, "Holy Christmas night." The pastor's sermon was appropriate to the season, being based on the close of the year, and what we might do to enter the new year rightly.

At 7 in the auditorium a carol service was held. The numbers rendered were: "Silent night, holy night," "O little town of Bethlehem" "Zion, thy marvelous story be telling," "Angels from the realms of glory," "Today the joy bells of the world," "Stars all bright are Beaming," "Hark, what sounds are sweetly stealing." The service closed with the ordinance of baptism.

With the Sunday school session, Miss Ednah Rhodes completed an attendance of eleven years without absence, and Miss May Critchley, a period of ten years, with but one absence when she attended elsewhere. Interest in the Rand class contest increases, next Sunday marking the close. The ratings are very close, and the winning team will win by but a slight margin.

At 3.30 Mrs. Walther had charge of the Junior C. E. meeting in the chapel. The subject discussed was "Peter's picture of a good Christian."

During the past two months, members of the Senior Y. P. S. C. E. have been going to the Merrimac Street Mission, Boston, to conduct meetings. Sunday evening Jacob Fritz the Superintendent of the mission visited the society and told of his work in the slums.

The Daily Ledger requests that church news be mailed earlier that it may appear in Monday's paper.

PRACTICE HAPPINESS

Practise happiness! Like virtue, it is acquired by practice. Moreover, if you do not you are likely to practise ill-temper or sensitiveness or selfpity; and in these directions you are likely to achieve success that is worse than failure.—The Christian Register

HALL PLACE M. E.

Rev. T. C. Martin of the Hall Place M. E. church took for the text of his morning service Matt 9:36 and 37. "But when he saw the multitudes he was moved with compassion on them, because they fainted and were scattered abroad as sheep having no shepherd. Then saith he unto his disciples, "The harvest truly is plenteous but the laborers are few; pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest that he will send forth laborers into his harvest."

Sunday School met at the close of the morning service. Miss Hilda Francis led the Epworth League devotional service at 6.15 on "Things to be forgotten and things to be remembered."

On Wednesday evening the annual meeting of the Sunday School Board will be held with the election of officers. At 9 o'clock the "Watch Night" services will begin. The pastor will be assisted at these services by Rev. A. M. Thompson of the Presbyterian church, Rev. Mr. Tilley of the Bapist church and Mr. Farquhar. The Epworth League will serve refreshments during the intermission. All are most cordially invited to attend these services.

Junior League at 3.45 Friday afternoon. Prayer meeting will be omitted Friday night, but a rehearsal will be held for the "Old Folk's" concert at 8 P. M. All the singers are asked to be present.

ATLANTIC M. E.

An enjoyable Christmas concert was given Sunday evening at the Atlantic M. E. church under the direction of Supt. Cassidy. It included singing, recitations, exercises and a short address.

Rev. E. C. Pollard, the pastor, has issued special invitations for "Come home day" which will be observed by the church on Sunday, Jan. 4. All people who have been benefitted in any way by the teachings of the Methodist pulpit, or coming in contact with Methodists are cordially invited to come home for this special service. Old time hymns will be sung.

Actress Jumps to Death

Chicago, Dec. 30.—Mrs. George Secord, 30, an actress, jumped from a fifth-story window in a hotel here and was killed. She left a sealed letter addressed to her husband, an actor.

Inventor of Cash Register Dead

Dayton, O., Dec. 30.—John Ritty, aged 65, who is credited with inventing the cash register, died at the home of his sister, Mrs. Thomas Cooper, here.

HOLMES & HALL
REPAIRERS OF HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
SHADES
DOOR BELLS
LOCKS and KEYS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

SUPPLY SHIP BIDS OPENED

Competition of Navy Yards with Private Shipyards

Bids were opened at Washington on Monday for the building of the supply ship for the Navy department for which Congress has made an appropriation of $1,425,000.

Until the department has gone over the bids of the different navy yards the government declines to divulge the estimates of the government yards.

The figures of the private yards on the transport are as follows:

New York Ship Building Company, Camden, N. J., for vessel of 9800 tons displacement, $1,752,000.

Fore River Ship Building Company, ship of same displacement, 14 knots speed, to be finished in 24 months, $1,804,000.

Seattle Construction and Dry Dock Company, same specifications and conditions, $1,931,00.

Newport News Ship Building and Dry Dock Company, class No. 1 vessel, $1,730,000; class No. 2 vessel, $1,700,-00.

William Cramp & Sons Company, Philadelphia, ship of 10,000 tons, $1,832,000.

For the supply ship the following bids from private concerns were received:

New York Shipbuilding Company, displacement 8500 tons, speed 14 knots, to be finished in 24 months $1,399,500.

Fore River Shipbuilding Company, same specifications and terms, $1,419,-000.

Seattle Construction and Drydock Company, to be finished in 21 months, $1,404,000.

William Cramp & Sons Company, $1,401,000.

Newport News Shipbuilding & Drydock Company, class No. 1 ship $1,359 000 or No. 2 class $1,320,000.

EARLY PAVING FROM QUINCY

Has been in Use at Charlestown Navy Many Years

The mammoth paving blocks that are now being removed from the main streets at the Charlestown Navy yard originally came from Quincy. Some years ago these blocks were removed from the most important avenues and brick, granolithic or asphalt substituted. Recently however, with an additional appropriation for improvements the remaining blocks are being taken up. The blocks are carried to one end of the yard and put through the stone crushers.

The old granite blocks, measuring about two feet long by one foot in width and about a foot in depth, had been at the yard as long as any one now there can remember, and the records show that some of them were put in 80 years ago. That style of paving was then all the vogue, it is said, for heavy traffic streets, and it is pointed out that State street, Boston, had been similarly paved up to but a few years ago. For the yard purposes, in the old shipbuilding days, the big blocks were the ideal kind, as then great teams of oxen lumberingly hauled heavy trucks loaded with great cannon, chain, ship timbers, etc., over the yard streets, and the big blocks would last for a long time even under such hard usage.

Now all the heavier transportation work is done on the yard's railroad system or with locomotive or floating cranes.

That these blocks originally came from Quincy there is but little doubt, and it is thought that Solomon Willard was the man who furnished them. The granite used in the wharf at the Navy Yard came from the Railway quarries in Quincy as did also the granite for the Bunker Hill monument and from the best information that can be had, it is believed that Solomon Willard was the man who furnished them. Pattees history states that Mr. Willard furnished paving blocks way back in the thirties or early forties, and that ten years later Henry Barker commenced the manufacture of paving blocks of about the size now in general use.

Generally Succeeds.

A woman likes to marry a man who feels that he was born to command, just to prove to him that he wasn't. —Puck.

HIGHLY COLORED HILARITY.

Queer Kind of Fun That Goes With One Hindu Festival.

The "Holi Festival," as celebrated annually by the maharaja of Patiala, India, is described by Charles Bertram in his volume, "A Magician In Many Lands." Mr. Bertram writes:

"Early in the morning I went to the club, where I found many of the guests, who were taking part in the ceremony for the first time. We were provided with a complete new suit of Hindu garments, and our dressing was superintended by the maharaja's servants. We had camels, elephants and victorias provided for us. I was on an elephant, in a kind of box, and we drove in procession to the palace of the native city.

"We were received with great acclaim by the natives, and I was led to believe that it was to be decidedly a dignified occasion, but I was woefully mistaken. The fun had not begun. Certain formalities had to be gone through before the signal was given.

"We took our seats in the courtyard of the palace at a long table that was loaded with large gilt dishes filled with different colored balls as large as oranges and filled with holi powder. At a signal the brother of the maharaja came to the front of the table and salaamed to the prince, who took one of the balls and threw it gently across the table, striking the officer on the breast.

"The ball broke and scattered the powder over his costume. Then there was a general scramble, and in less time than it takes to write hundreds of balls were flying about, their many colored contents scattered broadcast on the crowd. Next baskets of loose powder were thrown upon us in handfuls.

"It was no use to expostulate; the moment you opened your mouth somebody filled it with powder. The battle grew fast and furious, when suddenly an enormous stream of water from a fire engine drenched everybody. The colored powders became wet and, mingling together, dyed us all in brilliantly variegated hues.

"After this sort of thing had gone on for half an hour it ceased by mutual consent, and we returned to the private gardens of the maharaja, where we were most unceremoniously pitched into a tank of running water. I was dyed a deep scarlet all over my body, and it was fully a month before the color entirely disappeared from my face and hands."

Maddening Calmness.

A New Yorker who had planned a week end trip with his wife fumed and fretted without avail on the morning set for their departure because she made such slow progress in getting ready for the journey. At last he fairly dragged her from the house and into a waiting taxicab, although she kept protesting that there was no occasion for hurry, as they had plenty of time. Arrived at the station, the couple dashed for their train and were just in time to see it pulling out. "There," said the irate husband, "didn't I tell you that we'd never catch that train on account of you?"

"Yes," said his philosophic spouse calmly, "but we didn't miss it by much."—New York Tribune.

London's Kennel Club.

The London Kennel club has pedigrees of 500,000 dogs on file. The club was organized in 1873. At the annual show of the Kennel club in London about $40,000 is awarded in prizes. A committee of the club meets twice a month, and the chairman and members of the committee sit as judges and jury in every disputed case passed up to them by the judges of shows. Witnesses are called in the ordinary way and sometimes the sentences are very severe. Not infrequently the owners of dogs are prohibited from ever taking part in a show afterward.

He Unburdens Himself.

"Can you bear it if I tell you something serious?" ventured the young husband.

"Yes. Don't keep anything from me!" gasped the bride.

"Remember, this does not mean that my love for you is growing less."

"Don't break my heart. What is it?"

"Well, my dear, I'm getting tired of angel food every day for dinner. Would it be too much to ask you to have liver and onions?"—Kansas City Journal.

Ocean Derelicts.

Abandoned vessels have often floated for many months waterlogged, but carried far by winds and currents. There was the Fanny E. Wolston, deserted on Oct. 15, 1891, which traveled about 4,000 miles before she was last reported in December, 1893. And the W. L. White was a derelict from 1888, when she was near New York, till she ran ashore on the Hebrides a year later. Forty vessels saw her, but could not sink her.

Cruel Hazing.

"Have you heard what Mabel's fraternity did to her?"

"They have terrible initiations, I understand."

"That's what. They ordered her to help her mother with the dishes for a month."—Washington Herald.

Relatives of Success.

Luck and Industry met on the highway of life. "I understand we are related," remarked Luck.

"Yes, in a sort of a way," replied Industry. "I am the mother of Success, while you are a distant relative."—Philadelphia Record.

It is the hatred of narrow minds for liberal ideas that fetters the march of progress.—Victor Hugo.

NEW YEARS IN CHURCHES

Masses and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament

New Years Day will be observed in all of the Catholic churhes of the city

Masses at St. John's church will be celebrated at 5, 7, and 9 o'clock. At the Church of the Sacred Heart masses will be at 5.30 and 8 o'clock. Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament will follow the last masses at both churches.

At St. Mary's church the regular masses will be celebrated in the morning and in the evening there will be Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

SWEDISH BAPTIST.

A watch-night service will be held at the church Wednesday evening, commencing at 9 o'clock with a social hour and refreshments. After the pleasant chats over the teacups, all will adjourn to the chapel where a song service and sermon will be held under the leadership of the pastor, Rev. Paul Hallin. Religious exercises will continue until the stroke of twelve and the coming in of the new year. All members and friends are cordially invited to attend the services.

PUBLIC DUMPS NOT PUBLIC

That is People Cannot Take Anything Away

An evening paper of Monday speaks at length of the practice in vogue in Boston of concerns that make a business of collecting old milk jars and cans from public dumps and put them into service again through the milk dealers.

The article goes on to state that many milk bottles and cans find their way into the public dump by means of the ash barrels, and that later they are collected by dump pickers who make it a business to collect materials of value from these dumps and that they later are sold to the milk bottle exchange and eventually find their way back to the original owner.

It is a well known fact that a dirty milk bottle is a great disease breeder, and that unclean milk bottles have been the means of creating and spreading many epidemics. Of course if the bottles are sterilized this kills the lurking germs but it is said that not one in a thousand milk dealers go to this trouble.

Such a condition of affairs as is reported in Boston was found in Quincy a few months ago and the Board of Health promptly took steps to stop it.

The Board of Health found that it was a common practice for certain people to make daily visits to public dumps, pan over the material thrown away, and pick out anything that had any value and cart it off. That many milk jars were thus carried off the Board of Health were not long in being convinced, with the result that a regulation prohibiting any person from taking any material from a public dump was issued.

As far as can be learned the regulation has been generally obeyed in Quincy. The Board of Health found in their investigation that milk jars had found their way to the dump through rubbish barrels and that these collectors had gathered them up and sold them to the milk bottle exchange and that eventually they found their way back to the Quincy dealers through the names on the bottles.

These things together with the recent resolution adopted by the Board of Health relative to polluting public ponds and water supplies, shows that the Board of Health is fully alive to the preservation of health of the city.

Complaints have reached the Board of Health that parties were in the habit of dumping refuse matter on the banks of streams, supplying ice ponds as well as dumping tin cans, vegetable and waste matter in water sheds and on the shores of ponds, it has taken steps to stop the practice by passing a regulation forbidding such pollution, a copy of which is advertised in another column in today's Daily Ledger. The fine for violation of the regulation shall not exceed $100.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS?
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

FOR A
Holiday Present
NOTHING COULD BE BETTER THAN
A QUINCY HISTORY
EACH YEAR THE HISTORY OF
OLD BRAINTREE AND QUINCY
WRITTEN BY
W. S. PATTEE, M. D.
AND PUBLISHED IN 1878
GROWS MORE VALUABLE, AS IT CONTAINS HISTORICAL DATA ABOUT QUINCY THAT CANNOT BE OBTAINED ELSEWHERE
$3.50 PER COPY
FOR SALE BY
GEO. W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
1424 HANCOCK STREET
QUINCY

VISIONS OF ARCHITECTS COME TRUE AS VAST EXHIBIT PALACES RISE ON SHORES OF SAN FRANCISCO BAY Whole World Will Be Represented at America's Eighty Million Dollar Panama Canal Celebration.

Wonderful progress has been attained in the superb Panama-Pacific International Exposition to be held in San Francisco in 1915 to celebrate the opening of the Panama canal. Thousands of men are now at work upon the exposition grounds and the plans of the great architects for the city of exposition palaces are more clearly revealed than they were by the first published designs and drawings. The huge main exhibit section is fast nearing completion and a world's record has been established in exposition building.

Thousands of sightseers flock to the exposition grounds every Sunday and on holidays—visitors are not permitted during working hours because of the injury which might result to them. From the work already accomplished the visitor gains a vision of the exposition as it will appear when completed. Huge groups of statuary, executed by the world's most famous sculptors, have been enlarged and may be seen upon the exposition grounds. Hundreds of acres, once a vast barren waste, have been transformed into beautiful park-like areas covered with green sward in which are being set thousands of rare trees, plants and shrubs, converting the grounds into a semi-tropical paradise. A wonderful color plan has been designed by Jules Guerin, world famous decorative artist, and superb mural paintings to decorate the walls and porticos of the vast exposition courts have reached San Francisco. Several hundred thousand dollars have been expended upon these paintings alone.

In the opinion of notable authorities in world's expositions the Panama-Pacific International Exposition has attained a greater degree of progress than that reached in any other formal world's exposition at a period so far in advance of its opening.

Hundreds of great conventions and congresses, whose delegates will come from all parts of the world, will meet in San Francisco during the exposition year. A wonderful display of the exhibits from all parts of the world is assured. At this writing thirty-one of the nations have officially accepted the invitation of the United States to take part in the exposition. Construction has begun upon the foreign pavilions and upon the concessions section. The concessions district will be one of the most marvelous features of the exposition grounds, entailing an expenditure of more than $10,000,000. In the estimate of the comptroller, the exposition will involve an expenditure of eighty million dollars up to its opening day.

The opening ceremonies of the exposition will be in peculiar accord with its international character. President Wilson's invitation to the nations to be represented with detachments of their battleship fleets as the official celebration has met with an enthusiastic response; it is believed that more than two hundred battleships will be assembled at Hampton Roads, off the West Virginia coast, late in 1914. This magnificent fleet, the most formidable array of naval warcraft ever gathered together and representing the pick of the fighting strength of the world's navies, will proceed from Hampton Roads through the Panama canal, gathering in the Caribbean sea in time for the formal opening of the Panama canal on January 1st, 1915; thence the fleet will proceed to the Golden Gate, assembling off the site of the exposition, which opens on February 20, 1915.

The dramatic passage of the fleet can be easily imagined. The eyes of the whole world will be upon this vast array of battleships as they steam to the scene of America's brilliant Panama canal celebration.

Try an Advertisement in
The Quincy Daily Ledger
Through the Daily Newspaper the Advertiser can make a local and intimate appeal to his prospective customer in his own community and in his own vernacular.
The Newspaper Advertisement is not buried—it is accessible. The Newspaper Advertisement of a commodity continually or daily needed is read by the very people whose continual or daily need the Advertiser desires to supply. The Newspaper Advertisement may be seen thirty times a month—it is not limited to one appearance.
Geo. W. Prescott Publishing Company
1424 Hancock Street, -- Quincy, Mass.

Quincy Daily Ledger

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30.
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branschied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
Newcomb Square—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. Smith.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck.
L. A. Cook, Washington Street.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington Street.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield Water st.
A. Pierson, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—Capt. Fosdick's.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity. Generally fair weather Wednesday and Thursday.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	7.13
Sun sets	4.20
Length of day	9.07
Moon rises	7.32
High water, A. M.	1.00
High water, P. M.	1.15
Days increase 0 hours,	3 minutes
Full Moon, Dec. 13,	10.00 A. M.
Last Quarter, Dec. 20	11.16 A. M.
New Moon, Dec. 27	9.59 A. M.
First Quarter, Dec. 5,	9.59 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today	38 degrees
Dec. 30 1912,	45 degrees
Dec. 30, 1911,	32 degrees

Dec. Noon Maximum 14 years—67
Dec. Noon Minimum, 14 years—2

NEWSY BRIEFS

Joseph Currie, a popular Quincy resident, who has been in New York for the past year, is home for the holidays.

The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth A. Fogg took place at her home, 623 Pleasant street, South Weymouth, on Sunday afternoon. The service was conducted by Rev. Henry C. Alvard of the Old South Congregational church. The interment was in the Mt. Wollaston cemetery at Quincy.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis P. Loud of Washington street have returned from extended visits with their daughter, Mrs. William Brandau, Mrs. Loud being away seven weeks and Mr. Loud three weeks. One day they were guests of Mrs. Waterhouse formerly of Wollaston.

The amusement committee of Clan McGregor met Monday evening at Clan hall, in South Quincy, to complete details in connection with the production of "Rob Roy" which is to be given New Years eve. Alex W. Russell who is managing the presentation of the play announced that the curtain would rise promptly at 7.45, and that the play would open with a chorus. As usual dancing will follow the drama until 3 o'clock.

Granite conclave, I. O. H., held its last meeting under the direction of the retiring officers in Protection hall Monday evening. The attendance was large and arrangements were made for the initiation of two candidates at the next meeting. The installation of officers will be one of the most elaborate affairs held by the conclave and plans have been practically completed.

☞PRATT'S BREAD is best because more care is used in the making. Grocers.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED
Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point
Tel. Quincy Mass. 1153 M Nov 3-tf

FORE RIVER LEAGUE GAMES

Machine Floor, Yard, Draftsmen and Electricians Win

Three matches in the Fore River league were rolled on the Coliseum alleys Monday evening. For the third time within a week the Ship Fitters forfeited their match, the Electricians being the gainer Monday night. The bowlers are not very enthusiastic over the showing of the team which has stuck in cellar position since the opening night and they may withdraw from further competition.

Many bowlers are talking over the semi annual league banquet which is held at Boston about this time annually and some favor holding the affair in this city. Nothing definite will be obtained until after the Rivadavia is turned over to the Argentine government since many rollers will be on the trial trips.

The league continues to have its bright lights and oi Monday evening Fromme of the Hull Draftsmen and Robbins of the Yard team tied for high single with 116 apiece. The former took the three string total from his associate by 13 pins.

Mills of the Yard team ran both men a close second getting a single of 112. His showing in the following two strings netted him 312, the best total of the evening. Ferguson of the Ex-Apprentices nosed out a single of 110, but fell down badly on his third string. Sullivan of the Hull Draftsmen who made 108 in his second met a similar fate. Pitts of the Blacksmith came through with 104 in his last after an uneven showing in his first two strings.

The Machine Floor beat the Ex-Apprentices 3 to 1. The winners lost the first by 48 pins, cut down the lead in the second, settled the question in the third and took the total by 12 pins. The figures were:

MACHINE FLOOR.

Crockett	82	90	71	243
Russell	71	97	75	243
Broberg	93	77	90	260
John	76	86	102	264
Vose	80	81	85	246
	402	431	423	1256

EX-APPRENTICES.

Madden	92	67	73	232
Ash	82	75	81	238
Ferguson	110	92	76	278
Manning	77	82	92	251
Morgan	89	81	75	245
	450	397	397	1244

The tussle between the Yard and the Blacksmiths, the strong against the weak, furnished most of the excitement of the evening. Despite the tough breaks of the latter, the men cleaned up very difficult spares, but through their inconsistency lost the match 3 to 1.

YARD TEAM.

Smith	99	86	81	266
Goodhue	84	85	97	266
Robbins	90	116	87	293
Mills	112	99	101	312
McKenzie	83	101	78	262
	468	487	444	1399

BLACKSMITHS.

Flanagan	66	71	95	232
Pitts	84	74	104	262
Duffy	93	92	96	281
McLellan	81	90	97	268
Bergfors	102	91	92	285
	426	418	484	1328

At no time was their any question over the four points that the Hull Draftsmen took from the Pipe Fitters They started seining on the first wave, made a pretty catch in the second and third, and tied up with a lead of 106 to the good. Carter made the best showing on the losers, his single of 98 and total of 275 being the only signs of real bowling evident.

HULL DRAFTSMEN.

Fromme	98	116	92	306
Kennedy	85	72	89	246
Sullivan	84	108	73	265
Ryan	77	85	94	256
Westland	87	86	83	256
	431	467	431	1329

PIPE FITTERS.

Carter	91	98	86	275
Hamilton	77	77	75	229
Stenech	78	82	78	238
Gallagher	62	89	81	232
Graham	76	95	78	249
	384	441	398	1223

The Electricians, with no competitors to worry them fooled away many chances with the result that their individual showing was not of the best.

ELECTRICIANS.

Lincoln	88	96	92	276
Dreboy	90	91	77	258
Avery	87	98	77	262
Smith	88	98	76	262
Fitzgerald	87	88	84	259
	440	471	406	1317

Shipfitters Forfeited.

AN UNUSUAL FEATURE

Shackleton Will Use Airship on His Trip to South Pole

London, Dec. 30.—An interesting feature of the equipment to be used by Sir Ernest Shackleton on his proposed expedition next year across the Antarctic continent will be sledges driven by aeroplane engines and an aeroplane with clipped wings to aid it propelling the sledges over the ice.

The trans-continental party will consist of six men and 120 dogs. The animals chosen will be those accustomed to team and post work in Alaska and Siberia, and they will be handled by experienced Canadians. Sir Ernest plans to land at latitude 78 degrees south on Weddelsea at the beginning of November, 1914, and expects to arrive in Ross sea, on the other side of the South Pole, in March, 1915.

The expedition will have two oil-driven ships.

GERMANY REJECTS PLEA

Refuses Request of United States to Be "Most Favored Nation"

Berlin, Dec. 30.—Germany refused the request of the United States government for the "most favored nation" treatment of American steels, rubber shoes, etc., but it was hinted that she was willing to bargain for this concession if the United States would make an equivalent in return for it.

The reply of the German government to the application of the United States government points out various features of the American tariff law, such as the inspection of the books of manufacturers and the administrative regulations, which Germany would like to see changed.

GOMPER'S BRIEF IN SUPREME COURT

Holds Contempt Is Crime and Prosecutions Limited

Washington, Dec. 30.—On the strength largely of a brief filed with the supreme court of the United States will depend whether Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, must go to jail for contempt of the District of Columbia supreme court. The brief was filed by Alton B. Parker, Jackson H. Ralston and William E. Richardson.

The contempt sentence arose out of the injunction of the District supreme court against boycotting the Buck Stove and Range company. The District court of appeals reduced the sentence imposed by the trial court from one year to thirty days. It also reduced the jail sentences imposed upon John itchell, former member of the American Federation of Labor executive council, and Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, to a $500 fine for each.

Oral arguments as to the validity of all the sentences will be made before the court about Jan. 5.

One of the principal points relied upon by the labor leaders is that contempt of court is a crime, and that prosecutions thereof are limited to three years in the District.

SUICIDE BY HANGING

Mrs. Warren Skinner of Lynn Ends Life With Bath Robe Cord

Nahant, Mass., Dec. 30.—While suffering from despondency for which she had been under treatment for some time, Mrs. Mary L. Skinner, 53 years old, wife of Warren Skinner of 7 Carnes street, Lynn, committed suicide, at the home of Emily G. Bedford, on Lennox road. With the cord of her bath robe the woman ended her life by winding it about her neck and then fastening it to a hook in the closet.

It was said that Mrs. Skinner had been melancholy since the death of her mother, seven years ago.

TO ANNOY DINERS

Cooks May Make Gotham's New Year's Fete a Failure

New York, Dec. 30.—New Yorkers, who are famous for their costly dining on New Year's eve, may have a time they are not bargaining for Wednesday night.

Badly cooked steaks, sloppy gravy, soup in the coffee and sour vegetables may be all they will get for the bonuses they have paid to reserve tables for the festive night, because the cooks in the big hotels and restaurants are planning a campaign of petty annoyances to bring about more money and less work.

Charged With Playmate's Death

Chattanooga, Tenn., Dec. 30.—Thirteen-year-old Mabron Smith was arrested here on a charge of murder as the result of the death of his 8-year-old playmate, a son of F. L. Rider, who was struck with a stone when the boys quarreled two weeks ago.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

SECRET EXIT OF MYSTERY WOMAN

Miss Brance Leaves Monticello Between Two Days

RESTING IN A SANATORIUM

"Soulmate" Loved Couch Too Much to Profit Through His Tragic Death, She Declared, and Refused an Offer of $500 a Week to Appear In Vaudeville—Will Go to Iowa

Monticello, N. Y., Dec. 30.—Adelaide M. Brance, who as the "soulmate" of Melvin H. Couch lived secretly in a small compartment in his office in the Masonic building, is in a sanatorium near this city.

It was at first reported that she had joined her brother and probably was on her way west. She will remain in the sanatorium for a few weeks, resting and gaining in strength. After that she will probably join her brother, William O. Brance, in Palmer, Ia. Her other brother, Herbert O. Brance, made the arrangements for her departure when here on Friday.

Miss Brance's exit from Monticello was just as secret as her arrival in Couch's rooms. She wished to slip away unnoticed because she dreaded above all things the meeting of reporters and photographers.

Her request that her departure be made under cover of darkness was respected by her brother. He obtained the co-operation of Sheriff Kinnie and David S. Avery, ex-sheriff, both warm friends of Couch. Sheriff Kinnie threw out misleading hints by saying he did not know when the woman would go away and feared she would remain in the hospital ward indefinitely.

Sheriff Kinnie drove his automobile to the jail and in a few minutes Miss Brance, heavily veiled and warmly clad, left the jail. The automobile sped to Fallsburg, five miles away. The woman was secreted in the house of a friend of the sheriff until the train west was almost due. Then she left the house and hurried to the railroad station.

Both Sheriff Kinnie and Avery were at the station to bid her goodby. The woman thanked them for their help. She did not succeed in selling the mortgages which she holds and refused an offer to advance her $200 on them. She accordingly took the mortgages with her. Money had been provided for her by friends.

Before the woman left she was advised by one person to accept the offer of $500 a week from a New York manager for a vaudeville engagement. In answer she said:

"I loved Mr. Couch dearly, too dearly to make money out of the notoriety surrounding his sad death. Why, I could not face the people without feeling all the time that they were pointing to me as a curiosity because I had loved a man too dearly. I cannot understand why the public is so much interested in a middle-aged woman who loved an old man."

WILL ANNOUNCE NEW YEAR

Wireless Operator to Send Message Over 30,000,000 Square Miles

Washington, Dec. 30.—An electric impulse that will penetrate to every quarter of the globe in .067 of a second will be sent out from the 600-foot wireless tower at Arlington at the exact second of the birth of the new year in Washington.

No receiver delicate enough to record the flashes at the Antipodes has yet been invented, but the signal may be caught with ordinary instruments over an area of approximately 30,000,000 square miles. Five minutes before midnight Dec. 31, the Arlington operator will begin ticking off the seconds, skipping the 29th second and the 55th to 59th seconds, inclusive of the first foifr minutes. The last minute the 29th second will be omitted, and no dots will be made after the 48th second. Twelve seconds later a dash of 1½ seconds' duration, beginning exactly at midnight, will announce the new year.

Farewell Banquet by Mayor

Portsmouth, N. H., Dec. 30.—The outgoing members of the city government were tendered a banquet by the retiring mayor, Daniel W. Badger. Mayor-elect Harry B. Yeaton, and the new board of council, elected on Dec. 9, will take office on New Year's day.

Vedrines Flies 3000 Miles

Cairo, Egypt, Dec. 30.—Jules Vedrines, the French aviator, has arrived at Cairo, thus bringing to a successful end a flight of nearly 3000 miles, which began several weeks ago from Paris.

Revenue Cutter Hunting Derelict

Provincetown, Mass., Dec. 30.—Wireless orders were sent to the revenue cutter Gresham to go in search of a derelict between Shoveful and Handkerchief lights and destroy it.

Three Chinese Regiments Revolt

Pekin, Dec. 30.—Three regiments of the Chinese army under General Yang Hu-Pin have revolted in Yunhan province, and proclaimed the province independent, with Dr. Sun Yat Sen provisional president, according to a dispatch received here from Tali-Fu.

NEGROES CONFESS CRIME

One Killed a Farmer and the Other Robbed the Body

Chestertown, Md., Dec. 30.—Kent county farmers began streaming into town for the meeting of the grand jury, which was named for the purpose of taking up the cases of the negroes accused of the murder of James R. Coleman, a well-to-do farmer.

Outwardly, at least, the population was calm and the authorities seemed satisfied that there would be no repetition of the wild scenes, when a mob unsuccessfully stormed the jail with the avowed intention of lynching the prisoners.

Inside the jail the confessions of James Parraway and Norman Mahel were repeated and reduced to writing for presentation to the grand jury. Parraway has admitted that he was the slayer of Coleman and that Mabel robbed the body. This confirmed Mabel's statement to the state's attorney, both confessions agreeing that Parraay struck Coleman over the head with an iron bar, killing him, while Mabel rifled the dead man's pockets.

CURED BY RAD.UM

Dr. Jacobi Claims Treatment Made Him Whole

New York, Dec. 30.—Dr. Abraham Jacobi, ex-president of the American Medical association and an authority on women's and children's diseases, was cured of cancer by radium.

He made the announcement at a meeting of the Eastern Medical society recently held in Buffalo and the facts are reported in the current issue of the New York Medical Journal.

Dr. Jacobi said that seven years ago an epithelioma appeared upon his nose and for two years it gave him a great deal of worry. He was subjected to radium treatment and a prompt cure resulted. This was accomplished by three applications—one of three minutes, one of four minutes and one of seven minutes—at short intervals.

FIFTY-EIGHT MILES, FORTY-SIX MINUTES

Army Fliers Win Mackay Trophy In War Game

San Diego, Cal., Dec. 30.—Flying fifty-eight miles in a biplane in forty-six minutes and locating an "invading" body of troops and their equipment, Lieutenant Joseph Carberry, pilot, and Lieutenant F. Seldel of the First Aero corps of the United States army captured the Mackay trophy. The contest took place in the war game.

In competition with the victors were Lieutenants Tolliver and Mueller, who operated a biplane. The latter craft developed motor trouble and made a forced landing on bad ground, breaking its landing gear.

OLDEST GENERAL IS 94

Louis Hayes Celebrates Birthday and Gives Good Advice

Bloomfield, N. J., Dec. 30.—General Edwin Louis Hayes, the oldest living general in the United States, is celebrating his 94th birthday at his home here. He is in good physical condition.

General Hayes served in the union army throughout the Civil war and afterwards acted for five months as governor of North Carolina. He is one of the surviving founders of the Republican party.

General Hayes attributes his long life to temperance, plenty of exercise in the open air and a good, clear conscience.

"Do right," he says; "live right, be contended with your lot, love your neighbor, and your days will be long and happy."

YEGGS GET $35,000

Tunnel 150 Feet to Reach California Bank Vault

San Francisco, Dec. 30.—Crackmen tunnelled 150 feet and pierced the concrete walls of the First National bank of Oreville. They obtained $3500 in silver, but were unable to blow the steel coin safe, in which was stored a much larger amount of gold and currency.

The base from which the robbers worked was the cellar of a building occupied only when lodge meetings were held at night, and they had ample time, to dig their tunnel.

Officers Hurt In Strike Riot

Shelton, Conn., Dec. 30.—Two police officers and a special guard were injured in a riot at the Sidney Blumenthal company's silk mill here, where a strike in the weave shop has been in progress for several weeks. Eight arrests were made.

Farmer Kills Bride of Month

Reppublic, Mo., Dec. 30.—After a quarrel, said to have been due to jealousy, Ollie Blades, a young farmer, shot and killed his bride of a month near here. Mrs. Blades was 16 years old.

Hatch Egg on Kitchen Stove

Newtown, N. J., Dec. 30.—George Schaefer hatched an egg on the kitchen stove, using a baking powder can and cotton. The chick is alive.

Velasquez Is Arrested

Santo Domingo, Dec. 30.—Federico Velasquez, formerly minister of finance, was arrested on a political charge.

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Oscar B. Johnson of Brockton in the County of Plymouth and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, to Frederick E. Tupper of Quincy in the County of Norfolk and said Commonwealth, dated July 11, 1910, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, book 1149, page 6, for breach of the condition of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on Thursday, the fifteenth day of January, A. D. 1914, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, and therein described as follows:—

A certain lot of land in said Quincy, with the buildings thereon. Said lot being numbered 34 on a plan dated February 1909, Frederick E. Tupper, Civil Engineer, duly recorded with Norfolk Plans, and bounded and described as follows viz: Northeasterly on lot No. 35 on said plan Two hundred (200) feet, Northwesterly on land of adjoining owner sixty (60) feet Southwesterly on lot No. 33 on said plan Two hundred (200) feet and Southeasterly on Sea Street Sixty (60) feet. Containing 3300 square feet of upland.

Being the same premises conveyed to said Oscar B. Johnson by Charles H. Shriver, et al, trustees, and subject to the restrictions therein contained.

Said premises will be sold subject to said restrictions and any and all tax titles, unpaid taxes, municipal liens and assessments, if any such there be. $100. will be required to be paid by the purchaser in cash at the time and place of sale; balance in ten days from date of sale on delivery of the deed.

FREDERICK E. TUPPER,
Mortgagee.
Quincy, Mass. Dec. 23, 1913.
Dec. 23-3t 23, 30, 6

EXECUTOR'S NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed executor of the estate of Mary Catherine Baxter late of Ketchum in the County of Blaine, State of Idaho, deceased, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, and appointing Gaspar G. Bacon of Boston his agent, as the law directs.

All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to the subscriber.

PAUL P. BAXTER, Executor.
(Address)
Care of Gaston, Snow & Saltonstall
Shawmut Bank Building, Boston.
Quincy, Dec. 30, 1913.
Dec. 30-3t 30-5-12

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

In effect Nov. 16, 1913

The letters in the same line as the figures below stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows.

a Wollaston	f Harrison Square
b Norfolk Downs	g Savin Hill
c Atlantic	h Crescent Avenue
d Neponset	i South Boston
e Pope's Hill	r Quincy Adams
* Saturdays Only	† Except Saturday

Exp.—Express train.

TO BOSTON Leave	Stop	Arrive	FROM BOSTON Leave	Stop	Arrive
r 5 14 abcdefghi		5 41	5 44 ihgfedcba		6 14 r
r 6 19 abcd		6 40	6 09 ihgfedcba		6 39 r
r 6 32 e		6 49	6 29 a		6 47
			6 47 Exp		7 04
r 6 40 abcf		7 00	7 14 hgfedcba		7 41 r
r 7 08 abcd		7 30	7 34 a		7 52
7 28 a		7 46	7 37 a		7 56
r 7 32 Exp		7 49	7 44 e		8 03 r
r 7 42 ab		8 00	8 24 cba		8 45 r
7 55 a		8 12	8 44 b		9 02
r 8 13 abc		8 32	9 09 fedba		9 32 r
8 24 a		8 41	9 44 a		10 01 r
r 8 33 a		8 50	10 14 ihgfedcba		10 41 r
r 8 59 ad		9 16	10 54 Exp		11 10
r 9 18 abc		9 39	11 14 hgfedcba		11 41 r
r 10 04 a		10 21	11 49 a		12 07
r 10 19 abcdefghi		10 45	12 14 hgfedcba		12 41 r
11 12 a		11 23	12 20 a		12 38
r 11 24 abcdefgh		11 50	12 59 Exp		1 06
12 04 a		12 20	1 16 fedcba		1 40 r
			† 1 32 a		1 50
r 12 27 abcdefghi		12 53	1 44 a		2 01
r 1 16 a		1 34	2 14 fedcba		2 37 r
2 04 a		2 20	2 34 Exp		2 50
r 2 19 abcdefgh		2 45	3 14 hgfedcba		3 40 r
r 3 13 Exp		3 28	3 44 a		4 02
4 04 a		4 20	4 12 fedcba		4 35 r
r 4 26 abcdefgh		4 53	4 15 a		4 32
5 02 a		5 19	4 40 c		4 58
r 5 30 abcdefg		5 55	4 55 a		5 11
6 04 a		6 21 *	5 13 a		5 32
6 12 ab		6 32	5 19 hgfeca		5 43
6 57 a		7 15	5 28 ba		5 46 r
r 7 22 Exp		7 39	5 40		5 57
7 29 ab		7 48	5 58 a		6 17 r
r 8 09 abcdef		8 32	6 01 fedcb		6 24
9 00 a		9 18	6 16 a		6 35
r 9 10 abc		9 29	6 39 ecba		6 52 r
* 9 17 Exp.		9 32	6 59 fedcba		7 24 r
c 10 07 abcdef		10 30	7 11 a		7 28
* 10 19 a		10 37	8 04 fedcba		8 23 r
11 13 a		11 30	* 8 19 Exp		8 35
r 11 30 abcd		11 70	9 19 a		9 37
			9 34 b		9 53 r
			10 05 ba		10 24
			10 34 fedcba		11 02 r
			* 11 06 a		11 25 r
			† 11 09 fedcba		11 35 r
			* 11 25 ba		11 43 r
			† 11 29 ba		11 49
			12 05 cba		12 36 r

SUNDAYS

r 7 43 abc		8 08	6 29 b a		6 48
8 30	Exp	8 45	8 34 cba		8 55
r 8 46 abcdefghi		9 13	10 39 cba		10 59 r
r 9 13 abc		9 33	12 14 ihgfedcba		12 42
9 31 a		9 47	12 44 Exp		1 01
10 25 ac		10 42	1 29 ihgfedcba		1 57 r
11 08	Exp	11 25	2 14 hgfedcba		2 42 r
r 11 16 abcdefghi		11 43	2 44 a		3 02
1 04 a		1 26	3 14 ihgfedcba		3 42 r
r 1 16 abcdefgh		1 46	4 26 cba		4 48 r
r 3 10 abc		3 30	5 14 ihgfedcba		5 42 r
r 4 16 abcdefghi		4 43	6 09	Exp	6 25
4 59 ab		5 16	6 14 ihgfedcba		6 42 r
5 06		5 23	7 02 cba		7 22 r
6 16 abcdefghi		6 43	8 14 ihgfedcba		8 41 r
7 21	Exp	7 36	8 33 a		8 56 r
7 29 abcdefghi		7 55	8 49	Exp	9 05
r 8 16 abcdefghi		8 43	9 29 ihgfedcba		9 56 r
9 46 a		10 04	10 44 cba		M 04 r
10 46 abc		11 03

CHOICE ARTICLES

FROM THE

PHILIPPINES

LUCBON HATS—Very best grade of the famous Panamas and Bankoks made. Absolutely none better, woven under water by hand. Can be crushed into a ball and not lose shape. Made for both Ladies and Gentlemen. $5 and $10.

ROMBLON MATS—Handsomest and most durable Grass Mats or Rugs made in the world. Beautiful colors and designs, large enough to cover one-half floor of rooms. $5.

MANILA CIGARS—$3 for a trial box of the Very Best Cigars made in the Philippines.

Oriente Cigarrettes—Best made, large package containing 25 small packages, 750 Cigarrettes, $2.

Sent by registered mail, free of duties, on receipt of price.

C. A. SHORT & CO.,
Lucena, Tay, P. I.
Oct 4 L&O 3m

QUINCY REGISTRY FOR NURSES

76 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.

Will supply trained and practical nurses, attendants and nursery assistants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.

MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar,
Tel. Quincy 131-W.

Bay State Street Railway Company

TIME TABLE
In effect April 8, 1913.
(Subject to change without notice.

Leave QUINCY for

Braintree, 6.15, 6.50 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.30 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Braintree, 6.25 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.25 P. M Sundays, 7.55 A. M. and then same as week days.

Brockton, 6.15, 6.50 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.20 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Brockton 6.20, 7 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 9.30 P. M. Sundays, 8 A. M. then same as week days.

West Quincy, and East Milton, 5.20, 5.50, 6.10 A. M., and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M.) Sundays, 6.50 A. M. then same as week days. Return leave East Milton, 5.55, 6.15, 6.45 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.45 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.10 midnight.) Sundays, 7.25 A. M., then same as week days.

East Weymouth, 6.00, 6.15, 6.35, 7.05, 7.35 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.05 P. M. then 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.35 A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave East Weymouth, 5.50, 6.15, 6.45, 7.00, 7.10, 7.45, A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.45 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M., then same as week days.

Houghs Neck, 5.15, 5.35, 6.10, 6.40, 7.10, 7.40, A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. then 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 6.50, 7.40 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. Return leave Houghs Neck, 5.40, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 7.30, 8.00, 8.30, 9.05 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.35 P. M. then 12.10 midnight. Sundays, 7.20, 8.05, 8.35, 9.05 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.35 P. M.

Neponset via Hancock Street, 5.45 6.20, 6.50 A. M. and every 30 min. to 10.50 P. M. then 12.50 midnight. Sundays, 6.50 A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 6.40 7.10, 7.40 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. then 12.35 midnight. Sundays, 7.40 A. M. then same as week days.

Neponset via Wollaston—6.05, 6.35, 7.03 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.03 P. M. then 11.20, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.03 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 6.35, 6.55, 7.25, A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.25 P. M. then 11.42 P. M. and 12.12 midnight. Sundays, 7.25 A. M. then same as week days.

Neponset, via Norfolk Downs, 6.35, 6.55, 7.25, 8, 8.30 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11 P. M.) Sundays, 7.30 A. M. then the same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 7, 7.30 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.30 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.30 P. M.) Sundays, 8 A. M. then same as week days.

Weymouth Landing, 5.20, 5.06, 6.20, 6.55, 7.25 7.55 A. M. then every 30 minutes, until and including 10.55 P. M. Sundays, 7.25, A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave Weymouth Landing, 5.45, 6.15, 6.40, 7.15, 7.45 A. M. then every 30 minutes until and including 11.15 P. M. Sundays 7.45 A. M. then same as week days.

Leave NEPONSET for

Squantum, 6.25, 6.55, 7.25, 7.55, 8.25, 9.35, A. M. every 60 minutes to 4.35 P. M. then 4.55, 5.25, 5.55, 6.35, 7.35, 8.35, 9.35, 10.35 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.39, P. M. Sundays, 7.35, A. M. every 60 minutes to 10.35 P. M. Return, leave Squantum, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 7.30, 8.00, 8.30, 9.00 A. M. every 60 minutes to 5.00 P. M. then 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.15, 8.00 A. M. every 60 minutes to 11.00 P. M.

THOMAS GAMMON,
Superintendent.

WITHIN THE LAW

By MARVIN DANA
FROM THE PLAY OF
BAYARD VEILLER

Copyright, 1913, by the H. K. Fly company.

SYNOPSIS

Mary Turner, a department store clerk, is sentenced to prison for three years for a th[illegible] she did not commit.

Edward Gilder, owner of the department store, consents to see Mary before she goes to prison, expecting her to confess.

Mary protests her innocence to Gilder and begs him to pay better wages to his clerks to save them from temptation.

After three years in prison Mary is freed, but the police prevent her holding position. She jumps into the river to end her life, but is rescued by Joe Garson, a forger.

Mary forms a partnership with Garson and blackmails by which they mulct rich victims in a legal manner, keeping "within the law."

Mary is warned by the police to leave town after she has formed the acquaintance of Richard Gilder, her former employer's son.

Helen Morris, the girl who had committed the theft for which Mary was imprisoned, sees Mary and confesses her guilt.

Mary marries Dick Gilder without his father's knowledge and then refuses to sail for Europe with him.

Joe Garson, against Mary's protest, agrees with Eddie Griggs, another crook, to help commit a burglary in Gilder's home.

Edward Gilder sees his son's bride and tries to induce her to give up her husband. Dick refuses to leave her even when she tells him she is an ex-convict.

Inspector Burke calls on Gilder and tells him that a burglary at his home that night has been arranged through Griggs, a stool pigeon, to trap Mary Turner and her gang.

Garson and his gang break into Gilder's home and are followed by Mary, who is told of the proposed burglary. While they are there Dick returns home.

Garson learns that Griggs had helped put up the job on him, and he kills Griggs with a noiseless revolver. Inspector Burke arrives, finding only Mary and Dick with Griggs' body.

Mary and Dick are arrested after Mary says Dick killed Griggs, a burglar. Other members of the gang are arrested and "sweated" by Burke.

Inspector Burke has interviews with Aggie Lynch, a member of Mary's gang, and Mary, in which he gets little information.

Joe Garson, who has been arrested, is taken to Burke's office, from where he sees his pals taken to cells. The sight unnerves him.

(Continued from last issue.)

"You don't want to take us for fools, young man," he said, and his big tones rumbled harshly through the room. "If you shot Griggs in mistake for a burglar why did you try to hide the fact? Why did you pretend to me that you and your wife were alone in the room when you had that there with you, eh? Why didn't you call for help? Why didn't you call for the police as any honest man would naturally under such circumstances?"

"We're trying to save you," the father pleaded tremulously.

Burke persisted in his vehement system of attack. Now, he again brought out the weapon that had done Eddie Griggs to death.

"Where'd you get this gun?" he shouted.

"I won't talk any more," Dick answered simply. "I must see my wife first." His voice became more aggressive. "I want to know what you've done to her."

"Did she kill Griggs?" Burke questioned roughly.

Dick was startled out of his calm.

"No, no!" he cried, desperately.

"Then, who did?" Burke demanded sharply. "Who did?"

"I won't say any more until I've talked with a lawyer whom I can trust." He shot a vindictive glance toward Demarest.

The father intervened with a piteous eagerness.

"Dick, if you know who killed this man you must speak to protect yourself."

The face of the young man softened as he met his father's beseeching eyes.

"I'm sorry, dad," he said, very gently. "But I—well, I can't!"

Again, Burke interposed.

"I'm going to give him a little more time to think things over. Perhaps he'll get to understand the importance of what we've been saying pretty soon."

He pressed the button on his desk, and, as the doorman appeared, addressed that functionary.

"Dan, have one of the men take him back. You wait outside."

Dick, however, did not move. His voice came with a note of determination.

"I want to know about my wife. Where is she?"

Burke disregarded the question as completely as if it had not been uttered and went on speaking to the doorman, with a suggestion in his words that was effective.

"He's not to speak to any one, you understand." Then he condescended to give his attention to the prisoner. "You'll know all about your wife, young man, when you make up your mind to tell me the truth."

Dick turned and followed his custodian out of the office in silence.

As the doorman reappeared Burke gave his order. "Dan, have the Turner woman brought up."

The inspector next called his stenographer and gave explicit directions. At the back of the room, behind the desk, were three large windows, which opened on a corridor, and across this was a tier of cells. The stenographer was to take his seat in this corridor, just outside one of the windows. Over the windows the shades were drawn, so that he would remain invisible to any one within the office while yet easily able to overhear every word spoken in the room.

"Where'd you get this gun?"

When he had completed his instructions to the stenographer Burke turned to Gilder and Demarest.

"Now, this time," he said energetically, "I'll be the one to do the talking. And get this: Whatever you hear me say don't you be surprised. Remember, we're dealing with crooks, and when you're dealing with crooks you have to use crooked ways."

Then the door opened, and Mary Turner entered. She paid absolutely no attention to the other two in the room, but went straight to the desk and there halted, gazing with her softly penetrant eyes of deepest violet into the face of the inspector.

Under that intent scrutiny Burke felt a challenge and set himself to "You ought to know, since you have arrested him."

match craft with craft. His large voice was modulated to kindliness as he spoke in a casual manner.

"I just sent for you to tell you that you're free."

"Then, I can go?"

"Sure, you can go."

Without any delay, yet without any haste, Mary glanced toward Gilder and Demarest, who were watching the scene closely. Then, she went toward the outer door of the office.

Burke waited until she had nearly reached the door before he shot his bolt.

"Garson has confessed!"

Mary turned and confronted the inspector, and answered without the least trace of fear, but the firmness of knowledge:

"Oh, no, he hasn't!"

"What's the reason he hasn't?" Burke roared out wrathfully.

"Because he didn't do it."

"Well, he says he did it!"

Mary, in her turn, resorted to a bit of finesse, in order to learn whether or not Garson had been arrested.

"But how could he have done it, when he went"— she began.

"Where did he go?"

"You ought to know, since you have arrested him, and he has confessed."

(To be Continued.)

LARGER THAN LICK TELESCOPE

Ottawa Observatory Instrument Will Set World Record.

EIGHTEEN MONTHS TO BUILD

Fifty Ton Engine of Science Is to Have a Disk Seventy-three Inches In Diameter—Tube So Big That an Automobile Could Be Driven Through It. A Marvel of Scientific Accuracy.

The Canadian government has awarded a contract to a Cleveland, O., company for the construction of what will be the largest telescope in the world. The new telescope will probably be set up in Ottawa and about eighteen months will be required to manufacture it and place it in position.

A rough idea of its size may be gained from noting that a full sized automobile could be readily driven through the tube. The company that will construct the teleseope built the Lick telescope, finished in 1887, the object glass of which is thirty-six inches in diameter, and the Yerkes telescope, finished in 1893, which has a forty inch glass. These were the largest in the world.

"The great reflecting telescopes made by the English and by the French years ago," says Ambrose Swasey, a distinguished scientist, "served their purpose in the science of astronomy, but the development of astronomical photography introduced a new era.

Reflecting Telescopes.

"Progress, particularly in astrophysical and photographic lines, has been greatly advanced by the use of reflecting telescopes and especially by the work done with the sixty inch reflector at the Mount Wilson solar observatory, near Pasadena, Cal.

"Notable results have been obtained by the use of reflecting telescopes in later years, and this has stimulated a great interest in this type of instrument, such as is evidenced by the present contract.

"Even greater impetus will now be given by the action of the Canadian government in acquiring this splendid seventy-two inch instrument, which when finished will be the largest telescope yet constructed.

"This great engine of science, weighing fully fifty tons, resting upon massive piers of concrete, will have a tube thirty feet long and seven feet in diameter, which will weigh ten tons.

Seventy-three Inch Disk.

"At the lower end of the tube will be located the principal speculum, composed of a disk of glass seventy-three inches in diameter, ten inches in thickness and weighing approximately two tons.

"When used as a Cassegranian instrument a secondary convex reflector nineteen inches in diameter will be placed near the upper end of the tube for reflecting the rays back through a hole in the speculum to the great spectroscope attached to the lower end of the tube.

"As a Newtonian instrument a flat mirror will be provided for reflecting the cone of rays at right angles into the photographic apparatus at the upper edge of the tube.

"As a direct vision instrument both secondary mirrors will be removed, and appliances for visual, photographic and spectroscopic work will be attached at the prime focus.

"The tube and the declination and polar axes, with their attachments, weigh thirty-five tons, and so nicely is each part balanced and adjusted that the powerful driving clock revolves this immense weight with such accuracy and uniformity that the spider line in the eyepiece of the pointing telescope attached to the great tube can be kept exactly on the center of the star under observation."

TO FLY OVER SAHARA.

There May Be a French Mail Line by Air Across Great Desert.

The National Aerial league has completed plans for a flight of a flotilla of aeroplanes across the Sahara or Great desert. They will start from Oran, Algeria, and the final landing will be made at Timbuktu, French Sudan, a distance of 1,400 miles. Pyramids of stones will be placed at intervals to mark the route.

If the experiment proves successful the establishment of a regular air mail service will be considered.

Amateur Wireless Hails Eiffel Tower.

Nicholas Jeffries, twenty years old, an amateur wireless operator, announces that he has talked with the Eiffel tower in Paris from his wireless plant at Atlantic City. The plant is on the roof of the home of his parents.

CHILD ASKS FOR WAR DOG.

Secretary Garrison has received the following from "Mr. Ray G. Morris" of Fordyce, Pa.:

"Papa says you have plenty of war dogs. Will you send me and my little brother a little pup? A Scotch collie would be best."

Mr. Garrison replied:

"Your papa told you the truth when he said I had war dogs. I have, but none to spare."

News Films of the Passing Show

Lamps on baby carriages are required in an ordinance introduced in Cincinnati.

E. L. Townsend of Reedsfield, Me., recently sold for $21 net profit six turkeys which were hatched July 1.

Mrs. January Hart of Allington, Conn., breaking all records, presented her husband with two pairs of twins in one year. Birthdays, Jan. 23, Dec. 23.

Acting as professional dance escorts is the latest innovation offered needy Harvard men to earn money. There lately has been a dearth of youths at society's dancing functions.

Rudolph Hoffman, suing Dr. Gustave A. Rueck of 1070 Tiffany street, New York, alleged that the physician cut off his toe while treating him for a corn so Hoffman could not interfere with Dr. Rueck's alienation of Mrs. Hoffman's affections. Hoffman demanded $10,000.

BRINGS TALES FROM LAND OF HORROR AND MYSTERY.

Nigerian Official First European to See "Bird Dance" and Sacred Pools.

Amaury Talbot, a district commissioner in southern Nigeria, and his wife have just made a remarkable journey of over 4,300 miles in the Eket district, a country of rivers and creeks, many unexplored, with a population of a quarter of a million Ibibios.

Mr. Talbot says he found customs and ceremonies which appear to have come down unchanged from the days of the Pharaohs. In some parts the dead are roughly mummified, while underground burial chambers are to be found planned like those of ancient Egypt. He found also traces of bird worship and witnessed a bird dance never before seen by Europeans.

Most of the towns have their sacred pool, inhabited by good or evil spirits, to which in the past countless human victims were sacrificed. On two of these holy waters—the Lake of Life and the neighboring Pool of Hatred and Death—Mr. Talbot and a Mr. Eckin of the Kwa Ibo mission are the first and only existing white men to have set eyes.

Mr. Talbot, referring to the hard task of the administration in dealing with secret societies, which at certain times of the year still seek to offer human sacrifices, said:

"Toward the end of September such an attempt was made by a group of towns in a distant part of the district never before visited by Europeans. My attention was first drawn to this particular society, which bears the dreaded name of Ekkpo Njawhaw (Ghosts—the Destroyers), by a poor woman who brought some fragments of charred bone, which, she asserted, was all that was left to her of an only brother.

"The people as a whole are perhaps the most bloodthirsty of all Africa. For months no day passed without man or woman running in covered with blood and often horribly mutilated to claim the protection of the commissioner."

HE'S THE COLDEST SENATOR.

Freeding of Alaska Rode 2,600 Miles by Dog Team When It Was 62 Below.

"Being a senator in Alaska is a serious proposition," said Senator Conrad Freeding of Nome, who recently arrived in Washington. "I traveled 2,600 miles by dog team with the barometer at times 62 degrees below zero in order to attend the last session of the legislature at Juneau. It required two months to make the journey.

"When we started the session the first thing we did was to pass a woman's suffrage law. I handled the bill in the senate. Up in Alaska we try to keep politics out of our legislative discussions."

The senator is working for the Alaskan railroad bill, which asks an appropriation of $40,000,000 from the government.

CORRECTS SCIENCE'S ERRORS.

Carnegie Institution Yacht Back From Three Years' World Cruise.

After a three and a half year cruise about the world, during which she traveled 93,000 miles, the nonmagnetic yacht Carnegie of the Carnegie institution in Washington recently returned to New York.

During every day of her trip, through frigid and torrid zones, scientists took magnetic observations and brought back records of important errors, particularly in the charts showing the compass variations over the Indian ocean.

The correction of these errors will prove of great importance to navigators.

EXPLORING NOW A MANIA.

Peers Among the 4,800 Who Wish to Accompany British Expedition.

J. Foster Stackhouse, leader of the British expedition which plans to start for the antarctic in 1914, has received 4,800 offers of services from men eager to join the expedition.

Among the applicants are sixteen peers. One of the latter said in his letter that he is willing to act as assistant to the cook if there is nothing better for him to do.

NEW FIRE ALARM.

Many changes in the Quincy fire alarm boxes have been noted in the Daily Ledger recently and a revised list of the boxes is printed below:

12 Palmer st. near Brockton av.
13 Shelton rd. and Sea st.
14 Church Turnout, Manet av.
15 Germantown, Sailor's Snug Har.
16 Sea st., near Rock Island rd.
17 Sea st., near Dunham's
18 Sea and Palmer sts.
19 Rock Island.
112 Sea st., near Willows.
113 Post Island.
114 Engine House, Houghs Neck.
116 Centre Road and Darrow Street.
117 Great Hill, Houghs Neck.
119 Rockland and Rhoda sts., Rock Is.

21 Whitwell and Granite sts.
23 Hancock st. and Cottage av.
24 Hancock and Chestnut sts.
25 Washington and Foster sts.
26 Hancock, opposite City Hall.
27 Washington and Elm sts.
28 Hancock and Greenleaf sts.
29 Butler rd. and Putnam st.
121 President's Hill.
122 Chestnut st. and Revere rd.
123 Hancock st., near Car Barn.
124 Adams and Goffe sts.
126 Russell Park.
221 Glendale rd. and Bedford st.
223 Whitwell st., near Hospital.
224 Adams st., near Whitwell st.
225 Field and Brackett sts.
226 Dimmock st. and Upland rd.
227 Newcomb and Canal sts.
228 Edgemere rd. and Putnam st.
235 Elm st. and Miller Stile rd.
242 (P) City Hospital.

31 Phipps, near Payne st.
32 Phipps st and Kendrick av.
34 Franklin and High sts.
35 Hancock and School sts.
36 School and Franklin sts.
37 Franklin and Water sts.
38 Penn and Liberty sts.
39 Liberty and Plain sts.
126 Quincy and Pleasant sts.
137 Water st. and Brook rd.
138 Intervale st. and Brook av.
139 Vernon st.
321 Brook av. and Centre sts.
322 Centre and Granite sts.
331 Presidents and Independence av.
332 Independence and Federal av.

41 School and Granite sts.
42 Copeland and Granite sts.
43 Copeland and Common sts.
45 Crescent and Willard sts.
46 Copeland st., near Furnace av.
47 Bates av. and Grove st.
48 Willard and Robertson sts.
49 Willard and Doble sts.
143 Station st.
147 Granite Railway Yard.
412 Willard and West sts.
413 Buckley and Arthur sts.
431 Rogers st., off Hall Place.
432 Willard st. and Furnace av.
435 Reardon and Barry sts.
441 Smith st., near Quarry st.
442 Quarry st., near Hitchcock's.
443 West and Hayden sts.
445 Quarry and Common sts.
446 Copeland opp. Willard school.
447 Grove st. and Forest av.

51 Tubular Rivet and Stud Factory
52 Elmwood av. and Farrington av.
53 Winthrop and Warren av.
54 Hancock st., near Elm av.
56 Beale st. and Newport av.
57 Beach and Willow sts.
58 Beale and Adams sts.
59 Beale st. and Central av.
151 Billings rd. and Beach st.
152 Billings and Rawson rds.
153 Farrington st., near Wollastn F'y
154 Fenno st., near Sailors' Home.
155 Waren av., near Newton st.

512 Grand View and So. Central avs.
513 Foot of Beach st.
515 Quincy Mansion School.
524 Berlin and Woodbine sts.
552 Brook st. and North Central av.
553 Belmont st. and Lincoln av.

61 Hancock and Squantum sts.
62 Hancock and Atlantic sts.
63 Hancock st., near Atlantic Depot.
64 Billings st. and Newbury av.
64 (D) Auto Com. No. 2 House.
65 Squantum st. and Faxon road.
66 Prospect and Billings sts.
67 Squantum and Atlantic sts.
68 Squantum st., Montclair school.
69 Sterling st. and Sagamore av.
161 Newport av. opp. Wollaston F'dy.
612 Hancock st. and Billings rd.
613 Hayward st., opp. Gear Works.
614 Glover and Newbury av.
615 Oak and Walnut sts.

7 Washington and Union sts.
71 Washington and Mill sts.
72 Washington and River sts.
73 Washington and Pray sts.
74 Washington and South sts.
75 Quincy av. near Mrs. Baxter's.
76 Washington and Wharf sts.
76 (D) Power House St. Ry.
78 Fore River Shipbuilding Works.
171 Main and Union sts.
172 South Walnut, near Oak st.
173 Main and Sumner sts.
174 North st., and Commonwealth av.
175 Quincy av. and Howard st.
272 Farnum and Edison sts.
273 (P) Baker Basin.
712 Broadway and Commonwealth av.
718 (P) Johnson's Lumber Wharf.
721 Scammell st. and Glencoe pl.
722 South st. and Winthrop park.
723 South st. and Clairmont av.
725 Howard and Winter sts.

8 Squantum st. and Huckins av.
81 Bellevue rd. and Ocean rd.
82 Bellevue rd. and Huckins av.
83 Bellevue rd. and Standish rd.
81 Dorchester and Pratt sts.

(D) Duplicate (P) Private

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

SWITHIN
Real Estate
Mortgages-Insurance
Greenleaf Block
Quincy
Tel. Quincy 460. Nov. 10-tf

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

WANTED

WANTED—Position in doctor's or dentist's office by a domestic nurse, would be willing to keep accounts. Write Nurse, General Delivery, Wollaston, P. O.
L 30-3t P3-1w

WANTED—Plain dressmaking and childrens sewing of all kinds by the day. Also embroidery. Address Miss Caroline Lupton, 162 Arlington street, Wollaston.
L. 30-3t P3-1w

WANTED—House lot of 10,000 square feet, in Quincy or might buy house if reasonable. Send full particulars, first letter. Write B. S. Ledger Office. 29-3t

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing. Myatt, 40 Baxter street. Tel. 1307-M. Quincy. Res. 22-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE— House on Edison street, all improvements, newly shingled and painted, new furnace. Corner lot. Apply to J. Peterson, 394 Washington street. 30-6t

1912 Metz Factory overhauled with a light delivery body. You can deliver light loads cheaper than you can, with a horse, low price. Also 32 horse power Rambler roadster 4 passenger, full equipment, good shape you can buy for the cost of the five wheels with which it is equipped. A. L. Walker, 315 Belmont street, Wollaston. 29-6t

FOR SALE—Lawn dressing. Will be spread if desired. Peter McConarty, 5 Pearl street. 27-6t

HORSE FOR SALE—Cheap, for want of use. H. H. I. Smith, 578 Commercial street, Weymouth Heights. Tel. Weymouth 105-1. 15-tf

FOR SALE or TO LET—New houses Apply to Thompson B. Crane, 403 Washington street, Quincy. 1-tf

WM. H. TEASDALE
REAL ESTATE
Insurance Mortgages
NOTARY PUBLIC JUSTICE OF THE PEACE
Room 23 Adams Building
Telephones { Residence 544-3 Office 42-M
otf

ARTHUR L. THOMAS
Attorney-at-Law
3-4-5-6 Greenleaf Block
Telephone Quincy 460 Jan.3-1y

FOR SALE
New Axes
20c each 3 for 50c
While They Last
L. GROSSMAN & SONS
Jackson Street
Near Quincy Adams Depot
Dec. 16-1o-tf

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

A "WANT"
advertisement is a small notice inserted in the LEDGER to tell the public what you want. Whether you need help or employment, house, horse or automobile, the little "want ad." is the agent to find it for you. Such small classified advertisements, on page 5 of the LEDGER, costs but 25 cents for 25 Words or less, one time; three consecutive insertions 50 cents; 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents. Leave your notice at the Ledger Office, 1424 Hancock Street.

TO LET

TO LET—At Houghs Neck, furnished winter house, bath, hot and cold water, gas, set tubs, large cellar, 4 minutes to cars. F. A. MacDonald, 264 Boylston street, Boston. Tel. 2356 Back Bay. 30-6t

TO LET—Upper flat in two flat new house at 1 Bradford street, 5 rooms and bath. All improvements. Ready Jan. 1st. Apply to Wm. E. Duggan, 32 Bryant avenue, West Quincy. 29-6t

TO LET—Private garage. Electric lights. Apply 27 Edwards street. 29-3t

TO LET—2 or 3 connecting rooms with heat, light and bath for housekeeping. Furnished if desired. Reasonable. 132 Marlborough street, Wollaston Park. 27-6t

TO LET—Tenement, all improvements, reasonable rent. Apply 70 Glencoe place. 24-tf

RUSSELL PARK — Commodious house of seven rooms, large hall and bath. Modern, every convenience open fireplace, furnace, range, set tubs, electric lights, cemented cellar, etc. Best residential neighborhood. Ready for immediate occupancy. For further details or key see Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. tf lpo

TO LET—Upper apartment of 7 rooms and bath, all improvements including set range and gas stove, now ready. Inquire, A. W. Parker, 87 Merrymount road. Tel. Quincy 258-1 16-tf

TO LET—48 Revere road two connecting rooms with kitchenette for housekeeping. Also a nice room with sun all day, two large closets. Hot water heat and bath. water heat and bath. 13-tf

UPPER APARTMENT. In two-family house on Spear Street. Five rooms, bath, large pantry and closets, also open attic with finished heated chamber. Every improvement, electric light, furnace, range etc. Ready for immediate occupancy. Telephone Quincy 278 M or enquire mornings of Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. lpo

TO LET—173 Whitwell street, half house, modern conveniences, $20 per month. Ready for immediate occupancy. Apply Penniman's Stable, Granite street. 19-tf

TO LET—Houses of 5, 6 and 10 rooms. M. T. Sullivan. Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy, Mass. 11-tf

JAMES F. BURKE & CO.
Real Estate and Insurance
Care of Property. Mortgages
Justice of Peace. Notary Public
Room 4; Savings Bank Building
Tel. 885 M. Nov. 11-tf

Penniman's
TAXI SERVICE
Taxies and Touring Cars with careful and safe drivers to let for all occasions.
C. H. PENNIMAN, Prop.
Telephone 207.
June 13-tf

Here is Your Opportunity
7 room house with modern conveniences nicely situated on a fine street in Wollaston. To be sold very low at present.
Here is a chance to get into a good neighborhood. House is vacant and in perfect order to move right into. Three to five minutes to station, schools, stores, etc. Price $3,300. On terms.
HENRY W. SAVACE
Real Estate, Boston.
E. C. HAYDEN, Local Representative
Telephone 1377-M Quincy.
Dec. 22-tf

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

Read
Ledger Ads

KINCAIDE THEATRE

At 2.30, 5, 10, 15c At 7.45, 10, 15, 25c

MON., TUESDAY, WED.
Program--subject to change

5 MUSICAL DURANDS
If you heard them here 1 year ago, you will not miss this musical treat. They're Great!

THE TORLEYS
Sensational Cyclists

McKISSICK & SHADNEY
Southern Entertainers

BILLY COLE
Novelty Ventriloquist

PATHE WEEKLY
World's News in Pictures

"DECEPTION"
A delightful Comedy-Drama

KALEM 2-REEL FEATURE
"THE CHINESE DEATH THORN"
Intensely Interesting Throughout

KINCAIDE THEATRE ORCHESTRA

NEW YEARS DAY

Christmas is over. And while there has been much of the joyous spirit, and of good will that is genuine, we are still burdened with the thought of how things, things, things have been so much in evidence.

In all this, New Years Day is not going to get its deserts. The good wishes for the year that is just on the horizon are principally an appendage to the wishes for the holiday just past and the significance of the day is largely submerged in the Christmas celebration.

People forget that the festival of the New Year is what has given te this holiday season a very large part of its significance; that long before the birth of Christ this was a great festival throughout the Northern Hemisphere. There is no accident about these two great days coming together—Christmas and New Year's Day. They are one. Instead of their coincidence being an accident, their separation (by a mere week) is a human blunder. Long ago an error crept into the calculations in our calendars. It is not too late to correct it.—Churchman Afield.

LONG A TEACHER.

Miss Margaret C. Bannon, for nearly 50 years a teacher in the public schools of Braintree, died at her home on Pond street Monday after a long illness. She was in her 67th year.

She was first elected a teacher in Braintre in her 16th year and was as signed to the school in the Mayflower Park district. She taught there for 30 years and later in the Noah Torrey and Southwest schools. She was born in Braintree, the daughter of the late Mr. and rMs. Edmund Bannon and lived nearly all her life in the house in which she was born.

Miss Bannon was very religious and before South Braintree had a Catholic church she journeyed to St. John's Church in Quincy. For many years she took care of the altar in the old St. Francis Church. She was a lead er in every undertaking, whether fair, picnic or entertainment, in the interest of the church.

BRIEFS

George E. Young died at his home, 57 Quincy street this morning in his 46th year. His funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Miss Helen Rhines is enjoying a two weeks vacation from her duties at Rutland, Vt., at her home on Miller Stile road.

The "District School" which was given so successfully in the vestry of the West Quincy M. E. church a few weeks ago is to be repeated Tuesday evening, Jan. 6, in the Universalist church vestry.

The funeral of John Christianson was held this afternoon from his home on Irving place. Services were conducted by Rev. A. L. Hudson of the First Unitarian church. The body was taken to the crematory at Forest Hills for cremation.

RESOLUTIONS.
of the Board of Health.

At a meeting of the Board of Health held Dec. 27, the following regulation preventing the polution of water and ice supply, was adopted:

"No person shall pollute or cause to be polluted by dumping or placing of any vegetable or animal or other waste matter upon a water shed or the shores of any pond or stream which is the source of any water or ice supply of this city. Whoever violates any provision of any kind of this regulation shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars for each offense."

WM. H. TEASDALE,
FRED E. JONES, M. D.
JAMES THOMAS,
Board of Health.

Quincy, Dec. 30, 1913. 1t

EVERYBODY-GO-TO-CHURCH-DAY

Sunday, January 11, the Date Selected for Quincy

A very interesting movement has been inaugurated in many cities and towns of the United States which is just now in full swing in eastern Massachusetts.

The purpose of the movement seems to be to overcome the inertia and indifference of well meaning people in the matter of attendance upon church services on Sunday. The method is for the churches of any particular city or town to agree upon a date which shall be observed in that place as "Everybody-go-to-church Sunday." Then every one interested in the moral welfare of the city or town is urged to go to some church on that particular day, and thus throw their influence on the side of supporting the churches in their common work of serving the community through the development of moral purpose.

One man when told of the movement, inquired: "How do you get people to fall to the scheme?" But the singular fact is that whenever the plan has been tried it has resulted, not only in a record attendance of the churches on the Sunday agreed upon, but also in a considerable increase of the various congregations since then.

The date agreed upon by the churches in Quincy is Sunday, January 11, 1914; and it will be very interesting to watch the results in our city.

CADET TO BE APPOINTED

West Point Examination to be Held in February

Congressman Edward Gilmore announces that civil service examination for appointment as cadet at West Point Military Academy will be held by the secretary of the first civil service district, Post Office building, Boston, beginning at 9 A. M. on Friday, February 27, 1914.

Mr. Gilmore has chosen Boston as the place of holding this examination after advising with the Civil Service Commission as it is the most convenient and best facilitated for conducting such examination for candidates all over his District.

The examination is open to all boys living in the new 14th Congressional District, comprised of the cities of Brockton and Quincy, and the towns of Avon, Holbrook, Randolph, Braintree, Milton, Hyde Park, Dedham, Norwood, Canton, Sharon, Foxboro, Stoughton, Easton, West Bridgewater, East Bridgewater ,Whitman, Abington, Rockland, Weymouth, Westwood. No candidate will be admitted who is under 17, or over 22 years of age at the time of entrance to the Academy June 15, 1914.

The candidates will be examined on the following subjects: spelling, reading, writing, algebra, geometry, grammar, geography, United States history, general history. This examination is merely for the selection of a candidate and two alternates and the boys successful in securing a designation will be compelled to pass an entrance examination on the last Tuesday in March and the boy receiving the highest mark in that examination will be admitted to the Academy. In the entrance examination the boys will be compelled to undergo a physical examination, but not in the preliminary examination.

David Rounds, a seventy-four year old resident of this city died Monday at his home on Gay street. He was the fatherinlaw of Isaac Nickerson, proprietor of the Quincy Candy Kitchen on Maple place, and is survived by a widow and one daughter, Mrs. Bessie Crossley of Wollaston.

Rev. A. M. Thompson of Quincy, recently pastor of the United Presbyterian church, will be installed on Thursday evening, Jan. 1, as pastor of St. Andrews Presbyterian church, Boston.

CARD OF THANKS.

The undersigned wish to thank the many friends of the late Mrs. James A. Daley for the many kind acts and expressions of sympathy and beautiful floral tributes.

JAMES A. DALEY,
MARY L. MILFORD,
Alice F. O'Brien.

Quincy, Dec. 30. 1t

EXPERTS DISCUSS MONEY LAW; BULKLEY ON PROBABLE EFFECT

It Will Work Out Better For Country Banks, Says Ohio Congressman

Financiers Hopeful, but as a Whole Are Cautious In Predictions

WITH the signing of the new currency bill by President Wilson the second biggest piece of business of the Democratic administration is out of the way, and, as in the case of the new tariff law, the country must wait to see how it works out. While confident of the result, the president and his advisers are no less interested than the country at large in awaiting the sequels to these epochal events in our political history, in seeing their results in practical demonstration.

The next step is the naming by the president of the federal reserve board of seven. The secretary of the treasury and the new comptroller of the currency will be members, and the other five will be chosen from private life.

President Wilson is credited with desiring Senator John W. Weeks of Massachusetts to serve on the federal reserve board.

The indications are that in spite of his declaration that he would decline membership on the board an effort will be made to induce James J. Hill to become the head of that organization, a position that will carry with it the title of governor.

Wilson Happy and Optimistic.

Many months' hard work was put in by the framers of the bill, and the president in his address upon the occasion of affixing his signature to the measure paid especial tributes to Representative Carter Glass and Senator

Photo by American Press Association.

JOHN SKELTON WILLIAMS.

Robert L. Owen, chairmen of the respective congress committees. It was a happy moment for the president, and he showed it as, reaching for the fourth gold pen in signing the bill, he jocularly remarked to those about him, "I'm drawing on the 40 per cent gold reserve."

After signing the bill he said in part:

As for the bill itself, I feel that we can say that it is the first of a series of constructive measures by which the Democratic party will show that it knows how to serve the country. In calling it the first of a series of constructive measures I need not say that I am not casting any reflections on the great tariff bill which preceded it. The tariff bill was meant to remove those impediments to American industry and prosperity which had so long stood in their way. It was a great piece of preparation for the achievements of American commerce and American industry which are certain to follow. Then there came upon the heels of it this bill which furnishes the machinery for free and elastic and uncontrolled credits put at the disposal of the merchants and manufacturers of this country for the first time in fifty years.

I have been surprised at the sudden acceptance of this measure by public opinion everywhere. I say surprised because it seems as if it had suddenly become obvious to men who had looked at it with too critical an eye that it was really meant in their interest. They have opened their eyes to see a thing which they had supposed to be hostile to be friendly and serviceable—exactly what we intended it to be and what we shall intend all our legislation to be.

The men who have fought for this measure have fought nobody. They have simply fought for those accommodations which are going to secure us in prosperity and peace.

"I never had any doubt," said Secretary McAdoo, "that the national banks would enter the system. My experience is that after a law of this character is passed there is a patriotic acceptance of it. This law, I believe, will prove the greatest thing that has happened in the country in a generation."

Making System Operative.

Immediately the new banking system became law it was announced that the organization work would be undertaken at once by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo and Secretary of Agriculture Houston of the committee charged by law with the task. The third member of the committee, which is known as the reserve bank organization committee, is the comptroller of the currency. That office is vacant and will be filled by the president upon his return from Mississippi. John Skelton Williams, assistant secretary of the treasury, is said to be the president's choice for comptroller. Congress has adjourned until Jan. 12, and in the absence of the third member there will be no formal meeting until after that date.

The first duty of the reserve bank organization committee is to designate the federal reserve cities. Under the law there are to be not less than eight or more than twelve.

There is considerable speculation as to the probable location of these federal reserve banks.

All national banks are required by the law to become members of the federal reserve banking system or surrender their charters.

Cities Up to Requirements.

The capital and surplus of banks entering the system and the relative aggregate of the capital and surplus of

© by American Press Association.

WILLIAM G. M'ADOO.

prospective member banks in financial centers throughout the country will be carefully considered.

The only cities in which the capital and surplus of national banks are in excess of $25,000,000, with the approximate capital and surplus of such banks located in them, are these:

Boston, over $45,000,000; New York city, over $249,000,000; Philadelphia, over $65,000,000; Pittsburgh, over $53,000,000; Chicago, over $69,000,000; St Louis, over $32,000,000, and San Francisco, over $43,000,000.

Philadelphia is a strong candidate for selection as a regional reserve city.

Many western men have contended that there should be two regional cities on the Pacific coast. San Francisco would undoubtedly be one of them, but there would be keen rivalry between Portland and Seattle. Others believe that Minneapolis or St Paul should be chosen as a regional center to accommodate the region between Chicago and the Pacific coast.

Leading Bankers' Opinions.

Now that the new system is a fact, state and national bankers are not disposed to be too critical. Opinions of men in various parts of the country are given herewith:

Paul M. Warburg of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., New York:

There cannot be any doubt that the enactment of this legislation will inaugurate a new era in the history of banking in the United States. While it is to be regretted that some important suggestions made by the business community could not be adopted, the fundamental thoughts, for the victory of which some of us have worked for so many years, have won out—that is to say, from now on we shall witness the gradual elimination of the bond secured currency, of scattered reserves, of immobilized commercial paper and of overbidding of call loans on the Stock Exchange. The ship is headed right, and nothing will ever turn her back into her old course.

Charles Smithers of F. S. Smithers & Co., New York:

We shall henceforth be able to finance our commercial operations without recourse to such a large amount of actual banking capital as was necessary before. It will be done on credit, backed by the mobilized power of the entire banking resources of the United States. This is going to release huge sums of capital, which will undoubtedly be employed in further developing the splendid resources of this country.

Newton D. Alling, vice president of the National Nassau bank, New York:

Of the currency changes the most important is that affecting the reserves. For any one to prophesy just what result this changed requirement is going to have in any one section at any one time would be presumption. But after a considerable period of adjustment and re-establishment of relations its general effect should be beneficial all over the country.

George H. Prince, chairman of the board of directors of the Merchants' National bank of St. Paul, Minn.:

While the bill is a good one, it has many defects that will have to be remedied. It will take at least a year to make the currency law workable and thoroughly understood. During that time Europe will be a little cautious. There is absolutely no reason for any serious change or depression.

Edmund D. Hulbert, vice president of the Merchants' Loan and Trust company, Chicago:

Of course, from the viewpoint of the bankers, the measure contains many objectionable features; but, on the whole, it is a sound bill and will do much toward putting banking and currency on a firm footing.

John C. Mitchell, president of the Denver National bank:

I should say that the new law is 80 per cent good, though I do not entirely agree with some of its provisions. If it is carried out according to its terms we shall never have another panic.

Thomas H. West, chairman of the St. Louis Union Trust company:

I have faith in the measure, and, while it may not be perfect, it can readily be changed to conform to unforeseen conditions after the reorganization.

F. O. Watts, president of the Third National bank, St. Louis:

I believe the changes in the senate have served to make the bill very superior to the form in which it passed the house. I think it is a workable bill and contains all the essentials of a good banking and currency measure.

Robert F. Maddon, president of the American National bank of Atlanta, Ga.:

The purpose of the bill to mobilize the currency is good. The only question is whether the measure will accomplish that.

W. M. Habliston, chairman of the board of the First National bank, president of the Broad Street bank and the Old Dominion Trust company, Richmond, Va.:

The bill is a great improvement over the one which has been in effect for several years. It will result in an elastic currency which will avert panics.

Oliver J. Sands, president of the American National bank, Richmond, Va.:

The passage of the currency measure will have a beneficial effect upon the country at large, and its operation will help business.

Calls Bill a Menace.

Charles J. Knight, president of the National Bank of Western Pennsylvania:

I do not think the bill should have been passed. It will do the country no good—

© 1913, by American Press Association.

DAVID F. HOUSTON.

in fact, the new law will, I believe, work decided harm to the banking system, both in this district and throughout the country.

George M. Gunn, president of the National Trades bank, New Haven, Conn.:

If the banks of the country work in harmony to carry out the provisions of the new law I believe it will result in a great improvement. I do not object and can see no good reason for objection to the regional bank.

Figures Out Results of Law.

Representative Robert J. Bulkley of Ohio, a member of the house banking and currency committee, says the new system will work out better for the country banks. According to Mr. Bulkley, the country banks' old reserves will pay the new and leave a surplus of $40,000,000.

He says that in three years—thirty-six months after the new act is in effect—the federal reserve banks will have in total assets, cash $450,215,000 and loans $171,556,000.

At that time, asserts Bulkley, their capital would be $53,445,000, and their deposits $568,326,000, totaling the same as the assets of course. This is assuming that $140,000,000 in government deposits will be withdrawn from the United States treasury and be deposited in the banks.

Mr. Bulkley has endeavored to explain how the new currency law will work out without disturbing business.

All the changes he works out in detail. He figures the withdrawals from the country banks at $270,451,000 and the release of the reserve city banks at $169,745,000. His totals of payments made show cash $86,269,600, from reserve agents $169,745,000 and rediscounts $44,816,000, a grand total of payments of $300,770,000.

Mr. Bulkley says that the central reserve city banks would pay to the new federal reserve banks $259,968,000 cash, and would then probably have to rediscount to the extent of $126,740,000, making a total payment which they would have to make of $386,703,000. All this he holds, would in the thirty-six months be accomplished without any tightening of credits or disturbance of business.

Reading—Sewing

Take care of your eyes—don't strain them with harsh, glaring light—when you can have the soft clear light of the RAYO Lamp. The RAYO costs little, but better can't be bought.

The RAYO Lamp is made of solid brass—nickel-plated. Simple, durable, economical. Can be lighted without removing chimney or shade. Easy to rewick.

The RAYO saves your eyes.

For sale at all dealers.

STANDARD OIL COMPANY
New York Albany of New York Buffalo Boston

ST. FRANCIS COURT.

The officers of St. Francis court, M. C. O. F., will be installed in St. Joseph's hall, Jan. 12, and a committee is preparing an attractive program. The officers are:

Chief Ranger—Philip T. Egan.
Vice Chief Ranger—Dr. John H. Ash.
Recording Secretary—Napoleon B. Grignon.
Financial Secretary—Michael F. Riley.
Treasurer—William H. Callahan.
Senior Conductor—Michael Lyons.
Junior Conductor—Daniel Shea.
Inside Sentinel—Bernard Griffin.
Outside Sentinel—Walter Ogle.
Trustees—John F. Burke, James Doyle, George Smollett.
Physician—Dr. John H. Ash.
Delegates—Philip T. Egan, Arthur R. Murphy, Joseph J. McNealy, James H. Elcock.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE.

By virtue of and in execution of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed, dated May 1, 1906, recorded with Norfolk County Deeds, Book 1026 page 27, given by William S. Drew, Annette H. Drew, his wife, and W. Holland Wheeler and Mary H. Wheeler, his wife, will be sold for breach of the conditions of said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same at public auction on said premises situated in that part of Boston, County of Suffolk and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, formerly known as Hyde Park, County of Norfolk, on Thursday, January 22, 1914, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, all and singular the premises bound and described as follows:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Boston, County of Suffolk, Commonwealth of Massachusetts, formerly known as Hyde Park, County of Norfolk, described as follows, to wit:—and comprising the lot numbered sixteen, and a portion of the lot numbered seventeen, shown on a plan entitled "Revised Plan of a part of Section 7 of the Real Estate and Building Company's land in Hyde Park" aforesaid recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Libro 386, folio 321, and bounded as follows: southwesterly on Dell St., 60 feet more or less, southeasterly on lot numbered 15, one hundred and twenty-nine feet, northeasterly on lots numbered 9 and 10, sixty feet and northwesterly on a line parallel with the southeasterly line of said lot 16 and distant 60 feet northwesterly therefrom. Excepting from this description a strip of land five feet wide adjoining said Dell street, which is to remain open forever as a part of said street.

The above premises are to be sold subject to all encumbrances of record and to any and all unpaid assessments, taxes and other municipal liens.

One Thousand ($1,000) dollars in cash will be required of the purchaser at the sale, other terms and conditions to be announced at the time and place of sale.

GEORGE F. BOSHER,
Mortgagee.

William C. Adams, Atty., 60 State Street, Boston, Mass.
Dec. 30-3t 30-6-13

NOTICE OF DISSOLUTION.

The partnership heretofore existing between the undersigned under the name of Edward MacLane & Co., this day is dissolved by mutual consent. Edward MacLane will continue the business at new No. 186 N. Lasalle St., Chicago, Room 605, and all outstanding accounts of the late firm should be paid to him. This partnership has existed since Sept. 22, 1913. Edward MacLane is not personally responsible for any transactions previous to that date.

(Signed) EDWARD MacLANE,
(Signed) DAVID GERSHIN,
Chicago, Dec. 23, 1913.
Dec. 30-3t

It is untrue that Vice-President Marshall has paid the Chautauquas $300 a night for the chance to talk.

REGULATION.

Passed by St. Mary's C. T. A. & M. R. Society:

To the family and immediate friends of our late Brother HONORABLE WILLIAM T. SHEA

WHEREAS—It has pleased the Almighty God in his Divine Wisdom to remove from our midst our beloved friend and fellow member Honorable William T. Shea, and

WHEREAS—his loss is an irreparable one to the St. Mary's Catholic Total Abstinence and Mutual Relief Society, of which he was one of the most faithful and devoted members, whose true and sincere friend he was, and

WHEREAS—by his Christian life he has furnished to the members of this Society and all who knew him, with a model that they may all well try to emulate, therefore be it, and it is hereby unanimously

RESOLVED—by the members of St. Mary's Catholic Total Abstinence and Mutual Relief Society that we express to the family of the deceased and his immediate relatives and friends our earnest and heartfelt sympathy in their bereavement. Be it also

RESOLVED—That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the records of this Society, a copy be sent to the press, of this city and a copy be sent to the family of our departed Brother.

Committee on resolutions
THOMAS F. O'BRIEN,
JOSEPH H. McPHERSON,
JOSEPH J. O'ROURKE.
Dec. 30-1t

Too Late For Classification

TO LET—Tenement of 4 rooms, gas furnace and set range. No children. Apply at 55 Pleasant street, South Quincy. 30-6t

TO LET—Upper flat of 5 rooms at 62 Norton street, North Weymouth, hot and cold water, set range, set tubs electric lights. Place for hens. Key next door. Rent $12.50 to small family. Call 445 Washington street, Quincy. 30-6t

MARRIAGES

MAHON—HART—In Weymouth, Dec. 29, by Rev. Fr. Daniel C. Riordan of Newton Centre, assisted by Rev. Fr. John B. Holland of Weymouth, John J. Mahon of Quincy and Miss Loretta Hart of Weymouth.

DEATHS

YOUNG—In Quincy, Dec. 30, George E. Young in his 46th year. Funeral services from home of his sister, Mrs. William Pratt, 57 Quincy street, Thursday, Jan. 1, at 2 P. M. Relatives and friends invited. Please omit flowers. 2t

ROUNDS—In Quincy, Dec. 29, David Rounds in his 74th year. Funeral private. 2t

COLOMBO — In Quincy, Dec. 30, Leonard Colombo of 166 Independence avenue, in his 33rd year.

BANNON—In South Braintree, Dec. 29, Miss Margaret E. C. Bannon of 33 Pond street.

RECORD—In Abington, Dec. 30, Earl Record, in his 21st year.

TIRRELL—In Houghs Neck, Dec. 29, Harriet W., widow of Quincy Tirrell in her 70th year. Funeral services at late home 139 Manet Avenue, Wednesday, Dec. 31 at 2.30 P. M. Relatives and friends invited.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass.

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

LARGEST GUARANTEED CIRCULATION IN THE CITY

Vol. 28 No. 303 QUINCY MASS. WEDNESDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 31 1913 PRICE TWO CENTS

1914 Happy New Year! 1914

APPOINTMENTS MAY COME MONDAY

This is the Rumor and Mayor Elect Miller Says "May Be"

Office of City Engineer May be Ab lished

Mayor-elect John L. Miller paid a visit to City Hall Tuesday afternoon and spent a half hour consulting with Mayor Stone and some of the city officials. The first office visited was that of the City Auditor where inquiries were made as to the financial standing of the city. Returning down stairs, Mayor Stone who was in his office, received the Mayor-elect and offered to render him any assistance possible in regard to city matters. There was nothing particular however that the Mayor-to-be seemed to desire. Apparently he knew what he wanted and was prepared to get it without any assistance. After a few minutes consultation with City Clerk Crane, he took his departure.

An attempt to interview the new Mayor regarding next year met with small satisfaction. From what conversation there was, it is evident that there will be but little in the way of an inaugural address on Jan. 5. Mr. Miller said that he had not prepared any address, and did not intend to do so. That he did not believe in a long address where the audience went to sleep before it was through. Being pressed in regard to his inaugural he stated that he should probably say what came into his mind at the time and let it go at that.

Being asked in regard to his appointments, if he intended to make them on Monday, no direct answer was given, although it it is intimated by friends that on Inauguration day the announcement of his official family will be made. This would clear the atmosphere and allow the Mayor to get down to business immediately without longer being bothered with office seekers. When asked a direct question, if he intended to announce his appointments on Inauguration day, Mr. Miller answered "may be."

As to whom the new officers will be, no one knows, and all stories as to this man or that man retaining this or that position are mere guess work. There is a persistent rumor however that City Hall will with one exception, be "swept clean" from one end of the hall to the other.

Another persistent rumor that is going about is that the Mayor-elect intends to abolish the office of City Engineer and consolidate that office with the Commissioner of Public Works; in other words that whatever engineering work there is to be done shall be by the Commissioner's department.

The office of City Engineer is established by ordinance and is one of the most important offices in City Hall. Some action on the part of the City Council will be necessary to abolish the office.

However the Mayor may possibly take the same action that one other Mayor did for a time several years ago, which was to retain the office without appointing a City Engineer, having the Commissioner oversee for a time, although under the City Charter and ordinances, no compensation can be received by that official while acting as City Engineer.

As to who will fill the other positions in the official family no one except the Mayor-elect knows for certain, and he is not saying.

According to rumors, which are said to be well founded, John T. Cavanagh, who served the city as Commissioner of Public Works one year under Mayor Keith, is the man who

(Continued on Page Two.)

CARPETS
Oriental Domestic RUGS
LINOLEUM
MATTINGS
AT LOWEST POSSIBLE PRICES
John H. Pray & Sons Co.
646 Washington Street, Opp. Boylston Street

All Goods will be Delivered Free at Residences in Quincy
REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY
Messrs. OTHO A. HAYWARD and WALTER J. WELLINGTON.

COMPLIMENTARY DINNER TO MAYOR-ELECT

Tomorrow, January 1, is the birthday anniversary of Mayor-elect John L. Miller and that evening he will be tendered a complimentary dinner at the New American House, Boston, by his campaign committee. While it was at first intended to limit the number to a few from each ward, the committee in charge say that the demand for tickets has been so great that the attendance at the dinner will be in the neighborhood of 150. The dinner will be served at 7.30 and Alexander Falconer will preside as toast master.

According to the committee, twenty-five gentlemen have been selected to make addresses of five minutes duration, and in addition to this there will be an entertainment which will include music by an orchestra and vocal selections by some well known people.

WEDDING AT ELECTA HALL

Miss Bessie Sarkin, Bride of Albert Lazarus

The marriage of Miss Bessie Sarkin of 21 Lyndon road, Quincy and Albert Lazarus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Lazarus of 64 West Cedar street, Boston, in Electa hall Tuesday evening was witnessed by over 200 friends, who afterwards participated in the wedding feast served in Protection hall.

Rev Julius Sandolovitz of the synagogue of the Ahavoth Achim congregation performed the ceremony under a canopy erected in a corner of the hall. The bride was given away by her brother, Hyman Sarkin of Quincy, and her bridesmaids were Miss Katie Goldman and Miss Ida Fingle of Dorchester. The best man was Eli Lazarus.

The bride was dressed in a gown of crepe meteor, cut en train, trimmed with applique lace, fur and pearls The train bearers were Katie and Minnie Luff of Newton Lower Falls relatives of the bride. The bride wore a veil caught up with lilies of the valley and carried a shower bouquet of the same blossoms.

After a reception and the wedding feast dancing was enjoyed. Guests were present from New York, Philadelphia, Providence, Newton, Dorchester, Boston and Quincy.

Mr. and Mrs. Lazarus will leave on a wedding trip today. They will reside at 64 Revere street, Boston.

DISTRICT COURT.

Fred T. Mulien was in court Tuesday and fined $5 for drunkenness his sentence being suspended. This morning he was again brought into court on a similar charge and was fined $10.

James Gillon was fined $5, and Herbert Houghton $5, for drunkenness at Quincy.

Carl M. Wendestein was fined $5, and Frank J. Burgess $15, for violation of the automobile laws at Milton.

The continued cases of Francisco Di Bona, Batistia Tamburrini, Angelo Fantana and Luigi DiBona for soliciting sales of liquor at Quincy were called and they were discharged.

Call Quincy 501--W

if you want your furniture, mattresses and cushions repaired in good order at low prices M. MIRKIN, upholsterer, 1060 Hancock street, near the Quincy High School
Dec. 1-1m

HUSBAND FOR SALE

Quincy Woman Offers Hers for an Even $1000

Mrs. Mary Agnes Jones Bedell, of 26 Water street, who offered by mail to sell her husband, William Bedell, to Miss Mary Chandler of Athol for $1000, is of the same mind this morning. Although the letter was sent in a joke, her husband has become a very willing party to it and has mailed a post card invitation to Miss Chandler to come to Quincy for a conference. Mrs. Bedell is making preparations to receive Miss Chandler and should she delay calling the offer will remain open.

"Because," said Mrs. Bedell this morning, "we are going to separate anyway, and with $1,000 I could start a boarding house and support both my children. Mr. Bedell is my third husband. When we were married 14 months ago I didn't think it would be the most unsuccessful of my affairs."

The husband was offered after Mrs. Bedell learned of the tangled affairs of Miss Chandler, whose relations with Frederick Andrew Chubb have been made the basis of a warrant for Chubb's arrest by his wife. William Bedell being of a kind, generous disposition is the one man needed to protect Miss Chandler from the grasping lawyers according to his wife.

Bedell is perfectly willing to shift his affections and Monday night smilingly admitted that he was sound, kind, and affectionate and all that a good husband could be.

Mr. and Mrs. Bedell were married in Quincy about 14 months ago. Mr. Bedell filed the marriage intention and said at the time that he thought it was the man's place to attend to the business end of the ceremony. At that time Mrs. Bedell was employed in a boarding house in the Fore River district and married William because he "chased" her for a couple of weeks and she thought he wanted her pretty badly and so accepted him.

The letter written by Mrs. Bedell follows:

"Dear Miss Chandler: I see where you need a husband to take care of your property and be a father to your baby. I am willing to sell you my husband for $1,000 cash. He is just the man for you, loves babies and I can neither have any or want them. We have been married 14 months and I was a widow, with two children in school.

(Continued on Page Three.)

NEW MEN FOR POLICE FORCE

Three Named to Fill Vacancies on the Reserve List

The vacancies in the reserve police force caused by the promotion of officers Malone, McNamara and Black to the permanent force, which appointments go into effect at roll call tonight, were filled by Mayor Stone this morning by the appointment of William H. Taylor, Jr., Walter G. Furguson and Jeremiah J. Connelly. These appointments were made from the civil service lists and will also go into effect at roll call tonight.

Henry C. Low who was the guest of his son over the Christmas holidays returned to New York, Monday accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Russell C. Low who will be his guests for a few weeks.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL TO RUN ON FULL TIME

School Committee Decide New Ordinance Relative to Newsboys is Invalid

Protest Received Relative to New Adams School District

The last meeting of the School Committee of 1913 on Tuesday evening was one of the most important held by the committee in a long time, that is in the amount of business that came up for consideration. In the absence of Chairman Miller, Dr. Hunting was elected as chairman pro tem.

RESIGNATION.

The resignation of Miss Alice T. Clark, master's assistant at the Lincoln school, was accepted. Miss Clark goes to the Boston schools.

NEW TEACHERS.

The following appointments were made:

Miss Jessie Schindler to the High school.

Miss Jennie Cline to the Coddington school.

Miss Jessie French, as instructor in sewing.

Miss Mary Bragdon was transferred from the Coddington school to master's assistant at the Lincoln.

Miss Grace D. Fisher was transferred from the Massachusetts Fields school to the Willard school.

TRADE SCHOOLS.

Several petitions were received asking that the drawing and trades schools be continued for a second term. On this request it was voted to continue the classes in drawing of the granite cutters, mold loft men, machinists and dressmaking for another ten weeks.

REBATE ASKED.

The Park Land ompany sent a communication stating that their land at Wollaston Park had been used by the children of the Massachusetts Fields schools as a playground and asked that the committee secure a rebate in its taxes. Placed on the table.

ADAMS SCHOOL DISTRICT.

A petition was received from the residents of the Bigelow Park district protesting against sending their children to the new Adams school. On this request it was voted to make no changes in school lines but to send children in this district to the new Adams only as the rooms at the Coddington and Washington became overcrowded.

The proposed line of the Adams district over which there has been some comment commences at the Braintree line and follows the railroad to the Town brook, thence through Hancock court to Hancock street, to Elm street to South Walnut street, to Union street, to Maine street, to South street, thence across Quincy avenue to the Ward Two and Three ward line where it intersects the line between Quincy and Braintree and near Patch's ice pond.

GRIDLEY BRYANT DISTRICT

A petition was received from the residents of Wollaston terrace protesting against sending children from that district to the Gridley Bryant

(Continued on Page Three.)

MERRIAM

Unloading at our Wharf

346 Tons Red Ash Nut
679 Tons Shamokin Stove
279 Tons White Ash Egg

This Coal is Fresh Mined

Try a Ton

C. PATCH & SON, Inc.
1422 Hancock Street

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second-Class matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the . . . .

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

TELEPHONES
News . . . Quincy 425
Business . . . Quincy 1910

NOTICE

Again we ask those sending news or other matter by mail to direct it to the company or newspaper rather than to individual members of the company or employees. If addressed to individuals and they were ill or not at the office, it might be several days in reaching its proper destination and if news matter would be too late for use.

People like to receive useful Christmas gifts, but they don't seem to enjoy giving them.

A popular way of making New Year's resolutions is to swear off on everything you don't want to do.

Some people find their New Year's resolutions strongly fortified by liberal doses of liquid Dutch courage.

Judging by appearances, the Chicago school board cannot be made up of married men, or they would have known they couldn't put Mrs. Ella Flagg Young out of her position.

In spite of the liberal provisions of the new currency law, the bankers continue to ask to see a man's collateral before loaning him any money.

In spite of the fact that the Congressmen were all sent to Washington to get something for their districts, it is rumored that the river and harbor bill may be no bigger than before.

The time Mrs. Wilson spends in painting lends color to the suspicion that some one else has to do the President's cooking.

The enlistments to the army have rapidly increased, presumably because some people think the pursuit of Mexicans may be substituted next fall for the annual deer hunting season.

The paper weight, blotter holder, and desk pad, that your women friends gave you litter up your desk, but it will be perfectly safe to chuck them into the waste basket in a week or two.

THE HOLIDAYS.

New Year's is a legal holiday in every state but three, Christmas in all but one. School and college vacations come at that time, many business men make it the occasion for homecomings, and the period is one of much festivity, even in localities where business does not stop much.

The observance, so nearly universal, of two holidays in a week is contrary to the usual habits of unbroken industry of the English speaking race. It is not a people who are given to celebrations, but rather one addicted by habit to long and unbroken periods of labor.

Our forefathers argued that holidays broke the current of industry. The only way to make working people industrious was to establish a regular routine of labor. The less it was upset by holidays, the more was done.

Old Puritan sentiment in New England excommunicated people for attending church Christmas day. In many rural districts all over the country it is still customary for country stores to keep open every holiday up to noon. In England 40 years ago the only holidays when business houses closed were Christmas and Good Friday.

Of course it takes unbroken toil to accomplish results. The Hindoos up to recently had 100 stated holidays yearly, and their people stand where their ancestors did 1000 years ago. The English speaking race has half a dozen holidays, and it revolutionizes the conditions of living every generation. But it has carried this unremitting diligence to the point of overstrain.

In most parts of the United States Christmas and New Year's doings have broken the routine of winter for many years. The feeling for these festivities becomes second nature, associated with a long series of childish glorifications. The heart sparkles with gladness, and the spirit of frolic takes possession of sober grown-ups, and incites them to all sorts of jolly revelry.

GREETINGS TO OLD COMRADES

Charles Cummings Enjoying Life at Battle Mountain Sanitarium

Charles Cummings, recently of 1596 Hancock street, Quincy is now pleasantly located at the Battle Mountain sanitarium, at Hot Springs, South Dakota. He will be remembered best in Grand Army circles, and on Christmas day he wrote a letter to Comrade William Bird, parts of which will be found of public interest.

He says a good Christmas dinner was served while an orchestra played. I am now enjoying the best days of my life. Lovely weather and very little snow. However the mercury has been down to 14 degrees above zero; scarcely noticed it while out walking. We are living like fighting cocks here, the daily bill of fare being the very best.

We have a very fine sanitarium. There are six buildings, one hundred and seven feet long by forty feet wide which contain two wards with beds for twenty-eight patients in each ward. These six ward buildings are in a circle with ends toward the center and connected by a covered arcade which encloses a plaza or circle with lawns, flowers and a fountain.

Headquarters is a large building containing on the first floor offices for governor, treasurer, adjutant and the physicians. The second floor is occupied by officers' rooms and clerks' rooms. Also a third floor used for the same purpose.

We have beds for three hundred and thirty-six patients, but we can crowd four hundred and fifty men into this place by using basements and side-rooms.

Breakfast at 9 o'clock; sick call at 9.30; dinner at 12 o'clock; supper at 5.30 P. M. and taps at 9 o'clock.

We have plunge baths, electric baths, cabinet and shower baths with massage, also flowing baths.

I have been east, south, north and west but never saw any better expression:

Of all the towns I've visited,
In all my travels wide,
This little place
Just suits my taste
And here I think I'll reside.

The State Home is located here, also the cancer hospital with patients from all states. The hotels are: The Evans, the Hot Springs and the Gillespee.

The scenery is fine and there is an abundance of fine pink sandstone of which most of the buildings are built.

My address is Hot Springs, South Dakota, care Battle Mountain sanitarium, and I hope to hear from Quincy friends.

APPOINTMENTS

(Continued from Page One)

will be appointed by Mayor-elect John L. Miller to the position for the year 1914. It is well known that friends of Mr. Cavanagh have been urging the Mayor-elect to name him and the latest report is that he will be the man named.

Another report is that a Wollaston man is slated for Chairman of the board of Assessors, while still another rumor has it that Alexander Falconer is the man slated for the position.

Still another rumor, current this morning is that the Mayor-elect will announce to his friends at the complimentary banquet Thursday evening at the New American house the principal members of his official family.

FOREFATHERS DAY.

Forefather's day was observed in Rodger's Library hall, Marshfield Hills by the Marshfield Historical Society which was recently organized and set in motion by our former townsman Lysander S. Richards. The following speakers addressed the gathering. Erastus E. Williamson of Hyde Park, formerly of Wollaston Rev. Charles Peck, pastor of First Congregational church, where Daniel Webster attended; Peregrine Foster White of Worcester, a lineal descendant of Peregrine White; and L. S. Richards of the hills. The society is flourishing and nearly all prominent people of Marshfield are members. The late Hon. William T. Davis, Plymouth's historian said that Marshfield stood next to Plymouth in colonial history. Historic spots made famous by Old Colonists will be marked by the society.

☞ Masquerade costumes to rent from $1. up. Mrs. R. E. Woodward, 162 Beach street, Wollaston.
adv. 30-3t.

PATRONS LEAVE THEATRE FIRE

Panic Averted by Quiet Manner of the Manager

TWO FIREMEN ARE OVERCOME

Audience Vacates Salem Amusement House In Good Order as Flames Burst Through Floor—Stubborn Fight In Business Section With Loss of $15,000

Salem, Mass., Dec. 31.—A disastrous panic was averted last night during a $15,000 fire in the Manning block on Washington street, when James Mavrakos, manager of the Comique theatre, which is located on the street floor, quietly requested that the several hundred patrons of the theatre leave the building.

The composed bearing and the words of assurance of Mavrakos made it possible for the entire gathering to leave the building in good order, the last person reaching the street just as the flames burst through the floor.

The fire originated in the boiler room about 6:30, and before the arrival of the apparatus it had worked its way through wooden partitions to a bowling alley located in the basement of the building. Because of the construction of the building the blaze proved a most stubborn one and before the "all out" signal was sounded, two firemen had been overcome by smoke, and companies from Salem, Beverly and Peabody were throwing sixteen streams of water upon the building.

The Manning building, which is a four-story structure, is situated at 47-53 Washington street, and is occupied by a bowling alley, theatre, leather and harness shop and offices. When the fire was first noticed word was immediately sent to Manager Mavrakos.

Quickly mounting the stage, he told the audience that smoke was coming from a portion of the building and asked them to file out in an orderly manner and to receive their admission fees at the door. Fully 700 persons were in the theatre at the time and all reached the street in safety.

In the meantime the auto chemical arrived and Joseph Flynn, a member of the chemical crew, dashed into the burning building with a line of hose. While he was directing the liquid chemical upon the blaze in the bowling alleys the lights were cut off and the room became filled with smoke. As he attempted to return to the street, his foot caught on an alley fixture and he fell to the floor.

He managed to crawl to a hallway above and there fell unconscious upon the floor, where he was later found by members of the fire department.

George Spearell, the second fireman to seriously suffer, fell through a bulkhead to the basement of the building, injuring his knee and back. Before he could be rescued he was made unconscious by the inhaling of smoke. Both men were treated by Dr. William Noyes. They were revived and taken to their homes.

U. S. S. PARKER IS DONE

"Destroyer of Destroyers" Turned Over to Government

Philadelphia, Dec. 31.—The new twin screw torpedo boat destroyer Parker, the largest of her class, and called the "destroyer of destroyers," has been formally turned over to the government by the builders here.

The work of mounting the guns will begin at once at the Philadelphia navy yard. The Parker will be equipped with four 4-inch rapid-firing guns and four twin 18-inch torpedo tubes. When this is completed, a company of 100 men, including four officers, will be assigned to the ship.

The Parker is one of the few oil-burning destroyers in the American navy, and with her tanks loaded to their capacity of 300 tons is capable of 7000 miles at cruising speed, or 800 miles at her highest velocity.

KILLS DOG IN FIGHT

A. H. Eldredge of Ware Badly Bitten on Hands

Ware, Mass., Dec. 31.—A. H. Eldredge, a local newspaper correspondent, had a fierce battle with a 100-pound shepherd dog which attacked his 6-year-old daughter, Mary, and later his 7-year-old son, John.

Eldredge was badly bitten on both hands, but finally shot the animal with a revolver furnished by an employe of a beef company. Dr. James E. Kennedy later sent the dog's head to Professor Whitney of the Harvard Medical school for examination.

Seek Relatives of Dead Man

Pawtucket, R. I., Dec. 31.—The authorities are anxious to ascertain the whereabouts of the relatives of John Burns, aged 55, who died at his boarding house. The man came here from Onset, Mass., and worked five weeks at the Lonsdale bleacheries, but neglected to say where his relatives were.

Aged Pennsylvania Women Die

Centralia, Pa., Dec. 31.—While the funeral of Mrs. Mary Horn, aged 107 years, was being held, Mrs. Julia Gerrity, who was nearly 100 years old, died.

QUINCY REAL ESTATE SALES.

Charles F. Adams 2d et al trs et al to Alice W. Chaplin, Norton road.

Charles F. Adams 2d, et al trs to Christena B. Hall, Bay Path, Passonagesse Knoll.

Margaret Bestgen to John N. Pickett et ux to Botolph street.

Boston Safe D. & T. Co., tr to Joseph A. Dasha, Adams street.

Clara Bradbury to Timothy Murphy, Liberty and Quincy streets.

J. Joseph Callahan to Alfred E. Barrett, Felton street, Glover avenue.

Della L. Carle to William Gordon, et ux, Sachem street.

Eva G. Collins to Mary Gunville, Quincy avenue.

Luigi Di Bona to Francesco Grisafulli, Centre street.

Wilton A. Dunham to Catherine Bell, Houghs Neck.

Wilton A. Dunham to Mary Bell, Houghs Neck.

Clarence M. Ellsworth to John S. Griffiths, Rock Island road.

Felix Favorite to William W. Blaisdell, Granger & Everett streets.

Daniel F. Gallagher et al to James C. Gallagher et al, Canal street.

Mary Gunville to Eva G. Collins, Quincy avenue.

Charles J. Kelley to Minnie S. Bond Hovey street.

Carl P. H. Lagerstedt to Harry L. D. Bolinder et al, Rock Island.

Lucy Malnati et al to Timothy Murphy, Liberty street.

Henry McGrath to Catherine McGrath, Water street, Pleasant street.

James R. Murphy tr to Margaret DeCoste, Lafayette street.

Nathan G. Nickerson Jr. to Abigail B. Nickerson, Prospect avenue.

Charles R. Sherman to Arthur F. Raymond, Prospect avenue.

Nicholas Sprunk to Catherine Sprunk, Ruthven street, Ardell street Montclair avenue, Pope street, Evans street, Sagamore avenue, Marshall street.

Angus A. Stuart to Mary Coleman, Federal avenue.

Margaret R. Thomas to George E. Thomas, Newton street.

Frank A. Ware to Clara E. Brown, Crosby street.

August N. Weeden et al trs to David Peterson, Lind street.

Fred W. Wood et al trs to Harry A. Powers, Thornton street.

RAINTREE REAL ESTATE SALES

Wilton A. Dunham to Teresa L. Barrett, Mountain Side Park.

Benjamin Heinlein to Alice K. Larin, Washington street.

Adelaide Jackson to Benjamin Heinlein, Washington street.

Peter McGibbon to Catherine M. McGibbon, Lakeview avenue.

Henry S. Moody tr to Walter M. Warren.

Henry S. Moody tr to Joseph H. Holmes.

Ida S. Petterson et al to Anna I. Petterson et al, Granite street.

Charles S. Tarbox to Grace M. Tarbox, Liberty street.

George T. Wilde ex to Carrie F. Wilde, Franklin street.

GARDNER CLUB.

"The value to a man of the way of business approach" is the title of a most interesting and helpful talk which C. I. Wilson of the Boston Woven Hose Co., will give to the Gardner Club at the parish house, Christ church tomorrow evening at 7.45. Any man who is interested is cordially invited to hear Mr. Wilson who is the second speaker in a series of talks which have been arranged by Merton A. Turner the club's' director.

☞ PRATT'S BREAD costs a little more—is worth a good deal more ask your grocer.

Between Women's Health or Suffering

The main reason why so many women suffer greatly at times is because of a run-down condition. Debility, poor circulation show in headaches, languor, nervousness and worry.

BEECHAM'S PILLS

(The Largest Sale of Any Medicine in the World)

are the safest, surest, most convenient and most economical remedy. They clear the system of poisons, purify the blood, relieve suffering and ensure such good health and strength that all the bodily organs work naturally and properly. In actions, feelings and looks, thousands of women have proved that Beecham's Pills

Make All The Difference

Sold everywhere. In Boxes, 10c., 25c.
Women will find the directions with every box very valuable.

HANCOCK ST. LAND TAKINGS

All That Was Contemplated in the Appropriation Order

A local paper recently made a statement and comment to the effect that an appropriation of $38,000 made by the City Council in 1912 for the widening of Hancock street was still unexpended and that the city was paying interest on the amount. The article is misleading for the fact is that the appropriation of $38,000 made that year was wholly for the purpose of acquiring the land necessary for the widening to be done at a later period.

The expense of taking the land and doing the work all at one time would have been such that the Council deemed it wise to pass an appropriation taking the land for the widening, thus establishing a building line and then later make the necessary appropriation for the building of the street to the new width.

Of the original $38,000 appropriated there now remains unexpended a balance of $4,972.40. The reason for the balance is easily explained. It is because several of the abutters on the street were not satisfied with the award made and refused to accept it.

A larger part of the abuttors however did accept the award and have received their money for it. Those who have up to the present time refused to accept the award are Edith A. Green, Fred B. Rice, John Hall and the Quincy Real Estate Trust.

The same thing that was done on Hancock street is contemplated by the City Council in regard to Washington street, which it is proposed to make to a uniform width of sixty feet, and also to Squantum street which it is desired to make of a uniform width.

These two latter measures came up on a communication from the Mayor in regard to Washington street and on a petition regarding Squantum street. These requests were that these streets be made of uniform width and a building line established. The idea of establishing a building line is that eventually these streets must be widened, and if the line is now established, there will be no building of houses outside of this line so that when the time for widening comes there will be no expense for the taking of buildings or moving them back from the street line.

Under the law, the establishing of a building line comes under the same general scheme as the widening of a street. A public hearing is necessary, the abuttors having been given proper notice of the hearing. The City Council then passes an order establishing the new building line and makes awards for land taken. This is exactly what was done in regard to Hancock street.

Three expert real estate men were employed by the Mayor to assess the value of the land taken, and it was on their figures that the awards were made. All but the parties named have accepted the award, given deeds for their land and have taken the money.

RECENT DEATHS.

Funeral services were held in the parlor of the Central Congregational church, Middleboro, Saturday afternoon, for Miss Florence E. Thompson, adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred W. Thompson, for many years residents of Middleboro, and now of Wollaston. Miss Thompson was a graduate of the Middleboro High school and of Tufts college, and had a successful career as a teacher in Montclair, N. J., New York city and Springfield, Mass. Subsequently she took a course of study in preparation for work as a missionary. Her close attention to work, both in her professional capacity and in settlement work of various kinds in which she was especially interested, resulted in a permanent impairment of her health and she had been for several years under treatment for melancholia.

A considerable number of former neighbors and friends of the family were in attendance at the services Saturday, which were conducted by Rev. Norman McKinnon of the Central Congregational church, and Rev. Dr. Sneath of Wollaston. Vocal selections were rendered by Miss Irena Cushing and Mrs. Eldoretta Bourne. Interment was in the cemetery at the Green.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1401 Hancock street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point. Tel. Quincy-Mass. 1153 M Nov 3-tf

Capital $150,000 Surplus $200,000

DIAMONDS
RUBIES
GOLD

Tempt the dishonest when kept in a bureau or desk drawer. Keep yours in one of our steel safety deposit boxes—$5 a year—where nobody but you can get at them, but where they are convenient when you want them. Some folks pay twice as much to keep valuables in Boston safety boxes, but they're handier here and just as safe.

Our $5 Box is Larger Than a $10 Box in Boston.

GRANITE TRUST CO.
FOUNDED 1836

WINE CASES DISMISSED

Because Superior Court Ruled Adversely on Test Case

Final diposition in the cases of Francisco DiBona, Batistia Tamburrini, Angelo Fontana and Luigi DiBona for soliciting sales of liquor in Quincy was made this morning when they were found not guilty and discharged.

The fifth man in the bunch Guissepe Catto had already been discharged by Judge Raymond. The cases were those where the men who are members of a club obtained orders for wine from their countrymen and then ordered it by the car load. When the case was tried before Judge Avery several days were consumed and it was finally agreed that one case should be disposed of and then await the action of the higher court on his appeal. Catto was fined $50 and the other cases continued until this week.

The Catto case went up before Judge Raymond on a statement of fact. Judge Raymond ruled that it was not a violation where the parties soliciting were not to obtain any benefit from the sale other than a reduction in price. If the parties who were soliciting the sales were to receive any pecuniary benefit it would have been a violation. In this case however they were not and he ordered the case dismissed.

Aged Woman Commits Suicide

Penn Yann, N. Y., Dec. 31.—Mrs. Olive Johnson, 89 years old, committed suicide by hanging herself from hooks in a clothes room. Mrs. Johnson's husband ended his life in the same manner a year ago at the age of 92 at his home in Gorham, N. Y.

FINNISH ANNIVERSARY

Congregational Church Was Established 18 Years Ago

The 18th anniversary of the Finnish Congregational church will be observed this evening in the church erected 15 years ago on Buckley street, West Quincy. In connection with the observance the annual election of officers will take place, after which the affair will take the form of a Watch party.

The approach of the midnight hour, signalling the passing of the old and the beginning of the New Year will be an inspiring scene, because the members will individually and publicly make their resolutions.

The clergy of the city and state and the members of several societies have received an invitation to be present from the pastor, Rev. John E. Lillback. This will be the last observance of its kind that Rev. Mr. Lillback will direct as pastor since he leaves Quincy Jan. 25 to assume the pastorate of the Finnish Congregational church at Brooklyn, N. Y. An elaborate program has been arranged which includes a supper and entertainment.

A party of Quincy people went to Malden Sunday evening and heard an excellent performance of Handels' "Messiah" presented by festival chorus of Malden assisted by The Boston Festival orchestra and organ. The soloists were Mrs. Edith Cary Page of Quincy, soprano; Mrs. B. J. Potter, contralto; Norman Arnold, tenor and Oscar Hunting, bass, of Boston. Mrs. Bertha M. Pettis presided at the organ and Harold Clarke Davis conducted.

FOR A
Holiday Present
NOTHING COULD BE BETTER THAN
A QUINCY HISTORY
EACH YEAR THE HISTORY OF
OLD BRAINTREE AND QUINCY
WRITTEN BY
W. S. PATTEE, M. D.
AND PUBLISHED IN 1878
GROWS MORE VALUABLE, AS IT CONTAINS HISTORICAL DATA ABOUT QUINCY THAT CANNOT BE OBTAINED ELSEWHERE
$3.50 PER COPY
FOR SALE BY
GEO. W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
1424 HANCOCK STREET
QUINCY

WOMEN'S CLUBS

WHAT THEY ARE DOING AND SEASONS' PLANS

News of Women's Clubs is a feature of the Daily Ledger every Wednesday Secretaries of organizations should send notices of club activities, to reach the Club Editor not later than Tuesday night to insure insertion the next day.

The Quincy Young Women's club is to have a cobweb party as the attractive feature of their next meeting on Tuesday evening Jan. 6.

* * *

The January meeting of the Executive board of the Quincy Women's club will be held tomorrow morning at ten o'clock at the clubhouse.

* * *

The next meeting of the Atlantic Shakespeare Society comes tomorrow, New Year's day, and very fittingly they begin the reading of a new play having finished "Henry the Fourth." The five acts of "Measure for Measure" will be read at the three January meetings.

* * *

Abigail Phillips Quincy Chapter, D. A. R. of Wollaston is to observe the New Year tomorrow by giving a reception from three until five o'clock to the officers of the Massachusetts D. A. R. at the home of their regent Mrs. Edward E. Jameson, 58 Beach street.

* * *

With Mrs. W. E. Alden of Chestnut street as the hostess and Miss Edith Randall and Mrs. Henry M. Faxon chairmen for the afternoon, this week's meeting of the Friday club should be entertaining as well as interesting.

* * *

Quincy Woman's Christian Temperance Union holds its monthly meeting this week Friday afternoon in Protection hall, and the children of the Faxon Loyal Legion meet at four o'clock at the same place.

* * *

Mrs. Arthur W. Hall of Upland road will be the hostess for the meeting Monday afternoon of the Junior Friday club, and Miss Abigail B. Wood, chairman of the program with the Riviera and western Italy the subject for study.

The Katharyn Crane Memorial club is to meet Jan. 6 with Florence Mead of Granite street.

* * *

At the January meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Auxiliary Mrs. William F Alden is to give a travel talk which is sure to be interesting and call out a large attendance of members.

* * *

Wednesday afternoon Jan. 7, will be held the monthly meeting of Wollaston Auxiliary Woman's Board of Missions, when chapter three of Current Events in Missions will be taken up subject "The Resources of the King's Army," Mrs. Dickerson, chairman.

* * *

Wollaston Alliance had a New Year's luncheon and reception today which was largely attended and one of the most enjoyable of this season's meeting.

* * *

The Women's Riverside club, with Mrs. Thompson B. Crane as chairman of the affair is giving a most successful and largely attended family gurdy party this afternoon at their clubhouse on River street.

* * *

On account of New Year's day the Woman's Guild of Christ church has postponed its regular meeting until Thursday afternoon Jan. 8.

* * *

St. Chrysostom's Altar Guild is to hold its monthly meeting Thursday evening (New Years) at 7.45 at the rectory. Members are asked to note change from usual Tuesday to Thursday.

Pratt's Vienna Bread

A Bread made after a fixed formula by expert workmen in a light, modern bakery.

Sold Through Grocers

HOLMES & HALL
REPAIRERS OF HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
SHADES
DOOR BELLS
LOCKS and KEYS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

Mrs. Mathew McGrain of Bayside road is to be the hostess for the meeting Wednesday Jan. 7 of the Squantum Women's club.

* * *

The Quincy Day Nursery association meets Tuesday afternoon Jan. 6 at the Women's clubhouse, Goffe street.

* * *

"What is the Effect of Political Patronage upon Inspectors of Foods and the Purity of the Food Supply?" will be the subject discussed by the study class for club women in the lecture hall at the Boston Public Library, Saturday morning Jan. 3. These lectures are under the auspices of the Civil Service Reform department of the Massachusetts Federation of Women's clubs.

* * *

The annual midwinter meeting of the Massachusetts Federation of Women's clubs will be held in Dorchester Wednesday Feb. 11 by invitation of the Dorchester Woman's club.

* * *

The Jan. 8 meeting of the series of five parlor talks on home decoration under the auspices of the Arts and Crafts committee of the Quincy Women's club is to be held with Miss Margaret Thomas, 722 Washington street, Quincy Point. L. B. Jennings will speak on Interior Decoration.

* * *

Miss Mary Louise Gavin of 29 Irving place is to open her house on Tuesday afternoon the thirteenth for the first of two whist parties to be given for charity by the Quincy Catholic club.

* * *

Mrs. Mary Jones is chairman of the committee for the social of the Quincy Women's Riverside club to be held at the clubhouse Wednesday afternoon Jan. 7 and Mrs. Alfred Pinel is chairman for the Jan 21st social. Jan. 28 beside the regular business meeting there is to be a turkey dinner for members only at twelve o'clock.

* * *

QUINCY WOMEN'S CLUB.

For the holiday season the program committee, Miss Edith Randall chairman presented an unusually fine program for the meeting of the Quincy Women's club Tuesday afternoon at Alpha hall.

Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, president called the assemblage to order for the usual business session at half past two when the following reports were given by committees: Mrs. Tenney for Arts and Crafts—home decoration lecture Jan. 8 at Miss Margaret L. Thomas' and urged large attendance. Mrs. Burke for Hospitality—gentlemen's night at clubhouse Jan. 9, entertainment William Weston's Glee club, Quincy women's club Glee Club, Belle Temple Priest in monologues and dancing and refreshments. Miss Randall for Program—second travel talk on Jan. 9 at Mrs. W. H. Doble's, subject: Climbing the Alps. Civic committee, the Revel Jan. 16 at Music hall. Every one on floor must appear in costume and enter into the frolic. Tickets $1.00; under 20 years fifty cents, and reserved seats in balcony for those who wished to look on could be obtained of committee.

At the close of business the president introduced Miss Randall as chairman of the aftenoon and the program opened with a violin solo by little ten-year old Beatrice Griffin of Brockton, a wonderful young violinist, who played with ease difficult selections receiving great applause at each appearance.

Following is the program and participants:

Dances—Alice Barnard Diaz
Songs—Mrs. Frank J. Moore, Mrs. Laurance H. Sturtevant, Mrs. Royal Turner.
Highland Piper—John Carson
Pianists—Elizabeth Frost, Miss Agnes B. Ruggles, Miss Edith Randall, Mrs. Chandler W. Smith.
Violinist—Miss Beatrice Griffin.
Ushers in national costumes—Alice Arnold. Spanish; Clarice Doble, Russion; Marion Edwards, Italian; Helen Moulton, Indian; Helen Seavey, Russian-Polish; Marjorie Welch, Swedish; Anna Weston, Dutch.

PROGRAM.

SPAIN: Song—Andalusian May Song Mrs. Sturtevant
Dance—La Paloma, Miss Diaz
ITALY: Songs—The Fair Maid of Sorrento; O Sole Mio! and Napule Bello!, Mrs. Sturtevant.
Dance—Tarentella, Miss Diaz
AMERICA: Songs—Swing low, sweet chariot, and Steal Away, Mrs. Royal Turner.
Don' you hear de darkies calling'? Mrs. Sturtevant and Mrs. Moore.
Dance—Negro, Miss Diaz
VIOLIN SOLOS—Miss Griffin.
WALES: Song—National Melody, Mrs. Sturtevant
NETHERLANDS: Song — Flemish Dance-tune, Mrs. Sturtevant
SCOTLAND: Songs—Border Song, "Weel may the keel row" and The Blue Bells of Scotland, Mrs. Turner
Loch Lomond, Mrs. Moore
Dance—The Sword Dance, Miss Diaz
Bagpipe Solo, John Carson
IRELAND: Songs—The Low Back'd Car; Bells of Shandon and Mory O'More, Mrs. Moore.
Dance—Kerry Dance, Miss Diaz
POLAND: Songs—Krakowiak "Dearest Maiden" and Mazurek "Little Cottage Lowly", Mrs. Sturtevant.
The Maiden's Wish, Mrs. Turner
Dance—National dance, Miss Diaz

The afternoon is one long to be remembered, the folk songs and dances, being augmented by costumes of the different nations worn by the dancer, Highland piper and ushers. The ushers lent a pretty bit of color to the scene before the meeting began as they flitted about seating the guests and later occupied the seats in front of the stage.

Miss Diaz, the special attraction, was very versatile and danced with a grace and abandon that won quick recognition from the audience. In each dance her costuming was typical of the country; she was the saucy little negress, the Highland lassie, the Irish lassie, the flirtatious Spanish girl and Italian peasant. The difficult sword dance of Scotland with John Carson as the piper made a great hit and the very rafters echoed with the notes of the bagpipe as he marched about the hall after the dance.

Others to take part in the afternoon's program were home people and mostly club members and their singing of the folk songs of the eight countries represented made up a well rounded program.

One of the gems was the duet "Don' you hear de darkies callin'?" by Mrs. Sturtevant and Mrs. Moore in the American group. The group of Italian songs by Mrs. Sturtevant; Scottish by Mrs. Turner; Irish by Mrs. Moore were distinctive and well rendered. Although two of the singers were suffering from colds they sustained their part of the program well, as was attested by the frequent applause of appreciation.

Club members are indebted to Miss Randall and her committee for an artistic and enjoyable afternoon, the folk dances and songs of the "International Afternoon" of the club will go down in memory as one of the best of the season's entertainments.

* * *

CIVIC WORK.

Mrs. George W. Perkins president of the Civic committee of the Massachusetts Federation, presided at the conference last week when the following resolutions were indorsed:

"That both federations send letters to the churches of all denominations in the state, to high schools, settlement houses, employers of labor and savings banks, for the purpose of promoting the work of the Massachusetts Savings Insurance league in its educational campaign to promote thrift among our young people and provide against the contingencies of life and death at the lowest possible cost consistent with absolute safety.

We believe that life insurance and old-age insurance for the wage-earner should be furnished as a social service institution, rather than as a commercialized business; and as the commonwealth of Massachusetts is contributing towards the support of this system in the endeavor to bring it within the reach of all, we urge upon the clubs the importance of co-operating with the civics committee of Massachusetts State Federation in this work."

The matter, which was indorsed at a presidents' conference recently, will be placed before each club at the beginning of the new year.

* * *

TRIBUTE TO MRS. PENNYBACKER.

All over the land club women have given the highest praise to the splendid work and the inspirational influence exerted by Mrs. Pennybacker, president of the General Federation of Women's clubs, and in a poetic tribute by Pearl Russell Wasson some of the fine characteristics of the leader in the world of club women are especially noted. The verse is as follows:

"I cannot tell you just the season why
That all who hear you silent tribute pay,
It is not beauty rare, not power to sway
With subtle charm alone, not manner high.
Like the slow radiance from beneath a cloud
Which, growing ever brighter, floods the ground,
So creeps abroad your influence profound,
As sunshine, light and beauty, wondrous proud.
A power for good, a sympathy which heals
The hearts too roughly touched by thoughtful truth,
The spirits roughened by the grief of youth;
A touch that brightens, a love that seals
With bonds of growing friendship, deep and true,
One million women-hearts in loyalty to you."

Mrs. Pennybacker's talks to club women have been most appealing in regard to the preservation of the home, and at North Dakota she said something that impressed the club women in regard to her own ideals. A report of that gathering was sent to the Federation Bulletin by a correspondent who wrote in this way: "Mrs. Pennybacker is singularly gifted in the oratory that is usually ascribed to a man, and she has a pleasing way of interspersing telling little stories that are not only very much to the point, but invariably elicit a laughter that is contagious. From just a little smile, it goes rippling around the room until the old adage 'he who laughs last laughs best,' is over again proven, and Mrs. Pennybacker must stop and wait until the full aplication of her anecdote has been absorbed.

Neverthe less, she has a keen faculty which distinguishes between humor and gravity, and instantly brings her audience back to serious thought. She asked that women bear always in mind the fact that we women are responsible for the home atmosphere. And she said, 'Give yourself up to your lovely daughters and your stalwart sons—be chums with them, for today is yours. It is a comely fashion to be glad and strong, and let me suggest that you cultivate, above all, a sense of humor. It will keep you young and create joy about you.'" The keynote to the address was that "All work amounts to nothing without the home."

ODD FELLOWS ELECTION

William S. Esau the Choice for Nob'e Grand

Mt. Wollaston lodge, I. O. O. F., met Tuesday evening in the Adams building, and held the annual election of officers and accepted an invitation of Capt. George A. Wardwell to attend the Kincaide theatre tonight in a body. The date of installation has not been definitely set as yet but will be announced at the next meeting. The officers elected are:

Noble Grand—William S. Esau.
Vice Grand—Robert W. Wood.
Recording Secretary—Charles A. Prout.
Financial Secretary—Arthur W. Stetson.
Treasurer—E. Frank Mitchell.
Trustee for three years—Tobias H. Burke.

DAY NURSERY FESTIVAL.

The Christmas festival at the Quincy Day Nursery was held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock and was the occasion of a grand time for the little ones. A christmas tree was one of the pleasing features of the afternoon and each child was given a gift, that of the boys being a game, stockings and mittens, while the girls received a doll, stockings, and mittens. Each child also received a box of candy. There was a pleasing entertainment previous to the tree consisting of speaking by the children, and after the tree refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. Quite a number of the ladies of the Day Nursery association were present to enjoy the afternoon with the little ones, who presented Mrs. E. C. Hultman, the president of the association, with a bouquet of flowers.

WILL BOWL IN BOSTON.

A team of All Star bowlers of Quincy will meet the fast Casino team at the Casino alleys at Boston tonight. The local representation will be De Coste, Olindy, Hennessey, Dell, Santa Cruz and Bernard Burke. All are seasoned bowlers but hardly qualify as veterans. Their opponents roll in the Inter City league and are a fast quintette. Incidently, the manager of the Casino alleys is Harry Paine, a former local resident who is well known in musical circles because of his unusual musical talent.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS?
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

CLUB EVENTS

JANUARY.

1—Atlantic Shakespeare So.
1—Q. W. Club—Board meeting.
1—A. P. Q. Chapter, D. A. R.—Mrs. Jameson's.
1—Altar Guild—St. Chrysostom's.
2—Friday Club—Mrs. Alden's.
2—Q. W. C. T. Union—Protection Hall.
3—Civil Service Reform Class—Boston Public Library.
5—Junior Friday—Mrs. Hall's.
5—Adams Chapter, D. R.
6—K. C. M. Club—Florence Mead's.
6—Quincy Day Nursery Asso.
6—W. W. Club—Evening Lecture—Wol. S. Hall.
6—Q. Y. W. Club—Cobweb Party.
7—Wol. Aux. W. B. of Missions.
7—S. W. Club—Mrs. McGrain's.
7—Fragment So., First Church.
7—Q. W. R.—Social.
8—Q. W. Club—Art Lecture—Miss Thomas.
8—Woman's Guild, Christ Church.
9—Travel Talk by Miss Randall.
9—Y. M. C. A. Aux.—Y. M. C. A. Hall
9—Q. W. Club—Gentlemen's Night.
12—A. P. Q. Chapter, D. A. R.—Mrs. O'Malley's.
12—Quincy Alliance—First Church Chapel.
12—Woman's Guild St. Chrysostom's —Supper.
13—Q. Y. W. Club.
13—Q. W. Club—Reg. at Clubhouse.
13—Q. C. Club—Charity Whist.
14—Wol. Alliance—Wol. Unitarian Vestry.
14—Bethany Women's Union, reg.
15—Atlantic Shakespeare So.
15—Friday Club—Mrs. Hardwick's.
16—Q. W. Club—Revels.
19—Junior Friday—Mrs. Wright's.
20—K. C. M. Club—Mrs. Crane's.
20—W. W. Club.
20—Q. Y. W. Club.
21—Q. W. R. Club—Social.
22—Q. C. Club—Charity Whist.
26—Quincy Alliance—First Church Chapel.
27—Q. W. Club—Reg. at Clubhouse.
27—Q. Y. W. Club.
27—King's Daughters—Concert.
28—Wol. Alliance—Wol. Unitarian Vestry.
28—Q. W. Club—Current Events.
28—Home Makers' lecture—Perkin's Hall, Boston.
28—Q. W. R. Club—Reg. Business.
29—Hospital Aid—Wollaston Unitarian Vestry.
29—Atlantic Shakespeare So.
30—Friday Club—Mrs. Lacey's.

HUSBAND FOR SALE

(Continued from Page One.)

"He is a working man and tired of supporting a family on small pay and we don't agree at all on anything in religion or friends. I want the money and will open a boarding house here. He will be good to you and do anything for you always. He is what I call demonstrative in affection while I am cool. I love to go to the movies and to read the papers. He will be content to sit with you and tend the baby. I'd rather have my cat.

"I hope you will consider this—as I see where you need care and a man's care to keep you from being cheated by lawyers, and this man is the one for you. I hope you will come soon and settle with me right off and I will send him to you by parcel post.

"Mrs. Agnes E. Jones
"26 Water street, Quincy, Mass."

Mrs. Bedell is the widow of Fred Jones, who as a lineman assisted in the care of the fire alarm signals of the city. Jones was electrocuted about three years ago while at work on a pole in Wollaston. Suit for his death was entered against the city but the case was decided against Mrs. Bedell. It was shortly after that she obtained employment and met Bedell, who first pitied her and then loved her.

Their small cottage and surroundings bear out the statement that it is not easy to live on $10 per week he receives from the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation. Winifred, the seven year old daughter is at present confined to her home with a severe cold but will resume her studies at the Adams school within a few days. Clarence the 12 year old son was not at home.

Mrs. Bedell said that the Christmas season was a trying one but that the generosity of the Elks made it possible for them to observe the day properly.

SCORE OF 130.

The money prize, offered daily for best single at the Coliseum alleys, was awarded on Monday to Linfield who made 130 outside of competition.

Non-negotiable.

Crawford — "Are those dollar watches any good?" Crabshaw—"They're all right, except when you're broke."—Judge Exact Copy of Wrapper.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
In Use For Over Thirty Years
CASTORIA
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

(Continued from Page One.)

school. It was voted that the petitioners be given leave to withdraw.

NEWSBOYS ORDINANCE.

The matter of liensing newsboys to sell papers was brought up and it was declared that the new ordinance recently passed by the city was invalid as under the law the city has no control over boys under the age of fourteen years, these boys coming under the supervision of the School Committee. After some discussion the subject of licensing boys under fourteen years of age to sell newspapers was referred to a special committee consisting of Messrs. McKay, Newcomb and McPherson.

FULL TIME INDUSTRIAL.

A lengthy report was received from the advisory committee on industrial education of which H. G. Smith is the chairman, in which it was recommended that full time industrial schools be established. The report and recommendation were adopted and the report ordered printed. The new schedule will therefore go into effect on Sept. 1, 1914.

ANNUAL REPORTS.

The annual report of the School Committee was read by Dr. Bruce and was ordered printed.

The Superintendent was authorized to make his annual report in print.

FULL PAY VOTED.

It was voted that full pay be given to Miss Rothwell of the Adams schoo for the balance of the year, or until such time as she shall have fully recovered from her injuries. Miss Rothwell is the teacher at the new Adams building who was injured by falling down the stairway through a glass door.

MORE SALARY WANTED.

A petition from the Janitors association for increases in salary was laid on the table.

A request of the engineer at the High school for more assistance as well as the request of the masters for an increase of salary were referred to a special committee with instructions to report at the next meeting.

John Jacobson was appointed as janitor of the evening school at the old Adams building for the balance of the year.

The financial statement for the year follows:

Appropriated by Council	$182,625.00
Received from tuition, etc.	709.78
	$183,334.78

EXPENDED.

Administration	$5,839.49
Instruction	139,387.55
Text books	5,416.40
Stationery	5,906.50
Operation of plant	21,409.06
Maintenance	726.83
Miscellaneous	2,159.31
Evening schools	2,482.84
	$183,327.98

Unexpended balance $6.80.

INDUSTRIAL EVENING SCHOOL

Appropriated by Council	$2,00.00
Expended	3,599.25

Unexpended balance, 75 cents.

INDUSTRIAL EBVENING SCHOOL.

Approjriated by Council	$2,00.00
Expended	1,365.39

Unexpended balance, $634.61.

FRITZ KREISLER.

Fritz Kreisler will give his second recital in Symphony hall next Sunday afternoon, January 4th, at 3.30. His program will be as follows:

Sonata in D major	Handel
Tdagio—Allegro maestoso—Larghetto Allegro.
Adagio and Fugue in G minor (for Violin alone)	J. S. Bach
Concerto for Violin in E minor, Op. 64	Mendelssohn
Allegro molto appassionato
Andante
Allegretto non troppo; Allegro molto vivace.
Sarabande	Sulzer
Menuetto	Pugnani
Scherzo	Dittersdorf
LaPrecieuse	Couperin
Fugue	Tartini
Lied ohne Worte	Mendelssohn-Kreisler
Canzonetta Indienne	Dvorak
Tambourin Chinois	Kreisler

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS?
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

Try an Advertisement in
The Quincy Daily Ledger

Through the Daily Newspaper the Advertiser can make a local and intimate appeal to his prospective customer in his own community and in his own vernacular.

The Newspaper Advertisement is not buried—it is accessible. The Newspaper Advertisement of a commodity continually or daily needed is read by the very people whose continual or daily need the Advertiser desires to supply. The Newspaper Advertisement may be seen thirty times a month—it is not limited to one appearance.

Geo. W. Prescott Publishing Company
1424 Hancock Street, -- Quincy, Mass.

Quincy Daily Ledger

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30.
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branschied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
Newcomb Square—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. L. Smith.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck.
L. A. Cook, Washington Street.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington Street.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield Water st.
A. Pierson, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—Capt. Fosdick's.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity. Fair Thursday and probably Friday.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	7.13
Sun sets	4.23
Length of day	9.10
Moon rises	9.40
High water, A. M.	2.30
High water, P. M.	2.45
Days increase 0 hours,	4 minutes
Full Moon, Dec. 13,	10.00 A. M.
Last Quarter, Dec. 20	11.16 A. M.
New Moon, Dec. 27	9.59 A. M.
First Quarter, Dec. 5,	9.59 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today	39 degrees
Dec. 31 1912,	51 degrees
Dec. 31, 1911,	26 degrees

Dec. Noon Maximum, 14 years—67
Dec. Noon Minimum, 14 years—2

TIE MATCHES BY HEPTASOPHS

Dunn High in Singles and Gill in Three String Total

The Heptasophs session on the Coliseum alleys Monday evening was sharply contested from the start off. The differences in totals were small and the individual showing was "purty slick" in some cases.

Dunn with 116 had high single as compared to the string of 47 rolled by Leeco. Gill and Canty were tied for second place with 114 and Stevens fitted into third niche with 108. Gill made 103 in his last string and Dunn closed his session by a single of 101. Gill was high man of the evening, kicking the maples for a total of 312.

The match between the teams of Captains Gibney and Gill was a tie, each taking two points. The score:

CAPT. GIBNEY.

Irving	73	90	78	241
S. McKay	78	88	90	256
Gibney	81	91	65	237
Healey	93	91	75	259
Dunn	70	116	101	287
	395	476	409	1280

CAPT. GILL.

Leeco	47	63	70	180
Smith	92	92	72	256
Canty	93	90	114	297
Kolson	70	84	77	231
Gill	114	95	103	312
	416	424	436	1276

Captain Mullen and Captain Wilson divided the points also. A difference of two pins in the totals told the story. The score:

CAPT. MULLEN

Mullen	78	66	71	215
McKay	74	62	81	217
Burns	74	75	81	230
Lemieux	82	90	79	251
Stevens	108	81	95	284
	416	375	407	1197

CAPT. WILSON.

Wilson	86	91	91	268
Hinkley	79	71	80	230
DeCost	76	71	76	223
Byron	92	78	72	242
Gillen	85	78	69	232
	418	389	388	1195

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED
Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

HIGH SCHOOL BASKET BALL

Opening Game Tomorrow With an Alumni Team

The opening game of the basket ball season of Quincy High school will be played in the school gymnasium on the afternoon of New Year's day between the school quintette and an Alumni five. Both teams are in good condition and the contest should be a merry one.

The school team has been practicing during the past three weeks, and the squad has finally been cut down to the following eight: Capt. Jenkins, G. Hamlin, L. White, E. Bates, C. Mullin, L. Martin, H. Page, and W. Browne.

The Alumni team will undoubtedly be "Bull Moose" Brown at centre, Tirrell, Crane and Safford as forwards, and Sam Prout, "Mecca" Larkin and Ralph Prout on the backs. Ed. Jenkins may be on hand to play with his former teammates but because he is much heavier than the school players he may be protested.

Besides the regular team, a team has been picked for each of the classes, and a regular schedule has been arranged for them. The games will be played before the first team games, and, it is expected, will furnish considerable fun for contestants and spectators as well. The following captains have been elected: 1914—Jas. Matheson, 1915—Willard Crocker, 1916—William Welsford, 1917—George Prout.

All games will begin at 3.30 P. M. as usual. The regular admission fee of ten cents will be charged, with the exception that for the Interscholastic League games the admission will be raised to fifteen cents as in the other cities.

It is expected that a fast team will represent the school this year. Everybody but Page and Mullin has had at least a year's experience in school basketball, either on first or second teams. Jenkins has been brought up to forward because of the lack of heavy forward material, but has been doing very good work in spite of his greenness in the position. He has played guard for the past two years. Bates, White, Hamlin, and Browne are second team men of last year and consequently play well together.

Tomorrow the Seniors play the Juniors in the first class game of the season. Quincy's second team will play Braintree High between the halves of the game with Wellesley on Tuesday next.

Quincy, will for the first time play interscholastic league ball this year and will contest for the honors with Wellesley, Reading, Winthrop, and Revere High schools. The schedule contains 19 games, 12 of which will be played in this city. Four of these games will be with league teams. There are now two open dates which will be filled as soon as possible. The first league game will be here next Tuesday with the Wellesley five as the opponents. The schedule follows:

Jan. 1—Alumni at Quincy.
Jan. 6—Wellesley at Quincy.
Jan. 9—Reading at Reading.
Jan. 13—Winthrop at Winthrop.
Jan. 16—Revere at Revere.
Jan. 20—Haverhill at Quincy.
Jan. 23—Holliston at Holliston.
Jan. 27—Rockland at Quincy.
Jan. 30—Wellesley at Wellesley.
Feb. 3—Franklin at Quincy.
Feb. 6—Pending.
Feb. 10—Revere at Quincy.
Feb. 13—Mansfield at Quincy.
Feb. 14—Dummer Academy at So. Byfield.
Feb. 17—Reading at Quincy.
Feb. 20—Haverhill at Haverhill.
Feb. 23—East Bridgewater at Quincy.
Feb. 27—Fall River Tech at Quincy.
Mar. 3—Melrose at Quincy.
Mar. 6—Pending.
Mar. 10—Winthrop at Quincy.

YOU need the Ledger EVERY DAY. SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

REGULATION of the Board of Health.

At a meeting of the Board of Health held Dec. 27, the following regulation preventing the polution of water and ice supply, was adopted:

"No person shall pollute or cause to be polluted by dumping or placing of any vegetable or animal or other waste matter upon a water shed or the shores of any pond or stream which is the source of any water or ice supply of this city. Whoever violates any provision of any kind of this regulation shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars for each offense."

WM. H. TEASDALE,
FRED E. JONES, M. D.
JAMES THOMAS,
Board of Health.

Quincy, Dec. 30, 1913. 1t

CLAN McGREGOR MATCHES

Won by the O'Neils, the Thomsons and the McKenzies

Three matches in the Clan McGregor league were rolled on the Coliseum alleys Monday evening. High string 114, was made by McKenzie. Most of the other bowlers kept a good average during the evening.

The closest match was between the O'Neils and Mavers, the points being divided after a poor third string by the latter dropped their total below par. The score:

O'NEILS.

Dummy	81	80	92	253
Hughes	72	88	71	231
Raleigh	87	82	105	274
O'Neil	87	93	94	274
P. Dackers	80	87	86	253
	407	430	448	1285

MAVERS.

Martin	88	103	62	253
Michael	94	89	88	271
Diack	83	64	81	228
Maver	85	83	93	261
Troupe	81	95	90	266
	431	434	414	1279

The rivalry between the Thomsons and Michaels aggregations will continue since the former applied the whitewash brush to the latter.

THOMSONS.

Raleigh	75	79	92	246
Davidson	83	100	98	281
Maver	94	77	91	262
Hastings	102	84	82	268
Birnie	88	90	83	261
	442	430	446	1318

MICHAELS.

Nichol	88	93	85	266
Craig	87	85	83	255
A. Michael	75	88	98	261
J. Michael	83	79	96	258
Morton	84	92	78	254
	417	427	440	1294

The McLeans met a similar fate at the hands of the McKenzies, due principally to the poor showing of the team in general.

McKENZIE.

Gordon	83	84	101	268
Smith	86	104	95	285
McKenzie	90	114	82	282
Mitchell	88	91	84	263
Drummond	92	79	90	261
	439	472	452	1363

McLEAN.

Oswald	80	71	75	226
Patterson	90	96	73	259
Marnock	77	78	74	229
McLean	77	72	89	238
Dell	88	86	87	261
	407	403	398	1213

LOW SCORES IN NEW LEAGUE

Fallon and Avery Teams Win in K. of C. League

The first matches in the newly organized league of the Quincy council, Knights of Columbus, were rolled on the City Square alleys Tuesday evening. Owing to the presence of an exciting gallery of fans some of the inexperienced performers lost their grip on the situation and did not come up to expectations.

It was conceded at the start that whirlwind bowling would have a strange appearance to most of the bowlers for the first few matches. With few exceptions none of the men have been active on the alleys for several seasons and are therefore rusty. Beyond a doubt the men will burst into the limelight with good amateur scores inside of a week.

The first match between the teams of Captains Fallon and Coyle ended 3 to 1 for the former. Flaherty rolled 106 and netted high single of the evening. A difference of 14 separated the teams and Captain Coyle at anchor made a gallant effort to smash the combination and divide the points by piling a single of 94 onto two less than 80 but it was not to be accomplished without assistance. The score:

CAPT. FALLON.

Cain	73	77	61	211
Mahon	77	77	67	221
Flaherty	106	66	86	258
Ford	82	73	67	222
Fallon	72	87	88	247
	410	380	369	1159

CAPT. COYLES.

Keating	78	67	69	214
Thompson	74	77	76	227
Magee	90	78	97	265
P. Sullivan	64	60	67	191
Coyle	75	79	94	248
	381	361	403	1145

The teams of Captains Avery and Sullivan closed with a 4 to 0 defeat for the later. A wide gap in the first string remained in the second, was slightly cut down in the third but not enough to overcome a lead of 78 in the total. Captain Avery netted the high total of the evening, 288, while Captain Sullivan, anchor for the losing team, rolled 105 for the second best single of the matches. The performance of Captain Avery was by far the best of the evening, his average being 96. The score:

CAPT. AVERY.

Gavin	83	68	72	223
Lavelle	66	66	69	201
Walsh	80	79	76	235
Brown	76	69	92	237
Avery	98	99	91	288
	403	381	400	1184

CAPT. SULLIVAN.

LaCroix	70	73	76	219
Myatt	64	63	59	186
Histen	78	60	66	204
Driscoll	70	69	85	224
R. Sullivan	89	79	105	273
	371	344	391	1106

MAY PROMOTE GORGAS

Officer Who Made Canal Zone Habitable Slated For Surgeon General

Washington, Dec. 31.—Colonel William C. Gorgas, the army medical officer who made the Panama canal zone habitable for white men that the oceans might be connected by the greatest engineering feat of the times, is foremost among those likely to be appointed surgeon general of the army to succeed Brigadier General George H. Torney, who died Saturday.

It had originally been planned to promote him to be surgeon general upon General Torney's retirement next June.

Colonel Gorgas is now in British South Africa, where, at the request of the British government and with the consent of the war department, he is trying to stamp out the deadly diseases which infect the regions in which the diamond mines are operated.

The appointment lies entirely with President Wilson.

MAINE MURDERER FREED BY GOVERNOR

Murphy Killed His Father With Axe During Dispute

Augusta, Me., Dec. 31.—Daniel Murphy, under sentence of life imprisonment for the murder of his father in 1898, was pardoned. Governor Haines, who signed the pardon on the ground that Murphy had tuberculosis and could not live long, was attorney general at the time of the murder and secured the conviction.

The murder was committed with an axe during a dispute over some posts in the shack where the family lived at Mars Hill, Aroostook county. At the hearing Matthew C. Morrill of Gray and Charles B. Randall of Bowdoinham, members of the board of inspectors of prisons and jails, and Charles E. Dustin of Mars Hill spoke in favor of the pardon. It was urged that the crime was committed in the heat of passion.

A letter from Perley C. Brown of Presque Isle, county attorney of Aroostook, protested against executive clemency, because of "the atrocity of the crime."

BIBLE VERSE GAVE TIP

Helped John D. Rockefeller Increase His Number of Oil Wells

Wooster, O., Dec. 31.—How even a Bible verse in the book of Genesis aided John D. Rockefeller to increase his fortune was related here by Charles Whitshott, geologist and oil and gas expert for the Standard Oil company, just returned from ancient Egypt.

"The verse tells of the use of pitch in making the craft in which the babe Moses was set adrift," said Whitsott, "and Chief Geologist Alphant of the Standard reasoned that where there was pitch there was oil. I was sent to investigate and three wells now in operation, with more being developed, is the result."

DROPPED FROM FORCE

Portsmouth Police Commission Says Woman Cop Is Not Success

Portsmouth, N. H., Dec. 31.—In dropping Mrs. Vera V. Bash, formerly, of Waynesboro, Penn., from the rolls as a special officer, the police commission announced that the experiment of a woman police officer had not been a success.

Mrs. Bash, who is 28 years old, was appointed on July 5 last for six months, but the commission decided to discharge her before the expiration of her term.

REBELS RESUME WAR IN MEXICO

Advance Against Federals In Ojinaga Trenches

AMERICAN TROOPS ON BORDER

Are Standing Guard to Check Any General Rush of Federals Across River to United States—Situation of Huerta's Men Is Regarded as Critical

Presidio, Tex., Dec. 31.—Fighting between Mexican federals and constitutionalists at Ojinaga, Mex., across the river from here, was resumed upon the federal trenches, where the bulk of Huerta's army in northern Mexico had taken refuge after the outposts were driven in. The federals are under command of eleven generals.

A desultory fire opened by the rebels, who appeared within sight of the village in increased numbers, indicated that the rebel forces intended to push the fight right into the federal stronghold. The federals had retreated to the innermost trenches, apparently without hope of repulsing the attacking force. Only a few shots came from the Huerta lines in the early stages of the fighting.

As viewed from the American side, the situation of the federals seemed desperate, as they had no opportunity for further retreat except across the river, unless they should try the hazardous alternative of a forced march into the state of Coahuila.

General Ortega, commanding the constitutionalists, has received orders to show no mercy to captured federals, and to execute summarily General Salazar, Orozco, Rojas and Alanis, commanding volunteers, it was said.

The federals sent messengers across the river with dispatches for the war department at Mexico City.

It was reported that Ortega had been reinforced, so that the attacking army outnumbers the defenders.

Meanwhile United States troops on this side of the river were scouting the border for the federals who might have crossed in the night and to check any general rush across the river, as seemed imminent, when, during a panic in the garrison at Ojinaga, about 400 or 500 federals leaped into the river.

The situation was regarded as critical, both because it appeared to hold the fate of the federal army and because it threatened a general rush across the river of all the federal troops should the rebels close in.

Within the confines of the villages were all that remained of the northern division of Huerta's army. About them on the hills are the advance guard of Ortega's rebel army, and still further back are the rest of the rebels. All are moving under instructions from General Villa to exterminate the federals if possible.

The rush to the border followed a three hours' battle, begun after dark, in which the rebels, marching through the deep canyons south of Ojinaga, completely wiped out the federal outposts. The news of the defeat at Lamula Pass and La Mulato, giving the rebels an unobstructed passage to within firing distance of Ojinaga itself, caused a frenized retreat among the federals.

About 500 of them plunged into the river to seek safety on the American side. They were forced back by Major McNamee, commander of the American forces.

A mutiny developed in the Ojinaga forts. General Salazar and General Orozco, believing their men were about to desert, stood with drawn revolvers threatening to shoot those who did not obey.

The badly wounded were the only ones allowed to remain on this side, and these were cared for by Dr. Burnside of the United States army.

The rebels, believing darkness afforded them an opportunity for safely getting within firing distance of the village, waited until dusk before their onslaught. They then began to swarm toward the federals with cries of "Mexico Libre." The continued firing of the rebels was a terrifying omen to the federals, who scattered at once.

Pioneer Suffragist Dead

Englewood, N. J., Dec. 31.—Mrs. Lillie D. Blake, a pioneer in the cause of woman suffrage, died in a sanitarium here, aged 80 years. She had been ill for several years and of late had a turn for the worse when it was seen that because of her advanced age her recovery was hopeless.

Vedrines to Fly to Australia

Cairo, Egypt, Dec. 31.—Having completed his 3500-mile aeroplane flight from Paris, the longest air trip on record, Jules Vedrines announced his plan to fly to Australia. He would be the first aviator to soar across southern Asia and British India, and thence over the islands of the Malay group.

Manchester to Lose Industry

Manchester, N. H., Dec. 31.—The American Locomotive company announced that it proposes to consolidate its business factory with that in Schnectady, N. Y., and will remove its Manchester plant to that city in the near future. The plant gives employment to about 300.

A Thoughtless Santa.

"Why do you look so gloomy, my boy?" asked Tommy's uncle the day after Christmas.

"I don't think Santa is very sensible," answered Tommy. "I'd think any one with as much experience wouldn't give little boys pumps, when their mammas wouldn't let 'em put any water in 'em."

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, Creditors, and all other persons interested in the estate of Theodore Carlson who died in Quincy in said County of Norfolk, intestate, leaving estate in said County of Norfolk to be administered, and not leaving a known widow, or heir in this Commonwealth:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant letters of administration on the estate of said deceased to Maurice P. Spillane public administrator in and for said County of Norfolk: You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the fourteenth day of January A. D. 1914, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said public administrator is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by serving a copy of this citation on the Treasurer and Receiver-General of said Commonwealth, fourteen days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-second day of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen.

JOHN D. COBB, Register.
3t Dec. 24-31 Jan. 7

EXECUTRIX NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed executrix of the will of Delia A. Dizer late of Atlantic (Quincy) in the County of Norfolk, deceased, testate, and has taken upon herself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs.

All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased, are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

ALIDA R. BAKER, Executrix.
(Address)
Mrs. Geo. W. Baker, Ocean street, Atlantic, Mass.
Dec. 16th, 1913.
Dec. 17-3t 17-24-31

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

In effect Nov. 16, 1913

The letters in the same line as the figures below stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows.

a Wollaston
b Norfolk Downs
c Atlantic
d Neponset
e Pope's Hill
f Harrison Square
g Savin Hill
h Crescent Avenue
i South Boston
r Quincy Adams
• Saturdays Only
† Except Saturday

Exp.—Express train.

TO BOSTON			FROM BOSTON
Leave	Stop	Arrive	Leave	Stop	Arrive
r 5 14	abdefghi	5 41	5 44	lhgfedcba	6 14 r
r 6 19	abci	6 40	6 09	lhgfedcba	6 39 r
r 6 32	e	6 49	6 29	a	6 47
			6 47	Exp	7 04
r 6 40	abef	7 00	7 14	hgfedcba	7 41 r
r 7 08	abcd	7 30	7 34	a	7 52
7 28	a	7 46	7 37	a	7 56
r 7 52	Exp	7 49	7 44	c	8 03 r
r 7 42	ab	8 00	8 34	cba	8 55 r
7 55	a	8 12	8 44	b	9 02
r 8 13	abe	8 32	9 09	fedba	9 32 r
8 24	a	8 41	9 44	a	10 01 r
r 8 32	a	8 50	10 14	lhgfedcba	10 41 r
r 8 59	ad	9 16	10 54	Exp	11 10
r 9 18	abe	9 39	11 14	hgfedcba	11 41 r
r 10 04	a	10 21	11 49	a	12 07 r
r 10 19	abcdefghi	10 45	12 14	hgfedcba	12 41 r
11 12	a	11 28	12 20	a	12 38
11 24	abcdefgh	11 50	12 50	Exp	1 06
12 04	a	12 20	1 16	fedcba	1 40 r
			• 1 32	a	1 50
r 12 27	abcdefghi	12 53	1 44	a	2 01 •
r 1 16	a	1 34	2 14	fedcba	2 37 r
2 04	a	2 20	2 34	Exp	2 50
r 2 19	abcdefgh	2 48	3 14	hgfedcba	3 40 r
r 3 13	Exp	3 28	3 44	a	4 02
4 04	a	4 20	4 12	fedcba	4 35 r
r 4 26	abcdefgh	4 53	4 15	a	4 32
5 2	a	5 19	4 40	c	4 58
r 5 30	abcdefg	5 55	4 55	a	5 11
6 04	a	6 21	5 13	a	5 32
6 12	ab	6 32	5 19	hgfeca	5 47
6 57	a	7 15	5 28	ba	5 46 r
r 7 22	Exp	7 39	5 40		5 57
7 29	ab	7 48	5 58	a	6 17 r
r 8 09	abcdef	8 32	6 01	fedcb	6 24
9 00	a	9 18	6 16	a	6 35
r 9 10	abc	9 29	6 30	ecba	6 52 r
• 9 17	Exp.	9 32	6 59	fedcba	7 24 r
r 10 07	abcdef	10 30	7 11	a	7 28
• 10 19	a	10 37	8 04	fedcba	8 23 r
11 13	a	11 30	• 8 19	Exp	8 35
r 11 30	abcd	11 10	9 19	a	9 37
			9 34	b	9 53 r
			10 05	ba	10 24
			10 34	fedcba	11 02 r
			•11 06	a	11 25 r
			†11 09	fedcba	11 35 r
			•11 25	ba	11 43 r
			†11 29	ba	11 49
			12 05	cba	12 26 r

SUNDAYS

r 7 43	abc	8 03	6 29	b	a 6 48
8 30	Exp	8 46	8 34	cba	8 55
r 8 46	abcdefghi	9 13	10 39	cba	10 59 r
r 9 13	abc	9 33	12 14	lhgfedcba	12 42
9 31	a	9 47	12 44	Exp	1 01
10 25	ac	10 42	2 29	lhgfedcba	1 57 r
11 08	Exp	11 25	2 14	hgfedcba	2 42 r
r 11 16	abcdefghi	11 43	2 44	a	3 02
1 04	a	1 23	3 14	lhgfedcba	3 42 r
r 1 16	abcdefgh	1 43	4 26	cba	4 48 r
r 3 10	abc	3 30	5 14	lhgfedcba	5 42 r
r 4 16	abcdefghi	4 43	6 09	Exp	6 25
4 59	ab	5 16	6 14	lhgfedcba	6 42 r
5 06		5 23	7 02	cba	7 22 r
6 16	abcdefghi	6 43	8 14	lhgfedcba	8 41 r
7 21	Exp	7 36	8 33	a	8 56 r
7 29	abcdefghi	7 55	8 49	Exp	9 05
r 8 16	abcdefghi	8 43	9 29	lhgfedcba	9 57 r
9 46	a	10 04	10 41	cba	11 04 r
0 46	abc	11 05

CHOICE ARTICLES FROM THE PHILIPPINES

LUCBON HATS—Very best grade of the famous Panamas and Bankoks made. Absolutely none better, woven under water by hand. Can be crushed into a ball and not lose shape. Made for both Ladies and Gentlemen. $5 and $10.

ROMBLON MATS—Handsomest and most durable Grass Mats or Rugs made in the world. Beautiful colors and designs, large enough to cover one-half floor of rooms. $5.

MANILA CIGARS—$3 for a trial box of the Very Best Cigars made in the Philippines.

Oriente Cigarrettes—Best made, large package containing 25 small packages, 750 Cigarrettes, $2.

Sent by registered mail, free of duties, on receipt of price.

C. A. SHORT & CO.,
Lucena, Tay, P. I.
O. 1. 4 1.20 3m

QUINCY REGISTRY FOR NURSES

28 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.

Will supply trained and practical nurses, attendants and nursery assistants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.

MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar,
Tel. Quincy 131-W.

Bay State Street Railway Company

TIME TABLE
In effect April 8, 1913.

(Subject to change without notice.

Leave QUINCY for

Braintree, 6.15, 6.50 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Braintree, 6.25 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.25 P. M. Sundays, 7.55 A. M. and then same as week days.

Brockton, 6.15, 6.50 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 3.50 P. M., then 9.56 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Brockton 6.20, 7 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 9.30 P. M. Sundays, 8 A. M. then same as week days.

West Quincy, and East Milton, 5.30 5.50, 6.10 A. M., and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M.) Sundays, 6.50 A. M. then same as week days. Return leave East Milton, 5.55, 6.15, 6.45 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.45 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.10 midnight.) Sundays, 7.25 A. M., then same as week days.

East Weymouth, 5.00, 6.15, 6.35, 7.05, 7.35 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.05 P. M. then 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.35 A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave East Weymouth, 5.50, 6.15, 6.45, 7.00, 7.10, 7.45, A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.45 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M. then same as week days.

Houghs Neck, 5.15, 5.35, 6.10, 6.40, 7.10, 7.40, A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. then 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 6.50, 7.40 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. Return leave Houghs Neck, 5.40, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 7.30, 8.00, 8.30, 9.05 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.35 P. M. then 12.10 midnight. Sundays, 7.20, 8.05, 8.35, 9.05 A. M. every 30 minutes to 11.35 P. M.

Neponset via Hancock Street,—5.45 6.20, 6.50 A. M. and every 30 min. to 10.50 P. M. then 12.50 midnight. Sundays, 6.50 A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 6.40 7.10, 7.40 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.10 P. M. then 12.35 midnight. Sundays, 7.40 A. M. then same as week days.

Neponset via Wollaston—6.03, 6.35, 7.03 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.03 P. M. then 11.20, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.03 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 6.25, 6.55, 7.25, A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.25 P. M. then 11.42 P. M. and 12.12 midnight. Sundays, 7.25 A. M. then same as week days.

Neponset, via Norfolk Downs, 6.25, 6.55, 7.25, 8, 8.30 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11 P. M.) Sundays, 7.30 A. M. then the same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 7.30 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.30 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.30 P. M.) Sundays, 8 A. M. then same as week days.

Weymouth Landing, 5.20, 6.00, 6.30 6.55, 7.25 7.55 A. M. then every 15 minutes, until and including 10.55 P. M. Sundays, 7.25, A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave Weymouth Landing, 5.45, 6.15, 6.40, 7.15 7.45 A. M. then every 30 minutes until and including 11.15 P. M. Sundays 7.45 A. M. then same as week days.

Leave NEPONSET for

Squantum, 6.25, 6.55, 7.25, 7.55 8.25, 9.35, A. M. every 60 minutes to 4.35 P. M. then 4.55, 5.25, 5.55, 6.25, 7.35, 8.35, 9.35, 10.35 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.30, P. M. Sundays, 7.35, A. M. every 60 minutes to 10.35 P. M. Return, leave Squantum, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 7.30, 8.00, 8.30, 9.00 A. M. every 60 minutes to 5.00 P. M. then 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.03, 11.00 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.15, 8.00 A. M. every 60 minutes to 11.00 P. M.

THOMAS GAMMON,
Superintendent.

WITHIN THE LAW

By MARVIN DANA
FROM THE PLAY OF
BAYARD VEILLER

Copyright, 1913, by the H. K. Fly company.

SYNOPSIS

Mary Turner, a department store clerk, is sentenced to prison for three years for a theft she did not commit.

Edward Gilder, owner of the department store, consents to see Mary before she goes to prison, expecting her to confess.

Mary protests her innocence to Gilder and begs him to pay better wages to his clerks to save them from temptation.

After three years in prison Mary is freed, but the police prevent her holding positions. She jumps into the river to end her life, but is rescued by Joe Garson, a forger.

Mary forms a partnership with Garson and his gang, by which they mulct rich victims in a legal manner, keeping "within the law."

Mary is warned by the police to leave town after she has formed the acquaintance of Richard Gilder, her former employer's son.

Helen Morris, the girl who had committed the theft for which Mary was imprisoned, sees Mary and confesses her guilt.

Mary marries Dick Gilder without his father's knowledge and then refuses to sail for Europe with him.

Joe Garson, against Mary's protest, agrees with Eddie Griggs, another crook, to help commit a burglary in Gilder's home.

Edward Gilder sees his son's bride and tries to induce her to give up her husband. Dick refuses to leave her even when she tells him she is an ex-convict.

Inspector Burke is informed [illegible] burglary at his home that night has been arranged through Griggs, a stool pigeon, to trap Mary Turner and her gang.

Garson and his gang break into Gilder's home and are followed by Mary, who is told of the proposed burglary. While they are there Dick returns home.

Garson learns that Griggs had helped put up the job on him, and he kills Griggs with a noiseless revolver. Inspector Burke arrives, finding only Mary and Dick with Griggs' body.

Mary and Dick are arrested after Mary says Dick killed Griggs, a burglar. Other members of the gang are arrested and "sweated" by Burke.

Inspector Burke has interviews with Aggie Lynch, a member of Mary's gang, and Mary, in which he gets little information.

Joe Garson, who has been arrested, is taken to Burke's office, from where he sees his pals taken to cells. The sight unstrings his nerves.

(Continued from last issue.)

Burke was frantic over being worsted thus. To gain a diversion, he reverted to his familiar bullying tactics.

"Who shot Griggs?" he shouted.

"My husband shot a burglar." Mary said languidly. "Was his name Griggs?"

"Oh, you know better than that," Burke declared truculently. "You see, we've traced the Maxim silencer. Garson himself bought it up in Hartford."

For the first time, Mary was caught off her guard.

"But he told me"— she began, then checked herself.

"What did he tell you?" Burke questioned.

"He told me that he had never seen one. Surely, if he had had anything of the sort, he would have shown it to me."

Burke pressed the button on the desk and, when the doorman appeared, ordered that the prisoner be returned to her cell.

"I suppose," Mary said, "that it's useless for me to claim my constitutional rights, and demand to see a lawyer?"

"Yes," Burke agreed, "you've guessed it right, the first time."

Cassidy came hurrying in with a grin of satisfaction on his stolid face.

"Say, chief," the detective said with animation, "we've got Garson."

Burke asked Gilder and the district attorney to withdraw, while he should have a private conversation with the prisoner.

"Now," he said when they were alone together, "I'm going to be your friend."

"Are you?" Mary's tone was noncommittal.

"Yes," Burke declared heartily. "And I mean it. Give up the truth about young Gilder. I know he shot Griggs, of course. But I'm not taking any stock in that burglar story—not a little bit! No court would either. What was really back of the killing? Was he jealous of Griggs? Well, that's what he might do then. He's always been a worthless young cub. A rotten deal like this would be about his gait, I guess. Tell me now, why did he shoot Eddie Griggs?"

There was coarseness a-plenty in the Inspector's pretense, but it possessed a solitary fundamental virtue; it played on the heart of the woman whom he questioned, aroused it to wrath in defense of her mate. In a second, all poise fled from this girl whose soul was blossoming in the blest realization that a man loved her purely, unselfishly. Her words came stumbling in their haste.

"He didn't kill him! He didn't kill him!" she fairly hissed. "Why, he's the most wonderful man in the world. You shan't hurt him! Nobody shall hurt him! I'll fight to the end of my life for Dick Gilder!"

Burke was beaming joyously.

"Well, that's just what I thought," he said, with smug content. "And now, then, who did shoot Griggs? We've got every one of the gang. They're all crooks. See here," he went on, with a sudden change to the respectful in his manner, "why don't you start fresh? I'll give you every chance in the world. I'm dead on the level with you this time."

By now Mary had herself well in hand again vastly ashamed of the short period of self betrayal caused by the official's artifice against her heart. As she listened to the inspector's assurances, the mocking expression of her face was not encouraging to that astute individual, but he persevered manfully.

"Just you wait," he went on cheerfully, "and I'll prove to you that I'm on the level about this, that I'm really your friend. There was a letter came for you to your apartment. My men brought it down to me. I've read it. Here it is. I'll read it to you!"

He picked up an envelope, which had been lying on the desk, and drew out the single sheet of paper it contained. Mary watched him, wondering much more than her expression revealed over this new development. Then, as she listened, quick interest touched her features to a new life.

This was the letter:

I can't go without telling you how sorry I am. There won't never be a time that I won't remember it was me got you sent up; that you did time in my place. I ain't going to forgive myself ever, and I swear I'm going straight always. Your true friend, HELEN MORRIS.

For once, Burke showed a certain delicacy. When he had finished the reading, he said nothing for a long minute.

Mary's eyes were luminous in the joy of the realization that for her, after all, rehabilitation might be in a measure possible, though nothing could ever repay the degradation of years infinitely worse than lost.

Burke's harsh voice, cadenced to a singular sympathy, broke in on her reverie of pleasure and of pain.

"You knew this?" he inquired.

"Yes, two days ago."

"Did you tell old Gilder?" he asked. Mary shook her head in negation.

"What would be the use?" she reminded him. "I had no proof. No one would believe me."

"They'd believe this. Why, this letter sets you clear. If old Gilder should see this letter, there's nothing he wouldn't do to make amends to you. He's a square guy himself, if it comes to that, even if he was hard on you. Why, this letter wipes out everything."

Then, the insistent question beating at his brain forced him to speak roughly, building hope on the letter's inestimable worth to the woman before him.

"Who killed Griggs?"

There was no reply. And, presently, he went on, half ashamed over his own intrigue against her.

"Say," he said, and, for once, his voice was curiously suppressed, "you tell me who shot Griggs, and I'll show this letter to old Gilder. Now, listen," he cried eagerly, "I give you my word of honor that anything you say in here is just between you and me." Unconsciously his eyes darted to the window, behind which the stenographer was busy with his notes.

That single involuntary glance was enough for the keen instinct of the woman to make a guess as to the verity.

"Just tip me off to the truth," Burke went on ingratiatingly, "and I'll get the necessary evidence in my own way. Now, there's nobody here but just you and me. Come on, now—put me wise!"

"Are you sure no one will ever know?"

"Nobody but you and me," Burke declared, all agog with anticipation of victory at last. "I give you my word!"

Mary met the gaze of the inspector fully. In the same instant, she flashed on him a smile that was dazzling, the smile of a woman triumphant in her mastery of the situation. Her face was radiant, luminous with honest mirth.

She spoke in a most casual voice, despite the dancing delight in her face. The tones were drawled in the matter of fact fashion of statement that leads a listener to answer without heed to the exact import of the question, unless very alert indeed. This is what she said:

"I'm not speaking loud enough, am I, stenographer?"

And that industrious writer of shorthand notes, absorbed in his task, answered instantly from his hidden place in the corridor.

"No, ma'am, not quite."

(To be Continued.)

Bud's Thoughtfulness.

One of the younger set in Newton, Kan., says that her mother is so crippled with rheumatism and it is so hard to see her doing the week's washing that it is unendurable. "I always go shopping on washday," says the Bud.—Kansas City Star.

☞PRATT'S BREAD—always crisp, clean, pure and wholesome. Try it. Grocers.

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

PLAN TO SPEND HALF A MILLION

Hostelries Are Engaged to the Limit by Celebrators

WILL CRACK NEW YEAR OPEN

One Hotel Reports Twenty-Four Hundred Reservations at $4 a Plate—Hard Times Will Be Forgotten by Merrymakers as They Welcome In the New Year and Speed the Old

Boston, Dec. 31.—Boston is going to spend at least half a million dollars tonight in ushering in the New Year. Everybody is going to contribute. The millionaire has made his reservations at a fashionable hotel; the man in middle walks of life will do a little something for the "missus" and the children. The "bum" is going to take an extra chance with the bartender nearest his heart.

Lots of folks, chiefly of the male sex, are going to swear off from a lot of things, and what is going to make the big business for saloons is a premeditated excursion on the water wagon. The ancient order of camels is certainly going to get some new members tonight.

Reservations for tables in every hotel in the city have been made that have taxed the capacity of the hotels to the limit. At the Copley-Plaza hotel alone 2400 reservations at $4 per plate have been made, and the management announced last night that tables would even have to be laid in the rotunda and that there would be scarcely room for a transient guest to climb up to the desk and register.

At all of the downtown hotels the same rule applies. Reservations have been made at the Adams House, the Hotel Brewster, the Parker House, Young's, the Quincy House, the Crawford House and nearly every other hostelry in the city.

This half-million dollars to be spent tonight is not all going to be contributed by guests of first-class hotels. A large part of it is, to be sure, but there are thousands of Bostonians who cannot afford champagne and a separate service with every course who are also going to forget the failures and disappointments of the past year and welcome the 1914 vintage of Father Time with as much cheerfulness and vigor as their more fortunate brethen.

Down on Atlantic avenue, in the West and South Ends of the city, in fact everywhere, the spirit of new things and new chances exists.

The roustabout on Atlantic avenue wore as happy a smile as the debutante who is going to make one of the party at the Copley-Plaza.

The one knew that it was time for Mr. Bartender to "set 'em up;" the other had dreams of a prospective partner in life who would appear to her for the first time.

The old-time cafes in Province court and those in Scollay square and Bowdoin square have all made preparations for a joyful ushering-in of the New Year. Fancy caps have been secured for waitresses and guests and special menus have been arranged for.

Business may be quiet but Boston won't know it tonight. It is going to be bigger, busier and better than ever with a manifested spirit of trust in the future that is going to make folks in other cities work overtime to stand the pace.

FRANCE AND SPAIN SHIVER

Coldest In Decade and Numerous Deaths Have Been Caused

Paris, Dec. 31.—Cold the like of which has been unknown during the past decade in France, Spain and Portugal has caused numerous deaths, as the population of the three countries were unprepared for such a rigorous winter.

The temperature registered in the south of France has reached from four to six degrees below zero, Farenheit, while storms raged along the Mediterranean, the Atlantic and the channel coasts and heavy snow fell in Paris and the northern departments of France.

Several Hurt in Strike Riot

Shelton, Conn., Dec. 31.—Mary Smarsh, an Austrian, was shot in the side, and an eye of a private detective named White, from New York, was gouged out and a number of deputy sheriffs and others were badly beaten up during a riot near the silk factory of Sidney Blumenthal & Co., where several hundred employes are on strike.

To Arrest Boy For Shooting Man

Burlington, Vt., Dec. 31.—Detectives who have been working on the mystery surrounding the death of John Wait, who was found shot dead in his wood-lot on November 24, applied to State Attorney Meagher for a warrant for the arrest of 14-year-old Edward Reed, Jr., of Peru, on the ground that Reed has confessed to them that he shot Wait accidentally.

Hoke Smith's Daughter a Bride

Washington, Dec. 31.—Lucy H. Smith, daughter of Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia, and Ensign Alston R. Sampson, U. S. N., were married here at Senator Smith's home. The wedding party included a company of relatives and representatives of Washington official life.

100,000 ARE HOMELESS

Many Albanians Will Die of Hunger Says American Traveler

Paris, Dec. 31.—Thirty thousand persons are in danger of starving or freezing to death in Albania, according to reports from William W. Howard of New York, who has just finished a 400-mile journey through the remote mountainous districts, which he traversed by horse and afoot.

As a result of the Servian occupation he says, more than 100 villages and towns have been destroyed, 12,000 houses have been burned and 4000 men, women and children killed. One hundred thousand persons are homeless, of whom, Howard estimates, one-third are likely to die. Many are living in cornstalk lean-tos against the ruins of their homes.

There are 9000 refugees in Tirana and 5000 in Scutari. Wanderers were frequently met in the mountains; some of them were clad only in gunnysacks, others walking in the snow, their feet tied up in rags.

FINES AMOUNT TO $90

Edward H. Smith of Wakefield Found Guilty of Assault

Malden, Mass., Dec. 31.—Fines of $30 each of three charges of assault were imposed on Edward H. Smith, aged 27, a Wakefield real estate agent, by Judge Bruce in the district court. Smith was found guilty of assaulting Miss Ethel Foss of Malden, Miss Viva Le Bland and Miss Ruth McCleary of Wakefield.

In the past several weeks a number of women in Melrose and Wakefield have complained to the police that they have been held up by a "Jack the Hugger."

Smith's arrest took place in Melrose after he had grabbed Miss Foss of Youle street. Her brother-in-law, James E. Worthen, heard her cries and caught Smith. In court all three women identified the defeadant as the man who had assaulted them, and Judge Bruce gave a severe warning when imposing the $90 fine, which Smith paid.

JURY IN SCHMIDT CASE CANNOT AGREE

Deliberated Nearly Forty Hours Without Results

New York, Dec. 31.—The jury which tried Hans Schmidt for the murder of Anna Aumuller has failed to agree. After the jury had deliberated for thirty-two hours and forty minutes and had failed to unite in a conclusion, Judge Foster decided that it was hopeless. He discharged the jury and remanded Schmidt back to the Tombs.

Schmidt maintained the same attitude he has displayed all through the trial. He turned neither to right nor left. No emotion was discernable on his thin face.

It is understood that ten of the jurymen wanted to convict, and that two, William A. McAuliffe and John Grivich, doubted Schmidt's sanity and wanted to acquit on the ground of insanity.

TO STUDY COPPER STRIKE

Gompers Sends Lieutenants to Investigate Moyer Shooting at Calumet

Washington, Dec. 31.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, directed three of his lieutenants to go to Calumet, Mich., to investigate the alleged "beating up" and shooting of President Moyer of the Western Federation of Miners.

The men were Vice President John Mitchell, of the federation, now in Mount Vernon, N. Y.; Grant Hamilton, organizer for the federation, now in this city, and James Roach, another organizer, who is in Albany.

They also will study the strike situation at Calumet and on their finding President Gompers will determine what action should be taken by him. The investigators were sent at the request of the Michigan State Federation of Miners.

POLICE HUNT WOMAN

Believe She Can Clear Mystery In New York's Latest Horror

New York, Dec. 31.—Detectives working on New York's latest trunk mystery began hunting for a woman who, it is believed can reveal both the identity of the murdered man and the murderers.

To this woman, the police think, belonged the skirt and shirt waist which was found under the body of the victim in the trunk when it was opened in front of No. 47 Pitt street in the heart of the Ghetto.

One theory is that the man was stunned by a sudden blow while visiting the home of "the woman in the case," that his body was repeatedly stabbed and then pushed into the trunk.

McAdoo Takes to "Tall Timber"

Washington, Dec. 31.—Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo literally "took to the tall timber," departing for a few days rest in a secluded spot, known only to his official force.

Flag Bunting Test.

The United States government's test for color in bunting is six hours' immersion in salt water and six hours' exposure to the sun.

PROBLEM FOR 'FR'SCO

Funds For Taking Care of Unemployed Are Exhausted

San Francisco, Dec. 31.—City funds for feeding the unemployed here have been exhausted. The question of taking care of men out of work was considered at a conference attended by Mayor James Rolph, Jr., and members of the public welfare committee of the board of supervisors.

It was reported to the supervisors that nearly 1000 men had arrived in San Francisco, after the announcement that the city was to provide work for the unemployed at $1.50 for four hours' work. Announcement was also made that railroad laborers who had been working eight and ten hours for street railway and other corporations, had been quitting to secure jobs with the city.

An effort is to be made to care for a limited number of the men by furnishing work, but if they continue to arrive by the hundreds as they have within the last few days, the city authorities say they are at a loss as to just how they are going to face the situation.

WILL RESIST TAX

Suffragists' Congressional Union Will Justify Action on Incomes

Washington, Dec. 31.—"Resistance" on the part of women of the country to the federal income tax law, despite the government's announced intention to impose fines of $1000 for each failure to report incomes, will receive the encouragement of the Suffragists' Congressional union, it is announced in a statement issued by the organization headquarters here. Resistance to the law, it is declared, would be thoroughly justified from a moral standpoint.

The statement, coming as it does upon the heels of the suggestion of Rev. Anna H. Shaw, president of the National Woman's Suffrage association, that the "unenfranchised" women of the country decline to aid the government in collecting taxes upon their incomes, caused a mild sensation in congressional, treasury and suffragists circles.

TWO MEN INJURED

One Victim May Lose Sight and Other Is Badly Burned

Fall River, Mass., Dec. 31.—Albion Mackay, 35, of 254 Pine street and Oscar Niami, 29, of 254 Orange street, were seriously injured when a seven-pound can of gunpowder exploded in a shack at the Bullock street quarry.

The building was destroyed and Mackay was burned terribly and will probably lose his sight. Niami was burned from head to foot. Both are at the city hospital.

Fined For Stealing Electricity

Saugus, Mass., Dec. 31.—For the theft of electricity from the Lynn Gas and Electric company by wire tapping, Edward N. Wisman of Granite court, Cliftondale, was fined $15 in the police court. Wisman told Judge Ludden that he was guilty. He was caught when employes of the company, suspecting that current was being stolen, cut the wires leading to Wisman's house, and immediately the dwelling, which had been brightly illuminated, was plunged into darkness.

Beachey Flies Under Roof

San Francisco, Dec. 31.—In what is believed to be the first biplane flight ever attempted underneath a roof, Lincoln Beachey circled successfully the interior of the palace of machinery at the exposition grounds, but made a poor landing and smashed his biplane. Beachey was not injured.

TO LET

Large Front Office Greenleaf Block—2 entrances—right at the head of the stairs—one of the most desirable offices in Quincy.

Office, Durgin-Merrill Block—3 large windows—only 1 flight up—exceptional opportunity.

Hancock Building—City Square Offices—small front office, $11 a month

Office—Hancock Chambers, 16x18 feet one flight up, very low rent.

City Square Store House—22x24 feet—ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.

Shop—22x55 feet—splendid light—Granite Street, off City Square.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best Location in City)

Offices—Large or small.

Desk Room—Street floor, right in the rear of main entrance, good light and air, $5 up a month.

Transient Rooms—Well furnished and with care, $1 a day.

Furnished Rooms—With care steam heat, and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week

HALLS

Music Hall—Music Hall Block—Capacity 962—highest possible rating by the State. "Excellent" in every particular.

New Colonial Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—Capacity 240—the best possible location for a Hall.

Hancock Hall—Hancock Building City Square—Capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Greenleaf Block, 'Phone 21066, Quincy

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

☞In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

LOST

LOST—Dec. 30, between 42 Bigelow street or Revere road and Hancock street, three large medals, one small glass medal with two short gold chains. Return to 1572 Hancock street, cor Revere road. Good reward. 31-3t

FOUND

FOUND—A small black dog. Collar with name. Owner may have same by paying charges and proving property. 48 Graham street, Quincy Point. 31-3t

WANTED

WANTED—A young lady who is a good penman and correct at figures for temporary work for two months or more. Apply by letter to "Clerk" Ledger office. 31-3t

WANTED—Position in doctor's or dentist's office by a domestic nurse, would be willing to keep accounts. Write Nurse, General Delivery, Wollaston, P. O.

L 30-3t P3-1w

WANTED—Plain dressmaking and childrens sewing of all kinds by the day. Also embroidery. Address Miss Caroline Lupton, 162 Arlington street, Wollaston.

L 30-3t P3-1w

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing. Myatt, 40 Baxter street. Tel. 1307-M. Quincy, Res. 22-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—House on Edison street, all improvements, newly shingled and painted, new furnace. Corner lot. Apply to J. Peterson, 394 Washington street. 30-6t

1912 Metz Factory overhauled with a light delivery body. You can deliver light loads cheaper than you can with a horse, low price. Also 32 horse power Rambler roadster 4 passenger, full equipment, good shape you can buy for the cost of the five wheels with which it is equipped. A. E. Walker, 315 Belmont street, Wollaston. 29-6t

FOR SALE—Lawn dressing. Will be spread if desired. Peter McConarty, 5 Pearl street. 27-6t

HORSE FOR SALE—Cheap, for want of use. H. H. I. Smith, 578 Commercial street, Weymouth Heights. Tel. Weymouth 105-1. 15-tf

FOR SALE or TO LET—New houses Apply to Thompson B. Crane, 403 Washington street, Quincy. 1-tf

TO LET

TO LET—In Winthrop Park, single house 7 rooms, all improvements, 10 minutes from Fore River. Apply to J. H. Hill, 248 Farrington street, Wollaston. 31-3t

TO LET—Upper flat of 5 rooms at 62 Norton street, North Weymouth, hot and cold water, set range, set tubs electric lights. Place for hens. Key next door. Rent $12.50 to small family. Call 445 Washington street, Quincy. 30-6t

TO LET—At Houghs Neck, furnished winter house, bath, hot and cold water, gas, set tubs, large cellar. 4 minutes to cars. F. A. MacDonald, 264 Boylston street, Boston. Tel. 2356 Back Bay. 30-6t

TO LET—Upper flat in two flat new house at 1 Bradford street, 5 rooms and bath. All improvements. Ready Jan. 1st. Apply to Wm. E. Duggan, 22 Bryant avenue, West Quincy. 29-6t

TO LET—2 or 3 connecting rooms with heat, light and bath for housekeeping. Furnished if desired. Reasonable. 132 Marlborough street, Wollaston Park. 27-6t

TO LET—Tenement, all improvements, reasonable rent. Apply 70 Glencoe place. 24-tf

RUSSELL PARK — Commodious house of seven rooms, large hall and bath. Modern, every convenience open fireplace, furnace, range, set tubs, electric lights, cemented cellar, etc. Best residential neighborhood. Ready for immediate occupancy. For further details or key see Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. tf lpo

TO LET—Upper apartment of 7 rooms and bath, all improvements including set range and gas stove, now ready. Inquire, A. W. Parker, 87 Merrymount road. Tel. Quincy 258-1 16-tf

TO LET—48 Revere road two connecting rooms with kitchenette for housekeeping. Also a nice room with sun all day, two large closets. Hot water heat and bath. water heat and bath. 13-tf

UPPER APARTMENT. In two-family house on Spear Street. Five rooms, bath, large pantry and closets, also open attic with finished heated chamber. Every improvement, electric light, furnace, range etc. Ready for immediate occupancy. Telephone Quincy 278 M or enquire mornings of Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. lpo

TO LET—173 Whitwell street, half house, modern conveniences, $20 per month, Ready for immediate occupancy. Apply Penniman's Stable, Granite street. 19-tf

TO LET—Houses of 5, 6 and 10 rooms. M. T. Sullivan. Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy, Mass. 11-tf

WM. H. TEASDALE
REAL ESTATE
Insurance Mortgages
NOTARY PUBLIC JUSTICE OF THE PEACE
Room 23 Adams Building
Telephones { Residence 544-3 / Office 2220-M

ARTHUR L. THOMAS
Attorney-at-Law
3-4-5-6 Greenleaf Block
Telephone Quincy 460 Jan.2-1y

FOR SALE
New Axes
20c each 3 for 50c
While They Last
L. GROSSMAN & SONS
Jackson Street
Near Quincy Adams Depot
Dec. 16-1o-tf

SWITHIN
Real Estate
Mortgages-Insurance
Greenleaf Block
Quincy
Tel. Quincy 460. Nov. 10-tf

Read Ledger Advs.

JAMES F. BURKE & CO.
Real Estate and Insurance
Care of Property. Mortgages
Justice of Peace. Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 285 M. Nov. 11-tf

Penniman's
TAXI SERVICE
Taxies and Touring Cars with careful and safe drivers to let for all occasions.
C. H. PENNIMAN, Prop.
Telephone 207.
June 13-tf

Here is Your Opportunity
7 room house with modern conveniences nicely situated on a fine street in Wollaston. To be sold very low at present.
Here is a chance to get into a good neighborhood. House is vacant and in perfect order to move right into. Three to five minutes to station, schools, stores, etc. Price $3,300.
On terms.
HENRY W. SAVAGE
Real Estate, Boston.
E. C. HAYDEN, Local Representative
Telephone 1877-M Quincy.
Dec. 22-tf

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 3, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

KINCAIDE THEATRE

At 2.30, 5, 10, 15c At 7.45, 10, 15, 25c

THURS., FRIDAY, SAT.
Program subject to change

TROPICAL TRIO
Real Funny Acrobats
With Special Costumes and Scenery

MANLEY & WALSH
The Boob and the Dude

MAB & WEIS
Lilliputian Wonders

ARTHUR COD
The Boy with the Educated Feet

THE THREE GAMBLERS
A Sensational Western Drama
Pictured in two Powerful Parts

THE UPRISING OF ANN
A Most Interesting Photo-play

RILEY'S DECOYS
A Farce Comedy full of Fun

LOTS OF GOOD MUSIC

BETTER POLICE PROTECTION

How the Three Additional Officers Will be Placed

The new appointments to the permanent police force go into effect tomorrow, and will result in a number of changes that should improve the efficiency of the department.

In the first place there will be a twelve-hour shift on the patrol wagon Heretofore Officer Cahill, the chaffeur of the wagon, has been on duty day and night, except the time when he has been relieved for meals. Under the new order Officer Whelan has been assigned to the wagon so that the chauffeurs will be on a twelve-hour shift. This will make it so that the wagon will be ready at all times to answer a call. It will also do away with the plan which has been in vogue of allowing the driver to use the patrol wagon to go home to his meals.

Patrolman Malone who has been doing duty in the South Quincy district will remain on the same beat.

Patrolman McNamara will be assigned to a new beat between Barry's corner, Atlantic, and Beach street, Wollaston, taken from districts formerly covered by Officers Duffy and Thorne. The beats of these two men have been considered too long to give efficient service, and the spliting up of their beats will give this section of the city better protection.

Patrolman Black the other new man will be assigned to the Shipyard district giving that section a three shift beat. Under the new assignment Officer Johnson will be on duty in that section from 8 A. M. until 4.03 P. M. Officer Dhooge comes on duty at 4 P. M. and remains on until 1 A. M. and Officer Black goes on duty at 12 midnight and remains on duty until 8.30 A. M.

This will give two officers on duty in this section when the men are going to work at the Fore River yards and in the afternoon when they are coming from work. It will also give two or three officers on duty in the Quincy Point and Fore River district when the late trains arrive from Boston.

Talking Shop.

Enthusiastic interest in one's occupation is always an advantage, but, on the other hand, it is not well for a woman in business to talk of her work at all times and places. Naturally, the thing that we do constantly is our most absorbing interest, but we must remember that other people have other things to talk about.

(ADVERTISE.)

FOR SALE IN BRAINTREE

Seven Room Cottage House 2 years old, bath, open plumbing, electric lights, steam heat, hardwood floors, excellent neighborhood, very handy to depot, electrics, schools, stores, and churches. 7,000 square feet land.

Price $3300. $500 Cash.

L. A. BOWLES, Washington Street, Tel. 285 W. South Braintree

Branch
HAROLD G. KING,
200 Devonshire St., Boston
REAL ESTATE.

Dec 31-2t

GRANITE AVENUE BRIDGE IMPORTANT NOTICE

Granite Avenue Bridge between Boston and Milton will be closed to team travel from 8 A. M. Monday, January 5, to 5 P. M. Saturday, January 17, 1914.

By Order
Granite Avenue Bridge Building Commission.

December 30, 1913. 31-1t

METROPOLITAN FIRE DISTRICT

Does Quincy Desire to be Included As Proposed

An increase in Quincy's Metropolitan assessment and taxes may be expected if the proposed Fire Prevention Commission is established by the Legislature of 1914. A commission of three members is proposed, whose jurisdiction shall be supreme in matters pertaining to fire prevention and fire hazard in 39 cities and towns of Greater Boston.

The bill, framed by Fire Commissioner Charles H. Cole, Building Commissioner Arthur G. Everett, Leslie C. Wead, G. A. A. Pevey, M. A. Murphy, W. J. Paul and Clarence H. Blackall, the committee appointed at a conference held at the Boston Chamber of Commerce, Dec. 17, was presented at a public meeting held in the library of the chamber Tuesday afternoon.

It was accepted by those present and the representatives of a number of organizations took copies to present to their respective boards of directors for action.

The bill provides for appointment by the Governor of three members to a Fire Prevention Commission. The salary of the chairman is to be $4000 a year, those of the other members $3500, and a clerk's $2500, and expert assistants and an office force are provided.

GREAT POWERS.

The bill transfers to the commission all existing powers now vested in other bodies to license or issue permits for the storage, sale and handling of explosives and moving picture machines, and for engines and furnaces, paint, oils and naphtha stored in or near buildings used for habitation.

It specifically prohibits the storage of any articles dangerous to the public safety in buildings used as habitations or within 50 feet of such buildings without permit and gives the commission authority to order removal of refuse or debris or remove it at expense of the owner or occupant.

The bill provides that the commission may require mercantile or manufacturing buildings in which the business is dangerous to the public safety and all stairways in second and third-class buildings more than three stories high, except those housing three families or less, to be equipped with interior automatic sprinklers. The penalty, after six months' written notice from the commission, is a fine of not more than $1000.

COURT OF APPEAL.

One clause in the bill makes the Commission a court of appeal from decisions given by those acting under its authority.

Heads of Fire departments must investigate the causes of all fires in their districts and report to the commission within 10 days after the fire, under pain of a penalty, and insurance companies are required to report all fire losses to the Commissioners.

The Metropolitan District is defined in the bill as the following cities and towns: Arlington, Belmont, Boston, Braintree, Brookline, Cambridge, Canton, Chelsea, Cohasset, Dedham, Dover, Everett, Hingham, Hull, Lexington, Lynn, Malden, Medford, Melrose, Milton, Nahant, Needham, Newton, Quincy, Revere, Saugus, Somerville, Stoneham, Swampscott, Wakefield, Waltham, Watertown, Wellesley, Weston, Westwood, Weymouth, Winchester, Winthrop and Woburn.

TO ASSESS CITIES.

The salaries and expenses of the board are to be apportioned annually among the cities and towns subject to the act, one half on the basis of valuation and one half on the basis of population.

A section of the bill provides: "The provisions of this act shall apply and extend to any and all such cities and towns in the Commonwealth as, in the case of a city ,by a two-thirds vote of its City Council present and voting, and in the case of a town at any regular or special meeting called for that purpose, by a majority of its voters present and voting, may vote to accept the provisions hereof; and the words Metropolitan District, wherever it may occur in this act, shall apply to and include each such city and town so voting."

Except as before mentioned, a person violating provisions of the bill is made guilty of a misdemeanor and is liable to a fine of $50 for each offense, or in a case continuing after notice of such violation, to a fine not exceeding $10 for each day that the violation continues.

The bill, if passed, would repeal all previous conflicting statutes. The bill is planned to become operative Aug. 1 of the coming year.

WATCH PARTY THIS EVENING

Swedish Congregational Church Will Continue Annual Meeting

At the annual meeting of Swedish Congregational church on Garfield street last night the following officers were elected to serve for the new year:

Board of trustees,—John S. Anderson, chairman A. Widen, vice chairman; Erik Carlson, clerk; Carl Gustafson, vice clerk; G. Sandelius, J. O. Golbranson; E. G. Bergfors, Andrew J. Johnson, Carl Anderson.

Treasurer,—Edward Granlund.

Financial secretary,—Emil Anderson.

Deacons,—S. Ekstrand and John F. Erikson, for one year, C. Satterlund and Nels Johnson for 2 years. Mr. Satterlund is chairman.

Sunday school superintendent,—O. Lindberg.

Superintendent for Sunday school at Squantum,—Charles Leander.

Organist,—Erik Carlson.

Pianist,—Carl Gustafson.

Auditors,— Aug. Mortin and John Johnson.

Collectors—G. A. Bergfors, Miss Julia Johnson, A. Bersell, Miss Betty Johnson.

Ushers,—G. Sandelius, A. Widen, Gust. A. Bergfors, John W. Anderson, Jr.

The meeting will be continued tonight when reports will be made. Coffee will then be served and a social hour enjoyed. At 10.30 o'clock a watch meeting service will be held to welcome the New Year.

BRIEFS

Miss Frances Colgan of Wollaston left this week with Miss Ida M. Perkins of South Framingham for a four months visit with her brother at Los Angeles.

Henry L. Kincaide is one of the directors of the new Massachusetts Trust Company whih will begin business in Boston about Feb. 1. Gen. Edgar R. Chaplin is president and Elmer A. Stevens, vice president.

L. C. Huston of 24 Newcomb place leaves tonight on a two weeks business trip to Canada.

The many friends of Miss Katie Merritt of Pleasant street will be sorry to learn that she is confined to her bed by sickness.

A junior demonstration will be held tonight at 8 o'clock by the Salvation Army at 150 Granite street. Officers and children from Cambridge will take part and an interesting program of music, songs, drills, dialogues and recitations will be given. Everybody invited to attend.

Six tables were in play at the whist party held in room 30 Adams building Tuesday afternoon. Those taking prizes were: Mrs. Thompson with 61, Mrs. Mary O'Neil with 57, Mrs. Beatrice Potterfield, Mrs. J. E. Poland, Mrs. Scuthy and Mrs. Wales. Another party will be held next Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Lucy, wife of Mr. George H. F. Soule of 127 Prospect avenue passed away early this morning after a brief illness of pneumonia. Mrs. Soule was a daughter of A. W. Hayes of Wollaston and besides a husband leaves a son and daughter. She also leaves a sister Mrs. Emery.

Mrs. Walter E. Burke entertained the members of St. Margarets Guild and the Gardner Club of Christ Church at her home on Adams street Tuesday evening. Among others present were Rev. and Mrs. Richard E. Armstrong and Mr. and Mrs. Byron Miller. The evening was spent in playing games. Piano selections were given by Mrs. Richard E. Armstrong and Miss Violet Smith. The party adjourned at a late hour.

(ADVERTISE.)

PROMOTION.

John F. Foley of Whitwell street has been appointed clerk in charge of the New England division of the railway mail. The appointment is a recognition of his ability in the service with which he has been connected for the past 12 years.

When the vacancy was created the name of Mr. Foley was brought to the attention of the postal authorities by Congressman Gilmore who has been instrumental in securing the promotion for Mr. Foley. The announcement was made Dec. 26 and was almost in the nature of a Christmas present. Mr. Foley has been a resident of this city for many years and is well and favorably known.

SKATING POND AT RESERVOIR

One of Last Acts of Mayor Stone Was for Boys and Girls

It will be good news to the young people to learn that Mayor Stone made arrangements this week with the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation whereby the reservoir of the company on Des Moines road can be used for a skating pond. The pond or reservoir was put in shape immediately and is now ready for use. Last year Mayor Stone succeeded in making arrangements with the company for the use of the pond which was greatly enjoyed. The same arrangements have now been made for the present winter.

TROOPS ARE SENT TO CHESTERTOWN

Governor of Maryland Dispatches Battalion as Precaution

Baltimore, Dec. 31.—Acting on information received from Chestertown, Governor Goldborough issued an order for a battalion of the Fifth regiment, national guard, to leave here for that place.

Three companies went on a special train by way of Wilmington, Del., and one company embarked on a state steamer at Annapolis. The troops are commanded by Brigadier General Charles D. Gaither.

While there was no indication of further trouble at Chestertown, it is understood the authorities feared that if only one of the two negroes charged with killing James R. Coleman were convicted, friends of the murdered man might try to lynch both negroes.

QUEEN SOPHIE DEAD

Widow of Late King Oscar II. Was Mother of King Gustav V.

Stockholm, Dec. 31.—Dowager Queen Sophie of Sweden died here after a brief illness. She was 77 years old and the widow of the late King Oscar II., who died Dec. 8, 1907.

Before her marriage to the late king on June 6, 1857, the dowager queen was Princess Sophie of Nassau. She was the mother of the present King Gustav V. Acute inflammation of the lungs caused the queen's death.

Love Eternal.

They that love beyond the world cannot be separated by it.—William Penn.

An informal dancing party was given in Colonial hall Tuesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Blackmur for their three sons, Paul, Maurice and Richard. Among the 60 present were several friends of the parents. Laurel wreaths and Christmas decorations added to the attractiveness of the hall and music was furnished by Roger's orchestra. Dancing was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate.

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a mortgage of real estate given by Antti Raketti of Quincy in the County of Norfolk and Commonwealth of Massachusetts to August Penttila, dated May 22, 1913, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Book 1249 page 354, for breach of the conditions named in said mortgage deed and for the purpose of foreclosing the same there will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on Saturday the 24th day of January, 1914 at two o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular, the premises described in said mortgage, the same being bounded and described as follows:

A certain parcel of land, with all the buildings thereon situated in said Quincy on the East side of Nelson street and bounded as follows: Beginning at the Northwest corner of land of Richard Carlmark on said Street and running Northerly on said street about seventy-two feet to a stone bound; thence on a curve about twelve feet to a stone bound on Carlmark Street; thence on Carlmark Street in an Easterly direction about eighty-three feet to a stone bound; thence on a curve about fourteen feet in a Southerly direction to a stone bound; thence in a Southerly direction on said Carlmark Street about seventy-eight feet to a stone post; thence Westerly along land of Carlmark about one hundred feet to Nelson Street, the point of beginning, being the premises conveyed to said Antti Raketti by deed of Charles J. W. Gelotte, recorded with Norfolk Deeds.

The premises will be sold subject to a prior mortgage, duly recorded. One hundred dollars will be required to be paid at the time and place of sale; remainder on delivery of deed.

August Penttila, Mortgagee
Dec. 31-3t 31-7-14

How a Book Came to Be Written

By DORA L. MULFORD

One summer a young man whose appearance smacked of the "plains" stopped at a hotel in the White mountains and, the regular meals of the day being over, called for a supper to be cooked for him. When it was ready he was called and ushered into the dining room, which was deserted except for himself and the waitress who attended upon him. Before he began to eat he noticed that she was comely. Having served him with what he needed, she was about to leave the room when he said to her:

"Suppose I need you after you have gone. What shall I do?"

There was no bell at hand to call her, and she took the man's question for an order to remain. She was evidently not pleased at his action and, taking a position near him, stood first on one foot, then on the other, looking part of the time at the ceiling, the other part at the floor.

"I'm sorry to keep you," he said.

"It doesn't matter, sir. It's my place to wait on you."

The young man was sorry for what he had done. He would rather not have been served than have some one looking idly on when he ate. Nevertheless there was something in the girl's appearance that interested him. He had heard of college students becoming waiters or waitresses at hotels in vacation, and he fancied she might be one of this class.

"You're no waitress," he hazarded.

"No waitress! What do you mean, sir?"

"You're a lady."

"A lady!"

She colored and showed embarrassment. He fancied that he had struck the nail on the head. Becoming bold with his first success, he pushed on:

"I've met you in society."

"Met me in society! Where?"

The young man chuckled. The question "Where?" was a dead giveaway. Had she not been "in society" she would not have asked such a question. But he did not reply to it.

"I have been looking for you," he went on, "ever since a certain ball at which I met you. I danced with you twice durina the evening, and you do not remember me."

The scamp looked very much cut up at her failure to recollect him.

"Was it in New York?" she asked.

Another giveaway. She had been in society in New York. Many functions took place at S.'s, on Fifth avenue.

"Were you not at a certain dinner followed by a cotillion given by a certain lady of fashion one night"—

He figured to be trying to recall the date.

"Last winter, just before Lent?"

He broke into a laugh.

"What amuses you?" she asked, frowning.

"I am very much pleased with myself."

"Indeed! On what account?"

"My perceptive faculties. I knew you for a lady even in the garb of a waitress. I accused you, and you confessed. I have never met you before. All that I have said to you has been made up of whole cloth."

The girl now broke into a laugh.

"What amuses you?" asked the man, with a fork midway between his plate and his mouth.

"My stupidity."

"Your stupidity? What do you mean?"

"Rather, I should say confidence. You were right in saying that we met at S.'s, and the date I gave you is correct. I was your partner in the cotillion. You told me you would never forget me. And now you tell me that we have never met before. For shame, Mr. Kennerton!"

"Kennerton, by Jove!"

"Will you deny your identity?"

"No, but you! You are—I have it—you are Miss Effingham."

"I am."

"But what are you doing as a waitress in this hotel?"

"What are you doing in this western costume?"

"I've been traveling in the west studying life. To study life one must live among the class studied."

"So you told me when I met you in New York. You were very enthusiastic. I, being a society girl, tired of the shallow life I led, resolved to study life too. I have learned a lot here—more about the class into which I was born than the class into which I was not born."

"And I have just served a three months' term as a cowboy. But I've had enough of it. I'm going to be a gentleman again."

"So am I tired of being a waitress. I'm going to be a lady once more."

"When? Where?"

"I leave for New York tomorrow morning."

"So do I."

"I'm going to write a book about my experiences as a waitress in a summer hotel."

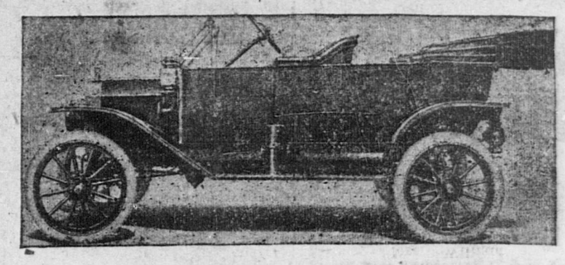
"And I'm going to write a book about my experiences as a cowboy."

"Wonder if we couldn't make a novel out of the two."

"I'm going to show up some snobs I have met."

"I have no one to show up, but I will gladly collaborate with you."

And he did. The next spring the joint efforts of their literary labors was published and produced a sensation, particularly in society.



THE QUINCY GARAGE, 87 Adams Street, Quincy
Agent for FORD and CASE CARS

A full Line of Supplies always on hand
Michelin Tires in stock

Now Ready for Delivery the 1914 Ford Car, $550 for 5 Passenger, $500 for Runabout, $750 for Town Car F. O. B. Detroit.

For Particulars or Demonstration call Quincy 435
Night or Day never closed. C. P. GOULD, Prop.

Dec. 12-1o-tf

NEW BILLS FOR LEGISLATURE

One to Legalize Payment of Reward in Restelli Case

The time for the filing of bills for consideration by the incoming Legislature expires on Jan. 17 and Representative Michael T. Sullivan announces that residents of the district wanting bills filed should make an effort to have facts at his disposal as soon as possible so that the bill can be drafted in the proper form before being presented.

Representative Sullivan has several bills that will be filed during the week, among them being one authorizing the payment of a reward of $250 offered by the State for the finding of the body of Louis Restelli, who killed two and injured several others during a rampage between South Quincy and the quarrying district and then committed suicide by drowning in the abandoned Peter Carlson quarry. The reward will be paid to Officer Patrick Milford of Quincy and Officer James Qualey of Braintree, both of whom located the body while dragging the quarry.

UNIVERSALIST TREE FESTIVAL

Santa Claus Returns to Make Children Happy

The annual Christmas festival of the Universalist church and Sunday school was held Tuesday evening in the chapel and was the occasion for a large gathering of the members of the school and older friends. The platform was gaily decorated with holly and Christmas boughs while near by was a large Christmas tree resplendent with silver trimmings and many mysterious looking packages.

During the first part of the evening an operatta entitled "King's Christmas" was given by members of the Sunday School under the direction of Miss Alfretta Hanson. An orchestra also furnished music during the evening.

At the close of the entertainment Santa Claus made his appearance and distributed the gifts from the tree. There was a present for each member of the school, and in addition each member was given a box of candy.

The Wollaston Woman's club is to have an evening meeting Tuesday Jan. 6 in the Wollaston school hall when Woods Hutchinson, M. D., will speak on "Which is Man's Life, his work or his play?" Special guest tickets have been issued for this meeting so that the general public may hear this noted lecturer.

NOTICE OF DISSOLUTION.

The partnership heretofore existing between the undersigned under the name of Edward MacLane & Co., this day is dissolved by mutual consent. Edward MacLane will continue the business at new No. 186 N. Lasalle St., Chicago, Room 605, and all outstanding accounts of the late firm should be paid to him. This partnership has existed since Sept. 22, 1913. Edward MacLane is not personally responsible for any transactions previous to that date.

(Signed) EDWARD MacLANE,
(Signed) DAVID GERSHIN,
Chicago, Dec. 23, 1913.

Dec. 30-3t

NEWSY BRIEFS

Miss Barbara Sears of Glendale road is spending a few days in Framingham at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Angier, the guest of their daughter Frances.

The American Unitarian Society following its annual custom keeps open house tomorrow from four until six o'clock at the Unitarian building 25 Beacon street, Boston.

RESOLUTIONS.

Passed by St. Mary's C. T. A. & M. R. Society:

To the family and immediate friends of our late Brother HONORABLE WILLIAM T. SHEA

WHEREAS—It has pleased the Almighty God in his Divine Wisdom to remove from our midst our beloved friend and fellow member Honorable William T. Shea, and

WHEREAS—his loss is an irreparable one to the St. Mary's Catholic Total Abstinence and Mutual Relief Society, of which he was one of the most faithful and devoted members, whose true and sincere friend he was, and

WHEREAS—by his Christian life he has furnished to the members of this Society and all who knew him, with a model that they may all well try to emulate, therefore be it, and it is hereby unanimously

RESOLVED—by the members of St. Mary's' Catholic Total Abstinence and Mutual Relief Society that we express to the family of the deceased and his immediate relatives and friends our earnest and heartfelt sympathy in their bereavement. Be it also

RESOLVED—That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the records of this Society, a copy be sent to the press, of this city and a copy be sent to the family of our departed Brother.

Committee on resolutions
THOMAS F. O'BRIEN,
JOSEPH H. McPHERSON,
JOSEPH J. O'ROURKE.

CLAN McGREGOR, O. S. C.

Died in Quincy, Dec. 30, 1913, GEORGE E. YOUNG. Funeral from residence of Wm. Pratt, 57 Quincy Street, Thursday, Jan. 1, 1914, at 2 P. M. Clan McGregor will meet in Clan McGregor hall at 1.30 P. M. Clansmen please attend.

ANGUS D. MARTIN, Chief.
WALTER A. MITCHELL, Sec.
31-1t

Too Late For Classification

TO LET—Tenement of 6 rooms with improvements at 32 Elm street. Rent $16 per month. Apply at 1475 Hancock street. 31-3t

LOST—On Dec. 24th, a small brindle Boston Terrior with white marking on nose and chest. Canton 1913 and number on license tag on collar. Answers to name of Buster. Reward if returned to Charles E. Joss, 24 Garfield Street, Quincy, Mass. 31-3t

BIRTHS

MORGAN—In Wollaston, Dec. 26, a son to Mr. and Mrs. John Morgan of Standish avenue.

MARRIAGES

LAZARUS—SARKIN—In Quincy, Dec. 30, by Rev. Julius Sandolavitz, Albert Lazarus of Boston and Miss Jessie Sarkin of Quincy.

DEATHS

YOUNG—In Quincy, Dec. 30, George E. Young in his 46th year.
Funeral services from home of his sister, Mrs. William Pratt, 57 Quincy street, Thursday, Jan. 1, at 2 P. M. Relatives and friends invited. Please omit flowers. 2t

ROUNDS—In Quincy, Dec. 29, David Rounds in his 74th year.
Funeral private. 2t

SOULE—In Wollaston, Dec. 31, Mrs. Lucy wife of Mr. George H. F. Soule of 127 Prospect avenue.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass.